WANTS MAYOR TO PAY UP

COUNCILMEN TALKED THINGS TO NORTHVILLE'S VILLAGE PRESIDENT MONDAY NIGHT.

THEY CLAIM BALANCE OF $34 IS STILL DUE FOR HOUSE WIRING.

The council session of last week at times looked rather stormy. The members brought up the matter of the balance due the village for electric wiring and material used in Mayor Scotten's residence. This was done previous to last March and while a part of the bill was paid there is still a balance of $33.50 unsettled. President Scotten claimed he was overcharged for material and refused to pay. Some time ago he practically dared the council to shut off his lights, making a point that the ordinance providing shut off only referred to delinquents for juice. He told the councilmen they might sue him, but some one would get their fingers burned if they shut him off.

A committee was appointed to ascertain if the President had been overcharged for material. They did find comparatively lower prices in Detroit, but Supt Wilkinson stated that all Northville people had been similarly charged and what profit resulted went into the village treasury to help make up the loss for labor, etc. However, no official report, so far as can be learned, was made to the council by the investigating committee as to whether any overcharge had been made.

Thus the matter has been hanging fire until last week Monday night. Members of the council called Mr. Scotten's attention to the fact that as village president he ought to set the example of prompt pay and if he had any grievance he should then bring in a claim for rebate. It was stated that other people in town were now holding back $300 for wiring and fixtures because of his example in refusing to pay up.

No one made a motion to shut off the president's lights although it is said there were apparently plenty of votes to carry the question. Councilman Montgomery intimated that in case of a law suit they would find the village had more money to spend than the president thought they had.

MISS MAE SHEPPARD, GRAND OPERA STAR AND DRAMATIC SOPRANO AT CHAUTAUQUA LAST YEAR.

FEW people are capable judges of music from the technical standpoint, but every one appreciates the work of a real artist. It appeals to all. They like to see grace and charm, stately bearing and poise. They like to hear a true tone, earnest and clear enunciation of words. Grand opera selections and great airs are appreciated by them, but along with these they desire to hear some of the familiar harmonies and the best of the new popular songs.

All these requirements mentioned are fulfilled in the songs and selections for the last day's concert of our Chautauqua. Miss Mae Sheppard, dramatic and lyric soprano, will present a varied program. In the afternoon she will give popular and operatic selections and in the evening will appear in Arabian costume, singing a cycle of oriental love songs.

that the president thought they had. Councilman Fisher thought the example set by the president was poor policy and that it had a bad effect on other people who had and were having work done. If there was any thing wrong with the bills he said the proper course was to ask for a reimbursement. Nearly all the other members took a hand in the controversy. Finally one of the members suggested a new ordinance, permitting the shutting off of juice in case of non-payment of labor or material. Some of the councilmen are so wrought up over the matter however that at an adjourned meeting to be held next Monday night they say there will be some real doings in the bill isn't paid.

What makes the matter all the worse in the eyes of the council, is the fact that Supt Wilkinson, on a call by President Scotten, went to his house last month and did more wiring for him, notwithstanding the fact that the president is still a delinquent.

DELIGHTFUL BIRTHDAY GATHERING.

A very delightful birthday gathering was held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Jennie White in honor of the 55th birthday of her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Dunlap Swift. Nearly thirty relatives were present, a party of ten coming from Detroit, and others from Pontiac, South Lyon and California, besides those from Northville.

Mrs. Swift, who looks far younger than her nearly four score and ten years, enjoyed the occasion thoroughly. She received some handsome gifts, besides an abundance of beautiful flowers. As souvenirs of the anniversary, Mrs. Swift presented the guests with photographs of herself.

GRISWOLD HOUSE'S NEW ATTRACTIONS

QUARTET OF SINGERS AND EXPERT DANCERS WITH YOUR EVENING MEAL.

One of the biggest attractions ever attempted in a Detroit cafe is now on the program at the Griswold House dining room in that big city. Besides the elegant diners that are being served under the direction of Fred Postel, the genial president and Charles Postel the popular secretary of the big Postel Hotel Co., there are gathered a trio of singers and dancing couple that even New York city cannot boast of having any superior talent.

In the dining room's center has been erected an attractive raised platform for the singers and dancers. The singers are Signor Bartolotto, Miss Sartord and Mrs. McFee. They are all well known to lovers of music and appear in solos and duets in a very charming manner.

The dancers, Jack Reid and Gaby Ross are certainly whirlwinds, doing all the latest tangos and hesitations and several other steps not down on the programs outside of New York and Paris. The special program is from 8:30 to 9:00 and 11:30 to 12:00 p.m.

The splendid dining service is still under the popular direction of Will H. White, the artist of artists in dining room management.

NOTICE.

Having leased an office in the new Asefium Theatre block on Main street, I am prepared to do all kinds of house electric wiring in first class shape. Will also keep on hand all varieties of fixtures. Contrary to the current report, I am in no way connected with the village or Sam Wilkinson. Office phone number 149, temporary office at home on Carpenter Avenue, phone 86.

FOURTH ANNUAL HOLMES REUNION

HELD AT THE ROBERT TERKES HOME ON THE BASE LINE, NORTHVILLE.

The fourth annual Holmes reunion was held Thursday, August 6th, at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Northville. The day was pleasant for such an occasion. Relatives were present from Grand Rapids, Dexter, Novi, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Toledo, Buffalo and Northville, total number of fifty-six. Greetings were received from Mr. and Mrs. Earnard Jarmin, Spokane, Wash., Miss Lucy S. Norton, Bellingham, Wash., Mrs. P. C. Lamb, Alamoso, Colo., Mr. R. B. Norton and Miss K. A. Norton, Arkansas City, Kansas, Mrs. F. A. Jack and Mrs. P. C. Bramhall, Memphis, Tenn., Mrs. Mary E. Parker, Mrs. Eunice W. Kirtledge, Mrs. Chas. Filson and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Geleron, Frankfurt-Mech., Mrs. Anna Co'by and Miss Lizzie Holmes, Rochester, New York, and Mrs. Helen S. Norton, Howell.

The dinner which was both beautiful in quantity and excellent in quality was served on the lawn. Following the dinner was the business meeting called to order by the president, D. P. Yerkes.

The secretary read the report of last year's gathering and spoke briefly of the greetings received from absent relatives. The treasurer, Prof. Steator, made an excellent report, showing that the finances of the clan are in good hands. Mr. Steator also showed and explained a genealogical chart prepared by himself outlining the Holmes' descendants for five generations. This was greatly enjoyed especially by the older ones and the appreciation of the relative was shown by extending to him a unanimous vote of thanks.

The past year the Holmes clan has been depleted by the death of three of its members, and increased by four births and two marriages. The deaths are, the wife of Arthur Holmes last September, Bernice Calkins VanCamp in February, and the wife of R. B. Norton in June. The births are, a son to Charles and Laura Bassett last August, a son to Charles and Edith Norton in January, a son to Perry and Emma Lamb in February, and a son to George and Martha Whelan in March. The marriages are Dorothy Youngs to Morris Stevens, Maryland, Washington and Mary Steator to William Paton, Ann Arbor.

Old and young participated joyously in the variety of sports offered, tennis, quarts and ball being the most in favor. One pleasant feature of the day was the reunion songs written for the occasion. The following real reunion song, written by Mrs. Martha Norton Winchell was sung.

BALL TOURNAMENT DREW BIG CROWD

REDFORD WON THE FINAL IN THE THREE DAY CONTEST.

Northville's three day tournament of ball games and horse races drew a big crowd of people from the village and surrounding towns. With the big sums of money up there was much excitement over the ball games, each team coming loaded to win, with supporting rooters accompanying them.

Dearborn and Plymouth played the first day, Thursday, with a resulting score of 17 to 0 in favor of Plymouth, the losses-receiving $20 as a consolation.

Friday's game was an eleven inning one and lots of people missed their suppers, getting home so "all-fired" late. But Redford hooked their enemy for centuries—Farmington by just one point, 8 to 7. The latter team also received a purse of $20.

The winners of these two days' games fought it out on the diamond, Saturday and Redford managed to hold Plymouth down to 2 scores while they themselves ran up 9 and consequently, pocketed the cash prize of $50.

NEARLY EVERY ABLE-BODIED MAN IN GREAT COUNTRIES OF EUROPE IS ON THE MOVE

French troops on the march, and auto trucks used in mobilizing Russian army.

All Europe is on the jump. Paris is aflame with excitement. For over three hours President Poincaré was in continuous conference with his cabinet ministers, and other conferences immediately followed, after which activity began throughout the army. Six army corps are fully prepared to move over the frontier on a moment's notice, being fully provisioned and equipped to entrain without delay. Through every French village regiments are passing to minor concentration points, many with aeroplanes scouting overhead. To facilitate the hurried mobilization of 1,280,000 men in answer to the czar's ukase, automobile trucks of the latest type are being used to transport the Russian troops to the various points of mobilization.

FRANCE HAS ARMORED MODERN WAR TRAINS

France has just added to her equipment the most modern of fighting devices. It is a train of armored cars and rapid-fire guns, coming towers and fighting tops. As a death-dealing war apparatus it is the most modern thing ready for the use of any of the nations. This battleship on wheels consists of an armored locomotive, two rapid-fire guns and carriages and two armored cars for transporting troops. The rapid-fire guns are mounted in such a manner that they can be swung and directed at any point of the compass. Rising from the car behind the locomotive is a conning tower, from which an officer takes observations and directs the rapid-fire guns. Rails running on tops of the cars permit troops firing from the roofs of the cars. For opening railway communications this battleship on wheels is expected to prove unexcelled.

Immigration Law Modified.

Russia is about to legitimize the emigration of her surplus millions to countries other than Europe. The cost of passports will be reduced to 10 cents and the semi-annual fine of $7.50 inflicted on absentees who have been more than six months abroad will be abolished. Emigration agents are to be imprisoned if they hold out false inducements. Last year $30,000,000 was remitted to Russia by Russians who had settled in the United States.

PROPOSES TO ROT IN JAIL BEFORE PAYING TAX

Cashill, Mich.—"I'll rot in jail before I'll pay a tax on my little doggie that never goes out of the yard to bother any one. I've never paid a tax on them, and I never will." So spoke Mrs. Elizabeth Staples from the women's apartments of the county jail. And then she sobbed bitterly. Mrs. Staples is a widow and owns considerable real estate in this city, also two dogs on which the city, even by threats, has been unable to collect a tax. Collector after collector has been chased from the Staples' yard. Finally Mrs. Staples was arrested, charged with keeping two dogs without paying a license. She pleaded guilty and was given the alternative of paying a fine of $30 or spending five days in jail. Today she chose to go to jail. No tax has been paid on the dogs. Mrs. Staples is 50 years old.

MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION

Here is News That Will Make Many Wives Rejoice. The most important National question today is whether or not we will have nationwide prohibition. The question has been agitated time and time again and those who have relatives under the influence of the liquor habit will be glad to learn that, though nationwide prohibition may not be a thing of the immediate future, there is hope for every drinking man and woman today. No loss of time, no inconvenience, no publicity. Results that are certain and pleasing have always followed the Neal 3 Day Way, which is a scientific, thorough course of treatment. The treatment may be administered at home, though best results follow treatment in one of the home-like, comfortable sanitariums where every surrounding is congenial and pleasant. Full details of the cost and treatment will be sent to all who send a postal, all correspondence confidential. Send the names of those addicted to the habit and steps will be taken to rescue them. Address Neal Institute, either at 71 Sheldon Ave., Grand Rapids, or 821 Woodward Ave., Detroit.

BIG WAR WILL COST 54 MILLIONS A DAY

The cost of a general war in Europe, involving eight of the mighty powers, would be $19,795,625,000 a year, according to Dr. Charles Richet, statistician of the University of Paris. If such a war comes, and lasts at least five years, as diplomats are certain it will do, the cost of the war, without indemnity claims, would reach the amazing total of $88,778,125,000. These figures are based on the cost of a general war involving only Germany, England, France, Russia, Italy, Austria, Serbia and Roumania. A war of this kind, it is feared, would not end in involving only the eight countries named, but would draw every European nation, large and small, into the conflict and increase the war cost far beyond the sum estimated for only eight powers. Dr. Richet prepared the following figures to show the daily cost of war involving the eight powers named:

Provisioning of troops	$12,500,000
Feed of horses	1,000,000
Pay for soldiers and sailors	4,250,000
Wagon (arsenals and harbors)	1,000,000
Mobilization	2,000,000
Transportation, arms, foodstuffs	4,000,000
Ammunition	5,000,000
Putting out army	4,000,000
Putting out navy	4,000,000
Ambulance service	500,000
Movement of ships	500,000
Requisition, property damage, etc.	2,000,000
Support for population without means	6,750,000
Deficit in taxes	10,000,000
Total daily cost	$54,000,000

No Pay Due Wife. Mrs. Herman M. Wendt of Jersey City, N. J., sued to have her claim against her husband given preference over other mortgages. She put in a claim for $1,000 which represented a loan and for $5,592 for services rendered for sixteen years as her husband's cook. Mrs. Wendt claimed she and her husband agreed that she was to be paid $6 a week. The court ruled that the claim be disallowed because the work performed in the home by the wife is in the nature of a duty.

Bringing the Judges. New York American:—Of course the passes were granted to persons of political influence. Their influence was expected to protect the railroads in their violation of the law, or to guard them against the enacting of other laws objectionable to them. So we find in the committee's report that passes numbering 7,370 were given to state senators and 10,622 to state representatives. But more significant even than this is the fact that 259 were given to judges.

Roosevelt Sued for Libel. Colonel Roosevelt has been sued for $50,000 libel by William Barnes, chairman of the New York republican committee. The colonel has been bitter in denunciation of Barnes and Charles Murphy.

Mr. Thompson had been enjoying himself during the day and appeared to be in the best of health. About 10:30 o'clock he was seized with a sinking spell, and Dr. Wellman was summoned and ordered Thompson taken to the hospital.

ANN ARBOR AGENT IS HELD UP; $300 TAKEN

Ann Arbor, Mich.—The Ann Arbor railroad station was robbed today of about $300 when two men, evidently professionals, covered the agent, Frank Maynard, and took every cent of cash in the place. This is the second robbery within two weeks, the first occurring two weeks ago, when Frank Miller, employed for some time at Durand and transferred to Ann Arbor 12 hours before, made away with $118 and has not been heard from since.

About 2 o'clock this morning Maynard was called to the ticket window, where he found himself covered by a revolver. The stranger demanded that he open the ticket office door, and Maynard unlocked it to find himself covered by another robber. Then the first man searched him and the cash drawer, took about $300 and backed away into the night, keeping Maynard covered during the entire time.

GIRL TAKEN FROM SISTER MOTHER PLACED IN ASYLUM

Saginaw, Mich.—Bert Weaver, of Flint, was given the custody of 7-year-old Irene Colja Solomon-Weaver, whom he adopted four years ago. Mr. and Mrs. William Wooley, of Saginaw, were directed by the granting of a habeas corpus writ to produce the child at once. This concludes a bitter fight between the sister of the girl involved and a family that adopted her after the mother had been committed to an asylum and the father didn't care to support her. William Solomon, of Saginaw, is the father.

Four years ago Capt. of Police Elmer Bishop took the girl from her father and placed her in a Day City home. The Weavers adopted her soon after. Mrs. Rose Wooley, the sister, has been in the custom of going to Flint and taking her sister for walks, most every week. Three weeks ago she took the child and brought her to Saginaw and refused to give her up, even when legal adoption papers were shown. Judge Gage, after a lengthy hearing, decided to grant Weaver the writ, and the child was given over.

CIVILIZATION IN WAR TIMES.

Our boasted twentieth-century civilization is receiving a series of jolts nowadays that makes us wonder where we are at in the way of progression from the ideas and ideals of the dark ages. We had fondly begun to believe that we had reached a plane where the barbarity of untaligent humans going out to slaughter other intelligent humans, had become a moral and sociological impossibility. We had accepted the explanation that the continued invention of marvelous and more marvelous appliances for the destruction of life and property was a certain deterrent of the carrying out of the purposes for which they were ostensibly intended. We swallowed with complacent relish the statements that the large and ever increasing standing-armies of some of the old world powers were merely guaranties that there couldn't possibly be war, as they were too civilized and sensible to fight, and that they didn't tackle each other anyway in the face of all the peace sentiment of an age of the highest Christian civilization. And now look at 'em! The veneer of civilization is dangerously thin after all. We only realize it more when we see it falling off nationally. Individually, we knew all the time it wouldn't stand much. We can see that the barbarian in mankind is very close to the surface when Northville or Detroit "kids" little or big get the idea that somebody is trying to impose upon them. From the streeturchin to the man of mature years, the generic impulse to engage in physical combat is not so very far beneath the surface. In a great majority of cases not everybody goes way to it to be sure, but who can say that he or she doesn't feel once in a while at least, like nothing physical violence upon somebody, under any of provocation. But the fact remains that war is certainly unjust for Christian nations to engage in, even though, as we are told, all the sovereigns are going into a paroxysm. Meanwhile the rest of a are trying to reconcile the facts and readjust our theories.

ALL THE WORLD MOURNS WITH OUR PRESIDENT.

In the irreparable personal loss that has come to the president of the United States in the midst of the multiplied cares of state, a world sympathizes. Across the rounded cables of the transatlantic come the messages of condolence over thousands of continent-crossing wires, and on speeding trains all over America. The heads of the world-land lands of Europe have for the moment laid aside all else to dictate personal words of sympathy and sorrow. The people whose privilege it was to know Mrs. Wilson personally, realize something of what she was to her husband; by what her broad humanitarianism, her beautiful life, her brilliant intellect and her artistic talents meant to her social and official environment. And a new side of a remarkable character is now revealed, when we know how the president has been facing for months this terror, the inevitable separation from her who was dearest of all on earth, whose wise counsels, tender sympathy and complete understanding of his high ideals of duty had helped him to ride with unwavering calm, the criticisms and attacks of those incapable of that understanding. No Spartan hero ever displayed more fortitude than did this man, as while facing the vision of death's cold hand coming nearer and nearer his loved one, he kept his hand or steel on the helm of the ship of state and his "forward look" toward the fulfillment of what are his ideals for his country.

Looks as if the U. S. would have to go to war after all--on the "powers" that boost food-staple prices without any reason except greed for money.

REUNION SONG. Tune: Traap, Traap, Traap. (By Martha Norton Wheelwell) Born to Northville have we come, We who bear the name of Holmpe, Back to meet and greet the friends we love so well. For the ties that bind our hearts Are the ties of flesh and blood, Stronger far than we are able now to tell.

Chorus— Come now let us all be thankful, That we bear so proud a name. Let us keep it all honor bright, Make it stand for all that's right, Never dimming it's fair lustre or it's fame.

In the days of long ago, Our brave fathers fought the wild And they made good homes and gave us loving care; Honor now is their just due, Gladly paid by me and you. For the things they taught us how to do and dare.

Chorus— Soon we all must part again, And return each to his task, For the world is full of work and sometimes rough; But we hope that each will stand At his post and in his place. 'Till he hears the Master say "It is enough."

Chorus— The other of a more humorous vein was enjoyed because of its luts on different members of the company.

An invitation was extended by the Ann Arbor contingent to hold the reunion next year with them the first Thursday in July, probably on "The Island."

Kaiser Wilhelm and his boys are on their toes for the fray. The emperor held a long secret conference with his sons at his Potsdam castle and paraded through the streets of Berlin at the head of a military procession. The kaiser also has held several conferences with the officers of his staff at the rendezvous of the German army near Potsdam.

Judgment.
When the dread day comes, with dissolving heat, and we all huddle up at the judgment seat, to hear what the Judge decrees—the quick from their gift of their drawing rooms, the dead from the dust of their ancient tombs, and those washed up by the seas—I think that many now smiling here, who think their titles are written clear, will find that there was a flaw, and some who wander in sink or slum, will enter into kingdom come, that hypocrite never saw. For the Judge, he reacheth the hearts of men, and the things writ there by life's iron pen, are stronger of evidence, and of no avail are the lip made lies of those who would sneak into paradise through a hole in the southeast fence.—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

A Lot of Influence
The following anecdote well illustrates the exalted position Sir Wilfrid Laurier occupies in the minds of the less educated French Canadian. Some years ago an illiterate old Canadian came into Quebec from the country, where he met a friend who he had not seen for years. In the course of conversation the old fellow happened to mention the name of Queen Victoria, and was much astonished to learn that she was dead. "Dead!" he echoed, "and who has taken her place?" When he was told that the Prince of Wales was now the ruler of the British Empire he exclaimed, "Go! The Prince must have a lot of influence with Sir Wilfrid to get a big job like that."—Tit-Bits.

Remarkable Bat Cave.
In a mountain near Montalban Luzon, there is a large cavern with many branching chambers and a central dome, two hundred feet in height perforating the mountain top from which, in December, 1907, Hugh M. Smith saw issue a solid column of bats, which flew rapidly in a straight line for fifteen minutes, disappearing over a mountain range in the direction of Manila, without a single bat having left the column. American engineers stationed there told Mr. Smith that the flight of bats had occurred at practically the same time each day during two years. From other sources it was learned that the phenomenon had been observed for at least thirty years.—Youth's Companion.

The Compliments of the Class.
The country schoolmistress sent word to the school that owing to an attack of illness, she would be compelled to dismiss the sessions for the day.
Towards evening she was pleased to receive a large bouquet of wildflowers from the class; and was giving vent to grateful speech for this thoughtful manifestation of sympathy, while she undid the wrapper, when this note fell from it:
"Teacher, stay sick to-morrow, too, and we'll send you another bunch!"

Providential Bowlegs.
"Providence," said the deacon, "sho' do look after de cullud race."
"How come?" demanded Brother Dickey.
"Well, hit's disaway: De nigger baby, ez dey say, walk too soon."
"Sho' do!" asserted Brother Dickey.
"Dat makes him bowlegged."
"Now you talkin'!"
"An' bowlegs is de mos' convenient east legs in de worl' fer climbin' a tree w'en a possum's on de top limb!"

At the Desert Interval.
Parson Prater (at dinner)—At this season there is no teaching of the Scriptures; that is more timely than the sentiment. The Lord loveth a cheerful giver. The Parson's Prodigy—Please, please me, another piece of pie, pop.—Boston Courier.

IS LEPROSY CONTAGIOUS?
Specialists Still Doubtful Whether One Person Can Give It to Another.
There is possibly no disease the presence of which inspires greater fear in the public mind than does leprosy. This is perhaps in a measure due to the loathsomeness of the disease in its later stages, but it is in most cases simply fear of a name.
The disease or diseases spoken of as leprosy in the Bible are popularly supposed to be the same as the leprosy of to-day, and the evident fear the leper inspired in the people of old is held to justify the dread with which he is still regarded. The Biblical descriptions do not, however, fit modern leprosy, so that whether the fear of the "leper" of olden times was or was not justified it should not be allowed to color the view with which the leper of to-day is regarded.
Leprosy in indeed an infectious disease, that is to say, it is due to the presence in the tissues of a bacillus, after the Norwegian physician who discovered it but whether it is contagious under the ordinary conditions of modern life in temperate climates, at least, is held by specialists in different cases of the skin to be very doubtful.
Of the few lepers known to the physicians in all the larger cities some are cared for in hospitals, others live at home and visit the clinics of the doctor's office from time to time, yet an instance in which another person has acquired the disease from any of these lepers is unknown.
There are many diseases more to be dreaded than leprosy because more rapidly fatal, more painful or more contagious; yet none of them except perhaps smallpox is more feared.
The illogical terror of leprosy may be the cause of great cruelty to those afflicted. There are thousands of people who show culpable indifference to the enforcement of the laws against spitting in public places, although they know full well that the success of the crusade against tuberculosis hinges largely upon care in this regard. Yet these same persons would fly in horror from any place that had harbored a leper.

Arbitrated.
Conversation among travellers is frequently absurdly trivial. After several days together, as on shipboard, every one is idle, and talks about the most unimportant matters with the deepest interest. R. H. Milligan, in a book entitled "The Jungle Folk of Africa," recounts with what complacency the conclusion was reached that the thirteen colonies should never have rebelled, and that the blame was all on the side of England.
One man, moreover, disclosed the fact that he always wore safety-pins instead of garters, and descanted upon his preference with such enthusiasm that he made at least one convert.
One night we put in practice the principle of arbitration, of which we were all adherents. An argument had arisen among us as to which was the more simple of the two currency systems, dollars and cents, or pounds, shillings and pence. At last, the captain arriving, we decided to refer the matter to him, and to surrender our judgment to his arbitration.
The captain, an Englishman of the very stolid sort, after a period of reflection, replied very slowly, and with all the gravity of a judge:
"Pounds, shillings and pence is the simpler system; for, don't you know that when you are told the price of a thing in dollars and cents you always have to convert it into pounds, shillings and pence."
There was a little objection to this theory, but in general it was perfectly satisfactory so long as the voyage lasted.

PLAIN AND STRIPED
The all-white dress is always effective. In this one stripes of sponge weave make the contrast between the two kinds of crepe used. The lower third of the skirt is of the stripe and a crosswise band of the same trims the tunic.
The vest is of plain white net with pearl ball buttons and a tiny bow of lawn embroidery. Like that, need for the trimming.

GOLF A SERIOUS STRAIN.
Not Instinct, but Habit.
If anything in the entire animal kingdom would seem to be a matter of pure instinct, that thing is the traditional antipathy of cat and mouse. Yet a recent study by G. S. Berry, made in Professor Munsterberg's laboratory at Harvard, shows pretty clearly that a cat has no instinctive impulse to kill and eat mice—nor the mouse any instinctive fear of cats. Berry finds that a mouse may, smell the nose of an inexperienced cat, or even perch on its back, and be quite safe, so long as it does not run away.
For the instinct of the kitten is to chase any small moving object—ball, spool, rill, mouse—indifferent. It is not the mouse that interests it, but the mouse in motion. Some day, often by accident, the kitten plays too roughly with its captive, and discovers that there is meat inside. It is well known that cats specialize their hunting, some catching mice, some squirrels, some birds. In each case, it depends on accidents of discovery. A good mouser, then, is not a cat with a strong instinct for catching mice, but one with a strong habit of doing so.
Advice From the Bench.
Some years ago many farmers along the line of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway brought suit against it and engaged a young lawyer named Brown. Judge Gantt who was presiding, was compelled to throw many of the cases out of court because they were improperly brought. Brown was mad all over. Swelling with indignation, he arose and said: "Your Honor, will you please tell me how it is possible in this court to get justice against a railroad company?"
Judge Gantt quietly ignored the contempt of court shown by the lawyer and asked: "Do you wish an answer to that question, Mr. Brown?"
"Yes, sir," defiantly replied the indignant lawyer; "yes, sir, and I want to know how a farmer can get his case into this court so that it will be heard."
Judge Gantt smiled and said: "Well, first, Mr. Brown, I'd advise the farmer to hire a lawyer."
Brown wilted.—Cleveland Leader.

Woman Champion Cotton Picker.
The world's record for cotton picking is held by Miss Margaret Montgomery, of Stillwater, Okla. In a four-hour contest she picked 350 pounds, or eighty-seven and a half pounds an hour. She defeated crack cotton pickers from all parts of the cotton-growing belt, averaging about five pounds an hour more than her nearest competitor. Miss Montgomery is the daughter of a wealthy cotton grower and she picks only for her own amusement. There were men and women in the field against her. For three hours she easily led everybody then she began to lag from weary arms and cramps in the fingers. She lacked the training of the others but showed her pick by holding on and retaining her lead until the time limit expired.

Cultivate Friendliness.
It is the self-centered hero who laves bold of us—it is ever the comradeship of heroes. Dumas' "Three Musketeers" (and the Gascon who made the greater fourth, with their oath, "Each for all, and all for each," inherit that "slavdom of romance." Now seldom one pauses to think of the infinite meaning of friendliness, how little it costs and how ever-widening is its circumference.
Had Sensitive Ear for Music.
A Munich servant girl has given no rest because she says her mistress persists in playing classical music for a couple of hours every morning, although she has not the slightest notion how it should be interpreted.

DETROIT THEATRES

AT THE GAYETY

In spite of war rumors the Gayety is turning the crowds away, for the shows this year are certainly well worth while. Preliminaries of the road shows which have been rehearsing at the Gayety have attracted a whole lot of attention, the present attraction being one of the brightest and best that has been seen in this city for a long, long time. The formal opening, or rather the start of the outside "wheel" shows that will appear will be the Prize Winners on August 16th. This show has already received splendid praise where seen. It comes with a wealth of new scenery and will incorporate a lot of new burlesque material never seen before, the costumes are gorgeous and the scenery superb. The large cast is headed by Joe Howard, whose reputation is second to none as a comedian of the modern school, assisted by that sprightly little lady, Mable McCann, who is a real Detroit favorite. The matinees at the Gayety are for the ladies as well as men, and are liberally patronized by the fair ones who enjoy a clean, snappy show of the high character presented by manager Rhodes this season.

AT THE FOLLY

The Folly opened with one of the brightest shows in many a month when Hugh Shurt's Folly Burlesquers took the stage. The theatre has been prettily re-decorated, and renovated. The stage has a new floor and there are many other improvements. The opening overture was scarce over when the curtain rose to reveal a scene really unique—this was a huge gambling hall with rich steps ascending in the rear. The chorus, all sprightly and with many new faces came on in new costumes of real richness, and from the opening number, to the close the music was real treat. John A. Grant, who is one of the principal fun makers, is responsible for most of the music and has scored a hit with his Cabaret and Oriental special numbers. Tom Beeson, as usual, came in for a lot of applause and laughs with his whistle and smirk, reminding one of the old days. Lou Golden made a characteristic hit with Babe Rae and Hazel Grant scoring heavily. Connie Lehr Fuhler, Freddie Bender and others all played their parts with true professional rest. Hugh Shurt has a mighty good show, and one that should make good over the circuit this season. "Jimmie" Grant, who has done so much to improve the house and who looks after the publicity, deserves a lot of praise for the good results he has accomplished; the coming attraction, Gay Widows, will be a whirlwind and one who delights in a rich burlesque of the better sort should fail to run in and see the show at the Folly when in the city.
Safe Investment for Small Investors.
To be able to place your savings, in as small sums as $5 a month, and receive a full 5 per cent income, without state taxation, is the ideal manner of laying up for a rainy day.
The most satisfactory and secure method of investing money is to put it into first mortgage gold bonds, but usually these can only be procured in large amounts, and for cash it is a pleasure to learn that such first mortgage gold bonds can now be purchased in lots of $100 to $1,000, and paid for $5 a month, or more as desired.
The first mortgage gold bonds mentioned are those issued by the German American Loan & Trust Co., Ltd., of Detroit, Michigan, and are based on the very choicest Detroit realty—the most exceptional and safe security on earth (in fact just such security as the banks themselves use). The 5 per cent income is far better than the usual 3 per cent to 4 per cent paid by banks and money invested may be withdrawn as desired, anytime.
No state taxation make these mortgage bonds yield their full interest at all times. For the man or woman with insurance money, extra savings or looking for a means of increasing the earning power of their funds it will be well to drop a postal today for the free information sent to all who address Dept. M, German American Loan & Trust Co., Ltd., 84 Griswold St., Detroit, Mich.
