TOM LEWIS, SENIOR

THROUGHOUT THE MANY YEARS OF HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS GO ON A PATH OF LIFE IN WHICH THE FUTURE AS YET TO BE DETERMINED. THE PATHWAY IS BEING BUILT EVERYDAY OF THEIR LIVES. THROUGHOUT THE SCHOOL YEAR, THE STUDENTS HAD MANY EVENTS THAT OCCURED THAT WOULD DETERMINE WHERE THEY WOULD GO FROM HERE. EACH EVENT WOULD SERVE AS A KEY TO UNLOCK THE DIFFERENT PATHS OF LIFE. SOME WOULD BE CONTINUING THEIR EDUCATION, MAY IT BE IN HIGH SCHOOL OR COLLEGE, AND OTHERS WILL START LIFE IN THE WORKPLACE.

Senior Pilgrimage Court

Nineteen of Eufaula High's senior girls participated in the 2004 Eufaula Pilgrimage. The girls were presented in February, at which time a queen and two princesses were chosen. The rest were placed in the Queen's Court. All nineteen girls, along with seniors from Lakeside, greeted visitors to Eufaula all weekend.

Christy Halstead, center, was chosen as the 2004 Pilgrimage Queen. Magee Colley, left, and Alyssa Rhodes, right, were chosen as her princesses.

Patsy Riley, Alabama's first lady, cut the ribbon Friday morning to jumpstart the Pilgrimage.

Court member Shannon Trumbull

FFA

David Gardner, Jeremy Jones, and David Gardner posed next to the FFA's restored antique tractor that made the front cover of Fastline magazine, a nationwide publication.

Brandon Rowland, Michael Wilbourne, Josh Stewart, and Andrew Champion unloaded the FFA chapter's biggest fundraiser, the Fall Fruit Sale, off the truck.

Stephen Noblett, Corey Gray, and Matt Nolen worked away on an engine from one of the chapter's tractor restoration projects.

Dana Taylor, Brittany Phillips, Jessica Jernigan, and Aimee Pittman transported plants between the trailer and the greenhouse.

Matt Nolen, Chad Hammond, William Faircloth, and Bryant Leverett put some elbow grease into getting the tractor that the FFA later restored off the trailer.

FFA members mixed fruit boxes for their fundraiser.

Amber Weaver, Katie Watkins, and Chad Hammond discovered what happens when a tractor is left in the rain.

FFA Week 2004

FFA Members struck a pose!

FFA members attended a leadership workshop with one of the National FFA officers.

Members of the Ag Mechanics class posed with their latest masterpiece, a disassembled tractor. Their next question would be how to put it back together and get it working.

Cleaning up our environment

Jeremy Jones and Chance Stephenson took a quick pause while cleaning up an area of the National Wildlife Refuge here in Eufaula.

Jessica Wooten closely examined a PVC pipe to try to find baby crawfish.

Dana Taylor, Kim Lynn, and Chris Hutto showed off their woodworking skills as they worked on bird houses for the Eufaula Wildlife Refuge.

Stages of Fish Production

Curtis Wortz and Jessie Carrol removed the crop from the tank.

B J Milner and Jessie Carroll killed the fish with their intimidating actions.

Adam Duncan and Jacob Jones tested the final product.

Katie Bonner checked the water quality of the fish tanks in the Ag greenhouse.

Clint Stagner and Thomas Anderson hacked away at sugar cane outside the Ag shop.

Chris Crouch and Jack Salter showed down on their food.

Hot dogs anyone?

FFA members squeezed together at the Ag Expo in Moultrie, GA.

Corey Gray grinded on the hood of the tractor the FFA restored as a chapter project.

Jamie Elliot, Courtney Smith, Katie Bonner, Cassie Walker, and Christy Brown helped paint the Ag shop.

Alysia Bone, our 2003-2004 S.G.A. President, displayed to the student body the full extent of her devotion to EHS throughout the year. From helping provide refreshments on Teacher Appreciation Day to organizing Multicultural Month, she showed everyone just how much an honest, intelligent, and trustworthy S.G.A. President can help the student body of Eufaula High.

Vice President Magee Colley dazzled the students and faculty at EHS with her enthusiasm and creativity. She worked hard all year to make our school a wonderful place that the students would enjoy returning to each morning.

Jaclyn Williams, our treasurer, always had a smile to offer and listened to her peers' suggestions with an open mind. We will all be pleased to welcome her back as our S.G.A. Vice President.

The S.G.A. secretary Allie Dowling was an inspiration to everyone at EHS. She was constantly thinking of ways to make our school stronger. Her spirit and determination will be celebrated when she returns to serve as the 2004-2005 S.G.A. President.

Q. What was the greatest contribution that the S.G.A. made this year?

A. We tried really hard to make Multicultural Day into a month, a concept that we celebrate every day of the year.

Laseter

Marvin Hill painted a new book for the gym bleachers.

This was Jeremy's first year playing on the Eufaula High School Varsity Basketball team. Although you probably couldn't tell by watching one of his games. He had some mad skills that he brought to the game and let everybody know he was on Varsity and there to stay.

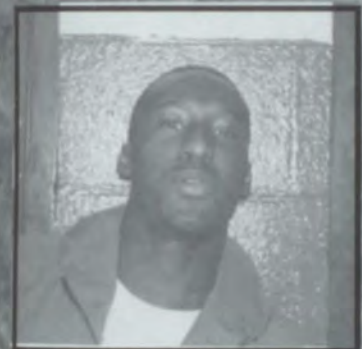

Terrence was known for his crazy dunks at a "krunk" basketball game. Everyone hoped he would do it but they never knew when. Their anticipation drew them closer into the game. Terrence was definitely a show stopper.

Edmund was a pro on the football team and he made his mark on the basketball team. He was very talented and played very well on both. This was a new experience for Edmund and he enjoyed it.

Chris not only had a famous basketball number, but you might have thought you saw Al himself on the court. Chris was a strong essential player that helped lead the team to victory.

Is it a slam dunk or just a sure shot?

Chemier Cokely
She displayed excellent leadership on and off the court.

Keke Richardson tried to perfect her shot before the game!

Shantinae Rice was known for scoring 3 pointers. She even broke a record during playoffs.

Jessica Wooten demonstrated her great basketball skills on the court! Her efforts helped the Lady Tigers win many games.

Erica Parker served as the team manager for the girls and boys basketball teams.

Je'Neane Porter enjoyed carrying on the family tradition. She has showed off her basketball skills for two years on the varsity team.

Catlin Gilmore and Amber Land looked even more alike when they hitched a ride on Patrick and James Murphy on Twin Day.

It's not the Double Mint Twins. It's Precious Daniels and D'Angela Galloway who dressed alike on Twin Day.

The Eufaula High Mighty Tiger Band marched in their fun t-shirts in the Homecoming Parade.

Junior Allen Shirley shared secrets with the Juniors' Homecoming float in hopes of having a Junior victory in the float building contest.

Senior Shannon Trumbull was very tacky, but still patriotic on Tacky Day.

Senior Trashanta Gordon helped the Seniors to another Homecoming victory in the Pie Eating Contest at the Homecoming Pep Rally!

Freshman Taylor Holly and Sophomore Bradley Moore really faced off in the Homecoming Pep Rally Pie Eating Contest.

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders brought a lot of fun and excitement to the Homecoming Parade.

Christy Davis: 11th
Was the Fashion Show anything like a pageant? "It was the same in a way because you're all "dolled" up. Yet, there's no competition."

Andrea Gullford: 11th
What did you enjoy most about the Fashion Show? "I enjoyed dressing up and having fun with my friends."

Kendra Flurry: 11th
Are you going to buy the dress you modeled? "I am definitely buying the dress I wore. It was kind of crazy and colorful, perfect for me!"

Channing Byrd: 11th
Do you think the Show brings in major funds for Prom? "Yes, the tickets make a lot of money and the dresses are donated."

Kimberly Peterson: 11th
Were you nervous on stage at the Fashion Show? "I would like to become The Next Top Model so I shouldn't have been nervous, but I was!"

The DJ arrived on time, the decoration were beautiful, the best yet they said, and all the room was waiting for was the young men and women to fill it with music, laughter, memories, and good times. Lead out was a grandstand of beauties and beaux outfitted spectacularly for the last hurrah of their high school years. Did they have a good time? They were beautiful and handsome, they were with their friends, they had no worries at that moment except to have fun. Yes, Prom 2004 was a good time had by all.

This spring's Honors Day was a little different. Instead of holding it in the gym, it was held in the Little Theatre and only those being honored were asked to attend. Mr. Pyron welcomed guests and SGA President Alysia Bone began the ceremony. Vice Principals Mr. Girtman and Mrs. Barrows happily passed out awards as winners walked to the front to receive their certificates.

DESTINATION:

Honors Day

SGA Officers for the 2003-2004 year received special awards for their outstanding service to the school. Officers Allie Dowling, Jaclyn Williams, Magee Colley, and Alysia Bone received certificates and words of praise from Mrs. Adams for their dedication to making this school a better place over this past year.

Presenters like Coach Dan Klages, Mr. Ray Griffin, and Mrs. Mitzi Yarbrough sat above the audience on the Little Theatre stage.

Art award winners waited to receive their awards. Having the ceremony in the Little Theatre really put focus on the award recipients.

Mrs. Molly Hagood happily presented Christy Halstead with the "Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Award."

Winners were always excited to receive their awards, but sometimes they were just as happy to get back to their seats. Jessica Savage and Blake King rushed to their seats after they received their awards. Raychelle Watts, Emma Yarbrough, and Eric Betts had to sweat out the wait while other students received their awards.

"I'm glad to have been recognized for my creativity in Tiger News. Also, the seats in the Little Theatre are so much more comfortable than the gym bleachers," said senior James Murphy after receiving his award.

Mother's Love

I see your face every day that's
How I know you love me

Now that I'm 18 I never feel your
Hugs from you; yet I know you care
For Me

You are always there for me in
A time of need and in times that
I don't; somehow, some way, you're always
Watching over me

When things try to get hard, I know you are the one to call
When I'm with you, I can jump off
Cause I know you'll never let me fall

You're my guide, you're my life;
You're the reason why I'm here; you
Show me love that no one can explain

The road to success is not straight. There is a curve called Failure, a loop called Confusion, speed bumps called Friends, potholes called Temptations, red light called Enemies, and caution lights called Family. You will have flats called Jobs. But if you have a spare called Determination, an engine called Perseverance, insurance called Faith and a driver called Jesus, you will make it to a place called Success!

Your presence, beautiful smile, and faith in God has brightened and blessed our lives in so many untold ways. We are so proud of the young lady you have become and what you stand up for. Always stay strong in Christ and focus on His will for your life. You will always have our love, prayers and wishes for happiness and success in everything you do!

Congratulations on this great stepping stone to your future!

You are who you are for a reason
You're part of an intricate plan
You're a precious and perfect unique design,
Called God's special woman or man.

You look like you do for a reason,
Our God made NO mistake
He knit you together within the womb,
You're just what he wanted to make.

No, that trauma you faced wasn't easy,
And God wept that it hurt you so,
But it allowed to shape your heart,
So that into his likeness you'd grow.

You are who you are for a reason,
You've been formed by the master's rod,
You are who you are, beloved,
Because there is a God!

Congratulations from your mother!

Ashley Trammell

Ashley,

We are very proud of you and watched you grow into a wonderful young lady.

We are so proud of you, all that you have accomplished, and all you will accomplish. It has been exciting, though painful at times, to watch you grow and mature in body, mind, and spirit. The first step, your first bruise, The books we read to you, the first book you read aloud to us. Long nights, fun days, work, play, joy, sadness, satisfaction, pain, success, and failure. A wealth of cherished memories locked deep within our hearts. Even the memory of near tragedy, the memory that brings tightness in our chests and burning in our eyes every time we think of it, we cling to it as if it were a precious jewel.

As you leave for college, we will watch not only money and our firstborn drive away but a portion of our souls. Remember, your mother will always listen, your father will always care, both of us will worry, and you can't go farther than our love.

Love,
Mom and Dad

FOLLOW YOUR DREAM

Ever since you could walk, you held a bat and ball in your hands. You would beg Papa to "come out and play" every Saturday. We could hear you from the backyard: "throw as hard as you can!" And until this day you're still begging Mike to come out and play. There will come a day when we'll see you in the lights and remember the struggles, the heat, the flights. But with God's help you'll endure and in the end it will be worth it!

Anthony Adams

Anthony,

You've been an absolute joy, and I'm proud of the man you've become. I wish you all the happiness and prosperity life has to offer. You never did outgrow that fro, did you?

Britt! God blessed me with three beautiful flowers! You being the last but not the least of those three flowers! You have brought so much joy to my life. You have grown from that small infant into a beautiful young woman. I look back on the years that have passed and I smile. Remember at Bluff City when you won the Halloween contest, and when you got in trouble for writing on Mrs. William's clean blackboard?

You started life as my baby girl and have grown up to be my very best friend. May the Lord continue to be the driving force in your life.

Congratulations yeasha baby. I wish you all the joy and happiness that this life has to offer. You deserve it and much more. Good luck at UAB, Florida State or A&M.
