

Can your EDC system dispense medication? Ours can.

Old way.

A screenshot of the IWR login interface. It features a yellow header with 'IWR login' and a 'Main menu' button. Below the header are input fields for 'Username' and 'Password', followed by a green 'Log on' button.

1. Log into IWR system

A screenshot of the IWR Patient randomization screen. It has a yellow header with 'IWR Patient randomization' and a 'Main menu' button. The form includes input fields for 'Patient visit#', 'Date of birth', and 'Screening no.', each with a corresponding 'Randomize on' button.

2. Enter patient details & randomize patient

A screenshot of the IWR log off screen. It has a yellow header with 'IWR log off' and a 'Main menu' button. The message reads 'Your IWR session has ended. Please click below to log off.' with a red 'Log off on' button.

3. Note pack numbers & log off IWR

A screenshot of the EDC Login screen. It has a blue header with 'EDC Login' and a 'Main menu' button. The form includes input fields for 'Username' and 'Password', followed by a blue 'Enter' button.

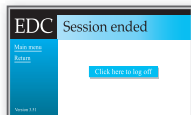

4. Log into EDC system

A screenshot of the EDC Enroll patient screen. It has a blue header with 'EDC Enroll patient' and a 'Main menu' button. The form includes input fields for 'Patient visit#', 'Date of birth', and 'Screening no.', each with a corresponding 'Enroll on' button.

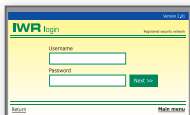

5. Enroll patient

A screenshot of the EDC Dispensing log screen. It has a blue header with 'EDC Dispensing log' and a 'Main menu' button. The form includes input fields for 'Subject no.' and 'Medication Pack no.', followed by a blue 'Next' button.

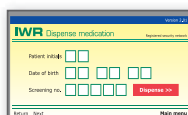

6. Enter allocated pack number

A screenshot of the EDC Session ended screen. It has a blue header with 'EDC Session ended' and a 'Main menu' button. A blue button labeled 'Click here to log off' is centered on the screen.

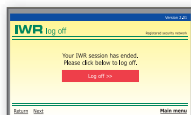

7. Log off EDC system

A screenshot of the IWR login screen, identical to the one in step 1.

8. Log into IWR system (next visit)

A screenshot of the IWR Dispense medication screen. It has a yellow header with 'IWR Dispense medication' and a 'Main menu' button. The form includes input fields for 'Patient visit#', 'Date of birth', and 'Screening no.', each with a corresponding 'Dispense on' button.

9. Enter patient identifier & dispense medication

A screenshot of the IWR log off screen, identical to the one in step 3.

10. Log off IWR system

A screenshot of the EDC Login screen, identical to the one in step 4.

11. Log into EDC system

A screenshot of the EDC Dispensing log screen, identical to the one in step 6.

12. Enter allocated pack number

Our way.

A screenshot of the Perceptive eClinical Suite interface. It shows a complex dashboard with multiple data tables and navigation options, representing a unified system for patient management and medication dispensing.

Log into our eClinical Suite.

Introducing true product convergence – users can randomize subjects and allocate medication within our DataLabs® EDC solution without logging into IVR or IWR. Perceptive's eClinical Suite makes it easy to use multiple solutions by simplifying user workflow through a single interface.

Are your subjects' stretching the truth?

How do you really know if you're getting the whole truth from subjects' sleep diaries during a clinical trial? Forgetfulness, memory lapses, procrastination, and misperceptions all get in the way. That's why Actiwatch, with objective monitoring capability, adds value to clinical trials.

By knowing you are using actigraphy technology to gather and record data, 24/7, on the sleep and wake activity of your subjects, you'll have more than just their memories. You'll have reliable technology that remembers for them. For more information: www.clinicaltrials.respironics.com

{ PATIENTS IS A VIRTUE }

WITH THE NATION'S LARGEST RESEARCH-READY DATABASE AND A COAST-TO-COAST CLINICAL NETWORK, DAVITA CLINICAL RESEARCH IS READY FOR YOUR NEXT TRIAL.

No company offers a greater depth of knowledge in renal research and clinical development than DaVita Clinical Research (DCR). Our relationship with physicians, medical groups, and dialysis centers nationwide gives us seamless access to over 115,000 renal and specialty patients, allowing DCR to quickly fill and conduct Phase I-IV trials — even those requiring unique populations.

SERVICES INCLUDE:

- Protocol design and development
- Trial management
- Biostatistics
- Medical and scientific writing
- Regulatory affairs
- Periapproval services
- Health economics
- Feasibility studies
- Strategic consulting
- Central laboratory

APPLIED CLINICAL TRIALS PRESENTS:

Trends in Subject Recruitment 2010

A special insert in the March 2010 issue of ACT

Subject recruitment remains one of the pivotal challenges in the clinical trials process. In fact, industry analysts Frost & Sullivan named "Increasing Divide Between Patient Access and Studies Threatens Productivity" as a high impact challenge to the industry for the next five years. The organizations that offer services and support to help sponsors in Subject Recruitment are stepping up to meet the challenge. What do sponsors need to know this year to help fulfill their recruitment goals?

CHECK OUT THIS SPECIAL FEATURE IN THE DIGITAL EDITION OF APPLIED CLINICAL TRIALS:

Visit <http://appliedclinicaltrialsonline.findpharma.com/2010trendsrecruitment>

Or, go to www.AppliedClinicalTrialsOnline.com
and click on the Digital Edition archive in the left column.

 CLINICAL TRIALS PRESENTS:

Protecting Subjects: The IRBs Next Steps

A special insert in the July 2010 issue of ACT

The vital role of the Institutional Review Boards (IRBs) to the welfare of subjects remains central to their mission. Last year, IRBs had to weather difficult scrutiny and challenges, from which they have emerged stronger. This insert offers insight into the IRB's mission, its challenges and how they prepare sponsors, CROs, sites and others to handle safety and compliance in a complex clinical trial environment.

» From collection site to central laboratory, 7 days of stability.

“At MEDTOX, we understand the value of a sample and its integrity in a global clinical trial; the performance of Cyto-Chex BCT and its ability to preserve white blood cells from site to laboratory for up to 7 days at room temperature provides an impeccable level of service to our clients. It is our goal to always deploy the latest technologies for our clients’ benefits—even if that technology is in a blood collection tube.”

Marya Awker MLS(ASCP) QCYM

Supervisor Flow Cytometry Laboratory, MEDTOX

Secure. Convenient. Efficient.

- » Preserves patient samples for immunophenotyping by flow cytometry for >7 days at room temperature
 - White blood cell antigen expression for 7 days
 - HIV CD panel of markers for up to 14 days
- » Maintains sample integrity from collection site to central laboratory locations worldwide
 - FDA-cleared for the collection, transportation and storage of HIV-infected samples
- » Improves laboratory efficiency— batch samples up to 7 days

Be Certain; See for Yourself.

Control Drift

WorldCare Clinical's industry-leading biostatistics and data management services are setting the course for reducing variability and increasing validity of trial imaging data.

Definition drift. Reader turnover. Missed or incomplete training. If your CRO isn't monitoring the validity of the imaging data it is collecting during the course of your trial, your submissions could be at risk. At WorldCare Clinical, we are leading the industry in the proactive assessment of imaging data so that sponsors can identify potential issues early, and correct them. We manage the entire process, including robust training, regular communication on trial status, intra- and inter- reader reliability testing, performance assessments, retraining, and more. Contact us to see how we are using today's most advanced biostatistics and data management methods to improve imaging data validity and consistency.
