To all to whom these presents shall come; Greeting:

WHEREAS, a Treaty of Peace and Friendship was made and concluded on, at Coleraine, in the state of Georgia, the twenty-ninth day of June, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-six, between the President of the United States of America, on the one part, and behalf of the said states, and the Kings, Chiefs and Warriors of the Creek Nation of Indians, on the part of the said Nation; which Treaty is in the words following, to wit :

A TREATY of PEACE and FRIENDSHIP made and concluded between the President of the United States of America, on the one Part, and Behalf of the said States, and the undersigned Kings, Chiefs and Warriors of the Creek Nation of Indians, on the Part of the said Nation.

THE parties being desirous of establishing permanent peace and friendship between the United States and the said Creek nation, and the citizens and members thereof; and to remove the causes of war, by ascertaining their limits, and making other necessary, just and friendly arrangements; the President of the United States, by Benjamin Hawkins, George Clymer and Andrew Pickens, Commissioners whom he hath constituted with powers for these purposes, by and with the advise and consent of the Senate; and the Creek Nation of Indians, by the undersigned Kings, Chiefs and Warriors, representing the whole Creek Nation, have agreed to the following articles :

ARTICLE I.

Treaty at New-York binding. The Treaty entered into, at New-York, between the parties on the 7th day of August, 1790, is, and shall remain obligatory on the contracting parties, according to the terms of it, except as herein provided for.

ARTICLE II.

Boundary-line. The boundary line from the Currahee mountain, to the head, or source of the main south branch of the Oconee river, called, by the white people, Appalatohee, and by the Indians, Tulapocka, and down the middle of the same, shall be clearly ascertained, and marked, at such time, and in such manner, as the President shall direct. And the Indians will, on being informed of the determination of the President, send as many of their old chiefs, as he may require, to see the line ascertained and marked.

ARTICLE III.

President may establish a trading or military post. The President of the United States of America shall have full powers, whenever he may deem it advisable, to establish a trading or military post on the south side of the Alata-maha, on the bluff, about one mile above Beard's bluff; or any where from thence down the said river on the lands of the Indians, to garrison the same with any part of the military force of the United States, to protect the posts, and to prevent the violation of any of the provisions or regulations subsisting between the parties : And the Indians do hereby annex to the post aforesaid, a tract of land of five miles square, bordering one side on the river ; which post and the lands annexed thereto, are hereby ceded to, and shall be to the use, and under the government of the United States of America.

ARTICLE IV.

As soon as the President of the United States has determined on the time and manner of running the line from the Currahee mountain, to the head or source of the main south branch of the Oconee, and notified the chiefs of the Creek land of the same, a suitable number of persons on their part shall attend to see the same completed : And, if the President should deem it proper, then to fix on any place or places adjoining the river, and on the Indian lands for military or trading posts ; the Creeks who attend there, will concur in fixing the same, according to the wishes of the President. And to each post, the Indians shall annex a tract of land of five miles square, bordering one side on the river. And the said lands shall be to the use and under the government of the United States of America. Provided always, that whenever any of the trading or military posts mentioned in this treaty, shall, in the opinion of the President of the United States of America, be no longer necessary for the purposes intended by this cession, the same shall revert to, and become a part of the Indian lands.

Line to be run.

The chiefs shall receive each half a dollar per day, and the hunters one quarter of a dollar each per day, and ammunition, and a reasonable value for the meat delivered by them for the use of the persons on this service.

Chiefs to attend the running the line with Spain.

ARTICLE VI.

The Treaties of Hopewell, between the United States and the Chocktaws and Chickasaws, and at Holston between the Cherokees and the United States, mark the boundaries of those tribes of Indians. And the Creek nation do hereby relinquish all claims to any part of the territory inhabited or claimed by the citizens of the United States, in conformity with the said treaties.

ARTICLE VII.

ARTICLE VIII.

In consideration of the friendly disposition of the Creek nation towards the government of the United States, evidenced by the stipulations in the present treaty, and particularly the leaving it in the discretion of the President to establish trading or military posts on their lands; the commissioners of the United States, on behalf of the said states, give to the said nation, goods to the value of six thousand dollars, and stipulate to send to the Indian nation, two blacksmiths, with strikers, to be employed for the upper and lower Creeks with the necessary tools.

Past animosities to cease.

ARTICLE X.

same shall have been ratified by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the senate.

I N D E X
TO THE L A W S
OF THE
United States of America ; CONTAINING A DIGEST OF THE SAME,
ARRANGED UNDER GENERAL HEADS.

THE object of the following index is, to exhibit under proper and particular heads, references to the pages in the body of the work : and, under general heads, a systematic abridgement of the laws, with a like reference to the pages. As the acts relative to each subject were dispersed through all the volumes, owing to their being passed at different sessions, it was believed that it would greatly facilitate the acquiring of a knowledge of them, to present, in one view, the whole law relating to each particular subject. But as the acts imposing the duty of impost were passed at different periods, and the duty at each time varied, it was found to be very difficult to exhibit in detail, each article of import subject to a duty with a reference to the pages of every act. It was, therefore, thought best, to present without such reference, a detailed view of the duty on each specific article, in an alphabetical arrangement,—by a recurrence to which, the duty on imports can be ascertained with ease and precision.

UNDER THE FOLLOWING GENERAL
