"Some Day You Will Have No More Power to Make Laws," Achi Says, in Solemn Warning to Delegates at Charter Meeting

GAG RULE IS ENFORCED ON MINORITY LEADERS

Final Draft Passes on Third Reading By Vote of 17 Out of Total of 63 Representatives Chosen By Voters of County

Opposing the amendment which was passed by the convention last night which gave a majority of those present, instead of a majority of all the delegates to the convention, power to pass the charter draft on third reading, Senator W. C. Achi furnished the one supremely dramatic moment of the 57 days of the session. Breaking from his subject for a moment, he swept his arms out toward the coteries of delegates gathered about Lorin Andrews, and soundly berated them.

"It is men like you, who come here to ignorantly follow a lawyer-politician, who are leading us Hawaiians to our political graves. You are showing the world that you have no ability to govern and to do your duty according to law, by illegal actions like these tonight. Men like you make me sometimes ashamed that I am a Hawaiian."

"If you show the world by letting yourselves be led to do such things as are being done here that you have no respect for law or rules some day you will have no more power to make your own laws."

"I am ashamed of this convention. All its proceedings under this amendment are illegal, and I, for one, will enter a protest when the legislature meets. I come here tonight after night to represent my people and to try to make a charter that will protect my grandchildren in their right to govern themselves. But you, led like buffaloes by this lawyer, are signing the death warrant of your own self government."

The amendment so strongly opposed by the minority men was introduced by H. A. Gay and seconded by Mr. Andrews. It provided that a majority of the convention need not vote in order to pass the charter on third

MASKED BANDIT WITH TWO GUNS ROBS JAPANESE

Gets Property and Cash Valued at $230 in Raid on River Street Boarding House

Masked with a black handkerchief and carrying a revolver in each hand an unknown bandit this morning at 2 o'clock entered a cottage back of a Japanese boarding house at River and Vineyard streets and holding at bay in the room the proprietor, H. Sonouchi, and his companion, M. Iwanana, robbed the former of property worth more than $230 and then made his escape.

A woman working in the house saw the masked man in the hall and ran to Sonouchi's room to give the alarm. As she entered the door of the room the burglar stepped through and pointing the guns at the men ordered them to throw up their hands and back into a corner. They obeyed and putting one revolver in his pocket the burglar held the other pointed at the men while with his free hand he ransacked the room. In his search he found a diamond ring worth $150, three gold rings worth $60, two gold pins worth $15 and eight dollars in cash. The cash he took from Sonouchi's trousers.

After the burglar left Sonouchi telephoned police headquarters and Officer Daniel Kamahu and two bicycle policemen went to the place but failed to find any trace of the bandit.

Today several detectives are working on the case, and three men will be detailed tonight for night duty in an effort to round up the masked bandit, who is believed to be the perpetrator of a number of hold-ups and robberies in the district where he worked last night. One suspect brought in today so far denies any connection with the crime and the police are doubtful whether he is the right man.

POET BELIEVES FRUIT IS FOUND "HIGH IN PINES"

Minna Irving, in Poem in Leslie's Weekly, Intimates That Pineapples Grow on Trees

That Pineapple Day has been a success throughout United States is the belief of the local members of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. In every mail come letters from prominent citizens who have been identified with the promotion of Pineapple Day. The big day on November 10 had been given a large amount of advance publicity, and many congratulatory letters are being received.

Congressman James A. Frear of Wisconsin writes stating that he has the fondest memories of the pineapple spreads in Oahu and Maui, and says that pineapple shall have a prominent place at the Frear table. John Steicher, editor of Leslie's Weekly, states in a letter that he hoped to be able to come to Hawaii in February. He also inclosed a copy of the poem written by Minna Irving, which was dedicated to Pineapple Day, and published in Leslie's Weekly.

Minna Irving seems to think pineapples grow on trees—at least that is the impression given by the last two lines of the second stanza of the following poem:

PINEAPPLE DAY
A part of the Garden of Eden,
All lilac and emerald and rose,
Is set in the sapphire Pacific,
'Tis the isle where the pineapple grows—
Hawaii, the crossways of ocean,
With its beautiful harbor where meet
The ships of the world, seeking cargoes
Of pineapples juicy and sweet.

The wonderful apple that tempted
Poor Eve in the garden of old,
Was a pineapple luscious and fragrant,
And ripened to amber and gold.
And lo! ever since Mother Nature
Has protected it closely with apines
As a warning to finger covetous,
And hung it high up in the pines.

From the coral-bound island republic
Where the song of the surf never dies,
To thousands and thousands of tables
In our land of the changeable skies,
The pineapple comes in perfection,
And every appetite suits;
We therefore proclaim it and crown it
Forever the King of fruits.

ANOTHER DELAY OF WEEK IN CASE OF MARCALLINO

Sentence Not Pronounced This Morning on Charge to Which He Pleaded Guilty

Unless a further motion for a continuance is made, John Marcallino, former clerk in Circuit Judge W. L. Whitely's court, will be sentenced at 9 o'clock next Saturday morning by Circuit Judge Ashford on at least one of the four indictments charging him with embezzlement.

Marcallino recently pleaded guilty to the first indictment, charging him with having converted to his own use certain stock in the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company, valued at $1500 and the property of Julia Bishop Egan. He was scheduled to be sentenced today but, at the request of R. W. Breckons, his attorney, the matter was postponed a week.

The former court clerk was arraigned today on the three other indictments, all charging embezzlement. The amounts in the three indictments total $8230, being the value of certain stock in the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company and the Oahu Railway & Land Company.

YOUNGSTERS IN OUTDOOR CIRCLE CARNIVAL TODAY

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Outdoor Circle's "Kiddies' Carnival" began at the National Guard armory. Though the rains of the past two days had caused the fête to be transferred from the place planned for it—the C. H. Atherton grounds on King street—virtually every feature is being carried out in the armory.

Nearly 300 of Honolulu's attractive youngsters were asked to take part in the carnival and much to the delight of the little boys they were invited to be animals and vegetables rather than kings and princes and it was a very animated pageant that was witnessed by the spectators.

FOOTBALL GAMES PLAYED IN SNOW; WEATHER SEVERE

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]
CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 13.—Early reports from various points in the country where intercollegiate football is being played today show that the weather in many places is exceptionally cold. Below zero temperatures are recorded and at points in Washington and Idaho the weather is extremely cold. Several football games will be played in the snow, there having been a fall in the Pacific Northwest.

GEN. JOHNSON TO BACK TRAINING CAMP NEXT YEAR

Head of National Guard of Hawaii Promises Honolulu One Like Plattsburg

Some time next spring or summer, or possibly in the early fall, business men of Honolulu and vicinity will have a chance to attend a citizens' training camp modeled on the Plattsburg, N. Y., camp, for a month's training in military life. Not only will they have the chance, but they will be urged to do so, and the man who is behind the urging is one who usually gets what he goes after, being Brig.-gen. Samuel I. Johnson of the National Guard.

Gen. Johnson has required some urging himself to get him to agree. (Continued on Page 3)

LEILEHUA BEER GARDEN CLAIMED SCENE OF ORGIES

Dr. John W. Wadman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, has written the following letters to the board of license commissioners:

"Nov. 13, 1915.
"To the Honorable Board of License Commissioners, Honolulu, T. H.
"Gentlemen: Information has reached us from reliable sources that scenes resembling somewhat those which are now taking place on European battlefields, are periodically enacted at the so-called 'Volcano House' or beer gardens at Leilehua, adjoining Schofield Barracks. These occur on soldiers' pay days between the 10th and 15th of each month and the drunken disorderliness is such as to require the calling out of the infantry from time to time in order to quell the tempest. We learn through statements appearing in the press as well as through other sources, that on the evening of Thursday, October 14, the demonstration amounted to what threatened to be a bloody scene, if the detachment of men hurried to the scene in order to quell the riot had not been on time. Firearms were in use, blows struck, duels fought and booze held high carnival. One paper states that it took M Troop of the 4th Cavalry, a detachment of 25 men from the 25th Infantry, together with a company of 34 men from the 1st Infantry to stop the tumult in and about the saloon and secure order. If this is really a monthly occurrence, as our informants assure us, it would seem that it is high time for your honorable board to make some investigation of the serious conditions existing there. It is also stated in the same paper from which we quote as above that the present bartender announces that he is the sole owner, proprietor, manager and possessor of the institution known as the Volcano House."

"Yours very sincerely,
"JOHN W. WADMAN,
"Supt. Anti-Saloon League of Hawaii."

F SUBMARINES OUT OF FRESH FOOD ON TRIP

Reach San Francisco After Trying Journey; Chattanooga's Assistance Not Needed

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 13.—The F submarine flotilla arrived today after trying experiences, including a lack of fresh food, which had been gone for several days. The cruiser Chattanooga, which left here Thursday to relieve the Iroquois, whose oil supply was nearly exhausted, returned, reporting that her aid had been unnecessary. The submarines and their towing convoys left Honolulu October 29.

The Iroquois towed the F-1, and was delayed by head seas and strong winds most of the way to the coast. She is the smallest and least powerful of the three towing ships, and reported by radio to Mare Island a few days ago that she was running short of fuel oil.

Associated Press despatches received here Thursday night said the U. S. cruiser Chattanooga had been ordered to relieve the Iroquois of the task of towing the F-1. The Iroquois, according to a radio sent by Capt. Sumner E. W. Kittelle of the Maryland to Mare Island navy yard, was unable to handle her tow as her fuel oil was exhausted owing to the heavy seas she had had to buck.

SOME BACTERIA MIGHTY HELPFUL LECTURER SAYS

Using a microscope in his lecture this morning at the Library of Hawaii, Professor MacCaughy, instructor in biology at the territorial college, showed to an interested crowd of 50 persons bacteria of various sorts in their various forms.

Special emphasis was placed in the lecture upon the bacteria which inhabit the soil, as well as those which affect the industries of Hawaii, such as the producing of sugar, pineapple and taro.

Not only harmful bacteria, but those that are of aid to humanity and life in general were also discussed by the professor. This is the second lecture of a series of five which are being given on Saturday mornings this winter. Next Saturday's lecture will be upon the subject: "Bacteria and the Schools." It is hoped that as many teachers as possible will be out to this discourse. The lectures begin at 9 o'clock.

OTTOMAN ANNOUNCEMENT SAYS WARSHIPS DRIVEN OFF AND BRITISH SUBMARINE SUNK IN SEA OF MARMORA—ITALIAN LINER SUBMARINED IN MEDITERRANEAN—FRENCH EXPEDITION IN BALKANS MAKING GOOD PROGRESS—TEUTONS STRIVE TO WIN GREECE

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless]
LONDON, England, Nov. 13.—Close observers of the war's developments are beginning to hope that the tide of victory in the Balkans is beginning to turn, and after running strongly against the Allies ever since the Teutons launched their invasion, is now presaging triumph for the Entente Powers.

A simultaneous French and Serbian offensive move, vigorously carried out in southern Serbia, now imperils the Bulgarian forces. The Serbians have won an important victory at Katchanik Pass.

Turks Declare Allied Fleet Has Been Repulsed From Coast Attack

LONDON, England, Nov. 13.—The Allied fleets which have been bombarding Gallipoli peninsula, the forts along the Dardanelles straits and ports in Asiatic Turkey have been repulsed, according to Gallipoli reports. The Turks claim also to have sunk the British submarine E-20 in the Sea of Marmora. This submarine had penetrated the defenses of the Dardanelles and was wreaking havoc among the shipping in Marmora Sea. Three officers and six members of the crew are prisoners.

Says Bulgaria May Become Catholic

NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 13.—The well-known newspaper Mattino declares today that it has good authority for saying that "Czar" Ferdinand of Bulgaria has informed the Pope that Bulgaria plans to become Catholic following the war. The whole country now belongs to the orthodox Greek church.

Teutons Hope To Hold Greece Neutral

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 13.—An Austro-German delegation of diplomats has arrived here for the purpose of regulating the political and military situation between the Teutonic nations and Greece. The Teutons wish to win Greece's aid or at least to influence King Constantine to remain neutral.

More British Steamers Are Sunk

LONDON, England, Nov. 13.—Further deprecations of Teuton submarines are reported today. The British steamer Sir Richard Awdry has been sunk by a submarine and the Britisher Den of Crombie sunk either by a submarine or a mine. Its crew was saved.

French Menace Bulgarian Invaders

SALONIKI, Greece, Nov. 13.—Reports of the reoccupation of Valandovo by Bulgarian troops are untrue. Instead, it is said that the French now occupy strongly the region before Valandovo and Lohrovo, and are particularly well established in the hills commanding Costorino. They have progressed beyond Cerna.

Their reconnoiters have succeeded in advancing to the Vardar bridge, near Babuna pass. The bridge is destroyed.

PROF. JAGGAR TO URGE KILAUEA NATIONAL PARK

Prof. Thomas A. Jaggar, director of the Volcano Observatory at Kilauea, will arrive in Honolulu early next week on his way to Washington to urge before congressional committees the establishment of the Kilauea National Park. This project, which has been advocated by Hawaii men for years, was explained to the congressional party which toured the islands last spring and was warmly favored by this party. Superintendent of Public Works Forbes, who leaves for Washington on Wednesday, was preparing to urge the project in case no other representative of Hawaii were in Washington, but learned upon wireless to Prof. Jaggar that the scientist himself is planning to go to Washington at once. MILLION AND HALF TONS OF RAIN IN CITY

Figures Sound Fabulous, But Compiled By Minister, and "Figures Don't Lie"

Rain weighing 1,586,910 tons fell within half an hour yesterday in the district in Honolulu bounded by Diamond Head, Kalia, the harbor and the Country Club, according to statistics figured out by Rev. L. L. Looft, pastor of the First Methodist church.

In the half hour, 1.24 inches of rain fell, which is 6.25 pounds to the square foot, the minister has figured. As there are about 15 square miles in the area in question, and 27,878,400 square feet to one square mile, there are 431,176,000 square feet in the area, he says. Figuring that an inch of water weighs 6.25 pounds to the square foot, this, multiplied by the number of square feet in the area, gives 3,133,830,000 pounds of water which fell on the area.

Dividing the number of pounds by 2000, the number of tons in a ton, leaves 1,566,910 tons, or the amount of water which fell on the area during the half hour.

Revelment in Nuuanu, where the rain was tremendous, was again thrown back by the rain, according to City Engineer L. M. Whitehouse today, and the second racking it received has rendered it practically useless. It is now the plan of the engineer to abandon the process he used yesterday of "ironing" the asphalt in with a road roller, and to fill the holes with asphalt patches instead.

Gangs are working both day and night on the torn-up streets, and the fact that they had done effective work in cleaning up the storm waters, says they began work on Wednesday night during the storm is responsible for a fairly small amount of damage in yesterday afternoon's heavy shower.

Water yesterday afternoon coming down Punchbowl street, rose and swept over the triangular plot of ground formed by Punchbowl and Miller streets, sweeping away firewood and sidewalk of the residents of this plot. The water passed across Beretania in the vicinity of the entrance to the Queen's hospital grounds and flooded the Korean compound on the lower side of Beretania.

From the compound it swept across Hotel street in the vicinity of C. D. Walker's boot shop, so that carpenters had to use their own products in getting out to land.

At the Y. W. C. A. Homestead on King street a large algaroba tree was uprooted, and fell crushing through an iron fence.

No record of the amount of water gathered in Reservoir A as a result of the rain yesterday, which was especially heavy in upper Nuuanu, has come down today to the water department, but it is likely that several million gallons were added to it since yesterday noon.

"IF YOU LIKE HER AS MUCH AS THAT, BY ALL MEANS MARRY"—WHITNEY

When in doubt, go to Juvenile Judge Whitney.

This is what a young Hawaiian couple—not husband and wife, however—did this morning, and Judge Whitney advised that, if they really liked each other as much as they said they did, they had better run along and get married.

If the girl, who is only 16 years old, had not run away from home in order that she might marry the man, who is only 18 years old, the case probably would never have come into court. The parents of the girl decided that Judge Whitney should settle the matter, and Judge Whitney did as they asked.

Wedding bells will ring for the couple on Monday, and the wedding breakfast will be a big feast.

NEW RULES FOR AUTO DRIVERS BEGIN MONDAY

Deputy City Attorney Carden Issues Detailed Interpretation of New Signals

New traffic regulations which will go into effect next Monday, together with a redistribution of traffic officers at their various posts in the city, were given out today by Deputy City Attorney William Carden, and will be of interest to owners of automobiles and other vehicles.

"A street is open for travel," says Mr. Carden, "in either direction on such street, only when the traffic officer is standing in such a way that his arms extended point up and down that street. While such street is open the intersecting street is closed as to all vehicles traveling on such intersecting street and vehicles on the closed street must come to a full stop at the intersection."

"While a street is thus opened," he continues, "all vehicles traveling in either direction may continue on their course without stopping, or may make right-hand turns, only into the intersecting street without further direction of the traffic officer."

This means, as the traffic officer on the corner of Fort and King street stands with his arms extended Walkiki and Ewa, King street is open to traffic running Ewa and Walkiki on King street, and any vehicle running on King street approaching the intersected way continues Walkiki or Ewa on King street or may turn to the right, only, into Fort street. All traffic on Fort street is closed and must stop until Fort street is opened.

"Fort street will be open when the officers, turn in such a way that his extended arms point up and down Fort street, and then traffic on Fort street may continue up and down Fort street or make right-hand turns only into King street. Traffic approaching Fort street along King street must stop."

"Left-hand turns can be made only as follows: A driver desiring to make a left-hand turn must signal the traffic officer the direction in which he wishes to turn. The traffic officer will then blow one whistle, whereupon all traffic on both streets shall stop; the officer will then point one hand towards the driver desiring to turn and point the other hand in the direction in which the turn is to be made. The driver shall then make his turn by turning around the traffic officer, while such turn is being made, so other traffic shall move, excepting that a driver on the street into which the left hand turn is being made, who desired to turn to the right into the left-hand turn, may, upon the signal of the officer, make such turn to the right, inside of the left-hand turn being made."

"When a left-hand turn is completed the officer shall blow two whistles on his whistle and open one of the intersecting streets."

STOLE SISTER'S MONEY; WENT TO SEE THEATERS

Three fifty-cent seats at the theaters, sal-mis afterwards and candy and trinkets by the peck, was the manner in which a certain young Hawaiian boy "waded through" $30 which he stole from his sister.

After the boy had stolen the money, he invited several friends to help him spend it, and as a result the offender and one of his friends were before the juvenile court today, where they were severely lectured and then allowed to go on probation.

A portion of the spent money, amounting to about $26, was recovered by Probation Officer John C. Anderson. Anderson says that the boys bought everything from searchlights to watches.

According to the census of 1911, the latest taken in Venezuela, the population was 2,323,527. Official estimates for March 13, 1915, place it at 2,812,668, the density for the entire country being seven persons to the square mile.

YOUNGSTERS IN OUTDOOR CIRCLE CARNIVAL TODAY

of the doll booth was the exhibition of "the doll," the very first doll ever to have been seen in Honolulu. It was made by Hiram Bingham I for his baby daughter, who was known and loved in Honolulu as Mrs. Lydia Coon. The doll was a joy to the little daughter of the missionary. When she was sent east to receive her education the doll took the trip with her. Within a few days this relic of the early missionary days is to be sent to Hiram Bingham III, the explorer, for it was the wish of Mrs. Coon that her treasure should go to this member of her family.

There were many other delightful features in the carnival. Among the most popular was the amusement zone, which was arranged by Mrs. von Bismarck and Miss Bertha Young. There were all manner of amusements there to interest the children and their parents alike. And the children seemed to enjoy it quite as much as they would have the attractions on the Joy Zone at the exposition.

The older folks who visited the armory found much to interest them in the tea garden where ceremonial tea was served the visitors in Japanese style. A number of Japanese ladies, including Mrs. H. Arita and Mrs. K. Fujii, served this tea. They were assisted by several dainty Japanese maids in their native costumes.

The evolution of the doll was one of the most pleasing of the attractions of the afternoon. The dolls from the very beginning to the present day French beauties were seen very much alive. The dolls were portrayed by a bevy of very pretty little girls scrubbed and fluffed in pretty dresses. The doll section would not have been complete without a few "character men" and two or three little boys were clever as clowns.

Then there was a vaudeville section in which grown ups took the leading parts. This part of the program was very much enjoyed, if one could judge from the applause the participants received.

Among the youngsters who took part in the carnival were:

ESCAPES FROM HOSPITAL FOR WALK IN RAIN

Man Who Lay in Jail With Broken Pelvic Bone, Gets Out Scantily Attired

Delirious and wandering around in the drenching rain at daylight Thursday morning, clad only in a nightgown and knee-length underwear, Charles Silva, the man who was in jail 48 hours before it was discovered that his pelvic bone was broken, was found by residents of Bowser alley, a block from Queen's hospital, and was led back to the institution.

Eluding the night nurse and leaving the hospital between 3 and 4 o'clock that morning while rain was falling heavily, Silva dragged himself outdoors, tore the three-foot wooden splint from his thigh and back and wandered about out of his head and not knowing where he was going.

He finally landed up in the alley, where his ghost-like appearance set all the dogs to barking frantically. Residents got up to see what the matter was, and found Silva standing in the alley soaked to the skin. In spite of the man's great strength and delirium, he was tractable and easily led back to the hospital. He was still somewhat delirious today, but is no worse than he was two days ago.

NO SPEAKING PLANNED AT CONSULATE AFFAIR TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The program at the Japanese consulate, which will be held tomorrow afternoon until 5 o'clock, will be a series of entertainments of different kinds. There will be no speaking at Sunday's festivities, as that part of the coronation ceremonies was attended to Wednesday morning, and as a result the events scheduled for tomorrow afternoon will consist of fencing, dancing by geisha girls, wrestling, and the production of a Japanese drama. It has been decided that an admission charge of $1 would be made to all who wish to witness the performance of the many games and shows. The grounds have been decorated for the occasion, and it is expected that a large number of local Japanese will be present.

RECKLESS DRIVING COSTLY AMUSEMENT, IS LEWIS' DECISION

Reckless driving on King street cost M. J. Lewis, superintendent for the American Can Company, $90 before he came to the police court today to answer a charge of reckless driving, and there it cost him $23 and costs additional. He pleaded guilty to the charge. Lewis drove his car into the machine of Dr. A. E. Jackson, and then smashed a hack 7/8 feet further on, on King street near an emery store some nights ago. He later paid Dr. Jackson $40 and Ah Hoy, owner of the hack, $50.

Lewis was locked on two charges, but the court thought he had been punished enough and dismissed the second complaint.

T. H. Bryan, an employe of the company Lewis is with, and Attorney Claudius H. McBride were with Lewis at the time of the accident. McBride was shown from the back seat and injured so badly that he had to be taken to Queen's Hospital. Later he was removed to his apartments and today he was well enough to come to court.

It is expected that some time during the coming week Judges Sanford B. Dole and Charles F. Clemens will reach a decision regarding the appointment of a successor to Augustus E. Murphy, late federal court clerk.

T. S. Choy, charged with having opium in his possession, today pleaded guilty to the third and fifth counts in an indictment returned against him by the grand jury. The case has been continued until 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon for sentence. Choy has been confined in Oahu prison for several days.

The court today appointed Attorney E. J. Bots as counsel for Yee Sing Chun, a Korean, charged with having violated the "white slave" act. The case was continued until November 20 for plea. The defendant's bail was reduced from $500 to $250. It is alleged by the police and the U. S. marshal's office that Yee Sing Chun recently attempted to sell for $150 a 16-year-old Korean girl with whom he has been living for the last three years.

TESTIFIES JOO SOUGHT TO KILL HIM IN THICKET

Koreans Have Trouble Because Ho Says Joo Frequently Steals His Wife

So much evidence was offered which indicated that Shin Yong Joo, a Korean, enticed his fellow countryman, Kin You Ho, out into the country and then tried to get him in a clump of bushes and murder him, that Judge Monsarrat this morning fined Joo $50, an unusually heavy penalty for assault.

Several days ago Ho complained at detective headquarters that Joo had taken his wife away and left him and his children alone. He wanted her back but the detectives could not help him much. Yesterday Joo told him he would show him where his wife was.

Ho went with Joo. Out in the country Joo asked him to come into a thicket to "see some sheep." At the edge of the thicket, Ho says, Joo grabbed him, and picking up a big rock, began to pound him and tell him "I'm going to kill you."

Ho broke away and ran to town. He says he has found his wife and she is coming back to him, and as Joo will be in jail some time he hopes to be happy for a while. Joo, Ho says, frequently steals his wife.

CHARTER BODY DENOUNCED BY SENATOR ACHI

reading, and the minority men contended that this was illegal, against all legislative precedent, and was a new kind of "steam roller." In spite of opposition the amendment was passed and the charter went through on final reading, the last half of it not being read at all.

Senator Smith entered the first protest against the Gay amendment, saying that it was a disgrace to try to put such a measure through, and was not in accord with the principles of popular government.

"Under this rule," Mr. Smith said, "17 out of the 61 members of this convention can pass the charter as representatives of the people of the county. If this amendment is passed there is nothing for those who want a square deal to do but withdraw from the convention. Mr. Andrews, you are not giving the delegates or the people they represent a square deal, and you will know it some day."

Andrews replied by saying that the convention had to do something, and the best thing was to pass the bill to the legislature. "The people have elected 62 men and given them two months to frame a charter, and unless they do something they will become the laughing stock of the community," he said.

"Well, if the majority of the members of this convention are in favor of this charter, why in God's name don't they come here and pass it, and not try to fix it so 17 members can put it through?" interrupted Mr. Smith.

"We have been very fair to the minority," Andrews answered. "We have let them talk and offer amendments."

"What are you talking about? Let us talk!" exclaimed Smith. "When was it necessary for members of this convention elected by the people to ask your permission to talk?"

"Must Do Something," Andrews, continuing his interrupted speech said that in order not to be disgraced before the community the convention must do something and the only way to do it was by adopting the Gay amendment. "And if Mr. Smith, or anyone else, walks out, we'll get a quorum and pass the charter the way we want it anyhow."

Mr. Smith took the floor, but the chairman refused to recognize him, and when he later protested, Mr. Pacheco said, "Mr. Smith, you have already spoken once."

"I'll speak again if I want to," Smith answered. "I have that right."

"You have a right to speak only once, Mr. Smith," the chairman told him. "A member cannot speak twice on the same subject."

"Either you are ignorant or you are not telling the truth," Smith said. "There is no such rule."

Achi ignored, too.

Some one asked for roll call on the first vote on the Gay amendment at this point, but the chairman would not order it. Senator Achi got on his feet several times seeking recognition, but Mr. Pacheco refused to permit him to talk, on the same grounds that he refused Smith recognition. Achi told the chairman that he had no right to ignore him, and that he was privileged to speak and intended to speak.

"Just now I wanted to make a motion," Senator Achi said, "and even then the chair refused to hear me. I have never seen tactics like these anywhere in my 10 years of public service."

When Achi sat down Smith made a speech, beginning with "I want to be heard, I have a right to be heard, and I will be heard," and was allowed to continue, though his voice was almost drowned by the noise made by the majority men, who were hooting and laughing.

Delegate Lane protested that he had tried to get the floor several times and that the chairman had refused to recognize him, and wanted to know whether as a member of the convention he did not have the same right to speak that the majority men had. He said that the chair never failed to recognize Mr. Andrews or any of his followers, and that Andrews had spoken several times in regard to the Gay amendment.

Crushing all debate, Mr. Pacheco called for a vote, and after the eyes and noses the roll was demanded. The amendment was passed, the vote being 25 yes, 14 no.

Three Leave Convention.

"I protest against this steam roller method," shouted Delegate Green, leaving his seat. Delegate Smith arose at the same time and the two left the convention together. Immediately afterwards Achi announced that he did not feel that he could have any further connection with the convention.

Reading of the charter draft was continued for a short while, when Mr. Cohen moved that reading be dispensed with, and the charter was put through as it stood. Charles F. Chillingworth entered a protest against section 216 which gives the mayor power to appoint district magistrates, and which Chillingworth said would simply make more political patronage and bring the judiciary into politics, but the section went through as it was drawn.

ADMIT ATTACK ON WITNESS IN JURY SCANDAL

Cash and Cullen Plead Guilty to Charge of Assaulting Mr. and Mrs. Riedel

The latest development in the city jail scandal investigation came today when Sylvester Cullen, former traffic policeman, and Charley Cash, former inmate of the jail, entered pleas of guilty before Circuit Judge Ashford to charges of having assaulted Hans Riedel and Margaret Riedel, his wife, the former having been a witness before the grand jury when that tribunal began its probe of the scandal.

When Cullen and Cash were arraigned early this week Cash pleaded not guilty to both charges, and Cullen reserved his plea. Today Cullen pleaded guilty and Cash did likewise after he had withdrawn his former pleas.

Leon M. Straus, who is attorney for the defendants, asked that sentence be postponed until 2 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, as he has "certain facts and circumstances" to bring out.

It is alleged that two weeks ago tonight Cash and Cullen went to the Riedel home and after some controversy, assaulted both Riedel and his wife by striking and otherwise roughly using them.

Cullen has been released on bond in the sum of $100, and Cash on his own recognizance.

FORTY-SEVEN FIRMS TO TRY FOR PRIZES BY WINDOW DISPLAYS

Exactly 47 firms have signed up, to date, as competitors in the window display contest which is to be held by the board of retail trades of the Chamber of Commerce on November 20. Several others are contemplating entering the race, according to Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the chamber.

Merchants who have sent in their names for window displays are as follows: Hawaiian Electric Co., Hopp & Co., Lewers & Conke, E. O. Hall & Son, Office Supply Co., M. McInerney, Fitzpatrick Bros., Chambers Drug Co., Silva's Toggery, Wall, Nichols Co., W. W. Dimond & Co., W. W. Ahana Co., Levy & Co., Cunha & Sons, Gunst Cigar Co., Bergstrom Music Co., Mercantile Printing Co., Ehlers & Co., Wichman & Co., Hollister Drug Co., Gurreys, Ltd., Ideal Clothing Co., Regal Shoe Co., Honolulu Music Co., The Clarion, R. W. who stood for progressive government and they were all present last night before the final vote. Achi left when the motion to pass the charter without reading went through, giving up the fight as hopeless, and did not vote on final passage of the charter.

Delegates elected to the convention who did not attend last night were: Liffce, Logan, Kalaokalani, Tarleton, Castro, Owen, Thompson, Kinakapu, Peters, Ahia, Henry, Cox, Kimball, Arnold, Ahuna, Kuphea, Straus, McCandless, Sheldon, Aiu, Smith, Keola, Kellner, Eames, Atkinson.

The charter as it now stands and as it will go to the legislature is the report of the majority of the committee of 15 with a few minor changes. It is based on the present city charter, and does not make any radical changes except those which the minority men say are objectionable. It creates a new office, the superintendent of public works, and gives the incumbent greater power than any other man connected with city government; it puts the appointment of district magistrates in the hands of the mayor and provides for six supervisors elected at large instead of seven; it makes the ballot longer by one office and will largely increase the expense of government.

CONVENTION NOTES

Mr. Cohen said last night, "We must show the people that the majority of this convention is not a bunch of ninnyes."

Coelho also is the only man who has listened to the speeches, and he had to do it, so he could translate from one language to the other.

Some one who noticed that delegates who are comfortably smoking do not talk long for fear their cigars will go out, suggested that much time could have been saved by furnishing cigars for all delegates.

Clerk William J. Coelho has worked hard every night during the convention, and also has had to work several hours each day, and his work has been thoroughly and efficiently done. Last night he was paid off by a vote of thanks.

LABOR CONGRESS LETS JAPANESE HOLD SEAT

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji.) SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The 31st Federation of the American Labor Congress recognized Bunji Suzuki, the Japanese labor representative, at the meeting held on Wednesday. Suzuki spoke to the members of the congress on the Japanese labor question and stated how the wages in Japan compared with those of Americans.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Let Aloha Chapter, O. E. S., will hold a stated meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The accounts of the guardian of James R., Helene and Irene Holt were referred to Leslie P. Scott by Judge Whitney for report.

Tenders will be opened in the office of the superintendent of public works at noon next Monday for furnishing metal furniture for the capitol, judiciary building and archives.

Hans Hjalmand, a native of Denmark and a seaman by occupation, has filed in federal court his declaration of intention to become an American citizen.

After deliberating for more than two hours, a jury in the federal court yesterday returned a verdict of guilty in case of Ah Quon, charged with having opium in possession.

A large turn-out of local society folk is expected at the recital which Scavellus, the noted pianist, will give on the roof garden of the Young hotel next Monday evening, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. C. Alexander Lewis, a local vocalist, will assist in the program.

Circuit Judge Ashford's trial jurors will be wanted in court at 9 o'clock next Monday morning.

The trial of the territory's injunction suit against the Honolulu Rapid Transit and Land Company will be resumed in Circuit Judge Stuart's court at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Martin, wife of Sgt. Hugh Martin, who died at the Department Hospital at Fort Shafter yesterday, will be held at 3 o'clock tomorrow from the Catholic cathedral. Prior to the services the remains will be at the Williams undertaking establishment.

There will be two speakers at the English meeting at the Japanese Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon. Paul Steel will speak on "Early Heroes in Public Service," and Dr. U. Kawaguchi will address the young men on "No Man Lives Unto Himself." Vocal solos will be rendered by Dr. S. D. Barnes.

A demurrer by the government to a plea of final conviction in the case of Ah Poi, charged with having opium in possession, was sustained by Federal Judge C. F. Clemons yesterday. The decision makes it clear that a conviction in the police court on an opium charge does not bar the case from being tried in the United States courts.

Charged with having committed perjury in connection with the Scully-Chilton conspiracy case, K. Nakamura and George Hieshima, who were witnesses for the prosecution during the trial, entered pleas of not guilty in Circuit Judge Ashford's court today. The cases were continued to be set for trial. C. H. McBride was entered as attorney for the defendants.

The first of a series of educational lectures was given at the Korean Compound last night under the direction of the Korean Y. M. C. A. The lecture was given by Paul Steel on "The Discoverers and Heroes of America." A large audience was present to hear the lecture. It is the plan of T. S. Lee, the secretary of the Korean association, to have these lectures regularly throughout the coming months.

In preparation for the coming of Evangelists Brown and Curry, who arrive on the Manoa on November 30, prayer meetings will be begun in the city next week. Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock a meeting will be held in the court of the Metropole, on Alakea street, and Friday evening at the same hour at the Kiloana Art League rooms at Beretania and Miller streets.

Ching Lum's complaint of criminal libel against Ng Wing Sun, editor of the Liberty News, will be heard Tuesday afternoon before Judge Monsarrat. All of the attorneys have agreed to the time, and an interesting trial is looked for. E. A. Mott-Smith and Lorin Andrews will appear for the complainant and Robert W. Breckons for the defendant.

M. T. Rosa, a local man, has recovered his lost fishing boat, and has it in his possession today, safe and sound. Rosa had left the boat tied up at the pier off Fort Ruger and while it was there some children, playing in the vicinity, untied the mooring rope and began towing the skiff around. It drifted out of their reach until picked up by Capt. A. Frederickson of the Oahu Shipping Company.

Application made by 1st Lieut. H. S. Green of the United States Marine Corps for indorsement of a plan to secure advertisements from Honolulu merchants to be run in a directory of the officers of the army and navy and marine corps stationed in Hawaii has failed to receive approval by the advertising and subscription committee of the Chamber of Commerce. In the opinion of the committee the directory does not offer an advertising medium of value.

BIG RISING SUN FLAG FLUTTERS OVER FAIR

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji.) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 12.—Aviator Art Smith, at the request of many Japanese citizens of this city, flew over the exposition grounds on Wednesday afternoon and from a height of 3000 feet dropped a big Rising Sun flag to the earth. Many important events occurred at the exposition in honor of the coronation ceremonies. Baron Shibusawa visited the exposition and talked to many prominent Japanese citizens, and the Nippon Club held a meeting and exchanged opinions about Japanese and American conditions.

JUDGE SORRY TO SENTENCE MAN FOR 20 YEARS

"Would Willingly Make Sentence Less," Says Ashford to Korean Murderer

Hong Hak Sun, a Korean, today was sentenced by Circuit Judge Ashford to serve 20 years at hard labor in Oahu prisons.

"If I had discretion in the matter, I would willingly make the sentence less," declared the court.

The Korean, who pleaded guilty to second degree murder, shot and killed a fellow countryman near Koolau, windward Oahu, several weeks ago. He had no statement to make when asked why sentence should not be pronounced.

Attorney W. T. Rawlins, counsel for the defendant, pointed out that Hong Hak Sun had shot the other Korean after he had found the latter in a house with the defendant's wife on the other side of the island.

The only leniency which Judge Ashford could exert under the statute was to remit the costs of the case and this he did.

THREE CONVICTIONS OF CHEFA GAMBLERS BEFORE MONSARRAT

Several chefa players were fined this morning in Judge Monsarrat's court and one banker was convicted but has not yet been sentenced. The men fined $25 and costs for having tickets in possession are Ah Hoy, Ah Chee, Yomomoto.

Gocho, a Japanese taken with a sheaf of tickets in pad form, was convicted of maintaining a lottery, the usual fine for which is $250 and costs. He will be sentenced Monday morning, his attorney having requested that sentence be not pronounced today.

IS FREDERICK NAYLOR STILL IN HAWAII NEI?

Who knows where Frederick Naylor, last heard of in Hawaii in 1902, now is? Superintendent Charles F. Mant of the Seamen's Institute has been asked to conduct a search for the missing man, whose nephew, C. J. Wilson, a steward and musician on the Union liner Niagara, desires to locate his uncle.

Naylor is believed to have been manager or owner of a plantation on Hawaii. He used to receive mail in care of the Honolulu postoffice, having it forwarded from here to wherever he happened to be around the islands.

The man at one time owned land and various valuable concessions in Mexico, but owing to the revolution they are believed to be almost worthless at present. Anyone knowing Mr. Naylor's present address is asked to communicate either with Supt. Mant or C. J. Wilson, 38 Calvert street, Marricksville, Sydney, Australia.

LADIES' BAND WANTS TO COME HERE TO CARNIVAL

Honolulu may listen to the "Ump-tah ump-tah" of a ladies' band during the Mid-Winter Carnival.

Miss Hallie Beare of Los Angeles has written to the Promotion Committee explaining that the ladies' band can make pleasing music and can play anything from classical music to ragtime.

Miss Beare said: "We would be pleased to appear in Honolulu during February, or at any other time. We have made a big success in our line of work and have always been a big drawing card. Kindly state whether Honolulu would like to have us come as we have many bookings ahead for the year."

More than $1,000,000 of the Anglo-French five-year 5 per cent. loan was taken to Waterbury.

SATURDAY.....NOVEMBER 13, 1915.

FIZZLED.

Honolulu's charter convention has come to a close with the general effect of a cannon-cracker fizzling out. Much was expected of this convention; little was accomplished.

The convention ended with the reactionaries in control, as they have been ever since the convention began, and with the Andrews-Murray charter indorsed. It has been little improved since the first stinging criticisms were directed against it. It stands a monument to ignorance and prejudice on the part of some of the reactionaries and to calculated political greed on the part of others.

The "majority report," made by a committee carefully picked to draft a politics-for-revenue-only charter, has been put through by the force of votes, the votes being handled along approved ward methods. Against this majority, which voted at the crook of their leaders' fingers, the progressive minority was powerless and it minimized its opportunities for successful protest by failure to unite at critical moments.

As the new charter stands, it contains the two most bitterly criticized features of the majority report—the position of superintendent of city works, and the provision that district magistrates shall be appointed by the mayor instead of by the governor.

Both features are political—and rottenly political at that. The superintendent of city works is to be elected, adding another to the patronage opportunities upon which professional politicians grow fat. The provision for the appointment of district magistrates by the mayor is about as vicious as can well be imagined. Constant effort is being made to keep the judiciary on a non-partisan basis, but there is a plan that will turn the lower courts over to the tender mercies of the political camp-followers and back-door scavengers. The attorney-general of the United States has set Hawaii the example of placing efficiency above politics by the reappointment of the chief justice and a circuit court judge, both of a political faith opposite to his own—and here in Honolulu a charter convention would place the control of the magistrates in the hands of the petty bosses.

And in a generation when American cities are moving along the progressive route to "short-ballot" government, the charter convention willfully closes its eyes to what has won efficiency elsewhere and goes headlong after the leaders who have their own eyes fixed on the pie-counter and the feed-trough.

Small wonder that men who for sixty days have worked hard and faithfully to give Honolulu a good charter walked out of the convention last night disgusted and indignant. The jobbing document this convention would force on Honolulu ought to arouse the indignation and disgust of every good citizen.

The Star-Bulletin has no idea that this politics-for-revenue-only charter will ever be foisted upon Honolulu. It must go to the legislature of 1917 and the legislature can hardly stand for such political jobbery. And if the legislature sends it to the people for a popular expression, it will be voted into oblivion by an awakened community.

What so deeply disappoints in this fizzle is the fact that the convention has set back progress two years by drafting in 1915 a charter proposal which must be repudiated in 1917. But after all the fault rests not alone with the convention. It rests also on many hundreds of voters who should have taken enough interest in their city to see, in the first place, that there were progressive candidates for the convention running in every precinct on Oahu; and in the second place, that enough of these candidates were elected to beat the forces of bossism bent on continuing the system of patronage politics in Honolulu.

Former water-boy for a steel company buys $15,000,000 worth of stock but whether it is watered stock or not is untold.

Less is heard of Armenian atrocities since the Turks have annihilated most of the complainants.

At least it's an encouraging sign that the rumors of peace are getting more frequent.

This is the sort of rain that falls on the just and the unjust.

Greece is a decidedly slippery neutral.

ADVERTISING SUGGESTIONS.

Businessmen know that one of the principles of good advertising: What's worth while is worth repeating.

That's the reason the Star-Bulletin today begins the second publication of the course in advertising which appears on another page of this paper.

The Home Course in Advertising was read with much interest and profit by the progressive businessmen of this city—the men who believe in their business and advertise it. Some missed a number here and there and failed to pick up the thread. They now have another opportunity. The chapters of the course will be run daily during the season when advertising is a live topic with every man who has goods to sell, especially the man with good goods to sell, goods that he believes in and wants the people to know about.

Advertising is the life of trade. Study of advertising is study of the power behind increasing business.

Read, study, advertise!
The first chapter of the course is on page twenty of this issue.

HONOLULU NOW NEARER.

(From the Marshfield, Ore. Times.)

"Honolulu is being brought so near to the United States you can almost stand on the dock at 'Frisco and hear the natives singing 'Aloha' across the waters," was the joking statement of a steamboat official in discussing the new turbine service which on November 26 will open to the Hawaiian Islands. The big steamship Great Northern goes on the run and will make the passage in an estimated time of four and one-half days, anywhere from a day to a day and a half better than the Pacific Mail fleet could do.

In the good old sailing days, when speed was no object, the trip consumed about 15 days providing there was a good slant to the wind. Steamboats came on and gradually they have been working toward the time when the trip will amount to little more than a ferry crossing. The Great Northern has been on the Portland-San Francisco run with the Northern Pacific, the latter boat remaining on the coast schedule.

EYES ON KENT.

This comment from the San Francisco News Letter will be interesting to the local friends of "Billy" Kent of California:

"Congressman Kent's name is cropping up more and more as being of the proper timber to serve as a candidate for the vice-presidency. Politically, he is classed as an independent, but he stands for the Wilson policies, and systematically votes that way. It is significant that in the last few years political parties have turned to the Pacific Coast to select a vice-presidential candidate. The West is growing, and the West is notoriously independent in both of the big camps. Neither Johnson nor Kent would dodge any lightning coming this way."

The London Spectator complains that the American note demanding amelioration of the British commercial blockade is not friendly. However, there is no complaint that the British have any trouble understanding what it means.

There are some advantages, too, in not being president of the United States. How'd you like, for instance, to do your courting with a troupe of newspaper reporters and photographers forever at your heels?—Manchester Union.

Winston Churchill's courageous act in quitting the British ministry to go to the war-front as an actual fighter ought to be an example to some of the "slackers" at home.

It seems to be an open question whether there will be anything left of Serbia to save by the time the Allies get enough men there to do the saving.

Col. Johnson's elevation to a brigadier-generalcy is the recognition of a man who gets results. There's always something better awaiting that sort of a man.

In addition to kangaroos and playing-pianos the city fathers might invest in a few gondolas for this moist weather.

GREAT CROWDS AT DENVER STAND WAITING FOR HAWAIIAN CONCERT

Denver, Colorado, loves Hawaiian music, and loves it enough to have the fact advertised.

When the firm of Knight & Campbell in Denver advertised that, at 4 o'clock on a certain afternoon, a Hawaiian phonograph concert would be given in the company's auditorium, it seems that it had made arrangements for only a comparatively small crowd. At 3:05 o'clock, however, the guests began to arrive. Now the firm has advertised this fact something like this:

"At 4 o'clock every seat in our auditorium was taken, every chair in the adjoining space was taken; 50 people were standing back of the chairs, and down on our first floor were nearly 300 more standing, awaiting an opportunity to get within hearing distance of the stage.

Because of the big crowd, the firm found it necessary to repeat the program from 5 until 6 o'clock. The firm goes on to say: "Many of these people had come in luxurious cars and were little accustomed to tolerating inconvenience. Many others had abandoned household duties and even their places of business. It was the most remarkable demonstration of interest in a light musical entertainment we have ever seen. They wanted to hear the Hawaiian melodies so much that they were willing to wait."

Which all goes to show the bewitching attraction of "Aloha Oe" and all the other sweet melodies in a Hawaiian musician's repertoire.

LETTERS

TOO MUCH SPEEDING IN AMBULANCE.

Honolulu, November 13, 1915. Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin. Sir: In answer to an article which appeared in yesterday's Star-Bulletin "How Fast an Ambulance Should Go," I hereby answer the same. It is true that I made the report, but the complaint came from residents at Kalia; claiming that the department ambulance unnecessarily speeds up and down Gulick avenue when taking nurses home. I suppose the idea is to show how fast he can drive an automobile around corners, or perhaps show how near an object he can get without hitting it. Of course fancy driving like this naturally brings it praise from those who are ridin with him. I can bring the complaining witnesses to verify my report if it is necessary.

He does not have to say that he had to change into low or reverse gears in order to make a corner. An expert driver, if he is sane, can open his throttle and let the car round a corner at the rate of eight or 10 miles per hour without changing any gears. I was an automobile driver for seven and one-half years before I took up police work, and I know what I'm talking about.

It is true that a hospital ambulance has a right of way—but only in case of an emergency call. This does not mean to say that you have to kill two or more lives and smash up other people's property just to have one. If he sees this chauffeur speeding in the way Kalia residents claim, would surely arrest him.

And as far as chauffeurs are concerned, that has nothing to do with this case. We have superior officers to give our orders, and no one from an outsider. As for ignorance, I don't know who is, for it is impossible to go around a corner in an automobile, especially an ambulance, on the "reverse gear." If he did this report would never have been filed. I remain, Sir, Yours very truly, SAMUEL K. FERRERA, Sub-Station Officer.

THE HORRORS OF WAR.

The horrors of war are blighting the land; The burdens it breeds is more than nations can stand. With debts piling up, and taxes to be raised, The people will suffer for many long days.

There's the Turks and Italians in Territory to conquer for which millions are spent. Greece now is ready to enter the fray When she's sure that the Allies her expenses will pay.

America alone stands for the right And steadily refuses to be drawn into the fight. Her ideals are high; jealousy is nil; She will never consent soldiers' graves to fill.

The English, it seems, are just the other way, And in Europe they now are learning to slay. With never a thought of the future to come, When life without loved ones will be burdensome.

The Germans and Bulgars are fully as bad, And the Russians and French have not made the world glad. So it's up to America the world to redeem, And amalgamate the races, as in Hawaii is seen. —M. P. M.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—HENRY W. KINNEY: The meeting of the Oahu Teachers' Association yesterday was one of the most interesting I have attended. There was a record number of teachers present.

—CHESTER A. DOYLE: Just to prove that there is something to the rumor about my "engagement" I have sent "the girl" a clipping of my interview in the Star-Bulletin the other day.

—JUDGE T. B. STUART: During the rain yesterday I got stranded at King and Fort streets. I expected to see a boat come along, but as none came, I had to walk through the down-pour to my hotel.

—JOHN GUILD: I would like to see all who are interested in the Boy Scout movement in Honolulu come out to the campfire and welcome home to James Wilder, to be held tonight at my place at Kaalalau, and by their presence on an occasion like this show that they are in sympathy with the splendid work being carried on by Mr. Wilder and the men associated with him for the boys of Honolulu.

DOESN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH LITTLE GIRLS

Humane Officer Miss Lucy Ward and Probation Officer John C. Anderson have under investigation the case of five small Portuguese girls living in Palolo valley, whose mother recently died. The ages of the girls range from 16 to 2½ years old. The father applied to the juvenile court and asked that the girls be placed in homes as, personally, he was unable to take care of them. As the local homes for such purposes are crowded the officers have urged that the father employ a woman to take care of his children.

"AUSTRALIAN" LEAVES DONATION FOR CAVELL MEMORIAL MONUMENT
The soldier from one of Oahu's regiments who left $2 with the Star-Bulletin yesterday to be forwarded to London to the Edith Cavell Memorial Fund set a precedent which was followed this morning by another contributor, who also wishes to be anonymous.
"Just put down 'Australian,'" said the lady who brought in a donation of $5. This brings to a total of $7 the money left with the Star-Bulletin by those who wish to swell the fund which is to erect in the capital of the British Empire a monument to the English nurse who was court-martialed and shot in Belgium by Germans.
Later a tall elderly man came in and left $1. "Put me down as 'Canadian,'" he said.

FRIENDSHIP PLAN TO BE MADE PERMANENT IN BOTH COUNTRIES

(Special Cable to Nippu Jiji). SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—The American-Japanese friendship committee met on Thursday at the Commercial Club to discuss the plan of making the friendship committee a permanent one. Among the members who represented Japan at the meeting were Baron E. Shibusawa, Consul Y. Numano, Exposition Commissioner Yamawaki, U. Ichihashi, professor at Stanford university, and Z. Horikoshi and M. Zumoto, prominent Japanese editors.
Prominent Americans present were David Starr Jordan, Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Robert Dollar, C. C. Moore and Dr. Guy. The committee decided that the friendship plan be continued both in America and in Japan.

COMMANDER OF HAWAIIAN ARMY DIES AT DENVER

Col. Robert McClean, Prominent in Revolution, Remembered By Judge Dole

Information has been received in Honolulu of the death in Denver, Colorado, during the latter part of October of Col. Robert McClean, who was well known to many of the residents of Honolulu, and especially those who were active in the revolutionary days. During the rebellion, he was commander of the Hawaiian army, and took a prominent part in the activities attending the peaceful annexation of the islands.

"At the beginning of the uprising," says Judge Sanford B. Dole, then president of the Republic, "we conferred with the authorities of the United States, and offered Mr. McClean, who had been in the navy, a commission. He came to Honolulu and was made commander of the Hawaiian army. I think he really did a great deal of good."
"The announcement of Colonel McClean's death in a San Francisco paper states that he was the jailor of Queen Liliuokalani when the latter was confined for several months. Judge Dole, however, says he is inclined to doubt this.

THREE HOUR HEARING OF LUSITANA COMPLAINTS ENDS IN INDECISION

If Highway is Paved Will Probably Be With Asphalt Macadam, Not Warrenite

Motion by Supervisor Larsen to change the style of road on the proposed Lusitana improvement project from Warrenite to asphalt macadam, followed immediately by another motion from Supervisor Arnold to defer action, brought to a close last night three hours of public hearing that covered almost as many complaints as a medical encyclopedia.

Lusitana street residents—mauka and makai—were out again in numbers which exceeded those of the Tuesday night aggregation, but this difference was added, that while the residents of both sides voiced complaints to the board, they also voiced complaints against one another.

"There is war enough in Europe," said one pacifist whose fathers planted vineyards in the sunny valleys of Portugal, "let there not be war on Punchbowl. Let us live as brothers there together."

Signs by 35 petitioners, the written protest presented to the board by the Lusitana residents declared in brief that the methods and rates of the proposed assessment are unjust and unreasonable because taxpayers on each side of the street are not paying out the same amount of money, and because other residents of the city who will derive 90 per cent of the benefit from the improvement are not paying for any of it; that Lusitana residents have paid their taxes according to law, but they have not enjoyed the application of those taxes upon their own street in spite of many promises by many boards of supervisors; that they have been wronged and deceived by officials representing the authority of the city through their false representations and misleading utterances in election campaigns.

A. V. Peters and J. F. Durao started the ball rolling again last night as soon as discussion was put up for discussion by the mayor, declaring that they were fighting for their homes and families, and threatening injunction suits in case the board persisted in carrying out the plan.

J. E. Rocha, a resident of the mauka side of the street, where the territory by an old agreement with the purchasers of the Auwalolimu tract, is paying the assessment that has been levied upon the property owners, jumped to his feet in an instant, opposing anything that would mean a step in road improvement in Lusitana street.

"I represent one part of Lusitana which is not kicking," said Rocha "I tell you we want a street up there for the present one is impassable in many places. Some of us will fight an injunction which four or five owners of property would bring about because they are suffering more than are others."

Charles H. Forbes, invited to the meeting by the supervisors, when called upon to speak, said that he had thought all difficulties had been passed long ago in previous meetings, and that he was surprised to see the matter again brought up. He read minutes of the meetings to which he referred showing that no complaints had been voiced at those times.

J. A. Magoon stated three distinct sides of the question, as he said, namely that Lusitana was a main thoroughfare and should be paid for by all the city, that it isn't right to tax people on one side of the street and not those on the other, and that the present grade is too high and should be reduced.

A. M. Cristy, attorney for the city, told Mr. Magoon that the city is taxing both sides of the street, that because the territory has agreed to pay for that part in the Auwalolimu tract, residents have the wrong idea and maintain that there is discrimination in taxation, which does not exist.

After the meeting had adjourned for recess and again convened, Mr. Ferreira brought up a new idea with a plea that the tax be levied on an area basis instead of on the frontage scheme.

"My mother owns property with a wide frontage which slopes back to a point," said Ferreira, "and which is really very small. My neighbor has a piece of land which runs but a little way along the street, while back farther it is very wide and deep. Surely it is unjust to ask us to pay twice as much as our neighbor is paying, when he was twice as much property as we have."

So strong was the argument, that Supervisor Logan stated he believed it was worth consideration and called the attention of the board to the fact. Mayor Lane then called for a vote on Larsen's motion to change from warrenite to asphalt macadam. Superintendent Forbes having expressed his approval of the change. Supervisor Arnold's motion to defer was then put and carried, and the hearing was declared adjourned.

UNUSUAL HONOR FOR SERGEANT AT SCHOFIELD

Unusual honor was conferred on Sgt. Louis H. Wunterlick, Troop A, 4th Cavalry, Schofield Barracks, when at the request of Col. William D. Beach, commanding the 4th Cavalry, the war department issued this order announcing his retirement and commending him for his services:

"Paragraph 18, Special Orders, No. 234, War Department, October 8, 1915, announces the retirement of 1st Sgt. Louis H. Wunterlick, Troop A, 4th Cavalry. The regimental commander desires to make of record the services of the soldier. Enlisting in the 8th Regiment, U. S. Cavalry, October 25, 1895, he served as private, saddler, farrier, corporal, sergeant and drum major in that regiment until January 9, 1905, when he joined the 4th Cavalry, in which he has served as private, saddler, corporal, sergeant and first sergeant in Troop A. Every one of his eight discharged certificates bears the character 'excellent.' First Sgt. Wunterlick participated in the Sioux campaign of 1899 and 1891 in South Dakota; made the march with the 8th Cavalry, from Texas to South Dakota, in 1888; was in Cuba in 1898 and 1899; the Philippines in 1905, and on the Mexican border from 1911 to 1915.

"The good wishes of the regimental commander and of the officers and men of the regiment go with 1st Sgt. Wunterlick in his well-earned retirement."

MAY ATTEMPT TO FIX BLAME FOR OPENED VALVES

Whether the personal blame for failure to detect corrosion of lead lining and rivets in the battery tanks of the F4 will be placed is a question now being discussed in Washington, according to despatches from the nation's capital.

Various officials of the naval bureau have been studying the report of the second naval board of inquiry with a view to determining whether proceedings to fix personal responsibility for the act which cost 21 lives shall be started.

When interviewed, Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels said he was awaiting the report of the bureau officials' findings before he could make any statement as to what further steps might be taken.

President Henry R. Carse of the Electric Boat Company disagreed with the report of the second naval board of inquiry and claimed the item of corrosion indicated lack of care of the F4.

In a statement given to the press after the report of the second board had been made public, Mr. Carse declares that in his opinion corrosion could not have been the main cause, and that leaving open the craft's air valves lost the submarine.

"The question of air valves having been found open on the forward, middle and aft main ballast tanks and the auxiliary ballast tank will account for the loss of the vessel," a part of his statement reads. "All instructions governing the operation of submarine boats require these valves to be closed. Nothing further is required to explain the much-regretted loss of this vessel."

EXTRA FAT DIVIDEND FOR WAILUKU OWNERS ON DECEMBER TENTH

Owners of stock of the Wailuku Sugar Company will receive a total of $50,000 next month, instead of the usual $30,000 monthly dividend, the directors having decided upon the paying of an extra dividend of 2 per cent, in addition to the usual 1 per cent due on December 10.

Wailuku is capitalized at $3,000,000, divided into 30,000 shares of a par value of $100 per share. The last sale made locally was at $160.

ASHES ARE PLACED IN GRAVE OF HIS FATHER

Funeral services for Abraham D. Bolster, who died in Honolulu yesterday while being removed from the Leahi Home to Queen's Hospital for treatment, were held at 10 o'clock this morning from Williams' undertaking establishment, interment being in the Nuuhanui cemetery. The remains were cremated, and the ashes were placed in the grave of Mr. Bolster's father.

Mr. Bolster was born in County Kerry, Ireland, on April 2, 1857, and at an early age went to Tasmania with his parents, his father having been in charge of a penitentiary there. In 1848, while en route to San Francisco from Tasmania he stopped off at Honolulu, and finally settled here. Mr. Bolster went to work for the Advertiser as pressman when that paper first began publishing in 1856, and continued in this capacity for many years.

Monday, November 15, will be the last day for paying taxes without penalty. After that date 10 per cent will be added. Take your tax bill with you when paying. Payment must be made in U. S. gold coin or certified check.—Adv.

NEW CLOCK-LIKE MACHINE SHOWS WATER PRESSURE

"This is a Bristol gauge," said Gell, Manager of Water Systems Harry E. Murray, pointing proudly to a large instrument with a clocklike face just installed in his office. "Its purpose is to keep tab on the water pressure in the city mains."

Examination of the gauge shows that it is adorned with a dial which goes round and round, picking up as it goes, a red trail that marks water pressure at any time of the day or night. The instrument ticks softly like a clock and turns merrily on.

"We aim to keep up a pressure of about 40 pounds to the inch," says Murray, "and the engineers are now regulating pump valves and connections to get this pressure. In case of fire the pressure can be shot up to 60 pounds in a short time by telephoning instructions in from here."

Leaks in pipes is one of the questions over which Manager Murray is pondering at present, and apropos of his study a test was made the other day showing the various amounts of water that will leak from the city pipes at a 40-pound pressure, as follows:

Diameter of opening, 1-32 of an inch, six and one-half gallons an hour; 1-16 of an inch, 36 gallons; 1-8 of an inch, 180 gallons; 1-4 of an inch, 600 gallons; 1-2 of an inch, 1170 gallons, and 3-4 of an inch, 1250 gallons.

Figures of daily amounts of water delivered are still being checked over from the pumping station in an effort to ascertain the likelihood of leaks in various sections of the city mains.

CAPT. REDINGTON SAW TROOPS ON MEXICAN BORDER

Among the passengers to arrive here on the Lurline November 16 will probably be Captain Laurence W. Redington, assistant to the adjutant general, National Guard of Hawaii, who has been on the mainland with the rifle team and recently spent a week at his one-time home, Santa Barbara, California. During his stay in the states, Captain Redington was on the Mexican border, and in an interview given to a Santa Barbara paper told something of conditions there.

"I stopped at San Antonio to see General Funston, who was formerly in command in Hawaii, and who has hosts of friends in the islands," he said. "That was just before the most recent mixup near Douglas, and before troops had been rushed to Arizona. I dropped off at El Paso for a couple of days to visit friends, and it was while I was there that rush orders came for the 7th and 20th regiments of infantry to entrain for Douglas. The first contingents got off within six hours, and it was the opinion of officers well informed on the Mexican situation that while armed intervention did not seem more imminent than it has for some time past, the situation at Douglas was certainly serious, and the troops were being moved there as a precautionary measure."

JURY IN MURDER CASE FAILS TO REACH VERDICT

After deliberating more than eight hours a jury in Circuit Judge Ashford's court failed to reach an agreement in the Eugene Buchanan second degree murder case, and was discharged at 10 o'clock. It is understood that the jury stood 10 to 2—ten voting for acquittal and two for conviction. A retrial of the case probably will be held in the near future.

Buchanan, who is a corporal in the 25th Infantry, is charged with second degree murder, it being alleged that he shot and killed Laura Buchanan, his wife, early on the morning of October 28 at their home in Liliha street. It was the contention of the defense that the shooting was accidental. Three army officers conducted the defense. City Attorney A. M. Brown conducted the prosecution.

MRS. WALL GETS BACK PROPERTY TAKEN BY THIEF

Wife of Hawaii's Surveyor General Robbed by Former Kansas City Policeman

Jewelry, silverware and trinkets of value which were stolen from Mrs. W. E. Wall's home at Salt Lake City, have fortunately been recovered by the police of the Mormon metropolis who have nabbed Robert M. Fowler and C. S. Cabell for the theft, which occurred October 23. The recovery of the property and arrests were made on October 28. Mrs. Wall is the wife of W. E. Wall of Honolulu, surveyor-general of the territory.

Fowler, who was married only a fortnight prior to his arrest to a Miss Mary Morris, a trained nurse, who is also held in jail in Salt Lake City, was formerly a policeman in Kansas City, Mo., and among his effects, in the same room which was crammed with stolen property, were found letters of recommendation from J. L. Ghent, head of the Kansas City detective bureau. Ghent recommends Fowler as "an upright, honest young man of integrity."

Fowler's excuse for the robbery of the Wall residence is that he "was up against it for money."

BAD COLD? TAKE 'CASCARETS' FOR BOWELS TONIGHT

They're Fine! Liven Your Liver and Bowels and Clear Your Head

No Headache, Sour Stomach, Bad Cold or Constipation By Morning

Get a 10-cent box. Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets tonight and you will wake up with a clear head and your cold will be gone. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.—Adv.

TRANSPORT BUSY MAKING ON BIG LOT OF COAL

Coaling was the chief activity on board the U. S. army transport Thomas today. The boat is taking 1100 tons and will sail at noon Monday for Guam and Manila, taking 570 passengers from here, most of whom will be soldiers being sent from here to the Philippines for assignment to regiments there. The Thomas will take out 150 tons of freight.

The transport docked at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Pier 6 with 923 passengers aboard, of whom 387 were for Honolulu. The latter consisted of 57 first cabin, 21 second and 309 troop.

When the transport sails, she will take 30 army and government officials for whom there was no room when the Thomas left San Francisco. They came on to this port in the Matsonia, and will fill the cabins left empty by those getting off here.

Col. J. E. Guilfoyle, commanding the 4th Cavalry, was among the army officers for this port. Col. G. S. Young of the 8th Infantry, a Manila passenger, commanded the troops on board.

PEARL HARBOR DRYDOCK TO BE FINISHED ON TIME

Interviews in San Francisco papers with S. G. Hinde, president of the San Francisco Bridge Company, quote him as saying the Pearl Harbor drydock, to cost $4,400,000, will be finished and ready to receive warships 1000 feet long by July 1, 1918, the date specified in the contracts.

Mr. Hinde passed several months here, and much of his time was spent at Pearl Harbor observing construction activities. Hinde is quoted as stating that cement is being used to give the bottom sufficient weight to make it stay down. The first drydock costing $2,200,000 was wrecked nearly two years ago, because the bottom pressure forced that part of the dock upward when the water was expelled.

HARBOR NOTES

At noon Monday, the U. S. army transport Thomas will sail for Guam and Manila. She will carry mail for the Philippines.

Mail for the Orient closes at the postoffice at 3:30 this afternoon and will go in the Nippon Maru, sailing at 5 o'clock from Pier 7.

The Nippon Maru brought in 248 bags of mail this morning at 7:30 from San Francisco. Of the despatch, 18 sacks contained letters.

To discharge 9000 barrels of oil, the oil-tanker Lyman Stewart sailed at noon from this port for Hilo. She unloaded 60,000 barrels here.

A 7500 ton cargo is being loaded at San Francisco for the Orient by the O. S. K. steamer Panama Maru here October 26. Much of it is cotton.

After her cargo is discharged some time today, the schooner Robert Lewers will be given an overhauling and cleaning at the Inter-Island drydock.

With 700,000 feet of lumber on board for this port, the bark W. B. Flint sailed from Port Ludlow Thursday. The vessel is a cannery ship, the third to accept a lumber charter.

Discharging a sizable cargo, the Matson steamer Matsonia is at Hilo today. She returns Monday and will sail at 10 Wednesday morning for San Francisco, taking the next mail. To date, 160 passengers are booked.

A 600 ton cargo of scrap iron and other metal will be loaded Monday afternoon at Pier 6 by the bark R. P. Rithet which will arrive here December 5 on her first voyage under the T. K. K. flag. She does not leave Yokohama until November 29.

A shipping item in the Portland Oregonian says that while docking at Buenos Ayres October 28, the American-Hawaiian steamer Hawaiian crashed into the dock wall. Damage sustained was slight. The steamer arrived at Buenos Ayres from Montevideo.

Rumors that the Union liner Makura is to be taken off the Vancouver-Honolulu-Australia run and used as a troopship by the British government are recurrent in San Francisco. The San Francisco Journal of Commerce says the Makura has been withdrawn from the San Francisco-Australia run to take the Makura's place.

DELEGATE TO BE HONOR GUEST AT BIG RECEPTION

A reception by members of the Ahaui Puhonua o na Hawaii, a Hawaiian society of which Delegate J. K. Kalaniana'ole is president, will be given tonight at the Knights of Pythias hall. The reception is in honor of Delegate Kalaniana'ole as president of the society.

All of the other Hawaiian societies about the city have been invited to the reception. Entertainment in the form of Hawaiian instrumental and vocal music, and a talk by the president will be provided. This talk will deal especially with the work of the Hawaiian Protective League of which both the mayor and the delegate are active members. Mayor Lane was busy this morning seeing that arrangements for tonight's entertainment are in readiness to make it a success. Dancing will close the evening, music being furnished by a Hawaiian quintet.

OREGON CLAIMS FORMER SECRET POLICE HEAD

When The Dalles, Oregon, Observer, in writing something of the history of Harrison J. Rhodes, who now resides on a farm in the northwestern state, said he served under Hon. Sanford Dole as chief of the secret service police following the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy, it doubtless erred.

"Although he may have been here at the time, I do not remember," says Judge Dole. "I cannot recall a man of that name being connected with the secret service police."

The Oregon paper states that Mr. Rhodes has just been granted a pension for service in the civil war by the government.

France has ordered an embargo on the export of kid skins.

Former Wife of Howard Gould Is Going To Orient

Rough Trip for Nippon Maru, Which is Almost "Missionary Boat" This Trip

Rough weather from the time the ship left San Francisco until she came in sight of Diamond Head was reported by the T. K. K. liner Nippon Maru, which docked at Pier 7 at 7:45 this morning and will sail at 5 o'clock this afternoon for the Orient, taking 100 stowage passengers out from here.

Heavy seas and strong winds all the way made it not exactly a pleasant voyage for the 97 first-cabin, 15 second, and 270 stowage passengers on board. The steamer brought no lay-over passengers for Honolulu.

"It's a missionary boat this trip," remarked Purser H. J. Grasset. "Nearly everyone on board is something or other in missionary activities." About the only person on the ship of more than ordinary prominence was Mrs. Viola Katherine Gould, the divorced wife of Howard Gould, of the famous New York family of capitalists. Mrs. Gould and her young daughter are bound for Shanghai.

Through freight on the Nippon consists of 3500 tons. Purser Grasset said that the T. K. K.'s new schedule for 1916 sailings is now being compiled by the company, but that he understands there will be no appreciable changes of Toyo Kisen Kaisha boats at this port.

What Mrs. Viola Katherine Gould, divorced wife of Howard Gould, the New York multi-millionaire, has as her object in taking to China a little Chinese girl with whom her own small daughter is quite chummy, was one of the topics of conversation on board the T. K. K. liner.

When reporters attempted to interview Mrs. Gould today, they received no satisfaction whatever. She refused to see them, and when a Star-Bulletin representative finally was able to address her as she was leaving the ship for an automobile ride around the city, she informed him she was "too busy to say anything."

The Gould party, consisting of four persons, Mrs. Gould, her daughter, the little Chinese girl, evidently about ten or eleven years old, and a governess, occupied the best suite on the boat. Mrs. Gould paying $200 excess fare for this privilege. Her destination is Shanghai, China. Mrs. Gould would not say anything, her daughter was just as "mum," the Chinese girl apparently could speak no English, and the governess was politely unresponsive to all questions.

Evidently Mrs. Gould's voyage here was not without attacks of malde-mere, because she sent a radio requesting a trained nurse to meet her at the dock. Her request was complied with and the nurse boarded the ship and attended Mrs. Gould afterward accompanying her on a motor side taken by the party around the city and out to the Fall. She remarked to the nurse that this climate is "so awfully warm, I'm just roasting."

Mrs. Gould's maiden name was Viola Kathrine Clemmons. She has been an actress of note, and was married to Howard Gould, a brother of George Gould, on October 13, 1898. She was the pivotal figure in a most sensational divorce suit, in which Dustin Farnum, the actor, and Col. William F. Cody figured.

SECOND CABIN ON WILL LINER IS EXTRA FINE

Word has been received at the offices of Fred L. Waldron, Ltd., from the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company's San Francisco office that the Great Northern will have accommodations for 100 persons in the tourist class cabins, which correspond to second-class on other lines.

"These accommodations are exceptional and are something which has never been possible on the San Francisco-Honolulu run before," said Mr. Waldron today.

"Every cabin has an electric fan, there is a special dining saloon and a smoking-room. For inside rooms, $45 each way will be charged, and for outside, $50. The dining-room menu for this class is of exactly the same quality as the first cabin, the only difference being less variety.

Where the first cabin passengers have the choice of three soups or entrees, the tourist class has one, and the rest of the menu accordingly. There are tables for four, six and eight persons.

"We expect these facilities will appeal to a large number of Honolulu people who cannot afford first cabin prices, which on the Great Northern will range from $65 up. These cabins are located on C deck, and are finer than the average first cabin facilities used to be a few years ago."

Mr. Waldron has had numerous applications here in the last few days for accommodations on the Great Northern's first trip from this port to the coast. The big liner will make her first departure from here for San Francisco at 11 o'clock the night of December 6, and will arrive there four and a half days later, at 11 o'clock the morning of December 11.

Cal E. Stone, in a circular letter received this week by the local agents, says the Great Northern will have freight space for approximately 3000 tons measurement, which includes 300 tons of refrigerator space and a garage for 40 automobiles, set up.

JESS WILLARD IN MOVIE AT HAWAII

MARY PICKFORD COMES TO LIBERTY

Holbrook Blinn and Alice Brady in "The Boss" must divide honors at the Hawaii theater today with Jess Willard, heavyweight world's champion boxer, who is making his Honolulu premier in "The Heart Punch," a gripping photo-drama of the prize ring it is probable that from a histrionic standpoint the former pair will take off all the honors but from point of a drawing attraction it is a safe bet that "Jess" will help to fill the little Hotel street house.

"The Boss" is a strong bill and one that will tend to increase the popularity of the Hawaii. It is from the pen of Edward Sheldon, and is produced by William A. Brady. Alice Brady has previously been seen in Honolulu in "An Ye Sow." Upon that appearance she proved a big favorite and is steadily adding to her popularity during the present engagement. Blinn is a finished actor and is assigned an excellent acting part in the title role.

The story told in "The Boss" is one of love and politics, a mixture not infrequently used in the drama. However, in this bill the subjects are handled in a new and unique manner, with sufficient romance to give zest and lend added interest.

As to the quality of "The Heart Punch," deponent saith not. The same remarks stand acent Jess Willard's ability as an actor. However, according to advance information, Jess is "making good" in pictures, and the Hawaii will boast of getting there "first" with this attraction.

Another Paramount Picture star has made his initial appearance in Honolulu at the Liberty theater, and captivated his audiences. The latest addition to the local gallery is John Mason, who will give his final performance at the Liberty in the title role of "Jim the Penman" tonight. Followers of matters theatrical will remember that John Mason has long been a star on the speaking stage but has only recently appeared before the camera. In the role of James Ralston an excellent subject was chosen for Mason's first appearance.

Sir Charles L. Young, in "Jim the Penman," give to the stage the first of the so-called "gentleman crook" plays, and has had a large number of imitators. Tonight also will see the last of chapter seven of "The Diamond from the Sky," in which Arthur Stanley makes his sensational escape from arrest by "borrowing" the clothing of a dead hunter and joining the chase.

Tomorrow night at the Liberty ushers in another quartet of "Pickford nights," the ever popular little Mary returning in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow." In this splendid offering by Frances Hodgson Burnett, Mary Pickford is seen in the role of Glad, a part made famous in the living drama by Eleanor Robson. To this weird and wonderful character, the beautiful and ragged girl of London's slums, Miss Pickford gives a touch that is inimitable.

"The Romance of Elaine" also will be shown for four days commencing tomorrow night.

ACTOR NEW TO HONOLULU AT EMPIRE

Fred Chapin, the distinguished actor and producer, will make his initial appearance in this city at the Empire theater today and this evening in the vivid and intensely dramatic offering "The Sage-brush Girl." Chapin has succeeded in presenting a spectacular picturization of one of Rollo S. Stoughton's great mainland successes. A splendid cast will assist in the interpretation of the story. The list includes favorites, among whom are George Kunkel, Mary Rusby and William Burke. The plot deals with Western life. A stage play is shown

POPULAR PACKED FOR VAUDEVILLE

Miss Josephine Gassman and her pianinies were greeted last night at the Popular theater by an audience that packed the house to the doors, and then Manager Hughes was compelled to turn a large number of persons away. It was the largest audience since the beginning of the Gassman engagement, not excepting the opening night, and the show went with a dash.

Miss Gassman, in the makeup of a handsome cocoon, took the house by storm with her songs, and in conjunction with the colored members of her troupe, the singing and dancing made a big hit. Each number was applauded and the audience found plenty of comedy to laugh over and enjoy.

The matinee this afternoon was to be strictly a children's entertainment, especially the turn in which "Only Me," the baby pianino, appears in a hula skirt of correct design and "fabric." Every juvenile receives a portrait of Miss Gassman and the pianinies as a souvenir of the occasion.

The same bill will be repeated tonight and there will be in addition some photo-comedies shown.

POPULAR PACKED FOR VAUDEVILLE

Bill Russell, who has done such fine work as "Blair Stanley" in "The Diamond from the Sky," says he's through with this villain business. He is going back to heroing. If Bill wasn't such a good actor he wouldn't have made such a good villain, because he is anything but a bad guy in real life. Irving Cummings, the hero, receives letters and gifts from all over the world from admirers, and Bill is probably a bit jealous, as he knows he works just as hard as Irving does. Anyway, they can't all be heroes.

Undoubtedly the most popular man on the movie screen today is Mr. James Cruze, who was Jim Norton in the "Million Dollar Mystery." Well, Jim will be with us again in the near future. The Lasky Company, who are continually searching the field for superior talent, have signed up Mr. Cruze to work opposite Edna Goodrich, a team which should prove unusually strong. But, girls, don't forget that Jim is married. His wife is Marguerite Snow, who was "Countess Olga" in the "Million Dollar Mystery" picture, and they have a little "Jimmie," said to be one of the finest little fellows in the land.

NET MOVIES

By CLINTON PEDRICK.

When in doubt, blame it on to motion pictures.

Naturally, when it comes to selecting some form of public entertainment for attack, the films seldom escape. The screen extends its influence into every grade of society, and must inevitably suffer the usual penalties that follow in the path of success.

Back again Mary? You can't make us mad, incidentally. Little Mary Pickford will be on the job again for four days, beginning tomorrow night in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," which differs from her last appearance in that the play itself is a deeply laid drama instead of a "child's play," as many have expressed in her last two appearances in Honolulu.

"Dusty" Farnum, whose work in "The Iron Strain" has added more laurels to his already filled up crown, is realizing the iron strain of real life instead of reel life, as he hurried to New York for a scene in a skyscraper, then hurried back to Los Angeles, hurried back to New York and now back to Los Angeles again, all in one month. "Dusty" is not wasting any time these days.

Mary Pickford is so enamored of the Japanese maidens who have been assembled to support her in the Paramount Famous Players adaptation of John Luther Long's novel, "Madame Butterfly," that she is anxious to obtain the services of one of these diminutive damsels as her own maid. The neatness of the daughters of Nippon has appealed very strongly to Little Mary, who declares that she believes they are unsurpassable in point of personal neatness. If Miss Pickford ever comes to Honolulu she will find an abundance of little cherry-blossom maids to select from.

Every man, woman and child in Easton, Pa., is agog over the presence of Marguerite Clark in their midst. The little star is engaged in filming the Famous Players Paramount picture, "Still Waters," and recently held a reception at the leading theater at Easton, to which every one for miles around who could ride or walk came in state. Little Marguerite wishes it announced that her appearance in "Still Waters" does not portend an extension of the bathing season. It's merely business.

GAY CARNIVAL POSTER ISSUED

Total Edition Will Be 10,000 Copies, of Which 8000 Will Go to the Mainland

The Carnival poster came out today. One thousand copies were delivered to the Promotion Committee for immediate distribution, and the remainder of the edition of 10,000 will be off the press tomorrow. At the time the original design was accepted, it was reproduced in the newspapers.

Of the 10,000 copies, 8000 will go to tourist agencies, transportation companies, hotels, and public places on the mainland, and the remainder will be held for local consumption.

Ed Towse, vice-chairman of the Promotion Committee, has mapped out a plan of circulation which will cover the islands more thoroughly than ever before.

Two copies will be sent to each postmaster and to each plantation office in the islands.

Fifty copies will be sent to the Promotion Committee members on Maui, Kauai and Hawaii with a request that they display them to the best advantage.

Fifteen copies will be sent to the Kalaupapa settlement on Molokai, through the board of health.

The Japanese, Chinese, Korean, Portuguese and other newspapers of Honolulu, as well as those printed in English, each will receive an allotment of copies.

The Oahu Railway will post copies at all its stations and the Inter-island will supply its steamers and agencies.

Superintendent Kinney has been asked to send two posters to each public school in the territory.

Two hundred copies will be reserved for the business houses of Honolulu and the army posts and post exchanges all will be liberally supplied.

PAUL SUPER MAY LABOR IN CHINA UNDER NEW PLAN

General Secretary of Honolulu Y. M. C. A. Likely to Go First to Mainland in March

Paul Super, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., may enter association work in China. It has not been definitely decided as yet, but it is thought that Mr. Super will leave Honolulu some time in March for the mainland where he will remain for some time as associate with Charles K. Ober as traveling secretary of the international committee of the Young Men's Christian Association. From there it is expected that Mr. Super will go to China, to take up the work in that country.

Paul Super came to Honolulu on August 26, 1906, this being his 10th year as secretary of the local association. Mr. Super came from Orange, N. J., where he had been general secretary of that association for one year. Previous to that time he was secretary at the University of Missouri for four years. The past three years Mr. Super has spent on the problem of recruiting and training men for secretaries of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Super stated today that the work of the traveling secretary of the international committee consisted of three different departments of work. The secretary visits the different colleges and universities and recruits upper classmen for the work of the association. He also places these men in select city associations to receive their training.

The second work is coaching local general secretaries on successful methods of developing secretaries, who are called fellowship men. This plan of work is called the fellowship plan.

The third plan is authorizing courses of study after having secured adequate text-books. At the present time there are 20 city associations doing the work of training the secretaries and in this number Honolulu is regarded as one of the first six.

One of the plans is to increase the number of city associations doing this work from 20 to 50. The Y. M. C. A. now has $103,900,000 invested in buildings and other property in the United States and Canada, and strong men must be trained to take care of the work in these buildings. The question of recruiting men is one of the most fundamental problems the association has to face. Mr. Super said today that the work, should he take it up, would probably lead him to China.

B. F. DILLINGHAM IN SANTA BARBARA, CAL.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 28.—Santa Barbara reminds me very much of Honolulu," said B. F. Dillingham, who, with Mrs. Dillingham, has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Bacheider at the Potter.

Mr. Dillingham is one of the very wealthy men of the Hawaiian Islands. He went to the islands in 1881 and quickly realized what railroad development would do, he began to build steam roads, being the pioneer railroad builder of Hawaii.

His confidence was quickly justified, and great wealth has been the crowning feature of his enterprises. He found Santa Barbara a most delightful spot, and both he and Mrs. Dillingham have been much impressed.

There is a very good prospect that the Dillinghams will some day be owners of a home in this section. They were particularly well pleased with the foothills as a home place.

DEATH OF HUSBAND'S AUNT AT FAMILY HOME

Mrs. P. L. Cherry, who was houseguest of Mrs. Harry Wilder, has just received this news regarding her late husband's aunt.

The death has occurred at Merchiston hall, Horndean, England, of the Countess of Cape St. Vincent. She was the only daughter of the distinguished admiral, Sir Charles Napier, who was created Count Cape St. Vincent for his services in placing Donna Maria on the throne of Portugal.

GEN. JOHNSON TO BACK TRAINING CAMP NEXT YEAR

but now he is said to have consented to undertake the work if nothing intervenes to prevent. Just now he has more than he can well attend to and the businessmen's training camp will have to wait.

The camp here probably will be established on the National Guard reservation on Punchbowl, and every man who can possibly get away will be induced to enlist for the period of service required.

A movement for a training camp here some time ago fell through due to lack of leaders who knew how to organize, and to pressure of other business, but with Gen. Johnson to carry it through it will undoubtedly bring forth a training camp during the coming year.

In the businessmen's training camps regular military discipline prevails and regular officers are detailed as instructor-instructors, with a staff to assist, and non-commissioned officers are detailed to aid in drilling and training the volunteers. Practice marches, drills, rifle shooting and grounding in tactics is part of the work of the camps, which have been a big success on the mainland.

The appointment to the rank of brigadier-general of Col. Samuel I. Johnson, chief of staff, National Guard of Hawaii, came sooner than expected, Governor Pinkham issuing the executive order late yesterday afternoon. By the same order the Hawaiian troops are designated the 1st Brigade, National Guard of Hawaii.

General Johnson could have had this promotion two months ago if it had been learned, but preferred to wait until the National Guard was larger and more thoroughly formed. The rank of brigadier-general has been waiting for him since the 2nd Regiment was completed.

The order and letter of Governor Pinkham follow: "Colonel Samuel I. Johnson, Adjutant General, National Guard of Hawaii, Honolulu, T. H.

"Sir: I have the honor of handing you a commission as brigadier-general commanding the National Guard of Hawaii.

"It is due to your intense energy, ability and unselfish patriotism that its numbers have been increased in a brief period to the requisite of a full brigade.

"I desire here to testify to my deepest appreciation of your support and execution of the military plans and purposes of this administration, and believing them in advance of any other political division of the United States.

"In the further steps necessary, I can assure you of my most earnest and practical support.

"Respectfully, "LUCIUS E. PINKHAM, Governor of Hawaii, Commander-in-Chief."

"Executive Order.

"The organization of the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Regiments of Infantry, National Guard of Hawaii, having been completed, the said regiments of infantry shall constitute a brigade, to be known as the 1st Brigade, National Guard of Hawaii. Brigadier-General Samuel I. Johnson, Adjutant General, Territory of Hawaii, is assigned to the command of the Brigade.

"LUCIUS E. PINKHAM, Governor, Territory of Hawaii."

With the guard recruited as high as it can be handled by the present staff, General Johnson's next effort will be to bring it to absolute efficiency. He will require attention and work from the officers, and will weed out those who do not show the proper ability and energy. Politics is not to be allowed to enter into guard affairs.

SCARECROW OF JAPAN'S MENACE MADE BY HEARST

Harry Corbett, Hilo's Postmaster, Tells Mainlanders of Amity in Islands

Harry Corbett, Postmaster at Hilo.

That there is nothing whatever in the Japanese war scare and that the Japanese have every reason to be friends of the United States and have no cause to wish for war, is the statement of Harry Corbett, postmaster at Hilo, as published in the Tucson Star of Tucson, Arizona, on October 27.

"I live in a city that has a large Japanese population," Mr. Corbett said, "and I know something of the feeling of the Japanese towards the people of the United States. I can say absolutely that the stories of their intention to make war on the United States, as continually appearing in the Hearst newspapers, are manufactured. The Japanese are industrious, well-behaved citizens, and in Hilo are on the best of terms with the Americans. Besides, Japan could not do us any harm at all on account of her geographical location, and beyond that she is weak on account of her financial condition. The Japanese are the most heavily-taxed people in the world."

"At the same time," Mr. Corbett continued, "the people of the Hawaiian Islands are heartily in sympathy with the campaign for national preparedness, and indeed are very much interested in the movement on account of our position."

Connella Vows He Saw Worms Fall From Sky

Will Now Believe That at Times It May Even "Rain Cats and Dogs"

Worms which "fell from the sky" Thursday evening in the drenching downpour that succeeded the humid heat of the early afternoon, covered the sidewalks in several portions of the town and were the object of wonder to spectators. That the worms covered the sidewalk is known to a number of persons, and that they fell from the sky is vouched for by at least one man. Several others are said to have witnessed the phenomenon.

J. W. Connella, deputy collector of internal revenue, is the man who declares he saw the worms fall from the heavens.

"I was going home yesterday afternoon," says Connella, "and luckily I had my umbrella with me. In the heaviest portion of the storm I suddenly noticed that the sidewalk all about my feet was alive with worms of all sizes varying from one-eighth of an inch to three inches.

"Wondering where they came from, I looked out from my umbrella and found they were falling from the sky. I don't think I was mistaken. Several other persons along the sidewalk admitted that they had seen the same thing."

Connella has traveled a good bit over various parts of the earth, and seen a good many interesting things, but he says that this is the first time he has ever seen a shower of worms. "I have heard of it raining cats and dogs," he says, "and after seeing this I almost believe that too is possible."

Mark Colburn, head janitor at the capitol grounds, is accredited with saying when Connella told him the story, "Believe me, I'm going to be on the lookout to keep them from getting into the palm trees or into the capitol where they would ruin things by boring."

DROVE BIG CAR OVER DESERT TO REJOIN COMPANY

To Miss Marion Rochester, the young woman who is singing "All I Want is a Little Love From You" in the current comedy presented by the Raymond, Teal Musical Comedy Company at the Bijou theater, has fallen the lot of having had a unique experience.

It all came about through a train wreck. Miss Rochester was playing with a company in Los Angeles. They were to jump to Ogden, Utah, and thence to Salt Lake City. The company left Los Angeles three days before time to open at Ogden, but Miss Rochester was given permission to stay over another train.

She took her train as far as Truckee, California, and there discovered that a tunnel just ahead on the line had caved in and that several freight cars were stalled in the tunnel also. It would be several days before the line was clear. She must reach Ogden to open with the company. Engaging an auto with a number of other passengers she reached Reno. At Reno she sought a friend whom she had known in Los Angeles and who was the owner of a powerful racing car. She discovered he had returned to Los Angeles but had left the car at Reno. Miss Rochester had offered to drive the car and the idea struck her as a good one to try and drive the car to Ogden. A wire to her friend in Los Angeles gave her permission. She started out. The balance of the story is best told in her own words:

"After leaving Reno I had fine running for several miles, but I got off the road and was lost in distress for a whole night until by accident I arrived at Elko, Nevada. In leaving Fallon, en route to Austin via the Lincoln Highway, I lost the road. I got onto the Wadsworth road, and when many miles out of town my car became mired down in the muds of the salt beds on the desert. I worked ten hours trying to extricate myself. I had no food and finally I fell exhausted. I was picked up at 2 o'clock the next morning by three prospectors and leaving the car I was taken to Lovelock. I got no sleep, but was revived with food and shelter. Several hours later I returned to the car and succeeded in getting my car out unaided. I drove steadily all that day, that night and the next. I did not find a place to sleep or stop until I reached Elko that night.

"From Lovelock to Winnemucca, Elko and Ogden the roads were terrible. I drove almost two days and three nights without a stop. I was sure that the company had opened, and I would be out of the cast and perhaps lose my position. I had four blowouts on the way. The motor took terrible grades, sands and ruts, and I was sailing along fine when I threw another tire and had to stop for two hours while I fixed it myself.

"When I arrived at Ogden, I was greeted with cheers as there had been a message sent from Reno and another from Elko that I was on the way. It proved that the company did not open until the following Monday after all, and I had a fine rest. Now that it is all over, I believe I rather enjoy having had the experience."

Mrs. Mary Green holds a master's and pilot's license and is in command of the steamer Tacoma plying on the Mississippi river.

HAWAII HAS CHARMED NEW YORK CONGRESSMAN

Here is the tribute to Hawaii paid by Congressman Fairchild of New York in a letter to a Honolulu friend. Mr. Fairchild visited here with the congressional party last spring. Incidentally, he has travelled all over the world: "I have recently received some literature from Hawaii and my heart turns longingly toward it. I wish it were possible for me to spend a few restful weeks there, as I have been so extremely busy of late that I really need the rest, and know of no place in the world that I have ever visited that is one-half so attractive as your beautiful territory of Hawaii."

MEMO'S OF MEETING OF CITY SUPERVISORS

The board will meet again on Tuesday night, November 16.

To reimburse lodging house keepers who have overpaid their license fees, $376 will be appropriated. The resolution passed first reading last night.

Granting of leaves of absence to city employees who work on a day system of wages is to be investigated by Supervisor Logan and his public expenditures committee.

The committee on civil service and police recommends the appropriation of $150 for repairing the board fence and the gates at the police station. The committee reports a saving of $200 during the months of July, August and September on the "support of prisoners" appropriation.

Medical and hospital fees for William C. Kaulaau, an employe of the road department who had his leg broken several weeks ago, have exceeded by $21 the allowance of $50 net by law for the first two weeks of injury. Hospital fees for this period are $21, and Dr. H. H. Wood, Waihua physician, who set the leg at the time it was injured, has charged the city $50 for his services. Kaulaau has now been transferred to the indigent ward in the hospital at $1.50 a day, which amounts to $3.50 more in a week than his regular pay. The committee recommends that $21 be paid to the hospital and $29 to Dr. Wood, the remainder of the doctor's fee to be taken up by the road committee.

Adolph Blas, whose bank at Scranton, Pa., closed owing depositors $370,000, was convicted of embezzlement. Sir Thomas Powell Buxton, former British Governor of South Australia, died in London. He was 78 years old.

Russia has sent a large relief expedition to the Armenian refugees in the southern caucasus.

PROCESSION

SOCIETY, business, diplomacy, public officialdom and many other of the elements of Honolulu's widely varied life were gathered together on Wednesday evening at one of the year's most elaborate social functions, the reception and dance given by Acting Consul-general and Mrs. Arita on Wednesday evening in honor of the coronation of His Imperial Majesty Yoshihito, emperor of Japan.

Though rain interfered with the truly magnificent arrangements made for the entertainment of many hundreds of guests, it could not mar the distinguished cordiality with which on this occasion Japan entertained Japan's friends of many nations. The diplomatic corps was strongly represented, while the federal, territorial and municipal officials, the army, navy and marine corps, business and professional men and their wives and representatives of Honolulu's cosmopolitan population, added to the character of the occasion as one which commanded the showing of high respect to the crowned head of a great nation.

It has been years since Honolulu has witnessed a scene as presented by the reception at the Young hotel on Wednesday evening.

Despite the heavy downpour of rain hundreds gathered at the Young shortly after half-past eight. The gowns worn by the ladies were noticeable for their beauty. The delicate colors of the costumes as the dancers mingled together in the ball room, together with the elaborate decorations, were very effective and pleasing.

The mauka pavilion, where the guests were received was beautifully decorated with vines and flowers together with draped flags. The central portions of the decorative scheme were the Stars and Stripes and the Japanese flag draped together, and the illuminated cherry tree with its myriad of blossoms was novel and characteristic of the Japanese. The south pavilion, which was given over to the dancing, had for its color scheme green and yellow. Quantities of green pepper vines were hung from the ceiling and festooned about the walls, while hundreds of the yellow chrysanthemum, the national flower of the Land of the Rising Sun, were fastened artistically about the green.

Mr. A. L. C. Atkinson was master of ceremonies and as the guests arrived he presented them to Consul and Mrs. Arita and Vice-Consul and Mrs. Fujii, who were in the receiving line.

Many of the gowns noticed at the affair were very beautiful and there were a number of the costumes fashioned for this special function. A pleasant feature of the event was that the guests who were present wore their own dresses. They were made of exquisite materials in dainty colors and were richly embroidered. One particularly noticeable was that worn by Mrs. Taniaka. It was of a delicate shade of heavy blue satin and studded with real gold beads.

Mrs. Arita's kimono was of the softest texture of white satin and fell in long loose folds. Both the kimono and the handsome obi were heavily brocaded in gold.

Mrs. Fujii, wife of the vice-consul, wore a kimono of heavy blue satin richly embroidered in gold and pink cherry blossoms.

A very attractive gown was that worn by Princess Kalamianole. It was of white satin and white net with a blue tulle bodice.

Mrs. Douglas E. Baldwin (Ruth Johnston) and her maid of honor, Miss Kathryn Swine, taken after the wedding about two months ago in San Francisco.

ive in a costume of pale yellow tulle made with the full skirt.

Miss Anor Hall made a dainty picture in a gown of pink charmeuse.

Miss M. Nickerson, who is visiting here from the East, was charming in a frock of white satin with an over-dress of handsome black net.

Mrs. Paul Malone, wife of Capt. Malone of the 2d Infantry, wore a becoming yellow creation of pink over satin.

Mrs. William H. Munter, wife of Lieut. Munter of the Thetis, wore an attractive gown of blue chiffon tulle. The bodice was smocked.

In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Armstrong.

This week society has been in full swing, and there have been a number of very successful social affairs, both formal and informal. Dinners and dances have been very popular while one or two teas and card parties brightened the afternoons.

One of the most elaborate of the affairs closing the week's social calendar was the dinner at which Judge Arthur A. Wilder entertained last night at Heine's Tavern. The affair was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Armstrong, who are visitors here from the mainland. The table was beautiful in all of its appointments and the handsome gowns worn by the ladies added much to the gay scene.

Red and white was the color motif in the decorations, and was carried out to the smallest detail. A cut glass bowl filled with red African and white Shasta daisies in a bed of maldenhair ferns ornamented the center of the table, which was arranged in the horseshoes of good luck, and at each end were vases of the same flower. Fastened to the hand-painted place cards were red and white balloons which contributed much to the gaiety of the evening, and red-shaded candelabras cast a rosy glow over the cover at which places were laid for 60, including Governor Pinkham, Judge and Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Judge and Mrs. A. G. M. Robertson, Judge

Mrs. Austin Jones Returns to the Islands.
After an absence of several years Mrs. Austin Jones returned to Honolulu this week in the Matsonia. Mrs. Jones was formerly Miss Helen Hobron and as a young girl lived in the islands. A number of entertainments have been planned in her honor and she will be much feted during the next few weeks by her friends, who are so delighted to have her with them again. Mr. Jones returned to his island home some months ago. With Mrs. Jones came her baby daughter, who has attracted much attention because of her beauty. The little golden haired child with her big blue eyes won hosts of friends among the passengers on the Matson liner.

Miss Laura Atherton a Hostess of the Week.
Miss Laura Atherton was hostess on Tuesday of this week at a shower and card party in compliment to Miss Fanny Hoops, whose engagement to Mr. John Stanley McKenize was announced some time ago. Each guest brought something to be used in the kitchen. The drawing and dining rooms were decorated with blossoms of every variety. Among the guests were Mrs. Albert Adams, Miss Helen McLean, Mrs. Jack Young, Mrs. Percy Nottage, Miss Myrtle Schuman, Mrs. Cyril Hoops, Mrs. Jack Guand, Miss Ruth Anderson, Miss Ruth Richards, Mrs. E. B. Loomis, the honored guest and others.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder Return.
It was indeed with much pleasure that Honolulu welcomed home this week Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman and Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder, who have been on the mainland since early summer. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman left here early in June and, after spending some weeks visiting at the exposition they went East, where they visited friends in New York. The Shermans lived in New York for years and during their stay there on this occasion were entertained extensively.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder Confined their visit to the West and spent most of their time at the exposition. They also motored south, where they enjoyed the San Diego exposition and trips to the beauty spots of Southern California, Lake Tahoe and many of the other interesting places in California also received visits from them.

Admiral and Mrs. Boush Entertain.
Among the affairs to which members of the service look forward are the Tuesday teas at which Admiral and Mrs. Clifford J. Boush entertain at their quarters at Pearl Harbor. The guests for the most part are the navy folk at Pearl Harbor, though quite often officers and ladies from the town posts motor to the naval base.

On each afternoon, Mrs. Boush plans something new for her guests, and this past week Madame Lester and Mr. Gordon Campbell gave an exhibition of the walk waltz and other dances which are popular this season.

The Boush quarters were prettily decorated with fresh cut flowers, palms and ferns which were arranged in an attractive effect. Mrs. Boush was assisted by her daughter, Miss Geraldine Boush.

the southern part of California, Lieut. and Mrs. Halloran will sail Friday for the Hawaiian Islands, where the former will enter upon his duties at Fort Shafter, Honolulu. The bride is a sister of Miss Isabel Hunter, the artist.—San Francisco Call.

Party From Hawaii.
Guests of Friends.
Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Thompson and Dr. and Mrs. C. B. High of Honolulu form a party of motorists who arrived in Fresno last night to be the guests of H. W. Lake, at the Hotel Fresno. The members of the party are prominent in the business and social world of Honolulu. Mr. Thompson is one of the most prominent corporation lawyers of Hawaii and has just returned from Washington, where he had a conference with government officials.

H. W. Lake, became friends with the visitors a few years back, when he was located in Honolulu. The visitors will motor to points of interest in the state and later make special visits at the exposition.—Fresno (Cal.) Republican.

Reception for New Rector.
Rev. L. H. Tracy has been assigned by Bishop Restarick as permanent rector of the Epiphany Mission of Kaimuki and is now occupying the parsonage lately bought by the bishop at the corner of Tenth avenue and Paloa. In order that Rev. and Mrs. Tracy may meet the people of the district, the ladies of the Epiphany Guild have arranged a reception to take place in the Guild hall adjoining the church on Thursday evening next, November 18. Mrs. Charles E. Crane of the entertainment committee of the guild is arranging a program for the evening and all interested in the mission are cordially invited to attend.

Return from Tour of the Orient.
Mr. and Mrs. Washington Sanyon and their daughter, Miss Edith, are back at their home in the Bryson apartments, following a six months' tour of the Orient. In the course of their summer's stay in the Far East they visited Japan, China, the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines, staying for several days in the principal cities of each place.

On the return journey Miss Sanyon left the party for a short stay with friends in San Francisco, where she was the honored guest at delightfully informal affairs.—Los Angeles Examiner.

Touring California by Auto.
Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McCormick of the Hawaiian Islands are at present in this city. Mr. McCormick, who is connected with the Mutual Telephone Company in the islands, and his wife arrived in San Francisco on October 13, and from that point they started to tour the state by automobile. From here they will go as far south as San Diego, returning to San Francisco by way of the valley route.—Montrely, Cal. American.

Arrived from Honolulu.
Among the arrivals on the Matsonia today from Honolulu was Mrs. Leland D. Webb, who has been living at the islands for the past year. She took a prominent part in society in Honolulu and was the honored guest at several entertainments before her departure.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Informal Theater Party.
An informal theater and dinner-party was that at which Mr. and Mrs. James D. Dole entertained on Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waterhouse and Dr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hedemann were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dole and after a delightful dinner they motored to the Bijou theater for the remainder of the evening.

D. A. R. to Meet.
Aloha Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with Mrs. Malcolm MacIntyre, Armstrong street, Manoa valley. Dr. Doremus Scudder will address the society on "Patriotic Social Service." Visiting Daughters are cordially invited.

Thanksgiving Delegation Sale.
Before making your final plans for Thanksgiving consider the sale of roast turkeys, ham, trout, rolls, cranberry sauce, candies and innumerable fancy articles to be held by the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Cathedral in the parish house on the afternoon before Thanksgiving from 9 to 6 o'clock.

Sail for the Hawaiian Islands.
A pleasant sea voyage is being enjoyed by Mrs. Frank John Woodward and Miss Thyllis Woodward, who sailed last week for the Hawaiian Islands, where they will spend a month at the beach. They plan to return in time for Thanksgiving. Mrs. Todd, Jr., is presiding over the Woodward home until the return of her mother and sister.—Oakland, Cal. Register.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dillingham are being congratulated on the birth of a son at their home in Honolulu. Mrs. Dillingham was Miss Margaret Hyde-Smith, a sister of Mrs. Baldwin Wood of this city.—San Francisco Examiner.

Miss Agnes Walker, who is visiting from Honolulu with the Pease Bishop party, and who is making her headquarters across the bay, will be the guest of Mrs. W. H. Townsend for a visit of two weeks or more.—Alameda, Cal. Times.

SOCIETY

THIS has not been a season of many brides and as each fair maid has left the ranks of the younger set to join those of the matrons she has received a generous share of attention. The past week all of the attention was centered on pretty Miss Lucy Webb who, on Wednesday, became the bride of Lieut. Woodfin G. Jones of the 2d Infantry.

At 5:30 o'clock just as the twilight shades were falling over the city the bridal party entered St. Andrew's cathedral while the organist from his loft played the Lohengrin march. The cathedral was a bower of exquisite chrysanthemums and palms offset by loops of white tulle. It was a military wedding, and the officers who assisted in the bridal party were in full dress uniform.

Lieut. Patrick H. Milligan and Lieut. R. S. Bratton of Schofield Barracks, who were the ushers, preceded the others in the bridal party to the altar and stood with sabers crossed as the bride passed beneath them to the chancel rail, where she was met by the bridegroom.

The bride is acknowledged to be one of the prettiest young women in Honolulu, but she never appeared sweeter than when she walked to the altar leaning upon the arm of her cousin, Lieut. Daniel Swan, of the 2d Infantry. She wore a lovely gown of white beaded crepe de chine trimmed with princess lace and studded with pearls. Her filmy lace veil, falling to the end of the long court train, was arranged about her face in the cap effect and over her arm she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and orchids, arranged with princess lace and fastened with orange blossoms. Only 26 months ago this gown and veil were worn by Mrs. Daniel Swan, one of the charming brides of the service set.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Catherine Lenihan, the popular daughter of Maj. and Mrs. M. J. Lenihan. Her gown was of white net with a touch of color in a wide blue sash. She wore a portrait hat of black velvet ornamented with a single pink rose. Her bouquet was of fragrant pink Killarney roses.

Mrs. Daniel Swan, with whom the bride has been visiting, was charmingly gowned in white embroidered voile and a bright corsage of red roses. Her white tulle and velvet veil, with its simple ornaments, was very becoming. Lieut. Charles Lyman, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Chaplain Scott of the 2d Infantry read the impressive Episcopal marriage ceremony, which was witnessed by a large number of officers and ladies of the service set, among whom both Lieut. and Mrs. Jones have many friends.

Following the marriage the bridal party motored to the Young Hotel, where a wedding supper was served and where good wishes in abundance were showered upon the bride and groom. During the dinner the bride cut her wedding cake with her husband's sword, a ceremony which only brides of the army and navy are privileged to perform.

The table was beautifully decorated with quantities of pink roses and ferns caught with tulle and attractive covers marked the places of the guests, who were Lieut. and Mrs. Woodfin Jones, Lieut. and Mrs. Daniel Swan, Miss Catherine Lenihan, Lieut. Charles Lyman, Lieut. Patrick Howard Milligan and Lieut. R. S. Bratton.

After the dinner Lieut. and Mrs. Jones motored to the country, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will be "at home" at Fort Shafter after December 1.

Consul and Mrs. Arita Entertain at Official Dinner.

Prior to the elaborate reception at which they entertained at the Young Hotel on Wednesday evening Acting Consul-General and Mrs. Arita entertained at an elaborately appointed dinner at the Young Hotel. The guests at this affair included the representatives of the territorial and city government as well as the United States army and navy.

The table at which the guests were seated was beautifully appointed. The centerpiece was a diminutive of Mount Fujiyama, with its snowy peak towering above a little village and was worked out in confectionery. And in tall silver vases were arranged huge yellow chrysanthemums, the national flower of the royalty of Japan.

During the dinner-hour there were addresses and toasts made in honor of the coronation of his imperial Japanese majesty, Emperor Yoshihito. Congress were laid for Acting Consul-General and Mrs. Arita, Vice-consul and Mrs. K. Fujii, Governor Pinkham, Prince and Princess Kaulaniano'le, Admiral and Mrs. Clifford J. Boush, Miss Geraldine Boush, Gen. and Mrs. John P. Wessor, Col. and Mrs. S. L. Johnson, N. G. H. Myer and Mrs. John C. Lane, Secretary and Mrs. Wade Warren Thayer, Chief Justice and Mrs. A. G. M. Second Panshu Faculty Musicales.

The program arranged for the second of the faculty musicales at Panshu, represents the romantic period in the history of music—though perhaps somewhat inconventionally—since we are apt to think of Schubert, Schumann, Mendelssohn and Chopin as the only writers whose compositions are worthy of a place on such a program. But that is hardly fair to many others who were indispensable links in the chain of succession and it is well occasionally to hear their forgotten or neglected works not only to widen our knowledge but because much enjoyment may be gained thereby.

Von Weber, though essentially a writer of operas, was one of the greatest pianists of his time, and perhaps no one ever made a closer study of the capabilities of his instrument than he did. Yet how many of us know that his sonatas were ever compared favorably with those of Beethoven or, in fact, that he wrote anything more intellectual than the hackneyed "Invitation to the Waltz" or a one-time fashionable Polacca or brilliant Polonaise? Clara Schumann's compositions, too, overshadowed by those of her more famous husband, are seldom recognized as not his—though some of her songs are often used. But most to be regretted is a far too prevalent ignorance of those exquisite creations, the songs of Robert Franz, which as the musical expression of

She knows Washington and what there are of Washington people, for that class is small but of rare quality and as nearly aristocrats as American people can be.

What is known as the "old resident" or "cave dwellers" is the most delightful class of people, born of the best blood of the country and cultivated from study, travel, association and ample means, either in this or a former generation.

Miss Benham is secretary of the Society of Sponsors of the United States Navy, and, with Mrs. Daniels, wife of the secretary of the navy, is one of the charter members of the society. She was sponsor for the cruiser San Francisco, when her father was stationed on the Pacific coast and later for the torpedo boat Benham, named for her father and grandfather. First, the social secretary must be a lady born and bred, with education and environment. She must be one who has had everything worth having in life. It is absolutely necessary for her to have had actual experience in Washington society and to have learned that it is an unpardonable crime to permit the wife of a United States senator to step in or be seated ahead of the wife of an ambassador. In fact no one may properly precede an ambassador or his wife except the vice-president of the United States and the members of the cabinet. Indeed the state department itself still holds that only the secretary of state and his wife may precede an ambassador and his wife, the other members of the cabinet following the ambassadors, but the other is the general rule.

Not only is it necessary that this question of precedence be thoroughly understood by the social secretary, but she must also know each and every individual in the wealthy resident and unofficial circles, for they mingle greatly in recent years. Men and women of modest incomes but distinguished families and of personal attainments are sought after by the officials and it is necessary for the invitation list-maker to know the personal and social standing of all whom her employer may meet.

The social secretary usually serves tea on her employer's reception days. While she pours the tea she scans the visitors, and while blithely asking, "Two tickets, and is it really saying something like this?" This is Senator So and So's first wife. He is none too friendly now to Mrs. Vice-President, and she must be discouraged in coming here again, so the lady's card is discreetly laid, and this hostess never acknowledges the lady's existence in any way, so she takes the hint and never repeats the call.

An inexperienced hostess who scorned the services of a social secretary only recently invited two persons who had divorced many years (one married again) to the same dinner party, and assigned him to take her in to dinner. He did so and she gracefully accepted the situation, but it was a pitiful performance for them. The other guests at table who understood the situation came to the rescue as far as possible, but there were dangers of St. Vitus' dance among the women and total paralysis among the men at the beginning.

Masked Ball for U. S. W. V. The masque ball given by the ladies of the auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans Wednesday night in the Fort Shafter post hall was a marked success, in spite of the inclement weather. The cantonment was cut off from the main post yet somehow the folks resident there made their way to the ball and arrived a gay and happy crowd, ready for the evening's fun.

The New Social Secretary. A social secretary in Washington may make or break not only an official hostess but the official himself, if sufficient care is not observed in the selecting of one. The appointment of Miss Edith Benham as confidential clerk to Mrs. Norman Galt, President Wilson's fiancee, and social secretary at the White House, has met with very general approval, for Miss Benham is well known socially in Washington and has made a name for herself in woman's new and attractive field of labor, the work of a social secretary.

Miss Benham is the daughter of an admiral and the granddaughter of a commodore, both in the United States navy. During her childhood and young girlhood she was the petted child of distinguished parents. She and her mother traveled widely, following her father's ship to many ports all over the world, the child acquiring her education on route. She learned to speak both French and Spanish and has a knowledge of Italian.

She has been a popular dinner-guest with some of the most formal, most exclusive companies the nation's capital has known, and has a personal acquaintance with some of the world's greatest diplomatists and statesmen.

Furs Being Worn Now.

Had anyone ever suggested to the missionaries who came to Hawaii years ago that some day the people of Honolulu would appear at social functions wearing furs, those people who first brought clothes to the islands would readily have denied the fact; indeed they might easily have looked up for safe keeping the person who suggested such a thing.

But nevertheless furs are being worn in Honolulu, and not only by visitors to the islands, for this week a number of Honolulu society matrons have been seen at teas and receptions wearing furs and muffs, and there are only a few of the hats and dresses that are not trimmed with mink. Furs may be a little too warm for our tropical climate, but on the main thing they do make the ladies far more attractive than the one time popular raincoats.

It was noticed the other night at the reception given by Consul and Mrs. Arita that a number of the guests arrived at the function with coats adorned with heavy fur collars and cuffs, and the effect was indeed attractive.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maude in Honolulu. It was with much pleasure that Honolulu society folk welcomed this week Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maude, who visited here last winter. Mr. and Mrs. Maude have been much at Del Monte this summer, where almost every day they were seen at the golf links. Both Mr. Maude and his wife are enthusiastic over this sport and will probably take an active part in the sailing at the Oahu Country Club, the Los Angeles Examiner speaking of the Maudes in a recent issue said: "The Maudes, who have become an

Mrs. G. Fred Bush and Mrs. Frederick Lyser entertained in compliment to Mrs. Marston Campbell, Mrs. North and Mrs. M. J. Bissel.

Mrs. M. J. Bissel, well-known to society in Honolulu and on the mainland, has returned after an absence of several years, with her charming daughter Eleanor, for the winter.

Mrs. Marston Campbell returned in the Matanilla after a visit to the fair.

Mrs. North has returned for a visit after an absence of about four years.

These three ladies were the motif for a delightful tea given at the home of Mrs. G. Fred Bush on Thursday afternoon at which Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Frederick Lyser were hostesses.

Pink and green was the color scheme used in decoration and the effect was carried out with quantities of pink hibiscus and maiden-hair fern which were placed in every conceivable nook and corner. The small table at which lemonade was served was decorated with the same combination, as were the tea tables.

In the receiving line were Mrs. M. J. Bissel, Mrs. North and Mrs. Campbell, honored guests, and Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Lyser, the hostesses, each of whom was beautifully gowned.

During the afternoon Miss Cleome Gifford, who has delighted Honolulu audiences with her sweet soprano voice, sang two pretty selections.

Mrs. George David served the luncheon, Mrs. C. H. Atherton and Mrs. Charles Bockus were at the tea and coffee table. Mrs. A. J. Gignoux, Miss Marie Lane, Mrs. Giles Gere and Mrs. C. P. Moore assisted with the food. Miss Eleanor Bissel, Miss Cleome Gifford, Miss Kathryn Blake, Miss Charlotte Bliss, Miss Alice Lyser, Miss Eleanor Lyser, Miss Catherine Jenner, Miss Theonno Lindeman, Miss Adele Lindeman and Marjorie Smith assisted with the serving. Some among those who called were:

Philip Frear, Mrs. Walter F. Frear, Mrs. A. Gartenberg, Mrs. George Casper, Mrs. Giles Gere, Mrs. W. L. Gifford, Mrs. A. J. Gignoux, Mrs. Charles Girdler, Mrs. George David, Mrs. Harold Castle, Mrs. A. E. Davidson, Mrs. Louis Edward Davis, Mrs. S. De Frest, Mrs. B. F. FT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, Nov. 12.—Lieut. Col. and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson entertained at the informal hop last Friday evening with a most delightful hop-supper. Small tables with covers laid for four were placed on the innals and in the living rooms. Among Col. and Mrs. Atkinson's guests were Capt. and Mrs. Edwin S. Hartshorn, Capt. and Mrs. A. E. Eagles, Lieut. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph Holliday, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Howell, Mrs. M. J. Leulhan, Lieut. and Mrs. John B. Richardson, Lieut. and Mrs. C. Bennett, Lieut. and Mrs. Muhlenberg, Lieut. and Mrs. Zaue, Miss Boush, Miss Bonnie Scott, Lieut. and Mrs. Greene, Lieut. and Mrs. Hardigg, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph McDermott, Madame Cochran, Miss Dorothy Harker, Miss Dorothy Trout, Lieut. and Mrs. K. B. Lyman, Covell, Witzell, Cohen, Charles Lyman.

The marriage of Miss Lucy Gary Webb, cousin of Lieut. and Mrs. Daniel Swan, C. A. C., and Lieut. Woodfin Grady Jones, 2d Infantry, took place November 10 at 5:30 at St. Andrew's cathedral, Honolulu.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of embroidered white crepe with a court train. Her tulle veil was arranged in a cap effect with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried an artistic shower bouquet of orchids and sweet peas tied with tulle. Miss Catherine Leulhan, her only attendant, wore a frock of white net with a large picture hat and carried pink bridesmaid roses. Chaplain William Boone Scott, 2d Infantry, officiated. The church was attractively decorated with chrysanthemums and foliage.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Lieut. Daniel Swan, and Lieut. Charles Lyman was best man. Following the ceremony there was a dinner for the bridal party at the Young hotel, and Lieut. and Mrs. Jones will spend several weeks making the inter-island trip and will be at home at Fort Shafter after December 1.

In spite of the rain the church was crowded with their many friends from Fort Shafter and the surrounding posts, and several pews were reserved for the men of Lieut. Jones' company. Among those noticed at the wedding were Col. and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson, Maj. and Mrs. M. J. Leulhan, Col. and Mrs. Rafferty, Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln, Col. and Mrs. Kennon, Col. and Mrs. Ellis, Lieut. and Mrs. Barker, Lieut. and Mrs. C. A. Hardigg, Lieut. and Mrs. John B. Richardson, Lieut. and Mrs. John H. Sullivan, Capt. and Mrs. Greene, Capt. and Mrs. Harker, Miss Dorothy Harker, Lieut. and Mrs. Greene, U. S. M. C., Miss Gray, Lieut. Baker, Lieut. and Mrs. Paul B. Manchester, Lieut. and Mrs. Crystal, Lieut. A. K. B. Lyman, Lieut. Covell, Lieut. and Mrs. F. A. Sloan, Miss Dorothy Trout, Miss Bonnie Scott, Capt. and Mrs. W. B. Cochran, Madame Cochran, Lieut. and Mrs. Muhlenberg, Lieut. Hobley, Capt. and Mrs. Cook, Capt. and Mrs. Otto B. Rosenbaum, Miss Rosenbaum, Lieut. Polhemus and many others from Fort Ruger and surrounding posts.

Capt. and Mrs. Clyde Parker entertained at a jolly supper party last Sunday evening. The house was arranged to represent a cafeteria, each guest being given a plate, napkin, knife, fork and spoon, and they passed the tables where the delicious supper was arranged in true cafeteria style, choosing the dainties they cared for. Among those who enjoyed this jolly evening were Maj. and Mrs. Van Poole, Capt. and Mrs. A. C. Knowles, Lieut. and Mrs. D. J. Greene, Capt. and Mrs. Paul B. Malone, Lieut. and Mrs. John S. Sullivan, Lieut. and Mrs. Barker, Lieut. and Mrs. C. Bennett, Lieut. and Mrs. C. A. Hardigg, Lieut. and Mrs. P. F. Black, Lieut. and Mrs. Ralph Holliday, Capt. and Mrs. Howell, Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum, Miss Dorothy Trout, Capt. and Mrs. Hartshorn, Lieut. Witzell, Lieut. Cehen and Mrs. Rosenbaum.

Owing to the rain Wednesday, which increased in the evening, many who had planned to attend the reception in honor of the coronation of the Emperor of Japan were obliged to abandon their plans. However, quite a few braved the weather and among those noticed from Fort Shafter were Col. and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson, Capt. and Mrs. Otto B. Rosenbaum, Lieut. and Mrs. Carl A. Hardigg, Lieut. and Mrs. John B. Richardson, Capt. and

Mrs. Paul B. Malone, Miss Mary Kerwin, Mrs. Rudolph, Mr. Bayard Randolph, Lieut. and Mrs. F. Barker, Capt. John Randolph, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Howell, Lieut. Cohen, Lieut. Witzell, Lieut. William Crystall, Miss Catherine Leulhan, Lieut. Crystal, Lieut. Martin, Lieut. A. K. B. Lyman, Lieut. Charles Lyman, Lieut. and Mrs. Bennett and Lieut. and Mrs. F. A. Sloan.

The Sewing Club met with Mrs. Benjamin W. Atkinson on Tuesday afternoon. After several hours of needlework tea was served. Mrs. F. Black poured tea and among those who helped with the sewing were Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. William R. Dashiell, Mrs. F. F. Black, Mrs. John H. Sullivan, Mrs. Peck, Mrs. John B. Richardson, Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. J. H. Randolph, Mrs. Otto Rosenbaum, and Mrs. Charles H. Lincoln. The next meeting of the sewing society will be at the home of Mrs. William Reese Scott in the cantonment.

Miss Lucy Webb was the guest of honor at another shower last Saturday evening given by Miss Elizabeth Rosenbaum. The party spent the early part of the evening at the aerodrome and later returned to the quarters of Capt. and Mrs. Rosenbaum, where the shower took place. Miss Webb received many useful household articles, and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing all sorts of games.

Mrs. W. B. Cochran was hostess on ladies' night at the 2nd Infantry Club last Monday evening. Five tables of bridge were played and Capt. Lincoln won the prize. Among those playing bridge were Capt. and Mrs. Clyde L. Parker, Capt. and Mrs. W. B. Cochran, Lieut. and Mrs. John B. Richardson, Capt. and Mrs. Peck, Miss Dorothy Trout, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. C. C. Cochran and Capt. and Mrs. Charles H. Lincoln.

The informal hop at the 2nd Infantry mess and the transport hop at the Moana hotel falling on the same evening kept many from the post who usually attend these affairs from doing so this time. However, a few from the post motored out and among those noticed from Shafter were Lieut. and Mrs. F. A. Sloan, Capt. and Mrs. Randolph and Capt. and Mrs. Robert Howell.

Lieut. and Mrs. Hobley entertained informally at dinner Saturday evening for Lieut. and Mrs. Muhlenberg.

Lieut. and Mrs. Douglas T. Greene entertained informally at dinner before the hop last Friday evening. Covers were placed for Miss Catherine Leulhan, Lieut. Lee, Corps of Engineers, en route to the mainland from Manila, and Lieut. A. K. B. Lyman.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson entertained at dinner Wednesday evening for Col. and Mrs. Kennon. Later they motored in to the reception given by Consul and Mrs. Aris at the Young hotel.

A Thanksgiving German will be given at Fort Shafter at 8:30 on Friday evening, November 26. The cotillion will take place before supper, after which there will be seven or eight straight dances.

Capt. and Mrs. Robert Howell entertained informally Thursday evenings at their quarters in the cantonment for a number of the young set of the garrison.

Capt. Lake of the Medical Corps and Mrs. Lake were the house-guests of Maj. and Mrs. William R. Dashiell while the transport Logaa was the harbor.

Capt. and Mrs. James E. Bell are spending the week-end at Schofield Barracks, the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Day.

Mrs. Parson, mother of Mrs. William R. Dashiell, has been ill for the last few days.

visited the Coral Gardens in Kaneohe bay have expressed surprise that the climatic conditions there have been so different, for while there has been much rain on the windward side it has been for the most part at night. Several parties of army officers and their ladies from the transport Thomas have made arrangements to visit the Coral Gardens tomorrow, some of them leaving the Promotion Committee office in the Young hotel at 9 o'clock to spend the day there, while others will go over in their own cars.

Closing the gaieties of the week will be the dance at which the members of the Commercial Club are entertaining this evening at the club quarters. The affair will be given for the club members and their friends, and if the plans made are carried out, the affair will be one of the most enjoyable of the season.

There will be a dinner served at 7 o'clock which will be followed by a dance and from the number of reservations which have been made it looks as though there will be a "full house." Both during the dinner hour and for the dancing a Hawaiian quintet club will play.

A pleasant feature of the evening's entertainment will be the exhibition of the "walk waits" by Madame Lester and Gordon Campbell. This dance is the rage all over the mainland and is far more popular than the hesitation and Valse Boston, which it seems no two people dance alike.

Mr. J. M. Young and Mr. Joseph E. Sheedy have the affair in charge.

To Meet Guests from Islands.

Guests from the Hawaiian Islands who will be entertained in the near future are Mrs. Oliver Shipman and Mrs. M. Metcalfe. Mrs. Winlow B. Foster has asked a number of matrons to meet them at her home on October 23.—Oakland, Cal., Enquirer.

Mr. and Mrs. Pelham Ames were hosts at a handsomely appointed dinner Friday evening at their home in Pacific avenue at which they entertained in compliment to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood. Others to accept their hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ambler Curran, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Ames, Mrs. Alice Ames Robbins, Miss Gail Hamilton, Miss Margaret Wood, Joseph Sefton Thompson, Lieut. Edwin W. McIntyre, James Wilder of Honolulu and Lionel Walden.—San Francisco Call.

Social Notes

Mrs. Charles B. Cooper, who has been visiting friends in California, sailed for home on Wednesday, arriving on the Wilhelmina, November 23. Mrs. Cooper has had a very delightful vacation which included a visit in Pasadena and a motor trip to Coronado and the San Diego exposition.

Miss Katherine H. Scott, a former miniature and portrait painter of Chicago, who is the guest of Miss Werthmuller, has placed a collection of her miniatures at Gurrey's, where they may be seen during the week. Miss Scott is a graduate and post-graduate of the Chicago Art Institute and a pupil of William M. Chase.

An innovation in the social life of Fort Shafter is the Friday afternoon musicales, the first of which took place this week. The orchestra of the regiment plays for these functions and it is anticipated that with such charming hostesses as the ladies who entertain on these occasions the Friday musicales will soon become an institution in Fort Shafter.

Several special parties which braved the weather on this side of the island of Oahu during the week and believed, and also would not interfere with the parking of ranchers' rigs on the county property about the coast house.

A report from Amsterdam states that six Belgian civilians have been shot at Bruges as spies.

HONOLULU WOMAN IN FRESNO; SEES POSSIBILITY

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 26.—Mrs. F. E. Thompson, resident of Honolulu and extensive world traveler, who is in Fresno with her husband, prominent corporation lawyer of Hawaii, and a party of motorists now touring the state by motor, sees in the wide Van Ness boulevard the solution of the congestion caused by the parking of autos along J and other downtown streets. The system employed in St. Paul and several other eastern cities could very well be employed here, Mrs. Thompson said yesterday.

According to Mrs. Thompson's idea, Van Ness boulevard, between Fresno and Tulare streets, could be divided in the center and the cars parked, back to back, at right angles to the center line. This space would be sufficient to relieve the congestion, she

FROM PEGGY TO POLLY.

Dearest Polly: This week certainly has been rushed. So different from previous ones...

On Wednesday a delightful dinner was given before the hop in the Mounted Service Club by Capt. and Mrs. William Chitty...

The ball given by the Consul and Mrs. Arta in honor of the coronation of His Imperial Majesty Yoshihito of Japan was a very brilliant affair.

On Tuesday, before the 1st Infantry hop, Miss Dorothy Forsyth entertained at supper in honor of Lieut. and Mrs. Russell Maxwell of the 1st Field Artillery...

Speaking of that reminds me that said fete is going to be the most wonderful affair seen in Honolulu for a long while.

Lieut. and Mrs. William McCleave on Friday evening gave a dinner for twenty, their guests including Lieut. and Mrs. John Beardon, Lieut. and Mrs. Louis McKinlay, Mrs. Ethel Richardson, Captain and Mrs. Clarence Day...

You know, the other day I was reading the write-up of a wedding in one of the San Francisco papers and one description struck me as being rather funny.

The Thomas will bring on her passenger list Mrs. Walter Short and Miss Hortense Short, who return to the garrison after an absence of some months on the coast.

Mrs. Fullilove, wife of the vice-consul of Japan, was one of the belles of the ball given by the consulate on Wednesday evening.

On Thursday afternoon Guy and Felham Glassford celebrated their respective seventh and fourth birthdays by giving a party.

NATIONAL MAGAZINE RUNS LONG ARTICLE ON CONGRESSIONAL TRIP

J. A. Breckons Fills Many Pages of Publication With Article on Jaunt to Hawaii

"The Congressional Pilgrims" is the title of a 12-page article written by J. A. Breckons, which has just been published in the National Magazine—an article dealing with the visit of the congressional party to Hawaii last May and June. The illustrations are used, and the whole makes a distinct asset to Hawaii's publicity campaign, and should send many tourists to the islands.

Of the departure from the coast and the arrival at Honolulu, Mr. Breckons writes:

"The visitors called from San Francisco on April 27. Truly the Pacific ocean was a great surprise to those members of the congressional party who, like Balboa, discovered it for the first time. Tales of glassy smoothness, balmy breezes of the tropics, spice-laden winds of the Orient, the dolce far niente of the equator, had evoked a state of unpreparedness for icy blasts, chilling fogs, choppy, pitching, tumbling, rolling waves that tossed the good ship Sierra up and down, sideways and endways and all ways at one and the same moment of time, until gloom took the place of expectation. Senator Overman and Representative Stafford, Conroy, Davenport and Harris agreed heartily and unanimously upon the following apostrophe to the Pacific:

"Roll on, thou dazed ocean, dangle you, roll."

Ten thousand curses 'gainst you would be vain.

Congress marks the earth with ruin, its control stops with thy shore. Upon thy slopply waves the wrecks are all thine own.

Nor doth remain a vestige of man's dinner.

But for a moment, when, with bubbling brook, He laves it in thy depths with many a curse and moan."

"Aloha Nui," which is Hawaiian for a hundred million welcomes, greeted the Congressional party as the Sierra slipped into the harbor of Honolulu early on the sunny morning of May 3. A fleet of motor boats on which were territorial, federal and city officials, official committees, the Hawaiian band and Hawaiian young ladies carrying red carnation leis, with which to decorate the visitors, accompanied the Sierra to her dock. Here were more officials, more committees, more young ladies carrying leis, and half the population of Honolulu to join in the welcome. Motor cars whisked the visitors to the famous Moana Hotel on the most famous Waikiki beach, one of Honolulu's most attractive suburbs.

Of the Kauai trip Mr. Breckons writes:

"Nawiliwili, Kauai, was reached early Thursday morning where, after being landed in small boats from the steamer, the party voted unanimously that Nawiliwili harbor should have an appropriation for a breakwater and dock. After enjoying a luncheon of modern eatables at the beach home of J. H. Conroy at Niihau, the visitors were assigned to various private homes and spent two days motoring through the cane and pineapple fields and visiting the canyons and mountains which make the island one of the most picturesque places in the world. Romery as grand as that of the Rockies; valleys of rice and taro fields as intensively cultivated as those of Japan and China; automobile roads equal to those of New England, and unstinted hospitality on the part of the people of Kauai, made the island an ideal place to visit and the congressional party sailed away from the beautiful bay of Hanalei with regrets that the time for sojourn on the island had been so brief.

"During their two weeks' stay in Hawaii the members of the congressional party learned that Hawaii had undergone many changes, politically and socially, since the first New England missionaries landed at Honolulu nearly 100 years ago, but that the most important changes have taken place since 1898, the year when the Hawaiian islands were annexed and became a full-fledged territory of the United States.

"The little kingdom succumbed to the law of destiny in 1898, when the reigning queen was deposed and a republic set up. The old cabinets of prime ministers and ministers of business disappeared and in their places were appointed heads of departments. All the romance of government disappeared with the furling of the old Hawaiian flag and the raising of the Stars and Stripes.

"But, as the congressional visitors learned, the old moonlit nights still remain; the same incomparable climate still enralls and the tinkle and strum of the ukulele and guitar are heard beneath the coconut palms as the native Hawaiians sob their ear-shattering melodies.

"Of all the old regime there remains now only the deposed queen, Liliuokalani, living out the eventide of an eventful life in Washington Place, the home of her late husband, the prince consort, a house filled with relics of the days of royalty; reminders of the days when King Kalanikou was the merry monarch, and of the two brief years when the queen reigned—years of trouble. Today, however, the queen is honored in Washington Place and elsewhere as though she sat upon the throne of old Hawaii. On Hawaiian holidays and other occasions she receives in semi-royal state. When the members of the congressional party called upon her to pay their respects, they were ushered into her drawing-room by the same officer who officiated when she was in the palace; the introductions were made by the same courteous gentleman who officiated as chamberlain during her reign, and her attendants were the same women who waited upon her in the brilliant days of the monarchy.

"The congressional party found Hawaii to be the land of aloha, the land of welcome; the land of flowers; the land of good-fellowship and hospitality and, undoubtedly, when the affairs of the territory come before Congress, they will be given at least kindly consideration by the senators and representatives who visited the islands."

Traffic over all tracks of the New York Central railroad, near East Creek, N. Y., was tied up for several hours when a freight train was wrecked.

Plans for the smoker for the National Guard rifle team, November 27, are maturing rapidly, the committee having made most arrangements and the governor having promised to be present if well enough. The smoker is open to all guardsmen and their friends.

With the six companies already just formed on Kauai, the 3rd Regiment National Guard now has 11 whole companies and another is being organized on Maui, which will make the necessary 12 companies.

Four regiments of the National Guard are now possible, and Colonel Johnson hopes that the other regiment can be formed soon, although he has not yet started on it.

ORDERS OF THE HAWAIIAN DEPT.

November 10, 1915. Special Orders, No. 220. Pvt. George Tomaszewski, band, 2nd Infantry, Fort Shafter, H. T., is transferred to the band, 4th Cavalry, and will proceed to Schofield Barracks. Pvt. George C. Henkel, Company E, 1st Infantry, Schofield Barracks, H. T., will proceed to Fort Shafter, H. T., and report to the commanding officer, for tryout as assistant instructor in baking at the School for Bakers and Cooks, vice Sergt. James McCarthy, Company I, 2nd Infantry, to be furnished to the army reserve on November 17, 1915. Upon the application of 1st Lieut.

MANY OFFICERS OF 4TH WILL GO HOME IN JANUARY

The 4th Cavalry will have been on Oahu three years on January 13, which accounts for so many officers of the 4th being ordered home this winter. The 25th Infantry will also have been here three years in January, and the same conditions will affect the officers of that regiment.

Almost all officers of these two regiments who came with the troops when they first landed here will go home before next spring, most of the orders already issued being for January 13, the day of arrival of the regiments. The officers who are ordered back at a date later than January 13 have taken leave and spent all or part of it on the mainland. Time spent away from the island on leave is not counted in the three-year tour of foreign service period now fixed by the war department, and officers who have been to the mainland will have to remain here an extra period equal to the time spent away from Oahu on leave.

Officers who have been ordered back and the dates the orders take effect are: 4th Cavalry—Major John O'Shea, Capt. Christian Brand, Capt. James E. Fechet, Capt. William B. Renziehausen, 1st Lieut. Seth W. Cook, 1st Lieut. Sebring C. Megill, 1st Lieut. William C. Gardenhire, 1st Lieut. Alexander M. Milton, 2nd Lieut. Robert S. Donaldson, 2nd Lieut. Phillip J. Kleffer, all relieved Jan. 13, to leave on first transport after that date; and 2nd Lieut. Henry W. Hall, relieved February 17. 25th Infantry—Major Edmund L. Butts, Capt. William S. Maple, Capt. Henry S. Wyrant, Capt. John E. Hunt, 2nd Lieut. Matthew A. Palen, all relieved January 13.

Seth W. Scofield, 4th Cavalry, a board of officers, to consist of Maj. John O'Shea, 4th Cavalry; Capt. Sherrard Coleman, 4th Cavalry; 1st Lieut. Seth W. Cook, 4th Cavalry, is appointed to convene at Schofield Barracks, H. T., as soon as practicable, to examine one horse, the property of Lieut. Scofield, with a view to determining its fitness for service or for sale to an officer, and, if it be found serviceable, to appraise its value.

November 11, 1915. Special Orders, No. 221. Pvt. George Herzog, Company B, 1st Infantry, Schofield Barracks, H. T., is transferred to the 133rd Company, Coast Artillery Corps, and will proceed to Fort Kamehameha, H. T. Pvt. Stephen Sulkoski, Company G, 1st Infantry, Schofield Barracks, H. T., will be discharged from the army by the commanding general of that post, by purchase.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Common Sense Advice by a Distinguished Specialist.

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisaturated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid but also prevents the fermentation from which acidity is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause greatest distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisaturated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, and should always be kept handy. It is very difficult for any one but an expert to tell the difference between a 50c imitation pearl and a genuine pearl of the same size worth $500—therefore one might buy the 50c imitation because it looks like the genuine article and this is all any pearl has to do.

But—when you can get a genuine Victrola with its repertoire of more than 5000 Victor Records for the same price that you would pay for some other instrument that only looks like a Victrola, there can remain no question of Victor supremacy.

McKinley--Kamehameha Game To Start At 3 P. M.

Double Header Featured at Alexander Field This Afternoon—College of Hawaii and Punahou Are Struggling in First Contest—Result of Second Game May Decide Test in Race for Championship—Kam Must Win Today to Keep in Race for Honors.

One of the best football attractions of the year is being staged at Alexander field this afternoon when the College of Hawaii and Punahou are battling in the first contest which started at 1:30. In the second affray, McKinley will attempt to duplicate the victory of last Saturday when they won from Kamehameha by 3 points. The second game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

Rosa, a former star, has been assisting the players in many new plays. The admission price will be 35 cents for both games.

The recent attitude of the Kamehameha students in changing the location of the game to Alexander field, has been favorably commented upon by a number of the football fans of the city. Naturally Kam would have had some advantage on their own gridiron, and the spirit shown by Capt. Booth and the members of the faculty will do much to raise the standard of clean sport in the city.

Mr. MacCaughy of McKinley High school at first opposed the idea of scheduling two games, but he readily consented to the arrangement when it was found that it would be for the best interest of the sport in the community. It is pleasing to note the attitude taken by Coach Midkiff and Punahou players, and the ready consent of Dr. Peden, W. T. Alexander and Stafford Austin to lay aside any private opinions they might have in order to benefit the crowds who wished to witness the contest.

Both games should be exciting from start to finish. Punahou has a score to settle with the colleges, as the last time these two aggregations met Dr. Peden's charges romped home ahead of Midkiff's men by a close margin. Hawaii will have another strong team in the field today and should stand a good chance of winning from Punahou.

DIG LEAGUE RECORDS SHOW STRANGE FIGURES

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, N. Y.—The records made by the major league clubs in runs, hits, errors and men left on the bases for the season just closed furnish data for interesting study. In the National League, the Philadelphia club which won the pennant made next to the largest number of runs with the smallest total of hits. The Phillies also had fewer men left on bases than any other club and made next to the least number of errors. The Boston Braves were third in run making, seventh in hitting, first in number of stranded runners and made less errors than any of their rivals. St. Louis made the greatest number of runs; Cincinnati led in hits, Chicago in errors and Boston in runners left.

The Boston Red Sox, world's champions and American League pennant winners, were third in the run making in the junior league; first in total number of hits; kept their errors down next to the lowest total but had more runners marooned than any other club except Detroit. The Tigers, runner-up to the Red Sox, made more runs than any other American League club; were second in hitting; fourth in errors and first in left on bases. The Chicago White Sox were second in run making; third in hits; third lowest in errors and second lowest in base runners stranded.

Today at 1 p. m.—Hawaiian Trust Company vs. Trent Trust Company. Henry White bowled the best game of the year in a league match last evening at the Y. M. C. A. Starting with three straight strikes, then two spares, five strikes and a spare, White emerged with a 250 game, which is liable to be the record for the season.

The Nationals took two out of three games in the match, although they were beaten 25 pins in total pinfall. The first game was won by the Cosmos, 833 to 730. The second game showed the Nationals victorious by the same figure, although the Cosmos rolled 775. As has been the case in many matches recently, the rubber game was anybody's until the closing frame.

MUCH INTEREST IN NEW YEAR'S RACE PROGRAM ON MAUI

That the races and other sporting events scheduled to come off on New Year's Day will be the most exciting ever witnessed on Maui is no exaggeration. The managers of all the plantations on Central Maui are lending a helping hand to make the event a huge success.

Great interest is being shown in the coming events, and many entries in the various races are steadily pouring in. In each of the two Japanese races, Nos. 5 and 9, there are already seven entries, and in the novelty race nine entries, three of which are H. A. Baldwin's Frances B. Senator B. and a third horse. Then there is Dr. Fitzgerald's Copra, Chas. Lucas' Harvest, Louis Warren's Umpqua, Kin's Ellis and W. A. Clark's Edna.

YOUNG HIGH FOR WINNERS.

For the third time A. T. Young was high average man for the Nationals, although F. J. Smith excelled him for the two games he rolled. Young averaged 165 and Smith had high score, an even 200. Ackerman and Wikander also bowled well.

O'BRIEN COACHING CORNELL

WILLARD DOES NOT FAVOR SHORT BOUT

Frank Moran, through his decisive defeat of Jim Coffey, has crowded a bit nearer to a bout with Jess Willard. That the title holder will agree to meet Moran in a 10-round battle with or without decision is quite unlikely.

Another aggregation of football artists has appeared. And glancing over the list of candidates it looks to be one of the best aggregations gathered together in some time. The National Guard has been proficent in a number of sports and now they have turned their attention to the gridiron.

Members of the National Guard have always been active in backing their teams and it is expected that banner crowds will turn out to the games when the eleven gets in action.

HONOLULU YACHT CLUB TO GIVE BENEFIT DANCE AT WAIKIKI TONIGHT

There will be a benefit dance this evening at the Outrigger Club, given by the Honolulu Yacht Club to raise funds for the purchase of a six-oared sliding seat barge to replace the barge Punene which was wrecked in the regatta races. The Honolulu Yacht Club has always taken a deep interest in aquatic sports and the members of the club and the many friends are expected to be in attendance this evening.

TRAINING CAMP CHARGE IS MADE CLEAR TO ROOKIE

"Some Men Will Join Anything Except Church and Anti-Saloon League if It Costs Enough," Declares Private Kelley

RECRUITS SURPRISED ON ARRIVAL AT HOME

"Find They Can Open a Dure Wit'out Butting It Wit' Their Stummicks," is Summary of Good Done at Plattsburg Camp

"I read in the Army and Navy Register that the businessmen who enlisted in the camp at Plattsburg had to pay $100 for uniforms and other expenses," the rookie said in barracks after supper. "It looks funny to have to pay to be a soldier."

"It is funny," Pvt. Kelley volunteered. "I'm th' only funny thing I know about bein' a sojer. But 'tis not funny. There is nothin' funny about payin' wan hundred dollars to spend a month's vacation doin' nothin' but diggin' trenches, sleepin' in dog sties, drillin', and other things passin' away the pleasant hours between gettin' up in th' cold grey mornin' and goin' to bed in an army blanket."

"These trainin' camps will make things difrent in th' army if they keep them up. 'Twould not in the laste surpris me to see a big card up enticin' sojers into training camps. Now Posters Will Read."

"Larn to be a sojer, the card will read, 'for wan hundred dollars. Full wan month course in diggin' trenches, washin' yer own clothes, cleanin' guns and salutin' officers for $100. Terms in advance. Certificate of graduation with each course and also wan set of books on 'How to be a soldier at home' and an illust' souvenir belt, buckle free. Write War Department, Box 77."

"'Tis a splendid scheme. After th' rookie pays wan hundred dollars for th' course, the generous government will find him a gun. But 'twill not furnish th' cartridges. Cartridges is too expensive to give to sojers. But while the civilian goes to learn to defend his country for $100 a month he will find special stores to sell him ammunition. 'Shells cheap' will read th' sign over th' door. Secind hand shells much cheaper. Cut rates in shrapnel and hand grenades. And maybe across th' strafe will be a sign sayin' 'Bayonet, changin' taught here, $1 per lesson."

"An' if they calls for volunteers in time av war, to be consistent they should charge them for enlistin'."

"I hereby calls for one hundred thousand volunteers, the president will writhe, to repel the attack of th' enemy. This is no false alarm for the purpose of raisin' money, but is a genuine offer. Volunteers will be taken for the reduced rate av $50 for six months, an' $30 a month thereafter."

"What I have been wonderin' about since they charges for goin' into a trainin' camp, is will they after a while make the wounded men pay th' government a pension?"

"A trainin' camp is a great place. Rookies, take it from me. In thim for saluted a nice collection of men between the ages av 30 and 65 who has already learned that there is a order such as 'I ward march' and in their young days has shot target rifles and who in 30 days is goin' to be trained officers. Av course it takes time; but in th' course av a few weeks men from th' wholesale district can drill without stoppin' on their neighbor's feet and lawyers what has left their business, and other people's, to come to camp can listen to an order wit'out sayin' 'I object'."

Assistant Boss Disabled

"General," says a private comin' up to th' commandin' officer's tent, th' assistant boss—which I think is called corporal, but I'm not shure—is disabled be havin' gone 24 hours wit'out wan drink and is now fightin' insin'gry ailments."

"Take him to the hospital," says the general, "and tell thim to give him some drinks and charge thim to the Pk Avenue Club, av which, as one of the board, I know him to be a member in good standin'."

"And thim along comes another one to report, 'General,' he says, 'I beg your pardon, he says, 'for not salutin' but I don't know how. An' I had to come to report that Pvt. Smith is sick, the cause being that Pvt. Smith has been required by the inhuman regulations here to get up at 6 o'clock, whereas he has never been used to get up before 12 o'clock, and six drinks av brandy."

"'Tis aisy to fix that," says th' commander, "put him out to walk up and down over there at night, whatever they calls doin' that, and let him sleep in the day."

James A. Wilder Writes for Star-Bulletin Story of Experiences at Training Camp

NO CHANGES AT HEADQUARTERS EXPECTED NOW

Expiration of Staff Terms and Foreign Tours Will Cause Shifts Next Spring

Unmored changes at headquarters, Hawaii's department, have not materialized since Gen. and John P. Wheeler, commandant, and it is the belief of men who are in close touch with army affairs that General Wheeler will make no changes in his staff. However, several of the present staff will leave headquarters and probably the islands next spring and summer.

Major Arthur S. Conklin will have finished the four years allotted an officer on staff duty in the early spring, and as he has also finished the term for foreign service, it is almost certain that he will be ordered back to the mainland.

Col. Archibald Campbell will have done four years' duty on the staff next summer, and also finished his foreign service period, and will go back to the mainland then if the ordinary custom is followed by the officials of the war department.

Another officer whose time of headquarters service and of foreign service will expire in the late spring is Capt. Edward K. Massee of the 11th Infantry, now assigned to headquarters.

BEGIN WORK ON REVIEW PLANS AT EARLY DATE

When Gen. Johnson and his aide, Lieut. Whitener, return the latter part of this week from Hawaii, where they are mustering in companies already formed and organizing new companies of National Guard, they will at once begin preparation for the regimental review which is to be held November 28 at Kapiolani Park. Details for the review are already mapped out and only the routine work necessary to get ready and get the men out remains to be done.

The review will be interesting to civilians as well as the guardsmen, and hundreds of people will probably spend the day at the park. The regimental band will be out, and the engineering corps will do some bridge building work that is expected to attract attention. Shelter tents will be erected, and the commissary department is to provide the mid-day meal for the men.

Gen. Johnson hopes that almost all members of the guard can be got out. Governor Pinkham will be present to review the troops.

Motion pictures will be used at Deadwood, S. D., to co-operate with the courses of study for the pupils of all grades in the school there.

MEN OF SUBMARINES IN FINE NEW CONCRETE BUILDING AT KUARUA

Crews of K Boats are First Occupants of Quarters on Island at Pearl Harbor

Sleeping in a mosquitoless dormitory, screened, electrically lighted, with good plumbing facilities, the men of the third submarine division, the K flotilla, are enjoying life at Pearl Harbor. When they bunked in the dormitory Wednesday night, at the close of their "morning day" from this port, they had the honor of being the first to use the structure, one of the 14 buildings erected by the navy department on Kuaaha, the island selected as the site for the munitions, torpede and powder magazines of the big naval base.

All the buildings including the one occupied by the 114 men of the K boats are of concrete, and a big improvement over the ramshackle, leaky, forsaken-looking buildings here.

The new submarine administration building is a large one-story structure, a part of which is used for housing the men of the K-3, K-4, K-7 and K-8 and the remainder containing offices of the division and store rooms in which have been placed supplies and equipment moved from here this week.

The submarine headquarters are only a short distance from the shipping and landing wharf of the magazine group of buildings at Pearl Harbor. There is a fine view, as the structure is on a slightly elevated part of the island and commands an excellent panorama of the harbor and the other buildings at Uncle Sam's big center of naval development.

SOLDIER AT FORT McDOWELL STARTS TO SWIM TO HONOLULU

At the mystic hour of midnight on Halloween, the hour when on land graveyards are supposed to yawn, says the San Francisco Chronicle of recent date, a lone fisherman was piloting his little craft toward the Golden Gate, with the idea of making a catch before sunrise, when off Old Fort Point he heard a faint but manly voice singing "It's a Long, Long Way to Honolulu, But You Bel' I'll Get There."

The song seemed to come from the bosom of the deep, and as there was no other craft in sight, the fisherman put his helm hard a-starboard and made for the music.

ARMY NOTES

Slight damage done at Fort Shafter by the recent heavy rain which washed away some foot bridges and caused a part of the coping of the headquarters building to fall, has all been repaired and the fort has now recovered from the flood.

No recent news has come to the quartermasters' department of the transport Buford which left Galveston, Texas, September 29 for Honolulu and Manila, and which at last reports was held up in the Panama Canal after the last big slide. The Buford is still somewhere in the canal and the date when it will arrive here is entirely indefinite.

"Making Land" at Port Armstrong is now about finished and as soon as the land has settled and some other work been done, such as leveling in places, army officials hope to hear that an appropriation has been made at Washington for the new barracks, quarters and storehouses which are badly needed there. It is not probable that the building work will be authorized before next summer, how-like to have a station in Honolulu for ever.

STEEL FOR HUGE TOWER AT PEARL HARBOR HELD UP

Slides in Panama Canal Delaying Construction of Powerful Radio Plant at Naval Station Near Honolulu

BIDS FOR THREE NEW BUILDINGS CALLED FOR

Power Plant, Operating Building and Double Quarters for Chief Operator of Wireless Will Be Put Up at Early Date

Steel for the three 600-foot towers for the government radio plant at Pearl Harbor is held up at Panama by the canal blockade, and will not arrive until after the first of the year; it was learned today from the public works office at the naval station.

Public Works Officer Charles W. Parks, in making public information concerning three structures to be erected at the harbor for the radio plant, said there will be no rush about erecting the buildings, because the steel for the wireless towers has not yet arrived, due to the Panama Canal tie-up, and that at erection of the towers will require some time, construction of the radio plant buildings will probably not begin until late in January and perhaps February. Foundations for the towers are finished.

Sealed bids for construction of the power plant, operating building and double quarters for the chief operator will be received at the public works office at Pearl Harbor, and at the bureau of yards and docks at the navy department, Washington, D. C., until 11 o'clock on the morning of November 27, and to the same hour December 4.

"The plans were about ready when I was in Washington," said Mr. Parks today. "There were only a few minor changes to be made then. The power plant, of reinforced concrete, will be a small structure, and will house the electric generating apparatus for the radio system. The operating building will be of concrete, and the double quarters for the chief operator will be built of wood. I did not go into the cost while at Washington, but it will be more than $10,000, how much more I cannot say."

Mr. Parks returned Wednesday on the Matsonia from Washington. He left September 29. Regarding the rumor that he was being considered to fill the vacant position of chief of the bureau of yards and docks, he said public works officers at all the naval stations are eligible, and that as there are more than 40 of them, his chance is extremely small. The navy department selects the official to fill the vacancy. A leading army and navy publication said he was one of three men being considered by the department as best suited for the position.

POSSESSION OF CUSTOM-HOUSE ENDS TROUBLES

United States marines, without effort and without bloodshed, have now occupied practically all the custom-houses of the republic of Haiti. All told, the Americans are only a handful. They exercise no control in the interior, and their presence is felt nowhere except at the custom-houses. Yet Haiti is strangely and seemingly happily peaceful.

For in Haiti, as in other tropical American republics, the custom-house is the seat of all trouble. Most of the national revenue comes from the custom-houses. And the tropical American revolution is a business for revenue only. With the revenue safeguarded there is no inspiration for revolutionists.

The pacification of Haiti, thus carried out along strictly scientific lines, has been extremely easy. Actual conquest of the country for purposes of temporary occupation and rectification would have required a considerable army and the expenditure of large sums of money. Many American lives would have been sacrificed. But the custom-house method requires only a few score marines, with two or three cruisers in the offing. It is almost the final word in efficiency.

ATTACH CANTEENS OF MOUNTED TROOPS TO SADDLES IN FUTURE

It has been decided to attach the canteen carried by mounted troops to the saddle. Many officers urge that it should be attached to the soldier's belt, whether he is mounted or not, but experiments demonstrated that this arrangement would not be satisfactory. When a soldier is mounted if the canteen is attached to his belt it pounds so hard that the cork is apt to fly out if it is not securely fastened, and it unnecessarily burdens the man with additional equipment which interferes with his riding.

When Your Eyes Need Care Try Murine Eye Remedy

MONTH AT PLATTSBURG SERVES TO SHOW HOW LITTLE CIVILIAN KNOWS

that day, and it seemed to hit me, and some of my hitherto enthusiastic audience, right in the middle of a verse of Jacob Wendell, '91's old song, the first of which is quoted as above. It was bogus typhoid, but it felt like the real thing. A sort of mild delirium tremens it was, with green monkeys and pink hippopotami roaming through the gloaming, and I, as hard as I could, not one wink of sleep did I get that whole night.

When we arrived at the camp I was in a dazed condition, but I got into a long line of eager looking men of all ages, all sizes, all sorts of people from everywhere, and signed papers when at last my turn came, and I paid out my $30 like the rest, which sum was to feed us at 50 cents per day and pay for incidentals "to cover breakage and loss" of property of the U. S. government. There were three long lines of men, and some were lifting their sentences out of eight-cylinder limousines and kissing their awfully smart looking wives goodby, which show that even the pampered pets of fortune have devoted and loving wives, who hang on to the last minute, but the instant they hit that long waiting line, farewell to all their greatness! Near Scene of Fight.

The camp is a mile from the historical townlet where MacDonald and Macomb, in 1814, fought the fresh water sea fight with the British war schooners and got away with them; the battle of Lake Champlain. The lake was near and oh, so inviting this day, with a hot wave on in full force, the mercury up to 85, and still climbing. I was allotted to Co. I, lucky that, under Capt. John Kelly, Philippine fighter, and Lieut. Corlett, fresh from West Point, and both of them the very best that tread the Munson trail!

All I knew yet was that I was in tent No. 20, and ordered to draw from the commissary 1 pillow, 1 mattress, 1 cot bed, 4 blankets (yes, why four?), 1 U. S. army pack, 1 rifle, belt, bayonet and scabbard, mess kit, knife, fork and spoon, condiment can and bacon box, poncho, sweater (oh, save us!) and a heavy army overcoat. If ever there was to be a mutiny, and there never was, now she was screwing in me, anyhow. "What we want is ice!" "Cher up and get this out of the way," said the sergeant, and I made my huge bundle into a Canadian-voyager's pack, plunk it on my head and bleed. It weighed all of 100 pounds, but we've had done 150 miles like this, so here goes!

"Fall in! Company!" "What do we do now?" asked someone. He actually had never even "fallen in" in his life! "High time we make this our national sport," thinks I.

Get into Uniform. I find a group of good-looking men dressing in this tent. We are not yet acquainted, but you bet we get there in a hurry. "How does this blame thing strap on? My pants don't fit," and so on. Next we are in line, and they are saying "Move up," or "Move down." I filter up and filter down, and at last find myself in the middle of this war strength company of 150 men, in the rear rank. From that time forth, night and day, it was one heroic hustle to keep up, to keep on, and keep in!

Never, in college, or on the long trails of adventure, in the busy marts of men or in the lapse of time did I ever get so much sleep as me to catch in such quick succession, and so swiftly!

They told you ONCE—that was all. Lucky the man who had been a scoutmaster and had some idea of the economy of this. There were beautifully groomed men in my little squad who went three days without so much as a wash. It took all their time to "catch on"—the rest of it was for sleep.

I cannot tell you all we did. They say we got a resume of the four years at West Point in as many weeks, and, faith, I believe it.

Avoid Rush, He Advises. That first day was tough, all burning up inside with serum, and the heat was terrific, but I lived through it. We were marched to review a review at the post, a mile up the road, and I was in a dream. Here let me advise all you heroes to take your serum NOW, and avoid the rush.

One field battery, with good old Lieut. Andrews, late on the staff of our Gen. Macomb, in the saddle; and as adjutant in shining armor, Capt. Haight of the 6th Cavalry; a grand march past the 20th U. S. Infantry, winding up with a furious charge of cavalry, at which the raw rookies of ours, 600 strong, yelled like school-boys.

We sat on the grass. We are not yet good enough to be even seen with the regulars, but we all survived to proudly march by, three weeks later, I Company easily taking the honors for a rigidly straight line (not to mention Squad 11, Cpl. Wilder, late of the Hawaiian Queen's Royal Fusiliers!).

I must explain this joke. In our application for membership we were asked "what, if any, former military experience we had had," so I lightly mentioned the fact that I had been a member of the King's Honolulu Rifles. This became, of course, the Queen's Fusiliers, and there you are.

I was yelled at as "Honolulu" most of the time. If anything in the way of a break occurred within three squads of me I got the blame! It was a lurid life! But fascinating. Alongside of me in all sorts of weather marched, as high private, a colonel in the Guard, and his attitude was splendid. "Let the new ones try it," he would say. "I have my regiment to go back to. I am here to learn the job of a private," and he was a dandy! The food was very good indeed, and all you could eat.

Big "Hot Air Tent." In the middle of the camp was a great circus tent known as the "hot air tent." Here we listened to lectures on the rifle, targets, range finding, tactics, map-making, first aid, signaling, from 1 to 4 p. m. From 4 to 4:45 one had time to bathe, if he did it on the double, for now we turned out in our blouses, full rigged, for retreat. It sounded fine, the "Star Spangled Banner," and once—nay, twice, the band played "Aloha Oe" as an interlude. After retreat we always drilled to music. This was the big thing of the day until we got close order drill down pretty fine, and the pace we went through to get it were enough to make angels weep! One mistake and the very heavens opened! Capt. Kelly would glaze his eyes on the third button of my gorkin and then reel off in quick order commands involving the company, the platoon, squads and files. I know what being on the "qui vivi" means now. It means living at a fast pace, with four ears, six eyes and eight feet.

At 5:30 p. m. Capt. Keeler, the famous West Point physical drill man, took us in hand. For a quick action test reduce, this captain has them all down at a mile. It was a joy to see the fat roll off some of the third battalion, and what's more, stay off! One of the captain's pet movements, or rather the atmosphere of it, was to leap into space, cruck your heels three times and then bite your right heel, backwards before touching the ground. This you did in unison, by the numbers. He likewise taught us the proper way to stand and walk, and most of us will carry the habit to the grave.

At 5 o'clock supper. Buckets of limonade disappeared, handfuls of tomatoes, army style, and, oh, the beans! You should have seen the Philadelphia swells go to it. There was a slight return to the primitive in some cases. A dainty feeder from New York, who absolutely "could not eat a thing" September 7, and sucked chocolate to save his life, got so voracious that he had to pry the meat hash away from him later on, to have a look-ee.

Night brought some leisure for the wholly untamed. One could go to town and the movies, if he wanted to, so long as he was in at 10 p. m. But most of us got out our drill regulations (1911) and tried to distinguish the horrors of the next battalion drill by the closest study. Besides, there were all the tactical problems to read over, "The Non-Commissioned Officers' Manual" and 40 more things to do for tomorrow. The army pack was a terror for one thing, until you mastered it. My mastering mine cut no ice; I had to master the squad's packs and stand by to see them, or it rather, on time.

Well, the first week we began with a light pack and each subsequent week this was added to until we were carrying the full regulation load. It seemed heavy only after long hikes, as it is a dandy, and very easy on the shoulders. At 7:45 a. m. we did some more ground and lofty exercises. Then breakfast. Days Did Not Drag. Then it was manual of arms and squad drill and short hikes with more close order drill. No recess to speak of all morning; but we liked it! It made the days fly.

Every night after supper we listened to distinguished men for one hour. All the big men in the army came up and we learned some stunning facts about preparedness. I cannot go into this part, as I take it only the people with blindness or believe we are right to jeopardize our children's children's rightful inheritance by foolish, rapid complacency.

Then came the rifle practice. The battalion shot at the regulation targets after a lot of patient teaching. When that million men spring to arms, as Mr. Bryan thinks they will, "from sun to sun," I hope they will do better than the "tired businessmen" of ours that first day! I do not wish to dwell on this painful subject. I pass on to the next.

Open order, or skirmish drill, came next. One week of this, and there was not a single one of any decent size in the whole lot of us. We were galloped over stubble and up hill; we lay down behind corn stalks, (blessed respites); we charged to the rebel yell of freedom, all the time blazing away at an imaginary foe, and going deaf, now and again, because of some dumb letting go blank in close proximity to the ear. But the gang are pretty tough! We are greyhoundish! The only trouble is, the corporals are daily reduced to the ranks for gross incompetence, the spectacular fall of the writer, late private in the Queen's Royal Fusiliers, being the crowning event in a day fraught with bloodless agony.

Squad Goes Wrong Way! In the bright morn, September morn, I march forth exulting in my rank—corporal of the elegant 11th. "Keep your interval! Get up on this line. Prepare to rush; RUSH!" "Oh, it's great to be an "horficer, "overver nable," and we go careening across the open, heads low, and just then I am aware of an ominous gloom in the face of my colonel the private. It seems Squad 11 is galloping the wrong way; retreating, in fact, in the face of the enemy.

It is soon over. I spare you the veiled, scarcely veiled, now I come to think of it, sarcasm of my noble leader. His voice, to my surprise, was low and tender. He seemed more grieved than angry. "But he sees his dooty, and he done it," I fell. Address, J. Wilder, private, Squad 11, Co. I, 1st Provisional Regiment. There were sections detailed as advanced cavalry, who went off on long, pleasant rides and bivouaced, and did Cossack patrols, and outposts and all that sort of thing. One of these was in my—I mean in our squad. I used to help rub him with a liniment which is said to harden the skin. It was tannic acid and Hammamelis, mixed, and when, as I was forced to do some times, I touched the raw spots, this brave, full-of-vim-and-dash-trooper squealed like a guinea pig. He said he was soft from sitting all day in his motor. But he was as hard as nails in three weeks!

One section took equitation. They were learning to ride, and the word went around the camp that for a real diversion, better than the movies, one had but to visit the riding school. I saw this section but once (such was Plattsburg), and it seemed to me that these old war horses scorned their riders.

All Working Overtime. Then there were the machine-gun men and the signers and the hospital corps section, all working overtime, so they said; and lastly the advanced infantry. This I took as it was new ground, and Capt. Van Horn, in charge, was said to be the whole thing in this subject. Advanced guard and rear guard, supports and so on, with long, long walks, map in hand, and being called on just as you had found a fringed Gentian, and were far, far away, mentally, to do something like this:

"You, over there with the pipe. That combat patrol, which, as you remember, was sent to the hill south of here, over there (pointing), has opened fire. We can hear the rifles. You are sergeant K of the third platoon. WHAT ARE YOUR COMMANDS?" Gee, perhaps you think this is fun with all the class crowding around. One hundred of the business captains of the day, all listening to hear what you are going to do! I only had two chances to speak up, but I had burned the midnight candle in the orderly tent, long, long ago, when I was a corporal, and expected any minute to jump into some sergeant's shoes, and so had studied the duty of the next higher grade in order to be ready for the happy chance—one of which came to the great Napoleon. So I patted it dead! Then we walked another five miles and gave all sorts of commands, and one had to reel them off quick, let me tell you! Sometimes I was Col. X, and sometimes Cpl. Q, and sometimes a lone file in a ditch—every question put was put for me, but in three weeks I had only two chances to speak up.

Oh you, who think that smartness and courage and numbers are enough to defend this country, just you go to Plattsburg and you will say with us, who went unashamedly that this side some "sergent's" shoes, and so had studied the duty of the next higher grade in order to be ready for the happy chance—one of which came to the great Napoleon. everybody feeling tip top. The Keeler crew has done this for us! We are reviewed as a part of the regular army. As I said, my squad was in every particular the stiffest unit in the bunch.

I forgot to tell you that I was reinstated. The colonel was a very warm baby as corporal—I thought perfect, but alas, he hollered "fix bayonets!" instead of "battle sight," and fell. Then the dashing-and-vimful cavalryman took a shot, and being trained as a horseman, three times he bust up the company, claiming that the band made so much noise that he couldn't hear the commands. He fell!

I heard later that a sergeant, who had watched us from behind, spoke to THE MAN WITH THE PITILESS EYES, in some such wise as this: "Captain, they're all rotten, but the Queen's Fusilier knows the most, as having been cussed out the most."

"Put him back," said Capt. Kelly, and turned on his heel.

Thus my military career was almost as chequered as has been my wild life.

Saw Bridges Blown Up. Once we witnessed the blowing up of three bridges, and the setting off of land mines. The latest explosives were used and the crowd came back to camp a bit sobered. It was—never mind. All in the day's work!

Then, one chilly night we manned some trenches, made according to plans from "somewhere in Europe," with all sorts of labyrinthine lanes and sharpnel shelters. Here we lie in wait for the 30th Infantry, who steal up on us, but are discovered by the outpost and instantly bathed in the light of four powerful searchlights, while the third battalion pours a withering fire at the plucky devils, who fix bayonets and charge.

That very day I had shot a possible and had squawked into the expert rifleman's class, but take it from me, not once did I get a bead on any of those whooping regulars. And that makes one think! What if—but to resume. One morning we are ordered to do some more fancy packing. Squad bags are given out, and we are told to pool our blankets and overcoats in two rolls per squad and to tag the same. Our belongings are rolled down to the slimmest and we breakfast on our mess kits for the first time. The great army autotrucks roll in and before we quite know it we have cut loose from pillow and mattress, the great spacious pyramidal tents, and are off in the direction of Anasable Forks, where rumor has it we are to fight a rearguard action.

Well, the dogs were correct, and I Company was the post. We had just got down to the road swinging gait when pop, pop, pop, the battle was on. Told to Hold Still. Squad 11 to the right, to hold a hill, and rejoin the rear-guard at such and such a place. Well, the pack, the rifle and 60 rounds made that little jaunting-party mostly, at the double time and by the main-bike the real thing, and as the main-bike just had to escape, that's all, we had to fight and run, and keep abreast of them in the road. This rear guard business is not what it is cracked up to be, and though Capt. Keeler had done his best, I felt far from strong, and was glad when a furious onslaught made the whole shooting match deploy, during which, by forced marches, we got to a place in the fork of two roads where we put up such a scrap as gave us, that night, special notice from the umpire. We heard the first gun at 9 a. m., and at one o'clock the recall sounded. And just around the bend was camp No. 1—Pera! Oh, you Pera! There was a pearling brook here, and we laved in it, and loafed all the sunny afternoon.

Nobody minds the packs, they sit so light. We buy hay of the passing farmer, and squad 11 is an snug as a soonie. But there are those who do not know how. Our land is full of them, check ablock!

This was a specimen day of the hike and every night Capt. Van Horn would expatiate on the tactics and criticize the whole.

General Wood addressed us in that masterly way he has, and was cheered to the echo.

We fight cavalry, infantry, and being suddenly reinforced we begin to push back toward Plattsburg. Each night we camp in some specially chosen spot, and the fun around the campfires grows to the proportions of a vaudeville. I begin to find those old friends, so long lost, and well, the last part was the club.

Meanwhile we all club together and order two beautiful watches and a brooch from Tiffany. Back to Old Diggins. As the company comes booming into our old diggins, the bands playing "Hail, hail, the gang's all here," the Man With the Piercing Eyes says, "Dismissed—yet not! Just a little ceremony now." Mr. Hui, our sweet-tongued orator, leaps on a campstool and says, "Captain Kelly, we the members of your company—"

Well, I can't remember what it was exactly, but it was just what we all thought of him, his charming wife and Mr. Corlett! Every man yelled like a hyena. I have noticed that the men of our colleges and schools do not wait to cheer if they are moved by anything. They yell "Yes-a-a-a—" and keep it up. This they did for a spell. What happened now? Not a sound, and if it hadn't been for Mrs. Our Captain, who kept her nerve, those doughty warriors who had led I Company over hill and one, through rivers up to the waist, through thick and thin, as one might say, would have stayed speechless. It was a plain case of funk. After a pause the Captain managed to find one third button of my very dirty sergent; this gave him confidence, and we cussed us all out for breaking regulations.

Well, it was a wonderful experience. These bloodhounds of Rockies, all sporting willow waists and bronzed faces, now went through a few more motions according to law, turning in equipment and getting an honorable discharge. We had chosen committees to meet later, and the regiment had voted to hang an "a-body" of us

CHURCHILL QUILTS CABINET JOB FOR ACTIVE SERVICE

Will Join Regiment at Front as Major of Queen's Own Oxford Hussars

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] LONDON, England, Nov. 13.—Winston Churchill, formerly first lord of the admiralty and latterly occupying a minor cabinet position, yesterday formally resigned and announced his intention of leaving for the front.

Mr. Churchill holds a major's commission with the Queen's Own Oxford Hussars, and will join his regiment, now doing service along the French front. The announcement of Churchill's resignation from the cabinet came as a surprise to the public, no intimation of his intention having been given.

In his letter of resignation, addressed to Premier Asquith, he explains that he is in full accord with the plan for the formation of a small war cabinet or council, to consist of seven members of the present cabinet, and expresses his appreciation of the fact that Premier Asquith had intended to include him in its membership.

Tired of inactivity, since discussing the matter with the premier, however, he writes his plans have changed, and while he has no complaint to make of the work of the cabinet of which he has been a member, he feels that his government duties have been accomplished and he now reluctantly closes his official career to take up active duty at the front.

It would be impossible for him, he says, to accept a position of general responsibility for the shaping of the war policy of the empire without at the same time being in a position where he could have an effective share in the guidance of the war and a measure of control over the operation of the forces in the field.

He stated that he felt that he could no longer remain in any position of well paid inactivity, and such a position alone would be his should he continue in the cabinet.

War Council to Meet Daily. The small war council, which Premier Asquith is forming, will hold daily sessions and will decide immediately and finally all general details, subject to consultation with the entire cabinet, upon great new departures.

There are many signs that the government is anxious to increase in a substantial measure the regulations now governing the publication of news here, more especially abolishing the regulations under which information, well known in all neutral and hostile countries, like the German wireless reports, shall no longer be suppressed officially here.

CONVICTS MAKE GETAWAY FROM KANSAS PRISON

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Nov. 13.—Five convicts made a daring escape yesterday from the state penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., and are being pursued by a posse.

Reports received late last night said the posse had about succeeded in surrounding them and a battle is expected, for the convicts are desperate characters. Two are murderers, two are burglars and one is a train robber. All were serving long terms.

U. S. TREATY WITH HAITI ESTABLISHES NEAR PROTECTORATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—The minister-resident of Haiti yesterday formally notified the state department that the Haitian senate had agreed to the new American treaty, whereby what is practically a protectorate over the island republic is established.

The treaty has to be ratified by the senate of the United States before it becomes legally effective.

Under the terms of the new treaty the United States will officer a Haitian consular to preserve peace in the republic and will control the finances until the foreign obligations have been met and the country is reestablished on a firm financial basis.

U. S. EXPORTS FOR YEAR WILL BE RECORD-BREAKER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—That the year 1915 is going to show an unprecedented increase in the amount and value of the total exports is already most apparent.

The reports of the statistical bureau of the department of commerce, issued yesterday, shows that for the 10 months ending October 31 the total value of exports is $3,500,000 greater than the total of the whole of 1914.

BRITISH DENY ZEALANDIA WAS INSIDE LIMIT

Ambassador Spring-Rice Explains Ship Was Mile Outside Neutrality Line

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—Ambassador Spring-Rice called at the state department yesterday and made an explanation of the search of the American steamer Zealandia off Progreso, Mexico, to Secretary of State Lansing.

The British cruiser which searched the ship acted wholly within its rights, the ambassador declared; in fact, going out of the way to do nothing that might be frowned upon by Washington.

The ship was not searched within the three-mile limit, the envoy said. "The Zealandia was anchored a mile outside of Mexican waters," he told the secretary. "We boarded and searched it, but in so doing we were within our rights. Although no papers were found establishing her identity, the ship was not molested because it flew the American flag. The cargo of the ship was found to be resin, which is used in the manufacture of explosives."

The Zealandia is the vessel under American registry which sailed from Pensacola, Florida, recently, without clearance papers, and with a German crew. American revenue cutters had been searching for the ship previous to its discovery by the British cruiser, but what course will be followed now is in doubt.

FORMER WATER BOY SUDDENLY BLOSSOMS OUT AS MILLIONAIRE

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Leonard Rogelio, who 25 years ago entered the employ of the Cambria Steel Corporation as a water boy, yesterday surprised the financiers of the nation by bidding in the block of 300,000 shares of the corporation stock, paying a cash total of $15,000,000 for the interest.

Rogelio, who is only 33 years old, entered into the bidding for this block of stock against a former superior in the corporation, William Donner, known as "Big Bill."

When the new steel magnate entered the works of the steel corporation 25 years ago his sole earnings were represented by five dollars a week.

IMMIGRATION OFFICER REFUSES TRANSFER TO MINOR POST AND QUILTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 13.—Dr. J. E. Gardner, who for the past 23 years has been connected with the local immigration office as Chinese inspector and interpreter, yesterday tendered his resignation from the immigration service.

He had been ordered to report for duty at Gloucester, New Jersey, his transfer being to a minor post. He refused to accept the transfer and resigned when his request to be left at his old post was refused.

AN EASY WAY TO GET FAT AND BE STRONG

The trouble with most thin folks who wish to gain weight is that they insist on drugging their stomach or stuffing it with greasy foods; rubbing on useless "flesh creams," or following some foolish physical culture stunt, while the real cause of thinness goes untouched. You cannot get fat until your digestive tract assimilates the food you eat.

Thanks to a remarkable new scientific discovery, it is now possible to combine into simple form the very elements needed by the digestive organs to help them convert food into rich, fat-laden blood. This masterpiece of modern chemistry is called Sargol and has been termed the greatest of flesh-builders. Sargol aids through its re-generative, reconstructive powers to coax the stomach and intestines to literally soak up the fattening elements of your food and pass them into the blood, where they are carried to every starved, broken-down cell and tissue of your body. You can readily picture the result when this amazing transformation has taken place and you notice how your cheeks fill out, hollows about your neck, shoulders and bust disappear and you take on from 10 to 20 pounds of solid, healthy flesh. Sargol is absolutely harmless, inexpensive and efficient.

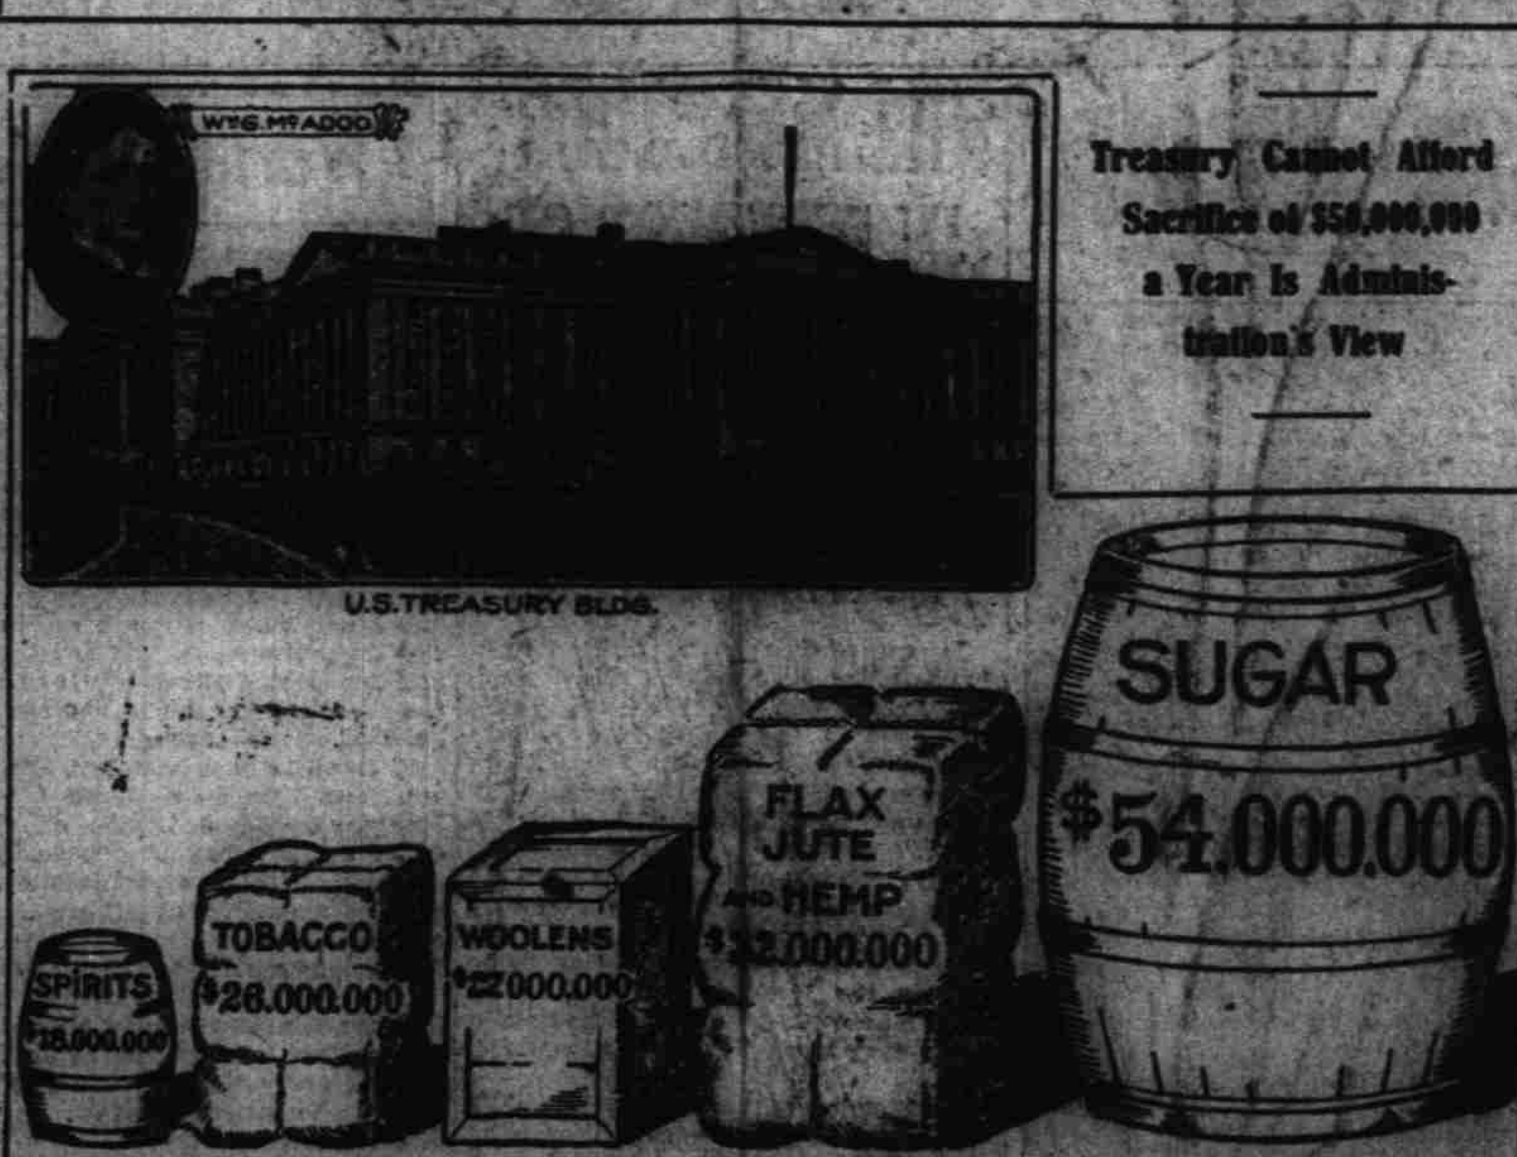

Caution:—While Sargol has given excellent results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles it should not be taken by those who do not wish to gain ten pounds or more.

SUGAR DUTY "GOVERNMENT'S MEAL TICKET" TO REMAIN IN FORCE

When Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, just before departing on his western trip, gave out a formal statement that he would recommend the retention of the existing tariff on sugar he was making public the conclusion drawn from a careful investigation of the part that the sugar duties pay in helping to support the government. It is understood in Washington that the facts in this connection were placed before the president, his advisers and Democratic leaders in Congress, and that the announcement of Secretary McAdoo reflects the settled policy of the administration to repeal the free sugar clause of the Underwood tariff law.

A compilation of the items making up the tariff receipts for the past fiscal year shows that out of a total income of $309,000,000 received by the federal government from customs duties sugar provided almost $53,000,000, or practically one-quarter of the total income from this source. The figures show that had free sugar been in effect during the past year the treasury deficit at the end of the period would have been nearly $90,000,000. On the other hand had the rate on sugar remained the same as prior to the adoption of the Underwood tariff law, the custom-house income would have been $18,000,000 greater than it actually was, and the deficit of $35,000,000 at the end of the year would have been cut in half.

Compared with other schedules of the tariff list it was found that sugar produces far more revenue than any other dutiable article. For the past five years the average yield from sugar has been $54,000,000. The nearest approach to this was the income from the schedule covering flax, hemp and jute and their manufactures such as linen, bagging and twine, which produced $32,000,000. The wool schedule averaged $27,000,000, the tariff on tobacco $26,000,000, and that on spirits $18,000,000. As the best income-producer on the dutiable list and the one that has come to be known as "the government's meal ticket" on account of the size and stability of its returns, it was felt that the duty on sugar could not be satisfied at a time when government revenues are falling behind expenditures at the rate of nearly $100,000,000 a year.

Men, Books, People & Things

W. D. Howells

HOLMBOE HAWAII

There are two classes of tourists for whom special bureaus and magazines supply descriptive literature—the summer and the winter tourists.

In summer the residents of large cities flock to mountains or sea and sections of New England and the lakes become a rendezvous for seekers after the simple life.

"Country Life in America," "The Literary Digest," "Outing" and other publications furnish information to their readers regarding available resorts.

The sort of persons who would seek a literary bureau for advice concerning the preparation of a manuscript, might well go outside for information about their own country, since the war has pretty well shut off travel abroad.

Americans by necessity are discovering the scenic and historic values of sections of the United States, the availability of our outlying dependencies like Porto Rico and Hawaii, and the charm of communities which have lain fallow within our own borders.

Persons who have crossed the Atlantic several times, visited Paris, London, Rome and Cairo, roved over the Alps and Appennines, hunted in Africa and fished in Bulgaria, remain ignorant of the real attractions of America.

Yosemite, perhaps, has been visited, but equally attractive corners in California, Oregon, Wyoming, New Mexico, Virginia, Kentucky and the Carolinas are not even known to the ready traveler.

He looks upon a large part of his country as territory to get over as rapidly and comfortably as possible.

As cities of charm in winter St. Augustine and San Antonio are fairly well known, but how many have tried New Orleans, Fernandina, Richmond and Charleston in a thoroughly philosophical way?

Something almost strange happened to us in regard to the latter.

As is the custom with our household when vacation time comes and we are unable to travel—we go anywhere on paper. We take up the study of the place we want to see, on maps, railroad folders, in books and magazine-articles; we get photographs of it, write and get a description of the section, price of farms or lots in it, pick out a house in town, the restaurant we should eat at, and, if possible, correspond with some one living in the vicinity.

As we believe in "preparedness" we prepare ourselves against the day when we shall arrive upon the spot selected.

For some reason or another we suddenly shifted our affection from Jacksonville (for two months' wintering) to Charleston. Some friends in Massachusetts with whom we had "plotted" about a stay on the St. Johns, were not informed of our change of mind; and to our astonishment we received a letter from them saying they were enjoying themselves in the "dearest, quietest most charming city anywhere,"—Charleston.

They had changed their minds and gone to that old town, while we were reading G. H. White's articles about it, and some illustrated contributions in a current magazine on the gardens of Charleston.

What is more, W. D. Howells was in Charleston at the time and in a talk with our friends there expressed his liking for the town, and told them he would have a paper in October Harper's upon the subject.

While these telephatic indications were impending against several personalities and penetrating the minds of several of them (quite without our knowledge or consent), a friend in Savannah wrote us that his brother-in-law had in Charleston and liked it so much that he (our friend) has asked his relative to send us a "stack" of railroad and other literature about the famous city. Who knows what?

Nobody at this time knew that we had changed our minds; that we were "stuck" on Charleston and aching to get there. In fact we didn't know ourselves how much till we read all these glowing accounts from our friends and our friends' relations.

Some years ago we spent a winter in New Orleans. We lived in the old French quarter with a French family and "imbibed" "atmosphere," reading Cable, and eating at French and Spanish restaurants. We felt a good deal as if we were spending the winter in Rome or Madrid, only better, because we were at home in the country we like best.

And ever since my rambles throughout the South, from California to Baltimore, in out-of-the-way districts by rail, horseback, boat and cart, I have had a longing not to exploit Europe or Africa even in their remotest corners, but to find myself again at home in the strangest and most interesting land on earth.

"Good Literature."

I was glad to read "G. R.'s" strictures upon "Good Literature's" article in your issue of August 30.

The defense of the library seems to me just and timely. With all due respect and tolerance for differences in taste, I do not understand how any discriminating reader can call Jack London's books "nonsense." Such bushwhacking criticism of any literature which intelligent people read is indicative of too much want of reserve to make the opinion tolerable. Today I have before me a letter written by one of our ablest critics, Richard Le Gallienne. He says of London's work: "What perfect English, what strength, what execution?"

Unless one be the French Academy it is wise to be reserved in the expression of a "minority opinion."

IN WAR ARENA

ITALY DECIDES TO HELP SERBIA.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 13.—Italy will enter the war in the Balkans, and at once.

Unhappily in view of the apparent hopelessness of frustrating the Germans in the southeast, where they have been slowly crushing the life out of the Serbians and stung by the Teutonic predictions that the Allied campaign would be another "Dardanelles fiasco," London was suddenly awakened to the realization yesterday that the day may yet be saved there.

A message handed to Sir Edward Grey, the secretary of state for foreign affairs, by the Italian ambassador, not only promised Italian assistance, but in the words of the ambassador, said that "Italy would intervene in Serbia in a manner worthy of her greatness and give sufficient support to assure a complete victory."

These are indications that Greece may be forced into the war sooner than she expects, for it is reported that the Bulgarian and Turkish ministers at Athens have made vigorous protests against the landing by the Allies of troops at Saloniki. The landing of troops has ceased, it is said, but it will be only for the time being, for it is to be supposed that Italy will enter the Balkans at that port.

SLAVS DRIVE TEUTONS FROM DVINA POSITION.

LONDON, Eng., Nov. 13.—Some conception of the success that has come to Russian arms in the south in the last few weeks may be obtained from a despatch which reached here last night from Petrograd. In it General Ivanoff, the Russian commander on the Galician front, is quoted as claiming the capture of 130,000 Austro-German prisoners in the last five weeks, together with vast stores of munitions.

Severe fighting continues in the Riga-Dvina districts, with the Russians pursuing their offensive vigorously. The Germans are reported to be retreating in a manner worthy of their objective in the campaign against Riga, and in light of this the opinion prevails that the Germans have abandoned all hopes of winning Riga and Drinsk.

The Russians also are meeting successes in the Lake Swentzen region to the south, where the Germans are being retreating. Their offensive is going forward rapidly, it is reported.

On the west front there were heavy bombardments in the vicinity of Arras yesterday.

BERLIN DECLARES SERB DEMONSTRATION COMPLETE.

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 13.—The demoralization of the Serbians is so great that further serious resistance is unexpected, according to yesterday's reports from the Balkans. It is probable the reports add that many of the Serbians will be able to retreat into Montenegro.

The Bulgarians in their sweep through the Nish and Leskovac district captured an enormous quantity of supplies. The supplies had been abandoned by the Serbians.

U. S. AMBASSADOR PROBES FACTS OF ANCONA TRAGEDY

Washington Expects Report From Representative at Rome Today

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 13.—What attitude the United States will take on the Ancona sinking, in which 27 Americans are reported to have lost their lives, will be decided by President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing soon.

It was learned here yesterday that Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page had called at the Italian foreign office in Rome for definite information on the disaster and that he had received it. The ambassador will send a report to the state department today.

Meanwhile the impression prevails in official circles that the Ancona, attempted to escape from the submarine.

WAR PUTS CHECK ON UPWARD TREND OF PARIS RENTS

(By Associated Press) PARIS.—There are evidences that the upward movement of rentals in Paris has received a lasting check. A luxurious apartment in the Avenue de l'Alma that rented for 25,000 francs a year has just been leased for 17,000. In the quarter of the Parc Monceau apartments that were in great demand at 4000 francs are now offered at 5000.

Before the war in the quarter where commerce in luxuries flourishes particularly, the landlord had never to seek a tenant. He simply marked up the rentals 10 per cent in anticipation of the expiration of the lease and waited for his customer; he was never obliged to advertise. Today one of the landlords of the quarter, who has a number of apartments that have been advertised as apartments or a store for rent. There are dozens of them on the grand boulevard from the Place de la Concorde to the Place de la Republique; there are four in the Place Vendome, several in the Avenue de l'Opera and the Rue de la Paix. Some of the former tenants have gone out of business, some have sought other less expensive quarters and others have simply compromised with the landlord, unable to pay rent, they have given way for anyone who can.

Real estate experts predict that the decline in commercial rents and rents for luxurious apartments will continue after the war while small and modest apartments will be unchanged or higher. A great many families broken up by the war and with finances more or less tied up will abandon large apartments and increase the demand for smaller ones.

KEEP PEERAGES ALIVE IF HEADS PENISH AT FRONT

(By Associated Press.) LONDON, England.—Means are to be adopted to prevent peerages from becoming extinct in cases where the only male heir has given his life to his country. In the ordinary course, succession to a peerage is limited to direct male descendants of the last or of a former holder of the title, daughters being excluded. But by "special remainder," as the provision is called, the nearest of other male relatives will now be given the title.

There are now at least 200 heirs to peerages in the army and navy, and a number have already fallen. Among the dead are Lord Wendover, the sole heir of the Marquis of Lincolnshire, Captain Biggs, who was the only son and heir of Lord Stamfordham, the king's private secretary, and the Hon. Claude Messy Thompson, the sole heir of Keatesborough. Lord Ribblesdale is among those who have lost an only son in action, but he has grandsons by his daughters.

Titles are allowed to descend by the female line by special remainder in a number of existing cases, notably in the case of Lord Roberts, whose only male heir was killed in the Boer War. Of course, there are no lack of direct male heirs of former title holders in case of the historic peerages, but the recently bestowed titles lack this advantage.

Lord Kitchener's heir is, by special remainder, his elder brother, Col. H. E. C. Kitchener. Lord Strathmore's title passed to his daughter, the Baroness Strathmore.

MEXICAN BORDER LINE IS CHALKED BY U. S. TROOPS

Villistas Trespass on U. S. Soil and Now Flag Mark Boundary

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] NACO, Arizona, Nov. 13.—The imaginary line which marks the border here is real and vivid now. Yesterday the border for miles on each side of the town was chalked by American soldiers under orders of their commander and at 50-yard intervals small American flags were stuck in the ground.

The notice was taken following a clash over the border by a squad of Villistas, who were pursuing a deserter. The deserter was safe in the United States, but the Villistas chased him, took him back to the Mexican town of Naco, which is just across the border, and shot him.

The American commander demanded an explanation of the Villista commander at Naco, Sonora, and received one. The Villista chief said his men had pursued the deserter into the United States because they were ignorant of where the border was located.

The commander therefore decided to chalk the border and mark it with flags so hereafter there will be no more "mistakes."

VILLA AND OBREGON ARRIVE AT NOGALES

NOGALES, Arizona, Nov. 13.—Gen. Villa and two thousand of his men arrived in Nogales, Sonora, yesterday, and a few hours later Gen. Obregon, Carranza's chief commander, arrived in Nogales, Arizona.

Immediately the suspicion of Nogales' residents was aroused and soon there were many rumors that Gen. Obregon was here to receive the surrender of Gen. Villa.

The rumors were denied to Gen. Obregon, but received a vigorous denial.

"I am not here for the purpose of receiving Gen. Villa's surrender," he said. "There will be no surrender if he is captured he will be treated as an outlaw."

Gen. Obregon declared the entry of Villa into the Sonora hall of Nogales and his arrival on the American side merely was a coincidence.

TEMPERANCE DAY TO BE OBSERVED ON LARGE SCALE

Sunday Schools Will Participate; October Busy Month for Anti-Saloon League

Nearly all of the Sunday schools in the territory will assist the Anti-Saloon League in observing Temperance Day tomorrow, according to a report read by Supt. John W. Wadman at a meeting of the executive committee of the league last Thursday afternoon.

The report reads as follows: "The month has been a busy one. Preparations have been made for the observance of the World's Temperance Sunday, November 14, in nearly all the Sunday schools of the territory. Programs having been prepared by the teachers and the children, and the same to be used, total, including pledges presented to the children and an offering taken in behalf of the work of the league. Favorable replies have been received from quite a few.

"On October 23, the board of license commissioners had a public hearing on the application of Lee Chong for a restaurant license to dispense liquor at his chop suey place on King street near the public market. The league had notified upwards of 25 different organizations of the hearing and 15 sent representatives who entered a protest against the petition, but such did not prevail, although the board in granting the license refused any special privileges for which we all feel grateful.

"The still government school was visited during the month and by the kind permission of the principal, and teachers, the children were delivered to the upper grades and the Lincoln League pledges card presented with the result that 20 boys and girls were added to our 5000 enrollment of young campaigners. On the same day we visited the girls' industrial school and had the pleasure of speaking to more than 80 girls who are being so well cared for by those in charge of the institution.

"A temperance rally was held in the school house, Manoa valley, Sunday evening, October 21, which was well attended, especially by young people, and an address made to the Christian Endeavorers of Central Union church on the Sunday evening following on the subject of a 'Saloonless Nation and a Stateless Flag in 1920.'

"Dr. Baker, national superintendent, has written requesting the names of all English-speaking pastors of the territory, in order that headquarters may send them regularly the New Republic to keep them well posted on the great prohibition movement.

"The following articles have been furnished the press, several of them appearing as editorials: 'Pharmaceuticals,' 'A Saloonless Nation in 1920,' 'Berlin on the Water Wagon,' 'Prohibition in Sweden,' 'Newfoundland Goes Dry,' 'California Preparing to Fight,' 'The Real Criminal,' 'One More Chance,' 'Politicians Get a Jolt,' 'Anti-Saloon League Program,' 'Police Drunkenness in the Mist Saloon,' 'Alcohol and Accident,' 'Bramwell Booth and Boose,' 'Trinity Church, New York,' 'World's Strides in Temperance' for each Saturday's issue of the Star-Bulletin.

"Mr. Paty has continued to put considerable time in the work of the 'Resist Home' up Liliha, now the safe and happy abiding place of refuge for a number of men well saved from the devilish power of liquor's appetite, while preparations are being made to receive two or three more as soon as it is possible needing sympathy and help.

"The committee will be pleased to learn that the large number who subscribed in small monthly subscriptions to the work of the league at our recent public meetings are making good for the most part. We have not yet met with one case in which a pledge was disregarded, and it is encouraging thus to enroll such an increased number of new friends and sympathizers.

"At the annual meeting of the W. C. T. U. which was held at the home of the president, Mrs. J. M. Whitney, last Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Dickey, our treasurer, made an address on the results of a conference of temperance leaders which took place at Washington, D. C. last July and to which he had been appointed a delegate.

"The superintendent was also invited to speak in regard to the work of the league here in Hawaii in which the W. C. T. U. heartily cooperates."

New Pastor For German Evangelical Lutheran Church; Was In Australia

Rev. Gerhard Schafhirt Found War's Animositities Made His Work Impossible

The German Evangelical Lutheran congregation of this city has secured the services of Rev. Gerhard Schafhirt, recently of Australia, who will fill the pastorate of this congregation, vacant since the departure for Germany of Rev. Engelhardt at the beginning of this year.

Rev. Schafhirt was born on June 6, 1884, and hails from Muskau, Silesia, Germany. He studied at Halle and after completing these studies he was officiating in Westphalia and at Gross Bartenberg and Bentzen in Silesia. Three years ago he accepted a call to Charters Towers in Australia, where he has been the head of the German Evangelical congregation.

"When war first broke out," he says, "our position in Australia was an unpleasant but not critical. There were Australian papers, principally those representing the laboring classes, which preserved a fair attitude toward the Germans and Australian citizens of German descent. Later on conditions grew worse and have lately been intolerable, so that I decided to leave the country temporarily and to assume a position in a country where I might do some good. German missionaries and workers are continually watched by detectives and under suspicion. People in Australia are fearing to go to a German church since they are not always certain of their personal safety. The windows of our church were smashed some time ago and the monuments erected in the graveyards bearing German names were smashed or demolished."

Rev. Schafhirt will hold his first service in the German church tomorrow at 11 a. m. and vespers services

WILL MAKE TOUR IN INTEREST OF 'DRY' CAMPAIGN

Dr. J. W. Wadman and Rev. H. P. Judd Leave for Big Island to Be Gone 10 Days

In company with Rev. Henry P. Judd, acting secretary of the Hawaiian Board, Dr. J. W. Wadman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Hawaii, left Honolulu for Hilo in the Mauna Kea this afternoon. Tomorrow Dr. Wadman will speak in several churches in Hilo, addressing Sunday schools and young people's societies in the interest of temperance, and in the evening both he and Mr. Judd will attend a mass meeting to be held in the Hall church, Rev. S. L. Deans, pastor, and make addresses in order to promote the cause of prohibition.

On Monday and Tuesday the public schools of Hilo will be visited and the educational campaign among the children pushed. On Tuesday evening a public meeting will be held at Hakala; Wednesday at Kaunohou; Thursday at Honohou; Friday at Kuluohou; Saturday at Paunahu, and Sunday, November 21, in the morning at Panilo and in the evening at Pepeekeo.

Dr. Wadman will endeavor to visit all the public schools along this line of four while Mr. Judd will meet here and there important business engagements in connection with Hawaiian Board matters. Both will return to Honolulu on November 23.

World's Strides In Temperance

Alcohol's Downfall

The crusade against intoxicating liquor has reached a point, notably in England, France and Germany, that foreshadows the ultimate extinction of the traffic. Entered upon as a measure for the preservation of national strength, the war against drink is fairly comparable in its importance to the war between the nations.

Months ago Russia became prohibition territory. The Russian people have been regenerated. They appear like a new race. Despite the drain of the war, Russia is more prosperous and her people happier than at any time since Peter the Great began the building of his capital.

It is clear that whether the Allies win or Germany with Austria-Hungary's aid achieves a triumph, drink already has fought so large a number of losing engagements in Europe as makes its overthrow almost a certainty.

Financial Loss.

Drink sales have slumped heavily in London as a result of the new regulation prohibiting treating under penalty of $500 fine and six months in prison. Violations are few.

A Cut in Sweden.

Although nothing so drastic as the prohibition measures of Russia has

CHURCH COUNCIL MODIFIES STAND AS TO ARMAMENT

Amended Resolution of Congregationalists Urges No Greater Measures Than Required

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—The national council of Congregational churches has placed on record its belief that armaments in the United States should not be increased further than adequate national defense requires.

The president and members of Congress were asked to recognize this idea and urged to bend their energies toward working out, in cooperation with other governments, a plan for an international organization that will make a recurrence of war impossible.

The resolution, with one adopted earlier in the day, appealing to the president to do something to stop the Armenian atrocities, will be carried to Washington by a committee of five. The Rev. Dr. H. P. Dewey of Minneapolis proposed this method, so that the resolutions will not find lodgment in an official's waste basket.

The resolutions were adopted without debate. It was said to be satisfactory to the delegates from the Middle West, who argued against any increase in armaments, and the delegates from eastern and western states, who declared for an adequate navy and ample coast fortifications. It reads in part as follows:

"Whereas the war now desolating Europe deeply concerns Christian people everywhere and has laid bare the fallacies in the policy of armed peace and has demonstrated the futility of armaments as a means of maintaining international security; and

"Whereas we believe that the most effective program for permanent peace can be made, except in the spirit of the teaching of Jesus Christ; therefore,

"Be it resolved, that recognizing the weighty responsibility resting upon the president of the United States and commanding the wisdom and strength he has shown, we appeal to him and to the members of Congress alike to cherish in all their deliberations the time-honored position of this nation as an advocate of peace and to take no steps toward increased armament not necessitated by grave considerations of national defense. We press them to bend the energy of our government to this crisis in human history in working out, in cooperation with other governments, a plan of international organization that shall render the recurrence of the present world tragedy impossible.

"Be it further resolved, that we direct the executive committee of this council to cooperate with the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Church Peace Union, and with other Christian bodies of our own and foreign countries, in seeking to spread this sentiment in preparation for the new era of fellowship and to secure such action by our government, and by the governments of the world as shall bring about enduring peace, international good-will and the resort to reason and justice in a court of final appeal."

After a resolution placing the conference squarely on record against the armament plans being put forward in the United States had been proposed on Monday by the Rev. C. E. Jefferson of New York city, difference of opinion developed as to the advisability of taking such a stand.

PARANOMIA MISSION IN DOUBT WITH EPISCOPALIANS

NEW YORK—Five members of the board of missions of the Episcopal church tendered their resignations recently when the quarterly meeting of the board refused, by a vote of 26 to 12, to rescind the resolution adopted last May to participate in the Panama interdenominational missionary conference to be held in February.

The Roman Catholic church, through its missions, several months ago declined the invitation to participate in the Panama conference because it believed the plans of the conference were hostile to the Roman Catholic church.

The five members who tendered their resignations were Bishop Reginald H. Weller, Fond du Lac, Wis.; Bishop G. Motte Williams, Marquette, Mich.; Bishop W. Fred Harding, Washington, D. C.; the Rev. Dr. P. Delaney, Milwaukee; and the Rev. Dr. William T. Manning of Trinity church, New York city.

The five members tendered their resignations at almost the same instant, but Bishop Richard H. Nelson of Albany, N. Y., announced that while he was entirely in sympathy with the five dissenters, he refused to resign, but would remain on the board and oppose the proposal to send delegates to the Panama conference.

Developments at the board meeting indicated that previous reports that the proposed plans of the Panama conference, as well as what was claimed as the virtual exclusion of Roman Catholics, had created feeling in the Protestant Episcopal church.

News And Notes of Work of the Hawaiian Board

Word was received during the week of the death in Lahaina, Maui, of Rev. David M. Opaia, pastor of the church at Hilo, Maui, since 1906. In that year he was ordained to the gospel ministry and began at once his pastorate at Hilo where he ministered to the people until a year or so ago, when he was compelled through ill health to relinquish his labors. During the last few months he lived at Lahaina with his daughter, Mrs. William Allen. His death occurred on Monday, November 1st, and the funeral services were held in the Wallace church the following day, being conducted by Rev. E. B. Finicles, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Dr. W. K. White, pastor of the Kaunakapili church and Rev. H. K. Kamakapu, assistant pastor of Kaunakapili church of Honolulu. Mrs. Opaia returned to Hilo on Tuesday of this week.

Last Sunday, November 7, Rev. James Davis was installed as pastor of the church at Waikane in the district of Koolaulou, Oahu. The charge to the pastor was delivered by Rev. William Kamau of Pepee, Oahu, and the charge to the people was given by Rev. H. P. Judd. The scriptures reading and prayer was by Rev. S. W. Kakapu of Waikane and other parts of the service were taken by Rev. Henry K. Pospe of the Kaunakapili church. At a business meeting of the church it was decided to take up the work of building a new parsonage to take the place of the old parsonage that has stood there for over 40 years.

An inspirational service was conducted right after lunch by Rev. W. Kamau, after which the party of ministers returned to Honolulu. On their way over to Waikane they had stopped at the church at Kaneohe and held a service with the church members, to arrange for the supply of preachers and to listen to an able address by Mr. Kamau on the text Acts 8:29.

Rev. Henry P. Judd will leave for Hawaii on Saturday afternoon, November 13, to make a tour of the districts of Hilo and Hamakua. Besides inspecting the general work of the board in those districts, he will get in touch especially with the Hawaiian churches, holding services in the churches at Pahoa, Hilo, Pepeekeo, Hakala, Lapaehoe, Pepee, Paunahu, Honokaa and Kuluohou. He will be accompanied by Dr. J. W. Wadman and will assist him in conducting temperance meetings in all these places. They will return November 23.

Rev. John P. Erdman, superintendent of the Hawaiian department of the board, who has been enjoying a three months' tour with his parents at Orient, Long Island, New York and other places in the eastern part of the mainland, is expected back in Honolulu on Tuesday, November 23, per the Wilhelmnia.

The new building for the board is rapidly nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy early in February in all probability. The auditorium is further advanced than the office part of the building and one can now get a good idea as to how it will look when completed.

OKUMA HELPS TO GET FUNDS FOR BIG CONFERENCE

Businessmen of Tokio and Yokohama Will Aid International Sunday School Meeting

TOKIO.—Premier Marquis Okuma presided at a meeting of over 30 prominent business men of Tokio and Yokohama who came together primarily to raise funds for the international Sunday school conference to be held in Tokio in October, 1916.

Count Okuma explained that, the leader of the large number of delegates expected, from all over the world, and other expenses would require about $22,000. Of this amount $2,000 would be needed to enlarge the premises of the Young Men's Christian Association at Tokio, where the convention will be held.

Bacon Shibusawa and other businessmen present offered to raise the required amount and furthermore to place houses or villas in their possession at the disposal of the guests. This has greatly pleased the organizers of the convention as the question of accommodation has been the most difficult of all on account of the absence of sufficient hotels.

An executive committee of nine has been appointed to push on the arrangements. Among the delegates expected are Sir Robert Laidlaw, president of the World's Sunday School Union of Great Britain as well as a large number of eminent religious workers and delegates from the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, India, Australia and China.

HEINRICH TELLS ABOUT HAWAII IN LECTURE IN INDIA

"The American Boy of Hawaii" was the subject of a lecture which Waldo H. Heinrichs, formerly with the local Y. M. C. A., delivered recently in Madras, India, where he is now located in association work. The "Madras Young Men," a Y. M. C. A. publication, has the following story on the lecture:

"Mr. Waldo H. Heinrichs delivered the inaugural address of the Literary Union for this term on Friday the 3rd of September. His subject was 'The American Boy of Hawaii,' and he had hung up on the walls two big maps of Hawaii to show the geographical position and features of the place. Having come from Honolulu, the capital of the Hawaiian Islands, and having been a secretary of an association which contains a large number of Y. M. C. A. Junior members, he appeared to know everything about boys.

He gave an elaborate description about Hawaiian boys, about their physical prowess, mental ability and general education. He also explained some of their games, their swimming pools and other national amusements and recreation. Lastly, after speaking about the natural temptations of the Hawaiian boys, he warned our members from like things and strongly condemned the use of tobacco, showing clearly the pernicious effect it has upon the human body.

"At the close of the meeting some beautiful photos of Hawaiian people and scenery were shown to the members."

New war taxes, totalling $12,000,000 a year, were ordered by the Italian government. Telegraph rates have been raised and profits of business concerns are to be heavily taxed.

This has greatly pleased the organizers of the convention as the question of accommodation has been the most difficult of all on account of the absence of sufficient hotels.

An executive committee of nine has been appointed to push on the arrangements. Among the delegates expected are Sir Robert Laidlaw, president of the World's Sunday School Union of Great Britain as well as a large number of eminent religious workers and delegates from the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, India, Australia and China.

HEINRICH TELLS ABOUT HAWAII IN LECTURE IN INDIA

"The American Boy of Hawaii" was the subject of a lecture which Waldo H. Heinrichs, formerly with the local Y. M. C. A., delivered recently in Madras, India, where he is now located in association work. The "Madras Young Men," a Y. M. C. A. publication, has the following story on the lecture:

"Mr. Waldo H. Heinrichs delivered the inaugural address of the Literary Union for this term on Friday the 3rd of September. His subject was 'The American Boy of Hawaii,' and he had hung up on the walls two big maps of Hawaii to show the geographical position and features of the place. Having come from Honolulu, the capital of the Hawaiian Islands, and having been a secretary of an association which contains a large number of Y. M. C. A. Junior members, he appeared to know everything about boys.

He gave an elaborate description about Hawaiian boys, about their physical prowess, mental ability and general education. He also explained some of their games, their swimming pools and other national amusements and recreation. Lastly, after speaking about the natural temptations of the Hawaiian boys, he warned our members from like things and strongly condemned the use of tobacco, showing clearly the pernicious effect it has upon the human body.

"At the close of the meeting some beautiful photos of Hawaiian people and scenery were shown to the members."

New war taxes, totalling $12,000,000 a year, were ordered by the Italian government. Telegraph rates have been raised and profits of business concerns are to be heavily taxed.

SITUATION IN SUGAR FOUND ABNORMAL NOW

Willett & Gray Says Refiners Have Enough Purchased, But Find Tonnage Very Scarce

Late in October the situation of raw sugars in New York was somewhat abnormal, according to the Willett & Gray resume of conditions published under date of October 28. Part of the summary of conditions follows: Raw.

Last week's report left the market quotation at 3 1/2 c. & f. (4.39c), with buyers sufficiently supplied with raw material to make any further rise for procuring same unnecessary. In fact, the stopping of buying at the high point produced a desire to sell on part of holders which resulted in a reaction to 3 1/4 c. & f. (4.26c), the market quotation as we go to press.

The immediate conditions are somewhat abnormal. While refiners have plenty of raws bought, yet a congestion of transportation in the harbor has caused difficulties in moving the supplies to the refineries without considerable delay. In addition to the difficulties at New York there is also a delay in shipment from Cuba, as some sugars purchased for October-first-half-November shipment will not leave Cuba until November.

Any holder of raws who is in position to make delivery to refinery at once might obtain an advance in price temporarily, and this circumstance prevents any important decline toward new crop values until the present situation is relieved.

Cuba for all November shipment are offered moderately at 3 1/2 c. & f. (4.39c) without important inquiry or demand; and early new crop Cubas can be had at a lower basis, say about 3 c. & f. (4.10c).

There is every indication that the harvesting of the new Porto Rico crop will start early as there have been some negotiations for these sugars for November shipment.

The exports last week from Cuba were very small—4745 tons to Atlantic ports, which in connection with the small imports—53,164 tons, against 47,000 tons required for millings—indicate a firm basis for raws for the immediate future, as suggested above. No new business in Cubas for Europe was reported during the week.

Great Britain appears to have provided for its needs for consumption for the remainder of 1915.

Receipts for the week were 2350 tons, against no receipts for the corresponding week last year. The visible production now stands 2,540,378 tons, against 2,565,335 tons last year, or a decrease of 24,957 tons. Exports were 5745 tons, all to the United States Atlantic ports, according to Mr. Hinesly. Stocks are reduced slightly to 235,331 tons, against 95,000 tons at this time last year. One central continues to make sugar. Light showers of rain and favorable growing weather conditions continue to be reported for the favorable development of the new crop. Refined.

All refiners have remained firm at 5.25c less 2 per cent and refused all orders at any concessions anywhere or in any amounts, in accordance with previous announcement as stated last week.

The new policy, as outlined, appears to give general satisfaction, as it applies only to the terms of the refined sugar business, and not to changes of price. Every refiner makes his own price, as heretofore, but such change in price by any refiner means the price named at the moment made and no concessions of any kind.

American and Howell are still about eight to ten days behind in shipments. A truck can ship Granulated in barrels and 100-lb. bags and some grades of softs promptly, but other grades are about a week delayed. Federal are prompt on all grades and, consequently, for this reason, have been getting a full share of the business it is possible to send you the final outdoing.

turn. Total entries from September 1, 1914, to August 30, 1915, were 1,937,146 bags compared with 1,774,984 bags for previous crop. This is considerably higher than earlier estimates, as it has been found that excessive rains, which did much harm to the lowlands, benefited the upland cane. Foreign exports were 726,500 bags from Pernambuco to end June, and 241,551 bags from Macao. Total, 72,637 tons. Of this 256,442 bags were to the United States, 173,401 bags to Portugal and remainder to the United Kingdom. Macao stock on July 1st was 219,883 bags, most of which has since been shipped. Pernambuco stock September 1st was about 60,000 bags, with little or nothing left on the plantations.

The case for the next crop (1915-16) is very backward, small, and undeveloped. The rainfall having been very poor and coming only in March, much young cane had died off before sufficient water was available. At present, owing to dry weather, the canes promise to ripen quickly. In some districts it is already ripe and some plantations plan to commence grinding next week. The early approach of new sugar has resulted in lower prices, but with the poor crop expected and small stocks, there is little offering. The Macao crop is estimated at 20 per cent less than the last crop.

Our market has ruled quiet and prices are rather easier. Considering the season of the year, the demand is not very encouraging, and owing to recent arrivals of Java sugars stocks have materially increased, being now about three inches of bags.

Some rain is reported in the Panjab, which district has been suffering badly from drought. This is in marked contrast to most other districts in India.

Weather in India was marked by rainfall that continued in the North-east India, Central Provinces and the southern half of the peninsula, but on the whole the monsoon has been less active. Temperature is much higher than usual over Northeast India. Rainfall has been nearly general in Upper Burma, Assam, Bengal, Chota Nagpur and Madras Deccan; local in the Central Provinces, Bombay Deccan and Malabar. A few falls have also occurred in Lower Burma, Orissa, West United Provinces, East Rajputana, South Hyderabad, Mysore and South-east Madras. The rainfall registered at Lucknow up to September 20 was 70 inches, which it is said is twice the normal rainfall.

The agitation continues for having the sugar prices taxed in the sugar producing districts rather than in the consuming centers. As to Finland, the Helsingfors report says that the tone of the sugar market is strong. Stocks of crude sugar limited. There is no refined on the market. The demand is active, and there are no arrivals or offers to be recorded.

Business toward the end of the campaign has been somewhat weaker than in the preceding months, but not sufficiently so to affect prices materially in any part of the country. There has been, for a considerable time, a difficulty in procuring refined sugar and the consequence is that it stands firmer than crude. An idea of the year's business may be gathered from the figures of the first 11 months of the campaign. According to a statement just made there were balances amounting to 17,874,511 pounds (336,000 tons, valued as raw) to begin with and a production of 92,489,774 pounds (1,832,355 tons), balances remaining 22,690,100 (415,000 tons), export 7,951,584 pounds (145,000 tons), consumption 79,711,591 pounds (1,460,000 tons). This includes 30,732,629 pounds of crude and 48,978,963 pounds of refined. Thus the consumption for the 11 months of 1914-15 was greater, compared with that of the preceding campaign, by 10,524,536 pounds (192,000 tons). The consumption of crude sugar increased at a greater rate than that for refined, which is explained by the fact that the latter was in short supply on the consumers' markets. Prices on the week show no material change. The quotations for sugar at Kien an, Loaf, 5 roubles 25 copeck; Broken, 6r. 60c. per poob, and this similarity to previous quotations of recent date holds pretty generally.

Cadillac Standard of the World 19,000 Eight-Cylinder Cadillacs constitute a larger ownership than any other high grade model in the world 19,000 Cadillac Eight-Cylinder cars are now in service. These 19,000 owners naturally represent a wide variety of business, professional and social interests. But they have one striking trait in common. It is perfectly easy to understand their preference—once you have ridden in the Cadillac. They are all seekers after quality of the highest order. And they are satisfied that they have it in the Cadillac. That one ride will compel you to make comparisons—and those comparisons are bound to be favorable to the Cadillac. You can scarcely help saying to yourself: "I am enjoying this ride as I never enjoyed a ride before." You feel the fruits of the years of Cadillac devotion to the quality ideal—in every phase of the car's performance. The steadiness and smoothness and constancy of that performance is so marked that you cannot avoid contrasting it with other rides you have taken. And it is worthy of remark that the enthusiasm of the 19,000 Cadillac owners has deepened as the months have gone by. They have all that they want and all that they could hope for—in ease, in range of efficiency from low to high speed, in quietness, in flexibility, in acceleration, in hill climbing, in complete comfort. They cannot conceive of a manufacturing organization which could give a higher or finer expression to the multi-cylinder principle, than the Cadillac Company. That is why Cadillac ownership is numerically much larger than the ownership of any other model of high grade car. 19,000 owners prefer it to any other because they are satisfied that they can get more out of it, in every sense of the word, than they can get out of any other car. Home Course in Advertising

This Course is in the Paper by Alex. F. Osborn, Instructor in Advertising, Buffalo Y.M.C.A. High School
IN 90 CHAPTERS
A CHAPTER A DAY

PURPOSES OF THE COURSE—(1) To increase returns for the retailer who now advertises. (2) To show the non-advertising retailer how he can lower his prices, yet increase his profits. (3) To suggest to the jobber and manufacturer a cautious method to create demand and increase good-will. (4) To prepare the person with latent advertising ability for a place in this new "profession."

This course, when delivered personally to a class of students, costs $15. It is equivalent to a correspondence course which costs $95. The entire 90 lessons will be given exclusively with this newspaper free of charge.

CHAPTER I.

DOES ADVERTISING BENEFIT THE PUBLIC?

Advertising has the center of the commercial stage today. Why? Why does this phase of business fascinate so? Is it because of its magnitude? It represents a yearly expenditure of over $400,000,000. In fact some experts estimate $1,000,000,000 per year. However, there must be some other appeal than mere bigness. What is it? Maybe it is mystery, for the art of advertising is elusive. That is what impels interest.

What is advertising?

What does it matter? We do not care whether advertising can best be defined as "The art of creating a new want," as one authority would have it, or whether its definition is both more specific and more extensive than that. For instance, a thing that is keenly wanted, such as bread, can nevertheless be advertised. Yet, there is no "creation of a new want" with such a commodity—nor with flour. Therefore, to define advertising, you have to cover more than the creation of new wants. And, too, although you may call it art, modern advertising is business from start to finish. It is printed salesmanship, and salesmanship is the business of disposing of goods at a profit.

Advertising costs money. Its only justification is that it makes money. Advertising, for most advertisers, is profitable. For others, it is ruinous. Therefore, the big search is to find why one method will win, while another will lose. Always, the test is in the profit—that is: Sales with a net margin in favor of the advertiser. That is the alpha and omega of advertising.

Yet, even though advertising will bring the advertiser more profit, it may likewise cause lower prices, and thus benefit the people. That result will more than justify advertising from the standpoint of economic desirability.

Advertising is the child of modern conditions. Competition, the much-sought panacea for economic ills, is itself the cause of advertising's magnitude today. Formerly, a few drummers would dispose of the manufacturer's output. Formerly, a favorable word-of-mouth activity would give the local merchant all the business he could take care of "without hiring extra clerks." But the mail-order business, for instance, comes along, and the giant "catalog" houses begin to undersell the local dealer. He finds it hard to "compete"—simply because he has never known competition. He has not been doing enough business in proportion to his rent and other fixed expenses. For those charges taxes his business to about the same degree, whether he sold $100 or $1000 worth a month.

So the local merchant begins to advertise in his home newspaper. And his competitor advertises. Competition makes them both buy more closely. Competition makes them both fight for more business. And, getting more business, they are better able to compete—not only with each other, but with these outside businesses which so aggressively seek to take the trade away from home. And so, the local merchant can now compete, because, through advertising, he can now sell enough more merchandise, so that his cost of doing business goes down from 50 per cent of thereabouts, to where today he averages, the country over, less than 30 per cent.

Likewise the manufacturer grasps the golden opportunity that judicious advertising offers. For instance, the plant that has been doing a business of $100,000 per year used to have 20 drummers running about the county to sell that output. These 20 salesmen cost approximately $50,000 per year, and they have merely scratched the surface of the potential market. At last, the manufacturer decides to take a chance. He lets 10 of the salesmen go, and spends $15,000 on newspaper advertising. His volume of business is even bigger. Thus, instead of $50,000, it costs him only $40,000 to dispose of his product, and the public benefits.

When the Kellogg Toasted Corn Flake people came out in the newspapers with their announcement that in the future, every package was to be covered with a WAXTITE envelope, some economists said: "Phew—how can they so increase the cost of their goods and not raise the price?" The answer is easy—so big has their volume of business become as a result of advertising (according to their own statement) that they have been able not only to lower the price from 15c to 10c, but also they have been able to give a larger package, and on top of that furnish WAXTITE envelopes on all boxes. That is how advertising sometimes increases the purchasing power of the average consumer's dollar.

The public benefits for two reasons: first, the retail merchant who handles this manufacturer's output is willing to sell it with less margin in it for him than he would require of an unadvertised article. The reason he is willing to sacrifice part of his gross profit in this way is that he has to spend less effort in order to sell the kind for which a demand has been

A NEW FIGURE IN WORLD DIPLOMACY.

RICHARD HOOD COLE

WASHINGTON.—With the recognition of Gen. Carranza, a new figure has risen in international diplomacy. This man is not a politician nor a statesman; he doesn't even carry diplomatic credentials. He is a plain American business man, whose plain shirt-sleeved diplomacy has done more for Carranza's cause than yards of gold lace and official red-tape could accomplish.

The new business diplomat is Richard Hood Cole of Pasadena, Cal. He is in the diplomatic game because he is Carranza's close friend and was requested by the "First Chief" to keep an eye on the Constitutionalists' affairs in Washington.

A man of wealth and position, son of Nathan Cole, who was one of the most prominent bankers in St. Louis, Cole has been living quietly in Washington for eight months. To see this steady, keen, blue-eyed man, whose iron-gray hair makes a striking contrast to his vigorous young face, one would be apt to place him as a prosperous banker or manufacturer. As a protégé of Lyman J. Gage, former Secretary of the Treasury, Cole has been interested in large financial affairs for years, devoting himself especially to the financing of large enterprises. He is a friend of Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, who was also a protégé of Secretary Gage.

He is a plain business man, direct in methods and without frills. Yet he has exerted a powerful influence in favor of his Mexican friend. Living in the Willard hotel with his wife, who has been received in the most select circles of Washington society, he has really been the directing force behind the movement to obtain American recognition for the Constitutionalists' government. His good American sense has held the Carranza ship of state in a steady course, and in turbulent times, too.

Cole, with his bulldog tenacity, has plucked along and won victories greater than those won by the guns of the Constitutionalists.

"Venustiano Carranza is a true friend of the United States," said Mr. Cole, in the first interview that he has permitted since he has been here. "His admiration for America and American methods is marked. For instance, he sent his two only daughters to school in St. Louis; he sent 40 Mexican school teachers to a local school in Boston to learn American methods of teaching. He has brought American cattle into his native state, Coahuila; he sent to Oregon and had apple trees shipped to his native state in order to gain the advantage of the best product of American horticulture.

"Carranza believes in education and in his native state—Coahuila—has produced in the last ten years more high-class men than any other state in Mexico. Carranza has brought efficiency into educational, farming and professional life in Coahuila to the highest degree. He is a constructive man and now recognized by the United States will put constructive methods into operation in Mexico, which will bring the republic up to a higher plane than it ever before occupied."

Men from California say that Cole's hobby is helping others. He is the man who gave Jess Willard his big start toward the world's heavy-weight championship by seeking him out and supplying money for him to go and sign up the Jack Johnson fight.

Cole knows a slough of world-famous people, some of whom are almost always to be found at his beautiful home in Pasadena. He and Mrs. Cole have lived here in elegance yet in the greatest simplicity. Both created through advertising in his home newspaper. The other reason why this change in the manufacturer's sales plan benefits the public is that the manufacturer has to be more careful. He has to be sure that his goods are up to a high standard, because he knows that his advertised goods are subject to a severer inspection by the ultimate purchaser than if he had published no claims for his article.

Even further, it often happens that through decreased selling expense, the manufacturer can lower his price if he wants to. And, as a rule, he does want to lower his price so as to lift his volume of business to the highest possible point, and thus secure the maximum net revenue from the sale of his output.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON.—The English language must be used over the telephone, according to the latest order of the authorities. In this, the British government is merely following a rule long enforced in the other belligerent countries. England is still full of Belgian refugees, of whom only the children and youths have learned to speak English, and in the Soho district of London French is still the language commonly heard on the streets. The new rule is expected to cut down telephone receipts in the foreign colonies, but the increase from four to six cents a call will add immensely to the postoffice revenues in the long run. The telephone system is government owned.

HOW YOU MAY THROW AWAY YOUR GLASSES

The statement is made that thousands wear eyeglasses who do not really need them. If you are one of these unfortunates, then these glasses may be ruining your eyes instead of helping them. Thousands who wear these "windows" may prove for themselves that they can dispense with glasses if they will get the following prescription filled at once: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Optona; fill a two-ounce bottle with warm water and drop in one Optona tablet. With this harmless liquid solution bathe the eyes two to four times daily and you are likely to be astonished at the results right from the start. Many who have been told that they have astigmatism, eye-strain, cataract, sore eyelids, weak eyes, conjunctivitis and other eye disorders, report wonderful benefits from the use of this prescription. Get this prescription filled and use it; you may so strengthen your eyes that glasses will not be necessary. Thousands who are blind, or nearly so, or who wear glasses would never have required them if they had cared for their eyes in time. Save your eyes before it is too late. Do not become one of those victims of neglect. Eyeglasses are only like crutches and every few years they must be changed to fit the ever-increasing weakened condition, so better see if you can, like many others, get clear, healthy, strong magnetic eyes through the prescription here given.—adv.

Pay your taxes today; after the 15th inst. 10 per cent will be added. Take your tax bill with you. Payment to be made in U. S. gold coin or certified check.—Adv.

One found in the Yellow Pine mining district of Nevada contains rich platinum deposits.

CRISCO
Butterless Cake Making!
Rich Crisco Cakes Without Butter Expense

Perhaps you believe that nothing but expensive butter will do for cake making? Perhaps the high price of butter and eggs makes you hesitate to make many cakes?

But with Crisco you can produce as excellent a cake as with the finest butter. Your Crisco cake will also stay fresh and moist longer. This is being proved every day in thousands of homes. Try the above recipe. There are several rich Crisco cakes which may be made for twenty-five cents and less.

MERLE'S MUSINGS

Carrying a swollen cheek during the past few days has been an awful burden in more ways than one. I suppose that an open confession is good for what ails me, so I want to say that this disfigurement to my otherwise pleasant phiz was brought about about through my resenting a slur at our city duds. The other fellow said that our board of supervisors ought to be made to take out an amusement license.

Comment of an incandescent nature is being heard on the street regarding the alleged laxity of local police officials in letting prisoners escape. We prepared several columns of this comment, from many hundreds of sources, with the sole intention of letting one-half of the city know what the other half thought about it, but the editor says that this is a family paper and it couldn't be printed.

When is a joke not a joke? Possibly when viewed by those Americans who preferred England to their native land as a place of residence and who are contributing quite extensively to the war fund of that country. Among "those present" who are enjoying the distinction might be mentioned William Waldorf Astor, who quite a number of years ago became a subject of King George, for the reason, it is alleged, that he wanted to avoid paying taxes in New York. According to the world news he is now said to be punting up to the tune of $1,250,000 a year income tax to help save that country.

We will not attempt to follow Mr. Ford's argument that he can and will furnish a new engine that will knock the spots out of war. Go ahead and let's have 'em.

"For an American citizen to vote as a German-American, an Irish-American or an English-American is to be a traitor to American institutions, and those hyphenated Americans who terrorize American politicians by threats of the foreign vote are engaged in treason to the American republic."
—Mr. Roosevelt to the Knights of Columbus.

There are a whole lot of persons that would do well to learn this by heart.

Sure, we believe in the long ballot, and that it should be cast by every voter—at the head of the party responsible for it and have a block of lava rock in it to help the casting.

We learn something every day, even way out here in the Pacific. One of

LEGAL NOTICES.
No. 230.
TERRITORY OF HAWAII—LAND COURT.
TERRITORY OF HAWAII TO L. M. YATA; K. TAKAHASHI; U. TANAKA; I. YAKUMA; E. JO; TAI NAM; C. SAITO; M. YOSHIOKA; Y. ISHISAKI; CHEE-SUN; T. YANAGIHARA; I. NAGIMORI; SAIKAIYA HOTEL; I. FUJINAKA; M. KUBA; TERRITORY OF HAWAII by I. M. Stainback, Attorney General, and Joshua D. Tecker, COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC LANDS; CITY AND COUNTY OF HONOLULU, by John C. Lane, Mayor and President of the Board of Supervisors, and to ALL whom it may concern:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by George Campbell to register and confirm his title in the following-described land:

Beginning at the south corner of this lot on the mauka line of King street. This point is also the south corner of L. C. A. 4747 to Kama and the west corner of L. C. A. 3029 to Kaapuli. From this point the Government street monument at the junction of King and Heretania streets bears by true azimuth 350° 49' 30" 152.87 feet and running by true azimuth:

1. 195° 45' 63.5 feet along King street to west corner of building;
2. 165° 27' 39" 176.77 feet along the northern portion of L. C. A. 4747 to Kama (E. C. Winston lot) to an iron pipe;
3. 340° 58' 64.45 feet, along L. C. A. 6236 to Kaulaawaawa to north corner of L. C. A. 3029 to Kaapuli;
4. 71° 43' 182.16 feet, along L. C. A. 3029 (Annie Akong lot) to initial point.

Area 11,490 square feet, and being a portion of L. C. A. 4747 to Kama. You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court, to be held at the City and County of Honolulu on the 16th day of November, A. D. 1915, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, to show cause if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness the Honorable William L. Whitney, judge of said court, this 22d day of October in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen.
Attest with seal of said court:
(Seal) JOHN MARCALLINO,
Registrar.

Our local milliners has let go a secret that has been held for thousands of years. She says it is psychology that causes a woman to pay $15 for a hat and we have thought all along it was the Pacific Mail freight charges.

That U. S. army officer who has discovered that a lot of bald-headed women in China are in the habit of painting their scalps didn't have much to do. Still, he has given the world an idea. What could look prettier than a bald-headed woman with her scalp painted red, white and blue?

Now, that this country has recognized Carranza as head of the Mexican republic there may be some of our citizens of a mind to go down there and reform those people. But, say, see United States first.

This may be a little previous, but it is to be hoped that the people responsible for the street Santa Claus that usually stands at the corner of Hotel and Fort streets will supply that juvenile saint with a fact that the children can approach without a shudder. The face of last year's Santa would fry onions.

Speaking of Mexico so often in the papers bring to mind two warm propositions—the tamale and Felix Diaz. The tamale is accounted for, but the last that we heard of Felix he was running for President of Mexico. Wonder if he thinks it is some place near Cape Town?

Far be it from me to criticize or comment on the writings of great authors, but would just say, in passing, that in Mrs. Jack London's story of the "Snark" she states that in their trip from San Francisco to Honolulu, they steered out through the Golden Gate, bound for Honolulu, steering southeast. If the wind held true, and the Snark kept that course she should have fetched up at a point some place near Waco, Texas.

Some time ago there was a man in some town in Massachusetts attempting to demonstrate to the world that a person could live on four cents a day. Has anybody heard of him lately? Perhaps that is all it is worth to live there, anyhow.

Blessed be nothing. John D. has placed a double guard about his home since the shooting of Morgan. Yours truly and a couple of other poor dubs here in Honolulu don't have to hire protection against the fanatical enemies of wealth.

That old joke of mortgaging the home to buy an automobile is not half the joke some people think it is. To our way of thinking it seems awful foolish to put a plaster on the home just to get possession of an auto, but then, people who have an auto say that they don't care if they have a home or not.
