Bulldog Cagers Upset Dexter

Lixey Leads Team in Both Scoring, Rebounding To Extend Win Streak

The Chelsea Bulldogs upset the Dexter Dreadnaughts Friday night at Dexter's home court, 53-49. A victory gave the Bulldogs a two-game winning streak. Their first win of the season was earned in a Holiday Tournament game with Lincoln, Dec. 30.

In the Dexter game a tight zone defense, coupled with good outside shooting, produced the victory.

After a slow first quarter with Dexter scoring 11 points to Chelsea's eight the Bulldogs caught fire and pumped in 17 points in the second quarter, leaving the court with a 23-20 halftime lead. Leading the Bulldogs in that period were Jeff Hitchingham and Craig Houle, each with six points, and John Lixey with five. Strong rebounding by Hitchingham, Lixey and West Hinchelifer kept the Bulldogs at bay.

The third quarter belonged mostly to the Dexterites as they scored the Bulldogs, 20-13, taking a 43-23 lead at the end of the quarter. Bob Shoop's 10-point contribution and Tom Haight's seven of the Dexter attack. Lixey kept the Bulldogs in the game with six minutes-jump shots from the top of the free circle.

A free-throw by Larry Gakenel field goals by Hitchingham of Lixey gave the Bulldogs a 42 lead in the beginning of the fourth quarter. Dan Hooyore for Dexter to get the lead back, 44-43, but Houle's jump shot of the Bulldogs returned the lead to Chelsea. Though Dexter averaged hard, they could never rebound the lead as Lixey hit another field goal and a free-throw. Houle rammed in a jump shot, and with two free throws, Kim Hittot scored on a free-throw to give the Bulldogs the 53 points, they needed to win.

The return of junior Lixey's scoring eye as well as his strong rebounding led the team in both categories with 18 points and 10 rebounds was a vital factor in the Bulldog success. Another vital need was met by the cool eye of sophomore Houle. He scored 17 points and gathered seven rebounds. He and Lixey were a shambles of the noted zone defense with their shooting and passing.

Hittot studied the Chelsea offense at his point position, with passing and floor leadership. Centers Hitchingham, Hinchelifer and Gakenel tightened up the middle and baseline on defense and were constant inside threats on offense. Hitchingham scored eight points and gathered eight rebounds. Hinchelifer hit for six points and had six rebounds while Gakenel pulled down five rebounds and put two points on the board.

March of Dimes Drive Is Underway

March of Dimes campaign co-chairmen for Chelsea were announced at the Washtenaw county kick-off dinner held Thursday, Jan. 5, in Ann Arbor. They are Mrs. Kenneth Norris, Mrs. Jerry Blough and William Windle. Mrs. Blough was a co-chairman of the Chelsea campaign last year.

Mailing has already been completed under the direction of William Windle. He was assisted by Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Mac Packard. Mrs. Silas Hopkins is handling the distribution of canisters in the area. The Mothers March is scheduled for Tuesday evening, Jan. 31, will be directed by Mrs. Blough. Chelsea Lane's plans to participate in a "Bowl for Birth Defects" tournament, to take place between Jan. 15 and 22. Area Boy Scouts plan a peanut sale Friday and Saturday, Jan. 20-21.

Mrs. Blough said this week that the Mothers March on Jan. 31 is scheduled for 5:30 to 8 p.m. Chelsea has been divided into 10 districts for the march and a block captain will be appointed for each district. She estimated that 60 to 70 marchers would take part.

Washtenaw county campaign chairman is Richard O'Braynard of Ann Arbor.

Approximately 150 campaign leaders and state and local officials attended the annual kick-off dinner last Thursday. The dinner was furnished by the Ann Arbor Moose Lodge.

Dr. John Ontz, director of the University of Wisconsin Birth Defects Center, spoke to the group. He said that the fight against birth defects for which March of Dimes funds are used is "the most difficult in all of biology," probably more difficult than the fight against cancer.

He listed the three major causes of birth defects as the presence of unnecessary chemicals around the home, viruses and hereditary diseases.

Ontz said that the chemical danger is an area in which something can be done. He advised (Continued on page five)

Name E. Akin To Head Rec Commission

Ed Akin was named president of the Chelsea Area Recreation Commission for 1967 at the monthly meeting of the commission Monday evening. Other officers are vice-president, Arden Musbach; secretary, Mrs. George L. Palmer; treasurer, Thomas Eisele; and director, Richard Bareis.

Carl Genske explained that the reason for the increase in the cost of the summer softball recreation program was due mainly to additional umpire fees and extension of the schedule for two additional weeks.

Director Richard Bareis announced that the winter recreational program is underway and more programs including guitar lessons, women's physical education and some type of square or folk dancing will be initiated in the near future. Bareis stated that the Saturday high school boys' basketball period is still open and all boys of high school age not playing varsity basketball are welcome. Attention is now being focused on the summer recreation programs.

Representative members of the recreation commission are Charles Lancaster and Robert Taylor from the Chelsea School Board; Paul Schable, Jr., and William Storey from the Village Council; George Heydlauff from the Community Chest; Jim Eiseman, township government; Harold Salzer, union representatives; Don Proctor and Ed Akin, Chelsea Jaycees; Mrs. Robert Daniels, women's club; Carl Genske, Chelsea High school faculty; Arden Musbach, industrial representative; and Thomas Eisele, Wilbert Brittan, and Mrs. George L. A rabies vaccination certificate is required before a license is issued. Mrs. Hoppe said, Licenses must be renewed each year, although the vaccination certificates are good for two years.

FERD AND NORB MERKEL take a last look at some of the hardware they won't be selling anymore. Merkel Brothers is closing out its hardware section after 42 years of operation in order to expand the home furnishings departments. The hardware store will be remodeled before the furniture is moved in. Plans are to have all of the hardware removed by the end of this week. The business began in 1924 as a gas station and tire sales store and the stock of hardware was added in 1925. Ferd and Norb have been partners in the business for 37 years.

AFTER 42 YEARS: Merkel Brothers Hardware Line Being Discontinued

In the summer of 1924 you could drive into Merkel's and have your car's tank filled from the single pump in front of the station. Ferd Merkel could repair a tire or he would be glad to sell you a new one.

1924 was the year F. W. Merkel started his business in a building owned by his father on Main St. The gas pump was in front of what is now the south section of the hardware store.

By the spring of 1925, Ferd's business was ready for its first expansion. He wanted to add a stock of hardware. When he heard of the plan, Martin Merkel, Ferd's father, said, "But you don't know anything about hardware," Ferd agreed. "No," he said, "I don't, but I can learn."

Ferd says that since that time 42 years ago he has seen a lot of change in the hardware business. When he began in hardware, the customer had all sorts of horse-trappings to choose from. By the early thirties, when horses had been largely replaced by engines, the Merckels found themselves stuck with about $1,000-worth of horse gear and no market. At a meeting of hardware dealers, the problem was discussed and someone suggested that the answer was to sell the horse merchandise in a nearby Amish community. They loaded a truck with the entire $1,000 of equipment and drove to the town, where they sold the whole truckload for $80.

Ferd's brother Norbert, entered the business as a partner in 1950. The name on the front door was changed from Merckels to Merkel Brothers. The new firm expanded into the next building, which was at the time being used as a pool hall. This part of the store is now the northern half of the hardware store. The brothers decided to add a stock of farm implements in the same year and several pieces of International Harvester stock were housed in the same building.

In 1955 furniture and floor coverings were added to the business. The old Princess Theater, which had occupied the building north of Merkel Brothers until this time, was purchased and completely remodeled for use as a furniture showroom. One of several remodeling problems was the fact that the floor had been built for the theater with a six-foot slope. All of the 1935 changes produced a remodeling bill of $25,000, Ferd recalls.

By the next year Ferd and Norb had decided to discontinue their bulky stock of farm machinery and concentrate on the hardware and furniture trade.

The business prospered and no other major changes in its operation occurred until the early fifties. By this time Ferd's two sons, Jack and Bob, had grown into young men. Jack joined the firm in 1953 as head of the floor covering department and Bob took over the furniture department in 1955. Ferd continued to operate the hardware section of the store.

In 1959 Merkel Brothers again expanded northward, taking over the building which is now the north side of the furniture department.

This week 42 years after their hardware business began, Merkel Brothers is closing out its hardware departments. Plans now are to remodel the hardware store and expand the home furnishings departments into the old hardware building. The floor will be carpeted and the entire area redecorated. Ferd Merkel estimates that the remodeling job may take four to six weeks. During that time the rest of the store will be open as usual.

The four departments which are being discontinued are building hardware, lawn and garden supplies, sporting goods and general housewares. In addition to furniture, carpets and hard surface floor coverings, the store will retain the drapery, gifts, paint, glass and wallpaper stocks, so that a complete interior furnishing service will be provided, Merkel says.

The materials being removed from the hardware section are being incorporated into the firm's Clinton hardware store.

Both Ferd and Norb plan to continue in the operation of the business they have built, with time, for a more leisurely life, they hope.

Chrysler Building Impact Simulator at Proving Ground

Work is underway on a new testing device at Chrysler Corporation's Chelsea Proving Grounds which will simulate and evaluate crash effects on passengers and vehicles.

A modern, single-story structure totaling 16,000 square feet will house the new impact simulator sled—a non-destructive testing device specially designed for impact studies of occupants and vehicle components.

Traveling on a track 140 feet in length, the new sled will generate a thrust capacity up to 800,000 pounds and will be able to accelerate a 5,000-pound payload beyond the 20 "G" level.

"This will enable our engineers to make a closer study of crash effects upon the passenger," E. W. Bogan, Chrysler vice-president, engineering, said recently.

"Evaluation of the entire vehicle may then be advanced by degrees and correlated here at the proving grounds with the studies of our outdoor barrier crashes," Bogan reported.

"Complete car or truck bodies or individual components may be tested, and up to six belted dummies may be positioned in the passenger compartment on a single test," he added.

A smaller version of the sled is presently being used in test procedures at Chrysler's central engineering laboratories in Highland Park.

Operations with the new sled are expected to begin late this spring.

Measles Clinic Slated Feb. 4 At High School

Hope Is To Eliminate Measles as Epidemic Threat Throughout County

A free measles clinic will be offered at the Chelsea High school on Saturday morning, Feb. 4, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. by the Washtenaw County Health Department and the county medical society. The clinic is designed to reach all children from one year through sixth grade who are not already immune to the red seven-day measles.

The clinics are being offered throughout the county. Request slips have been distributed in schools. All children to be vaccinated at the clinics must be accompanied by a parent or other responsible adult over 21, and must present a request slip signed by the child's parent or guardian. The slips will also be available at the clinics.

Children who have already had seven-day measles or who have been or are being treated for cancer, leukemia or tuberculosis, children who are allergic to eggs or egg products and children who have had a convulsion in the past five years should not be given the inoculation. If a child is under the care of a doctor, he should be consulted beforehand.

The health department and the county medical society hope that through these clinics the threat of measles epidemics will be wiped out in the county. If the series of clinics is successful in reaching most of the children without measles protection, no further mass immunizations are planned.

Measles vaccination has been added to the list of immunizations necessary for children entering Michigan schools, effective next fall.

Jaycee Week To Be Marked Across Nation

Jan. 15-21 will be Jaycee week, Chelsea chapter president Ron Branham has announced.

The purpose of the week is to focus attention on young men and the work they are doing in the fields of community development and leadership training, he said.

The week celebrates the founding of the Jaycees nationally in 1915 when Henry Giessenber saw a need for a young men's civic group and organized the first chapter. The Chelsea Jaycees were formed in 1954.

Built on a foundation of creating opportunities for leadership training through community projects, the Jaycee organizations have approximately 250,000 members nationwide. National headquarters is in Tulsa, Okla.

The Chelsea Jaycees have many projects throughout the year, Branham pointed out. Some of these are: Pierce park, chicken barbecue, fair float, wives' night, bosses night, rummage sale and an Easter-egg hunt.

This year the Chelsea group took on several new projects, including fathers' night, teenage rodeo, community survey, painting house numbers and a soap-box derby.

The Jaycees would like to have all men between the ages of 21 and 35 join in the active chapter to help make the community of Chelsea a better and more pleasant place in which to live, Branham said.

Kiwanis Club Head Cites His Objectives

President Paul G. Schable, Jr., presented his objectives for 1967 at the regular meeting of the Chelsea Kiwanis club Monday evening. Among his goals was the challenge of personal involvement in a significant community project. He also cited a goal of a 10 percent increase in membership in 1967. There are now 59 members in the Chelsea club, which is open to all men in the Chelsea area who are interested in community service and personal growth.

The program consisted of "Years of Glory—Years of Growth," a film issued to mark the University of Michigan's 150th year. It depicts the development and progress of the University, founded in 1817. Don Turner was program chairman for the evening.

He has two brothers, David, 23, and Tommy, 12, and one sister, Barbara, 20. John played on the junior varsity basketball squad for two years and also played football before this year. She has a horse, Buster, three hamsters, three cats, a pregnant dog and 10 rabbits. THE LANSING REPORT
GIL BURSLEY

Your Lansing Report will be brought you weekly during 1967. I will try to write on affairs in Lansing not otherwise prominently covered by the press. Periodically we will discuss how things are progressing in Lansing. Sometimes I will refer to bills introduced and under consideration which I think may be of more than passing interest to citizens of this area. During the past two years this column has appeared on an average in four weekly newspapers in Washington and Lenawee counties each week.

How can I improve this column? What would you like discussed? We are at the start of a new legislative session and there is still time to introduce new bills and to recommend amendments to existing laws. Write me on any of these subjects at the State Capitol, Lansing.

Next week I will list my own specific committee assignments. This will indicate to you those areas in which I will have the most involvement. As soon as adopted I will report the work schedule or calendar that will be followed by the legislature.

Many school groups as well as individual citizens like to visit Lansing during sessions. Write me in advance when you know you are coming or if you would like suggestions as to the most interesting day for a visit. My next office will be on the third floor in the Senate wing to the left of you face the Capitol. I will report the room number and telephone number next week.

Let me wish you a Happy New Year and assure you again that I want to hear from anyone with a problem where I might be of any service.

COMPETITION

Competition surrounds us. And this is good. We are all competitors in one fashion or another. We may take pride in different things - the prettiest lawn, the best garden in town, highest scholastic marks, the nearest set of wheels in the neighborhood, etc.

In the business world, competition is especially keen, a situation which benefits the consumer. The buyer can get quality goods at fair prices because competition urges the seller to accept a reasonable profit to get the business.

You benefit when you trade in the local business community, with a reputable competitor - someone whose record of service to the community indicates he intends to stay in business by offering the best merchandise at the best possible price.

New Questions

Near revolution in Michigan's most commonly used court level may be taking place these days as the result of a higher court decision regarding jury selection.

In November, the State Court of Appeals handed down an opinion in a St. Clair County Circuit Court case stating that the base for selecting a panel in jury trials should be as broad as possible.

Since that decision, several counties have been challenged on jury selection lists and were found falling short of the desired balance.

In Ingham county, for example, an attorney was successful in getting a criminal trial delayed pending new selection of a jury panel. He contended the panel originally presented did not contain a good cross-section of the county population.

The Appeals Court ruling said that the jury need not contain representatives of all the economic, social, religious, racial, political and geographical groups of the community, but that there should be no intentional or systematic exclusion of any of these groups.

In other words, a jury list should not contain only retired citizens and housewives. Neither should it include only factory workers, or Negroes, or any other single classifiable group.

To compile jury panels from one or two groups based on sex, age, employment or other factors does violence to the basic idea that juries represent a cross section, the Court said.

State law requires that a jury be selected at random from persons listed on tax assessment rolls or voter registration lists. The law specifies that individuals may not ask to be placed on jury panels.

Jury service is a duty as well as a privilege of citizenship, and thus a blanket exclusion of wage earners, either young or old, however justified by prior actions of trial judges, must be counted among those tendencies which undermine and weaken our respected institution of jury trial, the Court said.

Public reaction to proposals to tear down Michigan's 90-year-old State Capitol building has been most surprising to all concerned.

This is primarily so because officials fully expected a real furor to arise in all corners of the state when various alternatives were first announced for improving and adding government office space.

Instead there was an almost deafening silence.

Indeed, even after a second round of publicity was given to the possibility that it might be wise to raze the figurative center of state government there was still a surprising lack of concern expressed.

A few citizens did take the time to write their opposing views, and one even sent the Governor a "Stop" sign to express his discontent with the idea.

Teen-agers attending the annual "Y" Youth Legislature wrote their sentiments on the matter. It is reported that this was done after a request to do so. Most felt the present Capitol should be preserved for its historical significance.

Considerable time and newspaper space have now been devoted to the various proposals.

Many state officials feel the

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

Ed Doolittle reported to the fella's at the country store Saturday night he has come up with a plan to cut his worries in half. Up to now, said Ed, he had been worrying about what was going to happen to the young generation, along with his worries about the old folks. From now on, he allowed, he was confining his worries strictly to what was going to happen to his own generation.

Zeke Grubb was agreed Ed was making a wise move in this plan to eliminate half his worries. He said his preacher told the congregation Sunday the great need in the world today was for people to know a little less and understand a little more.

Zeke was of the opinion this was a mighty hard assignment and he brought along some figures to prove it. This was the first time Zeke ever brought any figures to the Saturday night sessions and he had to borrow Ed's glasses to read 'em to the fella's.

He had a newspaper clipping where a committee of the Congress had completed a 10-month study on Government paper work. This piece said the report was 70 pages long and was one of the most "astounding documents" to come out of the Congress in 50 years.

According to this report, if one Government record was burned ever second, it would take 2,000 years to destroy them all. It said Government paper work cost $8 billion a year and it took 15 billion copies of 360,000 Government forms to operate the Federal agencies.

Furthermore, the report said 225,000 Government workers was spending most of their work day putting documents into 25 million cubic foot of filing cabinets, that the Government spends $1.5 billion a year writing 1 billion letters.

According to them Congressmen making the survey, it would save the taxpayers from $100 million to $200 million a year if they would make their letters a paragraph or two shorter.

One of the worst things they found, the report said, was they fill up 2.6 million pages a year with inter-office memos, instructions and communications, half of them not worth a copper-filled quarter.

This was a mighty long piece for Zeke to read and he got some of the words wrong, but he had the fingers correct and some of the fella's, including me, was writing 'em down on paper pokes we swiped from the storekeeper. They were correct and official, Mister Editor, if you want to print 'em in your paper.

It's all right for Zeke's preacher to say we need to know a little less and understand a little more, but how you going to understand this Government red tape?

Yours truly,
 Uncle Lew.

"Management and employees of Federal Screw Works, local manufacturers, are receiving congratulations and a share of the credit for the part they are playing in the production of Oerlikon 20mm anti-aircraft cannon which were recently cited by the United States Navy for their unusually effective work in destroying enemy airplanes.

For the convenience of the public and the local rationing boards, the village has rented space in the building at 103 W. Middle St. (formerly the George Doe barber shop), and it is planned to make this the permanent headquarters of the rationing boards. Because of the additional duties of these boards, due to the increasing number of articles to be rationed, it was deemed advisable to consolidate the boards in a building which will be easily accessible to the public.

Chelsea Public school has been very active in war work since early in 1942. The students organized a War Council which determines the kind of work which shall be done. First and greatest of the projects they have undertaken is the sale of War Bonds and Stamps.

Relatives assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kalmbach of Lyndon township on Sunday, Dec. 27, in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary.

If you're thinking about your Victory Garden for 1943 and everyone in Michigan should certainly be giving it serious consideration - you will be able to get garden tools, but they will be simplified. Such tools made after April 8, 1943, must conform to new patterns and styles prescribed by WPB to save critical materials.

A prominent member of the Senior class is Joseph Edward Merkel. Joe first saw light of day on Feb. 10, 1926 in Chelsea. His favorite sport is football and he has been a member of the team for three years. Joe said his hobby was farming. Mr. Chandler might remember the next time he works Joe in speech that it is his favorite subject. When the question "What do you intend to do when you are graduated?" is put to Joe he promptly replies, "Retire!"

BY GORDON CHARLES

Beginning today, The Standard will bring to readers a new and regular weekly column dealing with all phases of the outdoors. Whether dealing with hunting, fishing, camping, bird-watching, nature study, outdoor places of interest or general conservation, you will find it here.

"Outdoors with Gordie" is written for you by Gordon (Gordie) Charles, Michigan native and a career outdoor writer. Originally outdoor editor of the Traverse City Record-Eagle, his writings have appeared in most Michigan dailies and many weeklies, plus a number of national magazines.

As he puts it, "In 1961 I went astray by going to South Dakota for four years" to accept another outdoor writing position and soon became Chief of Information and Education for the S. D. Dept. of Game, Fish and Parks. He left there in 1965 to accept his present position as editor of "Michigan Out-of-Doors," official publication of Michigan United Conservation Clubs. "This is in no way connected with any television program," he says, "no matter how similar the names might seem to be."

We think you will find "Outdoors with Gordie" an interesting and entertaining addition to The Standard.

tion and sportsmen's groups, is supporting the wilderness aspect for Isle Royale.

At a public hearing scheduled for Jan. 31 in the Memorial Union Building of Michigan Technological University in Houghton, the value of wilderness will be discussed in detail. Conservation groups will urge the National Park Service to retain 119,618 acres of Isle Royale in its natural state of wilderness. This will exclude five shoreline areas already in use as harbors, camping sites, resorts with lodges operated by the park service, a powerline corridor to Mount Ojibway, all of Blake Point and Passage Island on the northeast end. Isle Royale is now a virtual wilderness containing numerous small inland lakes lying between ridges and the remains of prehistoric copper mines once worked by an unknown people. A herd of moose is kept in almost perfect balance by a pack of timber wolves, themselves a wilderness symbol.

The only practical way to reach Isle Royale is by boat from Houghton, Copper Harbor and Minnesota during the summer months. Once there, no automobiles are available for there are no roads. Transportation is by hiking, which means crowded conditions are unknown.

Isle Royale is truly unique among Michigan recreation areas. Conservationists intend to see that it retains its precious wilderness values. We can't afford to do otherwise.

Wrestlers Overpower Boysville, 45-3

Thursday night, Jan. 5, the Chelsea wrestling team overpowered the Clinton Boysville grapplers, 45-3. The Bulldogs captured 11 of the 12 weight classes, five by pins, for Chelsea's strongest show of the season.

John McKeighan (95) and Jim Poertner (112) won their matches by forfeit when their opponents failed to make weight.

Wilbur Reffitt (103) won his first varsity match for the Bulldogs with an 8-0 victory.

Jim Williams (120) gave the Chelsea team a 7-2 win, wrestling up a weight class.

Paul Stahl (127) took his opponent down and had him pinned in the first 30 seconds of his match.

Mike Hendricks (133) won a 13-3 decision.

Mark Lancaster (138) scored a fall victory in the third round of his match.

Tim Colvia (145) came through with an exciting 6-0 win.

Lauren Boyer (154) won by a second-round fall.

Paul Lancaster (165) lost his first match of the season by a 14-0 score.

Ray Worden (180) won an 8-0 decision while Mike Gaken (hwt.) wrapped up the meet with a third-round fall.

So far this season three Chelsea wrestlers are still undefeated. They are Reffitt, with a 1-0 record, Hendricks and Boyer, both with 4-0 records.

Mark Lancaster, Stahl and Paul Lancaster are next, boasting 3-1 records.

Chelsea will meet the Dundee Vikings tonight at 7 on the Bulldog mats. Team members will honor their parents by introducing them during pre-match activities at 6:30.

The large fern family is versatile. Attractive with any decorative style, they're also fine for hanging baskets. These popular house plants should be kept in porous clay pots to guard their roots against too much moisture. They do well at moderate temperature—not over 75 degrees—and grow nicely in semi-sunny or shaded areas.

State Police Seek Dogs To Train for Tracking Program

The Michigan State Police again are seeking donations of German shepherd dogs for use in the department's tracking program. Col. Fredrick B. Davids, director, announced.

Donors are requested to contact any State Police post.

Male German shepherds of pure strain and, if possible, registered, are being sought as they are considered the best all-around type for police purposes.

Dogs selected must be between one and two years old, large, big boned, and at least 24 inches tall at the shoulders, measured from the ground. Ears must stand up and there must be no noticeable scars or odd or unusual markings.

Donated dogs that are accepted will be used as replacements and for additional teams for assignment locations not yet determined.

A 14 week school for training handlers and dogs will begin about April 1. Most of the training will be done in the Houghton Lake area. The training will be under the supervision of Cpl. Richard H. Abbott of the East Lansing post who has headed this program since its inception.

The department first began the tracking program in 1960 and because of satisfactory results expanded it several times since.

Presently the State Police have 10 teams on active duty at East Lansing, Ionia, Flat Rock, Flint, Jackson, Paw Paw, Mt. Pleasant, Grand Haven, Houghton Lake and Marquette. One tracking dog was accidentally killed by an auto last year and several others were retired.

Maybe our '67 Pontiac is breaking sales records because people don't want to wait until '68 for a copy.

Our engineers have become used to seeing their ideas show up on other cars. Two years later. And apparently so have a lot of car buyers. Because 1967 Pontiacs are selling faster than 1966 Pontiacs. And '66 was a record year.

When you think about it, why should you wait around for innovations like our disappearing windshield wipers? Or for imaginative options like our exclusive hood-mounted tach? Especially when you consider that our engineers wouldn't turn a Pontiac loose with anything less than a standard 400 cubic inch V-8. Or a Tempest with anything less than our revolutionary Overhead Cam Six. (Not to mention all those new safety features like GM's energy absorbing steering column and a dual master cylinder brake system with warning lamp.)

In short, our engineers seem to have done it again. They may even start asking for royalties on the copies.

Red Cross Annual Report Shows Increased Activity

Mounting demands for services caused by the war in Vietnam and a dramatic increase in the county blood program highlight the Washtenaw county chapter American Red Cross annual report.

The report for 1965-66 shows one of the busiest years in our 49 year history," said Alexander M. Moore, acting chapter chairman.

The war in Vietnam accounts for much of the increase. Active servicemen's cases during first quarter 1966 increased 100 percent over first quarter 1965.

During the year, students in 20 schools in the county prepared 681 Friendship Boxes and 339 Friendship bags. These gifts were distributed to Vietnamese children in war-torn villages.

Understanding your BRONCHITIS

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director Michigan Department of Public Health

One of the most common diseases associated with heavy cigarette smoking and air pollution is chronic bronchitis. It might well be described as a disease of our times because of its close association with these two factors.

Many people suffer a brief attack of acute bronchitis with fever, coughing and expectorating when they have severe colds and the condition becomes chronic. This coughing and expectorating continues for months and returns each year, lasting and after each cold.

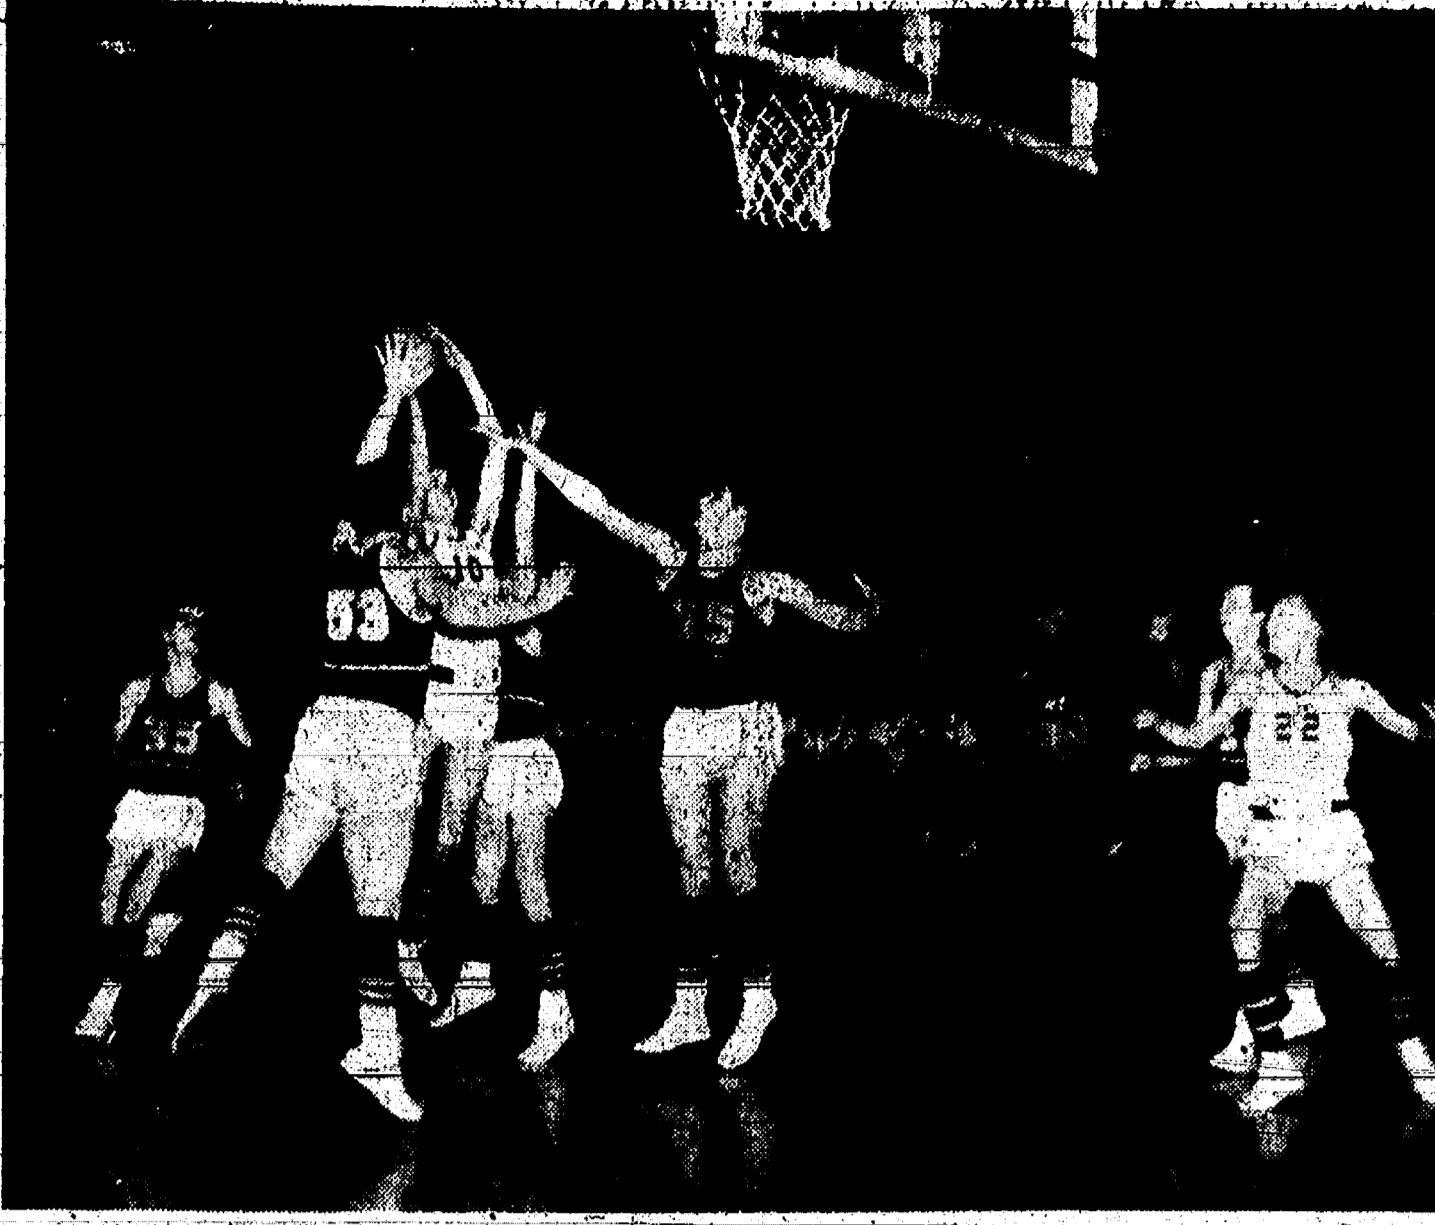

The disease doesn't strike suddenly, and after a winter cold seems to be more frequent and longer lasting. It is a condition that develops after each one. Soon the individual takes the condition for granted until the symptoms are with him all the time—before colds, during colds and after colds—in fact, all year round.

Chronic bronchitis is the result of irritation of the bronchial tubes which connect the windpipe with the lungs. The tubes are inflamed or infected by bacteria, another disease such as influenza, or an allergy. By far the most common causes of irritation are heavy cigarette smoking and air pollution. Once the bronchial tubes have been irritated for a long while, excessive mucus builds up, coughing is necessary, the air flow is hampered and the lungs are endangered.

Fortunately, many infections associated with chronic bronchitis may be treated with antibiotics. These drugs usually stop even deep and long-lasting infections. However, in order to really clear up or prevent the disease, it is necessary to eliminate all sources of irritation. For smokers this means, in particular giving up smoking. Or if a sufferer is exposed to dust and fumes at work, his doctor may well urge him to seek another job. This, of course, is easier said than done, but in some cases it can mean all the difference.

If you have chronic bronchitis, or frequent colds, it is important to see your doctor regularly. He can advise you on treatment or prevention of the disease. However, the most important thing to bear in mind is to either avoid or stop the irritation to the bronchial tubes. If this is accomplished you will have an excellent chance of stopping the disease before it becomes too serious.

IT'S NOT IN THERE YET: Dexter's Tom Haight (10), tries to get a shot off as Bulldogs Jeff Hitchingham (55), Larry Gaken (59) and an unidentified colleague try to slow him down. Kim Flintoft (35) keeps his eyes on the action and Bob Shoop (22) of Dexter may have his fingers crossed. Chelsea upset the Dreadnaughts on the Dexter court, 53-49, last Friday evening.

Michigan Road, Street Mileage Increases

Lansing — Michigan has moved up to seventh and is close to being sixth nationally in total road and street mileage, the State Highway Commission reports.

Michigan had 113,198 miles of roads and streets of all types on Jan. 1, 1966. Texas, with 240,527 miles, led all states, followed by California, 104,248; Kansas, 132,771; Illinois, 128,367; Minnesota, 125,752; and Missouri, 113,937. Three years ago, Iowa ranked seventh and Michigan was eighth.

It's nice to be important, but it's more important to be nice.

A motion was made by Mrs. K. Chapman, seconded by Mrs. L. D. Guinan, to cancel the February meeting of the Altar Society because of Ash-Wednesday services.

The March 8 meeting of the Altar Society will be held as a joint meeting with St. Joseph's Parish Altar Society in Dexter, following 8 p.m. Lenten services. Following a discussion it was decided to host the Washtenaw Deanery at St. Mary's Parish on Sunday, May 21 at 2 p.m. Benediction at the church will precede the meeting, which will be held in the school auditorium.

Mrs. D. Guinan announced that the annual Good Samaritan dinner will be held in February. Articles for the Pope's storehouse will be donated at the April meeting. New articles of clothing, sizes infant through 12 years are requested.

The meeting was closed with a prayer led by Mrs. O. Bareis.

Mrs. G. L. Staffan, program chairman, introduced the speakers for the evening, Mr. and Mrs. John McMahon and Fred Stone. The topic for the evening was parent-child relations and personalities. The speakers stressed family stability as the backbone of the nation. The family is the basic unit of society, they said. The need for love in a child's life was emphasized. Parents should show an interest in their child's activities.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Laban and her committee.

TOO LONG AND TOO SHORT

Wayne, N.J. — Marty Thomas, 10, doesn't seem to be able to please his teachers. Teachers at the Regional High school did not like his long hair — now they like it even less. Marty had his head shaved down to a one-eighth inch fuzz.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By LOUIS BURGHARDT

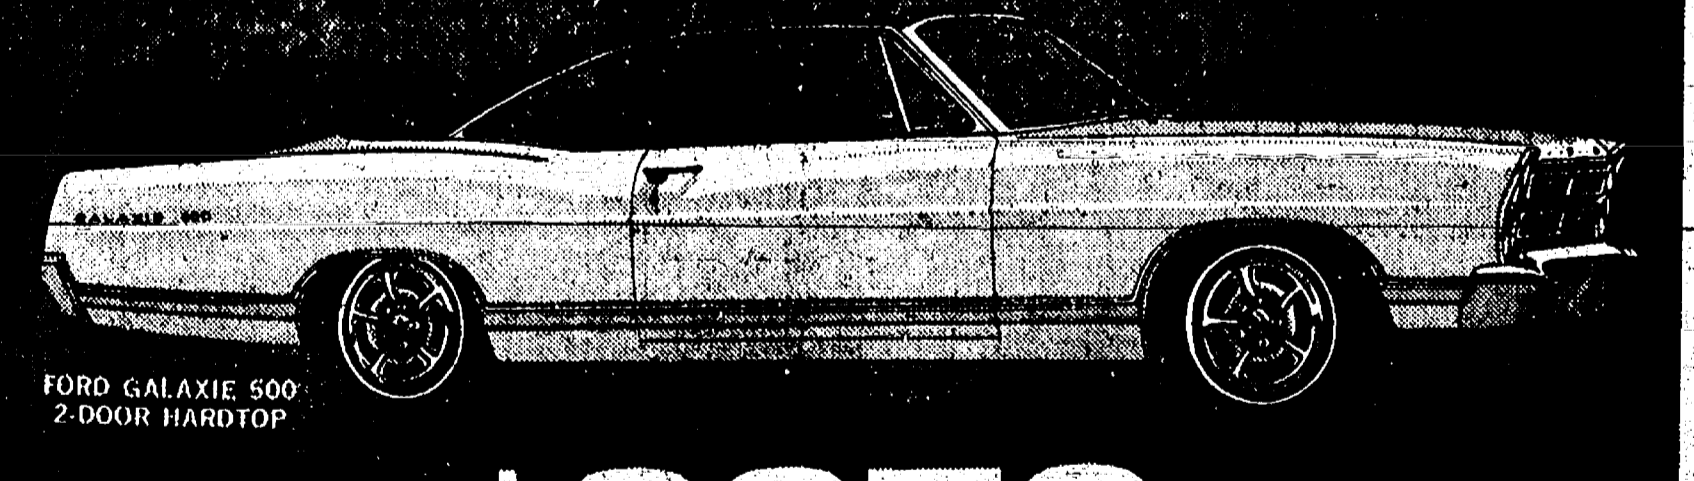

Different people have different attitudes toward people and life. Consider, for example, these two quotes. The first quotes Bishop Sheen who quoted Jean-de Rougemont as saying, "If my neighbor is stronger than I, I fear him; if he is weaker, I despise him; if we are equal, I resort to subterfuge. What motive could I have for obeying him, what reason for loving him?"

The second quote is — curiously enough — from an unknown author: "When you're tired and worn at the close of the day, . . . And things don't seem to be going your way, . . . When even your patience has come to an end, . . . Try taking time out and Confide In A Friend. . . Perhaps he, too, may have walked the same road, . . . With a troubled heart and a burdensome load, . . . To find peace and comfort somewhere near the end, . . . When he stopped long enough to Confide In A Friend, . . . For there are most welcome a few words of cheer, . . . For some one who willingly lends you an ear. . . No trouble exists that time can't mend. . . But to get quick relief — Confide In A Friend."

Two entirely different attitudes. Which do you like best? . . . BURGHARDT FUNERAL HOME, 214 E. Middle St., Chelsea, Mich., Phone 475-4141.

Annexation Policy Set by Plan Group

The Chelsea Village Planning commission at its regular meeting, Thursday, Jan. 5, adopted a policy on annexation recommendation procedures. The five-point policy adopted follows:

- 1) The planning commission will hold an informal hearing with the property owners of the area affected and the property owners will be personally invited to this meeting by a member of the commission.
- 2) The first order of business at the informal hearing shall be a forthright presentation of the techniques of annexation possible in the Village and a stressing of the property owners' rights.
- 3) No decision will be made by the commission after the informal hearing until property owners have again been contacted personally to determine their feelings about the proposed annexation.
- 4) In determining the recommendation of the commission to the Village Council, consideration will be given to the view of the majority of property owners. Also the commission will endeavor to avoid the formation of enclaves and irregular Village boundaries.
- 5) When making a favorable recommendation to the Village Council the commission will include in the recommendation the proper legal description of the land proposed for annexation.

The planning commission is meeting at four times in the month of January with different planning consultants from the area. These interviews are aimed at hiring a planning consultant to begin work with the commission on a master plan.

A memorandum, "Suggestions for Developing a Planning Program for the Village of Chelsea," was accepted Thursday night from Fred Barkley of the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission.

Tips from the STOP & SHOP CHEF Questions & Answers

What causes eggs and liquid to seep out in mixtures such as meat loaves, meatballs, and patties? Can this be prevented?
Too high heat could be the culprit, or excessive liquid in the recipe. The leakage can be arrested by adding more soft bread crumbs to the mixture and cutting down slightly on the liquid ingredient.

New Rates for Parcel Post Start Jan. 15

Use of ZIP Code will make it easier to mail packages after Jan. 15, Chelsea Postmaster Richard Schaules said this week. New rates and a new system for identifying parcel post zones will go into effect on that date as provided in legislation signed in law by President Johnson last September, the postmaster pointed out. The rate increases will average about 10 cents a parcel. Starting July 1, the law provides for a series of size and weight increases on packages mailed between first-class offices. Chelsea Post Office is a first-class office. The size and weight increases will be in five annual steps, the last coming on July 1, 1971.

By consulting a simple chart which is available at all post offices, the zone can be readily identified because the first three numbers of the ZIP Code represent the sectional center. This places a method in which a directory often had to be consulted to locate the proper zone for each of the nation's 33,000 post offices.
