100 Years Old

THIS is the oldest Bank in the United States west of the Alleghany Mountains. When it was founded in 1810, Pittsburgh was a village of 4,740 people; James Madison was President of the United States, George III ruled over England and Napoleon over France. The existence of this Bank for 100 years, uninterrupted by the financial disturbances of the past century, is ample evidence of its ability to protect its depositors. It invites the business of individuals, firms, corporations and banks.

IN PITTSBURGH

QUOWING TO INDUSTRIAL AND FINANCIAL conditions that are entirely peculiar to Pittsburgh, the banks of this great center lead the banks of all other American cities in earning capacity. ¶ These same conditions enable this bank to offer an unusually attractive proposition to Banks and Trust Companies everywhere to act as a Reserve Depository and Collecting agent for them. It pays liberal interest on deposits and gives banking service satisfactory to the most exacting.
