Widow of Holland Furnace Founder Dies in California

Mrs. Louise Landwehr Costello, who has been in ill health for three years, died on Christmas night at 9 p.m. (EST) in the home of her daughter, Norma, in Bel Air, a suburb of Los Angeles,

She was about 60 years old, the amily said.

Mrs. Costello had gone to California with her husband, the late Dr. C. V. Costello, more than three years ago, primarily because of Dr. Costello's health. After his death in May, 1947, she remained in California because of a heart condition. She became critically ill around Thanksgiving day.

Her first husband was the late August H. Landwehr who died in July, 1937, just a few hours after the death of his wife's mother, Mrs. John P. Kolla. The latter's husband, J. P. Kolla, and Landwehr were co-founders of the Holland Furnace Co. which started out in 1906 with a modest capital of $50,000 and grew into an organization which does millions of dollars of business each year. Landwehr, a leading citizen during his active days in Holland, was an outstanding figure in the business world. Kolla, the Holland Furnace Co. had its beginning Kolla had evolved some original ideas of what a warm-air furnace for heating homes should be and in talking with his new son-inlaw, the two saw in this invention a new field. In 1906 the two families moved o Holland and organized the Yule Record to Boost Holland Furnace Co., Kolla assuming charge of manufacturing and production and Landwehr going on the road as salesman. In 1908 Landwehr instituted the Holland Furnace policy of direct factory branches under the supervision of the home office. Landwehr died in 1937, about eight years after the tragic death of his son Paul, who with three others were drowned in a boat accident on Lake Macatawa. Another victim was John Kolla Nystrom, a nephew.

Intoxicated Motorists Will Get 'No Mercy' From Holland Police

Persons driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor during the coming New Year's week-end will get "no mercy" from local police according to

Chief Jacob Van Hoff. And municipal court Judge Cornelius vander Meulen says anyone jailed for such violations in most cases will have to sit it out until court convenes Tuesday morning. However the judge has the right to release a person. But he said "that would require "adequate bail which in most cases would be double the amount on the pen-

"All our cruisers will be on duty New Year's eve and we'll have extra officers working," Van Hoff said.

Law enforcement officers point out that any one of the nine property damage accidents in and around Holland during the Christmas week-end could have been fatal. They cite the national accident toll of 611 lives.

Van Hoff said there are many strangers in the city for the holidays and they are not familar with stop streets. Motorists must be able to stop at all times to prevent accidents. He also said drivers should keep windshields, both rear and front, cleared of any ice or snow during the winter months. "We find poor visibility the cause of many winter accidents," Van Hoff said. "This includes Heights 44-33 in the other game.

The losers play in the consolation bracket. For the first time this season, Holland didn't wait until the second half to get going. The Dutch piled in 19 points in a big first quarter. Flint Northern made 13 in that first period. However, Coach Mal Mackay's cagers bogged down in the second quarter and made just seven points while the Vikings were posting another 13. That made the tally 26-all at hallftime. The second-quarter tables were reversed in the third quarter and Holland made 11 to just five for Northern. That made the count 37-31 going into the showdown quarter.

Mackay shifted his lineup to get the maximum height. John Kruld went to forward and big Bob Armstrong held down the pivot spot. And the shift paid off. Armstrong not only scored 11 points on five field goals and one charity toss, but enabled many a Dutch shot from close in. And with the taller men in the lineup, the locals were able to control the boards almost two-thirds of the game. Ken Schippers fired the Holland point machine with 14 points on six field goals and two free throws. Jerry Natzke and Norm Burgett were Flint's pacemakers with 11 points apiece. Tournament play concludes Friday night.

Merchants Defeat Pete's Barbecue For Major Upset

City League Thrown Into Three-Way Tie For First Place

Wha hoppened?

Washington Square Merchants hung a defeat on Pete's Barbecue Wednesday night in city basketball league play. It was the first setback of the season for the defending champs in four games. Score was 47-36.

The best crowd of the year watched the action at the Armory. The fans saw the league race thrown into a mumble-jumble with three teams tied for first place and three teams for second. Second only to the Merchants' upset, was Allen's Radio winning its first game. The Radios tuned in a 29-28 squeak over Kole Auto

Allen's 29, Zeeland 28

There's always a thriller in city league play. Allen's and Zeeland were the principles Wednesday night.

They were tied no less than eight times before Curley Cunningham flipped in the game-deciding foul toss in the waning moments.

Allen's grabbed a 9-4 first quarter lead, but the Kole Auto Co. players whittled it down to 12-11 at the intermission.

After the frenzied fans saw the score tied four times, Zeeland edged ahead 21-20 as a blast from the horn ended the third quarter. The madcap fourth stanza saw Zeeland way ahead, then Allen's pull even, Zeeland ahead, and three game-winning foul shots by Cunningham outdistanced both teams with 14 points. Other Allen scorers were Louie Van Dyke each and Al Van Dyke with one.

From then on it was all Washington Square as the Merchants shifted into high and eased way out front, 37-29, at the end of the third period.

As was expected, the game boiled down to an individual battle between Pete's huge Carl Van Dort and the Merchant's Gene Schrotenboer. The Washington Square pivot man outscored his rival 20 to 19.

Other Merchant point makers were Bob Altena with nine, Kearny Zoerhov with six and Vern Personals Beelen with one.

Program Set for Farmers' Week

For many years, Michigan farmers and their families have looked to Michigan State college's Farmers' Week program to bring them new developments in farm living. The 1950 program, set for. Jan. 30 to Feb. 3 has been planned with this tradition in mind. According to Dean E. L. Anthony of the school of agriculture, each department has arranged a worthwhile and educational series of meetings. Special days to feature Michigan crops and farm enterprises are planned as has been customary in past years.

Manday, Jan. 30, opening of the week, will be designated as dairy day. Breed association members will meet for a general session and then hold individual meetings.

Farm crops and soils have designated feature days for sugar beets, beans and grain, potatoes and forage crops. Animal husbandry will devote sessions to horses, beef cattle, swine, and

Special programs on forestry, horticulture, agricultural engineering, conservation and game management, poultry, and home economics will draw farmers and their families interested in these activities.

On the business side of the farming, agricultural economics programs will emphasize the outook for profits in 1950. Rural sociologists will discuss aspects of country life relating to schools, churches, and better health.

Afternoons at Farmers' Week are scheduled for general programs held in the MSC auditorium. Nationally-known speakers are booked for talks.

As in past years, many state farm organizations will hold annual meetings during Farmers' Week when their members come to the East Lansing campus.

Allegan, Dec. 29 (Special) -By taking the license plate off an allegedly stolen truck, two youths made the error that will result in their being charged with a felony, Allegan sheriff's officials reported

Howard Coffey, 23, route 1, Hamilton, and George Leslie, also known as Bernard Coopenbaugh, 20, of Wisconsin, serving a 20day term in the county jail, have signed a statement listing a whole series of thefts, Deputy Forrest Reichenbach said.

They were arrested and sentenced last week for entering a Diamond Springs toolhouse and taking a saw, ax and gasoline. But when officers discovered their truck had no license plate, they started investigating. According to the statement, the two took the truck about Dec. 7 from a condensery at Ligonier, Ind., loaded with 30 10-gallon milk cans. They took off the side racks, hammered the fenders and grill, and removed the license plate to camouflage it. The '46 model is said to belong to Paul Stephens, of Ligonier.

They traded a tire for gasoline in Merson, sold a spotlight in Holland, and chopped the racks for firewood, the statement continues. Meanwhile, they confessed taking furniture from the Monterey home of Albert George of Grand Rapids, fishing tackle and bedding from the nearby farm owned by Arthur Bergman of Chicago, and then moved into an of John Ware of Chicago, 21 miles Setting up housekeeping in two rooms, they boarded up the windows, and helped themselves to some wheat from Francis Moored, Burnips, they told officers.

While county officials wait the end of their jail sentence before taking them into circuit court on breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny, they are being quizzed about other robberies in

DOCTORS TAXING THEMSELVES

Some administration agencies have been making much of the decision of the American Medical association to place an assessment of $25 a year on its members. We are being told that that action is almost immoral. The money, which runs into comfortable millions, is to be used, among other things, to fight what the doctors call "socialized medicine" and what the administration would rather call by some such innocuous name as health insurance.

Some of the association's critics on this subject talk as if the medical men of America were engaging in an unholy conspiracy against their government. It is at least arguable that the doctors are wrong in opposing the present administration's health plans. But even if they should be wrongsomething that millions of their patients would not admit-they should still have the right to do all they can to make their point of view prevail.

Why shouldn't a doctor tax himself to fight against somemenace to his business and to the trusted to do the Lord's will. welfare of his patients, in the itself to fight laws and proright and propriety of such a tax. Virtually all the major labor unions have raised funds in the millions from their members to oppose governmental policies they government.

Why shouldn't any organization tax itself, even regardless of what use it puts the money to?

We all must fight for good laws and government economy. We all need more doing and less shouting. Again we say we don't get what we pay for. Our tax dollars are wasted.

Sunday School Lesson

January 1, 1950 Continuing Band of Disciples Acts 1:1-14 By Henry Geerlings

The opening words of the book of Acts identify the writer as the same man who wrote the gospel of Luke and also indicate that it was addressed to the same individual, a man by name of Theophilus. In the gospel he had given an account of what Jesus began both to do and teach while he was here on the earth and in the Acts he sets forth what Jesus Entered as second class matter at continued to do after his departure from the earth through the ministry of the apostles. The time in which our lesson is set is the period between our Lord's resurrection and the coming of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. Fifty days in all, and our attention is centered upon the disciples and their activities during that time.

One cannot read these sacred records without noting the change that had taken place in the disciples since they had seen the Lord after He had risen from the grave. The death of the Lord had plunged the disciples into confusion and uncertainty. They had trusted that it had been He who should have redeemed Israel. But they saw Him taken and crucified. For a time they were distraught and disorganized. But when the Lord showed Himself alive after His passion by many infallible proofs their faith in Him was clarified, strengthened and confirmed. Our attention is called to the number of the disciples at this time. The group that met in the upper room was about one hundred and twenty. These, we suppose, represented the disciples of Christ who dwelt in Jerusalem and its environs. The largest number of the disciples that is mentioned is the five hundred to whom He appeared in Galilee. Some would have it that number comprised all the souls that Christ won during His earthly ministry. But we have no definite authority for so believing. Rather it would seem that they were the disciples who lived in that vicinity and could be there to meet Him. Because disciples are not seen or heard, we are not to suppose that own. He had seven thousand in the days of Elijah. He had the many quiet followers. There is another group of seventy mentioned. They were the ones who were sent out two by two into every city. They were thing that he looks upon as a responsible workers who could be

Ken Mast Shoots Winning Basket For Maroon Five

Holland Christian Plays Listless Three Periods Against Muskegon Team

A basket by Ken Mast in the last 15 seconds of the game Friday night gave Holland Christian an unimpressive victory over visiting Muskegon Christian, It was Christian's fourth win against three losses, while it was the second defeat in four starts for the Muskegon crew. The game was played at the Armory.

It was a surprisingly strong Muskegon club which carried the game to the Hollanders Friday night. The visitors exhibited some uncanny shooting from all angles, along with lots of scrap. Coach Arthur Tuls' club again failed to show the form of its first five games this season. Passing lacked finesse, but it was inaccurate shooting which almost spelled defeat for the Maroons. In the first half alone, the locals cashed in on only two out of 30 shots from the field. The second half was not much better, although they did manage to hit for six more bas-

Tuls was forced to use a patched up lineup throughout the game. Ralph Bouwman was unable to play because of scholastic eligibility rules and Ken Mast sat out most of the contest with four personal fouls, collected in the first quarter.

With the exception of the first canto, the losers led most of the fray until the final 15 seconds. Muskegon showed deadly shooting at the closing seconds of the first period to take a 13-10 lead. The only thing keeping the Hollanders in the fray were eight out of eight successful free throws.

Tempo of the game slowed down in the second period with neither club doing much scoring—each getting seven tallies. Halftime score read, Muskegon 20, Holland 17.

The Tulsmen took complete command of both backboards and controlled the ball 75 per cent of the time, but still couldn't find the hoop. Consequently the third period score found Muskegon still leading, 21-19.

Play in the fourth quarter was fast and furious, with both clubs finding the range somewhat, At the automatic timeout, the invaders still held a 29-26 lead. At this point, Tuls inserted Mast into the lineup and it paid off. Mast im- Bosch, who is here for several "Julotta." The traditional dinner ing the count 29-28. on Lucia day) to the family. Fifteen-year-old Mary Yeomans appeared as the Lucia bride for the little ceremony which always is performed by candle light. She wore a fancy white nightgown, red sash, lace veil and a crown of candles dressed with myrtle leaves, brought here by her aunt from Stockholm. Sweden has its national Lucia, but each family has its own Lucia for the centuries-old ceremony which always takes place in the early morning of Dec. 13. It is always performed by candle light since days are only a few hours long this time of year. Where not feasible to have the youngest daughter wear the crown of lighted candles, another daughter or the mother serves as the Lucia bride. The Sankta Lucia song (tune of Santa Lucia) sung in Swedish. The Lucia ceremony is often repeated at afternoon parties in Sweden on a more elaborate scale. The Lucia bride is accompanied by bridesmaids, dressed similarly except for crowns, and star boys wearing tall cone-shaped hats and carrying wands.

Some years ago when Writer Sinclair Lewis witnessed the Lucia ceremony while in Sweden to receive a Noble prize, he was covercome with motion. Voluble in his praise, he said he had not believed it possible for one of his years and experiences to feel such a thrill over a simple cere-

Lucia Day is only one of many charming Christmas eustoms in Sweden, Mrs. Heimburger says The Swedish Christmas begins the fourth Sunday before Christmas when the first of four candles is lighted in the home and the entire family goes window shopping in the beautifully decorated downtown sections.

Gifts are secondary to Christmas spirit in Sweden, although a great deal of thought is given to each gift, often home made. And in Sweden, one always attaches a verse. It just wouldn't be a gift without a rhyme.

Most of the Christmas activity in Sweden is family inspired. Tree trimming day on Dec. 23 is a family function in which each member hangs one ornament (often home made) on the tree. The gala occasion ends with a coffee party Trees usually are decorated with hand dipped candles, but of late years electric strings became popular. Some oldtimers consider elecric lights barbaric. ## Social Workers Play Santa Claus In Raging Storm

Allegan, Dec. 29 (Special) Thursday was Christmas at the Allegan County Bureau of Social Aid when the seven social workers set out in a blinding blizzard to play Santa Claus.

Having culled the department's list of needy families to find those whose Christmas prospects seemed most bleak, they had spent the morning packing boxes of food, clothing, candy and toys. By today, more than 20 will have been delivered

It wasn't a part of the bureau's regular work, explained Mrs. Mary Nash, administrator. But gifts this year from organizations and individuals amounted to a collection that swamped two offices during the packing process.

Much of the food came from members of the Women's History class, who brought things to their meeting last week. Merchants donated food, shop-worn clothing, and toys. A big help was the contribution from two Fennville women who have spent weeks repairing and painting used toys and collecting clothing of all sizes,

Since the bureau operates Aid to Dependent Children Aid to the Blind, and Old Age Assistance funds, the families to receive the gifts included the most urgent cases-especially where there were children.

The delivery of the boxes Thursday was a climax to considerable work on the part of the workers. who had gathered the things together, and in some cases, washed and ironed clothing.

They were as excited about it as the young recipients are bound to be Christmas morning.

Besteman's Topple American Legion From First Place

Fans Witness Thriller As Both Teams Battle Down to Final Whistle

Besteman's Produce of Grand Rapids dropped Holland American Legion's basketball team out of the West Michigan league lead Thursday night by topping the locals 68-60 in a well-played game at the Armory.

It was the first loss of the season for the newly formed local team in four starts. And the win was No. 2 in league play for the Furniture City powerhouse. Thursday night's game was one of those that offered all the thrills of basketball. The difference on the scoreboard was never more than eight points during the first three and a half quarters. However, the Grand Rapids sharpshooters put on a late fourth-quarter rally that sewed up the victory, and first place in the league. The most important man of the floor for the visitors was perhaps Jim Eaddy, ex-Ottawa Hills high school standout. His ability to get off his feet and high into the air gave the Furniture City lads control of the backboards a good share of the game. Besteman's was ahead 21-18 as the first quarter ended. However, Holland kept pace and inched ahead 37-35 when the horn blasted the end of the first half. During that first half, Bud Cheyne scored 12 points for the visiting team. He was down the floor first for the torrid Beste-man's fast-break offensive. A bad third quarter for the Legionnaires told the difference in the final score. The locals made just nine points to 18 for Grand Rapids to make the count 53-46 as the teams stopped play for a brief

Eaddy, Jim Command and Chuck Weaver combined their point making talents to score 15 points and assure the victory in the final quarter. Jack Van Dorple was the hottest shot for Holland as he swished in 13 points, most of them on long shots. Teammate Harve Buter also made 13 to split local high-point honors. Cheyne with 14 and Eaddy with 13 were the big wheels for Coach

Doc Ellingston's crew. The game was rough. A total of 40 fouls were called against the two teams.

Fraters Whip City Leaguers

In the preliminary game Thursday night, at the Armory, the Fraternal society basketball team defeated the hapless Kole Auto company team of Zeeland, and the city league, 55-30.

The Fraters were never in trouble. Score at the end of the first period was Fraters 13, Zeeland 7.

In the second quarter, the fraternity five continued its scoring and the teams left the floor at halftime with the Fraters out in front 32-14. Zeeland came back strong and tallied 14 points, while the winners counted 10, making the score at the end of the period 42-28. The final quarter was all Fraters. The squad from Hope college couldn't miss and scored 13 points to Zeeland's two. Dick Nieusma led the winners with 21 points followed by Dell Koop with nine. Mokma paced the losers, getting 11 tallies while Chris Den Herder notched 8.

Schools Present Yule Baskets With Ceremony

Carols and pageantry marked the presentation of Christmas baskets, a holiday tradition, in both Junior high and Holland high school this year. In Junior high school, all baskets were artistically arranged around the Christmas tree in the first floor alcove and the student body, room by room, marched in orderly fashion past the display while the school glee club sang carols under the direction of Robert Moor€.

Guest of honor for the day was Mrs. P. T. Cheff who in 1928 established the John Kolla Nystrom fund in memory of her son who was drowned that summer. He was chief of police of the school at the time of his death. The fund provides hundreds of dollars each year in welfare for Junior high boys and girls and on Christmas provides chicken for the baskets. In Holland high school a pageant of five scenes was presented as the 91-voice a cappella choir sang Christmas anthems from the balcony. ## Midwest Farmers Experiment With Brahman Herds

Reports on Tests Vary; Place As Beefmakers Still Undetermined

Cattle imported from India may some day compete with established beef cattle breeds in Midwest markets. One Nebraska farmer, a hybrid corn pioneer, says Brahmans will be as popular in a few

Corn belt farmers scattered thinly from Nebraska to Ohio are experimenting with herds of Brahmans and crosses of Brahmans on regular beef herds. What they find may show whether we can get all the improvements we need within our present breeds and whether existing lines of breeding have the greatest possible ability to convert more grass and legumes into beef.

Studies show Brahmans and Brahman crosses have done wonders in the South. They also have made headway in the West and Northwest.

Whether the Midwest beef producer would benefit from feeding a cross of Brahmans on the Hereford, Angus or Shorthorn breeds is a question. Some of the reports sound quite good, others only fair,

Fred Becker, a Hershey, Neb., farmer who crosses Hereford cows with a Brahman bull, says: "I was the first in this community to plant hybrid corn, and now I am the first to breed Brahmans. I fully believe that Brahman crossbred cattle will in time be as popular as hybrid corn."

Another Nebraska farmer says: "About half my 75 to 80 yearlings are half Brahman, and the other half are straight Angus about the same age. As an estimate right now, the Brahman crossbreds will average about 100 pounds heavier than the straight

A Kansas breeder, however, maintains that a Hereford-Shorthorn-Brahman blend seems to attract as many flies as other cattle. He adds the animals are easily handled and seem to be more intelligent than English breeds.

A Washington county, Iowa breeder who has sold his herd of purebred Brahmans reports a different view: "Brahmans have no regard for fences. They would just leap right over them. And if crowded closely, they'd attack a

The manager of a herd of Brahman-Angus crosses on 2,000 acres of rough land in Warren county, Mo., has had five years of experience. It is his opinion that the crossbreds are the best foragers of any cattle he has ever handled. The Brahman hump, disliked by many, is barely visible in the crossbred, according to this breed-

More experiments are necessary to determine whether Brahmancrossbred cattle have a place as beefmakers in the Midwest. They may cause important changes in cattle raising.

Crop in Michigan Has Bright Future

Cherries and asparagus are in a strong relative position as compared with other processing fruit and vegegtables, according to the information disclosed at the recent growers meeting at the Allegan central grange hall, M. C. Hutchinson, president of the Michigan Fruit Canners Inc., of Fennville, said his company now sells cherries in 43 states. Today they can be found on grocers shelves anywhere, where 20 years ago, tart cherries enjoyed a limited market.

Hutchinson said Allegan county is the only major county in Michigan that has fewer cherry trees than it had in 1930.

Jerry Mandigo, district horti-cultural agent, in pointing out qualifications of a good cherry site, said cherries need air drainage as buds are tender and subject to injury by frost just before the buds open. He said at least one Michigan nurser; is develop-ingg both early and late blossoming strains to supplement regular strains in order to cut down on hazards and complete crop
