THE CITY of Westland will double the availability of its recycling center to every Saturday, instead of two Salurdays a month.

*The expansion will begin next Saturday, Hours will be 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Westland Recyclable Materials Drop-off Center, 37137 Marquette, east of Newburgh, near the department of public services yard.

The DPS also reminds residents of the guidlines on what will be accepted:

• GLASS: All jars and bottles niade of clear, green or brown glass. Remove labels and wash thoroughly. The center does not accept window glass, white glass or pyrex-type cookware.

• CANS: All tin (steel) and por deposit aluminum cans are accepted. Clean thoroughly, remove labels and flatten if possible. The center does not accept aluminum foll, paint cans, aerosol cans, scrap iron and scrap building materials.

PLASTICS: All clear or colored plastics with the No. 1 or 2 on the bottom (indicating they and remove tops.

• MOTOR OIL: The center accepts used motor oil only. Bring in sturdy containers that can be used again.

BATTERIES: The center

only accepts flashlight-type dry cell hatteries. It does not accept automotive batteries, watch batteries, camera batteries, etc.

The center also reminded that since this summer Westland has begun to pick up yard waste at the curbside, a container will no longer be at the recycling center.

LARRY MCCONNELL Marshall Junior High School teacher, has been appointed acting assistant principal at the school, succeeding Thomas Drummond who accepted a similar position in Walled Lake. The Marshall vacancy has been posted in the Wayne-Westland district, though it was not immediately known when it would be filled. McConnell was appointed acting assistant principal to ensure a smooth startup of the new school year, which began last week for Wayne-Westland students.

THE WESTLAND CLY Council will meet Tuesday instead of Monday. The meeting was rescheduled because of the Labor Day holiday. The session will start at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall, 36601 Ford, east of Newburgh.

Trial ordered in sibling killing

By Darrell Clem ... staff writer

A Westland man charged with first-degree murder in the shotgun killing of his older brother has been ordered to stand trial in De-!roit Recorder's Court.

Samih Saleh, 37, shot his 46-year-old prother, Sami Saleh, in the stomach on Aug. 4 after the Lebanese brothers had finished lookng at photographs of their father's funeral, a iongtime family friend testified Thursday.

Nalem Zeidan's testimony came during a sometimes-tense preliminary examination in which Samih Saleh appeared before Judge Gail McKnight in Westland's 18th District Court. McKnight ordered Saleh to stand trial through most of the exam. However, he lashed out when McKnight gave him a stern warning that his family and friends - some of whom sat in the courtroom - should refrain from threatening the victim's wife, also in the audi-

Samih Saleh, dressed in black, wept quietly

"It's my loss! Not her loss!" Saleh shouted. "It's my loss! It's my brother!"

McKnight's warning stemmed from a letter she received from the wife's family.

Following Saleh's outburst, McKnight ordered him removed from the courtroom, though she allowed him to return later.

Zeidan testified he accompanied the victim to Samih Saleh's Westland apartment about 11 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 4, and that the three men sat side by side on a couch and looked at family photographs during what was described as a friendly, 45-minute visit.

'I looked back and I saw Sami holding his stomach and Samih with the gun.'

- Naiem Zeidan

"THEY'RE GOOD brothers as far as I know," Zeidan said. He was the only witness questioned Thursday by James Wise, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, and Edward Khoury, Saleh's attorney.

As Zeidan and the older Saleh prepared to leave the apartment, however, Samih Saleh threatened his brother in an unprovoked attack that resulted in Sami Salih's death from a single shotgun wound, Zeidan testified.

Seconds before the shooting, the Salehs, standing about two feet apart, had been talking in a hallway. Zeidan said, adding that he believed that the younger brother then went into the bedroom to get the shotgun.

Zeldan, who had his back turned to the brothers, testified that he heard Samih Saleh threaten his brother and then heard a single

"I looked back and I saw Sami holding his stomach and Samih with the gun," Zeldan sald, though he testified that he did not actually see the younger brother fire the shot.

Negligent homicide case delayed

By Darrell Clem staff writer

A negligent homicide case involving a 17-year-old Westland girl was delayed Thursday, as attorneys awaited a medical report on the girl's friend, who fell from a van to her death Aug. 15.

Regina Beth Borders appeared before Judge Gail McKnight in Westland's 18th District Court for a preliminary examination to determine. whether she should stand trial on a negligent homicide charge.

But McKnight honored a request from Borders' attorney, Nicholas Vendittelli, to postpone the exam one week so that he could obtain a Wayne County medical examiner's report on the death of 17-year-old Jennifer Lynn Cooley of Romulus.

James Wise, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, also agreed to the delay.

Gun permit processing to resume

The Westland Police Department this week will begin processing handgun permit applications again, Lt. Jerry Wright has announced.

The department had stopped handling the applications in July, amid a personnel shortage and concerns about liability following changes in the state gun laws. "That has been cleared up,"

Wright said Wednesday. The department will resume the:

processing of gun permit applications on Wednesday.

Applications will be accepted from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, just off the police station's main entrance. The bureau is closed from 12:30-1:30

The current city council, in a 5-2 vote in April, endorsed using up to $8.5 million in city taxes to make the project viable for Homart Development Co., which wants to buy the 26year-old mall from Equitable Real Estate Investment Management Inc.

A purchase price has not been disclosed, and negotiations between the two companies are continuing. City aid would come from the Tax Increment Finance Authority (TIFA),

In recent interviews with the Observer, the plan was discussed by the 10 city council candidates competing in the Sept. 10 primary - which will narrow the field to eight for the Nov. seats are up for grabs.

THE SIX candidates who oppose using city taxes to boost the project include incumbent Thomas Artley, thy Smith, Bhagwan Dashairya, Don Mead and Glenn Anderson. Those favoring the plan include incumbents Thomas Brown and Charles Pickering, and challengers Sharon Scott and David Cox.

Artley cited traffic congestion in opposing the project, saying that a traffic plan hasn't been developed to accommodate the increasing number of motorists that an expanded mall would draw.

Moreover, Artley said, "I don't believe in using TIFA dollars to pronarrow the field to eight for the Nov. mote development — especially 6 general election. Four council commercial development."

Ziemba criticized the use of TIFA money to pay for "a private bricksand-mortar venture" that he said should be paid by the developer. Ziemba also said that taxes from the former council member William TIFA district "should be returned"

Ziemba and council hopefuls Doro- to such taxing authorities as the city and Wayne-Westland school district, which he said cannot afford to see taxes diverted.

Mead said he opposes using TIFA money on the project, and he added that no new stores should be added to Westland Center until current traffic problems are addressed.

Some nearby residents, Mead said. "can't even get out of their driveways" because of heavy traffic.

Anderson said he "strongly" disapproves of the plan to divert tax dollars that he believes should be funneled into the city's general fund. Anderson also said the taxes should not be used for a private develop-

Anderson also cited traffic woes and said that a worsening situation around Westland Center would create a need for more police and fire services there.

SMITH SAID she opposes using city taxes for the project, "especially since we (the city) won't own the mall."

Moreover, Smith said, "we're already overloaded with stores" in Westland. And she criticized plans for a Sears store, saying the company is on the decline.

Dashairya spoke against spending city dollars "on somebody else," other than local citizens, and he said Homart should be responsible for the purchase if it wants to buy the mall.

"They should come up with the necessary infrastructure," he said. Dashalrya also cited traffic concerns.

Among those who favor the plan. Scott said she favors using TIFA money on the proposed expansion as long as traffic concerns are addressed before the project goes forsaid, though she added that she would prefer a more upscale anchor store than Sears.

Cox also said traffic problems should be a top priority, but he favors city aid for the project and said Sears "would be a favorable addition" to the mall, Cox voiced concerns that Westland Center will lose customers unless it expands.

"If it doesn't grow," he said, "we'll see more shopper flight."

·Brown said he favors using TIFA money for the project, though he said "it's premature to say" whether the sale will be completed and the mail expanded.

UNLIKE OTHER candidates, Brown said traffic problems already

"I'd like to see more stores," she are being addressed in the area. Several roads already have been improved, he said, and Joy Road also is slated to be widened in the next several months.

Pickering, who favors the plan. noted that the city's TIFA was initiated when he was mayor from 1982-86. "I believe that the program has been good for the community," he

Pickering predicted that the TIFA will be phased out "in the near-future," leaving behind a more solid tax base that will generate more money for the city budget. An expanded Westland Center could be part of that improved tax base, he However, Pickering added that traffic solutions should be found before the mall is expanded.

On Thursday, Wise said the preliminary examination was delayed because attorneys need the medical examiner's report, which he said will explain "the cause and manner' of Cooley's death.

Cooley would have been a senior this year at Romulus High School.

Despite the charge against Borders, the Wayne County prosecutor's office has indicated the case may be weak.

Pot sellers sentenced

Three men were sentenced last week to federal prison terms for their roles in a large-scale marijuana distribution operation, announced U.S. Attorney Stephen Markman.

Sentenced Aug. 22 by federal District Judge George Woods were Michael Shandilis, formerly of Livonia, Jeffery Winkler of Westland and David Crowell of Howell for their actions in distributing marijuana in a large area, including western Wayne County.

Shandilis received a 20-year sentence for his conviction on one count of operating a continuing criminal enterprise and one count of tax eva-

Winkler received a 14-month sentence for his conviction on one count of possessing marijuana with intent to distribute.

Markman said that Shandills pled guilty to organizing and operating a large scale marijuana trafficking organization, lasting from 1985 into Shandilis arranged to have 500-to 1,000-pound marijuana loads shipped from his source of supply in the Palm Desert, Calif., area to several prearranged locations in the Detroit area, Markman said.

From there, marijuana would be taken to one of several houses, where it would be off-loaded and broken from bale form into smaller sized, heat-sealed packages for distribution, he added.

SHANDILIS WOULD distribute, or have runners distribute on his behalf, the packages of marijuana on a credit basis to numerous customers, Markman said, with those customers, in turn distributing it to consumers.

The attorney said that Shandilis would collect the money and store it at his house, or have it stored in safes installed at the houses of other. members of the conspiracy. This money, after a sufficient amount had been accumulated, would be counted and shipped to the supplier, Brian Ziener, in California in approximately $800,000 increments.

Crowell pleaded guilty to one count of possessing marijuana with intent to distribute for his role as a gaurd at one of the houses in which marijuana was stored. Winkler pled guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute marijuana for his role as one of the organization's marijuana distributions.

State and federal search warrants executed at various houses operated by members uncovered over 1,200 pounds of marijuana, with a wholesale value of an estimated $1.2 million as well as about $200,000 in cash, Markman said.

THE FEDERAL attorney said that evidence from government witnesses indicate that the conspiracy took in a substantial amount of currency, and transported in the life of the conspiracy about 20,000 pounds of marijuana from California to the Detroit area. This marijuana had a whoesale cost of about $20 million.

Markman praised Livonia police. Drug Enforcement Administration agents and the Internal Revenue Service for their investigation of this

Prior to the shooting, Zeidan testifled, "It was a friendly evening, There was no arguing or fighting or nothing." The victim had no weapon, he said.

After Sami Saleh was shot, Zeidan ran from the apartment.

"I DIDN'T know what was going on, and I was afraid," he said.

From outside the apartment. Zeidan said he could hear the deiendant telephoning for help from inside his apartment at the Westwood Circle apartment complex, on the southeast corner of Joy and Hix.

Samih Saleh appeared "mad" during the phone conversation, Zeidan testified. "He wanted them (police) to get there to help his brother," Zeidan said.

When police arrived, Zeldan accompanied them inside the apartment, where the victim sat on a couch, bleeding from his stomach. Sami Saleh told Zeidan he wanted to see his children.

"He knew he was dying, and he wanted to see his kids," Zeidan said. The victim died en route to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

WESTLAND POLICE arrested Samih Saleh on the scene, and he has since been held in the Wayne County Jail. During an Aug. 5 arraignment, a plea of not guilty was entered on his behalf, and he was ordered held CORES OF golfers enjoyed their game and fought drug abuse at the same time Monday, as the Westland Police Department sponsored a golf tournament to raise money for its DARE program.

The police department's DARE unit raised about $3,500 during Monday's golf outing at Faulkwood Shores Golf Club in Howell, said DARE police officer David Hooper.

Hooper appeared pleased with the amount raised. "We had expected to raise between $3,000 and $4,000," he said.

The event drew 120 participants "from all walks of life," Hooper said.

The money will aid the DARE unit's efforts to teach Wayne-Westland sixth-graders about the dangers—items that have the DARE logos.

Widened Newburgh to open

The mayors of Westland and Livonia will meet, almost at high noon, fully armed on Wednesday to eliminate the last Newburgh traffic bottleneck.

Actually it will be 11:30 a.m. and Westland's Robert. Thomas. and Livonia's Robert Bennett will be at med with seissors when they pace it off at Newburgh and Joy Wednesday.

The seissors are for the planned ribbon cutting ceremonies to formally open the newly widened Newburgh north and south of Joy for motorists.

Mayor Bennett will open Newburgh from Ann Arbor Road, to Joy while Mayor Thomas will open Newburgh south of Joy.

The opening will eliminate the last traffic bottleneck for Newburgh drivers, including students and bus drivers going to and from Churchill High School, on Newburgh just north of Joy, and the Livonia school district's Career Center, across the street, and others commuting to Livonia's industrial plants.

In Livonia, the $1.07 million project rebuilt and widened Newburgh from two lanes of pavement to five lanes and linked the new five-lane bridge at Newburgh Lake, constructed in 1990, to new five-lane pavement in Westland.

"THIS IS an important step in our road improvement program," said Bennett. "The funds for this project come from the $12 million road bond issue approved by the voters in November 1989."

Livonia city engineer Raul Galindo and the city engineering department were responsible for the design, layout, inspection and testing of the project. The construction contractor was Angelo D'Orazio Paving, Inc.

"This was a tough project," said Galindo. "All of the utilities (gas, water, sanitary sewer, and electrical) had to be relocated before construction of the road could take place. Additionally, it took almost two years and $802,000 to acquire the necessary right-of-way."

Schoolcraft College faculty members will receive a 5.9 percent raise this school year and a combined 15.5 percent increase over the life of a new three-year contract approved Wednesday by college trustees.

Negotiations between college officlais and the Schoolcraft College Faculty Forum were completed in July, though ratification waited until the start of the college year. Union members ratified the contract Tuesday, trustees unanimously approved it one evening later.

"THIS IS the lastest, we've ever been able to complete negotiations," Schoolcraft spokeswoman Saundra Florek said.

In addition to this year's wage increase, faculty members will receive a 5 percent increase in the 1992-93 school year and 4.6 percent increase in 1993-4.

Rasies are based upon the top of the union scale. Employees below the top of the scale are also eligible for step increases.

The contract covers 133 full-time and 280 part-time employees. The Faculty Forum represents college professors and instructors, as well as counselors and librarians.

Negotiations were conducted under a new format, target specific bargaining.

"What it is, is that both sides draft. their proposals, then meet with a facilitator in the room to work out their differences," Florek sald.

Don Power of Michigan State University, a creator of the target-specilic process, was appointed facilitator by both sides,

In addition to wage increases, trustees also approved a change in the faculty health insurance plan.

SC sets tax hearing

Schoolcraft College's tax rate could be going up, slightly, as college officials revise assessment figures.

The tax rate is expected to rise by 0.0054 mill, as a result of recalculated figures.

Schoolcraft trustees have scheduled a Sept. 18 public hearing on the change before taking final action. The hearing begins 8 p.m. in. the college board room, in the college administration building,-18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

The change is expected to provide roughly $30,000 in additional college income.

The problem is believed to have. been caused by a miscalculation in Canton assessment figures. Trustees initially set the tax rate in mid-July.

Schoolcraft officials said they doubled checked figures even more thoroughly this year, with assessment freezes expected next year.

"We wanted to make sure the figures were as accurate as possible this year, with a freeze coming next year," college business vice president Adelard Raby said.

Schoolcraft's new tax rate would be 1.9771 mill, including assessments for general operating expenses and debt payments.

The tax rate translates to just under $99 for persons living in homes assessed at $100,000.

Republican nominee W. Clark Durant ripped into Cavanagh on issues to no avail: Michigan voters stuck with the Irish incumbents, philosophy be damned.

Last week it happened again. Boyle sided with Justices Robert Griffin, Dorothy Comstock Riley and James Brickley (all Republicans) in favor of the prosecution. Cavanagh, now chief justice, dissented, joined by Justice Charles Levin.

IN A BERRIEN County case, a woman was charged with telling police, falsely, that someone had shot at her at a local school.

Her husband, W.C. Collins, alhe had seen a rifle-carrying man flee the school grounds.

Jordan told State Police, who, with his consent, monitored and recorded his telephone conversation with Collins. Police also equipped Jordan with a concealed radio transmitter.

State Police obtained a warrant which, for unexplained reasons, turned out to be legally defective. So when Collins was charged with obstruction of justice, Circuit Judge Ronald Taylor threw out that evi-

The second most common arthritis is rheumatoid arthritis. The cause is a malfunction of the Immune system. At present there is no exercise, diet or way of life known that can prevent the occurrence of rheumatoid arthritis. Anyone claiming to give such advice is either misinformed or lying.

Gouty arthritis can be caused by excess in the use of alcohol, but the vast majority of people with gout are not guilty of overindulgence. In most cases heredity determines how well your body will handle uric acid, the chemical which in high blood levels leads to gout.

Court decision: Electronic monitoring, without a warrant, violates the Michigan Constitution — "unreasonable searches and seizures." (That sentence is similar to the Fourth Amendment of the U.S. Bill of Rights.) Our Supreme Court, with Boyle in the majority, reversed Taylor. The evidence can be used when Collins is re-tried.

JUSTICE GRIFFIN'S 84-page majority opinion with 57 footnotes is heavy reading.

It reversed the 1975 ruling, citing a 1979 U.S. Supreme Court ruling uplegedly offered an acquaintance, holding conviction of one Caceres for Barl Jordan, $500 to lie in court that bribing an IRS agent. Without a warrant, the agent wore a concealed radio which transmitted his chats with Caceres for recording by another

> In that case, Justice John Paul Stevens (a Gerald Ford appointee) said Caceres had no constitutional right to rely on flaws in the agent's memory, or to challenge the agent's credibility, without being beset by corroborating evidence - the recorded conversation.

In other words, if a witness can be asked to testify to what he rememdence, citing a 1975 state Supreme bers, he should be able to back up his memory with electronic surveillance - no search warrant needed.

Griffin noted a 1968 national commission (established by Congress while Griffin was a U.S., senator) said such monitoring can be crucial in establishing the credibility of an informant, particularly since informants can be of dubious character. Monitoring also can protect the life of an agent or informant.

CAVANAGH'S dissent said the U.S. Supreme Court ruled only because of a change of justices, not for good reason.

Cavanagh said the Michigan Supreme Court is "a sovereign, independent judicial body with ultimate authority to interpret Michigan law" that need not follow the U.S. court's lead "unless their reasoning is intrinsically persuasive on the merits."

Cavanagh accused the majority of 'expanding the rights of the police force to invade the privacy of the people without warrant or probable cause."

He added some liberal rhetoric about courts being a "protector of the powerless," meaning defendants, not crime victims.

YOU DON'T CARE about my view of the court decision because I'm neither a judge nor a candidate.

But I suggest Michigan voters habitually fail to do their homework and blindly vote for Irish names. Voters should have picked Boyle or Cavanagh — not both. Tim' Richard reports regularly on the local implications of state and regional events.

Bob just didn't make it as burly hurricane

TWO PEOPLE were killed last week when swimming in the Atlantic Ocean. They made the mistake of going in the water as Hurricane Bob was bumping along the East Coast. Some would state the obvious: It's not real smart to go swimming when a hurricane is headed your way. But who, can blame them when the storm is known as Bob.

It's a fine name to go through life with. It's easy to spell, nobody misprounces it and it's never offensive, a great benefit in our politically correct times.

But let's face it. Bob is a wimpy name for a storm. It's sounds like the guy who lives next door or your brother-in-law, but not the name of a storm that has the power to smash houses and blow large sallboats 10 miles inland.

Who do we have to blame for this? The government, of course. It was bad enough that the National Weather Service caved in to the demands of women's groups and decided several years ago that the equal opportunity concept should be applied to storms.

I REALLY don't disagree with it. Men can be equally as unpredictable as women, and they're usually more violent.

However, storms were much more ominous when they had women's names like Cathy or Denise. They gave headline writers a chance to show off their literary skills.

You had headlines like: "Cathy careens along Gulf leaving 10 dead in her wake," or "Denise pounds East Coast: 10 dead in her wake."

Such headlines conjured up images of a good looking blonde knocking the guys in a singles bar dead with her looks. Devastating is a word you think of when you see either a good looking woman or a storm. It has nothing to do with perceived sexism, it's just what comes to your mind.

LOSE WEIGHT WITH ACUPUNCTURE

You've probably tried to lose weight with all the usual ways. Acupuncture is an ancient Oriental way of therapy. It has proven very helpful in treating many of modern day problems and diseases. Losing weight is one of them. NOW is the time to make a change and lose weight with acupuncture. For further information, CALL

Classic Interiors

Denise can devistate, but Bob just seems to bump along.

Anyway, back to the weather service. You would think that even after turning to Jello in front of the feminists, it would at least have the sense to use better names for storms than Bob. I suspect that the person who picks the names is one of those spreadsheet geeks who has every name in the language plugged into the computer and the names just pop out when needed. Let's just hope he didn't plug in Chip and Mulfy.

MAYBE THE weather service should hire a poet or an old headline writer to name the storms.

I'm certain they'd come up with male names like Kurt or Adolph. A poet or headline writer knows that folks would be certain to get out of the way of a storm with a Germanic sounding name.

Most Latin sounding names would work, too, Tony, Nick and Guido alb. have that unpredictable sound to them that should be applied to a French names, unless they're women's names, don't work. "Pierre threatens East Coast" Just doesn't work much as a storm warning. You envision a storm named Pierre stopping in Cuba for a glass of wine and a debate about socialism. A French storm would be entirely too blase to threaten anyone or anything.

SCANDANAVIAN names like. Sven or Eric have that seafaring sound and lend a wonderful Nordicflavor to a hurricane blowing in from the ocean.

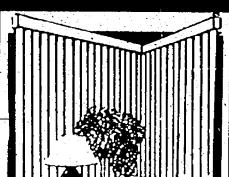

I'd love to go back to the days when Bertha bashed or Susle left them shivering. But it's not going to happen. I can accept that. But for safety's sake, let's leave Bob, Bruce and names with pretentious spellings TIKE Geoff out of the computer.

They don't scare anybody. If Bob had been been named Thor, the two swimmers might not have drowned in the ocean. I kind of doubt it, but you never know. At least it's worth a

PULL THE PLUG ON CABLE THEFT

Theft of cable TV services takes place in many ways, and you may not even be aware it's going on. But you pay the price.

474-6900

Tampering with converters, tapping into the system or running cable to an extra outlet may sound like an easy way to get something for nothing. Using a friend's old box or one sold by a salesman promising a lifetime of cable for a one-time price could seem like a great bargain. Sometimes cable companies themselves tail to disconnect service after an account is closed. and why bother to tell them?

But whether it's deliberate or accidental, all cable theft has two things in common: it means people are receiving services they haven't paid for - and it's all paid for by honest subscribers.

You can be a solution to the problem of cable theft, though. And the solution begins with awareness.

Get involved; and help us pull the plug on cable theft. It's a bad connection for

Rockets bolt past Highland Park

staff writer

Westland John Glenn unleashed its own version of "Thunder and Lightning" Friday, as the vaunted backfield of Tad Quattlander and John Ward did not disappoint in a season-opening 26-6 football win over visiting Highland Park.

Dangerous skies delayed the start of the game for nearly 96 minutes, but it didn't matter as the host Rockets, who have reached the state playoffs five out of the past six years, dominated from start to finish.

Quattlander, a speedy 5-foot-7, 171-pound senior tailback, carried the load most of the night, zapping the Polar Bears for 136 yards in 20 carries and three touchdowns (on runs of 2, 6 and 8 yards).

Ward, meanwhile, did most of his work in the defensive secondary, but showed flashes of brilliance on the other side of the ball. The 6-1, 188-pound senior made the most of his opportunities, carrying the ball five times for 40 yards (all in the second quarter) to go along

'They'll pretty much alternate series," Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said. "They pull for one another, and whocarries the ball is not a problem whatsover. They're both unselfish players."

GLENN, HOWEVER, proved it has more than a two-

Quarterback Terry Hewer, making his first yarsity start, completed six of seven passes for 75 yards.

"Terry's performance is just what we expected," said Gordon of the 6-2, 179-pound senior, "He's been consistent all along and he's been steady in our preseason prac-

Gordon, however, said the offense was "pretty sloppy at times." Ward had one long run nullified by a penalty. The defense did not receive much of a test, but lost its shutout bid with 7:42 left in the third quarter when tailback Terrance Reed fumbled and Jones scooped up the undetected ball, racing 51 yards untouched with a gang of blockers in front of him for a touchdown.

"OUR CONCEPT is a swarming kind of defense," said Glenn linebacker Jamie Henry. "The play was a sweep off tackle and we had the guy (Reed) all wrapped up without realizing he had dropped the ball. We like to fly to the ball and maybe on that play we were a little overly aggressive.

"At that point I was worrled because I wanted the shutout because that's a great way to start the season, but it was just a fluke thing."

Glenn scored two possessions later, marching 67 yards in eight plays, capped by Quattlander's 5-yard TD run, which ended his last carry of the night with 8:20 to

Gordon then emptied his bench and sent in the reserves to finish out the game.

"I was glad we were able to play tonight because it would have been tough to come back tomorrow (Saturday) and play," said the Glenn coach. "The kids were down in the cafeteria and I told them we'd do everything we could to play it tonight."

The waiting period had somewhat of a psychological effect on the Rockets.

- "I didn't know what to think. I was ready to go," said Henry, a returning starter. "It was hard to adjust because we were all jacked up. I was doubtful we would

State AA champs primed for defense

staff writer

Whereas some coaches must walk the hallways of their high schools in desperate search of football talent, Redford Catholic Central coach Tom Mach almost had to do the unthinkable last month.

Cut some players.

"We were thinking of cutting some because we thought we didn't have enough uniforms, but we didn't have to," said Mach. "So we can still say we've never had to cut players."

Football always has been popular at CC, but perhaps never as much as this season, one year after the Shamrocks won the Class AA state championship. Mach said about 140-150 players usually come out for CC's freshmen, junior varsity and varsity teams, but the varsity roster is especially large this year with 56 play-

Twenty seniors who played on last year's state champion return, joined by 36 juniors.

"We usually have 45 to 50 players on the varsity, but we had a big sophomore class last year and that's the element right there," Mach said. "I think the interest in the program has been pretty steady all these years, but the last four seasons we've been very productive and the interest is higher. Winning the state championship left us on a good note."

CC WAS CLASS A runnerup in 1987 and '88 before finally taking the Class AA crown a year ago with a 21-0 win over Detroit Martin Luther King at the Silverdome. The Shamrocks finished 11-2 overall, winning their last eight games, including four in the playoffs by a combined score of 94-28.

Several big-play skilled players graduated off a team that outscored its opponents, 256-77, last season, but defending the AA championship football isn't out of the question. Replacing speed and finding a quarterback among three candidates are the biggest worries Mach has had in the

"We had probably the fastest team we've had in quite awhile last year - Brian Chaney, Arshon Stewart, Mike Thomas and Jack Davidson all four were speedsters," Mach said. "You always miss certain aspects of every team, but this year's team has sive backfield, but much of the Shamrocks' optimism begins in the trenches, where the offensive line averages 233 pounds per player. Returning starters include senior guard Dan Cretu (6-foot-1, 240), senior tackle Brian Brewer (6-3, 245) and senior center Steve Leiger (6-0, 225). First-time starters are junior tackle Aaron Babicz (6-0, 240' and senior tight and David Bruhowzk. 6-6, 220).

Bruhowzki was a reserve tackle last year as a junior.

"There's overall size and strength there and they are all mobile," CC line coach Dan Fortune said. "We'll be able to do a lot of things this year that we couldn't do last year, like trapping. Plus we have Bruhowzki at tight end, which is like having a third tackle because of his blocking abili-

THE SHAMROCKS aren't so fortunate at quarterback with the graduation of Jason Carr, who completed 44.7 percent of his passes (59-132) for 704 yards and six touchdowns. As of Thursday Mach was undecided who might start, with with juniors Chris Barbara and John Priestap and senior Matt Pinard still vying for the position.

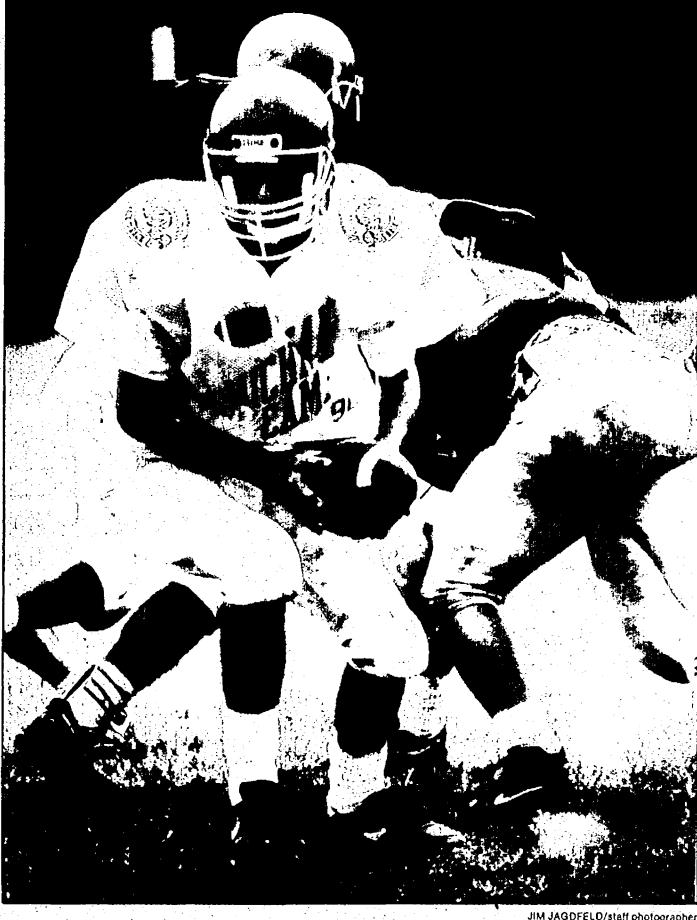

Barbara (5-11, 215) quarterbacked the JV last year and is a "good man in charge of the huddle," Mach said. Priestap, a transfer from Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard is a "good athlete, has good football sense but this is his first year in the program and is still picking up things we did," Mach said. "What he needs is more reps Pinard is the only one with varsity experience, having spent last year as Carr's backup. "Matt took a lot of snaps last year, has good knowledge of the game and has a good arm,' Mach said. "He showed real good signs in the four-way scrimmage."

Stewart and Thomas combined for 1,140 yards rushing a year ago at the tailback position and this year the job belongs to senior Jeff Tibaldi (5-9, 180). Tibaldi, who gained most of his 90 yards à year ago in a win over Lansing Sexton, will be backed up by senior Brett Walter and junior John Raasch (5.8, 180).

In a recent preseason poll of football coaches in the eight-team Wolverine A League, Wayne Memorial was picked fourth.

Howton may be sandbagging a bit, considering eight talented starters return from last year's surprisé team, which finished 5-2 in the Wolverine A and 6-3 overall.

In 1990, Wayne lost to Monroe, Fordson and Westland Glenn by a combined total of 18 points. The Zebras finished one game behind league champion and Class A playoff qualifier Wyandotte.

Despite only 28 players on its varsity roster, Wayne could better last year's showing if Howton's linemen come around.

"The key to the whole season is the way our interior group performs," he said. "We have two or three backs who ran can, and three or four different receivers we can

Ocelots rebuild for 1991

By C.J. Risak staff writer

It will be a different kind of team that takes the field for Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team this sea-

Which is to be expected; all junior college coaches must rebuild their teams annually. Get half the team back, and the groundwork is there for a great season.

The Ocelots return three full-time starters from their 1990 squad and three others who saw plenty of action. Plus, Rick Menary - an all-region selection in '89 (he sat out last year) - is back on the team.

So SC has a foundation to build on. And just as important, some of the divisive, off-the-field elements from last year's team — the first in more than a decade to reach the National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament — are gone.

"I think there's more team unity this year," said Jeff VanDemergle, SC's leading scorer last season. "If we go (to the NJCAA Tournament) this year, it'll be a whole different thing. We have a whole different attitude this year."

LAST SEASON, the Ocelots charged to their fired-ever NJCAA Inter-region championship in Van Dimitriou's tenure as coach. But their trip to Trenton, N.J., for the NJCAA tourney bordered on embarrassing - SC lost its first two matches by 3-0 scores.

There was some finger-pointing afterwards, but now, the fingerpointers are gone and Dimitriou is back.

The strengths of the 1991 team should be at forward and in the midfield. On the front line, VanDemergel will be joined by freshmen Brian Hauman and Jim Meldrum.

Also, a couple of players who saw action at both midfield and forward return — Chris Crawford and Shane Millner. They will play both positions again this season; indeed, Crawford will be a starter some-

The SC midfield is particularly impressive. Joining Menary, Crawford and Millner will be returnee Bob Hayes and another pair of impressive freshmen: Nate Stovall and Dave Hebestreit.

"The midfielders and forwards are our strengths," said Dimitriou, "but they have to start working together."

MENARY, THE SC coach said, should regain his all-region honors from two years ago. "The guys around him have to get used to playing with him, he's so smooth."

Redford Catholic Central opened its 1991 soccer sea-

Chris Crawford returns for Schoolcraft, bringing with him an abundance of skills at either midfield or forward.

Even better, Dimitriou figures Stovall to be on the same level. "He's outstanding. He plays a lot like Menary. He makes some slick passes out there."

The third full-time starter returning - joining VanDemergel and Crawford - is keeper Scott Hauman. Hauman was steady enough in goal last season, but this year he'll be facing a more difficult task.

That's because the defense in front of Hauman must be rebuilt. Dimitriou feels the tools are there, but there's been no test of fire yet.

Dimitriou had hoped two promising freshmen, Chad Cain and Andy Gutowski, would be joining the team. But Gutowski isn't eligible, and Cain's eligibility is questionable.

That could hurt, particularly with. several other players moving to fill positions. Jack Abate is slated to be at stopper, with Mike Presley at sweeper. Both are freshmen.

"I'D LOVE to have Mike at forward or midfield, but he's the toughest kid we've got," said Dimi-

Wayne Worosz, another freshman, will see action on defense, together with sophomore Shaun Mack. Two other freshmen defenders, Brian Pagett and George Murphy, have also been impressive in preseason drills.

For SC to make a return trip to the Inter-regional tournament, and perhaps beyond, "two things have to happen," said Dimitriou, who will be assisted this year by former SC standout Chris Speen. "We definitely have to improve defensively, and our forwards and midfielders have to improve their coordination.

"If we can improve in those two areas, we'll be good again."

Of course, SC will be battling Macomb CC for Region 12 supremacy - not an easy task. The seasonopening tournament at Triton College this weekend features Lewis and Clark CC from Chicago, the team SC beat for the Inter-regional title last November.

It should provide a good test for the still-blending Ocelots.

O'Shea faces old problem

By C.J. Risak staff writer

There's something all-too-painfully familiar about the Schoolcraft College women's soccer team.

Once again, a numbers game faces the Lady Ocelots.

A year ago, when they finished third in the National Junior College: Athletic Association Tournament, they did it with the bare minimum. Cindy Bowman, who had been one of SC's top scorers, was in goal throughout the season-ending tourney simply because there was no one Literally. There were just 11 team members at the end of the season.

When defender Jennifer Marshall opted against returning for her sophomore season, it left coach Nick O'Shea with a problem. All of the defense, save Livonia Franklin grad Jennifer Whitfield, has departed.

AND THERE is little to choose from. O'Shea opened practice last Monday with just 10 players. He has since increased his roster to 12, and had some other contacts.

But the latecomers may not be able to contribute too much, too

Why the problems in recruiting? "I really think it's the '73 birth year," answered O'Shea, who has guided SC to the NJCAA Tournament in three of his four seasons and coached the Ocelots to a national title in '87. "They had a hard time in age group soccer and a lot of them quit then.

"There just weren't many seniors last year in high school."

The hometowns of O'Shea's signees indicate he has had to go to greater lengths to find players. Among his recruits are Becky Dinverno from Milford-Lakeland, Carol Pietila from South Lyon and Stacey Hilgendorf from St. Clair Shores South Lake. .

STILL, IF O'Shea can find enough bodies, his team should fare well again. The offense is impressive, with Nikki Johnson (from Livonia Churchill) returning from last season's squad and Shannon Meath (Plymouth Canton) back after taking a year off. Meath was an all-American in '89.

Joining them will be Lori Place (Churchill), a strong inside player who started for O'Shea's Churchill team for four years.

The midfield should be more than adequate, too. Sarah Hayes (Plymouth Salem), who played both midfield and forward last season, returns. Nancy Pulice (Churchill), Dinverno and Pietila will join her there.

Of Dinverno, O'Shea said: "She's been a pleasant surprise. She has a real hard shot and works hard. I've

"It's the same thing (with Pietila)." Neither one is from a traditionally strong program, but they have looked good."

ON DEFENSE, O'Shea has Colleen O'Connor (Farmington Hills Mercy) slated as stopper and Amy Krajewski (Salem) to fill in at sweeper. Whitfield will be at one outside defender and Hilgendori is expected to be the other. Such a thin — actually, almost non-existant - bench creates so many questions. "If these 12 stay healthy, if we have them going into nationals, we'll do well," O'Shea predicted, "because they can play." And yet, he admitted, "the defense right now is the question mark. If I have to rob from my midfield or offense for my defense, it will hurt."

The Lady Ocelots will be tested during their regular season, facing many of the top teams in the NJCAA. Included on their schedule are two trips to New York, the first this weekend for the Monroe CC Invitational. SC plays two games at Farmingdale CC (N.Y.) Homemade win

Davis paces Ladywood past Glenn

By Ray Setlock staff writer

Livonia Ladywood is currently building a new gymnasium, but until the construction is completed, they will be forced to play home basketball games at Redford Catholic Central.

The Blazers will move to the new gym when its completed (scheduled for November), but judging by Thursday's performance against Westland John Glenn, they may not want to leave the friendly confines of CC after chalking up a 73-56 hon-league girls basketball win in second quarter and led 28-24 at the intermission. the season opener for both schools.

Senior guard Janet Davis made everything look easy, pouring in a game-high 29 points, including three 3pointers. She also contributed five steals.

"I was nervous going into the game," Davis said. "In fact, we were all a little nervous. But as the game went on, we settled down and played some good basketball." The Blazers' high-strung behavior cost them in the

One reason for the Rockets' demise was a knee inju-

Livonia meets Monacelli

That was the scenario last week in Livonia as pro' bowling star Amleto Monacelli made a personal appearance at Woodland Lanes.

He was there on behalf of the Brunswick Corp. to help introduce its new equipment installations to the bowling public.

Amleto is a familiar figure to TV bowling fans who watch the Pro Bowlers Tour on ABC. He was selected PBA Player of the Year in 1990 and 1990 Bowler of the Year by the Bowling

In all, Monacelli holds 11 PBA titles. He says he has a good chance to make Player of the Year again this season if his tourney success continues. His main competition will come from Davis Ozio, Pete Weber, Del Ballard, Norm Duke and our local area's John Maz-Amieto hails from the town of Barquisimeto in Venezuela where his family operates a bowling center.

While making his personal appearance at Woodland Lanes, Monacelli autographed photos and answered questions about

There was also a little bowling to be taken care of as Amleto took on local shooters in some fun matches. He was very complimentary about Woodland Lanes and the Winklers, who are very active proprietors. He said the lanes her are nice, but with the new oiling conditions, the bowlers will have to make a few more adjustments if the oil pattern shifts a bit during the game. Amleto was a very cordial and polite young man to talk.

If there is such as thing as a bowling superstar, that would certainly be Amleto Monacelli.

• What started out as a wisecrack turned out to be a new bowling ball on the market.

A new company, Award Skores Unlimited, is now producing a new high performance ball call the Patriot. It even has a logo engraved on it in the shape of a missile.

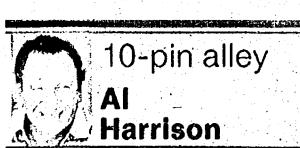

The original idea came about when a couple of bowlers were joking when one said, "I am going to throw a SCUD," where his opponent replied, "I'll beat that, I'm going to fire my Patriot." The conversation, of course, came shortly after the Gult crisis when the Patriot Missile became legend. The next step was, "What a great name for a ball," and the company was born.

Jim Garner is now producing this ball and it is available at local pro shops. It features a two-piece construction, a unique weight block design and a special new formula on the urethane. The ball is presently available only at 15 and 16 pounds, and in a medium shade of blue...

The ball can be drilled for a variety of weight balances and is a soft shell (durometer hardness at .77). It will deliver a smooth, consistent roll with a hard hitting back end, according

This ball is now being used in competition by Bob Chamberlain of Auburn Hills, our top local All-Star.

Company vice-president Scott Williams says to watch for this new ball on the TV bowlers tour this fall. Lou Ivancik scored a 300 game on Aug. 27 in the All-Stars at last year's team, will be missed at fullback. Senior Dan Gusoff (6-0, 230) gets the call this year and has been called a "Bronco Nagurski type" back by Mach.

"HE'S GOT good speed for a full-back, reads holes well and gets that extra yard," Mach said.

CC doesn't throw much but Mach believes the Shamrocks can't go wrong throwing in Frank Yoakam's direction. Last year, Yoakam caught six passes for 103 yards and Mach calls him one of the top high school threats in the area, as a receiver and kick returner.

Senior Mario Vassallo (5-9, 170) also returns for his senior year after catching 14 passes for 144 yards.

The Shamrocks appear strong on defense (what's new?), especially in the secondary where three of four starters return for defensive coordinator Rick Coratti. Back for their senior years in the secondary are corner backs Matt Roney (5-11, 180) and Walter (5.10, 180), and safety Yoakam (5-10, 175). Another senior, John Ivezic (6-0, 160), will play the

Smoking is good for meat

Country people have long known that meat hung in the smoke of hearths and chimneys lasts longer — and often tastes better — than fresh meat. Smoking, drying and salting were the main means of preserving meats in the days before refrigeration.

Of course, in contrast, we feel it good duty to mention that some studies have shown that smoking is regarded as hazardous to your pealth.

refrigeration, we are not so concerned with smoking as a means of preservation. We don't need to hang hams and sausages for days or weeks to keep them from spoiling over the long winter. Rather, we are looking of or the fragrant smoky flavors of hickory, oak, apple wood and the mesquite.

WITH VERY little equipment or effort, you can achieve the taste and aroma of traditionally smoked foods with just a covered grill or barbecue and a handful of wood chips.

Venture into any local gourmet shop and you will notice eye-catching grill displays featuring the latest in barbecue apparel, equipment and even wood chips.

I don't care what I wear as long as I'm comfortable. But "You name it and I have it" in the line of gadgets is the motto of some meat smokers, with most gadgets being overrated and under-used.

But when it comes to smoking with wood, the intrigue begins. Hardwoods are best for smoking. Softwoods such as pine, fir, cedar and spruce are not suitable because they are so full of pitch and resin that they impart a Never use backyard clippings that may contain insecticides or poisonous plants such as oleander or poison oak. The most popular woods are hickory, adler, mesquite, oak and fruit woods. Dried corn cobs can even be used.

MY PERSONAL favorite? I think mesquite is overrated. Anything I smoke on the grill is going to have enough flavor of its own. Maybe it's my taste buds, but short of a smoky flavor, I can't tell any difference.

When you price mesquite anywhere other than in Arizona and New Mexico, be prepared to pay the price.

Hickory is fine and most readily available, but everything at the supermarket is smoked in hickory, such as hams and sausages.

I want something different, something sweet. I love truit woods. I think the best thing about fruit woods are their compatibility with either beef, chicken, pork or fish. Fruit woods make everything taste good.

Most backyard grillers who wish to smoke will most generally use what is called the hot smoke method.

If you've ever eaten Texasstyle barbecue, then you've eaten hot-smoked meat. This type of smoking is done at high-enough temperatures to cook the food while imparting a mild and pleasantly smoked flavor.

FOR HOT smoking, good cooks first will buy chunks of wood

Instead of slivers or sawdust (both of which make for good cold smoking). The chunks of wood should be soaked in water for at least 30 minutes. (You can use the wood chips, but you will have to replace them more often).

Drain, and when the coals are red hot and covered with a little gray ash, drop a healthy handful, get ready to add the food and the top to keep those smoky flavors litside. Yours truly likes to keep the bottom vents open and the top tents closed for a more intense

Cook the foods as you normally would for their required amount of time — but watch out — the slavors of smoke might make you aregular smoker!

Sweetness ushers in the Jewish New Year

By Keely Wygonik staff writer

NEW YEAR, a new start — "May you be inscribed for a good year" is a greeting frequently exchanged by Jews all around the world when guests arrive for the celebration of the days of Rosh Hashana.

"We bring in the new year on a sweet note," said Leslie Miller of West Bloomfield. "All of the dishes we serve are sweet, there's nothing bitter."

Rosh Hashana means "Head of the Year" in Hebrew, and coincides with the first day of Tishri on the Hebrew calendar, which is the lunar calendar. This year Rosh Hashana begins at sundown Sept. 8 and ends at sundown Sept. 10.

From Rosh Hashana to Yom Kippur, which is the day of atonement, are 10 days of penitence. One of the most important symbols of the Rosh Hashana observance is the blowing of the shofar, or ram's horn, which is sounded in synagogues as a call to worship.

For Jews, it is a time of reflection and thinking about the year past, making atonement for any mistakes, and promising to do better in the year ahead.

THE DISTINCTIVE theme of the Rosh Hashana dinner is joy in the year ahead, the dominant culinary symbol of which is sweetness.

Food frequently served includes honey, apples, dates, quinces, pomegranates, leeks, Swiss chard, green beans, carrots, turnips, zucchini, lamb and fish.

Common desserts are honey cakes, plum pie, baked apples and apple strudel.

Traditionally, the new year dinner is served before sundown on the night the holiday starts.

"The holiday is for celebration of the new year, and reflection of the past year, and not for mundane tasks like work, so observant Jews will prepare all of their food before sundown on Sept. 8," said Lissa Hurwitz of the Jewish Community Council of Metropolitan Detroit in West Bloomfield.

ORTHODOX JEWS, Miller and her husband, Ron, a Realtor, belong to Bais Chabad of West Bloomfield.

For the past couple of weeks, she has been busy shopping, cooking and freezing desserts and side dishes to serve to friends and relatives who will celebrate the holiday with them.

"It's a really good time to get back in touch with friends and family we haven't seen in a while," Miller said.

"I start by de-cluttering the house. I keep almost nothing on the kitchen counters. It makes it a lot easier to work. We'll have a lot of company, so I de-clutter the living room too. I keep out toys that are easy to clean up."

SUNDAY, SHE'LL make chicken soup, a turkey, beef brisket and the dinner salad. She makes chicken salad

"It's refreshing, almost like a sorbet. I serve the fruit compote in wine glasses because it looks pretty, and I decorate the table with African violets so people can talk without having to look over flowers."

"A lot of people dip it in honey."

Some families also say a blessing over apples and honey and pass the dish around the dinner table. Each person dips his apple in honey before eating it. This symbolizes hopes for a sweet new year.

A busy mother of three, who operates a business out of her home, Leslie Miller's cooking philosophy is pour everything into a pot and let it cook.

She likes foods that are easy to make, but taste like you've been fussing over them for hours.

Following are fruit compote and noodle kugel, two of her family's favorite Rosh Hashana recipes. The honey cake recipe is from the Quaker Oats Kitchen, the carrot tzimmes is from the Culinary Institute of America.

FRUIT COMPOTE 1 16 oz. can pitted bing cherries

1 16 oz. can pineapple chunks 1 16 oz. can fruit cocktail 1 16 oz. can apricots

I cup white raisins, cooked in water to fluff them up

1/2 cup sweet red wine Combine fruit, including juice in a baking pan. Bake at 350 F. for 35 to 45 minutes. Chill. Serve cold.

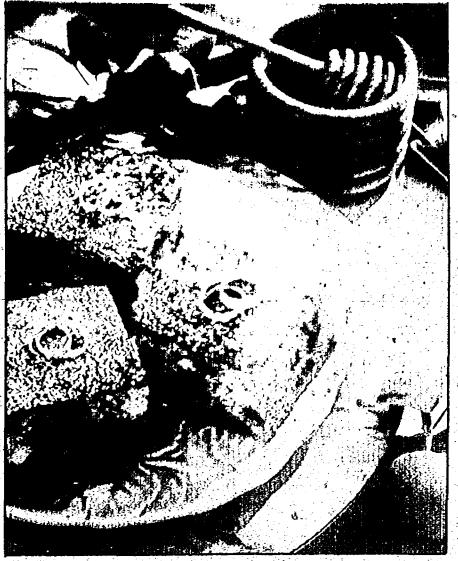

NOODLE KUGEL 1 bag of flat egg noodles

1 can crushed pineapple, drained well

1 cup white or brown raisins 4 cup sugar 2 tablespoons clanamon

Cook and drain noodles. In a, bowl, mix egg, cinnamon, sugar, add pineapple, raisins, and noodles. Mix well. Put in a greased 9 x 12 baking dish, sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake 350 F. for 35 to 45 minutes.

HONEY CAKE 1% cups all purpose flour

Honey Cake is a traditional dessert served during Rosh Hashana.

34 wheat germ % cup raisins

15 cup sugar

4 teaspoons baking powder 1, teaspoon baking soda 1 teaspoon cinnamon

14 cup honey 1/2 cup coffee, cooled

1/4 cup vegetable oil 5 egg whites, slightly beaten

2 teaspoons grated orange peel 1 cup peeled, chopped apple powdered sugar

Heat oven to 350 F. Grease bottom of an 8 or 9-inch square baking pan; set aslde. Combine first 7 ingredients. In separate bowl, combine honey, coffee, oil, egg whites and orange peel; add to dry ingredients, mixing well. Stir in apple. Pour into prepared pan. Bake about 50 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean and top is dark brown.

CARROT TZIMMES

2 pounds carrots, peeled and-sliced Pinch salt

14 cup honey Juice of 35 lemon

14 cup vegetable oil 1/4 cup flour

Place carrots in a heavy saucepan and add cold water to cover. Bring to a simmer and cook until carrots are almost tender. Add salt, honey and lemon juice; simmer for 20 minutes.

In another saucepan, heat oil. Add flour and blend. Add carrots and cooking liquid; simmer, stirring constantly, until thickened Brown lightly under the broiler before serving. Makes 6 servings.

Dry Creek Valley wines offer abundance of flavor

Separated by a range of hills, the American Viticultural Area known as Dry Creek Valley runs parallel to Alexander Valley in northern Sonoma County. The northern end is warm, and lacking a river influence, it is an ideal region for growing zinfandel and cabernet sauvignon with ripe berry flavors and melony sauvignon blanc.

The fertile, well-drained, valleyfloor soils, influenced by morning fog in the south, are also well known. for quality sauvignon blane with a heightened grassy character.

The Dry Creek Valley benchlands, have red solls and less fog influence. This is an area that boasts 100-yearold zinfandel vines and distinguished cabernet sauvignon exhibiting attractive herbal, dill and olive components.

Doug Nalle, co-owner and winemaker at Nalle Winery who has experience working with Dry Creek fruit, believes that the region should be divided into north and south.

"It is impossible to say that Dry Creek is best for one varietal over another because the boundaries are too general," he said. "When identifying best locations, north versus south must be considered, based on temperature differences as well as soil and site."

John Pedroncelli owns the oldest producing winery (since 1927) in Dry Creek Valley. "Even in Bordeaux, there are good sites and poor ones,' he explains. "They're not all first growths!"

In the warmer, upper end of Dry Creek Valley, Preston Vineyards is demonstrating that southern Rhone varietals, such as syrah and mourvedre, are successful.

"When planted on gravelly soil, syrah achieves good flavor development and smoky, earthy, ripe plum characters akin to the northern Rhone," said Lou Preston, owner of Preston Vineyards.

"Typical Dry Creek zinfandel develops ripe fruit, jammy, raspberry and blackberry flavors and spiciness (cinnamon, clove, allspice). It's not produces a grassy, herbaceous 1990 Preston Vineyards Cuvee de Fume ($11) is 81 percent sauvignon blanc and 19 percent semillon. The aroma is alive with pear, apple, mineral and barrel fermentation elements. Fresh fig and pear flavors enhance a wine with a citrusy finish that's a perfect accompaniment for grilled fish. It's consistently one of the best sauvignon blanes from Dry Creek Valley.

1988 Dry Creek Vineyards Cabernet Sauvignon ($17) is a classic representation of a cabernet from a Dry Creek Valley winery. heavy and tannic, but medium bodied with a claret-like quality.

"When grown on well-drained benchland, Dry Creek cabernet sauvignon exhibits soft tannins with a combination of cassis and black currant fruit accompanied by a delicate herbal, cedary-spice quality. The wines are typically round and soft with medium body. They are accessible when young and do not require lengthy bottle age to be attractive."

In 1971, David Stare founded Dry Creek Vineyards in the Dry Creek Valley. "The Dry Creek sauvignon blanc is a very flavorful grape and WINE BULLETIN BOARD.

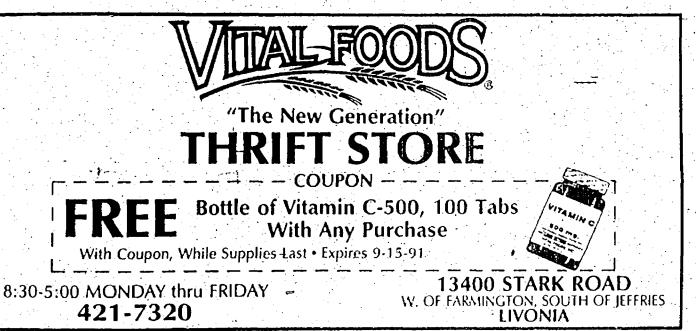

Tasting Wines of the World is the theme of a five-week wine course 7:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 18 to Oct. 16, at OCC Orchard Ridge Campus, I-696 at Orchard Lake Road. The class will focus on classic wines from France, Germany, Italy, the Iberian Peninsula and South America. Guest speakers will be present some evenings. Total cost is $90. style," said Stare, "The heavy, rich bottomland soil of the valley floor encourages vine vigor and a characteristic herbaceousness.

When I started making sauvignon blanc from 100 percent Dry Creek fruit, it had a strong varietal character that I like in the wine, But this business is market driven, and the consumer doesn't appreciate that style as much as I do. Currently, I blend Dry Creek and Alexander Valley sauvignon blanc to produce a wine with highlighted melony fruit and just the right touch of varietal herbaceousness."

Successful Dry Creek chardonnay is site dependent. When grown on gravelly, well-drained benchland soils, chardonnay develops a distinct, sage, earthy-dusty character.

According to George Bursick, winemaker at Ferrari-Carano, "When grown on the deep, fertile, valley floor, Dry Creek chardonnay can develop the same varietal characteristics as sauvignon blanc."

Don't run to the store, substitute

The secret in being a good cook is not in following a recipe to the letter, anyone can do that. It lies, instead, in using your imagination and ingenuity, and learning to make substitutions when necessary.

If a recipe calls for one-half cup of wine in the sauce or marinade, and you don't have any wine in the house, mix together one-fourth cup of vinegar, one-fourth cup of water, and a tablespoon of sugar. Use this mixture in place of the wine.

You're all out of allspice? Don't panic and rush out to the store. Instead, mix one-half teaspoon of cinnamon with one-eighth teaspoon of cloves. Use this in place of one teaspoon of allspice, and no one will be the wiser.

Cornstarch can be used as a substitute for arrowroot.

One slice of regular white bread is equal to one-half cup of soft bread. crumbs, or one-fourth cup of dry crumbs, or three-fourths cup of cracker crumbs. Or, use rolled oats in place of any of them.

If the cookbook says you should use buttermilk, or sour milk, and you don't have any, you can turn fresh milk sour in a minute by adding a bit of vinegar or lemon juice.

Chopped dried pited prunes or dates may be used instead of raisins, and vice versa. The point is that you must not be afraid to experiment a little. Tomato juice, tomato sauce, tomato paste, tomato puree, and catsup can all be made to take the place of each other by adding a little of this, or a bit of that.

For instance, if you are out of catsup, add two tablespoons of sugar, (brown or white); a tablespoon of vinegar, and a pinch of cloves to onehalf cup of tomato puree, paste, or sauce. This will work out in any recipe that calls for one-half cup of

The main difference in canned tomato juice, paste, sauce, or puree is the amount of water each contains.

During the "great Depression" that people my age still like to talk about, and again during World War 136 teaspoons cream of tartar II, certain foods were not always available. Cooks were forced to make substitutions of all sorts.

This is when the Ritz Cracker Mock Apple Pie became popular. One time when we had no apples, and no Ritz crackers, either, my mother created an imitation of the imitation. We called it "Mama's Mock Mock Apple Pie."

I made it recently, and my son-inlaw bragged about what a great apple pie I had made. I never told him any different.

Soda crackers were cheap and plentiful, even in difficult times, and were substituted for apples, flour, cereal, and all sorts of things in those days.

The mock raspberry jam recipe below was included in a column that I wrote two years ago about tomatoes. I received more comments, letters, and phone calls (all favorable), about that one recipe than all the others I have ever written about.

It tastes exactly like real raspberry preserves, and has the same texture and appearance. No one will ever guess that it is not the genuine

I am including that recipe again, for those of you who missed it the first time. Try it, along with some of the other recipes printed below, for foods that aren't what they seem to be. After tasting how good they are, I'll not be surprised but what you'll decide to make up a few recipes of

Mock Raspberry Jam 3 pounds green tomatoes 2 cups sugar

1 3-ounce pack of raspberry jello Wash the tomatoes, and cut them into chunks. Process them in the blender until you have two cups. Add two cups of sugar; and boil for 15 minutes. Remove from the heat, and add powdered jello. Mix well.

pastry enough for a double crust ple Place the whole crackers in a bowl. Don't deliberately break them; some will break up accidentally, and Mix together the sugar, cream of . tartar, and apple spices.

Stir in the water, a little at a time, and pour mixture over the top of crackers. Allow it to sit for 15 minutes. Then pour gently into a pastrylined ple tin. Dot with butter.

Add top crust, and cut vent holes, or pierce with a fork. I also like to brush the top with milk or mayonnaise, and sprinkle lightly with sugar before baking.

Bake in a 400 degree fahrenheit oven for about 40-45 minutes. Mock Chopped Liver

(People who hate green beans would never guess that they are the secret ingredient.) I pound fresh or frozen green beans (not canned), cooked, drained, and choped

2 large onions, chopped 4 hard bolled eggs, shelled 14 cup walnut meats, finely ground 2 Knorr chicken bouillon cubes 2 tablespoons Kitchen Bouquet salt and pepper to taste

Place chopped green beans in blender or food processor. Saute chopped onions in oil until dark, but not burned. Add browned onlons to beans and blend.

Next, add eggs, nuts, Kitchen Bouquet and bouillon cubes. Blend until smooth. If mixture is too dry, add a bit of oil.

Chill before serving with slices of Mock Fried Oysters

2 cups whole uncooked kernel corn

(fresh or frozen, but not canned) 3 large eggs

3 tablespoons flour salt and pepper to taste oll for frying

Separate the eggs. Combine egg yolks with the corn, flour, salt and pepper. Stir until well mixed. Beat egg whites until stiff, and gently fold into corn mixture.

Heat oil until 375 degrees fahrenheit, and drop batter by spoonfuls (about the size of an oyster) into the hot oil, Cook until golden brown, turning once.

Serve hot, with cocktail or tartar sauce, or with lemon juice or sherry wine for sprinkling.

Mock Pecan Ple

The following two recipes are both so good, I couldn't decide which to offer you. So, try them both, and decide which is your favorite. Mock Pecan Pie No. 1 1 cup Post Grapenuts

1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed 1 stick (14 pound) melted butter or 3 eggs

% cup lukewarm water .1 cup dark Karo corn syrup 1 teaspoon vanilla a pinch of salt

1 unbaked pie shell Soak Grapenuts in water until absorbed. Combine sugar, syrup, butter and salt in a sauce pan. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Beat eggs until foamy.

Add a small amount of the hot mixture to the eggs. Mix well, then add the rest. Blend in the soaked Grapenuts, then put the mixture in the pie shell, and bake at 375 degrees fahrenheit for 40-50 minutes, Cool before serving.

Ham and Salami Bistro Baguettes dress up any picnic menu.

Bistro sandwiches are easy to make America loves summer picnics. Whatever the setting, good food is essential. Rest on Labor Day, a meal doesn't have to require a great deal of effort on the part of the cook.

Ham and Salami Bistro Baguettes, according to the Meat Board Test Kitchens, can fit on the most sophisticated picnic menu, but are prepared in just minutes sauce and chopped ripe olives with ingredients found in most 1 tablespoon finely chopped green supermarkets. These French onlon baguette sandwiches feature sliced Genoa salami, fully cooked ham 4 ounces sliced provolone cheese and provolone cheese - all from the deli case.

The deli meats are seasoned in European fashion with a mixture of canned roasted red pepper, rip or Nicolse olives, green onion and pesto sauce, all equally available, ready-to-use. Choose the rest of the menu so it's just as simple ready-made salads, bakery-fresh cookies or pastries and fresh fruit.

When packing food for picnics thoroughly chill everything before baguette tops. Sandwiches can be leaving for your outdoor destina- served immediately or packed to tion. Pack cold food in an insulated cooler with plenty of ice, arranging items to be eaten first on top and leaving as little airspace as possible. Fresh ingredients, packed well and kept cold, get you off to a great start for easy summertime meals-

Schiff shows stuff on Showtime

'I had nothing easy, Everything was a pain in the neck. I knew I had it in me even though other people didn't.'

> - Mark Schiff comedian

staff writer

Three minutes before the conclusion during the taping of Mark Schiff's first comedy special on Showtime, the lights went out.

The power-outage could've allowed the comedian to plug into the early days of his stand-up career some 14 years ago. Oh, what difficult times those were.

Like when Schiff would travel 100 miles to do five minutes of stand up for nothing, when people such as Richard Belzer used to call his act one of the worst he had seen and when detractors would line up to tell him to quit the business.

Yes, we know, Schiff's career has been comedy's perpetual bumper car among semis.

"That stuff didn't bother me," said Schiff in a telephone interview from his home in Los Angeles. "It just made the rise more interesting. I had nothing easy. Everything was a pain in the neck.

"I knew I had it in me even though other people didn't."

That's changing. Schiff is considered one of the hotter comedic commodities around, no doubt on the rise with his first half-hour television special on Showtime. "My Crummy Childhood" premieres 10:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 6, on the cable net-

THE BRONX, N.Y., native also appeared recently at the prestigious 'Just for Laughs" festival in Montreal where a stage-wise Milton Berle gave Schiff a pep talk to quell some jitters.

"He just told me not to try to please anybody but the audience. Manager, agents . . . don't worry about them, just do your work. He told me, 'It's no mistake you're

With his oversized dress shirts and wild ties, Schiff begs for a lunch date with Oscar de la Renta. More than anything, though, he just wants to belong.

In his 30-minute special before a hometown crowd at New York University, Schiff delves into such universal themes as growing up, going to the grocery store and marriage.

and got married," he says during his on-stage routine. "I'm basically dead. I sit on the edge of my bed in boxer shorts, peeling fruit."

His style varies from stone-face deadpanned to outright maniac. His routine is squeaky clean with the "hells" and "damns" are judiciously interspersed.

Like the forefather of family comedy, Bill Cosby, Schiff makes his points oh so subtly. Even in the course of a telephone conversation, discussing his 12-week-old son

"YOU GO into a restaurant with a baby and everyone stares at you and yet if you're single and sit down at a table people are afraid to look at you. Isn't that weird?"

The birth of his son and marriage has opened up a whole new vista of material. He met his wife, Nancy, a few years ago during a benefit for the Jewish Federation in San Antonio, Texas. She was on the federation board, which organized the benefit.

"She was the only single woman there," Schiff said. "Everyone else was in their 70s. Any 30-year-old woman looks good then.'

Ta dum. But marriage and fatherhood has perhaps made him even more reflective when discussing his own childhood.

Like the title of his show, Schiff said he believed his wasn't the best childhood at the time. He said every other family seemed to have more money, more worldly possessions.

The lingering pain from those times seeps through on "My Crummy Childhood" as Schiff manlacally recounts a face-to-face encounter with his mother. His eyes widen, his face contorts into a spasmodic rage portraying a parent screaming at

FUNNY, YES, but the bit betrays more hurt perhaps than Schiff in-

Schiff said he does have fond memories of childhood, though, such as going to Yankee Stadium with his Schiff said he gets deadpanned style from his father, who was a taxi driver in the Bronx. His more frantic moments emanate from his mother.

'Eleni' thrives on suspense

In her small rural Greek village, Elèni Gatzoviannis had been raised according to tradition. She was to be obedient and to know her place. For probably the first time in her life, Eleni says a resounding no when Greek communists terrorize her village in 1948 and demand that the mothers give up their children for the party.

Before the Greek civil war ended in 1949, 28,000 Greek children had been taken from their families and shipped off for indoctrination in communist countries like Albania. One of the children who escaped the relocation was Eleni's son and New York Times reporter, Nick Gage, whose book is the basis for "Eleni," a 1985 Peter Yates film.

Raised in America since he was 9, the adult Gage has become increasingly obsessed with the torture and murder of his mother as the 30-year statute of limitations allowed under Greek law is about to run out.

Well played by John Malkovich, Gage keeps a handgun in his desk drawer and waits for a transfer to become bureau chief in Athens. He clearly has his own agenda for returning to Greece and wanting to locate surviving participants from the

Played by Kate Nelligan, Eleni is a sturdy, unglamourous woman who has been keeping her family together without the help of her husband, who has been building the family fortune in America for nearly a dec-

Eleni's world is a place where firewood is gathered, goats are herded, and life is quiet. It will just a matter of time before her husband gets enough money and a home to bring his family to join him.

One of the ironies about Eleni's situation is that she was totally nonpolitical. Early on she helps a local communist running from the monarchist soldiers. That same man later returns with the communist troops to force her family from their home, take all their food and put the local residents into forced labor details laying mines.

Eleni didn't know or care about politics. All'she cared about was keeping her family together and from starving, at one point stealing the feedbag from a solider's horse for the oats.

Trashy thriller has style

By John Monaghan staff writer.

"Defenseless" is one of those films that could easily get overlooked among the end-of-the-summer leftovers. And it would be too bad, because this trashy little thriller moves an audience through its twists and turns with just enough style.

. It also provides Barbara Hershey with her most rewarding role in years as T.K. Andrews, an attorney who gets much too close to her latest case. The victim, it turns out, was not only her client and lover, but also coincidently the husband of her college roommate.

Overly melodramatic and hokey? You bet. But this low-budget thriller (made by New Visions Pictures and distributed by New Line and Seven Arts) delivers on suspense while scriptwriter James Hicks serves up quirky characters you don't find in your typical Hollywood thriller.

T.K., as it turns out, leads a pretty cluttered life. Her office is piled high with lawbooks, case files, and the occasional half-eaten chicken sandwich. Instead of a Franklin Planner, she writes notes and phone numbers on little scraps of paper. She keeps meaning to repaint her old convertible, but never seems to find the time.

Her love life isn't much cleaner. She consistently falls for the wrong guys and this time picks a doozy when she both defends and sleeps with Stephen Seldes, a successful businessman who rented a warehouse building to a pornographic

When he does toss in a tricky shot, like mouseeye-view closeups following high heels or characters silhouefted by strong backlighting, it works as a pleasant surprise.

Meanwhile, there's a great study by Mary Beth Hurt as Seldes' wife, a Southern belle who has kept her irritatingly sunny disposition ever since college, T.K. has always been a little suspicious. "If anyone was that happy, they'd die of hypoglycemia," she says.

"Defenseless" isn't a great film. It doesn't have the visual sense or emotional intensity of this summer's "Mortal Thoughts," but it is a solid night at the movies. And in this buffer zone between summer and fall, that's a welcome sight in-

Knight-time fun

Renaissance Festival offers joust about everything

By William Coutant staff writer

A journey backward in time to a fun-loving age of discovery can be yours provided you "suspend your disbelief" and head for Holly, Mich.

If you can, you'll find knights jousting, jesters jesting and people speaking of dragons, damsels and magic.

You could consider the Michigan Renaissance Festival a sort of theme park in the raw. Situated on 200 acres in northwest Oakland County, the festival, in its 12th year, provides an impressive array of crafters, magic and stage acts, food and drink, and people just being a little silly. And being mirthful is the key to enjoying the outdoor event that runs for seven weekends from mid-August through the end of September.

"It's as much (fun) as you make it," said festival official Peggy Burkhard. "You have to live the dream."

Craft booths, featuring about 150 artists whose works have been juried for their authenticity, line the 16th Century streets under ample tree shade. Food booths feature modern favorites such as pizza and gyro sandwiches along with culinary delights of an earlier time: roasted turkey drumsticks, Scotch eggs and apple dumplings.

The 700-member staff, dressed in period costume, are bound to get you in a festive mood whether it be through a melodramatic farce on stage at the Swan Theatre, a knights joust in full armor on horseback, or just a little ribbing as you walk along. Characters like Ded Bob, Magical Mystical Michael and Sir Ryosus help keep the mood light. And there's always an event on the grounds.

Mistress Moana casts a menacing glance at festival goers as she and her fellow "Vulgarians" stir up trouble.

THERE'S EVEN an open air pub with entertainment that serves imported English beer and includes part of a real pub brought over from the old country. Cyril Lilly, an Englishman celebrating his birthday at Watneys Pub sald it's quite authentic.

And while most visitors to the festival don't come quite as far, they seem to have just as much fun.

"My son challenged me (to dueling buckets)," said a somewhat damp Kathy Poole of Livonia. "I won. You don't often win with a kid," she added with a laugh. "They set the tone so that it's really fun."

And rain or shine, the festival goes on.

The event runs every Saturday and Sunday and Labor Day through the last weekend in September. Crowds for the opening weekend, which included a rainy Saturday, exceeded 20,000, most from Oakland County, Burkhard said. Yet the wide "streets" of the festival and large

And many visitors are happy just to walk through the myriad of craft shops, which include weaving to glass blowing to the making of knight's armor. Others find it easy enough to stop at one of several stages to see a play, a puppet show or a magic act. And games for kids of all ages abound. What festival celebrating the 16th century in Europe would be complete without archery? Kids can joust on Fight the Knight, use their balance on Hunker Hauser and get all wet with Dueling Buckets.

parking area make it easy to get around.

ONE OF THE most popular events of all is the Joust. Three times a day, knights take arms, first on horseback, and then on foot, to win honor and glory before the king and his court. The lances break for real, but the knights survive intact, except for the verbal barbs of the crowd.

All kidding aside, the event coincides with the Harvest celebrations of earlier times. And for many actors, magicians and singers, it's a chance to display their talents.

Festival staff can be amateur actors to professional minstrels who play at the pub. And there are enough of them to keep visitors continually entertained.

And that's the festival's goal, to make sure those who enter this "kingdom" of a bygone era let go of their daily cares for an afternoon.

That quality of make-believe is an essential ingredient of the festival's success, says M'Arch McCarty, who along with his wife Janet serve as King Edward and Queen Katheryne.

"When I welcome visitors I say 'I am King Edward here, today, and you are whoever you want to be,' "said McCarty, who works as an actor throughout the year. "And it's true — for awhile."

The Michigan Renaissance Festival runs consecutive weekends, through Sept. 28-29, on Dixie Highway, one mile north of Mt. Holly. Hours are 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Admission is $9.95 for adults at the gate ($8.75 in advance); $4.95 for children at the gate ($4 advance). For information, call 645-9640

Leave summer behind at state fall festivals

The leaves are coming.

In two weeks they will begin their crisp colorful descent across the Upper Peninsula. By the end of the month they will cross the Mackinac Bridge and begin to stain the ground around Mackinaw City and Traverse City.

By mid-October they will wrap their gold and green glory around Bay City and central Michigan, moving on south like a freight train of autumn color until they reach us in mid-October.

You can't stop them. Nature is in charge. They will roll down I-75 past Dayton and Cincinnati, through the mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee, painting the world with their color and marking our calendars with the promise of winter to come.

For many of us, it is a favorite time of year, a time of autumn festivals and weekend getaways, with the kids in school and the heat of summer fading away.

You like festivals? Check out the action this weekend, Sept. 6-8, at either the Michigan Wine and Harvest Festival in Kalamazoo and Paw Paw or the Michigan Potato Festival in Posen and Ed-

Or start at the western end of the UP with the Sept. 14-15 Octoberfest in Copper Harbor, hit the Ewen Log-Jam-Boree Sept. 27-28 and end up Oct. 11-12 at either the Pumpkintest in Bessemer or the Octoberlest in Iron Mountain.

There's an Oct. 4-6 Red Flannel Festival in Cedar Springs and an Oct. 11-13 Oktoberfest in Frankenmuth. Call toll-free (800) 5432-YES for a booklet called Michigan Fall Secrets from the Michlgan Travel Bureau.

It will tell you about the three Great Lakes circle tours posted around lakes Michigan, Huron or Rides In Fenton. Did somebody say cider mills? We've got a million of them, starting with Adrien and Armada and ending with Ypsilanti. Check the state book for addresses.

And if you'd rather hang out a sign that reads "gone fishin'," we've got a million fishing tournaments for you.

We like to think that nobody else in the world has color like Michigan's color, but you can follow it down Interstate 75 to the mountains north of Atlanta before it begins to fade. To the lighthouse at Big Bay Point

By John Monaghan special writer

When the sun sets on Lake Superior, you'll know where to find the guests of the Big Bay Point Lighthouse. In the tower, high among the bluffs, I joined in the show as the glowing orange hall bid another good night to the Upper Peninsula

I had arrived just an hour before to find a pink sheet of paper taped to my bedroom door. Innkeepers Buck and Marilyh Gotschall leave these for all overnight guests, a tongue-in-cheek description of dutles while staying overhight. According to the innkeepers, Big Bay Lighthouse is the only privately owned and operated lighthouse on the Great Lakes and the only one in the country where guests sleep right on the premises. The Gotschalls bought the historic 1896 brick structure in 1986 and immediately opened it as an inn.

"Guests like the mile of shoreline," Buck said. "It's rocky and craggy and good for rock-hound-

Buck is a great kidder who picked up tennis at age 50 and has since whipped players half his age in statewide tournaments. He's also an avid sailor and pilot with his own airstrip and plane 100 feet from the front door. Marilyn, meanwhile, is a world traveler.

The breakfast conversation, as a result, is especially fascinating. Stories about Italian vacations. About the bear who ran into the woods with a trash can. About Buck's growing-up years in the same Indiana town where James Dean lived.

Big Bay Lighthouse has all the warmth and friendliness you expect from a great bed and breakfast, but it's not a luxury stay. Like the craggy_rocks on which it sits. the lighthouse is more than a little rough around the edges.

During my visit, tools and books were piled high on a stair landing. The homey, cluttered common rooms displayed postcards and Tshirts for sale. Some corners needed redecorating, others a simple straightening and dusting.

Six upstairs guest rooms, which command $65 to $165 per night, are sparsely decorated and comfortable. Some share bathrooms down the hall. The Tower Room, with its dramatic view of the lake, remains the most requested.

The guests gather after dark in the first-floor living room, where the great stone fireplace takes a bite out of the cold lake wind; the wind can beat flercely during a fall fish or brook trout in season. gale. Our conversation turned to William Pryor, the original Big Bay Point lighthouse keeper, who died under mysterious circumstances in 1901 and whose ghost reportedly roams the bluffs.

"He whispers to me in the spring to go fishing," Buck said. "I go, because I don't want a mad ghost around, but Marilyn doesn't hear him and she is getting suspicious!"

The second-floor library leads to a circular staircase and up to the tower, 120 feet above the water, where the light casts its beam. The current lighting apparatus is considerably smaller than the original Fresnel lens, which is on display in the foghouse.

Buck notes that it came from Parls with a list of 52 lighting instructions.

Breakfast is in two shifts, six guests each, during busy summer mornings, and it emphasizes the healthy and homegrown. We started with a whipped fruit drink of peaches, pears, apples, red raspberries and a touch of yogurt. Homebaked muffins came next, followed by delicious yogurt/buttermilk waffles. They serve white-

The innkeepers suggest (and so do I) the 41/2 hour $25 tour of Big Bay with friend and neighbor Jeff Ten Eyck. He guldes the adventurous to favorite spots, hopping stone-to-stone over rushing water or scaling medium-sized cliffs, Jeff caters to any guest, including the elderly or disabled, who wants to journey by van to hiking sites and enjoy a trail lunch of U.P. pastles.

The innkeepers have blazed a pleasant trail that begins as a treelined path, then ends in meadows along the Lake Superior bluffs, so you can like around the property. Explore the town restaurants and the spots made familiar by "Anatomy of a Murderer," the 1959 movie which was filmed here and in nearby Marquette.

For more information, contact Big Bay Point Lighthouse, No. 3 Lighthouse Road, Big Bay, Mich., 49808; (906) 345-9957. There's a two-day minimum on the weekend. During your second breakfast, you'll be upgraded to Senior Helper, but your only real responsibilities will be to relax and enjoy one of the country's most unusual bedand-breakfast experiences.

A fireplace at Big Bay Lighthouse bed and breakfast takes the bite out of the cold lake wind.

DESTINATION USA

• Washington, D.C.'s 200th birthday will be celebrated in grand style on Pennsylvania Avenue from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday and Monday Oct. 13-14, Columbus Day Weekend, when the city's first Taste DC festival is held. A quarter million people are expected to attend, with foods available from 30 of D.C.'s top restaurants. • The Chattanooga Choo-choo's Golden Anniversary Special tour leaves New York's Pennsylvania Station and whistle-stops through eight states before arriving in Chattanooga, Tenn. on Sept. 10.

The Choo-choo celebrates the 50th anniversary of the well-known Glen Miller recording and follows its route. The number of seats has been doubled from 200 to 400, so rates have been reduced to $2,225 single or $3,850 a couple.

That's a great deal more than anybody paid 50 years ago, but it includes air fare on Delta to New York City and back from Chattanooga plus hotels at either end. If you think that nothing could be finer than to be in Carolina in the morning, call the Chattanooga Convention and Visitors Bureau at (615) 756-8687.

• The National Civil Rights Museum opens Labor Day weekend in Memphis, Tenn., making it the first civil rights museum in the country. There are mixed reviews on this 10,000-square-foot museum built on the site of the Lorraine Motel, where Martin Luther King Jr, was killed on April 4, 1968. The museum will have 15 interac-

• The Michiana Mennonite Relief Sale may not sound like a worldshaking event but quilt-lovers wait for it all year. It takes places 6 a.m. to mid-afternoon Sept. 28 at the 4H Fairgrounds in Goshen, Ind.

The quilt auction is at 8 a.m., antique auction at 8:30 a.m. and the new and used auction and 9 a.m. There's an open house 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sept. 27 if you want to look at what's coming up. Free admission and parking.

The sale is a means of raising funds for the Worldwide Relief Program of the Mennonite Central Committee, now in its 72nd year. This is the highlight event of the year in Indiana Amish country.
