Chipping away

The chips fly as Ed Ristau, an employe of the Highway Department, cleans out a storm drainage basin on Parker St. Highway Department workers have been clearing basins for the past three days to lessen the chance of flooding problems caused by today's and tomorrow's expected warmer weather.

Town prepares for minor floods

Don't break out the shorts and baseball bats yet, but today and Friday are expected to be prematurely warm, with temperatures Friday approaching the 50-degree mark.

The rising temperatures will cause some of this winter's built-up ice and snow to melt, but the Highway Department does not expect any major flooding problems. Department employes have been working for the past three days cleaning out storm drainage catch basins, George Ringstone, department work coordinator, said.

"There should only be minor flooding problems, if any," he said.

Ringstone said that there are about 6,000 basins in town. Thus, it takes time for the department to clean out all of the basins.

"A good percentage of the basins have been dug out already," Ringstone said this morning. "With 6,000 basins and the small crew we have, it takes more than a couple of days to clean them all," he said.

He said that 25 workers were out this morning trying to clear basins that have still not been cleaned. He urged homeowners to clean any basins that the department has not done. This will help ease any flooding problems that might occur, he said.

Today's news summary

Compiled from United Press International

State

LITCHFIELD — A nurse who spoke with Peter Reilly the night his mother was killed gave secret testimony Wednesday to a one-man grand jury trying to determine whether the state committed any crimes against the youth.

GREENWICH — A lawyer whose client apparently committed suicide in New York City, while under indictment for a double-murder in Connecticut, said James Klein, 38, was innocent and efforts will be continued to clear his name.

HARTFORD — Secretary of State Gloria Schaffer, her future in elective office seemingly stymied, hopes for a call from President Carter, while playing the accepted political game of being only mildly interested.

Regional

National Weather Service officials say the potential for flooding will exist this spring all across New England as unusually high amounts of snow and ice begin to melt. However, there appears to be no immediate threat of serious flooding despite the current warm weather.

BOSTON — A suit has been filed against Polaroid Corp., claiming its fourth generation instant developing camera model, the SX70 Alpha, infringes on a Swiss company's trade name for one of its own cameras.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., is sending back a $100 illegal campaign contribution, plus interest, he unknowingly received from American Airlines in 1972. The airline admitted giving an estimated $275,000 in illegal contributions between 1964 and 1972.

National

NEW YORK — Cuban President Fidel Castro says both the United States and his nation, between which diplomatic ties were severed 16 years ago, would be benefitted by a resumption of trade. He said in a CBS interview trade was the best way to restore relations.

DES MOINES, Iowa — Terror-stricken apartment dwellers, trapped by fast-moving flames and choking smoke, hung and leaped from windows in attempts to escape a blaze which killed four, injured at least nine others Wednesday night.

SILVER SPRING, Md. — Stephen W. Gregory, 27, who entered a suburban Washington bank late Wednesday and held eight persons hostage for no apparent reason surrendered to police early today. Several shots were fired during the seven-hour drama, but no one was hurt.

INDIANAPOLIS — Tony Kiritis, who has held a real estate executive hostage in an apartment he says is rigged with dynamite since Tuesday morning, today said he was turning an offer of "complete and total" immunity over to three attorneys to decide if it is valid.

PATERSON, N. J. — Rubin "Hurricane" Carter and John Artis have been sentenced to life imprisonment for a second time for the murder of three persons in a Paterson tavern 11 years ago. They had been released after a new trial was ordered on the grounds the prosecution had withheld evidence in the first trial.

International

AMMAN, Jordan — Queen Alia, wife of King Hussein, died when a helicopter carrying her home from a hospital inspection tour crashed during a rain storm Wednesday.

LONDON — Queen Elizabeth left today for the major overseas event of her silver jubilee year — a seven-week visit to Pago Pago, the Friendly Isles and other Pacific territories of the British Commonwealth.

Getting acquainted with bureaucracy

Carter continues visits to federal departments

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Buoyed by enthusiastic receptions at the labor and commerce buildings Wednesday, President Carter today charted two more forays to federal buildings—going part of the way by foot.

White House aides said the President, who surprised everyone by walking the full length of his inauguration parade last month, would hoof it from the White House to the Treasury Department a block away.

Carter also planned to meet today with Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., who requested the session to discuss energy and government reorganization. The President set up a foreign policy briefing for his wife, Rosalynn, and senior White House staff members so they will be aware of major—but not top secret—developments.

The President drew squeals of delight when he appeared at the Department of Labor Wednesday and a more sedate but still enthusiastic response at the Department of Commerce.

Aides said he plans a series of get-acquainted visits to federal departments. He used his initial outings to reassure workers they will not lose their jobs under his reorganization plan.

"We're partners in the process . . ." he told labor employes. "I want you to be aggressive and dynamic and individualistic."

Upon his arrival and departure, Carter used both hands to grasp hundreds of outstretched palms, and the joy reached such a pitch that one woman whom he couldn't quite get to urged, "reach, Jimmy, reach."

In other actions Wednesday: —The White House announced the Carters and daughter Amy, 9, will leave Washington Friday for Plains, Ga., for the weekend. Press Secretary Jody Powell said Carter will relax and "not comment on anything short of a major national crisis."

—The President courted 14 members of the House committee that will handle his government reorganization plan, and had kind remarks for Rep. Jack Brooks, the chairman, who opposes key parts of it. Powell said Carter "respected the chairman's position and him personally" and "appreciates very much" Brooks' promise that he will not bottle up the reorganization proposal despite his opposition.

Concerning J. C. Penney complex

FOI rules Heffernan erred in not answering queries

By GREG PEARSON

Herald Reporter
The state Freedom of Information (FOI) Commission voted unanimously Wednesday that state Tax Commissioner Gerald J. Heffernan should have answered questions pertaining to his discussions with the J.C. Penney Co.

Heffernan indicated this morning that he is willing to go to court to settle the matter.

The three-member FOI Commission supported a report submitted by Chairman Herbert Brucker, who heard the case involving Heffernan.

Heffernan, at a hearing Friday before Brucker, refused to answer questions pertaining to discussions between his department and the J.C. Penney Co., which would be the largest tenant in Manchester's proposed industrial park.

The complaint against Heffernan was filed by Atty. Bruce Beck and Anthony Pagano, who have since filed an appeal against a zone change needed for the industrial park.

Brucker ruled that Heffernan's refusal to discuss the meetings should be "turned over to appropriate authorities for prosecution."

Wednesday, the other two commission members—Helen Loy and Judith Lahey—agreed with Brucker's ruling.

The decision was made despite a request by Atty. Richard Greenberg, representing Heffernan, that the commission look at the complete transcript of the questions asked of Heffernan.

"I strongly urge the commission not to vote so blindly," Greenberg said.

But, the commission was then given a couple of examples of the types of questions that Heffernan refused to answer.

One such question was, "Did you have a meeting with the J.C. Penney Co., the Town of Manchester, and the Tax Department?"

Brucker said, "I don't see any point in delaying this action." He referred to the refusal to answer questions as a "stonewalling" action, a term he also used during last week's hearing.

Atty. F.D. Neuser, an assistant attorney general, told the commission that the matter will now be referred to the attorney general's office.

The office can set up another meeting with the commission where Heffernan can answer questions from the commission and Atty. Beck and Pagano. Or, the matter can be brought to the Hartford Court of Common Pleas, where Heffernan could face contempt of court charges for not answering.

Heffernan said this morning that he is willing to test the matter in court.

"I'm under the opinion that if I answered the questions, I'd be violating state statutes," he said.

In a brief filed Monday with the FOI Commission, Greenberg also said that answering questions concerning a specific taxpayer would violate state statutes.

"If that opinion is erroneous, fine. Let the court decide that," Heffernan said.

Pagano, who attended Wednesday meeting, said the commission's decision was a "proper" one.

"The commission felt my questions and their questions were proper and should have been answered. This is their remedy," Pagano said.

Cypriot leader opens door to compromise with Turks

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — On the eve of new peace talks with Turkish Cypriot chief Rauf Denkash, Greek Cypriot President Makarios says the two sides have already agreed on the shape of a future federal government for divided Cyprus.

In an exclusive interview with UPI, Archbishop Makarios said he is "prepared for a compromise" that would leave Turkish Cypriots in control of the Turkish occupied north of the island, but only after the return of a "reasonable" amount of Greek-Cypriot land.

Turkish share cut

He said the Turkish share of the island should be reduced from the present 38.5 per cent to 20 per cent, but revealed he allowed "a margin for negotiation" of 2 to 3 per cent. Denkash has proposed a figure of 32.8 per cent.

Makarios and Denkash, who met for the first time in 13 years in surprise talks Jan. 27, will meet again Saturday with U.N. Secretary General Kurt Waldheim. The Archbishop said he expects that meeting to produce a new "framework" for formal negotiations on a Cyprus settlement.

"There is no disagreement between us on the question of a federation between the areas under Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot administration, while preserving Cyprus as an independent, unitary state," the 63-year-old, gray-bearded archbishop said in his modest, white-walled presidential office.

Many difficult questions

"The difficult questions, the questions on which there is disagreement, are those of territory, freedom of movement, and freedom of property. The refugee problem will be very difficult."

In its 1974 invasion that followed a Greek-sponsored coup, Turkey seized the north of the island and some 180,000 Greek Cypriots fled south. The Greek Cypriots insist that those refugees be allowed to return to their homes, even if the north remains under Turkish Cypriot administration. Makarios' declaration was his first public indication that he and Denkash had agreed on the powers to be given to a future central government.

'Federated state'

Both leaders have called for a "federated state" with semi-autonomous Greek and Turkish administrations, but previously Makarios appeared to insist on a stronger central government than Denkash.

"I asked Mr. Denkash if he meant a confederation, and he said no, he meant a real federation," the archbishop said with a quick smile.

But he stressed that the two sides were far apart on the question of land.

Asked why he turned down an offer from Denkash at their first meeting to take a map and draw new boundaries for Greek and Turkish Cypriot areas, he said, "It would be more practical to discuss first and reach agreement on the percentages of the respective areas."

"I am prepared for a compromise," he said. "Any compromise, however, must not endanger the future of Cyprus as an independent state."

Shrine Circus opens in week

The Shriners all-new "superfantastic spectacle" opens Wednesday, Feb. 16, at the State Armory on Broad St. in Hartford.

Producer George Hamid calls it the finest three-ring circus in America. General chairman Warren Blessing agrees: "I've seen many of the Hamid-Morton acts in performance, and this will be one of the finest circuses Sphinx Temple has ever produced."

The circus plays for six days, running through Feb. 21. George Washington's Birthday Matinees are 1:30 on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday and night shows begin at 7:45. Sunday shows are at 2 and 7:45, and on the final day Monday, Feb. 21, they are at 2 and 6:30. Reserve seat tickets are available in the Armory starting Sunday.

Ming Wong brings her incredible hair suspension act to the circus this year. She performs feats of balancing and magic.

Other acts are the Phillips Canine Revue, the Lido Duo aerial act, Brick's Foodle Fantasy, Charmaine's Pets, the Pharoahs performing acrobatics on the high wire, the World's Funniest Ford, the Wonder Horse Golden Mist, and jugglers.

For other animal acts, there is Josp Marcan's African Lions, making an initial appearance in America; Cristiani Elephants, and My-Immba Baboons.

There will be all kinds of clowns.

On opening night, Wednesday, Sphinx Temple Band plays a concert at 7 p.m. before the circus parade.

Omar Shrine Club of Manchester plans to run a bus to the first night of the circus. The general admission ticket is included; for reservations, call Bill Forbes after 3 p.m. at 646-9218.

Joe Kowell of Manchester will be parade marshal; guests will be introduced Wednesday, Shrine Night, by the potentate of Sphinx Temple, Hal Turkington of Manchester.

This will be the 45th circus produced by Sphinx Temple.

Ming Wong ascends high above the sawdust, hanging only by her hair!

Scuba class still has openings

There are still openings in the Scuba class sponsored by the Manchester Recreation Department at the East Side Recreation Pool starting Feb. 16 at 7:15 to 9:30 p.m.

The fees, payable upon registration at the recreation department, will cover the rental of tank, regulator, vest and necessary air and text book. Students must buy their own face plate, mask, fins and snorkel before the second class.

First preference will be given to Manchester residents. Minimum age is 15.

Cheney Tech details proposed plans for expanding the school plant

Plans hinge on legislative approval

Tentative project plans submitted by the Bureau of Vocational Services of the State Department of Education call for 42,000 square feet of construction at Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School at a total cost of $4,110,000.

The project was included in the bureau's budget and submitted to the General Assembly for approval. Gov. Ella Grasso proposed to the General Assembly Tuesday that $2.6 million for new construction for vocational-technical schools be included in this year's capital budget.

This was the first time the request was included in the vocational bureau's budget, according to Angelo Tedesco, chief of the bureau.

The construction cost is based on a $60 per square foot estimate, Tedesco said.

The items included in the tentative proposal, Tedesco said, are:

- Second floor addition over existing classrooms
- Additions and alterations to kitchen and dining room
- Addition to the automotive shop
- New two-story shop wing
- Additional lockers and alterations to locker rooms
- Two tennis courts
- Expansion of parking

A breakdown of the $4.1 million project costs includes $2,520,000 for basic construction, $378,000 for site development, $302,000 for alterations, $10,000 contingency funds, $181,000 architectural fees, $5,400 in test borings and survey work and $533,000 for new equipment.

This would be the first addition to the school which was built for $2 million and opened in 1962. The school serves a 12-town region and many students are turned away every year.

The school is now admitting female students for which there are not adequate shower and bath facilities. There are six female students presently enrolled at Cheney Tech.

Enrollment is about double what it was when the school opened with 215 students. John Garafolo, the school's director, said that with the proposed expansion, the enrollment could be increased by 50 per cent.

About 25 eighth graders are being tested for acceptance into Cheney Tech for the fall semester. Only 120 will be accepted, Garafolo said.

The school is situated on a 35-acre tract and there is plenty of room for the proposed expansion, according to Garafolo.

Some of the additional curricula Garafolo would like to see included in the expanded program are welding, air conditioning and refrigeration, plumbing and heating, and areas in health care programs.

One of Garafolo's big objectives is to use the school facilities full time including after school, evenings and weekends (Saturdays).

If the appropriation is approved by the state finance committee and the State Bonding Commission, Garafolo said he hoped that construction would be under way within two years.

Fourth instant lottery delayed

HARTFORD (UPI) - The state gaming commission has postponed the start of the fourth edition of the instant lottery because the first Connecticut firm hired to print those tickets did an unacceptable job.

The commission made the announcement Wednesday, shortly after Beatrice Kowalski, chairman of the Commission on Special Revenue which supervises legalized gambling, said a new daily lottery will begin March 16.

The new edition of the instant lottery, a favorite with consumers because by scratching the covering on the lottery ticket they can see immediately if they won, had been expected to begin Feb. 22.

Commission Spokesman William Heard said officials had decided the tickets printed by Glendinning Associates of Westport were of inferior quality and the distribution of tickets was indefinitely postponed. He declined to be more specific.

This is the first time tickets for the instant lottery were printed in Connecticut.

Dental Health Week

(This is the fourth in a series of six articles on dental health published by The Manchester Evening Herald, in cooperation with the American Dental Association, in observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, Feb. 6-12.)

I want to make sure that my two-year-old son has good teeth all his life. When should I take him to the dentist for the first time and how should I prepare him for this first visit? A child should visit the dentist before all of his primary teeth have appeared. The average child will have his full set of 20 primary teeth by the age of two or two and a half. Because these teeth are so important to a child's future well-being and appearance, it is important that they be well taken care of.

You can help your child develop a positive attitude about this first trip to the dentist that will influence his feelings about dental care throughout life. You will want to explain in a very general way what the child can expect. For example, the dentist will examine the child's teeth. He may also clean them and take X-ray pictures to detect any hidden dental problems. These early examinations are important because surveys show that 50 per cent of two-year-old children have one or more decayed teeth.

During the first visit, the dentist will discuss with you a program for regular dental care for your child, including future visits to meet individual needs. Twice a year may be sufficient for some children, whereas closer supervision may be necessary for others.

A good neighbor

In this day and age, it is almost inevitable that when something goes wrong, someone points the finger at big business as the culprit.

We seem to relish hearing politicians and others lambast the so-called "big-brother" corporations if they make a profit. We are constantly beset by appeals for corporate responsibility, for business to take a more active role in coping with social problems, etc.

Well, it is refreshing to report that one Connecticut business firm has quietly, but positively, shown that big business is not entirely self-serving.

Last week, the State of Connecticut revised its mandatory temperature law permitting thermostat settings to be lowered from the minimum 68 to 65 during the day.

Aetna Life and Casualty insurance company announced its plans to comply with the new law.

But instead of using the fuel savings to increase company profits and dividends, the firm is turning over to area fuel banks whatever money it calculates it will save by the lower permissible temperatures in their buildings. The $6,000 estimate may not be much to a large firm like Aetna, but it will be a shot in the arm for the fuel banks.

We think a bouquet is in order for Aetna for showing all of us that corporate citizens can be and are good neighbors. This is something we all should remember next time someone else finds it politically expedient to knock the business community.

How many can you name?

Here's a question to try out at your next cocktail party: What word in the English language has the most synonyms?

According to Dr. Maire Weir Kay, editor of the new Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, the word is "intoxicated." The reference work lists no less than 46 synonyms, ranging from "blind" to "zonked."

It is "an odd fact of linguistic life" that a word with so many synonyms adds more as time goes on, says Kay. Yet each generation makes up new adjectives for intoxicated.

Incidentally, close runner-up in the synonym race is "insane." This word has 41 synonyms, ranging from "batty" to "wacky."

All of which seems to say something about people, but we're not quite sure what.

Other editors say

Equal in Connecticut

With all the fuss over the Equal Rights Amendment, it is often overlooked that Connecticut passed such a law and has been living under it with a minimum of stress since November 27, 1974.

Section 20 of the state constitution contains an amendment which took effect on that day, to read as follows: "No person shall be denied the equal protection of the law nor be subjected to segregation or discrimination in the exercise or enjoyment of his or her civil or political rights because of religion, race, color, ancestry, national origin or sex."

The law's impact on Connecticut people and their ways of living has been minimal, perhaps too minimal to please the more militant among the women's rights adherents.

Today's thought

Is the antifreeze sufficient? Do the snow tires have enough tread? Was the battery checked? Is the auto insurance sufficient and are the premiums paid? OK, maybe we're ready for winter.

But, this is February, winter is here, and if the check-out has been delayed this long, then the chances are that we've already had problems because we didn't prepare well in advance, we took a risk — and perhaps we had an accident. Almost all auto accidents can be avoided by proper preparation and avoiding risk.

What about spiritual accidents? They, too, are avoidable by preparation and avoiding risk. It is a illogical to fail to pray together regularly as husband and wife and to wonder at the dissolution of a marriage as it is to fail to have sufficient antifreeze and wonder why the car won't start.

Proper care of the automobile and adequate insurance do not guarantee that there will not be accidents, but they do significantly reduce the risk. Where spiritual accidents occur, recovery through fasting, prayer, and confession to proper church authority can actually strengthen one as he or she becomes acquainted with God's earthly agents, the process of repentance, and the meaning of the Atonement of Jesus Christ.

Although regrettable, the experience can help indemnify one against a total spiritual disaster.

Avoiding spiritual jeopardy takes prayer, faith, study, patience, dedication, and knowledge as we travel the icy roads of mortality. But Christ has shown the way.

Rep. Grassley's campaign is an honorable one

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Members of Congress are now paid $44,600 per year. A member of the House or Senate who retires in 1978 after 20 years of service will receive a pension of $22,300 a year for life.

Last Jan. 17, President Ford transmitted to Congress the recommendations of the Peterson commission on public salaries calling for more pay for Congressmen, federal judges and certain high-level officials of the Executive Department.

A whopping 29 per cent increase will become law Feb. 17 if Congress simply sits on its generally well-larded hams. At that time, a Congressman's salary will be raised a whopping 29 per cent to $57,500. Then a member of the House or Senate can retire in 1978 after 20 years of service on a pension of $28,750 a year.

Some racket? Right. I will not here address myself to the proposed pay boosts for federal judges and VIP bureaucrats. A valid argument can be made in their support, given the increasing difficulty of finding good men for nonselective judicial and executive posts. But Congress is the government's appropriations device. Big spending programs authorized by Congress are largely responsible for inflation.

Old-fashioned view
 Thus, Rep. Charles E. Grassley, R-Iowa, is pressing his colleagues to reject pay increases for themselves. It is Grassley's old-fashioned view that the spenders should set an example for the rest of the country. He wonders how Congress can counsel restraint in the wage and price sector after accepting a big salary increase for its members.

But Grassley last year returned $1,400 of the $2,100 increase Congress voted itself in 1975 — over his strenuous objections. Grassley has a wife and four children living on a farm in Iowa in what he calls moderate circumstances.

Fat fringe benefits
 Moreover, members of Congress receive fat fringe benefits. They can buy cut-rate insurance. They get free medical benefits, including annual physicals with all necessary tests, for themselves and their families. (No going into debt for Susie's appendectomy.) They can save or otherwise spend travel funds not used for travel and stationery funds not used for stationery. They are given $5,000 a year for newsletters, none of which are employed for self-criticism.

Then there are the "honoraria." That's a polite name for the fees up to $2,000 (maximum $25,000 a year) Congressmen pocket for making comforting speeches to special interest groups to which they have given legislative comfort. On Main Street, they call that legal bribery.

Doing better
 That's Congress. A study by Jim Davidson, president of the National Taxpayers Union, shows that the average Congressman made $700 less a year in private life. It is not recorded that any member of the legislative branch was put to the rack until he agreed to run for office. And once selected, your typical Congressman spends much of his time running for re-election, while moaning about his "sacrifices" on behalf of the commonweal.

But good luck to you, Charles Grassley, sir. Your campaign is an honorable one — trying to persuade your peers that money never bought a conscience.

Reader blames oversight for Bolton Charter dispute

To the editor:
 The time has come to step back and ask some common sense questions about allegations concerning "who knew what and when" in regard to the Bolton Charter Commission's handling of minority representation on the Board of Selectmen. The questions which may be fairly asked are as follows:

1. If the Bolton Democratic leadership was aware of new legislation changing minority representation, why was this point not strenuously pursued at the two Charter Commission public hearings;
2. If the Bolton Democratic leadership was aware of a problem with minority representation, why was the Charter unanimously endorsed for passage by the Bolton Democratic Town Committee of which Mr. Ahearn was a member); and
3. Why did Rep. Ahearn vote for a bill in the State Legislature which now appears to have been patently offensive to him and some of his Democratic constituents in the Town of Bolton?

The answers to the first two questions seem to be fairly obvious; that is, that the leadership of the Bolton Democratic Party was not aware of the impact of SB76-363 when the Charter was under discussion and were therefore unable to raise the issue as a matter of legitimate concern. The answer to question three escapes me entirely.

It is true that Mr. Maher's original letter to the Selectmen references SB76-363, although minority representation was not specifically mentioned then or subsequently. To the extent that SB76-363 was mentioned at all, I believe all Charter commission members would agree an oversight in this matter did occur. I further believe, however, that all members would also agree that this oversight was not deliberate, did not occur because of political malice, and did not occur due to lack of diligence or because reasonable care was not exercised.

LWU supports overseer for CD funds

To the editor:
 I have today written George Dagon, chairman of the East Hartford Town Council, expressing the views of our membership concerning the third-year application for Community Development Funds.

We are actively interested in the area of housing renewal through the renovation of public housing and the rehabilitation of low-income owner-occupied one-, two- and three-family houses.

We support the need for a coordinator whose duties would include: Overview of CD funds, study of the need for day-care centers, follow-up of complaints of discrimination and to publicize East Hartford's Affirmative Action program on housing and employment.

We affirm our desire to help, in any way possible, the town in its effort to obtain Community Development Funds.

Right of petition defended by reader

To the editor:
 I write in response to Mrs. Joyce Garman who "as a Manchester taxpayer, wife of a local businessman and a teacher" wrote to publicly chastise two local attorneys for representing clients who have retained them to file an appeal to the Planning and Zoning Commission's decision on the proposed industrial park.

As a Manchester taxpayer, wife of a local attorney, and a registered nurse, I am appalled at this obvious misunderstanding and/or blatant misinterpretation of our system of justice.

One of the basic liberties which we cherish (and I thought teachers were teaching this!) is the right to be represented in a court of law when we feel that an injustice has been done and to seek a ruling by judicial authority.

NEW FROM TAPPAN... the inside story on why IT PAYS TO STAY WITH GAS for cooking!

TAPPAN'S CONVECTIONAIRE GAS RANGE

- Saves up to 50% of cooking energy. Needs no preheating. Cooks faster at lower temperature. Cleans itself automatically. Broils at waist height.

It's the Convectionaire way to cook. Convectionaire is the best Tappan gas range ever. It's a new idea in home cooking, but the principle has been used in fine restaurants for years. Because the convection method actually seals in more natural flavor of foods, roasts are juicier, steaks superb, and pastries bake up lighter and fluffier.

You take them one at a time. Manchester Community College's basketball team did exactly that last night and took home a thrilling 74-73 come-from-behind win over Middlesex Community College at Middletown High.

With the victory the Cougars improved their overall mark to 8-10 and conference ledger to 4-7. Middlesex drops to 6-11 overall, 3-8 in the CCCC. As MCC, Middlesex and Tunxis are fighting for the final playoff berth.

With 19 seconds left, Cougar Steve Faulkner grabbed a long rebound at the foul line and led a gliding Mike Robinson for a layup and a 74-73 lead. Middlesex had 15 seconds to work with MCC committing a foul with four seconds remaining. But two foul shots went astray and a last-ditch 24-foot jumper hit the rim but failed to drop.

It was a tight first half, 19 lead exchanges and eight ties, with the quintets tied 34-all at intermission. The Cougars had to fight back, trailing 48-47 with just over nine minutes left.

"Tonight we proved we could come back. We played good basketball down the stretch. Nick DeMarco and Mike Nolen played very well as did the whole team," pleased MCC coach Don Geissler stated.

DeMarco led all scorers with 27 points followed by Robinson and Nolen with 17 and 14 markers respectively. Dennis Hamilton had 20 points and Curtis Williams 13 for Middlesex.

MCC (74) - DeMarco 11 5-6 27, Zocco 6 3-5 Faulkner 4 0 8, Robinson 6 5-6 17, Nolen 7 0-3 14, Wilson 12-24, Cheney 0 1-2 1, Bolasvich 0 0 0. Totals 29 16-24 74.

Middlesex (73) - Deberardino 3 1-2 7, C. Wilson 5 0-1 10, Williams 4 5-13, Budkus 0 0-0, Hamilton 8 4-6 20, Pittorello 3 1-2 7, D. Wilson 3 2-2 8, Guipone 4 0-0 8. Totals 30 13-22 73.

Eagles hang on to defeat Northwest

By LEN AUSTER

On a scale of one to 10 give it a six. East Catholic, leading by nine at the half, saw the edge dissolve with 50 seconds left in the third stanza but then rallied to notch a 70-65 HCC basketball triumph over Northwest Catholic last night at the Hartford Civic Center.

The win pushes the Eagles' conference ledger to 6-2 and aggregate mark to 15-5 with a reversal from the West Hartford-based Indians to 1-7 in the HCC and 4-10 overall. The loss also eliminated Northwest from tournament consideration—the Indians having just four games remaining.

It was not your typical HCC defensive struggle as the Eagles raced to a 40-31 halftime edge, hitting 17 of 25 field goal attempts with eight turnovers. Gary Carlson had 11 points (this final total) and Jeff Heim 10 for East at the half while Tom Bisson led Northwest with nine markers.

While East was turning the ball over nine times in the third stanza, the 5-11 Bisson scorched the cords, hitting for 14 points, and knotted it for Northwest at 51-51 with a 20-foot rightside jumper. But with 33 seconds left, Heim canned one of two free throws and Mark Dumais tossed in a layup off a fast break for a 54-51 lead going into the final period.

The Eagles, with seven fourth-quarter turnovers, grasped a tenuous edge the final canto, with Northwest closing the gap to 66-65 with 1:05 remaining.

But Pete Thompson pumper in a 12-foot rightside baseline jumper with 29 seconds to go and 14 seconds later Dumais used it with a steal from Bisson and a resultant layup. "When it's game time, he (Dumais) is 'Heim' got some key hoops. I think they were the key to the game. Without them we wouldn't have won," acknowledged Ogradnik.

Dumais finished with 19 points and 6-2 senior Mike Donnelly, starting in place of Jon Lindberg, had a career-

What had been a two-game lead is no lead as Manchester High's hopes of a second consecutive CCL basketball title have suddenly, and quickly, turned to ashes.

The Silk Towners still can win it, but they better start playing the game Dr. Naismith invented soon, otherwise they'll find themselves out of the playoff picture. They're now tied for the top rung with Westfield at 1-4 while one ligit slip could boost either Simsbury or Penney, or both, at 10-5 past the locals.

The trouble can't be pinpointed, there appears to be something definitely wrong with coach Doug Pearson's quintet. The loss to Westfield last Friday could be attributed to the Eagles shooting 60 per cent from the field but the setback to Simsbury is most disturbing.

One spectator, after the Trojans triumphantly marched off the court, remarked how well the visitors hustled while also noting the somewhat lackadaisical play by Manchester. That wasn't totally evident but what was that by Simsbury did what it wanted to do and deserved the win.

Manchester should get off the doldrums tomorrow night against Enfield High but the closing two titles will be troublesome. Fern High, a likely winner over East Hartford Friday, cannot afford to lose if it wants to qualify for the State Tournament. That, along with the Falcons'

Whalers look up: NHL merger eyed

By EARL YOST
Sports Editor

"Secret to a season is to win your share of normal performances. You'll win the games you excel in and you'll lose the games when you are not up to par but by you must win a share of your normal games, which we haven't to date," Ron Ryan said yesterday.

Ryan, former coach and now general manager of the New England Whalers, feels the team has turned the corner with 26 games left.

"Tonight the first test will come when the high-flying, high-scoring Winnipeg Jets, minus Bobby Hull, come to the Hartford Civic Center."

Ryan was pinch-hitting for Howard Baldwin, who was late arriving from Chicago where the WHA held a meeting to discuss possible merger with the National Hockey League for the 1977-78 season. Baldwin said last night he was confident the two leagues would get together and Hartford would be included in the setup.

"A drawback would be seating capacity in Hartford which is 10,507. NHL would like all cities to have at least 6,000 additional seats. Our installed in Hartford before next fall. Coach Harry Neale said changes have been made to "get in good shape for next year. The six players we have added make us a better team." Two of the six, Bill Butters and Mike Antonovich were present at the meeting.

"We should have two good lines now. Lyle, Webster and Rogers on one and Keon, McKenzie and Antonovich on the other. Other teams won't be able to zero in on one line anymore."

The Whalers may have a new goal in uniform by the weekend, Dave Dryden. Ryan and Dryden have had several talks and the former is confident the Edmonton man will join the Whalers this season and plug the most glaring weakness.

believed they got robbed at Clarke Arena will make the visit to Enfield Tuesday very difficult.

Free gate

The final clash is against Windham High at Clarke Arena with the Whippets of Willimantic already possessor of one decision over Manchester. It would be nice to say that an overflow through is expected for this encounter, which can't Manchester despite being in the thick of one of the closest races in years hasn't done all the gate.

The one point which can be said is no one really around the CCL draws well. Why is the greatest mystery of the century. While it's not the best roundball play in the state, it nevertheless is exciting and a good way for people to spend their entertainment dollar.

It's been said by several sources that school spirit at Manchester High is greatly lacking. Probably true. But maybe, maybe, with the Indian hoopers probably at their lowest ebb of the season presently, it wouldn't be a bad idea to let all the high schoolers in free for the final Windham tilt.

No, it wouldn't break the Manchester coffers. One non-gate won't be a calamity. And No. 2, maybe a packed house would give a horrible first set and defeated Australian Colin Dibbey, 0-6, 6-4, 6-2 in second round action in the tournament.

Earlier Wednesday, third-seeded Vijay Armitraj of India fell to unseeded Bob Hewitt, 27, from South Africa, 1-6, 6-1, 7-6.

Second-seeded Stan Smith from Hilton Head, S.C., had less trouble with his opponent, sweeping Evanston, Ill., native Eric Frierder, 7-6, 6-3. Another seeded player, Haroon Rahim, defeated West German Frank Gebert, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5, in a second round match.

Hewitt roared back from a 1-6 first set deficit to take Armitraj in a tiebreaker third set. He was out of action for five months last year after undergoing elbow surgery, and after his match Wednesday he had to apply an icepack to the elbow.

"I played more aggressively than normal," he said afterward.

Sometimes that backfires, but today it came off.

With Dibbey it was a different story. He said he got a "false sense of security" after shutting Vilas out in the first set.

Scott Kaminski was credited with a first-period Simsbury score, actually deflected home by a Manchester player. That

Vilas stages rally in Springfield play

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI) - Two giant upsets in one day would have been a bit too much for Guillermo Vilas to swallow. Especially since he would have been the second victim.

So the 24-year-old Argentinian, seeded first in the $50,000 Springfield International Tennis Classic, got his act together Wednesday after a horrible first set and defeated Australian Colin Dibbey, 0-6, 6-4, 6-2 in second round action in the tournament.

Massengale and Lietske pacing golf

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) - Please, don't wake up Rick Massengale and Bruce Lietske. The two young Texans are in a trance and they have the "do not disturb" sign up.

They made some unbelievable putts in the opening round of the five-round Hope Classic Wednesday and it's not at all surprising they are leaders, along with Alan Tapie. Massengale shot an 8-under-par 64 at Indian Wells, the easiest of the four courses they use in the Hope, and he could hardly believe it.

Simsbury skaters win

Only 20 per cent of Simsbury High hockey team's shot found the mark Tuesday when they took 30 shots and that percentage is more than sufficient as the Trojans whitewashed Manchester High, 10-0, last night at the Bolton Ice Palace. The Indians now show an overall record of 5-4.

Marc Duncan, Rick Samuelson, Duncan and Sargent again were the lamp-lighters in the middle stanza. Kaminski, Allan DeVane, Mike Hickey, Dave Carlson and Duncan completed the goal scoring for Simsbury.

Manchester got off 18 shots on goal.

Undefeated Illing Junior High girl hoopers

Coming up Saturday night at Illing Junior High is the first Illing Basketball Invitational involving four clubs in a twinnish. The night's first match-up at 6:30 will pit Illing, 4-1 at last report, against Rockville High's 5-8 freshman quad. Leading players for Illing are Ozzie Johnson, Jamie Gallagher, Tom McCluskey, Bob Hallett, Rich Koepsel, Ed Kennison, Bucky Wilson and Jeff Lombardi. Rockville's top prospects include high-scoring guard John Ostrowski, Bob Quigley, Randy Morcaldo, Steve Cohen and Dan Morgan.

The second game will bring together unbeaten Timothy Edwards of South Windsor and once-beaten Benedict Junior High. Tony Mozzio, Pete Anthony, Mike Coleman, Mark Pastula and John Allen are the leading scorers for Benedict. Producers for Edwards with Glenn Pugliese usually a starter. Bennett, with 19 wins to its credit already, features John Hallett, Rich Koepsel, Ed Kennison, Bucky Wilson and Jeff Lombardi. Hallett and Koepsel each average around 18 points per game while Kennison hits at a 15-point clip along with dishing out 10 assists each outing.

Proceeds will go towards purchasing a universal gym for Illing.

Sittler paces Leafs

NEW YORK (UPI) - Darryl Sittler, a 100-point scorer for Toronto last season who just returned to the lineup after missing seven games because of torn rib cartilage he suffered in a Jan. 18 game with Los Angeles, was worried whether he would fit in.

But he needn't have wasted his time—the two goals he registered Wednesday night powered the Maple Leafs to a 5-1 victory over the Atlanta Flames.

Elsewhere in the National Hockey League, Montreal blizzarded Vancouver, 6-0, Cleveland beat Los Angeles, 6-3, Buffalo edged the New York Rangers, 2-1, Colorado outlasted Minnesota, 8-6, and Chicago salvaged a 4-4 tie with Washington.

In the World Hockey Association, Cincinnati routed Indianapolis, 9-0, and Phoenix edged Birmingham, 4-3, in overtime. Sabres 2, Rangers 1. Gil Perreault and Andre Savard each registered his 2nd goal of the season. Pat LaFontaine led Buffalo over the Rangers. Sabres netminder Gerry Desjardine was beaten only by Pat LaFontaine as Buffalo extended its unbeaten string over New York to 12 games.

WHA: Richie Leduc scored three goals and Rick Dudley two to support the shootout goaling of newcomer Jacques Caron in Cincinnati's routing of Indianapolis ... and Frank Buckminster 365, Nick Twedy 362, Jack Fuller 361, Rich Suredell 361.

Hawkins paces Nets to overtime victory

NEW YORK (UPI) - Bubbles Hawkins scored 44 points Wednesday night in leading the New York Nets to a 93-90 overtime victory over the New Orleans Jazz.

"If there's no pressure, it's no fun," Hawkins said after the best performance of his career gave the Nets their fourth victory in five games.

Hawkins had it all to do, because the rest of the teamates were almost pathetic, connecting on only 33 per cent of their shots from the floor. Fortunately for them, the Jazz were just as bad with Pete Maravich sidelined by a minor injury.

It was a game neither team deserved to win and justice would have been served if NBA rules did not require overtime as regulation time ended in a 79-79 tie.

The Jazz jumped out to an 82-79 lead in overtime on a basket by Ron Behagen and a free throw by Nate Williams, but Hawkins closed the margin back to one. After Behagen's three-point play gave New Orleans an 85-81 edge, Hawkins and Ben Hughes underneath the backboard for a basket and tied the game with a basket of his own.

A pair of free throws by Williams again gave the Jazz the lead, 87-85, but Hawkins' three-point play put the Nets ahead for good.

Former Net John Williamson, who was traded to Indiana, made the deal look good from the Pacers' standpoint in his debut performance Wednesday night by scoring 25 points to lead Indiana to a 110-107 victory over the New York Knicks. Dave Robisch's rebound pinned Cone 4-17, 135-Russell (P) dec. Tedford 4-0, 141-Luz (M) dec. Dostie 9-6, 148-Marsball (M) dec. Proulx 10-2, 158-Scholsky (M) drew with Tougas 7-7, 170-Whitman (P) dec. Digan 1-188-Petrin (P) dec. Gagnon 2-0, Unlatched-Jones (M) dec. Puchalsky 9-4.

The Indians were forced to forfeit 100 (pound class) and had to go with a jayvee wrestler at another level because of sickness.

Senior co-captain Tom Jones maintained his unbeaten record, moving up to the unlimited class where he defeated Penney's Tom Puchalsky, 9-6. Chris Luz ran his record to 9-1 and Doug Marshall to 8-1 with victories.

ILLING GIRLS

Finishing its season unbeaten, Illing Junior High girls' basketball team downed cross-town rival Bennett, 46-35, yesterday at Illing. The Ramettes compiled an 11-0 mark while Bennett finishes the campaign at 7-4.

Sue Roth had 16 points, Mary Beth Neibel nine, Cathy Connors eight and Sue Brown six for Illing while Jennifer Hedlund netted 15 points. Lisa Tilden 13 and Gloria Diana five for Bennett.

ILLING JV GIRLS

Illing Junior High's girls' jayvee basketball squad wound up the campaign 3-5 with a 40-31 win over cross-town Bennett yesterday at Bennett. Luis Hughes had 12 points and Lori McDermott and Felicia Farr each scored for Illing while Liz Wright and Lisa Brown had eight and seven markers respectively for Bennett.

ILLING JV

Upping its record to 2-7 yesterday was Illing Junior High's jayvee basketball team with a 54-41 win over St. James. Alex Britnell and Terry McConville had 18 points in a decisive victory for the Rams while Dub Falkowski had 17 markers for St. James.

SENIOR

Tom Jukins pumped in 34 points followed by Rich Kichest (26), Collins Jude (17), Hank Brown (16), Joe Quaglia (12) and Rom Siemieniuk (10) to lead Frank's Market to an overwhelming 117-78 win over Scheibel's last night at Illing. Duke Hutchinson Kichest (26), Collins Jude (17), Hank Brown (12), Carl Collet (10) paced the losers.

Carl Frantz netted 30 points, Bruce Ledoyt 24, Bill Morgan 19 as Fogarty Bros. outlasted Moriarty 99-89 in a decisive victory. VanOudenhoede had 26 points, Joe Amato 15 and Bob Beckwith, Kurt Johnson and Ben Gryb 12 apiece for Moriarty's.

Discuss new facilities

New adult school started last week

An educational community for adults has been established at 645 Birch Mountain Rd. on the site of the former Children's School. Called Educational Community Associates, it was organized by Dr. Donald Pet, Manchester psychiatrist. Dr. Pet defines the community as "an environment where a person has the best likelihood to provide the necessary support system we need to learn and grow, to foster cultural, emotional, spiritual, intellectual and social development—and yet be fun, to maintain some recreational characteristics."

Dr. Pet developed the first educational community at the National Institute of Mental Health Clinical Research Center in Lexington, Ky. The new center includes an informal living room, a behavioral study library, a behavioral study file, a media center and a kitchenette. The center offers courses in responsive parenting, adult sexuality, yoga, weight control, assertiveness training, finding one's way with clay, relaxation and behavioral studies. Further information is available by calling 646-0711.
