

High Point Faculty Bolstered To Meet Enrollment

Dr. H. G. Allen in his invocation at the beginning of the annual pre-session seminars set the keynote for education here at High Point College. It is "The emulation of Jesus as the master teacher." Dr. Allen stressed three traits that made Christ a "master teacher"; a calling to the profession, a thorough knowledge of His subject and a love of the students. These points were borne out by the guest speaker at the seminars, Dr. Sidney J. French, in his speech "The Teacher: His Preparation and Performance."

According to Administration officials, there are many noticeable improvements at High Point College this year: the most noteworthy being in the faculty and staff. Many new additions have been made to the faculty and staff, which, according to Administration officials, "lessen the burdens of the returning members and round out more fully the present curriculum."

Dr. Cooke, HPC President, said that the Philosophy Department, under Dr. Minor W. Boyer, new head of the Philosophy Department, is offering three courses in this field and hopes to expand the department in the future. Dr. Boyer graduated from Texas Christian University with an A.B. degree. He received an A.M. degree from Tulane University and a Ph.D. from the University of Texas.

Succeeding Dr. Blackwell P. Robinson, who has accepted a position at Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, is Dr. Joseph L. Bernd as Assistant Professor of Political Science. Dr. Bernd by offering three complete courses in Government and Political Science is filling out the curriculum in that area. He received his A.B. degree from Mercer University, his M.A. degree came from Boston University, and his Ph.D. degree is from Duke University.

Dr. Gilman W. Hertz as Associate Professor of Physical Education will succeed Mr. Wayne Hoover. Dr. Hertz will round out our minor sports program and intramural activities. From the University of Wisconsin he received a B.S. and M.S. degrees. His Ph.D. was gained from Indiana University. He earned varsity letters in track and basketball at the University of Wisconsin. As a member of the Big Ten Championship Basketball Squad in 1947 he played in the N.C.A.A. championships at Madison Square Garden.

As Associate Professor of Psychology Dr. Joseph Adkins, Jr. is the new addition in that department. He received the A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Florida and a Ph.D. degree from Ohio State University.

In the Modern Languages Department Dr. Hal L. Ballew succeeds Dr. Smythe as Assistant Professor of that field. Dr. Ballew is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, receiving his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from that institution.

Dr. W. D. Durland will replace Dr. George H. Hobart, retired, as the Head of the Business Administration Department. Dr. Durland possesses four degrees: a B.S. from the University of Washington, Bachelor of Business Administration from Tulane University, Master of Finance from Yale University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Texas. By merit of his participation in various industries and businesses, his biography appears in Who's Who in the South and Southwest. Also in the Business Administration Department is added Mr. Harold F. Burhans, succeeding Mrs. Blackwell P. Robinson. His B.S. and M.S. degrees come from Syracuse University "These two additions will relieve the pressure on one of our busiest departments," said the Administration.

Programs Slated

The Assembly program schedule for this fall is incomplete, according to Dr. William R. Locke, Chairman of the Chapel Committee, but Wednesday Assembly programs now scheduled are as follows:

September 25: Speaker—Dr. Cooke, President of High Point College.

October 16: Program — Student Government.

October 27: Speaker—E. Stanley Jones, Methodist Missionary and Author.

November 13: Speaker — H. R. Baukage, radio News Commentator.

December 4: Speaker — Dr. Herbert C. Mayer, Author, and lecturer on world affairs.

Art Class Offered

A night class in Art History will be offered this semester, according to Dr. Conrad. The course is designed for students who need credit in art toward teacher certification and for other qualified students. The class, which will meet on Tuesday evenings at seven p.m., will carry three hours credit.

The course will consist of a survey of the development of art from the prehistoric period to the modern age, with emphasis placed on the art of the East: India, China, and Japan. In addition, the course will deal with the better known artists such as Giotto, Rembrandt, Michelangelo, Van Gogh, Renoir, Lautrec, and the lesser known figures of each period and their contribution to the development of art.

New Athletic Program To Match Gymnasium

This week, speaking informally, and partially off the record, Dr. Jack Netcher, High Point College's new Director of Athletics, knocked the props from under a popular misconception that collegiate physical education programs have little or no relation to the complete college program.

Backed up by his assistant, Dr. Gillman Hertz, Dr. Netcher has inaugurated an athletic program which is as modern as the recently constructed Alumni Gymnasium, where much of the program will be carried out.

According to Dr. Netcher, the central idea behind the new program is to integrate all phases of the College's physical education program into one broad program. Briefly stated, this means that equal emphasis will be given to varsity and intramural sports, with more emphasis on minor sports.

As Dr. Netcher puts it, the new program will give the spectator a chance to come down out of the stands and participate. Every student at High Point College will be offered the choice of an athletic activity which will help round out his chosen field of study, he said.

Dr. Hertz, who will head up intramurals this year, pointed out that the new program would entail broader intramural activities, which will be enlarged as needed, and as requested. Additionally, plans for a basketball clinic, to be held this fall for local

Enrollment Nears 1,000 Mark

An overflow enrollment ushered in the thirty-fourth academic year at High Point College this week, when approximately 1000 students arrived to begin the fall term.

This year's freshman class of 325 — the largest in the history of High Point College — completed orientation on September 12, and according to Mr. Yarborough, director of admissions, "this year's freshman class is not only the largest, but is also the best qualified. A majority of the freshmen graduated in the upper half of their high school classes," he said.

Last week all dorm facilities were packed. Both McCullough and Woman's Halls were filled to capacity, as well as the new dorm space in the basement of Harrison Hall. Some men students who arrived late, are being housed in a college-owned building at Five Points. According to H. K. Martin, McCullough Hall Dorm Counselor, "the Five Points housing is hoped to be a temporary arrangement, and the students there will probably be moved on campus this week."

This year's enrollment represents a wide geographical region of the United States as well as representation from nine foreign countries and U. S. Territories.

high school coaches, and a health workshop, staged for the benefit of high school teachers, were disclosed by Dr. Hertz.

As to qualifications, both Dr. Netcher and Hertz have similar backgrounds. Dr. Netcher has played professional baseball and basketball, served as a field representative for the American Red Cross, and worked as an Executive Secretary for a Vocational rehabilitation organization.

Frosh '57

After days of signing forms, reading forms, and being lectured to, this year's freshmen class is on the road to matriculation. Typical of freshmen who completed orientation last week is Janet Martin from Lawsonville, N. C., as recorded by Hi-Po photographer, Fred Barber.

Tower Players Plot Course: Seek "Talent"

Miss Jane De Spain in an interview last week stated that the main interest of the dramatics department right now was "the collection of new talent." She went on to say that "although there were many veteran performers returning, the loss of some due to graduation created vacancies which needed filling." She said those interested in dramatics or show productions should get in contact with her or watch the Speech bulletin board in the auditorium.

A tentative date for the first production this Fall is November 21 and 22. It will be a comedy. The second production will be a musical written in entirety by Dr. Lew J. Lewis. Dr. Lewis wrote the two final scenes in the last year's production of "Studio Pedantics", as the annual student-faculty musical show is called.

A closer inter-working of the various departments of the Fine Arts Department is expected to make this year's show even more successful than last year's. Mr. Raiford Porter will conduct the scene designing, and Mr. Richard Cox will direct the vocalization. Also, Miss Natalie Etheridge will help with the choreography.

In the Spring Miss De Spain plans to present a "serious production," although the exact selection has not been made as yet. She stated that Prophet Without Honor?

John Kasper, self-appointed champion of the segregationist cause, has been termed by some as a "Prophet without Honor." It is more probably that Mr. Kasper is a man, symbolic of a legion of opportunists and demagogues, who find the racial situation a stepping stone to greater glory. It is from this realm of demagoguery, of which Mr. Kasper is a chief disciple, that men come to obscure the real issue at hand. The racial problems of our country, or of any other country, will not be solved by men like John Kasper, nor will they be solved by court decisions, or by violence, or by any means that we can devise. For the real issue lies beyond these things; it is an issue which dwells in the minds of all men when they ponder the question of truth.

New Look: New Era

"There is a new look at High Point College this year," spoke a member of the faculty last week. He went on to say, "High Point College is truly expanding in its equipment and facilities, Faculty and Staff, enrollment and its position among the better colleges of the United States." A student said, "More courses are being offered in more fields. This increase in selection makes it possible for more students to specialize in their chosen fields." We believe that High Point College is on the verge of a new era. An era that will establish High Point College as one of the greater colleges of the United States through growth in curriculum, higher standards and improved facilities, and by its positive attitude toward Christian life and service.

Finnish Girls Are HPC Freshmen

Westerholm and Berglund is Finland's contribution to the new freshmen class at High Point College. The surnames belong to Inger Westerholm and Marianne Berglund, two freshmen girls from the Finnish coastal town of Vasa.

They were able to study at High Point College this year by virtue of a Methodist scholarship, which came as a result of an interview with Rev. W. J. Miller, former pastor of Wesley Memorial Church in High Point. Rev. Miller met Inger and Marianne while participating in a Methodist Youth Caravan of the Scandinavian countries.

Both girls were mostly noncommittal on questions pertaining to Finnish opinion of American foreign policy, and the current racial situation. However, they did say that most people in Finland do not fully understand the current racial problems of the U. S.

Neither Inger nor Marianne have seen a basketball or baseball game, but both said they were looking forward to the opening of basketball season.

Of most American people, Inger and Marianne say: "they are friendly." According to Inger, there is a similarity between Finnish and American customs, especially in the high schools. Inger attributes this to the influence of American magazines and movies.

MUSIC

Although Tchaikovsky's Concerto No. 1, in B-Flat Minor, Op. 23 is not a neglected composition, it was re-created with a new awe in the Fall of 1955 by a Russian pianist, Emil Gilels, whose bravura technique wrought the miracle of recreation.

Largely responsible for Mr. Gilels' tour of the United States this Fall was the summit conference at Geneva in July of 1955. The tour was short but dazzling. Mr. Gilels, an extraordinary musician, who projects the power and poetry of the Slavic pianists carried on the tradition of leonine pianism of Russian artist brought to this country a century ago by Anton Rubinstein. This young red-haired pianist showed with bombastic cascades of octaves (played without a slack of tempo), in the first movement and with delicate arabesques in the second movement that his fingers equal to the cruelest demands of the composer. Not only are his fingers able to send forth powerful volleys of notes, but they also communicate a cantabile melody with compulsion.

Along with Fritz Reiner, conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Russian artist recorded the Tchaikovsky for R.C.A. Victor Red Seal Arthophonic hi-fi. They spent five hours recording, playing back, exchanging opinions in German, correcting and re-recording until they relaxed and said, "So ist es richtig," which means "This way it's correct."

In the past five or six years there has been another revival in the music world. This time it encompasses a whole field of music: that of Jazz. Jazz has its roots in the music of the Southern Negro. The first pre-jazz music which closely resembled what we now regard as the first true jazz was ragtime. It developed from the work songs, marches, prison songs and chants. Later ragtime merged with the blues, which the American Negro developed from church and field music into a secular commentary on life. The product of this merger became known as jazz. Instrumental jazz developed in the French Quarter of New Orleans around 1890. From there it traveled up the Mississippi River to Chicago, and then it was carried to New York and the East Coast, picking up several refinements along the way. This kind of jazz lasted through the "Twenties".

Then came swing. Up until this time jazz had been played by small combos of five, six and seven. Now came the big bands and a smoother beat and a more lyrical melody. During World War II, swing underwent a revolution, and a new kind of music came onto the scene. At first it was called "rebop", then "bebop" and finally just "bop". In the post war years this music was refined and was given the high sounding moniker of "progressive jazz".

In the early "fifties" many jazz artists began inserting classical elements into their music, and it became known as "modern jazz". About this time New Orleans and Dixieland jazz enjoyed a revival. This revival inspired Columbia Records to make their album I Like Jazz. This album gives a brief history of jazz and some samples of each kind of jazz music from its roots to modern jazz. Some of the names on this LP warring are: Wally Rose, Bessie Smith, Louis Armstrong, Eddie Condon, Bix Beiderbecke, Phil Napoleon, Duke Ellington, Teddy Wilson, Benny Goodman, Pete Rugolo, Turk Murphy and Dave Brubeck. -C.R.J.

BOOKS

William Faulkner has created an imaginary county, Yoknapatawpha, and several imaginary families in his many books. In this county and among these families he portrays the social and economic revolution that has occurred in the deep South beginning with the reconstruction days up to the present. The Sartorises, the McCaslins, the Composons, and the De Spains are the symbolic families that he uses to portray the old order of Southern families. Most of his books deal with the slow degeneration of this old guard and the decline of their society and culture. In almost every case of their decline these families have been in one way or another the victims of the unscrupulously shrewd dealings of the Snopes family.

The Snopes are rapacious and grotesque looking, impassive, inhuman and unbeatable. They are sharp dealers with a genius for trade and have their origin in the "po" white trash". By applying an extreme shrewdness and an unsleeping eye to every situation in life that can possibly be turned into cash, they always come out on top. They are the fixers, the termites, the outsiders, the Neanderthal men of the new age, who, by cunning alone, with an utter lack of tradition and culture, are taking every possible advantage in causing the down fall of the old aristocracy.

In Faulkner's latest book, The Town, the Snopes are now winning over the "town", Jefferson (another figment of Faulkner's imagination). By the dirtiest and most lucrative schemes these monetary predators are taking over the positions that usually fall to the old families of the town.

In The Town the reader can feel the brooding of the old families through style of the author, for Faulkner's family is one of the old order. -C.R.J.

President's Welcome

TO THE FRESHMEN AND NEW STUDENTS:

Greetings, and welcome to High Point College. I congratulate you upon your choice of High Point College as your college. You could have chosen some other good college as your college, but you chose High Point College. You have chosen well. We appreciate your confidence in High Point College.

Congratulations to High Point College also, in choosing you. The College could have chosen other students in your places instead of you, because there were many more applications from worthy and well-qualified students than could be accepted. But, High Point College chose you because your records indicate that you should make good use of your opportunity to attend the College. We hope that you will prove to us that we have been warranted in this assumption.

Again welcoming you and wishing for you every success as a High Point College student, I am

Yours very sincerely,

Who'll Replace Powell? "Too Early To Tell," says Yow.

Although basketball season is officially two months away, the question of who will fill the shoes of Jack Powell, Panther forward, lost to graduation last year, remains unanswered.

Replacing Powell will be a hard task. Not only was he one of the best rebounders in the North State Conference, but, for the past two years, Powell has been the big power on the inside and functioned as a sort of psychological king-pin for the other four-fifths of the Panther five — so went Powell, so went the Panthers.

Coach Yow says it's too early to tell, but he thinks a replacement for Powell can be found in the returning varsity-men. "Probably Danny Sewell, Ken Williams, Bobby Dunbar, or Phil Crockett will be able to take up the slack, or, maybe, 'Slick' Sykes will move in and be a power house," he said.

"Beauchot and Pharr both had good seasons last year, if you look at it from a team point of view. Beauchot doesn't look as good to the spectators if he isn't scoring, but both Pharr and Beauchot are good team men. Pharr will make a big difference to the squad as far as deceptive play is concerned," Yow said, "and I feel that Huegele will continue to shoot as accurately this year as he has in the past."

Last year, the Panthers finished the season with a 19-8 record, but washed out in the quarter finals of the North State Tournament at Lexington, when Atlantic Christian downed them 82-72. The Panther loss to A.C.C. in the finals last year was a let down to the fans, but Coach Yow, recounting events prior to the Tournament, blames the loss on player fatigue. On Thursday before the Tournament game with A.C.C., we played Eastern Carolina at Wilson, and won in three overtimes. Coming back to High Point, the bus broke down between Wilson and Raleigh. After spending the night in the E.C.C. gym without heat, about half of the squad caught colds. Two days later we played Lenoir Rhyne here in a two overtime game. When you consider all these things, I don't see how the squad did as well as they did in the Tournament," Coach Yow said.

Turning to the coming season, Coach Yow said that freshmen prospects include two High Point boys: Ken Prosser, guard, and Buddy Joiner, center. Another freshman prospect is Jackie Short, a 5 ft. 11 in. guard from Williams, Indiana.

Freshmen who plan to go out for J. V. basketball are requested to come by Coach Yow's office before the first of October.

Intramurals Discussed: May Be Revised

The possibility of revamping the present intramural program was discussed this week by Dr. Gil Hertz at a meeting attended by fraternity athletic directors.

Dr. Hertz discussed the possibility of using a point system in intramural competition. "The point system," he said, "would work in this manner. A predetermined number of points would be given for every phase of intramural participation; for example, on a team level, a fraternity or organization could win 25 points for taking the title in some particular sport. On the individual level, points would be given for individual members of an organization, winning in some sport such as badminton or golf. At the end of the year, awards would be made on the total number of points gained by an organization for both team and individual participation.

Dr. Marcus W. Collins, whose biography is listed in Who's Who in America, Directory of American Scholars, Leaders in American Education, Who's Who in American Education, and Who's Who in the South and Southwest, succeeds Dr. Keedy as Professor of Sociology. He holds an A.B. degree from the University of Alabama, M.A. from George Washington University, and A.M. and Ph.D. from Harvard University.

Succeeding Mrs. Marjorie Case as Assistant Professor of Religion and Director of Religious Activities is Dr. Walter E. Hudgins, who has A.B., B.D. and Ph.D. degrees from Duke University. He has served as minister of the Oak Ridge Methodist Church in Oak Ridge, North Carolina.

As Associate Professor of Physical Education, Health, and Safety, and Head of the Department of Physical Education Dr. Jack R. Netcher succeeds Mr. Arthur G. Paschal. Dr. Netcher received his B.S. degree from Carson-Newman College, his M.S. degree from the University of Tennessee, and the Doctor of Physical Education, Health, and Safety at Indiana University. He won varsity letters in baseball, basketball, and track and played professional baseball and basketball.

In the English Department Dr. Lawrence A. Wood succeeds Mr. Cecil D. Eby as Associate Professor. Dr. Wood received his A.B. degree from Hampden-Sidney College, his M.A. degrees from the University of Virginia and Western Reserve University, and his Ph.D. from Western Reserve University.

one of the reasons that a definite selection had not been made as yet is that she does not know what kind of talent she will garner this year, and also she has no idea of what the expected audience will like most. She said, "One must keep in mind the audience to which they are performing." She presented the thought that censorship presented a problem to every production in relationship to audience reaction. She said, "I believe that one value of drama is to present a look at life from a different aspect. From close up or at a distance the stage presents the mystery of life. The audience should realize that through seeing the mistakes portrayed on the stage they can get an insight at their own mistakes, and through the portrayal of the correction of the mistakes on the stage the audience can get an insight to the solutions of their own problems."

She further stated in relation to the tryouts that one should try out more than once, since their particular talent might fit into the production of the time. She also said that working on the stage crews meant ascertaining those who were earnest in their will to work.

Meet the Deans

The offices of HPC's two Deans, Conrad and Allred, stand side-by-side, and because of the nature of their principal duties, their offices have been referred to as "the shape-up or ship-out department."

However, the functions of HPC's two Deans are not as menacing as this epithet would indicate. Dr. Conrad, Dean of the College has issued an invitation to all students, and especially freshmen, "to come by and see him at any time, either about scholastic problems or personal problems." "My office door is always open," Dr. Conrad advises.

By way of suggestion to the Freshmen class, Dean Allred called for active participation in as many College activities as possible, and an intense emphasis on scholarship. "I would like to see more members of the student body qualify for our two honor societies," Dean Allred said.

Dr. Harold Conrad: "an open door policy."

Dean Allred: "emphasize the scholastic."

Point College this year is Director of Endowment and Development. Filling this new post will be Dr. Herbert H. Peterson, who has an A.B. degree from Central Wesleyan College, an M.A. and Ed.D. from the University of Denver. He has also studied at the University of Oxford in Oxford, England.

In Home Economics, Mrs. Kathryn G. Ring succeeds Miss Winnie Luffman as Instructor in that field. Mrs. Ring possesses a B.A. degree in Vocational Home Economics from East Carolina College and an M.S. degree in Home Economics from the University of Tennessee.

Mr. Herman E. Coble, Jr., son of Mr. Herman E. Coble, Sr., who is Associate Professor of Education and Manager of the Bookstore, will be an Instructor in Speech, Supervisor of Student Center, and Director of Film Library. He is a graduate of High Point College with an A.B. degree and has an M.A. from the University of North Carolina. He has had leading roles in productions of the High Point Little Theatre and the Cardinal Players.

Mrs. Lillian Mays will act as Secretary to Dean H. E. Conrad and Dean J. H. Allred.

Mrs. Frances W. Koontz will be the Assistant Manager of the Bookstore.

From The Top Of The Tower

by Charles Johnson

We were down in the bookstore peacefully drinking a big grape (it's too hot for coffee right now), the first day of freshman registration, when with many a whoop and hollered greeting Patric Fitzgerald and Gerald Fitzpatric came in on a wave of welcome. As soon as the handshaking and back slapping were over, they joined us at the back booth, where we were observing the comings and goings of the Frosh between appointments.

"It looks like a good crop this year," said Pat.

"I wonder what the parity is for Freshmen?" said Gerry, attempting his first joke for the semester.

Then we started fishing for a story for our first column. Fishing was rather poor that day. Old friends were rushing in and out meeting new faces and greeting old ones, and everyone was in a hurry, trying not to miss out on any of the excitement. The bookstore was in a chaos of introduction and book sales. Expressions were rampant and varied: consternation, casualness, gayness, thoughtfulness, wonderment, concentration, and rank confusion.

We left the bookstore and went up to Roberts Hall. There we met again rampant expressions, but there was an overall feeling of just a little more orderliness. The registration was not as feverish as the book sells and reunions in the bookstore. The day before, we had been over at Woman's Hall carrying in luggage for the new arrivals. (Do all girls have at least a dozen pairs of shoes?) Even in the task of getting settled, there was evidence of frenzy.

Such was the beginning of school at High Point College this year, last year and all the years before that and will be next year and all the years after that.

On The Inside: Black Days At Little Rock; Hi-Po Policy Outlined

The Hi-Po

PUBLISHED BY THE STUDENTS OF HIGH POINT COLLEGE

VOL. XXXII, NO. 2

HIGH POINT, N. C.

OCTOBER 11, 1957

From The Top Of The Tower

by Charles Johnson

The other day when I entered the bookstore, Gerald Fitzpatrick and Patric Fitzgerald were having a heated discussion about Little Rock and integration in general. At least Gerry was heated, but Pat was calm and philosophical as is his disposition.

"Patty lad, look at the sheer idiocy of the attitude of those people out there," Gerry was saying. He went on, "Integration is here to stay; let's do our best not our worst with it."

"The people of Little Rock are not ready for integration on such a sudden application," Pat said. "Nor for that matter are a lot of other Southerners," he continued. "Whenever a social reform is forced onto the masses through the sudden passage of a law or edict of a court, it will always be met with opposition and, more often as not, with violence. For example take the American Revolution or the Civil War or even the present situation in the Russian Satellite countries.

"Forced social reforms mean violence, and conversely, violence means forced social reforms; however, when a social reform comes about gradually and of its own volition and when it has been recognized as a reform, a law is made that fits it perfectly without any strain. I believe that such a gradual reform was taking place in the South when our national legislators jumped the gun and made integration a law. Their hasty action has set back the progress of the South in this reform by approximately twenty years. They have lost the support of many liberal Southerners in their haste to make a political hit with the Negro vote. Also the N.A.A.C.P. is defeating its own purpose in the South by their impatience in the course of this social reform. So you see, Gerry, by their lack of understanding of the local situations and feelings they are doing a disservice to the Southern Negro and the South in general."

Pat was waxing in verbosity and went on with more specific points. He said, "Did you know that the N.A.A.C.P. is trying to force the fraternities at the University of Illinois to induct Negroes into their orders. When any group, regardless of their race, creed or color, tries to force their way into any social order, it is that group which is in the wrong. No one can dictate the choice of friends, brothers or even associates to any man. Social climbing is not social betterment."

Some fraternities base their precepts on the Christian religion and as a matter of purpose would exclude peoples of the Jewish, Moslem, Hindu and all the religions of the world. If any order or fraternity lets its by-laws and principals be dictated by an outside group, it might as well open its meetings and rituals to the public."

-We hate to interrupt Pat's verbosity, but too much Little Rock and not enough space.—Ed.

Sororities Take Tea; Talk Greek

By PAT JORDAN Staff Writer

Girls who are seeking entrance into the Greek letter world were entertained by the Panhellenic council at a tea in the Student Center on Sunday, October 6, from 2 until 4. All possible rushees were required to attend this official opening of the rush period at High Point College. On the previous Tuesday, Panhellenic Council president, Jo Harrington, explained the rushing rules and fees to possible rushees. Also, each sorority president presented a short history of her sorority and an estimate of costs for the college year.

Each of the four social sororities has two rush parties during the two-week rushing period. The rushee may accept all invitations to the first series of rush parties, but she may accept invitations from only two sororities for the second series.

On Friday, October 11, there will be a progressive coke party at Woman's Hall from 7:00 until 9:00. Each sorority will have one of the club rooms in which it entertains the rushees and has exhibits of its scrapbooks, projects, and interest.

All girls who have attended the second series of rush parties must turn in their preferences to Miss Worthington by nine o'clock Saturday, October 19. Each sorority also turns in its list of preferred rushees. The compiled lists will be revealed at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Constitution Amendment Proposed

A bill entitled, An Amendment to the Constitution of the Student Government Association of High Point College, Concerning the Election Procedures of the S.G.A., was brought before the Student Legislature on Thursday, October 10.

If passed, the bill will be presented to the student body on October 16 for final vote.

The bill will require a two-thirds majority vote of the student body to pass, since it deals with an amendment to the Constitution.

Holiday Improvements Sought

C. W. Faulkner, S.G.A. President, announced today that a survey of holidays allowed by some of the colleges in the state has been completed, and that the results will be presented to HPC Administration officials in an effort to improve our system of holidays — particularly the Thanksgiving Holiday.

Noted Author To Speak At H.P.C.

By SUE JACKSON Staff Writer

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary, evangelist, and author, will conduct a "Spiritual Life Mission" here Sunday, October 27, through Friday, November 1. His daily speaking agenda includes addresses from the auditorium of HPC at 10:20 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; radio broadcasts from WMFR at 8:45 a.m., and engagements at various civic clubs.

Though well-known for his books and his work as a missionary in India, Dr. Jones prefers to be called an evangelist, "a bearer of good news."

In his travels over every state in the Union Dr. Jones observes that "America offers as fruitful a field for mission work as any country in which he has served."

Dr. Jones, who has been called "the world's greatest living Christian," has probably spoken face to face with more people, in more lands, than any other living man. This year, he is observing his fiftieth anniversary as an Evangelist to America and Missionary to the world. He began his missionary work in India in 1907.

Dr. Jones has written 22 books. The last, Christian Maturity, has been translated into 20 languages. Christ of the Indian Road, his first book, and Abundant Living has each sold well over a million copies.

Flu Vaccine Ordered

Dean Allred announced today that a supply of Asian flu vaccine has been ordered by the college and will be available for HPC dorm students as soon as it arrives.

"College physicians have agreed to administer the vaccine some place on the campus, possibly in the cafeteria," he said.

Dean Allred pointed out that vaccine would cost $1.00 per shot, and that two shots, spaced three weeks apart, would be necessary. "Money derived from the vaccinations will go to a local Medical Library benefit, which is currently being staged by local physicians," he said.

Additionally, Dean Allred urged that all day students see their family physician for Asian flu immunization.

Sororities Talk Greek

TO DETERMINE OPINION

Editorial Board Organized

Last week, Hi-Po Editor, Kyle Stirling met with officers of campus organizations to discuss the possibility of forming an Editorial Advisory Board.

The Board was formed and will consist of the Presidents of the following organizations: S.G.A., Day Students, S.C.A., Veterans Club, I.F.C., Panhellenic Society, and the editor of the Hi-Po.

The responsibility of the Board, as outlined at the meeting, will be to determine student opinion through the various organizations which members of the Board represent. "In the event of controversial issues involving the student body," Stirling said, "the Board will meet to determine what stand should be taken in regard to Hi-Po Editorial Policy."

"The sole purpose of the Board," Stirling said, "is to guarantee that the majority of student opinion is known when editorial policy is formulated. The Board will not function as a censoring body, but will insure that the slogan of the Hi-Po, 'The Voice of the Students,' is, in fact, what it purports to be," he said.

H. P. C.
May Receive
$850,000

If the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference approves a $3,000,000 fund campaign by the Christian Higher Education Commission, High Point College may receive $850,000.

HPC would receive the capital fund grant along with Greensboro and Brevard Colleges, who would receive the same amount. Duke Divinity School would receive $200,000 of the proposed total. The balance of the sum would go to Wesley Foundations at tax-supported colleges and universities.

According to Dr. Fletcher Nelson, Morganton, executive director of the commission, the proposed campaign is part of a 12-point program aimed at strengthening relations between the colleges and churches.

The Higher Education Commission is composed of Methodist Bishop Nolan B. Harmon, of Charlotte, district lay leaders, college presidents, laymen, and ministers.

The campaign has been tentatively scheduled for the fall of 1958 and spring of 1959.

Black Days At Little Rock

The events at Little Rock's Central High School have been grossly mis-handled throughout the whole affair. The Mayor of Little Rock had worked out with the School Board a plan for the gradual integration of the Little Rock schools. When he and the board started to initiate their plan, Governor Faubus interfered with the National Guard "to maintain law and order." President Eisenhower interpreted this as a move to avoid the U.S. District Court's order to integrate, and he ordered the Guard to be removed. When the soldiers were gone the violence began; the President sent in Regular Army troops, and this intervention of "outsiders" heightened the tension and violence.

We deplore the lack of intelligent reasoning of the general public that made the whole event possible, but even more so do we deplore the lack of understanding in the negotiations to end the crisis. The edict of the U.S. Court can't be ignored, nor can the sovereign powers of the Governor be infringed upon. The President will quibble about the wording of a statement, and the Governor will be dogmatic in maintaining the statement in its original form. Like little boys on the sandlot one will take his ball home, and the other will take his bat home while the rest of the team (the other Southern Governors) are left on the lot with a chance to play.—C.R.J.

Hi-Po Policy

As an instrument of free speech, the Hi-Po does not advocate a running fist fight between any group or groups. It is not necessarily pro-student and anti-administration, but will give a true and objective report of current news as it is seen.

The reportorial policy of the Hi-Po shall be governed by the following principles:

1. A recognition of the concept of free speech and its accompanying responsibility.
2. A recognition of the requirements of good taste and decency.
3. A recognition that the Hi-Po is, by virtue of its being, an instrument of the concept of free speech, and that as such it cannot be dictated.—K.S.

The "Greek" Rush

This month, the daughters of Greece will swell their ranks; next month, it will be Greekmen, seeking pledges to bring into their respective orders. The merits of sorority sisterhood and fraternity brotherhood are too numerous to outline here, but they are merits which will be advantageous in later life. Choosing a fraternity or sorority is a two-way process. Choose the one which can offer you the most, and, at the same time, the one to which you can offer the most.—K.S.

A Red Moon Rises

Old man moon has been kicking around the universe for many eons, and has been variously worshipped by the pagan, considered an evil portent by mighty rulers, and looked upon with relish by lovers as something by which they could spoon.

Now the moon has, for the time being, taken a back seat to a "red moon," which the Kremlin is blasting around the world every few hours.

We aren't blind to progress, but we seriously doubt if the Russian model will ever inspire anything more sentimental than a vodka-drinking song.—K.S.

The World In A Nutshell

(Tony Wen, a political science major from Indonesia, will contribute a series of articles to the Hi-Po, expressing his views on foreign affairs, and especially the Asian scene.)

India: spokesman for Asia

India is now faced with a serious economic crisis. Her first "Five-Year Plan" ended last year with an increase in production and national income. But the people of India still remain in a condition not short of miserable.

by

Tony
Wen

To prevent panic and a stand-still in new projects and plants, she now needs about two billion dollars to carry on her second "Five-Year Plan." She has approached Germany and the United States for help; so far, the U.S. has refused to grant aid to India.

In the past India has received economic aid from the U.S. Many have pointed out that the U.S. may lose India as a friend by refusing her request, and that India might fall under Communist rule. It is not lively that the Indian intellectuals will forsake the U.S. as a friend. But it is very probable that the majority of people will fall under Communist influence in case of real economic panic. If this should happen, who will be the spokesman for Asia?

Syria moves toward Communism

The Middle East continues to be the hot spot of the world. Syria, already outstanding leftist among Middle East nations, has moved further to the left as a result of the maneuvers of a revolutionary flavor in the army. Syria is coming perilously close to being a Russian satellite. When the Communist threats by internal political moves, with at least the approval of the head of the government, there is no effective action which the U.S. can take, not even through the Eisenhower Doctrine.

For the moment we have to content ourselves that Syria is not quite a Communist satellite and probably has no intention of becoming one. The Syrian leaders, so far as is known, have no ideological connection with Communism. They are nationalists who feel they can best serve the interests of their people by collaborating with Russia.

They hope to get the advantages of this association without being put under Russian thumb, as Hungary is, for instance. It is an optimistic undertaking. History is littered with the graves of nations which thought they could derive some advantages from the Communists without becoming a Red satellite. It is advisable for us to refrain from inflammatory words which can only have the effect of further alienating the Syrian leaders from us and pushing them more deeply into the Communist orbit.

"Brothers! Quiet please! The rushees are here."

Something Borrowed . . . from the Daily Tarheel

The University campus is currently undergoing the madcap of sorority rushing and pre-fraternity rushing.

It is, of course, during this period that all manner of propaganda is disseminated concerning the necessity of Greek affiliation to insure social acceptance among the younger set of University-ites.

May we be iconoclastic for a moment? This is a myth — an icon which should be shattered. We would like to impress the fact upon freshmen and transfers that independent campus life does not lead to social ostracism.

There is a valuable communion among fraternity brotherhoods and sorority sisterhoods. But independent campus life affords its advantages also.

Arrive at your own decision without being afraid that non-Greek affiliation will make you a walking halitosis about which: "Even your best friends won't tell you."

High-Brow and Otherwise

God Is My Partner, which appears at the Center Theatre on October 17 thru 19, is the story of a man who found God and put his faith into practice. The star of the film by Twentieth Century Fox in Regalscope is three-time Academy Award winner Walter Brennan. With him appear Marion Ross as his niece, John McNamara and Don Shelton as his nephews.

The nephews have "Uncle Charlie" (Brennan) brought to trial on the grounds that he is not competent enough to handle his own money. His recent eccentricities are the backbone of their case.

These eccentricities include opening a bank account in the name of "Uncle Charlie", giving money to a neurotic woman mourning a dead cat, and helping two crooks, Louis Lumpkin and Longshot Benny Renson, all of whom seem to cheat him. Also, he gives, seemingly due to the influence of the preacher, $50,000 to his church.

The jury is screened by the plaintiff's attorney who passes those who believe in Santa Claus because of "Uncle Charlie's" generosity. "Uncle Charlie's" niece who is handling his defense doesn't cross examine any of the prosecution's witnesses. People feel that she is mishandling the case. However, she is able to destroy the plaintiff's case in a most unusual and interesting way.—C.R.J.

Sit Down And Think

Do you ever think? I mean get off by yourself somewhere and really think. Think about the problems that confront our world; problems that are the by-product of a fast-moving atomic age. It's difficult enough . . . even with thinking . . . to understand current events that are molding our history and changing our very lives. We college students are our educated America.

Idealistic? No, just practical sense. To have ideas we must understand. To understand we must know. To know we must read and keep informed. "World affairs are too complicated for me to understand. I'll leave stuff like that to Uncle Sam." Who is Uncle Sam? Who will be Uncle Sam twenty years from now?

The purpose of college is to teach us to think. We're young, but we can realize that there are more important things in life than the party Saturday night. Ask yourself . . . "What can I do with my talents that will promote World Peace, and preserve this old globe for my children? Sit down . . . Read . . . Understand . . . Think!—F.B.

Grover Cleveland, while President of the United States, in 1893 underwent a secret and successful operation for cancer of the mouth. Surgery was performed aboard a yacht in Long Island Sound to avoid alarming the nation then beset with a serious business depression. The cancer did not return and Mr. Cleveland lived 15 years more, became a trustee of Princeton University, and died at Princeton, N. J. on June 24, 1908.

It's All Greek

TAU KAPPA EPSILON - As the fall semester of 1957 gets underway on the High Point College campus, the Teke's are looking ahead with high hopes that this should be one of their best years on campus.

With the newly elected officers, Art Taylor, President; Robert Smith, Vice-President; Maury Beauchot, Treasurer; Dick Wilson, Secretary; Bill Mabe, Historian; Bernie Brewer, Chaplin; Al Bean, Sgt. of Arms; Don Le Vina, Pledge Trainer, to help start the ball rolling, the Teke's of 1957 have many new events on their program for the coming year.

PI KAPPA ALPHA - As the start of another year begins the members of Pi Kappa Alpha would like to extend a welcome to all the freshmen and the new faculty members, and to welcome back all those whom we knew last year.

On September 28, we held our first drag party of the semester at Jamestown American Legion Hut. The stag, an informal affair, gave us all the opportunity of seeing many of the brothers now out of school and to meet socially our active brothers and pledges.

Brother Dale Swaringen married our own Pi Kappa Alpha Dream Girl of 1957, Miss Marcia Bailey during the summer vacation. Congratulations Dale and Marcia. Brothers Linwood Havier, Johnny Abernathy, Bob Duncan, and Richard Hallman are now in the service. Brother Cecil Thomas is now a Virginia State Trooper. Teaching are Don Kearns, Bob Hunsucker and Joel Nimon.

THETA CHI - As the new year of 1957 begins here at HPC, we of Theta Chi would like to welcome all new students and new faculty members to the campus. We have made plans for our first drag party of the year, a costume ball, to be held October 19. Recently the alumni of Theta Chi sponsored an informal get-together for our brothers and pledges.

Several men who were graduated last year have come by Section C to visit us. Among those alumni were Delbert Kirkman and Bill Grey, who have formed a partnership in the insurance field here in High Point, and Bill Brown, who is teaching school in Moore County.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON - On Saturday night, September 21, the Brothers and Pledges held the first party of the year, a hamburger fry, at the home of David Myers.

On September 30, Danny Sewell was initiated into the Brotherhood.

Attending the 25th Grand Chapter Conclave in St. Louis, Missouri, on September 3, 4, and 5, were David Myers, Bob Taylor, and Mr. Richard Cox.

Miss Ann Williams who is pinned to Sonny Thornton was serenaded September 30.

Marriages among the Brotherhood this summer were: Jackie Hoover to Slick Sykes, Elaine Mills to Stan Broadway, Jane Bundy to John Riererson, Peggy Smith to Larry Williams (last March).

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA - The Lambda Chi's have been active all summer in that we published and mailed out an alumni newsletter which won the Lambda Chi Alpha National Award for the Best Offset Publication.

The award was presented at the Lambda Chi Alpha Seminar which was held at Ball State College in Muncie, Indiana. Murphy Osborne, C. B. Crook and Charlie Johnson represented our zeta at the Seminar.

To start off the many social activities of this year, we had a steak supper at the farm of our High Pi, Fred Cox. The food was delicious and the party was another success.

On the 26th of October we will initiate into our brotherhood R. C. Watts.

Look for our Clowns versus Faculty Basketball Game coming soon.

DELTA SIGMA PHI - On August 28, 29, 30, Fred Barber, Bob Wienberry, Vernon Tate, and Buddy Brawley travelled to St. Louis for the International Convention of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity.

Congratulations to president Kyle Stirling on his marriage to Jahala Eudy of Charlotte, a graduate of HPC, and to C. W. Faulkner on his marriage to Shirley Vaughn of Mt. Airy.

On Thursday, September 26, the Delta Sigs gave a serenade for the girls in Women's Hall.

Plans are complete for our first date party, which will be held on the twelfth of October at the Marietta Club House in High Point.

On October 17, Pledge Brothers C. W. Faulkner and Charlie Huff will be initiated into Delta Sigdom. Congratulations to our future brothers.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA - New initiates into the sisterhood of Alpha Gamma Delta this year are Ramona Leonard, Gail Lemmond, Pat Ray, and Liz Peterson. The girls were formerly initiated Alpha Gam's on October 4 at the Blair Park Club House. Congratulations girls! Plans are now underway for "Rush Week." The first Alpha Gam party of the year was held October 2.

KAPPA DELTA - KD's began the new college year with a slumber party at the YWCA on Saturday night, September 22.

On Wednesday, October 2, Nellie Jones became a full fledged sister of Kappa Delta Sorority. We are very happy to have Nellie in our circle of friendship.

We are glad to have Marceia Bailey, who is now Mrs. Dale Swaringen back in High Point again.

ZETA TAU ALPHA - Zeta Tau Alpha proudly salutes their secretary, Louise Pugh, who was presented the scholarship award by Dean Conrad September 23 for the highest accumulated scholastic average of any senior student.

After their memorably week at Myrtle Beach last spring, Zeta's held their first meeting September 16. Under leadership of president, Pat Olmsted and rush chairman, Jo Harrington, Pan Hellenic president, the Zeta's are engaged in rush; their informal party to be held October 10, and a formal party October 18. With them on October 18, will be Gelene Ashley and Priscilla Gingrich, former president and vice-president.

PHI MU - Gamma Zeta Chapter of Phi Mu extends a "welcome home" to all the old students and "a welcome" to all new students.

Our wishes for many years of hap-

State bonuses received for war service no longer need be reported in computing "other income" by those eligible for Veterans Administration benefits.

piness go to Elaine and Stan Broadway, Jackie and Harold Sykes, and Anne and S. J. Parker, all of whom were married in beautiful summer weddings. Also our best wishes go to Joyce Young, who received her diamond this summer from Frank Collins. Carolyn Koontz and Colbert Burgess are planning to be married October 27.

Also on the calendar is Saturday night, October 5, at which time the Phi Mu's are planning to have a back-to-school party.

Are you a good listener? The average person is only a "half listener." Even when he tries, he retains only about 50 percent of what he hears right after he hears it.

"Greek" Evaluation

For a great many people, fraternities and sororities are as much a part of their concept of the college campus as are the library and classroom.

The significance of Greek Letter Organizations in our society is best appreciated when we realize that over 10% of the young men and women enrolled in the colleges and universities of our nation are members of these Greek Letter Organizations.

As all fraternities and sororities are, the six national fraternities and four national sororities with chapters at High Point College are dedicated to the promotion of common purposes and ideals which are a part of the education of well-rounded students.

In a fraternity a person is aided in improvement of his personality traits, development of leadership capacities, the appreciation of the importance of loyalty, and undertaking his role as an individual in Democracy.

High Point College's fraternities and sororities place great emphasis on their relative scholastic position as organized campus groups; thereby helping to raise the scholastic standing of our college.

The relationships which one experiences with his Frat brothers are relationships he will always cherish, remembering they made college a much more delightful and profitable period in his life, and he can maintain his contacts with chapter brothers and further enrich his future.

A common misconception is that only young people from wealthy homes can become Greeks. The vast majority of the 2,300,000 Greeks belong to the Middle Class. In almost any chapter there are many members who are working their way through school, partially or completely.

Fraternity membership provides a great deal of social activity leaving little need to spend money for commercialized amusements; hence, a student will find the cost of Frat membership not much higher, if any, than living as an independent.

High Point's national fraternities, Theta Chi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Delta Sigma Phi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, and Pi Kappa Alpha, and four national sororities, Alpha Gamma Delta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Kappa Delta, and Phi Mu all rank high in their standing among all the Greek Letter Organizations in the nation. Consider them . . . they will consider you.

Activities Added

Intramural Program Gets Underway

By MURPHY OSBORNE

This year the men's intramural program has added six new activities which were not included in last year's curriculum. These activities are badminton, tennis, horse shoes, golf, basketball free throw, and track. These sports have been added in order to get a larger number of students to participate in a more varied sports program. The sports which have been offered in the past years, football, volley ball, basketball, and soft ball have become inadequate, when offered alone, in filling the needs of the students and our growing Physical Education Department.

Dr. Hertz, the head of the intramural department, has had numerous meetings with the managers of the teams who plan to enter the intramural competition. He has stressed that the program is for the students, and that he will do anything within his power to help the students improve this program. A complete new and improved point system has been devised in order to adequately adjust to the enlarged intramural program.

This year's intramural program will undoubtedly be the best ever offered here at High Point College. The competition proves to be keen and the enthusiasm is at its highest ebb.

Legislature Elects Officers

At the initial meeting of the Student Legislature Thursday, September 26, David Myers was elected President pro-tem; Bill Moore, Parliamentarian; Jean Ruffy, Recording Clerk; Jack Benfield, Reading Clerk; and Larry Williams, Sargent-at-Arms.

Jim Rose, vice-president of the Student Government, presided over the meeting.

It was announced that a penalty will be inflicted upon those legislature members who fail to be present at the next meeting.

Football Season Opens

By MURPHY OSBORNE

The football season opened with nine evenly matched teams, seven fraternity teams and two independent clubs. The Bulldozers, managed by Bill Beasley, have been tabbed as the team to beat, however.

The dark horse is an independent team managed by Tommy Kerr and "Wimpy" Jones. Other teams entered are: Kappa Chi, Theta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Pi Kappa Alpha. Every one of these teams is capable of winning the championship with a few breaks. This year's competition is undoubtedly the stiffest ever seen at this college.

The New Look Basketball Previews

By DICK WILSON

As basketball weather is just around the corner, we turn our thoughts to our new modern gymnasium, and there each afternoon can be found a group of young men working three or four hours each day in trying to make the 1957-1958 season a winning success.

With only ten varsity men returning to action this fall, Coach Yow will be looking toward the freshmen newcomers with high hopes. Coach Yow's biggest problem this season will be to find someone to fill Jack Powell's shoes; and this, as the fans know, will be almost impossible.

On the hardwood court this fall, the fans will sit up and take notice of three young freshmen, who, in early practice have shown that they may be expected to give the returning players some stiff competition. The new players fans will be hearing about, as well as seeing, are Jack Shore, Buddy Joins, and Ken Prosser.

Jack, a short, flashy, little guy, who hails from Williams, Indiana, has shown promise of becoming one of High Point's future stars. Even though he stands only 5'11", his skillful maneuvering and ball handling make up the deficiency in his height. Jack, who has looked very good in early practices can be expected to see a lot of action this fall, and who knows, a starting position may be awaiting him.

Buddy Joins and Ken Prosser, two of High Point's own hometown boys, will be wearing the colors of purple and white this fall. Buddy, a 6'6" prospect may be counted on heavily in the rebound department, and hopes are that he may be able to lend support to Powell's vacant position. Prosser, a six footer who has shown up well in pre-season workouts, is expected to see considerable action this fall. Great things will be expected from these two fine athletes in the future.

Panther Prospects

Harold "Slick" Sykes, a well known figure on campus, will don the purple and white uniform this season. "Slick" was a regular starter in the 1952-53-54 seasons and then took a leave of absence from school to enter the U. S. Army. If Sykes can round himself into shape by opening season time, he should lend considerable strength to the team this year. If Sykes still has the ability he once had, he will prove to be a mighty tough opponent to hold down on the court this year.

From all indications Coach Yow and the Purple Panthers, with the support of the fans, are sure to have a fine and successful season.

Scribblings

Oh, ho, ho, ho! — who said the Yankees were not going to win another American League Pennant. Of course, my being a Kansas City fan, I lost some money along with the rest of you doubters.

Yours truly, spent the summer at Marine Officers Training camp at Quantico, Virginia. It is a good program and I recommend it to all interested energetic young men. No doubt about it though, I was mighty glad to be back to some good old college life. Well, (ain't) it good to be back on the campus and start cutting classes again?

You had better save those cuts for Saturday's, so you can skip down east and watch some of the big football games coming up. As it looks now the fabulous North Carolina State Wolfpack, led by two great halfbacks Cristy and Hunter are going to be up there fighting it out with Duke for the Atlantic Coast Conference Championship. Poor Carolina's, Sunny Jim, is having a tough time winning that first game as he probably will a few more this year. Well, place your bets gentlemen, your guess is as good as any-one's.

Around the campus not much is going on in the way of sports; except in those one hour Physical Education courses. Boy, that tumbling is getting a little out of reach, ask Joe Carrington. There are big changes going on to make for a better intramural program. All the fraternities are limbering up their muscles for the coming football season. It looks like another blood-thirsty fight for the title with the last year's champion, the Bulldozers, entering a team again this year.

Do you want to join the Sunday Quarterback Club? All you have to do for membership is just be present every Sunday afternoon in the television room of the boy's dormitory. This is where the Washington Redskins play. They are led by the popular little General Eddie Lebanon, who was busted to Lieutenant by the club last Sunday, after Washington's 28-7 slaughter by Pittsburg. All who are interested, meetings start at one o'clock.

Adios — time to do Spanish.

Juniors Elected To Judiciary

At a meeting of the junior class on Friday, September 27, called by the president, Charles Dyson, Aaron Moss was elected to the Judiciary Council. Following a motion from the floor, Charles Dyson appointed Steve Afendis to represent the junior class in the Legislature. Linda Groom was then elected as an alternate to the Legislature.

Dean Outlines Infirmiry Policy

By KYLE STIRLING

With the common cold season just around the corner, and the Asian flu bug hovering over campus, Dean Allred, yesterday, gave suggestions to students about health practices and Infirmiry Policy.

He cautioned students against overtaxing themselves physically. "Medical authorities have recommended that between the months of October and March, everyone should eat regularly, get plenty of sleep, and avoid overexertion."

In reference to current Infirmiry Policy, he said that students should avoid 'the penicillin fad.' "Often," he said, "students go to the infirmiry with a self-made diagnosis and ask that they be given penicillin."

"If the nurse decides that the student should see a doctor, she will send him to one retained by the College, and only if the doctor recommends penicillin, is she allowed to give it," he said.

"The staff of doctors retained by the College will make calls to the campus only in case of unusual emergencies," Dean Allred said. "This is a current policy of most doctors today," he said, "and there is nothing that we can do about it."

Dean Allred asked that students not become anxious if a friend should need emergency medical attention. "If a doctor is not available," he said, "the College has access to the emergency room at the local hospital."

Concert Band Seeks Players

According to Dr. Lew Lewis, the High Point College Concert Band needs two clarinet players and one saxophone player to complete its instrumentation.

Anyone interested in joining the concert band should get in touch with Dr. Lewis in Room 8, Fine Arts Building.

Despite a decade of anti-religious pressure by the Communist authorities, churches are still strong in East Germany. "About 90 percent of Protestant children receive religious instruction," he writes. "Among Roman Catholics the percentage is even higher."

Tower Players To Present "Room Service"

H.P.C. Tower Players have selected for their fall production Room Service, a hilarious comedy by John Murray and Allen Boretz. The play will be presented in the college auditorium on the evenings of 21 and 22 November.

This comedy, which enjoyed a long and successful run on Broadway, centers around a nimble-witted producer, living on credit with several actors in a Broadway hotel. The show moves with a lively pace showing one comic situation after another. This play, because of its hilarity, has become almost a classic comedy among amateur theater groups.

The play calls for a cast of twelve men and two women. The date of the try-outs for the parts will be announced at an early date. All new and old members of the student body who are interested in trying out for the play or working on the stage crew are urged to contact Miss DeSpain, Director of Dramatics.

Louise Pugh Wins Award

Louise Pugh was the recipient of the Dr. and Mrs. L. Thomas Norton Scholarship presented annually to the student who at the end of his junior year has made the highest scholastic average. The scholarship was in the amount of $75. Louise has a 2.889 average.

But Louise's studies do not take up all her time. Besides other extracurricular activities, she was associate editor of the 1957 Zenith. She expresses herself creatively through oil paintings, poetry, and music. Her poem, "Mischief," was printed in the College Anthology of Poetry.

Old-timers believe that cobwebs on the grass are a sign of fair weather. They also believe that: "When the dew is on the grass, rain will never come to pass."

Both the belief and the proverb are true. Cobwebs can be seen only when there is dew on the ground. And dew cannot form unless the skies are cloudless and there is no wind. A cloud-sheet would prevent the radiation which caused the loss of heat and resulting condensation on the grass. A windless night is necessary lest warm air passing over the ground prevent it from cooling.

Constitution Amendment

ARTICLE I SECTION 1

The Constitution of the Student Government Association of High Point College be amended by striking out the entire content of subhead (d) of Section (3) in Article VI, which reads as follows: "The Executive Council shall nominate a slate of candidates for the offices on the Executive Council. Other nominations will be received by a write-in nomination. The write-in nominations shall be handed to the Secretary of the Executive Council at a time designated by the Council," and inserting in its place a new paragraph which reads as follows: "(d) The Executive Council shall nominate a slate of candidates, one candidate for each office. Other nominations may be made in the form of write-in nominations which shall be handed to a member of the S.G.A. Executive Council during the time designated by the Executive Council.

- (1) The candidates will make formal acceptance speeches before a meeting of the Student Government Association.
- (2) The write-in nominations will be opened at least two weeks prior to the Student Government Association meeting at which the acceptance speeches are to be made.
- (3) The slate drawn up by the Executive Council will be presented to the students at the S.G.A. meeting at which the write-in nominations are officially opened.
- (4) The write-in nominations will be closed at 4:00 p.m. on the Monday before the S.G.A. meeting at which the candidates are to speak.

On Integration

H. P. C. Students Poll Negative

The segregation issue that has held the eyes of the nation during the past months is not confined to Arkansas. Across the land, and especially in the South, people are being forced to face the problem that confronts them. It's something new and different. Personal prejudices take the limelight.

During the past two weeks an informal and unofficial poll was taken of High Point College students on the question: "What would you think of Negroes attending H.P.C.?" The answers were varied and showed many differences of opinion; however, approximately two-thirds of the students polled gave a negative answer. They would not be in favor of college integration.

Those who favored integration spoke of "equality among races" and the Christian principles such as "All men are created equal in the sight of God."

FRESHMAN TALENT SHOW

A committee has been appointed by the Executive Council to be in charge of the Freshman Talent Show which has been scheduled for October 22. The committee members are Bill Tyson, Shrimp Flynt, Larry Williams, Elaine Hoover, Ann Kurfes, and Judith Ward, with Mr. Raeford Porter as faculty advisor. Trophies will be given to the three top contestants.

Champion automobile race driver of the world is a 46-year-old Argentine named Juan Fangio, according to Reader's Digest. He has won more than half of 173 perilous races in 23 countries but is a very careful driver, never passes on hills or curves, and in New York prefers to ride in taxicabs. His wealth is more than a million dollars.

Philosophy Club Organized

An organizational meeting was held last week for the purpose of forming a Philosophy Club. The organization, according to Dr. Boyer, Professor of Philosophy, is an informal club with no officers and no dues, and it is open to any interested person who can take an objective point of view.

Future meetings of the Club will be held at Dr. Boyer's home, 2601 East Lexington Avenue, on the following dates.

Nov. 1-Topic: Individualism and the Luxury of Integrity.

Dec. 2-Topic: Communism and Shifting Democracy.

Jan. 3-Topic: Extra-sensory Perception.

Anyone interested in becoming a member should contact Dr. Boyer.

Panel Discussion Held

"Faculty-Student Relations" was the topic of the faculty-panel discussion Wednesday night, October 2. Members of the panel were Mrs. Berry, Dr. Wood, Dr. Boyer, Mr. Daniel, Dr. Natcher and Dr. Collins. Dr. Muldrow served as moderator.

Miss Kathrine Smith from Vermont presented the summer service program for High Point Students. This work is among the underprivileged children of Vermont. The student will receive $200 plus traveling expenses. If interested, contact Fred Macon.

The Panther Prowls

In doing your daily task it would be a wise idea to stop and listen for footsteps, because the PANTHER is on the prowl again.

Danny, do you hear footsteps? Believe you me, it isn't a panther - or is it?

And this summer was a good season for making plans for marriage - not nearly so complicated as A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM though. Fitting into the plot were Kyle and Jahala, Jackie and Slick, Elaine and Stan, Anne and S. J., C. W. and Shirley, and Bobby and Ann.

Boys have you noticed all the diamonds that the freshmen girls own? Well that is one strike.

Watch out girls - Wienberry is back.

Betty Gray, do you have that left-out feeling since Bill came between you and Edna Rose.

As ole panther prowls around, he notices that a few things just seem to come in two's . . . Stu and Gay, Jack and Jane, Donnie and Pat, and Luke and 'the redhead'.

Hey Charles H., are those stars in your eyes?

It seems that our Star Basketball player from Florida will lose his fan club to one devoted and avid fan.

Yok, it's many miles to Miami University.

A word to the wise—the PANTHER has an assistant this year, the most Honorable Birdy in the Bush; so, the bushes are to be watched!

The Bookstore People

by Fred Barber

I threw in my poker hand and rose from my chair. Grabbed my coat, combed my hair, and left the room. Out in front of the dorm I joined the mob already forming. It was 9:00. The procession had begun . . . the worshippers were going to visit their shrine.

I lit another Winston and trudged over the muddy lawn past the cafeteria. Ahead of me a crowd was already mobbing the Bookstore steps; pushing through the doorway. The doors had just opened. I hoped I hadn't missed anything. I hung the Winston on my lip, cocked one eyebrow, and with my hands in my pocket I joined the mob. Pushing and squeezing, I finally entered the inner-sanctum. Smoke was already hanging in great globs from the ceiling. The counter to my left was covered with characters of various sizes who were torn between talking among themselves and yelling. The not-so-quiet murmur of many conversations and confused laughter practically drowned out the valiant attempt of "Shake, Baby, Shake" that blared from the jukebox.

I squeezed in among those who were lined up against the counter, and waited for my turn at a coke. Beside me stood a long, lanky specimen with a spectacular pair of sideburns that were a reasonable facsimile to those worn by a famous guitar picker. All he needed was a motorcycle jacket to make his appearance complete. He seemed to be fascinating a small, blonde freshman who was looking up at him with a fixed smile and several rows of glittering teeth, two, to be exact. After a clever invitation, the Motorcycle Rider escorted the eager freshman to the small clearing in front of the jukebox. "Shake, Baby, Shake," seemed to be holding down the number one spot, and was still playing. Turning his collar up, the Motorcycle Rider leaned forward and began moving his posterior to the beat. The mob gathered around the couple and anxiously goggled over the Ritual.

On the outer fringes of the crowd a blushing Religion major was accepting a frat man's plea to escort her to the dorm.

A sophisticated sophomore lad gave the pretense of talking to a small group of comrades, but was apparently oblivious to the conversation, and was looking around intently for a member of the female species who qualified in anatomical appearance to merit a "snow-job."

All was mayhem. No one seemed to have a purpose, but everyone seemed to seek a purpose in being a part of the mob. I turned to one of my fraternity brothers who stood by my side. "What th' heck do these people come down here for?" I said.

The fraternity brother crunched a mouthful of ice from his coke before answering: "I'm afraid I can't answer you. Why don't you tell me why you're here?"

I gave him a sneer and ordered another small coke; crushing the last of the Winston under my foot.

Across the room I saw a neat little chick with big, dark eyes looking over a ham salad sandwich. With a sigh of surrender I walked toward the eyes and the sandwich.

I never was a very good non-conformist.

Belles: By Barber

ANN STARR

Our current "Belle" seems to be in a very pensive mood. Maybe it's the rainy weather, or it could be that she's been called before the Judiciary Council for not wearing her beanie? At any rate, she's a freshman from North Wilkesboro, and a very welcome addition to our campus.

Poetry Competition Announced

The National Poetry Association announces the Eleventh Annual Competition.

The closing date for the submission of mss. by College students is November fifth.

Any student attending either junior or senior college is eligible to submit verse. There is no limitation as to form or theme. Shorter works are preferred by the Board of Judges, because of space limitations.

Each poem must be typed or printed on a separate sheet, and must bear the name and home address of the student, as well as the name of the college attended.

Manuscripts should be sent to the Office of the Association, National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, California.

Mademoiselle Opens Guest Editor Contest

Mademoiselle is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership in its 1957/58 College Board.

The magazine's College Board Contest offers a chance (for the freshman as well as the senior) at winning one of the twenty Guest Editorships - a month on the staff of Mademoiselle. Those who are accepted on the College Board do two assignments during the college year. Assignments give College Board Members a chance to write features about life on their campus; to submit art work and fashion as well as feature, fiction or promotion ideas for possible use in Mademoiselle.

The top twenty Guest Editors will be brought to New York next June to help write, edit and illustrate the August COLLEGE issue. They will be paid a regular salary for their month's work, plus round-trip transportation to New York City.

November 30 is the deadline for applying for College Board Membership. Successful candidates will be notified of acceptance on the College Board before Christmas; the first College Board assignment will appear in Mademoiselle's January issue.

For further information see the August, September, October or November issue of Mademoiselle.

Fellowship Teams Hold Retreat

"We Would Be Building" is the theme of the H.P.C. Fellowship Teams. The foundation of this building was laid Saturday, September 28, during the annual retreat at the First Methodist Church. Seventy-four participated.

A Fellowship Team is a group of five trained college students who have a concern for others. The team visits local churches on weekends to stimulate fellowship among youth and their adult leaders and to make the total program of their Youth Fellowship more meaningful. This program also enables the H.P.C. students to gain experience in youth work of the church. This is the fifth year of operation for the H.P.C. Fellowship Teams. Training sessions will continue during October.

November 13 H. R. Baukhage To Speak At Assembly

H. R. Baukhage, radio commentator, foreign correspondent, reporter, editor and lecturer, will speak at the College Assembly on November 13.

Mr. Baukhage has had a varied career which included stage experience and soldiering. But his chief interest has always been reporting. He has covered history in the making at home and abroad, in daily and weekly papers, over the air and on the television screen.

After graduating from the University of Chicago in his native State of Illinois, with a degree of Ph.B., he studied abroad in several famous universities, including Bonn, Kiel, Jena and Freiburg in Germany.

Dorm Planned; Roberts Hall Renovations Scheduled

by Pat Jordan

Plans for the construction of a new girls dormitory building and expansion of classroom and office space were disclosed today by Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, H.P.C. President.

According to Dr. Cooke a special meeting of the board of trustees will be held on November 20 to discuss the building of a new woman's dormitory. The proposed building would be built parallel to Susanna Wesley Hall.

Dr. Cooke said that renovations were presently underway in Roberts Hall, which would provide additional classroom and office space. The renovations, scheduled for completion by the second semester, would provide four classrooms and several offices for professors," he said.

Included in the renovation plans, will be a movie room, which will take the place of the present movie room at the library. On the first floor, the public relations office space will be enlarged; there will be an office for Dr. Peterson, Director of Endowments; and a conference room for use during interviews between students and prospective employers.

There will also be a mailing and general workroom for the public relations department, and the student stenography and mimeographing department will be moved from the ground floor to new quarters on the first floor.

In other matters, Dr. Cooke said that a botanist would be added to the Biology department "as soon as the administration can find the right man for the position."

Concerning Quality Points Dean Discounts Rumor

Dr. Harold Conrad, Dean of High Point College, denied last week that there was any basis to a campus rumor concerning quality-point policy.

The rumor had it that three quality points would be deducted when students failed a course. "The quality point system is the same as it has been for the past few years," Dr. Conrad said.

He pointed out that the current quality point system provides that all hours taken, whether passed or failed, are included in calculation of total points.

From The Top Of The Tower

by Charles Johnson

Last Saturday night Patric Fitzgerald, Gerald Fitzpatric, and I went back stage at the Community Concert's first performance of this year. We were hoping to get to talk to the two piano soloist, Vronsky and Babin, and Miss Faye Emerson. It was during the intermission and right after the Mozart, which the two soloist had just performed with perfect fineness. We asked a violinist, who was practicing some difficult passages on his violin, where we might get to see the pianists and Miss Emerson. He told us to go downstairs and see a Mr. Shapiro.

Downstairs there were more musicians practicing on every type of instrument and conversing to each other in the weird language of music. WE inquired for Mr. Shapiro and were shown to a young man who told us that perhaps we might catch Miss Emerson after the performance. Then we passed the buck to Mrs. J. P. Armstrong, whom he said would be entertaining Miss Emerson after the performance. When we asked where we might find Mrs. Armstrong, he answered vaguely, "Out front."

I could tell that Pat didn't think much of Mr. Shapiro and that Gerry was getting plain angry with him and his attitude, and I suggested that we go back upstairs. Arriving upstairs, we spotted Mr. Babin in the hallway. We approached him and asked would he mind if we interviewed him and his wife. He said that he didn't and very graciously invited us into his dressing room.

On entering the dressing room we met Miss Emerson. Hastily

Delegates Named For S.G.A. Meet

The Student Government Assembly of the colleges and universities of North Carolina is being held in Raleigh this week end. The Assembly started its sessions last Thursday the 7th and will end them Saturday the 9th.

Attending the sessions for High Point College are seven representatives. Some of these representatives are veterans of last year's Assembly, and some of them are new to the sessions. The seven H.P.C. delegates are Charles Watson, Charles Dyson, Fred Handy, Pat Ray, Charles Johnson, Harold Wright, and Jim Rose.

The purpose of the Assembly is to acquaint the students in the colleges and universities of North Carolina with the procedures of the legislative branches of our state and federal governments.

Publications Policy May Change

Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, President of High Point College, said last week that studies were being made in connection with the student publications; however, he said there was nothing definite to be reported at the time. He further stated that when definite plans had been made, the student publications would be contacted.

Changes in Administration Policy concerning student publications, the Zenith and the Hi-Po may be forthcoming.

The possibility of such changes was indicated in a reply made by Administration officials to a proposal of the Publication Board concerning scholarship aid for the editors of the two student publications.

EDITORIALS

W.H.P.C.-A $50,000 Possibility

During the past summer, Hi-Po officials explored the possibility of a student radio station for High Point College. Correspondence with Federal Communications Commission, and radio equipment manufacturers, indicated that such a venture would be possible, but at a cost of about $50,000.

The HPC radio project, as tentatively outlined, would be located in Roberts Hall Tower, and operated in conjunction with the Hi-Po. The radio facility would be available for use by student organizations and all phases of college activity. Later, expansion might be made to include educational facilities for the College.

College officials are not adverse to the idea of a radio station for HPC, but at the present there is no money for such a venture.

WHPC could be a worthwhile project for this year's Senior Class. If the Senior Class should initiate the project, perhaps some benefactor would underwrite the balance of the expense. —K.S.

"Get Along Little Doggie"

The "man in the moon" need no longer be lonely. He now has man's best friend, the dog, circling the globe to keep him company.

In their second satellite the Russians have sent a dog into the ether. This is quite an advance over the cage of mice the U. S. scientist sent up only as far as the stratosphere a couple of years ago.

In two short years the Russian technology and technicians have far outstripped those of the U. S. What is the reason for this? Do we have enough money appropriated for research? Do we have enough qualified scientist and technicians to support such research?

The answer to the latter two of these questions will supply the answer to the first. The answer is that we do not.

Congress has cut the defense budget to the bare minimum. Our colleges and universities are over crowded and lack qualified professors. Cutting the defense budget was a political expediency to fulfill the campaign promise to lessen taxes. The lack of qualified professors and educational facilities is due to the fact that salaries are bigger in other fields than teaching and that commerce and industry are considered better investments than colleges and universities.

How can this situation be improved?

First, the American people must be jarred out of their complacency in order that they can grasp the importance of these issues and can impress our national legislators with the need for more money for research. The American people themselves must be made to realize the importance of better salaries for teachers and better facilities for their schools.

Perhaps the "dog in the moon" can accomplish this Herculean task. We hope so. —C.R.J.

Litterbug Joins Bug Pantheon

Now that Governor Hodges has glorified the office of garbage collector, with his talking garbage pail and various broom-holding poses, the current anti-litterbug campaign has reached all echelons of our state — including college campuses.

This current clean-up campaign is admirable and will certainly add to the aesthetic qualities of North Carolina; however, the emphasis on the campaign has been slightly overdone. The same strategy could be better used on projects of a more lasting value. —K.S.

The World In A Nutshell

ZHUKOV

Under the Communist system of government one could not comfortably enjoy the seat of the mighty. The whole system is held together by intrigue and plotting against potential opponents.

There is no fitter expression of the Communist system than Darwin's theory of "The Survival of the Fittest" — only in the communist situation even the survivor could not expect to survive for very long.

The mystery of Zhukov's discharge is not solved yet. A lot of theories have been written. Many people believe that the army is more conservative than Khrushchev. And some hope that Zhukov might be more favorable to the West, since he was comrade-in-arms with Ike. A Russian is a Russian, and according to Marxism-Leninism there is no provision for compromise, but only for ultimate triumph over an enemy who is foredoomed to annihilation.

We have to be patient and constantly alert in dealing with Russia. By system of government, the Soviet Union has far better advantages in dealing with others. But there are a lot of weaknesses in the Communist government.

The Zhukov event might accelerate the disintegration of Communism. It is possible that the military could still be driving for a military dictatorship, and this would inevitably lead to a change in the entire Communist system.

It is a pity that Zhukov was born in Russia; for it does not make any difference whether his star is rising or declining — his fate is doomed anyway.

Turkey and Syria

For the first time in history Russia has gained position and prestige in the Middle East.

Is the border tension between Turkey and Syria really critical? Would Russia send her army against Turkey as an Arab protector in case of a clash between Turkey and Syria? Russia is as afraid as any other country of the outbreak of World War III. But accident or undesirable circumstance may force one country to start another war.

It is not likely that the ICBM has any bearing on Russia's ability to gain prestige in the Arab countries and other Asian countries? Neither has it put any weight on the Afro-Asian block as a whole. It is the principle of the Afro-Asian Block to be independent in internal as well as external affairs and at the same time try to lessen the tensions between the two powers.

In the case of Syria it is probably the same old political story — she is waiting for the highest bidder. We hope that Syria is smart enough to choose wisely. After all, the Russians can't be on the winning side always.

'Feelies' For Education

College life in the future may be one long Cinema.

According to press reports, a new type of movie called "Feelies," is forthcoming. "Feelies" can be heard, seen, and felt. It's all done by beaming messages on the screen while you watch your favorite movie. The messages are invisible on the screen because they are too fast for the conscious eye to see, but they register on the subconscious.

For education, "Feelies" have unlimited possibilities. A future college catalogue may offer Sociology under the guise of Gina Lollobrigida 101.

"Feelies" may not be a bad idea.

Possibility of "Red" Revolt Seen

By Kyle Stirling

Dr. Alexander Berkis, professor of history at High Point College, probably has as much understanding of the current Russian situation as any other person in the United States. Russian-born, Dr. Berkis has spent a great deal of his life fleeing the yoke of Communist oppression. —Ed.

The dismissal of George K. Zhukov, Russian defense minister, comes as no surprise to Dr. Alexander Berkis, HPC professor of European History.

Dr. Berkis describes the removal of Zhukov as a mere process of the communist system. "It is a process which must be repeated again and again if the Communist system is to perpetuate itself," he said.

Of Nikita Khrushchev, Dr. Berkis says that "he is no different from Stalin. Khrushchev's tactics are more subtle and flexible but he, like Stalin, is devoted to one cause — the advancement of the Communist party."

Dr. Berkis sees the removal of Zhukov as the outcome of a power struggle between the ruling Communist clique and the Army; however, there is another aspect of the shakeup which Dr. Berkis is not discounting. "If the Kremlin is hatching a war, then it will need the support of the Russian people. But Zhukov, a popular figure in the eyes of the people, is a man of moderation, and would possibly be opposed to any sort of major military action.

According to Dr. Berkis, there is a possibility of alienating the Russian people as a result of the Zhukov incident. "But if a revolt occurs," he said, "it will begin at the top of the Communist hierarchy, not at the bottom."

Something Borrowed . . .

WAKE FOREST

According to Wake Forest Student paper, Old Gold and Black, there were fewer cases of flu on the campus during the latter part of October. Dr. Ozmer Henry of the Student Health Service at Wake Forest said that he could not determine whether the flu was letting up, but said if the number of cases remained low it would probably indicate a trend.

U.N.C.

Dr. E. M. Hedgepeth, university physician, called on students here to take full advantage of shots now being offered, reports The Daily Tar Heel. According to the Tar Heel, a still unidentified flu epidemic continued to loose its grip on the U.N.C. campus, but stated that an additional supply of 1,000 vaccine doses had been received and would be available to students, free of charge.

EAST CAROLINA

According to The East Carolinian, the number of cases of flu-like disease on campus appear to be less severe and diminishing. . . . The E. C. infirmary has bed space for 42 and could not accommodate the number of cases, the East Carolinian reported. Approximately 64 cases of "the flu" were reported the last week in October.

Committee Recommends Tuition Increase

President Eisenhower's special Committee on Higher Education has recommended that students and parents should pay a higher portion of college tuition than at present.

The recommendation, announced recently by committee chairman, Devereux C. Josephs, said the move would be necessary in order to maintain education quality.

The committee recommended an expanded loan program for students as a method of financing the higher tuitions. "One of the primary purposes of higher tuitions would be to enable colleges and universities to pay their teachers more adequate salaries," the committee reported.

The committee pointed out that more scholarships would increase the number of students in college. The committee added that it would not recommend more people going to college until better facilities can be provided.

At present, the committee said it is more important that loan funds rather than scholarship funds be built up.

Highbrow and Otherwise

BOOKS

NOT BY BREAD ALONE, Vladimir Dudintsev, E. P. Dutton & Co.

Party secretary Nikita Khrushchev in his speeches on art and literature, summarized in August in the twelfth issue of The Communist, singled out Vladimir Dudintsev, author of Not By Bread Alone, as a "calumniator who took a malicious joy in describing the negative sides of Soviet life" and tagged his book "unhealthy, tendentious, and obnoxious." While affirming that "reactionary forces abroad attempt at using this book against us," Khrushchev failed to explain the reasons for its smashing success at home. Neither the party leader nor the numerous Communist critics who accused Dudintsev of every mortal sin, ever dared to answer the natural question: Why has this novel become such an important and central phenomenon in Russia's literary life? And why does it possess such an emotional appeal for its readers?

Although the book does not rate very high from a purely esthetic standpoint, it sums up the whole literary and social movement of recent years, and offers to the Western reader a picture of Russia far different from official statements and hasty reports by travelers.—C.R.J.

It's All Greek

by Mell Busbin, Fraternity Editor

Pi Kappa Alpha

On October 20, Pika Brothers and Pledges and their dates spent the day at the Blue Ridge Parkway. A perfect day was experienced by all.

Pikas went to Charleston, S. C., on November 2 and 3 to serenade an alumnus. After touring Charleston, Sunday, they returned to High Point.

Congratulations go out to new Brothers, Sandy Grantham and Richard Mason who were initiated October 28.

Theta Chi

The Jamestown American Legion Hut was recently the scene of the Theta Chi Costume Ball. Judged by the faculty advisors as having best costumes were Mell Busbin and date Marilyn Tulloch dressed as Mexicans.

Congratulations go out to Gordon Nifong who was recently installed as Jr. Marshall.

The first Theta Chi rush party was held November 6. We are now looking forward to our next rush party, a dance, to be held November 16, at the Thomasville Country Club.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Recently the Sig-Eps entertained the student body with the play "A Womanless Wedding." Thanks go out to non-Sig Eps who helped with the performance. If the students enjoyed the performance half as much as the Sig Eps did in presenting it, it was a success.

Recent visitors to the section were Roy Dawkins and Bob Ross.

Congratulations go out to future "Papas", Paul Stanton and Doc Dockery.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Seven new members recently initiated into our brotherhood were: Steve Afindis, Gilbert Beeson, George Ivey, Jim Parrish, Jim Roberts, Weldon Simpson, and Bill Vestal. Bruce Long and Bill Anderson, who have been away in the service, are welcomed back into active membership.

National Field Supervisor, Mr. Tom Hogan, visited our chapter last week. The chapter was commended for its work.

Our first rush party will be held November 12 at the Jamestown American Legion Hut. The second party, a dance, will be held there November 16.

Delta Sigma Phi

At our last meeting, the final segment of the Delta Sigma Phi "Engineered Leadership" program was outlined and incorporated into the chapter.

Congratulations to brothers C. W. Faulkner, and Charlie Huff, who were initiated into Delta Sigdom on October 18.

Campus honors were received by brothers Fred Barber, elected as a Junior Marshall, and C. W. Faulkner and Kyle Stirling, elected to "Who's Who" in American Colleges.

The Delta Sigs will hold their "stag smoker" at the Marietta Club on November 7. The date party will be held at the Delta Sig "Speak Easy" on Saturday, November 16.

Lambda Chi Alpha

The Lambda Chis will have their stag rush party at the Thomasville American Legion Hut on the 13th of November. The following Saturday they have their date rush party at the Thomasville American Legion Hut also.

Congratulations are in order for brother Bob Gandy and his new wife Ann, a Phi Mu pledge. Congratulations also to brother Randy Burgess and his new wife Carolyn, who is a member of the Phi Mu Sorority.

The Lambda Chi Clowns vs. the faculty basketball game was a big success, and the proceeds will aid in providing for Kim and Bak. To all of you who attended the game and made it such a big success Kim, Bak, and the Lambda Chis give our sincere thanks.

Alpha Gamma Delta

Two successful rush parties were held this year. Marietta County Club was the scene of the first party, the theme of which was "Gay Twenties Gambling." The other party that of a more serious type, was held at the Y.M.C.A.

Formerly pledged to Alpha Gamma Delta on the eve of October 28, were Leilani Assef Sylvia Alexander, Texie Ann Ayers, Mary Lou Chapman, Juanita Parks, Duree Hall, Selma Hazemey, Carol Imwold, Lila Lemmond, Anne McArthur, Sylvia Nicks, Hallie Sympter, Kathy Traywick, and Eunice Young.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Lindley Chapel was the scene where five girls, Betsy Bryant, Harriet Truelove, Pat Moore, Edna White, and Frances Lewis, who accepted bids were pledged to Zeta Tau Alpha.

Congratulations to Irma Jane Scruggs, treasurer, recently installed as a Jr. Marshall.

Zetas sponsored a dance October 25 with "Hernando's Hideaway" as the theme.

Alumni seen on campus recently were Gelene Ashley, Priscilla Gingrich, and Christine Barber.

Kappa Delta

Girls pledged to Kappa Delta on October 27, were Anne Starr, Linda Groome, Suzanne NeSmith, Jean Ridge, Nancy Andrews, Carol Purvis, Judy Gainer, Martha Chevis, Peggy Howard, Shirley Marshall, Katie Sprinkle, Lyna Reynolds, Lucia Porcelli, and Joyce Davis.

The K.D.'s will again sponsor a benefit bridge on Tuesday night, November 19, in the student center. There will be favors for everyone, a door prize, and prizes for the high scorer at each table. The admission will be 50c per person.

Phi Mu

The Gamma Zeta Chapter of Phi Mu welcomes into her circle of friendship twelve new pledges - Libby Graham, Karen Combs, Martha Turnipseed, Janice Tutterow, Linda Holten, Sara Montgomery, Peggy Creasey, Barbar Holland, Carol Chapman, Norma Miller, Ann Gandy and Barbar Torrence. We are very proud of these girls and we hope they will be equally proud of us. Phi Mu sisters will honor these pledges November 9 with a semi-formal dance.

Wini Stuart, Jeanette Small, and Shelby Williams will be initiated into Phi Mu sisterhood November 17.

A tea honoring Phi Mu alumni was given at the home of Mrs. D. A. Rawley November 3.

Congratulations go out to Carolyn Koontz and Randy Burgess recently married in First Methodist Church, Dot Lloyd selected May Court attendant, and Patsy Poole and Sylvia Holt who were recently installed Jr. Marshalls.

Fraternity Whirl Winds-Up

by Mell Busbin

It has been a hectic two week period since the fraternity social whirl began on October 6 with the Sorority Tea. Forty-six girls pledged sororities on October 19.

For the fraternities the social whirl has just begun. Parties by the individual fraternities began on November 6. These preliminary parties, usually "stag," help the fraternity men to become better acquainted with the rushees. It is a time of handshaking, informative speaking, and a time for "talking fraternity." The fraternity rush is usually highlighted by a dance. The dances will be held this year either November 15 or 16, which ever day the individual fraternities prefer.

The Silent Period begins at 12 noon, Sunday, November 17, and will last until 6 p.m., Monday, November 18, during which time no fraternity man or pledge will be allowed to speak to a rushee. Bids will be available Monday morning, November 18, and must be returned by 6 p.m. the same day. At this time the I.F.C. representatives will open the bids and each fraternity will know who its new pledges are.

Tower Players Casts 'Room Service'

The laughter and loud guffaws emanating from the auditorium during the evenings of the last week have been caused by the Tower Players in their rehearsal of Room Service. This comedy, which has been described as one of the funniest plays of the past twenty-five years, will be presented at 8 p.m. on the evenings of November 21 and 22. The play, selected because it is admirably suited to the comedy talents of the college, is one that no student should miss.

Some of the students who made such a hit in the production of Harvey last year have again been selected for major roles. Sonny Thornton plays a similar type of role to the one that brought him so much acclaim last year. "Shrimp" Flynt, is in the longest role that he has had to date. Richard Cox, of the faculty, offers comic opposition to the efforts of Thornton, Flynt, and Mark Rose.

Mark Rose has been selected to play the part of the producer of whose shoulders most of the play hinges. The plot centers around the efforts of a group trying to find money to produce a play while living in a hotel on credit.

Others in the cast include Fred Barber, as the brother-in-law, Hilda Manney, played by Edna White, furnishes the love interest playing opposite Sonny Thornton. Christine Marlowe, played by Wini Stuart, is in love with the producer. Significant parts are also played by Larry Williams, Bill Damon, Gary Cornell, Aaron Moss, Bob Elliot, Bob Scott, and Richard Walker.

The colorful sets are being designed by Mr. Raiford Porter, art director of the college.

Intramural Action

Bulldozers Lead Intramural

by Murphy Osborne

The battling Bulldozers have taken an undisputed lead in the intramural football league; however, they are closely trailed by the Lambda Chis, Pikas, Sig Eps, and Tekes. The Bulldozers record has been only scratched with a four wins and one tie record, this tie came at the hands of the Sig Eps. Lambda Chi is in second place and has a four wins and one loss record.

Each team has had many outstanding players. At the end of the season an all-star team will be picked from these outstanding players from each team. Leading the way for the Bulldozers are such men as Stan Stafford, Harold Watson, Bill Beasley and many others who go into the combined efforts of the team. The Lambda Chi team is helped a great deal by the pass catching and timely interceptions of Larry Reavis and Paul Jones. The Pikas are led by Martin Poyner, Dale Swaringen and Joseph Carrington. The Sig Eps have found a very reliable pass catching end in Bill Tyson. Jim Parish has proven to be a standout for the Tekes as they fight for an upper berth. The kicking and passing of C. W. Faulkner has led the Delta Sigs while Bill Pennwell has been the "fleetfooted" ball carrier for Theta Chi. Dean and Hector have proven to be very good team men from the Midgets. The Rebels' bright spot can be found in their manager and end, Moss. Kappa Chi is aided by their forward wall and the running of John Lewis. There are many other standouts who have contributed to the play and position of the teams and will be undoubtedly recognized at the latter part of the season.

With the season only half over, the championship could still go to any team.

The standing are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Tie
Bulldozers	4	0	1
Lambda Chi	5	1	0
Pika	3	2	0
Teke	2	2	0
Delta Sig	2	3	0
Theta Chi	1	2	0
Kappa Chi	1	2	0
Midgets	1	3	0
Rebels	0	5	0

Huegele Lost To Uncle 'S'

Bill Huegele will report to the induction center at Charlotte, N. C., the 7th of December for his physical examination, if he passes, he will probably report to Fort Jackson, S. C., for his basic training.

This comes as a severe blow to the basketball team, because Bill is one of the better players on the team. In losing Bill, the High Point College Basketball team's chances of a winning season are in doubt. You have heard the old saying "As Ruth goes, so goes the Yankees," well, without Huegele the basketball team will have a tough row to hoe.

Since coming to High Point College in 1954 from Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Bill has made quite a name for himself on campus as well as in the surrounding area for his basketball feats.

Scribblings

The creeping, icy fingers of "Old Man Winter" have grasped the Carolina's in a firm grip. Associated with the thought of cold weather is that everything is surviving, but in a sluggish condition.

Sluggish it is around the High Point College Campus in High Point, North Carolina. Students seem lifeless and their only motivation is to attend classes and to make sure and not over cut assembly. While on just about every campus in the state, the students are busily engaged in conversation in small groups. These conversations run along these lines: "Who is going to win Saturday? How tough is the team we are playing? I will give you Duke and six points." These students are, of course, speculating about the coming football game on Saturday.

Ray
Wicker

Football, it has to be said, adds tremendously to the spirit of a college campus. Just the thought of getting a date, going to the game, and backing your team seems to put a person in better spirits. It is hard to say how football does this more than any other sport. Perhaps it is the union of voices raised in one common voice, or just sitting in the brisk atmosphere watching a back break loose for a sixty yard run. Who knows what makes football so stimulating, but the fact remains that it is stimulating and High Point College does not have this stimulation.

Since there has been a turnover in the Physical Education Department and a new gymnasium has been built, maybe these are steps toward a brighter future. So far it looks as if the new Physical Education Department is really on the ball.

Dr. Netcher, with the help of a few boys, has fixed up the former cow pasture which in the past has been used as a baseball field. He has spent many hours, often by himself, resowing the infield in grass and surveying off the whole diamond.

Faculty Nips Clowns In Close Contest

The faculty "old pros" proved too much for the charges of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity to handle in the annual clown vs. faculty, charity basketball game.

The faculty, led by Dr. Hertz and Dr. Netcher, scored, with little time remaining on the clock to record the win. The game got rather rough on occasion when "Shrimp" Flynt squared off with Dr. Hertz. It was a close, hard, clean, fought fight, and Dr. Hertz would not have won except that "Shrimp", due to obvious lack of conditioning, failed to answer the bell.

All of the proceeds of this game will go to Kim and Bak, the Student's adopted orphans in Korea.

Last year the Lambda Chi's donated $120 to the Student Christian Association, and this year it is hoped that that amount will be increased.

This ball game also goes a long way in improving the student faculty relationship.

Dr. Hertz has been testing all of the Physical Education classes trying to find men for his track team. He hopes to build a top-notch track team here at the college.

It is good to see people like these two taking such an interest in the college their first year here. With the interest they have shown and the programs they have already set up, it might not be too long before football is back on the campus.

With the cold weather comes the snow, rain, and falling of leaves. One of these leaves fell to the campus of High Point College and on this leaf was written:

"Greetings from the President to Mr. Bill Huegele"

If Bill has to go, it will be a great blow to the charges of Coach Yow. Huegele has been the main stay of the Panthers for the past three seasons. He was one of the leading scorers of last season and without a doubt would have been the big gun for the Panthers this year. There is still a slim chance that Bill will not have to go and the whole college is waiting with mounting tension to the final ultimatum.

Let us hope that "Old Man Winter" is not here too long this year and that soon the sun will shine again.

Panther News

by Dick Wilson

On October 15, the first organized basketball practice was held with twenty-two players working out. These twenty-two men, some new, some old, will take their orders from high coach Virgil Yow. Coach Yow is receiving some assistance from Dr. Gil Hertz, who comes out once or twice a week to lend his help to any of the players who need some advice on some particular phase of the game.

Coach Yow has found the going pretty rough so far, as the flu bug has hit his players quite hard in the past two weeks. I am quite sure Coach will agree with me that it is pretty hard to hold practice with just a few of your players on hand each day.

With the ice breaking off on the edges, some of the old recruits are beginning to show their proven ability once again. Beauchot is looking like the Beauchot of old, still fast as ever. Dunbar and Pharr, two boys who have very much ability, are looking in excellent shape. Huegele can still hit that basket as good as ever from any spot on the floor. Two of the freshman crop, Short and Joins are showing up quite well in practice.

Coach Yow and his Panther men will play host to a team from Fort Bragg the week-end of November 8.

The Four-Wheeled Tragedy

by Fred Barber

I was almost to the High Point city limits when it happened. A car approaching from the opposite direction swerved into my lane to pass, and before I could apply my brake I had wrapped my front bumper around his steering wheel. For a few minutes everything was blank, and when I came to, I was standing outside the pile of wreckage. Dozens of people were crowding around the cars, and with drawn white faces were telling each other "Oh, how awful!" and "Ain't it a shame?" I walked over to the crowd to see what the tragedy was.

I looked through the broken windows of what had once been my car, and the bloody mess of the character inside gave me a jolt I won't soon forget. It was me.

Needless to say, it was the craziest feeling I've ever experienced. I was staring at my own remains. I looked closer and blinked my eyes to make sure I wasn't having optical illusions. Yep, no doubt about it, I was looking at the same mug I had been admiring in the mirror for years. Then I made another discovery . . . I didn't exist. I could walk right through people, and no one could see me. It was a very pathetic situation - a beautiful ending to Thanksgiving day.

I sat down on the fender of the car and tried to remember what had happened. I remembered that I had gone home on Wednesday afternoon after finishing my classes. Early Thanksgiving morning our family had driven to my Grandmother's, spent the day, and had driven back home before I started back to school. I remembered that I had been very tired, and that the traffic had been bumper-to-bumper all along the highway.

My thoughts were interrupted by the sound of an ambulance screaming down the highway. Two white-coated attendants jumped out and loaded my remains on a stretcher.

"Take your time, fellows," I said, "There's no need to rush." I followed them to the ambulance and watched them put me through the back door. Beside me a tear-stricken woman asked someone who I was. "Some college kid on his way back to school," she was told. "You're right," I said, "It's me."

I watched the ambulance drive me away, and looked at the people walking away from the scene. Suddenly I felt very alone and hopeless. "Hey, look," I screamed, "It's me; here I am!"

My roommate turned on the light and shook me. "I know you're here," he said, "So why don't you turn over and quit talking so darned much."

I sat up in bed and sighed with relief. "Remind me," I said as I pulled the cover around my shoulders, "Not to go home for Thanksgiving." He shook his head as he turned out the light. "Sometimes," he said, "I think you're crazy."

Bob Butler carried away first prize as the Freshman Talent Show sponsored by the Student Government Association October 22.

Second-place winner was Tom Hollingsworth who did a Saxophone solo, "Honky Tonk". Winning third place, Tony Adams sang "Walk Hand In Hand".

"Shrimp" Flynt was master of ceremonies. Judges of the talent show were Mrs. Ring, Dr. Ballew, Dr. Wood, and Mrs. Irma Prettyman.

The Board of Trustees of High Point College has created a new office, Director of Endowment and Development, to aid the college's program of expansion. Selected to head this office was Dr. Herbert H. Peterson. Dr. Peterson has long been active in the missionary field of the Methodist Church and its work related to education.

Dr. Peterson received his education from Central Wesleyan College, Garrett Biblical Institute, The Chicago Theological Seminary, and the University of Denver.

In 1932 the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church employed Dr. Peterson for educational work in Malaya. He taught in the Anglo-Chinese schools of Ipoh, Perak, and Penang, and in 1938 he was appointed acting superintendent of the entire school system.

During the war years Dr. Peterson terminated his duties in the Far East and was sent to Buenos Aires, Argentina. Here, Dr. Peterson taught in the American Grammar and High School, and later was appointed supervising principal. He remained in Argentina until the end of 1946, when he voluntarily returned to the Orient, where he served as principal of schools both in Singapore and Penang.

Dr. Jones Views Segregation

"You can't degrade another person without degrading yourself," stated Dr. E. Stanley Jones in an informal discussion with members of the student body, Thursday, October 31.

When asked how he explained the segregation issue to the people of India, Dr. Jones said he did not make any bones about it. He preached the same gospel in both countries. In India, it is a situation of cast; in America, race.

Dr. Jones further stated that the South was only segregating itself from national leadership. The whole issue is an inevitable part of the present agitation for the rise of man.

The Panther Prowls

In the last issue of the Hi-Po, I proudly announced that the Birdy in the Bush would be my helper, but due to an untimely accident, he will be unable to render services to the "gossip-hungry" students at H.P.C.

I, the Panther, do solemnly promise not to mention a certain couple in this column, because of their inability to "stay going steady."

My line of duty sorta keeps me on campus, but I get all kinds of reports. Somebody went to Ernie's party and reported to me that there is an electricity shortage in Winston-Salem.

As I checked my wire-tapper's record book, I noticed that Helen R. hasn't received many calls from Otis B. - at least not many in the past three weeks.

Couple of weeks ago when I was making my monthly routine, I noticed Aaron Moss was studying astronomy on the back steps of the library. I was just wondering if his female instructor has her M. A. or if she's locking for her Mrs.

I have more "stuff" to tell you, but due to my limited space I must leave you with this thought - "Think before you act because the public will be reading about it in the next issue." My friend, the Birdy, was shot while on duty in the bushes. Will the person who did this deed please let us know why you didn't want his observations reported?

Point System Outlined

by Murphy Osborne

A new and improved point system has been set up by the intramural office. This point system has been put into effect this year. The reason for the system was simply that with the new sports and activities entering our intramural program, the old system was dated.

Activities have been divided into three seasons: fall, winter and spring. The fall sports will be football, badminton and volleyball. The winter sports are basketball, table tennis, and basketball free-throw. Spring sports include softball, horse-shoes, track, tennis, and golf. Major sports constitute activities which a team participates in such as football, basketball, etc. Minor sports are those which only takes one or two contestants. Points are given for the following:

Major Sports
Entering Team	20 pts.
Winner	50
2nd	30
3rd	20
4th	10
Winner of each contest (single round robin)	6 pts.
Winner of each contest (double round robin)	3
Tie game	3
Forfeit (per contest)	-12
Minor Sports
Entering Team	10 pts.
Winner	20
2nd	12
3rd	6
4th	3
Forfeit	-12
Track
Winner	35 pts.
2nd	20
3rd	10
4th	5
Points per event (such as 100 yard dash, discus throw, etc.)
1st	5
2nd	4
3rd	3
4th	2
5th	1

Plans have been made to start the Boys' intramural Badminton tournament on the 14th of November. Entries must be turned in to the intramural department by November 7th.

Writers' Club Organized

A new organization is being formed on campus. The new group is to be a literary organization called The Writer's Club.

The Club will receive members in the near future. Its membership is open to those students and professors who are interested in writing in one 175 Flu Cases At H.P.C.

"Approximately 175 cases of flu - Asian and otherwise - have been reported on campus this year," Dean Allred said today.

The total number of flu cases on campus this year is about twice the number reported last year," he said.

"The college has done the best it can by making it possible for students to get flu immunizations at very little cost. But there were only about 125 persons taking the first of the two shots," he pointed out.

"There is a rate of four to five new cases of flu each day, on campus, but approximately the same number is released from the infirmary each day, so there is no increase in the occurrence of cases."

"Most of the cases on campus run their course in about two or three days. There have been only a few bad cases," he said.

Dean Allred suggested that students report to the Infirmary when they feel ill. "The next thing to do," he said, "is to follow the advise of the nurse or doctor."

Hi-Po Magazine Planned

The final issue of this year's Hi-Po will be replaced by a literary magazine. Exact length of the magazine, which will be gauged in part by advertising space, has not been determined, but will probably be about 35 pages.

All members of the student body and faculty, are invited to contribute articles. Included in the literary magazine will be short stories, poetry, paintings and drawings, and photographs.

Contributions to the magazine should be sent to the Editor of the Hi-Po. The deadline is February 15.

The purpose of the club is to encourage and promote literary efforts at High Point College.

At its meetings, contributions from the group will be read and discussed. Also from time to time there will be lectures from the faculty and students who are members.

At present a charter committee has been formed, and is working on a constitution. Members of this committee are Frank Berry, Shirley Kokeby, Barbara Ayers, Louise Pugh, Charles Johnson, Joe Reynolds, Art Sereque, Mary Waters, and Peggy Davis. Officers of the committee are president, Charles Johnson; vice president, Barbara Ayers; and secretary-treasurer, Louise Pugh. Working with this committee in its efforts toward the organization and official recognition is Dr. Lincoln Lorenz, Head of the English department.

Any student who is interested in writing and who wishes to become a member of the Club should contact either one of the committee officers or Dr. Lorenz.

we asked her if we could interview her at this time. She consented and the interview commenced. It ran something like this.

Pat, Gerry, and I: "How long have you been with this is Concert, Miss Emerson?"

Miss Emerson: "This the next to the last of twenty-five concert tour which runs for four weeks."

P.G.&I: "And you Mr. Babin?"

Mr. Babin: "We are the same?"

P.G.&I: "We?"

Mr. B.: "My wife and I."

P.G.&I: "Then Madame Vronsky is your wife?"

Mrs. Babin: "Yes."

P.G.&I: "What your plans for after the tour, Miss Emerson?"

Miss E.: "I'm going home to New York, rest for a while, and then I start rehearsals for a new play."

P.G.&I: "What are your plans, Mr. and Mrs. Babin?"

Mr. B.: "We are going on a coast to coast tour that will reach into Canada."

Mrs. B.: "Yes, and Havana too."

P.G.&I: "Where is your home?" (To the Babins.)

Mr. B.: "In Santa Fe."

P.G.&I: "Where are you from originally?"

Mr. B.: "We are Russian by birth. We came here in 1937."

About that time Mr. Babin went to the door in response to a knock. Miss Emerson poured two cups of something from a thermos bottle and gave one of the cups to Mrs. Babin.

Mrs. B.: "Don't get the wrong impression. This is tea that we are drinking."

Miss E.: "Yes, after each performance Mrs. Babin has a samovar of tea."

Then Mr. Babin came back in followed by Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. Shapiro: "How did you sneak in here?"

Mr. B.: "No! It's all right. I asked them to come in."

Mr. S.: "Oh."

P.G.&I: "Mr. Babin, would like to make a statement about tonight's performance?"

Mr. B.: "Nothing except that when I sat down at the piano there was a jar of some kind of salve beside the keyboard."

Mr. S.: "Did it bother you? Did you move it?"

Mr. B.: "No, once you are seated at the piano, you never fidget."

Mrs. B.: "The audience would think that you were unsure of yourself."

Someone knocked on the door and called for Miss Emerson.

The intermission was over. We thanked the Babins and Miss Emerson and left.

When we were outside Gerry said, "I'd like to get my hands on that Shapiro. What a self-glorified little pipsqueak he is."

Pat said, "Yes, but did you notice that the Babins were such friendly and personable people. Miss Emerson was cooperative but aloof. It just goes to show you that truly great people are the least pretentious. - Let's go in. The concert is about to resume."

S.C.A. News

A spiritual atmosphere spread over the assembly Tuesday, October 23, as the Student Christian Council presented "Student Christian Adventure." The special project of the S.C.A., the support of two Korean children, Kem Im Ie and Bak Tae Wong, will be continued this year. Students are urged to support this project. Across the seas, the two foster children of High Point College wait - "with fingers crossed."

The Alpha Delta Theta's fall spiritual life retreat was held at the First Methodist Church, November 5. Dr. Peterson developed the theme "Ahead." An integral part of the program was the song fest and recreation following supper. Moments of worship in the chapel highlighted the evening.

In an effort to include the day students in the Kappi Chi Fellowship, special meetings of the Brotherhood will be held on the last Friday morning of each month in the Student Center at 10:20. The programs will be informal.

by CHARLES JOHNSON

Last week I encountered Patric Fitzgerald and Gerald Fitzpatrick coming out of Roberts Hall after one of their classes. I knew right away that something pretty controversial had happened, and it appeared that this something approached atrociousness. I was made aware of this by the fact that Gerry was purple with rage and was so overcome by the atrocity that he was rendered speechless, a condition very rare for Gerry. Even Pat was angry, and anger is an extravagance that the philosophical Pat rarely indulges in.

by Charles Johnson

That ignoble, indelicate, unfeeling...

"Whoa, Gerry," I said. "Pat, what is that all about?"

"He is a scandal mongering old..." Gerry interrupted Pat's answer, but Pat clamped his hand over the irate Gerry's mouth and said, "Please, Gerry, He's all that and more, but let's not be guilty of the same faults we're censuring him for. Also let's try not to indulge in personalities."

"This sounds pretty serious," I said to Pat. "What's it all about?"

Pat frowned and said, "I'll try to keep control of my emotions and present this thing objectively. The whole thing is an unfortunate miscarriage of the truth, and this miscarriage has been compounded at every telling. This latest calumination, that has so disturbed Gerry and me, was committed by one of our professors."

Somewhat astounded I asked, "You mean to say that one of the professors at High Point College is guilty of spreading malicious gossip?"

"Yes," said Pat. "You see, an event occurred at one of the social functions of an organization here on campus — an event that was perceived in the wrong light by a person who is not even associated with the College. This person related the event to our professor, and in doing so, the person grossly exaggerated in his misconception. The professor accepted the story as the truth without even trying to ascertain the facts. This in itself is bad enough, but what he did this morning was an unprecedented breach of academic ethics. He stood before the whole class and used the story as a true example in his class lecture."

"That odorous..."

"Gerry, please. Go on, Pat."

"Well, if that is not enough to

At President's Home "Problems" Discussed At Student-Staff Confab

Members of the Student Legislature and representatives of campus organizations met with the college administrative staff at the home of Dr. Cooke on November 12. Purpose of the meeting was to present and discuss various problems of the two groups.

After a buffet supper, the meeting progressed through a series of questions and answers which ran the gamut from class cuts to the recent S.G.A. meeting at Raleigh. Most of the meeting, however, was centered around the Thanksgiving holiday.

S.G.A. President, C. W. Faulkner, opened the discussion with a proposal that the Administration consider extending the Thanksgiving holiday next year to include the weekend.

Dr. Cooke stated that the extension of the holiday period would possibly cause a hardship for students who lived a great distance from the college.

However, after further discussion, members of the administrative staff voted to extend the Thanksgiving holiday period on an experimental basis. The extension would become effective next year, and the time involved would be made up by beginning the fall term at an earlier date.

Other discussion included the regulation of class cuts and the current method of calculating quality points.

Delegates Attend S.G.A. Meet

The Student Government Legislative Assembly of North Carolina Colleges and Universities held in Raleigh at the first of this month was full of action and drew comments from the Governor of North Carolina and a Representative to the House from North Carolina.

The Assembly debated and passed a resolution asking the repeal of all laws in North Carolina prohibiting inter-racial marriages. The stand of the affirmative on this resolution was that such laws are infractions of "Human Rights" and that such laws are in direct violation of the Fourteenth Amendment, which states "No State shall make any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of the citizens of the United States." Twenty-four of the States have such laws at this time.

At the second plenary session of the Assembly, Representative Cooley (D., fourth district) departed from his prepared speech to say that he had been shocked by the actions of this Assembly and that he thought that the actions showed the immaturity of the college students of today. In his prepared address he stated that the leaders of his generation had created a terrible situation which our generation would have to live in. A few days later the Governor of North Carolina in a radio statement censured the action of the Assembly in regard to their stand on inter-racial marriages. Also up for censure by these two gentlemen was a bill which came up before the House but not the Senate. It was a bill to legalize prostitution.

Other noteworthy bills and resolutions presented at the Assembly were legalizing euthanasia, defeated; instituting a panel of judges instead of trial by jury, defeated; establishing a federal technological academy, passed; providing for accelerated education of mentally gifted children, passed; and prohibiting the classification by race in State documents, defeated.

Tower Players Present "Room Service"

Rose, Thornton, Flynt Star In Hilarious Production

Uproarious laughter emanated from the auditorium last week as the Tower Players presented "Room Service," one of the most popular comedies of the past decade. The performances were given November 21 and 22.

"Room Service," the story of a penniless theatrical producer whose attempts to raise sufficient backing to get his play onto a stage led him and his colleagues from one chuckle-provoking situation to another.

Involved in the comedy's whirling course were an apoplectic hotel executive, a case of ersatz measles, the pawing of the playwright's typewriter to raise money for the production, 22 unemployed actors taking up residence in a hotel ballroom, and a phony suicide as a climax to the hysterical festivities.

Mark Rose played the leading role as Gordon Miller, the theatrical producer. Sonny Thornton played the role of an author from Stumphill, Georgia. Shrimp Flynt set much of the zany mood of the play in his role of the director. Fred Barber played the role of a bewildered hotel manager, and Richard Cox appeared in the role of Wagner.

Others appearing in "Room Service" were Larry Williams, Bill Damon, Wini Stuart, Edna White, Tony Adams, Gary Cornell, Bob Scott, and John Rierston.

The play was under the direction of Miss Jane DeSpain. Stage setting was designed by the Art Department under the direction of Raiford Porter.

H. P. C. Poetry Selected For Anthology

Poetry written by two HPC students will be included in the Annual Anthology of College Poetry for 1957-58, according to Dennis Hartman, Secretary of the National Poetry Association.

The two poems, Graduation, by Bobby Thomas White, and Mother, by Louise Pugh, were selected from over a thousand poems submitted from colleges throughout the nation.

Immaturity Or Idealism?

Representative Cooley has accused the college students of today of immaturity because of the stand taken by the students at the Student Legislative Assembly regarding inter-racial marriages. Shortly after that he stated that his own generation of leaders had left our generation in a heck of a mess.

Unfortunately Representative Cooley did not hear the debate on the resolution to repeal laws prohibiting inter-racial marriages. The debate followed purely idealistic thoughts, and the resolution was passed on the merits of these ideals only. Both Negro and Caucasian delegates at the Assembly voiced the opinion that the rate of inter-racial marriages would not skyrocket because of this resolution.

Perhaps if the leaders of Representative Cooley's generation had adhered to more idealism and less politics they would not have left our generation with such mess to clean up. —C.R.J.

Fraternal Pride

106 men have just pledged H.P.C.'s 6 fraternities. Why did these men pledge fraternities? What do they expect to receive, and in turn, what do they expect to give their fraternities? The social fraternity can be a valuable asset to our college, as well as being a valuable asset to the men who compose it. If you pledged a fraternity, look on it with pride. Work for its reputation and strive to improve its standards. Become acquainted with its organization. When you have an opportunity, help with its projects. . . . Do your share of the work. Learn to know and understand the men who will be your brothers. Your fraternity can teach you a sense of responsibility, a sense of loyalty, and a feeling of compassion for your fellow man. —F.B.

Although the only real issue settled at the recent student-administration confab was the extension of the Thanksgiving holiday next year, the meeting itself was evidence that many campus problems can be worked out in a sensible manner.

As a method of promoting better student-administration relations, we suggest that similar meetings be held throughout the year. —K.S.

The World In A Nutshell

The Comintern

by TONY WEN

During the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, Russia displayed her power for propaganda purpose both to the outside world and her satellites.

World Communist leaders are still gathering in Moscow to discuss their inter-relationship which had been loosened after the death of Stalin. Khrushchev is trying to regain Stalin's leadership among Communists all over the world, by suggesting to form a new Communist International (Comintern) and Communist Information Bureau (Cominform), which had been dissolved previously.

The Communist leaders from Italy, Yugoslavia, Poland and China are quite reluctant to go along with the idea. They are cautious not to be dictated again by Moscow after being turned loose.

But we should not jump to the conclusion that the Communists might be willing to compromise with the free world. Despite their disagreement, the Communists are strongly tied together by a common ideal.

The Case For Sputnik

by LIN BARBOUR

Our views come from several outstanding people who have been asked the question: "What do you think of Sputnik?" These persons, being level headed American citizens, have looked at the problem intelligently and their opinions should carry a great deal of weight.

Bob Wienberry, the campus snow-king, when asked the question, replied, "I reckon it is okay. We might get to go to the moon." Dreamer! Are you planning to snore the "Man-in-moon" too?

I believe that Luke Livingston has the right attitude. Mr. Livingston's reply was, "I do not think about it."

Poor little Patsy Poole seems to be in a quandry, for her answer was, "I don't know." However, "Shrimp" Flynt said, "I ain't sweating the situation."

The optimistic Mr. Stewart Arnold simply does not think much of it. He should remember that in order to get ahead in life, one has to be pessimistic.

Aaron Moss, a man of many words, replied, "I think it is moving on", whereas, Juanita Parks thinks "it is horrible."

Ronda Robbins and Benny Phillips are having a difference of opinion. Benny believe "it is a farce," but Ronda says, "It is still there." Shake hands and come out fighting.

The last two personalities interviewed, Mr. Boyer and Paul Starnes, should not be taken very seriously. They are of the happy-go-lucky type who never seem to give any situation serious consideration. Mr. Boyer, the man who never smiles, said in reply to the question, "I think it is wonderful. It is a great advancement in science." Paul, who is almost as bad, replied, "I think it is a great advance for science; no matter who set it up."

Well, so long all of you good people. Remember, don't let your studies interfere with your social life.—L.B.

Quite often these conversations are more humorous than this one. The persons who participate are the deciding factor as to be hilarity or subtleness of the humor involved.

You have been warned. Be on guard. Next week if someone comes up to you and ask you to pass him the trapdoor, just tell him that you are a Hindu and that it's against your religion.

The Morning After

by FRED BARBER

I hung the Winston loosely on my lip and walked out of the section. Above me the sky was a mass of cloud, and there was no evidence of a shining sun. Small reflecting puddles lined the concrete walk, and the moisture of the air permeated my clothes. My eyelids felt as though barbells were tied to the lashes, and I struggled to hold them open against the cold sharpness of the wind. What a day for class.

I swore silently as I plunged my hands deep into my empty pockets. Slowly I trudged toward Roberts Hall; my eyes fixed on the tops of my shoes. "What am I doin', in college?" I asked myself, and I felt repulsed at the idea of sitting through an hour-long lecture. I flipped the burning filter of the Winston into a puddle of water, and stood watching the cold liquid transform the redness of the fire into a soggy, repulsive mess. I shook my head with a defeated sigh and resumed my journey. The bells chimed the call to the 8:20 classes. I was haunted by the frightening permanency of the echoing tower.

I tried to push in the bags under my eyes as I counted the steps going up to the Ad Building. "This routine is killing me." I said to myself. "Go to class . . . study . . . study . . . go to class. Ever since I can remember I've been going to school. I'm sick of it."

I drooped down the hallway wearing my favorite scowl. The Winston had left an indelible taste in my mouth, and it was apparent that I had gotten up too late to shave.

Just as I opened the door to the classroom I saw an Ipana smile and a couple of bright, cheerful eyes. "Hi!" Her voice rang as she skipped on down the hall. I felt better as I sauntered in and collapsed in my seat. I looked out the window and saw big patches of deep blue breaking through the clouds. I gave the Doc a smile of greeting and chuckled under my breath. "Oh, well," I sighed, "Maybe it's not so bad after all."

As the lecture began I drew a quick picture of Kim Novak and then started taking notes.

The Panther Prowls

All the parties in the past two weeks have left many people reeling from the lack of sleep and from the mass amount of confusion. The parties and the confused areas are happy hunting grounds for the ole Panther, and I have been in my seventh heaven. So keep up the parties and confusion. At each of the parties I found that the sororities and fraternities were well represented — except one party which was definitely one-sided.

Seems to me that Luke and Paul have worked up a pretty serious case. Sure hope we don't have too many conflicts as a result of the duel for the young lady's hand.

I bet Suzanne would like to know the type of entertainment in which Fred participated while he was in Raleigh.

Have you noticed the pack of girls who are watching Tony Adams?

If you see a girl who has poison oak, you will know she has been around Corbin.

The girls at H.P.C. are complaining about the importation of girls from other schools. Take note of the blonde from W.C. who comes over to see Chip Anderson.

I just believe that Shirley Yokley must get a lot of mail, because she is in the post office a great deal of each day.

Phil and Anne make a mighty sweet couple, but they better watch out for the reporter in the bush!

Where is Sonny Thornton this year? I heard that it was a girl from Tabor City.

Unrelated Conversation

by CHARLES JOHNSON

Prevalent in some circles around the campus these days is the "unrelated conversation" or "nonsense conversation". The persons who indulge in this passtime are those who possess an almost unique sense of humor or at least a very dry one. The object of these conversations is to say anything that is unrelated to the statement just previously made. Probably the most humorous aspect of these conversations is that they may be introduced into a perfectly rational conversation at any time without warning.

The other day I witnessed one of these conversations. It began so innocently that I was taken almost by shock. It ran something like this:

"Say, who are you taking to the rish dance?"

"I've never chewed tobacco in my life."

"Well, pass me the trapdoor."

"But I don't have any grass seed in the back seat of my car."

"It's an expensive trip to South Africa."

"I prefer tractor tires with lugs."

"He plays the violin beautiful."

"Shirley Holton. Who are you taking."

"I don't think that the pioneers treated the Indians properly either."

"I prefer catchup to tartar sauce."

"Hong Kong is a nice city."

"A dollar three ninety-eight for cab fare?"

"I don't have a date yet. Who can I get one with?"

"I don't like sour pickles."

"Neither do I. That's why I don't have a date yet."

HAZEL MAKES GOOD IN THE BIG CITY

Hazel Shore, last year's coed clown from Yadkinville, appears in the December issue of a Macfadden Publications' magazine. Hazel went to New York last summer, and is now working as a receptionist for a doctor. Someone saw Hazel, thought she would be ideal for a picture to illustrate the Macfadden story, so here she is. Caption for the picture is: "What about the kids and me?" Jean exploded. "What are we supposed to do while you're getting to be such a big man — starve?"

Freshmen Elect Officers

At a meeting of the Freshman Class held recently the following officers were elected: President, Dale Brown, Manchester, Connecticut; Vice - President, Daryl McGuire, 1019 Meadowbrook St., High Point; Secretary, Eunice Young, Mebane; Treasurer, Randall Lanier, Lexington.

Sociology Courses Added

Seven new courses have been announced by the Sociology Department. The courses, to be offered the second semester, are Social Pathology, a study of the social and mental illnesses of society; Sociological Aspects of Literature, a study of how authors mold and shape public opinion; Urban Sociology, a study of the structure and function of city life and the modern man; Social Institutions, a study of the origin and development of social institutions; Sociology of Religion, the influence of religions upon shaping and forming the folkways and mores; Social Work, an empirical application of the current theories of sociology; Sociological Theory, a required course for all minors and majors in the field of sociology.

Band Presents Concert

The College Band presented four concerts during the week of November 18 at the Pilot High School, Trinity High School, Jamestown High School, and at the College assembly on Wednesday.

Dr. Lewis announced that the band would be playing at each home basketball game during the season.

ALPHA GAMA DELTA

The Alpha Gam's have chosen Eunice Young as their contestant for the Miss H.P.C. contest. Eunice has also been elected secretary of the freshman class.

Preparation is now underway for a Christmas party to be held on December 6.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Pledging of Amelia Kelley, which was delayed because of her illness, took place October 29.

Chapter counselor, Carolyn Rogers of Los Angeles, California, is visiting on campus for a few days.

Louise Pugh has been selected for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and as one of the top ten seniors.

Pledge class officers are: Edna White, president; Amelia Kelley, vice-president; Pat Moore, secretary; and Harriet Truelove, treasurer.

Intramural Badminton Scheduled

Under the direction of Paul Jones, the new intramural badminton program began on November 19, and will mark the start of the winter intramurals. Each team participating is entering at least two men in singles and one doubles team. The winner will be decided by an elimination tournament. This is the first intramural badminton tournament to be held at the college and it is part of the regular inter-mural program. "The big fight for the championship is expected to be between the Pika's and the Lambda Chi's."

Panthers Blast 'Y' Quint

With a little less than a week remaining before the official opening of basketball season, HPC Panthers plowed through a YMCA quint last week to the tune of 107-80.

Danny Sewell tossed in 31 points on nine field goals and 13 foul shots to pace the Panthers. Huegele was runner-up with 16 points. Center Ken Williams and guard Steve Afendis had 13 each.

For the Y, Billy Ray Hunsucker had 20 points while Jack Powell, ex-HPC star, had 16.

P. E. Club Organized

The Physical Education Majors Club has recently been organized. Dr. Netcher, Dr. Hertz, Miss Etheridge, and Coach Yow are the faculty advisors. The Club will consist of students who are majoring in Physical Education plus any students who are interested in any phase of Physical Education. Murphy Osborne has been elected President, Luke Livingston, Vice President, and Martha Ellington, Secretary and Treasurer. This Club is already very active in that they have undertaken various projects. One of these projects is to furnish workers for the concession stand during basketball games; another of their projects is to sell programs at the ball games. On December 5th and 6th, the club will attend the North Carolina Physical Education Clinic at Wake Forest. This promises to be one of the highlights of the year. Later in the year, the club plans to sponsor a banquet in which the monogram winners will receive their letter.

At their last meeting Reverend Haggai of the Emerywood Baptist Church was the guest speaker. He spoke on individualism and the part that it plays in our lives. His message was well received and proved to be the highlight of the meeting.

'All Stars' Selected

An all star team has been selected by the football intramurals managers. Each manager handed in a list of nine outstanding players, excluding his own participants from the list. Each selection was carefully chosen and the results were tabulated. Kappa Chi, The Midgets, and Lambda Chi each placed three men on the mythical team. The Bulldozers, Sig Eps, and Pikas were represented by one man each. Murphy Osborne was selected honorary captain by receiving more votes than any other man.

The All Star team is as follows:

Position	Player	Team
Backs	Murphy Osborne	Lambda Chi
	Bill Beasley	Bulldozers
	Dale Swaringen	Pikas
	John Lewis	Kappa Chi
Ends	Bill Tyson	Sig Sps
	Harold Wright	Kappa Chi
Linemen	Bill Guy	Midgets
	Hector Henry	Midgets
	Charles Watson	Lambda Chi

Representing Zeta in the Miss H.P.C. contest will be Frances Lewis.

KAPPA DELTA

The Kappa Delta sisters entertained their new pledges and dates with an informal party on November 9 at the Thomasville Legion Hut.

Kappa Delta will be represented in the Miss H.P.C. contest by Anne Starr of North Wilkesboro. Carol Arey will represent the sophomore class, Barbara Wilson, our president, will represent the senior class. Shirley Marshall will represent the band.

We wish to thank everyone who attended our Benefit Bridge Party held November 19.

Barbara Wilson, Beverly Deal, and Pat Jordan are in "Who's Who." Barbara Wilson and Beverly Deal are in "Top Ten" of the senior class.

PHI MU

On November 9 the Phi Mu sisters held their pledge dance at the High Point Y.M.C.A. Each big sister presented her little sister with a corsage of pink carnations.

Congratulations to Jeannette Small, Shelby Williams, and Wini Stuart, who were initiated November 17. Also to Dot Lloyd, whose name is to appear in "Who's Who."

Phi Mu's entered in the Miss H.P.C. contest are: Shirley Yokley, sponsored by Theta Chi; Wini Stuart, sponsored by Kappa Chi; and Janice Tutterow, sponsored by Phi Mu.

The Phi Mu's are very proud of Wini Stuart, who played a leading role in the Tower Player production of "Room Service."

THETA CHI

Our annual Rush Dace was held at the Thomasville Country Club November 16.

Plans are now underway for our annual Christmas party for underprivileged children.

We are happy to have Shirley Yokley representing us in the Miss H.P.C. contest.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

N. C. Eta's first rush party was at the Marietta Club House on November 11. In attendance, besides the brothers and rushees, were brothers from Wake Forest including Koy Dawkins, Ralph Wolfe, and District Governor Woody Clinard.

The second party, a date party, was held at the Oakview Grange Hut. We hope the rushees and their dates enjoyed the party as much as the brothers.

After attending Church November 17, the brothers went to the home of David Myers for lunch.

Plans are underway for a football game and party with the Wake Forest chapter.

TKE

The TKE's had their stag rush party November 12 at the Jamestown American Legion Hut. A dance was also held for the rushees Saturday, November 16, at the same location. Jim Sumner acted as master of ceremonies, and talked to the group of around fifty (50) rushees. He stressed all points of fraternity life, giving its advantages and disadvantages, and especially stressed the point—"Think! before you pledge."

The brothers of TKE would like to congratulate one of their members, Bernie Brewer, for the recent addition to his family.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The Lambda Chi's rush stag and date parties at the Thomasville American Legion hut were a great success as usual. "Shrimp" Flynt entertained at both of the functions.

Alumni attending our rush functions were Ernie Ball, Bill Buchanan, "Wes" Gaynor, and Peck Nigh. Dr. Hankins, a faculty initiate, was at our dance.

Our intramural football season was a great success also. We lost only one game, and that one by only one point. Delta Sigma Phi-Pledge ceremonies were held on November 20 for our new pledges. On December 7, the annual Carnation Ball will be held in conjunction with Wake Forest, Duke, and N. C. State. Wake Forest will be host this year. An informal party was held at High Rock Lake on November 24. Alumni attending our rush functions were Buddy Brawley, Hardy Tew, and Jack Johnson.

S.C.A. News

Fifteen M.S.F. members represented High Point College at the district conference of the Wesley Foundation at Maple Spring Church, Saturday and Sunday, November 16 and 17. Wake Forest's Methodist group was host.

Dr. E. G. Wilson was the principal speaker for the two-day meeting. The theme for the conference was "The History and Propagation of the Christian Church." Moderating a panel discussion Saturday night was Dr. J. Glenn Blackburn, College chaplain and pastor of the Wake Forest Baptist Church. A movie "Fire Upon the Earth" was another Saturday night feature. The conference was inter-racial. Attending delegates were from Woman's College, Greensboro, High Point, Pfeiffer, Bennett, Winston-Salem Teachers College, Salem and the Baptist Hospital. Delegates who arrived early Saturday attended the Wake Forest-West Virginia football game.

Kappa Chi and Alpha Delta Theta members enjoyed an evening of folk dancing, Wednesday, November 13, at the Woodman's Lodge. A "Talent Review" with Kelly Jones as master of ceremonies furnished the evening's entertainment.

make any just person angry, listen to this.

"A member of the organization involved went to the professor and told him the true situation and asked him to make some verbal restitution for the verbal damage that he had done. He refused. Even knowing the truth, he refused!"

Gerry could contain himself no longer. He said very hotly, "Not only is the man guilty of receiving and passing gossip and breaching academie ethics, but he is also guilty of bad manners.

"Now, now, Gerry, you're overwrought. Perhaps he was just not thinking at the time. What you and I need is a cup of good strong black coffee."

"Yeah, me too," said I, and we all three headed for the bookstore.

From The Top Of The Tower

by CHARLES JOHNSON

As I entered the bookstore the other day, Gerald Fitzpatrick's voice was a very predominant ingredient of the general noise. I turned toward the direction from which his words were coming, and I saw that he and Patric Fitzgerald were in one of their friendly arguments again. As I walked over to their booth, Gerry's words became more discernable and relatively louder. He was saying, "The reason that the United States is behind Russia in the missiles program and the other related technological fields is that we do not have scientists who are as well trained as their Russian counterparts. Our high schools do not teach enough math, biology, chemistry, or physics. The Russian high school graduate has five years of physics to his credit."

Pat said, "Granted that the Russian high school curriculum is superior to our's, it does not mean that their scientists are superior to our's. Our technological lag behind Russia can be chalked up to two things: One - an asinine competition between the different branches of our armed forces; and two - a vote-getting maneuver of our fatuous politicians to reduce the taxes by cutting down on research and other such funds. The first of these two set up a veil of secrecy around three centers of development with neither of the other two benefiting from ones knowledge and experience. The second hamstringed the projects by not allowing them enough money or resources to carry on many of the essential experiments."

"Also," said Gerry, "our nation's attention was diverted by the Korean War while Russia had the North Koreans and the Chinese communist fighting for them. This meant that their science and industry could devote more time to research while our's was busy with the war."

"That's true," said Pat. "And too, in the post-Korean War years, the tendency in America has been to look upon the 'eggheads' as if they were quaint eccentrics. Even though our 'eggheads' have just as much skill as their Russian counterparts, we just haven't paid them the attention that they deserve."

"Speaking of 'eggheads', I think of another point that, to my way of thinking, is the source of the trouble creating this terrible worldwide tension of today."

"The progress of culture, in the Twentieth Century has been almost completely objective. Objectivity has become our demagogue. Subjectivity we look upon as a mother looks upon an 'idiot child'; with indulgence but with the grief of futility and uselessness. Objectively we have outfitted our world with wondrous technological artifacts: cars, airplanes, atomic reactors, earth satellites, etc. Subjectively we have outfitted our world with a sort of 'flapper' temper that has turned these objective artifacts into a high traffic mortality rate, armed conflicts, 'sputnik' races, and all manner of imbecilities. To sum it up, Gerry me lad, not only is the United States lagging behind Russia in objective progress, but the whole world is lagging behind its objective progress in subjective logic."

And with these somber thoughts in our minds, the three of us sat quietly and drank very black for the rest of the morning.

Hi-Po Staffers Attend N. S. Press Meet

The North State Conference Press Association convened at Catawba College last Saturday, December 7. The meeting's purpose were the exchanging of ideas and the criticizing of the various North State college papers.

Kays Gary, a columnist for the Charlotte Observer, was the guest speaker. Mr. Gary spoke concerning the preparations for a newspaper career and offered his criticisms of the North State college papers.

He said in his address that modern newspapers were more and more looking for well rounded individuals with a wide intellectual range and a good personality. "Specialist are nice to have if the paper can afford them," he said. He further stated that more English and some Economics courses should be taken by students preparing for journalistic careers.

In his criticisms of the papers he passed lightly over the Hi-Po. His comments, although they were valid, were superficial.

Those attending the convention from High Point College were Kyle Stirling, editor; Charles Johnson, news editor; Linn Barbour, staff writer (features); Tony Wen, staff writer (foreign affairs); and Don Nesbitt, business staff.

News editor, Charles Johnson, led a discussion group concerning news and its sources, coverage, and exposition.

Dr. Locke To Head N. C. Religion Teachers

Dr. W. R. Locke, HPC Professor of Religion, was elected president of the North Carolina Teachers of Religion at the organization's annual meeting held at Wake Forest College last week.

Other officers of the organization are Professor S. D. Maloney of Davidson College vice president; and Dr. E. W. Hamrick of Wake Forest, secretary-treasurer.

17 New Courses To Be Added Second Term

by PAT JORDAN

A series of new courses in the fields of sociology, philosophy, physical education, business administration, and art will be offered for the spring semester.

Dr. Marcus Collins, head of the Sociology Department, has added courses in Social Institutions and Social Pathology to his curriculum. Field trips will be made to many state and local institutions in North Carolina in relation to the course in institutions. In the Social Pathology course, there will be trips to Keely Institute, Home for Wayward Girls, the State Penitentiary and other institutions of correction for the social deviate.

The Philosophy Department will offer new courses in Contemporary Philosophy, a survey of the leading philosophic attitudes and systems of the twenties century; and in Aesthetics, an analysis of the nature of experience of the beautiful.

In the Physical Education Department, the new courses added will be: Test and Measurement in Physical Education, Analysis of Human Motion, Research in Health and Physical Education, and Mixed Classes in Introduction to Physical Education. Specialized co-operative courses will be offered in conjunction with the YMCA in Archery and Riflery, and Handball and Gymnastics.

The Business Department has set up five new courses in accordance with the expected increase in enrollment. The course in Production Scheduling and Control will emphasize the routing, scheduling, and dispatching of manufactured products. In Principles of Real Estate the class will study Ownership, the necessary legal documents, desirable sites, improvements, and financing. Real Estate Valuation and Appraisal will include a study of the fundamentals, purposes, and approaches to the value of property. A Management Seminar has been designed as a research course in methods and problems in a selected management area. Seminar in Business Economics is a research methods and problems course.

Religious art will be a course in the appreciation and understanding of art connected with the various faiths.

Dr. Muldrow Is Secretary Of Language Seminar

At the annual meeting of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association, held recently at Chattanooga, Tennessee, Dr. Frances Muldrow, HPC Professor of foreign language, was elected secretary of the seminar on "Teaching Problems in Foreign Language Instruction."

During the meeting, Dr. Muldrow delivered a paper entitled: "Testing of Aural Comprehension."

SANTA TO VISIT GIRLS' DORM

Old Santa (lucky dog) Claus will drop by Woman's Hall Tuesday night, December 17 - after hours. The main purpose of his visit will be to distribute gifts at the annual Christmas party sponsored by the Woman's Dorm Council.

Sylvia Holt is in charge of the entertainment.

Dele Lee Crowned Miss H.P.C.

Dele Lee Selected Miss H.P.C.

Dele Lee, sophomore from Lawndale, walked away with the title of Miss High Point College - 1958 during competition held in Memorial Auditorium last Thursday night.

As Miss H.P.C., Dele also gained the somewhat icy title of "December Girl," which was in keeping with the theme of this year's contest with contestants representing various months of the year.

A total of 10 girls, sponsored by various campus organizations, competed for the Miss H.P.C. title.

The contest was sponsored by the Zenith and was produced by Charles Holcombe and Judy Wilson.

David Wright of WFMY-TV was emcee. Judges were Charlie Harvell, also of WFMY-TV, and Betty Jean Hayes of Hillsboro, national committeewoman for Young Democrats of America.

The 'Tar Heel' Shakeup

At the close of a hotly contested recall election at the University of North Carolina on November 26, Daily Tar Heel Editor, Neil Bass found himself on the outside looking in.

The issues surrounding the Tar Heel shakeup are not entirely clear, clouded as they were by charges of collusion, political intrigue, and the like. All we know concerning the shakeup is "what we read in the paper."

We can, however, compare the handiwork of editors Bass and Eisele. Whatever may have been the journalistic sin of editor Bass, his version of the Daily Tar Heel surpassed the work of his successor.—KS

Wanted: 1 Gym-Filled

Although the Purple Panthers have taken an early lead in North State Conference play, game attendance has been a little on the nil side. The opening contest attracted a less than half-capacity crowd. But in two consecutive tilts, the attendance skidded further downhill. Student attendance has been fairly good, but local support has remained low.

Perhaps one reason for the lag on the part of local fans is due to an admission increase inaugurated this year. Or, as Enterprise Sports Editor, Bill Hodges, points out, "Maybe the fans are just out of practice."

Whatever the reason, it isn't good enough.—KS

by TONY WEN

In writing this article I wish to present a part of the real background of the current Indonesian situation, and to convey the Asian nationalist feeling. Having lived in Indonesia, I believe it is important to have Western understanding to improve the relations between East and West, both for the sake of continuing the causes of democracy and to aid in the fight against communism.—Tony Wen.

Indonesian Tension

The tension between Holland and Indonesia — a condition which has existed for about eight years — arises out of a territorial dispute over West New Guinea. It was not until four years ago that Indonesia brought the problem up before the United Nations. The Indonesian claim was based upon a previous agreement with the Dutch in 1947, whereupon the Dutch agreed to return the former Dutch East Indies territory, including West New Guinea, to the Indonesians. This was also included in the 1949 Round Table Treaty. As a climax the government recently confiscated the Dutch enterprises and ordered the Dutch citizens to leave.

We can only hope that the tension is not carried over to other parts of Asia. It is not likely that the Dutch and her allies will resort to force, as it would surely change the whole attitude of all the Asian nations toward the Western European countries, in which case, only the Communists would benefit.

Asian nationalism is a strong revolutionary force. It is not anti-western; on the contrary, Asians are always looking toward Western democracy. To Asians, communism is only another form of colonialism; however, as they see it, the present threat is the present colonialism. It is natural for them to wish to protect their sovereignty after long foreign domination.

I do not believe that the present tension in Indonesia indicates any anti-Western attitudes. The people merely wish to shape their own destiny, and I believe that the influence of Western democracy will succeed over any other force in shaping this destiny.

CAMPUS COMEDY

"... foul number three when you tripped Jones, foul number four when you tromped on Murphy, and foul number five when you slugged Evans. Now give us the ball and sit down."

A Date With "April Love"

by FRED BARBER
Hi-Po Feature Editor

Barber's still at it, describing off-beat campus routine. He still uses Old Spice and still smokes Winstons.—Ed.

The pungent odor of my Old Spice almost stifled me as I locked my door and walked out into the cold night. I paused long enough to straighten my tie and light a Winston before heading for Woman's Hall. I glanced at my reflection as I passed the row of windows. I had to admire my debonair appearance, and I had to admit that I couldn't see how any woman would be able to resist me. My coat was borrowed, but it looked sharp and it fit me.

I asked the girl at the desk to call down the chick, and while I waited I stood fingering the two crumpled "ones" that I had borrowed and thinking how nice it was to have fraternity brothers. A soft feminine voice interrupted my thoughts. "You're late!" I crammed the "ones" back into my pocket and smiled. Before I could explain my tardiness she had gone to the desk to sign out. "O.K., lover-boy," I said to myself, "One snow-job — coming up."

She said nothing as I walked her to the borrowed car. I jumped under the wheel, and the borrowed dough in my pocket. As we left the campus I headed for the Drive-In.

"Honey," she leaned toward me, and her Fabuge completely drowned out my Old Spice. "Where are we going tonight?"

"Oh, I don't know," I lied, "got any suggestions?"

After dropping a buck-forty of my dough for tickets, her popcorn and coke, I sat watching Pat Boone make mad love to every woman in the audience. The chick munched her popcorn and glued her eyes to the screen as though I didn't exist. "I must admit this slows me down a bit," I told myself, "but after the movie we'll have time to go some place and I can start dishing out the old charm."

After the movie I heard a one-sided conversation on the irresistibility of Pat Boone all the way to the Topper. I shelled out my last sixty cents for her hamburger and milkshake. I had a small coke. She sat and ate in silence as we listened to the jukebox music drifting from inside. After spilling it all over my borrowed coat, she finally threw the milk shake cup out the window and leaned back against the seat. I slid my arm across the seat and started to put my hand on her shoulder when she leaned up and started talking about Pat Boone again. Each time I started to put my arm around her she seemed to move and start lecturing on the hero of April Love.

I'm the easily-discouraged type, so I lit a Winston and said to heck with it. After a few minutes of silence she slid over next to me and started fingering the edge of my lapel. I smiled in victory and draped my arm across her shoulders. She puckered her lips into an apologetic pout. "Honey," she said, "would you be awfully mad if I asked you to take me in early to-night? I have a test tomorrow, and I just have to study."

As she started in the dorm she gave me a quick kiss with the request that I not smear her lipstick; smiled; and told me what a wonderful time she had.

I walked back to the borrowed car cursing, lit another Winston, and headed for Steele's.

A Final Word On Asian Flu

The news value of "Asian Flu" has been eclipsed by weightier topics such as sputnik, muttnik, etc. Nevertheless, we'd like a final word on the subject.

"Shrimp" A Profile

by CHARLIE JOHNSON

Back in the thirties an event occurred that has greatly enhanced society on the campus of High Point College in the last four years. This event happened in Winston-Salem. How can an event that happened in the thirties effect our campus today? Simple! The event was the birth of a young man named Ralph Flynn. This person under the pseudonym of "Shrimp" has emerged as the most famous and successful personality on the campus.

The versatility of this vigorous personality is even more amazing than his competence in his many fields of endeavor. "Shrimp's" varied capacities range from those of the stoical Chief Justice of the Judiciary Council to the wild antics of "chief siren cranker" of the cheerleaders. He has further manifested his leadership ability in the Legislature, in official services for Lambda Chi Alpha (of which he has been a member for four years), and as president of his sophomore class. His scholastic achievements are such that they merit his being listed among Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and the Top Ten Seniors.

The lighter side of this personality is shown by his participation in the band (of which he was vice president one year), the Tower Players, and the cheerleaders. His inborn genius for comedy has made him very successful in two comedies produced by the Tower Players and the Studio Pedantics of last year. He has become somewhat of a local celebrity as a comedian, and has performed for the Jaycee Jollies of both High Point and Asheboro. Fred Coury, owner of the South's finest supper club, the Plantation, hired him for a week's run at that famous supper-night club.

Because of his varied and capable abilities, "Shrimp" has received what he thinks is his crowning achievement — Sweetheart of the Kappa Delta's.

SERVICE PROGRAM AT ST. OLAF
NORTHFIELD, Minn. (I.P.) — A new Foreign Service Program has been introduced this year at St. Olaf College. Commenting on the new career program here, Dr. Kenneth Bjork of the Political Science and History department said:

"We are moved by a sense of our responsibilities to church and society; at the same time we are conscious of our strength and limitations as a liberal arts college. We have in mind the challenge inherent in the needs of our diplomatic service, of business abroad, and of various private organizations with international links, including our church.

Something for The Birds

At a recent 8:20 session of history, a bird — pigeon to be specific — dropped in to generally upset the usual academic decorum. The bird didn't stay long. As recorded by photographer, Preston Reece, the bird is warming up for take-off. Apparently, 8:20's aren't for the birds.

A Golden Panther Season?

After the first three games High Point College's basketball Panthers are off to the pre-Christmas races. The Panthers always seem to get off to a roaring start and then falter during the later stages of the season, but maybe this season will be the golden one as it was with Carolina last year. High Point for the past three seasons has rarely lost a home contest, so maybe some favorable wind will blow some of the "Tar Heel's" magic up this way so the Panthers can capture the away games also. Of course we cannot contribute it all to

If the boys would not take unnecessary shots and play for the good ones, a lot more points would be scored.

Intramural volleyball starts this week with last year's champion Lambda Chi Alpha returning with virtually the same team as last year, and, therefore, are again favored to take the crown this year.

luck when we win, because to win somebody has to score the baskets. The Panthers this season have possibly the strongest club ever with such stars as Bill Huegule and Danny Sewell. Sewell is averaging 24 points per game and Huegule is scoring 17 per contest.

One of the foremost contributing factors to the Panthers success thus far is their scrappy play and good spirit. For the first time in many seasons the boys seem to be in fairly decent shape. The players are running fast and playing hard and the spirit is up high. It is a difficult job on the part of the coaching staff to prevent a team from having a mid-season slump, and if they can do this a successful season is almost a certainty.

The Panthers still show signs of a couple of weaknesses that plagued the team all of last year.

1. Weak defense.
2. Not working the ball for a good shot.

Student Center S.C.A. News To Open on Saturdays

According to Don Frye, IFC President and Jo Harrington, Panhellenic President, various HPC fraternities and campus organizations have agreed to provide entertainment at the student center each weekend. Under this plan, the student center will be open each Saturday night for the remainder of the year.

The complete weekend schedule for the year will be published in the next issue of the Hi-Po.

The annual Nativity pageant was presented by Kappa Chi, Monday and Tuesday, December 9 and 10, at 7:00 p.m., in front of the Men's Dorm. Garry Cornell supervised the pageant which was narrated by Mark Rose.

The Westminster Fellowship presented "The Creation" and an original skit at the Presbyterian Home, November 21, concluding the service with a devotional. After touring the Home, the Fellowship returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pancoast for a brief business meeting.

It's All Greek

On December 7, brothers and pledges attended the state-wide Delta Sig Caranation Ball in Winston-Salem. The dance was sponsored by the Beta Lambda Chapter of Wake Forest College. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of the Southerners of Winston-Salem. The Delta Zeta sponsors were: Katy Sprinkle, Joyce Young, and Shirley Faulkner.

The pledge class has been hard at work putting up the annual Christmas decorations for the fraternity. For the lighted Christmas tree on the front of the fraternity section and the Christmas wreath above the main entrance of the girls' dorm the pledges deserve much credit.

Congratulations to Katy Sprinkle, the Delta Sig candidate for the title of Miss HPC, who has been chosen to be among the ten finalists.

Congratulations to our newly-elected pledge officers: Elmer Hall, President; Dick Vert, Vice President; Don Drapcan, Secretary; Stu Taylor, Treasurer.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The annual Christmas party of North Carolina Eta was held on Friday night, December 6, at the Marietta Clubhouse. Music was furnished by Glenn Lloyd and his combo.

During the open rush period, Dan

Hackney, freshman from Durham was pledged.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

Congratulations go to our brothers Mickey Caudle and George Eanes who are now pined to Miss Jane Martin and Miss Nancy Crews. A serenade was held for them on December 2 and later a little swimming party, although they were the only ones who went swimming except for Al Finley who decided he'd like to take a dip also.

The week of December 9 through 11 was our traditional "Help Week," in which our pledges have many types of chores to perform. Fun was had by all and the brothers can rightly say that they are proud to be associated with the pledges.

The brothers and pledges of Pi Kappa Alpha would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The Lambda Chis and the Phi Mus held their annual joint Christmas party at the Woodmen of the World

camp last Friday, December 7. Pledge, Stuart Arnold's hi-fi set furnished the music for the informal dance party. A good time was had by all. Just as good a time as we expect to have without our dates at our stag party next Tuesday, December 17.

On December 6 our pledges expressed the Lambda Chi goodwill by cleaning the grounds of Coble and Garrett Houses.

THETA CHI

On Monday night, December 16, Theta Chi will have its annual Christmas Party for underprivileged children of High Point. About twenty-five children will be here to meet Santa Claus and receive their gifts from him.

Our pledges class officers have recently been elected. They are: Howard Silverstein, President; Gus Deal, Vice-President; and Jim Moss, Secretary. Congratulations to these men.

We wish to extend a hearty welcome to Ronald Chapman, who was recently initiated into the brotherhood.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha presented its pledges at its annual White Violet Ball, December 7, at the Emerywood Country Club. Music was supplied by the Four Jacks.

Pledges and sisters enjoyed a house party held recently at the lakeside cottage of an alumna, Mrs. W. H. Linticum.

PHI MU

The Phi Mus and Lambda Chis held their annual party on December 6 at the Woodmen of the World Lodge. An exceptionally good time was enjoyed by everyone.

District president, Mrs. Katherine Warner recently visited with us for a few days.

We're proud to boast of three Phi Mus making the top ten in the Miss HPC contest - Sylvia Holt, Wini Stuart, and Shirley Yokley.

On December 16 the Phi Mus, including the pledges and alumnae, will go to Greensboro for the annual Christmas supper and the exchanging of gifts. Afterwards a trip will be made to the Polio Hospital where the patients will be entertained and treated. On returning to High Point, serenades of Christmas carols will be given at the homes of some of our special friends.

Coast Guard O.C.S. Class Offered

The United States Coast Guard will convene two Reserve Officer Candidate classes for college men during the coming months. The first will begin in March, while the second class starts next July.

To be eligible, a non-veteran must be a graduate of an accredited four-year college. A veteran must have completed two years of college and two years' active duty in the Coast Guard or Navy. Persons with three years of college must have completed one year of active duty.

Age restrictions are 21 to 26 for non-veterans and 21 to 31 for veterans. Height restrictions are 5'6" to 6'4". Prior to acceptance into the Coast Guard as Officer Candidates, applicants must pass a physical examination and obtain a passing score on an Officer Qualification Test. Selection is then based on the results of an interview and study of the Candidate's background.

Men who are interested in the program should write for particulars to the Coast Guard Reserve Office, U. S. Post Office Building, Room 337, Norfolk, Virginia.

Teaching Experiment Underway

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (I.P.) - A unique experimental student teaching project is under way at Brown University this year, where 20 senior engineering students have been assigned to counsel and assist in the teaching of the 100 freshmen entering the engineering division.

Each student teacher supervises the work of a group of five freshmen, giving one hour a week to a special class for discussion of the basic course, attending lectures with the new students and giving each freshman a half-hour personal conference each week. They will also grade homework and go over the students' papers with them. They will be paid $600 for the year's work.

The program, made possible by a $15,000 grant by the Fund for the Advancement of Education, has a dual purpose. Primarily it is designed to aid freshmen in acquiring effective habits of study. It is hoped also that it will initiate qualified upperclassmen into active teaching and perhaps aid in lessening the acute shortage of teachers.

Tale of Two Cities!

Among Western Hemisphere cities with the largest per capita enjoyment of Coca-Cola are, interestingly enough, sunny New Orleans and chilly Montreal. When we say, "Thirst Knows No Season," we've said a cheerful mouthful.

So don't take any lame excuses about its not being hot enough for Coca-Cola. Forget the temperature and drink up!
