STEPS IN ICE CREAM MAKING EXPLAINED

Delicious Cooling Desserts Which the Hawaiians Will Find Just the Thing.

There are few households in which an ice cream freezer is not to be found. The cheapness of the utensil makes it possible to have home-made cakes, sherbets and creams superior in quality to any to be purchased in the ordinary shops.

The ice packed about the can should be mixed with rock salt in the proportion of a little less than three-quarters of ice to one-quarter of salt.

When the cream has been placed in the can, after examination to see that the handle and beater work all right, the ice and salt should be packed around the outside of the receptacle.

When all this has been done, turn the handle slowly and evenly until the cream is so stiff that you can turn it no longer.

When the ice cream freezer is put away, it should be cleaned and the can sealed and dried and left with the lid off until it is to be used again.

Things to be Remembered. It should be remembered that liquids expand in freezing, so that the mixture placed in the can should always be less than it will hold.

used in making ice cream is an important consideration, for too much will retard the freezing and too little will make the ice cream too hard.

It should be remembered that the finer the ice is crushed the more quickly will it melt and the cream be frozen. The more rapidly the mixture is stirred the more quickly will it be frozen.

For freezing about twenty pounds of ice are needed for a gallon freezer. Some persons imagine that the melted ice should be drawn off as soon as it is reduced to water.

It is a good plan not to try to freeze the cream too rapidly. When slowly frozen, the grain is better.

After the cream is made it is better to allow it to stand for an hour or two. This will cause the flavor to blend perfectly with the cream.

When the ice cream freezer is put away, it should be cleaned and the can sealed and dried and left with the lid off until it is to be used again.

with a tablespoonful of powdered sugar and beat until all is stiff. Stir the sherbet into the frozen mixture and allow it to stand for an hour or so.

SEVERAL GOOD RECIPES.

Here are several recipes for making creams:

Vanilla Ice Cream—Take one quart of milk, one pint of cream, four eggs, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, one pound of powdered sugar, vanilla essence.

To make lemon water ice, take eight lemons, twelve ounces of loaf sugar, four eggs, whites only.

To make raspberry or any other fruit ice take the following ingredients: Three sugar, two whites of eggs. Pick the stalks from the fruit, lay it on a flat dish and sprinkle it thickly with four ounces of the sugar.

currants may be stewed in a small quantity of water first, then rubbed through a sieve, like the first recipe for strawberry water ice.

To make chocolate ice cream take one quart of cream, one pint of milk, three-quarters of a pound of sugar, two eggs and five tablespoonfuls of chocolate.

THE POPULAR GIRL.

What Popularity Means in the Feminine World.

There are three types of girls recognized just now, the girl who is pretty, the girl who is stylish, and the girl who is picturesque.

She may be of the dashing, vivid style of beauty, in which case she is often bold and forward, or she may be of the sweet, clinging style, in which case she is almost always insipid.

The stylish girl is one whose clothes seem made for her and her alone. She will take the commonplace hat of her pretty sister and, placing it on her head, will transform it until her neighbors will swear it is imported.

of the thousand and one hats at the millinery opening the very bit of headgear which will make her the cynosure of all eyes.

She may be a millionaire's daughter, in which case she is invariably the belle of the season, and makes the very best match, or she may be a shop girl who sells ribbons and laces by the yard.

Now the picturesque girl does not strike one at first sight so favorably, until she seems the nicest thing in the rooms, and the best bit of beauty within sight.

Standing beside a fluted pillar, with one rounded arm above her head and a faraway look on her face, she is a subject for a dream, and seated in a garden, always with some roses tumbling out of her hands, she looks like the fairest bit of nature's handiwork.

AUCTIONEER FISHER SELLS THE ARLINGTON ANIMALS

"Nica de monka!" said the Italian yesterday at the Arlington sale. Mr. E. Fisher, auctioneer, real estate agent and Bohemian, was about to sell two corpulent apes who for a long time have made their home in a stately castle in the hotel grounds. The Arlington is about to make way for a magnificent new block, and the hammer of the auctioneer has spared nothing to clear the grounds. Yesterday when, after disposing of many suites of furniture, palms, ferns and other beauties of the hotel, Fisher came to the monkey cage, he found surrounded by Italians and Japanese had come to look their last on their beloved friends.

It was very sad. The monkeys seemed to know by instinct that something working for their harm was brewing. They ran nervously about the cage and mounted to their armchairs when Auctioneer Fisher began the sale. "What for these curious animals?" said Fisher. "Years ago," continued the auctioneer, "Darwin made his discovery that we were descended from apes. Later my acquaintance, Professor Gardner, proved that monkeys had a language as well defined as any of the tongues of men. These two monkeys are rare among their kind. They have lived together for many years. It would be cruel to separate them. Both are to be sold together with their home, and I trust sincerely that the lucky person who buys them will be as kind as has been Mr. Krouse." There were no bids. Fisher was astonished. "What?" he said. "No one wants these animals?" "Nica de monka," said the poor Italian. The great ape, with that marvelous gift of the animal kind, recognized a friend, and extending his paw gravely shook the Italian's hand. "You be a New York," said the Italian, "two hundred dol dirta cheapa. I getta de org, playa de sofia tuna, you cimba de pole, maka de face, gooda lady giva mucha mon. Honolulu no gooda for the monka and de grinda de org." So Fisher sold the other animals; the squirrel, the cockatoo, the Java sparrows, the pigeons with the fan tails, and a dozen other pets. Later in the day the monkeys with the cage went for $15. Poor beasts. When they told them of their fate they could hardly believe the tale. The Italian whispered it in his native tongue, which is the nearest the simian language of any. The broken-hearted apes clasped each other and wept. This is when the Advertiser artist caught them with Will E. Fisher near by.

RELATIVE MERITS OF TROOPS.
Loveland has told the Shanghai Mercury considerable notes about the precision and behavior of the different troops going to make up the allied army at Tien-Tsin and its vicinity. In connection with all these who have seen these troops cannot say too much as to the excellence of the Japanese contingent. The Japanese officers, except the staff men who have been abroad, do not speak a word of any foreign language, and thus there is a fair knowledge of English, but English is unknown. General Loveland alone speaks English, and has perfect knowledge of German and French, as well as a little Russian.

related to our informant by an eye-witness, a Russian had opened a store near the Russian camp. Business calling him away, he closed the place up and locked it, thinking that as it was opposite and in full view of the guard house all would be safe. Almost before he was out of sight the soldiers of the camp broke into the place and took everything there was, and upon the attention of a couple of officers standing in full view being called to the spectacle by the gentleman telling the story, they answered in French, in which they had been addressed that it was none of their business, and that they would not interfere. If this is the treatment accorded one of their countrymen, what must the Chinese expect? In this regard, we are told from several sources that the way both the Russians and the French treat the Chinese women is abominable, and that absolutely no notice is taken of the complaints of the Chinese who have had their wives and daughters maltreated. The stories which are told are terrible.

JOAQUIN MILLER AND LI HUNG CHANG.
The celebrated American poet, Joaquin Miller, arrived in Shanghai last Monday week from the north, where he has been serving several American journals as correspondent. A representative of the Shanghai Mercury called on him at the Astor House and learned that he had a very interesting interview with H. E. Li Hung Chang. The conversation, it appears, was largely upon literary topics, but the Viceroy, true to his reputation, did considerable interviewing himself and pried the poet with questions about his experiences at the front. In discussing the situation, allusion was made to the looting at Tien-Tsin, and Mr. Miller expressed the hope that the valuable archives and art treasures in Peking might be spared destruction. To this His Excellency replied that the allied forces ought to be informed that there is no loot in Peking; that Tien-Tsin was the richest city in the north, but that Peking is very poor. He thought if this were known perhaps there would not be so much anxiety to enter the capital. At the same time he expressed the fear that the Powers would insist on sending their armies into Peking in order to maintain their prestige. In this latter opinion the Viceroy is no doubt quite right. It is the moral effect of such an entrance into the capital that is needed. Mr. Miller remains here a few days longer and will go later to Japan for a brief rest.

HONGKONG'S NARROW ESCAPE.
Last night, writes the China Mail of the 11th instant, an alarming occurrence took place which, but for the prompt action of those on the spot, might have resulted in one of the most appalling disasters in the history of the colony. About 10 o'clock at night the Indian watchman of the furnace room at the Arsenal, Queen's Road East, heard an unusual noise in the room and, on looking round, found to his dismay, that several boxes of fuses had become ignited. On account of the disturbances in the North there are always some men working about the place day and night. The watchman, seeing the great danger, immediately acquainted the men of what had happened and summoned the police and the Central Fire Brigade. The hands set to work with a will, and happily, before the arrival of the brigade and before much damage was done, succeeded in extinguishing the flames. How the fire originated is a mystery which a Court of Inquiry will have to try to solve. The fuse room is situated between two big shell stores, and what would have happened had the flames penetrated there is too awful to contemplate. The presence of mind of the watchman, combined with the fortunate circumstance which calls for the attendance of these arsenal hands at work overnight unquestionably saved Hongkong from a catastrophe which would have "staggered humanity." We believe a military inquiry was held this morning in private, but the finding will not be known till Tuesday.

THE COPTIC'S PLAGUE CASE.
The S. S. Coptic is in quarantine at Kobe, and the Kobe Herald writes: On the arrival of the O. & O. liner Coptic at the Quarantine Station on the 16th, from Honolulu via Yokohama, a Chinese passenger (Ah Gob) was found to be in a high fever. The steamer was detained here while the authorities held an analytical examination of the suspected patient's blood. The case having been found to be plague the ship has been put in quarantine for ten days. The man has been landed and taken to the quarantine hospital. We learn that the plague patient from the Coptic died at the Isolation Hospital, Yeshida Shinzen, Kobe, at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning. The remains were immediately cremated.

THIS IS A SUN-SPOT YEAR.

Is There Any Relation Between That Fact and Certain Others?

It is believed from evidences now seen in the sun, that a period of great activity is in progress there, and that the effects of this immeasurable force will be seen during the next five years in what is known as "sun spots." These sun spots are supposed to be great solar volcanoes or other disturbances on the sun's surface in some visible way. The spots can be seen easily by observers during the years up to 1905, when the maximum will have been reached. These supposed cavities sometimes go to a width of about 20,000 miles, and then break up into separate spots or cavities, sometimes separating at the rate of one hundred miles an hour.

The energy sent out by the same force that causes these sun spots must be enormous. There are some reasons for believing that before the spots themselves make their appearance to the sight the energy is at work and is radiated from the sun to the planets of this system. At all events the sun-spot periods are usually notable on the earth for peculiar manifestations of electrical energy. The electric storms that have been seen in New England lately are due, in some degree, to the solar energy and the electricity sent to the earth as a result. Such, at least, is a widely received scientific theory.

It may be that the sun spots or the energy of which they are merely the result work in some fashion that cannot be so easily traced. During the past three years, when the sun's energies have been at work, strange things have happened in the world. Is it merely a coincidence? If so, it is at least worth notice that coincidences of this kind are not rare if one takes the trouble to look up the story of the civilized world in the few years preceding each period of outbreak of sun spots, say, in the past fifty years.

To trace back the periods, reckoning eleven years as the cycle, the beginning of sun spot outbreaks would be reckoned in 1839, 1878, 1867 and 1856 in such a count. These dates are not exact, because the period of duration is not exactly measurable by years. Still, it is surely worth some notice that before the period of 1856 there came the desperate outbreak of the war in the Crimea; that before the period of 1867 the United States was ravaged by civil war to an extent hardly ever recorded in the history of any other country, and that the great tragedy of Lincoln's death had been recorded; that preceding the sun spot period of 1878 there came the harrowing experiences of France, culminating in the communist riots, and the Russian-Turkish war; that before 1889 came the Roumelian revolution, the nihilist outbreak in Russia and the war with the Afghans, and that before 1896 came the war with Spain, the Jameson raid and the consequent war with the Boers and the British.

The registration rolls now open will contain the names of all who are entitled to vote at the coming election.

National Chairman Jones is figuring on the sure Democratic Eastern States again but it is noticeable that they are the same McKinley winners he picked out for Bryan in 1896.

Col. Little might not do anything for the Islands if he were sent to Washington, but our people may console themselves with the thought that he would get something worth while for himself.

The indications are that the Chinaman who came down with the bubonic plague on the liner Coptic at Kobe on August 15th got aboard at Yokohama and not at Honolulu. The Coptic stopped at Yokohama and took on steerage and other passengers for the Southern port. Among these the sick Chinaman was probably included.

A Missouri Democrat has been sent to New York to watch Tom Platt's machine on behalf of the National Committee. If this bucolic statesman is not run over by the automobiles he will probably buy a gold brick. New York is a bad town for Missouri Democrats though they contribute more than they know to its amusements.

ADMISSION DAY.

Hawaii should feel something more than a passing interest in the day which Californians celebrate tomorrow, the fiftieth anniversary of the admission of that State to the Union. It is not only because California is our nearest Mainland point under the Stars and Stripes and the possessor of so much of our trade and because we have many Californians among us, but for the reason that the destiny of the Golden State has decisively influenced our own.

It was written in the beginning that whatever master race should own California would also own Hawaii. Had a British Admiral on his way to annex the great Mexican province arrived at Monterey a day or two sooner than the American Admiral bent on the same errand, Hawaii to-day, in all probability, would belong to the British Empire. Had the Russians acted at an earlier time Hawaii might now be an outpost of the Czar. Our national fate was held in the balance when California came under peril of the Southern Confederacy. Seeing how vast an influence the stream of California gold flowing to Washington in the dark days of the Civil War had upon the preservation of the Union it is possible that the secession of the treasure-house commonwealth might have established the Southern Empire on a firm foundation. In that event who knows but these Islands would now be a barony of the Slave Power?

But the influence has not been all one-sided. Mexican Dons of old California used to send their children here to be educated by the French priests, and after 1849 the rich pioneers followed the custom and entered their sons in our Catholic, Protestant and secular schools. Now and then the obituary of some middle-aged Native Son contains the statement that he was taught at Honolulu. Another thing to remember in connection with the natal day of the Golden State is that Hawaii helped to feed the Argonauts, who raised no crops for themselves; and that the first newspaper printed in California, or anywhere west of the Coast range, came from a press that had been shipped from here.

As belts near neighbors at times mutually interdependent California and Hawaii have always been on a friendly footing. Some great men at the other end of the long ferry owe their dual wealth to Hawaiian cane fields; we, in turn, owe for the aid given to the reciprocity treaty, to island commerce and to the annexation movement, by a friendly California sentiment. One day when we want to be a State California will help us in. Larger than some empires she has no small prejudices against her neighbors and will not complain of a Hawaiian State any more than she did of a Nevada. She will be generous-minded in the future as in the past.

The celebration of the semi-centennial should be enthusiastic wherever there are enough Native Sons together to set each other's imaginations on fire. Few States have more to celebrate than California. Over a billion dollars' worth of gold has been taken from her streams and ledges. There is room within her borders, judging from the example of Japan—a territory of similar size—for half the population of the United States. The agricultural and commercial potentiality of California is so enormous that no one has undertaken to compute it. The time may come when California will have more people, more wealth, more commerce and more fame in the contemporaneous world than France. Fifty years make but a brief span in the life of a State yet see what fifty years have done for the land which Daniel Webster, in 1844, declared to be a desert lair of wild men and wild beasts. What may not an hundred years do towards realizing, in the broadest and truest sense, the vision of old Timothy Dwight, sometime President of Yale, who, in the latter days of the Eighteenth century wrote these lines on the expanding future of America?

All hail, thou Western world, by Heaven designed. The example bright to renovate mankind! Soon shall thy sons across the mainland roam And claim on far Pacific's shore a home. Their rule, religion, manners, art convey And spread their freedom to the Asian sea. Towns, cities, fane, shall raise their towering pride, Proud commerce's mole the western surges lave. The long white spire be imaged on the wave. Where marshes teemed with death shall meads unfold. Unrodden cliffs resign their stores of gold. Where slept perennial night shall science rise And new born Oxford cheer the evening skies.

RETREATING MISSIONARIES.

The superior organization of the Roman Catholic missionary service appears in the fact that while Protestant workers are flying from China to Japan or to their own countries the Catholic missionaries are sticking to their posts and giving their Chinese converts an example of Christian fortitude. It was not the habit of the apostles to fly from persecution so long as the cause needed their presence at any dangerous place and Roman Catholic missionaries as a rule have profited better than their Protestant rivals by this high example. Paul Blouet lately published the story of a Breton priest, the spiritual director of a small Christian village in Anam during the disturbances of several years ago, who came on board the French ironclad which Blouet served as a lieutenant and asked for aid against the rebels who were threatening his flock. No marine could be spared and the priest was asked to make himself comfortable on board. He did so until night when to the surprise of some of the officers he wanted to be set ashore. "But you say that your village may be attacked and destroyed before morning. If you are there you will be killed, perhaps by torture. Better stay with us." "I thank you gentlemen," said the simple Breton, "but when danger comes I must show my people how to trust in God." That was a typical expression of his class.

Many priests have been murdered in China but we hear of none who deserted their posts. None has been recalled, none appears on the passenger lists of homeward-bound steamships, all, presumably are sharing the perils to which the acceptance of their gospel has exposed their proselytes. There is apostolic heroism in their attitude; there is an unhappy lack of faith in Providence, a total absence of the spirit of Luther and much of the paltering instincts of Melancthon in the attitude of the flying Protestants—and we say it with shame as a paper of Protestant sympathies must.

We began by attributing the Roman Catholic constancy to superior organization. Singleness of individual purpose and interest is a part of it. The wisdom of Rome in insisting that its pioneers of faith should not burden themselves with families is proved over and over again in the history of anti-missionary uprisings. The man with a wife and children on his hands trembles in the face of danger where a single man would smile. One cannot altogether blame the missionary who hurries when Satan is visibly abroad in the land; but one can and should blame the system which employs such missionaries. The best soldier either of the flag or the cross—the best soldier at posts of danger—is the one without family ties to make him stop and count the cost. If it were possible to require that every Protestant missionary should have no bride but the church and no children but the spiritual ones of his conversion, we do not doubt that the evangelization of the world would make far more rapid progress than is now possible.

FILIPINOS AND LIBERTY.

The sober sense of the American people in taking stock of Mr. Bryan's Philippine policy will be likely to arrive at the conclusion that, if it is liberty the Filipinos want, submission to the United States is their only way to get it.

A Philippine republic would mean the ascendancy of a single strong and despotic tribe over the other racial factions; and this republic, owing to internal discord or foreign interference, could not last. Its natural fate would be absorption into the body politic of some great power. The day of the small island independency has gone. Such a State can only exist by grace of a protectorate, which is a modified form of alien control. A few years ago there was an independent Hawaii, Samoa, Tonga and Madagascar; but they are all now under alien flags. Hayti and San Domingo, but for the Monroe doctrine, would long since have been absorbed by Europe. Cuba can exist as a free State only under suzerainty of the United States. Considering the European and American demand for vantage grounds, coaling stations and naval depots, no small island power, left to its own devices for defence, can hope to keep its independence. Particularly is this so in the Far East where the interests of all Europe are more or less concerned, and where the demand for naval stations is important. In 1898 Germany showed very plainly that she had looked at the Philippines with a covetous eye; Great Britain would not leave them alone if they were wayfaring for themselves nor would Russia or France. It is a perfectly safe proposition that, unless taken under an American protectorate, a Philippine republic would be a sheep among wolves. Such a protectorate, however, is out of the question. Why should this republic become an unpaid policeman for a people who hate it? In the case of Cuba we would, through a protectorate or through the influence of the Monroe doctrine, save ourselves from an unfriendly European neighbor; but in the case of the Philippines if we don't own them ourselves we need not care a nickel where the title lies. Annexation to the United States would give the Filipinos more liberty than they could bestow upon themselves—liberty without miracle and without revolution, without captious foreign interference, without license and loot. There is an example of what that means in the case of Hawaii. The Americanized natives of these Islands have more liberty than they enjoyed under their Kings; far more than they could possibly have got if the Hawaiian flag had continued to float. A free Hawaii meant an intermeddling Japan at all times; and on the occasion of war in the Pacific it meant seizure by the first contending power that wanted it for a base. Now while the American republic stands four square to all the winds that blow, the Territory of Hawaii will stand with it. While the American republic has free institutions and is able to defend them the Territory of Hawaii will have free institutions and they will be defended. It would be the same way with an annexed Philippine archipelago; and there is no other way than by annexation for the people of that archipelago to secure such blessings.

A convention of tramps in Iowa has named Dewey for President. Owing to McKinley times, however, the volume of hobo support is so cut down that the Admiral must regret that the tramps did not bestow the honor some years sooner.

Is it possible that Hilo cannot do her Republican politics without a committee from Honolulu to supervise the work?

NO APPEAL MINIMUM.

Judge Estee's Ruling As to Circuit Court of Appeals.

The case of several sailors against the bark Empire brought for damages resulting from insufficiency of food during the last voyage ending at this port was heard yesterday afternoon in Judge Estee's court. A decision was rendered allowing the appeal of the plaintiffs to be carried up to the United States Court of Appeals.

The decision went to the extent of saying that an appeal might be had from the District Court to the Circuit Court of Appeals, irrespective of the amount involved. The old law used to limit the amount to $50 as a minimum. By the passage of the Circuit Court of Appeals Act in March, 1891, the old law was repealed. The case was for damages and wages brought against the bark, the wages in some cases falling below the $50 mark.

The Court held that the articles of shipment were void. That was one of the reasons why the men appealed, and was done to test the question as to whether or not the articles are void. This affects the firm of J. J. Moore of San Francisco, the Empire being of their fleet. The men did not ship originally from San Francisco, but shipped from Newcastle. They simply signed articles which were made in San Francisco for the original crew which brought the vessel to Newcastle. They signed on a blank sheet before the United States commissioner. The crew held that because the Captain of the Empire did not sign with the men at Newcastle that therefore the contract was not binding upon the men. Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan for appellants.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, President of Stanford University, and one of the most noted ichthyologists in the world was in Honolulu yesterday bound on the Nippon Maru for San Francisco. With Professor Snyder, a Stanford teacher, he is on his way to the college after several months in Japan spent in gathering fishes for the Stanford museum. Dr. Jordan could give much valuable information on Hawaiian fishes and the method of increasing the Islands' supply. He said yesterday that he and Professor Snyder had collected seven hundred different species of fish in Japan, of which one hundred and twenty were new to science.

Dr. Jordan visited the fish market and secured a number of the fish from the early morning catch. He said that he had now about seventy Hawaiian fish and that he hoped before the day was over to get a number of other kinds. Dr. Jordan feels positive of Japan's good faith with the allies in the present Oriental crisis and expresses his hope that Europe will not attempt the partition of China. He said that in fact it would be an impossibility to control China. He said that the Russians had created a very bad impression in Tien-Tsin by looting and murder. Dr. Jordan believes that with the Reform party in power and an emperor of stamina on the throne at China will go forward.

SUIT TO QUIET TITLE.

Wahiawa Sugar Company Against Waiialua Agriculturists.

The Wahiawa Sugar Company by its attorneys, Kinney, Ballou & McClanahan, has filed complaint against the Waiialua Agricultural Company in an action to quiet title to land. The plaintiff company alleges that it is in possession of, and is the owner of an estate for years in and to the Ahupuaa of Paalaa, otherwise known as Halemanu, being the land granted to Victoria Kamamalu, and also that land situated at Kahikiwal, the same being the land granted to Kauohanui, all of the land being and situate in the district of Waiialua, Island of Oahu.

It is further alleged that the defendant claims an estate or interest in and to said property adversely to the said Wahiawa Sugar Co., Ltd., and said defendant is a necessary party to a complete determination and settlement of the questions involved in determining the ownership of said property and the rights of the said plaintiff in the premises. Therefore plaintiff prays that the defendant may be summoned to appear and answer the complaint and required to set out any adverse claim that it may have in or to the said property or any part thereof, and that the title to the said property may be quieted and plaintiff's interest and estate in the same way be confirmed, and for costs.

Ah Wan a Terror.

Ah Wan, a Chinese of considerable strength, ran amuck last night on Queen street near Alakea and for a time terrorized a Japanese neighborhood. Ah Wan was very drunk. He ran into the Japanese house and into the room of a woman lodger and attempted to strike her. Chairs and furniture of every description were thrown about the place and the Japanese men who came to the assistance of the woman were pretty well used up. A telephone message to the police station brought two mounted policemen who soon subdued the drunken Celestial.

The Oriental who succumbed to the bubonic plague aboard the Coptic at Kobe did not come from Honolulu. His name, so the news comes on the Nippon Maru, was Ah Goh. The records of the show no such name. It is thought that Ah Goh was from Yokohama. The Coptic left here August 2, arrived at Yokohama on the 11th, and at Kobe on the 15th.

Arthur Wilder and E. O. White have succeeded in collecting $1,323 in cash for the regatta day from the merchants. The big yacht races will come off on the 15th, and there is assurance there will be no lack of fun.

WINE, CARDS AND CIGARS

Jurymen Lived High at Hawaiian. MUST PAY THEMSELVES

Judge Humphreys Disallows a Fat Bill for Luxuries Enjoyed By Them.

Judge Humphreys dropped a bombshell on the jurymen who recently tried the murder cases of Amimoto and Samuel Barney. The juries were housed at the Hawaiian Hotel. On August 28th the trial of Amimoto was on and that night the twelve wise men were taken to the hotel where they had dinner and slept at one of the finest cottages in the grounds under surveillance of the court bailiffs. Evidently the jurymen were not sleepy. They wanted to keep awake and "talk it over." It is evident from the bill which the manager of the hotel presented to the judiciary department for the entertainment afforded the twelve gentlemen that it was a case of "drink and be merry." Some of them wanted to smoke and the bailiff was sent to the hotel bar for a box of cigars for which the government is charged $6.25. They could have nothing but the finest flavored Havana. The dainty cigarette was next in order and a veritable cloud of smoke must have arisen in the jurymen's rooms according to the bill, which was $2.50. It is probable that most of the jurymen will deny the soft impeachment that "poker" was played, but what were the cards for? There is an item of $1.25 for cards. Did they play "Old Maid," or "Hearts," or "Muggins?" One court hanger-on had the presumption to say that they played solitaire. Those best acquainted with the amusements of jurymen off duty are prone to believe that the national game was the piece de resistance. However that is a side issue and the truth may yet be told. But to cap the climax they sent for wine. Wine which cost the government $5.25. On another occasion the cigars, cigarettes and cards cost $12.25. Judge Humphreys was handed the bills yesterday afternoon by George Lucas and his cohort at once rose. With a pen he scratched furiously across the face of the first bill handed to him the following writte notation, wherein a warning is held out to succeeding juries to beware of the wine when it is read, Havanas or any other luxuries:

"The law does not authorize the Court to provide jurors with cigars and cards. The Court cannot be a party to the misappropriation of money which belongs to the tax payers. The jurors who ordered those cigars and cards are personally liable for them. Humphreys, Judge."

The two bills read as follows:

September 1, 1900.
Jury, to Hawaiian Hotel, Dr.
Amimoto—Room and board, 8-27
to 8-28, one day ..... $45 00
Barney—August 31, dinner ..... 15 00
(Disallowed)—Wine ..... 5 25
(Disallowed)—Cigars 25 cents, cigarettes $2.50, cards $1.50..... 9 75
$75 00

Second bill on which the notation was written:

August 28, 1900.
Jury, to Hawaiian Hotel, Dr.
To cigars, cigarettes and cards, $12 25
In Territory of Hawaii vs. Amimoto.
Approved the _____ day of September,
1900, for $12.25.

Second Judge. But neither the Second Judge nor the First Judge signed the bills which bore the approved clauses thereon. The jurors who made free with the Government's moneys will have to bear the expense of their luxurious living out of their own pockets, for such is the Judge's ruling. George Lucas is in a quandary as to how he shall collect it. He says if they don't dig up he will threaten to a surprise at the next term of the Circuit Court when the jurors come to draw their jury fees.

The Commissioners appointed to assess damages on property involved in the extension of Milliani street between Queen and Halekauwila streets, have filed in the Circuit Court a notice of appeal against the Commissioner's decision on the part of the trustees of the Bishop Estate. A. V. Gear, who makes the written certificate of appeal states that an award or assessment for benefits was made by the Commissioners against the Bishop Estate on August 27, 1900, as follows: Premises on main Ewa corner of Milliani and Halekauwila streets $1,200; premises makal side of Queen street adjoining William and Hattie Kapela's lot and the Robinson minors on the Ewa side of Milliani street $424.50; premises in the block bounded by Queen, Milliani and Halekauwila streets, having a frontage on Halekauwila and Queen streets, and adjoining premises of the Robinson minors, and extending toward Punch-bowl street to a line drawn 200 feet from and parallel to Milliani street, from Queen to Halekauwila streets, $2,308.50. The Trustees of the Estate by their attorney W. O. Smith, have given notice of appeal in writing and deposited costs, $5.00 accrued, and cash $50 to secure further costs.

QUEEN EMMA'S WILL AGAIN.

George Lucas, master of the accounts of Bruce Cartwright, trustee of the estate of Emma Kaleleonalani, (Queen Emma) late of Honolulu, deceased, has filed his report as follows: The Trustee charges himself with the sum of $5,964.81, and asks to be allowed the sum of $5,964.80, so whatever is received by the Trustee is all expended.

The Trustee's charge for commission is at the usual rate of ten, seven and five per centum upon the total amount of income. The total charge for commission is $425.50 upon the amount of $5,910.16 which is found to be correct.

By the terms of the will the several persons hereinafter named are to receive for their respective lives the several annuities, to wit:
Lucy Peabody, $900; Grace Kahoouli, $290; Mary Liwal, $200, and to St. Andrew's Priory $600 per annum, the balance of any surplus to be divided as follows: one-half to Queen's Hospital, and one-half to Albert K. Kunuika, each of whom is entitled to one-half of $2,756.06 or $1,378.03 each. He finds the Trustee has accounted for all the property belonging to the estate, and it is recommended that the court approve the accounts. Judge Humphreys confirmed the report.

PETITION FOR SALE OF LAND.
Frank E. Thompson, guardian ad litem of Kahanu (w), minor, has filed a report in the matter of the estate of J. Pinao (k) of Alea, Ewa, Oahu, deceased, asking that the petition of Kahanu for the sale of land at Puna, Hawaii, be granted. The petition was made by the minor through Samuel Kallianu, administrator of said estate. The property of the minor consists of one piece of land at Puna, Hawaii; one piece of land at Hilo, Hawaii; two pieces of land at Alea, Ewa, Oahu, valued at $2,350, with personal effects valued at $150, a total of $2,500.
Debts to the amount of $1,263.20 exist against the estate, and having exhausted all the personality, the administrator duly petitioned the Circuit Court for an order to sell enough real estate to discharge the debts still existing. The property at Puna is valued at $2,000, consisting of 58.75 acres.

WANTS DISCHARGE FROM ASYLUM.
Rita C. Tewksbury who was recently committed to the Insane Asylum in the District Court has petitioned to Judge Humphreys for her discharge from further confinement there. The Judge has set Thursday, Sept. 13, at 10 o'clock a. m., as the date for hearing said petition.
The petitioner respectfully represents that she is now restrained of her liberty at the Insane Asylum upon the charge made that she is an insane person. That she was committed to this institution on the 8th day of August, 1900, by order of W. L. Wilcox, District Judge for Honolulu. She further alleges that she is now sane and in her right mind, but does not by this allegation admit that she ever was insane, and she says that no reason exists why she should longer be confined at said Insane Asylum. Therefore she prays that she may be discharged from the Asylum.

DISMISSED PETITION FOR PROBATE.
Judge Humphreys yesterday dismissed the petition for probate of the will of J. W. Haaleo, deceased, without prejudice.
W. O. SMITH, ADMINISTRATOR OF BINTD ESTATE.
The petition of Frank Bintl that letters of administration be issued to W. O. Smith in the matter of the estate of Louise J. Bintl, deceased, was yesterday granted by Judge Humphreys, and bonds required in the sum of $500. The property consists of real estate on Kaula valued at $5,000 and a deposit in the Hawaiian Savings Bank of $399.45, a total of $5,399.45. Besides Frank Bintl, the husband, there are five heirs.

MASTER'S REPORT ON WALL ESTATE.
Frank E. Thompson, master, in the matter of the estate of Chas. F. Wall, has filed a recommendation of the executor's account, the total of which is $50,459.74. Cecil Brown, the executor, filed his petition in the Circuit Court for probate of the said will, by which it appears that Chas. Wall died on Oct. 31, 1899, leaving an estate consisting of a house and lot corner Kapiolani and Green streets, in Honolulu, valued at $6,500, and notes, stocks, bonds, etc., valued at about $40,000. He left surviving, a widow, and as his heirs at law and next of kin, Margaret Engelbrecht Gray, Prospect, Oregon; Allen S. Wall, Hilo; Mrs. Annie Miller, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Mrs. Nellie Ball, Orange, N. Y., nephews and nieces. In said will Hannah Wall, the widow, Allen S. Wall, Mrs. Annie Miller, Mrs. Nellie Ball and William Still of San Francisco are named as devisees and legatees, and Cecil Brown is named as executor, under a bond of $65,000. On Dec. 21st, 1899, the estate was shown to consist of a total amount of $54,349.49. The expenditures and receipts have all been checked over by the master, which are also duly evidenced by vouchers and he finds they are correct. The total amounts expended are $5,019.45, and the receipts $5,541.19, leaving a balance of $1,534.74.
The supplementary account of the executor shows income dividends to the amount of $109.50.

ADMINISTRATOR'S BOND FILED.
The administrator's bond of Wm. H. Hoogs in the matter of the estate of Edward V. Everett, was filed yesterday in the sum of $1,500, with C. L. Wight as surety.
ADMINISTRATOR FOR OSBORNE ESTATE.
In the estate of D. G. Campbell, alias Jas. Osborne, Judge Humphreys yesterday appointed Ira Eskew as administrator under bond of $100. The property consists of land at Waikiki valued at $750; land in Maywood colony, California, valued at $1,000, and land in San Diego worth about $250. The heirs are Joanne Smith, sister of deceased, residing in England, and Charles Campbell, brother, residence unknown.

IS A GUAM ISLANDER A CITIZEN?
Raymond Reyes, formerly a native of the annexed island of Guam, appeared in Judge Estee's court yesterday to be admitted to citizenship. Although after stating he was from Guam the Judge was inclined to the opinion that he was already an American citizen, yet to clinch the matter Reyes went through the form of seeking naturalization. Judge Estee stated that by the terms of the treaty with Spain he was of the opinion that Reyes, as a Guam man, was entitled to citizenship by a clause which appeared in the treaty to the effect that two years after the signing of the treaty all the Guam islanders who had not returned to Spain, would be considered American citizens. The Judge went on the safe side of the matter, however, and Reyes is now most certainly a citizen of the United States. Others naturalized were Geo. Gibbs, Otto Thlander and J. R. Souza.
BIRKIN WINS CASE.
In Judge Estee's court yesterday morning a decision was rendered in the libel suit of Fred Birkin vs. the schooner er Enterprise. The plaintiff was awarded damages in the sum of $150, the grounds being that he was improperly treated on the voyage and for assault upon him within the three mile limit of Honolulu harbor. It is asserted that the captain of the vessel will appeal to the United States Court. The argument of the decision was based on a Congressional Statute of 1898, prohibiting corporal punishment aboard American vessels. By the provisions of this statute any officer so inflicting punishment upon one of the seamen is liable to imprisonment or fine.

ESTEE HAD NO JURISDICTION.
When the Solters vs. ship Carneid Llewellyn case came up before Judge Estee yesterday he threw it out of court on account of the ship being of British register. Her Britannic Majesty's consul, Wm. Hoare, was present and stated he had already taken official notice of the complaint. Judge Estee remarked that he was glad to turn the case over to him as it was properly in the jurisdiction of the consul. The Judge assessed the ship for costs of the proceeding.

DR. MINER MAKES ANSWER.
Dr. Frank Leslie Miner, defendant in the libel for divorce brought by his wife, Rose Miner, yesterday filed his answer. He admits certain allegations, but denies the balance.
DISCONTINUANCE ASKED.
J. Alfred Magoon, petitioner for letters of administration in the matter of the estate of Francesco Holmberg, has filed an application to the Circuit Court to discontinue the same.

JURY DISMISSED FOR THE TERM.
The jury which has been serving faithfully in the Circuit Court for the past two weeks, completed its labors yesterday and was discharged from further duty for the term by Judge Humphreys at the termination of the Kii case. In discharging them the Judge remarked that in future he would see that no jury was worked for a longer time than two weeks, as he would empanel another venire, so that their places could be filled at the end of that time. He did not believe it was right that the same men should sit continually in the jury box, taking them away from their business and making it inconvenient for them. The last jury had served faithfully, and he did not believe it was right to make dray horses out of them. Probate matters will be taken up in the Circuit Court this morning.

Carnedd Llewellyn Boys Speak.

COOK HAS A WORD TO SAY Sailor Wanted to Holy-Stone the Deck With the Steward Herr Wuston.

"If you will listen to me I will tell you somedings dot will help you out of dot dream about dot coffee kettle vot you writed about in der baper yesterday, aild it?"

It was the steward aboard the Carnedd Llewellyn talking; he was full of a big yarn about the "grub" administered to the crew off Cape Horn, and backed his assertions up by entries in a big log book which showed just exactly how much food had been given the men on the voyage each day from Hamburg to Honolulu.

"I gives der men so much as der law says so, and more. I steal der sugar from aft ven we was off der Horn because I see dot der fellers was needed somedings to lighten der hearts in der cold veder. Und butter und marmalade dey gets all der time. Der men dey never growl at sea; vat for dey growl in der port. Der captain was a gentleman und treated dem fine und der mates vas too easy on der fellers altogether."

"I want to dell you about dot coffee kettle. My boy vat helps me in der galley, dis is his first trip to sea, und he vas very dirty, dot is not my fault, isn't it? Und vat's dot about der duff you puts in der baper? Dere vas only steam pie shum, p'med Cherman und not good cooking!-ach! dot vos von lied dot der sailor men tells you."

While the cook was conversing with the reporter, George Davison, a member of the starboard watch, who had been listening to what was said, rushed at the cook and, in language not polite, informed him as he shook his fist in his face that he was a liar and several other things which reflected on his antecedents, as well as himself. Davison also declared that if the cook had been several years younger he would take him out of the galley and muss up the deck with him.

Willie Point and Eric F. Harris, aged eighteen and nineteen respectively, are the apprentices aboard. They gave their story in regard to the Carnedd Llewellyn. Point and Harris are smart young fellows and good sailors, being already able to qualify as able seamen. They expect someday to be masters of vessels themselves. They have been aboard the Llewellyn for three years and have seen three voyages in her, speaking highly of the ship. Their first voyage was from Hamburg to Calcutta, thence to Bristol. The second was to Honolulu, and thence to Peru, thence to Hamburg. So they have been in Honolulu before and have many friends here.

These boys say that they always got their whack of food at sea and, in fact, more than their whack. They say that they could get along with more food if they had it, but could not object as long as they received as much and more than the law allows. According to their stories they have always been very well treated, and have nothing whatever to complain of. They are allowed $2 a week spending money in port, get all the tobacco they want, had their grog with the men off the Horn; have every opportunity to learn navigation, and are never worked too hard. While every man in the fore-castle has been sick at different times during the voyage from Hamburg, the boys have not laid up once. They have had their fingers frost-bitten and are well acquainted with salt water boils, but all that comes to the round-the-Horn sailor, and they do not complain.

WHAT LITTLE DID FOR THE ISLANDS

Editor Advertiser:—In the "Republican" of yesterday, the 6th inst., Mr. John H. Wise, in advocating Mr. Gilbert F. Little for candidate as Hawaiian delegate to Congress, has made some statements which are rather amusing. First, he attributes the privileges which this country enjoys under the Territorial Act to the single-handed efforts of Judge Little, and claims that the removal of the property qualification of voters was due wholly to Mr. Little's efforts.

The fact is that while the Commissioners consisting of Senators Cullom and Morgan and Representative Hitt, reported unanimously in favor of the property qualification, it was represented at the very beginning of the session of Congress that it was useless to attempt to carry any such measure in view of the approaching elections in the fall, and the idea of trying to carry the provision was abandoned before Mr. Little arrived at Washington.

By the way, Senator Morgan, who is one of the leading Democrats of the United States, made two visits to these Islands and became very familiar with the conditions here and he was strongly in favor of the property qualification. It must be remembered that by the bill that representatives were to be elected by manhood suffrage, with no restriction whatever excepting an educational one; but for the Senate a property qualification was recommended. Neither House could act without the other, and no advantage was given to either. But those who had nothing at the captain's wife was aboard. Point and Harris say that Mrs. Griffiths treated them as a mother would have done. She used to smuggle them sardines and jam and other delicacies from the cabin, carrying them under her apron to conceal them. They miss her now. Mrs. Griffiths is at home in Wales at present. Captain Griffiths is a true son of Wales, and is the only man aboard who can pronounce the name Carnedd Llewellyn. He expects to sail for Seattle in a few days.

SALVATION ARMY IS PROSPERING

Major Wood, the Local Commander, Writes to the War Cry.

Major Wood, commander of the Salvation Army in Hawaii, writes to the War Cry, the Salvationist paper, as follows:

"How times does fly? It hardly seems possible that we have been six months on the Islands, but yet it is true. We have just completed our first half year, and in spite of many and varied difficulties are able to report progress, and say by the help of God a little has been done towards the extension of His kingdom."

We have not been able to open up any new circuits, but that wasn't our fault. Lack of officers is the great hindrance. We did manage to secure one right in the District, but we need two or three more to fill up our present corps properly before we can attempt to open out. However, our faith is strong in God.

During this time we have had 232 souls reported, and out of these we had increased our soldier's roll by 41, every corps showing an increase. Our Coast War Cry sale has gone up 400 copies; Japanese Cry, 425, while we have just received a shipment of 450 Chinese Cry, which we shall have no difficulty in getting rid of. "Young Soldiers" sales have also gone up three dozen. Our local officers now number 23 more; knee-drills have doubled; J. S. companies increased 4, and attendance at the same, 50. Open air attendance shows a rise of 60 weekly, so that it is easily seen that our new soldiers and converts do not shirk the open-air.

One of my boys in a letter just to hand I think hits off the situation when he writes, "The Islands are going ahead this year more than they have ever before, according to what I can hear and see. . . . there is great future in store for us in this territory, and although we may have to work hard, fight and deny ourselves, we will be amply repaid. I can see victory ahead. I know we shall win." I believe that is the spirit which has taken possession of each of us. By the help of God we are going in for souls, and He shall have every bit of the praise for all that is accomplished."

I am sure I am not far out when I claim the championship of the U. S. A. for Captain Matthis on booming the War Cry. Last week Captain Mills was not able to be out, and Captain Matthis took almost the whole War Cry sales on herself, and managed to dispose of 535 in two mornings herself. Four of the soldiers took a hand also, and boomed our publications. God bless Sergeant-Major Cannon and Sister Wassman, and Brothers Horstmeier and Hellesath. Lieutenant Elliott has now appeared on the scene once more, and naturally an increase order has been sent in. Honolulu will now appear on the 770 mark. Oakland must beware!!

After fighting on bravely in Waimea for seventeen months, Adjutant Sharpe is at last farewelling and going off on a well-earned rest. Captain Jensen will be taking charge of Waimea, and I am sure with his push, go and zeal the work will not suffer. The Adjutant has not been well for months, but has held on like a true soldier. I am afraid it will take quite a wrench to tear her away from beautiful Waimea and its kind people, but it is all in the War. May God bless and strengthen the Adjutant while on her furlough.

Letters from Maui tell me that the boys have been able to re-open the meetings in Kahului. One soul got saved in the second meeting. Captain Bamberg is rejoicing over the gift of a new bride from the Hilo corps. Now if he could only get a real good horse, he would be happy. I am sure.

WHAT LITTLE DID FOR THE ISLANDS

stake in the country were not to be allowed to vote for Senators. The next point Mr. Wise makes is, the great service Mr. Little rendered in regard to the matter of the Judiciary. The fact is that Mr. Little's efforts in this respect consisted chiefly in denouncing the existing Judges here (Judd, Frear and Whiting) as untrustworthy and unworthy, and in landing himself and his partner, Mr. Galbraith, on the Bench.

The third point Mr. Wise makes in Mr. Little's favor is, that he secured equitable land laws for the Islands. The fact is that Mr. Little, as paid attorney for some squatters at Oloa, made a great effort to have the United States Land Laws extended to these Islands, but after the Committee heard the statements of Dr. Pritchett, Superintendent of the Geodetic Survey, and Congressman Mondell, who was thoroughly familiar with both systems, and both of whom has visited the Islands and made a study of that subject, Mr. Little's plan was relegated to the waste basket, Congress decided in spite of Mr. Little's efforts to leave the Hawaiian Land Laws as they are.

To any but a partisan of Mr. Little, it is difficult to recognize any service which he rendered to these Islands at all, but it is very easy to see the very decided services which he rendered to himself and his partner. His spirit was shown when, after the appointments were decided upon, he obtained the commissions of himself and his partner and hurried home leaving the commissions of the other judges behind him.

 ... All the time Mrs. Tyler was putting the...

PRAISE FOR DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE.

Rev. Enoch Hill, of Grand Junction, Iowa, Loud in His Praise of this Wonderful Remedy Which He Has Used With Such Good Results.

(From the Era Headlight, Grand Junction, Ia.)

No higher praise can be offered nor better references given concerning the virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People than the many voluntary testimonials from ministers of the gospel which have come from all parts of the country and which have more than supported all the claims made for this excellent medicine.

The most recent indorsement is that coming from Rev. Enoch Hill, pastor of the M. E. church of Grand Junction, Iowa, who says:

"I am a firm believer in the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the remedy having been used in my family, with highly gratifying results. For three or four years I was a sufferer from general debility. I seemed to be lacking in vitality, was tired out most of the time and sleep gave me no rest or refreshment. I was troubled with headache much of the time and although I was not confined to my bed, my illness incapacitated me for energetic work in my pastorate."

"A sister-in-law living in Nebraska, who has suffered very much and who has used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with good results, recommended them to me and I decided to try them. I had taken but two or three doses of the pills when I found that they were helping me and further use of the remedy brought such relief that I am glad to offer this public recommendation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in the interest of suffering humanity."

"My wife was troubled much as I was although her case was aggravated by insomnia. The pills also proved of the greatest benefit in her case."

"I have recommended the pills to many whom I have met in my work and am always pleased to endorse the medicine, the excellence of which has been established within my own observation."

(Signed) REV. ENOCH HILL.

Physical resources: "Didn't it require a lot of nerve to stand up and face the enemy in battle?" asked the interested listener. "Yes'm," said the old soldier, "and it took a whole lot of muscle to get away when the beggars charged on us."—Chicago Tribune.

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA AFTER THIRTY YEARS OF SUFFERING.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea, and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Holloway of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., wholesale agents.

A double blow: "Yes, we had quite a blowout at our house early this morning." "Peculiar time for it." "Yes; the new hired girl blew out the gas in the gas-stove and the gas blew out the side of the kitchen."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Early yesterday morning the Nippon Maru arrived from the Orient and docked at the Pacific Mail wharf. She sailed from Hongkong on August 16 and from Yokohama on the 28th. Those in transit for San Francisco are as follows: Mr. W. G. Anderson, Mr. N. Bentz, Mrs. N. Bentz, Mr. B. S. Buckman, Mr. V. L. Boeck, Mr. L. Bleck, Comte Clary and valet, Miss M. J. Besides the above there are in transit seventeen European steerage and twenty-one Japanese and eighty-eight Chinese in the Asiatic steerage. Of the cabin passengers the following are missionaries returning home from their labors in the Orient. Miss E. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Peat and four children and Dr. J. D. Trawick. George T. Keys is the purser of the Nippon Maru. It seems to be the rule to pick out the jolliest, best-natured and handsomest men for pursers on the great steamships. Purser Keys is certainly a model in more ways than one. Long may he live and prosper.

CALIFORNIAN AT GUAM. The great steamship Californian, bound for Manila with 9,433 measured tons of government stores for the Philippines from San Francisco, has put in at Guam with two blades of her propeller gone. As soon as the damage is repaired she will proceed on her journey.

The Californian was launched from the Union Iron Works and is intended for the trade between New York, San Francisco and Hawaii. Her length is 435 feet over all, beam 52 feet, depth 30 feet, gross tonnage 4,597, and carrying capacity 8,550 tons. She cost about half a million dollars. She sailed from San Francisco at 4 p. m. on the 17th of July, and her trial trip was made on the morning of the same day when she developed a speed of 11 knots.

The officers of the Californian are: Captain Geo. D. Morrison, commander; first officer, F. H. Turner; second officer, J. F. Blain; third officer, Wm. Holmes; chief engineer, W. Chisholm; first assistant, Robert Donaldson, second assistant, George Lasswell, third assistant, M. MacKenzie. Army men—E. M. Hule, quartermaster's clerk; A. J. Smith, commissary clerk. Captain Morrison came from New York to take charge of the Californian at San Francisco.

With the exception of the Alcoa, the Californian is the largest freighter that ever came here; by measurement she can carry 10,000 tons.

The Californian arrived here from San Francisco on July 25 and left for Manila via Guam two or three days later. She belongs to the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company and was chartered by the United States Government as a transport on July 10th. She had not been reported as arriving in Manila and some anxiety was being felt for her.

HOUSE FLAG RAISED.

An interesting ceremony took place on the gasoline schooner Eclipse at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the house flag of the Hawaiian Navigation Company, the owner of the Eclipse and the Enterprise was raised. The company was organized about two years ago for trading among the Islands and has met with great success. Its two schooners are busy all the year. One is on the Kauai route and the other on the Kona route. The popularity of the schooners is attested by the big business built up by them since their start. Small parcels are cared for and delivered in good shape and every attention paid to passengers or freight consigned to the ports touched at. The first president was W. R. Castle, and the present officers are: Allan Herbert, president; F. J. Lowrey, auditor; Mr. Campbell, treasurer; Mr. McCheaney, secretary; Captain Macauley, manager and director. Captain Thompson commands the Eclipse and Harry Walton is chief engineer.

The ceremony yesterday was very interesting. Miss Annie Macauley, daughter of Captain Macauley, raised the flag and made an appropriate address as follows:

"The dark blue ground of this flag represents the dark blue ocean. The two tabu sticks forming the letter H are familiar to all Hawaiians. Within those tabu sticks are enclosed the letters H. N. Co., meaning of same being the Hawaiian Navigation Co. The letters in this flag are in yellow, yellow being a favorite color of Hawaiians. May God bless this beautiful flag, and may peace and prosperity follow it, wherever it may float to the breeze."

The flag was designed and made by Captain Macauley's daughters.

Poisoned

Terrible Feelings. Loss of Sleep. Impurities often accumulate in the blood until they produce the most dangerous symptoms of poisoning. The appetite is lost, digestion weakened, and nerves exhausted. Mrs. F. Flynn, of Adelaide, So. Australia, sends us her photograph and says:

"I used to have terrible feelings come over me. The doctors could do me no good. I could not sleep, my appetite left me, and I was a most miserable woman indeed. Having read of

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

I thought I would try it. To my great surprise, after taking only two bottles I found myself very much better in every way. After taking six bottles all my disagreeable feelings left me, and I was completely cured. If your bowels are constipated, take Ayer's Pills. They are gentle and sure. They cure biliousness, dyspepsia, and sick headache. Take them with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; one aids the other. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

With the Change in Tariff

Comes a sweeping reduction in the price of all goods of American manufacture. We have cut on every piece of jewelry and silverware in the house, and you will be surprised at the great difference from former prices. No fear of comparisons here, where quality and pattern are considerations. What do you think of full-sized solid silver teaspoons being reduced to $3.00 a dozen, with engraving thrown in, and all articles of silverware reduced in like proportion. These are by no means catch prices, but regular prices which will prevail here from now on, on all the different lines of goods from the States.

While reducing all our American goods we have not changed the prices on any of our European potteries, glass and chinaware, and although the present cost is forty per cent more than formerly, while our present very large stock lasts we will sell at the old rates. This is a very large saving to you, and we recommend that you make your purchases from these lines now, before an advance becomes necessary.

1903	Myrtle	Pearl River	1 1/2 miles	10.43

The annual rowing races so dear to Hawaiians will be held at Pearl Harbor, brain and brawn will be triumphant but whose brain triumphs to be seen.

As has developed among the crews a friendly rivalry marred by no dissensions. The training has been done in the open, and every afternoon the three clubs raced side by side. In previous years the crews were wont to select some spot far distant from their rivals and spy-glasses were used to watch the crews at their work. This year a different feeling has developed an honest sporting instinct amongst the crews.

When the crews viewed all three clubs in their training says there is a real and healthy lack of animosity. In fact, he says the athletic atmosphere is as clear as it possibly could be. The boys feel there is nothing to be gained in the speed of their rivals and are as eager to urge on such as a rank outsider.

The races will be started at 4:30 and the various events will follow along in the afternoon. It is promised there will be no lagging and the spectators, of whom many are expected, will see a royal sport.

The sport has staked up the five crews as follows:

LEILANI CREW.

They row their old stroke and in form are about the same as in previous years. Their training with the exception this is the first year that an allowance has been placed at the oars. They are muscular men and well built. The crew consists of six men. Formerly of Australia, he has taught the principles of rowing which is his strong hold, and this is the only crew rowing in this harbor.

HEALANI JUNIORS.

A very light crew, averaging about 125 pounds. Williams the stroke is a crew that will fight for the finish. In training they had had some "scrapes" with the rival crews which happened because their boat travels light in the water by reason of the minimum weight of the shells. There is very little displacement. Their stroke is that of the Rowing.

HEALANI SENIORS.

He is shortened considerably since Klebahn left off coaching. The stroke is still very apparent in Rensar and Jarret, who are rowing prominently. Their strong hold is fast spurling.

MYRTLE JUNIORS.

They belong to the Healanis juniors and have a lot of fight in them. They average about 160 pounds. They cannot row as fast a stroke as the Healanis, but it is a very steady, strong stroke, seldom ranging above 100 strokes a minute. George Fuller has an abcess on his right leg caused from chafing on the slide, but is expected to row his seat at his shell today. Although a junior crew, it is the best in the harbor.

MYRTLE SENIORS.

They have the making course in both races; the Healanis are next and the Healanis are last. There will be signal boats at the half mile mark to assist the spectators at the finish an idea of the positions of the crews will be made in a race was in 1907 which was 3 minutes, 45 seconds for the Myrtles.

THE COURSE.

The course was changed by W. E. Wall and John Soper, using a launch for this purpose. The first part of the course is comparative and there are stretches where they do not have more than six feet of water. This causes a drag. The last part of the course is a straight and is considered fast. The course is flagged every quarter of a mile.

They have the making course in both races; the Healanis are next and the Healanis are last. There will be signal boats at the half mile mark to assist the spectators at the finish an idea of the positions of the crews will be made in a race was in 1907 which was 3 minutes, 45 seconds for the Myrtles.

WHO WILL WIN BY THE DOPE

The Myrtle Seniors and the Myrtle Juniors are Picked by One Who Thinks He Knows.

Boat races, like horse races, are extremely uncertain affairs, and the unexpected is ever prone to happen. Two years ago the Healanis upset calculations by winning the championship, and last year the wearers of the blue went down in defeat before the prowess of the little-fancied Myrtle garsmen. This year the crimson flag is a prime favorite, on the strength of the phenomenal time made in a workout, condition, and the reported unevenness of the Healanis boat.

The Myrtles will undoubtedly make a great showing; Judd, their stroke, has taught the crew the Yale stroke, all but the catch. Judd catches properly himself, but his crew most certainly do not appear to do so. This defect is liable to nullify Judd's efforts, as it would those of the best stroke that ever laid oar in rowlock.

A few weeks ago the Myrtles undoubtedly appeared to have the better crew, but the Healanis have improved since then beyond knowledge. Lloyd's substitution was made at rather a late hour. It is true, but he is an old hand at the racing game, and is cool and experienced, which will act as an offset to the lateness of his inclusion in the Senior boat.

The Leilani favor a killing stroke, and row with their arms instead of their backs. They are very confident, however, that they will secure second place.

The race should be a cracking good one with time close to record. The finish will be between the blue and the crimson, and it looks as if the championship will be decided at the stroke-board of the Myrtle boathouse for the next twelve months.

In the Junior race the Myrtle crew is much "beefier" than the Healanis' aggregation. The latter, however, may be depended upon to fight it out to the finish, though they are likely to succumb to the Myrtle combination, who look to be a shade too good for their opponents.

BETTING ME VS QUEER WAGERS

Some Will Forswear the Fair Sex If Their Club Loses and Others Will Treat to Soda.

Today's boat race has attracted to a considerable degree the attention of those people in town who are ever on the lookout for an opportunity to make a wager.

The presidential election, the annual go-as-you-please between Antidote and Amarine, and the various political scrambles for vacant political offices, all appeal to a greater or lesser extent to the notice of the speculative public, but it is the Healanis-Myrtle boat race which provides the choicest field for the making of bets unique in their weird originality.

The following are a few samples of recent transactions along this particular line:

If the Healanis blue leads the procession at the finish this afternoon John Jefferson Jones must allow himself to be securely bound, and have read to him by W. Oldour, Esq., the account of the race as printed in ink of the winning color in the extras of the afternoon papers. Should the Myrtle crimson be victorious, however, W. Oldour, Esq., must furnish the motive power for a wheelchair sustenance for Charles Grogsmith. If the Myrtle triumphs, however, Mr. Grogsmith pledges himself to be present throughout one of the nightly meetings of the Anti-Slugs Association, conducted by Mr. Clearwater in the little tin hall matks of Kakaaka Lane.

A win for the Healanis will necessitate Mr. Frank Bigarn of the Young Men's Physical Culture Society, pronouncing 210 times up and down the sidewalk extending from Bethel to Fort streets, accompanied by a 300-pound paving stone. A walkover for the Myrtles will result in Mr. Hager Noyes singing the ballad, "Is there room for Mary there?" in front of the police station; the singer to make no attempt to procure bail and to uncomplacingly submit to any legal pilikia which his payment of the wager may evoke.

Charles Dresser is so confident of the Myrtle's chances that his coat (which turns out to be misplaced) he is willing to attend any social function which may be named attired in pink pajamas and a hedge-sparrow blue shirt waist. Should the Healanis upset his calculations by losing the contest, Willie Soft-sha will have to face "Slugganmish" Sam, the pride of the iron works, in a half-minute round with twelve-ounce gloves; funeral expenses to be borne by Willie's sorrowing relatives.

Augustus Gray will rid himself of ten years' growth of chin foliage if the Healanis win the race. A victory for the Myrtles will enable citizens to witness the inspiring spectacle of Adolphus J. Joshkins walking along Fort street backwards on a Saturday afternoon. If the Healanis come in first, Algy Goodthing announces his intention of forswearing fascinating femininity for a whole week, during which he will do things which will compel Harold Bachman to escort eighteen of Algy's fair friends to a soda fountain and "set them up."

THE GRIDIRON IN LOCAL SPORTS

L. G. Blackman Advocates League For Association Ball With Four Teams Composing It.

To the Sporting Editor of the Advertiser—At the present moment much attention is being directed to the possibility of instituting Association football in these Islands. Already one team is in process of formation, but in order to command the general interest of the public, it is necessary that an effort be made to start other clubs so that attractive matches may be played.

It seems to me that the best way to start the game on a fair and firm footing would be to form an Association Football League and to divide this league into three teams, according to residential qualification. With the one already in formation this would give four teams associated together in a common league. The league should have control of all club property in common and should be governed by a committee composed of the captains of the four teams. Subscriptions should be paid to the league, and not to the club, and the member's place of residence should determine for which club he should play. A membership of fifty would comprise the three new teams with sufficient playing members to commence. Each team would have its own officers and colors, but would in all other things be under the control of the league of which it would form an integral part.

I would propose that all teams practice together on a common ground, and that an hour, twice a week, be devoted to this purpose. League members should all be required to promise to appear once a week at practice, except a written excuse be mailed to their captain. Saturday afternoon, or some other regular day, should be set aside for matches.

If four clubs were thus started (one of which is already in existence) each team would have three opponents. This, on the league system of each club playing each other twice, gives six matches for each team. With four teams playing, a series of twelve matches could thus be arranged. Teams would easily be ready to commence matches by the middle of October if a start were made soon. The list of matches would work out something as follows: (I have called the four teams A, B, C and D.)

- First Saturday, October 13—A vs. B, and C vs. D.
- Second Saturday, October 20—A vs. C, and B vs. D.
- Third Saturday, October 27—No matches.
- Fourth Saturday, November 3—B vs. C, and A vs. D.
- Fifth Saturday, November 10—A vs. B, and C vs. D.
- Sixth Saturday, November 17—No matches.
- Seventh Saturday, November 24—A vs. C, and B vs. D.
- Eighth Saturday, November 31—A vs. D, and B vs. C.

The matches would therefore extend over eight weeks, with two intervals of one week. Each team would play six matches, and would play a match per week, except the third and sixth weeks. By beginning the first match at four each Saturday and playing for an hour, the second match would be over soon after six.

After playing through this sequence of matches every one should have a fair knowledge of the game. I would suggest making from November 24th, about the middle of January a close season for league matches, and to play scratch games and ship crews during that time. After the middle of January the league program could be worked through again, the season ending with the highest number of points during the season in league matches (that is, in the twelve scheduled matches) would be considered head of the league.

There are plenty of young men in Honolulu who would easily learn the elementary points of Association football in two or three practice games. Many have been deterred from playing football because the game in vogue here is too violent for the climate. This is not the case with the Association game. If a start can only be made I believe it to be the fall game of the future, for these Islands. From a spectacular point of view it has no equal.

I should be glad if you would give publicity to my letter through the medium of your paper, and would ask that all those interested in the matter their serious thought. If a general meeting were called to consider the matter at an early date I see no reason why Association football matches should not be being played by the middle of October.

No doubt many points in my scheme would require modification, but I believe in the main that it is practical.

The action of the Honolulu Cricket Club early this year in declaring a close season for cricket from October 1 to May 1 will set free a great number of players for some other recreation. The present is therefore the time to consider the game to take its place. No game is so easily picked up as Association football, and we not only want to attract old players to our standard, but every one desirous of learning a good and healthful recreation.

The Honolulu Association football will appear on September 14th in No. 2 of the Iolani Golf Magazine.

MAKING REGATTA DAY A SUCCESS

The Judges Should Be Yachtsmen, Course Should Be Announced and Excursion Steamers Run.

Regatta day with its annual fall races for the white-winged flyers, its tub races, swimming races, rowing matches, canoe races, etc., has for years, to the lovers of aquatic sports and pastimes, been the most interesting and enjoyable of all our holidays. The arrival of a warship would also have the effect of temporarily prolonging the season.

The batting and bowling averages up to date are headed by Robert Anderson and H. B. Sinclair, respectively. After the season is over, cricketers, it is expected, will turn their attention to Association football, which game promises to flourish exceedingly during the winter months.

THE REMARKABLE FEAT OF A GIRL SWIMMER

Holds an Umbrella in One Hand for Forty-one Minutes in the Water.

The remarkable feat of swimming for forty-one minutes and during all that time using one hand to hold an open umbrella over her head, with a stiff wind blowing, was accomplished by a Milwaukee girl, Miss Lydia Winterhalter. To win a wager, she undertook to remain in the water under these difficulties for half an hour, and succeeded in overreaching the time limit by eleven minutes.

The undertaking would have been a formidable one for any practiced swimmer, for the burden of supporting an umbrella, light though it may be, is considerable, for that length of time without a shift from hand to hand, while it also means that one arm is useless as far as assisting in the operation of swimming is concerned, in the presence of a strong breeze, and it is seen the self-imposed task was one from which almost any one would shrink. For a young woman, therefore, to accomplish it with its tax on the strength and endurance, is a matter of special note, and in consequence Miss Winterhalter has found herself in the possession of a newly acquired reputation as a swimmer, deserving of respect and consideration. The young woman, who is thirteen years of age, has been fond of the water ever since she was a child, and she has always been an adept at the sport, but it was not until this achievement that she had an opportunity to demonstrate what she could actually do.

Miss Winterhalter was swimming with several companions, one of whom was attempting to swim about with an umbrella in her hand, when a discussion arose as to the difficulty of the feat, Miss Winterhalter expressing the opinion that it was not especially hard, and that she could do it for half an hour if need be. The feat was not made with any intention of putting it into practice, but a man who took part in the discussion insisted that the young woman could not possibly do as she proposed. Miss Winterhalter's assurance asserted itself and she inquired how much he was willing to wager on his opinion. A bet was the outcome and the other swimmers gathered about to watch the experiment.

Miss Winterhalter was as good as her word. She swam into the deep water with the umbrella in her right hand, and set about to earn that dollar bill. The conditions were that she should hold the umbrella in the same hand without changing, though she could use any method of swimming that she desired. The young woman swam about as usual on her side and then on her back, and then rested by treading water, but during it all the umbrella continued its upright position above her head, and never gave the slightest indication of drooping, as the minutes passed by. The swimmer laughed and conversed with those watching the feat, and gave no sign of exhaustion, and when finally the half hour was pronounced up by the timekeepers and the water was gone, she decided to stay a little while longer. Finally, when forty-one minutes had elapsed, she swam ashore apparently as fresh as when she had stepped into the water, nearly three-quarters of an hour before.

HORSES TO RUN ON THANKSGIVING

Honolulu Driving Association Agrees on a Program to be Given on November 29.

A meeting of the Honolulu Driving Association was held last evening in the Hawaiian Hotel, the following members being present: Messrs. Judd, Quinn, Soule, Decker, Gibson, Horace Wright, Clapham, Dee, Gorman, Diggs, Campbell, Griggsby, McDonald, Monsarrat, Shaw, Bellina and Finn. Mr. L. H. Dee occupied the chair.

The proceedings opened with an attempt by Sam Griggsby to unload Dan McCarthy for the modest sum of $150; no one bit.

Mr. Dee declared his willingness to match Artie W against Mongoose and Dan McCarthy for $100 a corner, four weeks from now. Judd was willing, but Griggsby reserved his decision until today.

The minutes of the last three meetings were read and adopted.

The amount of $109.50 were read and audited. The treasurer reported that the total receipts since the institution of the association had been $823, and that the expenditures had amounted to $695.04, leaving a balance in hand of $128.96.

It was resolved to hold the list of charters open to 200.

Mr. Jack Gibson was given full charge of the track as far as looking after employees and superintending the work of keeping it in good order.

It was decided to charge members of the Association one dollar a month for the use of the track, the renter to keep his stall in good repair.

It was decided to hold a big meeting on Thanksgiving Day, November 29th, at which the following program, subject to change, will be gone through with: 3:00 class, 2:40 class, 2:30 class, 2:20 class, and free-for-all trotting and pacing, best two heats out of three, one and one-quarter mile dash, one mile dash, seven furlongs dash, six furlongs dash, half-mile dash, three-eighths mile dash and pony race for ponies under fourteen hands high.

POLICE WILL SHOOT NO MORE WITH SOLDIERS

"Sonny" Cunha is Organizing a Baseball Nine to Challenge the Hall and Sons.

The police will not shoot any more matches for some time to come. This thing of paying for other fellows' fun is palling on the "cops."

A fleet of yachts is going down to Pearl Harbor tomorrow to the races. "Babbit of Punahou, and "Sonny" Cunha are organizing a baseball nine, and expect to challenge the victorious E. O. Hall & Son's nine in three weeks.

Theo. Davies & Co. and E. O. Hall & Son's nines play a baseball match at Punahou next Saturday.

Considerable betting on the boat races took place yesterday in town, with the Myrtles pronounced favorites. One wager of $20 even money was made that the Myrtles would beat the Healanis in the senior race by not less than nine seconds.

Manulei and Mystery will race three-eighths of a mile this afternoon at Kapiolani Park for $100 a side. The weights are 140 pounds, and the flag falls at 4 o'clock.

The Driving Association will have no races at the track for the next two weeks, but there promises to be something doing down Waikiki way on September 22d.

Sam Griggsby's Dan McCarthy will not be entered in the three-cornered race with Mongoose and Walter P. Charlie Bellina's Lustre will probably take his place.

A three-minute class race will take place on September 22d, in which Buck, Billy V. Charlie and several others will participate.

An effort is being made to match Aggravation and Voris at a mile and an eighth. These two speedy ones may come together on November 16th.

Dr. Heber Newton On The Future Life.

"A CATHOLIC PARTY."

Bishop McFaul's Recent Address in its Favor--Sermon and Church Notes.

ize the best that is in him. The problem of the future is not one of continuous existence but of fitness to live. I wonder that some believe in immortality. Why should they? Immortality is that doctrine which emphasizes one's spiritual fitness to live after death in a region corresponding with our fitness. I always distrust any doctrine of the future which dogmatically answers all questions. Paul confesses to his agnosticism when he said: "We know in part, and we prophesy in part, but that which is in part shall be done away." I believe we all share or ought to share in this generous confession of the limitation of human wisdom.

Christian Imperialism in Germany
Imperialism is as much a German as the Fatherland. It is not a question of right or wrong, but of a virtually settled and only slowly changing order of things. The matter practically is to be decided by the action of the German people. One of the unique features of this nation is the fact that Catholicism is taking on a development in accordance with the spirit of Christianity. The most characteristic expressions of this development are those expressed in the Imperial Reichstag in Berlin. A representative body of three hundred and thirty progressive religious thinkers of Germany. Two prominent savants, Dr. Rathgen, and the pro-Adventist Dr. Lipsius, presented a report on the Imperialist policy and the politics of the country. This was, as fully reported in the (Lairds, No. 5), presents the following thought:
1. With the change in modern and the development of modern nations, Germany, too, is called upon to take its part in the spread of a spiritual and moral power among nations. The Christian control.
2. Germany must become a world power not only in the interests of national independence, but especially because it has the duty of contributing toward the civilization and progress of the world which have hitherto been the duty toward mankind.

shall There be a Catholic Party in the United States?
Bishop McFaul's recent address to the Knights of Columbus, at Trenton, N. J., in which he advised Roman Catholics not to submit supinely to the discrimination which, he claimed, is made against them in American political life, has raised much discussion. The bishop urged that Roman Catholic societies should unite to "insist that our religion shall not be made an obstacle to the attainment of our national rights," and his words have been widely taken to mean that his coreligionists should unite to form in America a distinctly Roman Catholic party similar to the influential "Center" in Germany. The bishop, however, denies this, and said later (see quote from The Catholic Standard and Times, June 30):
"I was careful to state that it was not my intention to advocate a Catholic political party. This, I think, would be unwise for many reasons; neither do I think that we should unreasonably emphasize our claims for justice. We are American citizens entitled to certain rights, and those we must possess. Bigotry shall not be allowed to deprive us of the exercise and enjoyment of any of them. We ask no favors, we beg for no privileges."
The Independent and other papers, however, take the bishop's words to mean an organized political assault upon many American institutions, including the public schools. Such a union, says The Independent, "would provoke a notice to playing harps in the New Jerusalem."

The eminent Dr. Heber Newton of New York is responsible for the above series of remarkable statements concerning the future life. They were not embodied in any of his regular discourses, but appeared in the August number of the magazine Mind. Dr. Newton is the present rector of All Souls' Protestant Episcopal Church, one of the most fashionable places of worship in Gotham, and is ranked among the advanced thinkers of the present day. Hence his opinions upon religious matters are always widely read.
Among the staunch defenders of the old orthodox beliefs, the new theology has naturally provoked a storm of adverse criticism, and a church trial may yet develop.
Of the prominent local clergymen, the Rev. William Rider, pastor of the Third Congregational church, consented to be interviewed in reference to Dr. Newton's singular utterances. Mr. Rider said:
"The problem of the future is one about which we can only speculate. The fact is, we know very little about the matter. We know (apart from the glimpses given in the Bible) more about China and Alaska, or Africa and Oklahoma than we do about the other world. There is no geography, or topography, no definite outline or knowledge of the world beyond the grave, but in the night of death hope sees a star and listening love can hear the rustle of a wing." We know from a scientific standpoint more of death than of the resurrection, more of this world than of the other. "Now we see through a glass darkly." The Bible has a great eschatology or doctrine of last things, the central fact of which is the second coming of Christ. This is the central event in a group of events which include the resurrection, general judgment and final awards. The resurrection is supposed to follow a period of bliss for the good and discomfort for the evil, both of whom shall be called forth to judgment when each shall be judged according to 'the deeds done in the body' and according to Christ. This is the theology of Michael Angelo, who has painted his majestic vision on the walls of the Sistine Chapel in the Vatican. It was at this point where the future probation hypothesis of the professors came in. They raised the question, How about the heathen who never heard of Christ? and they answered emphatically, 'they may have another chance if it is necessary to hear of Christ in order to be saved.' The orthodox view of the resurrection was held to a physical resurrection, or later to this--that the soul went to an intermediate state, there to remain until the final heaven or hell began. This middle state was expressed by Paradise or Abraham's bosom or 'Hodez.' The 'new immortality' holds to the view that resurrection occurs at death, and that 'now is the judgment of the world,' that it is an experience rather than a place in time.

The Independent of Los Angeles states that Judge Smith and Judge Shaw are probably the only two Methodist Judges in the West. They belong to local Methodist churches, attend them regularly and pay the preacher. Judge Shaw and the pool men of San Francisco have recently become acquainted.
Rev. W. H. Latourette, formerly general missionary of the Baptist churches in California, who resides in Oakland, has been appointed financial and general agent of McMinnville College, Or. He is already in the field. He will press financial interests, interest young people to attend the college, and circulate college literature.
Evangelist George Robert Cairns, who labored a few years ago among the Baptist churches in Southern California, spent six months among the Baptist missions in England, where 3000 conversions were reported. Rev. Dr. S. Sonoda, superintendent of Buddhist missions, California, reports a very interesting coincidence which occurred in Sacramento. A week or two ago the Sacramento mission branch was obliged to procure a house for better accommodations. One was hired at 410 O street. Strange to say, Buddha's picture was found hanging on the wall. A copy of the "Sunday Chronicle" of February 16, 1896, in which was pictured the interior of a Buddhist temple in Japan with a large figure of Buddha in the foreground, had been pinned on the wall of one of the rooms and had remained undisturbed for four years. "During this long time," says Dr. Sonoda, "Buddha has been occupying the house, so that it seems it must have been destined to be the home of our mission."

Rev. L. L. Wirt, the Alaska Missionary, in a letter dated July 15th Harbor, writes that he intends to build the new church edifice at Noyah as it is completed to the glory of the place. By means of the hospital, 500 men can be freed, provided sufficient hands. The certain lack of hands near future arouses his fears. He is already selling at Noyah. He believes that the Government will ship at once 50,000 tons of flour.

For the week ending August 27th Christian Herald of New York reports the following contributions to India famine relief fund: From ten churches, $120.16; six Sunday-schools contributed thirty Christian Endeavor leagues, guilds and relief societies, $186.50, and 760 persons sent $1677, making a California total week of over $2300.

The latest Italian census shows there are at present ten times as many monks and nuns in Rome as when they were suppressed by government in 1870.

CHURCH NOTES.

The Brooke edict, which prohibited ecclesiastical marriage in Cuba, recognizing only the civil ceremony, was revoked last Monday by Governor-General Wood.

According to the latest statistics, the number of enrolled Christians in Japan is as follows: Protestants, 41,898; Greek Catholics, 25,231; Roman Catholics, 53,924; total, 120,953.

The total contributions of the Presbyterian Church last year were $15,054,301, of which the various boards of home and foreign mission, church extension, etc., received $2,551,170. All these boards begin their fiscal year first of debt.

A recent census of the Jesuit Order shows the number of members is over 15,000. It is just eighty-six years since the order was re-established. When the order was first founded it took just eighty-six years to bring its membership to 15,000.

Speaking of the Jewish people in Russia and Roumania, Emanu-El says their general condition is at present more desperate than ever, and the time has come again for concerted action in behalf of exiles who crowd the streets of London and New York.

The children's day offerings of the Congregational Sunday-schools in Southern California to the Sunday-school and Public Society amounted to $321.45. The gifts came from fifty-six Sunday-schools, and ranged from 55 cents to $65.66, an average of $9.49 each.

The minutes of the General Assembly for 1900 show that the Presbyterian Church has passed the million mark in its membership roll. It stands at 1,067,630, a net gain over last year of 23,782. The Sabbath school membership is 1,058,651, an increase over last year of 35,722.

While the Jewish people of San Francisco have seven congregations, five of which have settled pastors, they support in addition fifteen charitable and benevolent societies, including hospitals, homes, orphan asylums, educational societies and seventeen organized fraternities.

There are now in Manila three Methodist churches, an English church of fifty members, a Filipino church of 200 and a Chinese church of five members. A school is being opened, and medical and evangelistic work is going on. A thousand copies of the Bible a month are being sold.

The Salvation Army in South Africa during the past year furnished lodgings to 92,502 men, including 5,511 free admissions. The amount of cash received for food and lodging was £4636 14s; number of cheap meals supplied, 209,865; soul-saving meetings held, 320; number of professional conversions, 51.

OMNIPOTENT FAITH.

George H. Hepworth, in New York Herald.
He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do.--St. John, xiv., 12.
This text has long been a stumbling block because it contains a promise or prophecy of such astounding nature that a full appreciation of it is apparently impossible. We have tried to explain it in such a way that the incredible has not been involved, or we have quietly laid it aside as a mystery which our reverence will not allow us to closely examine.
But the only way to interpret the scriptures is to do it boldly. He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do.--St. John, xiv., 12.
Suppose some prophet or seer had come from the other world and had explained that incident to the people. He would have told them that what they considered a marvel was the expression of a law which they would some time understand, and which they would utilize for their convenience and comfort; that the marvel would cease to be a marvel when they were sufficiently educated to grasp the law which made it possible, and that it was only the beginning of a larger commercial and domestic life which future generations would enjoy.
Now let us ascend from the valley of material things to the lofty region of spiritual concerns. The Christ had little to do with the bodies of men, except indirectly, but much to do with their souls. He was, in a certain sense, the soul's discoverer. He drew the line of life beyond the confines of the grave until it stretched into the unknown and mist covered regions of eternity. God and man, he said, must act in harmony before the ideal can be reached. But with God ever at our right hand and a heaven in which the several loves of earth shall be reunited continually in plain sight there is no limit to our spiritual possibilities.
The Father's power is our power. The laws of the Father, once recognized and appreciated, will not only transform our feelings, but will make us masters of ourselves and masters of circumstance. If we can give up self, and love as Christ loved, if we can live and move and have our being and our thought in God, then God will be our God, and the soul will be enthroned so securely that the world impossible can be eliminated from our vocabulary. Christ did that, and disease fled at His touch. He was omnipotent, for even the dead came back when He called.
He was on the threshold of our new spiritual life. His secret was His oneness with the Father. And when the shadow fell on His three years of revelation and the heavens flung wide their doors to receive Him He said: "He that believeth on me, greater works than these shall he do." A hard saying, but gloriously true, or He would not have said it. Faith brings omnipotence within reach. Believe, and all things are yours.

The question of rentable houses in Honolulu is becoming a serious one. None is to be had for love or money. A visit to the real estate dealers this week brought out the fact that not one of them had a desirable house for rent and knew of no house that would be offered either furnished or unfurnished. To strangers the problem is not only vexatious but serious in its result. Many persons lately from the Coast have been compelled to store their household effects and are bearing. There is a complete dearth of good houses but plenty of tumble down houses which respectable people cannot under any circumstances occupy. Nevertheless these tumble-down houses are held at high monthly rentals. One house on Vineyard street, Ewa of Emma, enclosed by a high board fence and erected two or three decades ago, is offered at $50. This is but a sample. Houses bordering on Portuguese town into which nice people are expected to go as tenants are offered at ridiculously high rentals. Upon the plains a small house of four to six rooms is invariably held out at from $49 to $99 per month. Adding to high rents, the high cost of living and a salaried man drawing from $100 to $125 a month has little left of his income after paying his bills. The encroachments of the Chinese and Japanese tenement houses in sections of the city heretofore occupied by white people has not in the least diminished the rents for neighboring houses. Property owners who insist upon bleeding the average salaried man by high rents seem to take little interest in the problem confronting strangers and residents of Honolulu who are compelled to seek respectable habitations. If a syndicate would take up the matter, build houses on a tropical plan and offer them at a rental which is within reasonable bounds they would make a fortune. To begin with, there are not enough houses in Honolulu for the number of people who would like to be so domiciled. What houses there are, are held at exorbitant rentals, and the style of the modern habitations is totally unfit for the needs of the climate. The abbreviated porches which are set up around the front doors suggest nothing in the way of comfort. Honolulu builders up to three or four years ago went in for comfort and surrounded their one-story residences with broad, cool lanais with myriads of tropical plants set in the yard. To have these supplanted by the ginger-bread structures which are reminiscent of the long rows of unsightly houses on San Francisco streets is something the kamaaina cannot understand. It may be good architecture for eastern cities which have four regular seasons during the year, but Honolulu's climate demands a more liberal use of rooms, lanais and yard space.

Strangers and Honolulu's alike are looking forward to the establishment of the Rapid Transit road for quick suburban traffic. It is hoped that the suburbs will be built up with houses that will be a pleasure to look at as well as to live in and be constructed on plans suggestive of the tropics.

HAVE THEIR OWN PLANING MILL. Campbell & Minton have put up a planing mill on the baseball tract and are shaping all the lumber which is going into the cottages now being constructed on the tract. It is a novel idea but the promoters of that tract believe it solves the problem of expense saving. The mill is a first class one in every respect and meets the demands required of it. Cottages will be built as quickly as possible and an attempt made to supply the growing demand for residences. The baseball lots and cottages will be for sale outright and are not to be offered for rent.

DR. DAY'S COLONIAL RESIDENCE SOLD. The handsome residence of Dr. Day on Victoria street has been bought by Frank Halstead. The residence is one of the handsomest designs of colonial fashion in Honolulu and the grounds are thoroughly in keeping with the old-fashioned mode. From the big two-story pillars supporting the front porch to the odd shaped window panes, the house is thoroughly a modern colonial. Even the low wall surrounding the yard is of brick and coping carries out the colonial idea. The entire corner is reminiscent of many places in Virginia, especially in Alexandria and Fredericksburg. Delivery of the residence is to be made on October first.

CORNER PROPERTY SOLD ON BERETANIA STREET. The property on the makai-Waikiki corner of Beretania and Miller streets belonging to Mrs. Mary Adams was yesterday sold to Mrs. E. R. Day for $7,000.00 cash. The property extends on Miller street to the rear and makes a big frontage. The old Adams house will be torn down, and a better cottage erected on its site. A fine office will be erected on the corner which Dr. Waterhouse will occupy. In the opinion of W. H. E. Fisher, the real estate expert, this property is one of the best purchases of down town property made for some time, for on account of its proximity to the Capitol and its location on a completed avenue and street, it will become in time a fine business location.

NEW ORPHEUM THEATER PROJECT. A theater project has been in the wind for some time and for the last few days has been generally known to the public. Yesterday morning an Advertiser reporter called upon Beardslee & Page, the architects who have gotten out the preliminary plans on sketches furnished by Allan Dunn. The architects stated that the plans were in the hands of Mr. Cohen, manager of the Orpheum. The new theater means the demolition of the present auditorium and the erection of a handsome structure much on the lines of a mainland theater—if the proposition goes through.

The land of the Kapiolani Estate which has large holdings in the present Orpheum organization, will be secured for the extension of the theater Ewa of its present location, so that the stage will face the Fort street entrance. The architects' plans call for an auditorium 36 feet long by 72 feet wide, with a seating capacity in the orchestra and dress circle portion for 1,000 persons, while the so-called gallery will contain half as many more. The building will be practically two stories in height—that is a high first story or auditorium with a roof garden above.

At the entrance from the arcade, a wide foyer will be made so that plenty of room will be had for the entrance of persons and for freedom of movement. This will obviate the crowding of the entrance door as at present. The stage will be a large one and of sufficient width and depth to conduct the most elaborate scenic plays. The dimensions are 72x30 feet, with a proscenium arch 39 feet in width by 24 feet height. From the roof of the stage to the flooring the distance will be 68 feet. Dressing rooms fitted up in the most approved modern style will be a feature behind the scenes. The auditorium will be finished handsomely and special pains taken to have it a pleasing interior from every point of view.

The gallery will have its entrance from the theater to the right of the entrance to the management. From the auditorium the safe make it a profitable one without going out of the theater by the regular exits. The roof garden can be reached by a staircase winding directly from the auditorium. The roof garden will be utilized for the same purposes as these in eastern cities. After the regular show the roof garden is the gathering place of the late stayers. The roof garden will be 58 feet in length by 43 feet in width with a stage 5x24. The Kapiolani Estate owns most of the land in rear of the Orpheum block and intend to use much of it for theater purposes. The theater, alleyways, and general improvements are estimated at $50,000.

VALUABLE LEASEHOLD SOLD. An important deal in real estate is on course of completion, namely the sale of the leasehold of the Cartwright property just makai of the Pacific Club on Alaieka street, and now occupied by Mrs. Hanna. Mrs. Hanna had a lease of the property for twenty years, and has occupied it for six years, so that the lease has still about fourteen or fifteen years to run. The rental paid was declared to be too small at the present rate of income from city property and a new deal was effected by W. F. Allen, trustee for Miss Cartwright, a resident of Boston, whereby Dr. Cartwright and Dr. Howard may come into possession of the house, it is contemplated in the improvements to tear down the pretty little cottages now on the land and erect a brick structure, whose height has not yet been determined upon. It will be a business building. Mr. Allen is now absent from the Islands but if the deal goes through delivery will be made on October 1st.

WHERE MEN FLY KITES. This is in China On the Ninth Day of the Ninth Month.

There is one time of the year when every boy would not object to becoming a subject of the Chinese empire for just one day. This time is the ninth day of the ninth month, according to the Chinese calendar. On this day a kite-flying festival is held. Then every Chinaman who has any regard for his spiritual and physical welfare and can afford a kite—and there are few, indeed, who can not afford such an inexpensive trifle—goes to a hill and flies his kite the whole day long. The custom prevails more generally, of course, in the rural districts, for were the inhabitants of a great city like Canton or Peking each to send up a kite the strings would become entangled and the very heavens would be darkened with such a collection of paper and strings as never was seen. This custom was originated by a man who had a strangely realistic dream, in which it was revealed to him that some calamity would befall his house on a certain day. Wishing to avoid this unknown but inevitable disaster, he took his family to a neighboring hilltop and amused the children by flying a kite. When he returned home that night he found that his house had literally fallen to the ground, thus killing all the dogs and pigs that had been left at home to keep house. That set the fashion, and since then whenever the anniversary of that day comes round other families, remembering the providential escape of their countryman, fly their kites from the hills in the belief that as the paper toys ascend they will carry off the evil spirits that might otherwise demolish their own houses and bury them in the ruins should they stay at home.

OAHU DELEGATES HOLD CONVENTION

The Republican Stalwarts From the Fourth and Fifth Districts Met Yesterday.

Delegates from the Fourth and Fifth Representative Districts of Hawaii, comprising the Island of Oahu, who were elected last Saturday, met yesterday in separate conventions for the choosing of permanent officers and standing committees and the delegates to the Territorial Convention to be held on September 20.

The convention of the Fourth District was held in the Drill Shed, and the Fifth District in the Chamber of Commerce.

The Fifth selected permanent officers and an executive committee and adopted rules governing the organization and conduct of the district. They adjourned until this morning at 9 o'clock.

In the Fourth District the temporary chairman was elected and a committee on permanent organization was appointed. The Fourth District will meet again on Monday at 4 p. m.

THE FOURTH DISTRICT. Committee Appointed and Adjournment Till Monday at Four.

Sharp at 3 o'clock the delegates of the Fourth District met in the drill shed. Mark P. Robinson who was proposed for temporary chairman declined and Colonel Jones was elected to that office. Charles Wilcox declining the temporary secretaryship, William H. Coney was chosen.

George McLeod said that the convention was short three delegates from the Waianaloa precinct and he proposed that W. R. Farrington, J. P. Cooke and A. G. M. Robertson be elected to fill the vacancies. Lorrin Andrews asked if it would not be better to organize first. Before the convention took any steps it must ascertain who had rights to vote. Frank Hoogs commented that no credentials had been presented as yet.

Chairman Jones asked if the district convention had been authorized by the Republican Central Committee to elect delegates for Waianaloa. Clarence Crabbe replied as a member of the Central Committee that that body had been consulted and had concluded that the delegates were their own best judges but as they had been asked for authority they had given it to the conventions to fill the membership.

Colonel Jones, the temporary chairman, said that the Waianaloa delegates might be elected and their names passed on afterward by the Committee on credentials.

Lorrin Andrews persisted that the convention should be organized first as the members had not been identified yet. James H. Boyd agreed with Andrews. The fact was, he said, that it had not been settled whether Andrews had a vote or only half a vote.

Clarence Crabbe made a motion for the appointment of a committee on credentials to consult with the secretary of the Central Committee. Andrews, Crabbe and McLeod were appointed. They reported the following delegates as members of the Fourth District Convention:

First Precinct, Waikiki and Punahou—J. D. McVeigh, J. H. Boyd and J. William K. Keiki.

Second Precinct, Makiki and Keolu—J. W. Jones, Charles Wilcox, John M. Kea, C. B. Wilson, George McLeod, Andrew Brown and Lorrin Andrews.

Third Precinct, Pauoa and Nuuanu—Mark Robinson, Henry Waterhouse and H. M. Mott-Smith.

Fourth Precinct, mauka Beretania street—C. L. Crabbe, A. V. Gear and David Nauhoolewa.

Fifth Precinct, west of Richards street—J. Keohuka, Samuel Johnson and W. H. Coney.

Sixth Precinct, east of Richards street—Dr. C. Waldo Burgess, Frank L. Hoogs and L. H. Wolf.

Seventh Precinct, Waianaloa—No election.

The report was adopted. A motion for the appointment by the chair of a committee on permanent organization composed of one member from each precinct. Andrews seconded this motion and it was passed, after being amended to read that a member should be appointed to represent Waianaloa after delegates from that precinct had been selected.

J. P. Cooke, W. R. Farrington and A. G. M. Robertson were again proposed for these vacancies. James Boyd said that Robertson would not accept as he had given a letter to that effect signed by him. W. L. Stanley was nominated by Harold Mott-Smith and A. L. Gilliland by Clarence Crabbe. The nominations were then closed.

Dick Daly was made sergeant-at-arms and on a vote by ballot Cooke, Farrington and Gilliland were elected. Stanley got 2 votes and Gilliland 15, the other two receiving 20 each. The committee on permanent organization was then appointed as follows:

First precinct J. H. Boyd, second George McLeod, third Henry Waterhouse, fourth A. V. Gear, fifth Samuel Johnson, sixth Frank Hoogs, seventh W. R. Farrington.

The convention then adjourned until 9 o'clock Monday afternoon when it is expected to have a definite answer as to the place of the convention. An answer from Hill will come on the boat today and the Republican Central Territorial Committee is to meet today at noon to determine the location. It was not thought wise to elect delegates to the Territorial convention until it was known whether it would be held here or in Hilo as delegates who might be willing to serve in Honolulu might be unable to go to Hawaii.

Widow Wants Damages.

Kamaka Kekauoha, widow of Enoch Kekauoha, has filed suit in the Circuit Court for damages in the sum of $5,000 against the schooner Robert Lewers Company for negligence in causing her husband's death. The complaint cites that on or about July 24, 1900, in the harbor of Honolulu, by the carelessness and negligence of the defendant company, by reason of insufficient support and tacking connected with a piece of iron machinery weighing several tons which was being unloaded from the schooner Robert Lewers, and because the same was subjected to an unreasonable strain and unskillful handling, the piece of iron was dropped and thrown down and against Enoch Kekauoha, a laborer, crushing him and causing his death. She alleges that the accident was due in no wise to the deceased, and she claims damages because she was deprived of the protection, comfort, fellowship and society of the said Enoch as well as the maintenance and support heretofore found and provided for her.

THE FIFTH DISTRICT. Officers Elected and Meeting Set for This Morning at Nine.

Fifth District Officers—George R. Carter, president; Curtis P. Laukae, vice-president; W. J. Coelho, recording secretary; Fred Waterhouse, financial secretary; J. McCandless, treasurer; Executive Committee: District officers ex-officio members, and W. C. Achi, James L. Holt, Enoch Johnson, Frank Pahia, W. H. Crawford.

The above officers are the result of the first day's convention work of the Fifth District. The meeting was held at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce at which were present every member elected at the primaries except two. The two candidates of the Seventh Precinct, Mr. E. C. Winston and George H. Huddy were also present awaiting a decision of the District Committee as to who should be entitled to occupy a seat in the convention. This was decided by the election of E. C. Winston. Almost from the start the committee struck a snag in the adoption of rules governing the course of the District Committee for the next two years. The rules were prepared ahead of the time of the meeting by T. McCants Stewart and proved to be an exhaustive treatise on the subject. They were opposed in many instances and the Kaula orator was compelled to take the floor during much of the afternoon in support of them. Mr. McCants Stewart finally won the day and his rules were adopted with very few changes.

Enoch Johnson, as a member of the Territorial Executive Committee, called the meeting to order. Judge Hookano moved that a temporary chairman be elected and George R. Carter was placed in nomination by W. C. Achi. His election was unanimous. W. J. Coelho was elected temporary secretary.

The Chair ruled that the committee could make such rules as it saw fit. If the convention desired to postpone consideration of the rules and proceed to the election of permanent officers, it could do so. A vote upon the question of having the rules printed before consideration was finally defeated.

The rules were then taken up article by article. The Chairman as a member spoke against the last article which referred to two-thirds voting for a suspension of the rules. He moved that the clause be amended to read that a majority vote could suspend the rules, which was carried. Mr. McCants Stewart moved the adoption of the rules as a whole. Laukae spoke against it and asked that his vote be so recorded. "I feel it my duty to protest against the railroading of a lot of rules through this convention," he said, "If I thought there was a possibility of tabling the rules I would so make a motion." A vote upon the question stood twenty-five for the adoption of the rules and one vote against it—Curtis Laukae's.

Upon motion of Achi the rules were ordered printed in Hawaiian.

Nominations for permanent officers were then declared in order and George R. Carter was nominated for permanent president by W. C. Achi. Judge Hookano nominated W. C. Achi. A ballot was taken upon the two nominations resulting in thirteen votes for each nominee. Mr. Achi withdrew in favor of Mr. Carter, and the election of the latter was made unanimous.

The balance of the officers were elected as appears above, and the executive committee appointed, consisting of Messrs. W. C. Achi, James L. Holt, Enoch Johnson, Frank Pahia and W. H. Crawford, which together with the officers form the personnel of that committee.

Laukae moved that the case of the tied members of the Seventh Precinct be taken up for consideration and their status established. Mr. Winston was nominated by Laukae and elected.

Some difficulty was had in arriving at the hour to adjourn for the next meeting. Some desired it for 1 o'clock this afternoon, others 2 o'clock while others thought that 2 o'clock Monday afternoon would be the best time. McCandless moved that consideration be taken in behalf of the country members who could not be present. Clarence Crabbe, member of the Executive Territorial Committee, stated that the Hilo reply was expected on the Kinau this morning and the committee would make its decision at an early hour this forenoon. Upon this declaration the meeting was adjourned to 9 o'clock this morning.

"If there is to be a war with China you can bet that good old Chicago is amply prepared for it." "In what way?" "We have just advanced the price of canned meat twenty-five cents a dozen cans."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Every sailor of the Enterprise has deserted. Yesterday they presented a joint suit in Judge Estee's court for the balance of their pay. It is rumored that the "crimps" are at the bottom of these recent desertions.

Three men were standing together on Merchant street, directly opposite the police station. Suddenly one of them pointed to the inscription in Hawaiian, which surmounts the main entrance to the temple of equity, and which reads: "Oihana Makai," and asked his companions what it might mean. They admitted that they did not know but suggested that the one who made the best guess be treated to soda water by the other two. This was agreed upon and the conundrum mill began to grind. "Leave hope behind all ye who enter here," suggested number one. "Home, sweet home," hazarded number two. "It's nothing more nor less than the last line of a stanza of Rudyard Kipling's Absent Minded Beggar, 'Pay, Pay, Pay,' and its beastly appropriate," confidently exclaimed number three, and by common consent the soda was on the other two.

If horse-racing is to be indulged in there is a good track at Kapiolani Park. Of late there is a constantly increasing use of Beretania street for that sport and the danger to pedestrians is great. The racing on Beretania street usually commences near the corner of Richards street and continues as far as Alapai street. The new macadam makes a fine roadway but it is a pity local drivers cannot make proper use of it. The spectacle of a driver of a light wagon urging his animal on at full speed along this thoroughfare fills mothers with horror, for oftentimes these mothers with their little tots have had narrow escapes. On Saturday a lady with two children was crossing Miller street intersection, and a carriage containing two ladies was about to turn into Beretania street from Miller when one of these wild men of the road came tearing up the street. With great presence of mind the lady who was driving turned her horse sharply back into the street whence she was coming and thus avoided an accident. The lady and her two children made a run for safety and were fortunate enough to escape being thrown under the horse's hoofs.

OLD PARD BILL.

Billy's dead—Lord! I can't believe it. It never seemed as if he could die. Why, we've chummed with death since we've been together— Billy and I— Jested and joked at his blunt old sickle. And he passed us by.

Bill was a good 'un, openly hearted And true to a fault where he loved the best. And now he's answered the final calling— Gone to his rest; Followed the sunlight across the water, Into the West.

For years we've camped on the trail of fortune— Mine and mountain and cattle range, Fought and gambled and lived together Without a change; And now Bill's gone and he's quit the diggings— My God! it's strange.

The ups and downs of the world we've tasted, Empty now as a busted can, And then a "strike" and a stream of money Toward us ran, Making us rich beyond hope or dreaming At Silver Pan.

We were here today and away tomorrow— Easy come meant as easy go, But we didn't care so we paid our footing— We liked it so; "When to-morrow comes 'twill be time to bother," Was our motto.

Over the land and the sea we've wandered, Wherever the news of a "find" might leak— Black Hills, Tuolumne, Trinity county, Bonanza creek; Good luck and bad luck and me and Billy Flayed hide and seek.

It was tough and go for years more'n twenty, First it was Billy and then 'twas I, Sometimes a quarrel with guns in the open— How lead would fly! And sometimes the glint of steel in the moonlight, With no one by.

But we saw it through and we came out safely— Bill had a knife that would all but shave, And my trigger finger was always limber, With life to save; Else, like as not we'd today be filling An unknown grave.

Billy was rough but there war'n't a better Partner this side of the Great Divide, And I would to God he was here this moment, Right by my side— Darn! but the tears won't keep from rolling Adown my hide.

His heart was soft and his love like fire— There's one little girl in the world could tell, Bill would have lived his life for something, Had she kept well; But she faded and died, back fifteen spring times— "Idaho" Nell.

How did he hand in his checks? they tell me He met his death on a drunken "bear"— Fighting odds that were one to a dozen, That I'll swear; One or twenty, the more the better— Bill didn't care.

And now he's gone, well, good-bye partner, You won't forget, no you never will, And you'll surely come if you can and see me. When the world is still; The trail from now will be mighty lonesome— Farewell! friend Bill.

SABBATH LAW TO BE ENFORCED NOW

Restaurants Must Close To morrow at 7 o'clock by the Police Orders.

Honolulu will spend a tranquil Sunday. All the restaurants have been ordered closed by 7 o'clock. Any belated wayfarer will have to carry his own little lunch basket or go supperless. The police are going to be very strict in this matter of Sunday closing. Four more Chinese storekeepers were convicted and fined $5 each yesterday morning. Last Sunday David Kaapa and an assistant went around buying packages of cigarettes, and the sales cost those Chinese storekeepers $5 apiece. Sunday labor, necessary for the good order, health, comfort or safety of the community, is permitted by the penal code on a Sunday. This might help out the restaurants, but for the plain provision of another section, 322, which commands all restaurants to close at 7 o'clock Sunday evenings. A fine of from $20 to $100 is incurred for violation of this section. All the small stores kept open up to last Sunday with no restriction to speak of, and the restaurants paid no attention to this section. A wave of Puritanism is sweeping the town, and the old blue laws are in the ascendant.

THE BAND CONCERT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The band concert will take place as usual on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Capitol grounds. But instead of playing at Emma Square this afternoon, Berger has decided to play at the races at Pearl Harbor.

Below is given the program for Sunday afternoon's concert: PART I. "The Old Hundred." Overture—"Semiramide"..... Rossini Fantasia—"Autumn Leaves"..... Bergson Andante—"Surprise Symphony," Haydn Grand Selection—"Martiana"..... Wallace PART II. Selection—"Potpourri"..... Lamboulet Ballad—"Mona"..... Adams Cavatina—"Lucia"..... Donizetti Processional—"Daniela"..... Moore "The Star Spangled Banner."

The Bow Wongs.

The secretary of the Bow Wong Society of Honolulu, Lam Sai, received a letter by the steamer Nippon Maru from a friend in Shanghai, saying that the new provisional government at Shanghai was about to be declared by the reformers. The next steamer from San Francisco is expected to bring the news to the Bow Wongs of the establishment of the government. A war upon the northern provinces to overthrow the government of the Empress Dowager will be the next thing upon the tapis. Leung Chi-tao is said now to be in Tien-Tsin, which has fallen into the hands of the allies. The Shanghai correspondent of the Bow Wong says, although no word was received from Leung Chi-tao directly, that the next place where trouble may be expected is along the Yangtze. News of great uprisings there are momentarily expected by the world at large.

Those fine Chinese inlaid settees that have been admired so much at the Arlington Hotel, will be sold at auction next Monday.

ALSEN PORTLAND CEMENT

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED a large shipment of this celebrated Cement, which is the STRONGEST AND MOST SERVICEABLE CEMENT MADE. It will permit the admixture of a larger amount of sand gravel, with less loss of strength, than any other brand; it is therefore the most economical. ALSEN has no equal in color, fineness and sand carrying capacity. It weighs less per bushel, measuring about 10 per cent more cement to a barrel than other brands, which very materially reduces its cost as compared with other cements. It is therefore an economical cement to use, and especially adapted for the concrete work. The following tests, made in actual work by Col. D. C. Houston, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., at the sea wall around Governor's Island, New York Harbor, has never been equaled by other cement. It is as follows: Tensile strength per square inch—One day, 384 pounds; seven days, 604 pounds; thirty days, 815 pounds. For sidewalks it gives the best color and the most endurable wearing surface. A few of the large contracts in which Alsen Cement was used: Cable R. R., Baltimore, 35,000 barrels; Quebec Harbor Improvement, 40,000 barrels; Northern Pacific R. R. Bridges, 20,000 barrels.
