Before Judd, C. J., McCally wed Justin, J.J. Opinion of the Court by McCally, J.

This case being on the calender of crimin cases at the present term, the Attorney-appellate court in banco. See 1000 contains like previation for appeal from any police dating issuites to the circuit or supresse cour Taking these provisions as they stand as disconnected from all other mannings, they would seem to be no ground for any other contraction than that there was a right of appeal wery case tried by circuit judges and pelday in August of each year. By set up; Jan. 19 1865, the circuit court of the fi dicial circuit was abolished for this r stated in the preamble, "whereas from the dence and frequent sessions of the Supe Court in the island of Oahu, the circuit of for the first judicial circuit has fallen into dis use and is deemed unnecessary.

The act provides for the same appeals which sationed in the other circuits, by the creation of an intermediary court

Sec. 881 of the Civil Code, which reads, "Th

language is not in our view limited by the terms of Section 881, quarted above, whereby certain jurisdiction is given to the aircuments, for it is not made autiliative to thou Sections $29 and 881 must be taken together

Sections S70 and S81 must be taken together, and they give to the courts appellate jurisdiction co-stenears with their curouits, and to the Supreme Court appellate inriadiction constitution with the Kingdom, and also conclurated with each circuit.

The learned Attorney-leveral admits in argument that the provise clause in Sections 1000 and 1007 gives an appeal from the lower courts on paints of law to cithen the Supreme er respective circuit court in hanco. Such is the direct import of the language. But we cannot see that the provision in general appeal is given in a different way.

The right of appeal depends wholly on the statute. If she statute gives in to the Supreme Court, even in avery case which is beard by Court, even in every case which is heard by the lower magistrates and the the circuit judges, we cannot deep it upon any cordeline allows of the inconveniences which may arise from the possibility of bringing at no portion of business to the Supreme Co f drawing witnesses and appellers to a dis-ant forum. The highest court of a country of drawing witnesses and appeared to a untest foreith. The highest coart of a country the arginisms of "inconvenience" may be offsel by the consideration that justice may require for the proper adjustication of important questions which may be involved in cases coming before the lowest counts, that they be carried before the highest trainmal and there settled for law upon the follest arguments and authorities which can be presented. And our reports show immerces instances where this course has been pureled, to some of which

course has been pureled, to some of which counsel for she defendant calls our attention.
We do not food that pleas was raised in such appellate jurisdiction. The cours proceeded on the direct and literal construction of sections 1006 and 1007 without question.

Epon full consideration of the premises we are of the opinion that the other southers of the code which have been cited against this construction do not subhuma any other constrution than the object transitioning one hitherty expection do not authorize any other construc-tion than the plain transliguous use hithert taken. Our opinion is that the appeal in the case before us is properly taken, and we now Atturney-General Nominion and Mr. Whiting for the Crewin A.S. Hartwell for the deft. Hesselnia, April 18th 1881.

Supreme Court of the Hawatian Islands-April Term--In Banco. THE KING VS. C. Y. ATONA AND APOL Before Juile, C. J., McCally and Austin, J. J. Opinion of the Court by McCally, J.

This case being on the calender of crimina cases at the present term, the Attorney-General moves the court to dismiss the appeal for want of jurisdiction. The Chief Justice, holding the term, reserves the question.

It is an appeal from a conviction before one of the local circuit judges in chambers, of the third judicial circuit, for violation of the act relating to the sale of spirituous liquors. The appeal is taken generally on the facts as well the law, under the provisions of Sec. 1667 of the civil code, as follows: Any party deemin himself aggreeved by the decision of any circuit judge at chambers in any case, whether civil or criminal, may appeal therefrom to the cir-cuit court or the Supreme Court by giving ac-tice, etc, provided always that when such appeal is taken solely upon exceptions to the de-cision of the circuit judge on points of law the appeal shall be heard and determined by the appellate court in banco. Sec 1996 contains a like provision for appeal from any police or istrict justice to the circuit or supreme court.

Taking these provisions as they stand and isconnected from all other enactments, there would seem to be no ground for any other con-struction than that there was a right of appeal is every case tried by circuit judges and police and district justices, to either the Suprems Court or the Circuit Court as the appellant might elect. It is the direct meaning of the ords employed.

But the common practice during the twenty.

five years of the existence of the code, has been that appeals, particularly in Crown cases and upon the facts, so requiring jury trial, are taken to the circuit courts of the three circuits when there are such courts, and to the Supreme Court only in cases arising in the in-ferior courts of Oahu, although it appears that this common practice has not been without exception, yet the question of jurisdiction ha

The civil code as it was enacted in 1839, continued the previous division of the King-dom into four judicial circuits, of which the island of Oahu was the first, and provided for each a circuit court, with a term or terms thereof. The circuit court of the first circuit thereof. The circuit court of the first directives to be held at Honelulu, on the first Tuesday in August of each year. By act approved Jan. 10 1855, the circuit court of the first judicial circuit was abolished for this reason, stated in the preamble, "whereas from the residence and frequent sessions of the Supreme Court in the island of Oahu, the circuit court for the first judicial circuit has fallen into disuse and is deemed unnecessary."

use and is deemed unnecessary."

The act provides for the same appeals which continued in the other circuits, by the creation of an intermediary court.

The prosecution mainly base the motion of Sec. 881 of the Civil Code, which reads, "The criminal jurisdiction of the circuit courts shall be co-extensive with the circuits for which be co-extensive with the circuits for which they were created. It shall be appellate from the district and police courts thereof, in all cases recognizable before shows courts and eniginal in other cases. The Supreme (Corri in the King vs. Palukos. Oct. 1566, refused jurisdiction of an indictment charging the de-fendant with a felloty committed within the fourth indicial circuit, the interest within the fourth judicial circuit, the indictment not befourth judicial circuit, the indictment not be-ing brought before the court by change of ve-mee from that circuit. The argument is made that the provision for an appeal to the circuit ceurt or the Supreme Court did not give an alternative appeal, but was dealing in the same section with two subjects, employing semiewhat loose and inaccurate language however, and should be construed to intend that appeals should be taken to the several circuit courts in the circuits where they existed, and to the Supreme Court in the first circuit.

But against this view there is the immediat objection that at the date of the civil cod No phrase is used which limits the aveisions of commissioners of rights of way is "to the circuit court of the island or if the controversy is on the island of Oahu, to the Supreme Court," and an alternative appeal was appeals "to the circuit court of the respecti circuits or to the Supreme Court." So appeals from the Boundary Commissioners were made expressly and exclusively to the several cir cuit courts in all the circuits except the first when they were expressly made to the Supreme Court. These are illustrations of the fact the the intention of the Legislature as to the course of appeal may be made, and is made b apt and plain words, admitting of no doubt as what is granted. By Section 829 the Supreme Court has juris diction in all cases in law or equity, civil o before it by writ, appeal or otherwise. This language is not in our view limited by the terms of Section 881, quoted above, whereby a certain jurisdiction is given to the circuit courts, for it is not made exclusive to them. Sections 520 and 851 must be taken together and they give to the course appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with their circuits, and it the Supreme Court appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the Kingdom, and also concurrence with the Kingdom, and also concurrence with the Kingdom, and also concurrence with the Kingdom.

rent with each circuit. The learned Attorney-General admits i argument that the provise clause in Section 1006 and 1007 gives an appeal from the lowe courts on points of law to either the Suprem er respective circuit court in banco. Such i the direct import of the language. But we cannot see that the provision for general appeal is given in a different way,

The right of appeal depends wholly on th statute. If the statute gives it to the Suprem-Court, even in every case which is heard by the lower magistrates and by the circuit judges, we cannot deny it upon any condsiderfrom the possibility of bringing at much may arise from the possibility of bringing at much proportion of business to the Supreme Court, and of drawing witnesses and appellees to a distant forum. The highest court of a countr will not favor a construction by inference which narrows its own jurisdiction, moreove the argument of "inconvenience" may be off set by the consideration that justice may re quire for the proper adjudication of imports questions which may be involved in case coming before the lowest courts, that they be carried before the highest tribunal and the settled for law upon the follest arguments and sutherities which can be presented. And ou reports show numerous instances where this course has been pursued, to some of which We de not find that plea was ruised to suc appellate jurisdiction. The court proceeded on the direct and literal construction of sectime 1006 and 1007 without question.

Upon full consideration of the premises w are of the opinion that the other secode which have been cited against this construction de not authorize any other construction than the plain unambiguous one hitherto taken. Our opinion is that the appeal in the case before us is properly taken, and we are Attorney-General Neuman and Mr. Whiting for the Crown; A. S. Hartwell for the deft.

THE KING OF ALIONA. Before Judd C. J., McColly and Austin J. J. The facts of the case being similar to those of The King vs. C. Y. Afona and Apol, this day decided by us, the motion to dismiss the appeal herein is denied, for the reason ex-

It may probably arrive at perihelion again about May, 1885. If there should still be unpublished observa tions of this comet, it would be desirable icate them at once to M. Gautier, that they may be brought to bear upon his investigation. showing the increase in the value of property on the Islands. Mr. Walker make two good suggestions as to the working of the law. He proposes first, that more time

This is most necessary. It is to be hoped that the Minister of Finance, who ever he may be in the future, will take the hint.

Jargers's report on the Hawaiian Ninseries published to-day, will interest a number of citizens, both in Honolulu and on the other Islands. The development of the Forests upon the islands has been recognized by the country at large. It is slow work however, and takes years for practical results to show, but there is no doubt that with proper care and management the Hawaiian nation may derive a revenue, and a good revenue from its forest lands. Unti the arguments shall have been stated, for and against the measure, we prefer to revenue, and a good revenue from its forest lands. The Prassian Government in

It is satisfactory to see that there has seen an effort made to improve our sugar axies. The Report says that from 16 to 0 varieties, new to the islands, have been tributed among 22 plantations. It seems to be generally understood that the bank of Bishop & Co, and the houses of T. H. Davies & Co., and Dillingham & Co., coincide with this view, but until those gentlemen shall think fit to make public announcement of their wishes conerning currency, it would be premature

That the house of Irwin & Co., which was instrumental in bringing the recent the Minister of Interior on the subject of the Honolulu water supply. It by no means puts the subject definitely before the public, but we expect that before the silver coin into the country, will oppose any change to a United States gold curvote is passed by the Legislature more ex-net information will be offered. The Minister of Finance—and for aught we know, our theological cotemporaries, who do not like personal discussion in politics—may if they chose, rank the adherents of a gold currency among "the internal enemies of the country." It is even thought by many, that the pride which the King and his family take in a Hawaiian coinage will disincline them to the proposed change. We think better of the kington south representative Godfrey Brown stated that the matter did not need an inquiry by the Assembly as the discrepancy land occurred by a transaction of the Finance Committee on Finance Representative Kanlakou favorid the matter that was composed of expable accountants, none for the Kingdon, they would have an opportunity to examine books and papers and outle set for the Kingdon and what was paid out.

Of course before any such sum is voted, our Legislature will need to be thoroughly acquainted with the Major's plans. So important a matter requires full consideration and we trust that the full plan may shortly be made public. This communication from Major Bender ap-pears without the endorsement of the Superintendent of Water Works, in fact the Ministerial document contains no report king's good sense and public spirit, than to believe that his course will be governed by such paltry consideration. If he is once satisfied, that with a United States gold currency, the country can be freed from the present incubus of unfavorable exchange, and be permanently free from the control of those who hold the bulk of the sugar consignments, he will not hesi tate. And moreover a Hawaiian coinage is as well maintained with the $350,000 or so, of silver coin, which is all that is required for subsidiary purposes, and with the great body of the currency in United States gold coin, as if all the currency were silver.

Even American silver, as well as British sovereigns, how command a premium here, six per cent having been offered and paid for it, within the last week. This fact ought to open the eyes of people.

Ox Friday, at the instance of Hon, S. B. Dole, a resolution was passed by the House of Brows of Representatives addressed to the Committee on Friday.

A case in banco in the Supreme Court lest week, shows how the first may be last and the last may be first, in law, as well as in the Gospel. One Abuna had applied to the water commissioners for a decision on his water rights. The Commissioners' decision was appealed from by nine or ten persons, the Hon. Mr. Amara among them, to the Supreme Court. Bickerton and Hartwell for Abuna suggested to the Court that the appellants did not appear by the Commissioners' record to have been parties to the proceeding, and that the appeal ought to be dismissed on the ground that appellants had no status in the case, or else the case ought to be dismissed on the ground that appel-iants had no status in the case, or cles the case should be put back for amendment of the record, it to allow these appellaints to become parties. The court held that the appeal was not rightly aken for the reason named; and also set aside the commissioners' dension, which was precisely that the appellants wanted.

To retain this will require the construction of an earth or masonry dam of large dimensions. Considerations of real economy as well as due regard for the safety of private property lying below any site that may be selected, demand that this structure should be of the most suduring character, and that only the best materials should be used and only the most perfect mode of construction be permitted.

With these things in view I have calculated approximately the cost of the soost important part of such a work. The character of the material upon which it must be founded, and the depth at which that material lies are as yet unknown and the progress of certain parts of the work may be slow. I

Reply referred to Committee on Revision and rollment.

The plaintiff sought to receiver below for damages to his carriage and the loss of its use by the furious and reckless driving by the defendant, of his horse and carriage in one of the atreets of Henolulu.

The defendant offered to prove in defence that when the accident occurred the parties were returning, latered night, from Walkiki, where they had been attending a "hela" dance, contrary to law, which the plaintiff had originated and promoted.

The testimony was excluded by the Court.

presented information relative to the date of the Hawaiian coin becoming the currency of the country, via: by resolution of the Privy Council, dated Dec. 18, 1880.

At 12:06 on motion the Assembly took a recess until 1 p. m.

think this principle has been carried too far in many cases. A rule which withdraws a man and his property from the ordinary protection of the law ought not to be lightly established. It is sufficient to overfitney the defence offered here, to say that when the injury recovered for was done the parties had left the "bula" and at that time were not engaged in any unlawful act.

Further. "The general principle which allows defenses" in such cases is that a party cannot maintain an action when his own illegal ac tmust be shown as a part of his case, and to make out his claim."

See Offegg vs. Wyman and another, 1 Cosh. tative Smith road for the first time, a nd Chapter 24, Session Laws 1862, rela-"Suppression of Contagious Diseases tile." On motion of Representative n, the rules were suspended, bill read a se and referred to the Judiciary Com-See Gregg vs. Wyman and another, 1 Cosh. R. 322-7.

In the case at ber no such proof was neces-sary. The first heard of the "hula" was from the offer of the defendant. Again. In Steele vs. Burkhardt, 104 Mass.
50, 63, Chapman C. J. says: "And it is true generally, that, while no person can essintain an action to which he must trace his title through his own breach of the law, yet the fact that he is breaking the law does not leave him remediless for injuries, wilfully or carefact that he is breaking the law does not leave him remediless for injuries, wilfully or care-lessly done to him, and to which his own con-duct has not contributed."

This principle is fatal to the defendant. See also Hall vs. Corcoran 107 Mass. 251-00. Welch vs. Wesson 0 Gray 505, where the doc-trine is fully austained.

The Court in Sutton vs. Wautoss, 29 Wis. 21 say: "To make good the defense (of illegality) it must appear that a relation existed between the act of violation of law, on the part of the plaintiff, and the injury or accident of which he complains, and the relation must have been such as to have caused or helped valley known as the Asmenamena IV road. Land on table to be considered with the Appropriation Bill.

The Minister of. Foreign Affairs, by permission of the Assembly, made a statement relative to the resolution offered by Representative Dole and said that he had given the natter his affection and had prepared a parophist connected with the Bureau of Foreign affairs which would contain the "views and policy, not only of sugget," but also of my colleagues," on the subject. The subject has been gone into very exhaustively and embodies considerable correspondence. The pamphlet is at present in the hands of the printers, but the speaker thought that he would be enabled to place it before the Assembly on Saturday or Monday. If the Assembly would accept this statement until the production of the report, the resolution would, in the near future, be fully answered.

We think this principle is sound, and decisive of this case. The fact that plaintiff some time previous, and in a remote spot from the place of collision had premoted an unlawful "hula" has no relation that we can see to the collision, nor did it in any way, contribute to it. The judgment must be affirmed.

Theodore Thomas, the eminent conductor, has, on several occasions, rebuked ill-mannered people by stopping the performance and asnouncing that it would not proceed until there was silence in the audience.

Ole Bull, the great violinist, once silenced a Queen, who thought that she could talk while he was playing. The violinist was to play before a distinguished company, among whom was the Queen Dowager of Naples, at the Duke of Lucca's palace.

After the introduction by the piano had been in which the Queen took a prominent part.

A friend whispered to ble Bull not to mind it, but to begin his solo. He, however, quietly stood with his violin under his arm, in the attitude of waiting. The Duke asked if he desired anything.

"Last week, my breethrin, as I was a-readin' my Bible, I found a stery of a big fight (I Samuel, XVII.) It was powerful interestion" and I studied it most all the week. There was two armies campin on two mountains right forneust each other, and a holler and. I reckon, some good bottom-land and a medder-lot lying between 'em. In one of the armies there was a big feller—a whoppin, great, big feller—and every day he went down into the medder-lot and looked up the hill to t'other camp, and jest dared 'em! He told 'em to pick their best man and send him down, and he'd fight am, And he jes' strutted around there in his soger-close, and waited.

An English committee has bee formed told 'em to pick their best man and send mindown, and he'd fight him. And he jes' strutted around there in his soger-close, and waited for 'em to send on their man. And such soger-close I never heard tell on afore. He had a brass cap and brass trousers, and a cost made like mail-bags where they are all ironed and riveted together. But the fellers in t'other camp just clean fluiked. They darn't fight the big feller, nary one of 'em. They jest sneaked away, and the big feller he wont back to camp. But he didn't quit that, the big feller didn't. He was spilin' for a fight, and he was bound to have it. He jest went down into the bottom-land, into the medder-lot, every day, mornin and evenin', and dared 'em dared 'em, I tell you he did pester 'e a mightily. The old feller, Saul, the gineral, he felt more chawed up and meaner than the sogers, and, when he couldn't stan't it no longer, he told the boys if any of 'em would go down and lick that big feller he'd give him his gal, and a right smart chance of plunder. But they was all so skeer'd that even that didn't start one of 'em. The big feller went down they was all so skeer'd that even that didn't start one of 'em. The big feller went down and dared 'em and postered 'em more'n a month-forty days, the Bible say. I don't know what they'd a-done if it hadn't a-be'n that a peart little feller had come down to camp one day to fetch some extra rations to his three big brothers that their old dad had sent to 'em from home. Kind old pap he was, and sharp, too, for he sent along a big present to the boys' cap'en. Well, jest as the little brother drove up, they was all gwine out to fight, and the little feller left his traps with the driver, legged it after the segers, and told his big brothers howd'y. Right that the Ginger Ale but ours told his big brothers howd'y. Right that the old hig feller come out and dared 'em agin, and they was all so skeer'd that they jest run like mad. The little feller heard him, and then went back into camp and heard all the sogers talking about him, and what the old sogers talking about him, and what the old gineral would give to have him licked. He asked 'em a heap of questions about it all, and the hig brother he got mad at him, and twitted him about keeping sheep, and give him a right smart pile of sass. He plucky, but you see he had to stan'it, 'cause 'twas big brother. Big brothers are mighty mean some-

"But the little feller talked a heap with the other sogers, and they told the old gineral about him, and he told them to tell the little feller to come and see him. The little feller feller to come and see him. The little feller was mighty plucky, and jost up and told the old Gineral Saul that he'd fight the big felter! The gineral looked at the handsome little feller—he was raal handsome—and ses he, kinder sottly, I reckon, and shakin his head—'ft's too big a job; you're only a chunk of a boy, and he's an old fighter.' The little feller spunked up and told the old giniral that he'd had one h'ar fight, and he'd killed the b'ar. He said there was an old lion and a b'ar got among his dad's abeep, and was gwine off with a lamb. He broke for 'cm, and as soon as he met up with the old b'ar he lammed him, till the b'ar turned on him for a hug; but he got one hand with the old b'ar he lammed him, till the b'ar turned on him for a hug; but he got one hand into the long ha'r, under his jaw, and he lammed him with the other till he was dead. He'd killed the lion and the b'ar, and he knowed he was enough for the old big feller. "Then the little feller talked raal religious to the old gineral. You see he'd got religior, afore that, and he know'd that the Lord would help a feller, if he was all right, and got in a tight place. He told Gineral Saul that the Lord had made him mighty supple, and looked out for him when the old lion and b'ar tried to get their pawe into him; and he knew he'd see him through the fight with the old big feller; for he was jest darin' om and peaterin' em to make game of religion. When the old 'em to make game of religion. When the old gineral seed he was so plucky, and religious too, he knowd them's the kind that fit powertoo, he know them's the kind that ht powertul, and he told him to go in, and he made a little pra't for him hisself. Then the old gineral put his own soger-close on the little feller, and strapped his sword on to him. But they was all a heap too big, and he shucked

'em off d'rectly, and made for a dry branch down in the bottom. There he hunted five little rocks, smooth as a hen-egg, put 'em in a little bag where he carried his snack when he was a tendin' the sheep on this shack when a little bag where he carried his snack when he was a-tendin' the sheep, get his sling fixed all right, and hurried up to meet the old big feller in the medder-lot. When he seed him comin' he was powerful mad they'd sent down such a little feller, and jawed awful. But the little feller, and jawed awful. But the little feller, and jawed awful. But the little feller seet talked back religious, and kept his eye peeled. And I reckon the big feller could't a-be'n a-lookin.' I've studied a heap on it, and I jest know the big feller couldn't a-be'n a-lookin.' I've studied a heap on it, and I jest know the big feller couldn't a-be'n a-lookin.' I've studied a little rock at him, and he popped him, and down he tumbled. Then the little feller rushed up and mounted en him, jest as an old bunter.

VIENNA BEER, in quarts a GUINNESS STOUT; in quarts all guinness stout, in quarts a guinness stout, in down he tumbled. Then the little feller rushed up and mounted en him, jest as an old bunter loves to get on a b'ar after he's shot him; and he out with the big feller's long sword and off with his head. Then it was them Philistine sinners' turn to be skeer'd, and they broke for the brush; and all them chil'en of Israel fellers jest shouted and chased 'em clean over the mountain into a vally, and then com'd back and got all their camp-plander.

"I have just had a letter from my home in China," said Chang, "and it has put noe in my good spirits. Won't you have some lunch?" Both the reporter and his guide declined. "Well, I'm going to have some. Sit down while I get a bite," remarked the giant, and he proceeded to eat. As the lunch proceeded he chatted away at a lively rate about the French treubles in Southwestern China, and expressed his opinion that the Frenchmen would be pretty sick of the war before they got through."

During the course of his talk a careful note was made of what he ate, and when at length he arose the following list stared at the startled reporter from the page of his notebook: Four large plates of soup, forty-three fried

The Volcanic Eruption of Krakatan

Considering that the volcanic errention, of which the Straits of Sunda have been for the last eight months the center, is among the most stupendous of our times, and that the attendant phenomena have given rise to many questions of the highest scientific, and we may may be interesting to our readers.

The island of Krakatau (such, and not Krakatau, is the native name) is situated in latitade 6-7 S., longitude 105-26 E., in the fair-way of the Sunda Straits, about equally distant from Java and Suneatrs, close on 26 miles W.S.W. from the village and lighthouse of Anjer, the call-port or signal station, prior to the present craption, for all vessels passing through that frequented channel. It was a small uninhabited island about five miles in length and three in breadth, culminating in two elevations, the taller of which, known as the Peak of Krakatau, rises (or did rise) some 2,750 feet above the sea. Surrounding it en all sides are numerous volcanic cones. The Tengamees (or Kuiser's Peak) to its northwest is aituated at the bead of the Semangka Bay, and the quiescent Rajabasa to its northwest in another properties of Sametra. east in the southern promontory of Sumatra; in the east by south the Karang smoulders in Bantam, and southeast rise the active cones of boundary on the castward side of the shallow Java Sea, which rarely exceeds fifty fathoms, and on the west side of the deep Indian Ocean. On looking at a map of the locality before the eruption it will be seen that close to the east and northwest sides of Krakatan, there are two small fragments of land, Lang and Verlaten Islands respectively. It is Mr. Norman Lockrespectively. It is are somain locatively yet a opinion that these are two higher edges of the old run of a subsided crater, overflawed in part by the sen through inequalities in the margin between them; that the heights on Ktakalau itself, the remaining portion of the old volcano summit are cones clevated on this old effects were experienced on the evening of the 26th, commencing about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. They were manufacted by violent explosions, heard in Anjer, Telokbetong, and as far as Batavia, accompanied by high waves, which after first retreating rolled upon both sides of the Straits, causing much damage to the villages there, and were followed by a night of unusually pitchy darkness. These horrors continued all night with increasing violence, till midnight, when they were angmented by electrical phenomenon a terrifying scale, which enveloped not only the ships in the vicinity but embraced those at a distance of even ten to a dozen miles. As the furid gleams that played on the gigantic column of smelec and ashes were seen in Batavia,

Many mignitude of the surface of lumns of the power of imprisonness of the power of imprisonness of the power of imprisonness of medical and ashes were seen in Batavia, out it covered the whole western end of Java and the south of Sumatra for hundreds of square miles with a pall of impenetrable darkness. During this period abnormal atmospheric and magnetic displays were observed; compass needles rotated violently, and the barometer rose and fell many tenths of an inch in a minute. Following at no great interval, and amorayment between ten and treater and and somewhere between ten and twelve o'clock in the forenoon of the same day, either by successive rapid outbursts or by one single supreme convulsion, the subterranean powers burst their prison walls with a detonation so terrific as to have been, as it seems, inaudible from its very innearity to become from its very immensity to human cars in its close vicinity, but which spread consternation close vicinity, but which spread consternation and alarm to the dwellers within a circle whose diameter by across nearly 3000 miles, or 50 degrees of lengitude.

With sunrise or, the 28th the immense curtain which had enveloped so wide an area in darkness gradually began to clear off, and the light invoke on a scene of devastation of the saddest kind, but on one of comparative placifity, as if nature by exhausted after her frantic parcysen. Krakatan was seen reduced to a fraction of its original size, the whole of the northern portion, and half of the peak itself had vanished. To the northward, however, two new pieces of land, which have received the names of Steers and Calmeyer islands, raised their tops above the surface of the sea, where the morning previous 30 to 40 fathoms of water had existed. Of the two islets on each side of Krakatan, Lang Island is left practically unaltered, while Verliften Island seems obevited connewhat, and is reported to be in eruption. But where the volumes the previous desires of the seas and there are a series of the seas and the part of the seas and the season of the sea ported to be in eruption. But where the vol-estic had been so active a few hours before, a sea fathomics with a line of a thousand feet, is now to be found. is now to be found.

The first great waves on the evening of the 29th and the early part of the 27th were probably caused by a portion of Krakatan being shot out northwards for eight miles and dropped where we have now Steers Island; while the appalling detonation in that forenous and the greater wave that accompanied it resulted perhaps from that still more tilanic effort which lifted the greater portion of Krakatau—several thousand million cubic varies of mater. several thousand million cubic yards of mater. tal-out by its 170 fathom root, hurled it through the air over Lang Island, and plunged it into the sea some seven miles to the north-east, where Calmeyer Island now blocks the channel which mariners have known so long as the Calmeyer.

channel which mariners have known so long as the East passage.

The reports we have as to the tidal plications differ from different places. It is a remarkable circumstance that in the logs of several ships which were in the close vicinity of the volcane in the foreneon of the 27th, no mention is made of the great wave which proved so destructive, and which could scarcely, one conceives, have failed to attract attention. May the explanation not lie in the supposition that these two great waves—the intush and the splash waves—which would follow each that these two great waves - the rotan and the splash waves - which would follow each | Per J. While the tide guages have recorded their story, the delicate ingers have recorded their story, the delicate ingers of the barometrical registers of the world have also borne uninfluenced testimony of a similar kind. The blow which hurled such a mass of matter into the air, which originated a hurricane there and caused the barometers in the cane there and caused the barometers in the neighborhood of the volcane to rise and fall with unparalleled rapidity and a vessel distant 300 miles to tremble, started an atmospheric wave also round the globe. It was first detec-Banam, and southeast rise the active cones of the Buitenzorg Mountains. Standing in the Straits and very little to the north of Krakatau are the two dormant or dead cones of Sebesia and Sebesia. A line drawn from Rajabasa, passing along the western side of Krakatau and continued theore to Prince's Island, which his so of Java Head, would mark the boundary on the castward side of the shallow has been found to be that of sound. One sur-prising circumstance, of which we have as yet observed no explanation, is how those ships which were near the volcano at the moment the suprreme explosions, of the enermity is part by the sen through inequatities in the margin between them; that the heights on Krakatau itself, the remaining portion of the old volcato summit are comes cievated on this old crater floor; and that the ancient funnel is practically co-extensive with the area inclosed by these three islets, though, till the 20th of May last, blocked up by volcanic debris.

On the 20th of May, 1883, at half-past ten in the ferviscon, the inhabitants of Batavia were astounded by hearing a dull bosoning noise, whether proceeding from the air or beliew was doubtful, soon followed by the forcible drumming and rattling of all the doors and windows in the place.

With the record of the abnormal atmospheric finctuations, magnificent sunlight effects, unusually fund akies, prolonged dawns, lengthened twilights, and green or blue or meen-like symbol to observed. From the dates at which those phenomena first appeared in different parts of the world—on the east coast of Africa on the second day, the Gold Coast on the third, Trinidad on the sixth day, at 4,000 miles in the Pacific west of Panama on the seventh, and at Housdalu on the minth day—it can be seen that the volcanic cloud followed a straight path.

Cheribon, 590 miles to the east, was being ejected during the night.

Between 5 and 7 o'clock, (for the hour is unsertain) in the morning of the 27th, there was a still more gigantic explosion, heard in the Andaman Islands and in India, which produced along both shores of the Strait an immense tidal movement, first of recession and then of unworted rise, occasioning that calamitous loss of life of which we have all heard.

The maturial thrown out rose to an elevation which we have no means of estimating, but so tremendous was it that on spreading itself and the south of Sumatra for lundreds of square miles with a pall of impenetrable dark.
