HEADLINES

of the
WEEK
As Compiled by the Grosse Pointe News

Thursday, May 2
THE HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE has formally notified President Nixon that he has not complied with its subpoena for 42 of his Watergate tapes. The Committee authorized its chairman, Peter Rodino, to draft a letter to the President stating, "You have failed to comply with the Committee's subpoena." Rodino himself made it clear he is unwilling to accept Mr. Nixon's offer to let him and Edward Hutchinson, senior Republican, listen to the actual tapes of the White House to make sure the transcripts are complete.

Friday, May 3
FORMER VICE-PRESIDENT SPIRO T. AGNEW has been disbarred by the Maryland Court of Appeals because he was "so morally obtuse" that he consciously cheated the government, violated his oath and failed to see his duty to act honestly in all matters. The disbarment proceedings came as a result of Agnew's no contest plea to evading $13,551 in federal income taxes in 1967 last October when he also resigned the vice-presidency. He was fined $10,000 and put on three years unsupervised probation. In December, he asked a three judge panel not to disbar him, but the panel recommended his right to practice law be revoked.

Saturday, May 4
SECRETARY OF STATE SYRIAN PRESIDENT Hafez Assad apparently made some progress toward Syrian-Israeli peace and there was a hint of American aid to the Damascus government if their negotiations go well. The pair conversed for seven hours, discussing a cessation of firing on the Golan Heights, drawing a separation of forces lines, creating a demilitarized buffer zone and returning prisoners captured during the October War.

Sunday, May 5
VICE-PRESIDENT GERALD FORD, returning to the University of Michigan to receive an honorary degree, was subject to heckling, catcalls, boos and vulgar remarks, as he addressed some 13,500 graduates, parents and alumni at U. of M.'s 200th commencement. During his speech, a small band of demonstrators paraded through the arena, chanting slogans and clapping. Outside, the arena was picketed throughout the ceremony by militants who, at one point, hung a two-headed effigy of President Nixon and Vice-President Ford from a lamp post.

Monday, May 6
JUDGE JOHN R. MURPHY of Detroit Recorders Court and three other men were killed in the crash of a small plane near Freeland, northwest of Saginaw. The plane, a Piper Cherokee, was believed headed for Detroit City Airport from Pellston when it crashed in a rural area about a mile southwest of Tri-City Airport. An aide to Judge Murphy said he had chartered the flight to make a campaign trip.

Tuesday, May 7
WEST GERMAN CHANCELLOR WILLY BRANDT resigned after accepting full responsibility for the "negligence" that allowed an East German Communist spy to become his personal aide. Brandt's letter of resignation was accepted by President Gustav Heinemann. The resignation came 12 days after federal criminal police charged Guenther Guillaume, Brandt's personal aide for party affairs, with spying for East Germany. Police said the aide admitted he was sent to infiltrate Brandt's Social Democratic Party. The chancellor asked that his deputy, Foreign Minister Walter Scheel, serve as chancellor until a new leader is elected.

Center Plans Memorial Day Service

Chicago's Fourth Marine Air Wing Drum and Bugle Corps to Give Concert

The Grosse Pointe War Memorial Association is proud to announce that for its 25th Anniversary Memorial Day Service Monday, May 27, at 11 a.m., the Fourth Marine Air Wing Drum and Bugle Corps of Chicago will present a concert on the Center's Lake Side Terrace.

The ceremonies, which will be moved into Fries Auditorium in case of rain, include such music as the Navy Hymn "Eternal Father," "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," "America The Beautiful," "God Bless America," "Abide With Me" and the "Marine Hymn."

Present Plaque
At the brief service which follows, a plaque to the men who served and died in Vietnam will be added to those which commemorate service in the World Wars and Korea. The invocation will be given by Msgr. Francis Canfield of St. Paul's Church. Rear Admiral Leon J. Jacobi will extend a word of welcome and introduce the dignitaries. Edward J. Hickey, III, president of the War Memorial Association, will give a short address. Park Mayor Matthew Paterson will present the Gold Star Honor Rolls and receive the new Vietnam plaque from the commandants of American.

Hunt Club Net Tournney Set for This Weekend

Sixteen teams of top-ranked midwest players have been selected to participate in the Michigan Open Indoor Mixed Doubles Tennis Championship Saturday-Sunday, May 11-12, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, sponsor of the event. Pointer Mike Ware, currently the 12th-ranked singles player in the Western Tennis Association, and former member of the University of Michigan tennis team, is paired with Sue Pritula, a former nationally-ranked junior from Detroit. Grosse Pointe Hunt Club pro Jim Symington, of Birmingham, former Michigan State University varsity player and top ranked junior, is teamed with Pam Bacon, a

Youth Service Division Houses Multifaceted Photo Identification Kit

Equipment Provides the Necessary Tools to Build-up A Criminal Suspect's Face for A Composite Photograph; Key Is Witnesses Reconstruction of Features

By Roger A. Waha
There's no doubt about it! Sherlock Holmes, that master fictional investigator, would be very impressed with the results obtained from the Youth Service Division's Photo Identification Kit. It provides the necessary tools for building the face of a criminal suspect based upon a witnesses description.

This kit, which was developed in England, (Holmes would surely savor this point), provides its technician with thousands of available options in creating a specific face.

One-hundred twenty facial outlines are provided on a chart, and a binder contains many shapes and sizes of foreheads, eyes, noses, mouths, ears, beards, mustaches, glasses, hats, eyebrows, chins and jaw lines.

Creating Caricature
But, "The key lies in how good your witness is, how well he or she retains an image and reconstructs it. All we're doing is creating a caricature," emphasizes Sergeant Thomas Kane, YSD supervisor.

As a witness reviews the facial chart and the variety of facial features in the binder, the technician, who steadily builds-up the face within a holding frame via code numbers corresponding to specific features, never directs the activity.

"Adjustments are made along the way once the witness sees the face being created," said Sergeant Kane. "But the technician never tries to direct during the build-up of the face. He guides and helps though. The witness does the work."

YSD Detective Michael Ferrance, an accomplished technician, stressed the importance of an "objective interview" with the witness. "We do not lead the witness. He must create the composite picture," he said, while noting there can be some difficulties with multiple witnesses who may have different thoughts on certain features.

Given by Wives
The YSD was the first unit in the State to acquire one of these kits, which has proven to be a valuable tool. The kit, which cost $1,500 complete, was purchased for the division by the Grosse Pointe Lawyers' Wives last summer.

Woods City Administrator Chester E. Petersen, YSD coordinator, recalled, "Over a period of two years, the Lawyers' Wives gave the YSD money to purchase it. Ever since the YSD has been in existence, (it became fully operational in August (Continued on Page 10))

Ten Finalists Await Big Night May 11

Miss Grosse Pointe Scholarship Pageant Will Be Held at North High School at 8 p.m.

By Roger A. Waha
All the mayors of the Pointe have proclaimed the week of May 5-12 as Miss Grosse Pointe Week while focusing upon The Miss Grosse Pointe Scholarship Pageant which will be held Saturday, May 11, at North High School's Auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m., reported George A. Williamson, pageant publicity director.

At that time, one of 10 finalists will be crowned Miss Grosse Pointe for 1974-75. That young lady will share the crown with Karen Garrett, Miss Grosse Pointe for 1973-74, until the State pageant Saturday, June 22, in Muskegon where Karen and many other local pageant winners will vie for the Miss Michigan crown.

Three Areas
"The girls are set to go," said Mr. Williamson, who's hoping for a capacity crowd of 700 people at the Jaycee sponsored event. "We're looking for all the Pointe mayors to attend as they've all been invited. I've been told they will all be there."

Five professional judges, who will be introduced on pageant night, will consider three areas of competition: evening gowns, talent and swim suit.

Under the evening gown classification, the judges will consider beauty, carriage, posture, poise and grace of movement, and vote on a five to two point scale. They will vote on a 10 to four point scale in the talent category. In the swim suit competition, the judges will consider beauty of face and figure, carriage, poise and posture, and vote on a five to two point scale.

Then, the total ballot points will be added up, giving the top four girls. The final ballot is then based on overall considerations, stated Mr. Williamson.

Besides the new Miss Grosse Pointe and her runners-up, one other selection will be made. This is the Miss Congeniality award voted by the girls themselves.

Entertainment plays a major role in the pageant, too. Miss Garrett will sing "Thanks for the Memories" to the accompaniment of the North High School band. Other performers include

Pointes Move Closer to New Probation Plan

Representatives of Many Community Organizations Focus Upon Voluntary Program at Organizational Session on April 29

By Kathy Duff
A volunteer probation officers program in Grosse Pointe moved a step closer to reality at an organizational meeting Monday night, April 29, at the Grosse Pointe War Memorial. Farms Judge Robert Pytell, who chaired the meeting, explained there has been no probation program in Grosse Pointe since 1972, the year the Wayne County Circuit Court ordered the county probation department to discontinue services to the Pointes.

Now, when a youthful offender appears before one of the three Pointe municipal judges, the judge has the choice of sending the offender to jail, imposing a fine or placing him on a loosely supervised probation.

Special guest at the meeting was former Royal Oak Judge Keith J. Leenhouts who established the first volunteer probation program in his city in 1959 with the aid of eight friends each having three probationees. By 1965, the program involved some 500 volunteers working 50,000 man hours a year.

Selling Points
A volunteer probation officers program has three strong selling points. First, it's becoming increasingly thought that the only way to reform a young offender is to place him under regular supervision with an adult who will guide him towards a worthwhile lifestyle.

Often, a young offender is from a broken or troubled home, has no one who cares about his future, and regards himself as a "loser." The role of the volunteer is to help the offender find a place for himself in society and still keep tabs on any criminal activity.

A good by-product of a volunteer probation officers program is that it draws the citizen into the judicial process. The volunteer learns what factors draw a person into criminal behavior, how the courts rule on a criminal act and what measures are needed to reform criminal behavior.

The third selling point is strictly financial. It costs between $4,000 and $12,000 a year.

Youth Holds Benefit Sale
A 15-year-old Harper Woods youth, David Calcaterra, has organized a rummage sale to be held on Friday-Saturday, May 10-11, in his garage located in 20614 Roscommon.

Proceeds from the sale will go to the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation of Michigan. The foundation was started about two years ago to develop a research program to discover ways of treating the genetic eye disease that affects 100,000 Americans and often leads to blindness.

Persons interested in helping out at the sale or donating rummage should contact David at 881-7211.

Police Recover 49 Stolen Pierce Band Instruments

Members of the Pierce Middle School Band felt sad and dejected for several days because they were unable to practice for a coming spring concert.

On Monday, April 15, burglars broke into the school band room and stole 54 musical instruments, some owned by the school and others by the band members, valued at approximately $5,000.

On Monday, April 30, happiness reigned as 49 of the instruments were recovered by Park police, with the authorities optimistic in recovering the still missing five, including a valuable violin belonging to the bandmaster, according to information released by Lieutenant Gordon Duncan on Thursday, May 2.

G.P. Woods Views Park Program

Session Set for June 3 at Parcels; Solons Act on Other Matters at May 6 Council Meeting

By Roger A. Waha
A public hearing date of Monday, June 3, was unanimously set by The Woods Council for a proposed bond election on the Lake Front Park Improvement Program. This hearing will take place at Parcels School, 20600 Mack avenue, and not in the council-court room chambers of The Woods Municipal Building.

The reason for this is because more residents can be accommodated at the school as it's expected the hearing will draw a "standing room only" crowd. At the same time, the solons will conduct their regular council meeting at Parcels.

This hearing date was set at the regular session Monday, May 6.

The council also received cost estimates for the park improvement program from City Engineer Laurence H. Pate based upon a park plan submitted by the Citizens' Recreation Committee. This will be a main topic at the hearing.

Many Considerations
Overall, the committee's estimate for the total project cost, which includes a new swimming pool, asphalt paving, concrete deck area, lighting, fencing, a new bath house, alterations of the existing bath house, filling and landscaping the existing pool, eight tennis courts, engineering and architectural fees, construction contingency, etc., is $1,800,000. The city engineer's estimate reaches $1,977,000.

A new swimming pool, (aluminum or gunite), is estimated to cost $775,000 by the committee and $675,000 by Mr. Pate. A concrete deck area of 70,000 square feet would cost an estimated $60,000 according to the committee. An 87,000 square foot area would cost an estimated $27,000, noted Mr. Pate.

Other specific areas of cost estimates include: lighting $10,000 via the committee and $19,200 via Mr. Pate; new bath house, 9,000 square feet, $450,000 via the committee and 11,000 square feet, $495,000 via Mr. Pate, and eight net courts, $80,000 via the committee and $92,000 via Mr. Pate.

Faces Sentence On B-E Charge

A 21-year-old youth faced sentencing on Tuesday, May 7, as a result of a breaking and entering attempt in The City.

David Joseph Almond, of Alter road, pled guilty to two separate charges of attempted B-E.

City police first apprehended Almond in the act of breaking into the Mack avenue office of Nancy Caputo, M.D., last October. He pled guilty to that charge and then failed to show for sentencing in Wayne County Circuit Court on January 23, at which time the Court issued a capias, (a writ ordering an officer to take a specific individual into custody), for him.

In the meantime, over the Christmas holidays, City police issued an additional warrant on Almond in connection with another attempted B-E.

Almond was traced to Florida where he was extradited by Lieutenant Robert Van Tiem and Officer Richard Lanski and on Friday, April 5, he was sentenced to one to two years in Jackson Prison by Circuit Court Judge Joseph A. Moynihan, Jr.

Almond has already pled guilty to the second attempted B-E charge and was scheduled to receive sentencing from the same judge on May 7.

CFE Meets on May 15

The next general meeting of Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education, (CFE), will be held on Wednesday, May 15, at 8 p.m. in the Grosse Pointe Memorial Church, 16 Lakeshore road.

The membership will vote on whether to support a candidate for the up-coming School Board trustee election. The CFE's Board of Directors will make a recommendation after hearing the report of the Candidate Evaluation Committee who have been working under the leadership of Alfred Jehle.

The program also will include a presentation by Ann McCleary entitled "Viewpoints on the Structure of Grosse Pointe Education." Mrs. McCleary discussed the educational structure in Grosse Pointe individually with a large cross-section of residents including school administrators, parents, non-parents, students and teachers.

All residents of the Grosse Pointe School District are invited to join Citizens for Education. Those interested should contact Sally Spitzley, membership chairman, by writing Grosse Pointe Citizens for Education, P.O. Box 6872, Grosse Pointe, 48236, or by calling 881-5599.

Hearing Date Set on Park Improvements

(Continued from Page 1) set forth by the committee appeared too optimistic. According to the committee's planning guide, they hoped a selection of a contractor could take place in September, with pool construction beginning in October.

Gives View
But Mr. Pate stated to select a contractor, meaning bids have been received, would entail all plan preparation be completed prior to August 1, 1974. "We doubt that all surveys, designs and specifications could be completed on the bath house alone in less than three months," he said.

"After completion thereof an approval must be obtained by both the Macomb and State Health Departments. The same procedure would follow for the design, plans and specifications of the pool.

"Further, a complete review of time should be requested on general obligation bonds relative to the legal waiting period after an election, presentation to and approval by the Municipal Finance Commission, advertising and receipt of bids on bonds and finally the time to print, sign and deposit proceeds therefrom.

"If the pool and bath house architect were selected and started work by May 1 we do not believe construction work would start prior to December 1974 or January 1975," he reported.

Okay Mud Jacking
Mayor Benjamin W. Pinkos stressed the importance of the hearing by saying, "It will determine whether the council is operating in a proper fashion regarding the proposed improvements. We want comments and criticism from our residents. The public should be allowed to discuss this matter."

After the hearing, and the sharing of viewpoints, the council will determine whether to set a date for a bond issue, he added.

In another recreation-related matter, the council gave its unanimous approval to mud packing an area of the park's pool at a cost of $2,500.

Parks and Recreation Director Donald J. Hallman felt the wall of the pool, between the two swimming instructional piers, should be mud packed by Argus Pressure Grouting Services, Inc., of Warren.

This is the same company which did the work in the pool last year. The company, said Mr. Hallman, is available to start Monday, May 20, with the work to be completed on Wednesday, May 22.

The scheduled opening date for the pool is Saturday, May 25.

On Senior Citizens
In other action, the council unanimously authorized the creation of a Senior Citizens' Commission, and approved a variance request from the Lochmoor Club so a tennis house and golf service building may be constructed adjacent to the club house.

Mayor Pinkos appointed four persons to the commission, which, he said, is not limited in numbers at this time. The appointees are Irene Sutton, Catherine Brophy, Rose Blaskey and Hedy Cassel. Commission members will elect their own chairman.

The Commission will work closely with senior citizens on an individual and group basis, and provide input to the council regarding programs and needs for the solons' consideration.

City Administrator Chester Petersen said he will be in contact with the board of the Grosse Pointe Woods Presbyterian Church in an effort to coordinate programs.

Ready to Start

With the council's approval of the Lochmoor Club's request, the club will begin construction of its new indoor tennis facility and golf service building in two weeks. The existing golf service structure will be torn down and the new facilities will be built on the same location.

The net house will include four indoor tennis courts, plus locker and shower accommodations, while a new pro shop, storage facilities for golf carts and bags and a new caddie facility will be a major part of the golf service building.

Lochmoor officials stressed use will be restricted to members of the golf club, that the new construction will enhance the area, that it would not increase traffic on Lochmoor and Sunningdale, that it would hardly be visible from Sunningdale and that it would increase Lochmoor's tax base to the city.

Officials felt it was necessary to build the facilities at this time "to preserve the family character of the club" for the use of children and wives of members.

Peter G. Behr, general manager, Lochmoor Club, said the combined, estimated cost of the tennis house and golf service building is $700,000. The architect for the project is Ferruccio P. DeConti, who built the Pine Lake Tennis House, while the Garrison Company will handle the construction.

Nix Measure

In a final item, The Woods Planning Commission, by an 8-1 vote, recommended to the council that the proposed "recreational vehicle ordinance" not be adopted, but that some type of outside storage for recreational vehicles would be desirable. The Commission reached its decision at a special meeting Tuesday, April 9.

Various aspects of the measure were discussed and some of the main objections included the "appeal" procedure and the so-called "standards" which must be approved by neighbors, according to the meeting's minutes.

At the May 6 council meeting, the solons unanimously referred the Commission's recommendation to the Committee of the Whole for further study with a report back to the council.

Councilman Ronald R. Kefgen, Parks and Recreation Committee chairman, said, regarding the Commission's vote, that the council's questions to them will be only on how the measure pertains to zoning matters. He added the solons will continue to explore the proposed ordinance.

OUT THE WINDOW

Most people don't object a bit to living on a budget while at home, but when vacation time comes the budget is tossed aside.

Girl Scouts Receive Awards

Girl Scout Troop 1275 recently held its Court of Awards ceremony in the Richard School gymnasium.

Four girls achieved First Class, Girl Scouting's highest award. They are Laura Crandall and Lynne Garred, ninth graders at University Liggett, and Lynda English and Mary Wilson, ninth graders attending South High School. The girls have been working toward the goal for almost three years.

In addition to the First Class awards, four Challenges of the Girl Scout Promise, and seven Social Dependability awards were presented.

The leaders, Mrs. Joyce Brackett and Mrs. Diane English, also awarded troop members a total of 15 other awards and 77 badges. Scouts completing work for their Social Dependability Challenges provided refreshments of tea, sandwiches, cookies and punch.

Troop members are looking forward to future activities including a long weekend of canoe-camping and a trip to Ottawa late in the summer.

Set YSD Parley for This Week

A meeting between The Woods city administration, public safety department, Youth Service Division, (YSD), officers and YSD counselors focusing upon division policy changes, which was scheduled for last week, is now planned for this week. City Administrator Chester E. Petersen said the group will review policy decisions and changes in the operation of the YSD. They also will review the benefits that are anticipated from the group counseling approach, and whether or not to implement this program now or wait until the next school term.

Mr. Petersen said he, Public Safety Director Henry Marchand, YSD Detectives Michael Ferrence, John Kenda, Wayne Baum and Donald Schmalz, along with the counselors, Fred Coonce, Thomas Canasi and Deborah Beaufait, will attend the session. A main reason for this meeting focuses upon the proposed group counseling program, which began Wednesday, May 1, and the release of information to the press.

The NEWS ran a story on the program in its Thursday, April 18, edition. This story surprised both Mr. Petersen and Director Marchand, who were aware of such a group format, but apparently not the overall scope of the program as presented by the counselors.

They were both concerned over the release of such information in which, the public safety director said, "It looked like the counselors were making policy for the YSD." Both also stressed they wanted to keep the concept of the YSD "as a policy agency, not a social agency."

As planned, Mr. Coonce, Mr. Canasi and Robert McDonald, program supervisor, children's services, North-east Guidance Center, wanted to start a group counseling program which they felt is a viable treatment alternative at the division. They wanted to treat their planned groups as experimental while sharing experiences and techniques. At the same time, the counselors would continue their "one-on-one" approach as part of the YSD program.

Quitters are laughed at by the fellow who never had the nerve to begin in the first place.

Woods Officer Albert Abend to Retire June 1

By Roger A. Waha

Woods Public Safety Officer Albert Abend, 60, who's affectionately known as "Uncle Al" around the department and among his friends, spends his last day at work Saturday, May 11, although he officially retires Saturday, June 1, after 30 years and seven months of service on the force.

During that time, Officer Abend has just about worked in every capacity in the department including the detective bureau, dispatching, issuing operator's licenses and being traffic safety officer. He jokingly says, however, he escaped being dog warden.

But more important, he has grown up in the department and has worked closely with many officers as a friend, while contributing his savvy to those around him. When he joined the department on September 29, 1943, his number eight was high badge but now that number has grown to "badge 36."

A recipient of a departmental citation and numerous commendations, Officer Abend confesses what he'll miss most is "the activity." He said, "I've been around so long I feel as though I contributed, in the past, to the men who are now my bosses." These officers include Public Safety Director Henry Marchand, Lieutenants Roland Symons, Jack Patterson and Allen Selby, plus many others.

"I've contributed a small part to where they are today. I've enjoyed them and I've enjoyed working here." Then he reflected, and thought about his last working day—"It's an awful shock to me."

Undoubtedly, it's an "awful shock" for a man who has been active in his chosen field for so many years—years, too, which have been rewarding.

"Although it may not appear rewarding to those on the outside, I've enjoyed my career. I consider myself a professional and dedicated police officer. In 30 years and seven months of work, I've only had six days off for sickness. As one of the guys said, 'They don't make that kind any more,'" stated Officer Abend proudly.

His experience, as one might imagine, cover the gamut of emotions, and the wisdom and experience he has acquired as an officer in dealing with people, shows a sure grasp of human nature.

One of his most exciting experiences, which was the only time he had to shoot his revolver, earned him a departmental citation some 15-18 years ago. While off-duty, he played a major role in the arrest of two armed men involved in various burglaries and muggings in Detroit and the suburbs.

While on foot, late at night, he fired a shot and blew out the tire of the escaping auto which housed the culprits.

ALBERT ABEND

They were forced to abandon their stricken car at Mack and Hollywood and were subsequently arrested in St. Clair Shores.

On the humorous side, he recalled the time he was running radar and ultimately stopped a motorist for speeding. As the driver was digging for his operator's license and registration, he asked the officer if he knew Albert Abend. Playing it straight, Officer Abend said, "Yes I do," to which the motorist replied, "He's a friend of mine."

The driver then asked if he was going to receive a ticket and Officer Abend told him he was. "That would make me upset," commented the motorist. "Yes it may," replied the officer. So, the ticket was written and "personally delivered" to the motorist, who stated, "I may take it to court." To this, the officer said, "Before you do, read the signature," at which time, he turned and walked away.

Unfortunately, Officer Abend didn't see his "friend's" reaction but it must have been something.

A highlight of his career focused upon school safety and the "little kids," for whom he always has had time whether in school or on the street.

He recalls, "I used to go to the schools and talk with them. I'd take in my fire gear and let them try on all the equipment. I'd try to put them at ease as they were a little frightened." His kind way with youngsters gave birth to the name "Uncle Al" as he was known around the schools. "Today, some of them are married and still call me 'Uncle Al.' It's so rewarding."

"I used to hit all the schools every day of the week," he continued. "You got 'em, so why not enjoy the little ones. When they hit the middle schools, you've lost 'em as a certain element would ridicule them for liking policemen." He then stressed the importance of "more contact" with youngsters today at the lower school level.

Officer Abend also recalled times when individuals called him names. "Names have to roll off your back such as 'cop,' 'fuzz,' 'pig,'" he said, while focusing upon an ever changing society. "I balance myself off with the person talking with me. If he's nice, I'm nice. If he's nasty, I can be nasty."

As for appearance in dealing with people, Officer Abend stated if some one, for example, has long hair and that person is nice to him, "Fine." Then, he briefly paused, and said, "Everyone is entitled to his own personality. Who am I to try to remove it from him."

For such a busy man, retirement offers a sharp transition. But Officer Abend has some plans. He wants to have the summer for himself and his wife, Lillian, which obviously will include one of his favorite past times, bike riding. "I was one of the people who planned the bike routes in Grosse Pointe Woods and I'm pretty physically fit," he revealed.

The officer also will be involved with his collection of model cars, all of which he has built himself, and with another interest, photography.

He noted social security is not paid to officers but he has paid some before, while stressing, "We retire at a fixed income per our pension plan. It never goes up. I'll have to go back on social security or look for a pension change."

Officer Abend said he hoped for a more "flexible" pension system and noted if the Grosse Pointe Woods Police Officers Association, (GPW-POA), ever goes for pension changes in future bargaining sessions, that they include men already retired in future contracts.

He stated for two months he was covered under a prescription rider and a new dental plan in the recently settled via arbitration public safety officer's contract for fiscal year 1973-75, but when he retires he won't get that. "I hope these things will change and we have a more lucrative pension plan," he added.

Officer Abend, who has one married daughter and two grandchildren, has lived in The Woods for 35 years, (and that, too, is how long he has been married).

He will be missed by his colleagues—you can bet on that.

Lieutenant Symons, who worked with him for 27 years, said, "He's been a good, faithful, dedicated police officer, a conscientious, devoted employee to the city."

And City Administrator Chester E. Petersen added, "He's had a long, successful career with the city of Grosse Pointe Woods. He's been a good, dedicated police officer."

Officer Abend's many friends will honor him at a retirement party set for Tuesday, June 11, at the Revere Hall, 24725 Jefferson, St. Clair Shores, beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets at $8.50 per person are currently available at Department of Public Safety headquarters, and include dinner and refreshments.

Woman Kidnapped, Robbed of $1,000

vehicle.
At this point, the woman who looked as though she had a gun, got into the car with the complainant, while the other suspect said she would meet her later at Woolworth's.

The drive to the complainant's home then began. During the drive, the suspect said she worked as a domestic in The Pointe, and also talked about Jesus saying, "You never know when your blessing is going to come," according to the report.

At the home, the victim gave the suspect $190 which was in an envelope under her mattress. The woman said it wasn't enough, telling the complainant to get more money or she would kill her baby. The victim then removed an envelope with $300 from under the mattress and gave it to the culprit. She then demanded $10 from the complainant's wallet to make $500.

The suspect demanded that the victim get her bank book as she wanted $700 more. When the woman said she didn't have this money, the suspect, again, threatened her baby. She then showed the culprit her bank book which had $588.77. The woman told the complainant to drive to the bank and withdraw $500.

So the pair drove to the Michigan National Bank, Joy road and Greenfield. During the trip the complainant tried to speed in an attempt to draw a scout car's attention but the suspect told her to slow down, while, once again, threatening her baby.

At the bank, she made a withdrawal slip for $500 and was asked by a teller how she wanted it. In an attempt to tip off the teller that she was being forced to make such a withdrawal, the victim asked the suspect who said in 50's. The complainant told the teller in 100's and received five $100 bills.

Then, the drive back to Woolworth's began, which included a gasoline stop.

At the rear of Woolworth's the second suspect appeared from Mack avenue and shouted, "Here I am," and ran to the car. "Get the money?", she asked. "Yeah," replied the woman. And the victim was told to hand over all the loot.

At this point, the complainant was ordered from the car, and told to walk from the scene while the thieves escaped. The woman then immediately called Woods police and her husband.

The woman, who acted as if she had a gun, was described as between 55-57 years of age, about 5'5" tall and between 120-130 pounds. She had four bottom teeth missing, wore a brownish wavy wig, gold glasses trimmed in black, a navy blue coat and a beige dress.

Meanwhile, the second woman was described as between 48-50 years, 5'4" tall and around 160 pounds. She had a space between her two front upper teeth and had black hair combed back with gray roots showing. She wore a light brown coat, a laundry type white uniform dress and white hospital shoes.

school was entered during the Easter vacation period, and entry was gained by breaking a window at the east side of the building.

Assistant Prosecutor Jean Marson, after approving the warrants, praised the officers for doing an excellent job, after reviewing all the evidence and charges prepared by the detectives. She complimented them for working so hard in solving the case.

Also commending the detective trio was William Mogk, Pierce principal, who wrote a letter thanking LaPratt, Furtaw and Saiford for their efforts and for the recovery of the stolen instruments. The letter was sent to Chief Henry Coonce, who praised the policemen for "their excellent police work."

Lieutenant Duncan, who, too, expressed his pleasure and compliments to the detectives, said the facts of the break-in and larceny could not be divulged at once because the officers had several leads after many hours of gathering information and evidence, which resulted in the arrest of one of the suspects.

Carpeting

Lighting brightens your home with warmth and pleasantness. It also adds a charm and welcome to every home. Light can be direct or indirect, used singly or in combination. Indirect light is directed against a wall or the ceiling, and the rays bounce off to diffuse the room with a shadowless, pale light. Direct light comes from table or floor lamps. Indirect light is impersonal, the pool of light tends to draw people into its circle with quiet and intimacy. Direct light brings out textures and shadows and makes things more attractive and interesting. Adjustability is desirable in both. A dimmer in the wall switch and three-way bulbs will enable you to tone your lighting for the occasion.

Nothing adds more to the warmth and pleasantness of your home than beautiful carpeting from ED MALISZEWSKI CARPETING, 21435 Mack, 776-5510. Our experts will be glad to show you carpeting in all colors, styles, textures, and designs at prices you will love featuring such names as BARWICK, LEES, and CABIN CRAFTS. New Probation Plan year to incarcerate a person, and national statistics show that 74 percent of offenders become repeaters if they are not placed in a rehabilitation program.

Many interested
Attending the Monday meeting were representatives of the Pointe police departments, the Youth Service Division, (YSD), Family Life Education Council, (FLEC), the Northeast Guidance Center, the Jaycees and several other community organizations.

If a volunteer probation program were established, it would be the first unified effort on the part of the five Grosse Pointes since the foundation of the YSD in 1970.

Judge Leenhouts, who is now head of National Volunteers in Probation, Inc., explained the growth of the Royal Oak program was reflected on the national scene. In 1967, 25 lower courts used volunteers, in contrast to the over 2,000 courts using volunteers in 1974.

The three acting Pointe judges, Judge Pytell, Woods Judge J. Patrick Denis and Park Judge John Urso, estimate that between 150 and 200 young offenders appear in their courts yearly who could benefit from skilled probation guidance.

Judge Urso, in his Park Municipal Court Wednesday, April 24, noticed a 19-year-old youth on a speeding charge who had a downtown Detroit law office for a mailing address. When asked, the defendant said he was under the care of a guardian and admitted he had not told the guardian of his arrest. Judge Urso adjourned the case and instructed the defendant to notify his guardian of the arrest and a later court appearance.

Specific Ages
The volunteer probation officers program would be geared towards helping the 17 to 30-year-old offender. Once over 16, and out of the jurisdiction of the Youth Service Division's supervision program, the youthful offender receives no guidance if he commits a crime.

It's known that at least 80 percent of violent crimes are committed by persons who first appeared in municipal courts.

Judge Leenhouts said about seven percent of the offenders placed on probation in Royal Oak had later encounters with the law, in contrast to the national average of 74 percent.

The Royal Oak program was thought to be so successful that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare conducted a study in 1968. It ran tests on about 100 offenders in Royal Oak and on offenders in a court identified as "Court A" which had little or no probation services. The tests registered hostility, aggressiveness, belligerence and anti-social attitudes.

After 18 months, the tests were repeated. The Royal Oak offenders, who had been placed in the intensive probation program, showed that 73.8 percent had improved in their attitudes, 15.3 showed no change and 11.7 regressed. In "Court A," 17.8 percent improved, 34.2 percent showed no change, and 48.0 had regressed.

Both courts had similar budgets, about $17,000 a year. The difference was the extensive use of volunteers in Royal Oak to enrich the probation services.

Lois of Work
The cost to Grosse Pointe for a volunteer probation service would be that of a part-time administrator, office space and supplies. The judges are thinking in the neighborhood of $6,000 for the administrator who would supervise the volunteers and oversee the program. A committee is now looking for a suitable place to house the probation offices. Office expenses would be routine, such as phone, paper supplies, etc.

If Pointers are responsive to the program, the volunteer services would be expanded. Judge Leenhouts described the many rehabilitation programs offered through the courts such as an alcoholics anonymous chapter and marriage counseling services.

He also said support was given from the professional sectors of the city; from optometrists, doctors and attorneys.

Judge Leenhouts said as he closed his presentation, "I can give you just one word of caution, a volunteer probation officers program involves a great deal of work. If you are going to do it badly, you are better off not doing it at all."

South High's 'Tower' Wins Many Awards

Teri Mageau, a senior at South High School and managing editor of "The Tower", won the top awards for high school journalists from both the Detroit Press Club Foundation and the Michigan Inter-scholastic Press Association, (MIPA). Her efforts have highlighted what has been an unusually successful spring for South journalists.

Miss Mageau was one of 18 students from across Michigan selected to go to the Central Michigan University campus one day ahead of the annual MIPA convention to publish a convention newspaper.

Based on her work on "The Tower" and on the convention newspaper, she was presented the All-MIPA award as the top student journalist in the State. This is the second time in three years a South student has won it.

"Tower" staff members did well in several other aspects of MIPA competition. Miss Mageau took first place in the feature writing competition, and second in news writing.

Brian Dervishi took an honorable mention in features, and Jon Walton took honorable mention in news.

For personal columns, Greg Freeman took first and Chet Kincaid, third. John Hall received both first place and an honorable mention for sports writing. Rick Berg placed second in advertising. "The Tower" missed by one point taking the award for best newspaper, losing to the "Saginaw Arthur Hill News."

Miss Mageau also won the President's Award as the best high school journalist in competition sponsored by the Detroit Press Club Foundation. That award was based on two writing samples published in "The Tower." Competition was open to seniors in all schools in Southeast Michigan.

that the paper "covered all aspects of school life and dealt with relevant subjects while presenting alternatives to the status quo."

The Columbia Scholastic Press Association, which was evaluating "The Tower" for the first time in recent years, presented it with the Medalist award. That judge commented, "The Tower" is an excellent student newspaper. News copy is fast-paced and bright. In-depth stories show ingenuity on the part of the staff and are well done."

Receives Honor For Aiding Dogs

Mrs. Dorothy Haycock of The Shores was honored by the Anti-Cruelty Association at their annual Be-Kind-to-Animals Week party Sunday, May 5.

She has been feeding the abandoned dogs on Belle Isle twice a day for the past six years. They recognize her three blasts of the horn when she drives up and they come out of hiding.

Mrs. Haycock points out how cruel it is for people to dump their pets there. Many never leave the spot where they were put out, hoping to see their families again.

Those dogs and cats which she is able to catch are taken to the Anti-Cruelty Association where she is a life member.

Many of these abandoned dogs she says are frightened because they have been chased and stoned by kids and almost run down by cars.

Four South Journalists Win National Recognition

Four South journalists won national recognition in competition sponsored by "Quill and Scroll," an international organization for high school journalists. Miss Mageau won a gold key for a feature story, Mr. Walton for an editorial, Mr. Dervishi for a sports story and Mr. Berg for an advertisement.

South students have won awards in the "Quill and Scroll" competition in each of the seven years they have entered, but the four awards won this year are twice as many as won in any other single year.

Ten "Tower" staff members won 16 awards in the journalism divisions of the Scholastic Writing competition sponsored by the Detroit News.

Miss Mageau and Mr. Dervishi won Gold Keys, she in interview writing and he in sports. The second level of achievement is Honorable Mention. Winners were Barb Gracey for news, Miss Mageau for editorial and features, Mike Martin for editorial and news and Mr. Walton for news and sports.

Seven students won commendations, the third level award. Mr. Kincaid for a column, Miss Mageau for news, Kevin McDonald for a feature, Andrea Roumell for news, Mark Smith for a feature and Mr. Walton for an editorial.

"The Tower" won top honors in two separate national evaluations of the paper as a whole. The National Scholastic Press Association presented the newspaper with its All-American award for the 15th straight year. The paper earned Marks of Distinction in four of the five areas evaluated. ### Woods, Park Officers Go To Breathalyzer School

Eight hundred and thirty-four police officers from over 60 different communities in the Greater Detroit area, including The Woods and The Park, returned to school last month to obtain recertification as Breathalyzer Operators in the State of Michigan.

The one day refresher school is a yearly requirement for all breathalyzer operators to be sure that operators have maintained their knowledge and skills. It consists of lectures, laboratory sessions and written examinations.

The Woods Public Safety and The Park Police Departments are the only Pointe departments having breathalyzer machines. The Shores and The Farms police agencies utilize The Woods' machine, operated by Woods personnel, while The City makes use of the machine in The Park, with Park police personnel as operators.

The Breathalyzer, used in conjunction with Michigan's 1967 "Implied Consent" law relating to driving after drinking, is a scientific instrument used to measure the percentage of alcohol through an analysis of the subject's breath.

The class also is designed to bring operators up to date on revisions of the law, new testing techniques and some of the major problems encountered in the law operation.

The first sessions were conducted Monday-Friday, March 25-March 29 at the Wayne State University's South Extension, and the series of classes, which Pointe officers attended, were conducted at The Macomb County Community College Monday-Friday, April 22-April 26. Only supervisory officers took the course on days assigned by their superiors.

From The Woods were Sergeants Thomas Kane, Bernard Kelly, James Davidson and Peter Thomas, and Corporals Thomas Kerwing, Gerald Kensora and Robert Setchell.

From The Park were Lieutenant Gordon Duncan and Sergeants George Blair, Bobby McAllister, Walter Paton and Charles Petrie.

Breathalyzer operators first qualify by attending a 40-hour plus training course at Michigan State University, Highway Traffic Safety Center. The annual refresher training sessions are conducted jointly by the Michigan State Police, The Department of Public Health and MSU Highway Traffic Safety Center.

Michigan law states that a person can be convicted of driving while under the influence of liquor with a blood alcohol level of .10 percent. The law also provides for conviction of driving while impaired, when the blood alcohol level exceeds .07 percent.

More than 3,000 state, county and municipal officers in the State have received breathalyzer training since 1967. The program is rated one of the best in the nation.

YSD Reports Big Jump in Complaints

March Total Shows Rise of 28 Over February Amount

A total of 70 complaints were processed by the Youth Service Division, (YSD), during March. This was an increase of 28 complaints over February and a jump of six over March 1973.

The overall total for the year is 160. This is a rise of 13 cases over the comparable period of last year when 147 complaints were processed.

Violation of Controlled Substances was the leading category of complaints as 13 cases were handled. The breakdown of these incidents shows one heroin, nine marijuana, two synthetics and one "all other," (sale of narcotics).

The heroin case involved one male adult; the marijuana cases involved three male adults and 14 male juveniles; the synthetic cases involved one male juvenile and one female juvenile, and the "all other" case involved one male adult.

Busy Categories
Larceny-theft was the category of second highest incidence as 12 such cases were processed. However, with associated categories — breaking and entering, seven, possession of stolen property, one, and auto theft, one — the total amount of these incidents reaches 21. These involved 30 male juveniles and seven female juveniles.

"Categories of notable incidence were Other Criminal Contact, seven; and Runaways, seven, involving two juvenile males and four female juveniles," says the report. Meanwhile, sex offenses involved one rape case, (beated); two indecent exposures, and one child molesting.

Fourteen applications for petition were submitted to the Wayne County Juvenile Court, of which eight have had court disposition.

Refer Back
The division reports, "Note should be made of the fact that Wayne County Juvenile Court has developed, in the past two years, the policy of referring back to the Youth Service Division Counseling Program some individuals for which applications for petition had been submitted to the court by YSD. This is court recognition of the remedial value of the YSD Program."

For March, the breakdown of total cases shows Violation of the Controlled Substances Act, 13; Larceny-Theft, 12; Malicious Destruction of Property, nine; Breaking and Entering, Other Criminal Contact and Runaways, seven.

More are Sex Offenses, four; Assaults and Disorderly Conduct, three, and Arson, Stolen Property Laws, Auto Theft, Offenses Against Family and Missing Persons, one apiece.

Decline Action On Bicycle Day

The Farms Council at its regular meeting on Monday, May 6, took no official action on the request of Trombly School's Girl Scout Troop 1542 which sought permission to use the eastbound lanes of Lakeshore road for bicycle traffic only Sunday, June 9, from 1 to 5 p.m.

City Manager Andrew Bremer stated there was much discussion following the request, and that the council thought the concept of a Bike Day involving the entire community was a commendable idea on the part of the scouts. But the solons felt there was no way such an event could be held at the requested time and place.

The girls previously asked The Shores trustees for approval of their plans at the Tuesday, April 23, council meeting. The trustees were reluctant to give Bike Day plans the go-ahead, mainly for safety reasons.

The Shores trustees promised an answer to the scouts before they appeared at The Farms Council meeting, but as of Monday afternoon, The Shores had not reached any decision on the matter.

"The Farms Council complimented the scouts on proposing something that would be beneficial to all the residents in the community," Mr. Bremer said, "but they questioned the wisdom of choosing that road at that time."

"Frankly," he continued, "we're disturbed at the fact that the county said okay and put the liability in the cities' hands."

The Girl Scouts wrote letters to Wayne County Commissioner Ervin A. Steiner, Jr., proposing the Bike Day and received approval of the plans from the Wayne County Road Commission. Farms and Shores approval was necessary to carry out the event since it would take place within the limits of those communities.

The girls wanted the eastbound lanes of Lakeshore, between Lakecrest lane and Verrier road, open only for cyclists, while the westbound lanes of Lakeshore would be open for two-way automobile traffic.

Poupard Plans 'Spring Fling'

Preparations for the Sixth Annual Poupard Elementary School Fair, 20655 Lennon, Harper Woods, are nearing completion. The fair, which attracted over 2,000 people last year, will be held on Saturday, May 11.

The theme for this year's fair is 'Spring Fling', the winning entry submitted by Wendy Bunnell and Laurie Lancaster in a student competition.

At the fair, there will be food, fun, games and prizes, plus moonwalks and pony rides for the children. Admission to the fair is free, with tickets for the various games and attractions. All proceeds from the fair will go to finance educational field trips and needed school equipment. Al McKibbin is president of the Poupard PTA this year.

Club Slates Many Activities

Class days are Monday through Friday from 7-9 p.m. The fee of $85 includes text and membership. Each student has approximately six hours on the road driving time.

Tigers Have Fine Opener

In their opening Babe Ruth League of Grosse Pointe, Inc., game of the season, the Tigers downed the Braves, 3-0, behind the strong pitching of John Beebe Saturday May 4. He struck out 15 batters and only allowed one bunt single.

Steve Metz also pitched a fine game for the Braves fanning 13 Tigers.

Women remain superior in the home because they have the edge on the power of speech.

Given Probation for 3 Years

A 28-year-old New Baltimore woman, who pled guilty to attempted embezzlement of over $100 in Wayne County Circuit Court March 11, was sentenced to three years probation, court costs of $330 and ordered to pay $462 in restitution.

Sandra Randall was sentenced in Circuit Court on Thursday, April 22. She worked as a bookkeeper and receptionist at the Mack avenue offices of two doctors whose books were found to be over $20,000 short by a professional auditing firm last July.

Men's Garden Club to Meet

The Men's Garden Club of Grosse Pointe will hold its regular meeting at the Center Library, Kercheval and Fisher, at 8 p.m. on Thursday, May 16. The guest speaker will be Robert Miller, landscaping manager at Greenfield Village, Dearborn. Mr. Miller's topic will be "The Five Seasons of Greenfield Village." He will show slides illustrating landscaped gardening activities at Greenfield through the spring, summer, fall and winter seasons. A discussion on decorations for the holiday season also will be included. Elmore Frank, Men's Garden Club president, well known as a specialist on lawns, will be on hand to talk over problems about your lawn and how to grow lush, green grass. He has never been stumped. Any one in The Pointe area is welcome to attend this, or any other meeting of the organization.

YSD Has Multifaceted Photo Identification Kit

(Continued from Page 1) In 1970, the Lawyers' Wives have made contributions to the division to purchase specialized equipment." The first item purchased by the YSD was a chemical lab analysis equipment for drug substances. When the kit was obtained, Mr. Petersen said Mrs. David Williams, of North Oxford road, was president of the Lawyers' Wives. The organization's current president is Mrs. Thomas Coulter, of Westchester road. Both were instrumental in obtaining the kit.

This flyer also contained a precise description of the man, e.g., height, weight, hair, et al, his modus operandi, weapons used and the location in which he was seen. Based upon this information, the man was picked up two days later by a Detroit scout car and shortly thereafter was picked out of a line-up by a witness. This particular case is still under investigation. Sergeant Kane reported eliminate the lines. Detroit has such a technique and local technicians are interested in learning more about it. When asked why Detroit police had access to the kit, Sergeant Kane replied, "It's based upon an historical relationship with the Detroit Police Department. When we had rape cases in our city, our victims were interviewed by Detroit policemen. We have no policemen in any of the Pointe departments."

physical description. With this kit, the technician has the capacity to work with the features of whites, blacks, young people and women. At this time, Sergeant Kane noted supplements to the kit are needed to keep up with current styles in a variety of areas, e.g., glasses, and also in various ethnic backgrounds, e.g., Orientals.

The entire unit includes the facial outline chart, the binder of facial features, facial breakdowns, a book on facial composition, component parts of a face, grease pencils (both black and white), overlays, cut outs and grid patterns.

Composites also are used in newspapers to aid police in their apprehension of a suspect by giving an opportunity for further potential witnesses to contact a department based upon the published picture. (The NEWS has run composites in past issues in helping towards the apprehension of a suspect).

Train by Practice Sergeant Kane said, in the past, officers who have been technicians in creating composites include YSD Detectives Ferrence and Donald Schmalz, former YSD Detective, (now Public Safety Officer), Thomas Podewzik and former Woods Detective, (now Public Safety Officer), Theodore Hinz.

Detective Ferrence said a composite, when completed, will have a minimum of five overlays and mug shots, and can have as many as eight or nine parts depending on the specific description. The longest it has taken him to complete a composite is two and a half hours. But it usually takes around two hours with a good witness.

He added when the kit was first obtained a company manufacturer reviewed the "how-to-do-it" aspects. But the detective felt most of the training comes from simply doing it.

And you can bet ol' Holmes would agree with that.

A Visual Example

The composite photograph, (right), was created by YSD Detective Michael Ferrence based upon the description of a hypothetical subject, (left). From the composite, and a further physical description supplied by a witness, police could readily recognize this subject if he was seen on the street.

that Detroit police tied in the face with specific locations and with the use of a further physical description to give more complete information in this case.

Helping Each Other A problem with composite pictures is the visibility of lines. This is because the technician uses various plastic overlays and laminated cut outs (pieces of mug shots), of facial features towards building the final result. For the flyer, a Detroit police artist was able to

What it comes down to is this: one department helping another, all with the same, important objective — apprehending a criminal suspect.

Other Techniques Detective buffs of films, television and books are undoubtedly aware of similar techniques in creating a suspect's face.

Sergeant Kane said there are other kits available which create drawings of people, plus "the popular way," an artist's conception of a suspect based upon a witness description. This, too, is a caricature, he added.

But with the photo identification kit, a further realism is obtained and, probably, greater accuracy, (assuming the witnesses' recollection is accurate).

Further Detail To explore in further detail the steps towards creating a composite, the witness starts first with a basic facial outline which considers forehead line and jaw and chin lines with the technician's assistance.

From there, the witness goes to the eyes, nose and mouth. As mentioned before, adjustments can be made as the visual input grows.

After the face is completed to the witnesses satisfaction, the composite is sent to Harper Woods to be photographed.

The ensuing prints are then utilized by the various departments as necessary, (depending on the crime), and provide officers with an opportunity to stop and talk with a particular suspect, who may be involved in a crime. Detective Ferrence said, "It puts us within the ballpark of a suspect."

Officers, of course, also have other pertinent information to go along with the composite such as a suspect's

SPORTS FANS!
I BIT YOU DIDN'T KNOW
By TED EWALD

Here's a true story about what happened one day to the great golfer Bobby Jones — and, this is a story that illustrates the real meaning of the word "sportsmanship". Jones was playing in the National Open of 1925 at Worcester. His ball went into the rough, and then accidentally moved very slightly when Jones's club touched a nearby blade of grass. Reporters later said that NOBODY saw the ball move. Jones, however, asked that he be penalized a stroke. Everyone tried to talk him out of taking the penalty because no one saw the ball move. But Jones insisted and as it turned out, that stroke cost him the title that year. Someone later asked Jones why he'd done it. He said, "That's the only way to play the game." Is there a better definition of sportsmanship than that?

What was the longest fight on record? Most boxing records show that the longest glove fight ever was between Andy Bowen and Jack Burke in New Orleans in 1893. Their bout lasted 110 rounds, or 7 hours and 19 minutes! It ended as a draw when neither man could continue.

Bon Secours, Cottage to Celebrate Hospital Week

Residents of Grosse Pointe have an opportunity to become better informed about the services, activities and future goals of their two hospitals, Bon Secours and Cottage, during National Hospital Week, Sunday-Saturday, May 12-18.

The two hospitals are joining 7,000 others throughout the country in observation of the annual event with the national slogan, "Get to know us before you need us."

Pictorially, residents can "get to know" Bon Secours and Cottage through a window display at the Camera Center in-the-Village. On either side of a poster reading "We Salute our Grosse Pointe Hospitals," are larger posters carrying a variety of photographs ranging from views of each facility to an operating room and a nurse on duty through the midnight hour.

The public is invited to attend a complete program on career opportunities in health care being presented at Bon Secours on Wednesday, May 15.

Twenty booths will represent health vocations including physicians, dietitians, laboratory technologists, x-ray technicians and patient support vocations in administration, finance, maintenance and library science.

At the hospital visitors can discuss vocations with people who work in their interest area, and health career brochures and information on Michigan schools which offer health training or degree programs will be available. Admissions officers from Mercy College and Macomb County Community College will be on hand to answer questions regarding admission requirements and tuition.

A movie entitled "Is a Career in the Health Service for Me?" will offer additional guidance.

The fair will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Cottage Hospital will honor its present and retired employees at a tea on Monday, May 13, from 1:30 to 4 p.m. and employ creativity will highlight the final observance of National Hospital Week when they exhibit handicraft and art work during a show in the Board Room on Friday, May 17.

A wide variety of articles including a jute purse, crocheted and knitted items, jewelry, paper tole, decoupage, macrame, sculpture, pottery, paintings, needlepoint and hooked rugs will be displayed.

Three members of the Cottage Hospital Board of Trustees, Mrs. Cyril J. Edwards, Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips and John N. McNaughton, will judge the art work and award first, second and third place ribbons in various categories.

Approve Sale Of Duplicator

One offer is better than none so The Woods Council unanimously concurred in the recommendation of City Comptroller-Assessor Frederick G. Hornfisher that a 12-year-old A. B. Dick duplicator be sold to Economee Service, Inc., of 15201 Kercheval avenue, for $750.

Mr. Hornfisher told the council an advertisement was run for two months in the "Michigan Municipal Review" but up to Friday, April 5, only one offer was received to purchase the equipment.

This machine, which cost around $5,000 new, hasn't been used for over three years as the city has another Xerox machine which does all needed work.

This action was taken at a recent council meeting.

JC Jelly Sale Is Successful

The Grosse Pointe Jaycees in association with the Foundation for Exceptional Children reported their recent Second Annual Jelly Week Sale was a big success.

Seven hundred cases or 8,400 jars of jelly were initially ordered and after these were sold out an additional 30 cases were received and sold. This compared to last year's sale of approximately 500 cases or 6,000 jars. After expenses are deducted, more than $5,000 will be presented to the Foundation.

Personal sales efforts took place at Kroger's, J. C. Penney's and Sear's stores at Seven and Mack, Grosse Pointe Farms Auto Wash, Michigan Bank at Mack and Warren, and Jefferson and Alter, Mr. McCourts Shoes In-The-Village, Salem Square on the Hill and Kroger's Eastland. Volunteers representing both organizations manned these sales outlets.

The joint committee who worked on the project are Karen Eichler and Sis Pierce, co-chairmen from the Foundation for Exceptional Children; John Brewster, publicity; Ed Fox and Clark Hinkley, program coordinators; Bob Malecek, finance, and Helga Firmschild, Jaycee Auxiliary representative.

"Additionally, the efforts of our many volunteers should be recognized. Without them our sales would have been far less. However, the largest accolades should be given to the people in the community who shared with us so generously," stated John Ruh, project chairman.

Plants Taken At Stonehurst

Someone entered the greenhouse at the Schlotman Estate, Stonehurst, 501 Lakeshore road, and took three to five potted ivy plants from the south structure and two to three carnations, along with a half roll of tissue paper, from the center structure, reported Shores police.

The incident was reported to the department Sunday morning, April 28.

While on patrol checking the grounds, Officer Bruce Darlington was told by an employe of the greenhouse break-in. The culprit forced a window in at the center structure and entered. The thieves went through all the drawers and cabinets in all the structures and took the aforementioned articles.

The door to the office located in the center structure was forced open and the drawers rifled. While going from structure to structure, the thieves forced open doors that were locked, either by breaking or removing a window.

All doors will again be locked and nailed shut, police added.

Trio Charged with Assault

Three Warren men have been charged with assault with intent to rob, armed, stemming from an incident early Sunday morning, May 5, in The Woods.

The trio, along with another Warren man who's not being charged, were to be arraigned before Woods Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis Monday, May 6, (after press time). They allegedly picked up a 21-year-old Woods man, who was hitch-hiking, held a knife to his throat and struck him in a robbery attempt.

Police identified the suspects as Carl Garson, 19, Buele Scott, 22, and Carlos Wayne Biggs, 18.

Woods police received information on the assault from Shores officers, after the victim first reported the incident to them. The complainant said he was returning home from Diamond Lill's and was hitch-hiking from that location to Vernier and, again, on Vernier when a vehicle with four men picked him up.

After entering the auto, he told police he was hit on the head with a hard object. One of the men then put a knife to his throat and a handkerchief to his mouth. When asked to give them his money, the complainant said he had none.

He was then driven for a short distance before Shores officers stopped the car for no illumination on the rear license plate, and warned the driver. The complainant told Shores police he had been warned against any outcry or request for help. After that, he was taken to Morningside and Vernier, where he was dropped off.

Later, Woods police received information that Detroit officers had nabbed the four suspects for investigation of an assault incident in their city.

Meanwhile, The Woods man was treated and released at Saint John Hospital for the blow on the head, which caused a slash of around one and a half inches long, police reported.

Big plans are being made for summer picnics and vacations.

Over 90,000 accidental deaths and over 9,000,000 injuries occur each year. Recent records show that there are several major threats to the health and safety of those you love.

As you might guess, auto-accidents are a prime cause of accident and death. Drowning, fire, firearms, falls, and poisonous gases are also a major cause of accidents or death.

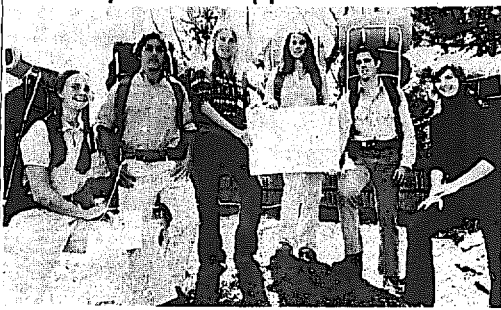

Carelessness is often a prime mover in accidents. Inattention, and poor judgment also figure. We must all be on guard against these things — and, it seems, against ourselves.

If you've had an accident and need to buy or rent a walker, wheel chair, or crutches, come to DEVONSHIRE DRUGS, 16037 Mack "on the block", 381-0478. We believe in personalized service to our customers and have the most efficient and capable pharmacists in the Grosse Pointe area.

The same charities will receive all proceeds from a smaller, 20-mile hike which begins at 8 a.m., May 11, at the ULS playing field. Pledges for the local walkathon begin at 10 cents a mile.

Would Promote Folk Activities

Congressman Lucien N. Nedzi, (D-Mich.), has announced that his House Administration subcommittee has scheduled hearings on Thursday-Friday, May 9-10 on legislation that would create an American Folklife Center.

"The center, as part of the Library of Congress, would be authorized to make grants for the promotion of American folk and ethnic activities through films, exhibits, live performances and festivals. Other grants would fund research and training.

In addition, the bill would make possible the preservation and organization of materials documenting folk and ethnic heritage in national and regional museums and archives.

Somehow, you're never ready for it.

As far as man has evolved, he has never developed a defense mechanism strong enough, nor an insulation thick enough to deal with the emotional holocaust of the death of someone he loves.

What you feel is always the same. Stunned disbelief. Shock. Numbness. Then the most intense sense of grief and loss a person can ever know.

And nothing anyone can say or do can ever be enough to prepare you for it. Let alone cushion the blow when death becomes a personal reality.

But what we at Hamilton can do is make that awful time a little easier to get through.

Not with syrupy false sincerity. And lofty euphemisms. But with understanding. And help. Real, tangible help. With the arrangements that need to be made. The details that have to be taken care of. With frank, honest advice on the decisions that must be reached.

In short what we try to do, is act as much as an outsider ever can, like a good friend would under the same circumstances. Nothing we could offer you could ever be sufficient compared to your loss, of course.

But what we can give you is the peace of mind, the freedom from worry you so desperately need.

To deal with what has happened in your own way. On your own terms.

"GRAND PRIZE Gypsum breaks up hard-pan clay soil to render it useful and improve drainage," advises Jerry Baker, America's master gardener and author of "Plants Are Like People."

GRAND PRIZE® Lawn & Garden Gypsum

Now GRAND PRIZE Gypsum makes it easy to get your lawn ready for the growing season: These clean, white mineral particles work their way down into packed turf like little hoes, loosen clogged soil so it can breathe. This helps speed up seed germination, lets roots grow deep and strong, makes fertilizers work more effectively, too. And non-toxic, non-burning GRAND PRIZE adds its own bonus of sulfate sulfur and calcium. Spread GRAND PRIZE Gypsum in Spring and Fall to loosen clay soil, improve growth of grass, flowers and vegetables. Get it now at your garden center or hardware store.

Celebrates 25th Anniversary

Brother Augustine Hickens of Austin Catholic Prep School celebrated the 25th Anniversary of his entrance into the Order of Saint Augustine on Sunday, May 5.

Brother Gus — as he is known by all — attended St. Bernards and St. Edwards elementary schools and graduated from Henry Ford Trade School in 1934.

Being an accomplished figure skater, he organized and was president of Victory Skating Club.

In 1943 he entered the Navy and served at Guadalcanal and several other islands in the South Pacific.

He left the Navy to join the Augustinians who administer Saint Clares in Grosse Pointe, Saint Augustines in Detroit, Austin Prep and 47 other Catholic institutions in the U. S.

Brother Gus' first assignment was to support the Novitiate through the sale of Christmas cards. Becoming the sixth largest distributor in the country he soon was known as the "Christmas card tycoon." He left the Christmas card project in 1969 to return to Guadalcanal to work a year in the missions.

At Austin Prep he has served in different positions. Presently, he is the manager of the cafeteria.

For many years he has been chaplain of the Grosse Pointe Power Squadron and is now also chaplain for District Nine of the United States Power Squadrons.

Present at a Mass of Thanksgiving celebrated at Saint Clare de Montefalco Church were Brother Augustine's sisters, Sister May Paul, S.S.J., Mrs. Oscar Roberts, Mrs. Harvey Robin, and brothers George and Joseph. Father William, who is a Holy Cross missionary in Bangladesh, was unable to attend.

Judge Denis Holds Court

Woods Municipal Judge J. Patrick Denis, sitting in for City Municipal Judge Douglas L. Paterson, convened court on Tuesday, April 23. Three cases were dismissed and two people were found not guilty.

Louis Ochs pled not guilty to littering in the area of Neels Shoe store but was found guilty and ordered to pay $25.

Lenore Mary Barlow, 1166 Lakeview, Detroit, pled guilty to a disorderly person charge and was placed on one year's probation.

John Michael Schwarz, 912 Barrington, pled not guilty to an excessive speed charge and also to having no registration on his person. He was found guilty and fined $40 for the excessive speed charge and $5 for the no registration charge.

Howard A. Bolton, 15909 Novara, Detroit, pled guilty to having his ability impaired. He was fined $100.

Our big size. It's worth its weight in more ways than one.

1 Whether you buy our Home Laundry 20 lb. size or our smaller, but still big, 9 lb. 13 oz. Jumbo size, you always get your money's worth of Concentrated all's unique formula. You've probably seen on TV how it breaks up greasy oil. (We drop greasy oil into 5 bowls of detergent solution. In 4 of them, the oil just sits there, while in the 5th, all breaks up the greasy oil.) all can solve your tough laundry problems, like grease... it can get everything you wash clean.

2 all's concentrated. That means you use much less than with most other detergents. So wash for wash, both the 20 lb. and the 9 lb. 13 oz. size cost less than most other detergents. In fact, no other detergent gives you more for your money.

3 Because Concentrated all comes in big sizes, it's much easier to dispense. Just scoop out what you need, rather than pouring it into a cup.

4 And with our big 20 lb. size of all, each box will last so much longer, you won't have to run to the store as often... a good chance to save on gas and a big help if you do a lot of wash.

MALCOLM JOHNS, who has been organist and choir-master of Grosse Pointe Memorial Church for 35 years, will be leaving the church Thursday, August 1. He recently accepted the post of organist and choir-master at Christ Church, Detroit.

Besides his church activities, Mr. Johns is professor of music at Wayne State University where he is conductor of the Choral Union and Orchestra. He is also well known in the metropolitan Detroit area for his "Salute" concerts of large choral works.

His wife, Marian, also will leave her position as director of Youth Chorus at Memorial Church after 18 years of service.

Mr. and Mrs. Johns are recognized for promoting church music of such contemporary composers as Heinz Werner Zimmermann, Hugo Distler and Richard Felciano.

The couple is planning to assist Dr. Thor Johnson, conductor of the Nashville Symphony and artistic orchestral director of Interlochen Music Center, at the Moravian Music Festival to be held in Green Bay, Wis., this June. Mrs. Johns is Dr. Johnson's sister.

Mrs. Johns said they were planning to remain on Rivard boulevard. Also living in The Pointe are their two children and their families, Cort Johns and Mrs. Thomas Stevens.

Lochmoor Club Defeats GPYC in Keg Tourney

The Lochmoor Club's Second Annual Bowling Invitational Tournament Saturday, April 20, at Fred Wolf's Eastland Bowl, saw the host club come away the winner over The Grosse Pointe Yacht Club, the defending champion.

Twenty-four five-man teams were in the field, six from each club, three teams of ladies and three teams of men.

Using their respective club averages based on a handicap, Lochmoor's teams piled up a total of 15,487 pins to the GPYC's 15,215 in a close finish. Gowanie Golf Club was third with 14,979 pins and the Detroit Yacht Club finished fourth with 14,802.

GPYC's #3 team won individual honors with a three-game series of 2,959 followed by Lochmoor's #1 team with 2,866. For the ladies it was Lochmoor's #1 team with 2,579 and GPYC ladies #2 team with 2,356.

Individually, Lee Schoenheit of Lochmoor was the front runner with a 665 series, followed by Ted Smith of GPYC just one pin back at 664. Gordon Scratch of Gowanie was third with a total of 647.

When your turn signals don't function, the result can often be dangerous. The driver behind you is often not looking for hand signals, as he's more prepared to notice a flashing light. Putting your hand out your window in cold or wet weather can be awkward as it is dangerous. A little common sense maintenance will make your turn signals last longer. Remember that salt and moisture can eat away the lamp housings and make bulb sockets inoperative. Remove the lenses occasionally and check for corrosion.

the college or university of his choice. The awards are underwritten by 265 corporations, foundations, professional associations, unions and NMSC's own funds.

Farms Police Accuse Driver

John W. Anderson, 20, of 44 Harbor Hill, was arrested by Farms police on Tuesday, April 30, and charged with reckless driving and for a hit-and-run accident. He was stopped, after a high speed chase, when City officers set up a roadblock and assisted in the arrest.

Farms Patrolman John Kraiza, in an official report, disclosed he was on routine patrol, traveling south on Provencal road, at about 1:07 a.m., and as he approached Kercheval, he observed a car heading west on the avenue from Preston place.

The officer stated the driver, later identified as Anderson, turned right to go north on Provencal, made a complete turn onto the road, came to a complete stop, then reversed, backing onto Kercheval with his wheels spinning, facing toward Preston and then raced forward on the avenue.

Patrolman Kraiza said he gave chase and during the entire pursuit he was only a block behind Anderson, who was traveling at a high speed.

The officer said Anderson made a turn north onto Country Club lane to Moross road, where he went through a stop sign, then made a left turn onto Ridge road and continued on at about 60 miles an hour, weaving from curb-to-curb and nearly hitting 10 legally parked automobiles on both sides of the road.

Anderson went through a stop sign at Beaupre, Patrolman Kraiza stated. He also ignored another stop sign at Piche, turned west onto Piche and failed to stop for another sign at Kerby.

Patrolman Kraiza said he turned on his flasher lights and siren and radioed for assistance to any units available in the area. The motorist continued on Kerby to Charlevoix, traveling 60 m.p.h.

At Charlevoix, Anderson continued to Hamilton court, where he was forced to come to a stop by a roadblock set up by City Patrolmen Dennis Van Dale and Ed Miller. The officers had blocked off the avenue with their scout car, which had its flasher lights on.

The Farms policeman informed Anderson he was under arrest for reckless driving. In the car was a young woman, who was released without charge after questioning at the station. She was picked up by her parents.

Patrolman Kraiza was aided in taking Anderson to the station by Farms Patrolmen Timothy Morrison and Philip Miglio. Before the sojourn to the station, the officers searched the young man's auto and found a bottle of liquor and several cans of beer on the front floor. They also noted that Anderson's vehicle was damaged on the right side, from bumper to bumper.

Anderson volunteered information that he had struck an auto in front of 363 Kerby road, near Piche.

At the accident scene, the officers found a right front light assembly broken off of Anderson's car after he collided with an automobile belonging to Michael Finn, of 35191 Brittany Park drive, Mount Clemens, who was visiting at the Kerby address.

At the station, Anderson was issued a violation ticket for reckless driving, and for leaving the scene of an accident. He was released after his parents arrived and posted a bond of $50 on his behalf. His court hearing is scheduled for Thursday, May 15.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has announced plans to offer free eye examinations under the sponsorship of Northeast Detroit Lions Club, and Harper Woods Lions Club between the hours of 9 A.M. and 4 P.M. on Saturday, May 11. Specifically, the Society is concerned with Glaucoma, the leading cause of blindness among adults in the United States. The best defense against Glaucoma is an annual eye examination, since early detection can usually halt its progress. Glaucoma can sneak up on almost anybody, especially after the age of 35. In its early stages it is hardly noticeable, but without proper treatment it can eventually result in blindness. The seriousness of this affliction is of special interest to the Northeast Lions Club, and Harper Woods Lions Club co-sponsors of the free clinic. Because of the Lions' enduring interest in sightseeing, as well as all eye distortions, the Clubs will maintain a staff to aid the professional doctors who will be at the locations at the hours mentioned. The examination usually takes only minutes.

One View From The Capitol

By William R. Bryant, Jr.

The State legislature is proceeding at a slow pace to establish a State budget for the 1974-75 fiscal year starting July 1.

There is always a philosophical or political argument as to how one sets the outline of a budget.

Do you first determine available revenue, then fit the pieces of the budget into that dollar figure?

Or do you determine what programs and services are needed and their cost, and then try to find the money?

Even if you do start with available revenue, do you first consider if tax cuts are needed to boost the economy of to make the overall tax structure more equitable?

In Lansing, the normal and expected approach of the more "liberal" elements is to first determine necessary programs and services and their costs.

This year, however, they are trying to play a somewhat different game by also trying to remove the sales tax on food and drugs. Their problem is that such a tax decrease must either be offset by reduced programs and services or be replaced by an increase in the income tax.

Not having the heart to cut services, nor the votes to raise the income tax, the "liberals" are rather bad off on their professed desire to remove the tax on food and drugs.

Fiscal conservatives, on the other hand, and I count myself in that frustrated group, have fought for a tax cut package as top priority. From the after-cut available revenue we would then piece together a budget.

House Bill 4208 as passed by the Senate, had the elements of a tax cut package including a modified, lower cost tax credit for sales tax on food and drugs and a credit against business inventory taxes.

Now the "liberal" elements are holding this up, and suspicious are that they are doing this to give a huge social services budget a shot at gobbling up any chance for a tax cut this year.

If you want to see a tax cut of any kind this year, I suggest you write your State Senators and House Taxation Committee Chairman, George Montgomery, and tell them you want the legislature to pass HB 4208 with a partial sales tax credit for food and drugs and an inventory tax credit or a reduction in the corporate franchise tax, or both.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

During the early morning of Tuesday, May 7, a beautiful dog was laying under the bushes in my backyard at Roland road. Patrolman Thomas Kelly of The Farms police responded to my call. Upon his observation, the dog seemed injured. Unfortunately, there wasn't a tag or identification on the dog to help the officer.

Patrolman Kelly, very patiently and adeptly, made friends with the dog. This involved considerable time. He should have been able to call the owner. (No identification!) The dog was badly injured and not easy to deal with.

However, with additional help and equipment from our police force, the dog was transported to a veterinarian in the community.

If owners don't think any more of their pets than to put them at the mercy of other people, then they shouldn't have them. They are certainly worth tags for identification, if even a "vet" tag, so the vet can trace the owner.

Patrolman Kelly is to be commended. He exercised patience and gained the confidence of the injured dog.

Star of Sea Has 'Big Time' Drive

As a result of a paper drive held by Our Lady Star of the Sea Grade School on Saturday, April 27, the students netted over $2,000 and, according to Pioneer Paper Division, who provided the vans, it was the most successful one-day drive ever held in this area.

The grade schoolers, with the help of many fathers, teachers and some of the vans, were able to fill five large vans and two drop boxes with a total of 217,430 pounds of newspaper.

The students will use the profits from the drive to re-stock their library.

On Friday, May 10, a school assembly is being held to present trophies to the top collector in each class. A representative from Pioneer Paper will explain what happens to the papers after they are loaded into the vans.

If our police are that concerned, can't we help a little? The owner who lost the dog, a mixed German shepherd female, should contact Farms police.

To the Editor: People talk about this being "Be Kind to Animals Week." I believe that every week of the year should be called "Be Kind to Animals Week."

Every hour 10,000 pups and kittens are born and only 25 percent are given the chance to live. The others are put to death because they are unwanted.

People give up their animals for foolish reasons: "I just got new furniture and he's tearing it up—" or "He was cute when he was little but now I can't even walk him"— or "This is her third litter and I can't put up with this anymore."

People think that they can buy a pet and treat it like a toy. You should think about it. If you don't think that you can manage it and train it, don't get a pet. If you do, have it spayed or neutered. It will be happier and healthier. Don't dump your pet when it does something wrong — train it.

If everyone pitched in a little and really took care of pets, every week would really be "Be Kind to Animals Week!"

Handshake Ends Match

Still reviewing the last move of an hour-and-a-half chess game while they give the traditional handshake closing the match are, (left), South High student DAVID HALL and, (right), Bishop Gallagher student CHRIS GASSEN. Chris Gassen won the match on Board Five.

High School Chess Clubs Compete in Area Tournaments

By Kathy Duff

All was quiet in South High School's Cleminson Hall Thursday afternoon, April 25. Even though I was asked to report there at 3:30 p.m., I tiptoed in, afraid to disturb a player's concentration as he contemplated moving a bishop to queen four.

On two long tables, five chess boards were set up. They ranged from Board 1, composed of each team's top player, to Board 5, the lowest ranking player on the five-man teams.

With hands folded in front of them, the 10 high school students quietly surveyed the warfare raging beneath them on the red-and-black board. There were no smiles, no talking and no contact until the final play when both players would stand, shake hands and thank each other for the match.

At the close of the three-hour match, Bishop Gallagher, the visiting team, had won 3 1/2 to 1 1/2 points. The result was expected, since Bishop Gallagher is ranked second in Group C, while South is ranked fourth. Other high schools in the league include Notre Dame, ranked first; Finney, third; East Detroit, fifth; and Osborn, sixth.

Playing Board One on the South High team was Peter Collins; Board Two, Thomas Wesley; Board Three, Robert Voigt; Board Four, Steven Guice; and Board Five, David Hall.

On the Bishop Gallagher team Tim Morey played Board One; Bill Alessi, Board Two; Ken Bartold, Board Three; Phil Sutter, Board Four; and Chris Gassen, Board Five.

Bishop Gallagher players Bill Alessi, Phil Sutter and Chris Gassen won their games; South High player Peter Collins won his match. On Board Three, Robert Voigt, and Ken Bartold played to a draw.

Discussing the game after they had completed their matches, most of players admitted that they had played chess for the past eight or nine years. However, Peter Collins, ranked first on the South High team, had taken up the game only last year. Most of the students said they devoted about 10 hours a week to playing the game, especially on Sunday afternoon when the chess club meets.

One of the Bishop Gallagher students said he had made over $200 in the school lunchroom playing chess. His friends called him the biggest con artist they knew. Heading the chess club at South High is Dave Grindle, a math teacher. He has been teaching at South for the past five years, but has been head of the chess club for only the past two.

"I have always been interested in chess, but I'm not very good," Mr. Grindle said. "Actually, I think that I could best describe myself as a bumbling amateur. Our membership in the chess club usually varies from 12 to 20 members."

Bishop Gallagher's club is smaller with only 12 regular players. It was started by Walt Schreiner, a German and science fiction teacher at the high school. Mr. Schreiner said interest in chess was low when he came to the school three years ago, so he started the club.

There are four leagues in the Metropolitan City Chess League. South and Bishop Gallagher are in Group C, while North High School is in Group B. Each team within a group will meet two times a year at alternating schools.

North ended its season in third place behind South Lake, High School, ranked first, and Lakeshore High School, ranked second. Following North are L'Anse Creuse, Lakeview and Roseville Brablec. Rankings are determined by the points accumulated throughout the season, not by win-loss records.

"It's the responsibility of the visiting team to make arrangements," Mr. Schreiner said. "The visiting team is given the white players on Boards One, Three and Five, which means they have the first move and that's considered an advantage."

Every move made in the chess tournament is annotated so the students can review their games and learn from mistakes. A typical entry is "P-K4" which means absolutely nothing to the uninitiated, yet means "pawn to king 4" to a chess freak.

Both faculty advisors said they thought the chess clubs attracted above average students with leanings towards science and math. It's very rare to find a girl in heavy chess action. The faculty advisors said they are always trying to interest girls in chess, but that they seem to shy away from competition.

At 5:30, some of the matches were still on. After two hours of play, a two-minute time limit is placed on each move. As I left, Mr. Grindle was monitoring the play with his watch, giving one-minute warnings as the tournament entered its third hour of play.

It was still very quiet in Cleminson Hall when I left.

North Outruns Clintondale

By Karen Marshall

North High School captured another fine track victory by routing Clintondale, 111-12. The meet was held at North Tuesday, April 30.

The highlight of the meet was Ed Brennan's mile run. By running this in 4:18.6, a new track and school record was set.

Fritz Lehmann acquired his best time ever in the 100-yard dash with a 10.4. Clintondale's outstanding event was Ed Torczak with a putt of 50'11".

In the 880-yard relay, Carl Johansson, Brian Kelly, Pat Persichini and Fred Minturn ran their best time ever this year, 1:32.4.

Another best for this season was the 440-yard relay, run in 44.8 by Lehmann, Dan Warner, Johansson and Kelly.

The two-mile run was won by Tom Hammer in 9:36.7. The second place finisher rolled around 38 seconds later.

Upplegger, Humes and Zaranek had fantastic times in the 120-yard high hurdles, all being in the 15-second range.

Tenth grader Humes had a fine time of 20.8 running low hurdles in a curve. North's team has meets throughout the spring season so if you have the chance, come on down and watch the boys participate in many different events!

What Goes On at Your Library

By Arthur Woodford Chief of Central Library

Within the next decade there is a good possibility that we will be buying our milk by the liter, measuring our weight in kilograms and figuring our travel distance in kilometers. In effect, according to most experts, the United States is on a one-way road to conversion to the metric system.

The question of "going metric" has been discussed in the United States for over 150 years. In 1821, John Quincy Adams called attention to the then relatively new system. In 1866, the National Academy of Sciences recommended its adoption.

But for the following 100 years, while countries all over the world changed to the decimal system, conversion in the United States remained a much-debated issue that got almost nowhere.

Now, after decades of lollygagging, the time may be at hand. Acting on an exhaustive 1971 Commerce Department study that strongly recommended a 10-year plan to turn the nation predominantly though not exclusively metric, the two Houses of Congress have been taking turns working up conversion bills.

The major reason for the change is economic. The United States is now the only major nation that is not on the metric system or committed to change to it. If the U. S. drags its feet in holding to what many considered an out-moded system of weights and measures, it is likely to suffer heavily in the world market place.

Americans actually are not strangers to the metric system. Drugs we buy have been manufactured by metric standards since the mid-1950's. Swimming pools for outdoor competition are being built to metric dimensions to qualify for international meets. American skis now are sold in centimeter sizes. The width of photographic film is expressed in millimeters.

In the past three years, IBM, Honeywell, Caterpillar Tractor and International Harvester have announced formal plans to go metric. In April 1973, General Motors announced that all its new product components and facilities, including the rotary engine, will be designed and built to metric specifications. In June 1973, Ford Motor Company unveiled the first automotive plant in the U. S. designed specifically to build products to metric specifications.

In Ohio, dual-marked distance signs have gone up on that state's highways, and at Cincinnati's new Riverfront Stadium, the distance from home plate to the outfield walls are marked in both feet and meters.

The metric system is based on the decimal system and is really quite simple to learn. The basic units are the meter which is a little longer than the yard; the liter which is a little larger than a quart, and the gram which is about the weight of a paper clip.

To help you understand and learn the metric system, your Grosse Pointe Public Library has available a variety of materials. WEIGHTS AND MEASURES: U. S. TO METRIC AND METRIC TO U. S. by Helmer A. Ronninger is a handbook that gives comparisons of the two systems in table form. Along with area, length, temperature and volume, one helpful table compares clothing sizes.

Another useful ready-reference volume is METRIC SYSTEM SIMPLIFIED by Gerard W. Kelly. This little book tells how the metric system was developed, how it is organized and how it can be applied in various fields. It also shows how the metric system is related to our U. S. system.

The book explains how to change quickly and easily from one system to the other and includes a variety of methods, tables, formulas and short-cuts. Additional features of this book include chapters on "Metric in the Kitchen" and "Metric and the Car."

Along with these books, the library has available giveaway copies of a handy four-page pamphlet "The Metric System . . ." which presents the metric system in a simple, easy-to-use format.

For organizations, the library has available 16mm films on the metric system. METRIC SYSTEM is a 13-minute color film which shows the advantages of "going metric" as opposed to "staying imperial." THE METRIC SYSTEM, (an 11-minute black and white film), clearly illustrates the basic units of the metric system and its uses today. English and metric units are compared, and the advantages of computations in the metric system are demonstrated.

LEARNING ABOUT METRIC MEASURES, (17-minute, color), is a film that introduces the viewer to the basic concepts and patterns of the metric system, while LITER AND GRAM, (13-minute, color), introduces the viewer to the three basic units of the metric system.

When the United States does finally adopt the metric system, proverbs, catch phrases and nursery rhymes might undergo wholesale revision. For example: "28.4 grams of prevention is worth 453.6 grams of cure"; "Don't hide your light under a 35-liter basket"; and "There was a crooked man and he walked a crooked 1.6 kilometer."

For the explanation of these and other metric conversion problems, call your Grosse Pointe Public Library.

The Met's gone, departed from Detroit until next year, but Opera in Detroit is alive and well and living at the Music Hall.

Michigan Opera Theatre, the professional performing company which annually produces a season of opera in English, is making plans for a smashingly successful 1974-75 series of four well-known operas, in five performances each.

This will make 1974-75 MOT's largest season ever, as Phyllis (Mrs. Neil) Snow, of McKinley avenue, full-time volunteer for MOT and its landlord, the Music Hall, explained at a recent gathering of MOT Ticket committee team captains in the Preston place home of Mrs. Edward P. Frohlich.

The Mesdames Scott McKean, John Peabody, Arthur Eisenbrey, Thomas LoCicero, Arthur Rooks, Mary Teachout and Donald Wisely are among these captains, representing The Pointe in the group of volunteers from throughout the metropolitan area.

They're concerned now with subscription ticket sales, (any tickets left after the subscription drive will be available for single purchase after August 1), and with selling ads in the season program.

This is the final affair scheduled for Rose Terrace as-it was in the days of its mistress, the late Mrs. Anna Thomson Dodge, before its division into condominiums.

To Give Talk on Astrology

Lou (Mrs. Aaron E.) Wilcox, of Loraine road, will give a talk on Astrology for the Wives of Moslem Temple Shrine at a Hillcrest Country Club luncheon next Wednesday, May 15.

The lady knows her subject: she studied Astrology seriously in the 30's and has kept at it ever since, analyzing her co-workers when she worked as assistant to Forrest Geary during his tenure as head of Grosse Pointe Adult Education, lecturing and casting horoscopes for friends and celebrities.

She has served as program chairman for the Women's City Club, worked in advertising and done free-lance public relations.

She has used Astrology as a guide in her professional positions. For instance: "I hired Genevieve (Hap) Hazard as a speech teacher for Grosse Pointe's Adult Education Department after interviewing her over the phone and finding out she was born on the Pisces-Aries cusp — a powerful position the year she was born."

Miss Hazard later became the first woman in the United States to hold an executive job in advertising: vice-president of Campbell Ewald.

Then there was her prediction that Kim Siegler would win the Governorship of Michigan — but with Mars in his midheaven, his career might take a sudden drive. He was later killed in a plane crash.

Your credit will work wonders for you if it's not abused.

August Bride

Her fiance, son of Thomas J. Nally, of Belanger road, and the late Mrs. Nally, will be a senior next fall at Eastern Michigan University, where he is majoring in Accounting and has been elected captain of the 1974 football team.

Mr. and Mrs. Carel Sellenraad, of Ridgemont road, and their daughter Mrs. Lee H. Allen, of Moross road, have returned from New York and festivities connected with the opening of their son/brother Johan Sellenraad's one-man show at the Whitney Museum.

Johan, it seems, has painted the Brooklyn Bridge—realistically but not photographically, in six sections, varying in length from nine to 21 feet.

It's monumental. If you're in New York between now and May 19, and you're game for a truly unique experience... See it!

In Saint Joan of Arc Church Saturday morning, May 4, Sally Ann Palumbo, daughter of the Edward A. Palumbos, of Lennon road, and Robert F. Vermeulen, son of the Emil Vermeulens, of Lochmoor boulevard, exchanged marriage vows.

The 10 o'clock rites at which Father Robert A. Goodrow presided were followed by a reception at Burning Tree Golf and Country Club.

The newlyweds, vacationing at Myrtle Beach, S.C., will make their home in Stanhope avenue.

Crocheted Irish Lace accented the bride's short-sleeved Victorian gown. Her short bouffant veil fell from a matching lace cap and she carried a Colonial arrangement of multi-colored spring flowers centered with white gardenias.

In similar dresses, but cap-sleeved, were junior bridesmaid Carrie Vermeulen, the bridegroom's niece, whose frock was mint green, and flower girl Lisa Ann Palumbo, the bride's niece, in powder blue.

Their headpieces were fresh daisies and baby's breath tinted to match the colors of their dresses. They carried wicker baskets of spring flowers.

Alan A. Vermeulen, of Alexandria, Va., acted as best man for his brother. In the usher corps were Charles Liverio and the bride's brothers, James E. Palumbo and Dennis F. Palumbo, of Kalamazoo. Ring bearer was Mark Bente.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of ice blue chiffon and pinned a white butterfly orchid surrounded by stephanotis to her purse. The bridegroom's mother selected a chiffon-sleeved peach summer knit, formal length, and an orchid and stephanotis corsage.

P.E.O.'s State Convention Set

Detroit's Mercy College will be site of the 55th P.E.O. Michigan State Chapter convention May 14 through 17. Attending will be state officers, committees and 246 delegates from Michigan's 123 P.E.O. chapters.

Johannes Spreen, sheriff of Oakland County, speaker at the BIL Banquet, will discuss The Role of Education in Law Enforcement. The banquet is set for Thursday, May 16. It is open to P.E.O. ladies and their husbands.

Presiding will be State President Mrs. Frank A. Samuelson, of Jackson. Mrs. Paul E. Schuster, of Drayton Plains, is general chairman. Keynote speaker will be Jane Boyd, of Albuquerque, N.M., a national P.E.O. officer, chairman of P.E.O.'s International Peace Scholarship Fund which is celebrating its silver anniversary this year.

P.E.O. is a philanthropic and educational organization interested in bringing increased opportunities for higher education to women. This was a rather advanced idea in 1869 when the founders, seven young women students at Iowa Wesleyan College, gathered to form P.E.O. P.E.O. accomplishes its purpose through four educational philanthropies with which the entire membership is concerned.

Its newest project is the Program for Continuing Education. Established at the 1973 national convention, it provides funds for women in fields of interest in which they seek purposeful goals for self and service.

Fund grants based on merit and need are awarded to women of the United States and Canada. Recipients need not necessarily be P.E.O. members.

The older — but very important — P.E.O. philanthropies are the P.E.O. Educational Fund, Cottey Junior College for Women and the International Peace Scholarship Fund.

Via these philanthropies loans have been granted to over 17,500 women seeking financial aid for education. Scholarships have been given to more than 1,200 students from 82 countries.

There are over 4,000 members of P.E.O. in Michigan and over 183,000 in the United States and Canada.

Pointe area women participating in the convention include Mrs. D. D. Struthers, past-state president, Mrs. M. B. Dillon, past-state president, and Mrs. D. A. Hoerner, co-chairman of the convention.

More are Mrs. W. A. Joachim, Mrs. D. C. Foster, Mrs. F. J. Asmus, Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. Jon Gandelot, Mrs. R. E. Jones, Mrs. W. F. Horsch, Mrs. H. F. Poh-label, Mrs. G. N. Gilmore, Mrs. W. R. Hallas, Mrs. Henry D. Lampman, Orveta Moltzau, Ruby Andrie, Betsy Horsch, Mildred Johnson, Margaret Mahoney, Jane Slater and Vickie Hansen.

There's nothing equal to the self-respect that comes to those who work for self-support.

Second Healthorama Is Underway

This year's second United Foundation Healthorama, a series of 20 free health tests, is being held Wednesday, May 8, through Saturday, May 11, at Sacred Heart Parish, Gratiot Avenue near Utica road in Roseville.

After all these years, maybe it's time you moved to bigger and better things.

If you've been considering a bigger house, or a newer one, there'll never be a better time than right now to make your move.

And, right now, National Bank of Detroit can help you make that move. We have mortgage money to lend, and we lend more than any other bank in town.

We'll give you prompt word on the approval of your mortgage loan, and set up your closing in as little as two weeks thereafter at an NBD office in your neighborhood.

We might also save you some money. Our closing fee on uninsured conventional mortgages is a simple flat fee that has nothing to do with the size of your mortgage. And that could possibly save you enough money to buy a new chair for your new home, or carpet one of your new bedrooms.

Why not look into a mortgage loan now at any of the more than 100 offices of NBD.

The bank that's ready to help you get a new house—now.

Tri-County Braille Volunteers, an organization including most of the individual transcribing groups in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties, is officially a unit of the Greater Detroit Society for the Blind. This organization works with the National Braille Association, covering the whole United States.

The Grosse Pointe Braille Club, always a very active part of Tri-County, is honored that one of its members is now an integral part of the parent organization, especially as Detroit is preparing to host the 14th National Conference of the National Braille Association in May of 1977.

Charlotte McClellan has served the Braille Club in many capacities. She was very active in the Austin Mothers Club when her two sons attended Austin Prep.

She is a mathematics brailier, and has done a great amount of this highly-specialized type of brailiering.

Other officers of the Tri-County organization are Carol Kramer, president, Patricia Brown, recording secretary, Helen Kane, corresponding secretary, and Anne Jacobstein, treasurer.

To Open Book Fair Tonight

The fourth annual Family Book Fair sponsored by the Detroit Public Library debuts with a gala invitational opening tonight, Thursday, May 9, from 8 to 10 o'clock at the Main Library.

The Book Fair opens to the public Friday morning, May 10, and runs through Saturday, May 18.

Tonight's Library Lift-Off is sponsored by the Friends of the Detroit Public Library as their contribution to the Book Fair and to kick off their annual membership drive.

Nearly 20,000 guests have been invited to preview the Fair's exhibits and attractions, tour the Library's reading rooms and enjoy refreshments and musical entertainment. Among groups performing for the opening-nighters will be the New McKinney's Cottonpickers, the James Tatum Trio, the Jack Brokenasha Quartet, Louis Bela's Gypsy Violins, harpist Oneta Sanders and the Detroit Folk Dance Club.

Governor and Mrs. William Milliken and Mayor Coleman Young head the list of honorary sponsors for Library Lift-Off night.

Mrs. Joseph A. Vance, Jr., of South Deeplands road, is general chairman of the reception committee.

The Family Book Fair is funded by a grant from the Kresge Foundation. Admission is free.

Headquarters for the Book Fair is the third floor exhibit hall at the Main Library where a mammoth collection of about 500 recent popular books for all ages and interests is on display.

The exhibit pavilion is devoted to booths dramatizing the theme, "The Library: Sourcebook of American Know-How, via inventions, innovations and developments in such areas as photography, microwave cookery, TV and films. Live demonstrations will be featured.

Also in the exhibit hall are the Book Fair Bookstore stocking about 400 popular paperbacks and books by the authors who are making guest appearances at Book Fair programs, and the Mini-Theatre where there will be almost continuous performances by musicians, dancers, magicians, puppeteers and other entertainers.

Visitors to the Main Library during the Book Fair may take a "walk-tour" of the building following a numbered annotated map, or they may take part in guided tours which will be announced periodically.

Among the authors who will make personal appearances at Book Fair programs are Georgia legislator Julian Bond, psychologist James P. Comer, poets Don Lee, Dudley Randall and Frenchy

A free schedule of all Book Fair programs is available at all Detroit Public Library locations.

Pointer of Interest

MRS. KENNETH G. SCHOOFF, OF LOCHMOOR BOULEVARD

By Janet Mueller

"I come from a small town. I have always felt very much in touch with the environment. I think it is very important that we have clean air, clean water . . . and I have of late become very concerned because of the disappearance of clean air, clean water."

"I think it's time for some action."

It's Betsy Schooff, chairperson for Environmental Action Now's Earth Fest '74, the 10 to 5 o'clock ecology fair scheduled for Saturday, May 18, at the Grosse Pointe Hunt Club, speaking.

The small town she came from is Salem, O. She met her husband at the University of Michigan. Ken is a psychiatrist, associated with the Lafayette Clinic, involved in its drug programs.

Pillar to Post
Dr. and Mrs. Schooff, newlyweds, lived in Philadelphia for a year while he interned, then spent three years in North Carolina while he completed his residency in psychiatry.

Three years in England, Ken serving in the Air Force, followed.
"We went over in 1964. I had three children then. The two oldest started school there—Council Schools, they call them, similar to our public schools—in a one-room schoolhouse."

In England, children start school during the term in which they turn five. Mary and George's one-room schoolhouse classes were divided into upper and lower infants and upper and lower juniors.

Sessions were full-day, and hot lunches were provided.
"It was," says Betsy, "wonderful!"

RAF Base Residents
The Schooffs lived on their Air Force Base, RAF Lakenheath, in the Newmarket-Cambridge area. Living in town, on the economy, would have been interesting, but with three small children Ken and Betsy felt they needed a few extra frills. Central heating, for instance; Betsy is leery of the child-space heater combination.

"You read about dreadful accidents."
Later, there were four small children. Blair, the Schooffs' youngest child, was born in England.

Blair is seven now, a second grader at Mason School. Mary is 13, in the eighth grade at Parcels. George, 12, and Peter, 11, are in the sixth and fifth grades, respectively, at Mason.

Continental Holidays
Ken and Betsy took advantage of their English years to do as much traveling in Europe and Britain as possible. They drove to and through Italy, spent a few weeks in Kitzbuhel, skiing, made several trips to Scotland, which they both love.
One year, Ken's parents came over and the Schooffs, senior and junior, toured Scandinavia by car, traveling via ferry from Newcastle to Stavanger, Norway.

Ken and Betsy had flown to England with three children. They returned by water, with four children, sailing aboard the SS United States. They were going home to Detroit, to Grosse Pointe, where Ken's family lived. Half-way across the Atlantic, they heard about the Detroit riots.

Then there was the Case of the Missing George. "We lost our oldest son for a few hours. I had visions of disaster—George falling over the side, nobody hearing his cries, the ship sailing on—but it turned out he had simply wandered from one side of the ship to the other."

George Is Found

The wandering five-year-old was eventually discovered by an SS United States' Meyer Davis Orchestra member, who promptly returned him to his parents.

Despite these hitches, Betsy remembers the United States' trip as a delight, landing in New York as a revelation. "We were WARM, for the first time in three years!"

"I remember our first summer in England: the British kept saying what a beautiful summer it was, and we kept huddling in coats."
Transition from England to America was easy. The Schooff family had always been aware of England as an interlude. They experienced no re-entry problems. Ken's family, in the Pointe, had done an excellent job of house-hunting.

Betsy slipped easily into the role of suburban housewife. Many of her activities were, (and remain), child-centered. With four children in the Schooff's age range, that's rather a foregone conclusion.

Variety of Activities
She's worked with the Girl Scouts, as a troop organizer at Mason School.

She's served on the board of directors of Citizens for Education and as Millage chairman for Parcels Middle School.

Music remains a continuing interest. Active in the Gilbert and Sullivan Society in England, Betsy enjoys participating in choral groups. She's an associate member of the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

She has served as vice-president of the Grosse Pointe Democratic Club. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the U. of M., and pursued additional studies at the University of Pennsylvania while her husband interned in Philadelphia.

She was an avid tennis player until December, when a bad elbow forced her to give it up. For the nonce, Tennis enthusiasts tend to never-say-die however: "I still play some."

Plant Fancier
She enjoys a game of bridge. She's fascinated by plants—which leads her, of course, to be especially fascinated by the Herbal Luncheon the Junior League Garden Club is sponsoring in connection with Earth Fest '74.

It will be presented during Earth Fest in two sittings, at noon and 1 o'clock, by reservation only. Mrs. H. H. Micou, of Moran road, is accepting reservations at $4.50 each through tomorrow, Friday, May 10.

Betsy likes to bike, alone or with the family. Skiing is another Schooff family activity. Winters, they try to get up north every other weekend. Summers they take to the water, skiing off the back of their small boat.

There's a family dog, Fagin, found as a stray and named by Laurie Jodar who, since she couldn't keep the big, friendly collie-shepherd, advertised in the NEWS for "a good home" about a year-and-a-half ago.

NEWS Want Ads bring results. Both the Schooffs and Fagin are very happy with their present arrangement.

Offer Medici Tour Program

A chance to visit one of the most outstanding art exhibits of the century, Twilight of The Medici, with one of the most personable art-teacher in Detroit is offered by Grosse Pointe War Memorial tomorrow, Friday, May 10.

Patrons are asked to gather in the great hall of Alger House, one of the best examples of Italian architecture in America, and lunch with Joseph Maniscalco, popular portrait painter, who will then take them by charter bus to the Detroit Institute of Arts and personally guide them through the magnificent display of the late Baroque art of Florence, 1670-1743.

Following the tour participants will cross the street to the Scarab Club where Mr. Maniscalco will play host in his own studio and wine will be served in the Club rooms.

Reservations for the program are being taken now at the Center's office: $10 covers luncheon, the guided tour and afternoon refreshments at the Scarab Club. Founders members of the Detroit Art Institute and Senior Citizens are invited for $1 less.

"A committee have been working on their ecology fair for almost a year. "We need a means to promote EAN's educational and service programs to underwrite and finance them, to raise funds, particularly, for a full-time environmental education director."

EAN has a part-time director now, on duty Tuesdays and Thursdays at EAN headquarters at Ferry School in Roslyn road, (884-8567).

A second reason for Earth Fest is to "spread the Good News." It's planned as a positive statement, counterpoint to gloom-and-doom, a gathering of ecologically-oriented organizations who can point with pride, saying, "Sure, there is more to BE done, but look what we HAVE done."

Earth Fest will feature film strips and slides, demonstrations and exhibits for all ages in some 90 booths manned by environment-oriented groups, including Audubon Society chapters, garden clubs, Scout, school and church organizations.

Kayak Demonstration
There'll be pony rides. There'll be a kayak demonstration by Bill Smoke, of Buchanan, who's bringing a see-through water tank plus a film of his wife, Marcia, who won a bronze Olympic medal for her kayak prowess. Bill's bringing an apple press, too!

There'll be a demonstration of fly casting and tying by Trout Unlimited and a sale of Grosse Pointe Artists Association art works.

There'll be a bike-a-thon, a jog-a-thon, games, entertainment and prizes.

Copies of EAN's ecology reference book, printed on recycled paper and sponsored by Detroit businesses, organizations and individuals, will be distributed. Covers for the 104-page listing of voluntary and governmental agencies concerned with environmental problems, plus eco-poetry, art, photography, ecological information, and consumer tips, were donated by Michigan artist-poet-painter Gwen Frostic.

Admission Is 50c
Pointe artist Gloria (Mrs. Allen) Fretwald designed and supervised production of the book. Sue (Mrs. William H.) Klingbeil was general chairman of the project.

And there'll be much, much more . . . all for 50 cents per person admission. A continuous shuttle will ferry Earth Festers from University-Liggett parking facilities to the Hunt Club.

The festival's May 18 date was chosen to coincide with Community Pride Day, kick-off for Michigan Week. The fair will go on, rain or shine . . . but shine would be definitely nicer.

It's hoped, of course, that Earth Fest will become an annual Pointe event. And, although predictions are chancy, it almost seems as if Earth Fest can't miss.

EAN Moves Forward
Consider, for instance, that EAN itself is less than four years old. Founded in January, 1971, by a handful of citizens concerned with the promotion of and direct action toward improvement in the quality of the environment, it now numbers some 250 members and has undertaken such projects as bottle, paper and can recycling, sandbagging against Lake St. Clair floodwaters, park development and beautification and the training and utilization of parents and high school students as outdoor education aides.

Participating in clean-up of the Suez Canal, Operation Nimbus Star, aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Iwo Jima is Navy Yeoman Third Class DENNIS M. O'MALLEY, a former Michigan State University student who joined the Navy in August, 1972, son of MR. and MRS. MICHAEL O'MALLEY, of Neff road.

DR. JAN C. SESKI, son of DR. and MRS. ARTHUR G. SESKI, of South Deeplands road, has been selected as a Galloway Fellow in Gynecologic Oncology for the summer of 1974 at Memorial Hospital of New York's Sloan Kettering Cancer Center. He is a first-year resident at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Michigan State University Music Education major KIM MENAGH, of Blairmoor court, was guest soloist at Hillsdale College Wednesday, May 1, performing in Mendelssohn's Oratorio Saint Paul. Kim's mother, MRS. CHARLES MENAGH, and grandmother, MRS. JOHN PANKOW, traveled to Hillsdale for the May Day Concert presented by the Sigma Alpha Iota/Phi Mu Alpha Chorale.

Questers Plan Annual Luncheon

Members of the Grosse Pointe chapter of Questers gather for their annual luncheon tomorrow, Friday, May 10, at Lochmoor Club. Guests have been invited for this special occasion.

New board members who will take over direction of the group in the coming year include Mrs. Richard Mertz, president, Mrs. John Alexander, vice-president, Mrs. M. L. Van Dagens, secretary, Mrs. Hazen Keith, treasurer, and Mrs. Edward Hartwick, historian.

Following the social hour and luncheon a program on Wonders With Weeds will be presented by Mrs. E. E. Lohmolder, member of the national board of the Herb Society of America.

Mrs. Lohmolder has been working for 15 years on methods of dyeing fabrics with natural products. Her latest experiments have been with lichen.

Many of these processes were used centuries ago, but are now of interest mainly to the naturalist.

Mrs. Wallace Temple and Mrs. Frederick Schumann are party chairmen.

Set Jenny Lind Meeting May 14

Pointe Jenny Lind Club members will travel to Oakland Hills Country Club for their annual meeting and luncheon next Tuesday, May 14.

Profits from this year's Club projects will be allocated in donations to the American Swedish Foundation, Planned Parenthood League, the Detroit-Swedish Council and the Detroit Community Music School.

Officers and directors for 1974-75 will be elected, and the Club will express appreciation to Mrs. Alfred Hopkins, retiring president, and members of her committees.

It's a perfect example of an idea Whose Time Has Come. It seems as if every one lately, whether from a small town, like Betsy Schooff, or from a downtown metropolitan area, is concerned with clean air, clean water.

And why not? We are all, after all, fellow passengers on Spaceship Earth. It's our Spaceship. Let's keep it clean.
