F. M. Drake

SIXTEENTH GOVERNOR OF IOWA. JANUARY 16, 1886 TO JANUARY 13, 1898.

FRANCIS MARION DRAKE.

BY W. H. FLEMING.

Francis Marion Drake, governor of the State 1896-1898, departed this life November 20, 1903, in the seventy-third year of his age. Thus closed the earthly career of a worthy man, one of Iowa's most notable philanthropists.

Governor Drake was descended from James Drake, who went from the colony of Virginia to that of North Carolina in the eighteenth century. Several of the family have been notable characters in the history of Nash county, North Carolina, in both colony and State, as they were also in the war of the Revolution. James Drake's son Benjamin married Celia Thayer. Their son, John Adams, born in 1802, married Harriet J. O'Neil, and after a brief residence in Tennessee, removed to Illinois, where, in Schuyler county, their second son, Francis Marion, was born December 30, 1830. In 1837, Mr. John Drake moved with his family across the Mississippi river into Lee county, then Wisconsin territory, and settled at Fort Madison, then recently laid out. Here Mr. Drake, besides enjoying a successful business career, was justice of the peace, and also probate judge. In 1846, he removed with his family to Davis county, territory of Iowa, where he founded the town of Drakesville. Here young Francis attended district school as he had at Fort Madison. He was subsequently in his father's employ until 1852, when with a train of two wagons (each drawn by eight oxen), and accompanied by five men and a boy, he took the overland route to California. On the way the party, reinforced by another train, had an encounter with a large party of Indians. After a desperate battle, the Indians were driven off, their leader being among the slain. Securing a ranch in the golden State, young Drake returned to Iowa the next year. In 1854, he again crossed the plains, taking with him a hundred milch cows, reaching his destination with a loss of only three. Returning by sea, he was on the steamer Yankee Blade, which was wrecked off the coast of Mexico, when several hundred lives were lost. He succeeded in making his escape, helping a number of others to get ashore. Here they remained until rescued by a steamer and taken back to San Francisco; whence Mr. Drake took passage on another vessel for home. He then went into business with his father and brother at Drakesville. Subsequently he engaged in business on his own account. In 1839, leaving the management of his affairs to his partner, he removed to Unionville, Appanoose county, where, following mercantile pursuits, he became also a live stock dealer and pork packer.

When the civil war began, he commanded an independent force that went to the relief of a Missouri regiment near Memphis, Mo. During the same year, when Colonel Cranor, commanding a body of Missouri Union troops, was driven into Iowa, a Union command that had hastily been gotten together, known as "Colonel Edwards's Independent Iowa Regiment," in which Captain Drake served as major, marched into Missouri, and soon relieved that part of the State from the presence of the enemy, Major Drake himself attacking a force at Albany. Being placed in command at St. Joseph, Mo., he was there when Price, after the capture of Lexington, went westward, threatening St. Joseph. Anticipating the arrival of the southern commander, Major Drake attacked his advance so vigorously that the enemy were led to think that there was a large force at St. Joseph, a rumor having previously reached their lines that ten regiments had been sent to that point. The enemy then retired beyond the Missouri.

In 1862, when the Thirty-sixth Iowa infantry volunteers was formed, Major Drake was made its lieutenant colonel, a position he held until the regiment was mustered out, a large part of the time being in command of it.

In the campaign in Arkansas in 1864, when General Steele undertook to render assistance to General Banks, operating in Louisiana, Colonel Drake took an active and prominent part. At Elkin's Ford, on the Little Missouri river, with a detachment of 500 men from his own regiment, the First Iowa Cavalry, and an Indiana regiment, with a couple of pieces of cannon, he held the Ford against a force numbering in the thousands under Marmaduke. The fight lasted from about daylight until near noon, when the enemy retired. In the same month, Colonel Drake, in command of a brigade of 1,500 men, encountered General Fagan, commanding a superior force, at Mark's Mills. Although overwhelmed, the Union forces did some desperate though ineffectual fighting. In this battle Colonel Drake was severely wounded in the left thigh, slightly fracturing the thigh bone, pieces of the ball being taken from different parts of the body, and one piece never being gotten out. The enemy, finding Colonel Drake on the field, and supposing him to be mortally wounded, did not make him prisoner. It was six months before he was again fit for duty. When he did return to his regiment, it was on crutches. Soon afterwards he was breveted brigadier general; and in 1865, the first brigade, second division, seven h army corps, was placed under him. He was mustered out of the service in September, 1865.

Returning home, General Drake was admitted to the bar. Success attended him here as elsewhere, and although he remained in the practice hardly half a dozen years, he attained considerable reputation, especially as a criminal lawyer. In the early '70's, he turned his attention to railroading. He was the moving spirit in the Missouri, Iowa & Nebraska railroad, (later the Keokuk & Western), until it was constructed to Hanneston. The Albia & Centerville is another project of his; and he was the contractor in the construction of one or two branches of the Iowa Central. The Indiana, Illinois & Iowa railroad is another bold enterprise which he conceived, and of which he constructed over 150 miles, and he was its president until he disposed of his interest in it a few years ago. He was also president of the A. & C. R. R., and of the Centerville National Bank until his death, that city having been his home since the war.

In 1895 he was elected Governor of the State, being inaugurated in January, 1896. He discharged the duties of that office with the fearlessness and independence ever characteristic of the man. A severe injury which Governor Drake sustained in the summer of 1897 caused him to decline re-election to the office.

After his retirement he continued to manifest an active interest in the University at Des Moines that bears his name, and of which he was the principal founder; freely giving of his liberal fortune for its strengthening and upbuilding. Governor Drake was also a generous contributor to other institutions of learning; while the cause of religion ever found in him a munificent supporter, churches all over the State, especially those of the "Disciples of Christ," with which he was identified, experiencing the benefits of his generosity.

Governor Drake was married in 1865 to Mary Jane Lord, but she preceded her husband in death more than twenty years. Six of their children survive their father, to experience the consolation that the State, the church, and the cause of education unite with them in revering the memory of their honored parent.

This sketch may very properly close with an extract from Governor Drake's message to the general assembly as he retired from office, indicating as it does his enthusiastic love for Iowa.

"Confident I am that all the interests of the State are safe in your hands, . . . Those interests are all very dear to me. Here has been my only home from early childhood, since before the time that there was an 'Iowa' on the map. I have seen all its growth and participated in it; its handful of people grown into millions; its vast stretch of bleak and forbidding prairie made the most productive fields on earth; and the embryo commonwealth become the tenth State in the Union in point of population, foremost in agricultural productions, and in the van of educational effort. Here, too, when I lay aside the burden of earth-life, I intend my mortal remains shall rest. In the record of Iowa as the home of one of the most enlightened bodies of people on earth; as the land whence went forth at the country's call myriads of men to save that country to themselves and their posterity, of whom I am thankful I was permitted to be one; and in all her luminous past I rejoice. In her future of glowing promise I have an abiding trust."

IOWA.

IOWA IN HISTORY.

CLAIMED BY ENGLAND, FRANCE AND SPAIN. The territory now included in the State of Iowa was, prior to 1762, claimed by three different foreign countries, Spain, England and France. Spain based her claim to title on the discovery of North America by Columbus in 1492, and on a grant from Pope Alexander VI., made in 1493 to Ferdinand and Isabella, King and Queen of Aragon and Castile, of all the continents, inhabited by infidels, which they had discovered, said grant being assigned to their heirs and successors, the kings of Castile and Leon. By the partition agreed upon by Spain and Portugal, Spain was allotted all of North America. England claimed title through the discovery of America in 1498, by John Cabot who, together with his sons, had been granted a patent of discovery, possession and trade by Henry VII., King of England. The claim of France was based on the actual discovery of Iowa Territory by Jaques Marquette and Louis Joliet, in June, 1673, and upon the discoveries made by Robert La Salle, in 1682, who had been granted a patent by Louis XIV., in 1678, permitting him to explore the western part of New France. La Salle descended the Illinois and Mississippi rivers, explored the shores of the Gulf of Mexico to the westward, and on the ninth of April, 1682, proclaimed the river and all the lands drained by it to be by right of discovery the dominions of Louis XIV., King of France, and he named the country Louisiana in honor of his King.

DECLARED FRENCH TERRITORY. The ownership of the territory of Louisiana was not definitely settled by the three claimants until 1763. In 1763 a preliminary treaty, known as the Act of Fontainebleau, was signed between England, France and Spain, by which it was agreed that the boundary between the provinces of England and France should be irrevocably fixed by a line drawn in the middle of the Mississippi river from its source to the Iberville, etc., the French possessions lying west and the English possessions lying east of this line. By this treaty Iowa was definitely placed in the Louisiana Province, and all rights of claimants through charters and grants made by the Kings of England in the seventeenth century were terminated. The Treaty of Paris, which was signed by the three countries in the following year, confirmed the boundaries agreed upon in the preliminary treaty.

CESSION TO SPAIN AND RETROCESSION TO FRANCE. Louis XV., King of France, secretly ceded to Spain, in 1762, all the French possessions lying beyond the Mississippi river. Spain took formal possession of the province of Louisiana in 1769 and retained control of this vast territory until 1800, when the treaty of St. Ildefonso was concluded, Spain agreeing to recede the province of Louisiana to France upon the fulfillment of certain considerations to be performed by the French republic. This treaty was succeeded in the following year by the treaty of Madrid, which provided that the retrocession of Louisiana, as agreed upon in the treaty of St. Idelfonso, should be carried out.

PURCHASED BY THE UNITED STATES. In 1803, for a consideration of $15,000,000, France relinquished to the United States all her right and title to the territory lying west of the Mississippi river and north and east of the Spanish possessions. This transaction is known as the "Louisiana Purchase." The United States thus acquired possession of a vast domain, out of which there have been formed the States of Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, all of Indian Territory, the major parts of the States of Louisiana, Minnesota, Kansas, Montana and Wyoming, nearly all of Oklahoma Territory and a large portion of the State of Colorado.

INCLUDED IN DISTRICT OF LOUISIANA AND TERRITORY OF LOUISIANA. The first act of Congress providing for the government of the territory acquired was approved October 31, 1803, and provided that all military, judicial and civil powers should be "vested in such persons and exercised in such manner as the President of the United States shall direct." This was followed in 1804 by an act dividing the territory, the part lying south of the thirty-third parallel forming the territory of Orleans and the part lying to the north forming the District of Louisiana. The latter territory was placed under the control of the Governor and the judges of the Indiana Territory. A year later Congress established a territorial government in the District of Louisiana and changed the name to the Territory of Louisiana. The executive and judicial powers were vested in a Governor and three judges, to be appointed by the President of the United States, with the consent of the Senate.

INCLUDED IN TERRITORY OF MISSOURI. In 1812 the name of the Territory was changed to the Territory of Missouri and an additional department of government established, the legislative department. This department consisted of a Council, composed of nine members, appointed by the President for terms of five years, and a House of Representatives, composed of one representative for every five hundred free white male inhabitants, to be elected for terms of two years by the votes of free white male taxpaying citizens. Absolute vetoing power was vested in the Governor. Another concession was granted by Congress in 1816, the people being permitted to elect the members of the Council.

INCLUDED IN MICHIGAN TERRITORY. In 1821 the boundaries of Missouri were defined and Missouri admitted into the Union as a State. The remaining portion of the Territory, of which the present States of Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota were a part, was left without any form of government. It remained in this state of orphanage until 1834 when the boundaries of Michigan Territory were extended west to the Missouri river.

INHABITED BY INDIANS—EARLY PIONEERS. These various changes of jurisdiction are enumerated as a matter of history only, simply to show the chain of title and the character of government established by Congress. The changes had no effect on the territory now embraced in the State of Iowa prior to 1838, because of the fact that previous to that date the Territory was in the possession of the Indians and there were no white settlements. The only white pioneers known to have resided in the Territory were Julien Dubuque, a French-Canadian trader, who with a few followers settled at a point near the present city of Dubuque in 1788 and dwelt there among the Indians until his death in 1810; Basil Girard, a French trader, who was granted a tract of land situated in the limits of the present county of Clayton in 1705 by the Spanish Lieutenant Governor of upper Louisiana and lived thereon from 1705 until some time in the early part of the nineteenth century; and Louis Honoré, who was granted a tract by the Spanish Lieutenant Governor near the present town of Montrose, Lee county, in 1790 and resided there until 1808.

ATTEMPTS TO ESTABLISH FRIENDLY RELATIONS WITH THE INDIANS. The United States, shortly after acquiring Louisiana from France, made many attempts through army officers and Indian commissioners to establish friendly relations with the Indians inhabiting this territory. Many councils were held and treaties made, but the resume here given is only of those which related directly to Iowa. The principal Indian tribes of Iowa and those which figured most prominently in the Indian history of Iowa were the Sacs, Foxes, Winnebagoes, Sioux, Potlawattamies and Iowas.

LEWIS AND CLARKE EXPEDITION. In 1804 Captains Lewis and Clarke, while on their famous exploring expedition to the Pacific coast, held a notable council with the Indians where Council Bluffs is now situated, the purpose being to inform the Indians of the new government and to establish peaceful relations with them. While in Iowa, one of their men, Sergeant Charles Floyd, died and was buried on the bluff of the Missouri river, now known as Floyd's Bluff, near Sioux City.

TREATY OF 1804. On November 3, 1804, a treaty was concluded between William H. Harrison, Governor of the District of Louisiana, and five chiefs of the Sac and Fox Indians by which they conveyed to the United States practically all of their land east of the Mississippi river, the United States agreeing to allow the Indians to occupy and hunt on the lands which they conveyed so long as such lands remained the property of the United States, and "never again to interrupt them in the possession of the lands they rightfully claimed, but, on the contrary, to protect them in the quiet enjoyment of the same against their own citizens, and against all other white persons who may intrude upon them." This treaty was not popular with the Indians. They looked upon the advance of civilization with dread as they were forced away from their hunting grounds and villages as fast as white settlements were made. They realized that the lands they had conveyed would soon be settled and they would be forced to seek new territory. In 1803 a military post was established at Fort Madison on Indian lands. This was in violation of the covenants made in the treaty of 1804, and still further inflamed the passions of an already discontented people. They immediately annulled the treaty and a large number gave active aid to the English in the war of 1812. In 1812 and 1813 they made several attacks on Fort Madison and finally forced its garrison to destroy and abandon it.

TREATIES OF PEACE AND FRIENDSHIP—HALF BREED TRACT. On September 13, 1815, a treaty of peace and amity was concluded with the Sac Indians and the treaty of 1804 was reaffirmed. A like treaty was concluded with the Fox Indians September 14, 1815. Treaties of peace and friendship were also concluded with the Sioux Indians, July 19, 1815, and with the Iowas, September 16, 1815. August 4, 1824, another treaty was concluded with the Sac and Fox tribes by which the Indians relinquished to the United States all their territory in the State of Missouri and a tract in southeastern Iowa between the Mississippi and Des Moines rivers south of a line drawn from the point where the Missouri state line touches the Des Moines river due east to the Mississippi river. This tract was known as the "Half Breed Tract."

INDIAN BOUNDARY LINE. August 19, 1826, a treaty was concluded by the Indian commissioners, Clark and Cass, with several tribes, Sacs, Foxes, Pottawattamies, Winnebagoes, Sioux and others fixing the boundary lines of the lands belonging to the various tribes. The only boundary line of importance established in Iowa by this treaty was the one dividing the possessions of the Sioux from the Sac and Fox Indians. The lands of the Sioux were to the north and the lands of the Sac and Fox to the south of the line described as follows: "Commencing at the mouth of the upper Iowa river on the west bank of the Mississippi river and ascending the said Iowa river, to its left fork; thence up that fork to its source; thence crossing the fork of the Red Cedar river, in a direct line to the second or upper fork of the Des Moines river; and thence in a direct line to the lower fork of the Calumet river and down that river to its juncture with the Missouri river." This is known as the Clark and Cass boundary line.

CESSION OF MISSOURI SLOPE AND NEUTRAL GROUND. A treaty was concluded with the Sacs and Foxes, Sioux, Omahas, Iowas, Ottobes, Missourias, July 15, 1830, by which these tribes ceded and relinquished to the United States a large portion of the Missouri slope of Iowa described as follows: "Beginning at the upper fork of the Des Moines river and passing the sources of the Little Sioux and Floyd rivers to the fork of the first creek which falls into the Big Sioux or Calumet on the East Side; thence down said creek and Calumet river to the Missouri river; thence down the said Missouri river to the Missouri state line above the Kansas; thence along said line to the northwest corner of said state; thence to the highlands between the waters falling into the Missouri and Des Moines, passing on said high land along the dividing ridge between the forks of the Grand river; thence along said highland or ridge separating the waters of the Missouri from those of the Des Moines to a point opposite the source of the Boyer river; and thence in a direct line to the upper fork of the Des Moines, the place of beginning." In this same treaty the Sac and Fox tribes ceded to the United States a tract of country twenty miles in width from the Mississippi to the Des Moines river situated south and adjoining the Clark and Cass boundary line between the lands of the Sac and Fox and Sioux Indians. The Sioux ceded a like strip twenty miles wide on the north side of said boundary line. This tract forty miles in width and about one hundred and fifty miles in length is known as the "Neutral Ground."

BLACK HAWK WAR—BLACK HAWK PURCHASE—KEOKUK'S RESERVE. In 1832 there occurred a war with the Indians known as the Black Hawk war. Black Hawk was a Sac chief and the leader of the Sac and Fox Indians who refused to move from the ceded territory in Illinois. In 1831 they were practically forced to move across the river by the command of a large force of United States troops and the State militia. The following spring, their numbers having been swelled by volunteers from several tribes in Iowa, they recrossed the Mississippi river with Black Hawk in command, and there followed a brief but sanguinary war which lasted until the late summer. The capture of Black Hawk ended the war. The war was followed by a treaty, concluded September 15, 1832, with the Winnebago Indians, who had assisted Black Hawk in this struggle, by which they ceded all their lands on the east side of the Mississippi river in exchange for the "Neutral Ground" in Iowa; and on September 21, 1832, by a treaty with the Sac and Fox Indians by which they relinquished that portion of Iowa known as the "Black Hawk Purchase," containing six million acres of land and lying immediately west of the Mississippi river, between the "Neutral Ground" on the north and the Missouri State line on the south. Four hundred square miles on the Iowa river were reserved out of this purchase for the use of the Sac and Fox Indians, which included Keokuk's village on its right bank. This was known as "Keokuk's Reserve." While this was not the first concession of territory in Iowa by the Indians, it was the first which opened any portion of the territory for settlement by the whites.

FINAL RELINQUISHMENTS OF IOWA TERRITORY BY INDIANS. September 23, 1835, the Sac and Fox tribes ceded "Keokuk's Reserve" to the United States. Again on October, 31, 1837, the same tribes ceded a tract of one million two hundred and fifty thousand acres of land lying immediately west of the Black Hawk Purchase, between the "Neutral Ground" and the Missouri State line. At the same time they relinquished all rights to the country lying south of the Clark and Cass boundary line between the Mississippi and Missouri rivers. And on October 11, 1842, they ceded all their title to lands west of the Mississippi river. The Winnebagoes on October 16, 1846, ceded the "Neutral Ground" in Iowa to the United States in exchange for a tract north of St. Peters river on the upper Mississippi. The Sioux Indians for many years claimed all of Iowa north of these concessions, but in 1851 a treaty was concluded with them by which they relinquished to the United States their title to all lands within the State of Iowa.

SPIRIT LAKE MASSACRE. Even after ceding all their Iowa land in the treaty of 1851, the Sioux were loath to leave northern Iowa. For several years they hunted and fished in the vicinity of the northern Iowa lakes and were continually having trouble with the white settlers. These difficulties finally terminated in the massacre which has become known as the "Spirit Lake Massacre." On the morning of March 8, 1857, a band of fifty Indians entered the white settlement on the south shores of Lake Okoboji. Feigning at first the semblance of friendship, they suddenly, as if by a concerted agreement, commenced an indiscriminate slaughter. From this point they went northward to the south shore of Spirit Lake, killing the settlers who had located between these points. They remained in the vicinity of Spirit Lake several days when they crossed over to the little settlement of Springfield (now Jackson), Minnesota. At this point they slaughtered several more settlers. At the Lakes and at Springfield fifty-three persons are believed to have been killed.

FIRST PERMANENT WHITE SETTLEMENTS. No permanent white settlements were made in Iowa until after the close of the Black Hawk war. Shortly after the treaty was concluded white settlers flocked across the Mississippi river into Iowa territory. The first white settlements fringed the Mississippi river in southeastern Iowa, the settlers coming from Illinois and other middle States. Following the year 1833 the settlers poured in by thousands. Attracted by the reported beauty and fertility of Iowa they came from all parts of the Union, "coming from New York and New England by the way of Erie canal and the great lakes, and from Illinois and Ohio, Kentucky, North Carolina, Missouri and other States by way of the rivers." The eastern part of the present State all along the Mississippi river almost to the northern limit was comparatively thickly settled in 1835 and the tide of settlement from then on crept westward and northward along the Des Moines, Iowa, Cedar and other rivers.

WITHOUT GOVERNMENT - DEMOINE AND DUBUQUE COUNTIES CREATED. For more than a year after the white settlers sommanced to flock into the territory there was no established government in force. Lawlessness prevailed to a great extent and it was in response to the demands made by the better element of the settlers that Congress extended the boundaries of Michigan territory west to the Missouri river and north of the Missouri State line. Shortly after the boundaries of Michigan territory were thus extended the legislative council of the territory passed an act creating the counties of Des Moines and Dubuque out of the new acquisition, Dubuque county embracing all of the territory north of a line drawn due west from the lower end of Rock Island to the Missouri river, and constituting the township of Julien; and Des Moines county including all the territory south of this line and constituting the township of Flint Hill. The same act established a county court in each county.

INCLUDED IN WISCONSIN TERRITORY. In 1836, Wisconsin Territory was organized and the counties of Des Moines and Dubuque made a part thereof. The act of Congress creating the territory established a legislature consisting of a Council and a House of Representatives, the members thereof to be elected by popular vote and gave all free white, male citizens the right to vote without regard to property qualifications. "Thus for the first time was the prerequisite of taxpaying omitted from the qualifications of voters in this territory. Hence also the first time the people of this territory elected their lawmakers a property qualification to vote was not required. In no part of the country east of the western line of the State of Iowa, except in Iowa and Minnesota has it been true that the people have always exercised the right of suffrage without the prepayment of some sort of tax." The first session of the Legislature of Wisconsin Territory was held at Belmont, Iowa county (now Lafayette county), Wisconsin, commencing October 25th, and ending December 9, 1836. This legislative assembly passed an act making Madison, Wisconsin the permanent capital, and providing for the meeting of the assembly in Burlington, Des Moines county, thereafter until the capital at Madison was completed. The second session was held in Burlington, Des Moines county, from November 8, 1837, to January 20, 1838, in a common two-story frame house which had been constructed for the purpose. This building was destroyed by fire during the winter and the legislature met during the remainder of the session in Old Zion Methodist Church. An extra session was held at Burlington in June, 1838.

COUNTIES. Twenty-two counties were created by the legislative assembly of the Territory of Wisconsin, out of Des Moines and Dubuque counties, as follows: Des Moines, Cook (extinct), Henry, Lee, Louisa, Muscatine, and Van Buren by act approved December 7, 1836; Benton, Buchanan, Cedar, Clayton, Clinton, Delaware, Dubuque, Fayette, Jackson, Johnson, Jones, Keokuk (extinct), Linn and Scott by act approved December 21, 1837, and Slaughter (changed to Washington by act approved January 25, 1839) by act approved January 18, 1838.

IOWA TERRITORY. Congress by an act approved June 12, 1838, divided the Wisconsin Territory and gave that portion thereof west of the Mississippi river a separate territorial government under the name of Iowa Territory. The new government was established July 3, 1838. Robert Lucas of Ohio and William B. Conway of Pennsylvania were respectively appointed Governor and Secretary by President Van Buren. The act creating the territory provided that the legislative power should be vested in the Governor and a legislative assembly, the latter to consist of a Council composed of thirteen members and a House of Representatives composed of twenty-six members.

Annual sessions were to be held and the Governor had the power of absolute veto. The members of the Council and House of Representatives were to be elected by the people in districts apportioned by the Governor. The act also appropriated twenty thousand dollars for the erection of public buildings for the use of the new territorial government.

OFFICERS—LOCATION OF CAPITAL AT IOWA CITY. The first Territorial election was held September 10, 1838. At this election W. W. Chapman was chosen to represent the Territory as a delegate in Congress. The first Legislative Assembly met at Burlington, November 12, 1838, and adjourned January 25, 1839. Jesse B. Brown, of Lee county, was elected President of the Council and B. F. Wallace secretary, and William H. Wallace, of Henry county, was elected Speaker of the House and Joseph T. Fales chief clerk. This territorial legislature passed an act, approved January 21, 1839, appointing a commission to select a site within the limits of Johnson county for the permanent seat of government. This commission selected the location and laid out a town to be called Iowa City. A plan for the new capitol building was adopted, the cost not to exceed $51,000, and the work of construction commenced. The removal from Burlington to Iowa City took place April 30, 1841. This building was finally completed about 1854, and cost in all about $123,000.

MISSOURI-IOWA BOUNDARY DISPUTE. In 1838 there arose a dispute between the State of Missouri and the Iowa Territory over the question of the true location of the north boundary line of Missouri. This dispute came near terminating in a civil war. The militia and volunteers were called out by both Governors and active preparations for open hostilities commenced. Wise counsel finally prevailed and the matter was left to the courts to adjudicate. The Supreme Court of the United States settled the question finally and this adjustment was largely favorable to the claims of Iowa.

POWER OF VETO CURTAILED. In 1839 Congress granted another concession to the people of the Territory by amending the Organic Law so as to allow two thirds of both houses of the legislative assembly to pass a bill over the Governor's veto.

PROPOSITIONS TO HOLD CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTIONS—ASSEMBLY CONVENES IN IOWA CITY. The Second Territorial Legislature which convened at Burlington in extra session, July 18, 1840, passed an act providing for the holding of an election for the purpose of voting upon the question of calling a convention to formulate a constitution. At the election which followed the proposition was voted down. The Third Territorial convention convened at Iowa City, the new capital, December 5, 1841. A temporary frame building had been constructed which was used by the Third and Fourth Territorial Assemblies. The Fourth Territorial Legislature, which convened February 18, 1842, passed a similar act, relative to holding a constitutional convention and the proposition was again voted down at the election held August 1, 1842, the vote standing 4,146 for and 5,898 against the convention. The Fifth Territorial Legislature, which convened at Iowa City December 5, 1842, occupied the new capitol building, although it was still in an unfinished condition.

FIRST CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION—BOUNDARIES—CONSTITUTION REJECTED. In the year 1843 the subject of holding a constitutional convention was again agitated and the sixth Territorial Legislature by an act approved February 14, 1844, provided for the submission of the question at the township election in the following April. At this election the decision of the people was in favor of holding the constitutional convention, the vote being 7,221 for and 4,313 against the convention. The delegates to the convention were elected at the general election in 1844. The convention met October 7th, drafted a constitution, and adjourned November 1, 1844. The boundaries proposed in this constitution included a large part of the present State of Minnesota, and excluded a tract embracing all of the present counties of Lyon, Osceola and Sioux, and parts of Dickinson, O'Brien, Plymouth and Woodbury. Congress, by act of March 8, 1845, relating to the admission of Iowa, proposed boundaries cutting off all of the Missouri slope, being almost identical with the line between the present counties of Carroll and Greene, and also curtailing the northern limits. In April, 1845, the people rejected the proposed constitution, largely on account of the boundaries proposed by Congress which had been incorporated therein. The seventh Territorial Legislature, which convened in May, 1845, passed an act, over the Governor's veto, to re-submit the proposed constitution as it originally came from the hands of the convention. It was again defeated at the election in August, 1845.

SECOND CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION — CONSTITUTION ADOPTED. The eighth Territorial Legislature passed an act approved January 17, 1846, providing directly for the election of delegates to a second constitutional convention, the election to take place in April, 1846. The delegates elected met at Iowa City in convention the 4th day of May, 1846, formulated a constitution with boundaries identical with those of today, which had in the meantime been proposed by a bill then pending in Congress. This constitution was adopted by the people August 8, 1846, the vote being 9,492 for and 9,036 against its adoption.

COUNTIES. Twenty-five counties were created by the Legislative Assembly of Iowa Territory, as follows: Jefferson, by act approved January 21, 1839; Appanoose, Black Hawk, Davis, Iowa, Keokuk, Kishkekosh (changed to Monroe by act approved August 1, 1846), Mahaaka, Poweshiek, Tama and Wapello by act approved February 17, 1843; Madison (extinct) by act approved February 15, 1844; Marion by act approved June 10, 1845; Boone, Clarke, Dallas, Decatur, Jasper, Lucas, Madison, Marshall, Polk, Story, Warren and Wayne by act approved January 13, 1846.

ADMISSION INTO UNION. By an act approved August 6, 1846, Congress redefined the boundaries of Iowa. Governor Clarke, of Iowa Territory, issued a proclamation calling for an election to be held on October 25, 1846, for the election of state officers and members of the legislature. The officers elected were Ansel Briggs, of Jackson county, Governor; Elisha Outtler, Jr., of Van Buren county, Secretary of State; Joseph T. Fales, of Des Moines county, Auditor of Public Accounts, and Morgan Reno, of Johnson county, Treasurer. On December 28, 1846, the act of Congress admitting Iowa into the Union of States, was approved by the President. The First General Assembly of the State of Iowa, which convened in Iowa City, November 30, 1846, passed an act, approved January 18, 1847, accepting the proposition of Congress for the admission of Iowa.

RELOCATION OF THE CAPITAL. The demand for a more central location for the capital, due to the rapid growth and development of the central and western portions of the State, resulted in the passage of an act near the close of the session of the First General Assembly, providing for such relocation. The act also provided for the appointment of three commissioners.

authorized them to select the location, survey and plat into town lots and sell certain numbers of the lots, and make a full and complete report to the Governor. The commissioners appointed under this act selected Monroe City, in Jasper county, as the location, and the first sale of lots was made. This selection was unpopular, and the Second General Assembly passed an act, approved January 15, 1849, terminating the functions of the commissioners, declaring Monroe City vacated, and providing for the refunding of the money received from the sale of the lots. During the session of the Third General Assembly, bills were introduced providing for removal to Pella, Fort Des Moines and other centrally located points, but failed of passage. Again during the session of the Fourth General Assembly a bill providing for the removal of the capital to Fort Des Moines was introduced and was barely defeated on the final vote. The Fifth General Assembly, which convened in Iowa City December 4, 1854, passed an act providing for relocating the capitol "within two miles of the Raccoon forks of the Des Moines river," and authorized the appointment of a commission to select the site. After the commission had selected the site a company of private individuals erected the building necessary for a capitol, (which was finally purchased by the State in 1864). Upon the completion of the building in 1857, Governor Grimes issued a proclamation, dated October 19, 1857, declaring Des Moines to be the capital of the State. The complete removal of office fixtures and records was not effected until 11 December, when the last load of material, "drawn by oxen upon a bobsled through wind, rain and snow," arrived at the capitol.

THIRD CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION—CONSTITUTION ADOPTED. The question of revising or amending the Constitution of Iowa was agitated in 1854, and the Fifth General Assembly passed an act, approved January 24, 1855, providing for the submission at the general election in August, 1856, of the proposition of holding a convention to revise or amend the Constitution. The act also provided for the holding of another election in November, 1856, for the purpose of selecting delegates to said convention should a majority of the votes be in favor of the proposition. The proposition carried at the election and delegates were chosen at the second election. The third constitutional convention convened at Iowa City, January 19, 1857, formulated the Constitution under which the State of Iowa now operates, and adjourned March 5, 1857. The Constitution adopted by the convention was ratified by the people at an election held August 3, 1857, the vote being 40,811 for and 80,681 against the Constitution, and took effect on the issuance of the proclamation of the Governor, September 3, 1857.

COUNTIES. The general assembly of the State of Iowa has created in all fifty-six counties out of the territory included in some of the counties created by the legislative assembly of Wisconsin territory and Iowa territory, as follows: Allamakee and Winneshiek by the act approved February 20, 1847; Fremont, Page, Pottawattamie, Ringgold and Taylor, by the acts approved February 24, 1847; Adair, Adams, Audubon, Bancroft (extinct), Bremer, Buena Vista, Buncombe (changed by a later act to Lyon), Butler, Carroll, Cass, Cerro Gordo, Cherokee, Chickasaw, Clay, Crawford, Dickinson, Emmet, Floyd, Fox (changed by a later act to Calhoun), Franklin, Greene, Grundy, Guthrie, Hancock, Hardin, Harrison, Howard, Humbolt (changed by a later act to Humboldt), Ida, Kosuth, Mills, Mitchell, Monona, Montgomery, O'Brien, Osceola, Palo Alto, Plymouth, Pocahontas, Ripley (changed by later acts first to Webster then to Hamilton), Sac, Shelby, Sioux, Union, Waukau (changed by later act to Woodbury), Winnebago, Worth, Wright and Yell (changed by later act to Webster), by the act approved January 16, 1851.

IOWA IN THE CIVIL WAR. Let it be said that in the war for the preservation of the Union, no State in proportion to population surpassed Iowa in upholding the stars and stripes and suppressing the Rebellion. Her population in 1860 was less than 700,000, and yet she furnished nearly 80,000 volunteers. Her forty-seven regiments of infantry, nine of cavalry and four batteries of artillery moved with no uncertain tread on a hundred battlefields and earned victory. The renown and valor of this army of loyal, patriotic men, will live forever in the hearts of our people and their heroic deeds will occupy the highest niche in Iowa's temple of fame.

NEW CAPITOL. As the State grew in population and wealth, the incapacity of the old capitol building, which had been erected as a temporary structure only, became more and more apparent. The offices became more and more crowded as the years passed by and the legislative halls became more and more meager. Accordingly the Twelfth General Assembly passed an act approved April 8, 1868, providing for the securing of "plans and specifications for a State capitol, to be erected on the Capitol Square, at the capital of the State, to be built of the most fit and durable material and to be constructed fire-proof." This was followed in 1870 by the passage of an act, approved April 18, 1870, providing for the appointment of a board of Capitol Commissioners and making an appropriation for a beginning. Immediately after the organization of the board, the work of construction was pushed with vigor. On Thursday, November 23, 1871, the corner stone was laid with appropriate ceremonies. The Capitol Commission was reorganized in 1877 under the provisions of the act of the general assembly, approved April 10, 1872, and the commissioners then appointed continued in office with one exception until their terms of office expired June 30, 1888, by provision of an act of the Twenty-first General Assembly. The capitol building was inaugurated with appropriate ceremonies January 17, 1884. Hon. John A. Kasson delivered the inaugural address and in the course of his remarks, paid this eulogy to the Capitol Commissioners: "Not one act of speculation or spoliation, not one coin wasted or vainly spent, has defaced the bright record of their administration. It shall be a part of the legacy we leave to our children that all these vast and durable walls have been laid in the cement of honesty, and built by the rule of fidelity." The capitol building stands upon an elevation one hundred and twenty-five feet above the river, and presents a magnificent appearance of symmetrical design, yet massive in construction. The length of the building, including the porticoes is 333 feet 8 inches; extreme width, 248 feet 11 inches; height to top of final, over center of dome, 275 feet, and the building covers 58,860 square feet of ground. There are in all 97 rooms in the building, 82 kinds of marble and 12 kinds of wood were used in their finish. To furnish water, gas and heat, 241,012 feet of pipe, equal to forty-five miles was used. The cost of constructing the building was $2,878,800.

REPAIRS. The Twenty-eighth General Assembly passed an act approved April 7, 1900, providing for the appointment of a Capitol Improvement Commission to estimate the cost of repairs and make report to the succeeding general assembly. The Twenty-ninth General Assembly passed an act, approved April 12, 1902, creating the Capitol Commission, authorizing the members to carry on the work of improvements, and appropriating $250,000 for this purpose. The work of improving the capitol has been going on during the past year. It will take two or three more years to complete the work. The fire, which consumed a large portion of the interior work in the north wing of the building on January 4, 1904, will, of course, add to the cost of the repairs. The damage caused by the fire has been variously estimated from $75,000 to $125,000 and the amount needed to repair this damage will vary according to how nearly fire-proof the repairs are made.

IOWA IN THE SPANISH WAR. The same spirit of patriotism which so gloriously emblazoned Iowa's loyalty to the flag of her country in the 80's was everywhere in evidence when the call was made in 1898 for troops to suppress Spanish tyranny in Cuba. The quota asked of Iowa was offered many times over. Four regiments of infantry, two batteries of field artillery, one signal corps company and one company of colored immunes were mustered into the service from Iowa. One regiment, the Forty-ninth, and the signal corps company saw service in Cuba, while another regiment, the Fifty-first, served in the Philippine Islands for nearly a year. The officers and men of these regiments and the signal corps performed valiant service in the nation's cause, and their deeds will ever be a credit to the State.

DESCRIPTIVE.*

Topography. The surface of Iowa is an extensive plain which is broken by few conspicuous topographic forms. The highest point in the State is on the divide towards the northwest corner, and the lowest is in the extreme southeast portion. The measure of the range of elevations between these points does not exceed one thousand two hundred feet. The ridge of greatest altitude is the continuation of the great watershed of Minnesota and Dakotas, across the western portion of the State. Minor ridges occur at various points, notably the Oneota and Turkey river watershed, and the divide between the head water of the Cedar and the Des Moines. The surface of the northeastern portion of the State slopes towards the southwest at the rate of more than seven feet to the mile as is shown by the following altitudes taken along a line at right angles to the drainage: Arlington, 1,113 feet; Oelwein, 1,049; Fairbank, 1,000; Dunkerton, 845; Dewar, 839; Waterloo, 841. Farther west the surface rises to the crest of the great divide and then descends again towards the west and south to the borders of the State.

The larger streams occupy great trough-like depressions as is indicated by the elevation of the following points across the basin of the Des Moines river: Storm Lake, 1,440 feet; Newell, 1,268; Manson, 1,238; Barnum, 1,178; Fort Dodge, in the axis of the trough, 1,008; Webster City, 1,030; Druid Siding, 1,196; Blairsburg, 1,227. Farther south and east the cross-section of the Wapsipinicon basin reveals the same fact: Delmar, 807 feet; DeWitt, 711; Noel, at bottom, 837; Long Grove, 758; Eldridge, 806.

In the north central portion of Iowa there is a distinct topographic area extending in width from Howard county to Osceola and reaching as far south as the counties of Polk and Johnson. Over this region the surface is generally level or gently undulating. Occasionally there are encountered knobs of drift which in places are so disposed as to enclose depressions forming lake basins. This is the newer portion of the State. The topography is young. Drainage is imperfectly developed. Stream erosion is practically absent. The surface features have been moulded by the glaciers and have scarcely been modified since the later ice sheets withdrew from the State.

* The article on topography, rivers and lakes was prepared by T. E. Savage, assistant state geologist.

West of this area to the border of the State, and south to the Missouri line the surface is intricately dissected by stream channels. The numerous streams, each with its series of pinnately branching tributaries, have carved the entire region into rounded hills and alternating ridges and ravines. The larger streams flow on graded floors which lie seventy-five to two hundred and fifty feet below the crests of the divides. The upland areas are usually narrow. The valleys are broad. The bluffs are rounded and the slopes of the basin are gentle. Over this portion of the State the superficial drift is of Kansan age. The topography is mature, and it has been carved by erosion out of the once level drift surface. In the lower portions of their flow the streams have expanded their channels to a width of from one to two and one half miles. At such places the broad, level flood-plains become features of topographic importance.

In the northeast corner of the State there is a small area embracing the whole of Allamakee county and a portion of Winnebago, Fayette, Clayton, Dubuque and Jackson, whose irregular surface has never been planed down by the action of ice. This is known as the driftless area. It is a picturesque region. A land of gorges and deep rock-cut valleys. A place where rushing streams are bounded by steep escarpments; where majestic cliffs are crowned with resistant ledges which have weathered into fantastic forms of towers and buttresses and castellated peaks. This area has appropriately been termed the "Switzerland of Iowa." Its topography was produced by long continued erosion acting upon massive beds of indurated rocks. The bluffs which border the Mississippi river and its larger tributaries in this particular region stand three hundred feet above the flood-plains, while the height of the dividing ridges above the water of the streams exceeds six hundred feet. The entire area is so gashed and trenched by ravines and valleys that the lines of travel conform in the main to the courses of the streams, or wind along the summit of the divides. The topographic forms of this area illustrate features that would have been presented over the entire surface of Iowa had not the glaciers ground off the ridges and filled the valleys and buried them all beneath a thick mantle of drift.

Rivers. Iowa is bordered by the Mississippi river on the east and the Missouri river on the west, both of which are navigable. The great watershed of the State extends in a sinuous line from Dickinson to Appanoose county. The rivers east of this divide drain more than two thirds of the State and render tribute to the Mississippi. All of the large streams of this area follow courses that are approximately parallel and have a general southeasterly trend; of these the principal rivers are Des Moines, with a flow in the State of 500 miles; Cedar, 238 miles; Iowa, 240 miles; Wapsipicon, 198 miles; Skunk, 187 miles; Maquoketa, 102 miles; Turkey, 90 miles, and Oneota, 88 miles. The main rivers of western Iowa that flow into the Missouri are Chariton, Grand, Nodaway, Nishnabotna, Little Sioux and Big Sioux. These streams are generally shorter than those which belong to the Mississippi system but they have a more widely branching series of tributaries. The most of the rivers of Iowa rise in lakes, sloughs or marshy depressions. As they flow onward their channels gradually become deeper so that in the lower courses their waters flow through broad flood-plains which are bounded by bluffs of drift or ledges of indurated rock. The principal forests in the State are found adjacent to the rivers and their dendritic series of branches. In early days boats plied on the Des Moines, Iowa and Cedar as well as the two great boundary rivers, but at present the traffic of the State is almost exclusively carried by the railroads.

Lakes. The numerous lakes of Iowa are all of glacial origin, with the exception of the ox-bow lakes or cut-offs which lie in the flood plains of the larger streams. They are confined to the area that was covered by the latest ice sheet, known as the Wisconsin. The most of them occupy depressions which were formed by the irregular heaping of the material in the bordering moraine. Spirit Lake in Dickinson county is the largest of these glacial pools. It is four miles in length and almost as wide as long. It is sixteen miles in circumference and covers an area of ten square miles. A short distance south of Spirit Lake is Okoboji, considered the most beautiful of Iowa's charming lakelets. It has something of the form of a horseshoe with an irregular shore line. It is six miles in length, nearly three miles in greatest width and is seven square miles in extent. Its greatest reported depth is 185 feet. In this same county lie Gar, Center, Swan, Silver, Pratt and Sylvan lakes and numerous others, which together constitute the most attractive features of northern Iowa. Clear Lake in Cerro Gordo county, lies in the eastern arm of the Wisconsin moraine. It is about four miles in length, two and one half miles in width and has a maximum depth of fifteen feet. Among the other larger lakes of the State are Storm Lake in Buena Vista county, Swan Lake in Emmet, Pelican Lake in Palo Alto and Wall Lake in Wright. There is another Wall Lake in the county of Sac. Indeed, there are several bodies of water in Iowa which bear the name of Wall Lake on account of the peculiar embankments of bowlders or gravel or sand that border them. Nearly all of the glacial lakes are bounded by such walls or ridges which have been gradually pushed up by the expansion of the ice as the daily temperature varied during the winters of successive centuries since the lakes were formed.

GOVERNMENT.

Departments. The powers of the government of Iowa are divided into three separate departments, the legislative, the executive and the judicial.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

General Assembly. The legislative authority of the State is vested in a general assembly consisting of a senate and house of representatives. Sessions are held biennially and commence on the second Monday in January of each even numbered year.

House of Representatives. The house of representatives consists of one hundred members. The members are elected at the general election in each odd numbered year for a term of two years. The State is divided into ninety-three representative districts. Eighty-six of these are entitled to one member each and seven are entitled to two members each. To be eligible to membership a person must be twenty-one years of age, a male citizen of the United States, an inhabitant of the State one year and of the district he represents sixty days preceding his election.

Senate. The senate consists of fifty members. Senators are elected for a term of four years at the general elections in odd numbered years. Under the present arrangement, twenty-one senators are elected at the general election in one odd numbered year and twenty-nine at the general election in the next odd numbered year. The State is divided into fifty senatorial districts and each district is entitled to one senator. Senators must be twenty-five years of age and have the qualifications of representatives as to citizenship and residence.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

Governor. The supreme executive power of the State is vested in a chief magistrate, who is styled the Governor of the State of Iowa. He is elected for a term of two years in the odd numbered years. He must be thirty years of age, a citizen of the United States, and a resident of the State two years next preceding his election.

Lieutenant Governor. There is also a Lieutenant Governor, who acts as President of the Senate and succeeds the Governor in case of his death, removal or disability. He is elected the same time as the Governor and must have the same qualifications as to age, citizenship and residence.

Other executive officers. The other executive officers of the State are the Secretary of State, the Auditor of State and the Treasurer of State, who are elected in the even numbered years for terms of two years.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

The judicial department is vested in a supreme court, district court, superior court, justice court and police court.

Supreme court. The supreme court consists of one chief justice and five associate justices. The judges are elected for terms of six years. One judge is elected at each general election. The chief justice is the judge whose term first expires.

Attorney General and other officers. The attorney general, the clerk and the reporter of the supreme court are officers in the judicial department. The attorney general is elected at the general election in the even numbered years for a term of two years. The clerk and the reporter of the supreme court are elected for terms of four years at the general election in every second even numbered year.

District court. The district court consists of a single judge, who is elected for a term of four years by the electors of the district in which he resides. The State is at present divided into twenty judicial districts and there are fifty-three judges of the district court.

County Attorney and Clerk of District Court. The county attorney and clerk of the district court are also officers under the judicial department. They are elected for terms of two years in each even numbered year.

Superior court. Any city with a population of five thousand or more may establish by an election a superior court and elect a judge thereof for a term of four years. There are four superior courts in Iowa at the present time: Council Bluffs, Cedar Rapids, Keokuk and Oelwein.

Justice court. Justice court is held by a justice of the peace. Two justices of the peace are elected in each township in the even numbered years.

Police court. In cities of the first class where the superior court has not been established, there is a police court held by a judge who is elected for a term of two years. In all other cities and towns the mayor holds police court.

SUBDIVISIONS.

Counties. There are ninety-nine counties in the State. Each county is a body corporate. The government of the county is carried on by a board of supervisors, consisting of from three to seven members, an auditor, a clerk of the district court, a treasurer, a recorder, a superintendent of schools, a sheriff, an attorney, a coroner and a surveyor. These officers are all elected by direct vote of the people, the terms of the members of the board of supervisors being three years and the terms of the other officers being two years.

Townships. The counties are subdivided into townships. The government of the township is carried on by a board of three trustees, a clerk, an assessor, two justices of the peace and two constables, who are all elected by direct vote of the people in the township. The terms of the members of the board of trustees are three years, and the terms of the other officers are two years. The justices of the peace and the constables are in reality county officers, as their jurisdiction extends over the entire county.

Municipal corporations. Cities acting under special charters, cities of the first class, cities of the second class and towns are municipal corporations. Town sites platted and unincorporated are villages.

Cities acting under special charter. Cities acting under special charter are cities which have been organized under special acts of the general assembly. The government of such cities is conducted by such officers as the special charter authorizes and such additional ones as the Code provides.

Cities of the first class. Every municipal corporation with a population of fifteen thousand or more, according to last State or National census, except special charter cities, is a city of the first class. Such cities are governed by a council consisting of two councilmen elected at large, and one councilman elected from each ward; a mayor, a solicitor, a treasurer, an auditor, an engineer, an assessor and a judge of the police court, elected by the voters of the entire city. The term of each officer is for two years. Where a superior court has been established, a judge of such court is elected in place of the judge of the police court and his term is four years.

Cities of the second class. Every municipal corporation with a population of two thousand and not more than fifteen thousand at the last State or National census is a city of the second class. The government of the city is conducted by a council, consisting of two members elected from each ward, a mayor, a solicitor, a treasurer, and an assessor elected by the voters of the entire city. The officers are elected for a term of two years. In cities of the second class where a superior court has been established, a judge is elected by the entire city for a term of four years.

Towns. Every municipal corporation with a population of less than two thousand according to the last State or National census, is a town. The government of towns is conducted by a council consisting of six members, terms three years, and a mayor, a clerk, a treasurer and an assessor, terms two years. All officers are elected by the voters of the town.

ELECTIONS.

General election. The general election for State, district, county and township officers is held annually throughout the State on the Tuesday next after the first Monday of November.

City and town elections. Cities of the first class hold biennial elections, and cities of the second class and towns hold annual elections. In all cases these elections take place on the last Monday of March annually or biennially as the case may be.

School elections. Each school corporation holds an annual election on the second Monday in March.

*The article on System of Taxation was prepared by James Parker, Deputy Auditor of Polk County, Iowa.

under special charters, levy and collect their own taxes for city purposes upon whatever basis of assessment they desire.

By local assessor. All property, except that hereinafter mentioned, is assessed between the second Monday of January and the first day of April at its actual value by the township, city and town assessors.

By Executive Council. All property used in the operation of railroads, interurban railroads, sleeping car companies, freight transportation companies, express companies, telegraph and telephone companies, is assessed annually in July by the State Executive Council at its actual value and one fourth of the assessment thus made is apportioned to the counties according to the mileage in operation in each county. The county auditor then places the amount reported to his county upon the tax books, apportioning the same to the several taxing districts on the mileage basis.

Personal and real property—when listed and assessed. Personal property is listed and assessed each year in the name of the owner thereof on January 1st. Real estate is listed and assessed in each odd numbered year. In each even numbered year new buildings erected since the last assessment are assessed and added to the value of real estate as shown by the prior assessment. New buildings on leased ground are assessed as personal property.

Exemptions. All public property, all property used by literary, scientific, charitable, benevolent, agricultural or religious institutions not exceeding 160 acres in extent, is exempt from taxation; all property used by public libraries, including libraries owned and kept by private individuals, associations or corporations for public use and not for private profit, is exempt; also farm produce of the person assessed, harvested by him, and all wool shorn from his sheep, within one year previous to the listing; all poultry, ten stands of bees, all swine and sheep under six months of age, and all other domestic animals under one year of age; obligations for rent not due; private libraries; professional libraries to the actual value of $300; family pictures; household furniture to the actual value of $300 and kitchen furniture; beds and bedding requisite for each family; all wearing apparel in actual use; and all food provided for the family. Union soldiers and sailors or their unmarried widows, of the Mexican or Civil wars, are allowed $800 exemption if they have not $5,000 worth of property. Assessors may exempt, in whole or in part, persons who by reason of age or infirmity are unable to contribute, subject to reversal by local board of review.

Local board of review. Assessments are submitted by the local assessor on the first Monday in April to the township trustees or the city or town council, which bodies act as the local board of review, with power to change individual assessments. Any objections to the assessments made must be made to the local board of review and appeals taken therefrom to the district court by written notice served as an original notice upon the chairman or presiding officer within twenty days.

County board of review. On the first Monday of June the county board of supervisors, acting as county board of review, equalizes the assessments as noted upon by the local boards of review, using the assessment district as a unit. Neither the county or the State boards of review have jurisdiction over individual assessments.

State board of review. On the first Monday of July, the State Executive Council, acting as State Board of Review, equalizes the assessment as acted upon by the county boards, with power to raise or lower, using the county as a unit.

Taxable value—tax books. The assessment, as finally fixed by the State Board of Review is reported back to the county and by the county auditor placed upon the tax books of the county, using one fourth of the assessed value as the taxable value and upon this taxable value he spreads the rates levied for all purposes. The tax books must be completed and delivered to the county treasurer by December 31st.

Levies—State. The general assembly, at each regular session fixes the amount to be expended by the State during the biennial period next ensuing and the State Executive Council, before the first Monday of August fixes the rate necessary to meet the State appropriation and certifies the same to each county. The State maintains the militia, all the State educational institutions, the penitentiaries, reform schools and asylums, excepting that each county reimburses it for the cost of caring for the insane and inebriate residents from that county.

County. The board of supervisors at its September session fixes the county levies. The county bears the expenses of the enforcement of the criminal laws of the State, the expenses of election, of building and maintaining roads and bridges, the care of the resident poor, inebriate and insane, of assessing property, spreading and collecting all taxes.

Cities and towns. The council of cities and towns before the first Monday in September fixes the levies for city and town purposes. The cities and towns bear the expenses of local self government for policing, for maintaining streets, and cities of the first class, for constructing and maintaining bridges. Cities have power to construct sewers, paving, curbing and sidewalks and assess the cost to the abutting property in amount not to exceed the taxable value of the property as shown by the last assessment, which cost is collected by the county treasurer as other taxes.

Parks. The board of park commissioners fixes the levy for park purposes before the first Monday in September.

School. The board of directors of school corporations shall, between the third Monday in March and the third Monday in May estimate the amount of money required for school purposes. School boards may furnish school books and supplies.

Township. Township trustees at their annual meeting, the first Monday of April, shall make levies for maintaining the roads in the township.

Levies limited—maximum indebtedness—levies certified to county auditor. All levies have each its separate maximum limit and no county or other political or municipal corporation can become indebted to an amount in the aggregate exceeding five per centum of the value of the taxable property within such corporation. All levies are certified to the county auditor and by him spread against the taxable value.

Taxes when due—penalty for non-payment. All taxes are due at the office of the county treasurer the first Monday in January, are delinquent March 1st, and if not paid before April 1st a penalty of 1 per cent per month is charged until paid. If one half of the taxes is paid prior to April 1st, the other one half may run, without penalty, until October 1st.

Taxes a lien on real estate. Taxes upon real estate are a lien thereon. Taxes due from any person upon personal property are a lien upon any and all real estate owned or afterwards acquired by such person. On the first Monday in December real estate is offered for sale by county treasurers for all taxes due and unpaid which are a lien thereon. As against the purchaser, taxes are a lien against real estate on and after December 31st.

Redemption from tax sale. Redemption from tax sale is made by payment to the county auditor of the amount the real estate sold for, together with amounts paid by purchaser during subsequent years, with 8 per cent penalty and 8 per cent interest on principal and penalty. Right of redemption expires at the end of three years after date of purchase.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

The State institutions of Iowa consist of three educational institutions, the University of Iowa, at Iowa City, the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Ames, and the State Normal School at Cedar Falls; two industrial schools, one for boys at Eldora and one for girls at Mitchellville; one institute for the feeble-minded, at Glenwood; one college for the blind, at Vinton; one school for the deaf, at Council Bluffs; one home for Iowa soldiers, at Marshalltown; one home for Soldiers' Orphans', at Davenport; four hospitals for the insane, one each at Independence, Clarinda, Mount Pleasant and Cherokee; and two penitentiaries, one at Anamosa and one at Fort Madison. The University of Iowa is under the management and control of a board of regents, consisting of the Governor and the Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex officio, and eleven regents, one from each congressional district, elected by the legislature, for terms of six years. The State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts is under the control of a board of trustees, consisting of the Governor and Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex officio, and eleven trustees, one from each congressional district, elected by the general assembly for terms of six years. The State Normal School is under the control of a board of trustees consisting of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex officio, and six trustees elected by the general assembly for terms of six years. All the other State institutions are under the management and supervision of the State Board of Control, consisting of three members, appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the senate, for terms of six years.

REPRESENTATION IN CONGRESS.

Iowa has two senators and eleven congressmen in the United States Congress. The senators are elected for terms of six years by the general assembly. The State is divided into eleven congressional districts, and the voters of each district elect one congressman at the general election in the even-numbered years, for the term of two years.

MILITIA.

The census of 1900 show 475,760 males of militia age resident within the State. The active militia is called the Iowa National Guard and is composed of 225 officers and 3,908 enlisted men. It is organized into four regiments of infantry, one signal company, a medical department and an engineer department. The organization of the regiment is similar to that of the regular army being composed of three battalions and twelve companies. The strength of each regiment is fixed at 12 field officers, 36 line officers, 18 non-commissioned staff officers and 798 enlisted men. The present strength of the guard is 2,474 officers and men. Once each year the guard is ordered into camp for a period of 8 to 10 days. The State makes an annual appropriation of $57,350 for maintenance and support. The Governor is Commander in Chief of the Militia.

POPULATION.

The population of Iowa in 1838, at the time the territory of Iowa was created, was 22,859. In 1846, at the time Iowa was admitted into the Union as a state the population had increased to 102,884, and the population of the State at the last Federal census, was 2,231,853. The population at various censuses was as follows:

Of the total population in 1900, 1,153,849 were males, and 1,075,004 were females. The native born population of Iowa was 985,549 males and 940,093 females; the foreign born population consisted of 171,009 males and 134,911 females. The native white of native parents consisted of 647,787 males and 618,811 females; the native white population of foreign parents consisted of 231,027 males and 220,799 females; the foreign white population consisted of 170,863 males and 184,899 females; there were 7,182 colored males, of which 6,875 were negroes, and 6,004 females, of which 5,818 were negroes.

The number of children of school age was 787,870, of which 387,980 were male and 379,940 were females.

There were 635,298 males of voting age in 1900, of which 472,759 were native whites, 157,908 were foreign whites and 4,633 colored, of which 4,441 were negroes; 465,024 of the males of voting age were literate and 7,793 were illiterate.

AGRICULTURE

Iowa is distinctively an agricultural State. The census of 1900 giving the rural population as 1,253,675, which is in excess of 56 per cent of the total population of the State. Of the land area more than 97 per cent is devoted to farming, there being 228,622 farms of an average area of 151.2 acres and an average value of $53.06 per acre. Eighty-six per cent of the land devoted to farming is improved and 61.5 of the farms are operated by owners. In the total value of farm products Iowa leads the nation and in the aggregate value of agricultural products there has for a number of years been a neck to neck race with Illinois decided only by the State having the more favorable crop season. In live stock Iowa leads in number and value of swine, number of horses, number of poultry and the production of eggs. In cattle she is exceeded only by Texas, but while Texas possesses nearly twice as many cattle, the aggregate value of the same is only 14 per cent greater than those in Iowa, while the average value per head of the Texas cattle is $17.81 those in Iowa are worth $26.55, or 53.4 per cent greater. In horticultural products Iowa ranks next to Missouri as a fruit producing state in all the states in the Mississippi valley. In dairying Iowa leads the Union in the number of creameries and the amount of the product. Twenty per cent of all the creamery butter and 10 per cent of all other butter is made within the State.

MANUFACTURE.

Iowa affords an extensive field for the exploitation of manufactures. Although agriculture is the leading pursuit of the State, manufacturing and mechanical industries have had a steady and significant growth during the last half century. Standing as she does, the peer of every State of the Union in agricultural products and domestic animals, she offers in these lines alone untold possibilities in manufacturing. Other raw materials, such as gypsum, lead, clay, iron and timber products, are within her borders. Coal and water power she has in abundance. Traversed with little less than ten thousand miles of railroad and inhabited with an industrious, educated and contented people she affords an opportunity for a secure investment in manufacturing enterprise.

The census of 1900 shows that there is over $100,000,000 of capital invested in manufacturing industries, and that the products thereof amount to nearly $175,000,000 annually. Slaughtering and meat packing lead the industries with an annual product of $25,000,000; then, in order of importance, come butter cheese and condensed milk, with a $15,000,000 product; flour and grist mills, with a $14,000,000 product; lumber and timber, with a $11,000,000 product; car construction and repair, with $8,000,000 products; printing and publishing, with $6,000,000 products; wagons and carriages, with $1,000,000 in products, and clay products, with a value of $2,250,000. Of the total population two and six tenths per cent are engaged in manufacturing, earning an average yearly wage of $408.74.

MINERALS.

About ten thousand square miles are found to possess coal measures, mostly in the southern part of the State. All of the coal is bituminous, and the production in 1901 was over five million tons, with an aggregate value of $8,051,808. Lead is mined around Dubuque, and good deposits of gypsum are found near Fort Dodge. The value of the products of these two minerals is in excess of $550,000 yearly. Limestone is found in many parts of the State, some deposits of which produce an excellent quality of lime. The value of stone output in 1901 was $796,832. In the manufacture of clay products the industries can be truly said to be yet in their infancy. Clay for the production of brick, tile and household utensils is found in many parts of the State, while shale for the manufacture of vitrified paving and building brick is found in large and seemingly inexhaustible deposits. The production of brick is over three hundred million a year, with an aggregate value of $2,000,000.

RAILROADS.

Iowa ranks fourth among the states and territories in number of miles of railroad tracks, the total being in 1902, 9,724 miles. There is not a point within the State that is more than thirteen miles distant from a railroad. Indeed the map of the State shows a veritable network of tracks. The State is in the direct line of transcontinental commerce. Six great railroad systems have lines crossing the State from east to west, the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Chicago & North-Western, the Chicago Great Western and the Illinois Central, and all of these have many ramifying branches reaching out in all directions, some of which extend far beyond the borders of the State into other states and are almost as important as main lines. While entering the State at different points on the eastern border, all of the principal roads converge at Council Bluffs, where connections are made for the Pacific coast; three of the systems have lines entering Sioux City, four of them have divisions running through a portion of Iowa to Kansas City, and four of them have divisions running through the northeast part of the State to the Twin cities of Minnesota. The north and south roads in the State are the Iowa Central, the Minneapolis & St. Louis, the Des Moines, Iowa Falls & Northern, the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern (now operated by the Rock Island), and others. The miles of track in Iowa of the larger systems were in 1902: Rock Island, 2,468; Burlington, 1,959; North-Western, 1,874; Milwaukee, 1,868; Illinois Central, 712; Great Western, 588; Iowa Central, 449. The total taxable valuation of all railroad property in Iowa in 1903 was $56,541,513. The gross earnings for Iowa were in 1902, $56,468,805; the operating expenses, $39,888,202; the net earnings, $17,133,102.

NEWSPAPERS AND PERIODICALS.

According to the 1900 census, there were in Iowa 1,104 newspapers and periodicals on the first of June, 1900. Reports from 1,045 of these were secured by the census enumerators. Classified according to editions, the 1,045 were divided as follows: 65 daily, 7 tri-weekly, 68 semi-weekly, 831 weekly, 64 monthly, 8 quarterly and 12 of all other classes. Of the 65 daily newspapers, 16 issued morning editions and 49 issued evening editions. Classified according to character of publication the 1,045 were made up as follows: News, politics and family reading, 912; religion, 39; horticulture, agriculture, dairying and stock, 14; commerce, finance, insurance and railroads, 2; Sunday newspapers, 1; law, 1; science and mechanics, 1; fraternal organizations, 13; education and history, 5; society, art, music and fashion, 3; college and school, 9; miscellaneous, 9. The total number of copies of all publications issued during the census year was 153,895,153. The number of pounds of paper used was 20,716,211. The average number of wage earners employed was 3,393, and the total wages paid reached the sum of $1,311,179. The total value of newspaper products was $3,777,090, of which $1,939,852 was for advertising and $1,837,888 was for sales and subscriptions.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

THE UNANIMOUS DECLARATION OF THE THIRTEEN UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

[Adopted by the Continental Congress July 8, and authenticated and proclaimed July 4, 1776.]

WHEN in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to this separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that, whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and, accordingly, all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government. The history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world:

He has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

He has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained, and, when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature—a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the repository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved representative houses repeatedly for opposing, with manly firmness, his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused, for a long time after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise; the state remaining, in the meantime, exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavored to prevent the population of these states, for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migration hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

He has obstructed the administration of justice by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

He has made judges dependent on his will alone for the tenure of their offices and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us, in times of peace, standing armies, without the consent of our legislatures.

He has affected to render the military independent of, and superior to, the civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution and unacknowledged by our laws, giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation—

For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us.

For protecting them, by a mock trial, from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states;

For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world.

For imposing taxes on us without our consent;

For depriving us, in many cases, of the benefits of trial by jury;

For transporting us beyond seas, to be tried for pretended offenses;

For abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province; establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging its boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies;

For taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments;

For suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated government here by declaring us out of his protection and waging war against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is, at this time, transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun, with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow-citizens, taken captive on the high seas, to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress, in the most humble terms; our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant is unfit to be the ruler of a free people.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them, from time to time, of attempts, by their legislature, to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity; and we have conjured them, by the ties of our common kindred, to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They, too, have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.

We, therefore, the representatives of the United States of America, in general congress assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies, solemnly publish and declare, that these united colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is, and ought to be, totally dissolved; and that, as free and independent states, they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent states may of right do. And for the support of this declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor.

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME, WE THE UNDERSIGNED, DELEGATES OF THE STATES AFFIXED TO OUR NAMES, SEND GREETING:

Whereas the delegates of the United States of America in congress assembled did, on the fifteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-seven, and in the second year of the independence of America, agree to certain articles of confederation and perpetual union between the states of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, in the words following, viz:

ARTICLES OF CONFEDERATION AND PERPETUAL UNION, BETWEEN THE STATES OF NEW HAMPSHIRE, MASSACHUSETTS BAY, RHODE ISLAND AND PROVIDENCE PLANTATIONS, CONNECTICUT, NEW YORK, NEW JERSEY, PENNSYLVANIA, DELAWARE, MARYLAND, VIRGINIA, NORTH CAROLINA, SOUTH CAROLINA AND GEORGIA:—

ARTICLE 1. The style of this confederacy shall be "THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA."

ART. 2. Each state retains its sovereignty, freedom and independence, and every power, jurisdiction and right which is not by this confederation expressly delegated to the United States, in congress assembled.

ART. 3. The said states hereby severally enter into a firm league of friendship with each other for their common defense, the security of their liberties, and their mutual and general welfare, binding themselves to assist each other against all force offered to or attacks made upon them, or any of them, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade or any other pretense whatever.

ART. 4. The better to secure and perpetuate mutual friendship and intercourse among the people of the different states in this union, the free inhabitants of each of these states, paupers, vagabonds and fugitives from justice excepted, shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of free citizens in the several states; and the people of each state shall have free ingress and regress to and from any other state, and shall enjoy therein all the privileges of trade and commerce, subject to the same duties, impositions and restrictions as the inhabitants thereof respectively; provided that such restrictions shall not extend so far as to prevent the removal of property imported into any state to any other state of which the owner is an inhabitant; provided, also, that no imposition, duties or restriction, shall be laid by any state on the property of the United States, or either of them.

If any person guilty of or charged with treason, felony or other high misdemeanor in any state shall flee from justice, and be found in any of the United States, he shall upon demand of the governor or executive power of the state from which he fled, be delivered up and removed to the state having jurisdiction of his offense.

Full faith and credit shall be given in each of these states to the records, acts and judicial proceedings of the courts and magistrates of every other state.

ART. 5. For the more convenient management of the general interests of the United States, delegates shall be annually appointed, in such manner as the legislature of each state shall direct, to meet in congress on the first Monday in November, in every year, with a power reserved to each state to recall its delegates, or any of them, at any time within the year, and to send others in their stead for the remainder of the year.

No state shall be represented in congress by less than two, nor by more than seven, members; and no person shall be capable of being a delegate for more than three years in any term of six years; nor shall any person, being a delegate, be capable of holding any office under the United States for which he, or another for his benefit, receives any salary, fees or emolument of any kind.

Each state shall maintain its own delegates in a meeting of the states, and while they act as members of the committee of these states.

In determining questions in the United States in congress assembled, each state shall have one vote.

Freedom of speech and debate in congress shall not be impeached or questioned in any court or place out of congress, and the members of congress shall be protected in their persons from arrests and imprisonments, during the time of their going to and from and attendance on congress, except for treason, felony or breach of the peace.

ART. 8. No state, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, shall send any embassy to, or receive any embassy from, or enter into any conference, agreement, alliance or treaty with, any king, prince or state; nor shall any person holding any office of profit or trust under the United States, or any of them, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever, from any king, prince or foreign state; nor shall the United States in congress assembled, or any of them, grant any title of nobility.

No two or more states shall enter into any treaty, confederation or alliance whatever between them, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, and how long it shall continue.

No state shall lay any imposts or duties which may interfere with any stipulations in treaties, entered into by the United States in congress assembled, with any king, prince or state, in pursuance of any treaties already proposed by congress, to the courts of France and Spain.

No vessels of war shall be kept up in time of peace by any state, except such number only as shall be deemed necessary by the United States, in congress assembled, for the defense of such state, or its trade, nor shall any body of forces be kept up by any state, in time of peace, except such number only as in the judgment of the United States, in congress assembled, shall be deemed requisite to garrison the forts necessary for the defense of such state, but every state shall always keep up a well regulated and disciplined militia, sufficiently armed and accoutred, and shall provide and constantly have ready for use, in public stores, a due number of field-pieces and tents, and a proper quantity of arms, ammunition and camp-equipage.

No state shall engage in any war, without the consent of the United States in congress assembled, unless such state be actually invaded by enemies, or shall have received certain advice of a resolution being formed by some nation of Indians to invade such state, and the danger is so imminent as not to admit of a delay, till the United States, in congress assembled, can be consulted; nor shall any state grant commissions to any ships or vessels of war, nor letters of marque or reprisal, except it be after a declaration of war by the United States in congress assembled, and then only against the kingdom or state, and the subjects thereof, against which war has been so declared, and under such regulations as shall be established by the United States in congress assembled, unless such state be infested by pirates, in which case vessels of war may be fitted out for that occasion, and kept so long as the danger shall continue, or until the United States, in congress assembled, shall determine otherwise.

ART. 7. When land forces are raised by any state for the common defense, all officers of or under the rank of colonel shall be appointed by the legislature of each state, respectively, by whom such forces shall be raised, or in such manner as such state shall direct, and all vacancies shall be filled up by the state which first made the appointment.

ART. 8. All charges of war, and all other expenses that shall be incurred for the common defense or general welfare, and allowed by the United States in congress assembled, shall be defrayed out of a common treasury, which shall be supplied by the several states, in proportion to the value of all land within each state, granted to, or surveyed for, any person, as such land and the buildings and improvements thereon shall be estimated, according to such mode as the United States in congress assembled shall, from time to time, direct and appoint.

The taxes for paying that proportion shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the legislatures of the several states, within the time agreed upon by the United States in congress assembled.

ART. 9. The United States, in congress assembled, shall have the sole and exclusive right and power of determining on peace and war, except in the cases mentioned in the sixth article; of sending and receiving ambassadors, entering into treaties and alliances, provided that no treaty of commerce shall be made whereby the legislative power of the respective states shall be restrained from imposing such imposts and duties on foreigners as their own people are subjected to, or from prohibiting the exportation or importation of any species of goods or commodities whatsoever; of establishing rules for deciding, in all cases, what captures on land or water shall be legal, and in what manner prizes taken by land or naval forces in the service of the United States shall be divided or appropriated; of granting letters of marque and reprisal in times of peace; appointing courts for the trial of piracies and felonies committed on the high seas, and establishing courts for receiving and determining finally appeals in all cases of capture; provided that no member of congress shall be appointed a judge of any of the said courts.

The United States in congress assembled, shall also be the last resort on appeal in all disputes and differences now subsisting, or that hereafter may arise, between two or more states concerning boundary, jurisdiction, or any other cause whatever, which authority shall always be exercised in the manner following: Whenever the legislature or executive authority or lawful agent of any state in controversy with another shall present a petition, to congress, stating the matter in question and praying for a hearing, notice thereof shall be given by order of congress to the legislative or executive authority of the other state in controversy, and a day assigned for the appearance of the parties by their lawful agents, who shall then be directed to appoint, by joint consent, commissioners or judges to constitute a court for hearing and determining of the matter in question; but, if they cannot agree, congress shall name three persons out of each of the United States, and from the list of such persons each party shall alternately strike out one, the petitioners beginning, until the number shall be reduced to thirteen, and from that number not less than seven nor more than nine names, as congress shall direct, shall, in the presence of congress, be drawn out by lot, and the persons whose names shall be so drawn, or any five of them, shall be commissioners or judges to hear and finally determine the controversy, so always as a major part of the judges who shall hear the cause shall agree in the determination; and if either party shall neglect to attend at the day appointed without showing reasons which congress shall judge sufficient; or, being present shall refuse to strike, the congress shall proceed to nominate three persons out of each state, and the secretary of congress shall strike in behalf of such party absent or refusing; and the judgment and sentence of the court to be appointed in the manner before prescribed shall be final and conclusive; and if any of the parties shall refuse to submit to the authority of such court, or to appear or defend their claim or cause, the court shall nevertheless proceed to pronounce sentence, or judgment which shall in like manner be final and decisive; the judgment or sentence and other proceedings being in either case transmitted to congress, and lodged among the acts of congress, for the security of the parties concerned: provided that every commissioner, before he sits in judgment, shall take an oath, to be administered by one of the judges of the supreme or superior court of the state where the cause shall be tried, "well and truly to hear and determine the matter in question, according to the best of his judgment, without favor, affection or hope of reward:" provided, also, that no state shall be deprived of territory for the benefit of the United States.

All controversies concerning the private right of soil, claimed under different grants of two or more states whose jurisdictions, as they may respect such lands, and the states which passed such grants, are adjusted, the said grants or either of them being at the same time claimed to have originated antecedent to such settlement of jurisdiction, shall, on the petition of either party to the congress of the United States, be finally determined, as near as may be, in the same manner as is before prescribed for deciding disputes respecting territorial jurisdiction between different states.

The United States in congress assembled, shall also have the sole and exclusive right and power of regulating the alloy and value of coin struck by their own authority, or by that of the respective states, fixing the standard of weights and measures throughout the United States; regulating the trade and managing all affairs with the Indians, not members of any of the states: provided, that the legislative right of any state, within its own limits, be not infringed or violated; establishing and regulating post offices from one state to another, throughout all the United States, and exacting such postage on the papers passing through the same as may be requisite to defray the expenses of the said office; appointing all officers of the land forces in the service of the United States, excepting regimental officers; appointing all the officers of the naval forces, and commissioning all officers whatever in the service of the United States; making rules for the government and regulation of the said land and naval forces, and directing their operations.

The United States, in congress assembled, shall have authority to appoint a committee, to sit in the recess of congress, to be denominated "A Committee of the States," and to consist of one delegate from each state, and to appoint such other committees and civil officers as may be necessary for managing the general affairs of the United States under their direction; to appoint one of their number to preside: provided that no person be allowed to serve in the office of president more than one year in any term of three years; to ascertain the necessary sums of money to be raised for the service of the United States, and to appropriate and apply the same for defraying the public expenses; to borrow money or emit bills on the credit of the United States, transmitting every half year to the respective states an account of the sums of money so borrowed or emitted; to build and equip a navy; to agree upon the number of land forces, and to make requisitions from each state for its quota, in proportion to the number of white inhabitants in such state, which requisition shall be binding; and thereupon the legislature of each state shall appoint the regimental officers, raise the men, and clothe, arm and equip them, in a soldier-like manner, at the expense of the United States; and the officers and men, so clothed, armed and equipped, shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on, by the United States, in congress assembled, but if the United States, in congress assembled, shall, on consideration of circumstances, judge proper that any state should not raise men, or should raise a smaller number than its quota, and that any other state should raise a greater number of men than the quota thereof, such extra number shall be raised, officered, clothed, armed and equipped in the same manner as the quota of such state, unless the legislature of such state shall judge that such extra number cannot be safely spared out of the same, in which case they shall raise, officer, clothe, arm and equip as many of such extra number as they judge can be safely spared, and the officers and men, so clothed, armed and equipped, shall march to the place appointed, and within the time agreed on, by the United States, in congress assembled.

The United States, in congress assembled, shall never engage in a war, nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of peace, nor enter into any treaties or alliances, nor coin money, nor regulate the value thereof, nor ascertain the sums and expenses necessary for the defense and welfare of the United States, or any of them, nor emit bills, nor borrow money on the credit of the United States, nor appropriate money, nor agree upon the number of vessels of war to be built or purchased, or the number of land or sea forces to be raised, nor appoint a commander-in-chief of the army or navy, unless nine states assent to the same, nor shall a question on any other point, except for adjourning from day to day, be determined, unless by the votes of a majority of the United States, in congress assembled.

The congress of the United States shall have power to adjourn to any time within the year, and to any place within the United States so that no period of adjournment be for a longer duration than the space of six months, and shall publish the journal of their proceedings monthly, except such parts thereof relating to treaties, alliances or military operations as in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the delegates of each state, on any question, shall be entered on the journal, when it is desired by any delegate; and the delegates of a state, or any of them, at his or their request, shall be furnished with a transcript of the said journal, except such parts as are above excepted, to lay before the legislatures of the several states.

ART. 10. The committee of the states, or any nine of them, shall be authorized to execute, in the recess of congress, such of the powers of congress as the United States, in congress assembled, by the consent of nine states, shall, from time to time, think expedient to vest them with: provided that no power be delegated to the said committee, for the exercise of which by the articles of confederation, the voice of nine states, in the congress of the United States assembled, is requisite.

ART. 11. Canada, acceding to this confederation and joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted into and entitled to all the advantages of this union; but no other colony shall be admitted into the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine states.

ART. 12. All bills of credit emitted, moneys borrowed and debts contracted by or under the authority of congress, before the assembling of the United States in pursuance of the present confederation, shall be deemed and considered as a charge against the United States, for payment and satisfaction whereof the said United States and the public faith are hereby solemnly pledged.

ART. 13. Every state shall abide by the determinations of the United States, in congress assembled, on all questions which by this confederation are submitted to them. And the articles of this confederation shall be inviolably observed by every state, and the union shall be perpetual; nor shall any alteration at any time hereafter be made in any of them, unless such alteration be agreed to in a congress of the United States, and be afterwards confirmed by the legislatures of every state.

And whereas it hath pleased the great Governor of the world to incline the hearts of the legislatures we respectfully represent in Congress to approve of, and to authorize us to ratify, the said articles of confederation and perpetual union. Know ye, that we, the undersigned delegates, by virtue of the power and authority to us given for that purpose, do, by these presents, in the name and in behalf of our respective constituents, fully and entirely ratify and confirm each and every of the said articles of confederation and perpetual union, and all and singular the matters and things therein contained. And we do further solemnly plight and engage the faith of our respective constituents that they shall abide by the determinations of the United States, in congress assembled, on all questions which by the said confederation are submitted to them; and that the articles thereof shall be inviolably observed by the states we respectively represent, and that the union shall be perpetual. In witness whereof, we have herunto set our hands, in congress.

* The foregoing clause included in brackets is amended by sec. 2 of the 14th amendment, post.

SEC. 4. (1) The times, places and manner of holding elections for senators and representatives shall be prescribed in each state by the legislature thereof, but the congress may at any time by law make or alter such regulations, except as to the places of choosing senators.

(2) Every bill which shall have passed the house of representatives and the senate, shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the president of the United States; if he approve he shall sign it, but if not he shall return it, with his objections, to that house in which it shall have originated, who shall enter the objections at large on their journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration two-thirds of that house shall agree to pass the bill, it shall be sent, together with the objections, to the other house, by which it shall likewise be reconsidered, and, if approved by two-thirds of that house, it shall become a law. But in all such cases the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays, and the names of the persons voting for and against the bill shall be entered on the journal of each house, respectively. If any bill shall not be returned by the president within ten days (Sundays excepted) after it shall have been presented to him, the same shall be a law, in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the congress by their adjournment prevent its return, in which case it shall not be a law.

(8) Every order, resolution or vote to which the concurrence of the senate and house of representatives may be necessary (except on a question of adjournment) shall be presented to the president of the United States, and, before the same shall take effect, shall be approved by him, or, being disapproved by him, shall be repassed by two-thirds of the senate and house of representatives, according to the rules and limitations prescribed in the case of a bill.

SEC. 8. The congress shall have power:—

(17) To exercise exclusive legislation, in all cases whatsoever, over such district (not exceeding ten miles square) as may, by cession of particular states and the acceptance of congress, become the seat of the government of the United States, and to exercise like authority over all places purchased by the consent of the legislature of the state in which the same shall be, for the erection of forts, magazines, arsenals, dock yards and other needful buildings; and—

(18) To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof.

ARTICLE II.

SECTION 1. (1) The executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years, and, together with the vice-president chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

(2) Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors, equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in the congress; but no senator or representative, or person holding an office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed an elector.

The electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for two persons, of whom one at least shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves. And they shall make a list of all the persons voted for, and of the number of votes for each; which list they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate. The president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted. The person having the greatest number of votes shall be the president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if there be more than one who have such majority, and have an equal number of votes, then the house of representatives shall immediately choose, by ballot, one of them for president; and if no person have a majority, then, from the five highest on the list, the said house shall, in like manner, choose the president. But in choosing the president, the votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from two-thirds of the states; and a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. In every case, after the choice of the president, the person having the greatest number of votes of the electors shall be the vice-president. But if there should remain two or more who have equal votes, the senate shall choose from them, by ballot, the vice-president.

[The foregoing clause has been superseded and annulled by the twelfth amendment, post.]

(8) The congress may determine the time of choosing the electors, and the day on which they shall give their votes; which day shall be the same throughout the United States.

(4) No person except a natural born citizen, or a citizen of the United States at the time of the adoption of this constitution, shall be eligible to the office of president. neither shall any person be eligible to that office who shall not have attained to the age of thirty-five years, and been fourteen years a resident within the United States.

(5) In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice-president, and the congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability, both of the president and vice-president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed or a president shall be elected.

(6) The president shall, at stated times, receive for his services a compensation, which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected, and he shall not receive within that period any other emolument from the United States or any of them.

(7) Before he enter on the execution of his office, he shall take the following oath or affirmation:

nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the senate shall appoint, ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, judges of the supreme court, and all other officers of the United States, whose appointments are not herein otherwise provided for and which shall be established by law. But the congress may, by law, vest the appointment of such inferior officers as they think proper in the president alone, in the courts of law, or in the heads of departments.

(3) The president shall have power to fill up all vacancies that may happen during the recess of the senate, by granting commissions, which shall expire at the end of their next session.

SEC. 3. He shall from time to time give to the congress information of the state of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses, or either of them, and, in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper. He shall receive ambassadors and other public ministers. He shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed; and shall commission all the officers of the United States.

SEC. 4. The president, vice-president, and all civil officers of the United States, shall be removed from office on impeachment for, and conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

ARTICLE III.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one supreme court, and in such inferior courts as the congress may, from time to time, ordain and establish. The judges, both of the supreme and inferior courts, shall hold their offices during good behavior, and shall, at stated times, receive for their services a compensation, which shall not be diminished during their continuance in office.

SEC. 2. (1) The judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity arising under this constitution, the laws of the United States, and treaties made, or which shall be made, under their authority; to all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls; to all cases of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction; to controversies to which the United States shall be a party; to controversies between two or more states, between a state and citizens of another state, between citizens of different states, between citizens of the same state claiming lands under grants of different states, and between a state, or the citizens thereof, and foreign states, citizens or subjects.

(2) In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state shall be a party, the supreme court shall have original jurisdiction. In all other cases, before mentioned, the supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the congress shall make.

(3) The trial of all crimes, except in cases of impeachment, shall be by jury, and such trial shall be held in the state where the said crimes shall have been committed; but when not committed within any state, the trial shall be at such place or places as the congress may by law have directed.

SEC. 3. (1) Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

(2) The congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture, except during the life of the person attainted.

(2) A person charged in any state with treason, felony or other crime, who shall flee from justice and be found in another state, shall on demand of the executive authority of the state from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the state having jurisdiction of the crime.

(3) No person held to service or labor in one state, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from such service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom such service or labor may be due.

SEC. 3. (1) New states may be admitted by the congress into this Union; but no new state shall be formed or erected within the jurisdiction of any other state, nor any state be formed by the junction of two or more states, or parts of states, without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned, as well as of the congress.

(2) The congress shall have power to dispose of, and make all needful rules and regulations respecting, the territory or other property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this constitution shall be so construed as to prejudice any claims of the United States or of any particular state.

SEC. 4. The United States shall guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and, on application of the legislature, or of the executive (when the legislature cannot be convened), against domestic violence.

ARTICLE V.

The congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the congress; provided, that no amendment which may be made prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and eight shall in any manner affect the first and fourth clauses in the ninth section of the first article; and that no state, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in the senate.

ARTICLE VI.

(1) All debts contracted and engagements entered into before the adoption of this constitution shall be as valid against the United States under this constitution as under the confederation.

(2) This constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the supreme law of the land; and the judges in every state shall be bound thereby, anything in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

(3) The senators and representatives before mentioned, and the members of the several state legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers, both of the United States and of the several states, shall be bound by oath or affirmation to support this constitution; but no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust under the United States.

ARTICLE VII.

The ratification of the conventions of nine states shall be sufficient for the establishment of this constitution between the states so ratifying the same.

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

* The first ten of these amendments were proposed by congress to the legislatures of the several states September 25, 1789, and were ratified by all of the states, except Connecticut, Georgia and Massachusetts, before the end of the year 1791, thereby becoming a part of the organic law, pursuant to the fifth article of the original constitution.

ARTICLE II.

A well regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed.

ARTICLE III.

No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE IV.

The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures shall not be violated; and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

ARTICLE V.

No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger; nor shall any person be subject, for the same offense, to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself; nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken for public use without just compensation.

ARTICLE VI.

In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the state and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law, and to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor; and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

ARTICLE VII.

In suits at common law, where the value in controversy shall exceed twenty dollars, the right of trial by jury shall be preserved; and no fact, tried by a jury, shall be otherwise re-examined in any court of the United States, than according to the rules of the common law.

The eleventh amendment was in like manner proposed September 5, 1791, and was in a message of the president to congress, January 8, 1798, declared to have been duly ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

The twelfth amendment was in like manner proposed December 12, 1803, in lieu of the original third paragraph of the first section of the second article, and September 25, 1804; was proclaimed by the secretary of state to have been duly ratified.

The thirteenth amendment was proposed February 1, 1865, and was December 18, 1865, by the secretary of state proclaimed to have been duly ratified.

ARTICLE XI.

The judicial power of the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity, commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens of another state, or by citizens or subjects of any foreign state.

ARTICLE XII.

SECTION 1. The electors shall meet in their respective states and vote by ballot for president and vice-president, one of whom at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same state with themselves; they shall name in their ballots the person voted for as president, and in distinct ballots the person voted for as vice-president; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as president, and of all persons voted for as vice-president, and of the number of votes for each, which lists they shall sign and certify, and transmit sealed to the seat of the government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate; the president of the senate shall, in the presence of the senate and house of representatives, open all the certificates, and the votes shall then be counted; the person having the greatest number of votes for president shall be the president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as president, the house of representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the president. ARTICLE XIV.

SECTION 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States, and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SEC. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state, excluding Indians not taxed. ORGANIC LAW OF IOWA AND AMENDMENTS THERETO.

AN ACT TO DIVIDE THE TERRITORY OF WISCONSIN, AND TO ESTABLISH THE TERRITORIAL GOVERNMENT OF IOWA.

[Approved June 12, 1838.]

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That, from and after the third day of July next, all that part of the present territory of Wisconsin which lies west of the Mississippi river, and west of a line drawn due north from the head waters or sources of the Mississippi to the territorial line, shall, for the purposes of temporary government, be and constitute a separate territorial government, by the name of Iowa; and that, from and after the said third day of July next, the present territorial government of Wisconsin shall extend only to that part of the present territory of Wisconsin which lies east of the Mississippi river. And, after the said third day of July next, all power and authority of the government of Wisconsin, in and over the territory hereby constituted shall cease; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to impair the rights of person or property now appertaining to any Indians within the said territory, so long as such rights shall remain unextinguished by treaty between the United States and such Indians, or to impair the obligations of any treaty now existing between the United States and such Indians, or to impair or anywise to effect the authority of the government of the United States to make any regulations respecting such Indians, their lands, property or other rights, by treaty, or law, or otherwise, which it would have been competent to the government to make if this act had never been passed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to inhibit the government of the United States from dividing the territory hereby established into one or more other territories, in such manner and at such times as Congress shall, in its discretion, deem convenient and proper, or from attaching any portion of said territory to any other state or territory of the United States.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the executive power and authority in and over the said territory of Iowa shall be vested in a governor, who shall hold his office for three years, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States. The governor shall reside within the said territory, shall be commander-in-chief of the militia thereof, shall perform the duties and receive the emoluments of superintendent of Indian affairs, and shall approve of all laws passed by the legislative assembly before they shall take effect; he may grant pardons for offenses against the laws of said territory, and reprieves for offenses against the law of the United States, until the decision of the president can be made known thereon; he shall commission all officers who shall be appointed to office under the laws of the said territory, and shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That there shall be a secretary of the said territory, who shall reside therein, and hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president of the United States; he shall record and preserve all the laws and proceedings of the legislative assembly hereinafter constituted, and all the acts and proceedings of the governor in his executive department; he shall transmit one copy of the laws and one copy of the executive proceedings, on or before the first Monday in December in each year, to the president of the United States; and, at the same time, two copies of the laws to the speaker of the House of Representatives, for the use of Congress. And in case of the death, removal, resignation or necessary absence of the governor from the territory, the secretary shall have, and he is hereby authorized and required to execute and perform all the powers and duties of the governor during such vacancy or necessary absence, or until another governor shall be duly appointed to fill such vacancy.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power shall be vested in the governor and a legislative assembly. The legislative assembly shall consist of a Council and House of Representatives. The Council shall consist of thirteen members, having the qualifications of voters as hereinafter prescribed, whose term of service shall continue two years. The House of Representatives shall consist of twenty-six members, possessing the same qualifications as prescribed for the members of the Council, and whose term of service shall continue one year. An apportionment shall be made as nearly equal as practicable among the several counties, for the election of the Council and Representatives, given to each section of the territory representation in the ratio of its population, Indians excepted, as nearly as may be. And the said members of the Council and House of Representatives shall reside in and be inhabitants of the district for which they may be elected. Previous to the first election, the governor of the territory shall cause the census or enumeration of the inhabitants of the several counties in the territory to be taken and made by the sheriffs of the said counties, respectively, unless the same shall have been taken within three months previous to the third day of July next, and returns thereof made by said sheriffs to the governor. The first election shall be held at such time and place, and be conducted in such manner, as the governor shall appoint and direct, and he shall at the same time, declare the number of members of the Council and House of Representatives to which each of the counties or districts are entitled under this act. The number of persons authorized to be elected, having the greatest number of votes in each of the said counties or districts for the Council, shall be declared by the said governor to be duly elected to the said Council; and the person or persons having the greatest number of votes for the House of Representatives, equal to the number to which each county may be entitled, shall also be declared by the governor to be duly elected; provided, the governor shall order a new election when there is a tie between two or more persons voted for, to supply the vacancy made by such tie. And the persons thus elected to the legislative assembly shall meet at such place and on such day as he shall appoint; but thereafter the time, place and manner of holding and conducting all elections by the people, and the apportioning the representation in the several counties to the Council and House of Representatives according to population, shall be prescribed by law, as well as the day of the annual commencement of the session of the said legislative assembly; but no session in any year shall exceed the term of seventy-five days.

SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That every free white male citizen of the United States above the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been an inhabi tant of said territory at the time of its organization, shall be entitled to vote at the first election, and shall be eligible to any office within the said territory, but the qualifications of voters at all subsequent elections shall be such as shall be determined by the legislative assembly; provided, that the right of suffrage shall be exercised only by citizens of the United States.

SEC. 6. And be it further enacted, That the legislative power of the territory shall extend to all rightful subjects of legislation; but no law shall be passed interfering with the primary disposal of the soil; no tax shall be imposed upon the property of the United States; nor shall the lands or other property of non-residents be taxed higher than the lands or other property of residents. All the laws of the governor and legislative assembly shall be submitted to, and, if disapproved by, the Congress of the United States, the same shall be null and of no effect.

SEC. 7. And be it further enacted, That all township officers, and all county officers except judicial officers, justices of the peace, sheriffs and clerks of courts shall be elected by the people in such manner as is now prescribed by the laws of the territory of Wisconsin, or as may, after the first election, be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of Iowa territory. The governor shall nominate, and, by and with the advice and consent of the legislative council, shall appoint all judicial officers, justices of the peace, sheriffs, and all militia officers, except those of the staff, and all civil officers not herein provided for. Vacancies occurring in the recess of the Council shall be filled by appointments from the governor, which shall expire at the end of the next session of the legislative assembly; but the said governor may appoint, in the first instance, the aforesaid officers, who shall hold their offices until the end of the next session of the said legislative assembly.

SEC. 8. And be it further enacted, That no member of the legislative assembly shall hold, or be appointed to, any office created, or the salary or emoluments of which shall have been increased, whilst he was a member, during the term for which he shall have been elected, and for one year after the expiration of such term; and no person holding a commission or appointment under the United States, or any of its officers except as a militia officer, shall be a member of the said Council or House of representatives, or shall hold any office under the government of the said territory.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That the judicial power of the said territory shall be vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts, and in justices of the peace. The supreme court shall consist of a chief justice and two associate judges, any two of whom shall be a quorum, and who shall hold a term at the seat of government of the said territory annually; and they shall hold their offices during the term of four years. The said territory shall be divided into three judicial districts; and a district court or courts shall be held in each of the three districts, by one of the judges of the supreme court, at such times and places as may be prescribed by law; and the said judges shall, after their appointment, respectively, reside in the districts which shall be assigned to them. The jurisdiction of the several courts herein provided for, both appellate and original, and that of the probate courts, and of the justices of the peace, shall be as limited by law; provided, however, that justices of the peace shall not have jurisdiction of any matter of controversy when the title or boundaries of land may be in dispute, or where the debt or sum claimed exceeds fifty dollars. And the said supreme and district courts, respectively, shall possess a chancery as well as a common law jurisdiction. Each district court shall appoint its clerk, who shall keep his office at the place where the court may be held, and the said clerks shall also be the registers in chancery; and any vacancy in said office of clerk, happening in the vacation of said court may be filled by the judge of said district, which appointment shall continue until the next term of said court. And writs of error; bills of exception, and appeals in chancery causes, shall be allowed in all cases from the final decisions of the said district courts to the supreme court, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law; but in no case removed to the supreme court shall trial by jury be allowed in said court. The supreme court may appoint its own clerk, and every clerk shall hold his office at the pleasure of the court by which he shall have been appointed. And writs of error and appeals from the final decision of the said supreme court shall be allowed and taken to the supreme court of the United States, in the same manner and under the same regulations as from the circuit courts of the United States, where the value of the property or the amount in controversy, to be ascertained by the oath or affirmation of either party, shall exceed $1,000. And each of the said district courts shall have and exercise the same jurisdiction in all cases arising under the constitution and laws of the United States as is vested in the circuit and district courts of the United States. And the first six days of every term of the said courts, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be appropriated to the trial of causes arising under the said constitution and laws. And writs of error and appeals from the final decisions of the said courts, in all such cases, shall be made to the supreme court of the territory, in the same manner as in other cases. The said clerk shall receive in all such cases the same fees which the clerks of the district courts of Wisconsin territory now receive for similar services.

SEC. 10. And be it further enacted, That there shall be an attorney for the said territory appointed, who shall continue in office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president, and who shall receive the same fees and salary as the attorney of the United States for the present territory of Wisconsin. There shall also be a marshal for the territory appointed, who shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the president, who shall execute all process issuing from the said courts when exercising their jurisdiction as circuit and district courts of the United States. He shall perform the same duties, be subject to the same regulations and penalties, and be entitled to the same fees as the marshal of the district court of the United States for the present territory of Wisconsin; and shall, in addition, be paid the sum of $200 annually as a compensation for extra services.

SEC. 11. And be it further enacted, That the governor, secretary, chief justice and associate judges, attorney and marshal shall be nominated, and, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, appointed, by the president of the United States. The governor and secretary, to be appointed as aforesaid, shall, before they act as such, respectively take an oath or affirmation before some judge or justice of the peace in the existing territory of Wisconsin, duly commissioned and qualified to administer an oath or affirmation, or before the chief justice or some associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, to support the constitution of the United States, and for the faithful discharge of the duties of their respective offices; which said oaths, when so taken, shall be certified by the person before whom the same shall have been taken, and such certificate shall be received and recorded by the said secretary among the executive proceedings. And, afterwards, the chief justice and associate judges, and all other civil officers in said territory, before they act as such, shall take a like oath or affirmation, before said governor, or secretary, or some judge or justice of the territory, who may be duly commissioned and qualified, which said oath or affirmation shall be certified and transmitted, by the person taking the same, to the secretary, to be by him recorded as aforesaid; and, afterwards, the like oath or affirmation shall be taken, certified and recorded in such manner and form as may be prescribed by law. The governor shall receive an annual salary of $1,500 as governor, and $1,000 as superintendent of Indian affairs. The said chief judge and associate justices shall each receive an annual salary of $1,500. The secretary shall receive an annual salary of $1,200. The said salaries shall be paid quarter-yearly, at the treasury of the United States. The members of the legislative assembly shall be entitled to receive three dollars each, per day, during their attendance at the session thereof, and three dollars each for every twenty miles travel in going to and returning from the said sessions, estimated according to the nearest usually traveled route. There shall be appropriated annually the sum of $350 to be expended by the governor to defray the contingent expenses of the territory; and there shall also be appropriated annually a sum sufficient, to be expended by the secretary of the territory, and upon an estimate to be made by the secretary of the treasury of the United States, to defray the expenses of the legislative assembly, the printing of the laws, and other incidental expenses; and the secretary of the territory shall annually account to the secretary of the treasury of the United States for the manner in which the aforesaid sum shall have been expended.

SEC. 12. And be it further enacted, That the inhabitants of the said territory shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities heretofore granted and secured to the territory of Wisconsin, and to its inhabitants, and the existing laws of the territory of Wisconsin shall be extended over said territory, so far as the same be not incompatible with the provisions of this act, subject, nevertheless, to be altered, modified or repealed by the governor and legislative assembly of the said territory of Iowa; and, further, the laws of the United States are hereby extended over and shall be in force in said territory, so far as the same, or any provisions thereof, may be applicable.

Limitation. SEC. 2. The state may contract debts to supply casual deficits or failures in revenues; or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for; but the aggregate amount of such debts, direct and contingent, whether contracted by virtue of one or more acts of the general assembly, or at different

War debt. SEC. 4. In addition to the above limited power to contract debts, the state may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the state in war; but the money arising from the debts so contracted shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

Question of incurring debt submitted. SEC. 5. Except the debts hereinbefore specified in this article, no debt shall be hereafter contracted by, or on behalf of this state, unless such debt shall be authorized by some law for some single work or object, to be distinctly specified therein, and such law shall impose and provide for the collection of a direct annual tax, sufficient to pay the interest on such debt, as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt, within twenty years from the time of the contracting thereof; but no such law shall take effect until at a general election it shall have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election; and all money raised by authority of such law, shall be applied only to the specific object therein stated, or to the payment of the debt created thereby; and such law shall be published in at least one newspaper in each county, if one is published therein, throughout the state, for three months preceding the election at which it is submitted to the people.

Legislature may repeal. SEC. 6. The legislature may, at any time, after the approval of such law by the people, if no debt shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof, repeal the same; and may at any time forbid the contracting of any further debt, or liability, under such law; but the tax imposed by such law, in proportion to the debt or liability which may have been contracted in pursuance thereof, shall remain in force and be irrepalable, and be annually collected, until the principal and interest are fully paid.

Tax imposed distinctly stated. SEC. 7. Every law which imposes, continues, or revives a tax, shall distinctly state the tax, and the object to which it is to be applied; and it shall not be sufficient to refer to any other law to fix such tax or object.

} Judges of the Supreme Court.

JOHNSON BRIGHAM, State Librarian.

The accession list of the State Library on the first day of July 1903, included 79,629 volumes, exclusive of the volumes of the Historical Department with which the miscellaneous portion of the State Library was consolidated by act of the Twenty-eighth General Assembly. The total accessions during the year ending June 30, 1903, was 5,028 volumes.

The actual transfer of books from the miscellaneous department of the State Library, left to the discretion of the Library Board, having been carried out so far as the limited stack room in the Historical Department would permit, will not be completed until the completion of the Historical Building shall have made the full transfer feasible. This delay is a constant embarrassment, not only in the cataloging of the two departments, but also in the arrangement of new books on the shelves. The suspension of the work of consolidation compels the continuation of a temporizing policy in the shelving of books, which, though not in any sense seriously damaging, presents many difficulties, chiefly because of the tendency of the two growing departments, the Law and the Miscellaneous, to overlap each other, each calling with equal urgency for the most accessible space, and both now overflowing alcoves which three years ago afforded ample space.

The Law Department has within the year been strengthened by several new sets, and the alcove devoted to the literature of the law has been enriched by many purchases.

The Document Department is steadily nearing the goal of completeness—a goal very difficult of attainment. For most practical purposes, however, the seeker after documentary information can now obtain what he seeks, either in national documents or in those issued by the several states.

The Miscellaneous Department, during the past year, has grown chiefly in the direction of sociological works, periodicals and complete sets of standard works.

The card cataloging of the entire library after the most approved methods of library science—a laborious task—began in 1898 and continued along with the work of cataloging new books as they are accessioned, is finally completed.

The general advance in the price of books and especially of the more valuable sets of books most needed in a reference library is making it hard to keep the three departments of the library within the narrow limits of their income.

HISTORICAL DEPARTMENT.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

HON. ALBERT B. CUMMINS, Governor of the State.
CHIEF JUSTICE H. E. DEEMER.	JUDGE S. M. WEAVER.
JUDGE JOHN C. SHERWIN.	JUDGE SCOTT M. LADD.
JUDGE ENLIN MCCLAIN.	JUDGE CHARLES A. BISHOP.
HON. W. B. MARTIN, Secretary of State.
HON. JOHN F. RIGGS, Superintendent of Public Instruction.
CURATOR CHARLES ALDRICH, A. M.

As now organized this department dates from the first day of July, 1892. Its chief purpose is the collection of historical data relating to our own state and the territory of the middle west of which it originally formed a part. So far as literature is concerned special efforts are made to collect Iowa newspapers from the earliest dates to the present time; works of state and general western and national history, biography and genealogy; works on the slavery question and the war for the union; histories of all our wars from the earliest times; reports upon the census of both state and nation; works relating to the North American Indians; county histories; earlier and later maps; Iowa pamphlets; biographies of our notable men and women, printed or in manuscript; written or printed documents relating to early settlers and settlements; reports, catalogues and broad-sides relating to the churches, educational and benevolent institutions of the state; in short, every species of data which can throw light upon local, state or western history.

The department publishes The Annals of Iowa, an illustrated quarterly historical magazine of eighty pages, now in its sixth volume. This is made up of original contributions in history and biography. By direction of the trustees it is sent free to every organized library in our state. Its price to subscribers is $1 per year.

In addition to The Annals, the Historical Department is to be credited with the following publications, viz: Six biennial reports; "John Brown Among the Quakers, and Other Sketches," by Hon. Irving B. Richman; "First Census of the Original Counties of Dubuque and Des Moines," edited by Dr. Benj. F. Shambaugh; "History of the Constitutions of Iowa," by Dr. Shambaugh; reprints of the laws of Iowa, 1838-39 and of 1839-40, and the hitherto unpublished Journals of the Council and House of Representatives of the extra session of 1840.

The department has secured sixty fine oil portraits of distinguished Iowans, the most of which are now on exhibition in the art gallery of the historical building. Several more are promised in the near future.

The historical collections of the department up to January 1, 1904, are as follows:

Bound volumes of newspapers.....	2,940
Newspapers and periodicals currently received	428
Books and pamphlets in the library.....	11,754

Also a large collection of autograph letters and manuscripts.

The Museum includes seven large autograph cases; a collection of recent, aboriginal and prehistoric pottery—some of the most interesting specimens of which were found in our own state; a large collection of stone implements, among which is an Iowa axe weighing 31 $\frac{3}{4}$ pounds—one of the largest ever discovered—with hundreds of flints; many teeth, tusks, and other bones of the mammoth and mastodon, all of which were found in Iowa; two large cases of birds—mostly specimens found within our state; many Iowa mammals; four large aquariums stocked with a collection of Iowa fishes; a case of Indian baskets, bead work, implements and weapons, the most of which were manufactured by the Musquakie Indians of Tama county; a collection of arms—cannon, mortars, swivel guns, rifle, muskets, carbines, swords and pistols, in use during the Civil, Spanish and Philippine wars; duplicates in bronze of most of the historic medals issued by the U. S. Government; the Larrabee case with its highly interesting and historically valuable contents; with single items of more or less importance.

A large portion of the articles in this museum possess historic value, aside from their popular interest. It is estimated that over 50,000 people visit the Museum and Art Gallery annually. In this way the people are realizing a return for the taxes they pay for the support of the department. Not the least gratifying result of the years of work devoted to this department is the great measure of appreciation which has been accorded to it by people in every part of Iowa.

The State Board of Law Examiners was created by an act of the Twenty-eighth General Assembly which went into effect on the Fourth day of July, 1901. The Attorney General is by virtue of his office, chairman of the board, and the other members are appointed by the supreme court.

At the May term, 1901, the supreme court appointed the following named persons members of the board:

- E. O. Ebersole, Toledo, for the term of two years;
- Louis Block, Davenport, for the term of two years;

The members of the board are paid as compensation fifteen dollars per day out of the fund arising from examination fees. Under the statute the supreme court may also appoint from time to time when necessary temporary examiners to assist the commission, who shall serve for one examination only.

Every applicant for admission to the bar must pass an examination by the board as to his legal attainments, and also as to his preliminary educational qualification, unless he furnishes proof of such qualification by presenting a diploma or certificate that he is a graduate of a college, high school, normal school or academy, or that he has regularly and in good faith pursued and successfully completed three years of the regular course of an accredited high school, or the certificate of the state board of educational examiners that he has successfully passed an examination by that board, or the certificate of the president of the state university or of any college in this state having an equivalent collegiate or liberal art study, that he has been found on proper certification or examination to be entitled to admission, without condition, as a student in such university or college, for which admission the applicant must have actually and in good faith acquired a general education substantially equivalent to that involved in the completion of a high school course of study of at least three years extent.

Examinations are held at the Capitol at Des Moines on the first Tuesday in October and the Tuesday before the first Thursday in June, and at the University at Iowa City on the first Thursday preceding the annual commencement of the State University. Each examination continues not less than three days and is both written and oral. The examination of each candidate is marked on the basis of one hundred per cent for the entire examination, and no one is recommended for admission who does not receive a marking of at least seventy-five per cent. No candidate who fails to pass can take a second examination within three months after such failure.

Each applicant is required to pay an examination fee of five dollars.

*Finley Burke died on the 27th day of July, 1903, and the vacancy caused by his death has not been filled by the court.

JOHNSON BRIGHAM, state librarian President.

Alice S. Tyler, secretary. Office, state house, Des Moines.

Margaret W. Brown, clerk (acting librarian of traveling library).

The Iowa Library Commission was created by an act of the Twenty-eighth General Assembly in March, 1900. The growing interest in library matters and the many gifts for the erection of library buildings have made the demands on the commission heavy and constant and the secretary's time has been more than filled.

The demands made upon the secretary, cover a wide range of interests, among which are the following: Assisting any community desiring aid in planning for the submission of a library tax to a popular vote; aiding boards of trustees and librarians in organizing libraries for a business-like administration; assisting in the classifying, shelf-listing and cataloging of books; addressing women's clubs, teachers' meetings, public meetings, etc.; conferring with library trustees and city councils in the consideration of plans for new library buildings, with special reference to best working interior arrangement, etc. By correspondence also much information has been given to librarians and library boards as to details of library economy, the selection and classification of books, etc.

The work of the traveling library, formerly under the direction of the state library, was seen to be so intimately connected with the work of library extension over the entire state that the desirability of transferring it to the commission was soon evident, library extension being the primary purpose of the library commission. Therefore, the library commission law was revised by the Twenty-ninth General Assembly in order to provide for the transfer of the traveling library to the Iowa Library Commission, and a slightly increased appropriation was provided.

The principal activities of the commission are as follows: (1) The traveling library, consisting of over 10,000 volumes, which are made up into miscellaneous collections of fifty volume libraries or books on special subjects of study and loaned to any community in the state complying with a simple agreement and paying transportation charges. (2) Summer library school, conducted by the secretary at the State University at Iowa City for six weeks each summer as a department of the university's summer session. BOARD OF VOTING MACHINE COMMISSIONERS.

Appointed by the Governor. Term five years. Compensation not to exceed $1,500.

Terms expire.

SYLVESTER B. OSBORN, Tabor..... July 3, 1905
 HENRY M. BELVEL, Des Moines..... July 3, 1905
 WILLIAM BLAKE, Strawberry Point..... July 3, 1905

The voting machine commission was created by the act of the Twenty-eighth General Assembly, providing for the use of voting machines at all state, county, city, town and township elections. By this act the Governor was authorized to appoint three commissioners, not more than two of whom should be from the same political party. The commissioners are appointed for the term of five years, subject to removal at the pleasure of the Governor.

Individuals or corporations owning or interested in any voting machine may call upon the commissioners to examine the said voting machine. After such examination the commissioners are to report the results to the Secretary of State, giving the capacity of such machine to register the vote of the people, its accuracy and efficiency, and its mechanical perfections or imperfections. This report is to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State, and it must state the opinion of the commissioners, whether the kind of machine so examined can be safely used by the voters. Should the report state that the machine can be so used, it shall be deemed approved by the commissioners, and machines of its kind may be adopted and used at the various elections held in the State. For making such examination and report, each commissioner is to receive the sum of $150 for his compensation, and expenses, but no commissioner is to receive an amount in excess of $1,500 and reasonable expenses in any one year. The fees for examination are to be paid by the individual or corporation owning or interested in the voting machine examined.

The act makes the following provisions as to the construction of the machine approved:

"A voting machine approved by the State Board of Voting Machine Commissioners must be so constructed as to provide facilities for voting for the candidates of at least seven different parties or organizations, must permit a voter to vote for any person for any office, although not nominated as a candidate by any party or organization, and must permit voting in absolute secrecy. It must also be so constructed as to prevent voting for more than one person for the same office, except where the voter is lawfully entitled to vote for more than one person for that office; and it must afford him an opportunity to vote for any or all persons for that office as he is by law entitled to vote for, and no more, at the same time preventing his voting for the same person twice. It may also be provided with one ballot in each party column or row containing only the words 'presidential electors' preceded by the party name, and a vote for such ballot shall operate as a vote for all candidates of such party for presidential electors. Such machine shall be so constructed as to accurately account for every vote cast upon it."

THE IOWA BUILDING.

LOCATION.

The Iowa Building has a beautiful location in that part of the grounds assigned to state buildings. On the north of the Iowa Building is Kansas, New York, Minnesota, Massachusetts and Oregon; on the west, Arkansas, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Rhode Island; on the south, New Jersey, Mississippi, Indian Territory and Utah. The Iowa Building is located at the intersection of the two most prominent thoroughfares, with an outlook on a pretty plaza full of choice flowers and tropical plants which extends for a quarter of a mile directly in front of the main entrance of the Iowa Building. The grounds about the building are beautifully shaded with forest trees, and are high, being 100 feet above the main exposition buildings. The Intra-Mural Railway car line which passes all of the exposition buildings and the large concessions on the Pike, has a station near the Iowa building, putting it in close touch with every part of the 1,200 acres which is devoted to the exposition.

ARCHITECTURE.

The architecture of the Iowa building is a delightful blending of the architecture of the old state capitol located at Iowa City and of the new state capitol located at Des Moines, the cupola on the building being a reproduction of the old capitol, and the columns and facade being that of the new. It is 68 feet wide by 106 feet long, including the porches. The extreme width is 106 by 160 feet long. It is 49 feet to the top of the roof and 80 feet to the flag-pole.

The structure is of the French Renaissance style. This is the style of the better class of state buildings on the exposition grounds and the general style of the exposition buildings, so that in point of style the Iowa building harmonizes well with its surroundings. The paneled ceilings and walls of the interior are intended to afford ample opportunity for mural decorations.

FACTS ABOUT THE BUILDING.

The building, the commission believes, is a credit to Iowa in every sense. It combines the artistic and the practical in an unusual degree, being roomy and comfortable.

The structure is of wood and staff, ivory white, in accord with the general color scheme of the exposition buildings. Over the main entrance appears the word, "Iowa," and it is expected in carrying out the mural decorations to portray historical and allegorical scenes directly relating to this state.

On the first story there is ample porch space, and on the second, wide balconies. The tiled roofs over the second story will be used as lookouts or terraces, and are easily accessible through doors at the end of attic halls. Arrangements will be made for covering these terraces with awnings and lighting them in the evenings, thus affording extensive views of the exposition grounds.

One of the strong features of the plan is the interior arrangements. On the first floor in the center is a rotunda, 28 by 28 feet. Leading off from this are two large public parlors. There are also on this floor two reading rooms, each 22½ by 40 feet, a woman's retiring room, the secretary's office, toilet rooms, and wide vestibules leading from the main entrances. The first story will be 14 feet high.

On the second floor is the governor's reception room and exhibition room, each 60 by 40 feet. There are private rooms for the governor and for the president of the commission, and six comfortable commissioners' rooms ranged along one side of the building. The hall space in the second story is ample. The height of the second story is 18 feet. In the third or attic story are the rooms for employes and in the basement a storage room for folding chairs and packing cases.

The Iowa building is for the accommodation of Iowa people and their friends who desire a resting place during the day and where meetings can be held by Iowa people, and general meetings for fair visitors.

INFORMATION BUREAU.

A bureau of information and a postoffice where Iowa people can receive and send mail, will be maintained and every facility offered for furnishing information concerning the exposition and the city of St. Louis. The Iowa Commission invites all Iowa people and their friends to make their headquarters at the Iowa building during the Exposition.

ORGAN.

President Larrabee has tendered a pipe organ for use in the Iowa building during the Exposition.

The contract was awarded the M. P. Moller Organ Co., Hagerstown, Md. The organ is to have two manuals, thirty stops, 1,512 pipes, nine pedal movements. The casing will be of solid mahogany wood, the front pipes being handsomely and fittingly decorated. It is to be installed at the head of the grand staircase leading out of the main rotunda, the most attractive and prominent place in all the building to install such a gift. It is expected that concerts will be given in the Iowa building, where an auditorium seating 600 people has been provided, and the great organists of our own state and abroad will be secured for recitals.

CONTRACTS.

Proudfoot & Bird, of Des Moines, are the architects, and E. W. Nichols & Co., of Des Moines, are the contractors of the Iowa building. Hon. W. T. Shepherd, of Harlan, is the superintendent of construction, and J. O. Wickersham, of Harlan, assistant superintendent.

L. H. Kurtz, Des Moines, awarded contract for plumbing; Wm. G. Andrews, of Clinton, contract for decorations; Theodore Thorwegian, of St. Louis, contract for grading, sodding and floral plats; Mitchell Vance & Co., of New York City, contract for lighting fixtures.

INSIDE INN.

The Inside Inn, one of the largest hotels on the Exposition grounds, having 2,257 sleeping rooms, is located within two blocks of the Iowa building.

IOWA FIRST AT WORLD'S FAIR.

From President David R. Francis' address at the reception tendered the Southwestern Iowa editors at the Iowa Building on November 14, 1903:

"When St. Louis citizens sought for a method to celebrate the purchase of the Louisiana Territory, it was an Iowa man, Mr. Fred Lehmann, now an eminent attorney in St. Louis, who insisted and finally established the idea that an exposition should be the means employed to that end. The congress which was held to discuss the plan, and which was attended by representatives of all the states carved out of this territory, was presided over by an Iowa man, Lieutenant Governor Milliman, of Logan.

"Iowa's legislature was the first to memorialize the national congress to act in the matter.

The Twenty-ninth General Assembly provided for a commission of eleven members to erect monuments on the Chattanooga, Tenn., battle fields, where Iowa soldiers were engaged in the battles of November 24, 25 and 27, 1863. $35,000 was appropriated for the purpose of erecting three state monuments, one on Lookout Mountain, and one on either end of Missionary Ridge at the places where the different Iowa troops were engaged, to perpetuate an expression on the part of the people of Iowa of their appreciation of the patriotism, courage and distinguished soldierly bearing of their fellow citizens who took part in said battles.

The commission made one visit to the Chattanooga battle fields in November 1902, and after a week's study, located the three sites, one within the national military park reservation of ninety-eight acres on Lookout Mountain, in front of the Craven house, where six Iowa regiments took part in the famous "battle above the clouds" on the afternoon and evening of November 24th, another near the center of the national military park, Sherman reservation of forty-nine acres, on the north end of Missionary Ridge, where four other Iowa regiments led the advance against the confederate right November 25th. The third was placed at Rosville Gap near where six Iowa regiments and the Iowa battery assaulted the confederate left and rear, and helped drive General Bragg and his army into hasty retreat before night of the same day.

The Van Amringe Granite Company of Boston, Mass., secured the contract for building the three monuments for $32,000. They are to be of the best quality of Barre, Vt., granite. Each is surmounted by a colossal granite statue of a color bearer in the attitude of "Defense of the flag." The one at Rosville Gap has also above the base, fine granite statues of four private soldiers.

The two memorials on Lookout Mountain and Sherman Heights are fifty feet in height. The larger one at Rosville Gap is seventy-two feet high, on an octagonal base of twenty feet. The largest single block of granite used is the thirty foot square shaft of this monument weighing forty tons.

They are to be completed March 1, 1904, and dedicated early in the year if found practicable.

The act, approved April, 6, 1900, provided for the appointment by the Governor of a commission composed of men who were present and participated in the battle—one soldier from each of the eleven Iowa regiments engaged.

The commission is making use of the funds at its disposal by erecting in the Shiloh National Military Park at Pittsburg Landing, Tenn., a State monument at a cost approximating twenty-five thousand dollars and eleven regimental monuments at a cost approximating two thousand dollars each.

The Twenty-ninth General Assembly, in accordance with the recommendation made by the Capitol Improvement Commission, appropriated the sum of $250,000 to repair, improve, adorn and complete the capitol building and grounds and authorized the Governor to appoint a commission of three members to superintend and contract for the improvements. In accordance with said law Governor Cummins in May, 1902, appointed the above members of the commission. The commission held its first meeting in July, 1902, and since that date has gone steadily forward with the work. The first substantial work was the replacing of the old slate roof of the capitol with a modern copper one at a cost of $19,178. A new fireproof warehouse has been erected across the street from the capitol at a cost of $28,465. This building will be used for a document store house and the basement for the electrical machinery.

The heating and ventilating system of the capitol has been replaced by a modern fan system. The building has been wired throughout so as to permit of the substitution of electricity for gas in lighting and a modern electrical plant has been installed to generate sufficient power. The old elevators have been removed and new machinery for their operation installed. At the boiler house the old boilers have been displaced by new high pressure water tube boilers. During the past twenty years many parts of the building had fallen into decay and consequently a considerable amount of restoration has been necessary in connection with the above mentioned improvements. To date the commission has expended $192,000.

In addition there yet remains as unfinished work the repairing of the walks, coping and steps; the refinishing and repairing of the wood work and furniture; the regilding of the dome and the painting and decorating of the halls, corridors and rotunda. It is the intention of the commission to bring the standard and character of the decorations up to the architectural dignity and beauty of the building.

The fire in the north wing of the building, which occurred on the 4th day of January, 1904, caused an important interruption in the work of the commission. It will cost about $5,000 to restore portions of the work of the commission destroyed or impaired by fire. The entire loss to the State will probably not exceed $100,000. The exact sum will probably never be known, from the fact that it seems to be the determination of the legislature to make the building in that section as nearly fireproof as practicable, which will involve additional expenditure.

Of the emergency fund of $3,000 provided by the legislature for expenses incurred at the time of the fire and in fitting up the House Hall for use at the present session about $6,000 has been expended.

Board of Control of State Institutions.

MEMBERS.

JOHN COWKIN, Chairman , South Amana	April 5, 1904
G. S. ROBINSON, Sioux City	April 5, 1908
L. G. KINNE, Des Moines	April 5, 1908

F. S. TREAT, Secretary, Des Moines.

HENRY F. LIEBBE, Architect, Des Moines.

The Board of Control of State Institutions was created under the provisions of chapter 118, laws of the Twenty-seventh General Assembly, which, with the amendments thereto, clothes the board with full power to manage, control and govern, subject only to the limitations contained in the act, the following named institutions:

- Iowa Soldiers' Orphans' Home, at Davenport.
- Iowa Soldiers' Home, at Marshalltown.
- School for the Deaf, at Council Bluffs.
- College for the Blind, at Vinton.
- Institution for Feeble-minded Children, at Glenwood.
- Mt. Pleasant State Hospital.
- Hospital for Inebriates (Mt. Pleasant).
- Independence State Hospital.
- Hospital for Inebriates (Independence).
- Clarinda State Hospital.
- Cherokee State Hospital.
- Hospital for Inebriates (Cherokee).
- Industrial Home for the Blind, at Knoxville.
- Industrial School for Boys, at Eldora.
- Industrial School for Girls, at Mitchellville.
- Industrial Reformatory for Females, at Anamosa.
- Penitentiary, at Anamosa.
- Penitentiary, at Ft. Madison.

The board is also required to investigate thoroughly the reports and doings of the regents of the State University, the trustees of the State Normal School, and the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, and the books and records of said institutions. It also has supervision of county and private institutions in which insane persons are kept, and of associations and societies receiving friendless children.

Prior to July 1, 1898, the foregoing state institutions, except the penitentiaries, were in charge of separate boards, each of which had its officers and each had a secretary and treasurer.

The Board of Control was organized on April 6, 1908, and took full control, as provided by statute, on July 1, 1908, of the institutions heretofore named. At that time the various boards of trustees and commissioners ceased to exist.

The Board publishes quarterly a bulletin of over a hundred pages, devoted to the scientific investigation of the treatment of insanity and epilepsy, and the feeble-minded, and information embodying the experience of soldiers' homes, charitable, reformatory and penal institutions in this and other countries, it being the intention of the board to keep in touch with the best thought and judgment of the age.

As provided by law, under the direction of the board, the state institutions under its control are supplied with goods for their support on competitive bids, thus procuring proper supplies at the lowest market prices. An opportunity to bid is afforded anyone who indicates a desire to the board.

The board visits and inspects each institution under its control at least twice each year, and oftener if necessary. Some member of the board visits and thoroughly inspects each hospital for the insane once each month.

The Twenty-ninth General Assembly passed an act for the detention and treatment of dipsomaniacs and inebriates and directing the Board of Control to designate a ward or wards in the state hospitals for the insane to which they should be sent. Wards have been opened in the Mount Pleasant State Hospital, Independence State Hospital and the Cherokee State Hospital. The table at the end of this chapter shows the population of each of said hospitals.

The State University of Iowa is an integral part of the public school system of the State. As required by law, the work of the University is based upon the preparation afforded by the duly accredited high schools of the State, whose graduates are admitted to the undergraduate and professional courses upon presentation of the proper certificates. A sense of this vital connection with the public schools determines, in a large measure, the requirements for admission to the University, its spirit, and its courses of study.

The control of the University is intrusted to a board of regents, consisting of the Governor of the State and the Superintendent of Public Instruction ex officio, and of one member from each of the eleven congressional districts, elected by the general assembly.

The University is administered through the following organizations:

The College of Liberal Arts, including engineering and the summer session;

The College of Law;

The College of Medicine;

The College of Homoeopathic Medicine;

The College of Dentistry;

The College of Pharmacy;

The Graduate College;

The School of Political and Social Science;

The School of Applied Science;

The Nurses' Training Schools;

The Hospitals.

The College of Liberal Arts embraces four courses of study; Classical, philosophical, scientific, engineering and mining. Four years are required to graduate in either one of these courses, and on completion the appropriate Bachelor's degree is granted.

In the college of law the course of study extends through three years, and on completion thereof the graduate is given the degree of LL. B., and admitted to practice before the state and United States courts.

The college of medicine and the college of homeopathic medicine require the student to pursue his studies during a four year's course of nine months each, and on completion of such course the degree of M. D. is granted.

The college of dentistry requires four years of nine months each, to complete the course and obtain the degree D. D. S.

The course in pharmacy extends through two years of nine months each, and the degree Ph. G. is granted on its completion.

Semesters open February 15, and September 24, 1901.

The Iowa Experiment Station was established in accordance with an act of congress, approved March 2, 1887, for the purpose of aiding "in acquiring and diffusing among the people of the United States useful and practical information on subjects connected with agriculture, and to promote scientific investigation and experiments respecting the principles and applications of agricultural science," under direction of the land grant colleges in each state and territory established by the act of 1862, creating such colleges. This act appropriated to each state and territory, for the purpose of agricultural investigation, the sum of $15,000 annually, and the experiment stations were thus established as a department of the land grant colleges. They are subject to the regulations of the United States department of agriculture, and are regularly inspected by officers of that department. The results of these investigations and experiments in agriculture, including live stock and all related branches, are published in bulletins issued by the experiment stations quarterly or oftener, and distributed free to all residents of the respective states who apply for them.

The work of the Iowa Experiment Station along these lines has proved extremely popular and met with favor in all parts of the state and nation, and many foreign countries as well. The reports of some of its experiments have been republished entire by foreign governments, and the demand for bulletins is so large that applications outside of the state can no longer be supplied. These bulletins are free to farmers and citizens of Iowa.

Historical—This school was founded in 1876, by the Sixteenth General Assembly. It was opened September 6, 1876. It received the buildings and grounds of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home, located at Cedar Falls. South building was erected in 1882 at a cost of $32,000, central building in 1896 at a cost of $33,000, and main building in 1900 at a cost of $100,000. The Twenty-ninth General Assembly granted a one-tenth mill tax for five years for the erection and equipment of additional buildings. A modern gymnasium for the special purpose of the proper training and development of the health and strength of the students is now under construction.

Organization and Management—The Normal School, as organized by the board of trustees, offers courses of study: (1) for teachers of primary, grammar and high school; (2) for special teachers of music, drawing, public speaking and physical training; (3) for librarians, principals and superintendents. The time assigned for these courses varies from two to four years, according to necessity, the requirements of State certificates and State diplomas being regarded as standard in all branches. High School teachers are well prepared in Latin, German, Mathematics, History, Political Science, Natural and Physical Sciences and Physical Training. The highest standard prevails.

Conditions of Admission—The possession of a teacher's county certificate, or graduation from a high school are the principal requirements, but special students with good scholarship are also admitted. Professional instruction and training is also provided for college graduates.

Summer Term—A special summer term is annually organized for the benefit of the teachers regularly at work in the public schools, at which time the whole program of studies is offered.

Attendance—The enrollment for 1902-03 was a total of 2,460, distributed as follows: Normal department 2,088, training department 372.

The summer term of 1903 enrolled 1,163.

The United States government pays to the State of Iowa the sum of $100 per year for each male inmate of the Soldiers' Home, which amount is used as a part of the support fund of the institution.

Persons who have property or means for their support, or who draw a pension sufficient therefor, will not be admitted to the Home; and if after admission, an inmate of the Home shall receive a pension or other means sufficient for his support, or shall recover his health so as to enable him to support himself, he will be discharged from the Home.

Regular appropriation by the state is $14.00 per month for each member, and $10.00 per month for each employe not a member of the Home.

IOWA SOLDIERS' ORPHANS' HOME—DAVENPORT.

Superintendent—M. T. GASS.

Physician—WILLIAM L. ALLEN, M. D.

Steward—HENRY KELLLOGG.

There is in connection with this institution a school building, pleasant, commodious and well lighted, and it is the policy of the board to have the course of instruction of a high standard. A kindergarten is operated for the very young pupils.

The age limit beyond which children are not kept in the Home is 16 years. Less than 20 per cent remain to the age limit.

A library of well selected juvenile literature is a source of pleasure and profitable entertainment to the children, as from necessity their pastimes and pleasures are somewhat circumscribed.

It is the aim to provide the children with plenty of good comfortable clothing, and to have them taught to take good care of the same. Their clothing is all manufactured at the Home, the large girls assisting in its manufacture. The table is supplied with a good variety of plain, wholesome food and a reasonable amount of luxuries.

The Home is supported by a regular appropriation of $10 per month for each inmate and the actual transportation charges of inmates to and from the institution. Each county is liable to the state for the support of its children, except soldiers' orphans, who are cared for at the expense of the state.

COLLEGE FOR THE BLIND—VINTON.

Superintendent—T. F. McCUNE.

Physician—C. C. GRIFFEN, M. D.

Oculist—LEW WALLACE DEAN, M. D.

Steward—JOHN COOK.

There is a regular appropriation for this institution of $22.00 per capita per month for nine months of each year to cover support and maintenance.

The school term begins on the first Wednesday in September and usually ends about the first of June. It is desirable that the students enter at the first and remain until the close. They may, however, be admitted at any time, and they are at liberty to go home whenever their parents send for them.

The department of music is supplied with thirty-seven pianos, one pipe organ, several cabinet organs, and a sufficient number of violins, guitars, bass viols and brass instruments. Every student capable of receiving it is given a complete course in this department.

In the industrial department the girls are required to learn knitting, crocheting, fancy work, hand and machine sewing; the boys, netting, broom making, mattress making and cane seating. Those of either sex who so desire may learn carpet weaving.

These advantages are free to every person, either blind or of defective vision, and of suitable school age and capacity, in the state. All that the friends are expected to do is to pay the traveling expenses and furnish clothing. If they are unable to clothe the pupil the necessary clothing will be furnished here and the bill sent to the county from which the pupil comes.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF—COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Superintendent.—HENRY W. ROTHERT.

Physician.—A. P. HANCOCK, M. D.

Steward.—JOHN F. SCHULTZ.

Matron.—MRS. M. E. POOLE.

There is a regular appropriation for this institution of $22.00 per capita per month for nine months of each year for the payment of officers' and teachers' salaries and for a support fund.

This institution is free to all of school age, too deaf to be educated in the common schools, sound in mind and free from immoral habits and from contagious and offensive diseases. No charge for board or tuition.

The session of the school begins the 1st day of October and continues until the last day of June of each year. Pupils should come promptly at the beginning and remain until the end of the session.

INSTITUTION FOR FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN—GLENWOOD.

Superintendent.—GEORGE MOGRIDGE, M. D.

Physician and Assistant Superintendent.—A. R. SCHIER, M. D.

Assistant Physician.—H. W. BERSON, M. D.

Steward.—E. O. COOK.

There is a regular appropriation for this institution of $12 per month for each inmate.

The purposes or objects of this institution are to provide special methods of training for that class of children deficient in mind or marked with such peculiarities as to deprive them of the benefits and privileges provided for children with normal faculties. The object is to make each child as nearly self-supporting as practicable, and to approach as nearly as possible the movements and actions of normal people. It further aims to provide a home for those who are not susceptible of mental culture, relying wholly on others to supply their simple wants.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR BOYS—ELDORA.

Superintendent.—B. J. MILES.

Steward.—R. B. HUMPHRIES.

Physician.—W. E. WHITNEY, M. D.

Matron.—SARAH STOKES.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL FOR GIRLS—MITCHELLVILLE.

Superintendent.—F. P. FITZGERALD.

Physician.—G. B. HIBBS, M. D.

Matron.—H. BELLE ANDERSON.

Storekeeper.—PEARL SMITH.

There is appropriated for the support of these schools the sum of $10 monthly for each boy and $12 monthly for each girl inmate.

The object of the institution is the reformation of juvenile delinquents. It is not a prison. It is a compulsory educational institution. It is a school where wayward and criminal boys and girls are brought under the influence of Christian instructors, and taught by example, as well as precept, the better ways of life. It is a training school, where the moral, intellectual and industrial education of the child is carried on at one and the same time.

Any boy or girl, over 7 and under 18 years of age, who has become criminal, vagrant or incorrigible, may be committed to this school by any court of record. Any boy or girl may be discharged, or paroled from the school, at any time after one year's training, upon satisfactory evidence of reformation. They may also in exceptional cases be paroled or discharged in less than one year.

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

The republicans of the United States, through their chosen representatives, meet in national convention, looking back upon an unsurpassed record of achievement and looking forward into a great field of duty and opportunity; and, appealing to the judgment of their countrymen, make these declarations.

PREAMBLE.

The expectation in which the American people, turning from the democratic party, intrusted power four years ago to a republican chief magistrate and a republican congress, has been met and satisfied. When the people then assembled at the polls, after a term of democratic legislation and administration, business was dead, industry paralyzed, and the national credit disastrously impaired. The country's capital was hidden away and its labor distressed and unemployed. The democrats had no other plan with which to improve the ruinous conditions, which they had themselves produced, than to coin silver at the ratio of 16 to 1.

PLEDGES FILLED.

The republican party, denouncing this plan as sure to produce conditions even worse than those from which relief was sought, promised to restore prosperity by means of two legislative measures—a protective tariff and a law making gold the standard of value.

The people, by great majorities, issued to the republican party a commission to enact these laws. This commission has been executed, and the republican promise is redeemed.

Prosperity more general and more abundant than we have ever known has followed these enactments. There is no longer controversy as to the value of any government obligations. Every American dollar is a gold dollar or its assured equivalent, and American credit stands higher than that of any nation. Capital is fully employed, and everywhere labor is profitably occupied. No single fact can more strikingly tell the story of what republican government means to the country than this—that, while during the whole period of 107 years, from 1790 to 1897, there was an excess of exports over imports of only $388,028,497, there has been, in the short three years of the present republican administration an excess of exports over imports in the enormous sum of $1,428,537,004.

TRIUMPH IN WAR.

And while the American people, sustained by this republican legislation, have been achieving these splendid triumphs in their business and commerce, they have conducted, and in victory concluded, a war for liberty and human rights. No thought of national aggrandizement tarnished the high purpose with which American standards were unfurled.

It was a war unsought and patiently resisted, but when it came the American government was ready. Its fleets were cleared for action. Its armies were in the field, and the quick and signal triumph of its forces on land and sea bore equal tribute to the courage of American soldiers and sailors and to the skill and foresight of republican statesmanship. To ten millions of the human race there was given "a new birth of freedom," and to the American people a new and noble responsibility.

TRUE TO M'KINLEY.

We indorse the administration of William McKinley. Its acts have been established in wisdom and in patriotism, and at home and abroad it has distinctly elevated and extended the influence of the American nation.

Walking untried paths and facing unforeseen responsibilities, President McKinley has been in every situation the true American patriot and the upright statesman, clear in vision, strong in judgment, firm in action, always inspiring, and deserving the confidence of his countrymen.

In asking the American people to indorse this republican record and to renew their commission to the republican party, we remind them of the fact that the menace to their prosperity has always resided in democratic principles and no less in the general incapacity of the democratic party to conduct public affairs.

The prime essential of business prosperity is public confidence in the good sense of the government and in its ability to deal intelligently with each new problem of administration and legislation. That confidence the democratic party has never earned. It is hopelessly inadequate, and the country's prosperity when democratic success at the polls is announced halts and ceases in mere anticipation of democratic failures and blunders.

GOLD STANDARD.

We renew our allegiance to the principles of the gold standard and declare our confidence in the wisdom of the legislation of the Fifty-sixth Congress by which the parity of all our money and the stability of our currency on a gold basis have been secured.

We recognize that interest rates are a potent factor in production and business activity, and for the purpose of further equalizing and of further lowering the rates of interest we favor such monetary legislation as will enable the varying needs of the season and of all sections to be promptly met, in order that trade may be evenly sustained, labor steadily employed and commerce enlarged.

The volume of money in circulation was never so great per capita as it is to-day. We declare our steadfast opposition to the free and unlimited coinage of silver. No measure to that end could be considered which was without the support of the leading commercial countries of the world. However firmly republican legislation may seem to have secured the country against the peril of base and discredited currency, the election of a democratic president could not fail to impair the country's credit and to bring once more into question the intention of the American people to maintain upon the gold standard the parity of their money circulation. The democratic party must be convinced that the American people will never tolerate the Chicago platform.

AGAINST TRUSTS.

We recognize the necessity and propriety of the honest co-operation of capital to meet new business conditions, and especially to extend our rapidly increasing foreign trade, but we condemn all conspiracies and combinations intended to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit production or to control prices, and favor such legislation as will effectually restrain and prevent all such abuses, protect and promote competition and secure the rights of producers, laborers and all who are engaged in industry and commerce.

PROTECTION.

We renew our faith in the policy of protection to American labor. In that policy our industries have been established, diversified and maintained. By protecting the home market, the competition has been stimulated and production cheapened. Opportunity to the inventive genius of our people has been secured and wages in every department of labor maintained at high rates, higher now than ever before, always distinguishing our working people in their better conditions of life from those of any competing country.

Enjoying the blessings of American common schools, secure in the right of self-government and protected in the occupancy of their own markets, their constantly increasing knowledge and skill have enabled them finally to enter the markets of the world. We favor the associated policy of reciprocity, so directed as to open our markets on favorable terms for what we do not ourselves produce, in return for free foreign markets.

FOR LABOR.

In the further interest of American workmen we favor a more effective restriction of the immigration of cheap labor from foreign lands, the extension of opportunities of education for working children, the raising of the age limit for child labor, the protection of free labor as against contract convict labor, and an effective system of labor insurance.

MERCHANT MARINE.

Our present dependence upon foreign shipping for nine-tenths of our foreign carrying is a great loss to the industry of this country. It is also a serious danger to our trade, for its sudden withdrawal in the event of European war would seriously cripple our expanding foreign commerce. The national defense and naval efficiency of this country, moreover, supply a competent reason for legislation which will enable us to recover our former place among the trade carrying fleets of the world.

PENSIONS.

The nation owes a debt of profound gratitude to the soldiers and sailors who have fought its battles, and it is the government's duty to provide for the survivors and for the widows and orphans of those who have fallen in the country's wars.

The pension laws, founded in this sentiment, should be liberal and should be liberally administered and preference should be given, wherever practicable, with respect to employment in the public service to soldiers and sailors and to their widows and orphans.

CIVIL SERVICE.

We commend the policy of the republican party in maintaining the efficiency of the civil service. The administration has acted wisely in its effort to secure for public service in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippine Islands only those whose fitness has been determined by training and experience. We believe that employment in the public service in these territories should be confined, as far as practicable, to their inhabitants.

It was the plain purpose of the fifteenth amendment to the constitution to prevent discrimination on account of race or color in regulating the elective franchise. Devices of state governments, whether by statutory or constitutional enactment, to avoid the purpose of this amendment are revolutionary and should be condemned.

Public movements looking to a permanent improvement of the roads and highways of the country meet with our cordial approval, and we recommend this subject to the earnest consideration of the people and of the legislatures of the several states.

We favor the extension of the rural free delivery service wherever its extension may be justified.

In further pursuance of the constant policy of the republican party to provide free homes on the public domain, we recommend adequate national legislation to reclaim the arid lands of the United States, reserving control of the distribution of water for irrigation to the respective states and territories.

We favor home rule for and the early admission to statehood of the territories of New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma.

WAR TAXES.

The Dingley act, amended to provide sufficient revenue for the conduct of the war, has so well performed its work that it has been possible to reduce the war debt in the sum of $40,000,000. So ample are the government's revenues, and so great is the public confidence in the integrity of its obligations, that its newly funded two per cent bonds sell at a premium. The country is now justified in expecting, and it will be the policy of the republican party to bring about a reduction of the war taxes.

ISTHMIAN CANAL.

We favor the construction, ownership, control and protection of an isthmiian canal by the government of the United States. New markets are necessary for the increasing surplus of our farm products. Every effort should be made to open and obtain new markets, especially in the Orient, and the administration is warmly to be commended for its successful effort to commit all trading and colonizing nations to the policy of the open door in China.

In the interest of our expanding commerce we recommend that congress create a department of commerce and industry in the charge of a secretary with a seat in the cabinet.

The United States consular system should be recognized under the supervision of this new department upon such a basis of appointment and tenure as will render it still more servicable to the nations increasing trade.

The American government must protect the person and property of every citizen wherever they are wrongfully violated or placed in peril.

We congratulate the women of America upon their splendid record of public service in the Volunteer Aid association, and as nurses in camp and hospital during the recent campaigns of our armies in the Eastern and Western Indies, and we appreciate their faithful co-operation in all works of education and industry.

FOREIGN POLICY.

President McKinley has conducted the foreign affairs of the United States with distinguished credit to the American people. In releasing us from the vexatious conditions of an European alliance for the government of Samoa, his course is especially to be commended. By securing to our undivided control the most important island of the Samoan group and the best harbor in the Southern Pacific, every American interest has been safeguarded.

We approve the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States.

We commend the part taken by our government in the peace conference at The Hague.

BOER WAR.

We assert our steadfast adherence to the policy announced in the Monroe doctrine. The provisions of The Hague convention were wisely regarded when President McKinley tendered his friendly offices in the interest of peace between Great Britain and the South African republic.

While the American government must continue the policy prescribed by Washington, affirmed by every succeeding president and imposed upon us by the Hague treaty, of non-intervention in European controversies, the American people earnestly hope that a way may soon be found, honorably alike to both contending parties, to determine the strife between them.

PHILIPPINES.

In accepting by the treaty of Paris the just responsibility of our victories in the Spanish war, the president and the senate won the undoubted approval of the American people. No other course was possible than to destroy Spain's sovereignty throughout the Western Indies and in the Philippine islands.

That course created our responsibility before the world and with the unorganized population whom our intervention had freed from Spain, to provide for the maintenance of law and order, and for the establishment of good government, and for the performance of international obligations.

Our authority could not be less than responsibility, and wherever sovereign rights were extended it became the high duty of the government to maintain its authority, to put down armed insurrection, and to confer the blessings of liberty and civilization upon all the rescued peoples.

The largest measure of self-government consistent with their welfare and our duties shall be secured to them by law.

PLEDGE TO CUBA.

To Cuba independence and self-government were assured in the same voice by which war was declared, and to the letter this pledge should be performed.

The Republican party upon its history and upon its declaration of its principle and policies confidently invokes the considerate and approving judgment of the American people.

National convention, Kansas City, July 4, 1900.
Temporary Chairman—Gov. CHARLES THOMAS, of Colorado.
Permanent Chairman—HON. J. D. RICHARDSON, of Tennessee.

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

We, the representatives of the democratic party of the United States, assembled in national convention, on the anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, do reaffirm our faith in that immortal proclamation of the inalienable rights of man and our allegiance to the Constitution framed in harmony therewith by the fathers of the republic. We hold with the United States supreme court, that the Declaration of Independence is the spirit of our government, of which the Constitution is the form and letter.

We declare again that all governments instituted among men derive their just powers from the consent of the governed; that any government not based upon the consent of the governed is a tyranny, and that to impose upon any people a government of force is to substitute the methods of imperialism for those of a republic. We hold that the Constitution follows the flag, and denounce the doctrine that an executive or congress, deriving their existence and their powers from the Constitution, can exercise lawful authority beyond it, or in violation of it.

We assert that no nation can long endure half republic and half empire, and we warn the American people that imperialism abroad will lead quickly and inevitably to despotism at home.

PORTO RICO LAW DENOUNCED.

Believing in these fundamental principles, we denounce the Porto Rico law, enacted by a republican congress against the protest and opposition of the democratic minority, as a bold and open violation of the nation's organic law, and a flagrant breach of the national good faith.

It imposes upon the people of Porto Rico a government without their consent, and taxation without representation. It dishonors the American people by repudiating a solemn pledge made in their behalf by the commanding general of our army, which the Porto Ricans welcomed to a peaceful and unresisted occupation of their land. It doomed to poverty and distress a people whose helplessness appeals with peculiar force to our justice and magnanimity.

In this, the first act of its imperialistic program, the republican party seeks to commit the United States to a colonial policy, inconsistent with republican institutions, and condemned by the supreme court in numerous decisions.

PLEDGES TO THE CUBANS.

We demand the prompt and honest fulfillment of our pledges to the Cuban people and the world that the United States has no disposition nor intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction, or control over the Island of Cuba, except for its pacification. The war ended nearly two years ago. Profound peace reigns over all the island, and still the administration keeps the government of the island from its people, while republican carpet-bag officials plunder the revenues and exploit the colonial theory, to the disgrace of the American people.

THE PHILIPPINE QUESTION.

We condemn and denounce the Philippine policy of the present administration. It has involved the republic in unnecessary war, sacrificed the lives of many of our noblest sons, and placed the United States, previously known and applauded throughout the world as the champion of freedom, in the false and un-American position of crushing with military force the efforts of our former allies to achieve liberty and self-government. The Filipinos cannot become citizens without endangering our civilization; they cannot become subjects without imperiling our form of government and we are not willing to surrender our civilization or to convert the republic into an empire; we favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to give to the Filipinos, first, a stable form of government; second, independence; and third, protection from outside interference, such as has been given for nearly a century to the republics of Central and Southern America.

The greedy commercialism which dictated the Philippine policy of the republican administration attempts to justify it with the plea that it will pay, but even this sordid and unworthy plea fails when brought to the test of facts. The war of criminal aggression against the Filipinos, entailing an annual expense of many millions, has already cost more than any possible profit that could accrue from the entire Philippine trade for years to come. Furthermore, when trade is extended at the expense of liberty the price is always too high.

We are not opposed to territorial expansion when it takes in desirable territory which can be erected into states in the Union and whose people are willing and fit to become American citizens.

We favor trade expansion by every peaceful and legitimate means. But we are unalterably opposed to the seizing or purchasing of distant islands to be governed outside the constitution and whose people can never become citizens.

We are in favor of extending the republic's influence among the nations, but we believe that influence should be extended, not by force and violence, but through the persuasive power of a high and honorable example.

The importance of other questions now pending before the American people is in no wise diminished, and the democratic party takes no backward step from its position on them, but the burning issue of imperialism growing out of the Spanish war involves the very existence of the republic and the destruction of our free institutions. We regard it as the paramount issue of the campaign.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The declaration in the republican platform adopted at the Philadelphia convention, held in June 1860, that the republican party "steadfastly adheres to the policy announced in the Monroe doctrine" is manifestly insincere and deceptive. This profession is contradicted by the avowed policy of that party in opposition to the spirit of the Monroe doctrine to acquire and hold sovereignty over large areas of territory and large numbers of people in the eastern hemisphere. We insist on the strict maintenance of the Monroe doctrine and in all its integrity, both in letter and in spirit, as necessary to prevent the extension of European authority on this continent and as essential to our supremacy in American affairs. At the same time we declare that no American people shall ever be held by force in unwilling subjection to European authorities.

OPPOSITION TO MILITARISM.

We oppose militarism. It means conquest abroad and intimidation and oppression at home. It means the strong arm which has ever been fatal to free institutions. It is what millions of our citizens have fled from in Europe. It will impose upon our peace-loving people a large standing army and unnecessary burden of taxation and a constant menace to their liberties.

A small standing army with a well disciplined state militia are amply sufficient in times of peace. This republic has no place for a vast military service and conscription.

When the nation is in danger the volunteer soldier is his country's best defender. The national guard in the United States should ever be cherished in the patriotic hearts of a free people. Such organizations are ever an element of strength and safety.

For the first time in our history and co-eval with the Philippine conquest has there been a wholesale departure from our time honored and approved system of volunteer organization. We denounce it as un-American, un-Democratic and un-Republican, and as a subversion of the ancient and fixed principles of a free people.

TRUSTS DENOUNCED.

Private monopolies are indefensible and intolerable. They destroy competition, control the price of all materials and of the finished product, thus robbing both producer and consumer. They lessen the employment of labor and arbitrarily fix the terms and conditions thereof, and deprive individual energy and small capital of their opportunity for betterment. They are the most efficient means yet devised for appropriating the fruits of industry to the benefit of the few at the expense of the many, and unless their insatiate greed is checked, all wealth will be aggregated in a few hands and the republic destroyed.

The dishonest paltering with the trust evil by the republican party in state and national platforms is conclusive proof of the truth of the charge that trusts are the legitimate product of republican policies, that they are fostered by republican laws, and that they are protected by the republican administration in return for the campaign subscriptions and political support.

We pledge the democratic party to an increasing warfare in nation, state and city against private monopoly in every form. Existing laws against trusts must be enforced, and more stringent ones must be enacted, providing for publicity as to the affairs of corporations engaged in interstate commerce, and requiring all corporations to show, before doing business outside of the state of their origin, that they have no water in their stock, and that they have not attempted and are not attempting to monopolize any branch of business or the production of any articles of merchandise, and the whole constitutional power of congress over inter-state commerce, the mails and all modes of inter-state communication shall be exercised by the enactment of comprehensive laws upon the subject of trusts.

Tariff laws should be amended by putting the products of trusts upon the free list to prevent monopoly under the plea of protection.

The failure of the present republican administration, with an absolute control over all the branches of the national government, to enact any legislation designed to prevent or even curtail the absorbing power of trusts and illegal combinations, or to enforce the anti-trust laws already on the statute books, proves the insincerity of the high-sounding phrases of the republican platform.

Corporations should be protected in all their rights, and their legitimate interests should be respected, but any attempt by corporations to interfere with the public affairs of the people or to control the sovereignty which creates them should be forbidden under such penalties as will make such attempts impossible.

We condemn the Dingley tariff law as a trust-breeding measure, stillfully devised to give the few favors which they do not deserve, and to place upon the many burdens which they should not bear.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE LAW.

We favor such an enlargement of the scope of the interstate commerce law as will enable the commission to protect individuals and communities from discriminations and the public from unjust and unfair transportation rates.

DECLARATION FOR 16 TO 1.

We reaffirm and indorse the principles of the national democratic platform adopted at Chicago in 1896, and reiterate the demand of that platform for an American financial system, made by the American people for themselves, which shall restore and maintain a bimetallic level, and as a part of such system the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation.

CURRENCY LAW DENOUNCED.

We denounce the currency bill enacted at the last session of congress as a step forward in the republican policy which aims to discredit the sovereign right of the national government to issue all money, whether coin or paper, and to bestow upon national banks the power to issue and control the volume of paper money for their own benefit.

A permanent national bank currency, secured by government bonds, must have a permanent debt to rest upon, and if the bank currency is to increase with population and business the debt must also increase. The republican currency scheme is therefore a scheme for fastening upon taxpayers a perpetual and growing debt for the benefit of the banks.

We are opposed to this private corporation paper circulated as money, but without legal-tender qualities, and demand the retirement of the national bank notes as fast as government paper or silver certificates can be substituted for them.

SENATORS ELECTED BY THE PEOPLE.

We favor an amendment to the federal constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, and we favor direct legislation wherever practicable.

GOVERNMENT BY INJUNCTION.

We are opposed to the government by injunction; we denounce the blacklist, and favor arbitration as a means of settling disputes between corporations and employes.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

In the interest of American labor and the uplifting of the workingmen, as the cornerstones of the prosperity of our country, we recommend that congress create a department of labor, in charge of a secretary, with a seat in the cabinet, believing that the elevation of the American laborer will bring with it increased production and increased prosperity to our country at home and to our commerce abroad.

PENSIONS.

We are proud of the courage and fidelity of the American soldiers and sailors in all our wars; we favor liberal pensions to them and their dependents, and we reiterate the position taken in the Chicago platform in 1866, that the fact of enlistment and service shall be deemed conclusive evidence against disease and disability before enlistment.

NICARAGUA CANAL.

We favor the immediate construction, ownership and control of the Nicaragua canal by the United States, and we denounce the insincerity of the plank in the national republican platform for an Isthmian canal in face of the failure of the republican majority to pass the bill pending in congress.

We condemn the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as a surrender of American rights and interests and not to be tolerated by the American people.

STATEHOOD FOR THE TERRITORIES.

We denounce the failure of the republican party to carry out its pledges, to grant statehood to the territories of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, and we promise the people of those territories immediate statehood and home rule during their condition as territories, and we favor home rule and a territorial form of government for Alaska and Porto Rico.

ARID LANDS.

We favor an intelligent system of improving the arid lands of the west, storing the waters for purposes of irrigation, and the holding of such lands for actual settlers.

CHINESE EXCLUSION LAW.

We favor the continuance and strict enforcement of the Chinese exclusion law and its application to the same classes of all Asiatic races.

ALLIANCE WITH ENGLAND.

Jefferson said: "Peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations, entangling alliances with none."

We approve this wholesome doctrine and earnestly protest against the republican departure which has involved us in so-called politics, including the diplomacy of Europe and the intrigue and land-grabbing of Asia, and we especially condemn the ill-concealed republican alliance with England, which must mean discrimination against other friendly nations, and which has already stifled the nation's voice while liberty is being strangled in Africa.

SYMPATHY FOR THE BOERS.

Believing in the principles of self-government, and rejecting, as did our forefathers, the claim of monarchy, we view with indignation the purpose of England to overwhelm with force the South African republics. Speaking, as we do, for the entire American nation, except its republican officeholders, and for all free men everywhere, we extend our sympathy to the heroic burghers in their unequal struggle to maintain their liberty and independence.

REPUBLICAN APPROPRIATIONS.

We denounce the lavish appropriations of recent republican congresses, which have kept taxes high, and which threaten the perpetuation of the oppressive war levies.

SHIPPING-SUBSIDY BILL.

We oppose the accumulation of a surplus to be squandered in such bare faced frauds upon the taxpayers as the shipping subsidy bill, which, under the false pretense of prospering American shipbuilding, would put unearned millions into the pockets of favorite contributors to the republican campaign fund.

REPEAL OF THE WAR TAXES.

We favor the reduction and speedy repeal of the war taxes, and a return to the time-honored democratic policy of strict economy in governmental expenditures.

CONCLUDING PLEA TO THE PEOPLE.

Believing that our most cherished institutions are in great peril, that the very existence of our constitutional republic is at stake, and that the decision now to be rendered will determine whether or not our children are to enjoy those blessed privileges of free government which have made the United States great, prosperous and honored, we earnestly ask for the foregoing declaration of principles the hearty support of the liberty-loving American people, regardless of previous party affiliations.

National convention, Chicago, June 27, 1900.

Temporary and Permanent Chairman.—Hon. Samuel J. Dickey, of Michigan.

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

PREAMBLE

The national prohibition party, in convention represented, at Chicago, June 27 and 28, 1900, acknowledge almighty God as the supreme source of all just government. Realizing that this republic was founded upon Christian principles, and can endure only as it embodies justice and righteousness, and asserting that all authority should seek the best good of all the governed, to this end wisely prohibiting what is wrong and permitting only what is right, hereby records and proclaims:

DEFINITION OF PARTY AND 'ARRAIGNMENT' OF PARTIES.

1. We accept and assert the definition given by Edmund Burke, that "a party is a body of men joined together for the purpose of promoting, by their joint endeavor, the national interest upon some particular principle upon which they are all agreed." We declare that there is no principle now advocated by any other party which could be made a fact in government with such beneficent moral and material results as the principle of prohibition, applied to the beverage liquor traffic; that the national interest could be promoted in no other way so surely and widely as by its adoption and assertion through a national policy, and the co-operation therein of every state, forbidding the manufacture, sale, exportation, importation and transportation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; that we stand for this as the only principle proposed by any party anywhere for the settlement of a question greater and graver than any other before the American people, and involving more profoundly than any other their moral future and financial welfare; and that all the patriotic citizenship of this country, agreed upon this principle, however much disagreement there may be as to minor considerations and issues, should stand together at the ballot-box from this time forward until prohibition is the established policy of the United States, with a party in power to enforce it and to insure its moral and material benefits.

We insist that such a party, agreed upon this principle and policy, having sober leadership, without any obligation for success to the saloon vote and to those demoralizing political combinations of men and money now allied therewith and suppliant thereto, could successfully cope with all other and lesser problems of government, in legislative halls and in the executive chair, and that it is useless for any party to make declarations in its platform as to any questions concerning which there may be serious differences of opinion in its own membership, and as to which, because of such differences, the party could legislate only on a basis of mutual concessions when coming into power.

We submit that the democratic and republican parties are alike insincere in their assumed hostility to trusts and monopolies. They dare not and do not attack the most dangerous of them all, the liquor power. So long as the saloon debauches the citizen and breeds the purchasable voter, money will continue to buy its way to power. Break down this traffic, elevate manhood, and a sober citizenship will find a way to control dangerous combinations of capital.

We propose as a first step in the financial problems of the nation to save more than a billion of dollars every year, now annually expended to support the liquor traffic and to demoralize our people. When that is accomplished, conditions will have so improved that with a clearer atmosphere the country can address itself to the questions as to the kind and quantity of currency needed.

THE ISSUE PRESENTED.

2. We reaffirm as true indisputably the declaration of William Windom, when secretary of the treasury in the cabinet of President Arthur, that "Considered socially, financially, politically or morally, the licensed liquor traffic is or ought to be the overwhelming issue in American politics," and that "the destruction of this iniquity stands next on the calendar of the world's progress." We hold that the existence of our party presents this issue squarely to the American people, and lays upon them the responsibility of choice between liquor parties, dominated by distillers and brewers, with their policy of saloon perpetuation, breeding waste, wickedness, woe, pauperism, taxation, corruption and crime, and our one party of patriotic and moral principle, with a policy which defends it from dominations by corrupt bosses and which insures it forever against the blighting control of saloon politics.

We face with sorrow, shame and fear, the awful fact that this liquor traffic has a grip on our government, municipal, state and national, through the revenue system and saloon sovereignty, which no other party dares to dispute; a grip which dominates the party now in power, from caucus to congress, from policeman to president, from the rum shop to the white house; a grip which compels the chief executive to consent that law shall be nullified in behalf of the brewer, that the canteen shall curse our army and spread intemperance across the seas, and that our flag shall wave as the symbol of partnership at home and abroad, between this government and the men who defy and defile it for their unholy gain.

THE PRESIDENT ABRAIGNED.

3. We charge upon President McKinley, who was elected to his high office by appeals to Christian sentiment and patriotism almost unprecedented and by a combination of moral influences never before seen in this country, that, by his conspicuous example as a wine-drinker at public banquets and as a wine-serving host in the white house, he has done more to encourage the liquor business, to demoralize the temperance habits of young men, and to bring Christian practices and requirements into disrepute than any other president this republic has ever had. We further charge upon President McKinley responsibility for the army canteen, with all its dire brood of disease, immorality, sin and death, in this country, in Cuba, in Porto Rico and in the Philippines; and we insist that by his attitude concerning the canteen, and his apparent contempt for the vast number of petitions and petitioners protesting against it, he has outraged and insulted the moral sentiment of this country, in such a manner and to such a degree, as calls for its righteous uprising and his indignant and effective rebuke.

We challenge denial of the fact that our chief executive, as commander-in-chief of the military forces of the United States, at any time prior to or since March 2, 1899, could have closed every army saloon, called a canteen, by executive order, as President Hayes in effect did before him, and should have closed them, for the same reasons which actuated President Hayes; we assert that the act of congress, passed March 2, 1899, forbidding the sale of liquor, "in any post-exchange or canteen," by any "officer or private soldier" or by "any other person on any premises used for military purposes in the United States," was and is as explicit an act of prohibition as the English language can frame; we declare our solemn belief that the attorney-general of the United States in his interpretation of that law, and the secretary of war in his acceptance of that interpretation and his refusal to enforce the law, were and are guilty of treasonable nullification thereof, and that President McKinley, through his assent to and endorsement of such interpretation and refusal, on the part of officials appointed by and responsible to him, shares responsibility in their guilt; and we record our conviction that a new and serious peril confronts our country, in the fact that its president, at the behest of the beer power, dare and does abrogate a law of congress, through subordinates removable at will by him and whose acts become his, and thus virtually confesses that laws are to be administered, or to be nullified in the interest of a law-defying business, by an administration under mortgage to such business for support.

FOREIGN LIQUOR POLICY CONDEMNED.

4. We deplore the fact that an administration of this republic, claiming the right and power to carry our flag across seas, and to conquer and to annex new territory, should admit its lack of power to prohibit the American saloon on subjugated soil, or should openly confess itself subject to liquor sovereignty under that flag. We are humiliated, exasperated, and grieved, by the evidence painfully abundant, that this administration's policy of expansion is bearing so rapidly its first fruits of drunkenness, insanity and crime under the hot-house sun of the tropics; and when the president of the first Philippine commission says "It was unfortunate that we introduced and established the saloon there to corrupt the natives and to exhibit the vices of our race," we charge the inhumanity and unchristianity of this act upon the administration of William McKinley, and upon the party which elected and would perpetuate the same."

5. We declare that the only policy which the government of the United States can of right uphold as to the liquor traffic, under the National Constitution, upon any territory under the military or civil control of that government, is the policy of prohibition; that "to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity," as the Constitution provides, the liquor traffic must neither be sanctioned nor tolerated, and that the revenue policy, which makes our government a partner with distillers and brewers and bar-keepers, is a disgrace to our civilization, an outrage upon humanity, and a crime against God.

We condemn the present administration at Washington because it has repealed the prohibitory laws in Alaska, and has given over the partly civilized tribes there to be the prey of the American grog shop; and because it has entered upon a license policy in our new possessions by incorporating the same in the recent act of congress in the code of laws of the government of the Hawaiian islands.

We call general attention to the fearful fact that exportation of liquors from the United States to the Philippine islands increased from $337 in 1898, to $467, 196 in the first ten months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1900; and that while our exportation of liquors to Cuba never reached $30,000 a year previous to American occupation of that island, our exports of such liquors to Cuba during the fiscal year of 1899, reached the sum of $329,855.

CALL TO MORAL AND CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP.

6. One great religious body (the Baptist) having truly declared of the liquor traffic "that it has no defensible right to exist, that it can never be reformed, and that it stands condemned by its unrighteous fruits as a thing un-Christian, un-American, and perilous utterly to every interest in life;" another great religious body (the Methodist) having as truly asserted and reiterated that "no political party has a right to expect, nor should receive, the votes of Christian men so long as it stands committed to the license system, or refuses to put itself on record in an attitude of open hostility to the saloon;" other great religion bodies having made similar deliverances, in language plain and unequivocal, as to the liquor traffic and the duty of Christian citizenship in opposition thereto; and the fact being plain and undeniable that the democratic party stands for license, the saloon and the canteen, while the republican party, in policy and administration, stands for the canteen, the saloon, and revenue therefrom,—we declare ourselves justified in expecting that Christian voters everywhere shall cease their complicity with the liquor curse by refusing to uphold a liquor party, and shall unite themselves with the only party which upholds the prohibition policy, and which for nearly thirty years has been the faithful defender of the church, the state, the home and the school, against the saloon, its expanders and perpetuators, their actual and persistent foes.

We insist that no differences of belief, as to any other question or concern of government, should stand in the way of such a union of moral and Christian citizenship as we hereby invite, for the speedy settlement of this paramount moral, industrial, financial and political issue, which our party presents; and we refrain from declaring ourselves upon all minor matters, as to which differences of opinion may exist, that hereby we may offer to the American people a platform so broad that all can stand upon it who desire to see sober citizenship actually sovereign over the allied hosts of evil, sin and crime, in a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

We declare that there are but two parties, to-day, concerning the liquor traffic-perpetuationists and prohibitionists; and that patriotism, Christianity and every interest of genuine and of pure democracy, besides the loyal demands of our common humanity, require the speedy union in one solid phalanx at the ballot box, of all who oppose the liquor traffic's perpetuation, and who covet endurance for this republic.

Temporary Chairman.—Hon. M. W. Howard, of Alabama.

Permanent Chairman.—Col. W. L. Peek, of Georgia.

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

The people's party of the United States, assembled in national convention this 10th of May, 1900, affirming our unshaken belief in the cardinal tenets of the people's party as set forth in the Omaha platform, and pledging ourselves anew to continued advocacy of those grand principles of human liberty until right shall triumph over might and love over greed, do adopt and proclaim this declaration of faith:

1. We demand the initiative and referendum and the imperative mandate for such changes of existing fundamental and statute law as will enable the people in their sovereign capacity to propose and compel the enactment of such laws as they desire, to reject such as they deem injurious to their interests, and to recall unfaithful public servants.

2. We demand the public ownership and operation of those means of communication, transportation and production which the people may elect, such as railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, coal mines, etc.

3. The land, including all natural sources of wealth, is a heritage of the people and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All land now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.

4. A scientific and absolute paper money, based upon the entire wealth and population of the nation, not redeemable in any specific commodity, but made a full legal tender for all debts and receivable for all taxes and public dues, and issued by the government only, without the intervention of banks, and in sufficient quantity to meet the demands of commerce, is the best currency that can be devised, but until such a financial system is secured, which we shall press for adoption, we favor the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold at the legal ratio of 16 to 1.

5. We demand the levy and collection of a graduated tax on incomes and inheritances and a constitutional amendment to secure the same if necessary.

6. We demand the election of president, vice-president, federal judges and United States senators by direct vote of the people.

7. We are opposed to trusts, and declare the contention between the old parties on the monopoly question is a sham battle, and that no solution of this mighty problem is possible without the adoption of the principles of public ownership of public utilities.

SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY, 1900.

NATIONAL TICKET. |

For President,
JOSEPH F. MALLONEY,
of Massachusetts.

For Vice-President,
VALENTINE REMMEL,
of Pennsylvania.

Presidential Electors:

At Large.—F. Traulson, of Pottawattamie county.

B. Gurland, of Polk county.

National convention, New York, June 2, 1900.

Temporary Chairman—HON. THOMAS CURRAN, of Rhode Island.

Permanent Chairman—HON. DANIEL DELEON, of New York.

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

The socialist labor party of the United States, in convention assembled, reasserts the inalienable right of all men to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

With the founders of the American republic we hold that the purpose of government is to secure every citizen in the enjoyment of this right; but in the light of our social conditions we hold furthermore, that no such right can be exercised under a system of economic inequality, essentially destructive of life, of liberty and of happiness.

With the founders of this republic we hold that the true theory of politics is that the machinery of government must be owned and controlled by the whole people; but in the light of our industrial development we hold, furthermore, that the true theory of economics is that the machinery of production must likewise belong to the people in common.

To the obvious fact that our despotic system of economics is the direct opposite of our democratic system of politics, can plainly be traced the existence of a privileged class, the corruption of government by that class, the alienation of public property, public franchises and public functions to that class, and the abject dependence of the mightiest of nations upon that class.

Again, through the perversion of democracy to the ends of plutocracy, labor is robbed of the wealth which it alone produces, is denied the means of self-employment, and, by compulsory idleness in wage slavery, is even deprived of the necessaries of life.

Human power and natural forces are thus wasted, that the plutocracy may rule.

Ignorance and misery, with all their concomitant evils, are perpetuated, that the people may be kept in bondage.

Science and invention are diverted from their humane purpose to the enslavement of women and children.

Against such a system the socialist labor party once more enters its protest. Once more it reiterates its fundamental declaration that private property in the natural sources of production and in the instruments of labor is the obvious cause of all economic servitude and political dependence.

The time is fast coming when, in the natural course of social evolution, this system, through the destructive action of its failures and crises on the one hand, and the constructive tendencies of its trusts and other capitalistic combinations on the other hand, shall have worked out its own downfall.

We, therefore, call upon the wage workers of the United States, and upon all other honest citizens, to organize under the banner of the socialist labor party into a class-conscious body, aware of its rights and determined to conquer them by taking possession of the public powers; so that held together by an indomitable spirit of solidarity under the most trying conditions of the present class struggle, we may put a summary end to that barbarous struggle by the abolition of classes, the restoration of the land and of all the means of production, transportation and distribution to the people as a collective body, and the substitution of the co-operative commonwealth for the present state of planless production, industrial war and social disorder; a commonwealth in which every worker shall have the free exercise and full benefit of his faculties, multiplied by all the modern factors of civilization.

National convention, Rock Island, May 2, 1900.

Temporary and Permanent Chairman.—Hon. W. R. Benkert, of Iowa.

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

We the united christian party, in national convention assembled in the city of Rock Island, Ill., May 1 and 2, 1900, acknowledging Almighty God as the source of all power and authority, the Lord Jesus Christ as the sovereign ruler of nations and the bible as the standard by which to decide moral issues in our political life, do make the following declaration.

We believe the time to have arrived when the eternal principles of justice, mercy and love, as exemplified in the life and teachings of Jesus Christ, should be embodied in the Constitution of our nation and applied in concrete form to every function of our government.

We maintain that this statement is in harmony with the fundamental principles of our national common law, our christian usages and customs, the declaration of the supreme court of the United States that "This is a christian nation," and the accepted principle in judicial decisions that no law should contravene the divine law.

We deprecate certain immoral laws which have grown out of the failure of our nation to recognize these principles, notably such as require the desecration of the christian Sabbath, authorize unscriptural marriage and divorce, and license the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

The execution of these immoral laws above mentioned we hold to be neither loyalty to our country nor honoring to God, therefore, it shall be our purpose to administer the government, so far as it shall be entrusted to us by the suffrages of the people, in accordance with the principles herein set forth, and, until amended, our oath of office shall be to the Constitution and laws as herein explained, and to no other, and we look to Him who has all power in heaven and in earth to vindicate our purpose in seeking His glory and the welfare of our beloved land.

As an expression of consent or allegiance on the part of the governed in harmony with the above statements, we declare for the adoption and use of the system of legislation known as the "initiative and referendum," together with "proportionate representation" and the "imperative mandate."

We hold that all men and women are created free and with equal rights, and declare for the establishment of such political, industrial and social conditions as shall guarantee to every person civic equality, the full fruits of his or her honest toil and opportunity for the righteous enjoyment of the same: and we especially condemn mob violence and outrages against any individual or class of individuals in our country.

We declare against war and for the arbitration of all national and international disputes.

We hold that the legalized liquor traffic is the crowning infamy of civilization, and we declare for the immediate abolition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

We are gratified to note the wide spread agitation of the cigarette question, and declare ourselves in favor of the enactment of laws prohibiting the sale of cigarettes or tobacco in any form to minors.

We declare for the daily reading of the bible in the public schools and institutions of learning under control of the state.

We declare for the government ownership of public utilities.

We declare for the election of the president and vice-president and United States senators by the direct vote of the people.

We declare for such amendment of the United States Constitution as shall be necessary to give the principles herein set forth an undeniable legal basis in the fundamental law of our land.

We invite into the united christian party every honest man and woman who believe in Christ and His golden rule and standard of righteousness. We say especially to the sons of toil; Jesus, the carpenter's son, is your true friend. In His name and through the practice of His principles you may obtain your rights, long withheld and long outraged. You have the votes necessary to enthrone Him. His love and principles politically applied, will lift you up and give you true civic liberty forever.

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

The social democratic party of America declares that life, liberty and happiness depend upon equal political and economic rights.

In our economic development and industrial revolution has taken place, the individual tool of former years having become the social tool of the present. The individual tool was owned by the worker who employed himself and was master of his product. The social tool, the machine is owned by the capitalist and the worker is dependent upon him for employment. The capitalist thus becomes the master of the worker and is able to appropriate to himself a large share of the product of his labor.

Capitalism, the private ownership of the means of production, is responsible for the insecurity of subsistence, the poverty, misery and degradation of the evergrowing majority of our people; but the same economic forces which have produced and now intensify the capitalistic system will necessitate the adoption of socialism, the collective ownership of the means of production for the common good and welfare. e

The present system of social production and private ownership is rapidly converting society into two antagonistic classes—i. e., the capitalist class and the propertyless class. The middle class, once the most powerful of this great nation, is disappearing in the mill of competition. The issue is now between the two classes first named. Our political liberty is now of little value to the masses unless used to acquire economic liberty.

Independent political action and the trade union movement are the chief emancipating factors of the working class, the one representing its political, the other its economic wing, and both must co-operate to abolish the capitalist system.

Therefore the social democratic party of America declares its object to be:

1. The organization of the working class into a political party to conquer the public powers now controlled by the capitalists.

2. The abolition of wage-slavery by the establishment of a national system of co-operative industry, based upon the social or common ownership of the means of production and distribution, to be administered by society in the common interest of all its members, and the complete emancipation of the socially useful classes from the domination of capitalism.

The working class and all those in sympathy with their historic mission to realize a higher civilization should sever connection with all capitalist and reform parties and unite with the social democratic party of America.

The control of political power by the social democratic party will be tantamount to the abolition of all class rule.

The solidarity of labor connecting the millions of class-conscious fellow workers throughout the civilized world will lead to international socialism, the brotherhood of man.

As steps in that direction we make the following demands:

1. Revision of our federal Constitution, in order to remove the obstacles to complete control of government by the people, irrespective of sex.

2. The public ownership of all industries controlled by monopolies, trusts and combines.

3. The public ownership of all railroads, telegraphs and telephones; all means of transportation and communication; all waterworks, gas and electric plants, and other public utilities.

4. The public ownership of all gold, silver, copper, lead, iron, coal, and other mines, and all oil and gas wells.

5. The reduction of the hours of labor in proportion to the increasing facilities of production.

6. The inauguration of a system of public works and improvements for the employment of the unemployed, the public credit to be utilized for that purpose.

7. Useful inventions to be free, the inventor to be remunerated by the public.

8. Labor legislation to be national, instead of local, and international when possible.

9. National insurance of working people against accidents, lack of employment and want in old age.

10. Equal civil and political rights, for men and women, and the abolition of all laws discriminating against women.

11. The adoption of the initiative and referendum, proportional representation, and the right of recall of representatives by the voters.

12. Abolition of war and the introduction of international arbitration.

Permanent Chairman—HON. N. E. KENDALL, of Albia.

STATE PLATFORM.

The republicans of Iowa, in convention assembled, congratulate the people of state and nation on the results of republican administrations, which have promoted the welfare of the entire country in all of its material interests, and have brought to them prosperity, contentment and happiness.

Iowa republicans especially rejoice in the acknowledged leadership of Iowa in the councils of the republican party and its influence in the shaping of politics. We rejoice in the material prosperity of the people of our state, safeguarded as they have been by the legislation in the interests of the entire body of the people.

We commend entirely and without reservation the administration of President Roosevelt. Called as he was to the office of chief executive under the most trying circumstances, his fidelity to the public welfare, the wisdom and moderation of his utterances and counsel, and the performance of all his duties command our respect and admiration.

Iowa republicans, in common with the republicans of the entire nation, expect and desire his unanimous nomination as his own successor.

We congratulate the people of the state that in his cabinet and among his advisers, Iowa has such wise, able and judicious statesmen as Secretaries Shaw and Wilson.

We also congratulate the people of the state that in the Senate of the United States our representatives hold positions of the highest character and influence; and that our representatives in the lower house of congress occupy positions of foremost place in that body.

The state has had a worthy successor in the distinguished line of chief executives in Governor Albert B. Cummins. His administration merits and deserves an unqualified approval. We commend his courage, discretion and scrupulous fidelity to duty, and his devotion to the progressive policies of the republican party inspires our confidence in his political leadership.

We reiterate our faith in the historic policy of protection. Under its influence our country, foremost in the bounties of nature, has become foremost in production. It has enabled labor to secure good wages and has indeed capital to engage in production with a reasonable hope of fair reward. Its vindication is found in the history of its successes and the rapidity with which our national resources have been developed and our industrial independence secured, and we heartily renew our pledge to maintain it.

Tariff rates enacted to carry this policy into effect should be "just, fair and impartial, equally opposed to foreign control and domestic monopoly, to sectional discrimination and individual favoritism," and must from time to time be changed to meet the varying conditions incident to the progress of our industries and their changing relations to our foreign and domestic commerce. Duties that are too low should be increased, and duties that are too high should be reduced.

We endorse the policy of reciprocity as the natural complement of protection. Reciprocity between nations is trade for mutual advantage and both sides must give and take. Protection builds up domestic industry and trade and secures our own markets for ourselves, reciprocity builds up foreign trade and finds an outlet for surplus.

We approve the treaty with Cuba recently ratified as conferring substantial benefits upon both countries and urge that the remaining steps necessary to make it effective be promptly taken.

We believe that the large corporations commonly called "trusts" should be so regulated and supervised both in their organization and operation that their evil tendencies may be checked and their evil practices prevented. In many instances they are efficient industrial instruments and the natural outcome of an inevitable process of economic evolution. We do not desire their destruction, but insist that they shall be so regulated and controlled as to prevent monopoly and promote competition, and in the fullest measure subserve and advance the public good. The patriotic and resolute course of the President of the United States in his recommendations to congress upon this subject and upon the related subject of the further regulation of interstate commerce commands our confidence and admiration, and the recent legislation of congress in harmony with his recommendations meets our hearty approval.

We renew our allegiance to the principle of the gold standard as enunciated in the national platforms of the republican party in 1896 and 1900, which resulted in the establishment of the parity of all our money and the stability of our currency on a gold basis.

Under republican administration of national affairs gratitude to our soldiers and sailors has been attested by liberal pensions provided by legislation supported always by the nearly unanimous votes of the republicans in congress. We recommend the further provision for this purpose as made by the last congress.

We favor the systematic establishment of good roads in this state, and such further legislation upon that subject as investigation and experience may establish as requisite to the economical and effective improvement and maintenance of our country roads.

We recommend to the general assembly further legislation in aid of systematic drainage.

We note with satisfaction the gradual improvement of conditions in our relations with the Philippine islands under an administrative policy, avoiding the necessity for control through military power, and we commend the steady progress made in the preparation of the Philippine people for the fullest practical degree of self-government.

The essence of free government is government by law. Laws must be enforced by the government and should be cheerfully obeyed by the people. The spirit of lawlessness wherever met must be rebuked and we commend the fidelity and zeal of the national and state officials wherever exercised for the vindication of this principle.

That we are earnestly opposed to all legislation designed to accomplish the disfranchisement of citizens upon lines of race, color, or station in life, and condemn the measures adopted by the democratic party in certain states of the union to accomplish that end.

Believing with the late President McKinley in his last public utterance that "expositions are the timekeepers of progress," we take pride in endorsing the exposition to be held in St. Louis in 1904, celebrating the Louisiana Purchase, and approve of liberal appropriations therefor. We commend to the careful consideration of the general assembly of the state the needs of Iowa in making a creditable exhibit.

Temporary Chairman—HON. J. H. QUICK, of Sioux City.Permanent Chairman—HON. D. W. HAMILTON, of Sigourney.

STATE PLATFORM.

We, the chosen representatives of the democratic party in Iowa, in delegate convention assembled, hereby declare anew our faith in the fundamental principles of the democratic party and renew our allegiance thereto.

We find much in the domestic affairs of the nation that ought to be changed. The tariff policy, originally adopted for the avowed purpose of raising revenue to meet the enormous burdens of the civil war, has been turned to use of individual and class interests until it has become the creator of countless unearned fortunes and the shelter of huge combinations of capital, organized in the form of trusts, which are strangling competition in many of our industries, destroying individual effort, crushing ambition largely in every line of industry and already acquiring power which enables them to dictate in their own interests the prices of labor and raw material and the cost of transportation of finished products.

As the most alarming features of our present conditions are the evils which come from trusts, and as these evils are made possible by legislation favoring one class and against another by transportation privileges and by monopoly of original sources of supply of natural products, therefore, to the end that the evils connected with the growth of trusts may be eliminated, we demand that all tariff schedules be adjusted with a view to a tariff for revenue only.

We ask for such changes in our law, statutory or constitutional, as will limit the charges by railroads to such an amount as will yield only a reasonable return on the capital actually invested and will render it impossible for transportation favors to be granted to anyone and such as will make certain that all railway patrons will be treated alike, such statutes to provide penalties that will be effectual to secure a compliance with them.

When the sources of supply of any product are in the ownership of those who combine to extort from the people an unreasonable amount for such products, then we believe it is the duty of the government to take such steps as may be necessary to secure an equitable distribution thereof with fair compensation to the owners of the same. And so that the design of nature in making provision for the wants of man may not be perverted into means for his oppression.

The fundamental principle of democracy, "equal rights to all and special privileges to none," applies in full force to the subject of taxation. The democratic party believes that the burden of taxation should be borne equally by all taxable property and pledge our members of the General Assembly to formulate and urge the adoption of such laws as will compel the burdens of taxation to rest on corporation and individual property alike without favor to or exemption to any interest.

We are unalterably opposed to the policy of imperialism by this government instituted, fostered, and maintained by the republican party. And we demand that our government shall declare it to be its purpose, and without delay adopt such measures as shall give to the people of the Philippine Islands and Porto Rico their inalienable right to self-government.

We condemn the republican party for its financial policies which would foist upon the country an unstable currency based upon uncertain private securities.

We protest against the plan presented in the Aldrich bill recently before the United States Senate by which the money of the nation shall be loaned to capitalists upon the bonds and securities of private corporations as an effort to give value and stability to watered bonds and securities of corporations and trusts, many of which are maintaining monopolies in defiance of law and public sentiment.

We insist that the integrity of the money of the nation be guarded with jealous care and demand that it shall be sufficient in volume to meet the needs of the business interests of the country, and that it shall be safe-guarded by careful legislation so as to prevent the gamblers of Wall street from cornering the money market, thus inflicting untold injury upon the smaller business men, the farmers and the laborers of the land.

We point with pride to the one hundredth anniversary of the achievements of that great diplomat and democratic statesman, Thomas Jefferson, under whose administration the Louisiana territory, of which Iowa was a part, was secured from a foreign power in a peaceful and civilized way, without the loss of life, yet with the consent of the governed.

In the great exposition to be held in St. Louis in 1904, to properly commemorate this event, the people of Iowa should take a prominent part and make a creditable exhibit of the products of the soil and the work of the crafts.

We deplore the corrupt condition of the government service in the postoffice department and demand a thorough investigation of that and other departments by a congressional committee, publicity as to such conditions and punishment of all wrong-doers.

We declare our unqualified opposition to the principle of government by injunction.

We renew our demand for the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

We demand economy in the administration of state affairs, repeal of the mulot law and the enactment of a local option law.

We demand the contracting for supplies for the state with lowest responsible bidders.

In the interest of the much needed improvement of public roads, we favor state aid in the building of permanent highways.

Temporary Chairman.—REV. J. G. VAN NESS, of Mt. Vernon.

Permanent Chairman.—REV. A. J. BOLSTER, of Willisca.

STATE PLATFORM.

The prohibition party of Iowa, in convention assembled at Marshalltown, on the twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth days of May, 1903, recognizing the authority of Almighty God in the affairs of men, puts forth the following declarations:

1. We believe that the federal government, by raising a large part of its revenue by taxation of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, makes itself "particeps criminis" in the infamous business, and we insist that our government should go out of this unnecessary and vicious partnership, and cease this ungodly practice. We believe that it is the first duty of the state and nation to forever prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, because the liquor traffic is the most fruitful source of ignorance, poverty, political corruption and crime in existence. We demand its absolute overthrow, and we believe that the work can be accomplished only by a political party crystallized around the doctrine and committed to its enforcement as recent events through the country have testified.

2. We declare in favor of equal suffrage, regardless of sex, race or color.

3. Since mulct means fine or penalty paid in advance for the commission of a crime, therefore we reaffirm our positive disapproval of the "Martin Mulct Law," and demand its repeal and the speedy resubmission of a prohibitory constitutional amendment to the popular vote of the people.

4. Since inebriates are the products of the saloon, and asylums have been established in which to treat them at the expense of the state, therefore we demand that all taxes and moneys collected from saloons by the state, county or city be used to bear the expenses for the treatment of said inebriates and the maintenance of said asylums.

5. We demand the enforcement of all laws and that officials who disregard their solemn obligations in this respect shall be removed from office.

6. We believe that next in importance to the liquor question is the problem of marriage and divorce and we advocate the enactment into national law the statute on this subject prescribed by Jesus of Nazareth permitting divorces only for the cause stated by Him.

7. We favor the settlement of all controversies between capital and labor by arbitration and all international differences that cannot be settled by diplomacy should be referred to The Hague Court.

8. We favor placing our trade relations with foreign countries in the hands of a competent commission, non-partisan in character, with authority to revise the tariff schedules as necessity demands.

9. We declare for the inauguration of the initiative and referendum.

10. We favor the election of United States Senators by a direct vote of the people.

11. We are opposed to all legislation that favors a combination of capital resulting in the formation of trusts and the crushing out of individual enterprise.

The state convention met at Des Moines July 4, 1903.

Temporary Chairman—HON. E. DUNKLE, of Rock Rapids.

Permanent Chairman—HON. E. HOIZ, of Dubuque.

STATE PLATFORM.

We, the socialists of the state of Iowa, in delegate convention assembled at Des Moines, July 4, 1908, declare our allegiance to the principles of international socialism and endorsement of the platform of the socialist party of the United States.

We define wealth to be the creation of labor applied to the resources of the earth, and capital to be the accumulated portion of wealth used to create more wealth.

Capital, therefore, being primarily the product of the labor of society as a whole, society has the supreme right to its disposal.

We, therefore, declare our purpose to acquire the ownership of capital represented by the mines, machinery and all means of production and distribution, and relieve society from the reign of barter or competitive industry, inaugurating a distribution of the necessities, luxuries and opportunities produced, based upon the labor contributed by the individual.

As all laws or regulations of industry by the government are the creation of society expressing their ideas and conception of individual principles, society may and will change these laws and regulations to meet the emergencies that arise.

Therefore, society may create laws to conform to the most scientific and systematic means of production and the most just methods of distribution. It is, therefore, our declared purpose as members of organized labor and the producing and working class, to acquire through the power of our united ballots the entire control of government in all its offices and functions. The courts, the laws, the military and all the powers of government will be used as a means to secure for society their national rights and to protect them therein and in the end to establish through the power so gained the co-operative commonwealth.

In the division of labor the work of the farmers has gone slowly but surely into the city until they sell to and buy from the large organizations of capital on their own terms, placing them on a footing with labor. We call upon them to organize and secure for themselves the advantages, privileges and opportunities to which their wealth should entitle them, and which socialism can alone give. To this end we ask every member of organized labor, every wage earner and producer in the state of Iowa whose interests are identical to join us in the struggle.

* Jackson called himself a South Carolinian and his biographer, Kendall, recorded his birthplace in Lancaster County, South Carolina, but Parton has published documentary evidence to show that Jackson was born in Union County, North Carolina, less than a quarter-mile from the South Carolina line. + The Democratic party of today claims lineal descent from the first Republican party, and President Jefferson as its founder. † Political parties were disorganized at the time of the election of John Quincy Adams. He claimed to be a Republican, but his doctrines were decidedly Federalistic. The opposition to his administration took the name of Democrats and elected Jackson President.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT AND VICE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

METHOD OF PROCEDURE AS FIXED BY THE LAWS OF IOWA, THE FEDERAL STATUTES AND THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

Nomination by political parties. Candidates for President and Vice President of the United States are usually placed in nomination by the several political parties meeting in national convention. The voter does not have the privilege of voting direct for President and Vice President. The Constitution of the United States provides that the President and Vice President shall be elected by ballot of presidential electors in each State, said electors being appointed in such manner as the legislature of the various states may direct, a majority vote of all electors being necessary to a choice. The parties in the several states therefore nominate candidates for presidential electors.

Number of electors. Each State is entitled to as many votes in the Electoral College as it has senators and representatives in Congress. Iowa is entitled to thirteen. Senators, representatives and persons holding any office of trust or profit under the United States are ineligible to the office of Presidential Elector.

Nomination papers. Nomination papers containing the names of the electors of the several political parties must be filed in the office of the Secretary of State not more than sixty and not less than thirty days previous to the day of election. Parties casting at least two per cent of the total vote polled at the last State election are permitted to file their nomination papers on the certificate of the Chairman and Secretary of the several state conventions. All other nomination papers must be accompanied by a petition of at least five hundred names of qualified voters of this State.

Ballot. The Secretary of State, at least fifteen days before the day of election, prepares and certifies to the several county auditors of the State a list of the several political parties, together with the names of their candidates for presidential electors. The county auditors, upon receipt of said list, prepares, prints and distributes to the judges of election the official ballot. It has been customary in Iowa to place at the head of the column of each party the names of its candidates for President and Vice President for the purpose of the further identification of the several political parties. Electors chosen are free to vote for whom they desire for President and Vice President. They are, however, in honor bound to vote for their party's candidate, but should they desire to do otherwise, the Constitution of the United States accords them that privilege.

Date of election. The day of election is the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November. The polls are open from seven A. M. to seven P. M. where registration is required; in all other places from eight A. M. to seven P. M.

Canvass by judges of election. Immediately upon the closing of the polls the judges of election count the ballots voted and certify to the county board of canvassers the result of their canvass.

County canvass. The board of supervisors sitting as a county board of canvassers meet at the county seat on the Monday next succeeding the day of election and canvass the returns received from the judges of election. They execute and forward a certificate to the Secretary of State showing the number of votes each electoral candidate has received.

State canvass. Twenty days after the day of election the executive council sitting as a State board of canvassers meet and canvass the returns received from the several counties and declare elected the thirteen receiving the highest number of votes.

Governor's certificate. Immediately after the canvass of votes by the State canvassing board the Governor of the State, under the seal of his office, executes four certificates showing all persons voted for and the votes each received for the office of Presidential Elector. One copy he sends to the Secretary of State of the United States at Washington, D. C., and the other three copies he delivers to the electors themselves on or before the day of their meeting at the capitol.

Secretary of State of the United States. Upon the receipt of the certificates of the governors of the several states the Secretary of State causes them to be published in a newspaper in detail. He also forwards a copy to each house of Congress.

Meeting of electors. On the second Monday in January next succeeding their election the presidential electors meet at the capitol of the State. They ballot separately for the office of President and Vice President, one of whom at least, shall not be an inhabitant of the same State with themselves. They then make and sign three certificates showing the number of votes each candidate received for President and Vice President. To each certificate they attach one of the certificates of the Governor. The certificates are then placed in three packages, one of which they send by special messenger to the President of the Senate at Washington, D. C.; one is sent by mail to the President of the Senate at Washington, D. C., and one is delivered to the Judge of the United States District Court of the district in which the electors convened.

Canvass in Congress. On the second Wednesday of February the House of Representatives and the Senate of the United States meet in joint session. Two tellers are appointed from each house. The President of the Senate presides and opens all papers and certificates pertaining to the electoral votes, delivering them in the alphabetical order of the states to the tellers who read them in the presence of the two houses and the result is delivered to the President of the Senate.

Result announced. The President of the Senate announces the result, which declaration is the certificate of the election of the President and Vice President.

No choice. If from the returns made by the tellers of the joint session to the President of the Senate it appears that no person has received a majority of all the electoral votes then the choice of the President shall devolve upon the House of Representatives; and if no person has received a majority of all electoral votes for Vice President then the choice of such officer shall devolve upon the Senate. The House of Representatives shall immediately upon the announcement of "no choice" proceed to the election of the President from the persons receiving the highest numbers, not exceeding three, of those voted for as president. The vote is taken by states, each state having one vote, and a majority of all states is necessary to a choice. If the House is unable to elect a President by March 4th, then the Vice President shall act as President. If no person has received a majority of all votes for Vice President then the Senate shall choose the Vice President from the two having the highest number, a majority of the whole number of senators being necessary to a choice.
