Scopes Evolution Trial Started In Dayton, Tennessee

FIRST SESSION OF TRIAL OF SCHOOL EVOLUTION ISSUE IN TENNESSEE DRAWS CROWD

John T. Scopes, Teacher, is Defendant; Law Was Designed to Bar Evolution Theory From Classrooms of State; Judge and Counsel Photographed Before Beginning of Unique Proceedings in Dayton.

Dayton, Tenn., July 10.—The case of John T. Scopes, charged with violation of the Tennessee law against the teaching of evolution in the public schools, has been placed in the hands of a Rhea County grand jury for the second time. When court convened today for the trial of the 24-year-old school teacher, Attorney-General W. T. Stewart asked that the grand jury be summoned. Judge John T. Raulston informed the grand jurors that some question had arisen as to the legality of the indictment against Scopes and the case would be given grand jury consideration again.

With a prayer by the Rev. William Cartwright, pastor of the Dayton Methodist Episcopal Church South, the circuit was convened this morning at 9:10 o'clock.

APPLAUSE FOR BRYAN

The opening of the court was marked by the first of many demonstrations when the entrance of William J. Bryan provoked a burst of handclapping from the spectators who packed the courtroom. As the leading member of the prosecution's staff of attorneys walked within the bar of the court he was greeted cordially by Clarence Darrow and Dudley Field Malone, leaders in the defense group of lawyers.

PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN

Activities of the court were held up for a few minutes while counsel for both sides posed with the judge on the stand. A dozen photographs were made. Clarence Darrow was in his shirt sleeves. The others wore coats. Judge Raulston posed holding his gavel aloft.

The judge instructed the sheriff to seat as many spectators as possible and permit others to stand against the walls.

"Mr. Attorney-General, I am calling the case of the State of Tennessee against John Thomas Scopes," announced Judge Raulston.

The Attorney-General asked that the grand jury be drawn up in the meantime counsel from outside the state were introduced to the court and welcomed by the court and Tennessee by Judge Raulston. The judge assured them they would be accorded all privileges by the resident lawyers.

MUCH NOISE

The calling of the names of grand jurors proceeded with frequent suggestions of "Let's have order" from Judge Raulston.

The judge broke his eyeglasses and was forced to leave the bench to get Mrs. Raulston's assistance in repairing the damage. The operation was successful and the judge returned to the bench.

When the grand jury box was filled the judge asked if any were so situated at home that they could not serve on the jury, the judge suggesting that not more than two hours would be necessary. Attorney-General Stewart amended this by a suggestion that forty-five minutes would be sufficient time. At this assurance one reluctant grand juror withdrew his objection to serving.

Judge Raulston administered the formal oath.

DAYTON TRIAL FULLY REPORTED IN OLD LAND

London, July 10.—It has been a long time since any occurrence in the United States has attracted such an amount of attention here as the prosecution of John Scopes of Dayton, Tennessee, for teaching the theory of evolution in violation of a state law.

The newspapers feature the Scopes news with remarkable prominence, many editorials have appeared and noted dines and scientists have published articles on the subject, many of whom have condemned the Tennessee law forbidding the teaching of evolution. No sympathizers with the anti-evolution viewpoint have expressed themselves publicly thus far, but many editorials profess amazement that the fundamentalist view is seriously held by men of Mr. Bryan's position and attainments.

FAILURE FORESEEN
The London Daily Mail says: "To English eyes there is something comic in this storm in a teacup, but it has a serious aspect, too. The attempt to stifle liberty of thought and speech is doubtless doomed to ultimate failure."

UPHOLDS VIEWS OF FUNDAMENTALISTS; WILLIAM J. BRYAN

An internationally known figure among the prosecuting counsel at the Scopes trial in Dayton, Tennessee, is William Jennings Bryan. He is fighting the theory of the evolution of man.

SUPPORTS VIEWS OF THE MODERNISTS; CLARENCE DARROW

Among the several prominent counsel defending John T. Scopes at the evolution trial in Dayton, Tennessee, is Clarence Darrow of Chicago. He is seeking to prove the teaching of the theory of evolution should not be barred by statute from the public schools of Tennessee.

DARROW SAYS CIVILIZATION IS NOW ON TRIAL

Dayton, Tenn., July 10.—Statements of the principals at the opening of the Scopes evolution trial here today were as follows:

Judge Raulston—If man without inspiration attempts to delve into the mysteries of God, he finds himself overwhelmed in perplexities. Therefore I am much interested that the unerring hand of Him who is the author of all truth and justice shall direct every official act of mine.

DECLARES FOR BIBLE
W. J. Bryan, of counsel for the prosecution—"The control of what is to be taught in the public schools is in the hands of those who employ the teachers; that is, the taxpayers and parents, acting through the boards of education and legislatures. It would be better for Tennessee to give up schoolbooks than to abandon the Bible.

Clarence Darrow, of defence counsel—"Scopes is not on trial. Civilization is on trial. The prosecution are opening the doors for a reign of bigotry and heresy equal to anything in Middle Ages. No man's belief will be safe if they win.

Nearly $425,000,000 worth of actual construction is affected by this order.

The plasterers yesterday signed an agreement with a group of large contractors to return to work pending arbitration of the inter-union controversy of plasterers and bricklayers which caused the strike.

M. Johnson, K.C., Crown prosecutor, who interjected: "There are too many witnesses here and the Crown has already been at great expense in this case. I urge that the hearing may be proceeded with." Magistrate Jay, pointing out to Morris that he should have made an effort to get counsel previously, was advised that this had been done, but without success.

The consul added that the imminent danger of attack from the Chinese quarters had developed within the past few days.

PLAN NEW LAW TO CONTROL SPEED OF ALL MOTOR BUSES

New Provincial Regulations Would Force Them to Adhere to Schedule

Motorists Endangered and Roads Ruined by Present High Speeds

Motorists would be protected from constant danger and road surfaces from ruin by legislation under preparation by the Public Works Department here and designed to curb the speed of motor buses now operating on the Island Highway and other British Columbia roads.

The new law, which probably will be brought before the Legislature early at its next session, would force all operators of motor buses to file schedules with the Government for approval. These would be fixed so that buses could not adhere to them and at the same time travel at an excessive speed. Failure to observe the speed of these schedules would be punished by heavy fines.

The new regulations are being drafted to meet a situation which is causing public works officials real alarm. At present, they state, many motor vehicles like buses, it is stated, are not only endangering other lighter vehicles but wrecking road surfaces. A fast-traveling bus, on account of its weight and because of its terrific friction on the top of the road, is ruinous to gravel roads and even to oiled roads like the Malahat. The damage caused by heavy vehicles like buses, it is stated, runs into enormous sums of money every year.

Bus operations have increased so much in recent years, in the opinion of the Public Works Department, that drastic action must be taken to bring them under control, just as railway operations are controlled. The Island Highway, particularly on the steep grades of the Malahat, suffers seriously from the operations of heavy, fast-traveling vehicles.

EARL HAIG TO DRIVE ALONG CITY STREETS ON ARRIVAL

Field Marshal to Reach Victoria Monday at 9.30; Up-Island Trip Mooted; Busy Programme Planned

That the general public will turn out in force to give a rousing welcome to Field Marshal Earl Haig when he arrives in Victoria on Monday morning was the hope expressed at the final meeting of the committee in charge of arrangements, held last evening at the Armories.

The distinguished soldier, with Countess Haig and party, will be met at the Canadian Pacific Railway wharf at 9.30 by a reception committee including members of the Provincial Cabinet, the Mayor and officials of the returned soldiers' organizations. Countess Haig will be welcomed by a committee including Mrs. Curtis Simpson, representing the I.O.D.E., Mrs. H. P. Hodges, representing the Women's Canadian Club, Mrs. Harold Fleming for the Red Cross and Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, for the Girl Guides. Ex-service men have been asked to join in the welcome to Earl Haig as far as possible. A guard of honor will be supplied by Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and the pipe band of the 15th Canadian Scottish Regiment will be in attendance.

ROUTE OF DRIVE

As the space at the wharf is limited in accommodation, it is proposed that the Field Marshal, who will be met with an open car, will journey to Government House by way of Belleville Street, along Government Street and up Fort Street to Moss Street, so that citizens along the route may have an opportunity of welcoming the distinguished soldier.

From 10 until 12 o'clock, Earl Haig will meet delegates from the returned soldiers' organizations at the Parliament Buildings, and at 12.45 he will be the guest of honor of the Canadian Club at luncheon. During the limited accommodation it will not be possible to admit members of the Women's Canadian Club to the ballroom for the address, but a limited number will be accommodated in the palm court to hear the speakers.

LUNCHEON ARRANGEMENTS

Simultaneously with the club luncheon for Earl Haig, the Countess, together with several ladies of her party, will be the guest of a luncheon at which there will be three representatives of the I.O.D.E., Women's Canadian Club, Red Cross and Girl Guides.

At the conclusion of the luncheon Earl Haig will be invited with the highest order of the Knights and Dames of the Thistle, of which he is a member.

TO ADDRESS VETERANS

At 6.45 the Field Marshal will address a mass meeting of returned veterans only at the Royal Victoria Theatre, and the concluding function of the day's programme will be the official dinner at Government House.

Tentative plans made last evening, subject to the approval of the Field Marshal, include an up-island trip to the Victoria Islands, and a visit to these plans mature, the journey will be made by motor, the party leaving early on Tuesday morning and having for brief stops at Duncan and Ladysmith, where Earl Haig will have an opportunity of meeting returned soldiers.

At Nanaimo, the Field Marshal and his party will be the guests of Hon. William Sloan at luncheon and in the afternoon will sail for Vancouver to rejoin the rest of the party.

SULPHURIC ACID HAILED AS CONQUEROR OF WEEDS

Chemist Offers Suggestion That He Says Will Improve Appearance of City-Lawns

Lawns in cities can be freed from weeds by the use of sulphuric acid, according to chemists, who say that the situation has been made apparently hopeless by the indifference of land owners and failure of advertised compositions applied as sprays to kill weeds without destroying the grass.

"The method of chemical eradication consists of treatment of each weed with one to ten drops of concentrated sulphuric acid," explains William M. Dehn, a member of the American Chemical Society. "This individual treatment, while apparently laborious, is really labor saving. It is inexpensive and it certainly 'does the work.'"

"By the use of an ordinary glass dropping funnel of 50 to 100 cubic centimeters capacity, the acid can be applied at the centre of each weed with great speed. When the weeds are close together the acid is permitted to drop from the funnel at a regular rate, is applied to each plant and the funnel is moved from plant to plant with only a small loss of acid on the grass.

"When the weeds are scattered a short atom dropping funnel is more useful, the stopcock being opened and closed at each point. With a little practice this latter method will be required for all plants.

"The quantity of acid necessary for 1,000 square feet of lawn is about one pound a year. More acid than this found at first, but less acid for new lawns or when contact has been established. The labor cost is estimated to be less than half the cost of the mechanical methods of eradication."

ARCTIC VESSEL IS WITHOUT RADIO NOW

Capt. Bernier's Ship, on Way North, Unable to Send Messages Back

Montreal, July 10.—The Canadian Government exploration ship Arctic, under command of the veteran navigator, Capt. E. Bernier, has begun her trip to the North by running into a lot of trouble. To begin with, she narrowly escaped collision and grounding at Quebec when her power failed while she was casting off for the trip, and now, according to electrical experts here, her radio sending plant is out of order owing to failure of her motor generators.

Local amateurs have listened in vain for the vessel's signals during the last two or three days.

Repair parts of the vessel's power and electric light plant have been placed aboard the Hudson's Bay Company's steamer Nascope at Quebec, and it is hoped the craft may

Funeral To-day of William Mercer Well-known Farmer

There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and a profusion of lovely floral tributes at the funeral services this afternoon to bear testimony to the esteem in which the late William Mercer was held in the community. The cortege left Thomson's Funeral Home and proceeded to St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, where Rev. William Carroll conducted the service at 3 o'clock. Interment was made in the family plot in the churchyard.

The survivors are Messrs. J. Lusse, Borden, T. K. Harrap, Geo. Rodgers, Fred Thomson and Geo. Watson.

The late Mr. Mercer was born in Lancashire, England, in 1859 and came to Winnipeg in 1888. After a year there he came to the Coast and settled in Victoria, and for thirty years carried on farming and dairy work. He is survived by his widow, three children, Mrs. Wm. Webster, Robert Mercer and Miss Lillian Mercer, two grandchildren, Phyllis and Maribel Mercer, and a brother, G. T. Mercer in Victoria, and two brothers and three sisters in England.

ENJOYABLE OUTING FOR TRADE BOARDS OF GULF ISLANDS

Special to The Times—Sidney, July 10.—A most enjoyable day was spent on Thursday by the Gulf Islands Board of Trade, when a picnic was held at the Experimental Farm park.

They left Salt Spring at 10.30 in five launches, two coming from Ganges, one from Fulford, one from Port Washington, and one from Beaver Point. About seventy-five people came. They were met on the arrival at Sidney by the Board of Trade and welcomed. The local board had arranged all transportation and catering, the latter being done by Mr. Bouch, of the Chamber of Commerce.

On their arrival at the farm they were welcomed by Professor Straight, who said he was glad to see them all. This was replied to by the president of the Gulf Islands Board of Trade, Mr. H. Scott, who thanked all who had worked so hard to make the outing a success. An address was then given by Professor Macoun, the Dominion horticulturist on the work of the Experimental farm. Mr. J. R. Terry, Provincial poultry inspector, gave an instructive address on poultry.

Professor Amundson of the University of British Columbia, spoke on breeding and raising chickens. Mr. Sansbury gave a demonstration on killing and plucking poultry. Mr. Spurling gave an interesting address on making broilers. The visitors then inspected the laying contest and poultry farm. There was a competition of plucking chicken which was won by Gordon Hambley and Robert Dixon, who won the chickens they plucked. They were also given a fountain pen and Eversharp pencil by the Parent-Teacher Association.

Mr. Greenway registered H.O.P. stock, spoke on registration. Great credit is due to Mr. L. F. Chaplin, convener of all arrangements for his untiring efforts for making the outing so successful, and to Prof. Straight for obtaining the speakers and arranging the demonstrations. After a delicious luncheon left for the wharf at 6 o'clock.

The Sidney Social Club held its regular monthly meeting in the Matthew's Hall on Wednesday evening. The winners of the first prizes were Mrs. Hambley, Miss Iris Hearn, Mr. G. Cochran and Mr. Dixon. The young men of the club were the hosts and provided the supper.

AT DAYTON

THE EYES OF THE world are upon the little town of Dayton, Tennessee, where the trial of John T. Scopes, charged with teaching evolution in the public schools in violation of the law of the state, began to-day. Distinguished personalities have become involved in the case. William Jennings Bryan, thrice unsuccessful candidate for president of the United States, and world-famed orator and lecturer, has associated himself with the prosecution of the young iconoclast. Clarence Darrow, eminent lawyer of Chicago, has aligned himself with the defence. So far no counsel has appeared for what many people will consider to be the most injured party—the monkey—but possibly this omission will be remedied in slender proceedings launched later by some educated chimpanzee. There is a limit to even a monkey's forbearance, and that limit might be strained to the breaking point by the contention that he shares a common ancestry with certain human beings. The net result of the trial, however, will be that Dayton—and young Mr. Scopes—will have gained a large amount of notoriety which they will find it difficult to sustain, and the question of evolution will stand precisely where it stood before the trial began.

"WORKING" THE SENATE

JUDGED BY THEIR COMMENTS on the Senate's action in throwing out the legislation which would have given the Government of this Province the sole right to import liquor, the eastern newspapers seem to agree that the Conservative majority of the Upper Chamber were willing victims to the blandishments of the influential lobby which the liquor interests were able to detail for their special work. This is what Mr. Charles Bishop, one of the most reliable parliamentary correspondents in Canada, has to say in "The Ottawa Citizen" under "Glimpses of Parliament":

The Upper House for the third time gave the six months' hoist to the legislation which is designed to do away with the abuse of liquor export houses in British Columbia. The British Columbia legislature asks for this legislation repeatedly and it goes through the House all right, but inevitably reaches its Waterloo in the Senate, where an industrious lobby representing the liquor interests seem able to accomplish their purpose in a very thin chamber, fifteen voting for the killing of the bill and ten to sustain it.

The vote indeed was thin. But out of the twenty-five senators present twenty were representatives of the Conservative majority, and five of them, to their credit, voted with the five Liberal senators in favor of the bill. Not a single senator from British Columbia was present. No doubt the lobby had done its work well enough to permit these members of the majority to leave for their homes before the appearance of the bill—which they had assisted in killing upon two former occasions on the flimsy pretext that its provisions interfered with the liberty of the subject. They knew perfectly well that it would have done nothing of the kind. But it was not part of their game to admit that their action could be called nothing else but defiance of the will of the people of this Province.

A SIX YEARS' WAR

MOST CONFIDENCE men get away with the loot of their victims and escape punishment. Not a few who have been "taken in" prefer to forget the incident rather than take action which would merely advertise their credulity.

But Mr. J. Frank Norfleet, a Texas rancher, does not belong to the thin-skinned variety. Seven of the live-by-their-wits gentry relieved him of $45,000 six years ago and from that time until the other day he has conducted a very successful war and has seen the last of the seven tucked away behind prison bars.

Nor did his good wife weep at their misfortune. As soon as Nor-fleet realized his position he began to oil his six-chambered revolver and promptly announced that he was "going after them." "Go ahead, Frank, I'll run the ranch," said his faithful spouse. "Get every one of them." He went after them, toured practically the whole of the United States, even came up into the Canadian northwest, dealt with six of them one by one, and on Tuesday of this week he waited at the gates of the prison in which the seventh member of the gang had been doing time for selling dope. This "four-flusher" has now gone back to "pay" for the 1919 incident.

Norfleet's adventures should not escape the movie magnates. He should be able to get back his $45,000 for the material—he could furnish an imaginative scenario writer. But there will still be confidence men and confidence men's victims in spite of Norfleet's "campaign." The Texas rancher, however, proved to be a Tartar.

THIN "FACTORY" MATERIAL

THE DIRECTOR OF MR. Meighen's propaganda factory at Ottawa has spurned the old adage which suggests that chickens should never be counted until they are hatched. He has just announced that at the next general election one of the leading citizens of Nova Scotia will contest a Federal constituency in the Conservative interests "and be the Nova Scotia representative in Mr. Meighen's Cabinet."

The interesting point about this confident declaration is that it is a complete departure from the pessimistic strain in which all the "factory" dispatches have been framed for months past. Dr. Tolmie's department has painted many gloomy pictures of the country's condition and all the Conservative members of the House of Commons have availed themselves of every opportunity to heave additional chunks of black paint on to the canvas. This prophesy, if it does nothing else, reflects the flimsiness of the material with which the "factory" has to deal.

COMING INTO LINE

VICTORIA VETERANS' organizations are to be congratulated on their decision to subordinate their individual identity to the more comprehensive body for whose establishment throughout the Empire Field-Marshal Earl Haig is industriously striving. Led by the oldest association of those ex-servicemen who took part in the recent conflict, the Great War Veterans' Association, the Victoria Post of the Canadian Legion and the Tuberculous Veterans' Association have reached unanimous agreement on the general principle of unification under the British Empire Legion banner. The remaining bodies in the city will no doubt add their strength to the plan after they have had an opportunity of discussing the question. Earl Haig's sole idea is to restore solidarity among the veterans of the Empire, recognizing that their interests may be more intelligently guarded, their usefulness in the Empire's peaceful pursuits more practical, by unity of action in many questions affecting the welfare of returned men. So far he seems to have made excellent progress towards his objective.

THE RIGHT COURSE

LIQUOR COMMISSIONER Davidson has removed certain brands of whisky from the shelves of certain vending establishments near to the international border on the Mainland. He has pursued this course because some zealous purveyors of these goods have posted their agents at these vantage points with advertising literature of a convenient form—on which, of course, is noted the fact that it has no connection with the Government of British Columbia. As a dodge to push the sales of these several brands it no doubt worked well for a time. But Mr. Davidson heard of it and very properly took the profit out of the game.

As long as the Senate majority permits itself to be influenced by the liquor interests, and the Government of this Province must compete with the bootlegging gun-slinger as a consequence, Mr. Davidson's task of controlling the traffic will be exceedingly difficult. But the public will applaud every action he takes that will in any way help to insure maximum effectiveness from the existing controlling machinery. The removal of the brands so zealously advertised among the incoming tourists at the border—from those stores to which the advertising directed them—is in keeping with the spirit of the Act. The public is absolutely opposed to the pushing of sales in any form.

HEALTH OF DISEASE CRETINISM

Cretinism is due to a condition of the thyroid gland existing from birth or to its atrophy by the action of fevers.

In those born without the gland it rarely shows itself before the sixth or seventh month, when it is noted that the child does not grow rapidly and is not bright mentally. The tongue hangs out and seems too large for the mouth. The skin is dry and the hair thin.

During the second year the signs become more marked. The face is large, look bloated, the eyelids are puffy; the nostrils are thick, the nose looks depressed and flat. Dentition is delayed, and the teeth decay early.

The abdomen is swollen, the legs thick and short, the hands and feet undeveloped and pudgy. There is much muscular weakness. The child does not develop mentally, and may become an imbecile. In the atrophy from fevers the conditions may not come until the fourth or fifth year, or later.

When recognized early and proper treatment instituted, the results are almost miraculous.

This treatment is the administration of thyroid gland under proper supervision. AESCULAPUS.

Jasper Park Golf Course is Drawing Favorable Comment

Winnipeg, July 10.—The new golf course at Jasper Park Lodge is going along splendidly, and is receiving high praise from guests who have thus far played over it, according to information reaching Winnipeg from officials of the Canadian National Railways hotel department who are now at Jasper. Although development of the course was hampered to some extent by the lack of precipitation during the early Spring months, recent rains have brought fairways and greens along splendidly, and the first nine holes are now stated to be in good condition for play. Prominent golfers who have played over the course declare that its completion it will be one of the finest scenic courses on the American continent with its background of mountains and lakes flanking every green and fairway.

Joint Victoria-Saanich Committee Agrees Work Grows Too Great

Parks Board With Widened Jurisdiction Favored

Action which may prove the first step towards the creation of a joint board for Southern Vancouver Island was taken yesterday afternoon by the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee, when they approved a joint report submitted by Alderman Todd and Councillor Kirkham, outlining advisable expansion of operations of the committee.

The report recommended close co-operation with the Sidney Board of Trade in protecting the public interest in North Saanich beaches and resorts, forecasted the imminent growth of parks work, both improvement and policing, in Greater Victoria district, from North Saanich to Sooke, to a stage beyond the financial resources of the committee, and recommended the initiation of steps to secure to parks boards an adequate revenue from a share in the gasoline tax.

When adopting the report the joint committee decided to send copies to the Chamber of Commerce, the Service Clubs, the Victoria, Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Saanich, and Victoria City Parks Board of Trade, Victoria City Parks Committee and the Automobile Club of British Columbia, Victoria branch. These bodies will be asked to give the proposals close study, in view of the imminent growth of control of resorts to an importance beyond the ability of a voluntary committee, with small resources.

BEACH RESORTS UNFAIRLY USED BY PICNICKERS

Beaches and Parks Committee Hear Complaints of Untidy and Careless Habits

Dissatisfied with untidy conditions existing at Mt. Tolmie picnic grounds and Verdier Park, Alderman Todd yesterday afternoon urged upon the Saanich beaches and parks committee the advisability of employing a special officer to police the resorts under the jurisdiction of the joint committee. Alderman Todd admitted that this year there are no funds available for the purpose, but believed that an efficient man, equipped with a motor truck, and with the authority of a police officer, would be able to keep in control the type of joker who, for mischief, upset the garbage cans provided.

The committee authorized the erection of two signs on the West Saanich Road, pointing the way to Mt. Newton Summit and John Dean Park, as being points of interest easily accessible to a visit by citizens and tourists.

Property owners adjacent to St. Margaret's Beach, Gordon Head, complained to the committee regarding danger daily caused by picnickers who leave unextinguished fires on the beach. While in full sympathy with the complainants, the committee agreed to employ a fire prevention officer to educate picnic parties in fire prevention courtesy to nearby property owners.

NOISY BOATS BANNED ON ELK LAKE WATERS

Joint Parks Committee Favors Sail and Rowboats

Beach Protection and Bird Sanctuary Caused Action

Taking advantage of the present lack of any motor propelled boats at Elk Lake, the Victoria Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee yesterday afternoon adopted a regulation prohibiting future operation of such craft.

This action has been taken to avoid pollution of the fresh waters by slow accumulations of lubricating oils, which would drift to the shore line and irretrievably damage the sandy beaches being constructed by the joint committee and private parties at great expense.

The committee considered that Elk Lake should be fostered as a centre for rowing, canoeing and small sail craft, on similar lines to the successful development of Lake Louise, where a ban against motor boats has proved successful.

DUCK SANCTUARY The committee also considered that motor boats would prevent consummation of the plan to create a wild duck sanctuary at Elk Lake, on lines similar to the wonderful resort at Lake Merritt in the heart of the city of Oakland, California, where hundreds of thousands of ducks winter yearly, and provide an attraction for visitors which has earned fame all over North America.

LEGION ALSO FOR HAIG'S UNITY PLAN

Third Organization to go on Record in Favor of Amalgamation

Endorsement of Earl Haig's plan for amalgamation of veterans' organizations throughout Canada by a merger with the British Empire Legion was given last night by the merger with the British Empire Legion was given last night by the Victoria Port of the Canadian Legion, making the third organization in the city on record of this effect.

The Great War Veterans' Association by a unanimous vote Tuesday endorsed the resolution on the subject passed at the Ottawa convention. The Tuberculous Veterans' Association have taken a similar stand. The Army and Navy Veterans, Victoria Unit, had the matter before them last night, but withheld action pending further information. It is not likely they will reach a decision until after their Dominion conference in September.

CO-OPERATION The resolution in part adopted by the Canadian Legion last night was as follows:

"He it resolved that this post of the Canadian Legion fully endorses the action of the grand council and pledges itself to support any steps it may take in the future to consummate union;

"And be it further resolved that this post expresses its high appreciation to Field-Marshal Haig for his leadership in this movement and assures him of its co-operation in his endeavor to unify the ex-servicemen and women of Canada and the British Empire."

TO MEET HAIG The following delegates have been appointed by the Army and Navy Veterans to discuss the amalgamation question with Earl Haig next Monday: G. Gardiner, president; J. Sloan, second; the co-president, and Capt. C. F. Le Money, secretary. The Canadian Legion delegates are: Post Commandant R. Macnicol, H. P. Thorpe, secretary, and Canon Hinchliffe.

Commandant Macnicol was appointed to the reception committee to welcome Earl Haig on behalf of the Canadian Legion.

Says Husband Lit Fire Under Her Bed

New York, July 10.—In an affidavit filed to-day in connection with separation proceedings, Mrs. Mary M. Burke charged her husband, Edward Burke, a professional basketball player, with setting fire to her bed because she refused to get up at 7 o'clock in the morning to prepare his breakfast. Burke denied his wife's allegations and said their differences arose over friction of his wife of whom he disapproved.

NEW PALESTINE PROTECTIVE ORDER London, July 10.—A Jerusalem dispatch to The London Daily Mail says the Palestine Government is passing an ordinance empowering the Jewish chief immigration officer to exclude from the country all persons likely to support the Arabs against the Zionist policy. He would also be authorized to deport any non-citizens opposing Zionism.

All applications for entry into Palestine must be submitted to that officer.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Teils Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of cold water after eating or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Bisurated Magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, but the one to use is the one especially prepared for the above purpose.

Gillingwater is one of the best known character actors on the screen. each of which is a laugh-provoking incident. There are scores of humorous situations in Douglas MacLean's new laughing triumph, "Introduce Me," now at the Dominion Theatre. But after Jimmy had followed the girl to the Alps and introduced himself under the very nose of her father's threats, the fun begins. Jimmy is forced to pose as the great mountain climber—but that's another part of the tale, which you are bound to thrill and laugh at when you go to see "Introduce Me."

FILM ACTRESSES MUST NOW MASTER ABILITY TO SNEEZE

One of the minor accomplishments which an actress must master is—the ability to sneeze! Anna Q. Nilsson while working in "The Talker," Sam E. Rork's production for First National, which is the featured attraction at the Capitol Theatre this week, has this function under perfect control. Many years of experience have taught her to sneeze at will.

So when it came to the scenes in the kitchen, where Miss Nilsson, as the young wife who scorns domestic comedy company, who for and absent cook, runs afoul of the pepper box, with the usual results, no trouble was apprehended in getting the proper number of realistic "ker-choos," even without the pepper in the shaker. The pepper box was overturned and Anna Q. started to sneeze. Lewis S. Stone and several others in the set, at some distance from Miss Nilsson, and who were not supposed to be affected, also started to sneeze violently.

"Wait a minute," called Director Alfred E. Green; "you people weren't to— He was interrupted by a catch of his breath, the usual helpless look came into his face, and he gave vent to a vigorous sneeze—in which he was joined a moment later by several other members of the staff behind the camera.

The canister contained sneezing powder, which had been used by a comedian, who wanted to get a laugh-provoking effect by having a whole roomful of people start sneezing, and who didn't wish to depend upon their acting abilities. After the property man had established his innocence, and handkerchiefs had been freely used, composure was regained and Miss Nilsson resumed her sneezing—without artificial aid!

The cast of "The Talker," which is from Marlon Fairfax's stage play, includes besides those mentioned, Shirley Mason, Ian Keith, Tully Marshall, Barbara Bedford, Gertrude Shurt, Harold Goodwin, Cecil Evans and Lydia Yeaman Titus.

What is conceded to be one of the most spectacular thrills ever screened occurs in "Silent Sanderson," the latest Hunt Stromberg production starring Harry Carey, which is now playing at the Columbia Theatre. This is a wolf-attack on one lone man—so nicely executed that you actually see the wolves pounce on the hapless fellow and begin to tear him to pieces. It is incidents of this sort that place "Silent Sanderson" in a class far above the average western. Harry Carey, who portrays the victim, declares that the sequence was almost too exciting to enact.

He continues that when the oratory wolves were let loose and asked to look pleasant for their "closeups," it was very difficult to find anyone in the immediate vicinity who would with any enthusiasm second Director Scott R. Dunlap's eternal cry for "Realism!" Carey says it took more courage than he ever had occasion to summon up before to plough through this band of snarling, temperamental beasts—amidst assurances that he would be rescued before any harm could be done. They kept their word—and all the wolves managed to get was his shirt.

LLOYD HUGHES HAS BUSY TIME IN FILM WORLD One of the busiest players in motion pictures to-day is Lloyd Hughes, who portrays Blaise Faquar in First National's screen version of "Sally," in which Colleen Moore will be starred at the Capitol Theatre next Monday. Hughes recently performed the feat of playing in two First National productions at the same time. One of these was "The Lost World" and the other "If I Marry Again."

In "Sally" he has, undoubtedly, one of the outstanding roles of his career. It is the zenith of his achievements as a leading man very much in demand because of his wide popularity.

W. J. Mortimer, B.A., will proceed as arranged as far as Shanghai, to consult there with missionaries who are now en route down the river from Chung Kiang.

Sailings arranged for September remain unchanged. The August party hopes to sail later, and bookings are being arranged for October 1. Missionaries will go to Japan as usual. These decisions affect former Methodist missions in the two countries.

MUSICAL NOTES

By GEORGE J. DYKE

Punctuality of performance is an excellent, though rare accomplishment. An example of such a gift was experienced here at the Sunday afternoon production of the "Hymn of Praise" at the Arena, during the recent Carnival, when over four thousand people were in their seats at 3 o'clock and the programme commenced on time. It must be said that this is not an unusual occurrence with Victoria audiences. From experience it has been noticed that when the request is made that the audience be present to hear the opening number of the programme the response has been splendidly executed, and a "fait accompli" in many instances.

The passing of Walter Herbert Cross is a loss to local music. He was an ardent and faithful patron of all the arts, and was particularly fond of making arrangements. Mr. Spurgeon of the London Metropolitan Tabernacle did not believe in pipe organs. Like everything else, as time changes all things, this great preacher, who has recently installed a beautiful organ in the Tabernacle, and is now believed that there is no more peril in the use of an organ at the religious service than in the use of a piano, as once used in this well-known edifice.

Jazz and the music of the East are as wide apart as are the bustling Yangtze and the placid and languorous Orientals. In the Albert Hall recently a performance of Coleridge-Taylor's "Hiawatha" was given by the Royal Choral Society, London, in which a thousand weirdly-costumed performers took part. An Indian camp was presented, with pines and rushing brooks and snow-capped mountains, all making an unforgettable and magnificent picture.

A letter addressed to Herr Ludwig Van Beethoven, professor of the Conservatory Schwarzenberggasse 15, recently arrived in Vienna in good condition. In view of the impossibility of delivering this letter to the proper address the postal authorities, after justified, London, in which a thousand weirdly-costumed performers took part. An Indian camp was presented, with pines and rushing brooks and snow-capped mountains, all making an unforgettable and magnificent picture.

The Fifth Regiment Band opened the official band concerts at Beacon Hill Park last Sunday afternoon. These well-attended weekly open-air music assemblies are extremely popular and will be continued through the months of July and August, and, perhaps, up to the middle of September. These concerts will find the first and sixteenth Scottish bands alternating, and next Sunday the sixteenth will occupy the bandstand. Vancouver, Seattle, Tacoma and Portland all have these Sunday afternoon band concerts.

One of the chief names associated with the Fifteenth Century national music movements was John Dunstable, said to be the first man to compose and contemporaries in Guillaume Dufay (1390-1474), and Josquin Des Pres (1445-1521); the latter two being the most important Belgian writers of that period, these three constituting the great contrapuntal school that then had its beginning. Dunstable is called the "Father of English Contrapuntalists," and his compositions and influence were very great abroad, so much so, indeed, that both Dufay and Des Pres owe much of their inspiration to the famous English master. Through the efforts of these three the whole of Europe profited considerably. But to England and to Rome are due the perfection of the art of vocal counterpoint which gives the sixteenth century its "Golden Age." Both these places produced the great schools of secular and church music.

Henry IV's reign had a most important and widening influence on English music, and this monarch, as time historians are agreed that the Chapel Royal was founded. The chapel, a body of composer-singers, continued into Henry V's reign, and the history of the chapel is still in existence. Henry VI was an excellent composer, two of his compositions in manuscript now lie in St. Edmund's College at Old Hall, near Ware, in Hertfordshire, and some compositions that were written by Englishmen from 1439 to 1480.

Sir Arthur Sullivan, Sir Alexander Mackenzie, George Thomas and Sir Frederic Cowen, all studied at the Royal Academy of Music, London. One of the new knights included in King George's birthday honors is Sir Hamilton Harry, Sir Hamilton was born in County Down, Ireland, 46 years ago, and received there his entire musical education from his father, an organist of wide reputation. When twelve years of age he occupied the position as organist at a church in Magheracoll, and has been associated with the musical activities of Ireland for a number of years. He held important organ positions uninterruptedly in Belfast and Dublin, and for the past twenty years has taken a leading part in the musical life of London, where he is highly esteemed as an accompanist. He has written many works, including "A Comedy Overture," an "Irish Symphony," two symphonic poems, "A Tinker's Wedding" and "With the Wild Geese," a violin concerto in D minor, which he has dedicated to the celebrated Hungarian violinist, Joseph Szigeti, a piano quartette in F, an "Ode to the Nightingale," for soprano and orchestra, "The Mystic Trumpeter" (produced at the Leeds festival in 1913), and many other compositions. Sir Hamilton also is one of England's foremost conductors.

J. K. Paine (1839-1906) can fairly claim to be founder of American music. His music and personal example were of such standard that all American writers have upheld ever since. Paine's most successful works are his music to "Oedipus Tyrannus," his "Tempest" fantasy, and his second symphony "Spring."

Only sixty-five years separated the writing of Haydn's first symphony and Beethoven's "Ninth." Curiously enough Dvorak's music is rated higher in America than in Europe. His music is always of a strong rhythmic basis that falls not in making a direct appeal to the heart; it is of a fascinating type of melody, and a certain witchery of outline in the passage-writing, but without there is a glare a coarseness and an undeniable superficiality. Technically he was more clever than profound, and he seemingly wrote chiefly at the piano.

Men who live without religion, live always in a tumultuary and restless state. —Atterbury.

Net Debt of Canada In Year Fell $11,000,000

Ottawa, July 10.—Within the past twelve months, according to the monthly statement of the Finance Department issued to-day, the net debt of Canada dropped $11,000,000. On June 30, 1925, the net debt was $2,378,000,000. On June 30, 1924, the net debt was $2,389,000,000. During June last year there was an increase in the net debt of $4,548,729. During June this year there was a decrease in the net debt of $175,000. Current revenue for the first three months of the present financial year shows an increase of $1,000,000 over the first quarter of last year, and current expenditures a decrease of $2,000,000, although this is chiefly in pensions. Customs revenue had quite a recovery during June, if compared with June last year. Last month's customs revenue was $10,700,000, against $8,800,000 in June 1924, an increase of rather more than $2,000,000. For the three months ended June 30, 1925, the customs revenue was $31,100,000. For the corresponding three months of 1924 it was $29,000,000. The increase in customs revenue during June is practically equivalent to the improvement during the whole quarter.

EARTH SPEAKS TO BRYAN ON MAN'S ORIGIN AND RISE

THE world of science, using as its spokesman Professor Henry Fairfield Osborn, has come to the Bible for a text to its well-timed reply to Wm. Jennings Bryan. And from the Book of Job it has taken this quotation: "Speak to the earth and it shall teach thee!"

This becomes the key message of Professor Osborn's eloquent and clearly stated series of arguments in "The Earth Speaks to Bryan" (Scribner).

Up to this time Mr. Bryan has claimed to have the Bible pretty much on his side and has argued for literal acceptance of its words; now science turns the tables by inviting Mr. Bryan to accept literally the words from the Book of Job. If he will do so there will be no need for further argument, Professor Osborn assures.

But, points out the scientist, "the earth speaks, clearly, distinctly and even loudly to Bryan, but he fails to hear a single sound. Every ear in every civilized country of the world is attuned to its wonderful message of the creative evolution of man, except the ear of Wm. Jennings Bryan; by his own resounding voice he drowns the eternal speech of nature."

The little series of essays prepared by Professor Osborn is admittedly inspired by the Tennessee trial as are scores of others that come from the presses of every publishing house. It is dedicated to "John Thomas Scopes, courageous teacher."

Osborn is quick to announce that he does not agree with those who oppose the trial. He thinks it necessary to clear the atmosphere. Also he does not feel that educational liberty, freedom of opinion and free speech rights are the important issues.

Quoting a phrase used by Bryan in an argument he states the real issue to be: "Did God use evolution as his play?"

The facts in this case are that Bryan is the man on trial and not

John T. Scopes, he says in an introductory passage. Briefly he points out how the "earth has spoken" through the thousands of fossil discoveries and living specimens.

Tracing the ascent from primal ooze, Professor Osborn comments: "This is not the way Bryan would have made an animal, but this is the way God made them!" Osborn states that, in his belief, the creation of man is not yet at an end, but he still is climbing century upon century "approaching the divine through a gradual development of his spiritual, moral and intellectual faculties."

Presenting the divergent views, the writer declares that there is irrefutable proof of "two new and somewhat unexpected truths: First, that man is not descended from any known kind of monkey or ape, fossil or recent; with which truth, established not by Bryan but by the testimony of the earth, one of the chief sentimental objections to creationism is removed; second, that man has a long, independent, superior line of ascent of his own."

Here is a handy little volume, well filled with good meat for those who would have an easily digested argument of the scientist's viewpoint on the evolution argument.

For those who would delve more deeply and thoroughly, countless volumes are announced, the survey or thinks the layman will find these among the most readable:

"The Way of Life" (Harpers), by Dr. R. S. Hill, a most comprehensive review of data on man's physical history.

"The Science of Biology" (Crowell), by Prof. G. G. Scott, a newly published work which contains the very latest word on the evolutionary subject.

"Man's Life on Earth" (MacMillan), by Dr. Samuel Schmucker, a very clear and easily read presentation of what science knows of the life of man thus far.

POLAND NOW DANGER ZONE OF EUROPE

Free City of Danzig, Upper Silesia and Polish 'Corridor' Sources of Trouble

Proportion of Unassimilated Minorities Considered Dangerous

BY G. H. MORISON

Berlin, July 10.—Poland is now trying to obtain a loan from Berlin to stimulate her sugar and spirits production. Eight industrialists, members of the British House of Commons, are in Poland on a tour of inquiry. Their recommendations will decide whether financial assistance can be granted. These transactions indicate the commercial interests involved in the reconstruction of this new state of 30,000,000 consumers. Besides owning vast timber forests, coal mines, wheat lands, sugar beet areas, oil fields, Poland has a developing textile industry around Lodz which needs regular supplies of raw cotton.

Poland, even more than Germany, suffers from the capital famine that afflicts Central Europe. The granting of credits or loans to Poland, however, is fraught with much greater risks because Poland is the centre of a political danger zone. In all the negotiations about the Security Pact for guaranteeing European frontiers, Dr. Stresemann, the German Foreign Minister, has repeatedly emphasized that Germany cannot relinquish the hope of obtaining frontier revisions by arbitration. The three matters in dispute are (1) the fate of the Free City of Danzig; (2) the ceded part of Upper Silesia and (3) the Polish "corridor," the wedge forty miles wide driven between the Reich and Eastern Prussia.

Danzig itself includes only 4% of Poles in its population. In certain ceded parts of Upper Silesia, the new frontier actually cuts a huge German industrial factory into two parts—one part of the works is under Polish law and the other under German. Germans composed 40% of the population of the "corridor" at the time of the cession. Most of these lived on the left bank of the River Vistula. Through the new frontiers, Germany loses entirely the use of the Vistula for transport, while Danzig which depends mainly on transit trade, loses the handling of all the German Baltic trade, but is still without the prospect of compensating increases of Polish trade.

DIFFERENCE OF NATIONALITIES

Poland, as at present constituted, consists of three parts, which have all been growing in different directions under foreign domination for over a century. It stands to reason that the people of Russian-Poland, Austrian-Poland and German-Poland in the course of four generations have become so accustomed to different laws, different languages and different social habits that at least a generation must pass before they begin to unify. More numerous, therefore, is the proportion of "minorities"—non-Polish people that Poland must assimilate. Many of these are German. Some estimate the total foreign element at 3,000,000. This being the political and racial situation in Poland, it is clear that its foreign policy should be supreme by one of conciliation. If, for instance, Poland meant to keep the corridor permanently, she should see to it at once that its presence forms no obstacle to the trade of countries that are compelled to use it.

Till now Poland has followed just the opposite policy. Danzig, the finest port on the Baltic, was made a free independent state by the Treaty of Versailles, so that Poland should have unhampered access to the sea. Danzig is German in language, race and sentiment. Neither Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Austria nor Hungary have any sea port and the former two, at any rate, do a thriving trade. Czechoslovakia has special quays in Hamburg and privileges on the German railways that run thither. Poland does not seem to realize its good fortune but keeps up the hostility to Danzig by renewed irritations.

AN EXPENSIVE PLACE TO LIVE IN

Danzig, though politically independent, is in the Polish customs union but has no appreciable voice in fixing the customs tariff. Poland, for instance, has revised its already prohibitive customs tariff and has increased the main duties by 100% all round, though in some articles the increase is from 40% to 50%.

Danzig in this case was not consulted. This prohibitive customs tariff has not only reduced very considerably the bulk of transit trade through Danzig but made living so high in Danzig and Poland that the export of manufactured articles is out of the question. Labor is rising in price continuously.

Living in Danzig is about 70% higher than in Berlin, and more than twice as expensive as in London. Poland is dearer still. This has tempted many German manufacturers to put up small branch factories in Danzig where they enjoy the protection of what is virtually German law, but escape the prohibitive Polish customs duties. Danzig is now manufacturing machinery and railway wagons (at the former Danzig dock, now the International Shipbuilding Corporation, where submarines were made during the war), furniture, tinware, chocolates, coarser textiles, tobacco goods, liquors, and amberware, the chief market for which must continue to be Poland.

But the increasing cost of labor due to the raising of the customs tariff, is apt to counterbalance the savings achieved by manufacturing inside Danzig.

IT'S NATURAL RESOURCES

This increase of local manufacture and the aim of the free state to make itself economically independent has led to the building of hydro-electric power works on the River Radunia. A huge area is brought under water by the construction of a fall of 150 feet yielding 10,000 horse-power or 14,000,000 kilowatt hours yearly is developed. This will save Danzig 55,000 tons of imported coal per day. Further hydro-electric power schemes are under discussion. The German Siemens and Halske works carried out this work, and are expecting a large sale for household electric fittings and conveniences. A British firm is trying to secure the contract for the copper cables and fixtures for the municipality, which owns the works. The £1,500,000 British loan recently made to Danzig for improvements of the harbor, docks and quays gives British contractors a pull.

Danzig has its own currency—the Danzig gulden—which is only twenty-fifth of sterling. The population of the free state is 400,000 for which the Bank of Danzig is permitted by its charter to issue up to 4,000,000 gulden in notes (about $8,000,000), which never falls below 95% is a credit to the Bank of England, the notes are redeemable by cheque on the Bank of England. The state finances since the currency stabilization have always shown a substantial surplus. Business men complain that taxation is too high, but as Danzig has no reparations obligations in the strict sense, the Free State suffers from heavy taxation less than surrounding countries. Both state and private finances, therefore, are sound. It is as bankers with centuries of experience that Danzig will render its chief service to Poland, in dispensing credit on behalf of foreign lenders who know too little about

GEN. BLAND-STRANGE DIED IN ENGLAND

London, July 10 (Canadian Press Cable)—Major-General Thomas Bland-Strange, who was well-known in Canada many years ago, died at Camberley, Surrey, yesterday. He was ninety-four years old. General Strange was Inspector of Canadian Artillery in 1871. He was commandant of the fortress of Quebec for some time. He made a name as a daring and successful military officer during the Canadian Northwest Rebellion of 1885.

New Policy—New Plan—New Prices

Amazing reductions in tire prices! Partridge has effected one of the greatest advances in the history of tire manufacture and merchandising. Manufacturing costs have been reduced. Production has been increased. Distribution costs have been cut. Selling prices greatly lowered. Yet the high quality of Partridge tires has been carefully maintained. Partridge tires are by far the best value on the market to-day. They are tough, long-lived and cheaper than such quality tires have ever been before. And the Partridge guarantee is as substantial as ever.

WHY WE CAN DO IT

The Partridge factory has been newly equipped with greatly improved machinery of the latest design. Production has been speeded up—costs greatly reduced. Then, too, Partridge merchandising methods have been changed. Increased production enables both factory and distribution costs to be cut. And the sum total of all these reductions means a big cut in the sales price—a great benefit to every buyer of Partridge Tires.

Buy Partridge Tires at the Partridge "Quality" Tire Shops. They are durable, easy-riding, and free from ordinary tire trouble. Why pay more for other kinds? Remember the Partridge factory at Guelph stands solidly back of their product and their dealers to guarantee you entire satisfaction.

Let us show you these Partridge Tire values.

Measured by Miles—

Or, "What Price Gasoline?"

The number of miles you get from your motor—the quality of its performance—the cost of its upkeep—all these are part of the price of gasoline.

That's why Union is the most economical gasoline on the market—because its quality is highest. Yet its price is never more than that of any good gasoline.

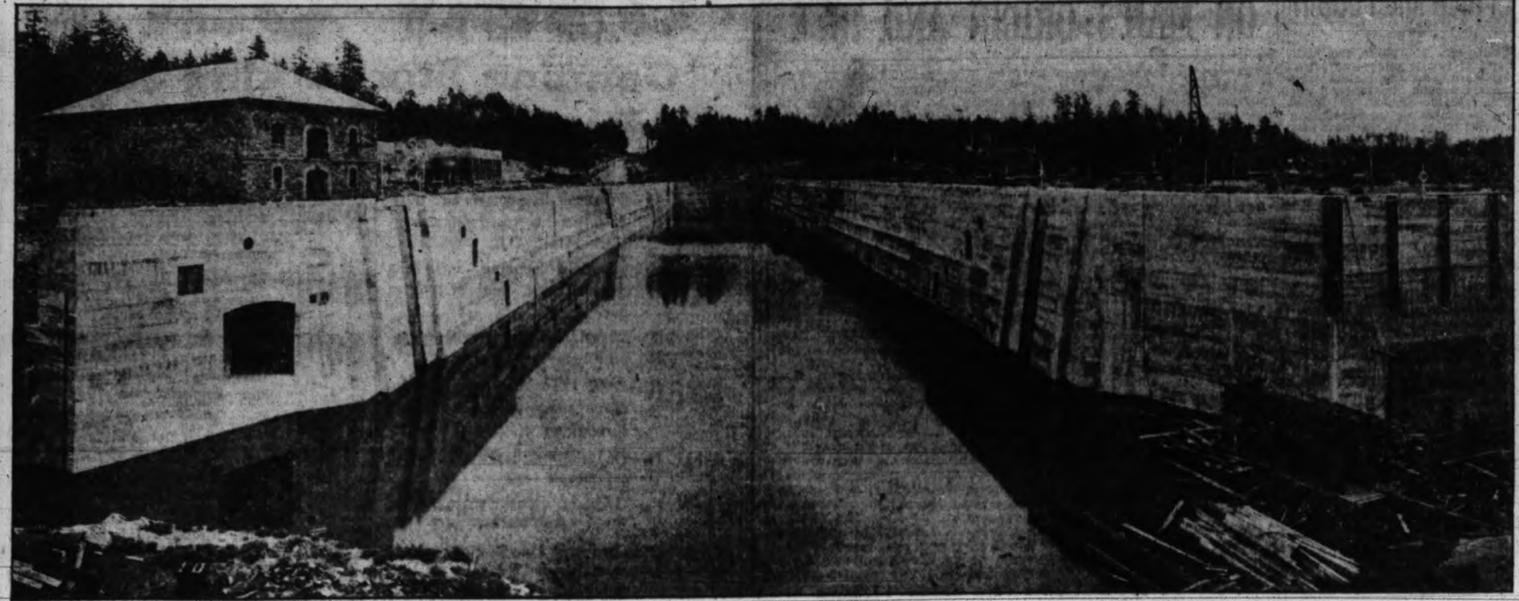

And Union Gasoline is non-detonating. Which means that its power-impulses are not hammer-like blows. They follow through! This means much to a motor. It means, for one thing, quick-starting. Also, swift, vibrationless pick-up, and even, gliding speed.

ESQUIMALT DRYDOCK, SECOND LARGEST IN WORLD, FLOODED FOR FIRST TIME

This is the first picture taken of the new graving basin at Esquimalt since it was flooded recently upon the completion of the inferior work in the dock. Yarrows Limited, Esquimalt, are now at work on the construction of the two huge floating caissons which will form the gates to the dock. The caissons will be unique in design and will be floated into position and sunk. When the gates are again to be opened pumps carried on the caissons will pump out the water ballast and the gates will rise above the surface to be floated away to admit of the entry of a vessel.

EXTRAORDINARY CAREER OF "CHIEF WHITE ELK" STARTED IN VICTORIA

Commissioner W. E. Ditchburn, Indian Agent Here, Successful in Running Impostor to Earth After Exciting Chase Which Led Through Half the Countries of Europe.

The adventures of "Chief White Elk," who commenced a promising career with a roadshow that played in the Variety Theatre of Victoria in 1922 and that ended with his arrest in an Italian court on a charge of obtaining 1,000,000 lire from an Italian Countess are recounted by W. E. Ditchburn, Indian Commissioner, who was instrumental in exposing the impostor.

As "Dr. Trewhanna" Edgar Laplante, a half bred Indian of Pawtucket, R.I., arrived in this city in 1922. With him was a prepossessing young Indian woman. The pair staged an Indian act at the Variety Theatre entitled "Before the White Man Came." Laplante billed himself as "Chief White Elk" and appeared in the full accoutrements of a native tribal chieftain from the plains.

At the conclusion of his act he would give an address on Indian customs and spoke convincingly on what he described as the condition of the red men to-day. His Indian partner sang Indian love lyrics in an exceptionally fine voice and took occasion to rap the Dominion authorities for what she claimed was lack of educational facilities for the Indians in Canada. "Chief White Elk" made the claim that he had taken his degree of medicine at the Carlisle University, but said he was not allowed to practice in the United States.

PROMISED AMENDMENT Attracted by the allegations against the Indian administration Commissioner W. E. Ditchburn interviewed "Chief White Elk" and his companion after the first show. "Dr. Trewhanna" admitted that the allegations as to lack of educational facilities were unfounded and promised to amend matters at the next show. Shortly after that the couple left town and played in Nanaimo and other Island centres.

The next word of "Chief White Elk" came by way of a hurry-up cable from the late P. C. Wade, K.C., former Agent-General in London, who said that the man was in England and representing himself as chief of all British Columbia tribes on the grounds of investigation into educational affairs.

POLICE ON TRAIL Then followed in succession wires from the chiefs of police of many English cities, notably Manchester, where "Chief White Elk's" show "Before the White Man Came," was having a spirited run. Statements made there aroused the suspicion of the authorities and led to an investigation in which Commissioner Ditchburn was successful in tracing "Chief White Elk" as an impostor.

Edgar Laplante, to call the man by his real name, had visited the Kootenay country, where he purchased a quantity of Indian clothing and tribal fittings. In England he represented himself as a "Cherokee Indian of B.C." As a matter of fact the Cherokee Indian is confined to Oklahoma, it is stated. In Manchester "Chief White Elk" was a "Mackinac Indian."

Having nabbed the fraud Commissioner Ditchburn heard no more about the case until this week word of the man's arrest in Italy came through when it was said he was accused of obtaining 1,000,000 lire from the Countess of Khevenhuller after a long and successful season in fashionable European resorts while representing himself as an Indian prince from North America.

Ditchburn.

One appointment is listed this week, that of Richard H. Moore, who has been appointed by the Civil Service Commissioner to replace W. J. RECOGNITION PLEA MADE BY TOFINO

Struggling Behind Barriers For Thirty Years, Says Writer

A plea from Tofino for the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to help in its development was received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to-day. A letter from John W. Thompson, secretary of the Tofino League, referred to Tofino as a small struggling community imprisoned for thirty years behind mountain barriers with the sea as the only means of ingress and egress. They had, he claimed, a combination of mountain scenery that for grandeur and beauty stood without equal on the whole American continent. The district, he claimed, had been ignored or overlooked by the Government and although it would be a great scenic asset, had seemingly been left far behind in the race for recognition. Several hundred posters were forwarded for distribution among the touring public.

ROAD SUPERVISION EXPENSE HERE IS SHOWING BIG DROP

Percentage of Total Cost Reduced Below Private Firms' Figures

Cost of supervising Government public works in British Columbia is being reduced heavily as a result of efficient methods installed in the last few years, figures compiled by the Public Works Department to-day show. In the interior districts this reduction is particularly marked. For instance, in District 6, which comprises practically all the East Kootenay country with its many important trunk roads, the cost of supervision has steadily decreased until now it has reached the small amount of 1.58 per cent of the total expenditure. This is much below the percentage recognized as proper by the engineering profession in private works.

The worst of British Columbia's roads are better than the best roads in Alberta. This is the striking truth said by a prominent Vancouver businessman who has just returned to the Coast after a motor tour which took him over almost every important road in the interior and then down through the Crow's Nest Pass into Alberta. In a letter to the Public Works Department this gentleman says that he found good roads everywhere in this Province except in a few places where wash-outs had occurred or where repairs were under way. This was in strange contrast to Alberta where he found the going difficult. He adds that he told a number of prominent men in Alberta that their roads were in sorry condition compared to the highways of the neighboring Province.

MAYOR WAS VICTIM OF CAR THIEF

Vancouver Police Quickly Restored Stolen Motor to Mayor Pendray

"The Vancouver police department is well organized and efficient, as far as recovery of stolen automobiles is concerned, and I so testify from my own experience," declared Mayor Pendray this morning, upon his return to his desk at the city hall after a brief visit to the Terminal City. "At 10 o'clock on Wednesday evening my car was stolen from in front of the Hotel Vancouver, and was restored to me at 3.30 o'clock the next morning, having been found at Cloverdale, adjacent to the International boundary. I had given the car up for lost, and had regarded as sheer optimism the assurances of the Vancouver police officials that they would recover the car within one day."

Marjorie Wins Her Match But Mary Is Finally Defeated

Miss Leeming Beats Winnipeg Star; Miss Campbell Loses to Edmonton Entry

Thrilling Matches in Men's Singles; Rennie Disappoints; Wright Wins Easily

Vancouver, July 10.—Miss Marjorie Leeming continued to uphold the honor of Victoria in the fourth day's play of the Canadian lawn tennis championships Thursday, disposing of Miss H. Burridge of Winnipeg, in the singles event by a score of 7-5, 6-1. Miss Leeming was rather slow in getting started, but when she finally hit her stride the prairie visitor had little chance.

Miss Mary Campbell lost her singles match to Mrs. Bourque of Edmonton, winning only one game in each set. In the mixed doubles Marjorie Leeming and John Proctor were much too strong for the Vancouver pair, Mrs. Bourque and Chaffey, winning out, 4-1, 6-1.

Miss Burridge and A. N. Lewis of Winnipeg were forced to extend themselves to win from Miss Campbell and Gordon by a score of 9-7, 3-6, 6-2. In the ladies' doubles, Miss Gillespie and Miss Munro, Vancouver, were victorious over Miss Scott and Miss Archibald, 6-1, 6-1, while Marjorie Leeming and Miss Tatlow won from Miss Richardson and Miss McNab, Vancouver, 6-1, 6-1. Leeming and her sister Hope, fell before Mrs. Muir, Vancouver, and Mrs. H. F. Wright, Ottawa, 6-4, 6-3.

In the junior doubles, Proctor and Leeming showed up against Mrs. McLean, Vancouver, 6-2, 6-2, and in the competition for boys under twenty-one, T. G. Wilson, Vancouver, beat Cunningham, 7-5, 8-6.

TURENE WINS MATCH The chief attraction of the day was again in the men's singles and doubles. Willard Crocker, after talking the first set in a nice display from J. A. Milne of Vancouver, at 6-2, had a strenuous time in the next, to win at 9-7, the Vancouver man facing his younger rival on many occasions. After a rest, Crocker came back and allowed W. B. Boucher of Vancouver a single game. A. W. Ham of Toronto, stepped ever forward by winning the opening set, but on Leon de Turenne, Seattle, the Toronto youth outgunning and anticipating his more experienced opponent.

De Turenne showed a different side in the second and played his shots more deliberately, winning at 6-3. The interchanges with both men standing on the service line, was the most spectacular bit of close contest seen during the week. Turenne had the best of the final set, Ham losing many of his depth shots for outs.

Leroy Rennie's rally in the third kept him safe at all times. The scores were 6-4, 1-6, 6-3. Wright and Scott meet to-day in a five-set semi-final, while Crocker will be opposed by Turenne.

Rennie and A. W. Ham were given a scare by McGill and Greaves, of this city, for the right to enter the men's doubles semi-final. The Toronto men were extended to the opener at 9-7 and the record at 4-0. They meet Scott and Turenne of Seattle, who were easy winners over Marion and Langlie.

In the junior men's singles the feature attraction was easily the match between Gilbert Nunn of Toronto and Howard Langlie. No finer cross-courtting has been seen during the week than that of young Nunn, who continually ace Langlie on shots that appeared to have counted for the Seattle junior champion. Nunn won the first 5-2, dropped the second at 5-7, and won the third in the twelfth game.

Yesterday's results were: MEN'S SINGLES Gilbert Nunn, Toronto, beat Travers, Vancouver, 6-1, 6-2. Howard Langlie, Seattle, beat Gillespie, Vancouver, 6-3, 6-1. C. Wilson, Vancouver, beat Cunningham, Victoria, 7-5, 8-6. Willard Crocker, Montreal, beat W. B. Boucher, Vancouver, 6-1, 6-1. Gilbert Nunn, Toronto, beat Grant, Vancouver, 6-1, 6-2. Gilbert Nunn, Toronto, beat Howard Langlie, Seattle, 5-2, 7-5, 7-5.

Willard Crocker, Montreal, beat A. S. Milne, Vancouver, 6-2, 3-7. Jack Wright beat Leroy Rennie, Toronto, 6-2, 6-0.

MEN'S DOUBLES Milne and G. Peers, Vancouver, beat Walker and Bramhall, Vancouver, 6-2, 6-2. McGill and Greaves, Vancouver, beat Proctor and Gordon, Victoria, 6-4, 6-2. Crocker and Wright, Montreal, beat Caselman and Dunsworth, Edmonton, 6-3, 6-2. Leroy Rennie and A. W. Ham, Toronto, beat McGill and Greaves, Vancouver, 9-7, 6-4.

Leon de Turenne, Seattle, and Willard Crocker, Montreal, beat A. W. Ham and Howard Langlie, 4-4, 6-2.

English Varsity Track Teams Will Compete in U.S.

Cambridge, Mass., July 10.—Oxford-Cambridge and Harvard-Yale teams will meet at the Harvard Stadium to-morrow. J. H. Campbell, the Rhodes scholar at Oxford, is due to arrive in New York to-day. He is accompanied by Maurestania, with Arthur E. Perritt of New Zealand the chief hope of the English team in sprints. Other visiting athletes have a week or so. A close contest is forecast.

Want Blue Grouse As Fair Game For Period This Year

Victoria Game Association to Make Recommendation; Discuss Other Matters

Blue grouse will not escape the lead of the hunters' gun this season if the Victoria and District Fish and Game Association can have its way. At a meeting of the association held last evening in the city hall it was decided to change a recommendation made at a previous meeting, which placed a closed season on blue grouse. The association will recommend to the Provincial Game Board that blue grouse be fair game between September 12 and September 30. There was much discussion over the matter before it was finally settled.

The meeting also went into hearty discussions on other matters. The association does not like the practice of shifting game wardens to other duties when the hunting season is closed, and also views with alarm the nuisance of homeless cats and catfish and would like both done away with.

IN REGARD TO seasons for game birds, other than blue grouse, the association will make the following recommendations to the Provincial Board: Willow Grouse—To be open only for the last week of the pheasant season. Quail—November 1-30. Bag limit 10. Partridge—Saanich peninsula only. Same opening date as pheasants for a period of two weeks. Pheasants—October 17-November 23. A recommendation will be made to the Provincial authorities that the season for ducks open on October 17, to close on October 1.

A committee consisting of the following will enquire into fishing matters: E. H. Spencer, F. O. Fern, Alf Walker, E. Christopher, Ray Meldrum, W. N. Lenfesty, H. Shade, T. Peden, Col. Carey and Capt. Conington.

LADIES' SINGLES Mrs. H. F. Wright, Ottawa, beat Mrs. Leachman, 5-1, 6-1, 6-2. Miss Gillespie, Vancouver, beat Mrs. McNab, Victoria, 6-2, 6-2. Mrs. Bourque, Edmonton, beat Miss Campbell, Victoria, 6-1, 6-1. Miss M. Leeming, Victoria, beat Mrs. H. Burridge, Winnipeg, 7-5, 6-1. Miss M. Gladman, Santa Monica, beat Miss D. Scott, Victoria, 6-2, 6-2. Miss H. Burridge, Winnipeg, beat Miss Symonds, Halifax, 6-1, 6-2.

LADIES' DOUBLES Miss L. Archibald and Miss D. Scott, Victoria, beat Miss E. Morrison, Seattle, and Miss T. Moriawake, Honolulu, 6-2, 6-2. Miss M. Leeming, Victoria, and Miss Tatlow, Vancouver, beat Miss McNab and Miss Richardson, Vancouver, 6-4, 6-2. Miss Muir, Vancouver, and Mrs. H. F. Wright, Ottawa, beat Miss Campbell and Mrs. McGivern, Victoria, 6-4, 6-1. Mrs. L. Archibald and Miss D. Scott, Victoria, beat Mrs. Henderson and Miss McLean, Vancouver, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2. Miss Muir, Vancouver, and Mrs. H. F. Wright, Ottawa, beat Miss Campbell and Mrs. McGivern, Victoria, 6-4, 6-2. Mrs. Diamond and Mrs. Graham, Vancouver, beat Miss Symonds, Halifax, and Miss Ross, Vancouver, 6-3, 6-1.

Mrs. Diamond and Mrs. Graham, Vancouver, beat Miss Symonds, Halifax, and Miss Ross, Vancouver, 6-3, 6-1.

MIXED DOUBLES Mrs. H. F. Wright, Ottawa, and A. W. Ham, Toronto, beat Mrs. Milne and Grant Laisure, Seattle, by a walkover.

Miss Gillespie and Jack McGill, Vancouver, beat Mrs. Graham, Vancouver, and Armond Marion, Seattle, 6-4, 6-2.

Miss M. Leeming and J. Proctor, Victoria, beat Mrs. Bourque and Chaffey, Vancouver.

MEN'S JUNIOR DOUBLES Dan Lewis, Seattle, and Gilbert Nunn, Toronto, beat Reed and R. Peers, Vancouver, 6-2, 6-2.

East Trying To Play Fair With West in Tennis

President Meldrum of C.L.T.A. Clears Air on Controversial Matters

English Ladies' Team Cannot Come West; Venue of Davis Cup Games Discussed

Vancouver, July 10.—At the special meeting of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association held here last night at which the delegates were present from most of the member provinces, several misapprehensions were cleared up.

Discussion arose over a minute passed at a meeting of the council in Toronto, by which future tournaments must not be run concurrently with provincial meets, such as has been done in Vancouver this week. It was pointed out that this will not apply to the Canadian championships to be held in Victoria next year.

A recommendation was ordered sent to the next annual meeting that in tournaments of the future a junior ladies' event for girls under 18 be installed in the same manner as the junior men's singles. This attempt on the part of the East, under the aegis of the British, was cancelled when only three entered.

THE ONLY HOPE In connection with the Davis Cup matter and the holding of ties in the West, President Meldrum explained that under present conditions it is impossible to play a tie here, inasmuch as it was necessary to play the following round in the East, probably the United States, within four days, which is obviously impossible. The only hope was to be drawn against nations like Hawaii or New Zealand which would agree to play here.

He said there had been a misapprehension in the West regarding the venue of the Davis Cup draws. It had been understood here that the first nation out of the hat had the right to choose grounds, but this, as he stated, only in the European zone.

In the American zone, he said, it was entirely a question of arrangements between the nations concerned. Should they be unable to agree, then it was up to the holding nation to decide where the match in dispute should be settled. There was no attempt to put over anything of the sort.

LAST WEEK Cowichan launched a savage attack upon the Victoria eleven, leaders of the league, and sent them down to one of the heaviest defeats of the season. Cowichan is coming along with one of their characteristic mid-season rushes. Last week the rush carried them to the championship, but whether they can make up the intervening distance between themselves and Victoria remains to be seen.

ONE MATCH HERE There will be one other "A" Division cricket match to-morrow. Victoria will meet the Albions at the Jubilee grounds in what should prove a very interesting match. Victoria is better on batting to-day, but the Albions have no chance of winning the league this year, as they are playing good cricket.

Five "C"s, who hold second place in the league, have a bye to-morrow. One match will be played in the "B" Division to-morrow afternoon, when the "Five C's" and Albions meet at Beacon Hill.

The Victoria team to-morrow will be as follows: H. A. Tomalin (captain), Alexis Martin, J. H. Gillespie, G. O. Grant, E. L. Watson, G. Wilkin, P. H. Allwood, E. Verrall, J. Bryden, A. Farrer, A. N. Othor.

A further recommendation would make it obligatory in future national championships to play set matches in the eight as well as the semi-finals and the finals as at present.

New Westminster, July 10.—The Mann Cup race was tied up at Queen's Park last night when Vancouver Indians ran the Royals ragged over four quarters and won 7-2.

WILL TRY AGAIN

Incogs To Invade Cowichan Cricket Trench To-morrow

Up-landers Will Make Strong Bid For Another Victory; Two Matches Here

Cowichan have another chance to-morrow afternoon to add a few more needed points to their standing in the "A" Division of the Victoria and District Cricket Association. They will entertain in their home grounds at Duncan the Incogs, of Victoria.

LAST WEEK Cowichan launched a savage attack upon the Victoria eleven, leaders of the league, and sent them down to one of the heaviest defeats of the season. Cowichan is coming along with one of their characteristic mid-season rushes. Last week the rush carried them to the championship, but whether they can make up the intervening distance between themselves and Victoria remains to be seen.

ONE MATCH HERE There will be one other "A" Division cricket match to-morrow. Victoria will meet the Albions at the Jubilee grounds in what should prove a very interesting match. A further recommendation would make it obligatory in future national championships to play set matches in the eight as well as the semi-finals and the finals as at present.

Seattle Golfers To Play Colwood Here Over Week-end

A team of upward of thirty players will visit the Colwood Golf Club from the Rainier Club, Seattle, this weekend. The following players will form the Colwood team: Frank Thomas, B. P. Schwengers, C. P. W. Schwengers, H. P. Hodges, J. Graham, A. M. Wood, C. L. MacKenzie, J. A. Hayward, W. S. Ellis, J. N. Miss Brown, after her singles defeat, played great tennis in mixed doubles paired with Cranston Holman, eighteen-year-old Californian, who was beaten in the singles by Yale tennis team, defeated Harvard 6-4, 6-4 in the singles. Crowd of 45,000 Watches Giants Defeat Pirates

Kelly Hits Homer With Two on to Thrill Greatest Week-day Crowd Has Known

Washington Pulls Away From Philadelphia; Detroit Moving up Towards Top

New York, July 10.—The battle for National League leadership ends to-day with the Pirates still on top of the heap. Defeated in two out of three games in the present series with the Giants, Pittsburgh can lose again to-day and still retain the lead.

The Pirates won the first game of a double-header with the Giants yesterday, beating four pitchers, 7-3. The locals won the second with a score 4-3 against them. Erich of the Giants singled, Meusel doubled and Kelly hit a home run.

Duzzy Vance, Brooklyn pitching ace, pitched yesterday. The crowd also hit. With two on base, N. closed a home and the Robins nosed out the Cubs 4-2.

Eight scattered hits off Haines yielded the Braves only one run and St. Louis beat Boston 5-1.

The Reds split a twin bill with the Phillies, Cincinnati taking the first 6-3 as Carlson weakened in the eighth and ninth after having a brilliant ball. Thirty-three hits were crowded into the second game with the Phillies improving on a five-run start in the first inning to win 11-8.

SENATORS PULLING AWAY The Senators drew further away from the Athletics by riding to an 8-5 victory on the wings of a wild pitch by Lyons, White Sox pitcher. The teams played eleven innings before Chicago cracked.

After pulling up to within two runs of Cleveland in the seventh the Athletics were beaten by rain and lost 12-11.

The Yanks and St. Louis were stilled by rain in the fourth inning. Detroit, in fourth place, pulled up to within a game and a half of Chicago by taking its third straight victory from Boston 8-2. Leonard allowed only five hits. It was his tenth triumph of the year.

NATIONAL LEAGUE Philadelphia, July 10.—Cincinnati split even in a doubleheader here yesterday, winning the first game 6 to 2 and losing the second 11 to 8. Benton and Carlson both pitched eight ball over the last portion of the opening game but weakened toward the close. A five run in the first inning of the second game gave the Phillies a lead that was never headed, although the Reds staged a four-run rally in the ninth.

First game—R. H. E. Cincinnati, 6 12 0 Philadelphia, 2 3 11. Benton, May and Wingo; Carlson and Wilson.

RECORD CROWD AT THE PIT The New York Giants and the Pirates maintained their one game margin over the New York Giants by splitting a doubleheader with the Pirates at the Polo Grounds yesterday, the visitors winning the opening game 12 to 3, but losing the final 7 to 5. Twenty-five thousand spectators attended the game. The Reds staged a four-run rally in the ninth in the first game for sixteen hits while Emil Yde held the champions to eight scattered hits. Meusel's home run with two on base accounted for the only runs scored by the Giants.

Wayland Dean, youthful Giant twirler, opposed Johnny Morrison of the Pirates on the pitching mound for the second game. By the time the game started 45,000 spectators, the largest week-day crowd in the history of the game, filled the stands.

ST. LOUIS WINS Boston, July 10.—Jesse Haines pitched effectively for St. Louis yesterday against the Boston Braves and the former won 5 to 1. O'Farrell's hitting and Bell's fielding were the features. Yesterday's victory gave the Cardinals an even break in the four-game series.

R. H. E. St. Louis, 5 7 0 Boston, 1 3 0. Haines and O'Farrell; Cooney and Gibson.

WALTER HOOPER

On Monday Hoover, the champion sculler of America, will race Jack Beresford, Jr., of England on the Thames. Beresford beat Hoover in the Diamond Sculls this year and at the Olympiad last year. Hoover was anxious to race Beresford for the Philadelphia Golf Cup which the Americans claim denote the world's championship. Beresford at first refused, but when the Americans appealed to his British sportsmanship he agreed.

Plater's Goals Bring Victory To Esquimalt Twelve

Esquimalt's intermediate lacrosse team went to Sidney last evening and won their match with the "Millers" by a score of 4 goals to 3. A fair crowd of spectators attended, and Frank Smith refereed.

There was little to choose between the two teams. In the first quarter Sidney scored on a shot by Anderson, but Wright squared the count for Esquimalt. Neither side could find the net in the second quarter, but Sidney went into the lead for the second time in the third quarter when Crossley beat Banks with a whistling shot. The Sidney lead, however, was short-lived, as Blair evaded the Esquimalt. In the fourth quarter Bowcott shoved Sidney to the front once more, but Esquimalt had enough left to not only even the score, but to win. Young Plater rushed in to goals that snatched victory out of what seemed certain defeat.

The teams were: Sidney—J. Crossley, Hill, Gilman, Davis, G. Bowcott, A. Munn, Ward, Anderson, L. Crossley, Clanton and W. Lind. Reserves, H. Nunn, H. Lind, Davis and E. Bowcott.

Esquimalt—Banks, Swenney, Mercer, Hicks, Fooks, Knapies, White, Wright, Plater, Wrasfka, Scaife and Blair. Reserve, Jenkins.

The next match is a senior fixture at Sidney on Saturday, between the Garrison and Sidney.

Villa is Seeking Match With Genaro To Settle Trouble

San Francisco, July 10.—Pancheo Villa, world's champion flyweight boxer, and his manager, Frank Churchill, are dickering for a fight with Frankie Genaro, American flyweight titleholder.

The fighting midget from Manila has been suffering from a cold. Villa is recuperating from an operation on his teeth, which, announcement from his camp, said, put him in poor condition for the bout at Oakland Saturday, when he is expected to decide to take the fight with Genaro.

Genaro is negotiating with Genaro's manager, Genaro holds two decisions over Villa for the American title. They met in New York and Villa's camp still protests, contending that he got a raw deal in the first round. Villa is confident that he can clear the slate if he gets another chance at Frankie.

Thurston pitched a good game until the ninth inning, when he was driven off the hill. Connally was unable to stop the attack and the visitors tied the score, forcing the game into extra innings.

WHO IS THE SOMEWHAT MYSTERIOUS CROWN PRINCE OF SPAIN?

Future King of World Power, But His Life Is Secret; Seldom Seen in Madrid and Public Knows Him Not

LONDON, July 10.—Don Alfonso, King Alfonso XIV, heir to the throne of Spain—wrapped in mystery, least known and least seen person in all Spain.

Edward, Prince of Wales, heir to the throne of Great Britain—open as the day, best known and most observed person in the British Empire.

This contrast was suddenly borne in on loyal Spaniards the other day when the police frustrated an attempt to bomb King Alfonso XIII as he was departing with his Queen from Barcelona to Madrid. For then Spaniards began asking each other—

"What kind of youth is this future King Alfonso XIV?"

And they had to confess they didn't know. The Prince of Wales lives in a glass house, as it were, observed by all the world.

But young Don Alfonso has been hedged off from the people. Tens of thousands in Madrid have never laid eyes on him. Sinister rumors, are afloat to the effect that he has a weak spine, and can't walk, just as some of his brothers suffer from dumbness and deafness. The only picture to the contrary is a recent picture showing him on the streets with his guest, young Prince William Hohenzollern, eldest son of Germany's former Crown Prince—and who recently went on a sightseeing trip in Madrid.

The capital city doesn't know what are Don Alfonso's tastes in sports, in amusements, in clothes. And the secrecy with which his personality his doings and his studies are surrounded is in marked contrast with what took place for some months before and after his birth.

All Spain was excited by the prospect of the birth of an heir to King Alfonso XIII, then himself only twenty-one and not overly robust, thanks to his inheritance from a tubercular father. Long accounts were published in the Spanish papers giving details of the gorgeous layette prepared for the royal babe. All Madrid was on fete on May 10, 1907, when it was announced that the child was a boy.

There was gorgeous pageantry and ceremony when he was solemnly christened Alfonso, after his father, after Prince Charles of Bourbon, Enrique after his English grandfather Prince Henry of Battenburg, Eugenie after former Empress Eugenie of France and Fernando after his father's second name.

It was given out that the babe had fair hair and blue eyes like his English mother and therefore was very un-Spanish looking.

All Spain was tickled, too, by the way in which the youngster's first birthday was celebrated. The queen brought him to his father all dressed up in a tiny uniform of the King's Own Regiment of Infantry. And the surprised parent at once called in the Minister of War and the colonel of the regiment and had the babe enrolled as a private.

Then came an interval of silence until the kid was four. Once more a pretty story was given out. A young widow, whose officer husband had been killed in the fighting in Cuba, applied for a pension which was very slow in coming. In desperation she wrote a letter to the baby crown prince. King Alfonso had it sent in to the child.

"What did it say?" the king asked of the stolid English nurse.

"Nothing," said the truthful Englishwoman.

"Ah, silence is consent," said the king. "I shall write that the Prince of the Asturias has granted the woman her pension."

After that the news became more meagre. It was said that at the age of six the little Alfonso already knew much about motor machinery, being taught at Santander; that he became an expert in the art of stuffing animals, being taught by the taxidermists connected with the Natural History Museum in Madrid; and that he spoke French and English as fluently as he did his native Spanish.

He is a very junior subaltern in the Spanish navy, having been trained on the cruiser Espana. And only recently he was made lieutenant in the King's Own Regiment of Infantry in which before that it was said he had done some hard slog-ging as corporal and sergeant.

The last time the crown prince broke into print was in October of last year when as Count of Madrid he was visiting incognito in Paris. According to this yarn, which was afterwards carefully denied as are so many stories concerning the Spanish royal family, the count was wandering around the old streets of Paris, when a volunteer guide undertook to take him into a very ancient house once lived in by King Henry Fourth.

Instead, the prince was inveigled into a room where a couple of robbers were lying in wait. But the prince called loudly for help. The police appeared on the scene and Spain's future king was saved the humiliation of having his pockets emptied of their gold.

CONFERENCE IN U.S. ON MINERS' WAGES

Atlantic City, July 10.—Negotiations between the anthracite mine owners of the United States and their employees to renew the contract which will expire August 31, 15-day session this afternoon called the "coast sheet stage." The scale sub-committee of twelve, appointed at the opening joint conference yesterday to take up the actual dickering of the men's demands, will hold its first session this afternoon. Statistical experts of both sides are being roomed to offer either proof or contradiction that 150,000 miners in the hard coal fields are entitled to what they call "more than requests, but something less than demands," for a ten per cent wage increase, a two-year contract, the union checkoff, by which mine auditors collect union dues from the men's pay, and for various improvements in working conditions.

Atlantic City, N.J., July 10.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers yesterday presented to anthracite mine owners in joint conference demands of 150,000 miners for a ten per cent wage increase, the check-off, a two-year contract and various improvements in working conditions on expiration of the present contract, August 31.

Samuel D. Warriner, chairman of the anthracite operators' conference, in reply confessed to "wonder and amazement" at the terms. He said market conditions dictated a wage decrease rather than an increase and pronounced the operators' historic hostility to the check-off as "unabated," but closed by urging arbitration in event of a deadlock.

GREEK REFUGEES BRING REVIVAL TO ANCIENT COUNTRY

Nationals Shipped Back From Turkey Bring Valuable Industries With Them

Making of Attar of Roses and Rug Weaving Transplanted to Greece, Booming Trade

New York, July 10.—The economic situation in Greece was profoundly affected during the past two years by the arrangement entered into between the Greek and Turkish governments at the Lausanne Convention in January, 1923, for the mutual interchange of their respective nationals. This condition was brought about as a climax of the unsuccessful war with Turkey and the determination of Turkey to return to the status of a neutral nation.

In the two years which have elapsed since the arrangement of Lausanne, it has been necessary for the Greek government to find homes for upwards of 1,300,000 refugees from East Thrace and Anatolia. On the other hand, under the agreement approximately 300,000 Turks have gone from Greece into Turkey. The net increase in the population of Greece brought about by these events has been 15%.

Government Agricultural Report Issued by Washington Showing Conditions of an enormous corn crop, probably the third largest ever grown, slight improvement in prospects for wheat, and a higher condition than the prediction of the smallest potato production since 1919 and unfavorable fruit forecasts were set forth in the July crop report issued yesterday by the Department of Agriculture.

Washington, July 10.—Indications of an enormous corn crop, probably the third largest ever grown, slight improvement in prospects for wheat, and a higher condition than the prediction of the smallest potato production since 1919 and unfavorable fruit forecasts were set forth in the July crop report issued yesterday by the Department of Agriculture.

Among the causes listed for the large increase were the high price of corn and a tendency to increase feed crops for livestock. The condition of the crop ranges from average to excellent outside of drought areas in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. In the corn belt the crop was thriving. Wheat prospects increased 19,000,000 bushels during June, a forecast of 530,000,000 bushels now being made for this season. Winter wheat lost 3,400,000 bushels during the month, but spring wheat prospects increased 22,000,000 bushels.

Production of wheat in eleven countries of the Northern Hemisphere, including the United States, which produce normally fifty-nine per cent of the northern hemisphere crop and fifty-two per cent of the world crop outside Russia and China, was estimated on the basis of latest advices to the department at 1,568,000,000 bushels, or 124,000,000 bushels less than last year.

Indicated production of potatoes was 350,000,000 bushels, which would be 105,000,000 less than the large crop of last year. A great reduction in acreage which is the lowest since 1907 was attributed to losses suffered by producers as a result of the heavy production of a year ago.

The season has been unfavorable for fruit production throughout most of the country, except on the Pacific Coast. The gain in peaches, pears and grapes over last year in this region, however, has been sufficient to offset the decrease in the rest of the country, and nearly sufficient to do so in the case of commercial apples. The total apple crop was forecast at 357,000,000 bushels, or 22,000,000 bushels less than last year.

Production of barley, rice, sweet potatoes, tobacco and peanuts, promised to be larger than last year, but smaller crops of oats, rye, flaxseed and hay were indicated. Sugar beet acreage was placed at 776,000 acres, and the condition of the crop 79.7 per cent of normal, with the forecast of production 6,195,000 tons, compared with 7,513,000 last year. The forecast of production of principal producing areas gave Michigan 812,000 tons; Nebraska 655,000 tons; Montana and Wyoming 577,000; Colorado 1,333,000; Utah 815,000; Idaho 323,000 and California 735,000.

or almost three times the 1923 exports which were valued at $1,750,000. On the other hand Greek imports from America during 1924 were $18,722,000 as compared with $11,900,000 during 1923. In the first quarter of 1925 exports from Greece to the United States were valued at $5,710,000 again more than double the 1924 figure of $2,045,000, while the imports were valued at $7,260,000 or more than three times the imports of $2,085,000 for 1924.

Turning to the government finances Bankers Trust Company notes some improvement in the budget which shows a deficit for the year 1924-1925 of $90,590,000 drachmas as compared with a deficit of 2,900,000,000 drachmas in 1923-1924 and 3,200,000,000 drachmas in 1922-1923. The ordinary revenue amounted to 4,180,538,343 drachmas and ordinary expenditures to 3,777,626,691 drachmas, leaving a surplus of 402,911,652 drachmas, while the extraordinary revenue and extraordinary expenditures amounted to 599,538,750 and 2,043,439,615 respectively, or a deficit of 1,443,500,865 which shows that the deficit is entirely due to extraordinary expenditures.

To further improve the financial situation, the government which has just been returned, recently drafted a bill imposing additional taxes. It is difficult to determine now whether the new government will carry on this plan or perhaps devise even a better one. The national debt of Greece as of March 31, 1924, amounted to 9,237,650,181 drachmas as compared with $413,975,843 drachmas for 1923. The only important modification from April to December 31, 1924, was brought about by the conclusion of the Refugee Loan which increased the national debt by $11,300,000 of which however $1,000,000 had been advanced already and taken into consideration in the figure for March, so that the net increase is $10,300,000 equivalent at par of exchange to 284,986,000 drachmas, thus making the total debt as of December 31, 1924, 9,572,656,181 drachmas.

The note issues which in 1913 amounted to 234,476,000 drachmas increased to 5,292,064,230 at the end of 1924 with a corresponding depreciation in value as shown by the rate of exchange which from a par value of 19.3 cents in 1913 fell to an average of $0.41709 in 1923. During 1924 the government took every possible step to maintain the exchange at a workable level, resorting to artificial measures by means of government purchase of sales of sterling and dollars. The measures adopted proved to a certain extent successful and the exchange rose to $0.6182 at the end of 1924 with a temporary stabilization of the drachmas, which however has again depreciated this year and is now, at the end of June, quoted at $0.6173.

They were hotel acquaintances, and as they sat on the promenade Mr. Newrich said: "I hear, my lady, that you are going away from here."

"Yes," said my lady, "I am afraid the dump tires do not agree with me."

"But surely," said Mrs. Newrich, "there is no need for you to eat pears at all?"

EDMONTON SURGEON ACQUITT BY JURY

Edmonton, July 10.—Dr. John A. Hislop was acquitted by a jury here last night of charges of manslaughter and performing an illegal operation, the charges growing out of the death of Patti Thelma Burnup, a stenographer, in a private nursing home operated by Mrs. Olive Walker. The jury deliberated three hours and fifty minutes.

The trial was ordered by the appellate division of the Supreme Court of Alberta after a conviction by a jury in the first trial last January had been quashed. Dr. Hislop was at that time sentenced by Mr. Justice Walsh to serve three years in the penitentiary at Prince Albert.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunter were discussing married happiness. "You know my friend Jenkins, don't you, dear?" said Mr. Gunter after a while.

"Yes, dear." "Well, that man has the most happy ideas about marriage."

"Really?" "Yes, he believes that man and wife should always be in full harmony; that they should have no thought in the world but true domestic happiness."

"Splendid; and, of course, Mrs. Jenkins agrees with him?" "Not so fast, my dear; Jenkins is not married."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Proud Turtle

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate (By Howard R. Garis.)

Once upon a time there was an old mud turtle gentleman who was very proud. Quite too proud for his own good, as you shall see. He was so proud that he wasn't content to crawl along slowly, as did all the other turtles.

"I am tired of going slow," said Mr. Nip, which was this turtle's name. "I do not see why I can not go fast like a pussy cat or a puppy dog. Why, I was watching Jackie Bow Wow the other day," said Mr. Nip to his wife, "and though I am ever so many years older than he is, why Jackie ran along as fast as the wind! I want to travel fast, and what is more, I'm going to."

was intended to do, I shall never see my husband again." "Don't worry!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "I think after he has traveled fast for a little while, Mr. Nip will have all he wants of it. After that he will be satisfied to crawl as you do. Leave it to me."

So Mrs. Nipp left it to Uncle Wiggily who, the next day, called on the old turtle gentleman. "I hear you want to travel fast," said the bunny. "Yes," answered Mr. Nip, "it's so

"You can't," said his wife, who wasn't at all proud, but who was satisfied to live in the mud pond all her life. "You can't go fast!" "Yes, I can!" snapped the proud turtle. "You watch! I am going to travel fast. It's all nonsense for me to take three days to crawl around this little pond. Jackie Bow Wow could run around it in half a minute. I'm going to do the same!"

"Oh, dear!" What's the world coming to when a turtle wants to travel like an airship?" sighed Mrs. Nip. And she was so worried about it that she made her way to Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow and told him. "So your husband is proud, is he, and wants to travel fast?" asked the bunny gentleman. "Well I think I can fix it so that he can have his way about it. I'll help him to travel fast."

"But what about me?" asked Mrs. Nip. "If he gets to traveling fast and I still have to crawl slowly as I

Off trotted the doggie boy.

"Now take Mr. Nip along as fast as he wants to go," said Uncle Wiggily. Off trotted the doggie boy, hauling the old gentleman mud turtle. At first it was very jolly and Mr. Nip smiled as he stuck his head out of his shell and cried: "This is the life!"

"But, all of a sudden, Jackie saw his brother Peetie running down the path. "Where you going, Peetie?" barked Jackie. "To the store to buy a lollypop!" answered Peetie. "Come along and I'll give you a taste!" Then Peetie ran very fast and Jackie, of course, ran after him, so that the little cart bounced up and down over the stones and swayed from side to side.

"Wait! Wait! Not so fast! Whoa! Hold on! Oh, I'm bouncing out!" cried Mr. Nip, and a moment later the cart upset and out he spilled. And only that he quickly drew his head, legs and tail inside his shell he might have been hurt. All scrouched up in a heap he lay on the ground. He was somewhat dazed and dizzy, as Mr. Nip, when Uncle Wiggily hopped up to him a few minutes later.

"That's too bad—Jackie running away with you like this" said the bunny. "I'll hop after him and bring him and the cart back." "No—don't!" said Mr. Nip slowly. "I've had enough of traveling fast. I don't know what to do now. From now on I'll be content to crawl." And he was. He had gotten over being proud. And if the button hook doesn't pull the stockings down off the legs of the dining-room table and make it catch cold, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the cat tail.

"That sounds very jolly," said the turtle. "The sooner the better!" Soon the little cart on wheels was ready and Uncle Wiggily helped Mr. Nip to crawl up into it. Then Jackie was harnessed to the cart.

U.S. GRAIN CROPS IMPROVE; FRUIT OUTLOOK POORER

Government Agricultural Report Issued by Washington Showing Conditions

Washington, July 10.—Indications of an enormous corn crop, probably the third largest ever grown, slight improvement in prospects for wheat, and a higher condition than the prediction of the smallest potato production since 1919 and unfavorable fruit forecasts were set forth in the July crop report issued yesterday by the Department of Agriculture.

Among the causes listed for the large increase were the high price of corn and a tendency to increase feed crops for livestock. The condition of the crop ranges from average to excellent outside of drought areas in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. In the corn belt the crop was thriving. Wheat prospects increased 19,000,000 bushels during June, a forecast of 530,000,000 bushels now being made for this season. Winter wheat lost 3,400,000 bushels during the month, but spring wheat prospects increased 22,000,000 bushels.

Production of wheat in eleven countries of the Northern Hemisphere, including the United States, which produce normally fifty-nine per cent of the northern hemisphere crop and fifty-two per cent of the world crop outside Russia and China, was estimated on the basis of latest advices to the department at 1,568,000,000 bushels, or 124,000,000 bushels less than last year.

The season has been unfavorable for fruit production throughout most of the country, except on the Pacific Coast. The gain in peaches, pears and grapes over last year in this region, however, has been sufficient to offset the decrease in the rest of the country, and nearly sufficient to do so in the case of commercial apples. The total apple crop was forecast at 357,000,000 bushels, or 22,000,000 bushels less than last year.

Production of barley, rice, sweet potatoes, tobacco and peanuts, promised to be larger than last year, but smaller crops of oats, rye, flaxseed and hay were indicated. Sugar beet acreage was placed at 776,000 acres, and the condition of the crop 79.7 per cent of normal, with the forecast of production 6,195,000 tons, compared with 7,513,000 last year. The forecast of production of principal producing areas gave Michigan 812,000 tons; Nebraska 655,000 tons; Montana and Wyoming 577,000; Colorado 1,333,000; Utah 815,000; Idaho 323,000 and California 735,000.

When the sheriff's officers went to Chinatown in search of him Wong had vanished, along with his store and stock.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, July 10—For the major part of the session the wheat market here to-day was strong and firm, gaining about one cent over the previous close, but lack of buying power during the last hour induced rapid fluctuations.

Trade generally throughout the day was light, both on the buying and selling sides, but the undertone was firm.

The coarse grain markets followed the trend of wheat and all closed lower with trade very limited.

Winnipeg, July 9 (R. P. Clark & Co. Ltd.)—Wheat: The market was very dull to-day, lacking buying power, but offerings were extremely light.

The market gradually gathered strength, October advancing 1 cent, over the previous close, and held very firm around the high, but near the close market failed to hold mid-season gains and Winnipeg Chicago finally closing at 110 1/2.

Conditions in western Canada continue excellent with all reports from the West very favorable. The weather has now turned fine and warm and this is what is required to bring along the crops more rapidly.

Coarse grains—A very small trade was in evidence in these markets with prices following the trend of wheat.

Flax—Trade light. Very little pressure, believe market is on control of crushers.

A letter that had been brought by the postman was thinner than the bulky one a struggling young author usually received. He tore it open, eagerly and read:

"Your recent letter stating that you enclosed manuscript of story, with stamps for return if suitable, has been received. Your contribution is accepted."

"At last!" exclaimed the young author, joyfully. But his heart seemed to sink as his eyes caught the following: "P.S. You neglected to enclose the manuscript."

Crawford, Thomas Murphy's horse, won the sixteenth Favern—Stead, another $5,000 event, taking the first three heats easily.

Crawford, setting his own pace in the first heat of the 2:12 trot, ran the fastest quarter and half mile of the meeting, and the time being 2:03 3-5 and 1:02 2-5 respectively.

The world's trotting record for three-quarters of a mile was lowered again yesterday when Kentucky boy won the first heat of the 1:20 trot in 1:22. This clip one-fifth of a second off the mark established by Lady Alethair Monday.

TIMES CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE
Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the word, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both as a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. They furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. This will in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

"The Steadfast Heart"

By Clarence Budington Kelland
Above the roaring of the engines the sound reached Crane's consciousness; he turned his face and his features—mirrored—first—astonishment, then unbelief, then wild, unbalanced terror. For an instant the car raged side by side, then, as if the strain were too great to be supported, Crane's hands twitched upon the wheel; their grip must have loosened, for the car swerved sharply. Its forward wheel overtopped the edge of the ditch and it took the plunge; careening wildly, rocking, swaying, sliding—until with a terrific crash it encountered a tree. There it seemed to pause for an appreciable instant before it buckled, slid to the right and overturned. . . .

CHAPTER XXVII
Craig Browning brought home the news to Mary as soon as his presence was no longer required at the bank—hurried home to forestall distorted rumor. The task of breaking the news to Lydia disturbed him more than he would have cared to admit, for he and Mary were aware the girl was passing through some trying crisis. High-strung, temperamental, imaginative as Lydia was, Craig feared the results of a husband that the father of her future husband was an embezzler, had met his death in an effort to escape with money which he had stolen. "She'll have to know, of course," Mary Browning said apprehensively, "but—she's shut in her room now, Craig. Something's happened again. Mal was here this afternoon—and there was some sort of a quarrel. . . . I can't understand Lydia—but I don't believe she cares for Mal. Never saw I seen an engaged girl act as she acts. Poor Mal, I'm so sorry for him."

Lydia was terrified at the prospect. She had arrived at a point where she abhorred the thought of giving herself to Malcolm, where she felt an actual, living, physical repulsion. . . . To be his wife, living under the same roof with him in the intimacy of marriage, seemed horrible, monstrous. . . . But she had given her word. Over and over she declared to herself that she could not, would not break it. This repetition, the necessity for bolstering up her will

SUICIDE IN TAXICAB

Haverhill, Mass., July 10—Ernest Squires, forty, salesman for a New York shoe firm, hailed a taxicab here last night, gave the driver an envelope addressed to an undertaker and told him to drive so slowly that he would not reach the shop before 10 o'clock. Instead Roy Allen, the driver, sped his car to the police station. Squires was found dead in the cab, an empty bottle by his side.

PREPARE TO BUILD NEW PALESTINE IN HOMELAND OF JEWS
British and Jewish Nations United in Effort Would Achieve Much
Leader of Jewish Thought Talks to Victoria Audience
Having come from the East of Canada with a message in his heart, Rev. Dr. B. Brickner, one of Canada's foremost Jewish scholars, last night told a large audience in the Jewish Synagogue of his hopes, his nation's aspirations for a new Palestine and a better and broader understanding between two great and similarly inclined nations, the British and the Jews.
"My work and reason for coming here to-night," said Rabbi Brickner, "is that I may further the upbuilding of a great spiritual and cultural centre of the world by two peoples, the British and the Jews."
That the British and Jewish peoples had a splendid and striking unity of sentiment and many other things in common, such as political thought, history and literature, were reasons that the speaker gave for why these two nations might well be suited to a partnership which would go far towards the saving of a civilization which some looked upon as tottering.
MATERIALISTIC AGE
"Modern civilization is in danger of being destroyed," said the speaker, "and it is endangered by the engines of its own building. It is an age of materialism in which we are living. We built the machines of iron and steel for our servants, but they have become our masters. It is from them that we should fear this destruction," he declared.
"What the world needs is spiritualization," said Dr. Brickner, suggesting a means to overcome the danger threatening. A revolutionary reaction from within would save the situation.
BRITISH INFLUENCE
"It was in Palestine," said the speaker, "that the Eastern and the Western ways of thought actually met. It was there that preparations would be made to build up a new civilization, which would be a credit to the Jews, and in which the British could co-operate and assist. In the Far East, in Egypt, India and other lands, where British influence was felt and maintained, there were clever propagandists at work trying to undermine the work for good which had been done in these countries. The British and the Jews were friends. This propaganda took the form of anti-Jewish feelings, which were spread amongst the Arabs and the plain dwellers of Asia Minor. And it was a blow aimed directly at the power of Britain in the East, at the great Empire, on which the sun never sets, and at all that modern civilization means and is striving towards—peace. It was as a remedy to this situation that the British-Jewish partnership of nations appeared to most, thought Dr. Brickner.
BRITISH ISRAELITES
Although Indians, Gypsies, Japanese and Chinese had all been suggested as the lost ten tribes of the Scriptures, there was only one nation whose people, in part, had suggested themselves, as it were, to be the descendants of the brothers of the Jews, said Rabbi Brickner. This was another bond between the two peoples. "And we are proud that British people, of British blood, should claim this bond and relationship," he added.
"It was from the ranks of the British scholars that there arose men like Dr. E. Herzl, Sir Herbert Samuel, British High Commissioner in Egypt, Sir Rufus Isaacs, and many others of past and present, Jews, who had been British."
"There are two great spiritual out-comings of the war," said the speaker, quoting Lord Robert Cecil, eminent English statesman. "These are the League of Nations and the rebuilding of Palestine."
"It is the hope that some day the Jews might return to Palestine, and it is the 'spiritual Palestine' each has had in his heart, that has kept the Jewish nation in existence," asserted the Rabbi. "If they had lost this hope," he said, "the nation would have disappeared."
INFLUENZA IN ALASKA
Juneau, July 10.—An influenza epidemic similar to the scourge in 1919, when hundreds of Indians in isolated villages were stricken and many died, has broken out in Indian fishing villages on Bristol Bay, Governor Parks has been informed by officials of the Alaska Packers' Association. The stricken natives are being cared for by physicians of the Packers' Association and Alaska-Portland Packers in a cannery hospital on the bay. The packers indicated they were willing to look after the affected areas until after the closing of the packing season.

SENATE AGAINST LAW AND ORDER IN B.C., SAYS CITIZEN
Upper Chamber Has Intervened to Aid Liquor Interests, Paper Charges
Rejection of Bootleg Law Helps to Perpetuate Crime in Province
While "pretending to be the bulwark to constituted authority" the Canadian Senate "has set itself against the enforcement of law and order in British Columbia" by refusing to approve legislation framed to abolish the liquor export business. This is the caustic comment of The Ottawa Citizen, one of Canada's most influential newspapers, on the recent defeat in the Upper Chamber of a law forbidding the private importation of liquor into this Province.
"Much of the crime connected with illicit liquor dealing in British Columbia is said to be due to private liquor warehousing," The Citizen points out. "Although the Province has government sale of liquor, an orgy of bootlegging, smuggling and piracy has gone on. Two men have just been sentenced to be hanged for murder in what is called a hi-jacking case. Hi-jacking in British Columbia waters is another name for piracy, where the pirates prey upon illicit liquor traders, who are themselves engaged in a lawless business.

"For several sessions the House of Commons has passed an amendment to the Canada Temperance Act to give the Province of British Columbia the authority to suppress the private sources of supply for this illicit trade. The Senate has just persistently blocked the move of the provincial authorities to close the warehouses.
"The effect of the Senate's action has been to protect the traffic which breeds criminals, thugs, pirates and murderers. While pretending to be the bulwark to constituted authority, the Senate has set itself against the enforcement of law and order in British Columbia. It has intervened on the side of vested interests in liquor, which otherwise would have been suppressed. It should not be necessary to hang convicted hi-jackers in the Senate Chamber before the Senate is convinced of the enormity of its persistent obstruction of British Columbia's legitimate requirements."

FAMOUS LAWYER TURNS PHILOSOPHER AS TRIAL OPENS
"Talks Are All That Counts," He Declares After His Long Court Experience
Thinks Criminal Lawyers More Moral and Righteous Than Most Civil Lawyers

DETON, Tenn., July 10.—The older a man gets and the more he sees of life the more he sees that only one thing in life counts—and that's "Folks."
When Clarence Darrow, famous criminal lawyer, came down to Dayton to look the ground over for a wage war against William Jennings Bryan in defence of John T. Scopes, indicted science teacher, he turned genial philosopher and forgot his title of "distinguished lawyer."
For a day and a night Darrow baring his soul to whomsoever would, and consenting to expound his theories of life as learned for the past sixty-eight years.
And through his every sentence runs his creed of "Folks are all that counts."
MAY BE SWAN SONG
Newspaper people, reporting Darrow's famous Dayton Progressive Club speech the country over, believe that his Dayton battle may be his swan song and that his present swan song and "philosophy" mood is that of a man who chants "we about to die salute you."
At breakfast in the Dayton Hotel Darrow talked about his civil and criminal lawyers over his hot biscuits.
"Once I, too, was pure as the driven snow like most of these civil lawyers think they are, and as they think we criminal lawyers are not," he said.
"Of course it's highly moral and righteous to haggle in court over money that affects great monopolies, and, of course, it's sinful to haggle in court over the mere soul of a man or woman."
"I may be an agnostic," he went on. "I may not know things that some folks seem so sure about. But I do know that human life has a dignity and a beauty that make me happy to have spent my life fighting for it as a black criminal lawyer."
Then Darrow took a fling or so at "the things these folks around here are so sure about."
TOO SURE OF THINGS
"Do you know, I'm always rather afraid of the answer men who feel such a supreme confidence in their belief. I'm inclined to doubt the thoroughness of their investigation, always looking, always wanting truth."
"As to the end of things, I've never found the answer but I shall keep looking for it always while I'm in harness."
Darrow's smile-wrinkled, face sobered.
"Don't know how much longer I'll keep going. I'm sixty-eight. I got in this business long before I was of age. I've been reading life insurance age much of a chance."
"And I hand this much to the fundamentalists. In a way they have the right idea. They know that the big questions of life to both believer and agnostic is the question of the open grave."
He chuckled.
"Oh hum," he said. "Doesn't it sometimes seem that folks take their souls too seriously?"
"I've always taken life more or less as it came to me and been thankful for what came my way."
POKER FOR A LIVING
"If it hadn't been for a woman who wouldn't sign a deed to sell me house for $300 down and payments the rest of my life, I'd still be in Ashtabula, O., playing poker for a job and practicing law on the side for a hobby."
"That was sort of a nice life, too. Back in the good old days before we got so solemnly good with probabilities of everything."
"Life is a hard affair at best. Sometimes one wonders—all people wonder—if the pain balances the pleasure."
"I don't blame mortals for drinking

French Vote Funds For Moroccan War
Paris, July 10.—The Government's Moroccan policy was endorsed by the Chamber of Deputies last night by an overwhelming majority. An additional appropriation for the Moroccan operations of 182,000,000 francs was granted the Government by a vote of 411 to 29.
General abstention by the Socialist Party was decided upon as a compromise on the proposal of M. Blum, the party leader, to maintain the unity of the group. Therefore, about 100 Socialists withheld their votes.
Premier Painleve replied in detail to criticisms levelled at him, mostly from the Communists and Socialists. "I do not wish to utter threats, since we are pursuing a policy of peace," he said, "but if Abd-el-Krim rejects the conditions offered to him we shall reply to his refusal by acts, not words."

URGENT RESUMPTION OF MINING OPERATIONS
Sydney, N.S., July 10.—Requesting that "in the name of humanity" action be taken by his Government immediately on assuming office," and giving an assurance that upon his failure to do so disaster will inevitably ensue," the mayors of six Nova Scotia mining towns met here yesterday and passed a resolution asking Premier-elect E. N. Rhodes to insure the immediate resumption of mining operations in Cape Breton and to extend financial relief to those now suffering extreme want, to the end that "calamity of starvation and disorders may be averted."
Those who met were Mayors D. W. Morrison, Glace Bay; P. Muise, New Waterford; A. C. McCormick, Sydney; James A. L. McLean, Dominion; K. Munroe, Stellarton, and W. Wilson, Spring Hill.
MANITOBA FINANCES
Winnipeg, July 10.—Approximately $1,000,000 profit was netted by the Manitoba Liquor Control Commission for the eight-month period ending April 30, 1925, it is announced. Of that total, $481,523 will be distributed to the municipalities, the city of Winnipeg being the largest beneficiary, securing $163,110. It was also announced the finances of the province for the eight-month period showed a surplus of $125,000 as compared with an estimated deficit of $241,000.

their little dram of dreams and speculations and hopes if the drink makes living any more bearable.
"All I ask is that they don't make me swallow the same dram if I can't stomach it."
Darrow sobered a little.
"I wish folks cared as much about my creed of living as about their own belief," he said.
"I don't believe so much. But I know that never in my life have I tricked or lied or deceived or connived to get an advantage for myself."
"And I won't do it now even to make a monkey out of Bill Bryan, which I want to do more than I ever
