The Canton Connection

SEVERAL NEW PROGRAMS are beginning this month at the Canton Public Library. A Punch and Judy puppet show takes place from 7-9 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 6 as part of the "Twelfth Night" celebration, the last night of Christmas in medieval tradition.

Since space is limited, interested people should call for registration information at 397-0999. The celebration is open to children, grade three and older.

Activities will include music, games and refreshments. The library is on the third floor of Township hall, on Canton Center south of Cherry Hill.

ANOTHER NEW PROGRAM at the library is the Brown Bag and Books series. An informal discussion of "Indecent Obsession," by Colleen McCullough, will take place at noon January 3 and 10, in the meeting room of the library. Bring a sack lunch. Coffee and dessert will be provided. No registration is required.

DR. HELEN SNOKE, professor of children's literature at the University of Michigan, will discuss the value of reading, prominent books and authors that will turn your kids on to reading and methods of choosing the right book to share with your child from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 13 at the Canton Public Library.

Registration for this program begins Jan. 6 in person or by phone.

PEOPLE'S CHURCH in Canton went Christmas caroling at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital during the holiday season. The caroling took place at the Harold Center, a residence for adolescent and adult psychiatric patients.

CANTON TOWNSHIP PARKS and Recreation Department, in conjunction with the Wayne-Westland YMCA, is offering another session of "Dynamic Aerobics" classes beginning Jan. 18.

The class lasts for eight weeks from 9:30-10:30 a.m. or 10:30-11:30 a.m. every Tuesday and Thursday in the lower-level of the Township Administration Building, Canton Center south of Cherry Hill.

Cost is $32 per person, plus $5 health-screening charge if applicable. Babysitting services are available. Call 397-1000 for details.

THE CANTON TOWNSHIP PARKS and Recreation Department is sponsoring a teen ski trip to Alpine Valley Ski Area. The transportation is scheduled to leave the Canton Township Administration Building at 5 p.m. Jan. 21 and return at about 12:15 a.m. The cost is $15 without equipment and $8.50 if you have your own equipment.

For more information call 397-1000.

CANTON CRICKETS PRE-SCHOOL program for 3-4 year olds begins Jan. 23 and runs through April 22. It is from 9:30-11:30 a.m. Monday-Friday and 1-3 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday. The cost is $39 and the activities featured are crafts, organized games, story time, special events, trips and snack time. Call the Parks and Recreation Department for more information.

KAREN CADY, daughter of Joan and Gary Cady of Canton, recently appeared in "Wind in the Willows," at Eastern Michigan University.

MEMBERS OF THE Oakwood Hospital Guild were honored recently for their service to the hospital at a Guild recognition event.

Honored for 100 hours of service were Donna Reynolds of Canton and Margaret Jorissen and Rita Niemi of Plymouth.

Guild members work in the gift shop, nursing education, pastoral care, nuclear medicine, library, patient accounting, occupational and physical therapy, emergency room and social work.

Chevrons were presented to those who put in 100 hours of service.

Holiday fights aren't unusual

By Arlene Funke and Gary M. Cates staff writers

Is there truth to the theory that the holidays trigger domestic violence, especially during hard economic times? The answer this holiday season depends on where you live. The theory came true in Plymouth, while Canton Township proved it wrong.

"The instances of domestic-type problems noticeably increased this Christmas," said Lt. Ralph White of the Plymouth Police Department.

But Plymouth's increase in domestic violence this year didn't exceed levels experienced during past holiday seasons, White said.

In Canton, the traditional "holiday fighting" increase wasn't experienced. There were some reports of fights and assaults, but no noticeable increase in the number of incidents, said Lt. Larry Stewart, of the Canton Police Department.

Christmas was fairly quiet, "nothing out of the ordinary," Stewart added.

domestic-violence reports is to send two officers, said Stewart.

"The main goal in these runs is to protect the officer and make sure the disputing people aren't hurting each other," he said.

The responding officer is put in the middle and can not take sides, said White.

"The safety and well-being of everyone there is his ultimate concern. He tries to get things calmed down — to achieve a compromise.

"Then there are the feelings that the family problems are personal and the officer gets attacked by both parties. It's a no-win situation," he said.

Sometimes the fighting couple will "gang up on the cop" who tries to intervene, said Stewart.

"Sometimes that's a good solution (defusing the fight)," he said.

MANY TIMES the arguing couple will shift their anger to the police officer because the couple feels "strongly about the sanctity of the home," said White.

WHITE CLASSIFIES the domestic squabbles in two categories: families that are together and families that are split.

In families that are together, the holidays can spark domestic trouble for two reasons, he said.

"During the holidays there are a lot of family-type activities — a lot of drinking and a lot of time spent together," said White.

"In this situation the cop walks in where mom, dad and the kids are screaming at each other over something that basically is trivial," he said.

In families which are split, holiday troubles usually are sparked by the "opposing wills of the mother and father," said White.

"In this situation the mom and dad are hassling over who's going to have the kids — visiting rights and that type of thing."

Both White and Stewart agree that police officers responding to a domestic-violence call enter a potentially volatile situation.

Canton's policy in responding to do-

"It's hard for the officer because he's walking into a ground that belongs to someone else.

"You don't know how a person is going to react in his own home ground. There's this idea that the man is the king of his home and the officer is intruding on his castle — yet, on the street the officer is the king," he said.

"The potential problem person is usually more of a problem in his own home.

"It's a very stressful call for the officer, especially at this time of the year, when the officer has a personal life of his own that he's concerned about," White said.

IN RESPONDING to domestic squabbles, arrest is the last resort.

"However, if injuries are happening, naturally we would have to take enforcement action.

"The idea is not physical control, but verbal control. You want the people to calm down because they want to calm down, not because they're forced to calm down," he said.

Swedish pucksters welcomed

Members of a hockey team from suburban Stockholm were welcomed to the community last week by the Plymouth-Canton Hockey Association. The 21 visiting players stayed in the

War memories haunt, bolster local vets

What have the attitudes of local people been like toward Vietnam veterans who returned to this area? What difficulties have veterans had here as a result of the war? Do they ever regret going to Vietnam? Would they go again? Who are some of these men and what are they doing with their lives today, 10 years after the end of America's involvement in Vietnam?

Special writer Victoria Diaz asked these questions as she focused on the lives of three Vietnam veterans: Robert Sayre of Livonia, Robert Cohen of Canton Township and James Myrdal of Westland.

Diaz teaches writing classes at Schoolcraft College and Livonia and Southfield Community Education programs. She has a bachelor's degree in English from the University of Michigan-Dearborn and has written several feature stories along with book, movie and theater reviews for area newspapers and news magazine.

She lives in Livonia with her husband and three sons.

By Victoria Diaz special writer

In 1967, when Livonian Robert Sayre returned to the United States from a tour of duty in Vietnam, the first civilian he saw welcomed him home by spitting in his face and running away. "It gave homecoming a new meaning," said Sayre, 36.

Although Sayre's experience may have been unusual, it was not unique. To say the least, most Vietnam veterans were not welcomed home as heroes. Some experienced outright hostility.

Others met with indifference. Many came home to find that those who had refused to go to Vietnam were accorded a more heroic status in their community than the GI who had actually fought.

"I have no regrets about going," said Sayre. Confined to a wheelchair since a post-Vietnam auto accident in 1967, Sayre is a full-time student at Madonna College, working toward a degree in journalism and public relations. "I'd go again, if I could."

Drafted just out of Garden City High School in 1966, he spent 11 months in Vietnam driving a truck.

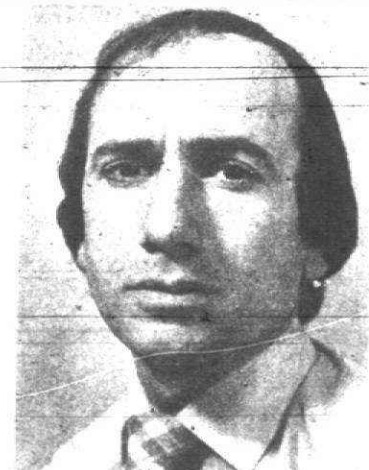

"But I never talk about the war with my neighbors. It's a subject that's avoided like the plague. I'm the only Vietnam veteran in my neighborhood. All of the rest of the men are about my age, but they went to college instead of Vietnam. I thought that was cowardly then, and I still think it's cowardly. The 12 years I've lived there, none of the men or women has ever mentioned Vietnam."

SAYRE, WHO is divorced and shares a home with his parents, said he has no plans to work after graduation. After being discharged from the Army, he worked full time for 13 months at the Veterans Administration offices in Detroit, dispensing occupational and educational information to veterans. He claims he liked the job, the interaction with veterans, but eventually had to quit because "it was costing me too much money."

"Millions. I would go out and make. But if I only can go out and make $12-15,000 a year, I lose a lot more money than I make. I lose my Social Security.

New diet support group fights battle of the bulge

With the holidays over, the New Year's resolution most often made is to lose weight.

Going on a diet also probably is the resolution broken first.

But residents can make their diet resolution work this time, says Bill Moon of Plymouth, who has been conducting a mutual diet support program at Plymouth Salem High School.

Moon cautions that the old crash-diet, gain-it-back routine is not the way to go for persons serious about weight loss.

"If you want to start the new year by going beyond the crash-diet-gain-it-back routine, our mutual support group, which meets at Salem High, may give you the help you need."

Formed on a no-charge, mutual co-operation basis, the group's aim is to make it possible for members to reform their own eating habits as necessary to achieve long-term progress in getting your weight down to the level desired and to keep it there.

"You must have a strong desire to do it on your own, with no gimmicks or magic cures," stresses Moon, a publisher of a newsletter for retailers who organized the group to get diet support for himself.

"We are working on ways to get over the inevitable lapses which usually end a diet after a few weeks or months — with the dieter then going back to 'normal' eating and gaining.

"Diets don't work for long," Moon says, "but changing your eating habits does work. That's the basic idea. The goal is slow but steady progress toward each person's desired weight, and support to hold that level once it is achieved."

PERSONS WHO would like to work on such a program are invited to join the group in Room 2401 (up either stairway and through the southwest door off the "Upper Commons") of Salem High at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 6.

Meetings will be held on each succeeding Thursday.

Under the diet support group program, members are asked to sign a commitment to:

- Record everything they eat the first week (at the time eaten). Then the participant will select the specific things to eliminate from his/her normal pattern to get the moderate rate of weight loss chosen, or to maintain the desired weight once achieved.

- Weigh-in weekly, and record digit of your weight, if you wish)
- Discuss progress, or lack of it.

Economic Alliance lauds jobless bill

The Economic Alliance for Michigan, a recently formed group of business and labor leaders, announced its general support for the unemployment compensation financing bill approved last week by the state House of Representatives.

"The Economic Alliance for Michigan congratulates those in the legislative and executive branches of state government, as well as the various affected groups, for the statesmanlike leadership in bringing this critical issue so far toward final legislative resolution," said a joint statement from Irving Bluestone and Fred Secrest, co-chairmen of the Alliance.

"Final approval by the Legislature and the governor before the end of this year is critically important for the economic well-being of our state."

THE ALLIANCE policy statement described the House bill as "a reasonable, while certainly not a perfect, response to the critical financial problems facing Michigan's unemployment compensation system."

"Quick resolution of the serious financial problems confronting the Michigan unemployment compensation system is a major priority if this state is to move forward in dealing with its serious economic and employment problems.

"As a group working toward consensus approaches to the key economic problems facing Michigan, we are certain that the efforts of so many have resulted in the House bill enjoying broad support from the business and labor sectors," Bluestone and Secrest said.

"Because this bill attempts to resolve a financing problem of at least $3.6 billion over the next four years, it is gratifying that the proposal enjoys such broad-based support."

"While the Economic Alliance Board endorsed the House bill by more than the required three-fourths vote, it is understandable that some of our members were not in support of this bill," they continued.

State tax haul fell 4 percent in '82

Michigan's total state tax collections were down 4 percent in October compared to the same month in 1981, according to the state Department of Treasury.

Total net tax collection in October 1982 reached $346 million, compared with $359 million in October 1981.

But some types of taxes rose to offset others that fell. The phenomenon is particularly noticeable in month-to-month comparisons.

THE GROSS single business tax collected in October 1982 fell more than

"ANOTHER MAJOR concern for the alliance was the new federal debt-repayment tax which will first be payable in January 1983," Ephlin said. "The House bill moves as quickly as possible to cap this escalating tax in 1985 and then projects its elimination in 1987."

"Equity in meeting the system's critical financial problems was certainly a major objective, though certainly the most difficult one to define," said Dewar.

State tax haul fell 4 percent in '82

"The alliance concluded that there should be an appropriate sharing of the total burden between different categories of employers and between employers and employees. The system's financial problems are so large that it would certainly be inequitable to resolve them by imposing additional burdens on just one group."

October 1982, compared to $38.1 million collected in October 1981, a 7.8 percent drop over the year. The phenomenon is attributed not only to less travel during the recession but to smaller and more fuel-efficient vehicles.

The sales tax, Michigan's second biggest revenue producer, was down by 4.3 percent. A total of $133.6 million was collected this October, compared to $139.6 million gathered in October 1981. The performance is worse when inflation of about 5 percent is taken into account.

'Best Friends' makes comic bedfellows

"Best Friends" (PG) emerges from the pack of new releases as best bet for holiday entertainment. Shedding the beer guzzling, auto racing image of some of his most popular films, Burt Reynolds nicely understates his character, Richard Babson, while getting the maximum comic effect. So too does Goldie Hawn as Paula McCullen.

The two of them are paired as a couple of successful Hollywood script writers who are equally compatible in the office or in the bedroom. They have been working together harmoniously and noncommittally for years. They decide to buy a house together, and Richard persuades Paula that she should make a commitment to each other. Paula reluctantly agrees, so they marry and leave on an Amtrak honeymoon which includes visits to both sets of parents.

A hint of things to come emerges at the start of their trip when the two of them try to squeeze into a narrow sleeper on the train. The rest of the journey offers no improvement and even less romance.

They arrive at the home of Paula's parents in Buffalo amid a typical winter blizzard. Richard finds the weather frightful and Paula's parents peculiar. He is forever shivering and closing windows, which his mother-in-law keeps opening.

Next stop is Virginia where Richard's parents live in a security-guarded, 15,000-unit condominium complex. Paula can't stand the sealed-in stuffiness and is none too thrilled with her new in-laws, especially her mother-in-law, who is a maniac with a flash camera.

By the time they return to California, where it's raining, their honeymoon has turned into a brawl and they are ready for a divorce. The "best friends" have become an irritable, argumentative married couple.

That's the gist of this movie in which Reynolds and Hawn lead us to a delightful string of encounters with distinctive, funny and sometimes poignant characters.

Jessica Tandy and Barnard Hughes are dry, comic and touching as Paula's parents. Tandy as the prudent and pragmatic mother gives a performance worthy of supporting actress nomination.

Keenan Wynn and Audra Lindley are equally effective as Richard's boisterous and outgoing parents. Another notable supporting actor, and one who owns every scene in which he appears, is Ron Silver. The brightest piece of comedy in this film is the satire on the industry itself with Silver as Larry Weisman, an egotistical, lying and eccentric Hollywood producer. As he discusses a script with Paula and Richard, a shoe clerk fits him with athletic shoes. Then Larry simply jogs out of the conference and out of the office, leaving the writers sitting there nonplussed.

About the only time this movie goes off course is when it tries for a cheap sight gag, as when Paula, high on Valium, falls face down into her chicken salad. Otherwise, it hums along a bright route of comic situations and dialogue drawn from show biz humor, generation gap humor, male-female confrontation humor and geographic humor.

Sun child Richard's complaints about the cold may not get much sympathy from Easterners, but they are bound to strike a responsive chord among southern Californians who regard any winter trip to a location east of Arizona as a sentence to Siberia.

FIRST REHEARSAL for the Schoolcraft College Community Choir will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 11 in room 310 of the Forum Building. Auditions will be conducted at that time and during the week of Jan. 18 in the same room. The choir is a credit-free class available at $30 a semester. The fee is set without regard to residence. Participants may register at the Jan. 25 rehearsal.

ANOTHER GROUP looking for new members, the Academy Singers, conducts its auditions from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Jan. 8 at Varner Hall, Oakland University, Rochester. For more information and an application form, contact Mr. and Mrs. Gene Grier, directors, P.O. Box 307, Drayton Plains, 48020; 666-3037.

IT'S THE SEASON for auditions. The Fourth Street Playhouse conducts auditions for "1959 Pink Thunderbird" by James McLure from 4-11 p.m., Jan. 6 at the theater, 301 W. Fourth Street, Royal Oak. Auditions are by appointment only. Each person auditioning must present two contrasting, prepared monologues which combined don't exceed four minutes. A resume and a picture are required. For an appointment call the playhouse at 543-3666. The play, set in Texas during the late '70s, combines two one-act plays, "Lone Star" and "Laundry and Bourbon." Cast needs are for three men ages three through the late 20s or early 30s. Bill Moore directs the production.

SWEET-ADELINES' Farmington Hills chapter will be among the Michigan Choral Groups competing in state-wide competition Feb. 11-12 at Plymouth-Salem High School, as part of the Great American Choral Festival. Winners of the state competition will move on to the national competition where country's best amateur singing group will be chosen.

THREE ACTING WORKSHOPS are offered from Jan. 11 to Feb. 9 at the Attic Theatre, 525 E. Lafayette, Detroit. The workshops are aimed at people with acting experience or theatre course work who are pursuing a professional acting career. Series I, stage combat, taught by David Parker, an affiliate member of the Society of American Fight Directors will be conducted from 4:30-7 p.m., Jan. 16, 23, 30 and Feb. 6. Series II, audition technique, taught by Margaret Heinze, a founding member of Roadside Attractions, is set for 7-10 p.m., Jan. 12, 19, 26 and Feb. 9. The classes cover selection of audition pieces, preparation and presentation. A two-minute contemporary piece should be prepared for the first class meeting. Series III, scene study, taught by Robert Wright, classical stage and screen actor and director, covers basic acting techniques through study of scenes from contemporary American drama. Classes are conducted from 7-10 p.m., Jan. 15, 22, 29 and Feb. 5. Send a picture and resume along with $40 for each series to Attic Theatre Workshops, 525 E. Lafayette, Detroit, 48226. There aren't any refunds for missed classes. Class size is limited to 16 students each. For further information, call 963-7789.

WILL-O-WAY Apprentice Theatre, Bloomfield Hills has added singer and choral director Dreama Royal for the upcoming winter term of classes. She is music director of the University Presbyterian Church, Rochester and performed last year in the Birmingham Musical's "Desert Song." She has a bachelors in music from the University of Charleston and has trained at Oakland University, Wayne State University and the University of Michigan. She attended a master class in German lieder taught by John Wustman of Illinois, last year.

With the school's artistic director, Celia Merrill Turner, Royal will conduct a class in "Opera Scene Study" for adults with trained voices. For vocalists interested in a daytime class, Royal teaches "Ensemble Singing for Musicals" on Saturdays. Registration is underway. Open houses are scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Jan. 4 and 5 at the school, 775 W. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Hills. Adult classes run from Jan. 9 to March 29. Teens and children study from Jan. 10 to Mar. 27. For further information or registration call 644-4418.

"LASERA 2 'The History of Rock and Roll'" will be shown at 8 p.m., Jan. 10 in the Cranbrook Institute of Science planetarium. The laser light show is combined with musical selections ranging from the work of Bill Haley and the Comets to the present. The selections have been made in conjunction with WRIF-FM.

THIS CONTRASTS sharply with the current condition of the Social Security system. Eisenberger said, "If present trends remain in force, contributions to the Social Security system could eventually rise to over 22 percent of covered payroll, or about double what it is now. If all of these companies for some unknown reason stopped making payments to their pension programs, accrued benefits would, for the most part, still be met from present assets and future gains. That should instill confidence in the plans on the part of employees.
Of the industries surveyed, chemicals, soap, cosmetics and aerospace had plans which, on the average, were more than 92 percent funded. On the lower end, automotive, rubber and plastics manufacturers have plans funded at an average 85 percent.
"IN GENERAL," said Eisenberger, "the average company represented in our study has maintained its financial equilibrium in the wake of many legislative, economic and social pressures that come to bear on pension plans sponsors.
"Pension costs and liabilities of large corporate pension plans are generally well within the financial resources of their sponsors, but there are a bare handful of notable exceptions. Johnson & Higgins has 46 offices overseas and exclusive correspondent firms throughout the world.
Pension plans of large corporations are stronger and more stable than ever, according to a large actuarial consulting firm.
That conclusion can be drawn from a survey of Fortune 500 industrial and 200 nonindustrial companies conducted by Johnson & Higgins, one of the nation's largest actuarial consulting firms. The typical employee of a major corporation can have complete confidence in his or her company's pension plan, in sharp contrast to the troubled Social Security system.
"IT IS PARTICULARLY encouraging to find that for the Fortune 500 companies, pension costs as a percentage of pretax earnings have remained constant throughout the past three years of economic turmoil," said Richard Eisenberger, vice president of Johnson & Higgins, whose Detroit office is in the Renaissance Center.
"This means that these companies, on average, are meeting their pension obligations without putting an exceptional strain on earnings during difficult times.
The study found that, over all, the Fortune 500 companies have been contributing approximately 12 percent of pretax profits to their pension programs for the past five years. The figures vary from company to company, but Eisenberger said, "in the aggregate, the ratios remain remarkably constant."
Overall, Johnson & Higgins found America's leading corporations covered in the survey spending roughly $22 billion on annual pension programs for each of the past two years.
On an individual basis, this amounted to approximately $1,400 per employee.

DENTAL DISEASE NOT INHERITED
We can break the chain of tooth decay. Today, dental disease is totally preventable. Bad teeth don't "run in the family." There is just no hereditary excuse for cavities and crooked teeth. What we do pass down from generation to generation are eating habits, muscular patterns, attitudes toward oral cleanliness, etc.
If grandmother had a history of dental problems, maybe it was because she or her parents knew how to take care of her teeth. If grandfather wore dentures, it may be because he lived at a time when tooth-wear extracted to "cure" all kinds of ailments from rheumatism to poor eyesight. But your own child has been born in an age of prevention. If he or she has eight cavities by age five, it will be because somebody has failed to do something.
Today's preventive dental knowledge calls for a three-way effort to break the chain of decay through new approaches to diet, oral hygiene, and strengthening the resistance of teeth to decay. It will take time, caring and effort, but we can defeat dental decay in children. If we really work at it.

Salem rules as Canton mat king; Chiefs take 2nd

By C.J. Risak staff writer
Wrestling Mecca?
That may be a little strong, but the Plymouth-Canton community did come out looking like the sport's homeland last Thursday in the Canton Invitational.
Plymouth Salem outdistanced the pack, putting seven wrestlers in the finals and winning four events to lead the eight-team tournament with 16 1/2 points.
But the most exciting moment of the evening came in the last match. Canton's Paul Fletcher went into the 200-pound championship final needing to pin Birmingham Brother Rice's David Basirico to boost the Chiefs into second place. Fletcher pulled off the feat, nailing Basirico in 1:20.
"THAT WAS A super job," said Canton coach Dan Chrenko of Fletcher's performance, which allowed the Chiefs to sneak past Portage Northern. "He knew he had to pin him."

However, despite their impressive performance, it should be noted that Warren Lincoln, the tournament champion the past two seasons, and Wayne Memorial, last year's runner-up, were not among the competitors this year.
Canton finished with 147 1/2 points, one ahead of Northern. Rice was fourth (118 1/2), followed by Saginaw (66), Dearborn (56), West Bloomfield (54) and Redford Thurston (17 1/2).
"The reason for this tournament is to showcase wrestling in this area," said Chrenko. "With Salem No. 1 and Canton No. 2, we accomplished that."

Other winners were Saginaw's Danny Hernandez (heavyweight), a pin of Salem's Marty Nagy in 1:31 of overtime. Northern's Deron Melling (114), a pin of Canton's Todd Bartlett in 4:29. West Bloomfield's Rob Rouker (121), a 6-4 decision over Salem's John Jeannotte. Dearborn's Mark Osterhoff (134), 13-2 over Rice's Bob Petrillo and West Bloomfield's Bob Petrillo (157), 4-3 over Northern's Scott Carango.
The trip with the players, were also pulled into the fund raising. For the last two hockey seasons they have been paying a set amount for each winning goal the team scored in a series match. "Believe it or not," one team official wrote, "it was as good as the chicken (manure)."

Big crowds fast action equals good hockey

Home for holidays in Joe Louis Arena
Michigan Coach John Giordano said Kobylarz is no world-beater, yet has the talent to become a solid college hockey player.
"His got the size and toughness and he likes to play the physical game. Hopefully, he'll score some goals in that capacity."
HAMWAY IS THE captain of the Spartans troops. The Bishop Borgess graduate led Michigan State and finished fourth in scoring in the OCHA a year ago, tying the record for goals scored (28).
The senior forward was drafted by the New York Islanders in the seventh round of the 1980 draft after playing for the Windsor Spitfires of the Ontario Major Junior A League.
"Hamway said the team set its goal as high as it can be - to win the NCAA championships. With only four members gone from the 4981-82 team that won the OCHA playoffs, the chances are pretty good. At one point this season, the Spartans were ranked No. 1 in the nation. Currently, they rank fourth, with a 17-3 overall mark.
"Your always want to go all the way - if you don't you shouldn't be playing the game," Hamway said. "We're not looking down the road, we're looking weekend by weekend and see where we stand."
"We're way above where we were last year and our record indicates that. Personally, I'm just happy that this team keeps on winning, it doesn't matter if I get one goal or 10."

Plymouth turns out for Swedish icers

By Jim DuFreese staff writer
The moment was near. The Zamboni had only another lap or two and it was done resurfacing the ice. Anticipation was growing in the Plymouth Cultural Center Wednesday night, almost getting out of control.
The enthusiastic crowd of over 200 began to hum with excitement. The hockey players couldn't stand waiting in the lockerroom any longer. They slipped out and crowded around the entrance of the rink to watch the tank-like machine complete its final turn and head for the side.
After two long years, lots of bags of chicken manure and a nine and half hour flight, the moment had finally arrived for this young team from Ekerö, Sweden.
"THE ICE was their's. And it would belong to them the rest of the night. Not jet lag, not the Zamboni, not even the Plymouth Canton hockey club could take it away from them.
"We are very happy to be here," said Jorgen Dahlstrom, assistant manager of the team. "We worked very hard for three years to raise the money.
In a country where the marginal taxes are 80 percent or more of a family's income, raising the funds to pay for the trip was a mammoth task. The boys started out by selling tulips door-to-door during Christmas. At Easter the team cut birch twigs, decorated them with colored feathers and sold those.
But it was chicken manure, gathered from local poultry farmers, then bagged and sold for home gardens, that really displayed their determination to participate in Plymouth's International Holiday Tournament.

Just how popular is college hockey to Detroit-area fans?
Six Livonia and Redford players realized how good it was to come home for the holidays as record crowds showed up at Joe Louis Arena Tuesday and Wednesday for the Great Lakes Invitational college hockey tournament.
Teams from Michigan State, Michigan Tech, Notre Dame and the University of Michigan battled it out before 21,347 loud-mouthed fans Wednesday, the largest crowd ever to witness a hockey game in North America. Livonia's representatives were Michigan's Paul Kobylarz, Michigan State's Todd Gardner and Mike Donnelly. Redford was well accounted for in Michigan Tech's Steve Murphy and Michigan State's Mark Hamway and Jeff Rastny.
KOBYLARZ, a sophomore, attended Detroit Catholic Central High School, leading the league in scoring his final two seasons.
His play in the Invitational has been consistent in his two seasons as a Wolverine. A year ago, he scored two goals and was nominated as the OCHA Player of the Week, while his two assists against Notre Dame last week helped Michigan win 12-3.
Kobylarz said his play is a little sluggish at present, due to a slow start at the season's beginning.
"I really worked out hard over the summer," Kobylarz said. "I think I had a letdown at the beginning of the season, but I'm starting to pick up right now and I feel better than I have all year."
Kobylarz led the Wolverine frosh in scoring last season with 11 goals and eight assists. Halfway through 1982, he has three goals and four assists and emphasizes that the points are not as important as being a team player.

From Livonia with love Area spikers still winners

By Ken McDonald special writer
A trio of former prep volleyball stars have blossomed at the collegiate level, and their improvement has helped spark their respective teams to successful seasons.
Central Michigan's Denise Breslin, Ferris State's Linda Spicer and Wayne State's Lisa Redford all recently earned all-conference honors following this year's volleyball campaign.
BRESLIN IS a 1979 graduate of Livonia Bentley who was chosen to the All-Mid-American Conference (MAC) squad while leading the Chippewas to a 38-6 record. The senior co-captain missed the MAC championships because of a leg injury and an illness as CMU lost to Western Michigan in the finals.
"Denise is not the most awesome hitter on our team, but she's the smartest," said Chippewa coach Marcy Weston. "She's able to hit whatever the defense gives her and also reads the opponents' offense very well."
Breslin transferred from Wayne State Central prior to her junior year. At Wayne State she was named All-State and last season as a Chippewa she was nominated for All-Region, leading CMU to a school-record 54 victories.
In July, 1981, Breslin was a member of the East team at the National Sports Festival in Syracuse, N.Y.
With her senior season coming to a close, Breslin reflected on her past two years as a Chippewa spiker.
"I never expected volleyball could mean so much and be as big a part of my life as it is," Breslin said. "Or be as enjoyable. This (year's squad) is the best team I've ever played on."

REDFORD, NOW a senior at Wayne State, helped the Tartars rack up seven wins in eight GLIAC matches, finishing second to Ferris. Wayne State was the first season since Redford came to WSU that the Tartars failed to win the conference championship.
The 1979 Livonia Clarenceville graduate won All-GLIAC honors four consecutive years and was All-State her first two years (playing in the AIAW. All-State teams are not chosen in NCAA competition). Redford was also a high-school All-American.
Redford's playing days may be at an end, but she stays active in the sport by coaching the varsity team at Clarenceville.

Midgets win tourney

The Plymouth-Canton Midget AA hockey team exploded for four goals in the second period on the way to a 6-2 rout of St. Clair Shores to capture the Silver Stick Regional Tournament held in Detroit two weeks ago.
The victory in the finals allows the local team to represent Metro Detroit Region in the 14th North American Midget Silver Stick Finals to be held in Sarnia, Ontario at the end of January.
Chuck Norton drilled a slap shot over the shoulder of the St. Clair Shores goalie just 18 seconds into the opening period to put the Plymouth-Canton Squad on the scoreboard. St. Clair tied it up late in the period before Plymouth exploded for its four-goal rally.
NORTON PICKED up two of those goals to complete a hat trick while Rodney Williams and Dave Fehlig added one each. Tim Osburn tallied the final goal for Plymouth with 1:50 remaining in the game.

Swedes outskate Plymouth icers

German felt the Swedes checked harder this time. But in the end it was their own style of hockey, to outskate instead of outthit their opponents, that led to their 4-3 win.

There were plenty of body checks that rattled the boards, but there was also a fine display of graceful skating and pinpoint passing by the Ekerö squad that enabled them to jump out to a 2-0 first-period lead.

Only 17 seconds after the opening face-off, Clas Ridstrom managed to backhand the puck into the goal for a score that left the Americans wide-eyed. Five minutes later Dan Lindqvist picked up a rebound in front of the net and drilled it in.

"The Americans have a wider way of skating," said Dahlstrom. "They skate heavier on the ice. They play hard and check hard. We tend to play the puck more."

"PERHAPS THAT'S the trans-Atlantic difference between European and American hockey."

The difference and the score were reduced in the second period when the Plymouth-Canton squad rallied to take the lead and the momentum. Kurt Holda scored in the opening two minutes of the second period and 46 seconds later Steve Culver tied up the game to the delight of the crowd.

With 1:34 remaining in the period Jeff Gerish finally handed the host team a 3-2 lead. But it was short-lived. A brief 27 seconds later Patrik Åkesson scored on an unassisted breakaway to end the period in a 3-3 tie.

THE PACE on the ice in the final period was frantic. Andreas Birch-Jensen scored in the opening minute to put Ekerö up 4-3. The action peaked in the final minute when the Americans pulled their goalie and staged several furious attacks in front of the Swedish net with the extra man.

But the overseas guests held out; won their first game of the tournament and departed the ice shaking the hands of their opponents and the fans who gathered around their locker room door.

"This exchange is much more than hockey," said Tallback. "It is a cultural thing." It's a renewal of a friendship.

Midgets win easily

The winners began the journey to the finals by knocking off Dearborn, 6-3, in the opening round. Osburn and Chris Belhart scored goals in the first period, but Dearborn managed to tie it up, 2-2. Plymouth again rallied in the second period to put away the win with a goal each by Ed LaRoche, Don Perrin and Osburn, who added a final score in the third period for a hat trick.

Osburn, LaRoche and Joe Carlson each tallied a goal as Plymouth upended Ann Arbor, 3-1, before facing St. Clair Shores in the first of two meetings. The winners jumped to a 4-0 lead and held off a strong rally by St. Clair Shores to win, 4-3, and advance to the semifinals.

Skaters come home

"He is one of my first recruits here, and has withstood the bad times to help us get where we are," Mason said. "In that sense, he is very special to our program."

DONNELLY IS the newest edition to the Spartan roster.

The Livonia Franklin graduate began playing for Michigan State only a month ago, after leaving school in 1981.

"I was 17 at the time and really didn't feel like I was ready for college," the Spartan forward said. "I thought I needed another year of experience before I could play college hockey."

Donnelly's presence has been felt. He scored the game winning goal in his third game against Lake Superior State, and scored a goal in the Invitational against Michigan.

"I had about 20 relatives in the stands (at the Invitational)," Donnelly said.

"He's got a lot of enthusiasm, has great speed and great potential," Mason said. "I think he's going to be a bona fide player."

GARDINER, A Churchill graduate, also tallied a goal at the Invitational, an empty-netter in which he drove the length of the ice to put home.

"Empty nets — I like those," Gardiner said. The senior defenseman didn't hesitate to compliment the way the Spartans ward off the opposition.

"They've (the defense) been great," he said. "The forwards have really helped them out a lot, and they've helped out the forwards on both ends of the rink."

Gardiner transferred to Michigan

State in 1980 from the Air Force Academy.

"I knew Ron Mason was a good coach and there were a couple of my good friends — Mark Hamway and Ken Leiter — that were already there. It seemed like they were building, and four years later, here we are."

"Todd Gardiner's more of a defensive-type hockey player," Mason said. "He kills penalties for us, he anchors the line. We can throw him in at any position and it doesn't hurt us."

EISLEY FEELS he's gotten by a slump at his defensive position for the Spartans, even though a wrist injury sidelined him for a few games.

He's helped the Michigan State defense establish the lowest goals against average in the league, something he attributes to strong, hard work.

"I just wanted to play a regular shift in the beginning, because I knew we were moving over to a six-defenseman lineup," Eisley said.

Eisley, a junior, graduated from Thurston High School and played for the Detroit Jr. Red Wings, where he scored 44 points his final season.

Eisley remembers playing with Invitational foes in the minor hockey leagues, including Murphy and Kobylarz.

"Jeff Eisley's a heads-up hockey player. He moves the puck very well," Mason said.

MURPHY, THE lone Tech representative from the area, is the team's second leading scorer with 11 goals and 17 assists including one goal and two assists at the Invitational.

The Redford Thurston graduate, like many other players, would like to see Tech go to the NCAA's.

Timesaving Dishes with Alaska Salmon

Busy schedules and an increasing preference for foods that are light but satisfying make succulent Alaska salmon a popular food for today's changing lifestyles. Available fresh, frozen or canned, prized Alaska salmon is the delectable beginning for numerous dishes that can be prepared in double-quick time and guarantee top-notch eating for family and friends.

Speedy supper dishes when the family's on the go include a tasty Salmon Fettucine that can be put together even by a novice cook in just minutes, and Sautéed Salmon Fillets, boasting a crisp golden coating encasing the succulent salmon. A kaleidoscope of colors and complementary flavors are found in Salmon Rainbow Salad when tender morsels of canned salmon are surrounded with colorful marinated vegetables for an especially attractive main dish salad.

When you're entertaining, Alaska salmon also has the magic to make meals special without spending long hours in the kitchen. When guests join you unexpectedly for lunch, supper or a late evening snack, Broiled Salmon Sandwiches can be quickly prepared with ingredients kept on hand. Party perfect is Dilly Salmon Dip, a great make-ahead appetizer which is surrounded with vegetables before serving. No need to forgo having guests for dinner if working keeps you on a busy schedule. For an impressive entree that's quickly prepared, serve Savory Salmon Kabobs. Chunks of salmon are alternated on skewers with fresh vegetables, then basted with a zesty Lime Butter.

Whether fresh, frozen or canned, Alaska salmon is an unbeatable choice for irresistible dishes that go together in minimal time. Nutritionally, it's hard to beat as well. Alaska salmon is an excellent source of complete protein and contains valuable vitamins and minerals.

SALMON FETTUCINE

- 1 can (7-3/4 oz.) salmon*
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1/4 teaspoon EACH pepper and crushed basil

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 6 ounces fettucine or spaghetti, cooked and drained
- 3 tablespoons minced parsley
- Grated Parmesan cheese

Drain salmon, reserving liquid; flake. Sauté onion and garlic in oil until onion is tender. Stir in reserved salmon liquid; cook 5 minutes over medium heat. Stir in salmon, pepper, basil and butter. Cook and stir 2 minutes. Toss with hot fettucine and parsley. Serve with Parmesan cheese. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

* One cup cooked, flaked, fresh/frozen Alaska salmon may be substituted. Substitute 2 tablespoons fish stock or wine for reserved salmon liquid.

SALMON RAINBOW SALAD

- 1 cup EACH cherry tomatoes and sliced, cooked new potatoes
- 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms
- 1 crookneck squash, sliced and cooked until crisp-tender

- Italian Dressing
- 1 can (7-3/4 oz.) salmon*
- 1 zucchini, sliced and cooked until crisp-tender

In shallow dish marinate tomatoes, potatoes, mushrooms and crookneck squash in Italian Dressing 2 hours or longer in refrigerator. Drain, reserving dressing; remove garlic. Drain salmon; break into chunks. Arrange salmon, zucchini and marinated vegetables in rows on platter. Drizzle salmon and zucchini with dressing. Pass additional dressing. Makes 2 or 3 servings.

Italian Dressing: Combine 2/3 cup oil, 1/2 cup white wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon crushed oregano, 1/4 teaspoon pepper and 1 clove crushed garlic. Makes about 1 cup.

* One cup cooked, chunked fresh/frozen Alaska salmon may be substituted.

Tip: Bottled Italian dressing may be substituted.

SAUTÉED SALMON FILLETS

- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- Dash paprika

- 4 (4 oz. EACH) Alaska fresh/frozen salmon fillets, thawed if necessary
- Instant potato flakes or dry bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup butter, margarine or oil

Combine egg, mustard and seasonings. Dip salmon in egg mixture then in potato flakes. Sauté in butter on all sides allowing 10 minutes cooking time per inch of thickness measured at its thickest part or until golden brown. When done, salmon should flake easily when tested with a fork at thickest part. Makes 4 servings.

SAVORY SALMON KABOBS

- 1-1/4 to 1-1/2 pounds Alaska fresh/frozen salmon steaks, thawed if necessary
- 1 zucchini, cut into 1/2-inch pieces

- 12 mushrooms
- 12 cherry tomatoes
- Lime Butter

Remove skin and bones from salmon; cut into sixteen 1 to 1-1/2 inch chunks. Alternate salmon, zucchini, mushrooms and tomatoes on each of 4 skewers. Brush with Lime Butter. Broil 5 inches from heat 2 minutes per side or a total of 8 minutes. Baste with Lime Butter each time kabobs are turned. Makes 4 servings.

Lime Butter: Combine 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine, 1/4 cup lime or lemon juice, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 clove minced garlic, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon thyme and 1/8 teaspoon pepper; mix well. Makes about 3/4 cup.

BROILED SALMON SANDWICHES

- 2 English muffins
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 3/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 can (7-3/4 oz.) salmon, drained and flaked

- 2 tablespoons chopped green onion
- 4 slices Cheddar or American cheese

Split each muffin in two. Combine mayonnaise and mustard; spread on cut side of each muffin. Top each with about 1/4 cup salmon, 1-1/2 teaspoons green onions and a slice of cheese. Broil 5 to 6 inches from heat 2-1/2 to 3 minutes or until cheese melts. Makes 4 servings.

DILLY SALMON DIP

- 1 can (7-3/4 oz.) salmon
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon EACH grated onion and Worcestershire sauce

- 1/8 teaspoon EACH salt, pepper, crushed dill weed and bottled hot pepper sauce
- Chopped parsley
- Vegetables for dipping: cherry tomatoes, cucumber, celery and carrot sticks

Drain salmon. Reserve one chunk salmon for garnish; flake remaining. Combine flaked salmon, sour cream, mayonnaise, lemon juice, onion and seasonings. Chill thoroughly. Garnish with parsley and reserved salmon. Serve with vegetables. Makes 2 cups dip.

Tip: Fresh asparagus, pea pods, mushrooms or cooked and chilled artichokes may be served with dip.

REDEM PROCTER & GAMBLE MAILED COUPONS NOW!

January 22, 1983 is a special day for the Special Olympics. Procter & Gamble will contribute 50 million special coupons now and help make a special difference to the Special Olympics Games.

This elegant-looking casserole combines eggs and spinach with other economical ingredients in a taste combination that is sure to please buffet/brunch guests.

Casserole glows for buffet guests

Even though it's unlikely that the Lions will be there, lots of people will use the Super Bowl as an excuse to invite friends over and share an afternoon of football.

And if you are looking for something new to serve brunch or buffet guests, let Candlerow Casserole light up your table.

Protein-rich eggs and spinach noodles head the list of ingredients in this savory casserole. The eggs make this a nutritious, yet economical, main dish while the noodles provide nutrition, flavor and happy color. Thaw out some of your holiday leftovers that you thriftily froze for later use to add more nutrition economically. Simply layer in a cup of diced, cooked turkey, chicken or ham.

CANDLEGLOW CASSEROLE
1 pkg. (7 oz.) spinach noodles, cooked and drained
1 cup diced, cooked turkey, chicken or ham, optional
5 hard-cooked eggs*, sliced
2 cups (8 oz.) shredded mozzarella cheese
2 eggs
1 cup (8 oz.) small curd cottage cheese
1 tsp. instant minced onion

In greased 12x7 1/2 x2-inch baking pan or dish, layer 1/2 of the noodles, turkey, if desired, sliced eggs and mozzarella cheese. Repeat layers twice. Beat together 3 eggs, cottage cheese, milk and seasonings until well blended. Pour over layers. Cover and bake in preheated 350° oven 30 minutes. Uncover and continue baking until cheese is lightly browned, 5 to 10 minutes.

*To hard-cook, put eggs in single layer in saucepan. Add enough tap water to come at least 1 inch above eggs. Cover and quickly bring just to boiling. Turn off heat. If necessary, remove pan from burner to prevent further boiling. Let eggs stand covered in the hot water 15 to 17 minutes for large eggs. (Adjust time up or down by about 3 minutes for each size larger or smaller.) Immediately run cold water over eggs or put them in ice water until completely cooled. To remove shell, crack it by tapping gently all over. Roll egg between hands to loosen shell; then peel, starting at large end. Hold egg under running cold water or dip in bowl of water to help ease off shell.

Ethel Moody gave more than 6,000 free blood pressure tests last year. Has yours been checked recently?

Lots of folks call Ethel, Miss Blood Pressure, because she's one of the Red Cross volunteers who gives free blood pressure tests.

"High blood pressure is a silent disease," warns Ethel. "Generally there are no symptoms. The only way to tell if you've got it is to have your blood pressure taken."

About 35 million Americans have high blood pressure. It's a leading cause of stroke, heart disease and kidney problems.

Prompt treatment reduces that danger. In most people, high blood pressure can be lowered and kept under control.

When was the last time you had your blood pressure checked? If you can't remember, it's been too long. Call your doctor. Or call us.

Mild fish coming on strong Is there a catfish in your future?

Wander down to the pond and they'll let you in on a little secret. The catfish. They're not just for the south anymore. Pass the word to a soybean farmer.

More and more people are eating catfish outside of the south and lower midwest, areas where the catfish is known and loved. Sales are up 60 percent over last year, say catfish industry sources. What's spawning this growth? Word of mouth mostly, the mouth being most intimately involved in the enjoyment of the dish.

"If we ever get you to eat it one time, you'll eat it again," said Mississippi catfish farmer Lester Myers.

In this case, what's good for the catfish farmer is also good for the soybean farmer. That's because soybeans constitute a big portion of the catfish diet. Catfish farmers in Mississippi, where roughly 90 percent of all catfish are produced, feed their fish more than 2.3 million bushels of soybeans a year, or about one-tenth the total U.S. crop.

"Soybean farmers realize the catfish industry represents a huge market for soybean meal," said Ken Bader of the American Soybean Association. "Through the soybean checkoff program, Mississippi farmers have funded a research project on catfish feed processing at Mississippi State University. This is just one of several checkoff-funded soybean-fish promotion programs around the world."

In the pond, these bewhiskered fish are virtual meat machines. It takes from 1.5 to 1.7 pounds of feed to make one pound of catfish. But until five or six years ago, no one knew the exact nutritional requirements of the fish. Feeds were formulated on a trial-and-error basis.

Researchers now know what a catfish needs to eat. Roughly half the ration is soybean meal, and the rest wheat, fish meal, vitamins and minerals. The question now is how to come up with the most economical formulas, based on feed prices, and still meet the nutritional needs of the fish.

"Feed cost is about 50 percent of the cost of producing catfish, so anything we can do to make feed production more efficient brings the cost down," said Dr. Robert Wilson, head of the Department of Biochemistry at Mississippi State University. Wilson and Dr. John Waldrop, MSU agricultural economist, will be working on the project funded by the Mississippi Soybean Promotion Board. The Catfish Farmers of America and two catfish feed mills in Mississippi also support the project.

The scientists will be putting their work through the mill, literally. They will substitute mechanically processed soybean meal for solvent extracted soybean meal and see if it can be used to make catfish feed.

"If this won't go through the mill, none of the rest of our testing will matter," said Waldrop. "We'll first look at the physical characteristics of the feed."

According to Myers, who is president of the Catfish Farmers of America, a catfish farmer needs to see his fish only three times when he puts them in the pond, when he feeds them and when he takes them out. "The feed has to float so you can see your fish eating," he said. "In processing, the feed is cooked so the corn particles puff like popcorn."

Once the researchers are sure the mechanically processed meal can be used and is nutritious to the fish, they will estimate the costs of producing the meal. It's possible the processing could be done locally using locally grown soybeans," Waldrop said. "This could result in even more soybean meal being used, but we don't know this for sure. We need to answer these questions."

Local quality control is one of the big pluses of the catfish industry in Mississippi, according to Seymour Johnson, who raises both soybeans and catfish in Indiana, Miss. "We control everything from feed to water. In the super-market, our frozen fish is fresher than fresh fish. They go from live to frozen in 25 minutes. The bacteria count is then extremely low. Because of this low count, fish can be super chilled to 23 degrees without freezing. Chill-pack fish have a 20-day shelf life."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture routinely samples food products for bacteria count. "I've been told our catfish has the lowest bacteria count of any product USDA samples," Johnson said.

These factors are important in the production and processing of catfish, said Johnson, when someone lists down to a catfish dinner the important thing is taste.

Healthful and nutritious: Apples in juice or cider

You've probably been drinking apple juice and apple cider since you were a youngster, but have you ever realized that the two aren't quite the same even though their names are sometimes used interchangeably?

Apple juice, as the name implies, is the juice which results from the grinding and pressing of fresh apples. It is filtered to remove most of the apple solids or pulp. After filtering and clarifying, the juice is then hermetically sealed in cans, jars or bottles and is pasteurized for longer shelf life. No artificial sweeteners are added. Thanks to pasteurization and the vacuum sealing, apple juice is available all year around.

Sweet apple cider starts out just like apple juice. It is pressed from fresh, finely filtered and clarified. This accounts for the cloudy appearance and for the residue which sometimes accumulates in the bottom of the container after it has been standing for awhile.

The major difference lies in what is not done to the cider. It is not pasteurized nor is it hermetically sealed for long shelf life. Fresh, sweet apple cider will remain sweet, flavorful and unfermented for up to three weeks under refrigeration.

Both juice and cider are perfect for any season. When it's warm, try refreshing apple juice mixed with club soda over ice.

When you're been enjoying the great outdoors in fall or winter, warm up with cider heated and served with a cinnamon stick stirrer.

Taking another look— 1982 just a memory

COULDN'T RESIST looking back over the pages of the Sub Life section and reviewing the old year. It seemed difficult to accept 1982 without a brief rehash. It was almost like checking your bank balance before writing a new check.

Plymouth's first baby of the year was Emma Kate Leahy, born Sunday afternoon, Jan. 3 in Cheyogon. It took some time to track her down because her parents, Lawrence and Dorothy Leahy, were up north for her sister's wedding. Emma Kate and her parents received a bundle of gifts from the local merchants.

Early in the new year, Gov. William Milliken appointed Bev McAninch to the state's Energy Awareness Committee. Ron and Joann Jankalits, who live on Micol in Plymouth Township, won a pair of tickets to Super Bowl XVII which they watched from the Hygrade suite at the Silverdome.

With the World's Fair coming up in Knoxville, Tenn., cadettes in Girl

Scout Troop 346 started early with fund-raising activities for their trip to the fair. They had a pancake breakfast at McDonald's Restaurant in Canton, Jan. 13.

GUEST SPEAKERS at the Plymouth Newcomers Club's first luncheon meeting of the year were Mary Childs and Jack Wilcox. The two also won the prizes given at the event.

The Canton Newcomers Club opened its membership to all Canton residents. Because of the building slump, both the Canton and Plymouth clubs have a big drop in memberships.

The Canton Business and Professional Women's Club celebrated its first anniversary in January. Bunches of football fans departed the community early Jan. 24 to see the Cincinnati Bengals take on the San Francisco 49ers at the Silverdome.

Over at First United Presbyterian Church, the congregation arranged a reception honoring their minister and his wife, Phil and Dottie Magee. Feb. 1 was the 15th anniversary of their coming to the Plymouth Church.

Sharon Davy and Clady Merrifield chaired the Symphony League's "Swing into Spring at Our Las Vegas Fling" party Feb. 6 at the Plymouth Cultural Center. The Plymouth Symphony's Young People's Concert planned for Feb. 7 had to be canceled because of a snowstorm. Conductor Johan van der Merwe was stranded in the blizzard in the Romulus area.

A group met at Hillside Inn Feb. 9 to establish a networking series sponsored by the Plymouth Community Family Y.

Cherry Hill United Methodist Church in Canton began a year-long celebration of its centennial. Madelyn Bastien is chairing the centennial events committee, marking the 100th anniversary of the building of the church.

The German-American Club of Plymouth had its annual Fasching Party Feb. 13 at the Cultural Center.

Doris Richard, regent of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, named high-school seniors Sara Evans and David Simms winners of the chapter's good citizen awards.

MARCH BROUGHT the first two dramatic productions of 1982.

The Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women marked the 100th birthday of "Pinochio" by performing the play Marilyn Baker had the lead role of Pinochio. The Plymouth Theatre Guild's opening night of the musical, "The Fanasticks," was a benefit arranged by the Plymouth-Canton Civitan Club.

Canton BPW named Nancy Morin its young careerist.

The Plymouth Lions Club marked its 35th anniversary with a dinner-theater party at Greenfield Village.

The United Irish Societies of the metropolitan area name 17-year-old Rosalind Rainaldi of Plymouth, Maid of Erin. She led the St. Patrick's Day parade in Detroit. The arts council's Art Rental Gallery had a seventh anniversary sale March 31.

APRIL was opening night for the high-schools' musical production, "Mame." Robin Hill and Peggy Jeanings were some surprise costumes at the Plymouth Newcomers' spring fashion show.

"From Plymouth with Love" The club presented a check for $1,000 to Pat Thomas, librarian at Dunning-Hough Library.

The April 25 concert featured the premiere performance of "A Plymouth Symphony" by Robert W. Jones. The symphony was dedicated to the memory of the Oliver Wagner, former member of the Symphony Society Board of Directors.

West Suburban Stamp Club attracted thousands to its annual stamp show in Central Middle School. Dorothy Koliba chaired the Three Cities Art Club show and sale with Marilyn Walsh's watercolor "Steps" judged best in show.

The whole community had first night fever for the special preview, April 30, of the musical "Monterey" in the Marquis Theatre, Northville. Ed Dragsulis wrote the book and lyrics and Andrew Henderson of Canton wrote the music and score.

MAY WAS a busy month. The annual AAUW used book sale was chaired by Diane Coleman and Judy Shephard. The Plymouth Theatre Guild presented "Harvey," the last play of the 1981-82 season.

Nature lovers made their annual trek to Miller Woods to see the abundance of spring flowers.

Friends of the Plymouth Y were busy lining up celebrity speakers for the community's first Town Hall Series. The series will start in October. The project is a fund-raiser for the Y's building fund. Friends of the Plymouth Library had an organizational meeting May 25. Sam Hudson was guest speaker.

The Plymouth Community Chorus' spring concert was a sell-out with the new Choral Expression group making its debut.

Two historic houses received

Mark Chatterley had his pottery at the the arts council's artists and craftsman show during the Plymouth Fall Festival.

landmark plaques from the AAUW during Michigan Week. They were the Kellogg-Anderson and Kellogg-Crawford houses.

Plymouth-Canton FISH organization marked its 10th anniversary. Michelle Howard will co-chair the group with Earl Wise.

JUNE BROUGHT end-of-the-season meetings and election of officers. Deborah Crap became president of the Canton Newcomers Club. Judy Lore was installed as president of the Plymouth Newcomers.

Parents of graduating seniors spent weeks planning graduation parties. Medieval Madness was the theme for Plymouth Salem with Ed and Carolyn Kleinsmith and Donald and Jan McKenzie co-chairing the June 17 event.

The S.S. Canton River Queen sailed Jan. 15 for Plymouth Canton grads.

Gary Eckharts was elected president of the Canton Lions Club. Members of the CEP Drama Club headed for a five-day conference at Ball State University in Muncie, Ind. Gloria Logan's gang had been invited to perform at an International Dramatic Honor Society meeting.

The Symphony League wrapped up a successful season with a luncheon at St. John's Episcopal Church. Mary Kehoe replaced Judy Morgan as president.

John Aho of Plymouth Township was on the last leg of his 354-mile hike from here to Newberry in the Upper Peninsula. He'll complete it July 2 as part of his hometown's centennial celebration.

Ed Page had a night on the town with the inimitable HasBeens. He was top bidder for the honor in the WSDP high-school radio auction.

New president of the Plymouth Symphony Society Board is Wilma Wagner, who replaces Fran Laag.

Community Band concerts in Kellogg Park began June 24 with Carl Battishill conducting. Janet Campbell is the new president of the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

Last hurrah at Geer Elementary

School was a strawberry and ice cream social. The school flag was presented to teacher Rita McClumpha before the old school closed.

BIG DOINGS in July led off with annual parade on the fourth, arranged by the Plymouth Jaycees, much partying for the opening of Mayflower II and the big Balloon Festival with Emma's Restaurant named by the judges as having the best decorated window.

Old Village Dearie Days, chaired by Jan Sadell was a success as was Art in the Park with Diane Quinn as project director.

Canton Country Festival was bigger and better than ever. Anne Brown left the Plymouth Police Department after 20 years and everyone let her know she would be missed.

Bessie Harwood of Plymouth Township and his little Serendipity won the Port Huron-Rogers City race for Trimarans and was second over-all.

AUGUST WAS summer camps, music camps and vacations. And last-minute preparations for the Plymouth Fall Festival.

Area 4-H Club members had their annual fair and came home with many ribbons.

The Plymouth-Canton Civitan's put on two great parties, one for Canton senior citizens and one for Plymouth seniors. Parties at the Plymouth Elks Club were co-chaired by Geese Sand and Lou Mair.

Area Girl Scouts and Brownies had their annual day camp week in Maybury State Park. Ruby, Mook and Marna Adamian of Canton were directors.

WEATHER WAS perfect for the Plymouth Fall Festival, the second weekend in September. Winning shop windows, judged by Pat Carne and her committee were the Symphony League's Fourth of July in Armbrusters Bootery and Emma's Christmas display.

Last look at 1982

1982 High School class of 1982 chose the Plymouth area for a three-day 30-year reunion. They had a ball.

THE GERMAN-AMERICAN club had its annual Oktoberfest celebration Oct. 2 in the Plymouth Cultural Center. The Plymouth Business and Professional Women named Barbara Carpenter woman of the year. A special gift was telephone call from Avis Goodale's brother and sister-in-law, Vin and Dorothy Forshue of Helmet, California. The guests of honor also received many gifts and cards.

NOVEMBER marked the second in the Plymouth Y Town Hall Series with author Irene Kampen as celebrity guest speaker. mBob and Betty Webber took a 97-day motor tour of Europe last summer. They are sharing their trip with the community via slides and narration in a series in the Plymouth Salem High School Library. A busload of local residents went to Toledo to see the El Greco of Toledo art collection. The PCAC arranged it.

It was Dori Dyal Day at Central Middle School as students and staff honored a favorite. Craft shows were in full swing even before Thanksgiving Day. DECEMBER social whirl started with the annual Symphony Ball Dec. 4.

"Deathtrap" opened Dec. 3, the second PTO offering of the season. Bazaars, crafts shows and greens sale continued. Best-kept secret in town was party planned for Margaret Wilson, who has sold the Penn Theater. The whole town turned out to wish her well and to establish a scholarship in her name.
