Head injury patients finding rehabilitation

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

If you met Tim Gullet on the street, you'd never guess he once spent 2 1/4 months in a coma.

The former Westland resident seems like a regular guy with a regular job, working on the assembly line at Applied Process, a Livonia steel processing company.

But it has taken Gullet, 23, more than four years to put his life back together after hurtling through his windshield as he lost control of his car while entering the Fisher Freeway. The Sept. 29, 1984, accident left Gullet with a long list of injuries, including brain damage.

Much of the credit for his recovery goes to the Brant Rehabilitation Center on Palmer, west of Merriman, Westland, Gullet said.

"I never thought I was going to make it," he said. "The people (staff) here have really helped me work through my problems."

The center, in a former elementary school, has been providing therapy for victims of closed head Injuries since April 1987.

IT PROVIDES physical therapy, speech therapy, neuropsychological evaluation, counseling and other services for people struggling to recover from serious accidents or assaults.

The center is run by the Brant Services Corp., a private, non-profit organization that provides services and housing for the disabled. The corporation also operates group homes in western Wayne and Oakland Counties.

It is financed through state money and with contributions from the insurance industry.

APPROXIMATELY 700,000 closed head injuries occur nationally each year, leaving 70,000-90,000 people permanently disabled, according to statistics compiled by the National Head Injury Foundation.

Facilities like the Brant Center are a relatively new phenomenon, said Adrienne James, executive director.

"Up until about 10 years ago, there really wasn't much being done for people in this situation," James said. "In many cases, once the patient left the hospital, treatment was stopped."

PREVIOUSLY, VICTIMS of serious head injuries might move in with relatives, she said. Or be placed in nursing homes or state institutions. In either case, therapy might be discontinued.

"Before this kind of treatment became popular, people essentially gave up on accident victims, allowing them to spend the rest of their

Resource card under review by teen group

By Tedd Schneider

A teen resource card/directory that could include phone numbers for area counseling agencies is one of several projects being studied by the Wayne-Westland school district's teen development committee, the group's director said Friday.

Lisa Johnson said the idea for the card or directory was being looked at by a subcommittee and a report to the full committee on the feasibility of the project would probably be scheduled for a meeting next month.

Romulus and other school districts in western Wayne County have issued similar directories in the past.

"It would be something that is concise and to the point," Johnson said. "Something that kids will be able to use easily if they need it."

Johnson said specifics for the project haven't been finalized.

"The subcommittee is still in the process of determining what the needs of the community are," she said.

THE COMMITTEE is concentrating on six health-risk areas outlined in its recommendation to the school board last June.

They are substance abuse, mental health, sexual behavior, safety, nutrition and positive health habits.

Members are using surveys taken by Wayne-Westland secondary students and parents last year to develop programs utilizing resources currently available in the community.

In addition to studying new programs, the committee has supported several community outreach efforts sponsored by other groups since last fall, Johnson said. These efforts included support for an AIDS workshop sponsored by the United Methodist Church of Wayne and a Positive Parenting Seminar co-sponsored by the Wayne-Westland Substance

Fewer members ends senior club

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

The Young at Heart Club for elderly people, one of the first social groups affiliated with Westland's Friendship Center, voted to disband late last month, ending its 18-year existence.

"People (members) get older and leave the club, or they die, and it's hard to replace them," said Nancy Aikman, club president for the past five years.

The club had 23 members when the decision was made to fold, down from 75 during its prime in the mid-1970s, Aikman said.

Aikman said the decision was "heartbreaking" for some of the longtime members.

She said 18 people attended the final meeting, a luncheon at the Mountain Jack's restaurant in Dearborn Heights and reminisced about "the early days when there was a waiting list to join."

"Hopefully, people will stay in touch and maybe we can have a picnic or some other kind of reunion next summer," she said.

THE MOVE signals a growing trend in senior activities at the Friendship Center, according to Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, executive director of the city's senior resources department.

"Interests have shifted and we're seeing younger, more active seniors with a variety of interests," Kozorosky-Wiacek said.

The director said the club concept is fading and that many participants prefer to spend time at specific activities, an exercise class or a travel program, for example.

Zits, Pat, Vanna: 'Fortune' gossip is final reward

By M.B. Dillon
staff writer

Westland's Carol Matuszewski and Carol Levitte of Plymouth Township have defied the Andy Warhol Principle of each of us being famous for 15 minutes.

Levitte and Matuszewski were celebrities for 30 minutes. Both won cash on "Wheel of Fortune" game shows filmed a few months apart in California.

Matuszewski, who tends bar at Bennigans in Plymouth Township, solved two puzzles and won $1,750. The show she was in aired Dec. 13.

Levitte's hello to Hollywood was filmed earlier this month and will be broadcast at 7 p.m. Monday, Feb. 20, on Channel 4. Levitte won $8,700 and made it to the bonus round, where she went for the "Exotic Dream," a $38,000 Lamborghini. The puzzle stumped Levitte. She is anxious to see whether anyone watching Feb. 20 can solve it.

LEVITTE, A Plymouth attorney, had heard that another area woman was on the show recently, and for weeks was trying to find her. All Levitte knew was that she worked as a local bartender.

Celebrating in Bennigans after returning from California early this month, Levitte was telling a friend about the experience. She had just about given up hopes of finding Matuszewski.

"The waitress said, 'Oh, my sister was on 'Wheel of Fortune,'" she said.

Levitte and Matuszewski finally met recently at Bennigans, where they shared experiences and a few laughs.

"It was so much fun the whole day. It was like being in a different world," Matuszewski said.

"You potentially can go home with $100,000. It's a legitimate high. It's a real strange feeling," Levitte said. "It's a tingly feeling. It's a real big letdown afterwards."

MATUSZEWSKI "MADE a trip out of it," she said.

"We got a beach house in Newport Beach for the week. Everyone in my family came but my dad. He had to work.

Matuszewski said that when she solved the first puzzle, "Pat Sajak came over and congratulated me. I said, 'Oh My God, it's really Pat Sajak.' That's when I almost lost it."

Matuszewski solved a puzzle in the "thing" category — Sunday brunch.

"We have them here so that was easy," the Franklin High School graduate said.

Matuszewski also solved a "game name" puzzle — "Tom and green Thumb."

"We played four, and I won two of four, and $1,750," she said. "For half an hour's work, I thought, 'That's not bad at all.'"

Mum's the word on Levitte's show until after it airs.

LEVITTE AND Matuszewski were among 30 contestants selected from a pool of 600 tested in Detroit a few months ago. The thought crossed Levitte's mind that she could "be held in contempt," she said.

"I missed a deposition to go to that tryout," she said.

Both decided to plan family vacations around the show, because "they don't pay for airfare, hotel or anything," Levitte said.

Contestants are given 45 seconds to introduce themselves to the television audience. The former deputy racing commissioner said hello to her nine sisters, two brothers, mom and dad.

"Pat Sajak said, 'You left out Donner and Blitzen.' I did forget my husband, Jim, kids Jamie and John, and my daughter's boyfriend," Levitte said.

"I ended up with 'Go Tigers!'" Matuszewski said.

THE CONTESTANTS compared impressions of Vanna White and Sajak.

"We're viewing Vanna as an overpaid letter turner," Levitte said.

"She does her job very well. They had her read the more difficult lines instead of Pat Sajak. And she moves on that stage. She doesn't waste film. She's extremely plain, and short. I can tell her head is too big for her body. But she wears clothes well."

"Pat is a short guy, too," Matuszewski said. "I got to admit, he has a good sarcastic sense of humor."

LEVITTE COMPETED against a Chicago advertising executive.

"She was breaking out she was so nervous. They gave her a glass of Coke, and she was shaking and spilling it over herself," Levitte said. "She was frantic, and every half hour, it got worse. At one point, she said, 'Oh my God, there's a zit on my face.'"

Matuszewski competed with "two guys," she said.

"One was from California," she said. "They were pretty much duds. I was all excited. I said, 'Come on! This is it!' They're like, 'Yeah.' One guy won $3,050. The other guy didn't win anything."

What are the winners going to do with their cash?

"After taxes, roof the house and maybe buy a used car," Levitte said. "I may as well be practical since I won't be able to get my Exotic Dream."

"It paid for my trip," Matuszewski said.

lives in non-productive ways," James said.

For staff members, the work is rewarding, yet painstaking, said Joseph Youngs, vocational services manager for the center.

"As a therapist, you naturally want to see as much progress with your client as fast as possible," Youngs said. "But working with these types of injuries, it's a lifetime process. You don't see much change from day to day."

TWELVE CLIENTS currently are using the Brant Rehabilitation

Center, the director said. They come from all over the metropolitan Detroit area.

Part of the therapy includes a sheltered workshop, where clients train for eventual full- or part-time employment so that they can be self-supporting.

Abuse Task Force and Annapolis Hospital.

The teen development committee (formerly the teen health assessment committee) found itself embroiled in controversy last year when it announced it would use the surveys to determine the need for a teen health center for the district.

The health center idea, which drew opposition from local residents concerned about possible distribution of birth control information or contraceptives, was never recommended.

JOHNSON'S PROGRAM is being funded by a $20,000 grant from the Michigan Department of Public Health. She took over as project director from Rebecca Cabral last spring after Cabral left for a position in Atlanta.

The 18-member committee consists of volunteers from the school district and professionals in the communities served by the district. It includes one high school student and one parent representative.

The committee meets the second Thursday of each month, at 9 a.m. in the United Care administrative office, (formerly the Peoples Community Hospital Authority) on Annapolis at Venoy, Wayne. Meetings are open to the public.

Johnson said there have been no public opposition to the committee since she moved into the director's job.

She said the committee has made an effort to be "sensitive to all sides of the issues while still trying to meet the needs of the community at large."

Fewer members forces seniors' club to disband

"That doesn't mean there isn't going to be a place here for our older participants," the center director said. "We've never ignored any segment of the community."

The director said former Young at Heart members have an open invitation to join any active club or group housed at the center.

Alkman said some members of the now defunct club have joined other groups, but others are uncomfortable with the idea.

Many of the Young at Heart club members were widows in their late 80s or early 90s who "really felt this group was just right for them."

The club was devoted largely to socializing, Alkman said. There was a monthly business meeting, usually over lunch at a local restaurant.

"AT ONE TIME" the members were active in some fund-raising activities, including Bingo at the Nightingale Nursing Home, Alkman said. "But we really didn't have enough people interested to keep that going."

Alkman recalled only one new member joining the club while she was president. "We just felt that we didn't really want to advertise to build up membership," she said.

Contracts set for new bridge at Newburgh

Westland drivers can look forward to a quicker and smoother ride to work and shopping trips next year — thanks to a planned widening of Newburgh and a bridge between Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor Road.

The long-awaited widening of the bridge is scheduled to start in about six months with the work expected to take about nine months.

The bridge has long been a bottleneck for persons in northwest Westland.

The city of Livonia is expected to sign this week a $1.6 million contract with the Michigan Department of Transportation for the work.

The contract spells out that the city will pay 25 percent of the project, or $400,000, while the state will pay the remaining 75 percent.

Work will begin after the state signs the contract and hires a construction engineer, said city engi-

The annual mid-winter festival features creative student activities and a spoof of Homecoming week, according to Darlene Scott, assistant principal.

Activities include a "Best Legs Contest" for male students and special school spirit days when students wear clothes sporting school colors and concert T-shirts.

Competition between graduation classes will be held at 3 p.m. each day and feature events such as an egg toss and tug-of-war.

A special pep assembly will precede Friday's basketball game against Belleville High School and during halftime of the game the Coming Home King will be crowned.

A Coming Home dance follows the game in the school commons. Admission is $2.50.

SILENT... BUT DEADLY

High blood pressure and elevated cholesterol levels are silent killers that can rob you of your health, your hopes, and your dreams.

As many as 58 million Americans have high blood pressure. If left undetected, damage can occur to your body's organs, causing kidney problems, an enlarged heart, or heart failure. Elevated blood cholesterol levels (over 200 mg/dl) can increase the risk of atherosclerosis ("hardening of the arteries") leading to stroke, heart attack and other organ damage.

Service makes happy returns for seniors

The traditional "taxing" time has returned to senior citizen centers in Westland and Garden City.

The free income tax preparation service resumed last week at Maplewood Center in Garden City and the Friendship Center in Westland, where a large number of retirees were turned away because there weren't enough volunteers to handle the tax returns.

The free service is being offered through volunteers from the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) and the Internal Revenue Service's community outreach tax assistant program.

Phil Sadowski, AARP regional tax coordinator, organized the two-week training classes for volunteers who will help retirees with their tax forms through early April.

At Garden City's Maplewood Center, the service is open to people 50 and older, with help given from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays through April 13.

Those interested are urged to make appointments by calling the center at 525-8848 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

BESIDES MAPLEWOOD, volunteers will be at Garden Tower from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Feb. 17 and March 3.

Ervin Sepin, Maplewood site coordinator, will be backed up by volunteers Theo and Jane Lenart, Evan Carr, Jim Todd, Al Boehnlein, George Stone, Henry Dryovage, Charles Benton, Virginia Bennett and Catherine Solari.

Elissa Breen, seniors' coordinator, said more than 1,400 people had their taxes done at the center last year.

At Westland's Friendship Center, on Newburgh near Marquette, taxes will be done 12:30-3:30 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays through April 11.

A center representative said people with complicated tax forms will have a tax consultant available for a charge. Appointments must be made for the consultant, who will be available 10 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. Tuesdays, starting Feb. 21 and continuing through April 11.

Westland residents may call the center at 722-7632 for more information.

cop calls

A WESTLAND pedestrian, 27, was treated and released from Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, Wednesday afternoon after he was deliberately run down by a local driver, police said.

The victim received injuries to his hip and back.

Police and an EMS crew answered the call at the rear of a business on the 2300 block of Venoy at 12:25 p.m.

The victim told police he was walking east through the alley toward Grand Traverse when a man driving a 1972 Mercury pulled up behind him. The driver motioned him over to the car and as he approached, the car sped up, hit him and pulled away, the victim told police.

The victim told police he believed the driver was the same man who stabbed him during an argument last November.

A HOMEOWNER on the 5900 block of Herbert reported that someone broke into her house Wednesday and stole a portable AM-FM stereo cassette player and two crystal drinking glasses.

The total value of the merchandise was less than $100, the woman said.

The incident took place between 8:30 a.m. and 8:45 p.m. while nobody was home, the woman said.

Police said the culprit apparently broke into the house by unlocking a rear bedroom window.

A WOMAN told police her car was stolen from the parking lot of Pace Warehouse store, 35400 Cowan, Tuesday night.

It was unclear whether the woman was an employee or a customer at the store, according to a police report.

The woman said her 1986 Chevrolet was stolen from the southwest corner of the lot between 7:15 and 8:30 p.m.

POLICE said a garage fire on the 28100 block of Eaton Monday night was arson.

The unattached garage, in the back yard of a vacant home, was destroyed by the blaze, police said.

Police said there was no heat or power connected at the location, leading them to believe the fire was set by vandals.

Talks seek to ease county commission rift

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

A former Wayne County commission chairman and the current chairman are expected to meet this week in an effort to smooth out a dispute involving suburban and urban commissioners.

Commissioner Richard Manning, D-Redford Township, said Friday he would meet with chairman Arthur Carter, D-Detroit, to settle differences over committee assignments and office budgets for suburban commissioners.

"I expect we'll get together early in the week, perhaps by Monday," said Manning, a former chairman of the county governing body.

Carter said the two men held a "very productive" meeting after last week's commission meeting.

Six suburban commissioners, including Manning, were poised to walk out of Thursday's commission meeting, though no walk-out occurred.

The six, also including commissioners Kay Beard, D-Inkster, and Milton Mack, D-Wayne, charged they were underrepresented in key committee posts under assignments issued recently by Carter. They also said they believed Carter would be cutting their office budgets while increasing budgets for other commissioners, including members of the metropolitan caucus, a body whose members generally represent Detroit and its eastern suburbs.

"WHAT WE have is a situation where over 1 million Wayne County residents aren't being properly represented," said Mack, whose district includes Canton Township. "There isn't a single important committee headed by a suburban commissioner."

Beard represents Westland and Garden City. Manning represents Redford and a section of Detroit west of Evergreen Road.

In a resolution presented at the meeting, the commissioners said they were being "punished" for occasionally disagreeing with the major-ty on commission matters. Carter, however, said there was no punishment intended.

"We want balance and, if you look, assignments have been very fair and balanced," he said. "David Cavanaugh, who represents the east side, is a committee chairman. So is Clarence Young, who represents Downriver. Susan Helntz, from western Wayne, is vice chairwoman of the commission."

Carter acknowledged, though, that each is or had been a member of the metropolitan caucus.

Though alignments can shift, the caucus process is essentially the true party system of Wayne County's essentially one-party government.

The metropolitan caucus generally includes commissioners representing Detroit and its eastern suburbs. In addition to the three local commissioners, the suburban caucus includes commissioners from Dearborn and Downriver.

"THIS COMES from the caucus structure and committees are based on politics, not geography," Manning said. "You choose based on which caucus you think is going to do the best for your constituents."

Mack said the suburban group coalesced after hearing reports of committee assignments and budget allocations.

What the commissioners want, Mack said, is for their caucus to be given a voice in selecting committee members and leaders.

Carter, however, indicated committee memberships wouldn't be changing.

"That's not going to happen, my decisions have been made," he said. "Essentially, the committees are exactly as they were two years ago."

The six suburban commissioners said they believed their office budgets were trimmed by more than one-third from last year's budget, prompting staff layoffs, while other commissioners would be receiving increases.

According to the group's estimate, their office budgets would be reduced to $44,000, while other commissioners would see theirs raised to $72,000.

Commissioner Richard Manning, D-Redford Township, will meet with commission chairman Arthur Carter to settle a dispute involving suburban commissioners' committee assignments and office budgets.

Carter, however, called those figures "inaccurate" and said office budget figures were still being revised as of Thursday's commission meeting. He indicated committee leaders would receive a larger stipend than other commissioners.

"That goes back to a resolution commissioner Manning made several years ago," Carter said.

Manning said the current office budgets were "in the $66,000 area."

Group says state must act on industrial polluters

AP — Money from a $660 million environmental bond issue may be wasted if lawmakers don't give Michigan more power to force companies to clean up their pollution, public interest groups say.

Andrew Buchsbaum, program director of the Public Interest Research Group in Michigan, said Wednesday the state needs its own version of the federal "Superfund" program to stretch the bond proceeds to cover more contaminated sites.

"The bond monies are in danger of cleaning up only a small fraction of what people expected to be cleaned up because our state laws are so inadequate," he said, at a news conference at the state Capitol.

Buchsbaum said the bond issue approved by a 2-1 margin Nov. 8 can address only part of the estimated $8 billion cleanup job in the state.

He said the state needs more powers to investigate sites, encourage responsible parties to clean up sites themselves, levy penalties against polluters, recover the cost of cleanups from responsible parties and ensure that cleanups are permanent.

FUNDS COLLECTED from responsible parties for cleanups or penalties should be returned to the bond fund, not the state general fund, and should be used for additional cleanups, he said.

David Stead, executive director of the Michigan Environmental Council, said current state environmental laws allow the attorney general to seek compensation and reimbursement from those who cause contamination.

"It doesn't tell them how, it doesn't define the authority, it doesn't basically provide the attorney general or the Department (of Natural Resources) with any specific tools," he said, adding the state is forced to pursue lengthy litigation to get the job done.

"Basically what they have to do now is cajole responsible parties into paying for the cost of cleanup or they have to find some other act that they've violated."

Stead urged lawmakers, Gov. James Blanchard, and the business community to back tougher environmental laws.

Buchsbaum said Michigan's current laws rate an F in their effectiveness, according to a comparison done by his organization.

The citizens' group compared Michigan's environmental laws with those of New Jersey, California, New York, Washington, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Oregon and the federal government. Buchsbaum said the other states either have toxic waste problems similar to Michigan's or a program in place to deal with them.

Massachusetts' laws were rated the highest, with an A-minus, as a result of that state's passage of a state version of the federal "Superfund."

The group's study said Michigan is comparable to the other states in the amount of money available for cleanup, lagging only behind New York, which has committed $1.2 billion. In Michigan, $450 million of the $660 million bond issue is targeted for cleaning up toxic waste sites.

David Hales, DNR director, agreed Michigan laws need strengthening.

"OUR ENVIRONMENTAL response act is not an enforcement statute and it's clear that we'll have to have some changes in basic state legislation," he said, declining to be more specific until after Blanchard makes his recommendations in his

Feb. 7 State of the State message.

Michigan currently recovers between $2 million and $3 million a year from polluters through legal action, said Marion Gorton, spokeswoman for Attorney General Frank Kelley.

"I don't want anybody to think there aren't any laws (but I also don't want anybody to think we have all the law we need)," she said.

Stead and Buchsbaum said tougher environmental legislation had been bottled up in Senate committees in the past and urged Senate Majority Leader John Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, to make such measures a priority.

WHEN TO STOP & WHEN TO CARRY ON
You often receive contradictory advice from people on how to deal with your arthritis.
One group says: "No pain, no gain. If you are hurting, you should keep going, for that is the only way to overcome limitations. Others tell you: "Listen to your body." If you hurt, you are getting a message to stop.
Both views are correct, but each is right only under certain conditions.
If you have osteoarthritis of the knees, then the more you wear your put upon it. Knee pain under this circumstance is a notice that you are placing the joint under excessive strain, and you should stop that activity immediately.
In contrast, if you have shoulder pain from fibromyalgia, a condition of tendons and muscles, you should keep exercising even though your arms are aching. In this instance, activity to the point of aching, will increase blood supply to the muscles and relieve your discomfort.
Joint pain is made worse by sustained effort, and when pain begins you should stop. Muscle strain is improved by activity, and you should continue despite initial aching, as persistent effort will bring relief.

Probe pornography's ties to mind of Bundy

THE TOP OF the newspaper told of the final moments of Ted Bundy, a disturbingly normal-looking man who was executed in Florida. He was convicted of killing a 12-year-old girl and two Florida State coeds. He is thought to have killed maybe 30 more women.

His story has been told many times and he was the subject of a television movie. His execution was long sought by many lawmen. Several Florida residents rejoiced at his death with crude jokes and jeers. A radio station asked citizens not to use electric appliances that morning so that there would be more juice to finish off Bundy.

It was a circus-like atmosphere. Such reactions to a man's calculated death got my liberal knee to jerk wildly. So this is what L. Brooks Patterson wants, I steamed. Is this demeaning behavior all that unexpected if the state coldly executes one of its own?

But my thoughts cooled before my knife stilled. Patterson, the former Oakland County prosecutor who campaigned vigorously for the death penalty, and other capital punishment advocates don't promote uncivilized behavior at executions. It's unfair to judge their position by the actions of the crude.

BESIDES, AN adjoining story brought home the difficulty of black-and-white positions on most controversial issues.

The story was actually the transcript of a conversation between Bundy and a psychiatrist the night before Bundy died. During the dialogue, Bundy strongly implied that pornography — particularly pornography that glorifies violence against women — provoked the evil ("crystallized" was the word he used) that resulted in the abduction, rape and murder of so many women.

The story must be taken with a grain of salt. The interviewer, Dr. James Dobson, once served on the president's council on pornography and his view toward the subject may have influenced Bundy's response. Even near death, Bundy's self-interest might have been reason enough to choose pictures and words as convenient scapegoats for his murderous life.

Still, a defender of the First Amendment and a foe of censorship has perhaps his toughest days when he protects the rights of hard-core, women-hating pornography.

I STILL remember the day I sat in the office of a Methodist church where three respectable women hauled out magazine after magazine of disgusting magazines that were sold in one of my hometown's best-known and best-regarded stores.

They wanted to boycott the store and they expected many people would not understand. They did not condone the Playboys (or even the Sports Illustrated swimsuit issues), but they wanted people to know that their targets were far worse than pinups for college dorm rooms.

They were right. Most of us, I suspect, are unaware of the content of some of these magazines. In picture and deed these publications not only humiliate women, but they encourage (at least through fantasies) harmful and brutal behavior.

Even worse, the publications often indicate that women, who might at first resist, actually want their men (or any man) to act this way. If magazines can influence human behavior, then these publications are invitations for rape and mayhem.

These women argued that pornography was not a First Amendment issue, but rather a civil rights issue. They said magazines depicting similar treatment of blacks or Jews or any other minority would never be tolerated in a decent town or a decent place of business. Why, they asked, were women treated any differently?

It's a good question. Perhaps part of the answer died with Ted Bundy.

Help to seniors is appreciated

To the editor:

For most of us, the holidays are a time of celebration, reverence and family gatherings, but for many individuals, especially older adults, it's a time of isolation and hunger.

The Senior Alliance has initiated a program to address the needs of homebound seniors. Our Holiday Meals-on-Wheels program began at Thanksgiving and has become successful because of the large amount of community support. It has been wonderful to see the number of individuals and organizations that truly appreciate what they have and give so willingly to others.

Our sincerest thanks goes out to the dozens of volunteers who gave up a portion of their holiday to visit those individuals who were alone. Young and old alike came from many communities to participate and often brought a homemade gift to accompany the meal.

Also, a word of praise must go to the three area hospitals — Riverside Osteopathic, Botsford General and Westland Medical Center — who prepared more than 600 meals for us during Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Thank you all for your invaluable assistance and desire to make someone else's holiday a little happier.

Paper helps tell danger of driving drunk

To the editor:

Thank you for writing such a great editorial on behalf of the red ribbon campaign and MADD. Our volunteers have indeed made a difference with their hard work. But others deserve praise as well.

Media support is obviously crucial to persuading society that drinking and driving is no longer acceptable. Your papers have demonstrated that commitment over and over again, through innovative articles (the drunk driver as "man of the year"), editorial support and with the ad space you've generously provided. The fact that we are so well known and supported is in no small measure due to the attention you've given us.

So thank you for helping us become what we are today.

For the record, my name is Casey Hans

Casey Hans

A NAME is something we own. Something that gives us a special identity. Something no one can take away.

But, alas, mine is gone. It was snatched from me by the faceless bureaucrats in the treasury department in Lansing. Yes, our youthful state treasurer Bob Bowman and his staff have fallen behind the times, even more so than the traditional, white-bearded Uncle Sam — who boasts an even larger bureaucratic family.

We've come to label it the "Lansing name game" in our house.

You see, my husband and I have different last names, as do many couples today. Yes, stubborn me insisted on making a "statement" when we got married. It's one I still believe in strongly.

UNCLE SAM has no trouble handling this situation on a joint income tax return, but our state treasury people do:

• Two years ago, they labeled me "Casey Crawford" on the refund. My last name was gone, replaced by my husband's, although not at my request.

• Last year — after sending a detailed explanation — I was "C.M. Hans." Better, I thought.

• We recently got 1988 forms, which address me as "Hans Crawford." Now I've lost my first name. Hopefully, this is not a sign of problems in the year to come.

You see, my husband and I have different last names, as do many couples today.

IS THIS a lost cause? When questioned, staffers in Lansing explained that new information is fed into computers each year as returns are sent in. There's no "master list." They don't simply enter a Social Security number and use previous information. Incredible.

There is really nothing anyone can do to straighten out such a mess, one said. "Why do you have different names?" another asked. State treasury employees must fit "many letters into a limited space," was the excuse given for the mistake.

It's a mistake that is easily corrected, but someone in Lansing just doesn't agree, with our choice of names and, so, does what they please in a traditional vein.

I'LL ANSWER to just about anything anymore, without upset. Much of my mail comes addressed to "Mr." because my first name could be either male or female. No problem. Many friends use the traditional "Mr. and Mrs." when addressing cards and letters. I can accept that.

But when filing a legal document, I insist on using my legal name.

Take that and stick it in your treasury files, Mr. Bowman. And make it stick permanently, please.

Jud Kingsbury feeds balls to specific spots on the court so that the advanced players can work on specific skills through repetition along with the variety needed to simulate game conditions.

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

There's no rocking chair in Jud Kingsbury's future. Not as long as he can grab a tennis racket and hit a ball into the opposite court.

Kingsbury's home is in Trenton. But don't visit him there. You're more apt to catch up with him at the Livonia Family Y, teaching beginners and experts the fine points of tennis.

From morning till night, five days a week, this 71-year-old retired salesman carries on a love affair he has enjoyed since the age of 9. That's when his mother signed him up for tennis lessons in a small town in New York.

"I was fortunate my mother exposed me to tennis when I was young," said Kingsbury, a widower who is one of seven tennis instructors at the Livonia Y.

THROUGHOUT HIS high school and college years, tennis to Kingsbury meant playing on a team.

In his career years, tennis meant a way to enjoy time off from work; it meant a game to teach his six children.

In his retirement years, tennis now enhances Kingsbury's life in ways he never imagined.

For example, there's the extra income earned from teaching the game for both the Livonia Family Y and the continuing education department for the Livonia Public Schools.

Then there's the physical fitness that comes from being able to hold his own against opponents far younger than he.

Then there's the joy of spending all day doing something he enjoys.

And then there's the friendships that blossom on the tennis court.

And, oh, one more thing. How many fathers get to work alongside their own children? Kingsbury's son, Jack, is chief tennis instructor at the Y, a fitting tribute to skills passed on from father to son.

"I started him playing when he was a kid," Kingsbury said. "All my children were exposed to tennis, but he is the only one who makes a living at it."

BECAUSE OF his age, Kingsbury admits he's one of the Y's most unusual tennis players.

"I'm the only one there at my age who is playing actively and teaching actively. The students are a little surprised that I hit the ball as well as I do. They say to me, 'I hope I can play as well as you do when I'm your age.'"

Kingsbury also admits that 71 years of living has indeed slowed him down. Whereas once he could win through sheer power, now he wins through finesse, through what he calls "placement rather than pace."

"Your body does change when you get older. When I was younger, I hit harder. Now that I've grown old, I've developed patience. I've learned to place the ball."

Kingsbury carries with him every day one more reminder of advancing age — a pacemaker implanted in his chest two years ago to regulate his heart beat.

"I had a low heart rate. The doctor assured me I could live the way I had been. It hasn't affected my game. I really don't do things any differently."

KINGSBURY WAS drawn to tennis for the same reason golfers swing golf clubs and archers shoot arrows at a target — the challenge to improve.

"That's what kept me coming back. In hitting the ball, you want to come as close to the sideline without hitting it out. It's like golfers want to get their score lower and lower."

Kingsbury considers himself lucky, having a lifelong sport which he can carry into his senior years. But seniors don't have to have a lifelong sport in order to become physically active, he added.

"When they're thinking about retirement, they absolutely must have something to do. They can't sit in that rocker."

The key, Kingsbury said, is commitment today to an activity, be it tennis, jogging, swimming or even a daily walk.

"People say they're going to start jogging next week or the next day. That can't be done. They have to commit today."

"And age is no limit, as long as they don't have a chronic illness."

Union politics enters into jail control dispute

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

One sheriff's department union will decide this week whether to endorse Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara as the county jail's new manager, while another union tentatively gave, then withdrew, its support.

Governing members department supervisors union will vote Wednesday on whether to support McNamara's bid to become jail receiver.

Leaders of the department's deputies union announced Thursday morning they would support McNamara in his dispute with the sheriff, but withdrew support that evening, after the union's governing board rejected the endorsement.

Sheriff Robert Ficano, who seeks to retain control of the jail, called for an end to what he termed "gamesmanship" on the part of the executive's office.

"I'M WILLING to meet at any time to get these matters settled," Ficano said.

But an executive's office spokesman said both sides have been in constant contact.

"We talk to him every day as it is," said deputy county executive Michael Duggan. McNamara, who had interrupted a Florida vacation to attend a Thursday press conference with leaders of both unions, returned to Florida shortly afterward and was unavailable for comment, a spokeswoman said.

Charging the sheriff is unable to manage the jail budget, McNamara has asked chief Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman to appoint a receiver to take control from Ficano.

The jail control dispute took a new — and unexpected — turn last week, when deputies union leaders agreed, then disagreed, to support McNamara's appointment as receiver.

Deputies union leaders initially pledged to support McNamara's appointment, but the agreement fell apart when it was rejected, 16-4, by the union's executive board.

Statements by McNamara during the press conference led union officials to believe the agreement was the first step in creating a county department of corrections, said deputies union president Don Cox, adding deputies "vehemently oppose" creating such a department.

"WE CAN'T say this is something Mr. McNamara hadn't mentioned before, he's made his intentions about a department of corrections clear from the start," Cox said. "But we had no intention for this document to become a statement of support for the department of corrections."

Duggan, however, said withdrawal of deputies union support, "stabbed us in the back."

Officials of the union representing department supervisors, said that unit's executive board will vote on the matter Wednesday.

Rejection by deputies isn't expected to influence the supervisors' vote, union officials said.

Chief Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman is expected to determine within the next few weeks whether a receiver should be appointed to manage the jail.

THE AGREEMENT, signed by both union presidents, called for both unions to support McNamara's appointment as chief jail officer and pledged both unions would continue their support before the Michigan

Deputies union leaders agreed, then disagreed, last week to support Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara's appointment as receiver.

Court of Appeals, if McNamara's bid was rejected by Kaufman.

In return McNamara pledged to honor union contracts with both groups.

"We haven't divorced Sheriff Ficano," Cox said. "But our men and women have legitimate concerns over what would happen if Mr. McNamara were appointed receiver. This was an attempt to put that card on the shelf."

Deputies wanted to go public with the agreement before the executive's office did, Duggan said.

"Really, I wanted to wait until after the judge made his decision," Duggan said.

The agreement was not a part of the suit currently before Kaufman. Files in that case have been closed.

"This was nothing more than a public relations stunt that backfired," Ficano said.

Kelley: Public can't view non-profit group records

AP — Michigan attorney general Frank Kelley has declared unconstitutional a portion of Michigan's open records law that made public the records of some private non-profit organizations.

In an opinion released Jan. 26, Kelley said the provision in the law violates a section of the Michigan Constitution that says a state law must cover only one subject, which must be included in its title.

The provision said records of any organization created by state or local authority or funded primarily with public funds are considered public. Kelley said that could cover some private non-profit corporations, but the title of the bill fails to mention private entities.

"BECAUSE THIS provision was invalidly enacted, it is void and cannot be applied to a private non-profit corporation," he said.

Kelley's opinion carries the force of law unless overturned by a court.

The opinion was a letdown for state Rep. David Hollister, D-Lansing, who had requested it on behalf of some Clinton County residents who wanted more information about the activities of the Clinton Area New Development Organization, the county's economic development arm.

"That's quite a disappointment," Hollister said, estimating as many as 100 such organizations exist in the state and might be affected.

Betty Jane Minsky, executive director of the Clinton Area New Development Organization, was pleased with the decision.

"I'm elated with this opinion, if that's the way it is, but understand I have not read it yet," she said. Opening the records would have hampered economic development, she added.

"It would virtually shut up economic development all around. Businesses are not interested in opening up their trade secrets," she said.

But Hollister said although businesses like to conduct their affairs in private, different rules should apply when they seek public help.

"THEY ARE using tax benefits and when they do that, they pay the price of openness. When you are using tax dollars and public authority, there comes a different authority," he said.

The use of public funds and authority needs to be debated publicly to preserve the credibility of the organization, he said.

"Secrecy, no matter how meritorious, undermines the whole process," he said.

Hollister said lawmakers need to alter the law to cover the private non-profit organizations, but predicted that will be difficult.

"A lot of these interests out here will have a hundred reasons why the information shouldn't be shared," he said.

A spokesman for an organization that has fought attempts to alter the open records law in the past said the public will know less about the activities of such corporations.

"To whatever extent corporations are being set up by government using taxpayers' money, keeping the public from having access to their records will mean less accountability to the taxpayers of the use of their money and their legal authority and that would certainly be of doubtful justification," said Joseph Tuchinsky, advocacy director of the Michigan Citizens Lobby.

KELLEY'S OPINION said that although counties are not authorized to establish a private non-profit corporation to conduct economic development programs, counties may contribute to such corporations organized by private individuals.

Counties may join and pay membership dues to private non-profit corporations, Kelley said. But the dues must be reasonably related to the value of the benefits the county receives from the organization.

Have fun with party giving

Looking for a great reason to throw a party?

A few weeks back, I was the guest, along with chef Tom MacKinnon, at Jan and Mike Mnich's home in Northville. As I walked up the drive to enter the front door there were sounds of laughter and a distinct feeling of fun was in the air.

Not knowing what to expect, I entered while novice oenophile (wine collector) Mike was hosting the "First Annual Mnich Wine Tasting and Auction for Charity."

It was a little after 11 p.m., and it was very evident the party started much earlier as many of the guests (there were about eight couples) seemed to be getting a little crazy throughout Mike's wine quiz. The sofa and wing-backed chairs were scooped for the opportunity to snuggle up on a big cushion while a roaring fire blazed and folks tried to discern what it was that made a white zinfandel pink instead of white. (For your info, it's the skin of the grape that causes the wine to take on a bluish color)

The party was in full swing.

Now being the only person in attendance not being influenced by the grape, I immediately sashayed up to the wine tasting table where the Mnichs had positioned 8 various bottles of chardonnays, sauvignon blancs and reds in what looked like nothing more than a dishpan filled with ice.

SCATTERED AROUND the table were visible signs of a previous tasting complete with papers requiring the guests to rate everything from bouquet (aroma) to after-taste. It would serve no purpose to clue you in on what they liked (or, better yet, didn't like). Instead, I'll focus your attention as to why the party was thrown in the first place.

Seems that Jan and Mike have been getting together with a group of friends that number — about 10-12 couples — for the last 15 years or so. Most are friends from Michigan State University, but a few were "grandfathered in." The group (size varies monthly) gets together frequently for Halloween parties, Superbowl parties, Kentucky Derby parties and even just to play poker or a friendly game of cards.

Since the group has been together for more than 15 years, Jan and Mike thought it would be a great idea to give a little back and schedule a wine tasting and auction for charity. (This year's benefactor was the American Cancer Society.)

In addition to the wine tasting, the party included a wine quiz, a smattering of great food, and a wine auction with eight selections chosen from Mike's cellar. A mini-descriptive brochure was printed up on the family computer, listing the wines to be auctioned along with their place of purchase, origin, retail price and a few comments by the budding oenophiles themselves.

THE WINES had a retail value of $10-$30 each, with Jan and Mike hoping to raise $100 or so for the cancer research. Chef Tom MacKinnon was guest auctioneer and the bidding began with a nice little '87 chardonnay from the Maddalena Vineyards. Retail price was only $9.50, but it was evident guests were getting into the swing of things when the bottle finally sold for an amazing $28.

This continued for the next hour while such notable wines like an '83 cabernet sauvignon from Buena Vista garnered a bid of $60. (Constant shouts of "C'mon, this is for a good cause" rang through the air.)

To make a long story short, eight bottles of wine and a dated bottle of Calvados combined fetched more than $500, all going to the Cancer Foundation.

Cook up potful of fish

THE FIRST TIME I sampled bouillabaisse, I was studying French provincial cooking in the south of France.

Knowing little about the authenticity of this Provençal specialty, I was soon informed by the locals that what Americans call bouillabaisse is a mere facsimile. According to the French, a true bouillabaisse can only be made with a variety of fish from the Mediterranean Sea near Marseille.

Of course, many of the inhabitants disagree on just which fish and how many varieties are essential. But the one ingredient they do agree on is rascasse, a scorpionlike fish, which gives this stew its significant flavor.

Duplicating an authentic bouillabaisse, as you can see, may be next to impossible, but creating a savory Provençal fish stew or New England chowder can be a snap, using these tips on selecting, cooking and seasoning fish soups and stews.

Even though a dish like bouillabaisse may seem complicated, one can actually be put together in about 30 minutes. Not all chowders or fish stews need to begin with homemade fish stock. I'm convinced a flavorful fish chowder can be made with a homemade vegetable stock or one made from a vegetable bouillon cube made by Knorr, or others available in the health food department such as Barth's Nutra Soup.

PAGING THROUGH vintage cookbooks will reveal that most fisherman stews and chowders were made with water or milk. But remember, the fish they were using couldn't have been fresher or more flavorful.

The most difficult task in making any fish dish is shopping for the freshest fish possible. Taking the time to seek out a reputable, top-quality fish shop is fundamental. Once that has been accomplished, ask lots of questions about the fish and how often the shop receives deliveries.

Top-quality fish should smell fresh. Whole fish should be shiny with clear eyes. It should not be sticky and should feel firm. When selecting fillets, use the same criteria, avoiding those pieces that have dark brown or red spots.

Some cookbooks recommend buying fish trimmings for a soup pot but unless you've caught the fish yourself you have no way of knowing what you're getting. It's not as easy to judge the quality of clams, mussels and oysters in their shells. Check

Breathless Area businessman creates new mild onion, Chili Sweet

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

Onion lovers have a sweet treat in store when a new variety of sweet onion hits American markets this week.

Chili Sweet, a mild onion that requires long, warm days of consecutive sunshine to mature, is available now during the dead of winter.

The timing makes the large, globe-shaped onion that comes wrapped in a thin, pale yellow skin notable in culinary circles.

Sweet onions, grown in Georgia, Texas, California and Washington, are harvested in late spring and come available to U.S. consumers only two months of each year, May and June, because a long, hot growing season is essential.

Through a brass experiment that has proven quite successful, businessman Jim Huston of Bloomfield Hills has doubled the length of the annual market, from two to four months. Sweet onions, more specifically Chili Sweets, are now available to U.S. consumers in January and February.

For onion lovers, Huston's move is welcome news.

"DURING WINTER months, the only onions available in the market are extremely pungent, give indigestion" and were plucked from fields up to six months before, according to Huston, owner of Huston Produce that brokerages some 80,000 tons of onions and potatoes annually.

In contrast, Chili "tastes sweet, causes no indigestion, leaves no odor on the breath and, when cut, causes no tears," he said.

For Huston and all onion lovers, heaven is a thick slab of the sweet variety in a sandwich, on chill or eaten plain and raw.

Huston's love of onions developed naturally enough, as a youth on his parent's 220-acre farm in Eaton Rapids where he was experimenting in growing onions 20 years ago, producing meattier results by planting fewer bulbs in narrower rows.

He applied similar logic to sweet onions in looking for a way to extend the annual harvest. Because sweet onions require exacting amounts of extensive sunshine to mature, they can be planted only at specific times of the year . . . at least, that is, north of the equator.

What about south of the equator, say in Chili?

"WOW, WHAT a fantastic idea. Why hasn't any-

Jim Huston shows onions and potatoes that are finding favor with cooks. "body thought of that before?" enthused Dr. Leonard Pike in response to Huston's idea. Pike, a horticulturist and plant breeder at Texas A&M University, is also an authority on onions.

New produce fittingly calls for new recipes, according to Jim Huston, a horticulturist who owns one of Michigan's largest produce brokerage firms.

Huston introduced gourmet Yukon Gold potatoes to Michigan consumers last year. These potatoes can be found locally at Farmer Jack's, Great Scott and Kroger. Before long, another Huston creation will hit the market place — Chili Sweet onions.

Huston, in conjunction with nutritionists and others, has created new recipes for both vegetables.

COCONUT BON BONS

- ¾ cup mashed potatoes made from Yukon Gold potatoes
- 4 cups coconut, flaked
- 1 pound confectioners' sugar
- ¼ teaspoon almond extract
- 12 ounces chocolate chips
- ¼ cake paraffin

Mix potatoes, coconut, confectioners' sugar and almond extract until smooth. Form balls and chill until very cold.

Melt chocolate chips and paraffin in top of double boiler. Using two forks, drop balls into chocolate mixture, making sure that each is well coated. Set on waxed paper.

Authors tell how to use citrus fruits straightforward, traditional dishes. There's little use of herbs and spices in the recipes, and those of you who like your food with some zip may need to improvise with additional spices or seasonings.

There have not been many cookbooks written about citrus fruits. "Surprising Citrus" is the first to come along in quite a while. I guess that's one reason why I was disappointed that this cookbook is not a glossy hardcover edition. But, c'est la vie!

Authors Audra and Jack Hendrickson are not newcomers to the writing world. Both of them began their careers as newspaper reporters. After spending 16 years in Bloomfield Hills, they moved to southern Utah. It was then, in 1982, that they both became concerned about their family diet.

Inspired by an article they read in the Wall Street Journal, they researched the benefits of adding beta carotene, citrus and cruciferous (cabbage, watercress and other vegetables of the mustard plant family) vegetables to their daily diet.

"Surprising Citrus" is the second cookbook the Hendricksons have written for Garden Way Publishing. "The Carrot Cookbook" was published in 1987, and a third on cruciferous vegetables is in the works.

This 100-or-so-page cookbook devotes a chapter on the buying and storing of citrus fruits. Included in the 10 pages on garnishing are sketches illustrating a variety of creative ways to serve oranges, grapefruits and lemons. Most of the recipes are simple and

FRUIT IN BATTER
4-6 servings
Preparation time 10-20 minutes vegetable oil
2 eggs
1/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons brandy
1 to 1 1/4 cups flour pinch salt
1 tablespoon sugar
1 orange, peeled, sectioned and trimmed
1 tangerine, peeled, sectioned and trimmed
1 grapefruit, peeled sectioned and trimmed powdered sugar

Pour approximately one inch of oil in a heavy pot or frying pan and begin to heat.

Beat the eggs, the milk, the oil, the lemon juice and the brandy together, then add 1 cup of the flour, the salt and the sugar to make a smooth, fine batter. If it doesn't look thick enough to coat the citrus pieces, use the other 1/4 cup of flour.

When the oil is hot, dip the citrus pieces into the batter, and fry to a golden brown on both sides.

Carefully remove the pieces from the hot oil with a slotted spoon or spatula and drain on paper towels.

Dust the crispy fruit sections with the powdered sugar and serve.

Mnitches offer these dishes at their party

Here are a few of the recipes Jan and Mike Mnich served at their party.

Sprinkle with gruyere or parmesan cheese, if desired.

CRAB PASTA DU CHEF
5 pounds cooked fettuccine noodles
3 bunches green onions, chopped
2 pounds flaked crabmeat
2 quarts cream
1 tablespoon dried dill weed

FRESH FRUIT WITH A CREAMY DIP
assorted fresh fruit (pineapples, grapes, strawberries, melon)
2 8-ounce packages cream cheese, at room temperature
2 cups powdered sugar
1/2 cup cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Place the cooked noodles along with the chopped green onions in a large chafing dish. Sprinkle with the crab meat. In a large saucepan, bring cream to a boil and reduce by 25 percent over high heat (about 5 minutes). Stir in dill weed. Pour over pasta and crab and toss gently.

Combine all ingredients except fresh fruit and mix well, using a mixer or a food processor. Pour dip into a bowl and chill, if desired. Serve with fresh fruit and toothpicks.

Cook up a potful of fish stew or chowder to see that they've been kept cold and moist. When clams and mussels are steamed they will automatically open their shells. If they don't, they were dead when you bought them and should be discarded.

The New England Scallop Chowder recipe accompanying this article also is simple to prepare. When buying scallops I prefer the smaller bay scallops because of their sweetness. Fresh bay scallops, as well as sea scallops, can be interchanged in a recipe. After purchasing, rinse them well to remove any sand particles and trim the beard. Spotted scallops will emit a very strong sulfurlike odor.

AFTER SELECTING the fish, refrigerate it in the coldest part of the refrigerator. As a general rule it's best to use the fish the day it's purchased or within two days. Most chowder recipes call for fillet pieces or chunks of fish. If these pieces are between one and two inches they will cook in five to 10 minutes in a simmering broth.

Avoid a rolling boil because it will cause the fish to fall apart. When reheating any fish soup, do so gently. Avoid lots of stirring. Gently bring to a boil and quickly reduce to low, or remove from the heat.

The fun of making a fish chowder for a luncheon or supper is that the soup generally becomes the focal point of the meal and its accompaniments should be simple. Crunchy bread or corn muffins, along with a mixed vegetable salad, will suffice.

For heartier appetites you may want to serve a cheese tray with gouda, Jarlsberg or a Gruyere garnished with grapes, melon or strawberries, depending upon the season. If you're entertaining, you want to add dessert to the menu. A country pie or cake such as a carrot loaf or caramel custard will complement the meal better than an elaborate torte or pastries.

Looking for a more unusual fish stew for a weekend dinner? The Cantonese Hot Pot has been popular for hundreds of years. In the recently published "New Cantonese Cooking," Eileen Yin-Fei Lo has re-created this classic with a new twist, adding scallops, clams and oysters.

A fish broth needs to be prepared in advance, but the rest of the meal is prepared at the table — everyone takes a turn and prepares his or her own. This one-pot supper blends easily into a simple menu. The author suggests Water Dumplings, Cauliflower Salad and Sliced Fresh Pineapple to complement the hot pot.

Not many seafood cookbooks have been published recently. One of interest is a paperback, "The Great American Seafood Cookbook" by Susan Herrmann Loomis (Workman Publishing, 1988, $12.95). More than just recipes, it offers advice on cleaning, storing, freezing and cooking all kinds of fish. Especially impressive is a lexicon describing the varieties of fish, their availability and what to use as a substitute when a certain fish is out of season.

PROVENCAL FISH STEW

Serves 4
2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
2 medium carrots, peeled, sliced
1 medium leek, white part only, sliced, rinsed
1 medium onion, peeled, sliced
2 large garlic cloves, finely minced
2 medium tomatoes, peeled, quartered
1 quart vegetable or fish stock
12 shrimp, shelled, deveined, rinsed
12 mussels, scrubbed
1 1/2 pound mixed fish fillets (at least three varieties, such as scrod, sole, catfish)
1 teaspoon finely chopped basil or 1 teaspoon prepared pesto pinch dried oregano
salt and pepper to taste

dutch oven. Add sliced leek, onion and garlic, tossing over medium-high heat until onion and leek are translucent. Add sliced carrots, tomato and stock. Bring to a boil and simmer until carrots are tender.

Cut fish fillets into 2-inch-by-2-inch pieces. Rinse and add fish and mussels to simmering soup. Reduce temperature and allow fish to cook gently for 10 minutes. Check fish for doneness. Adjust seasonings and serve hot.

NEW ENGLAND SCALLOP CHOWDER

Serves 4
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 medium leeks, white part only, sliced
2 large cloves garlic, finely minced
2 1/2 cups warm vegetable stock or vegetable bouillon

2 medium potatoes, peeled, diced
3/4 pound sea or bay scallops, rinsed, sliced
3/4 cup cooked corn kernels
1/4 teaspoon thyme
salt and pepper to taste
Optional: 1/2 tablespoon potato starch mixed in two tablespoons cold water

In a heavy saucepan heat butter. Add minced garlic and leeks. Toss over medium heat until translucent. Add potatoes and stock to pot. Continue to cook over medium high heat until potatoes are soft and falling apart. Remove from heat and puree soup. Return to saucepan, adding thyme and seasoning. Add sliced scallops and corn and heat until scallops are cooked, 5-10 minutes depending upon the thickness of the scallops. To thicken the chowder, mix potato starch in cold water, add to soup. Stir constantly and return soup to a boil. Serve hot. To reheat, gently heat and bring to a boil. Remove from heat immediately.

SEAFOOD HOT POT

A classic Cantonese dish with a twist, from "New Cantonese Cooking" by Eileen Yin-Fei Lo, 1988, Viking Publishers, $19.95.
1 pound sea scallops, sliced 1/2-inch thick
3/4 pound shrimp (20 shrimp), shelled, deveined, washed and dried
24 oysters, removed from their shells
24 clams, removed from their shells
3/4 pound fillet of halibut, thinly sliced
4 ounces bean thread noodles (two packages soaked in hot water for 30 minutes, then cut into 6-inch strands)
6 cakes fresh bean curd, cut into 1/4 inch slices
1 pound fresh spinach, old leaves removed, stalks separated, washed three or four times to remove sand and drained
2 bunches watercress, washed and drained
4 cups fish broth
4 cups cold water
1 piece fresh ginger, 2 inches by 1 1/2 inches

2 large garlic cloves, peeled

Each ingredient — seafood, noodles, bean curd or vegetable — should be placed in its own plate or bowl arranged around a hot pot (available at Asian markets) or an electric fry pan.

Heat two cups of the fish broth and two cups of the water together in frypan. Add the ginger and garlic. Bring to a boil.

Place the fish, seafood or vegetable of your choice in the broth. The use of strainerlike spoons fashioned of wire is suggested. (These are available in Asian markets), or use a slotted spoon. Eat at will, dipping your cooked foods into the Vinegar Soy Sauce, or Ginger Soy Sauce.

Keep replenishing the fish-broth with water. When the fish and vegetables have been consumed, spoon the broth into small bowls and drink it.

1 tablespoon minced ginger
2 tablespoons minced scallions, white part only
2 teaspoons sesame oil
1/2 teaspoons sugar

Divide sauces into individual sauce dishes and serve with hot pot.

FISH BROTH

From "Cantonese Cookbook" by Eileen Yin-Fei Lo
Makes 8 cups
10 pounds fish heads and bones washed well in cold running water
4 quarts cold water
2 pounds onions, peeled and quartered
2 celery stalks, cut in halves
6 scallions, washed, dried with ends trimmed
1 piece fresh ginger, two inches long, smashed lightly with a cleaver
6 whole peeled garlic cloves
1 teaspoon white pepper

In a large stockpot, add all ingredients. Set over high heat and bring to a boil. Lower the heat, partially, cover the pot but keep at a boil at all times. Cook for six hours.

Turn off the heat. Using a large strainer over a mixing bowl, ladle the broth through the strainer. Refrigerate until ready to use. Discard solids.

Broth can be kept, refrigerated, two-three days; can be frozen for one month.

This recipe can easily be cut in half and cooked for half the time.

VINEGAR SOY SAUCE

Mix in a bowl:
2 tablespoons chicken broth
1 tablespoon dark soy sauce
1 tablespoon light soy sauce
1 tablespoon white vinegar
1/2 teaspoon hot pepper oil
1 tablespoon finely sliced scallions.

GINGER SOY SAUCE

Mix in a bowl:
1 tablespoon dark soy sauce
1 tablespoon light soy sauce
2 tablespoons chicken broth

Businessman creates new onion

"Why not," Huston speculated, "reverse the known growing process and plant on the other side of the equator." Huston, a 1972 graduate of Michigan State University, is also a horticulturist and plant breeder.

Chili seemed the perfect place to stage Huston's experiment. The country, 100 miles wide and 2,500 miles long, is bordered on one side by the Andes and on the other, by the ocean. The soil is rich with volcanic deposits and humidity is moderate to low, ideal growing conditions for the mild sweet onion.

Last year, Huston and Pike flew to Santiago and leased 20 acres. The first harvest, an estimated 100,000 pounds, passed through U.S. customs in Detroit late last month. The onions were sweeter than Huston said he thought possible.

The harvest is small and will be sold entirely in New York City at 49 cents a pound. Next year, 400 acres will be planted and part of that harvest will find its way into supermarkets in metropolitan Detroit, joining another promotion by Huston, a unique gourmet potato called Yukon Gold.

"IT'S WITHOUT doubt the best-tasting potato in the world," Huston said of Yukon, a variety he tracked down in Ohio after a year of searching. He first marketed the variety six years ago, placing it in Michigan stores one year ago. The potato looks and tastes like it has already been buttered.

Yukon is a difficult and costly variety to grow. Once germinated in test tubes in California, it takes a seed four years to transform into a potato ready for sale. Only 5 percent of the nation's arable soil is suitable for the Yukon and yields are typically one-eighth the size of better-known varieties like Russett or Idaho.

The additional effort is more than worth it, Huston said. "It's delicious tasting. It contains no cholesterol. No salt. And each potato has about 110 calories."

Others also think the additional effort is worthwhile. Good Housekeeping Magazine gave Yukon its Seal of Approval. Joel Robuchon, the world's foremost authority on potatoes, features Yukon in his class party restaurant. Plans are under way for a European harvest and correspondents from Japan to Botswana have inquired about Yukon.

"THEY'RE FANTASTIC, sweet, crisp and have lots of texture," Huston said. He refers not to Chili or Yukon but to Fuji apples, his latest "find" that hails from Japan.

The apples, currently grown in California on a limited basis, are "better than anything else on the market," and "something people want," two criteria Huston employs when considering promotion of yet another new product.

Consumers are receptive to new products, the era is ripe, Huston said, pointing to the myriad of foods now available that were unknown less than a generation ago.

But marketing new produce is hard work. "It takes a lot of time and energy out of you, to find something new and then try to develop it," he said. It took him five years to market Yukon.

For now, Huston is preparing for a culinary demonstration later this week at the International Food Media Show in Los Angeles. He will unveil Chili Sweet for the first time, new fare ready to be feted.

Knows his onions and potatoes, too

POTATO BALLS
6 medium Yukon Gold potatoes, peeled and boiled until tender
1 medium onion, finely chopped
1 egg
½ teaspoon garlic powder
1 egg, beaten
1½ cups cracker crumbs oil for frying

Drain potatoes and mash. Allow to cool. Add onion, egg and garlic powder. Mix well. Form into 1-inch balls. Dip each into beaten egg and then into crumbs. Refrigerate for 8 hours (overnight is even better). Heat 1 inch of oil to 375 degrees and fry balls until golden, turning occasionally. Drain balls on paper towels. Serves 6 to 8 as nibble/finger food. Serve with a yogurt-dill sauce for dipping balls.

ONION AND DILL RELISH
½ cup finely chopped fresh dill
½ cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon mustard seed
3 tablespoon confectioner's sugar salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste
1 cup white wine vinegar
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 cups thinly sliced Chili Sweet onions (slices should be separated into rings)

Combine all ingredients except sweet onion into glass or ceramic bowl. Mix well and let sit for 30 minutes. Add onions and stir well. Cover and marinate overnight in refrigerator. Serves 6.

Get outside despite the cold, get energized by walking

In winter, we tend to use cold weather as an excuse to binge on comforting calorie-laden foods, gaining extra pounds that we fret about only when the first cheery robin appears on the scene. By then, it's too late.

Living in Michigan gives us the opportunity to enjoy the variety of colors and sounds that each season brings. Cold weather is no excuse not to take energizing walks. All that's needed is a wool cap, a long scarf, gloves and a warm jacket. And if, by chance, the temperature does fall far below zero, we can always get out and walk in the malls.

Skating and skiing are also invigorating sports that encourage the mind as well as the body. The important thing to remember is to move. Plan activities, do things, go places and stay active.

There are certain foods which, I believe, were created just for winter. Hot soups, freshly baked herbed breads, spiced muffins and steamed vegetables laced with crushed peppers are all rewards of winter. What could be more soothing than a wonderful cup of hot buttered rum, spiced tea, or Brazilian Cocoa 'n' Creme on a cold, crisp day?

HOT BUTTERED RUM
Makes 2 servings
1 tablespoon firmly packed dark brown sugar
2 teaspoons whipped sweet butter dash ground cloves suet of 1 small orange, removed in 1 long piece, then cut in half (The zest of the orange is the peel without any of the pith — the white membrane. To remove zest from orange, use a zester or vegetable peeler. Wrap orange in plastic wrap and refrigerate for use at another time).

Lite success Florine Mark

1 cinnamon stick (10 inches), broken in half (If 10-inch cinnamon stick is not available, substitute 2 2-inch cinnamon sticks).
6 whole cloves
1 cup brewed tea (hot)
½ cup unfermented apple cider or apple juice (no sugar added)
¼ cup dark rum

In small bowl combine sugar, butter and ground cloves, mixing until well blended; set aside. Wrap each strip of orange zest around each cinnamon stick and insert 3 whole cloves into each strip of zest. Trim zest is necessary.

Spoon ¼ of the whipped topping onto each serving of cocoa or fit a pastry bag with a star tip, fill bag with topping, and pipe topping onto cocoa. Sprinkle each serving with ¼ of the remaining cinnamon and serve immediately.

1 bay leaf
¼ teaspoon each salt and garlic powder
½ teaspoon each ground cinnamon, ground allspice, and crushed red pepper

Add remaining ingredients and stir well to combine. Reduce heat to low and let simmer, stirring occasionally, until chili is thick, 25-30 minutes. Remove bay leaf before serving.

Each serving provides: 2½ protein exchanges, 2½ vegetable exchanges.

Sycamore trees — friends to our ancestors

WHILE driving south on Southfield Road between 12 and 13 Mile, I noticed a tree with natural ornaments decorating its branches.

Hanging from the twigs of this sycamore tree were round fruits suspended by a single stem.

In addition to its characteristic ornaments, the sycamore has bark that makes it look sick. Large pieces of cream or light green bark are often seen flaking from the trunk. One might think the tree had psoriasis.

This feature makes it easy to remember the sycamore's name because it looks sick. Actually, the name probably comes from its resemblance to the English sycamore maple.

SYCAMORE TREES are often planted to landscape an area be-nature

Timothy Nowicki

cause they grow quickly, provide good shade and are strong. But in the early days of America's settlement, sycamore trees played a far more important role.

When George Washington rode around the country, there were sycamore trees 13 feet in diameter. In 1802 one was discovered in Ohio that was 47 feet in circumference.

Today, Michigan's champion tree in Lenawee County is a mere 24 feet in circumference. Large trees of this dimension were very useful to early settlers. They were all hollow because the old wood in the center had rotted away. While families built their log cabins, they would take shelter from one of these giants.

ONCE THE house was built, they would use these natural cupboards to store grain or meat during the winter. They even used them as stables for horses and cows.

Some trees were cut into sections, a bottom was attached, and they were used as a barrel. As time went on, sycamore wood was used to make stereoscopes, organ cases and phonograph boxes. Today, they make butcher blocks and crates from sycamore wood.

Not only did sycamore trees benefit man, they also provided shelter for the chimney swift. Before chimneys became more common than sycamore trees, these birds would roost during the night inside this natural flap.

The writer is staff naturalist at Independence Oaks County Park.

Sycamores look sick because of their flaking bark, but they were important shelters to pioneers because their interiors were hollow.

You're one call away from a brighter future.

Temple caught in Country Day web

By Brad Emons
staff writer

It was Chris Webber's home away from home. Returning to the place where he led his junior high team to a 24-0 record, the 6-foot-8 sophomore from Detroit Country Day scored 25 points, grabbed 12 rebounds and blocked four shots in limited action, leading the Yellow Jackets to a 81-55 victory at Redford Temple Christian.

"We destroyed everybody when Chris was here," said Temple coach Dave Gilliam, who lost out on the recruiting sweepstakes for the talented Webber. "I used to bring him to our varsity games. Everybody here loves him because he's such a gentleman."

"He gave me two hugs (before the game) and then kicked my butt."

Although he was back home, Webber turned in an uninspiring effort, except at the start when he dunked three straight times, propelling his team to an early 19-4 lead.

Country Day toyed most of the evening with the Patriots, whose tallest player is 6-1. The Patriots cut the huge deficit to 27-19 with 5:10 remaining in the first half on a basket by Brendan Figurski, but DCD regrouped to lead at intermission, 48-28.

"WE FINISHED the game," said Country Day coach Kurt Keener. "Tonight, Chris made a statement (with the dunks) in the first couple of minutes and then it was like he more-or-less said he accomplished all that he wanted."

Despite the gross mismatch inside, the Yellow Jackets rarely looked for Webber, who took only 14 shots and made 11.

Sophomore Myron Potter and junior Kurt Bloomhuff chipped in with 12 points each for DCD, now 11-2 overall.

Starting guard Kevin Colson, meanwhile, went down in the first minute of the game with a bruised knee after colliding with a Temple player. He did not return.

"Had I known the conditions — the floor was slippery — I wouldn't have scheduled the game," Keener said. "But we set up a two-year agreement with Temple, and we were going to honor it. I can remember there was a time when we were the Temple Christian of Oakland Country and we were struggling. Plus, Dave (Gilliam) is a good man and I knew he'd have them playing hard. It was also a nice homecoming for Chris."

FIGURSKI, a 6-1 senior forward, led a gallant Temple effort with 22 points. Junior guard Marlon Reed, who patted his buddy Webber on the rear several times, added 13, while Jeff Weiss contributed nine.

"If we had Webber on our side tonight, Keener would have been in the same boat," said Gilliam. "I figured I'd be happy if the score had been around 80-50 and we did a little better than that. I'm proud of my kids. They kept their intensity all the way. If we play like that in the district, we'll be all right."

The Patriots, a Class D school playing up against most of the teams on their schedule, fell to 6-10 overall.

"We want to try to finish 10-10 and we want to win our district, that's our goal," said the Temple coach.

Country Day, meanwhile, is the odds-on favorite to win the state Class C crown. Although the Temple was no match on this night, the Yellow Jackets have improved their schedule.

TWO OF THEIR losses occurred against tough Class A schools (Ferndale and Detroit Pershing). The Yellow Jackets recently scored a 71-49 win at Traverse City, another formidable (Class A) opponent.

"We've tried to upgrade our schedule and Chris usually plays according to the competition," Keener said.

The schedule will get better for DCD, which completes its season against the likes of Ecorse, Orchard Lake St. Mary's, Detroit Chadsey, Detroit Redford and Saginaw Nouvel.

Struggling Hawks nip Chiefs by 1

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Farmington Hills Harrison was supposed to be the team hand-capped by a player's absence.

In the end, it was Plymouth Canton, however, that suffered most from having lost a key member of its squad Friday night.

The Chiefs lost Brian Paupore in the second half when the 6-foot-5 senior sustained a broken nose, and visiting Harrison survived a lackluster fourth quarter for a 36-35 victory.

But the unimpressive finale couldn't diminish the importance of Harrison's victory.

The Hawks clinched a share of the Western Division title with a 7-1 record and improved to 13-2 overall. Second-place Canton slipped to 5-3 and 9-6.

HARRISON ENTERED the game without 6-2 senior Bryan Wauldron, who was sick with the flu. Ron Karbowski, a 6-4 junior, had four points and six rebounds in his place.

But the course the game would take was greatly affected by Paupore's departure with 2:59 remaining in the third quarter.

With the Chiefs leading 33-28, Paupore left the game after colliding with Harrison's Marc Eldredge. After taking down a rebound, Eldredge put the ball on the floor, and Paupore reached in front of him as he swatted at the ball.

"That was definitely the turning point," Harrison coach Mike Teachman said, "because they were looking to him the whole game."

"That really put us even, because we were playing without Wauldron. But it was a shame, because he was having such a good game."

Paupore, who scored all of his 13 points in the first half, was taken immediately to the hospital. Canton coach Tom Niemi didn't know how long his team's leading scorer will be sidelined.

"WHEN YOU TAKE 26 points out of your lineup, that's a heckuva thing to have happen," Niemi said.

Rocks take Glenn for division crown

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Plymouth Salem won the Lakes Division basketball title outright Friday, getting help from a trio of players whom coach Bob Brodie calls his "Three Musketeers."

Mike Albertson, Ryan Johnson and Tom Noonan all played significant roles off the bench as Salem knocked off host Westland John Glenn 72-59, to stay undefeated in the Lakes Division at 8-0, 14-1 overall. The loss evened Glenn's record in the Lakes at 4-4, and the Rockets are 7-8 overall.

Albertson, who never knows how much time he'll see on the court, scored 10 points, and grabbed 15 rebounds for the Rocks, including four straight free throws in the final quarter. Johnson added nine points, while Noonan provided a solid floor game.

Jeff Elliott again led the Rocks in scoring with 23 points and Jake Baker added 13, but the Rocks' locker room might not have been so exuberant without the play of Brodie's reserves.

"I FEEL LIKE I'm the sixth man, and I've got to work super hard to get my playing time," Albertson said. "I was thinking, 'I better make these free throws. This is it. This is the time.'"

Salem won the Lakes Division title outright two years ago, but Brodie's had more fun this year because it's been a total team effort. Starters Jeff Jagacki and Craig Marshall contributed eight and six points, respectively.

"This is sweeter," Brodie said. "Our kids played hard tonight. They're just a bunch of hard-working kids that are fun to watch and fun to coach."

"Those three guys (Albertson, Johnson and Noonan) accept their roles and are good at it. They're just as important as the five that start. Really, we have three 'Sixth Men.' I call them my 'Three Musketeers.'"

Greg Anderson led Glenn's lopsided attack with 27 points and Bobby Lawrence added 10. No other player had more than six points.

"It's a good sign that he's (Anderson's) hot, but it's bad that nobody basketball

else helped out." Glenn coach Bob Killingbeck said. "To be successful we have to get scoring from four or five guys. You're not going to win a lot when one guy scores."

"THEY'RE THE most talented team in the league, that's why they're undefeated and in first place. When Elliott's not playing well someone else picks up the pace. They have pretty good depth. Albertson hurt us and so did Ryan Johnson."

Glenn pulled to within six, 58-52, with less than six minutes left on a 3-point shot by Chris Poplin, but Albertson's four consecutive free throws gave the Rocks a more comfortable 10-point (62-53) lead.

Anderson made a jump shot to cut the lead to seven, 66-59, but that's as close as Glenn got.

Anderson scored 16 first-half points on seven-of-11 shooting and the Rockets trailed by only three, 34-31, at halftime. The Rockets also played the Rocks pretty evenly on the boards, being outrebounded only by four, 21-17.

Elliott was assigned to cover Anderson most of the night, and Albertson also guarded the Glenn sharpshooter. It didn't matter.

"HE'S A GOOD player," Brodie said. "We knew he was capable of scoring a lot. We had a hand in his face and he still drilled his shots. Give him credit."

Anderson made only three of nine second-half shots, however, and the Rockets got outrebounded 21-15 in the final two quarters. The Rockets will need a better effort than that if they are to meet the Rocks in the Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs.

Glenn is tied for third in the Lakes with Livonia Stevenson and the top four teams in each division make the league playoffs.

"Our next challenge is to make the playoffs," Killingbeck said. "Maybe we'll see them again when it counts. We can't mess around."

Ex-CC standout thrives on competition

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

All factors considered, Bill Vitli's success as a freshman starter for Saginaw Valley State's basketball team should come as no surprise. After all, he could actually make an argument that his pre-college training was more difficult.

Vitli graduated from Redford Catholic Central last spring. While the transition to college basketball often humbles the best of prospects, Vitli's background prepared him well for it.

"At CC, I played against guys like Parrish Hickman, Lee Fitzpatrick and Mike Peplowski," he said. "The Catholic League was real tough."

Indeed it was. Hickman, from Redford Bishop Borgese, and Peplowski, from Warren DeLaSalle, are now freshmen at Michigan State. Hickman is starting for the Spartans; Peplowski is recovering from a knee injury.

Fitzpatrick, from Birmingham Brother Rice, is a freshman member of Oakland University's team.

But that wasn't the end of Vitli's training. Last summer he played for the Detroit Sibley's team that won the under-18 AAU state tournament.

OTHER TEAM members were Matt Stelgenga, the state's 1988 player of the year from Grand Rapids South Christian, and Jon Zulauf, from Port Huron, both now at MSU; and Chris Weber, the talented Detroit Country Day sophomore who is already being compared to Magic Johnson.

All of those players have two things in common: They are taller than Vitli, who's 6-foot-8, and they tangled with him, at one time or another, in the paint.

Vitli is what's known as a blue-collar player. He does the dirty work around the basket. "I'm mostly in there for rebounding, blocking shots and playing defense," he said prior to SVSU's game at OU Thursday. "I'm not in there for scoring. I just go in and work hard."

"So far, his hard work has paid off in solid numbers. Entering the OU game, he was averaging 8.5 points, 8.6 rebounds and 2.0 blocks per game. In Great Lakes Conference play, Vitli was first in field-goal percentage (78.0 on 39-of-52) and third in rebounding (8.4 per game). His performance thus far has made him a frontrunner for GLIAC freshman of the year honors.

NOT BAD for someone whose goals entering the season were modest, to say the least. "I hoped to play about 20 minutes a game and try to improve myself," he said. He's averaging 27.5 minutes and is improving every game.

six make the tournament) — and Vitli is confident they'll win it.

"WE SHOULD get through the districts," he predicted. "I think we have a real good chance of getting to the (NAA) nationals. I'd be disappointed if we didn't."

Although Vitli has enjoyed unexpected success, he knows he can — and must — improve. "I have to work on my shooting," he said, which may sound odd considering his league-leading field goal percentage. But his shots almost all originate from the paint. "I remember taking a shot from the free throw line once," he said.

Free throws are a different story. Vitli has struggled at the line, making just 48.2 percent. "It's driving me crazy," he said. "I'm not that bad. The ball's just rolling around the rim and not going in."

But these could be considered minor problems in what has been a strong step toward a promising career.

Playoff pairings

With help from Rice, CC clinches title

Redford Catholic Central lost its Catholic League regular season basketball finale Friday at Warren DeLaSalle, 58-54, but the Shamrocks are outright champions of the Central Division thanks to Birmingham Brother Rice's win over second place Redford Bishop Borgess (see story below.)

The Shamrocks finished 7-3 in the division. They will take an 8-7 overall record against Royal Oak Shrine, Tuesday at home, in the first round of the A-B Division playoffs.

DeLaSalle (9-8, 4-8), which failed to make the playoffs, played spoiler as three Pilots scored netted double figures led by Chris Martin (18), Chris May (11) and Jack Goodman (10).

Terry Boykin paced CC with 14 points, while Ray Richards and Steve Whitlow contributed 12 and 11, respectively.

The Shamrocks, who couldn't hold an early fourth-quarter lead, did not shoot a free throw in the second half after going 11 of 18 in the first half.

DeLaSalle made 18 of 23 on the night.

RICE 52, BISHOP BORGESS 39: The Spartans (8-7, 6-4) blew an opportunity to claim a share of the Central Division crown Friday as host Birmingham Brother Rice (8-7, 5-5) clinched fourth place and an A-B playoff berth.

Senior guard David Washington paced the winners with 13 points, while teammate Paul Arthur contributed 10.

Randy White scored 11 in a losing cause. Borgess was outscored 16-5 in the decisive final quarter.

The Spartans open A-B Division playoff action Tuesday at home against Riverview Gabriel Richard.

The sluggish Aggies also got 11 from senior center Mike Boyle.

Gregg Dorsehl paced the last place Cardinals with 14.

Agatha can clinch the division title Tuesday with a win at Detroit St. Hedwig.

STEVENSON 86, FARMINGTON 61: Junior guard Ron Baran hit six shots from three-point range Friday, leading Livonia Stevenson (9-5, 4-4) to a Western Lakes Activities Association (Lakes Division)

Baran finished with a game-high 23 points, while seniors Chris Nazelli and Scott Koskowski chipped in with 18 and 16, respectively.

Stevenson outscored Farmington 24-15 and 24-11 in the middle two periods to put the game away. The Spartans also made 32 of 31 free throws.

Three Falcons scored in double figures, led by Chris Schmid with 12. Mike Williams and Greg Bjedov added 10 each.

CHURCHILL 65, W.L. WESTERN 60 (2 OTs): Jason Belaire scored five of his team-high 20 points in the second overtime, leading Livonia Churchill (5-10, 3-5) to a W.L.A.A. (Western Division) triumph over visiting Walled Lake Western (5-10, 3-5).

The two teams were tied at the end of regulation at 50 and after the first OT at 58.

Churchill was able to overcome a 25-21 halftime deficit.

"We played really good man-to-man defense from the third quarter on," said Churchill coach Fred Price. "We controlled the boards and that was a key factor in the game. We didn't give up. We hung in there. It was our best team effort of the year."

Mike Juodawikis, a junior center, contributed 12 points, while senior forward Mike Picha picked up eight points and 14 rebounds.

Ken Proos scored 21 points in a losing cause. He hit four shots from three-point land.

NORTHVILLE 75, FRANKLIN 72: A missed free throw and a pair of untimely turnovers in the final minute cost Livonia Franklin (8-8, 4-4) a W.L.A.A. (Western Division) victory against the host Mustangs (6-9, 2-6).

Heath Meyers scored a game-high 26 points and Chris House added 12 for Northville, which converted 21 of 31 from the charity stripe.

Senior guard Roy Hall notched a team-high 25 for the Patriots, while senior forward Mark Dopheue added 18 points, nine rebounds and five assists. Craig Overallis scored 11 and dished out six assists. John Shea also had 11 points.

Franklin made just 13 of 28 from the line.

THURSTON 76, ALLEN PARK 57: Seniors Fernando Merida and Mike Lucy controlled the boards Friday as Redford Thurston (12-3, 9-2) scored an easy Tri-River League victory against the host Jaguars (6-9, 5-6).

Merida scored 17 points and snared 13 rebounds, while Lucy, playing his best game of the year, contributed 16 points and 14 boards.

Matt Farris and Jason Muller added 15 and 11 points, respectively.

Gordon Miller tallied 12 for Allen Park. Thurston made 23 of 29 free throws on the night, including 16 of 20 in the final quarter.

WAYNE 73, LINCOLN PARK 38: It was no contest in Wolverine A League action Friday as the host Zebra (10-4, 7-3) trampled the visiting Rail-splitters (6-9, 2-7).

Wayne led 29-21 at the half and then broke loose in the third period, outscoring the visitors 29-8.

Senior guard Tony Rumble paced a balanced Wayne attack with 18 points. Junior forward Kevin Hankerson added 16 points and 14 rebounds, while senior guard Reggie Brandon collected 16 points and four assists.

In that third period uprising, Hankerson had eight, Brandon added seven, while Larry Johnson and Rumble contributed six points each.

DEARBORN 67, REDFORD UNION 66: Tim Nalodka scored 18 points Friday and hit the winning free throw with only eight seconds left to give the host Pioneers (7-8, 2-3) the Northwest Suburban League win over the Panthers (7-6, 2-3).

RU missed a chance to win it at the buzzer when Kevin Whitman could not convert a desperation three-point attempt.

Joe Delgaur scored 20 points in a losing cause, while John Burdick added 16.

Rob Sekulich paced Dearborn with 19.

"Their defense did a nice job," said RU coach Tip Smathers of the Pioneers. "They played a 1-3-1 zone and later played a diamond-and-one on Burdick. It slowed us down."

RU was also outrebounded, 39-22.

AVONDALE 74, AVONDALE 42: On Friday, Derrick Hutchinson tallied 31 points and grabbed 16 rebounds Friday to lead host Auburn Heights Avondale (15-2, 11-0) to the topseeded Metro Conference triumph over Livonia Clarenceville (4-10, 2-7).

The Yellow Jackets led 34-21 at the half and blew things open with a 22-6 scoring spurt in the third period.

Derrick Herr netted 10 in a losing cause for the Trojans.

No problem Lady Ocelots whip past Delta cagers

In December, when Schoolcraft College's womens basketball team was plugging win after win — their streak eventually reached 18-straight — the team that gave them the toughest test was Delta College. SC won, 67-66 — and it was the Lady Ocelots' home opener.

Schoolcraft sports

It figured when they traveled to play at Delta, the challenge would be more formidable. It was, for a half. But SC made a change defensively and pulled away to a 74-60 victory.

It was the team's 21st win in 22 games and 10th in 11 Eastern Conference contests.

The score at the half was just 34-32, favoring the Lady Ocelots, and trouble loomed. Starting center Barb Krug (from Plymouth Salem) drew her third foul with five minutes left in the half and went to the bench.

BUT HER teammates picked up the slack. "We settled down in the second half and went to a full-court man-to-man from a zone, and just pestered them," said coach Jack Grenan.

Delta went to a press in the second half, but the move backfired when the Lady Ocelots broke it four-straight times for layups to take an eight-point lead. SC's lead eventually reached 17 points, and the victory was assured.

Lisa DePlanche led the second-half uprising by scoring 15 of her game-high 21 points. Krug managed 17 points, Darlene Bazner got 15 points and seven steals, and Michelle Dyknski notched 13 points.

The pivotal week in SC's season is at hand. On Wednesday, the Lady Ocelots host Highland Park CC at 6:30 p.m., and on Saturday they travel to Oakland CC for a 6 p.m. contest. They are SC's closest league rivals.

SC'S MENS TEAM was over-matched against conference co-leader Delta, losing 110-75 Wednesday at Delta. The Ocelots are 6-19 overall and 2-10 in the conference; Delta is 17-7 and 10-2.

The game was over by halftime; SC trailed 65-35. Three Ocelots reached double-figures in scoring: Al Hudson (21 points), John Moran (20) and Mike Mercer (18). Mark Koronka and Rob Harmon added eight apiece. SC was without starter Bernard McGee, who is ill, for the second-straight game.

Delta had six players in double-figures in scoring: Brian Morgan (24), Sonny Randle (18), Ervin Brown (16), Larry Walker (14), and Corey Phillips and Corey Holliday (12 apiece).

Harrison cagers win ugly, 36-35

"All year long, we've had two major scorers (Paupore and Troy Waldron), but the other kids stepped in and tried to do their best. That's all you can ask.

"It was an emotional game," he added. "Everybody knew the consequences of this game."

It looked as if neither team, however, was eager to win the game in the fourth quarter, which saw the Hawks outscore Canton 5-0. It was not an example of well-played basketball by either team.

For their part, the Chiefs were 0-for-10 from the field in the last eight minutes.

"Both teams wanted it, believe me," Niemi said.

IRONICALLY, THE Hawks won the game with a pair of Chad Burgess free throws that put Harrison in front 36-35. But the Hawks were just 7-of-21 at the line for the game and 3-of-8 in the finale.

"Do you think we're going to be shooting free throws next week?" Teachman said.

With Paupore out of the lineup and Mill Coleman having pulled the Hawks within two, 35-33, early in the quarter, the Chiefs went to a slow-down offense and began to work the clock.

Canton also wanted to be sure of getting a high-percentage shot, Niemi said, "but they didn't drop

When they don't drop, you don't win.

Niemi, as did Teachman, also cited the defensive play that dominated the fourth quarter.

"When you hold a state-ranked team to 36 points, you've gotta be proud," he said. "You should win when you hold people to that, but it just didn't happen."

BURGESS, WHO scored a game-high 15 points, felled Canton's stall tactic with a steal that led to a foul and a free throw, narrowing the deficit to 34-33 with 4:12 to play.

His winning free throws followed one of Canton's misses, but the Hawks missed three ensuing 1-and-1 chances and gave the Chiefs other opportunities with frontcourt turnovers.

Canton, however, didn't take advantage as evidenced by its shooting. Its last chance, with three seconds left, was erased by a traveling call. A defender jumped in front of Geoff Allen as he went up to shoot, causing him to abort the attempt.

"It reminded me of a deodorant commercial," said Teachman of the final quarter. "Which one was going to last: Right Guard or Ban?

"As trite as it sounds, winning the last quarter 5-0, it was defense that did it for us."

"There was not a lot of offense out there," he understated. "Canton has a lot of role players that can throw at you to make fouls. They're going to keep doing that if you're not going to make the free throws."

HARRISON MISSED its first seven shots of the game, but Burgess and Marcus Mack got the transition game going and the Hawks led 15-11 after one quarter. But the Chiefs scored the last 10 points of the half — Paupore getting six — to put Canton on top 25-22 at halftime.

Waldron also scored 13 points for the Chiefs. Coleman and Mack added six apiece for Harrison, and Burgess led with eight rebounds. Teachman said he was satisfied with the play of Karbowski.

"When you put a guy in that situation, you don't expect spectacular things," he said. "You expect concrete, right things at the right time kinda stuff. They didn't get too many inside shots in the last 10-12 minutes."

Churchill wins pair; Pats romp

Livonia Churchill continued to lead the Suburban Prep Hockey League, skating past Bloomfield Hills Andover, 9-3, in a game played Thursday at the Detroit Skating Club.

The Chargers, now 9-1 in the SPHL, were led by Mike Iavasille, who scored twice. Mike Koelding and Chris Frayer each contributed one goal and three assists, while Brian Lynch, Bill Durham, Bob Sommerville, Jamle Gustkey and Joe Ahmet also scored goals.

Jeff Pendell assisted three times, while Denny Elenich contributed two.

In a penalty-filled game on Friday at Livonia's Edgar Arena, Churchill outslugged non-league foe Port Huron, 7-4, as Jeff Rheume and Durham each scored twice.

Russ MacDonald, Iavasille and Ahmet also scored goals.

Knending contributed three assists, while Pendell and Ahmet recorded two each.

Churchill is 15-2 overall.

A.A. HURON 4, REDFORD CC 3: On Wednesday, sophomore Matt Albers scored twice, including the game-winning goal with 21 seconds, giving host Ann Arbor Huron its first Michigan Metro High School Hockey League win of the season against Redford Catholic Central in a game played at Veterans Arena.

"We skated well, but didn't move the puck well," said CC coach John Gumbleton, whose team slipped to 9-4-1 and 5-5 in the Michigan Metro. "We were in their end all night. It was a strange game."

JOHN STORMZAND/staff photographer

Churchill's Bill Durham (white jersey) is up-ended in front of the Port Huron net by a Big Reds skater. Churchill rolled to a 7-4 non-league victory Friday at Edgar Arena.

CC outshot the River Rats 24-14 on the night and led 2-0 after one period on goals by Scott Lock and Jerry Kocis.

Mark Zwarych and Kris Slocum assisted on Lock's goal, while Keith Bozyk and Steve McCaul assisted the Kocis goal, a power-play effort.

Huron tied it up in the second period on goals by Nathan Kerns and Mike Work. Lock then scored from Kocis in the third period, but Albers countered with two goals for Huron.

G.P. NORTH 3, STEVENSON 1: In the nightcap of a doubleheader Wednesday at Edgar Arena, state-ranked Grosse Pointe North got a pair of third-period goals from Pete Mairad to beat Livonia Stevenson (8-7-1) in a non-league encounter.

Bob Belts also scored for the Norseman. Senior center Mike Morrison averted the shutout for Stevenson with a goal at the 12:01 mark. Matt Cichy and John Labodie assisted on the play.

FRANKLIN 32, SOUTHFIELD 0: That's right, 32-0. In the first game of a doubleheader Wednesday at Edgar, Livonia Franklin drilled undermanned Southfield behind Rob Ingersoll's school-record seven goals and eight assists.

Thirteen of 15 Franklin players scored in the debacle.

The Patriots led 7-0 after one period and 20-0 after two periods.

"It's not nice to say, but we could have won without a goalie," said Franklin coach Terry Jobbitt. "This didn't do my team any good. I feel bad about it. I told my team at least three passes before they shoot."

Southfield coach John MacFarlan, who had only 10 available players, refused to agree on a running clock, according to the Franklin coach.

"They should just hang up the season," said Jobbitt of Blue Jays, who remain winless in the SPHL.

Rounding out the Franklin scoring parade: Charlie Olschanski, seven goals and four assists; Brian Stover, four goals and six assists; Matt Sharkey, three goals and three assists; Mike Zajdel, one goal and six assists; Bryan Harris and Scott Lorenz, two goals and four assists each; Bob Burr and Darrin Liptow, one goal and four assists each; Bob Balfy, one goal and two assists.

Franklin goalies faced only 10 shots.

Bowling alliance salutes area youths

TWO LOCAL BOWLERS, Kelley Wantin and Jennifer McPherson, received awards recently for finishing among the "Nation's Top 10" of their division in the Young American Bowling Alliance.

Wantin, a fourth grade student at Cleveland Elementary School in Westland, was third in the nation in the Bantam Girls Under-eight Division, rolling a 203 game. She also went right out and rolled a 193 game the day the awards were presented. As one might have guessed, Wantin's hobby is bowling.

McPherson, a fifth grader at Elliott Elementary in Westland, rolled a 330 series (two games). Besides bowling, McPherson plays the violin and is a Tiger fan.

Bob Smith, the area director for the YABA, and Randy Smith, who has coached the youngsters for many years, handed out the awards. The awards took place during the youth league competition at Merril-Bowl Lanes on Five Mile near Merriman.

Sixteen-year-old Lona Palise and stepfather Dave Pickett bowled together in the Holiday Doubles tournament at Westland Bowl, shooting a 735 series on games of 290-233-212.

ment, which is running every Saturday and Sunday (through April 2). This is the 48th annual Tournament for the Knights of Columbus. I will be reporting the winners and high scores at the conclusion of the event.

Woodland Lanes on Plymouth Road near Farmington Road has been the scene of some very good scores recently with Dave Sajewski rolling a 279 and Pat Chartrand a 688 series in the Men's Trio League.

In the Keglerettes Ladies League, Lisa Piltner registered a 244 game, while Sharon Dutha scored 222 and 194. Judith Brown, bowling in the Rollers League, pitched a 234 game. Greg Wlzigird rolled a 684 series while competing in the Senior House League and Jim Fahner scored a 269 game in the Midnighters League.

How about 109 pins over average! Don Bodterbaugh, Sr., did just that with a 289 game in the Bucks and Does League. In the Monday Swinging Seniors, George Gola rolled a 234 game.

In the Senior House League, Ralph Zdrozny rolled a 716 series while Greg Wlzigird and Rob Domenzain finished right behind with scores of 702 and 700, respectively. In the Ford Transmission Ladies, George Wengler scored a 237 game.

In the Saturday Preps, Randy Desjardin was the high man with 193. Jeff Schaeffer, who bowls in the St. Edith Men's Monday Night League, bowled a 289 game. In the Junior House League, Dave Myers pitched a 687 series and Ted Kowalski had a 657 series, 187 pins over his three-game average. Karen Brown led the scoring in the Brown Family Mixed League with games of 217 and 223.

The Greenfield Mixed League at Country Lanes in Farmington Hills goes at 6:30 p.m. each Friday. Last week, Bill Pietrzyk led the way with a 663 series, including games of 236 and 263. Also at Country Lanes, Julie Wright, bowling in the Farmington Schools League, shot 241 in a 604 series. This 16-year-old had just won the Greater Detroit YABA Championship last month at Thunderbowl. Messner, Miller hailed Mark Messner, a former football standout at Redford Catholic Central, and John Miller, who prepped at Farmington Harrison, will be given the Wolverine Human Services Tony Sablowski Award for humanitarianism and courage shown on and off the field in college.

Messner recently capped an outstanding collegiate career, being named All-Big Ten defensive tackle four consecutive years for the Rose-Bowl champion University of Michigan football team. Miller finished his four-year career at Michigan State University, earning All-Big Ten honors last fall as a safety.

Wolverine confers these awards annually for Big Ten and Mid-American Conference athletes at its Sportsmen's On and Off the Field Banquet. This year the banquet will be held Friday, Feb. 24, at the Novi Hilton. Tickets are $55. Call 822-2070 for information.

The Sportsmen's Banquet honors these athletes from Big Ten and MAC colleges for their athletic prowess, community involvement and academic accomplishments.

Eastern Michigan fullback Steven Palmateer, from Northstreet, Mich., is the MAC's representative for the Wolverine Human Services Humanitarian Award.

Reggie McKenzie, who played for both the Buffalo Bills and Seattle Seahawks of the National Football League, will be the keynote speaker.

The banquet raises money for children in treatment programs operated by Wolverine Human Services. MHS is a multi-program, non-profit youth service agency.

Speaking of youth bowling, we are going back to school. The Southeast Michigan High School Bowling championship will take place soon with qualifying on March 19, and the finals, April 2. The high schools will field five-man teams, and after qualifying, will go on to a "stepladder" finals.

If you are a high school student and interested, check with the athletic department of your school. I will have more on this subject the next time my column appears. The event is sanctioned by the YABA, but non-sanctioned bowlers also will be eligible to compete. Eligibility also is dependent on scholastic standing.

If you are a league secretary or officer, you can report the high scores to me at 422-1609.

BANG goes the hard rubber disc against the plexiglass shield. WHUMP go the bodies of two skaters scurrying to retrieve it.

Instinctively, the spectator flinches, then smiles to himself. A point has been made here.

The skaters are women, but this is definitely hockey.

Women's hockey leagues once flourished from blue-collar Wayne County communities to Oakland County's white-collar suburban havens.

But the leagues aren't flourishing anymore. They are down to a band of hardy survivors, women mostly in their mid-20s to early 30s.

And for one hour this January night, more than two dozen will renew their sisterhood on the ice.

"The women who play hockey consider themselves a special group," said long-time coach Fred LeHoup of Westland.

LeHoup, a television station employee by day, knows of what he speaks. For more than a decade, he has devoted his free time to women's hockey.

HE COACHED women's teams before hundreds of cheering spectators on outdoor Scandinavian rinks. He's coached them on the hallowed Olympic ice of Lake Placid.

Tonight, he will coach his Garden City team on its home ice against a group of red-clad invaders from Livonia.

His players bear out the assessment that, indeed, they're a breed apart among the area's amateur athletes.

For them, it's a sisterhood born of adversity and necessity.

Most of tonight's players learned the game in the early to mid-1970s — as part of the first generation of young women who were told that, yes, they could do everything the boys did.

But it hasn't always been easy.

"A lot of people don't even know I play hockey. And when they do, a lot of them tell me it's a man's sport," said Kathy England, a compact 11-year veteran who is one of the Garden City team's best players.

"You get support from some people, flak from others," England said. "Some of the guys don't like it, and we also get flak

Toronto: It's cosmopolitan, close to home

By Iris Sanderson Jones

(First of a two-part series)

Q: A group of us are planning a four-day trip together during late winter or early spring. We hope to go to Europe someday, but in the meantime, we've narrowed it down to two Canadian cities, Toronto and Ottawa. That's as much of a "foreign country" as we can afford. Please help us choose, and keep the prices down, if you can.

M.S.,

A: Ottawa is the capital of Canada and its downtown life revolves around legislative buildings with a distinctive Canadian architecture. They look like French chateaus, with stone walls and steep copper roofs, green with age, high above the Ottawa River, which separates Ontario from the French-speaking province of Quebec.

Toronto is the capital city of Ontario. Its downtown life is led in contemporary high-rise buildings and old well-preserved ethnic neighborhoods, with business people and residents sharing the busy shoreline and offshore islands of Lake Ontario.

We'll talk about Toronto this week. Next week I'll tell you about Ottawa. There are some things

'Triangle' gives other side of war

Two comedies and an unusual Vietnam war movie highlight this week's additions to your local marquee. Well-known stars appear in all three as the spring film season gains momentum.

There have been so many Vietnam war movies that they now form a special film category sufficiently large, and books and articles are being written about them.

For the most part, these films are "Rambo/MIA" blood and thunder epics which subconsciously try to explain away the war or the "Full Metal Jacket/Hamburger Hills" "war is hell" variety. Some exceptions are films, such as "Platoon," which project a moving portrait of war's tragedy and "Coming Home's" sensitive handling of veterans' problems.

Set in a corner of the Ho Chi Minh trail, "The Iron Triangle" (R) (B) is a graphically brutal film based on the diary of a Viet Cong soldier. The story is narrated by American Captain Keene (Beau Bridges) and the cast includes Haing Ngor who won an Oscar for his role in "The Killing Fields."

The film shows the other side of the war through the eyes of Ho (James Ishida). Both he and Keene have their reasons for being soldiers — the latter because his country called and 17-year-old Ho thinks he's helping his people regain their pride and their land.

But war changes people and no one is left untouched. Through unusual circumstances, which to some may seem unrealistic, both Ho and Keene have an opportunity to kill the other, but a meeting of their eyes stops the trigger finger each time. While such coincidences are not beyond belief, the story suffers by not explaining why, even when Ho asks Keene why.

In the end, no matter from whose viewpoint the Vietnam story is told, war is brutal and dehumanizing — and getting worse all the time. "The Iron Triangle" demonstrates that death is no longer an emotional, personal, moral tragedy.

In our cynical, violent times, death of other human beings has become just another political act — an act which only stimulates outrage and retribution if the "other guys" do it. But if our side, which ever one that is, murders, it's OK. Reviewed by Kathy Guyor.

This week's two new comedies feature a roster of well-known performers. "Her Alibi" (PG) (B-) 90 minutes, represents that latest slick, high-concept film that entertains but doesn't quite make it on the all-time charts.

Clearly producer Keith Barish ("Sophie's Choice," "9½ Weeks" and "The Serpent and the Rainbow"), figures he's worked in every genre and it's time to mix them all together. While the idea of a spy-detective-detectors-on-the-lam-writer's block comedy-murder-mystery is unusual, Barish and director Bruce Beresford ("Tender Mercies") come close, but don't quite pull it off.

Detective novel writer Phillip Blackwood (Tom Selleck) hasn't been productive since his wife left him and his career is suffering despite editor Sam Dusen's (William Daniels) help. Arthur Miller's sister, Joan Copeland, appears in a neat cameo as Mrs. Dusen.

But nothing much helps Blackwood until inspiration strikes in the lovely form of police prisoner Nina Ionescu (Pauline Porizkova) who is being arraigned for murder. Stricken by her beauty, Blackwood provides an alibi and she is released.

Suspicious police Lt. Frank Polito (James Farentino) complicates matters as does Romanian agent Troppa (Hurd Hatfield) and others hovering around poor Mr. Blackwood and his lovelorn writer's block.

It's cleverly done as Selleck voices over the exploits of Blackwood's super-detective hero while Selleck himself stumbles through numerous complications. But the quick shifts from comedy — some of it overly broad — to suspense and back again is poorly paced. Ms. Porizkova is lovely, but Selleck's handsome visage and super-efficient "Magnum P.I." persona make it difficult to believe all this fumbling around.

Nonetheless, the production is slick and there's a good deal of fun to be had.

"Who's Harry Crumb?" (PG-13) (D+) 85 minutes. It's John Candy playing a big, bumbling inept private detective trying to solve a kidnapping. He wants to be a master of disguise, to be clever, to be a great detective. He wants to be funny. He really tries, but he just doesn't make it.

The major problem is that Candy isn't Inspector Clouseau, but he tries the gags anyway. Peter Sellers with a thin black mustache and French accent was likeable and humorous. John Candy's bright red hair and good old boy accent don't have the same appeal.

Peter Sellers was brilliant. John Candy tries hard but his timing and performance fall short.

One bright spot is Annie Potts as the sexy, conniving, money hungry stepmother of the kidnapped girl, Jennifer (Renee Cloeman). With her tennis pro boyfriend, Potts tries to kill her husband in order to inherit his money before he gives it to the kidnappers.

Beau Bridges plays Captain Keene, an American infantry commander fighting for survival in Vietnam saga "The Iron Triangle."

Jennifer's younger sister, Nikki (Shawnee Smith) is another bright spot as she befriends Harry and becomes his sidekick. She and Potts are good, but not good enough to help this film.

As Harry notes, "I'm my own crumb; I'm not like the others." He's right, the others are funny. Reviewed by Kathy Guyor.

VIDEO VIEWING

Discovering documentaries

By Dan Greenberg
special writer

The latest entertainment blockbuster or an old movie favorite — that's what we normally pull off the video shop shelves. Seldom do we think of documentaries as entertaining so you may be surprised to learn there's lots of excellent entertainment in that section.

Travelogues may not seem enticing unless you're planning a trip to exotic isles, but the filmed record of violinist Isaac Stern's 1979 trip to China should appeal to all with its vivacious attitude, brilliant music and inspiring testimony to the strength and courage of the human spirit.

"From Mao to Mozart — Isaac Stern in China" (G-rated, 84 minutes) won the 1981 Oscar for best feature-length documentary and traces world-famous concert violinist Stern's trip with pianist David Golub who appears in concert, in master classes and in travel with Stern.

The first full-length American film shot in China after the Cultural Revolution, "From Mao to Mozart" is a fine tribute to Stern's virtuosity and an inspiring testimony to man's spirit.

One such example is the director of a Shanghai music conservatory who suffered during the Cultural Revolution. His graphic testimony of life in a closet and other terrors of that period demonstrate the strength and courage human beings are capable of.

THE POINT here is well taken that music — and by extension of all of the arts — can sustain us in trying times.

Seldom-seen views of China, Stern's superb playing, and his ebullient, cherubic persona create a happy 1½ hours for your home screen.

In the same good spirit, "The Weavers: Wasn't That a Time!" (PG, 1982, 78 minutes) is a musical documentary recording that folk group's rise and fall against the background of McCarthy-era America.

Pete Seeger, Lee Hays, Ronnie Gilbert and Fred Hellerman as "The Weavers" were responsible for popularizing folk music in post-World War II America, in particular their hit recordings of "Goodnight, Irene" and "This Land Is My Land."

But those years trembled to Senator McCarthy's demagoguery and no one was safe, least of all people like "The Weavers" who spoke out for the environment and for the poor and oppressed.

"Wasn't That a Time!" chronicles their tribulations as well as their successes and concludes with their triumphant 1980 Carnegie Hall concert.

Arlo Guthrie, Holly Near, Don McLean and Peter, Paul and Mary appear in song and in tribute to "The Weavers," testifying to their great good humanism and their tremendous musical inspiration to performers everywhere.

DESPITE the oppression of the Chinese Cultural Revolution and the anti-communist hysteria of America 40 years ago, the human spirit rises in joyful song. As Carl Sandburg noted, "When I hear America sing, the Weavers are there."

"From Mao to Mozart — Isaac Stern in China" and "The Weavers: Wasn't That a Wonderful Time!" are two musical documentaries that will amuse, entertain and warm your hearts with their good spirits.

But more important, they testify to that marvelous capacity that we all possess, our ability to struggle, to survive and to love.

The members of Passion Nouveau include Marc Andris, vocalist Derrick Thompson, drummer Vern Blevins and guitarist John Macca.

Their 'passion' is dance music

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Three out of four members of Passion Nouveau recommend dance music with an edge.

And the fourth member, you ask. Well, Marc Andris of Troy chooses to sit this interview out at the other table while other band members hover around a tape recorder.

"He is the quiet one," said Derrick Thompson, vocalist and spokesman for Passion Nouveau.

Drummer Vern Blevins of Warren and guitarist John Macca of Farmington Hills along with Thompson more than make up for Andris' silence. All three enthusiastically discuss the direction of Passion Nouveau, keeping their concentration along the way despite talking above a soundcheck by the British synth band Flock of Seagulls at Blondie's.

First off, Passion Nouveau proclaims itself as a dance band with a spark. While members cite New Order, Duran Duran and Roxy Music as influences, guitarist Macca lists Jimmy Page and Jimi Hendrix as his.

So there you go. There's the edge. Members believe that the raw guitar sound puts Passion Nouveau a few steps ahead of the average drone band.

"Our live show adds a lot of guitar and movement up front, which British bands don't offer," said Thompson, 25, who lives in Detroit. "Their stage show is usually boring. We try to offer a lot of excitement."

PASSION NOUVEAU certainly captures that on tape. Songs are filled with musical virtuosity and introspection. To their credit, they don't fall into the trap of repetitive beats and display a certain spark uncommon for bands of their ilk.

That obviously is by design. Thompson formed the band, under a different name, six years ago with the idea of being new without falling into a formula.

Joey Kool was the beginning of what would later become Passion Nouveau. Influenced by the likes of Missing Persons, that band was fronted by a female. Thompson played guitar in the group.

Things grew stale and Thompson reorganized. He met Andris, who suggested Blevins. A few people auditioned the guitarist spot until Macca emerged.

"I feel confident that he is the missing link," Thompson said. "The four of us planned to go far."

So far the band has made it to Chicago and Toronto along with a tour of the college circuit. Also, they are one of the few bands that can boast of playing rock'n'roll venues, such as Paycheck's Lounge and Lill's 21, as well as dance clubs like Taboo.

THE SOUND, they believe, crosses a wide genre of musical tastes. Again, credit for part of that goes to the guitarist.

"I think it's good to have a dance sound," said Blevins, who lives in Warren. "But it's good to have an edge to it. John brings that."

"The guitar is a very emotional instrument," Thompson added. "I heard Jimmy Page make his guitar cry, once."

Another facet to the Passion Nouveau sound is the song writing of Thompson. He admits writing one out of four songs for a pop hit. He said the other stuff comes from within.

Songs off a slickly-produced demo tape shows a group whose quite confident in its direction. At first, Thompson said the band tried to play all types of music, including country and western, rhythm and blues and straight ahead rock'n'roll.

Dance is where it's at, though, for Passion Nouveau.

"The thing about this band," Macca said, "is that it seems to be involved in whatever is new. It's always on the cutting edge of what is happening in music."

MUSIC NOTES

Proving that good music and a lot of hard work pays off, Second Self has been signed by national record label EMI.

The Detroit band will celebrate the event with a combined record release/record label signing bash on Tuesday, Feb. 14, at Saint Andrew's Hall in Detroit. The four members of Second Self are already heralding the news.

"We've been trying for awhile," said drummer Jeff Fowlkes, "and all of a sudden it happened."

Second Self has extensively toured the Michigan, Ohio and Ontario region along with the East Coast for the past two years. After hearing a six-song tape, EMI arts and repertoire man, Rob Gordon, flew in to Cincinnati to check out the band.

Gordon was impressed enough to have Second Self showcase for the entire label in New York. Shortly after, they were signed.

"I felt they exemplify what's missing in music these days," said Gordon, who works out of EMI's New York office. "The passion. The very strong live show. The dedication to the music for music sake, not necessarily just for success. I think they write great songs."

Eight of Second Self's songs will be released next week on a mini-LP. EMI will pick up distribution on that disc. Also, Fowlkes said the group will head into the studio to work on an album to be released by August.

The next few months will be spent picking a producer. The band is working with a list of about "30-40 names."

Fowlkes said that will be tough considering the short amount of time they have before they're back into the studio.

"We're looking for somebody who really understands our approach to music," Fowlkes said. "Somebody where we can just walk right in, set up and do it. Our stuff is pretty much where we want it to be."

Second Self joins Rebel Heels (Atlantic), Elvis Hittler (Restless/Enigma), Seduce (I.R.S.) and Rhythm Corps (Pasha-CBS) as Detroit groups that have been recently signed by national record companies. Of the four, Rhythm Corps appears to be enjoying the most of success. Their album, "Common Ground," is selling well and receiving considerable airplay on commercial radio.

Fowlkes believes that type of notoriety is within Second Self's grasp.

"We will make it," Fowlkes said. "I think we have all of the elements. It's just a matter of keeping the focus. So far, we've been able to do that."

ALSO, SEEKING to put Detroit bands in a national light is Tremor Records' Gary Reichel. He's involved in the distribution of latest releases by Frank Allison and the Odd Sox, "Monkey Business" (LP); Bootsey X, "Strip Music for the Suburbs" (cassette); 3-D Invisibles, "Vampire A Go-Go" (LP); Junk Monkeys, "Kick Out the Jelly" (LP); Viv Akasildren, "Witness" (mini-LP); Sleep, "Brain Child" (LP) and his group Cinecyclo, "Who Goes There?"

All of those performers, and then some, were action recently as Tremor Records presented one its come-to-be-expected excellent review shows at Saint Andrew's Hall.

People were remarking at the show about the stellar performance put in by those fellas from out yander, the Volebeats. We had a chance to catch 3-D Invisibles, who had everybody bumping and moving on the floor.

Cinecyclo, with Bootsey X sitting in on drums, didn't disappoint. Neither did Shooting Club, who played their last show with lead singer Jim Cortez. Seems the vocalist scored himself a promotion at Elektra Records and has moved to Boston. The band will continue on with a yet-to-be named new lead singer.

Also performing were Frank Allison and the Odd Sox, Moon Men, True Blue Hearts, Static Alphabet and the Junk Monkeys.

Detroit band Second Self will celebrate its signing with national record label EMI with a bash Tuesday, Feb. 14, at Saint Andrew's Hall in Detroit.

OFRA HAZA — Ofra Haza

Information on Ofra Haza is not an easy to come by. With Middle Eastern vocal style and the fact that some of these tracks were recorded in Tel-Aviv, I assume that she's from Israel.

The only other reason that she has gained any attention, as far as I know, is that's the voice that was sampled by M/A/R/S on their dance-floor mega hit, "Pump Up the Volume."

With this in mind, what can we expect? Well, we are introduced musically with the first track, "I'm Nin'Alu." And, as suspected, her singing is an Indian (not native American) style of wailing, similar to that used on "Pump Up the Volume." Musically, it is electronics all the way. Obviously aimed at the dance floor crowds, it smacks of being a watered down "Pump Up Again the second track, "Eshal," is similar. But then it seems like she has a change of heart and only uses this style sparingly throughout the rest of the LP, opting instead to sing — for want of a better word — normally.

Unfortunately, the material is too weak for Ofra to get way with this. The music is anemic electro-dance oriented and the lyrics are more than bland. Check the obviousness of this from "Face to Face." "When we're face to face, look in my eyes/ When we're face to face, tell me no lies." Illuminating, eh? She comes across sounding like a lame Madonna or a weak Debbie Gibson. Now there's a thought to frighten mere mortals.

SIBLING REVELRY — the Smothers Brothers

Once upon a time, these two guys were America's favorite comedy duo. Now, it's Bush and Quayle.

That, of course, is political humor — the kind that doesn't show up on this best of compilation culled from albums the brothers originally recorded for Mercury in the mid-1960s.

Despite the pair's infamous dismissal from their CBS television show two decades ago, "Sibling Revelry" (Rhino) is surprising only in its non-offensiveness.

That means it's pretty tepid stuff by today's standards. As with all comedy albums, the lack of visuals also hurts. Lines like "Mom always liked you best" just aren't funny without seeing Tommy's gleefully mugging Simple Simon face.

The brothers' music fares a little better. Slightly off-center denizens of the coffee house circuit, the brothers skillfully lampooned the upright, uptight folk singers of their day. But "Jenny Brown" their attempt at a rock'n'roll parody falls flat. Peter, Paul and Mary's "I Dig Rock 'n' Roll Music," for instance, wields a much sharper scalpel.

It's not that the brothers weren't — or can't still be — funny. But the Smothers Brothers, especially Tom, were more than just another mildly amusing '60s comedy act — after all it wasn't London Lee who sat ring-side at the Lennon-Ono 1969 Bed In for Peace, or who exceeded the Monterey Pop Fest. And it wasn't Bob Hope who brought the Doors and Who into millions of suburban living rooms.

I guess you had to be there.

LIVING YEARS — Mike and the Mechanics

Say it loud, say it clear. Who needs Phil Collins and Genesis, anyway? Yes folks, there's another member of that prolific band who is making some pretty good music of his own these days. That's Genesis bass player Mike Rutherford.

Along with a few "Mechanics," primarily singers Paul Carrack and Paul Young, Rutherford's moonlighting group has produced "Living Years," an album which is both high-tech and powerful rock.

Unlike Collins, whose solo releases always seem to automatically reach hit status, Mike + the Mechanics have had to be patient with reaction to their second LP, on the Atlantic label.

The quirky-but-melodic first single, "Nobody's Perfect," somehow failed to drive the masses to Mike's musical garage. But the Carrack-led follow-up, "The Living Years," has exploded onto play lists across the country.

The title track is full of messages and emotion, unlike most mindless drivel which Top 40 radio usually plays.

"I wasn't there that morning, when my father passed away," sings Carrack, backed by a youth choir. "I didn't get to tell him all the things I had to say . . . I just wish I could have told him — in the living years."

Carrack, formerly of Ace/Squeeze, also shines on the haunting "Way Me," "Don't" and "Nobody Knows."

But the most explosive tracks belong to Paul Young, who may be unfairly categorized as a sugar-coated popster from his past solo work.

Besides the impassioned "Nobody's Perfect," Young blasts his way through the Toto-like "Living in Believing," "Black and Blue" and the sharp-cutting "Perver Boy Down."

Of course, "Living Years" isn't perfect. No miracle here. But the group's winning blend of sophistication and guts works well enough for one to hope Rutherford hangs on to his side job.

STREET SENSE

Empathy defuses fights

Dear Barbara,

My boyfriend and I fight about little things like keeping the bathroom clean. I know it seems trivial and silly, but it really interferes with our relationship.

Annette

Dear Annette,

I'll bet it does. Life is made up of small things, so never trivialize any feelings you, your boyfriend or anyone close to you has.

In studies done by various psychologists studying our senses, an interesting discovery has been made. Most people favor one of their senses more than the others.

So someone with a very highly developed visual sense may be uncomfortable in a room that looks sloppy and may not be bothered living in a home very close to a busy street. The spouse may wonder what the fuss is all about with a few things lying around and can't stand the noise of the street.

I've even seen recommendations from some psychologists that say people with different dominant senses shouldn't get married. I don't agree!

The question is one of empathy. If, instead of feeling criticized, you could trust and empathize with his discomfort at your sloppiness, then having the same sense of it is not so important.

Stop fighting and start hearing. If you want this or any other relationship to be a good one.

Please let me know how you resolve this.

Barbara

Dear Barbara,

Is it possible that cold weather and snow can affect how I feel? During the warmer months, I have lots of energy, a good temperament, and rarely get sick. During the winter months, I have very little energy or desire to do anything. I tend to eat more and usually come down with several cases of the flu or colds. Do you have any suggestions of what I might be able to do to brighten my winter blahs.

D.B., Southfield

Dear D.B.,

For many people, these winter months bring a special risk of depression. However, it is not the cold weather and the snow that are affecting the way you feel. It is the decreased amount of sunlight that acts as a trigger for your symptoms, low energy and overeating. It sounds like you're suffering from Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD).

We have always known about winter blues, but this specific syndrome was not identified until 1981. A researcher at the National Institute for Mental Health in Washington, D.C., has stated that "SAD may be an evolutionary mechanism which at one time was very adaptive." Like bears, people would "slow down in the winter to save calories, gaining weight to store energy, moving inside to conserve heat."

Some people have retained this mechanism, except that hibernation is no longer considered normal. As with all depressions, women are more likely to suffer SAD's ill effects.

So what can you do? Psychiatrists are using light treatment with some success to combat SAD. When those affected sit in front of bright artificial lights for several hours a day, they find the body responds as if it were summer and the depression lifts.

While scientists don't know how light counteracts SAD, they do know it works through the eyes rather than through the skin. There is little agreement on the kind of light to use, the time of day to apply it (some research says morning is better), or how long a person should be exposed.

IF YOU are overwhelmed by your winter doldrums, you may have to seek professional help. If not, you might try using artificial light on your own. Reflecting it off a screen above your head (because that also mimics sunlight) may be the best method.

Other therapies might include going outside at least once a day, even for a brief walk, and being alert to the tendency to exercise less and as you say, eat more. Also make sure that your working light is adequate to prevent eye strain and general fatigue.

There are probably 10 times as many cases of SAD in the northern parts of the United States as in the southern parts. So, if it were practical for you, an extreme solution would be to move south.

I haven't said anything about your increased sickness during the winter months. There is no mention of this problem being part of the SAD syndrome. However, most people are more susceptible to sickness in winter and so this may be a normal variation for you as well. Also, your immune system may be affected by your depression, therefore making you more susceptible.

I hope this answer helps you overcome those wintertime blues. If you try these suggestions, please let me know if anything works. I'd love to hear from other readers on this subject. Do you suffer from SAD and have you found a solution?

sive, so you don't need a car for most things. If you drive, remember that Ontario enforces its mandatory seat belt laws.

WHERE TO stay: Go before April 29 and take advantage of Toronto for the Arts, which, for the third year, offers about 175 packages that combine five-star hotels with tickets to theaters and museums. Call toll-free (800) 387-0844 for information and book as soon as you can.

Rates start at $151 per person double occupancy in Canadian dollars and are determined by which of the five hotels you choose. The package includes two nights lodging, two nights stage entertainment (some are dinner theaters and include dinner) and tickets to three art museums — Royal Ontario Museum, Art Gallery of Ontario (both downtown) and the McMichael Canadian Collection (in Kleinberg north of the city).

IF YOU go before Feb. 28, another promotion called Double Your Pleasure gives you 50 percent off published rates at 40 top hotels Thursday through Saturday night, at prices starting at $29 Canadian per person. You'll also get a discount coupon book for dining and theater. Pay with an American Express card and the hotel will upgrade you, if possible. Call toll-free (800) 288-3735.

If none of that works out for you, explore weekend packages. City hotels are designed for weekday business travelers and they use these packages to lure weekend vacationers to otherwise empty rooms, especially off-season.

Ask Tourism Canada for a hotel list or telephone Accommodation Toronto, a service of the Hotel Association of Toronto, at (416) 598 7117.

Send $3 to Toronto Bed and Breakfast, P.O. Box 74, Station M, Toronto, Ontario, M6S 4T2, and they'll send you a list of homes where couples pay under $50 for room and breakfast. For really cheap digs, try the Toronto International Hostel on Church Street.

Five Star Tickets, outside the Eaton Center at Yonge and Dundas, will sell you, cash-only, half-price tickets to most theater entertainment on the day of performance — between noon and 7:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday; 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sundays. Like the TKTS booths in New York City, they add a very small service charge.

FOR INFORMATION on sightseeing and events, call the Metropolitan Toronto Convention and Visitors Association toll-free at (800) 387-2999. They've recently moved offices from Eaton Center to 207 Queen's Quay West, Suite 509, Toronto, Ont. M5J 1A7.

Carry a map and plan to use subway, bus or your feet to visit the area around Bloor and University avenues, which give you access to the parliament buildings in Queens Park, the fantastic Royal Ontario Museum and the restored shops and restaurants of Yorkville.

You will also enjoy Chinatown, the nearby Art Gallery of Ontario (don't miss the Henry Moore room) as well as Kensington Market and the CN Tower.

Robert Wuhl, along with his recent film success in "Bull Durham" and "Good Morning Vietnam," is also a highly regarded stand-up comedian.

No joke

Wuhl 'fine tunes' his humor on club circuit and for movies

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Whether it's the fast-talking pitching coach in "Bull Durham" or the zany disc jockey in "Good Morning, Vietnam," Robert Wuhl can take a pebble of a part and make it sparkle like a 10-carat diamond.

But that, as they say, is only in the movies.

Wuhl also takes regularly tours the club circuit with his stand-up routine. As a comic, bright lights and glamour can be glaring as the lamps of an interrogation room.

"They're very together and yet very separate," said Wuhl (pronounced "Wall"), who will appear Thursday through Saturday at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle in Berkeley. "It's (comedy) a totally different art form.

"It depends on how well you do it. Stand-up comedy can be very difficult to do. When you do it well, you know it immediately. If you don't

That apparently hasn't been the case with Wuhl, who constantly receives rave reviews wherever he performs. His quick wit and observational style of comedy usually turns over laughs like Tinker, Evers and Chance did double plays.

And Wuhl was able to translate that sense humor to the baseball diamond, the cinematic one in the film "Bull Durham."

WUHL PLAYED the amiable Larry Hockett, a pitching coach on the Durham Bulls who had spasms of chatter but never said anything. The part was relatively small, especially with Susan Sarandon, Kevin Costner and Tim Robbins dominating the screen.

Yet when the reviews on "Bull Durham" surfaced, Wuhl's name came up for his portrayal of Hockett. His character lent authenticity to the film while still providing the comedic punch that set "Bull Durham" apart from most baseball movies.

Luck, you say. Not quite. Wuhl worked hard on the supporting role, doing extensive research on the character.

"I spent a day with Marcel Lachemann, who is the California Angels pitching coach," said Wuhl, a New Jersey native and a New York Yankees fan. "I got to hang out with him. I wanted to know what he did from the morning right up to game time.

"It was very exciting. You'd have to love baseball to do that (be a pitching coach). Those guys don't make that much money."

His experience as a stand-up comedian came in handy. One scene on the mound called for him to improvise some lines. He did the same in "Good Morning, Vietnam," which starred Robin Williams.

Those scenes made it into the film. He improvised some bar comedy scenes in "Flashdance," but it ended up on the cutting room floor.

"It was a shame," he said, "because had they used me, this picture may have been successful."

WUHL GOT his break in film, having the lead in a low-budget comedy "Hollywood Knights" soon after he arrived in Los Angeles in 1979. He also spent some time as a writer for the short-lived "Police Squad" TV series starring Leslie Nielsen.

But stand-up comedy is where Wuhl earned his reputation, performing at clubs and appearing on "The Tonight Show," "Late Night With David Letterman" and "The Merv Griffin Show."

Wuhl also saddled up with Keith Carradine in Madonna's "Material Girl" video. His recently completed filming in "Batman," the movie starring Jack Nicholson and Michael Keaton.

Discussing his success in film, Wuhl talks about being a craftsman. Still, he remains quite humble about it all.

"I was lucky," he said. "It's easy to look good when you're surrounded by good people."

Robert Wuhl will appear Thursday through Saturday, Feb. 9-11, at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle, 2593 Woodward, Berkeley. For information, call 542-9900.

Preserving the 'prize' for posterity

By Carolyn DeMarco
staff writer

God, said Jim Ervin, was the first taxidermist.

"Once he threw Adam and Eve out of the Garden of Eden he gave them skins to cover themselves. They had to be tanned otherwise they'd have been stiff. Obviously, he tanned them."

Ervin, 53, is also a taxidermist, though for not quite as long, only 35 years. He's the remaining Ervin of Ervin Bros. Taxidermy in Auburn Hills. The other Ervin gave up years ago, leaving the at-home business to Jim.

CROWDED INTO the small office in the front of his workshop/home on the Pontiac border are two dozen specimens of wildlife on the wall and shelves and atop filing cabinets, and two thick photograph albums showing his work. Everything from African lions to zebras has been mounted by Ervin.

"A taxidermist has to be a little bit of a zoologist, an ichthyologist, a naturalist, hunter and fisherman and gatherer from nature. And he's got to be an artist," Ervin said.

Fish and deer are the two most requested mounts. His clients are sportsmen from every walk of life, many of them wanting to preserve their first kill or prized fish, or a more unusual specimen — antelope, elk, mule deer.

"It's like ladies going to England to collect tea cups," he said.

Today's customer might just as well be a woman, he said.

"I've got a woman's 21-inch bass in there that's got to be one of the tops in Michigan."

ERVIN LEARNED his trade through a correspondence course. His first mount was a sparrow he completed at the age of 12.

A hunter, fisherman, trapper, he keeps specimens on display to show his customers what he can do.

"You have to have something to show before you tell them you're going to charge them a couple hundred dollars," he said. "You take their antelope and mess it up, and they're going to come unglued. You can't go to K mart and get another one."

Ervin charges $225 for a deer mount that will take him three days to complete — once it's out of the freezer and on the workbench. A deer dropped off today may not be ready for pickup for several months because of the backlog.

WHAT COMES to Ervin is the gutted deer that has already seen the deer processor. The skull, hide and hooves remain. Ervin slips the "cape" over the deer head, "pulling it over the head like a sweater," he said.

The cape — the upper section of the deer and head — go into the deep freeze. The antlers are hung. The skull and remainder of the skin are discarded.

Ervin's taxidermy skill is in locating the right size plastic skull and glass eyes and attaching the hide he has tanned, positioning and molding the ears.

"It's the gluing, the tucking of lips, the care of the hide. If your procedure's off you'll lose the whole cape," Ervin said.

Fish take a little more artistry. For $5.50 per inch Ervin will turn a walleye, large mouth bass or shelves and atop filing cabinets, and two thick photograph albums showing his work.

other catch into a specimen that "will last 50 years."

ERVIN INSERTS a plastic fish form into the embalmed fish skin and coats the exterior with "the equivalent of 50 coats of varnish." Painting the fish is the most challenging chore, Ervin said.

"All fish lose their color." Ervin's most unusual request was to mount a vole, a small rodent one-third the size of a field mouse.

"When you skin out those ears you better know what you're doing," he said.

He has also done several tarantulas and has a customer's lovebird in the freezer. Skunks, cat and dogs are no-nos for Ervin — skunks because of the scent, cats and dogs because he's squeamish about doing people's non-fowl pets.

HE FREQUENTLY gets calls from people with owls, which are illegal to kill or possess.

"They tell me they found it at the side of the road," Ervin said. "I tell them they better put it back by the side of the road."

Songbirds are also verboten to possess, dead or alive, Ervin said, except for starlings and common sparrows.

"That's the law. You can get a permit from the DNR to put it (a mounted bird) on public display (in a park nature center) and bring it to me, but they'll check on both ends. They'll check when it leaves here and when it reaches the park."

It is legal to bring pheasants, partridge, ducks, crows, woodcocks and geese to be mounted, but only if they're killed by a licensed hunter.

TAXIDERMISTS NEVER get rich, Ervin said. The time put into the task to complete a work of art is too great, but he works at it only four hours a day, six days per week, he said.

Crafters 'mount' a revival

Taxidermists were scarce when Jim Ervin started in the business 35 years ago. Today the craft is far from a dying art.

"There are 12 in the area where there used to be three," he said. Some of the others:

• Dumont, Taxidermy, 2772 Leach, Rochester Hills, telephone 852-0200. Lyle Johnson has been in the business for 21 years. He's best known for his fish work. He and two full-time employees are currently working on deer from the Michigan bow and arrow season. A mounted deer head is $210. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

• Sportsman's Village, 45658 Ford, Canton Township, telephone 455-6666. Ken Krusel is the owner of the sporting goods store. Joe Segler, a taxidermist with 13 years experience, specializes in birds and fish. Expect to wait six months for a deer head to be returned. Cost is $265. Hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, 8 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Lady icers overcome the stigma of a 'man's sport'

from others," England said. "Some of the guys don't like it, and we also get flak from women . . . you know, the kind of women you see wearing their miniskirts at Red Wing games."

Because leagues have been folding, and because players often switch allegiance between seasons, a strong word-of-mouth network is necessary to keep teams alive.

ONE-TIME hometown teams have expanded their rosters to include players from all over. Although her teammates wear the same green-and-gold Garden City uniform, England is the only Garden City resident left on the squad.

"I've had people recruit me," said Deanna Rochette of Livonia. Rochette, a tall, dark-haired woman, is one of the team's newest and youngest players, the kind of player necessary to keep the sport going.

A budding figure skater, "until I grew too tall for it," Rochette recalled envying women hockey players when she was younger.

"I used to see the girls coming in with their hockey sticks and uniforms and I always kind of admired them," she said. "They were doing something I wanted to be doing."

Still, not every potential skater is matched with a team.

"It's been really hard to find a team," said Pat Florence, another newcomer. "It took me three months until I found this one."

Florence, blond hair tucked neatly under her helmet, is somewhat of a hockey gypsy, strapping on pads and skates whenever, wherever, she can find a game. On game days, she'll drive to work in Troy, then to the Garden City arena and then back home to Mount Clemens before calling it a night.

Like her teammates, Florence began as a youngster, getting her first taste of the sport on frozen Lake St. Clair canals. Unlike most of them, her primary playing experience has come against men.

"ACTUALLY, women's hockey is a new experience for me," she said. "I've played against men since I was a little girl. At work, the guys are always asking me, 'Pat, when are we going to get a game up.'"

Men, she noted, are much more physical players. But women's hockey has its own distinctive style.

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Goalie Grace McCall makes a save against Livonia.

"Women will talk to you a lot more on the ice," she said. "Plus, I think women are a lot dirtier. I mean they're always looking for an edge."

It's generally limited to insults and trickery, however.

Rough play is frowned upon in women's leagues. This league, in particular, has a no-checking rule. That means the teeth-rattling body blocks and sideboard slams familiar to men's hockey are strictly forbidden.

Fighting is also discouraged. "It's not something we try to promote," LeHoup said.

But veteran players recall heated vendettas of an earlier time, with some particularly aggressive players becoming marked women on the ice.

That's not the case tonight, however. Few players hit the boards, although more than one is punted and tumbles to the ice while pursuing the ever-elusive puck.

A breakaway goal gives Livonia the lead less than 30 seconds into the 10-minute first period. Five minutes later, another Livonia shot trickles in. It's going to be a long night for the home team.

"GO GREEN," a player's father calls out. "Go green."

"My father took me to a father/daughter game after I bugged him about playing hockey," England recalled. "I think he thought I'd get one taste of it and then come right off the ice. But I didn't, I liked it right from the start."

Women's hockey, like amateur hockey in general, is a family sport. Moms proudly wear oversized lapel buttons bearing pictures of their family's players. Dads shout encouragement from the sidelines. And brothers sometimes help out during practices.

England's own brother, an assistant coach, is headed for Lake Superior State University, a national power among hockey-playing colleges.

Those kind of hockey dreams are remote for most of the players on the ice this night. But one former player, the daughter of co-coach Ralph Gack, earned a scholarship to an eastern college for her ability.

"She was really good. Maybe she'll play for us when she comes home on break," LeHoup said wistfully.

For most players, the camaraderie is enough. Women's hockey has been a satisfying experience, LeHoup said. His players have made friends, not only locally, but also in Canada and among the highly-trained Scandinavians. Rochette, for instance, wears a colorful Scandinavian jersey to practice.

For LeHoup, there's also the two youth league state championship banners that hang on either side of the arena's Pepsi Cola clock.

GARDEN CITY finally breaks through with a little more than three minutes remaining in the second period. By then, however, it's 4-1 Livonia. Midway through the final period, the visitors tally another goal and it's time to rev up the Zamboni machine. Young men, skates and duffel bags over their shoulders, quietly file in for the evening's next game.

The buzzer sounds and players line up, in hockey's time-honored tradition, and shake hands with their rivals.

Afterward, they'll wander off into the night, some to husbands, others to boyfriends, others, perhaps, to one of the area's many watering spots.

Scrub-a-dub hints

Q. Scrubbing and cleaning is such drudgery for me. Do you have any suggestions to make life easier?

A. Perhaps you need to discover the wonders of chemistry. Unless cleaning solutions are used properly, scrubbing and cleaning is hard work. If the right amount of solution is properly applied to the right soil, it will usually melt off with a minimum of elbow grease. Try working smart instead of hard by using some of these simple secrets:

First, the cleaner must be matched to the soil. Some waxes can only be removed with ammoniated strippers, for instance. Heavy grease and tar can be melted off as easily as sugar in water with the canned hand cleaners used by mechanics. (DL and Goop are two brands readily available at hardware, drug or grocery stores). The lanolin in these magical potions are not only easy on your hands but work just as well on clothes, carpet or almost anything else. GooGone is wonderful for removing adhesive residues. Advice on specific soil problems can be received from hardware stores, janitorial supplies or the Cooperative Extension service.

Read and follow directions accurately when mixing concentrated cleaners. Just as tripling the salt in a cake recipe is not recommended, neither is mixing two parts water to one part solution when the formula calls for 10-to-1. More is not necessarily better.

Allow adequate time for cleansers to do their job. Whether washing windows or barbecue grills, the job can be easy if you give the proper solution time to emulsify the soil.

A common misconception is that if you have washed something, it is clean. Not necessarily so. Some people tend to repeatedly have skin breakouts in oily places around their nose, for instance. Although they faithfully wash their face, they may not have applied the soap carefully enough into the crevices nor given it time to do its job. (Skin eruptions can also be caused by other factors, of course).

The central foyer provides a dramatic entrance.

Neutral doesn't have to be dull is this message

By Becky Eminger
special writer

FEBRUARY'S penetrating gray seeps through the cracks of our cozy winter cocoons. More years than not, the outdoor slush and dirty snow taint our outlook and our kitchen floor. So we snuggle down, reach for the latest travel brochures, and search for an escape to a warm, inviting environment.

But wait. Wouldn't it be great to have that wonderful warmth and airy atmosphere without battling Metro airport traffic? How about a home that reflects an attitude of year-round summer?

Pat Newman, interior designer at Brent Furniture of Bloomfield Hills, has created just that ambience in a model contemporary ranch home in Rochester Hills. Located in the Wildflower subdivision on Auburn Road east of Rochester Road, this 1,600-square-foot home is ideal for the young professional or empty nester. The three-bedroom, two-bath home features an outstanding floor plan with flexibility.

"PEOPLE EXPECT SPACE to function for them. That's what the market demands," said Newman. With that in mind, she has chosen a southwest theme throughout the house.

This so-called desert look can take many facets.

"Desert can be sophisticated or rustic — it's eclectic," Newman said. Although desert color schemes range from soft pastels to brights to deep muted tones, Newman's use of muted aqua carpeting highlighted with beige and cream bring the southwest to Michigan.

Green, as in seafoam, spruce and others with a bluish cast, is making a comeback. Forget avocado. It is the interplay of soft green against neutrals that provides the ideal background for the simple overscale furniture featured.

THE CENTRAL FOYER, tiled in beige ceramic, looks into the great room. The asymmetric studio ceiling reflects the light streaming through windows surrounding the fireplace. At once the mood is light and airy and soft and comfy — in all, a delightful mix.

Stationary French doors form the outer wall of the dining room, bathing it in light. Again, pickled wood is used in the table featuring bread-boarded ends and wrought iron braces. Many of the wood pieces are authentic reproductions and all are from the medium-priced "America" line by Lane. The windows show off soft-fold Roman shades.

Perhaps the most delightful room is the den/third bedroom. Angled French doors open to a cozy space that invites you to sit and bask. Light from the palladian window filters through wide-slatted blinds. A country flavor is added with the use of a large basket and generous writing desk set in an alcove. This intriguing room could easily handle an overflow of guests from the great room.

The kitchen's grey-green counters provide accent to the oak cabinets. The openness of the dining area is emphasized by the wallpaper purposely hung horizontally, or "railroaded." The chairs from Lane's Coronado collection are metal with an adobe colored textured finish. A console table in light pine could double as a serving buffet.

THE MASTER BEDROOM is softness served with clean lines and gentle color. This private retreat is swathed in light from plantation shuttered windows and adobe-finished crockery lamps.

condo queries
Robert M. Melsner

Robert M. Melsner is a Birmingham attorney specializing in condominiums, real estate and corporate law. You are invited to submit topics which you would like to see discussed in this column, including questions about condominiums, by writing Robert M. Melsner, 30200 Telegraph Road, Suite 467, Birmingham 48010. This column provides general information and should not be construed as legal opinion.

Q. Our management company has promised us that it will put liens on condominium units in the event of a delinquency. They say that this is over and above their management fee. Is this customary?

A. There have been decisions rendered by the various courts in the United States indicating that the placement of a lien is a legal-type activity which should be done by an attorney. Management companies that represent that they will place liens on units may be practicing law without a license. But, more importantly, even if they are not engaging in clearly legal activities which are beyond the scope of their involvement in the management of condominiums, and most management companies do not get involved in placing liens on condominiums, since they believe that their activities should be concentrated in the areas of management and not legal entanglements.

Q. The builder formed our homeowners association and later passed it onto the people that live in the subdivision. I want to know what my rights are because I was not informed prior to the closing on my home that I had become a mandatory member in the Association and a fee would have to be paid each year. I just want to know why I was not informed of this before closing on the home.

A. Of courses it is difficult to answer your question with absolute certainty since I am not aware of the subdivision documents under which you were obligated to become a member of the homeowners association and otherwise pay assessments. Chances are, however, that these restrictions were recorded as a matter of public record and showed up on the title commitment which you or your attorney should have received prior to closing.

If so, technically, you were on constructive notice of anything recorded as a matter of record, including your obligation to become a member of the association and your concomitant obligation to pay assessments. The builder was not necessarily under an obligation to disclose to you that fact, although good practice would require same.

The clean lines of a southwest theme highlight the dining room in the Wildflower subdivision model.

Wallpaper purposely hung horizontally — or "railroaded" — emphasizes the openness of the kitchen-dining area.
