A STRONG NEW EARTHQUAKE shook western Sicily today, burying rescue workers still digging for bodies from the island's worst quake disaster in 60 years. The tremor killed at least four persons and injured about 50, police reported. The epicenter of the new tremors was in the same poverty-stricken countryside where about 500 were killed on January 15.

PIECES OF ONE or more hydrogen bombs aboard an Air Force B52 that crashed off Greenland Sunday have been located according to Pentagon. It added however, it still wasn't known if parts of the plane or of the four nuclear weapons aboard went in or through the ice. The Pentagon did not specify where the pieces were found and whether significant amounts were located.

Saturday, January 27

NORTH KOREAN sources quoted Commander Lloyd M. Bucher as saying he believes he and his crew of the captured USS Pueblo should be punished as criminals. "I and my crew have no excuse for we have committed a grave crime," the 38-year-old U.S. navy officer was quoted as saying in a 40-minute alleged interview broadcast by North Korea's Pyongyang radio.

A SOUTH VIETNAMESE Ranger battalion yesterday dug in after being airlifted to Khe Sanh to form what amounted to a "suicide line" in front of this threatened United States Marine base. A Marine spokesman in Khe Sanh said they expected a major North Vietnamese assault within 24 hours, before a 26-hour Allied truce to mark the Vietnamese lunar new year which was scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. local time yesterday.

PRESIDENT LYNDON Johnson will swear in a new budget director, Charles Zwick, today, just prior to sending to Congress a record $186-billion budget. The new chief, formerly assistant director of the Budget Bureau, will share with the retiring director, Charles Schultze, the hectic task of defending the 1968 spending program before a critical Congress.

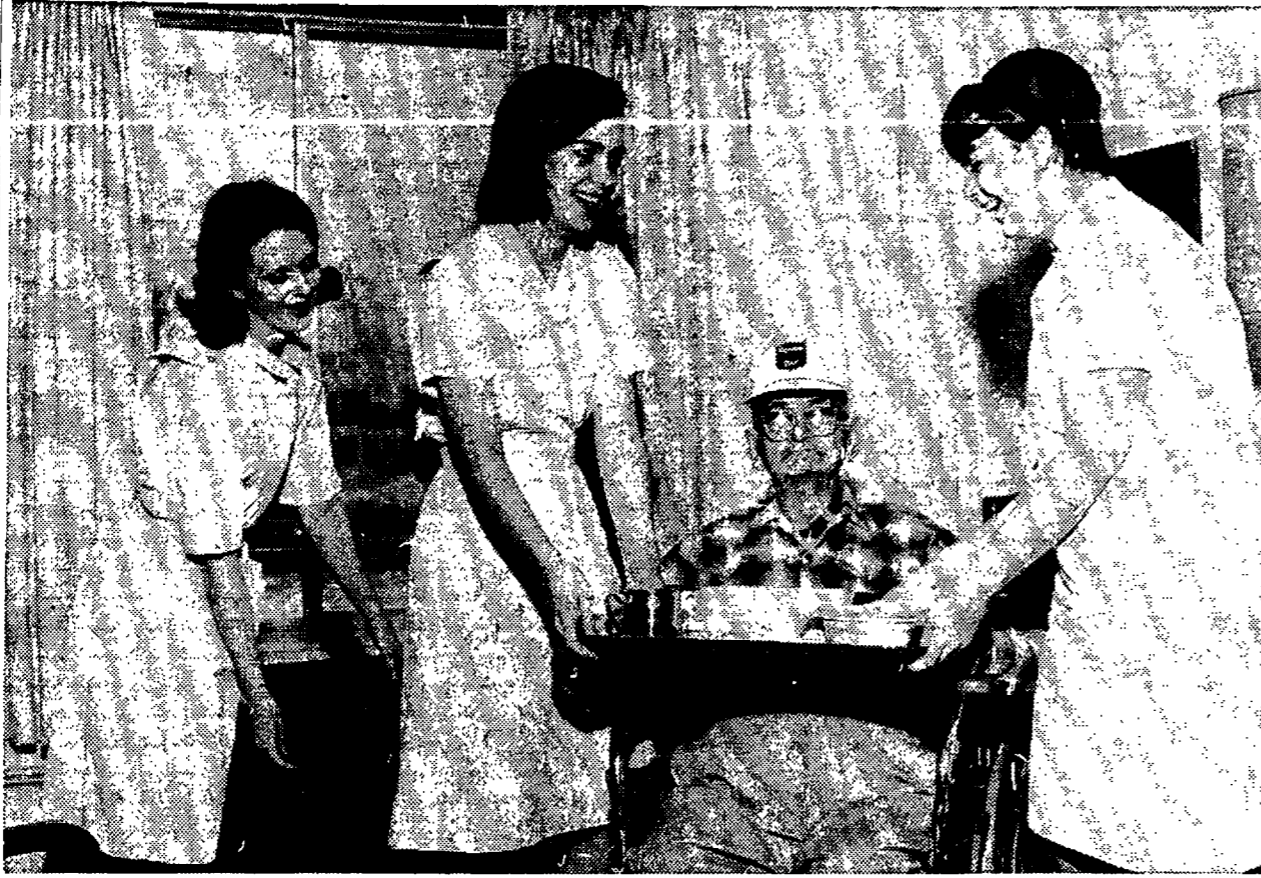

THE CUBAN COMMUNIST Party's central committee in Havana announced yesterday that a small pro-Soviet faction within the party, "traitors to the revolution" will be tried for treason. They named Arnibal Escalante as the leader of the "resentful sectarians and opportunists," who will be tried by a revolutionary court.

DETROIT POLICE Monday were probing the bombing of the Baptist Council of Churches, located in Woodrow Wilson Street, which is the headquarters for a moderate Negro group headed by Reverend Charles H. Williams, head of the council and pastor of St. Mark's Baptist Church. The incident occurred with another Negro minister on a local television show. Mr. Williams said he had no idea who was responsible for the bombing but said he thought it was probably done by somebody who opposed his moderate approach to solving the city's racial problems. Damage to the rear of the building was not extensive. There were no injuries.

THE WHITE HOUSE pressed ahead Monday with backstage diplomatic efforts to resolve the USS Pueblo crisis. Presidential press secretary George Christian reported a number of diplomatic channels are active, but at the same time he said the United States is making "prudent, orderly, and limited deployment" of military forces in the Korean crisis area. U. S. troops along the North Korea-South Korea true line reported Monday they beat back several infiltration attempts from the North.

High School Girls Learn About Nursing

Currently there are 15 girls enrolled in the class taught by Mrs. Carolyn Scarborough, Homemaking Co-ordinator.

Orr Pleads For Support Of Libraries

Director Says Population Increase Made Present Facilities Completely Inadequate

"The Grosse Pointe Public Library, in its 39th year as an integral division of The Grosse Pointe Public School System, has reached a crucial point in its role as a vital community organization," Robert M. Orr, Director, said Monday.

"It is with better service to the community that the expansion program has been planned," Mr. Orr explained. "Quite simply, we have outgrown our facilities."

Director Orr cites impressive statistics to substantiate the need for the passage of Proposition No. 3 (bonding for the library expansion) in the February 26 special election.

Mr. Orr reminds the community that the last expansion of the public library system occurred when the Central Library was opened in January, 1953, given by Dexter Ferry and Murray Sales families, with many other individuals and organizations contributing.

Population Jumps
"The population of the Pointes increased 50 percent from 47,000 in the school district since the Woods Branch and Central Library were planned in 1951," he stated.

"In addition to the population growth, the number of registered library users increased 150 percent from 11,000 to 31,000," the total circulation of all library materials increased from 190,000 in 1950-51 to $12,000 in 1966-67," and the per capita (Continued on Page 5)

Pointe Education Called Tremendous Bargain by School Board Trustee

Relates Own Experiences At Maire PTA Meeting While Urging Support Of Voters At Election Set For February 26

"Education in Grosse Pointe is a tremendous bargain," school trustee Edward J. Pongraz told the Maire PTA Thursday night. "My three children received $15,600 worth of education in Grosse Pointe, for which I paid $8,100 in local school taxes."

Mr. Pongraz was featured speaker on the February 26 millage and bond campaign for the public schools and libraries. Also speaking was Lawrence F. Kennedy, Assistant Superintendent-Professional Personnel for The Grosse Pointe Public School, who supplemented the Board member's remarks.

Speaking from the vantage point of 10 years as a school trustee, including two terms as president, Mr. Pongraz related the issues of the forthcoming election to his own family and his intimate knowledge of the Grosse Pointe community.

His Own Experience
In his lesson on school-community economics for the audience of 300, Mr. Pongraz said that his children attended the local public schools from 1941 to 1956 and received a total of 39 years of education.

"The first assessment on the moderately-priced home I built on Notre Dame in 1941 was $6,000 and I paid $105 in school taxes per year. Today the assessment is $12,000 and I now pay $375 in school taxes per year.

"If you multiply the 27 years we have lived in the house by an average school tax of $300 per year, you will see that I paid $8,100 in taxes to the school district.

"During those years, the cost to educate a child was less than the $750 figure at present. If you take a $400 average and multiply it by the 39 years, we received $15,600 worth of education for the three children," he said.

Wears Three Hats
Mr. Pongraz reminded the audience that, tax-wise, he wears three hats: taxpayer, parent of three graduates of the public schools, businessman and taxpayer on commercial property, and member of the Board which supervises the expenditure of funds for education.

"For example, like other local businessmen, I help to defray a considerable portion of school system expense through tax assessments on both personal property and business activities," he said.

In his part of the discussion stressing the need for additional funds sought in the 7 1/2 mill operating levy, Mr. Kennedy indicated that the budget for 1967-68 totals $10,865,000 and that this is the base for planning for 1968-69.

Presenting figures on estimated salary increments and adjustments, 50 additional teachers, and additional costs to open North High School, Mr. Kennedy said that the schools' total proposed budget of $12,643,651 will fall short of estimated revenue by $1,649,651.

Expected Deficits
In planning for 1969-70, Mr. Kennedy said that the $12,643,651 budget for 1968-69 served as the basis. Estimated deficits by the end of the 1968-69 year, after salary increments and adjustments, and the addition of 20 teachers to the staff, would create a deficit of $3,449,396. (Continued on Page 2)

Annual Art Show Opens At Library

Exhibit Of Work Of Pointe Artists Will Run Through June; William Peck Was Juror

The Sixth Annual Grosse Pointe Artists Show, a representative collection, under one roof, of paintings by Pointe area artists, is currently on display in the Exhibition Room and Main Floor of the Grosse Pointe Central Library, Kercheval avenue and Fisher road.

The '68 Show opened January 29 and will run through mid-June.

Sponsored by the Friends of the Grosse Pointe Public Library—Fine Arts Committee, chaired by Mrs. Richard B. Gushee and including Mrs. Peter Thurber, Mrs. M. Stirling Loud and Mrs. Charles V. Hicks, the Show was juried by William Peck, general curator, Detroit Institute of Arts, whose reaction to the paintings was most enthusiastic. He declared his amazement at the quality of the painting and the drawing and saw a tremendous improvement over shows of past years.

For Sale or Rent
The paintings are for sale and rental. Prices range from $5 to $225, and the rental fee is $2.50 per month for any selection, regardless of its price. The rental fee is applied to the purchase price of the rental should happen to "fall in love" with his choice.

The paintings were submitted by members of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association. (Continued on Page 11)

Burglar Visits Service Station

Farms police are of the opinion that the burglar who broke into the Farms Texaco Service Station, 18250 Mack, during the night of Sunday, January 28, knew just where to go to steal the day's receipts.

The station, owned and operated by Denver C. Barton of 17180 Cincinnati, Detroit, was forcibly entered through the window at the rear of the building. The window frame was pried open with either a large screw driver or a pry bar.

The person who entered went directly to a cabinet in the office and removed $200 in cash and checks that were in a zippered canvas bag. Nothing else in the building was touched.

The thief left the station the same way he entered, officers disclosed. The investigation of the matter was referred to officers of the Detective Bureau, who have been questioning several suspects.

Traffic Accidents Take Three Lives During Past Year

Compilation Of Records Of Five Pointes Shows Total Of 1,352 Accidents In Which 500 Other Person Suffered Injuries

Three persons were killed in Pointe traffic during 1967, and an even 500 were reported injured in the total of 1,352 accidents recorded by the five Pointe Police Departments and sent to the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing.

Two of these persons, both young boys, lost their lives in the Woods, and one, an adult, in the Park.

The first traffic victim in the Woods was David Billiet, 12, 2175 Ridgmont, who suffered fatal head injuries while a passenger in a car driven by a relative on February 22. The car was struck at Helen and Verner by another, which was traveling east on Vernier. Neither driver was charged.

David died of the injuries in St. John Hospital on March 17.

The second to die was 14-year-old Thomas J. Formella of 916 Canterbury road. He died in St. John Hospital of injuries received when a van truck ran over him on Mack avenue.

Fell Beneath Truck
The boy was pedaling his bicycle on Mack, when he somehow lost control of the two-wheeler and hit a parked car. He was knocked to the pavement and underneath the van. The driver made a futile attempt to avoid running over the lad, but could not stop in time. The driver was exonerated.

The third person killed was an East Lansing motorist, Neal Gaitley, 75, of 2914 N.E. 29th street, who died of a crushed skull and other serious injuries. (Continued on Page 6)

Park to Honor Fallen Heroes

Park Mayor Patterson issued a proclamation, whereby the National Flag in front of the Municipal Building, Jefferson and Maryland, is authorized to be flown at half-mast for any Park serviceman reported killed in Vietnam, City Manager Robert Stone said. The proclamation was signed last week.

Mayor Patterson said that it is the least that the community could do for those who die while in the service of their country.

He said that henceforth, any Park serviceman who is killed in action, and whose body is returned to the United States and to the area, shall be accorded the full respect of the people of the city, and the flag will be flown at half-mast while the serviceman's body lies in state, and on the date of the funeral services and burial.

Park residents who have knowledge of any member of the Armed Forces from the Park, killed in action, and whose body will be shipped back home, are asked to contact the city manager, in person, or by phone, indicating when the deceased is expected to be in state, and the date and time of burial.

Stone said that all funeral homes in the area will be sent a notice of the proclamation, and will be asked to cooperate in this final tribute.

GP Park Municipal Court Records Its Busiest Year

The Park Municipal Court and Violation Bureau completed their busiest year on record at the close of 1967, collecting revenue totaling $53,923, according to an annual report submitted by Park Municipal Judge C. Joseph Belanger to City Manager Robert Stone, for presentation to the city council.

The judge disclosed that he heard a total of 1,375 cases, which resulted in fines, penalties and costs by the Municipal Court, amounting to $16,607.20; Traffic violations paid in the Violation Bureau numbered 7,780, with a total of $37,173 paid by violators; and the 32 State cases heard brought in fees of $143.05, paid by the State. Total fines paid to the Wayne County Treasurer amounted to $302.50, it was revealed. Under the City Charter, Judge

Two More Discuss Use Of Marijuana

High School Principal Gerich And Neighborhood Club Director Krattli Give Views

Last week the News printed Farm Police Chief Jack F. Roh's views on the use of marijuana in the Grosse Pointe area. This week Jerry Gerich, principal of Grosse Pointe High School and Ed Krattli, Director of the Neighborhood Club give their views on the subject.

Mr. Gerich stressed that he did not believe that the use of marijuana is a major problem in the Grosse Pointe area. Mr. Krattli said it is an issue that needs constant vigilance and that he suspected some teenagers were trying marijuana. Both men, who have the opportunity to view teenagers outside of their home environment, agreed that talk about marijuana was circulating among the teenagers.

Close Cooperation

Mr. Gerich said that the high school is cooperating with the City police and the Farms police in every way they know how. He added that even the slightest rumor is investigated and reported to the police, admitting that at times the investigation is like chasing shadows. "In any instance where we have had suspicions about a student the parents and the law enforcement agencies have been most cooperative in checking out our suspicions."

Drunken Youth Nabbed in Club

City police officers Ronald Pryor and Edward Miller received a radio call on Saturday, January 27, to meet officer John Drummond at the Neighborhood Club, 17145 Waterloo.

Upon arrival officers found that Drummond had stopped a 15-year-old youth inside the club who appeared to be in an intoxicated state. The youth had a whiskey bottle on his person which had been filled with a mixture of vodka and orange juice. The youth told the officers that he had purchased the bottle from an unknown youth outside the club.

He was taken to the city police station and his parents were called to pick him up.

Woods Area Is Scene of Big Project

Dow Given $700,000 Contract By FWPCA To Evaluate Stormwater Treatment

A bill for $30 billion hangs over the U.S. taxpayer, but it could be reduced considerably if work just getting underway in the Grosse Pointe Woods area is successful.

Thirty billion dollars is the government estimate of the cost of separating the nation's combined sewers, thereby halting the 65 billion gallons of raw sewage that is flushed each year from these sewers into rivers and lakes. Newer cities and new suburban developments are provided with separate sewers, i.e., one sewer for domestic sewage and a parallel sewer for stormwater.

The Federal Water Pollution Control Administration and The Dow Chemical Company would like to see the job done for less money. Putting words into action, the FWPCA has given Dow a $700,000 contract to evaluate the chemical treatment of the stormwater overflow from the combined sewers here. If Dow's work is successful, some 2,000 U.S. cities that have pollution problems as a result of combined sewers could have an alternative to the expensive, time-consuming, and annoying job of digging up and rebuilding their sewer systems.

At Pumping Station
The focal point of Dow's work will be the Milk River pumping station, located at 1190 Parkway drive in Grosse Pointe Woods, where Dow has established its headquarters for the project. Built in 1956, the Milk River pumping station is the end point for domestic sewage and stormwater in its drainage district—Grosse Pointe Woods, Harper Woods, and a portion of St. Clair Shores.

Ownership of the pumping station is vested in the Milk River Drainage Board, composed of the drain commissioners of Wayne County (Henry V. Herrick and Macomb County (Thomas S. Welsh) plus the assistant commissioner for drains of the Michigan Department of Agriculture (Stanley R. Quackenbush). The pumping station is operated by personnel of the Wayne County Drain Commission. The cities served by the station are assessed for operating expenses.

During periods of little or no rain, domestic sewage from homes, offices, restaurants, schools, etc., flows, or is pumped, through combined sewers to the pumping station. There, the flow is intercepted and pumped to Detroit's waste treatment plant for purification and discharge into the Detroit River.

Sewer Has Two Jobs

But the same sewer that carries domestic sewage also must carry stormwater run-off—at rates as high as one million gallons a minute, far in excess of the capacity of the Detroit treatment system. As soon as it falls, stormwater is immediately funneled into the sewer from streets, roofs, parking lots, and playgrounds. During a heavy rain, as much as 35% of the stormwater that falls will travel through the sewer system to the Milk River pumping station. As it flows through the sewer, the stormwater sweeps with it whatever domestic sewage is flowing there or has collected in low spots. Stormwater also carries its own pollutive load in the form of tires, boulders as big as a foot in diameter, snow-melting chemicals, leaves, tons of silt and gravel, lumber, etc.

The capacity of the Detroit sanitary interceptor sewer is about 10,000 gallons a minute. When the flow in the sewer exceeds this rate, the interceptor system is closed and the flow is diverted into a 3.5 million gallon retention basin at the pumping station. There, the stormwater is slowed to the point where the heavy solids can settle to the bottom. The stormwater continues on to Lake St. Clair.

Hope To Do Better

While the modest treatment provided by the facilities of the Milk River pumping station can remove debris and the heaviest solids, the lighter solids, the organic waste from domestic sewage, and soluble inorganic chemicals are hardly affected. Dow (Continued on Page 4)

Pointe Education Bargain

"Over the two years the estimated deficit totals $5,099,047. This figure divided by the State Equalized Valuation of $347,911,403, gives us 14.656 mills for the two-year period. The Board is seeking to levy 7.5 mills each year," he stated.

With the use of visual aids, Mr. Kennedy told the Maire parents that prior to the November salary adjustment for the teachers, the local group ranked in 15th place in a comparative study of teachers in 19 area school districts. Even when fringe benefits were included in the comparison, the Grosse Pointe teacher ranked in 11th place out of 19, he revealed.

Sees More Raises
"Although the Grosse Pointe teacher now averages between third and fourth place among the 19 districts, educators foresee still higher salaries for the next two years in an effort to attract and keep qualified teachers in the classroom. Even with the prospect of higher salaries, we must compete fiercely for the calibre of person we seek to staff our Grosse Pointe schools," he said.

In discussing Proposition #2 on the February 26 ballot, trustee Pongraz said, "The one mill for brick and mortar is very important. Every building in the entire school system will benefit from the proposed program. Money in the bank for additions and renovations reflects the sound money management of Grosse Pointe's biggest industry, its public school system."

Lauds Earlier Boards
He paid tribute to earlier Boards of Education that had the courage to buy sites. "Without their dedication and their foresight, this school system would not be what it is today," Mr. Pongraz said.

Trustee Pongraz concluded his remarks with a discussion of ballot Proposition #3, a request for 3/4 of one mill for a 15-year bonding program for the public libraries, long an integral part of the school system.

"Actually, this is the first time we are putting money into brick and mortar for libraries alone. You realize, of course, that the Central Library building was a gift of the Ferry family, supplemented by Murray Sales, and furnished by prominent Grosse Pointe families," he said.

"A large portion of the financing of the construction of the Park Branch was provided by federal funds under the PWA in the late years of the depression," Mr. Pongraz reminded the audience.

Will Need More Space
"If the middle school concept is to get the proper send-off, the public library space in Parcels and Pierce schools should be converted to instructional materials centers for student use. The two proposed new library buildings will permit the library staff to serve a larger public of users, which includes citizens of all ages, as well as those who attend private and parochial schools," he said. "Certainly a well-stocked and well-run public library, housed in adequate facilities is a tremendous boon to a community like Grosse Pointe," Mr. Pongraz added.

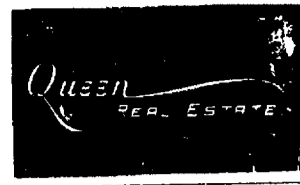

In closing he said, "Public schools and libraries will keep America strong and free, if America's public will keep the schools and libraries free and strong."

Camera Club Meets Feb. 6

The Grosse Pointe Camera Club will meet Tuesday, February 6, at 8 o'clock in the evening at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. The club is host to the Photographic Society of America's Monochrome Competition. There will be some 300 prints in black and white from all over America shown. Guests are welcome.

The second in a series of three lectures on "International Experts Review the Decorative Arts," co-sponsored by the American Institute of Interior Designers, (A.I.D.), and the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association, will be given on Tuesday, February 6, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Featured speaker will be Mrs. Sarah Tomerlin Lee, editor of House Beautiful Magazine, who will speak on "Making Your House Beautiful." The third and final lecture of the series will be presented on Tuesday, April 9. It will feature Richard Gump, of Gump's Department Stores, San Francisco, who will speak on his book "Good Taste Costs No More."

Competition to Get Good Teachers

It is far below those of light-house districts across the nation with which Grosse Pointe competes, Mr. Kennedy pointed out.

As community residents study the background to Proposition #1 in the February 26 election for additional operating funds, they are becoming aware that 82 percent of the budget of The Grosse Pointe Public School System is allocated each year for salaries. And, the largest portion of that percentage, (67 percent), is earmarked for instructional purposes, including teachers' salaries.

"Passage of the three issues is vital, as is the identification of desperately needed teacher talent," Kennedy noted.

As he outlined the procedures used in recruiting teachers for Grosse Pointe, Mr. Kennedy said that the local schools now send representatives to 75 campuses, compared to approximately 50 only, four or five years ago. "This alone is a 50 percent increase in effort," he said. "We also range farther—to Colorado, to Tennessee, to Maine and North Carolina."

Mr. Kennedy said that normally the local public schools contact about 1000 prospective candidates on campus.

"Last year, however, we ran into reduced numbers and probably saw only 600. In fact, some visits were cancelled because of the lack of interested candidates."

Questioned as to the reason for this situation, Mr. Kennedy said that competition from the business world, government posts, including such programs as Headstart, Inner City projects, the Job Corps, and VISTA, drain potential teaching candidates.

"It seems that among the current crop of graduating seniors, the social sciences have been pricked. These young people often tell us that to take a post in a suburb is not regarded as being as worthwhile or rewarding to their humanitarian instincts," he said.

"We don't yet know how to attract the attention of veteran teachers on a wide basis. Now we get such candidates mainly through efforts of our own staff, word-of-mouth, or some spillover from our reputation," Mr. Kennedy commented.

"A more mobile and affluent society has definitely worsened our staff stability. More husbands 'on the move' take their teaching wives with them. Greater incomes earned by spouses also 'free up' teaching wives who resign to become full-time housewives. We calculate that there are thousands of well-trained teachers not teaching," he added.

As critical fields, Mr. Kennedy listed science, mathematics, industrial arts, girls' physical education, general elementary teachers, and some foreign language vacancies, especially at the elementary school level.

He urged community residents who know of qualified teachers not currently employed to contact him at Tuxedo 5-2000.

Mr. Kennedy indicated that the schools have developed several new techniques which they plan to incorporate into their recruiting program within the next few weeks. These will be reported in a future issue.

Reports Attempt To Force Doors

City Police received a report from G. F. Heufelder, 915 Neff, on Tuesday, January 23, stating that when his wife re-entered the building after parking her car that evening she noticed pry marks on both inside doors in the vestibule of the apartment building.

The marks appeared to have been made by a 1/2" tool. One of the marks was on the door leading up to the apartments, the other mark was on the door leading to the basement. Entry was not gained.

Parking Ticket Put on Trailer

City Police officers ticketed a red semi-trailer parked in violation of the City Parking Ordinance on Monday, January 22. The red semi was on cement blocks on St. Clair just north of Waterloo on the east side of the street, without front or rear lights.

Officers Roger Pryor and Dwight Scott placed three signal light bombs on the front and rear of the vehicle.

A parking ticket was placed on the windshield for hazardous parking and no lights.

Officers said the semi was a danger to the public and street traffic.

ANSWER:

At Michigan Bank. We pay 5% interest on time savings over $1,000.00. Since this interest is compounded daily and paid four times a year, you earn the highest interest in dollars and cents at Michigan Bank. Interest is paid every three months by adding to your time deposit passbook, credit to your regular savings passbook or by check, sent to your home.

THIS IS THE HIGHEST RATE THAT FEDERAL LAW WILL ALLOW ANY BANK TO PAY (except on certificates of $100,000 or more) AND IT'S AVAILABLE RIGHT NOW!

ACT NOW! Compare the interest you are now receiving on your savings at other financial institutions. Bring in your passbook and in a few short minutes you will be earning 5% compounded daily and paid quarterly with the safety and peace of mind that only a bank can provide!

Automatically renewed at every 90-day maturity unless you or the Bank have given notice that the time savings certificate will not be renewed.

 NOTE THE COMPOUNDING EFFECT:

Effective Rate of 5.1%	When Held 12 Months
Effective Rate of 5.5%	46 Months
Effective Rate of 6%	90 Months

Pollution Experiment Launched

hopes to improve the treatment process by using chemicals. In the course of the project, the Dow engineers and technicians will also record and analyze the sequence of events that occurs during and immediately after a storm, particularly the volume and pollutional content of the stormwater. Pilot studies will also be conducted on disinfection techniques.

Much has already been learned by studying the records kept at the pumping station. For example, a one-inch rain falling over a period of eight hours will keep personnel at the station busy for three days. About two hours after such a rain begins, the capacity of the interceptor system is exceeded, and the total flow is diverted to the settling basin by the intermittent use of seven huge stormwater pumps. The basin will fill in 30-45 minutes.

Will Be Overflow

Between the time the basin is filled until about an hour after the rain ends and the flow to the station drops below the capacity of the interceptor pumps, the stormwater will overflow the basin into the Milk River, discharging a total of about 40 million gallons. Remaining in the basin will be the heavy organic matter, grit and large globs of oil and grease skimmed off the top of the water. Larger materials are screened out ahead of the basin. Continuing on out the Milk River and into Lake St. Clair will be the silt, very fine sand, about 90 percent of the organic waste, and a variety of bacteria.

The next day, the flow of waste water to the interceptor system will have lessened even further, and the stormwater remaining in the basin can be slowly drained and pumped into the Detroit system. On the third day, the settled material in the basin can be disposed of.

Three Rain Gauges

In order to establish a correlation between what happens at the pumping station and the pattern of rainfall, Dow will establish three rain gauging stations within the drainage district. All three will be part of the data-gathering network sponsored by the U.S. Weather Bureau. One gauge will be lo-ated at the Milk River pumping station; a second will be at the Torrey Road pumping station; and the third will be at the Eastland substation of the Detroit Edison Company next to Harper Woods High School.

Marijuana

always aware that dangers of this kind do exist and we do everything we can to protect our youngsters in our formal situation. Dances at the school, the Neighborhood Club and War Memorial are always well supervised and good control is exercised over the youngsters."

Some May Experiment

"I suspect some students are experimenting, but I honestly do not feel that marijuana is a major problem in our community. We have no evidence of passing or selling marijuana in the school or the vicinity of the school. Through our school photograph identification cards we can keep a good check on outsiders who might attempt to trespass on school property. In a community such as ours I believe the schools, the home, the police and the neighbors keep a pretty good check on each other."

Mr. Krattli said that he noticed increased conversation about marijuana this past summer. To illustrate the lip service given marijuana he cites an evening not too long ago when someone informed him that a marijuana cigaret was under a chair, during one of the dances.

No Pickup Made

He was also told that someone was to make a pickup that evening. All evening the powers that be were vigilant . . . no one picked up the cigaret. After the dance Mr. Krattli turned the cigaret over to City police, who in turn sent it to the laboratory for analysis. When the results were returned everyone breathed a sigh of relief and chuckled a little too . . . the analysis showed that the cigaret contained catnip.

Mr. Krattli said: "Some times I think the youngsters are putting the adults on."

He said that any "bizarre behavior" is checked immediately at the dances at the Neighborhood Club, and parents notified. He said if we put the entire teenage situation in its proper perspective we would realize that three or four troublemakers out of three or four hundred teenagers is a pretty good average, and added that he has never seen any passing of marijuana on the Neighborhood Club grounds.

He concluded with: "My feeling on the teenagers in this area is that the majority of them are wonderful kids" . . . Mr. Gerich seems to be in perfect agreement.

Asks Support of Libraries

circulation increased from four books in 1950-51 to seven in 1966-67," he said.

Commenting upon the inadequacy of the present facilities, Director Orr said, "There are simply not enough books and not enough shelf space, requiring discarding one book for every book added."

119,000 Books Short

"For a community of 70,000, the books should number 192,000, based on minimal national standards almost universally observed. As of June 1967, there were 119,000 books, leaving a shortage of 73,000 to serve the present population," he said.

Mr. Orr said that an acute shortage of work space exists for the staff. The ordering, processing, and cataloging of books is conducted under extremely trying circumstances, he added.

If the electorate approves Proposition No. 3 on February 26, present plans call for an expansion of Central Library, the construction of a new Park Branch in Jefferson avenue, and the construction of a new Woods Branch on school property adjacent to Parcels Junior High School at Mack avenue and Vernier road.

Needed and Inadequate

"The public library space is not only needed for classrooms and school use at both Pierce and Parcels, but it is inadequate to meet the demands of the community for library service. For the past seven years, the Woods Branch Meeting Room has served as a classroom. Also, the location of the Park Branch is far from ideal for a public library," Mr. Orr stated.

He indicated that the proposed expansion program for the public libraries will be discussed thoroughly at the February 12 meeting of the Board of Education, to be held at 7:30 p.m. at Maire Elementary School, 740 Cadieux road.

Elect Officers At Bon Secours

New officers were elected at Bon Secours Hospital's Annual Meeting on January 19.

They are: president of the staff, Robert D. Edmondson, M.D.; vice-president of the staff, James J. Aiuto, M.D.; secretary of the staff, Dennis A. Honors Earned By Scout Patrol

The Flaming Arrow Patrol of the St. Clare de Montefalco Church Boy Scout Troop 699 participated in a Klondike held at Chandler Park on January 21.

The boys were competing with other troops from the Lakeshore District in compass reading, first aid, cooking, a dog sled race, knot tying, and Morse code.

A first place ribbon was brought home by Mike Cazabon, John Terres, Gary Lechner, Mark Richards, Shaun Doyle, Chuck Ciaramitaro and Mike Blondell.

In connection with matters involving traffic, licenses were suspended in 19 cases for varying lengths of time; 26 orders of probation for varying periods; jail sentences were imposed in 22 cases; 11 cases of being drunk and disorderly were disposed of; and 9 cases involving minors in possession of alcohol.

In a great number of cases, the court referred the matter of suspension of driver licenses directly to the Secretary of State. This method of restricting driving has proved effective, the judge said.

Judge Belanger said that he continues to be indebted for the continued and sustained active and able services of both Grace McCracken, court clerk, and Bettyann Calvin, deputy court clerk, during 1967.

The judge praised the personnel of the Park Police Department, guided by the able and conscientious leadership of Police Chief Arthur Louwers.

Judge Belanger concluded his report with the statement that he was indebted to City Manager Robert Stone for his able and intelligent cooperation at all times during the past year.

Pollution

and the records kept at the pumping station will be fed into a computer to reconstruct the events of a storm. As each storm is added to the computer, Dow expects a generalized pattern to emerge which will allow the effects of future storms to be predicted so that personnel at the pumping station can be ready with the right chemicals at the right time.

Plan Scale Model

A working scale model of the Milk River pumping station will be built to examine in miniature the behavior of stormwater at the station. The model will be used to test any changes in the structure of the station which could increase the effectiveness of the chemical treatment.

The primary chemicals to be used are various organic flocculants, or poly-electrolytes, which represent a new approach to water pollution control being spearheaded by Dow. Added to waste water in very small quantities on the order of one or two parts per million, the very long and extremely heavy polyelectrolyte molecules attract and hold solid particles suspended in the water. Within the space of a few minutes, the polyelectrolytes settle to the bottom, taking with them almost all of the suspended solids. Under laboratory conditions, Polyelectrolytes can remove between 50 percent and 75 percent of the solids and up to 50 percent of the organic pollutants. Conditions at the Milk River pumping station will be far from ideal, but Dow engineers believe that the polyelectrolytes can remove a substantial portion of the solids and the organic waste now being discharged into Lake St. Clair.

Waste Flows Complex

Combined waste flows, i.e., stormwater and domestic sewage, are chemically very complex, and there is no way to control volume, rate of flow, temperature, or pollutional content. Any attempt to treat combined waste depends greatly on the accuracy and completeness of the analytical work that accompanies it. Since the project began in July, Dow has been designing, building, and installing complex instrumentation devices and laboratory equipment.

Several automatic machines have already been installed to provide samples of the stormwater overflow at regular intervals. Instruments are being installed that will continuously analyze the waste flow for temperature, amount of solids, dissolved oxygen content and the degree of acidity. Other tests, to be performed as needed, will provide data on four categories of solids, the amount of organic carbon, nitrogen, and phosphorus, the amount of oil and grease, the degree of hardness, and the presence of three varieties of bacteria.

Building Laboratory

The "as needed" tests will be performed at the pumping station in a complete waste-water laboratory mounted on a 40' trailer. The trailer has been designed by Dow and is currently being built and equipped. It should be delivered about the first of the year.

Between now and July, Dow will test and standardize the equipment and instrumentation, determine the most efficient polyelectrolyte, and find the best place to add the polyelectrolyte. Beginning in July and continuing until the end of the project a year later, stormwater overflow will be treated to the limit of current technology. The data from that year of continued treatment will provide much needed information about stormwater overflows from combined sewers. Overall, the Project is expected to be a significant step in the fight to clean up the nation's rivers and lakes.

Korean Orphans To Receive Gift

More than 500 books were sent to a Korean orphanage recently, according to Principal Ted Jacobs of Richard School.

The project is part of the U.S. Navy's People-to-People program, Handclasp. Sgt. Donald K. Berckmann, assistant chaplain and teacher at the orphanage, was instrumental in promoting the local project.

The books, old but usable, are for children between the ages of two and 13 years, who do not have any books at the orphanage. The books were packed and taken to the U.S. Naval Air Station at Grosse Ile, by Mr. Jacobs and Oliver Baker, Richard engineer.

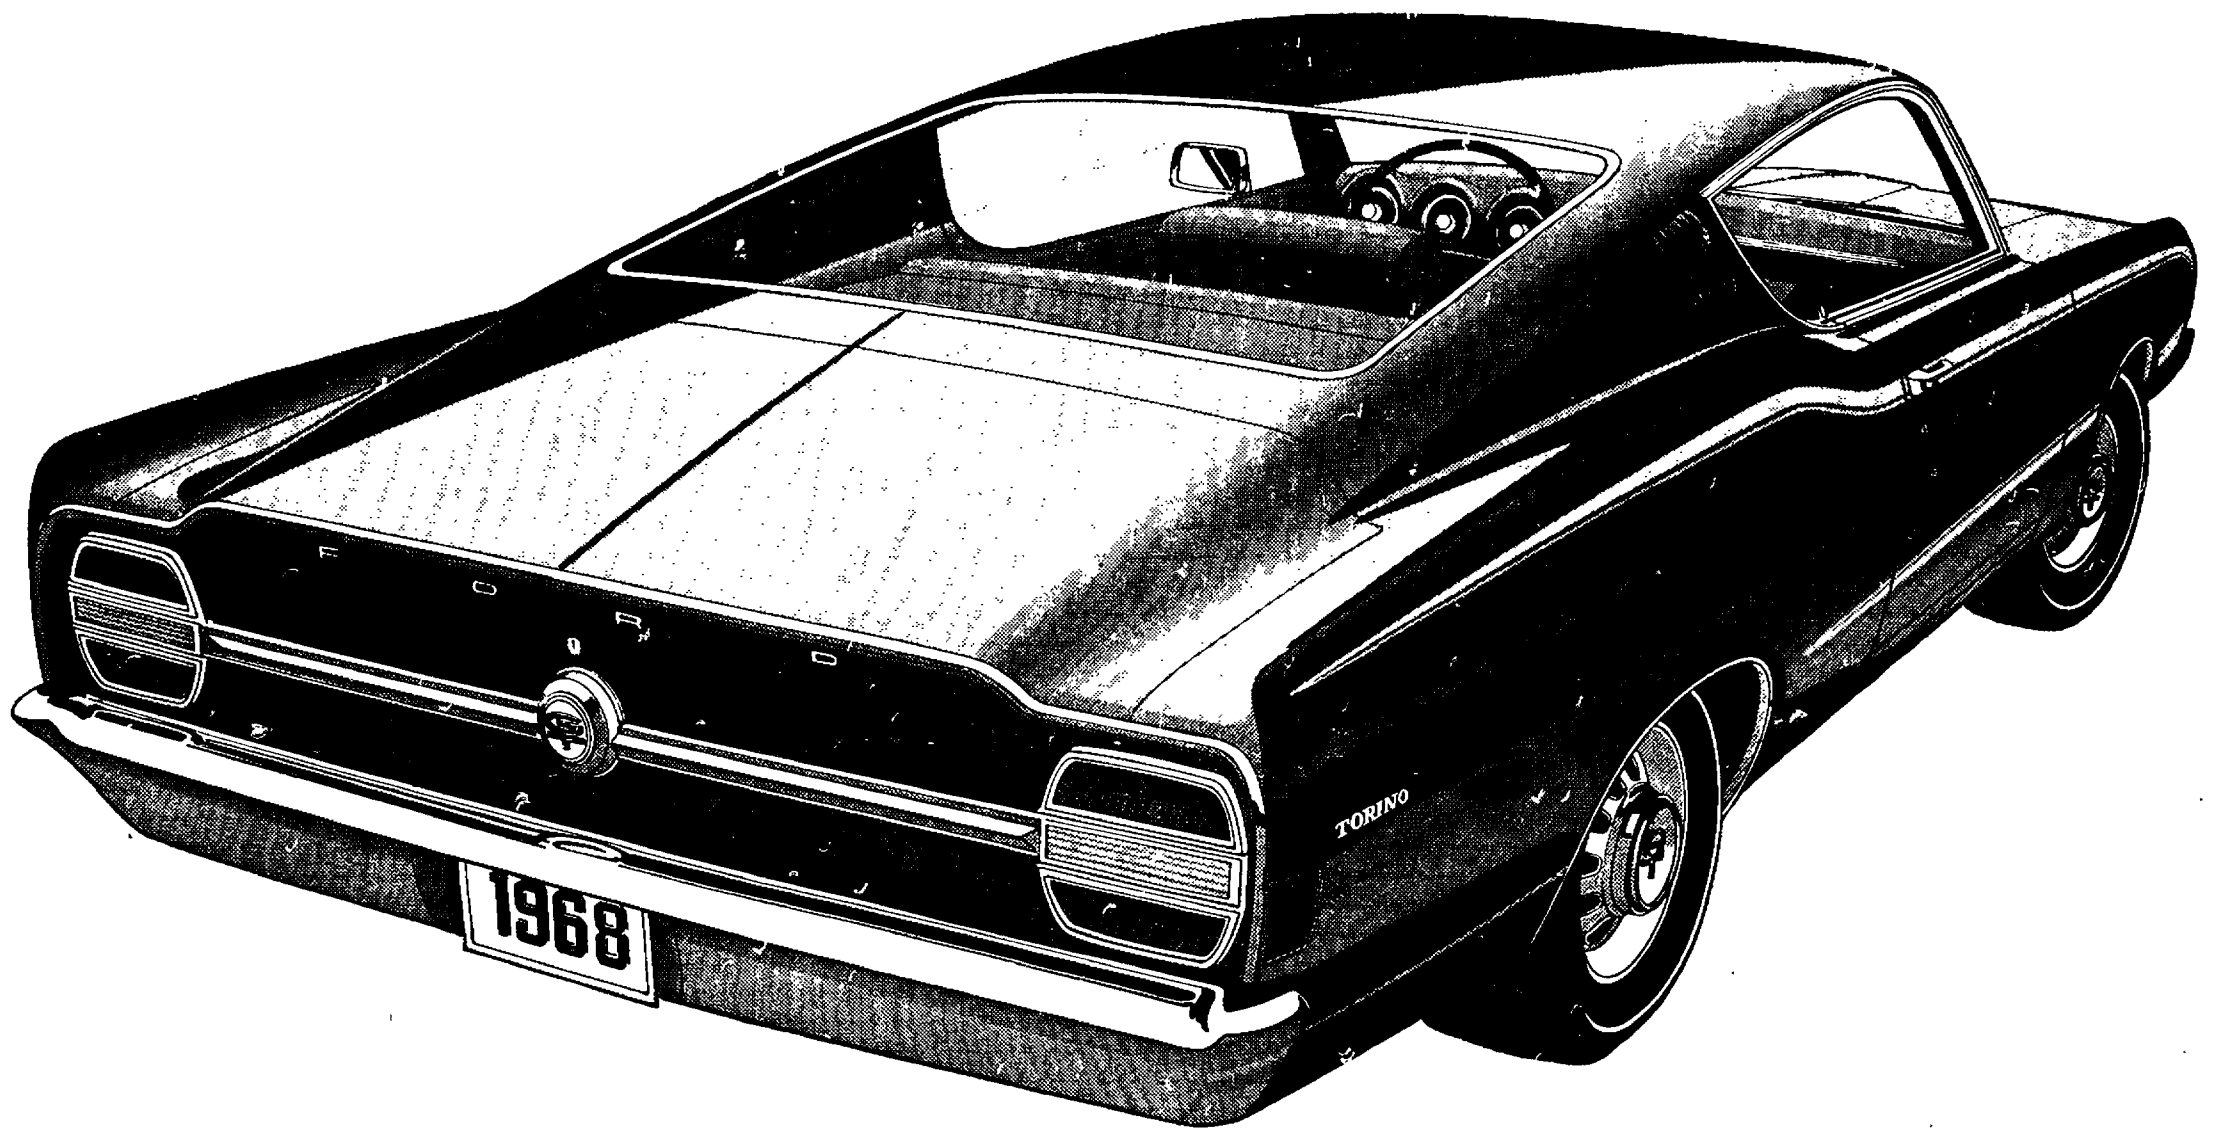

They will be sent to San Diego, Calif., then to Be Wha Orphanage at Un Choni, Korea. It will take approximately three months for them to reach their destination.

TORINO

sweeps first 5 places in Riverside 500!

(How's that for a new broom.)

Riverside is Ford Country. Torino takes the first five places in the Riverside 500 . . . the year's first and toughest test of endurance and dependability. Two weeks earlier, Ford Motor Company dominated the Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials at Riverside. In tests which included economy, acceleration and braking, the company won more classes than all other automobile manufacturers combined. See the man with Better Ideas . . . your Ford Dealer.

HERE ARE THE FACTS	Riverside 500 . . . Forty-four high-powered stock cars of all makes, modified to meet the special demands of competition racing, took off from the starting line on the twisting sports car circuit at Riverside. And only 13 of them went the full 500 grueling miles. Five of these were Torinos. The first, second, third, fourth and fifth cars across the finish line. In this very first try in open competition Torino left no doubt about what it could do: in accelerating, hard braking, standing up to the most extreme demands for five solid hours. Winning this kind of competition takes real pro drivers. But it takes real cars, too. Well-balanced stable cars. Maneuverable cars with engines, transmissions and drivelines that can take the terrific punishment and never quit. When 5 out of the 8 Fords we entered take the first 5 places, you can bet the cars are as outstanding as the drivers. And when you remember that this is the sixth time in a row Ford has won the Riverside 500, you know we know something about real durability.	Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials . . . Experts have called the Trials America's most exacting and revealing test of all-around car performance. This year Ford Custom and Ford Galaxie 500 won first and second place in Class IV. Mustang was overall winner in Class IX. Fairlane Six won both the braking and economy events in Class VI, proving that it could go farther on a gallon and stop shorter than its competition. The Performance Trials do what a lot of car shoppers wish they could do. They take all the cars in a class and, with expert drivers at the wheel, compare the braking, acceleration and economy under equal conditions. NASCAR officials select entries at random off the showroom floor, run the Trials, and score the performance of each car. Results are truly impartial. So if you are looking for a new car, what happened at the Performance Trials can be especially meaningful. No matter what size car you're thinking of, you can start your own winning streak right now by seeing your Ford Dealer.

Two High Schools Holding Joint Science Symposium

The 1968 Grosse Pointe High School and Dominican High School joint symposium in science and humanities will be held at Dominican High School February 29, from 8 o'clock until 7 o'clock. This is the second year this type of symposium has been held.

The idea was originated by Sister Alma Marie, of Dominican High, who after attending similar symposiums at Wayne State University, felt it should be done on the high school level. Sister Alma Marie contacted the powers that be at Grosse Pointe High and the result was the initiation of this symposium.

The symposium gives the students an opportunity to broaden their experiences and consider artistic and scientific problems.

The theme this year is "Urban Man: His Heritage and Power," to date approximately 250 Grosse Pointe juniors and seniors are attending the symposium, some as observers and some as hostesses. Others will present creative work or papers.

The symposium will deal with Urban Man from many outlooks and topics. In humanities: The social and psychic consequences of a technological culture; the depersonalization of man as portrayed in literature and the arts. In science: Is technology creating a new human environment? The control of hereditary factors, land development, water and air pollution. In Sociology and economics: The problem of poverty, urban renewal, and many other topics. In theology: Will churches need to adopt new forms to anticipate the needs of modern man? What can churches say to a technological society?

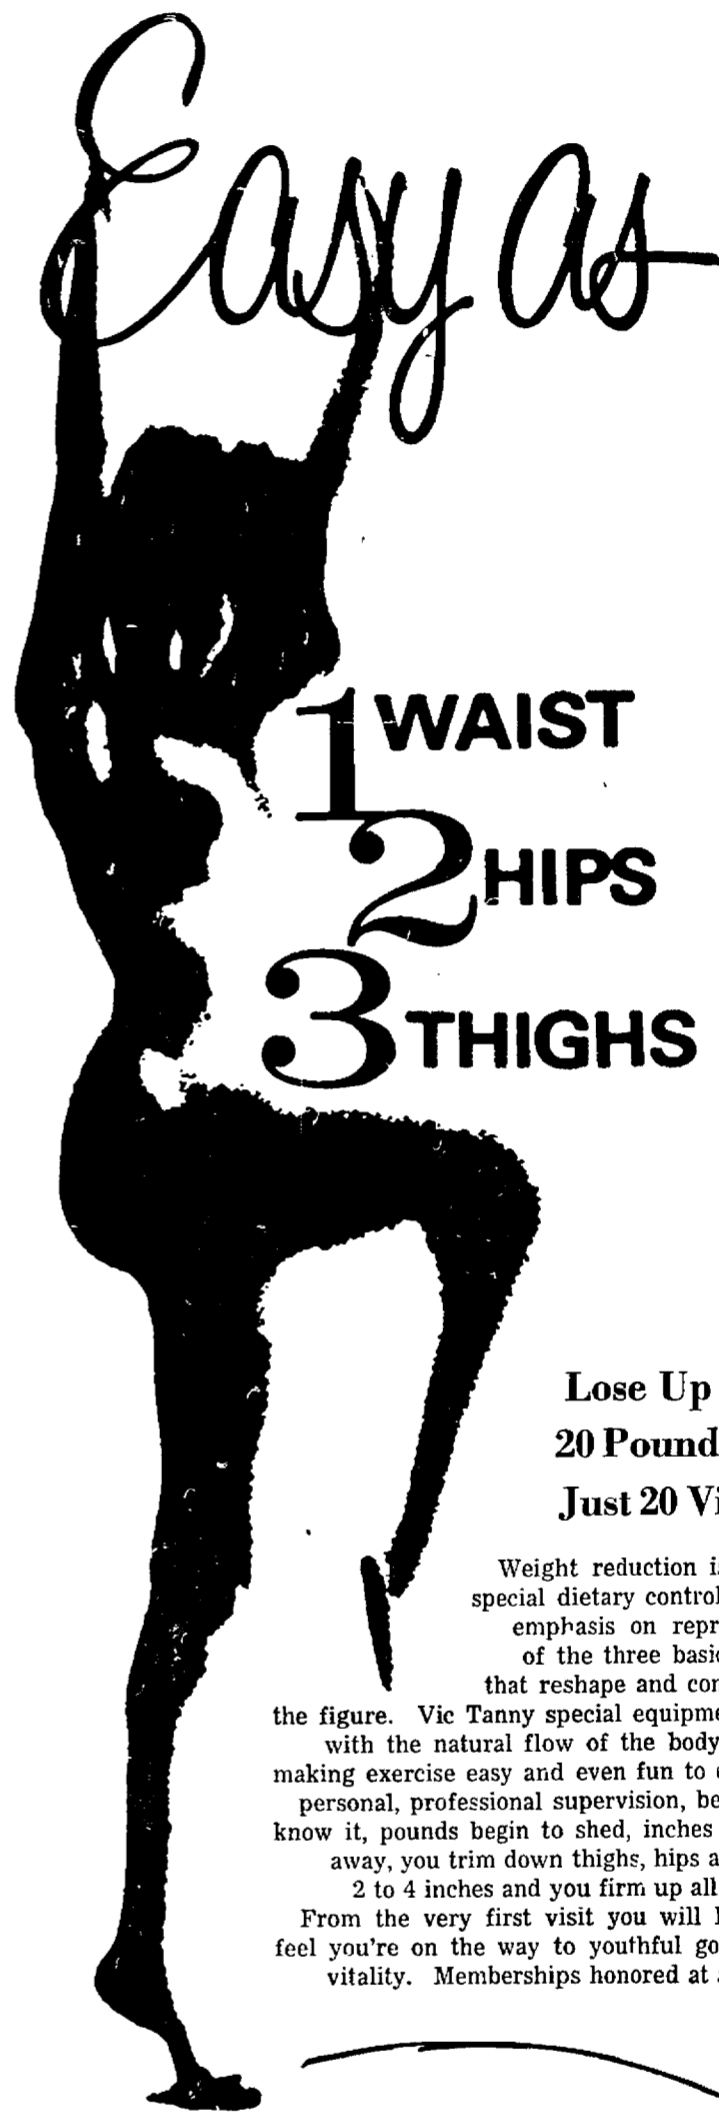

Education, art, music, jazz and library science will also be covered. The student papers cover myriad topics from John Miller's "Determination of Reaction Order of Nucleophilic Substitution Reactions for Cobalt Complexes," to Karen Wilson's "The Music of Urban Man."

Students will also have art on display corresponding to the theme of the symposium.

Speaking on topics relevant to their professions and occupations will be the Symposium Scholars, who are a group of doctors, professors, ministers, and representatives of many other professions.

The program will include three main addresses: keynote, science and humanities. There will also be small group discussions with special subject matter in many areas, students' papers and presentations and small informal buzz sessions.

Austin School Students Enjoying Many Activities

Under the direction of the Austin Student Senate, the Assembly Committee has secured some of the Detroit Cougars for a demonstration of soccer on Friday, January 26. The demonstration will include the rules, the history, the training program and the schedule of a professional soccer team, particularly the Detroit Cougars.

The Annual Austin Chess Tournament, under the Direction of the Chess Manager, Mike Getzan, will schedule preliminary and final rounds for the 38 chess entries. As in past years various rounds of chess play will take place in February and April, with trophies given to the winners of the final rounds.

Another activity of the Student Senate which is in operation is the preparation of committees for the annual Awards Banquet to be held in May. The students serve on the following committees: program, guest selection, entertainment and awards.

The committeemen include: John Agnone, George Niespolo, Tony Vehar, Joe Shea, Chris Bonany, Cameel Hanna, Mark Hodgman, Tony Riccobono, Rick Evtz, Paul Beaupre, Brian Walsh, and president of the Student Senate Tom Misuraca.

The Austin Glee Club, under the direction of Richard Meier, made its debut in December and is continuing with concerts on February 11 and 25.

The students receive scholastic credits as well as activities merit for singing in classroom situations as well as in assemblies and concerts.

Under the direction of Thomas E. Bailey, vice-principal, the Augustine Speech Festival will begin February 5. Each student has the opportunity to enter speech selections in various categories for trophy awards.

The Austin basketball team evened the season record at 4 and 4 by dropping the game to Notre Dame by a score of 74-61. Gary Coakley of Notre Dame led all scorers with 34 points. Mike Gibson led the Friars with 18 points.

Austin's swim team is in first place in the Central Division with a 2-0 record. Mike Stephens and Bill Griffith excel in the free style events while Kevin Cross leads the backstrokers. Sophomore Bob Cleary has taken two firsts as a butterfly specialist. The Friar's medley relay is composed of Rick Evtz, Kevin Cross, Bob Cleary and Jim Louie. Mel Giovanucci is the coach.

YOUR CHOICE
Criticism is of two kinds, destructive and constructive—try to peddle the right kind.

Speeding Leads To More Trouble

Robert L. Mathews, 39, of 2709 Capitol, Warren, was stopped by Woods police for speeding on Thursday, January 25, and found to be operating his car with improper plates.

Patrolman Martin Trombley, the arresting officer, said he observed Mathews traveling north on Mack, at Vernier road, at a high rate of speed and stopped him.

When asked for his operator's license and car registration, Mathews was able to present his license, but claimed that he did not have the registration because he had just purchased the vehicle.

Trombley radioed for a check of the vehicle's license number, and found that the car was registered in the name of Avis Rent A Car. The motorist said he had purchased the automobile, a 1967 Ford, from the company, and had been informed that he could use the present plates until he is able to get his own.

Mathews was issued a violation ticket for driving a motor vehicle with improper plates.

FRESH DRESSED STEWING OR FRICASSEE CHICKENS

CUT UP OR WHOLE 39¢ lb.

BRANDIED FRICASSEE CHICKEN (6 to 8 Servings)

- 1 Roasting or fricassee chicken, cut up in serving pieces
- 1/4 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 thin sliced raw ham, diced
- 10 small onions, peeled
- 2 tablespoons California brandy
- Herb bouquet (tie together 3 or 4 sprigs parsley, and small bay leaf)
- Salt & pepper
- 1 cup mushrooms (optional)
- 1 cup California Pinot Noir, Burgundy or other red dinner wine

Dredge chicken in flour; saute in melted butter until nicely browned. Add ham and onions; cook until lightly browned. Pour over brandy; ignite. Judge Goodrow Has Busy Court

Woods Municipal Judge Don Goodrow worked a heavy docket on Saturday, January 27, hearing more than 25 law violation cases. The court session would have been much longer if 23 other persons had shown up to answer charges against them. Warrants were signed for the arrest of the absentees.

The following were found guilty of the offenses of which they were accused:

James D. Hattle of 19288 Berden, Harper Woods, failure to yield right-of-way and causing an accident. His fine was $25, plus one day in jail.

Thomas C. Kerwin of 667 Washington, reckless driving. He was fined $100 and sentenced to 10 days in the Wayne County Jail.

Raymond G. Bruneel of 20624 Elkhart, Harper Woods, paid a fine of $50, for driving while his operator's license was revoked.

Frederick R. Van Assche of 1700 Prestwick, improper use of license plates, $25; Robert J. Gaffigan, Jr., of 21710 Elcabeth, St. Clair Shores, making a prohibited left turn, $7; Raymond W. Bruck of 202 Noble, Milford, interfering with moving traffic and causing an accident, fine, $10.

Having no car lights cost Danny M. Humphries of 1468 Wayburn, a fine of $15; and George W. Gardner, Jr., of 921 Canterbury, paid a fine of $19 for speeding.

Russell E. Lewis of 3951 Kensington, Detroit, was fined $12 for following too closely in traffic. John M. Dionne of 50890 Jefferson, New Baltimore, paid a fine of $35 for speeding.

Olaf B. Staude of 23278 South Rosedale, St. Clair Shores, paid a fine of $7.50 for failing to yield the right-of-way and causing an accident.

Wildred R. Hebert of 1425 Hawthorne, paid $5 for failing to yield the right-of-way and causing an accident; and failing to yield the right-of-way from a stop sign, cost Harvey J. Christenson, $7.50.

Alfred H. Rauer of 22408 Park Lane, St. Clair Shores, was fined $20, for failing to stop within an assured clear distance and causing an accident.

Gary M. Irwin of 28020 O'Neil, Roseville, charged with following too closely, paid a fine of $20; Lolita M. Blumenstock of 21784 Newcastle, Harper Woods, was fined $20 for failing to yield the right-of-way and causing an accident.

For having no brake lights, David G. Dillon of 20890 Ridgmont, paid a fine of $5. He paid an additional $3 for not having his operator's license in his immediate possession.

Robert L. Matthews of 2709 Capitol, Warren, paid $10 for driving with improper license plates, John E. Griffin of 5210 Grayton, Detroit, disobeyed a traffic signal and it cost him $8. Daniel Z. Borowicz of 2112 Stanhope, a minor, was fined $25, and placed on probation for six months for possession of alcoholic beverages.

Two drivers, whose offenses were not disclosed on the court disposition list, Mary K. Schultz of 1190 North Oxford, and Michael P. Ruen of 1739 Newcastle, were given suspended sentences.

Complaint by Delores Schumer of 1665 Fairholme against Ralph Daigle of 1675 Fairholme, was heard. Daigle, accused of using vulgar language, was found guilty and the case adjourned for six months.

After hearing testimony in 10 other matters, charges against the accused were dismissed.

Cinema League To Meet Feb. 8

The Grosse Pointe Cinema League will meet Thursday evening, February 8, at 8 o'clock, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center. Refreshments and a social hour for members will follow the film and slide program.

Mrs. Pierre Palmentier will present a slide show entitled

"Rambling in New England." An Eastman Kodak film, "How to Improve Travel Pictures," will be shown and should help members to take even better pictures when they are on their trips.

Burglar's Loot Is Two Beers

The first and second floor of the home of William J. Reynolds, 324 Beaupre, was ransacked by a burglar, Farms police disclosed. The burglary occurred on Sunday, January 21.

Reynolds showed Patrolmen Joseph Belanger and Philip Miglio, who were dispatched to the residence to investigate and take the initial report, where the burglar had entered the house by cutting the side screen door, and breaking the glass of the house door.

The officers said that all the rooms on the first and second floors had been searched by whomever had forced his way into the building. The only things missing, Reynolds said, were two cans of beer.

Belanger and Miglio followed footprints in the snow to a fence at the rear of 285 Hillcrest, where the culprit jumped the fence. The prints continued between 295 and 291 Hillcrest, and ended at the curb in front of 287 Hillcrest, where it is believed that the thief had parked his car.

Passengers Hurt In 3-Car Crash

Two persons received minor injuries in a three-car collision at Mack avenue and Brys drive, on Sunday, January 28.

According to a Woods police accident report, Robert E. Zillman, 17, of 725 Vernier road, while traveling north on Mack, made a left turn at Brys drive and lost control of his vehicle. The youth said he could not stop and that his car spun around and into the path of a car driven by Christopher C. DePew, 18, of 22949 Detour, St. Clair Shores, and another driven by Mitchell E. Bean, 17, of 29820 Maison, St. Clair Shores.

Gregory Germer, 19, of 31051 Williamsburg, St. Clair Shores, a passenger in DePew's auto, suffered a whiplashed neck, as did Allen Taylor, 19, of 23930 Talbot, St. Clair Shores, a passenger in Bean's vehicle. Neither required medical attention, but were taken to St. John Hospital for examination.

DePew's and Bean's automobiles were damaged in front, and Zillman's car was damaged in the left rear.

Zillman was issued a violation ticket for careless driving.

THIEF STEALS CAR

Catherine D. Pray of 35417 Golden, Mt. Clemens, called Woods police on Thursday, January 25, to disclose that her car had been stolen from the northwest corner of the Woods Theater parking lot. At the last report, the vehicle had not been recovered.

Meter Damaged At Skating Rink

City of Grosse Pointe employee, Robert Kuhn reported to City Police on Friday, January 26, at 4 p.m., that there had been some malicious damage at the Neighborhood Club field.

Upon investigation officers found that the Detroit Edison meter was damaged. The meter is affixed to a light pole between the two ice rinks. The outside glass casing on the meter was broken, as well as the internal mechanism.

At the base of the pole officers found a broken hockey stick which might have been used to damage the meter. The information was forwarded to the Edison Company.

Brownell School Having Concert

Brownell Junior High School's instrumental music department will present its tenth annual winter concert on Friday evening, February 2, at 8 p.m. in the school's gymnasium.

Under the direction of Dewey D. Kalember, the seventh grade band of 80 members will perform at the opening of the concert, playing several marches, "Grandfather's Clock," and "A Musical Air." Highlight of this group's first public appearance will be the entire flute section playing Mozart's "Ave Verum."

The second half of the evening's musical fare will feature the Concert Band of 80 eighth and ninth grade students. Their selections include "Contemporary Overture" by Cofield; "Florentine Festival" by Caneva; and arrangements on such familiar tunes as "Greensleeves," "Were You There?" and the recent popular "Shadow of Your Smile." Several marches will complete the program.

Tickets will be sold at the door.

Driver Ticketed Following Crash

Mrs. Margaret Dorothy Teats, 357 Rivard, was issued a court notice to appear for reckless driving on Thursday, January 25. While driving north on Rivard, Mrs. Teats struck the car of Mrs. Fannie Agnes Olmsted, 20818 Hollywood, which was parked at the curb.

The right front fender of the Teats' car was fused to the left rear fender of the Olmsted vehicle.

City Police officers found Mrs. Teats trying to drive the car into the driveway of 324 Rivard. Her rear tires were spinning on the ice and the rear wheel was against the curb.

No estimate of the damages was available.

Traffic Cases Heard in City
City Municipal Court convened on Tuesday, January 23, with Judge Malcolm J. Sutherland presiding. The following cases were heard:

Floyd Hitchcock, 18080 Fairway drive, Detroit, was charged with careless driving. He pled guilty and was found guilty. Sentence was suspended with referral to the Secretary of State as to his ability to drive.

Julian Pirog, 3917 Woodhall, Detroit, was charged with car not under control resulting in an accident. He pled guilty and was found guilty and fined $25. He must attend four sessions in Traffic Court.

Patricia Olson, 856 Westchester road, G.P., was charged with making an improper left turn causing an accident. She pled guilty and was found guilty and fined $25 plus damages.

BREAKS HIP IN FALL
Mrs. Richard P. Sheridan, 951 Vernier, fell and fractured her right hip on Tuesday, January 23. She was at the crosswalk on the southwest corner of Kercheval and Notre Dame, as she stepped off the curb into the street she tripped and fell. She was helped back into her car by two passersby and the police were called. City police took Mrs. Sheridan to Bon Secours Hospital where she received treatment.

Guy Palazzola Lecture Feb. 7

Professor Guy Palazzola of the University of Michigan's art faculty will give a lecture demonstration on modern painting Wednesday evening, February 7, at 8 o'clock in Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Fries Auditorium. It is a program similar to that given by him over national television.

The program is general both to artists and the general public. Professor Palazzola is one of the major recognized painters in the Midwest and a very fine speaker and teacher.

In his presentation, Professor Palazzola will demonstrate every effect of line and color. He will explain what today's artist is trying to achieve and how he goes about it.

Far from being abstractionists, the artists of today fit into many different classifications and use many techniques to achieve their effects, he believes. He will explain and demonstrate each of these.

He will also show how newly developed paints can be used to achieve unusual results and demonstrate the many facets of brush techniques and the use of texture.

Center Offers Yoga Classes

A series of Yoga classes will begin Wednesday evening, February 7, at 8 o'clock at Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Yoga offers a modern port in the storm of today's hectic life. Through learning the practice of Yoga as taught by trained practitioners George O. Johnston and his wife, individuals can relieve their mental and physical tensions.

Yoga as it is presented at the Center is not a mystic religion and practice of the East, though Mr. Johnston studied it as such fully while at Yale. These classes stress exercises to stretch and relax muscles and tone the vital organs. At the same time mental concentration to music relieves the mind of troublesome and chaotic thought processes. The many students who have taken up Yoga in recent years at the Center testify to its efficacy. Enrollment is $20 for an 8-week session.

Neighborhood Club Basketball

Midget League
The 18-team, four-division Midget Basketball League continues tonight (Thursday) at Pierce Junior High School with the Lakers and Warriors squaring off for the lead in the Western-Pro Division. Coach Tom Conrad's Warriors have won 15 straight games over three seasons, including triumphs this year over the Hawks and Bulls. The Lakers, coached by Robin Jacobs, have also beaten the Hawks and Bulls. The Lakers, coached by Robin Jacobs, have also beaten the Hawks and Bulls and the two teams share the lead in their division. The standings:

Warriors	W	L
Lakers	2	0
Bulls	0	2
Hawks	0	2

In the West-Collegiate Division
U.C.L.A. and Purdue lead after only one game. The standings:

U.C.L.A.	W	L
Iowa	0	1
Houston	0	1

In the East-Pro Division
The Royals jumped out on top Saturday with a hard-fought 19-15 victory over the previously unbeaten Celtics. Joe Theis led the winners with 11 points, scoring seven in the first half as he paced the Royals to a 10-8 lead. Chip Alexander added five points for the Royals while Bob Beyer, Kevin Lane and Steve Zarenek shared honors for the Celtics with four each.

The 76ers outscored 16 for the winners, 12 during the second-half drive. Dan Malafouris added four points for the 76ers while Keith Severson paced the Knicks with six. The standings:

Royals	W	L
Celtics	3	0
76ers	2	1
Knicks	0	3

In the East-Collegiate Division
The Princeton Tigers are out to an early lead. The Tigers gained an 18-4 victory over Duke Saturday with 12 points in the second half. Ricky Russo led the second half drive with eight of his 12 points in that stanza. Chantel Van de Bussche scored all four of his points for the winners in the second half.

Navy upset unbeaten Harvard, 13-12, to drop the Cantabs into second place. Eddie Tropp of Navy led all scorers with 10 points, sinking two free throws in the second half to provide the margin of victory. Rick Borland led Harvard with four points.

The Yale Bulldogs tied Harvard for the second spot, beating Army 12-10, in another close one. Drew Miller led Army in a second half comeback with four points while Mike Shook of Yale led all scorers with eight points, six in the second half. The standings:

Princeton	W	L
Harvard	2	1
Yale	2	1
Navy	1	2
Army	1	2
Duke	0	3

Junior High League
In the Junior High League three teams are bunched at the top of the heap. The Parcels 9th graders opened the season with an impressive 58-19 drubbing of the Pierce 8th graders as Truhan led the way with 16 points. Bennett scored 18 as the Parcels 9th graders won their second straight, 48-34 over the Pierce 9th graders.

The Brownell 8th graders mounted a balanced attack in winning their first two games. First came a closely fought 28-26 victory over the Pierce 9th graders. Dan Ireland of Pierce led all scorers with ten points. The Brownell 9th graders gained their second victory as Dave Larson's 13 points led the way to a 63-17 triumph over the 8th graders of Grosse Pointe University School.

Brownell's 8th graders also share the lead after two hard-fought victories. First came a 33-28 win over G.P.U.S. 8th graders as Rudy Nicholas of Brownell and Steve Molloy shared scoring honors, each scoring 11 points. Louis Desora of the Pierce 8th graders scored 12 points in a losing cause as his team dropped a 30-26 decision to the Brownell 8th graders.

Parcels 9th	W	L
Brownell 8th	2	0
Brownell 9th	2	0
Pierce 9th	0	2
Pierce 8th	0	2
G.P.U.S. 8th	0	2

Senior High League
Ben Hubbard of the Crimson Tide and Bill Morrison of the Avagadroes lead the scoring in the Senior High League with 22 and 21 points per game averages. But the Off-Beats lead the league with the Grosse Pointe Country Club Team close behind. The standings:

Off-Beats	W	L
G.P.C.C.	3	0
Crimson Tide	2	2
Avagadroes	1	3
Wee Dun It	0	3

Winnipeg Ballet Here on Feb. 3

Arnold Spohr, world-recognized and only native-born Director of a Canadian ballet company, will be in the wings when the Royal Winnipeg Ballet comes to Masonic Auditorium Saturday, February 3.

In 1958, when Spohr became Artistic Director of the Royal Winnipeg, most Canadians doubted the young man would have the fortitude to develop a ballet company on a firm classical lines in a remote region like Western Canada. For most choreographers-turned-directors, heading an internationally-acclaimed ballet company would be enough. For Arnold Spohr, it had not been enough.

Far from being satisfied that the company he directs should be accepted by audiences in New York, London and Caracas, he intends it should yet grow more bold. It would seem entirely natural that he confine his ambitions to classical ballet—his Company is now rich in relationships with the Bolshoi and the Royal Ballet. This is as much as most ballet companies dream of.

But the great traditions of ballet do not confine Spohr. For years in his free month or two between seasons he has searched the world for all the known kinds of dancing—from Bushman to Balinese to Ballet.

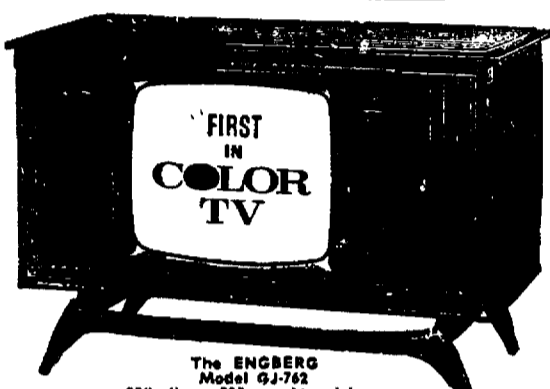

It is Spohr's unusually broad understanding of ballet that makes him intensely interested in its connection with the larger world of movement. All forms of dance have something to say about how a dancer communicates with his audience and how he finds it possible to express himself. Spohr has become the consummate communicator in ballet.

It follows that of the four ballets to be seen at the Masonic, "Les Patineurs" is the oldest, being written as recently as 1937. "Pastiche," "Out of Lesbos" and "Pas D'Action" are all comparatively new or completely new.

Little League Meets Monday

Floyd Hitchcock, 18080 Fairway drive, Detroit, was charged with careless driving. He pled guilty and was found guilty. Sentence was suspended with referral to the Secretary of State as to his ability to drive.

Patricia Olson, 856 Westchester road, G.P., was charged with making an improper left turn causing an accident. She pled guilty and was found guilty and fined $25 plus damages.

BREAKS HIP IN FALL
Mrs. Richard P. Sheridan, 951 Vernier, fell and fractured her right hip on Tuesday, January 23. She was at the crosswalk on the southwest corner of Kercheval and Notre Dame, as she stepped off the curb into the street she tripped and fell. She was helped back into her car by two passersby and the police were called. City police took Mrs. Sheridan to Bon Secours Hospital where she received treatment.

Chamber Music Concert Sunday

The Chamber Music Players of Grosse Pointe will present an American Program on Sunday, February 4, at 3 o'clock, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial.

"Quartet for Piano and Strings" by Aaron Copland, will feature violinist Cecelia Mahoney, cellist Theresa Gavril, Margo Krumel playing the viola and Camella Ehrlich at the piano.

"Sonata for Saxophone and Piano" by Paul Creston will be presented by William Bogán, saxophonist, and Bettejane Crossen, pianist.

"Points on Jazz" by Dave Brubeck will feature duo pianists, Harriet Collins and Janet Young.

St. Paul's Girls Lead Division

The St. Paul's girls' basketball team kept their winning streak alive last Sunday, with an easy 45-15 romp over St. Thomas. The Lakerettes are now 4-0 and remain on top of the Southeast Division.

Strong defensive play by Elaine Quinn, Marie Robert and Karen Gross held St. Thomas to 3 points in the first half and 12 during the second half.

The scorers were led by Karen Scheele with 18 points, followed by Jan Gilbert with 13, and Sue Smolenski, who collected 8 points.

This Sunday the Lakerettes will meet a strong St. Martin's team in what should prove to be one of the best games of the season.

Crest Selected For North High

Students who will be attending Grosse Pointe North High School next year will be known as the Norsemen. Over 1,551 students, who will attend North next year, had the opportunity to vote for the name of their choice.

At the same time they selected the school crest which will be a warrior head over a Norseman shield.

The administration has made every effort to include eighth and ninth grade students from Brownell and Parcels and the sophomores from South High, in planning North High.

Now that the crest, name and school colors have been selected the athletic uniforms can be finished and preparations for North's student council can get under way.

Lakers Defeat East Catholic

Doug Dziuba hit for 14 points and Tim Bigham added 13 to spark St. Paul's basketball team past East Catholic in a fourth quarter victory.

The first period ended in an 8-8 tie. But the Green Berets came out on top 21-20 at half-time and retained their lead 35-34 in the third period. East Catholic lost the ballgame in the fourth quarter as the Lakers were on top 49-44 at het game's end.

The Lakers shot 25 percent from the floor and made 41 percent of their foul shots. East Catholic hit for 33 percent and snared only 28 percent of its fouls. The Green Berets outrebounded St. Paul 43-42.

With this victory the Lakers find themselves in third place with a 6-4 record in the division.

Previous to the varsity game, the Laker J. V. downed East Catholic's J. V. team 39-32. Gordie Piche led the Laker scoring column with 12 points.

CAR STOLEN

Lawrence D. Buhl, Jr., of 194 Stephens road, told Farms police on Sunday, January 29, that his 1967 Buick station wagon had been stolen from the driveway in front of his garage, sometime between 7:30 p.m. the previous evening, and about 10 a.m. Sunday. The vehicle has not yet been recovered.

St. Paul Plans 'College Night'

St. Paul High School's Guidance Department, under the direction of Miss Mary Robinson, will sponsor "College Night" for juniors, seniors, and their parents on Wednesday, February 7 from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

During the three half-hour sessions of the program, representatives from over 50 Catholic and secular colleges, universities, business and trade schools will provide insights into admission requirements for their respective schools.

Students from five other Catholic schools in the area have been invited to attend. They are Sacred Heart Academy, Star of the Sea, St. Ambrose, Austin Prep and Bishop Gallagher. The Paulite chapter of the National Honor Society will be on hand to welcome the guests and to provide directions.

Institutions to be represented include Aquinas College, Academy of Arts and Crafts, Boston College, Carnegie Institute of Detroit, Cleary College, Davenport College of Business, De Lima Junior College, Detroit Business Institute, Detroit College of Business, Detroit Engineering Institute, Detroit Institute of Commerce, Detroit Institute of Technology, Dorsey School of Business, and Eastern Michigan University.

Others include—General Motors Institute, John Carroll University, Lawrence Institute of Technology, Loyola University, Mercy College, Michigan League for Nursing, Michigan State University, Nazareth College, Northwood Institute, Oakland University, Olivet College, Regis College, Rets Electronics, and Sacred Heart Seminary.

Also, Saginaw Valley College, St. Bernard College, St. Bonaventure University, St. Joseph Procopius College, Siena College, St. Mary College, St. Heights College, Thomas Secretarial School, University of Dayton, University of Detroit, University of Michigan, US Air Force Academy, Virginia Farrell Del-Mar Beauty School, Xavier University, and Wayne State University will have representatives present.

A Peace Corps speaker from the Department of International Studies at Wayne State University will also be present.

What Goes On at Your Library

By Virginia Leonard

I've finished my course in anthropology. I can tell an aborigine from a wallaby. I find I'm descended from the primates. I've read all about artifacts and mental templates. The female Tiwi of North Australia were never unmarried. The Papuans of New Guinea had a diet unvaried. Tribal societies had charismatic leaders. Neanderthal men were not great readers. I've reorganized 13 lectures and 7 books. And what do you know? I passed the course—gadzooks!

So, if I seemed preoccupied this past fall, you know why now. Let us then proceed to other matters. I've had a rather varied and stimulating fare the past few weeks. On January 14, I represented the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries at the New Residents Reception at the War Memorial, met many fine new residents, saw old friends, and marvelled at the number and diversity of the various Grosse Pointe organizations represented.

On January 18, I attended the general meeting of the American Association of University Women. The speaker I had heard before, in person and on television. I refer to Seymour Riklin, Co-ordinator of Special Projects, University Center for Adult Education for Wayne State, Michigan and Eastern Michigan Universities. He is a forceful and witty speaker, and seems to have a bottomless fount of knowledge in many fields. He commented on contemporary values in the world today, covering many facets, such as philosophy, art, music, sociology and literature. I always feel quite stimulated intellectually when I listen to Mr. Riklin, and end up with an impulse to rush out and take some refresher courses in various fields of culture. Tune in sometime on his program: "Conversations" on Channel 56; I think you will find it very rewarding.

Then, on January 19, I had the privilege of listening to Mrs. Morris Adler, widow of the well-known Rabbi Adler, whose life was so tragically cut down a few years ago. Mrs. Adler addressed a large group at the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church; she spoke easily, proudly of her husband, and gently and with compassion of her husband's assassin. Through her one came to know both the Adlers a little better. She held his recent book in her hand — MAY I HAVE A WORD WITH YOU?, a compilation of his own words and thoughts, and a fitting tribute to his memory. At the close of his book he made this request: "Let Thy command that I depart this life be sharp, clear and decisive... allow me, O God, to leave in instantaneous compliance with Thy decree." His wish was granted in February, 1966, when Rabbi Adler was shot down before his congregation by a deranged student — a boy who had been a friend.

Looking ahead, it might be well to alert you that Robert M. Orr, Director of the Grosse Pointe Public Libraries, will be giving his 18th class in BOOKS AMERICA IS READING — AND WHY, to start on February 1. The first book to be reviewed will be CHRISTY, by Catherine Marshall, a first novel by Mrs. Peter Marshall. The second will be MEMOIRS 1925-1960, by George Kennan, an autobiography of one of America's experts in foreign affairs. The third, THE CONFESSIONS OF NAT TURNER, by William Styron, a fine novel based on America's only Negro insurrection. Next we will have PROLOGUE TO RIOT, by Paul Jacobs, this one dealing with Watts, California, riots. Following this will be IN A TIME OF TORMENT, by I. F. Stone, a reportage on America today. A change of pace will be Henri Troyat's TOLSTOY, a towering new biography of this Russian genius. John Kenneth Galbraith's THE NEW INDUSTRY TRIAL STATE will be seventh, a book that has been on the Best Seller list for quite some time. And finally, RICKENBACKER, by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, an autobiography of this legendary American aviation figure. For more detailed information on this course, please call the Grosse Pointe Central Library.

So there we are, at the end of our column, having produced quite a jumbled pot pourri of poetry, facts, announcements and reports. I think, however, that it points up how delightfully varied life in Grosse Pointe can be!

What's New on THE HILL

By Sibyl

Very Important Date . . . February 6th! Mr. William Denler, F.A.I.D., told us the editor of "House Beautiful," Mrs. Sarah Lee, will be the guest speaker at Fries Auditorium. This will be an important lecture and the second in the series, "International Experts on the Decorative Arts", sponsored by the Michigan Chapter of the American Institute of Interior Designers. The time is 10:30 a.m. You can get tickets at Denler, 77 Kercheval, or at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Don't miss Mrs. Lee's news and knowhow!

Knit One-derfuls! . . . There's a collection of Carriage Trade ensembles, beautifully made in British Columbia and found at Touch of Elegance, 63 Kercheval in the Colonial Federal Building. Lightweight fashionable knit dress and coat costumes, sheer wools . . . some silk print dresses which are meant to go with solid color coats. See the ready-to-wear styles and then see the swatches because you can buy on the spot or coordinate costumes to order and to your taste's desire.

School Election . . . is on February 26, 1968. Facts, figures and answers to questions can be had at Pongracz Jewelers, 91 Kercheval.

Fashionable And Practical . . . tote luggage is so easy to carry and is designed to hold everything. It comes in a combination of canvas and patent. At Margaret Rice these color combinations will blend with every costume . . . blue with white patent, brown with white, red with navy . . . all with terrific tortoise trim.

Suggestion . . . from Hamlin's . . . serve Brie cheese with Carr's Biscuits for dessert. A new shipment of this delicious soft textured cheese has arrived at 89 Kercheval. TUxedo 5-8400.

Freedom of Press Threatened

Remarks of U. S. SENATOR ROBERT P. GRIFFIN in the United States Senate January 22, 1968

Mr. President, this is the 68th day of a stalemated newspaper strike in Detroit, Michigan.

I rise to take note of this in sadness — and in deep concern.

One hundred and eighty-one years ago this month, a great American, Thomas Jefferson, wrote:

"The basis of our government being the opinion of the people, the very first object should be to keep that right; and were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

For more than two months now, Mr. President, more than 1,300,000 subscribers of Detroit's morning Free Press and the afternoon News have been without their newspapers. Through no fault of their own, they have been denied a basic American right—the right to information.

If this applied only to Detroit, it would be deplorable enough. But as I speak, there is also a similar strike in San Francisco. Over the last few years, in more than one city, we have seen disruptive strikes and news blackouts. Unfortunately, such strikes have resulted, to the detriment of the whole country, in the tolling of the bell for many of our fine newspapers and in the loss of thousands of jobs in the newspaper industry.

I do not mean to suggest that such a fate necessarily is in store for Detroit's papers. They are quite hardy, and so are their readers. It is hoped that they will be able to survive this interruption, however unwanted, in their daily lives.

The current strike is the 13th newspaper work stoppage to plague Detroiters since 1955. If you add the 66 days of this strike to the total of 235 days lost during previous strikes, it is apparent that America's fifth largest city has been without its daily newspapers for 10 months during the last 12 years.

Detroit also holds the record, the unenviable record, of having suffered the longest news-paper strike in history — 134 days. This was set in 1964 and now, only a little more than three years later, we are almost at the halfway point in equaling that record.

And, there seems to be no light at the end of the tunnel. As of last night, there had been no fruitful meeting between the striking Teamsters Union and management since the first of the year when the union rejected an offer of a 6 percent increase. I understand that no meetings are scheduled for this week.

As disturbing as all this is, Mr. President, there is another matter in connection with this strike which concerns me deeply—and which I think should be of concern to everyone interested in our fundamental freedoms.

According to an article in the January 11 issue of the Reporter Magazine, this strike has spawned a new industry of professional strike papers which locally are called "the vulture press."

What is most disturbing, according to this account, is that some of those who should be concerned with settling the strike from the union's side are intimately involved, financially and otherwise, in the strike papers.

If this is so, Mr. President, this is nothing less than "labor racketeering" in a new guise.

It is, it seems to me, more — far more — than that: it is a challenge, in a devious way, to one of our most cherished freedoms—the freedom of the press.

To put this matter in its proper perspective, it is necessary to review the events that have led to the current stalemate in Detroit.

It appeared, early last November, that a strike could be averted. Bargaining sessions between the publishers and the major unions were well underway.

The Teamsters Union contract was due to expire November 15. Contracts with most of the other 13 unions with which the newspapers have to deal were due to run out at the end of the month. A few extended until the first of the year or shortly beyond.

In past years, I am informed, negotiations frequently continued past the expiration date of the contract — a fact which should be noted in connection with what happened in this strike.

Five days before the Teamsters contract expired, the union asked that a Federal mediator be brought in to assist both sides in reaching an agreement. This was done. On November 13, the Teamsters notified the News, with which negotiations were being carried on, that the paper should make an initial offer to the union to avert a strike.

The Teamsters, I am informed, coupled this request with assurances that no strike would be called if the News submitted a good-faith offer. Two days later, the News made such an offer, proposing wage increases which it said were higher than any granted in previous contract settlements with that local union.

According to my information, the president of the Teamsters local was opposed to a walkout. But in matters of this kind, as most of us have come to know, there is often more than meets the eye or assails the ear.

So it was in this case. For one thing, a power struggle within the union was involved and the local's 26-year-old secretary-treasurer, aspiring to a greater role, led the membership to a 361-to-50 strike vote.

For another thing, there was the reported role of certain Teamsters in the sudden rise of the so-called "vulture press." I will speak more of that shortly.

Despite the efforts of leaders of other unions to head off a Teamster walkout, picket lines went up around the Detroit News one minute after the Teamsters contract expired at midnight. Another long, costly and, perhaps unnecessary newspaper strike in Detroit was underway.

Now I come to the matter that concerns me most deeply. Within a few days, three strike newspapers hit the streets. In some cases, I am sure, such newspapers serve a useful purpose in filling a news void.

But in this case, to say the least, there are some disquieting aspects.

According to the Reporter Magazine article to which I have referred, certain Teamster members, who were employees of the News, are very much involved with the operations of the principal vulture press, called the Daily Express. For several months prior to the walkout, according to the magazine, one of the Teamsters had been carrying on discussions with a suburban publisher and making arrangements for the appearance of the strike paper.

The strike paper that was published during the long 1964 tieup reportedly made a half million dollars or more for its handful of backers. Several of the Teamsters who were connected with that venture, it is interesting to note, reportedly are closely associated with one of the current strike papers, the Daily Express.

At any rate, the Detroit News has filed a $175,000 suit against nine men, who were News circulation employees, charging them with conspiring to incorporate a strike paper as far back as last August. The suit also charged the men with unlawfully appropriating secret News circulation lists which are being used to circulate the strike paper.

In time the courts may settle this immediate issue. But fundamental questions remain — and they must be answered.

The Constitution says that Congress shall make no law abridging the Freedom of the Press. Should any labor union, then, arrogate to itself such a power? If the facts are as charged, what has happened in Detroit is nothing less than a shameful, selfish assault on one of our basic freedoms.

There is another and important matter which concerns me. Over the years, our labor-management laws have erected a delicate and responsive mechanism to insure collective bargaining in good faith. If the conspiracy charges made by the News are true, what a mockery of all those laws.

Before the News and Free Press can start their presses rolling again, a total of 14 contracts must be signed with 11 unions. Such a task is difficult enough without such hidden influences at work.

I have been told, I am glad to say, that some top officials of the Teamsters International are concerned about what is happening in Detroit. I hope that this is so, and that they will soon take a hand in settling this costly strike which already has gone on much too long for the welfare of all concerned.

This is a matter, Mr. President, which deserves prompt and careful attention by the appropriate committees of the Congress. In these critical times, more than ever before, the basis of our government is the opinion of the people — and they are entitled to all the information they can obtain to form that opinion.

As for myself, I intend to look more fully into this whole matter. If new legislation is needed, I shall not hesitate to recommend it and push its early enactment.

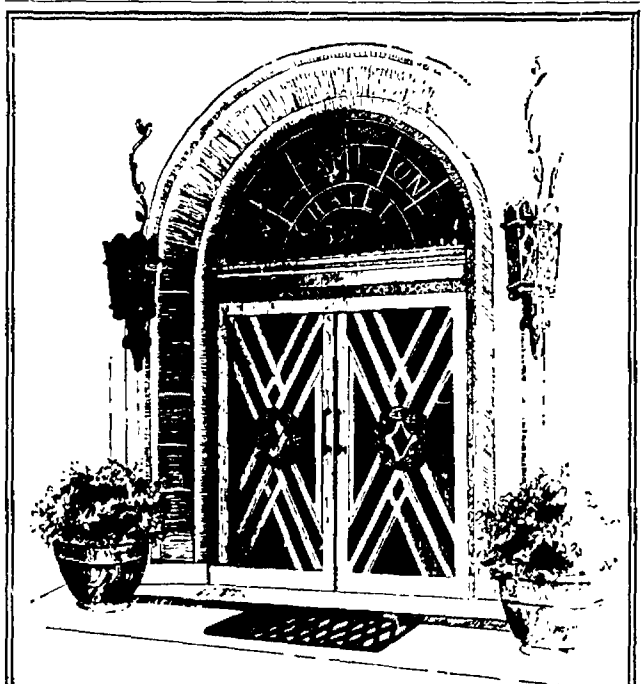

And finally, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent for insertion in the body of the Record immediately following my remarks the following:

The article from the Reporter Magazine to which I have referred:

A list of previous Detroit newspaper strikes, with dates when they began and ended, the duration and the striking union involved;

A list of contracts which must be negotiated before either the Detroit News or Free Press can resume publication;

And, lastly, a most perceptive column by James J. Kilpatrick dealing with the Detroit strike, from the Washington Star of November 26, 1967.

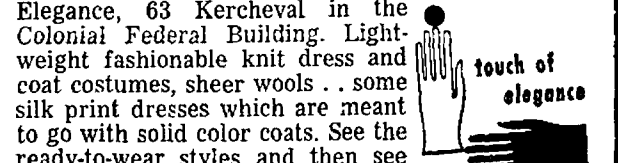

Over a century of service.

Do you want to de-fruit your crabapple trees so you can enjoy their bloom but avoid squashing those useless bits of fruit under your gardening shoes? Want to force hyacinths? . . . Find out why you shouldn't put pears and apples in the refrigerator? . . . Discover how to control the sex of the cucumber? . . . (this latter question had, frankly, never occurred to us, but we understand it can be done . . . now, isn't THAT interesting . . .)

Well, then . . . on Wednesday, February 7, at 11 o'clock in the morning, in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Crystal Ballroom, the Grosse Pointe Garden Center will present its Spring Lecturer, Dr. John Carew, who'll discuss "The Exciting World of Plant Research."

The witty, dynamic Dr. Carew is chairman of the Department of Horticulture at Michigan State University, famous in its field all over the world, where experiments in creating black roses and pink daffodils, tailored-to-size flowers and vegetables, even trees, are now being conducted and reviewed.

Following Dr. Carew's talk, at high noon in the same room, a subscription, ($3 per person) luncheon will be served.

Detroit Grand Opera Season Is Launched

Metropolitan's 10th Annual Visit To Detroit Begins May 20, Ends May 25; Seven Operas To Be Presented At Masonic Auditorium

The Detroit Grand Opera Association held its annual luncheon at the Detroit Institute of Arts on Monday, January 22, to launch the 25th opera season of the Association and the 10th annual Detroit appearance of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York.

The Metropolitan will present seven operas at the Masonic Auditorium next May.

Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, of Cloverly road, general chairman of the 1968 season, presided at the meeting.

Francis Robinson, assistant manager of the Metropolitan, spoke to 275 members of the Women's Committee.

"We have only one standard at the Metropolitan," said Robinson, "and that is the best. The Metropolitan is bringing its best to Detroit in May, including three new productions. All operas will have the New York casts."

The new productions are Bizet's "Carmen," Gounod's "Romeo et Juliette" and Verdi's "Luisa Miller." The latter two operas are being performed in Detroit for the first time.

Mrs. McElvenny emphasized the work of the Women's committee in increasing fund-raising activities and advertising revenue to help support the Association's sponsorship of the Metropolitan season.

Dr. David Di Chiera, of Oakland University, producer of "Overture to Opera," outlined the 1968 program of 15 scheduled performances throughout the Detroit area and southern Michigan.

"Overture" is the opera education project which brings opera excerpts to many more persons than the Masonic Auditorium can accommodate. It is sponsored by the Detroit Grand Opera Association, Oakland University and the University Center for Adult Education.

A first effort this year is the pre-education program in which 35 volunteers have been trained to visit schools to orient students to opera before they view "Overture."

"Overture to Opera VII" has scheduled performances of Menotti's "The Medium," Cherubini's "The Portuguese Inn" and

Meeting At Grand Opera Luncheon

The Great Hall of the Detroit Institute of Arts was the setting Monday, January 22, for the Detroit Grand Opera Association's annual luncheon, marking the beginning of the Association's 25th opera season and the 10th annual Detroit visit of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, scheduled for May. Pictured discussing prospects for the upcoming opera season are, (left to right), MRS. JANUARIUS A. MULLEN, of Lake court, Grosse Pointe 1968 opera co-chairman, MRS. THOMAS FISHER, of Lothrop road, member of the women's committee, FRANCIS ROBINSON, assistant manager of the Metropolitan, and MRS. RALPH McELVENNY of Cloverly road, general chairman for the 1968 opera season.

Act I of Puccini's "La Boheme."

J. Phillip Zaugg, Jr., of Toledo, O., baritone, won the $2,500 scholarship award offered by the Grinnell Foundation of Music, in the final auditions held in the Museum's main auditorium following the luncheon.

Zaugg has been obsoit with the Toledo Symphony Orchestra for the past 13 years. He has recently studied voice with Chase Baromeo, of Birmingham.

The judges, Madame Carolina Sigrera and Plata Karayanis, of New York, and Howard Harrington, of Detroit, predicted a promising future for Zaugg in opera roles.

Zaugg competed with six others. They included Emily Derr, soprano, of Lansing; Jane Purdy, soprano, of Lathrup Village; Robert Taylor, baritone, of Ann Arbor; Kenneth Young, baritone, of Detroit; Sue Young, soprano, of Detroit; and Sherry Zannoth, soprano, of Pontiac.

Following the auditions, Mr.

and Mrs. Sam B. Williams, of Pontiac, gave a dinner at the Park Shelton Hotel, in Detroit, for persons connected with the Grinnell Scholarship awards and the officers of the Grand Opera Association.

The Metropolitan Opera will appear in Detroit May 20 through May 25. The opening night performance will be Verdi's "Luisa Miller," with Montserrat Caballe, Sandor Konva, Sherrill Milnes, Bonaldo Giaiotti and Ezio Flagello. Fausto Cleva will conduct.

Tuesday evening will bring Mozart's "Le Nozze di Figaro," with Pilar Lorenzar, Mirella Freni, Teresa Stratas, Giorgio Tozzi, William Dooley and Fernando Corena. Francesco Molinari-Pradelli will conduct.

Verdi's "La Forza del Destino" is the Wednesday evening offering, with Gabriella Tucci, Franco Corelli, Robert Merrill, Ezio Flagello and Fernando Corena. The conductor is Joseph Rosenstock.

Thursday evening, Grace Bumbry, Mary Ellen Pracht, Nicolai Gedda and Justino Diaz will perform Bizet's "Carmen," with Alain Lombard conducting.

Friday evening, Francesco Molinari-Pradelli will conduct Puccini's "Madama Butterfly," with Teresa Stratas, Sandor Konva and Theodore Lambrosinos.

Saturday's matinee will be Puccini's "Tosca," with Gabriel La Tucci, Richard Tucker and Angelina Colzani. Fausto Cleva will conduct.

The final opera, on Saturday evening, will be Gounod's "Romeo et Juliette," with Mirella Freni, Franco Corelli, Marcia Baldwin, John Reardon, John Macurdy and Raymond Michalosi. Once again, Francesco Molinari-Pradelli will conduct.

The surest way to test a man's character is to find out if he lives up to his promises.

Mrs. George Simon, of Grosse Pointe Farms, has been selected to serve as chairman of the Detroit Spring Antique Show Benefit Preview. It will be held Wednesday, March 6th, 8:00-11:00 p.m. at the Light Guard Armory on East Eight Mile. Mrs. Simon has headed many fund raising programs, including ALSAC, Christ Child Society, PIME Missionaries, Junior Symphony and St. Paul Church. Her husband is President of U. S. Equipment Company and owns the unlimited racing hydroplane, Miss U. S. Another boat, Miss U. S. 1, holds the world's speed record for propeller driven boats, at 200.419 MPH.

The Spirit of Detroit Association will sponsor the Preview, which will feature champagne, hors d'oeuvres and prizes. Proceeds will be used to help raise funds to stage the 1968 Gold Cup Race, June 30th on the Detroit River.

The Antique Show has been selected by the National Association of Tourist Organizations in Washington, D. C., as one of the top twenty tourist attractions in the United States. The show which is 3rd largest in the country, will be open to the general public March 7-10, 1:00-10:00 p.m. daily and will feature 100 exhibitors, an appraisal booth and daily furniture refinishing seminars.

For Preview ticket information, call 823-3010.

YWCA Jubilee Dinner Feb. 7

Featured speaker at the YWCA's Diamond Jubilee Dinner will be the Honorable Theodore Souris, Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court. Scheduled for Wednesday, February 7, 1968, in the ballroom of the Engineering Society of Detroit, the dinner will be the first of many special events planned by the YWCA of Metropolitan Detroit to celebrate its 75 years of service to the three-county area.

The title of Justice Souris' speech will be "What is the YWCA Coming to?" and it is to be expected that some of his progressive social views will be incorporated in his challenge to the YWCA's future.

A part of that future will be the first capital funds drive in forty years. The campaign will be officially announced by Dale Sellers, Senior Vice-President, Bank of the Commonwealth and General Campaign Chairman.

A brief annual meeting, several awards, and a light-hearted historical presentation will complete the evening's program.

A reception will be held in the Founders' Room of the Rackham Building at 5:45 p.m., followed by the dinner at 6:30.

Tickets are $7.50 and tables of 8 are $80. Reservations must be made at local branches by February 3. The YWCA is a Torch Drive Service.

Nathan Milstein With Symphony

The world-renowned violinist Nathan Milstein will appear with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for the sixth time since 1953 on Thursday and Saturday evenings, February 8 and 10 at 8:30 in Ford Auditorium. Sixteen Ehrling will conduct.

Milstein will be heard playing his 1716 ex-Goldman Stradivarius in Dvorak's Concerto for Violin and Orchestra, A minor, Opus 53.

Ehrling will also lead the orchestra in Berg's Three Pieces from "Lyric Suite," for strings; Vaughan Williams' Symphony No. 9, E minor, and Bernard Rogers' "Three Japanese Dances." Leslie Eitzen, mezzo soprano, will sing the brief vocal part in the Bernard Rogers composition. All three works are new to the Detroit Symphony repertory.

Tickets for the concert are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office (961-0700), all 15 metropolitan Grinnell's stores and all Hudson's.

Nathan Milstein was born in Russia in 1904 and was a pupil of Leopold Auer at the St. Petersburg Conservatory. At the age of 19 he began touring Russia as a concert artist with another compatriot destined for international acclaim in the music world—pianist Vladimir Horowitz.

As a Russian emigre' in Paris in 1925, Milstein began his career anew, eventually finding his way to Brussels where he completed his violin studies with Eugene Ysaie and built an illustrious reputation on the concert stages of Europe. Each year since his American debut in 1929 with the Philadelphia Orchestra, his reputation as a master violinist has become more firmly established. He is the recipient of honors from many countries, the most recent being Austria's Cross of Honor, First Class.

Women Volunteers Honor Program Set

Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery, Of Lakeshore Road, Is Co-Chairman Of Volunteer Award Council, Sponsor Of February 14 Event

Hundreds of Grosse Pointe area women received invitations this week to Metropolitan Detroit's first community-wide recognition ceremony honoring outstanding women volunteers.

The event, scheduled for noon on Valentine's Day, February 14, in Cobo Hall, will be staged by the newly formed Volunteer Award Council, comprised of representatives of 35 leading women's organizations working in cooperation with Women for the United Foundation (WUF).

The award luncheon will be open to the public, and reservations may be made by telephoning the United Foundation, WO 5-7100.

Honored will be a group of women volunteers now being selected from nominations submitted by Wayne, Oakland and Macomb agencies and organizations as well as individuals.

Principal speaker for the luncheon will be actress-author Cornelia Otis Skinner, star of stage and radio.

A panel of judges is now at work choosing the group of not more than 12 tri-county women volunteers who will symbolize the many thousands who give their time and talents for community betterment.

Those selected will receive the council's first "Heart of Gold" awards signifying noteworthy service. A "Spirit of Detroit" charm will be attached to each gold heart award.

Serving on the panel of judges are public officials, media representatives, educators, clergy and executives from business and industry.

The recognition luncheon will culminate nearly a year of planning and organizing activities by women from throughout the metropolitan area.

Formation of the Volunteer Award Council and plans for the first awards ceremony were announced in November.

Co-chairmen of the Council are Mrs. Gerard R. Slattery, of Lakeshore road, and Mrs. Lynn A. Townsend, of Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Townsend is serving as chairman of the first "Heart of Gold" award ceremony and luncheon.

Other chairmen include structure and reservations, Mrs. Harold J. Schachern, WUF past president; tickets, Mrs. Francis W. Smith, of the American Red Cross and Women's Association of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra; hostesses, Mrs. Bert VandeVusse, of Mt. Clemens.

Heading the Screening and Judging committee is Robert T. Ross, manager of the employe programs department of Ford Motor Company prior to his retirement last summer. Nominations are being supervised by Mrs. Fran Harris, of the Women's Advertising Club, which pioneered in providing recognition for women volunteers.

Along with the Women's Advertising Club, the Central Business District (CRDA) has maintained an interest in events honoring women volunteers and has cooperated in launching the new program.

Those from this area serving on the Volunteer Award Council and planning to attend the recognition luncheon include Mrs. Charles R. Berger, of South Edgewood drive, representing Michigan Cancer Foundation; Mrs. William Y. Gard, of Dean Lane, Junior League of Detroit; Mrs. Gaylord W. Gillis Jr., of Merriweather road, Founders' Society Detroit Institute of Arts; Mrs. John F. Hering, of Kercheval avenue, American Red Cross; Mrs. Arthur Johnson, of Pemberton road, Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra; Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, of Cloverly road, Women's Committee, Detroit Grand Opera Association; Mrs. William Nagel, of Bedford road, Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries; and Mrs. Leonard R. West, of Hawthorne road, Collette Women's Volunteer Service.

Garden Center Heads

Woman's Club Group To Meet

The Bridge Group of the Grosse Pointe Woman's Club will meet next Wednesday, February 7, at 12 noon in the Alger House at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

Co-chairman Mrs. Alexander J. King will be assisted by Mrs. L. J. Cardwell and Mrs. Harry Speelman.

The Bridge Group will not meet in March.

Church Women Schedule Dinner

Members and guests of the Woman's Society of the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church will enjoy a "Taste and Tell" dinner at the Church the evening of Tuesday, February 6, at 6:30 o'clock.

All dishes are to be donated by members and each dish will be a specialty or favorite recipe of the one preparing it. The recipes will then be available to those who wish them.

Mrs. Perry Thomas is to be guest speaker and Mrs. Walter Griffith will give the devotions.

Reservations may be made by calling the Church office, 886-2323.

MR. and MRS. LARRY L. COOK, of Ithaca, announce the birth of a son, MATTHEW BRETT, January 18. Mrs. Cook is the former SANDRA LEE CLAVE, daughter of MR. and MRS. RAY P. CLAVE, of Doyle first grandchild.

Fine Pointes of Real Estate

By C. W. Toles, Jr., Realtor "Why Are There So Few Houses For Sale?"

The number of Grosse Pointe houses available for sale is by no means constant. Like other commodities, it fluctuates with the supply and demand.

During the 1950's the number of homes we could offer customers at any given time varied from 250 to 350. A reduced rate of sales during the business recession which began in 1957 increased the accumulation of properties to over 400 by 1961. That was a real "buyer's market," but many people failed to realize it and waited for prices to go lower. Some are still waiting.

Beginning in 1962, an increase in the rate of sales resulted in a steady decline in the supply of listings until two years ago. Since then it has ranged from 100 to 150. When a customer narrows these houses down to his size and price range, there aren't many left to choose from. If one of these doesn't satisfy his requirements, he is usually most discouraged. He needn't be. Although the number of houses currently available is unusually low, the steady flow of new listings is not much below normal. They just don't remain on the market as long as they once did. By keeping in close touch with the market, a buyer will find his future home among these new listings.

MINI

MOSTLY

Skirts continue short for spring and summer '68. Most well-dressed women will, for most occasions, set their hemlines at a becoming point somewhere around the knee or an inch or two above. It depends on age, attitude and figure, but skirts for the most part will be tastefully short. The briefer mini length remains a fashion fact for the very young. The midi or mid-calf length takes its place in the fashion picture as a fresh idea for after dark dressing. The midi is a shortening of long evening dresses, not a lengthening of the now and future short day clothes. Our new collections present a wardrobe of lengths. If you've any doubt where your individual hemlines should be, check our trained sales or alteration staff. At Hudson's we believe that good fashion is what's new and what's right for you.

U-D High Gala Night Set For February 17

Pointe Parents Helping Prepare For Parent-Student Fund-Raising Plus "Fun" Evening At The School

This year's University of Detroit High School Gala Night, sponsored annually by the U. of D. High Mothers' Club, begins at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, February 17.

Parents and their friends will gather in the School's gym, to be transformed by Mothers' Club members into a "Fabulous Forties" ballroom. Wally Engels and his 10-piece band will play tunes in the Glenn Miller-Dorsey Brothers tradition. Hundreds of reflected lights will play on black and white silhouettes of Stars of the Forties, mobiles of band instruments, street scenes and a huge golden saxophone against a velvet curtain in center stage.

For sports buffs, life-size pictures of the Sports Stars of the Forties will decorate the refreshment lounge to bring back memories—such as Tom Harmon, Newhauser, Joe Louis, and Ted Williams.

For students and their dates, the library will be the scene of the first costume party at U. of D. High. TV characters and network symbols will be used in the decorations. Music will be furnished by the Danny Tyrell Trio.

Joe Louis punch will be served to the young crowd in the primitive splendor of the African Room, (in real life, the cafeteria). The group of nine singers and instrumentalists who will entertain there is The Filet of Soul band.

Chairman Mrs. William O'Brien and co-chairman Mrs. John Racine, under the leadership of president Mrs. Frank Chambers, note that behind all the fun there lies a serious purpose.

Each year the mothers pick a worthy project and so continue the tradition they started 31 years ago: that of doing something constructive for the school their sons attend.

This year the money will be used to build departmental "stations" on the library balcony. Each department in the school, (English, History, Science, etc.), will have an alcove for its research books and papers, desk space for teachers and students being interviewed or for departmental conferences.

This has been needed for some time and will be a big help to teachers and students alike.

Helping with Gala Night preparations are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Egnatios, of Webber place, whose son, Edward, attends U. of D. High; Dr. and Mrs. F. Mullen Barrett, of Touraine road, who have two sons, Daniel A. and Patrick M., in the School; and the Henry Cornillies, of University place, whose son, Daniel J., is a U. of D. High student.

More Pointe U. of D. Hochbein, of Putnam place; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Tapert and Michael J. Tapert, of Westchester road; the Lionel Birds and Thomas Bird, of Whittier road; and the Louis Detlines and Gregory J. Detline, of Roslyn road.

Set Garden Club Meeting Feb. 7

The monthly meeting of the Windmill Pointe Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. George W. Johnson, in Berkshire road, on Wednesday, February 7, at 12:30 o'clock. Following luncheon and a business meeting, James Farquhar will lecture and give a demonstration on "Making Ivy Trees."

An ounce of confidence in yourself is worth tons in others.

June Bride

Planning a June 22 wedding are LYNAYE ANN SHEPHERD and Larry Prior, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Shepherd, of Allard road.

Miss Shepherd will receive her Bachelor of Arts degree from Western Michigan University in April, when she completes her student teaching at Ferry School.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Prior, of Bedford road, will receive his Bachelor of Science degree from Ferris State College in June.

Mr. Eschenbach Will Take Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wiggant, of East Detroit, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Jean, to Charles H. Eschenbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Eschenbach, of Hollywood avenue.

The bride-to-be attended Michigan State University, majoring in the Graphic Arts, and is currently a member of the Macomb Daily Newspaper Art Department.

Her fiancé was graduated from Wofford College, Spartanburg, in 1965. He affiliated with Kappa Alpha Order social fraternity.

He subsequently attended the Detroit College of Law where he affiliated with Delta Theta Phi legal fraternity.

The couple plans a July 8 wedding in Immanuel Methodist Church, East Detroit.

Being a good husband is like any other job—much easier if you get along with the boss.

Spring Bride

A spring wedding is being planned by SUSAN LYNN HARKONEN and William A. Kretler, whose engagement has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Reino L. Harkonen, of Kerby road.

Both the bride-elect, who is also the daughter of the late Mr. Harkonen, and her fiancé, son of the V. A. Kretlers, of Indiana avenue, Detroit, are graduates of the University of Michigan, where she affiliated with Sigma Kappa sorority.

Purdue's Glee Club Coming

Purdue University's world-famous Varsity Glee Club will present its annual Detroit concert at Ford Auditorium February 2.

Under the direction of Dr. Albert P. Stewart since 1933, the Glee Club was fondly named "The American Meistersingers" during its 1964 concert tour of the European continent. The Glee Club has spellbound audiences from coast to coast, and on innumerable TV broadcasts. It received rave reviews for its performance at the Hollywood Palladium during 1967 Rose Bowl festivities.

Repertoire for the all-male chorus extends from classic through folk and pop music. Every performance ends with Battle Hymn of The Republic Overseas, the Glee Club found that this song greatly moved audiences which could not even understand its words. The performance starts at 8:30 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door at $2.50. Advance tickets are also available from Detroit Purdue Club members, in Grosse Pointe, Mrs. Ken Kimmel, 882-3282.

People who really aim to please don't have to take time out for target practice.

Annual Meeting Held By Catholic Women

Agency Heads Report On Year's Work; Officers Of Executive Board And Board Of Directors Elected; Honorary Board Created

The annual meeting and luncheon of the League of Catholic Women was held Friday, January 26, at the League's residence in Parsons street, Detroit. Starting its 61st year of community service to the city of Detroit, the League invited key civic leaders as special guests to hear reports of its various agencies and programs.

Detroit's Mayor, The Honorable Jerome Cavanaugh; Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., chairman of the New Detroit Committee; Police Commissioner Ray Girardin; Jacques Cousin, director of the United Foundation; Richard Huegli, director of the United Community Services; and Manager Wilbur Suedkamp, secretary of Catholic Charities, were among the guests.

Another honor guest was the Most Reverend Bishop Joseph M. Breitenbeck, who gave the invocation and brought greetings from the Archbishop and the Diocese.

Reporting the work of the Executive vice-president, Miss Mildred Feely; vice-president, Mrs. Thomas B. McCarthy; vice-president, Mrs. Joseph Whight; vice-president, Mrs. Emmet E. Tracy; vice-president, Mrs. G. Patrick O'Connell; vice-president, Miss Charlotte Day; treasurer, Mrs. Alex E. Motter; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Burke; recording secretary, Mrs. John C. Campbell, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. John C. Cook.

The two positions of executive vice-presidents were new to the roster this year.

Because of the expanding responsibilities of the president, Mrs. Lundy will act as administrative assistant and Miss Feely as community representative, attending the many meetings in the area in which the League is asked to participate.

Another new category is that of the Honorary Board, members who because of their long-time services to the League of Catholic Women have been given special status while still retaining full privileges of Board Membership.

Those so honored were: Mrs. Wilfred Casgrain, Mrs. Edward P. Hammond and Mrs. Edward J. McHugh.

Five new names appear on the Board of Directors list: Mrs. Jose Bebin, Mrs. Thomas H. Kelley, Mrs. Ray Lawler, Mrs. Leo Marx and Mrs. F. M. Van Doorne.

Because the League's annual Membership Campaign begins within a few weeks, Mrs. Brennan combined the kick-off of that effort with the annual meeting and luncheon, inviting the 165 Parish directors to attend.

This important group carries on the actual re-enrollment of present members of the League and the solicitation of new members. It is the major source of income underwriting the budgets of the various services.

Name Kathy Lynn Sanford DAR Chap. 'Good Citizen'

Kathy Lynn Sanford, of Harper Woods High School, has been selected to receive a Good Citizen Award from the Elizabeth Cass Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Kathy is now eligible to compete with other senior girls across the state of Michigan for the title of "Miss Michigan State Good Citizen."

Miss Good Citizen is chosen on the basis of patriotism, dependability, leadership and service.

Kathy is editor of the 1968 Harper Woods High School Yearbook, has an been active Student Council member for three years, is a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the Drama Class, a Woodsman reporter and Senior Prom chairman. She is taking a College Preparatory course.

A Good Citizen pin and Certificate of Award will be presented to her February 5, at a tea in the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center.

Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sanford, of Stonehurst road.

Greet Guests At Power Squadron Ball

COMMANDER and MRS. FRED G. SCHRIEVER, of Clairview road, (left), and PAST COMMANDER and MRS. ROY W. VORHEES, of Hampton road, headed the receiving line at the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron's Annual Commander's Ball, held last Saturday evening at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Also on hand to welcome the more than 400 Power Squadron members and guests who attended the party were Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Edward Kimmen, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Howard Stoneback, Secretary and Mrs. John H. Wood and Treasurer and Mrs. Donald G. Strand.

'Bravo Portugal' Movies Slated

Full-length color movies of "Bravo Portugal" will be shown by Lisa Checkering and Jeanne Porterfield, New York documentary film photographers, on the World Adventure Series at 3:30 Sunday afternoon, February 4, at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Misses Chickering and Porterfield toured 7,000 miles through Portugal filming among other places, gay, historic Lisbon, the "royal Riviera" at Estoril, Nazara and a fisherman's life, Fatima crowded with 700,000 pilgrims, Sintra, Sagres, racing ships, the wine industry, and fishing for giant 600-pound tuna.

OUR OWN Helen Lee
PUTS PASTELS ASIDE TO DABBLE
IN LITTLE GIRL GRAPHICS

One of the nicest things about a girl having Helen Lee as her very own couturiere is that Helen Lee understands. She knows that a girl gets bored with all those sweetly pastels. So, Miss Helen Lee picked up her brush and put it in the inkpot. Came up with inky strokes of blue and black. Splashed them all over crispy white. Sometimes in circles. Sometimes in lots of criss-crossing lines. Great graphics, you might say, on cottons or acrylic knit, for our toddler's size 2 to big sister's size 12. And $10 to $16, just for us in our Girls' Collections.

UCS Women Slate Anniversary Lunch

Pointers Planning Program Include Mrs. Mark Ethridge, Jr., Of Washington Road, Who Is Chairman Of The Day

Dr. J. William Rioux, of Devonshire road will be the principal speaker when the Women's Committee of United Community Services (UCS) observes its 33rd anniversary on Monday, February 5, at 12 noon, at Masonic Temple's Crystal Room.

The UCS luncheon will mark the first community appearance of Dr. Rioux since he was named president of the world-famed Merrill-Palmer Institute last fall.

He will speak on "The New Detroit: What Will It Expect of You?"

Grosse Pointe women heading plans for the UCS luncheon include Mrs. Mark Ethridge, Jr., of Washington road, chairman; Mrs. Wilbur M. Brucker, Jr., of Washington road, Mrs. Philip N. Buckminster, of Tonnancour place; Mrs. John W. Coe, of Meadow lane; Mrs. Alden W. Gallup, of Oxford road, Mrs. Forrest R. Old and Mrs. William Tily, of Yorkshire road.

The national reputation enjoyed for three decades by the UCS Women's Committee has been a result of successful efforts, year after year, to educate the community about the work and value of social agencies and to encourage women in accepting volunteer responsibilities.

The group, now numbering nearly 5,000, is an important arm of United Community Services, the organization responsible for the planning and coordination of social services and for the budgeting of Torch Drive dollars for local health and welfare agencies.

NANCY ELIZABETH KAUFMANN, daughter of the LYNDON J. KAUFMANNs, of St. Paul avenue, is among the 53 students who have been admitted to Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Va., in the Class of 1972 under the Early Decision Plan. Nancy is a member of the senior class at Liggett School.

May Bride

May wedding plans are being made by JOANNE MARIE KOERNER and William Timothy Campbell, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Koerner, of Three Mile drive.

The bride-elect is presently studying at Wayne State University. Her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Campbell, of Moross road, was graduated from St. Paul High School and is currently working for the Xerox Corporation.

Education won't make everyone a leader, but it will teach us which leader to follow.

Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Carle Cubberly, of University place, have announced the engagement of their daughter, CORLISS PATRICIA, to Rick J. Davis, son of Mrs. Cleodena Davis of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Eldon L. Davis, currently serving with the United States Navy in Vietnam.

Both the bride-elect and her fiance will be graduated from Michigan State University in March.

A May wedding is being planned.

April Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Slowik, of Doyle place, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, ELAINE BERNADETTE, to Gerald Radloff, son of Stewart Radloff, of Detroit, and the late Helen Radloff, and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. George Ulichen, of Harper Woods.

Elaine, an alumna of Central Michigan University, is currently teaching at East Detroit High School. Her fiance, also a teacher at East Detroit High School, holds a Masters degree from Eastern Michigan University.

An April wedding is planned.

Faculty Wives Group To Meet

The Grosse Pointe Faculty Wives' Card Group will meet Monday evening, February 5, at 7:30 o'clock in the Home-making Room at the Brownell Junior High School.

Theme for the evening will be "Aces High," to be carried out in table decorations and tallies.

Chairman for the evening will be Mrs. Roger McCaig. Assisting her are Mrs. William Craig, Mrs. James Curlett, Mrs. Jerry Gerich, Mrs. Ronald Ladd and Mrs. Tony Spadafore.

Noted Author At Town Hall

Dr. Haim Ginott, author of the No. 1 best-seller, "Between Parent and Child," will be the speaker at Detroit Town Hall Wednesday, February 7, at 11 a.m. in Fisher Theatre.

Luncheon following the program will be at the Mauna Loa Restaurant.

Dr. Ginott, who is a child psychologist on the staff of New York University, has won wide attention for his practical approach to dealing with children, their parents and teachers.

According to Ginott, well-meaning advice like "Give the child more love" is wasted on parents in the throes of declared or undeclared war with their children. "Parents are confronted with concrete problems that require specific solutions, not cliché advice," Dr. Ginott says.

His book, as well as his lecture, fills this need by offering concrete suggestions for dealing with daily situations and problems.

Dr. Ginott has been seen 15 times on the Today Show and has been a guest on the Mike Douglas Show.

Tickets are available at the Detroit Town Hall office, 405 Fisher Bldg., 872-7530.

Women Golfers Name Officers

Members of Suburban Women Golfers' Nine-Hole Group gathered for their annual mid-winter luncheon Tuesday, January 23, at the Golden Lion.

President Mrs. C. Gregory Marshall welcomed the ladies and introduced officers and committee chairmen for the coming season, including Mrs. Bruce T. Carty, vice-president; Mrs. Don McCubbin, secretary; Mrs. Robert Aynault, treasurer; Mrs. John Cushman, membership; Mrs. John Marr and Mrs. Frank Cobb, handicap; Mrs. William Fox and Mrs. David Burgess, events; Mrs. Richard Lane, ringer; Mrs. Thomas Davis, prizes; Mrs. George Richards, rules; and Mrs. George Grenzke, publicity.

The golfers will resume Wednesday play day at Partridge Creek May 1.

Grenzke-Miller Troth Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Miller, of West Elizabeth, Pa., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Janet Sue, to Gregory Lee Grenzke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Grenzke, of Shoreham road.

Miss Miller is a senior Political Science major at the University of Michigan and is a member of Pi Sigma Alpha Political Science honorary and Delta Delta Delta.

Mr. Grenzke is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and is attending the University of Michigan School of Medicine. He is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon Chemistry honorary and Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Plans are being made for an August wedding.

Artists Market Shows 'Images'

"Selected Images," featuring works by Mignnette Cheng, Michele Doner, Ray Fleming, William Szaro and Linda Talaba, opens this afternoon, Thursday, February 1, at the Detroit Artists Market in Randolph street, with a 3 to 6 o'clock reception.

The Show will continue at the Market through February 24. Gallery hours are 10 to 5 o'clock, Monday through Saturday.

Lamb-Slowik Rites Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lamb, of Scarsdale, N. Y., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Ann, to Lawrence Slowik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Slowik, of Doyle place.

The prospective bridegroom was graduated from the University of Detroit.

An early June wedding is planned.

To Hold Reunion At Camp Cavell

Camp in a snowy setting will be the scene of YWCA Camp Cavell's 8th Annual reunion February 17-18. Over 100 teenage girls, residents of the camp last summer, are expected to attend.

Swim fins will be traded for ice skates and toboggans, sleds and discs will replace other summer sports equipment. The busy program planners also remembered to allow plenty of time for the warmth of renewing friendships and catching up on all the girl talk.

The weekend reunion will begin Saturday, February 17, at 9 a.m. when buses leave the Downtown and Oakland Branch YWCA Buildings for Camp Cavell, located just north of Lexington on Lake Huron.

After a two-day stay at the fully winterized camp, buses will return to the two YWCA branches at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Reservations will be accepted until February 9 at the Camp Cavell office, 2230 Witherell, or by phone at 961-9720.

An all-inclusive fee of $15.75 for the weekend includes transportation, room and board and insurance.

Set Fontbonne Meetings Feb. 7

The regular monthly meeting of the Fontbonne Auxiliary, Saint John Hospital, will be held on Wednesday, February 7, at 2 o'clock, at the Hospital.

The meeting will be preceded by Mass in St. Edward Chapel at 12 noon for all living and deceased members of the auxiliary.

Dale Anderson Weds In East

The marriage of Margaret Ellen Meacham, daughter of The Reverend and Mrs. Paul L. Meacham, of Havertown, Pa., and Dale Roy Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Anderson, of Beaufort road, took place at 2:30 o'clock Saturday, January 27, in the Memorial Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church of Ardmore, Pa.

Miss Anderson With Symphony

Marian Anderson, internationally famous American contralto, will appear as narrator at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's next Kresge Concert Tuesday evening, February 13, at Ford Auditorium. Concert time is 8:30 o'clock.

Music director and conductor Sixten Ehrling will be on the podium.

The Reverend William Faulds at the ceremony. A reception followed in the church parlor.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an Empire gown of candlelight satin and old lace and a short illusion veil attached to a satin Dior bow. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Peter Keppelman, of Rosemont, Pa., was matron of honor. She wore an Empire gown of lavender Italian brocade and carried a nosegay of pink elegance carnations and red roses.

David Veenendaal, of Canal Winchester, O., acted as best man, and the ushers were the bride's brothers, William P. Meacham, of New York City, and John D. Meacham, of Havertown.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will reside at Union Theological Seminary in New York City.

The bride is a graduate of the Havertown Township Senior High School and has attended Warren Wilson College in North Carolina and the Katharine Gibbs School in New York.

Her husband is a graduate of Grosse Pointe High School and Williams College. He has served as instructor in English at New Asia College, Kowloon, Hong Kong, was active in business in Saigon, Vietnam, and is now a student at Union Theological Seminary.

Miss Anderson will narrate Aaron Copland's "A Lincoln Portrait" which will be the first performance of the composition by the Orchestra in Detroit.

Other works on the program will be Rossini's Overture to "La Gazza Ladra," Tchaikovsky's "Serenade for Strings," Enesco's "Rumanian Rhapsody No. 2" and Hindemith's "Symphonic Metamorphosis of Themes by Weber."

Carrying out the Lincoln theme in commemoration of his birthday, Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum have plans for a special exhibit in the auditorium lobby that evening. The exhibit will include original photographs, lithographs and other Lincoln memorabilia.

Tickets for the concert are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office (961-0700), all 15 metropolitan Grinnell's stores and all Hudson's stores.

Marian Anderson is a legend to millions. Winner of the $10,000 Bok Award, the Springarn Medal, 24 honorary doctorates of music and countless other honors, she is represented in a mural in the Department of the Interior in Washington, D.C.

She has sung three times in the White House and has received medals and other decorations from Sweden, Japan, Finland, Haiti, Liberia, France and the Philippines, plus scores of organizations, cities and states.

"A voice like yours is heard only once in a hundred years," said Arturo Toscanini when he heard her at the Mozarteum in Salzburg in 1935.

Church Women Slate Meetings

Circle meetings for the Women's Association of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church are scheduled Tuesday, February 6, with Mrs. Walter E. Pattee opening her Kensington road home to members of Circle One, Mrs. Douglas Smith opening her Kenwood Court home to members of Circle Two, and Mrs. Richard Edwards opening her Chalfonte avenue home to members of Circle Three.

Mrs. Cyril Barrett, of Kenwood court, will entertain members of Circle Four, Mrs. Clifford W. Hoye, of Merriweather road, will entertain members of Circle Five, and Mrs. Charles Beltz, of Lakeland avenue, will entertain members of Circle Six.

Circle Seven will gather at the Van K drive home of Mrs. S. W. George, whose co-hostess will be Mrs. Herbert Allison. Alice Willson will open her Maison road home to members of Circle Eight.

Mrs. Raymond Eddy is taking reservations for the Wednesday, February 7, meeting of the Detroit Presbyterian Association, to be held at the Drayton Avenue Church in Ferndale from 10 until 2 o'clock. The Reverends Henry Jones, Maxwell Robinson and Henri R. Feger will present a panel discussion: "Conversation with Missionaries."

The Memorial Church Elizabeth Ketchum Group will meet at the Neff road home of Mrs. Frederick W. Evans Friday, February 9, at 1 o'clock. Devotions will be led by Mrs. George L. Lowry.

"Crisis in the Middle East" will be discussed by The Reverend Cornelius B. Houk, assistant pastor of the Southfield Presbyterian Church, at the Women's Association program meeting Tuesday, February 13, at 10:30 o'clock, at Memorial Church.

Dr. Houk, a graduate of the University of Chicago and San Francisco Theological Seminary, spent four years in Lebanon as a fraternal worker with the Commission on Ecumenical Mission and Relations, teaching a course in Religion at Beirut College for Women.

His special interest was the relationships of Christians and Muslims.

Mrs. James O. Handley, Jr., is chairman of the day, and Mrs. Lawrence Ruby will lead the devotions. Reservations must be made before noon Friday, February 9.

Form Theater For Children

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial's Children's Theatre opens its doors to both returning and new members on Saturday, February 24.

Old members will begin try-outs, training and rehearsals on that date and prospective members will be interviewed then by the director, Mrs. Sydney Reynolds, between 10 and 12 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m.

The Children's Theatre is divided into an apprentice group which meets Saturday mornings and an advanced group meeting Saturday afternoons.

Both groups produced plays and musicals on the stage of Fries Auditorium. They receive training in diction, voice production, acting, stage craft, make up, costuming and directing. Many Children's Theatre members have been successes on radio and TV where there is a constant demand for young people. Season enrollment in the Grosse Pointe Children's Theatre is $36.

Suffers Cuts In Bad Fall

City Police received a report from Cottage Hospital that they had an injured man, Robert G. Forward, 528 Neff lane, there being treated for facial cuts, received from a fall in the vestibule of his home that evening, Thursday, January 25.

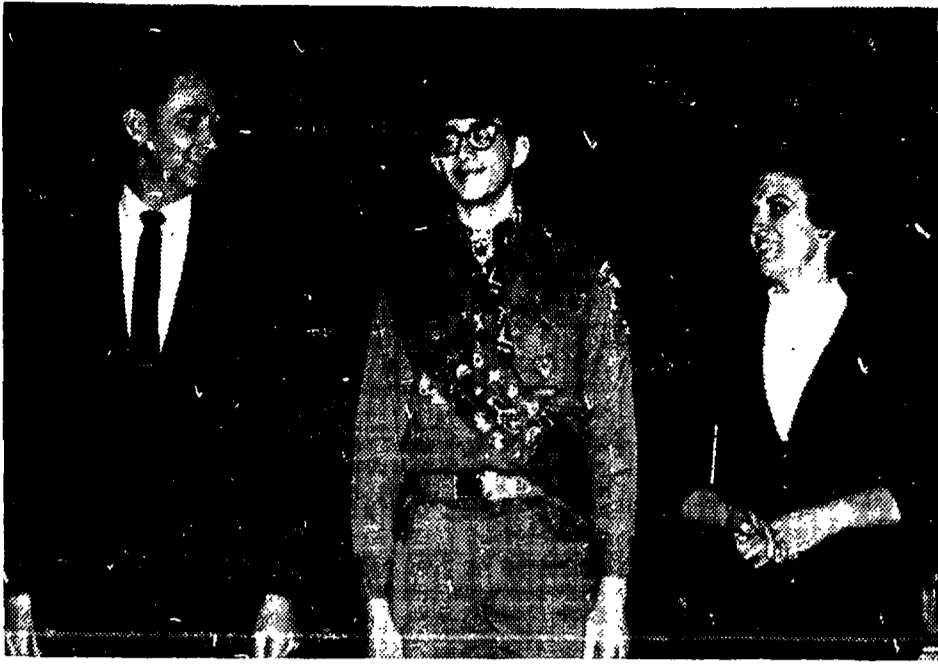

Officers Donald Pryor and Edward Miller went to the apartment building and talked to another resident, Shirley Richard. Miss Richard told the officers that about 7:15 p.m. she heard a crash and ran to look in the vestibule and saw Mr. Forward on the floor. Apparently Mr. Forward had just entered the building from the outside and slipped on the tile floor. His head went through the bottom pane of glass in the vestibule window.

With the help of the apartment owner, Miss Richard and Mr. Forward's daughter took him to Cottage Hospital.

Northeastern Women Will Hear Robert Orr

Northeastern Woman's Club will meet at 1:30 o'clock Monday, February 12, in St. Philip's and St. Stephen's Episcopal Church parlors, Frankfort avenue, Detroit, to hear Grosse Pointe Public Libraries director Robert Orr discuss "What America Is Reading." Hostesses will be Mrs. A.W. Moncrieff and Mrs. Clement Seed.

Proud Parents With New Eagle Scout

Boy Scouts of Troop 147, sponsored by the Defer School Parent Teacher Association, participated in an impressive "Eagle Trail" ceremony at their Court of Honor held Monday, January 22. Highest honors went to Ken Peat, pictured with Dr. and Mrs. Alex Peat, of Devonshire road, his parents, for reaching the top of the trail, Eagle Scout Rank. Others singled out for having reached various levels along the trail were Don Carrier, tenderfoot; Jim Peat, first class; Anthony Buffa, personal fitness and camping merit badges; Ron Irvin, cooking, camping and home repairs merit badges, and Star Scout rank.

Fashionscope Spring '68 will, after all, be presented at Hudson's downtown store, and even if Detroit IS the Motor Capital of the World, we've yet to find a suburbanite who really LIKES to drive downtown, so we think the Fashionscope Committee's Pointe-to-Detroit-and-back bus excursions are an excellent idea.

Patroness ticket purchasers may subscribe to these round-trip-bus-luncheon packages, scheduled both Fashionscope days.

Subscribers will drive their own cars to a specified luncheon spot, have cocktails and lunch with the group, then take the bus to and from downtown.

Three busses are scheduled the first Fashionscope day, Tuesday, February 27. Two, with hostesses Mrs. Lyndie Martin and Mrs. Taylor H. Seeber, Mrs. Alison G. Denison and Mrs. William H. Bundesen, will leave from the Old Place.

The third, with hostesses Mrs. James F. Barker and Mrs. Donald Hunter, will depart from and return to Huck's Lakeshore.

The second and final Fashionscope day, Wednesday, February 28, a single bus will run from the Old Place, with Mrs. Gerald C. Schroeder and Mrs. Eugene Kormeier as hostesses.

Mrs. William J. Collins is supervising all bus trip details.

Reunion In Jamaica

All of the Fashionscope bus trip hostesses are, we're sure, busy, "involved-with-things" ladies, but the prize for the busiest, most involved, (at least in recent weeks), must go to Mrs. Bundesen . . .

The Bundesens left their Lincoln road home and flew down to Montego Bay, Jamaica, for Christmas, rendezvousing there with their daughter, Lilian, her husband, Curtis A. Cormier, and their son, David, who recently moved from Chicago, Ill., to Jackson, and their younger daughter, Ana, her husband, Captain Richard A. Stevenson, and their children, Kimberly, Richard and Todd, who came from Smyrna, Tenn., where Captain Stevenson is stationed at Seward Air Force Base.

While the adults relaxed in the balmy 80° weather, (sunny, with no rain), the children built snowmen with white sand . . .

And BEFORE she left for Jamaica, Mrs. Bundesen, as chairman of the Detroit Boat Club's Flower committee, supervised a "Bargantique" sale of centerpieces made from materials left over from past Boat Club party arrangements plus the decoration of the Club for the holidays . . .

Miscellany . . .

Barbara Longyear, daughter of the Donald Longyears, of Grand Marais boulevard, is looking ahead—to January 1, 1969, when she'll be presented to society at the annual Debutante Assembly New Year's Ball, a dinner-dance at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Thatcher W. Rea, Jr., are showing Camp Deerhorn movies in their Merriweather road home this coming Tuesday, February 6, to a group including 1967 campers James Cioe, Gary Dale, Bart and Chip Dickson, Peter Howard, Jim Klimchuk, Bill Rea and Geoff Simonds, all Pointers . . . Deerhorn's owners are Dr. and Mrs. Don C. Broadbridge, of Edgemere road, and the Junior Broadbridges, of Northbrook, Ill. . . Mrs. Broadbridge, Jr., is coming to town for the "show," and will be the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bradford Aarons, of Rivard boulevard, owners of Deerhorn's sister camp, Bryn Afon, in Rhineland, Wis. . .

February 14 is the date of the Women's Association of Goodwill Industries of Greater Detroit's annual Guest Day Program and Tea, honoring past-presidents of the Association, presidents of women's organizations and ministers' wives of Metropolitan Detroit . . . The "Day" begins at 1 o'clock in Goodwill's Brush street building . . .

Dog's Admirer Being Sought

It was a hot summer night . . . a typical August night in Detroit. As Esther Vine sat on her porch in West Elizabeth street, near Tiger Stadium, a parade of Tiger fans headed for the ballgame.

Two of these fans stopped to chat with Mrs. Vine, the lady, a petite, gray-haired matron, exclaimed when she saw Mrs. Vine's dog, "Why that's my dog . . . I mean it looks just like my dog who died recently. I'd love to have her . . . you wouldn't think of selling her would you?"

Although Mrs. Vine was pleased to have someone admire her dog, she quickly assured the lady that she would never part with "Goldie."

Vine, who is 70 years old, has arthritis and her home is just too much for her to manage, so she is moving in with friends. Her friends have a dog, so now she must part with "Goldie."

Because Mrs. Vine hasn't forgotten the gentle, gray-haired Grosse Pointe matron who expressed an interest in "Goldie," she is cheered because she feels that maybe—just maybe—the dog and the lady could get together.

The only other information Mrs. Vine has on the Grosse Pointe matron is that she and her husband are about 50 years old and that the lady does church work. She might be one of the News readers and would like to contact Mrs. Vine at 963-9559.

Pointe Artists Plan Meeting

Peggy Midener, head of the Children's classes at the Detroit Society of Arts and Crafts and adult classes teacher, is coming to the Grosse Pointe War Memorial Center February 5, at 8 o'clock, as a critique for members of the Grosse Pointe Artists' Association.

Mrs. Midener has a very fine reputation in the world of art and has exhibited in Michigan shows, receiving many prizes. She is married to Walter Midener, prominent sculptor.

The Grosse Pointe Artists' Association has a permanent rotating art exhibit in the foyer of the Fries Auditorium. The next new hanging will go up February 10. All these works are for sale.

Cub Pack 86 Very Active

Cub Pack 86 of Trombly School has had a busy December and January. Cubmaster DuWayne Peterson reports a perfect uniform inspection in December for the entire Pack. A Christmas Party was held with over 500 cookies provided by the Cubs. Fourteen boys won 21 awards.

The Pack committee is headed by Dr. Paul Brownell. Pat Freeman is secretary and treasurer, Warren Couger. Den leader coach is Nancy Peterson, awards, Richard Edin and Webelos den leader, Remi Vandebroek.

The January planning session was held at the Cougers, and on January 31 the planning is to be at the Edins.

The January pack meeting was a father and son gym night. Races, relays, ring ropes and tumbling were the events. Awards were presented, 19 to 13 different boys in old clothes and tennis shoes for this special meeting.

Fred Duemling arranged a field trip to the Nike Site at Selfridge Field for the entire pack and fathers on Saturday, January 20. The guests viewed actual elevation of missiles, etc.

Working den mothers are Mrs. William Brownell, Mrs. Remi Vandebroek, Mrs. Fred Duemling, Mrs. R. Eissa, Mrs. DuWayne McCaferty and Mrs. DuWayne Peterson.

David Scobie, an expert in the field, guided the Webelos boys with experiments through the scientist award assisting Mr. Vandebroek and Mrs. Frank Farina.

Silver Arrows were won by Raymond Eissa, Michael Van Coillie, Dennis Kummer, Donald Kummer, Charles Copes and Bill McCaferty. Bruce Scobie was awarded Wolf, Gold Arrow and Silver Arrow.

Richard Duemling won Wolf and Gold Arrow; Roland Vandebroek won his Bear as did William Brownell. Bradley Peterson became Wolf.

In the Webelos the new metal badges were awarded as follows: Steve Peterson, sportsman, engineer, and scientist; John Farina, sportsman, engineer and scientist; Rene Vandebroek, sportsman, showman, engineer, geologist and scientist; Gary Freeman, sportsman, engineer and scientist; Todd Richardson, sportsman and scientist; John Van Coillie, engineer, geologist and scientist; Richard Edin, sportsman, engineer, artist and scientist; Gary Duemling, scientist; Robert Johnson, sportsman and scientist.

The next pack meeting will be Wednesday, February 7 at 7:30 p.m. at Trombly School.

Complete Study of Government

The Seniors of Saint Paul High School have recently completed the study of American Government as required by Michigan law. The study was intended not only to attain a knowledge of their government but also to inspire them to take an active part in directing the course of that government.

Throughout the semester students have been encouraged to see their government in action. They have been present at court trials and city council meetings. Special interest has been aroused by interviews with state and local legislators, judges, lawyers and business men.

Among the speakers provided for the government classes were representatives from both the Republican and Democratic parties. These political speakers stressed the need for being a part of the local level of action. They reminded the students that government doesn't just happen; people make it happen and only if citizens work through the ground level of a political party do they have a voice in the issues of that party and in the nominations of its candidates. They pointed out that education, and particularly Christian education, carries with it a responsibility of helping to form the principles through which their government functions.

In the second semester, the Social Studies Department provides a study of the economic systems of the world. The students will evaluate the strengths and weaknesses of Democracy, Socialism and Communism as a basis for their knowledge of world situations.

Groundhog Controversial

By Pepper Whitelaw Mail the Mighty Groundhog, for tomorrow is his day! The one day of the year that he is King of the Mountain. For all of us lesser beings, who wait with bated breath to see whether he'll turn tail and run back into his hole or stay above ground, he can bring smiles or tears.

The groundhog legend came to the United States with the early settlers from Germany, who planted their crops in accordance with this superstition. Since the settlers were unable to find hedgehogs they transferred their beliefs to the groundhog.

Pennsylvania has had a lot of fun with "groundhog fables." Many organizations have been formed there to observe the movements of the groundhog on February 2. Among the clubs formed for this purpose are the Punxatowney Groundhog Club, founded in 1898, the Slumbering Groundhog Lodge of Quarryville and the Greater Philadelphia Groundhoggers.

Some of these clubs give automatic full memberships to any persons born on February 2, (this news delighted my husband who has a February 2 birthday, he can hardly wait to get his membership pin!) People born in the month of February can be associates in these clubs while other who have no personal February connection are merely woodchicks.

Some time ago the National Geographic Society declared that the groundhog idea was ridiculous and said Groundhog Day should be abolished. Weathermen cringe at the mention of this groundhog legend and even claim that Mr. Groundhog has been right only 28 percent of the time But then how often are our weathermen right?

Say what you will about the groundhog legend, to those of us who have faith in the little creature it's a day to which we'll always look forward. After all, who else will help us decide whether to start taking our spring clothes out of storage?

Pilbeam-Pierce Betrothal Told

The engagement of Carol Sue Pierce and Thomas E. Pilbeam is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen G. Pierce, of Ionia. Mr. Pilbeam is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Pilbeam, of Westchester road.

Miss Pierce, a graduate of Ionia High School, attended Michigan State University and will be graduated in March from Davenport College, Grand Rapids. She is affiliated with Sigma Iota Chi sorority, of which she is vice-president.

Her fiance was graduated from Grosse Pointe High School, served with the United States Air Force and is a senior at Michigan State University.

An August 31 wedding, in Ionia, is planned.

REPORTS LARCENY

Bernard Schohl of 1490 Anita, complained to Woods police on Wednesday, January 24, that while his car was parked on Goethe at Anita, an unknown person, or persons, removed and stole the ignition wires, a four-barrel carburetor, and the air cleaner. He discovered the loss when he tried to start the vehicle, he said.

Discuss WSU Incentive Scholarships

MRS. LEE H. ALLEN, of Moross road (center), talks with Wayne State University President WILLIAM R. KEAST and MRS. KEAST, (right), at the recent Grosse Pointe Women of Wayne Incentive Scholarship Tea at the home of Mrs. Joseph E. Schlotman in Lakeshore road. The tea, sponsored by the Grosse Pointe Alumnae Club of WSU, was held to raise money for the Incentive Scholarship Fund at WSU. The Fund, sponsored by the Women of Wayne, provides financial assistance to women between 25 and 55 years of age continuing their education on a part-time basis.

QUALITY 2 flat, Harcourt, responsible parties, shown appointment only. Owner, Valley 1-7239.

HERE TODAY gone tomorrow, once you see this you'll beg, steal or borrow. Center hall colonial should interest some of you. Five bedrooms and three baths up will arouse some others. Fine paneled den may delight father. Fabulous basement playroom will "sell" the kids. Hillside location on Merrivether Road... may kill the deal.

THE OWNERS wish they could take this one on the road, but you can see the original production in the Deerparks area. Four family bedrooms, each with its own bath is a tough act to follow. The view from the terrace is of lush trees and a piece of the lake. Several "first nighters" have already cried "encore." So better see this before it makes its final bow.

IF YOU ARE a do it yourself buff why not pick up this lake front lot and throw up your own place. One hundred and four feet of frontage on Lake St. Clair makes for a beautiful backdrop from your front window. Priced at $25,000.

CAPE COD charm and convenience and in the Shores. Two bedrooms on each floor and a kitchen which looks like it's waiting to be photographed by House Beautiful. Our owner has purchased another house and has given us the green light on this one.

WITH A minimum down payment your tenant can be buying this investment for you. Each unit of this two-family has three bedrooms, separate dining room and living room. Wrap it up for $14,900.

Know who's the oldest ACTIVE member . . . of the Neighborhood Club? It's Miss Clara Millar, who joined the Club in 1928, when it was located in Oak street, and has been playing badminton with a Club group ever since . . . Miss Millar was presented with a corsage last Sunday, at the Teen Center dedication and Open House in the Club's new Waterloo avenue building.

Having blithely informed our readers . . . last month that we were "off to see Bon Secours Hospital Assistance League-sponsored Grosse Pointe Celebrity Series speaker Richard C. Hottelet," then arriving at the Esquire Theater to find CBS News correspondent Robert Pierpoint on the speaker's platform, (his "View from the White House Steps" turned out to be, incidentally, one of the most illuminating, delightful Celebrity Series lectures we can ever remember hearing — and we've heard a lot of them!), we almost hesitate to report, in print, that the next Series speaker is Jean-Pierre Hallet, who'll talk on "African Tribalism versus Nationalism" Thursday morning, February 8, at the Esquire . . .

According to his official biography . . . the six-foot, five-inch M. Hallet is an "explorer, sociologist, naturalist, linguist, art collector, (he has 13 tons of African artifacts), animal trainer, (he uses humane techniques and a unique method of hypommesmerism — no whip or gun), and author of the international bestseller, "Congo Kitabu." . . . In 1948, at the age of 21, he became a sociological and agronomist for the Belgian Colonial Government. Determined to meet the Africans on a man-to-man basis, he lived with the natives — and was riddled with tropical diseases, stabbed, speared, blasted and perforated with poison arrows! . . .

To be recognized by the Masai . . . warrior tribe, he had to kill a lion with only a native spear . . . After miraculously recovering from the Bombuti Pygmies' poisoned arrows, he taught this most primitive tribe to cultivate the soil, build houses, even to read and write . . . GEE! We hope HE shows up! . . .

Good-bye . . . to the Donald Klechers, of Lothrop road, Pointers since 1961 . . . Katherine and the children, Donald, Jr., David and Chris, leave today to join Donald, Sr., in their new home on Long Island . . . The Klechers were feted a few evenings ago at a farewell cocktail party given by Mr. and Mrs. Ron Morketter, of McMillan road, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nawa, of Hollywood avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Tice, of Fairholme road, in the Morketter home . . . Among those gathered to bid the departees "Bon Voyage" were the C. R. And good-bye to . . . Paul Magillo, Grosse Pointe School American Field Service Exchange Student who had been making his home with the family of Dr. and Mrs. Robert C. Thumann, of Yorkshire road . . . Because of his father's illness, Paul has been forced to cut short his year in the States and fly home to Genoa, Italy.

PILFERINGS

The Hungarian playwright Ferenc Molnar used to tell a story of Furstenberg, a German banker, who telephoned another banker to make an appointment. The man said he would have to look through his engagement book first.

Furstenberg could hear the surf of the pages being ruffled in the banker's book. No time free in January, February or March, the man reported. The third of April was his first free afternoon. "On April third," said Furstenberg, "I have a funeral!"

—S. N. Behrman, "The Suspended Drawing Room"

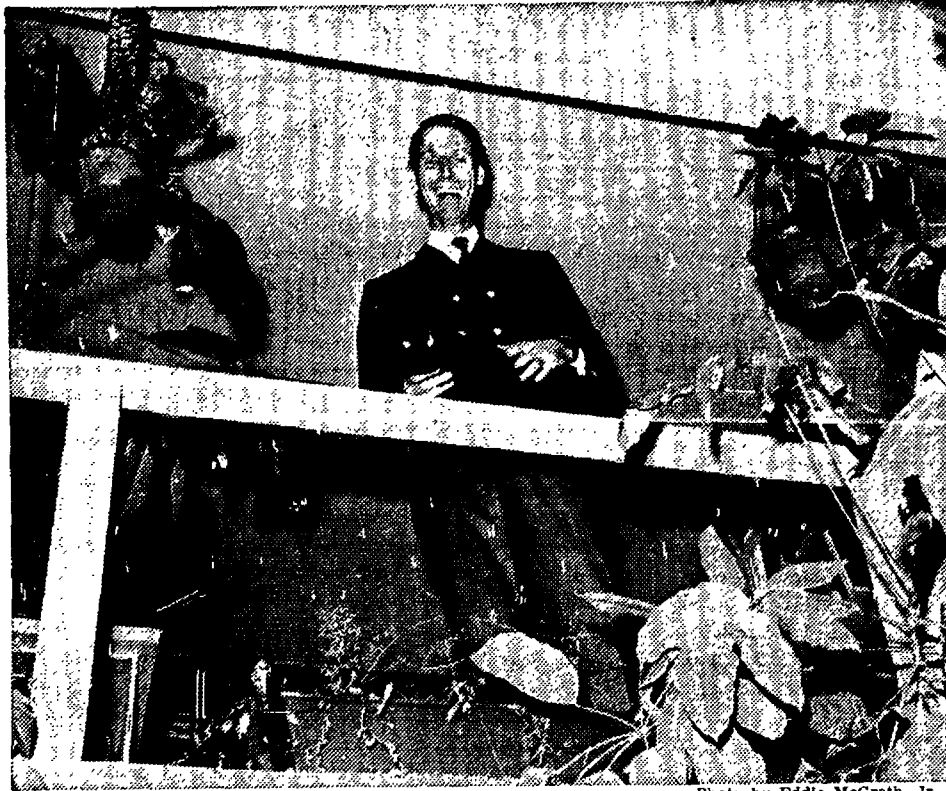

Motion-picture producer Sam Goldwyn once scolded his bridge partner, Constance Bennett, for overbidding a hand. "How did I know you had nothing?" she asked. "Didn't you hear me keeping still?" demanded Sam.

—Alva Johnston, "The Great Goldwyn"

To feel out reaction to American ice cream, a U.S. firm flew half a ton of it over to Paris with six pretty waitresses for a swank tasting party. "You Americans," mused the Count de Vogue. "Twenty-eight flavors and six pretty waitresses — a Frenchman would have had six flavors and 28 pretty waitresses."

Pointer of Interest

ROBERT RATHBUN, GROSSE POINTE HIGH SCHOOL ART TEACHER.

By Janet Mueller

Bob Rathbun had noticed, almost subconsciously, that the night was quiet. Normally, in the middle of an Italian city, automobile and pedestrian traffic noises are constant, staccato . . . But this night, Florence was quiet. And Bob Rathbun slept well.

He woke the next morning with a slight headache, located a bottle of aspirin and walked across his room to get a glass of water. He picked up the glass, held it under the tap, twisted the faucet. No water.

Bob Rathbun was annoyed. His apartment lay on the third floor of an old building in a street just off the Arno, about 200 feet from the Ponte Vecchio. He heard his landlord coming up the stairs.

Bob Rathbun stuck his head out the door. "Come here a minute," he called to the landlord. "I've just moved in, and already there's no water . . ."

The landlord stared, pushed his tenant aside, strode across the room and flung open the heavy double shutters that provide an effective noise-light barrier between the "inside" and "outside" worlds in Italy.

Plenty Outside "You don't have any water!" he shouted, turning to Bob, gesturing him toward the window. "Look!"

In the night, the flood had come to Florence. "The water rose all that day, and part of the next," Bob recalls. "At its peak, there was about 14 feet of water in my street."

"You know, of course, that one-eighth of the art work in the city was destroyed. The worst losses were in the library in the basement of the Uffizi Gallery."

"But there were losses everywhere . . . I remember staring, almost without comprehension, at a thick scum ring around Michelangelo's 'Baechus' . . ."

"We were several days without substantial food, a whole month without running water. We'd hurry to the street corner when we saw the Water Truck, fetch our water home in plastic gasoline cans . . ."

Oil Covered Walls "There was no clean water to wash out the buildings. Very few people in Florence live on the ground floor, so very few people were actually 'flooded out,' but the water went into the basements and, when the flood receded, oil slick covered the walls . . ."

"I had never been in a natural disaster before. I had thought that water simply went up and came down. But the silt left in the streets after the flood was easily a yard high, cars caught in the torrents were tossed and wedged, accordion-pleated, between buildings, all the glass in all the ground floor windows was broken . . ."

"There was no clean water in which to wash ourselves. Now, when I step into the shower in the morning, I can't help singing—I think the shower is the greatest of ALL modern inventions . . ."

Dampness and Cold "There was no electricity, no heat . . . And it was so cold! People wore three, four, five sweaters . . . When I got home in the evenings, I'd jump right into bed—out of bed, I couldn't stand the dampness. Even last June, more than six months after the flood, you could still feel dampness oozing from the buildings . . ."

"As soon as the water went down, people began throwing out refuse. Just basic debris clearing took two months. Trucks came round to pick up the muck and the discards; you'd see beautiful, ruined things being carted away . . . Every day, near the Ponte Vecchio, people sifted through silt on their hands and knees, searching for jewels . . ."

"The people of Florence were magnificent! I remember the Opera's first production that season: Costumes had been second-floor study balcony overlooking his studio . . .

The study balcony-studio was originally a double, (one on top of the other), sunroom. Bob had a contractor cut out the floor between the first and second storeys, then did the finish work himself.

The walls are hung with his students' pictures, his own pictures, other artists' that he especially likes . . . The furniture, much of which he refinished himself, is, he says, "Mostly junk—with the money I have to work with, I get antiques only by happenstance . . ."

During the year he was abroad, Bob rented his house. He was glad to get back to it—and to the States:

Glad to Be American "After a year in Europe, I am so GRATEFUL that I am an American!" he says. "I so much prefer the American attitude to life. I hear people here complaining about our Post Office for example, and I think: 'You've never SEEN anything like an Italian Post Office!'"

Bob went to Florence for a specific reason: "I had reached a certain plateau in my personal work and in my teaching, and I felt the need for a good classical background. This is not easily available in the States."

He spent his first two months abroad touring, visiting major cities in England and Middle Europe, walking through museums, studying, drawing, doing research.

He arrived in Italy in October, enrolled in Florence's Accademia di Belli Arte and found an apartment. In November, the flood came.

Faced with Decision Now, Bob had a decision to make. "I can't emphasize too much how grateful I was, and am, for being permitted the opportunity to take this sabbatical year. When the flood first struck, everyone in Florence naturally hurried to help, to save what could be saved . . ."

Helpers poured in from other countries, other cities in Italy. "But after the first few weeks, when the immediate problems had been solved, I took stock of my own situation. I knew I was supposed to be enrolled in an accredited school, using my time properly."

"I had not been satisfied with the instruction at the Accademia before the flood; now, although the Accademia was reopened on a part-time basis, its rooms, equipped with stoves to keep the models warm, were being used to dry out books from the library . . ."

"Many of these books were damaged irreparably. To save what could be saved, each page had to be dried out individually, then scraped clean with a stylus . . ."

Found Female God While Bob was debating whether or not to stay on in Florence, to help in the work of restoration and continue, as best he could, his studies at the Accademia, a particular studio was recommended to him: The Atelier of Signorina Simi.

"If there is a female god in Italy, Signorina Simi is she," he says fervently. "Working with her is a breath-taking experience. Her studio is very, very academic, very, very classical, delighted . . ."

"I went there, I was amazed, I could enroll; she said no, all the classes were filled . . . I asked her again . . . and again . . . 'She said I could come to an afternoon class that met three times a week. I came to that class. I asked her if I could come to others . . . She said I could come in the morning, one day a week, then two days a week, then—finally!—every day . . .'"

Is Unique Teacher "She teaches through demonstration. She is the only teacher I have ever known who actually sits down at your easel and cor-

Fit And Flair . . . is such a flattering fashion line. In the season's pretty feminine fabrics, it is irresistible! We watch the arrival of delightful new clothes at Walton-Pierce . . . every day. One we just couldn't resist from a favorite designer is of a beige jacquard pattern. The ensemble is really "in" in every detail. Let us tell you about it. The dress has a fitted bodice. The waist is marked, lightly by a belt band. The skirt widens gracefully at the hem by a strategic bit of pleating. The short single breasted jacket has a raised but rolled and away from the neck collar. So perfect for resort, now. It will meet spring and summer with great éclat! So will the other new arrivals at Walton-Pierce.

Hair Has Shape . . . just like the new clothes. The style starts with a super sleek haircut and ends curly . . . the curls flicked into position. There's no limit to what you can do, particularly if you have extra pin-on curls. Leon relates these new hairdos to the personality of his customers and the life they lead. His stylists at 17888 Mack Avenue, are developing new ideas for small curly hair pieces. They are so easy to put on and so pretty to wear. TUXedo 4-9393.

Once upon a time . . . a wall was just what Webster says it is: "a vertical architectural member used to define and divide space." In today's home, no wall can get away with merely standing there. Walls fold into themselves to let two rooms become one larger room or they combine with cabinets and pass-throughs to connect, as well as define, the eating and cooking areas. Walls want to work for you. Mutschler, 20227 Mack Avenue . . . shows them how.

The Famous . . . "Teeny Weeny Yellow Polka Dot Bikini" is at Michelle's Boutique at Leon, 17888 Mack Avenue. It's one of a collection of French bikinis. If you're taking this trip (fashionably speaking) . . . you may want one of those long zip-front cover-ups. More cruise news . . . the new culottes have cape sleeves and come in five color combinations.

There's Such A Pretty Look . . . to the fashions for resort and spring. Who can relax until she owns one? At Claire Fearone, 397 Fisher Road, examples of the new softer looks are seen in the ensembles with the new soft dirndl skirts and bolero jackets. Imagine these in wool or linen. Collect several!

You're Invited . . . to the opening of Martha's Closet, Monday, February 19th at 373 Fisher Road. This is the day Martha Gorey and Mary Jo Kerns will have completed their move from Tres Chic Boutique and will be ready to show you the new spring and resort fashions they have collected. You'll love the decor . . . the same pink and green . . . perfected. Refreshments will be served from 2 until 5 p.m. and there will be informal modeling.

"That Face . . . that fabulous face" . . . this year styles it still softer with warmer skin tones and warmer lip colors. Dorothy Gray's top line Secret of the Sea, exclusive with the Notre Dame Pharmacy, may hold these styling secrets for you. First of all, the lipstick is creamy soft and there's a great selection of "in" colors. You have choice of foundations either liquid or cream to warm-up your complexion. For beauty's sake, investigate this quality line which includes a fine night cream, powder and nail polish.

The Sphere . . . buyers are in New York sending gifts and goodies to 19849 Mack Avenue. Be the first to see them.

The Kaleidoscope . . . sees valentines . . . unusual! You'll see them as fun to send. The card collection features a light bulb with the message . . . "You Turn Me On." Then there's an octopus . . . "Embraceable You." At 16135 Mack at Bedford, Cupid has a sense of humor.

Wig Wasting Away . . . in your drawer? Take it out and to Edward Nepl, Parruchiere, 19463 Mack Avenue, like so many smart Pointers are doing. Yes, hairdos have changed and so can your wig. Their stylists can create the new tousled curly look for your wig via clever shaping and Capilistro methods of curling. Give your hair piece a new lease on a fashion life. TUXedo 4-8858.

Mr. McHugh . . . offers a program of piano for children with little or no background in piano. It acquaints children with rhythm, tonal studies, music reading and writing. Classes are limited to ten students to provide an opportunity for some individual instruction. Children are taught to play their lesson in the company of others. This is a great experience for any child. Call TUXedo 5-6215 for more information or an appointment to see the Music Playshop on Fisher Road.

A Magic Carpet . . . you don't need to transport you to fabled lands. Keshan, Kerman, Bokhara and Sereghan conjure distant places and wealth of ancient design. Pick your carpet at Ed Maliszewski's, 21435 Mack Avenue. It will land right in the decorative picture for 1968 because the trend is to Oriental rugs. You don't need a pocket of gold for these excellent reproductions from Belgium. A 9x12 flies out of the store for about three hundred ninety-nine dollars.

Quaker Maid . . . puts its best look forward at Kitchen Remodelers, 15218 East Jefferson. Only the most carefully grown and processed North American birch is selected for your kitchen. There are twenty one lustrous wood finishes and many cabinet styles . . . The Latest Look . . . in hair fashion can be had at Tres Chic Coiffures, 18700 Mack Avenue. By the way, the staff will be leaving for New York for classes with renowned hair stylists of Europe and America. 886-1377.

Menu Musing . . . at Wesfield's, 15506 Mack at Somerset, we were tempted by the baby beef liver with bacon, baked potatoe and green beans. There was more temptation in another selection, chicken croquettes, whipped potatoes and green peas. We have two delicious reasons to go back again because we ordered the char-broiled steak with a baked potatoe and sliced tomatoes.

It's a Heck of a Hike" from the east side to Metro airport. Next time ride the Royal Coachman Limousine, scheduled every hour, every day . . . to and from Metro . . . TUXedo 6-1322.

Fashions By The Yard . . . is the name of the new fabric shop in the Block at Mack and Three Mile. It will open March 1st and will stock good basic fabrics, patterns and notions.

An open letter to the Greyhound Bus Terminal:

Your terminal is a disgrace to our city. I took my daughter there to go back to school, and I was appalled at the filth and corruption I saw.

Any visitor from another city would think they stepped off in a garbage dump rather than a big city terminal. It is incomprehensible to me, when thousands of people are out of work and on relief that you can't find someone to at least pick up the debris. You should be morally ashamed. I am of you
