TOM BOYLE,

The Heroic Engineer of No. 601, On the Wabash Railroad, Who Saved Many Lives at the Perilous Risk of His.

A special correspondent of the St. Louis Republic, writing from Decatur, Ill., July 28th, says: Engineer Tom Boyle is as modest a hero as ever prevented a disastrous train wreck and thereby saved heavy loss of life.

Tom Boyle was in charge of engine No. 601, the big Wabash locomotive which went pretty much to pieces last Saturday while running at the rate of 70 miles an hour—just having made 21 miles in 18 minutes. No. 601 is a famous engine, having been the one which drew the Louisiana Purchase Exposition special a part of the way on the trip to Buffalo in time for Missouri Day; and Tom Boyle is her engineer.

The engine's regular duty, however, is the hauling of the Wabash fast New York, St. Louis mail, and it was this duty she was performing when a defective axle broke. This was about four and a half miles out from Decatur, on a good stretch of track, and with No. 601 going 'her prettiest and fastest.

The first warning of the accident was an awful jolt of the reversing lever held by the left hand of Engineer Tom Boyle, immediately the throttle was pushed back, and the engineer's hand grabbed for the air brake. It was useless, having been rendered so by the breaking of the axle.

The engineer and fireman Gehr sprang for the emergency brake, and put the air on hard. But there seemed to be no slackening of the terrific speed. Steam was pouring from holes in the boiler; the detached driver, dragged along by the fast-revolving lever, was hammering the engine, ripping out cattle guards, smashing off the ends of the rails, and threatening every second to throw the engine from the track, send the train to destruction and the passengers to death.

A blow-off cock had been knocked off, and the water streamed from the boiler, leaving a pressure of 100 pounds of steam and a roasting fire in the furnace. There was imminent danger of an explosion, or, at least, a burnt-out boiler. So Boyle and Gehr began to fight down the furnace fire.

And still the terrific speed seemed not to slacken. Five, ten, twelve telegraph poles had been passed, and less than two rods away was a high embankment. Pieces of steel from the engine were flying hither and yon, broken off by the hammering of the big driver; splinters from the broken ends of ties were raining into the cab. Every second it seemed that the driver must break away from the rod which held it and either go sailing out upon the right of way or, falling beneath the wheels of the locomotive, throw it from the track to pull the rest of the train off with it, and piecemeal, passengers and crew into a mass of wreckage, pain and death.

The sixteenth telegraph pole was passed—and the speed slackened notably; the air had "taken hold" and the tightly clinched wheels of the six-car train, after sliding over the track for hundreds of yards by the momentum of the cars, were still held fast. At the seventeenth pole the train had slowed down to fifteen miles an hour, and the loosened driver was bumping weakly while the furnace fire was all but dead.

And at the eighteenth pole the train stopped with a jerk that pitched the passengers forward. Boyle and Gehr sprang from the cab to learn the extent of the wreck. They found one side of the engine stripped clean of drivers, broken rigging, sand and water pipes.

And they marveled with each other that such things should have happened and the engine remained upon the track.

The conductor, the brakeman and the passengers hurrying forward to see what had caused the stop, marveled also, and some of them grew almost hysterical. They crowded about the engineer and fireman and overwhelmed them with thanks and praises. They walked down the track to the embankment just ahead, saw written there the certainty of death if the train had not been stopped short of it, and then returned to again overwhelm the blushing engineer with thanks and praise.

Then they got together and wrote a memorial and adopted resolutions which were mailed to President Ramsey. They pointed out the heroism of Tom Boyle, and urged that he be amply rewarded.

Meanwhile trainmen had been hurried half a mile to front and rear to guard against any train that might be approaching. The conductor had started down the track to walk the four miles to Decatur—a walk that was made in the blazing sun of an intensely hot day.

Four hours later the wrecking crew had cleared the track, and another engine was hauling the delayed train to St. Louis. But it was not until the next morning that Engineer Boyle and Fireman Gehr left their wrecked No. 601. They had been trying to find all the pieces, and also to find what had caused the wreck. Engineer Tom Boyle thus tells the story of day:

BY TOM BOYLE,
Engineer of Locomotive No. 601.

We were sifting them along pretty lively with a big train of six cars. We were making about 70 miles an hour, and had made 21 miles in 18 minutes, just west of Homer, when I felt a fearful jerk at the reverse lever. It almost raised me off the box, my hand being right on it, but the lever did not get out of the quadrant. I grabbed the throttle with one hand and the air with the other, when she let loose and the driver went off on the ties. It did not let go entirely, and flying out into the country, but dragged along on its side. Steam, gravel, dirt, and pieces of wreck filled the air so that

MACHINERY—PAN-AMERICAN EXPOSITION.

The Machinery building covers an area of about four acres, and will contain a very wonderful display of modern machinery of American invention, showing the progress that has been made within the last few years. The large amount of automatic and special machinery used in American factories and mills will form a most interesting study to all who are interested in the products of the Western world. The transportation exhibits will include all of the very latest specimens of locomotives, cars and railroad appliances. These will be sheltered in a special building in connection with the large railway station at the northern end of the Exposition grounds. The ordnance exhibits will be made in connection with the machinery exhibits, and will show very remarkable progress in the manufacture of ordnance in the Western world. This department is distinct from the war and naval exhibits of the Federal Government and will be sheltered in a special building.

We couldn't see anything on that side. When you are in a place like that it seems as if the air isn't holding at all, and you wonder if she never will stop, but I could see that she was slowing down fast. The engine brake was gone and I could not use that, but I put the emergency air on and it soon checked the speed. All at that time that driver, weighing probably a ton, was tearing out ties and throwing wagon loads of the right-of-way into the air. We jerked out a cattle guard and part of the fence, the latter going under the wheels. Just the instant I felt the air taking hold Fireman Gehr and I jumped for the squirt and began putting out the fire, because we saw the water was gone and the boiler might burn up.

We went about 18 telegraph poles before we stopped; then, when the fire was out, we got down and looked at the wreck. The axle broke off inside the hub, where no inspection would have found it. There was a flaw there, but it could not have been discovered.

SHERLOCK HOLMES, JR.,

Or the Deductions of An Amateur Detective Delineated.

"Hah!" said Sherlock Holmes, Jr., "it is as I expected."

His companion stopped, mystified, and asked: "What has happened?" "There," replied the great amateur detective, pointing to a man who had just passed them, "he is the father of a child less than six months old that is troubled with colic. He has no other children and is left-handed; his wife is not very strong, and they can't afford to keep a nurse. They feed the child on milk from a Jersey cow. He kissed her when he left home this morning, and then walked backward to the street, smiling at her."

The other turned pale and asked: "Heaven's, how do you know this? Is he a friend of yours?" "No," said Sherlock Holmes, Jr. "I never saw him before. I have never heard his name."

"But surely you can't expect me to believe there is anything in his personal appearance to enable you to make this wonderful deduction?"

"Yes. One glance as he passed close to us a moment ago was sufficient. Really, you are very stupid not to notice these things. They are so simple. Now he is stopping to look in at that haberdasher's window. We will pass behind him. Look closely and see if there is anything about him to indicate how I have arrived at my wonderful conclusions regarding him."

After they had passed the great detective turned with a look of inquiry to his companion.

"No," the latter said. "I couldn't see anything that gave me the slightest clue."

"I knew you wouldn't," Holmes answered. "There are three spots in the back of his coat—or, rather, there is a streak broken into three parts on the back of his coat, passing downward from the right shoulder."

A Child's Perilous Climb.

Alma Bosler, a four-year-old child living at 521 West Market street, Louisville, Ky., one morning last week accomplished a feat, the manner of which is still a mystery. The little one's parents went to mass that morning, leaving her asleep. She awoke and searched for her parents. The door was locked, so she climbed through the front window to a stone cornice 11 inches wide and 18 feet from the ground, along which she walked 20 feet to the end. Her uncle's hotel is next door. Between them is a space four feet wide to a piece of guttering. In some way the child flung herself across, and, standing on the guttering, called to her uncle, who came and drew her in from her perilous position. Two policemen who had seen her stood below to catch her if she fell, but the little girl held fast.

The Secret is Out.

All Sadienville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whitaker, who had for a long time, endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Discovery," writes her husband. It completely cured her and also cured our little granddaughter of a severe attack of whooping cough. It positively cures coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, drugstores.

Hatched By Heat of Sun.

A Chicago commission merchant was surprised on opening some egg crates to find that 90 chickens had been hatched. Other commission men report similar finds, and several of the commission houses have been turned into poultry farms. These are occurrences of last week and indicate the extreme heat.

Charley Smith's Deal.

C. E. Smith of Lexington, Ky., late of Richmond, Ky., who was at the Grand yesterday, has closed one of the biggest timber deals known to this section of the country for many a day.

"I have sold to a stave manufacturing firm of Vienna, Austria, the largest concern of its kind in the world, oak trees over an area of 20 square miles or more in Breathitt and Knott counties, Ky.," said Mr. Smith, "for $850,000 cash. The company's inspector went over the entire tract with me and examined all of the timber carefully. This company has 5,000 men at work in this country now, every one of them imported. They are nearly all at work in the timber lands in Mississippi. A large force will soon be sent into the Kentucky field to clean up the trees purchased from me.

"Some years ago this company purchased 600,000 oak trees, for which it paid $17,000,000. It paid them $35 for trees no better than I sold them for $1.50, so its inspector informed me. It manufactures kegs and wine casks from two to ten feet in length, and it is corraling all the oak timber in this country it can get.

Dr. Hugh S. Martin of Lexington here with me, and myself have over 5,000 acres of oil lands leased in the Wayne county field, and we have been to Lima, Ohio, where we secured the services of an expert oil-well driller, who is with us. We expect to drill 20 wells right away.

"While we were in Lima yesterday three C. E. Smiths registered at the hotel where I was stopping, including myself, and one of them had my Christian name exactly, Charles Edward, and later in the day another E. C. Smith registered.

"We were all from different parts of the country, not related, and had never met before. It seemed to be a sort of Smith day at that hotel."—Cincinnati Enquirer, July 31.

Astounded the Editor.

Editor L. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of appetite, stomach and liver troubles its a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Son, Campton, drug stores.

Thomas Ledwith as a soldier of fortune experienced much more than he bargained for when he started three years ago from his home in Ireland to see the world, a rugged lad of 20, bent on adventure. Ledwith had but recently recovered from Bellevue Hospital from serious illness incurred while serving as a soldier of the United States army when he was informed by Dublin attorneys that his father had died, leaving an estate to him valued at $50,000. He sailed last week to take possession of his inheritance.—New York World.

To Save Her Child

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nannie Galleger, of La Grange, Ga. applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in sores, bruises, skin eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds and piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Son, Campton, drug stores.

Bank President Pardoned.

President McKinley was granted a pardon to John F. Johnson, former president of the State National Bank of Logansport, Ind., who was convicted of misappropriating the funds of the bank and other violations of the national banking act. He was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary and already had served five years.

CHANGE TO MAKE MONEY.

I have been selling perfumes for the past six months. I make them myself at home and sell to friends and neighbors. Have made $710. Every one buys a bottle. For 25 cents worth of material I make perfume that would cost $2.00 in drug stores.

I first made it for my own use only, but the curiosity of friends as to where I procured such exquisite odors, prompted me to sell it. I clear from $25 to $35 per week. I do not canvass, people come and send to me for the perfumes. Any intelligent person can do as well as I do. For 25 cents in stamps I will send you the formula for making all kinds of perfumes and a sample bottle prepaid. I will also help you get started in business. Election Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1901.

Our friend W. J. Lampton of New York, sends us a copy of The Sun of July 28, in which is the following query, answered in the affirmative by the editor:

Certainly Not.
TO THE EDITOR OF THE SUN:—Sir: Would it be asking too much to add the name of Less Little of this place to The Sun's list of great names?
Daysboro, Ky. S. P.

Mr. Lampton asks us if we know the party? We have not that honor, but since receiving the paper we have learned that Leslie Little, to whom the paragraph refers, is a man of more than ordinary merit, from a musical standpoint, at least. He is a fiddler in the same class with Ole Bull, and can out-fiddle very many of the celebrities of the present day. Only a few years since he was the orchestra that furnished the music for the fashionables who spent their seasons at Asheville, N. C., where he was thus engaged for three or four seasons, and at one time he led the orchestra in an Omaha opera house. He has traveled with some of the shows denominated "the greatest on earth," and is upon the whole a man of some distinction. He is a natural musician, being able to bring volumes of the sweetest strains from any instrument yet produced. He was in the Spanish-American war, and is now a pensioner by reason of a disability incurred during his service. He is a native of this county, and has lived in this section the greater part of his life. We do not know who "S. P." may be, nor the object of the query, but the above are facts obtained from people who have known the gentleman referred to for years. As a musician, therefore, Mr. Little deserves to be named with Ole Bull, and The Sun can place his name along with its list of great ones and make no grave error in doing so.

The State Fish Commissioner of Illinois, S. P. Bartlett of Quincy, says that enough fish perished during the recent hot and dry spell to have stocked every stream in the United States. In one pond in that state, where the water averaged one foot in depth, over 20,000 black bass perished on July 22, the water being at a temperature of 115 degrees.

The poem in this issue, "And Sampson Thirteen Miles Away," tells the story of that admiral's cowardice, and yet he is trying to disgrace the deserving man. Suppose the court martial sustains Sampson, what does it avail? That body can't make the American people think as it does.

The grant of £100,000 to Lord Roberts by the English parliament is the biggest pay ever awarded any military general in modern history. This is one instance where the laborer was not worthy his hire, as it is for services in the Boer war, and the Boer were continually getting the better of "Little Bobs."

MRS. SALLIE SEABOLD, an inmate of the Allen county, (Ind.) Poorhouse, has been notified that she is one of 50 heirs to an estate of $40,000.00. Only recently her son wound up a carriage ride with her by leaving her in the alms house, and now she should refuse to recognize him as her own flesh and blood. The brute who would abandon a mother under any circumstances deserves all the ills that can be visited upon him.

"LUCKY" BALDWIN last week purchased an additional tract of land adjoining his "Elmendorf" farm in Fayette county, which gives him 5,000 acres in one body. Upon this he is building the most magnificent residence in the south. It is indeed a palace, and the furnishings are palatial. The residence and furnishings will cost over $1,000,000.

THE short corn crop in the western states, which is only two-thirds, is amply compensated by the yield of wheat in the same belt, which is phenomenal. The yield of wheat this year is 150,000,000 bushels greater than ever before known.

THE American soldier costs his government, outside of his salary and rations, nearly five times as much as does the Russian and three and a half times as much as the German. Where does all this go?

THE Missouri apple crop will be only about 40 per cent of the usual yield, according to reports from 308 orchards received by President Goodman of the Missouri Horticultural Society, at St. Louis.

THE Lawton wheel of fortune turned out the second best prize in the land drawing to Miss Mattie Beall, a telephone girl of Wichita, Kansas. It is a quarter section farm estimated at $40,000.

A Good Citizen Passes Away.

Wiley C. Perkins, whose illness was reported in these columns from time to time died on Monday morning at 4 o'clock, of jaundice and other complications. Mr. Perkins' health began to fail last fall. But he pulled through the winter and in the early spring went to Hot Springs, Ark., in the hope that the waters of that place would restore him to health. In this, however, he was disappointed and, in fact, returned home in a worse condition than when he left. Since his return he has been confined to his home all the time and Drs. Nickell and Center have given him constant attention, but to no avail. Mr. Perkins came here about 18 or 20 years ago from Magoffin. He was born and raised on Stinsen creek in that county. Two brothers and several sisters beside his wife and several children survive him, and to all of the distressed ones THE HERALD extends condolence and sympathy. The burial was at the late home of decedent on Lacy creek and was attended by a multitude of his friends Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

One Killed and Three Injured.

The saw mill owned and operated by Wells & Testerman, on the Stacy fork of Cany creek in Morgan county, was blown up Tuesday and three or four persons seriously injured. John Amos Wells had a leg and an arm broken and received other injuries. John C. Ferguson was badly scalded and received other injuries, and Albert Wells, a son of the first named Wells, was also badly hurt. But no particulars relative to the extent or nature of the injuries of the last two are in our possession. Our informant said, however, that Amos Wells could not live. Since then Tom Mayne, the drug drummer, tells us that Ferguson died Tuesday night.

Vitae-Ore will relieve you of all aches and pains. Agents wanted. Apply to or address, with stamp, Spencer Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.

Two good Campton friends of ours, Bill Pryor and Lum Hanks, passed through town Tuesday en route to West Liberty. Mr. Pryor did not say so but we opine that he is after an option on some timber lands along the projected railroad to Elkfork, while Mr. Hanks is chaperone and companion.

Y., has been secured for the occasion, and free attractions are the best money can secure. Two Grand Parades on first and third days—Gov. J. C. W. Beckham leading the procession on the third day. Accommodations at reasonable rates can be secured at hotels and boarding houses. Excursion rates on all railroads. Write to N. A. Wilkerson, Secretary, for premium list.

We acknowledge a complimentary for self and better seven-eighths to the above and regret our inability to attend.

Arrested for Stealing Meat.

Porter Lacy of Lacy creek had a middling and a-half of bacon stolen from his smokehouse Monday night while he and his wife were sitting up with the corpse of Wiley Perkins. He at once got out a search warrant and placed it in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Breck Little. Searching the domicile of John Weeden Hall, who lives on the Jeffy Rose branch, a piece of the meat was found and John Hall was arrested. He says he got the meat from his cousin Mason Hall, who claims that he procured it from Jim Keith. The last named Hall had not been arrested yesterday morning but it was said he would be. They will be tried before Squire Rose today.

THE HERALD for 12 months and $5,000 for $1.00 is a great big bargain awaiting the man who can figure the total vote of Ohio, Massachusetts and Iowa. See "Try Your Luck" on last page for particulars.

Let Us Get Some of the Wealth.

The editor of this paper desires to lease at least 25,000 acres of land for parties who will at once begin boring for oil, and we should like to secure the major part of it in close proximity to Hazel Green. Geologists have always claimed that we are directly in the oil belt and an exceedingly rich field. If that be so we can soon wallow in wealth and that, too, at the expense of others. We are ready to flop for our wallow now, and if the farmers want to wallow with us they should get their lands on the list without delay. Come in and talk it over with us, as we are prepared to offer rare inducements.

WANTED—An agent in every county in Eastern Kentucky to sell White Sewing Machines. Hustling men are the only kind that need apply, and to them I can offer special inducements. Write to J. T. GEVEDON, Hazel Green, 4-2-43-tf.

We are in receipt of a letter from a friend of ours at Lexington, who is at the head of a syndicate building trolley lines out from Lexington, and just as soon as he gets a couple of roads there under contract for construction he will look into our proposed line to the Ohio and Kentucky. Now our people must get together and appoint committees to get subscriptions, &c. Let us have a meeting Saturday, the 17th, and effect an organization, say at 3 o'clock p. m. at Pieratt's store. Farmers from surrounding country are urgently requested to be present.

Henry Pieratt bought all the picture frames the agent of the Chicago Portrait Co. had left over and is selling them 50 per cent cheaper than the agent sold them. The number is limited, and if you want one you'd better move in a hurry, as they are going like hot cakes. 52-tf

A Distinguished Attendant.

Gen. Joe Wheeler, the hero of two wars, will be in attendance at the Lexington Fair, Horse Show and Carnival, and many Confederate soldiers will thus be induced to attend who might otherwise stay away. The day set for his reception will be next Thursday, which will also be one of the best of the fair, and all who attend on that day will have the pleasure of seeing the distinguished soldier-citizen. The Elks, under whose auspices the show is given have spared neither means nor moments to make it the success they did last year and the year before, and this year it promises to be even better.

The Henry Altemus Co. of Philadelphia are now issuing a series of six new books, the titles of which are: "Sea Kings and Naval Heroes," "The Little Lady, Her Book," "Folly in Fairyland," "Tommy Foster's Adventures," "Galopoff the Talking Pony," and "Caps and Capers, a story of Boarding School Life." Beginning next week we will publish a synopsis of each book in turn, and we hope our readers will order their literature from the Henry Altemus Co., Philadelphia.

Appropos of the oil excitement in the country just now, we note that on the farm of A. Porter Lacy on Lacy creek, a few miles from town, there is a spring which is so strongly impregnated with oil as to render the water unfit for use, and Mike Ohair, who lives only three miles from town, has a spring that tastes strongly of petroleum.

"SAMPSON THIRTEEN MILES AWAY."

BY SAM WILSON.

Two Sunday morn. The American crew were waiting for Cevera to come in view. When, lo! he came from Santiago bay. While Sampson was thirteen miles away. No truer fighters, none more brave Than Schley, commanded on the wave; He saw the enemy leave the bay, While Sampson was thirteen miles away.

Then Schley, the peerless, brave and true, Gave orders, and all knew what to do; The battle commenced without delay, Though Sampson was thirteen miles away.

He was away—the world knows this—All honors the coward ought to miss; A deserter, loitering on the spray, Was Sampson, then thirteen miles away.

Schley's craft did as a target float, Unlike the coward and his boat; They were out of danger on the spray, For Sampson was thirteen miles away.

While round the Brooklyn's deck there fell Showers of Cevera's shot and shell, Schley stood undaunted through the fray And Sampson was thirteen miles away.

This was the Brooklyn's master feat Still leading on the fighting fleet; But one was missing in that fray, For Sampson was thirteen miles away.

But for a long three hours or more The conflict raged amidst smoke and roar; And 'twas Schley that saved the day For Sampson was thirteen miles away.

While on the bridge stood Schley, the brave, Dame Fame did his name engrave; He fought and won renown that day, While Sampson was thirteen miles away.

Fierce was the fight that Sunday morn Which made Cevera's fleet forlorn; One by one they sank 'neath the spray, And Sampson was thirteen miles away.

Their Departure Will be Deplored.

Judge Swango and wife will soon leave Hazel Green, to the regret of everybody in the town, we believe, to make their permanent residence at Grassy Lick, Montgomery county, where the judge has bought property and will engage in the mercantile business. Grassy Lick is just five miles from Mt. Sterling, in a splendid neighborhood, and Judge and Mrs. Swango have a nice little home, consisting of 2½ acres of ground, upon which is a nice five-room cottage with all necessary outbuildings, a good orchard, good garden, &c., and a storeroom. The store at that place has been doing a good business, and Judge Swango's many friends hope he will not only retain that trade but increase it. He and his wife have too much of "the milk of human kindness," however, to make a successful selling goods, for everybody in distress or who puts up a hard luck story is sure to enlist their sympathy and away will go their profits. Individually they very much regret to see them go, for they have been dear friends to the editor and his better seven-eighths ever since our residence here, and the judge is a man who has much more enterprise than the average citizen, a qualification that this town needs very badly. However, it is selfish to wish them to remain here when they can do so much better elsewhere, and we therefore wish them prosperity and pleasure through many years to come, and bespeak for them a welcome in their new home.

All For Only $1.00.

For $1.00 cash in advance you get THE HERALD for 12 months; the Monthly New York World, a 32-page magazine, for 10 months; Good Times, a department magazine of 16 pages, for six months, and a guess on the vote of governor in Ohio, Massachusetts and Iowa, which may bring you $5,000. You have anyhow 998 chances of getting your money back. There are 200 prizes of $2, 200 of $1, 180 of $3, 100 of $4, 142 of $5, 35 of $10 and 10 of $15 each beside 10 prizes ranging from $25 to $5,000. Surely you ought to guess close enough to catch something.

A lease for oil privileges will probably be taken this week, on Prof. Wm. H. Cord's farm, one and one-half miles from town. The "oil fever" is coming this way, and who knows but that there may be a great quantity of fine oil in this section. We are most certainly within the oil belt which extends for thirty miles on either side of Frenchburg. The boring now being done at Frenchburg has every indication of a "rich flow." Prof. Cord will let the lease of his farm to some Pennsylvania party.

LETTER FROM LETCHER.

A Special Term of Circuit Court, Aug. 19, to Try Murderers of Mrs. Hall.

Special Correspondence of THE HERALD. MAYKING, LETCHER COUNTY, KY., August 3, 1901.

DEAR SIR: It was a most destructive storm that passed over this county on last Saturday almost wholly destroying the corn crops. Lightning played havoc in many places. Two horses were killed down the river.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized Thursday evening at Millstone, near here, when Samp Lively, a prosperous young farmer, led to the hymen sacred altar Miss Lizzie Bates, a pretty and accomplished young girl. May they enjoy a peaceful and prosperous journey adown life's way.

A special term of the Letcher circuit court has been called for August 19, when the Ku Klux gang of out laws will be tried. The trials will be watched with greater interest than any case ever called in the county. The Ku Klux gang murdered old Mrs. Jimema Hall and her son at Boon's Fork last November, which startled all the mountain section. At length it became known that 14 toughs of Boon's Fork actually participated in the terrible murder. Great excitement prevailed for a time; the men resisted arrest, and it seemed that there would be much blood shed as a result. At length they all gave up and were arrested except Morgan Reynolds, the leader, who is yet at large. Thousands of people will attend the trials.

Mrs. Lizzie A. Webb and family left Thursday for an extended visit to Arcadia, Sullivan county, Tenn.,—the home of her childhood.

Master Bennett Adams and Tommie Williams, two small boys at school here, ran together yesterday and cut them both quite seriously.

The Letcher county company of state guard under Capt. John A. Webb, will leave Tuesday for Owensboro, Ky., to go into camp till the 15th. The boys expect a jolly time.

Success to THE HERALD in its new and up-to-date enlargement.

More anon,
BURDINE.

I will preach in the M. E. church at Hazel Green next Sunday, Aug. 11th, at 11 o'clock, on the following subject:

"Eye hath not seen nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man the things which God hath prepared for them that love him."
"But God hath revealed them unto us by His spirit, for the spirit searcheth all things. Yea, the deep things of God."—I Cor. v. 9 and 10.

The Country's Backbone.
To speak of the ignorance of the country people is to stamp one's self as an ignoramus,—not the country people.
There is an intelligence and soundness in the back country of this land of ours, that those who live in cities and think themselves wise little suspect. Instead of deprecating country life, and saying that "to live in the country means to live out of the world," wise people know that the free, untrammelled life of the country unquestionably gives broader views.
We can talk all we like of "social revolutions" and kindred evils that are supposed by some to threaten the country; but when they do threaten, the danger signal will come from the back country.
In the clear air of the farm the view is broader, the heart sounder; and when anything does menace the land, the true voice which will stamp it out will be apt to come from the country.
The backbone of the land rests in the country, on the farm.—Farm Journal.

Kentucky Census Figures.
A census bulletin issued Tuesday of last week gives the population of Kentucky by sex, nativity and color. Of a total population of 1,862,309 whites 1,812,176 are native born, and only 138,763 of these were born of foreign parents.
The colored population in Kentucky consists of 142,073 males and 142,633 females, and 52 male Indians and 50 females.
In no county do the negroes exceed the whites. The counties having the largest negro population are Jefferson, with 21,430 males and 22,486 females; Christian, with 8,142 males and 8,455 females, and Fayette, with 7,181 males and 8,228 females. Martin county has the smallest negro population—15 all told.
The percentage of males in Kentucky is 50.8 per cent; native born 97.7 per cent; foreign born 2.3 per cent. Of the total population 86.7 per cent are white and 13.3 per cent colored.

What a Tale it Tells.

If that mirror of yours shows a wretched, sallow complexion, a jaundiced look, moth patches and blotches on the skin, it's liver trouble; but Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the liver, purify the blood, give clear skin, rosy cheeks, rich complexion. Only 25c at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Son, Campton, drug stores.

He's On the Wrong Side.

Leo C. Taylor, son of Dr. C. Taylor of Dayton, O., who disappeared from that city, has been located in South Africa, where he has been fighting with the British. Taylor is 22 years of age. He served in the Spanish-American war as a member of Troop 9, of the Fifth Cavalry, and returned to Dayton at the close of the war. Becoming dissatisfied with civil life he suddenly left without explaining his intentions, and letters were received from him from foreign points. After 10 months his father has heard from the United States Consular agent, who stated that he is in the service of the Britons in South Africa.

P. T. Thomas, Sumterville, Ala., "I was suffering from dyspepsia when I commenced taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I took several bottles and can digest anything." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only preparation containing all the natural digestive fluids. It gives weak stomachs entire rest, restoring natural condition.

Only Two After the Place.

The fight as to who shall be appointed circuit judge to succeed Judge Goodnight is growing spirited. According to the latest rumors, the race has narrowed down to two men—S. R. Crewdson of Russellville, and J. J. Milliken of Simpson county, though W. P. Sandige's friends think he still has a good chance. Of course all the master commissioners in the district are vitally interested in the result, as the new judge may make some new commissioners, and are quietly pulling to have some friend appointed.

If the action of your bowels is not easy and regular, serious complications must be the final result. DeWitt's Little Early Risers will remove the danger. Safe, pleasant and effective.
H. F. PIERATT.

"Vags" May Be Sent to Work.

Railroad contractors engaged in building short lines in this part of the state are suffering for the want of help, and the dearth in labor may delay operations. Wages run from $1.50 to $3 a day. Employment agents are to be sent to large nearby cities. The Lexington police judge threatens to send all able-bodied vags to the mountains to work if the supply of workers is not soon increased.

In cases of cough or croup give the little one One Minute Cough Cure. Then rest easy and have no fear. The child will be all right in a little while. It never fails. Pleasant to take, always safe, sure and almost instantaneous in effect.
H. F. PIERATT.

Pledged Against Whiskey.

In Laurel county, this state, 26 candidates who have entered the republican primary as aspirants for county offices or legislative nominations, have entered into a written agreement and given oath not to use directly or indirectly money, intoxicating liquors or anything of value in the contest for the nominations.

O. O. Buck, Beirne, Ark., says: I was troubled with constipation until I bought DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Since then have been entirely cured of my old complaint. I recommend them. H. F. PIERATT.

Drove Five Miles in Pain.

With his right leg broken in two places below the knee and the member swollen to four times its original size, and with the mercury registering 100 in the shade, Thos. Dance drove five miles to Williams town last Wednesday, alone, for medical treatment.

He was hauling with a two-horse wagon when the wheel passed over the leg. No assistance was near, and he harnessed one of the horses to a light buggy, managed by desperate effort to get into it, and suffering tortures, to drive to town. When he arrived it required the assistance of several men to get him from the buggy and into the doctor's office. He was almost delirious with pain. Dr. O'Hara set the broken member and succeeded in reducing the swelling. He was put in the buggy and started for home alone.

James White Bryantsville, Ind., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve healed running sores on both legs. He had suffered six years. Doctors failed to help him. Get DeWitt's. Accept no imitations.
H. F. PIERATT.

He Got the Pass.

A story is told of a certain prominent railway director who is equally renowned for his ability to make or take a joke. An employe, whose home is in the country, applied to him for a pass to visit his family. "You are in the employ of the company?" inquired the gentleman alluded to.

"Yes."
"You receive your pay regularly?"
"Yes."
"Well, now, supposing you were working for a farmer instead of the company, would you expect your employer to take out his horses every Saturday night and carry you home?"
This seemed a poser, but it wasn't. "No," said the man promptly. "I would not expect that; but if the farmer had his horses out and was going my way, I should call him a very mean fellow if he would not let me ride."

The employe came out three minutes later with a pass good for 12 months.
Eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds and sores of all kinds quickly healed by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Certain cure for piles. Beware of counterfeits. Be sure you get the original—DeWitt's. H. F. PIERATT.

Cattle Dying From Heat.

Veterinary surgeons in Bowling Green and that section of Kentucky report that the cattle are dying in the pastures from sunstroke. They are affected like people and topple over and die in a few hours. Some have been saved by placing crushed ice to their heads and giving them immediate attention. Another feature of the hot weather is that the fish in the ponds have died by the thousand, the hot water proving fatal.

Pains in Joints.
SEBURY, IOWA, 2-4-98.
I have a little grandchild, seven years old who, about two years ago was taken with Pains in all her joints, so bad they had to carry her around on pillows to ease the pain. She could not eat, was sleep and drowsy all the time, was white as a sheet and her joints were so swollen that caution had to be used in moving her. I told my daughter that I was no doctor but I knew that Vitae-Ore did no good it would at least do no harm, so on my recommendation she took a package and in one week the child was going to school. There has been no return of the trouble since. I people only knew half as much about Vitae-Ore as her mother there would not be a house in Canada without Vitae-Ore always on hand for an emergency, for my part I could not get along without it. My eyes have been troubling me for about six years and now after using Vitae-Ore they are wonderfully improved. For sore Throat and Hoarseness Vitae-Ore cannot be beat. It is a God send.
MRS. THOMAS KENDRY.

Change From 75 Years of Age to 16.
Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.
I purchased some of the Vitae-Ore from you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half pint of the Vitae-Ore Elixer my nerves were as steady as when I was 15 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good. I then bought Vitae-Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days as hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the greatest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vitae-Ore of you and give it a fair trial, I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

Bladder and Kidney Trouble.
CHICAGO, ILL.
I must say I never heard of a case of Bladder and Kidney Trouble which was as bad as mine was. I had to get up from twenty to thirty times a night to urinate with burning pain. I had been troubled with this disease for about eleven years. I was treated and examined at a hospital and had four or five bottles of medicine from the doctors, which did me no good. I tried various patent medicines and doctors without one event of good result. I have not used quite three packages of Vitae-Ore. I am 68 years of age and feel as well as when I was 30 years old. There is one thing about Vitae-Ore which I have observed, and that is, it will not hurt anyone. It is good for anyone's system. I know of a lady who was troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble for ten years. But after using Vitae-Ore she is now entirely well. If anyone wants to know if this is a true statement he can call and see me or write to me.

AFTER YOU HAVE TESTED ALL NOSTRUMS, DRUGS AND DOCTORS, only to grow older and worse, try VITAE-ORE—the Ore of Life—and learn that it is the Best Thing In, On or Out of the Earth for the Afflicted. Its unequalled Antiseptic Tonic Power will remove the Nidus of any ill. It is not a quack nostrum, but a remedy nothing man makes equals. It challenges comparison. It is a discovery never downed by quacks, who thrive on a man's ill being protracted. It is a puzzle to the scientist, an enigma to the medical student, a boon to the afflicted. It contains all the elements lacking in the body in poor health, and supplies to the system that which is necessary to sustain Life, Health and Strength.

VITAE-ORE

has been tested by multitudes of people, and is universally endorsed. Thousands of testimonials from grateful people who have been cured. Our limited space will only allow reproduction of a few:

Cured at 82 Years.
ANDERSON, IND.
I have had Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble for about a year. Hearing of the cures made by your Vitae-Ore, I began taking it, and it has done me more good than all of the other medicines I have ever taken. I have taken three packages of your Vitae-Ore and it has also helped my Rheumatism. I was so bad at times that I could not get down to tie my shoes, but I can now walk four or five miles and not feel the effects of it. I was 82 years old on September 11.

I do and always shall do all in my power in your favor because I am thoroughly satisfied that the V. O. remedies are the very best on earth, and this I say from my own experience with them. I was as near a dead man as possible last winter before I began to take Vitae-Ore, and the grave was preparing to what I suffered. I now feel thirty years younger and can do my own work, no matter how heavy or hard it may be. Without a doubt it is a wonderful medicine. JOHN ROYSTER.

Paralysis and Rheumatism.
QUINCY, ILL.
I have just visited three of my afflicted friends who are using Vitae-Ore. The man with Paralysis and Rheumatism can help himself to a bag, pull himself up and step the length of it; he can also move his toes, which he has not been able to do for years. Mrs. Smith, a sufferer from Dropsy and Female Trouble is doing as well as can be expected. The man who was Paralyzed about two weeks ago and could not walk or speak so as to be understood, or raise his right arm, took a package of Vitae-Ore and V. O. Pills and today he got out of his chair without assistance and walked across the room; he talks now so as to be heard. JOHN HUBBARD.
