THE SNAPSHOT

Vol. VI No. 1 Milwaukee-Downer College Sept. 24, 1948

Dear Big Sisters and Little,

Now that the white Hawthorne blossoms have turned into little scarlet thorn apples, and the reddening ivy has climbed a little higher, we know it's time to get down to those chemistry problems or to write that theme.

But before we do, we want to stop just a minute and say we're glad to see you back!

We want to welcome the new yellow class. We have printed this issue especially for you in your color. Our warmest greeting goes to you and all the other new faces we've seen on campus, upper class transfers, and new members of the faculty and staff.

This isn't a full sized Snapshot such as you'll receive next week. It's just a quicky, because we could not wait to say "Hello!"

We want to remind you that this is your paper, a "snapshot" of you, so if you have a nose for news or a flair for drawing, don't keep it a secret. Let us know; we can use you on the staff!

There have been a few changes since last June when we said, "Goodbye."

We're proud of our C.S.

room, redecorated with gay drapes, cheery yellow walls, and bulletin board in all the class colors.

Soft color greets us as we enter the library, too, with a delicate blue-green replacing the plasterly white. The first exhibit in the gallery is the work of Marsden Hartley.

Speaking of exhibits, when you dash through Albert, don't miss the summer work of our senior art students.

You'll want to be sure to try out those new tennis courts, too.

Even our friends look a bit different with their new short hair cuts and deep summer tans.

There are many events to look forward to in the next weeks. Colors Day is Sept. 30. That's the day, freshmen, when you will receive your banner and officially become the yellow class.

Not long after that are the days all the sophmores are waiting for, Fall Razing.

And remember, we'll see you at the all-college beach party tonight.

Best of luck to you all this year! We hope you'll enjoy every minute of it.
