Good Massage Helps Tone The Body In Many Ways

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ARE you keyed up? Are your nerves in a knot? Then have a massage.

My job is not to promote business for massage salons. But it is my purpose to help keep you in good health, both mental and physical.

Relaxing and Soothing
And what could be more relaxing and soothing than a good rubdown?

Spend about 20 minutes having a good brisk rub and then another five minutes or so of gentle patting and you will probably feel a lot better than you did before.

A good massage, you see, helps your body in many ways.

How It Helps
It stimulates the glands of the skin and improves circulation. At the same time, it tones up the blood vessels and helps your body get rid of waste products.

But probably most important, it relaxes tense muscles. In fact, it relaxes you all over and is good for your nerves.

You tend to forget your business problems on the massage table. And once you are through, I'll bet things will look a lot brighter, no matter what your problems are.

You will get a much better massage if you have it done by a professional masseur or masseuse, as the case may be, but if your spouse is cooperative you may have him or her rub your back briskly for ten or fifteen minutes tonight before you go to sleep.

I'm pretty sure you will find it relaxes you so you will get a good night's sleep.

The only trouble is that you may have to reciprocate the favor and wake up to give your spouse the same treatment.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mrs. P. D.: What is the cause of complete fatigue?
Answer: Fatigue may be due simply to improper health habits, such as overwork.

The common cause is an infection somewhere in the body, such as in the teeth, tonsils, sinuses or gall bladder. Disturbances of the glands of internal secretion may be responsible. A thorough examination by the physician is necessary to find the cause of the trouble.

The modern three-lane highway over the seas to Key West, Florida which was completed in 1944 was built on many of the remnants of the old railroad foundations which were laid in 1896.

City Manager Says No Need To Aggravate Fringe Area Situation

Top News In Brief

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower conferred with secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and then called on congress today for new legislation to eliminate labor racketeering. The President called racketeering in the labor movement "an abomination which must be eliminated."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Information subcommittee asked the nation's leading editors and publishers today for help in its fight against Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's information orders. The action was the latest round in the subcommittee's long quarrel with Wilson over his department's practices on release of information not involving national security.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland today suggested Congress may cut taxes in January 1958. Knowland was the latest congressional leader to suggest the possibility of a tax cut the first of next year.

Books On Mental Health Are Placed In Local Library

Mental Health Week, which for eight years has served to give people the facts about mental illness, this year will aim at mobilizing an enlightened public for effective action, according to George Touhy, president of the Mental Health Association of Seminole County.

A "Bell Ringers March," headed by Mrs. E. E. Chapman, and members of the Pilot Club, will highlight the fourth annual Mental Health Campaign which begins on Apr. 28 and continues through May 4. During that week hundreds of Sanford women will participate in the drive by calling on their neighbors and friends to "Ring the Bell for Mental Health" through voluntary contributions.

The Bell Ringers March, Mrs. Chapman pointed out, takes its name from the symbol of the National Association for Mental Health, a bell cast in 1953 from chains and shackles once used to restrain mental patients. The 1957 campaign, under the auspices of 500 state and local organizations, will have as its slogan, "The Mentally Ill CAN Come Back-Give Them the Chances You'd Want for Yourself."

A FURIOUS WOODS AND BRUSH fire swept into Lake Mary area late yesterday afternoon as flames were fed by gusts of wind. Fire licked high into the air throwing clouds of smoke into the air to hide the bright sun. Automobiles lined a smoke-shrouded highway as passengers were forced to turn on headlights to travel. A number of acres were burned over before the fire burned out. (Staff Photo)

The Sanford Herald's request in the letter, "I had not read the paper and could make no statement. Also, Mrs. Edna L. Heehler, secretary of the Fringe Area Taxpayers' Association had just left my office after approximately a one and a half hour discussion with me on this very matter."

Said Knowles "In light of what was discussed with Mrs. Heehler and her reaction to the information that was given to her, I believe that it would not be well for me to enter into any argument and discuss the eight points brought out in the article."

"My attitude on this matter," wrote the Sanford City Manager, "is governed by the way Mrs. Heehler reacted to the information that was made available to her and a belief that she will seek to correct the mistakes or misunderstandings that prompted many of the claims or statements by the association."

"She has given me every indication to believe that she wishes to do so and, therefore, I would prefer not to take part in any action that might aggravate the situation further," said City Manager Knowles.

"I would like to take this opportunity to dispell any question or innuendo that Mrs. Heehler received any discourtesy on her previous visit to my office," Knowles included in his letter to The Sanford Herald. He said "I believe that Mrs. Heehler will be the first to say that she was treated in a very courteous manner in any office that she visited while in the City Hall."

"Mrs. Heehler told me this afternoon that, upon coming to my office on her visit, there were two people talking to me in my office and that she did not have time to wait to see me. She also stated that she simply asked my secretary if the present tax rate was still 15.5 mills and also if she might have a copy of the cost chart put out on the 1955-56 budget basis. Her question was answered and the copies of the chart were given to her in a very courteous manner and then she left."

"I am very sorry to say that I did not know that Mrs. Heehler had visited my office until after the people talking with me had left," he said. "It is possible that many misunderstandings could have been straightened out at the very beginning if we could have had our conversation of this afternoon at that time," commented Knowles.

Concluding his letter, City Manager Knowles wrote "I would also like to say that, as City Manager, I am available 24 hours a day to discuss any matter upon which anyone wishes to contact me. I have yet to find myself so busy that I cannot carry out this policy."

Newly-Discovered Comet Is Visible Over North Dakota

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP) — The newly-discovered Aend - Roland Comet was visible Wednesday night over North Dakota.

The comet, the brightest to appear in the sky since Halley's Comet in 1910, was located northeast of Presho, S. D., about 30 miles southeast of Pierre.

The Aend-Roland Comet, which rises shortly after sunset and disappears below the horizon before midnight, will be visible in northern latitudes this week before gradually fading and becoming invisible to the naked eye around June 1.

In New York, a spokesman at the Hayden Planetarium, said the comet has not been visible in the East because of adverse weather conditions. He said it probably would be seen by residents of the eastern states "that week."

A "Bell Ringers March," headed by Mrs. E. E. Chapman, and members of the Pilot Club, will highlight the fourth annual Mental Health Campaign which begins on Apr. 28 and continues through May 4. During that week hundreds of Sanford women will participate in the drive by calling on their neighbors and friends to "Ring the Bell for Mental Health" through voluntary contributions.

Bennett Says State Needs Adoption Placement Program

JACKSONVILLE — "Florida needs immediately and urgently an adoption placement program as a part of the Florida Department of Public Welfare," was the comment of U. S. Representative Charles E. Bennett, speaking today at noon to the Annual Meeting of the Children's Home Society of Florida in the George Washington Hotel, Bennett said.

"This is despite the fact that the Children's Home Society of Florida has done the best job in the United States as a private, charitable institution working in the field of adoption placements. I hope such private charities can continue to do everything they are now doing and increase and improve their services. Whether they do or not will depend on the charitable inclinations of people throughout our State. But whether they do or not, there will still be a great unmet need," Bennett said.

"Unless some state agency undertakes to do the work which cannot now be done by charitable institutions, because of lack of finances, such work would have to continue to be done (Continued on Page Six)

Boat, Ski Club Planning Cruise To Silver Springs

The Sanford Boat and Ski Club will meet tonight to complete its plans for the cruise to Silver Springs on Sunday.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m. in the Civic Center Building in Fort Mellon Park.

All members are urged to attend and take part in the discussions.

Social Security Rep To Be Here

A representative of the Social Security Administration District Office will be at the Civic Center Bldg., Ft. Mellon Park, on Friday, May 3, Friday, May 10 and Friday, May 17, between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and noon.

This service is made available to those who wish to apply for Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits, social security account numbers, or obtain information about the Social Security program.

Kiwanians Hear Talk

"I am not against schools—not against progress—I merely want to bring you some facts," said Mrs. Mary Earle Walker, Seminole County Tax Assessor, in an address before the Sanford Kiwanis Club at their noon luncheon meeting yesterday.

"During the past year, new items and editorials in the local paper (The Sanford Herald) state 1913-16 valuations were used for present day valuations," she said.

"Where did this information come from?" asked Mrs. Walker. "Certainly not from the County Tax Assessor's office—not from the assessment books—I am at a loss as to the source of this information," she said.

Mrs. Walker reported a comparison of the assessed values of the county taken from the actual public records. She began with 1913 (the year Seminole County became a separate government).

In 1913 the valuation was $2,476,537; 1916 $4,084,500; 1923 $5,072,207; 1928 $7,000,758; 1943 $30,206,768; 1953 $45,882,325; and 1956 $53,741,770.

She then compared the 1913 valuations on individual properties on seven Sanford buildings and homes with the valuations of 1956 and five individual properties in the outlying districts of Longwood, Altamonte Springs and Oviedo. In the outlying areas Mrs. Walker gave the 1913 valuation, the 1916 valuation, and the valuation for 1956.

Mrs. Walker stated that "Groves are valued as high as $800 an acre while the best tilled farm land is valued as high as $300 an acre." "The figures," said Mrs. Walker, "reflect the general trend in agricultural property."

CofC Head Gives Monthly Report At Coffee Club

Clifford McKibbin, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, reported on the achievements of the organization during the past month at this morning's Coffee Club meeting.

Summarizing the important events of April, McKibbin said "the announcement by the Navy of a continuous expansion within its present boundaries, at the Sanford Naval Air Station is not what we wanted so we have decided to continue our efforts to stabilize the base here."

McKibbin paid tribute to Congressman A. S. "Syd" Harling for his efforts in behalf of Sanford and Seminole County.

"We will have a concrete platform included in the planning for the rebuilding of the Sanford State Farmers' Market," the Chamber of Commerce president reported to the Coffee Club.

Reporting on the Sanford-Titusville Canal hearing, McKibbin reminded the Chamber of Commerce members that "This is the first time recreational boating has been recognized by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers as an economic value."

In order to bolster the activities of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and its activities "My suggestion is that we make ourselves individual membership chairmen, in effect, to bring additional financial support for the worthwhile projects that we have programmed throughout the year," said McKibbin.

Don Davis closed this morning's Coffee Club program.

6th Fleet Ordered Into Eastern Med

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, keeping a worried eye on the crisis in Jordan, ordered its 6th Fleet today into the eastern Mediterranean in what was initially described as a "precautionary move."

The fleet, which includes the mighty carrier Forrestal and its far-ranging planes, is the major U. S. military force near the Middle East.

A Navy spokesman said orders to the fleet were secret but that it is "reasonable to assume" that all its warships had been sent back to the eastern Mediterranean.

Besides the Forrestal, the 6th Fleet now includes the carrier Lake Champlain, the battleship Wisconsin, heavy cruisers Salem and DeG Moines, 18 destroyers, two attack transports, one high speed transport, two landing ships docks and two LSTs.

With its reinforced battalion of Marines numbering about 1,800, it is capable of a small scale amphibious landing.

The fleet, which only recently left the eastern Mediterranean, has been split up in various French and Italian ports for the past 10 days.

It would be the first to be ordered into action should American forces be called upon to intervene in Jordan under the Eisenhower Doctrine.

There has been no indication as yet, however, that such intervention will be requested by Jordan, and officials here, although concerned, were viewing developments calmly.

Senator Gives Views On FEA Proposals

"I want to acknowledge receipt of more than one thousand communications I have received from Harvard and Seminole Counties relating to the proposals of the Florida Education Association," Senator Douglas Stenstrom told The Sanford Herald today.

"I sincerely hope all who have contacted me will accept my apologies for not being able to reply to each one individually," Senator Stenstrom said.

"The telegrams, letters, and postcards reflect a deep concern on the part of our people for the needs of our public school system," he said.

Stenstrom explained "Having two children in school and having worked closely with the public schools as a juvenile judge for six years and as a member of the legislature for two and a half years, I assure each one that I share this concern now as I have in the past."

Commenting on his stand in regards to the bills before the Senate, Senator Stenstrom said "I shall certainly give every consideration to the proposals of the Florida Education Association and the State Department of Education, as well as the many others relating to the betterment of our public schools."

"I am sincerely hopeful that the legislature will provide sufficient monies to make possible much needed salary increases for our teachers, particularly those who have been in the profession for long periods of time, and will adopt legislation which will improve and strengthen the public schools of the respective counties."

Senator Stenstrom added "My interest and efforts shall continue to be in this direction to the very best of my ability."

WASHINGTON, UP —

The milkman of the future may come to the kitchen door lugging 3-gallon containers instead of the conventional quart and half-gallon bottles or cartons.

Such bulk delivery is a possibility with the new home milk dispensers now on the market. These are small models of the commercial dispensers used widely in restaurants and institutions where large quantities of milk are handled.

The Agriculture Department reports that its Idaho and Colorado experiment stations have been making studies to learn whether families are interested in the new appliances. The department's interest stems from its desire to encourage greater use of milk.

Looks Like Refrigerator

The home milk dispensers look like the small refrigerators they are. The milk can be drawn into a cup, tumbler or pitcher simply by lifting a valve handle. The appliance is white enamel outside, stainless steel inside, and measures 2 1/2 feet high, 2 feet wide and 1 1/2 feet deep. It holds two removable 3-gallon containers, each with its own tube leading to the dispensing valve. It also has a compartment for such dairy products as cream, butter, and cottage cheese.

The electric refrigerating unit which holds the interior at 35 degrees Fahrenheit has a cord which plugs into a wall outlet. The dispenser may stand on a table, cabinet, or be stuck away in a corner.

Department home economists point out these advantages:

Milk is kept colder than in the family refrigerator and at a temperature most people prefer for drinking. The temperature is more even because the dispenser is opened only when the milkman delivers new containers.

Homemakers don't have to wash milk bottles.

Milk is cheaper.

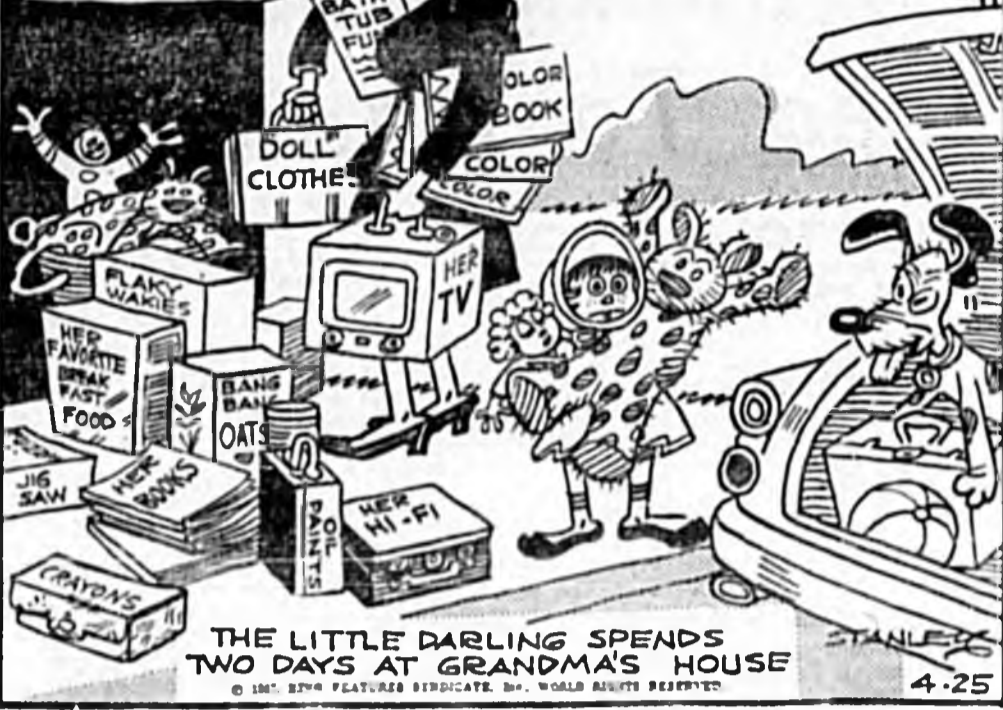

Milk delivered in quantity is cheaper.

THE LITTLE DARLING SPENDS TWO DAYS AT GRANDMA'S HOUSE

There will be more space in home refrigerators because milk bottles and other dairy products will be in the dispenser.

Unless the householder locks out the milkman, and if the kids don't have a field day with the dispenser, the appliance provides a good supply of cold milk at all times.

The Idaho station already has distributed the dispensers to 477 families. All the families are retail milk route customers who normally receive four or more quarts at each delivery. Almost all agreed that the convenience of a dispenser would mean more milk used in homes.

The experimenters found the dispenser fits into only 87 per cent of the kitchens. Where it would fit, families were interested in buying it. But they were not to six cents a quart. No interest in buying only if savings all said they preferred a dispenser on the price of milk warranted it--or to quart or half-gallon. They wanted it to save from two rainers.

Listen to What Its Silence Says!

Ever hear a motor car tell its own story?

Well, just get behind the wheel of a new 1957 Cadillac—head for your favorite stretch of highway—and listen!

Of course, the truth of the matter is that you won't actually hear anything. For a 1957 Cadillac in operation is as quiet as human skill and ingenuity can make it.

But imagine, if you will, all the wonderful things the car will be telling you through the voice of its own silence!

First of all, it will speak—and most eloquently so—of the soundness of Cadillac styling. For the car is so scientifically designed that even the rushing wind is reduced to a gentle whisper.

It will tell you of the genius of Cadillac engineering. For every aspect of the car's brilliant performance goes about its work in soundless harmony.

And it will reveal the care and the skill of Cadillac craftsmanship. For even when it travels the most neglected of byways, the car remains wonderfully silent.

If you have yet to sit at the wheel of a 1957 Cadillac and hear this wonderful story for yourself, then we urge you to delay no longer in doing so.

We hope you will visit your Cadillac dealer soon—spend an hour on the highway—and listen to the most eloquent message a motor car ever delivered on its own behalf!

© 1935, by Elizabeth Seifert. Reprinted by permission of the publisher, Dodd, Mead & Co., Inc. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

A group of doctors in the northern suburb of Burbank try to establish a free medical clinic outside the County Hospital. Dr. John Mays, a strong supporter of the project, returns from a meeting and tells his wife Helen that enough money has been donated by the wealthy Mrs. Wilkins-Smith to start the clinic. Mrs. Mays doubts the money is safe to spend because she has heard that the County Board is not going to finance the clinic. She is sure to organize the clinic and fund the operation. Dr. Mays is sure the County Board will finance the clinic. He is sure to get the clinic started in the park near the home of Dr. Mays.

CHAPTER 10

MEMBERS still blossomed red below the black grill of the outdoor fireplace when John brought his car into the drive. It was, he thought, the time of year when nights are at their most pleasant, when one could almost hear the flower buds straining at their seams. The moon was almost at the full to shine upon the young leaves of trees.

A frog in Bob's bathtub croaked throatily, then waited for a higher-pitched answer. In the wooded ravine behind the house a whippoorwill started its intermittent whistling, and John stood trying to count the notes which stammered somewhat, and then went on and on and on.

"John?" It was Helen's voice from one of the ghostly white chairs upon the terrace. "What is it? It's warm enough out here. He asked going toward a second chair.

"I brought out a sweater, but I haven't needed it. It's lovely." She talked about the outdoor supper, and reported that Bob actually had managed to learn to walk on his hands.

John made no comment, and after a minute Helen asked quietly if something had gone wrong at the meeting.

John grunted, shifted in his chair, and after a few more preliminaries—grating the cedar table, as well tell you—worm it out of me," and so forth, he told Helen of the intern's call, and of the negative stand taken by the Board.

"Every man there," he said, "has at least one case where some sort of conflict with Wilkins-Smith confirms the charges made. But not one of them was ready to go out on the limb about it. Not one."

"It couldn't be," asked Helen, "that each man feels himself somewhat vulnerable?"

"No," he decided. "I don't think that was it. Out of course such a charge, and the prosecution of it—"

"But, like the other members of the Board, John, you do have a family to consider."

He straightened, turned to look at her. "Helen," he cried in a shocked voice. "You wouldn't—"

"No, dear," she said softly. "I wouldn't. But I'd not be surprised to have you give consideration to that fact."

He sank back into the chair. "Helen," he said piteously. "It's your usual habit to consider all sides of a situation, John."

"Helen," said John, then, in a tone of resolute conviction, "I want to take up this charge personally. It may not be like me."

"It isn't, John. To stick your neck out, as Bob would say."

"Chad would do it in a minute. You know he would!"

"But you're not Chad, darling, or even very much like him!"

"You know what I think, Helen? I think I've changed in the past month or so. I've always been an honest man," he said thoughtfully. "But never before have I stood ready to be trounced about my honesty."

"Well—there—I suppose you should do what you think is right about Wilkins-Smith. But, oh, John, do be careful! Perhaps you could talk it over with Chad, maybe he'll help you. Would you do that?"

"I might," John conceded. "I'll think that over."

"A very sound project," said Chad's voice from the darkness. "Never know any harm to come from such a practice, Doctor."

He padded across the grass toward them, sat down on the bench beside the cedar table.

"On what," he asked, "are you

Important To Think Big So City, County Can Prosper, Become Larger

This has been repeated time and time again—but it is true, and unless we live by it then Sanford and Seminole County will have to be destined to only the growth that is a slough-off from the growth of other communities—and that is "if we're going to be big, we have to think big."

If Sanford and Seminole County is going to grow big, then the phrases that we apply to it must necessarily be in the same terms. Why do some always speak in the negative instead of taking the positive stand—as if that is exactly what is going to happen!

And that is exactly the way our community's leaders should talk to engineers, planners, surveyors, or what have you. We want a docks and terminals project as big as can be built in the area from Park Avenue to the Lake Monroe Bridge—and certainly we want exactly that for if a project is that big industry will be even bigger.

Of course, we understand and know that feasibility reports, surveys, tonnage estimates and all other data that would be compiled by these experienced men would reflect the size of a docks and terminals that SHOULD be built and COULD be built.

Engineers are politicians and businessmen the same as all of us are—and when terms of "smallness" creep into discussion with whom they're to do business—their reactions are going to be small too!

There's no other community in the world greater, there's no other community in the world that has the assets the Sanford community possesses, and there's no friendlier community in the world! That's FACT—and it's truth—for there are those who believe it and live by it!

It matters not what the project might be—Docks and Terminals, or any other project, such as streets, water system, expansion and growth, commercial activity—we should think in terms of being BIG, the very biggest.

Even though, in the category of financing, we know that there is a limitation—but at the same time we want as much as we can get, to be as BIG as possible—with in the budget to which we must ascribe.

The negative approach—such as has been heard—is to get as little as we can in order to stay within a budget.

they are getting bigger. Our conversation, our planning, our projects, and every aspect of growing must be toward that goal—a goal to be BIG and prosperous.

Unexpended Balance Problem

Senator Harry S. Byrd, probably the most well versed senator on the financial structure of the nation, outlined a budget-cutting guide to a Top Strategy Meeting on Economy of the United States Chamber of Commerce. His remarks today begin with "The Problem of Unexpended Balances."

We have unexpended appropriation balances as of this date of $60 billion. If the present appropriation bill is passed, as of July 1, we will have $145 billion that, technically, are available for expenditures. The only thing that could prevent their expenditure would be limitation on the debt. The money is there to be spent, providing the funds can be obtained with which to pay for the expenditures.

Last year, for example, the Congress after a long debate, cut the foreign aid bill by $1 billion. Yet the Administration took a billion dollars out of unexpended balances and used it for foreign aid.

There must be some way, sooner or later, to get rid of these unexpended balances. Congress can reduce appropriation bills, but the reductions can be put back by the Executive Department out of these unexpended balances.

ACTION NEEDED ON HOOVER REPORTS. We must have action on the Hoover Commission Reports. Mr. Hoover told me not long ago that he felt confident that $5 billion more could be saved. Some of the recommendations can be carried out by executive action; others will take legislation.

TAXES AND TAX REDUCTION. We have tapped every source we can for taxation. The Federal Government and the state and local governments are taking $110 billion out of total national income of $325 billion, which is 33 per cent. I make the prediction that it is impossible for this great private enterprise system of ours to continue for a long time when 33 per cent of the earnings of the people are taken for taxes, year in and year out.

If the pending budget bill is passed with all of its ramifications of increased spending in the years to come, the door is closed to tax reductions for a long time.

Tomorrow we will bring you the last portion of Senator Byrd's address at the United States Chamber of Commerce Building.

In the final analysis, there are two types of taxes: those a person has to pay such as income and property taxes and those with which he has some freedom of choice such as automobile and cigarette taxes.

Profits are the economy's insurance policy against mal-adjustment and failure. They are no idle plaything but a vital reservoir to be tapped with great care, for the sake of both a business enterprise and the country it helps to sustain.

TODAY'S CONSTANT THREAT!

Herlong Reports

As we pause at Easter recess, it occurs to me that the American people have awakened to the fact that it is their tax money that pays for the Federal handouts, and that the Federal government gives you nothing. This is a refreshing fact for us in Congress who have been plugging for economy in government. I believe at long last we are on the right road.

The 85th Congress is four months old. To date with the exception of passage of the Eisenhower-Midwest doctrine and the extension of corporate and excise tax rates, our time in the House has been occupied largely with President Eisenhower's record budget.

The House this year has spent more time than ever before that I can remember in going over the budget, and perfecting cuts. Here are the cuts so far voted by the House:

Treasury-Post Office $80,364,000; Interior, $60,794,000; General Government matters, $1,900,500; Independent Offices, $37,993,000; Labor-Health, Education, and Welfare, $131,445,000; District of Columbia, $1,000,000; Commerce, $217,827,940; State-Justice-Judiciary, $101,850,000.

The House also slashed the urgent deficiency appropriation bill for 1957 by $46,977,500 and the second urgent deficiency bill for 1957 by $4,110,000.

The total cuts so far made by the House amount to $1,194,263,212. I think the budget should be our first consideration this season. At least my mail and that of another House member shows that it is topmost in the minds of the people back home.

Once action is completed on the budget, the Eisenhower Administration may make a strong bid—though it hasn't done so yet—for civil rights, school aid, immigration revision and statehood legislation. Southern Members of Congress, thanks to their seniority, have

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Sanford Herald Sanford, Fla.

My dear Sir:— Since 1950 the percentage of crime has increased three times as fast as the population. 1955 statistics for 1447 cities showed that 42% of the major crimes were committed by those under 18 years of age, and half of these by those under 15. Most of these will be in and out of jail the rest of their lives. A few will find that crime does not pay and quit. The above indicates a future increase in crime, because the child criminal of today will be the adult criminal of tomorrow. The nineteen young hoodlums in Chicago did not live in a slum area. There were churches in the area and it looked like a good neighborhood on T.V. So you can't blame the housing situation. They committed various major crimes and wanton murder as a sport.

We might change the trend by getting at the young before before they get into trouble. One deterrent would be to publish their names and their parents names when they get into Juvenile Court. Few want their misdeeds published; they want them hushed up. Usually the first offense is a minor one. As one officer said, "Quit coddling them."

Discipline should be maintained in the schools, if necessary by corporal punishment. All children, unless taught differently, will take what they want, lie out of scrapes, bully smaller kids, etc. Good parents train them early in life to do what is right and they become the youth of our nation that we are proud of.

About 3 of our juvenile population are criminals. It is significant that practically none of them ever had any religious instruction what so ever. Adults and juvenile find all sorts of reasons for not attending church.

There has been a change in our mode of life since 1900. The kids, from having chores to do after school then, now have none. This creates a vacuum in their day which must be filled. They will be active, one way or another. Those from good homes find good ways to use their spare time, such as the Y, Scouts, clubs, hobbies, paper routes, odd jobs, etc. The untidily form gangs commit crimes for the kick in it and think they are big shots.

Two thirds of our population are church members. They should take an interest in the small fry in their neighborhoods; urge them to attend religious services and join various youth groups Churches should work out week day programs of activities for them, sports, hobbies, etc. Some churches do.

In Freeland, Mo., where religion guides the daily life and a church runs the only school, there has been only one divorce and no arrests in 20 years.

PTA's should demand religious training in the schools. For about one third of our kids, this will ever have to know there is God, the Ten Commandments and Christ's teachings. I know a lot of irreligious people oppose this, saying it union of church and state, which it is not. Moral training is the only answer. What is right; what is wrong. If the parents don't teach it, then the schools must, or we will have to build juvenile jails.

Very truly yours
Thos. J. Brackett

Watch Your Life-Line

CORRECT POSTURE WEEK - MAY 1 - 7

"In the human body the spine is a variable life-line. Through this 'trunk line' of communications nerve force goes to every organ and every part. Every area must receive this force or it fails to function. If the spinal cord should be cut, the line of communications is completely severed and death is immediate," said Doctor A. W. Woodall, local chiropractor, yesterday. "This is comparable to the supply line of an army over which all the necessary supplies are transported. If this supply line is cut and there is a shortage of food, ammunition, and the means of life, that army will be annihilated or will have to surrender. One of the prime functions of chiropractic is to keep the 'line of communications' of the human body open, so that the vital force which it needs—nerve energy—is in constant supply.

"That is why the chiropractic profession sponsors Correct Posture Week every year between May 1 to 7; to stress the importance of the 'trunk line' which brings life to every part, to every cell in our physical structure. Habitually poor posture, especially in the young who are still growing, may create impingements or compressions of the nerves where they emerge from between the vertebrae—the base of the spinal column. Depending upon the particular nerves which are partially or fully blocked, that part of the body is affected.

"The more usual maladies resulting from poor posture are neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago, sciatica, and sacroiliac strains," said Dr. Woodall, "but other conditions brought about by maladjustments resulting from poor posture are headaches and backaches of various kinds. A research study of poor posture and poor health indicates more than 70 per cent of the adult population has disturbances brought about by unequal distribution of body weight."

The same research, as pointed out by Dr. Woodall, has enabled the chiropractic profession to determine and classify specific types of posture defects. Among these are "slumping," "hollow-back," "military posture," "round shoulders," and "flat pelvis."

Recently formed a 24-member emergency cabinet. Officially it is called an extra-parliamentary cabinet. This means that, though it is supposed to be a coalition ministry, the various political parties are not represented in it in relation to their strength in Parliament.

Sukarno's action in forming the cabinet is being criticized widely by both political parties and the army. The army, which always has interested itself in politics, seems to be becoming an increasingly big factor in the tangled situation. Sukarno at present wields virtual dictatorial power under a state of martial law.

Needs Army's Help But to exert that power, Sukarno needs the army. And there are indications in dispatches from Jakarta, the capital, that unless Sukarno gets control of the situation soon, the army may step in and proclaim a dictatorship of its own.

It was disclosed two weeks ago that the army had started to impose a censorship. Since then it has temporarily suspended the chief Indonesian news agency and two leading Jakarta newspapers for publishing news of which it disapproved. Sukarno demanded in a speech last Thursday that the army stay out of politics. But the army seems to have no disposition to do so.

Now Hear This!

by JACKY FENWICK

Two pieces of news that should be of interest to all Navy personnel in the area. First of all, the branch of the Florida State Bank will open tomorrow, at the Naval Air Station. As of this writing, the time of opening wasn't definite, but the opening ceremonies will definitely be held some time tomorrow morning. Just think what a convenience that will be! Especially with the other pieces of news that I have! Starting with the very next payday, all hands will be paid by check! A lot of you have been paid by check right along, but to those who have not, this is so that you won't wonder what's going on when they hand you one little piece of cardboard, instead of that nice green "stuff". There has also been a slight change in the pay schedule, effective at the same time. The following outfits will henceforth be paid on the thirtieth and the fifteenth of each month: HATTI (Heavy Attack Training Unit), V.A.H. 8, V.A.H.9, and Hattwing 1. (Heavy Attack Wing.) And the following outfits will be paid on the first and the fifteenth: A.E. (Air Station Personnel), V.A.H. 7, V.A.H. 11, and FASRON 51. (Fleet Air Service Squadron.) This will follow their usual pay dates. On Saturday or Sunday, in which case the closest working day will be paid. I've taken quite a roundabout way to get this across, and I do hope it's clear to everyone!

Hope that all the chiefs and their wives have their baby-sitters lined up, etc. for tomorrow night's buffet supper and dance at the Chief's Club. There will be the normal charge of $50 per person for the buffet, and it promises to be well worth every penny.

I know there are lots more, but I've only heard of men who made chief this time, and I'd rather be very sure of my information before I print it, than to embarrass myself, (not to mention the men.) by being wrong. The three I know of are Edward Gold, John Holmes, and Rex King. Ed and John are both in V.A.H. -5, and Rex is in V.A.H. -7. I know Marion Holmes and Rue King are very proud of their husbands, and Jim! Gold can be doubly proud of Ed! It was just about a week and a half ago that they heard that Ed had made I.D.O. To those who are in doubt as to what I. D. O. means, it stands for Line Duty Officer, and that those who pass a rough test, and are appointed, will be commended as ensigns in the Navy. Clear???

This is another one of those days when I completely run out of news before I really get the old typewriter warmed up. But I can't go out and make the news, I can only rely on all of you to let me know what's going on around town, and the base! If that sounds like another appeal, I sure is!!!!

Garden Gate

By Meryl Turitt (Rose Circle) Sanford Garden Club

To help you in preparing your garden for the hot summer months ahead, here are some key garden chores for the month of May:

Pruning. Cut the old wood out of climbing roses. Cut back bougainvillea. Keep such shrubs as weigela, ligustrum, pyracantha and Forsythia branching and under control by cutting back tips. Remove old flowers from phlox, stock, petunias, verbena, larkspur, etc., to encourage new blooms. Stake and tie the tall annuals. Pinch back chrysanthemums. Trim hedges. Keep lawn grasses well back from specimen trees and shrubs, edging grass plots periodically for a neat garden. Mow ryegrass close to aid in its disappearance.

Fertilizing. Lawns around trees and in the shade often respond well to heavy fertilization—around 30-35 pounds of a 4-2-4 mixture per 1,000 square feet, well watered in. If some garden plots are going to be idle through the hot summer, try planting cow peas to turn under in the fall. Ornamental fruit trees or shrubs may be fed in May or June. For fertilizer such as Gro-Tone or lawn or garden special types, use one pound for each foot in height of tree or shrub. If you use soluble types of plant food, then use about 5 gallons of nutrient solution for average size tree, and two weeks later give a feeding through the foliage. Try plug fertilizing for small trees: punch 4 holes 12 inches deep under edge of branch spread; apply about 1/2 lb. of fertilizer to each hole and water well. May is perhaps the best month for summer application of fertilizers and plant foods for citrus, avocados, mangos and lychees.

Watering. May is an uncertain month with frequent dry spells. Watch for wilt and drooping of established plants, then water deeply. Don't be afraid of sprinkling in the heat of the sun—it's an old wives' tale that this will blister plants. Watering during the day permits plants to dry off before dark, helping check fungus development.

Spraying. This is a constant chore until cool weather. Control mites, thrips, and mealy bugs with malathion. Continue to spray for rose black-spot and for palm-leaf skeletonizer on Butia and Phoenix palms. Watch for mildew on crepe myrtle leaves.

Mulching. This is a summer must. Acid-loving plants such as the Azalea, Magnolia, Dogwood, Red Bud, Hollie, Gardenias and others like oak leaves, pine moss or, in some cases well-matured sawdust. More good mulches include Water Hyacinths (Lily Pads), Leaf-mold, Pine needles, straw, dried grasses (free of seed), and seed pods that have been piled and turned over so the seeds will germinate and die or dry out.

Planting Seeds. Plant Telenia now for all summer bloom. It averages about 1 foot in height, produces many white, lavender and yellow blotched flowers that have a slight resemblance to the pansy. Often called the summer pansy, or Wishbone Flower. Being a sun-tolerant annual it is a fine garden flower, or may be used as an edging in rock gardens.

Tithonias, which resemble small sunflowers, are ideal for summer months. Often referred to as the Golden Flower of the Inca. They grow in full sun and often reach 6 to 8 feet in height. For cut flowers all summer, be sure and start Tithonia seeds now.

One of the most dependable summer blooms for color in the garden or to cut is the dwarf type Zinnia known as the Tom Thumb (or Lilliput). Plant seeds where they are to grow or start them in boxes or flats and transplant. They seem to outlast their larger brothers.

Other seeds to plant in May: Sweet Alyssum, Balsam, late Cosmos, Cypress-vine, Dahlia, Gaillardia, Globe-amaranth, Marigolds, Morning glory, Portulaca, Salvia, Sunflower.

Bulbs. Bulbs for May planting include Calladium, Gloriosa, Lycoris, Gladiolus, Narcissus, Cannas, Hymenocallis (Spider Lily), Zephyranthes, Rain Lily, Fairy Lily, Peruvian Daffodil (Alumina).

Cottage cheese is a sensible breakfast food too, especially for dieters. It contains considerable amounts of essential protein and calcium, yet is low in fat producing calories, according to Dr. George Reeder, Director of Cheese Quality Control for Dairies.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD ALLEN FUTRELL

Gatliff-Futrell Exchange Vows In Candlelight Ceremony Apr 14

Miss Mary Katherine Gatliff and Donald Allen Futrell were united in marriage April 14 at 4 p.m. in a candlelight double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church in DeLand. Miss Gatliff is the sister of Mrs. W. A. Greene of DeLand and Mr. Futrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Futrell of Sanford.

The Rev. James Stetz officiated before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, carnations and fern. The bride and groom exchanged vows under a white trellis entwined with white carnations and fern.

Miss Gatliff given in marriage by her brother-in-law, W. A. Greene, wore a ballerina length gown of chintilly lace poised over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a neckline of horizontal tucks and a cascade of lace ruffles topped the bouffant tulle skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiara of pearls and iridescent sequins. The bridal bouquet was of white orchids placed on a white burlap.

Serving as matron and maid of honor were Mrs. J. T. Cochran Jr. of Dunellon and Miss Gloria Hall of Gulfport, Fla. Miss Anne Archer Greene, niece of the bride, was bridesmaid. All the attendant gowns were similar to that of the bride except in color. Mrs. Cochran wore orchid, Miss Hall, pale blue and Miss Green chose pink. Large picture hats in matching colors and color.

For traveling the new Mrs. Futrell chose a navy blue silk suit with a bateau neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The elbow length cape was accented with a white Peter Pan collar and white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid from the bridal bouquet.

After a trip to the West coast the couple will be at home at 517 N. Adelle Ave. in DeLand. Miss Gatliff was born in Kennebec graduated from Stetson University and is now teaching in the Boston Avenue Elementary School in DeLand. She was formerly a teacher in American Dependent's schools in Tokyo, Japan.

Mr. Futrell was born in Key West, attended Sanford schools and is a senior in the school of business at Stetson University.

K. Estes To Reign As Queen Of May

By Mrs. Marian Jones

OVIDO—If you are a member of the female sex, do you remember when you were a little girl over dreaming of someday being a queen and sitting on your throne displaying your royal authority by having members of your court entertain you?

Well, that dream is coming true for Kay Estes on Friday, Apr. 26, for she will reign as queen of the May Day. She will sit on her throne, surrounded by her lovely attendants, flocked by the members of the senior class, and have milkmaids, gypsies, ballerina dancers, may pole dancers, etc. display their acting ability for her own entertainment. She will also have heralds like the ancient kings and queens of yesterday.

This demonstration, under the supervision of Mrs. Marguerite Partin and Mrs. Katherine Teague, helped by other teachers, will take place on Friday morning at 10 a.m. on the school grounds.

We will not reveal the members of her royal court in full detail. However, friends in Sanford may like to know that Mary and Elizabeth, twin daughters of John and Dot Courier, and granddaughters of Mrs. Lucy Courier, will be flower girls for the lovely queen.

Miss Estes was chosen by popular vote of the high school group sometime ago to reign as their queen. Miss Peggy Fleming, another popular senior, will be maid of honor and crown the queen. She received the next number of votes.

Kay is the daughter of Mrs. Ruby Estes and the late R. W. (Ted) Estes. Peggy is the daughter of Mrs. Elsie Fleming, and is herself a member of the royal family by inheritance, her two sisters, Mrs. Sadya Ruth Fleming Duda, and Mrs. Johann Fleming Ward, having reigned as queens of May Day Festivities during their senior year in the local high school.

There will be no May Day picnic this year. Children will eat in the lunch room, and parents wishing to do so may make arrangements for same.

If you miss this, you will miss one of the most colorful and interesting entertainments of the school year.

For sometime now mothers have been scouring the stores in search for materials, some hard to find, too, for the desired costume for said daughter or son, or both, or more than one.

They have been toiling day and

New Members To Be Baptized Sunday At Church

A service for new members who came into the fellowship of the First Christian Church during the pre-Easter program of evangelism will be held Sunday at 11 a.m. The ordinance of baptism will be observed. Pastor Perry L. Stone will bring a special message on "Baptism: A Sign of Faith" (Acts 2:41). Certificates of membership and some other items will be given to the new members, and their picture will be taken and placed in the archives of the church.

The new members include: Don DuBois, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Brandies, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene LaMay, Mrs. Frances Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard Hood, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Burdick, Jack D. Purvis, Ruth Ann Vall, and Howard Scruggs.

Mrs. Walker (Continued From Page One)

assessments and are not exceptional in any way. From these figures one can readily see our County is not operating on 1913 or 1916 valuations.

There are many factors which enter into the assessment of property in Seminole County, explained Mrs. Walker. The two most important being the homestead exemption law and the action of the Railroad Assessing Board in assessing railroad property.

The homestead exemption law was voted as a constitutional amendment by an overwhelming majority of the people of Florida in 1933, stated Mrs. Walker. This law was to exempt homes from ALL taxation except for special benefits up to an assessed valuation of $3,000. There was no provision made in that law to raise valuations so that those homesteads would no longer be exempt. If homestead exemption is to be eliminated, a vote of the people is necessary, she said.

"The other most important factor in assessing," Mrs. Walker stated, is the fact that railroad property is assessed by the Railroad Assessing Board in Tallahassee far below the local assessment levels. The $23,000 steam engines have been replaced with $150,000 Diesels and additional rights-of-way have been acquired. In 1953 a new $900,000 terminal was built in this county, and even with this being called to their attention, the Railroad Assessing Board chose to ignore the fact and railroad assessments were lowered in 1954 by that Board.

"Under the laws of Florida it is mandatory that the person owning real estate and making improvements thereon shall make a return to the assessor between the first of January and the first of April of each year, giving the nature and cost of such improvements—if he does not do so it is up to the Assessor to ascertain the value of such improvements in the best way possible. If the valuation set by the Assessor is not acceptable to the owner, he has no recourse in the matter because he did not make proper returns," said Mrs. Walker.

"The Florida law provides that the assessor shall assess all property at its full cash value." The term "full cash value" is not specifically defined in the law nor is a method specified for determining value. These are problems which are left entirely to the discretion of the Tax Assessor. The Florida Courts consistently hold that the definition of full cash value is essentially what the Assessor wishes to use. In this County it has been the policy to strike a happy medium. This has been accepted by the Courts as complying with the law. There is a constitutional mandate which specifies that property assessments are to be uniform and equal.

An attempt has been made to keep valuations on that basis in Seminole County, she said.

"Valuations in Seminole County reflect a conservative value in normal times. That is by striking an average between the high and the low in economic periods. There is no mistaking the fact that we have inflation at the present time, everything is high and the demands made on everyone are in the same proportion now as they were during a period more or less normal. A recent survey by the Bureau of Governmental Research and Service shows that our values in Seminole County are in the middle bracket—not low and yet not high," the Seminole County Tax Assessor told the Sanford Kiwanis Club.

"There has been recent pressure on the part of two of our newly elected County Commissioners to institute a reassessment program in the County. What would reassessment mean to you as a taxpayer? This is something that is hard to foretell. In other counties it has meant a rise in tax in most every instance. In a few re-more cases a cut in tax was enjoyed, but those cuts were very few and were due to the fact these properties were unequally assessed to begin with, she commented.

In 1941 by order of Gov. Holland and the State Comptroller values were raised to three times the previous valuation. Also by order the millage rate was cut to approximately 1/3 of the previous rate which had the effect of keeping the tax about the same on non-exempt property and raising the tax on homestead property. The home valued at $5,000.00 in 1940 and exempt, was raised to $15,000.00 in 1941 with a tax of approximately $18.50. The tax on that same home today is $335.00.

"There is nothing to keep the tax from rising again, because a reassessment is for one purpose only—to raise more money," she said.

If valuations are raised and the millage rate is not cut in proportion—and there is nothing mandatory in a reassessment in regards to millage rate—then the tax is bound to be higher. Where homesteads are involved the tax would be much higher than where non-exempt property is involved.

"The following happened in one county and other counties have similar cases: A small homestead that was paying $35.00 tax was raised to $153.00 tax. Another which had been tax exempt was raised to $45.00 tax," Mrs. Walker said. A 40 acre unimproved tract in a built up area assessed at $320.00 value one year was a tax of $12.00 was raised to a value of $50,600.00 the next year with a tax of $1,144.00.

Another 42 acres in the same area, same kind of land assessed at $180.00 value and a tax of $6.00 was assessed at $18,300.00 value with a tax of $317.00, she added.

"These are only a few examples of what can happen on a reassessment program.

"I hope I have been able to give you some information which might be of help in understanding our tax situation in Seminole County and an idea of what reassessment might mean to you," continued the Seminole County Tax Assessor.

by well intentioned, independent volunteers who do not have adequate facilities to place children with the best interest of the child paramount.

"Only experienced agencies, public or private charitable institutions, are equipped to obtain the physical, mental, and other background material necessary in knowing whether a child should be adopted by anyone. Only such an agency is equipped to best evaluate whether the adopting parents are the best parents for the particular child and to make certain that no future troubles may occur from the natural parents of the child. Under independent placements many tragedies are inevitable because the child has already been in the private home as long when adoption takes place that any change is almost impossible."

Bennett cited statistics showing that among independently placed adoptions 1 out of every 3 failed to go to legal adoption, while in agency assisted adoptions only 1 in 100 failed to be adopted. He also cited statistics to show that among the former of 100 placements 48 were rated good; 28 fair and 24 bad with maladjusted children and parents, while in a agency placement 76 were rated good, 16 fair, and 8 bad.

Request urged the Children's Home Society and other licensed placing agencies to assist independent volunteers in developing procedures for a stop-gap program "until such time as the State Department of Public Welfare can undertake an adequate state-supervised program," Bennett pointed out that most States have such a plan; that Florida is the only state in the Southeast without such an agency at the present time, and that the State of Florida has a very small percentage of agency placed adoptions at the present time when compared with the national average.

Bennett also outlined Federal legislation passed in 1938 to aid children, including inauguration of a program to aid retarded children, increased aid to dependent children, medical assistance to such children, Social Security benefits to older, disabled children, etc. In the current session he stated he hopes to see passed a law to prohibit the sale of children for adoption; a law to assist states in improved maternal and child care; and a law providing for research in juvenile delinquency and to assist states in programs for such delinquency control.

All along this busy highway, stretching across the state from north to south, motorists catch sight of the signs day or night.

Com—Bad They Work

The compositions, some of them in verse, were authored by State Highway Commissioners Donnie Sorrell of Durham and Forrest Lockley of Aberdeen.

"We've taken a lot of kidding about these signs," says Lockley, "and some say they're corny. But obviously people are reading them, and that's the important thing."

For example, it could well be very important to a driver who is flashing down the highway, unaware that his speed has crept up to dangerous rates. Then he catches sight of a sign that reads: "Somewhere ahead—radar."

That warning, according to the psychology, automatically eases the driver's foot on the accelerator.

Some of the signs are pertinent to a particular road situation. Like the one on a curve which says: "Heavy foot, light head, bad curve, strong dead."

"Don't be impatient. It's a short hill."

Warning at Night

The signs measure three to four feet in length and are from 18 to 24 inches deep.

They are reflectorized for visibility after dark, and follow a white on blue color scheme.

Including costs of the reflectorizing material, the project cost about $3,000 for the 200 miles of highway. There are about 45 different verses, slogans or safety warnings.

The signs are portable, and may be moved from one highway to another. They were put up originally on U. S. 1, which parallels U. S. 201, and a few months ago were moved to 301 which has a bad traffic fatality rate.

Three Lost Cows Roaming In Oviedo

By Mrs. Marian Jones

OVIDO—Have you lost three cows? Honest, we are not joking. Going home from work today for our noon day meal, we encountered three apparently friendly cows standing on the sidewalk between us and our destination.

Being somewhat skeptical of the friendship of said animal, we crossed the street and reached the sanctuary of our home. Just recovering from injuries sustained by a fall a short while ago, we took the precautions so as not to have a similar experience.

Neighbors had been removing clothing from lines to guarantee safety, also chasing them off in order to preserve their precious plants and flowers.

The last seen of them—they were slowly traveling down the street by our house headed toward the school house. Hope the owner soon recovers them.

"Spectacular" Spatler

NEW YORK — Television comedian Sid Caesar claimed his lost $4,000 diamond and star sapphire ring Wednesday when a truck driver found March 21. The truck driver, Eugene Ryan of the Bronx, N.Y., said he didn't turn the ring in immediately after he found it because, "It was so big I thought it was worthless."

CHICAGO — Mrs. Rosemary Williams is puzzled about what to do with an orphan she found on her front porch. The orphan was a duckling neatly packaged in a box with a five-pound bag of duck food beside it.

Safety Reminders

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES

United Press Staff Correspondent

SMITHFIELD, N. C. — About every 8,000 feet along the 100-mile length of U.S. Highway 301 in North Carolina there appears an eye-catching little sign on the roadside—part of the state's psychological campaign against speed.

Statistics show conclusively that speed is the greatest single factor in deaths and injuries in accidents on the highway, and the little signs are gentle reminders to ease up on that accelerator.

One is subtle, saying "Careful with a car full."

Another is more pointed: "If your trip is too fast, it may be your last."

All along this busy highway, stretching across the state from north to south, motorists catch sight of the signs day or night.

Com—Bad They Work

The compositions, some of them in verse, were authored by State Highway Commissioners Donnie Sorrell of Durham and Forrest Lockley of Aberdeen.

"We've taken a lot of kidding about these signs," says Lockley, "and some say they're corny. But obviously people are reading them, and that's the important thing."

For example, it could well be very important to a driver who is flashing down the highway, unaware that his speed has crept up to dangerous rates. Then he catches sight of a sign that reads: "Somewhere ahead—radar."

That warning, according to the psychology, automatically eases the driver's foot on the accelerator.

Some of the signs are pertinent to a particular road situation. Like the one on a curve which says: "Heavy foot, light head, bad curve, strong dead."

"Don't be impatient. It's a short hill."

Warning at Night

The signs measure three to four feet in length and are from 18 to 24 inches deep.

They are reflectorized for visibility after dark, and follow a white on blue color scheme.

Including costs of the reflectorizing material, the project cost about $3,000 for the 200 miles of highway. There are about 45 different verses, slogans or safety warnings.

The signs are portable, and may be moved from one highway to another. They were put up originally on U. S. 1, which parallels U. S. 201, and a few months ago were moved to 301 which has a bad traffic fatality rate.

The Sanford Seminole track team snared third place in the Orange Belt Conference Track Meet on the cinders of Orlando's Boone High despite winning only the Sprint Medley Relay, and setting a new conference record in the event.

It was a Bill Archer meet as the Melbourne athlete scored four wins in four starts, while unknown Winter Park stayed in hot competition with the Bulldogs and the meet was decided only on the final event.

Melbourne totaled 90 1/2 points, Winter Park 82 1/2, Seminole 44, Cocoa 24 1/2, Lakeview 10 1/2, Leesburg 6, and Apopka 5.

120-yard high hurdles—Archer Melbourne; Whitaker, Winter Park; Parsons, Melbourne, Byrd, Sanford; Little, Sanford, Time: 15.4 (new record).

100 yard dash—Williams, Melbourne; Wood and Morowski, both Melbourne, tie for second; Ward, Cocoa; Corbin, Melbourne. Time: 10.5.

80 yard relay — Melbourne (Corbin, Morowski, Wood, Williams), Winter Park, Cocoa, Seminole, Apopka. Time: 1:34.9 (new record).

440 yard dash—Bostelman, Winter Park; Cannon, Melbourne; Tanny, Seminole; Sale, Melbourne; Hammond, Cocoa, and Cowart, Melbourne, tied for fifth. Time: 5:2 (new record).

180 yard low hurdles — Archer, Melbourne; Parsons, Melbourne; Byrd, Seminole; Plante, Winter Park; Tones, Melbourne. Time: 21.2 (new record).

Sprint medley relay—Seminole (Byrd, Mathieux, Nance, Tanny), Melbourne, Winter Park, Cocoa, Apopka. Time: 2:09.3 (new record).

220 yard dash—Wood, Melbourne; Ward, Cocoa; Morowski, Melbourne; Kirkman, Winter Park; Washburne, Winter Park. Time: 23.7.

1 mile relay—Winter Park (Bostelman, Davis, Hoffman, Winslow), Melbourne, Seminole.

1 mile run—B. Beckman, Cocoa; J. Beckman, Cocoa; Johns, Winter Park; McCall, Winter Park; Fielder, Melbourne. Time: 5:52.

880 yard run—Davis, Winter Park; Hensley, Leesburg; Woodman, Winter Park; Hoffmann, Lakeview; Harmon, Melbourne. Time: 21:12 (new record).

Discus throw—Moin, Melbourne; Giles, Seminole; Rightetti, Winter Park; Washburne, Winter Park; Scott, Winter Park. Distance: 118'11".

Broad jump—Archer, Melbourne; Winslow, Winter Park; Wood, Melbourne; Nance, Seminole; Crabtree, Lakeview. Distance: 20'4". (new record).

Shot put—Washburne, Winter Park; Jacobs, Winter Park; Giles, Seminole; Rightetti, Winter Park; Odum, Apopka. Distance: 43'7".

Pole vault—Whitaker, Winter Park; Phagan, Seminole; Mathieux, Seminole; Hensley, Leesburg; Cannon, Melbourne. Height: 9'10".

High jump—Archer, Melbourne; Kirkland, Winter Park and Crabtree, Lakeview, tied for second; Plante, Winter Park; Whitaker, Winter Park. Height: 5'11" (new record).

Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—There are a number of sports about which you constantly hear suspicions that the "fix is in" and it pains young Stanley Dancer that harness racing is one of them. If you are one of the 10,533,133 fans who bet an amazing $534,857,847 on the trotters and pacers last year you may have heard those charges. You might even be one of those who made them when the favorite goes into a "break" or winds up from nowhere.

But Dancer, the third leading money winner last year, will hear none of it.

In 6,000 Races
"I have driven in 6,000 races in the past 10 years," says this handsome, dark-haired rainsman from New Egypt, N. J., "and I can truthfully say I don't believe there has been anything 'wrong' in any of them. If there has been, I'm certain I would have heard about it or, at least, had a feeling about something being off color."

There is, he insists, simply too much at stake in an era in which harness racing has become big business. The malefactor can lose his license for life or, if detected gambling or cheating, can lose all his "owners."

As example, Dancer conducts what is known as a "public stable." He handles close to 60 head for some 25 owners at a perhorse cost of $3,000 annually. Getting full expenses and 10 per cent of the winnings, the trainer-driver has a real good thing going for him without looking for a get-rich-quick scheme.

Can't Bet Driver
"Sometimes I feel that we'll never be able to convince the public that this is strictly on the level," he said glumly. "What they don't understand is that if every horse ran true to form or one-two—three as expected—there wouldn't be any sense in wagering."

There are a number of factors why a favorite loses—namely loss of form or soundness, bad post position or bad racing luck, over-emphasis of last year's winnings instead of the true criterion of this year's performances, too abrupt a move up in class or the public fallacy or betting on the driver instead of the horse.

Indicative of betting the driver was a recent race in which Dancer was driving a horse named Flying Pence against a horse called Gay Dancer. A week earlier, Dancer's horse had been beaten by the consistent Gay Dancer. But the fans made Flying Pence or Dancer—the choice at 90 cents to a $1 while Gay Dancer went off at $4.20 to $1.

Four Boxers Dropped From Top 10 Ratings

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Baker, and Mexico's Kid Anahuac is rated 10th among the featherweights, with Cadilli out. Three others were dropped from the top ten in latest monthly Ring Magazine ratings released Wednesday.

Baker, the big Pittsburg heavy weight who has been in and out of the ratings several times, was replaced by Will Besmanoff of Germany, who beat him at New York a few weeks ago. Rivers dropped out of the middleweight rankings and Bobby Boyd of Chicago regained a spot among the top ten. George Barzes of Australia took 10th place among welterweights, dropping Fuentes out.

SHS B-Team Loses To Greyhounds 6-3

Lyman's left handed hurler Cliff Jordan held the Sanford Seminole B team to two hits yesterday afternoon, while his Greyhounds took advantage of only three hits off Seminole pitcher Cecil Dandridge and won easily 6-3.
