PREFACE.

IN publishing the first Volume of the Catalogue Raisonné prepared by the Rev. William Taylor, it occurs to the Custodians of these Manuscripts, that it is desirable to preface the same by some account of the several Collectors by whose researches these treasures have been brought to light, together with a brief narrative of the circumstances under which they have been deposited in the archives of this College, and are now being catalogued and described for the information of the learned world. The following Memo : has been therefore compiled.

Excluding some 300 Vols. which are understood to have belonged, for the most part, to the "old College" Library and the history of which cannot be particularly traced, the Collections are three in number, and are known as the "Mackenzie;" the "East India House;" and "Brown's."

I. The "Mackenzie" Collection is so named after the late Col. Colin Mackenzie, c.B., sometime Surveyor General of India. The following Extracts, partly from the evidence of Sir Alex. Johnston, late Chief Justice of Ceylon, before the Select Committee of the House of Commons, on the affairs of the East India Company, (A. D. 1832,) and partly from Col. Mackenzie's own letter to the same distinguished friend, written in 1817 and published in the Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society—Vol. I. page 333, will be found to afford an interesting account of Mackenzie's early career, his life and pursuits in India, and the measures he adopted in accumulating what has justly been termed "the most valuable collection of historical documents relative to India that ever was made by any individual in Europe or in Asia."

Sir A. Johnston—"Col. Mackenzie was a native of the Island of Lewis; as a very young man he was much patronized, on account of his mathematical knowledge, by the late Lord Seaforth and my late grand father, Francis, the fifth Lord Napier of Merchistoun. He was for “ some time employed by the latter, who was about to write a life of his “ ancestor John Napier, the inventor of logarithms, to collect for him

 “ with a view to that life, from all the different works relative to India,
 “ an account of the knowledge which the Hindoos possessed of mathema“ tics, and of the nature and use of logarithms. Mr. Mackenzie, after “ the death of Lord Napier, became very desirous of prosecuting his “ Oriental researches in India—Lord Seaforth, therefore, at his request, “ got him appointed to the Engineers on the Madras establishment in “ 1782, and gave him letters of introduction to the late Lord Mucart-
 “ ney, the then Governor of that Presidency, and to my father, who held
 “ a high situation under his Lordship at Madura, the ancient capital of “ the Hindoo kingdom, described by Ptolemy as the Régio Pandionis
 “ of the peninsula of India and the ancient seat of the Hindoo College
 “ so celebrated throughout that peninsula from the fifth to the tenth “ century, for the extent and variety of the knowledge which its mem“ bers had acquired in astronomy, in mathematics, and in every branch
 “ of literature. My mother, who was the daughter of Mr. Mackenzie’s “ friend and early patron, the fifth Lord Napier, and who, in consequence “ of her father’s death had determined herself to execute the plan which “ he had formed, of writing the life of the inventor of logarithms, resided “ at that time with my father at Madura, and employed the most distin“ guished of the Brahmins in the neighbourhood in collecting for her
 “ from every part of the peninsula the information which she required “ relative to the knowledge which the Hindoos had possessed in ancient “ times of mathematics and astronomy. Knowing that Mr. Mackenzie “ had been previously employed by her father in pursuing the literary “ enquiries in which she herself was then engaged, and wishing to have “ his assistance in arranging the materials which she had collected, she
 “ and my father invited him to come and live with them at Madura early
 “ in 1783, and there introduced him to all the Brahmins and other liter“ ary natives who resided at that place. Mr. Mackenzie, in consequence “ of the communications which he had with them, soon discovered that
 “ the most valuable materials for a history of India might be collected
 “ in different parts of the peninsula, and during his residence at Ma-

“dava first formed the plan of making that collection, which afterwards became the favorite object of his pursuit for 38 years of his life, and which is now the most extensive and the most valuable collection of historical documents relative to India that ever was made by any individual in Europe or in Asia.”

Extracts from Mackenzie's letter to Sir A. Johnston, above referred to. “The first thirteen years of my life in India, from 1783 to 1796, may be fairly considered as of little moment with regard to the objects pursued latterly, as collecting observations and notices of Hindu manners, of geography and history: for, with every attachment to this pursuit, to which my attention was turned before I left England, and though not devoid of opportunities, yet the circumscribed means of a subaltern officer, my limited knowledge of men in power or office, and the necessity of prompt attention to military and professional duties, did not permit of that undeviating attention which is so necessary at all times to the success of any pursuit; much more so to what must be extracted from the various languages, dialects, and characters, of the peninsula of India.”

“A knowledge of the native languages in particular, which is so essentially requisite, could never be assiduously cultivated, in consequence of the frequent changes and removals from province to province, from garrison to camp, and from one desultory duty to another. Official encouragements to study the languages of the vast countries that have come under our domination since my arrival in India, were reserved for more happy times, and for those who are more fortunate in having leisure for the purpose. From the evils of famine, penury and war, the land was then slowly emerging, and it struggled long under the miseries of bad management, before the administration of the south came under the benign influence of the British Government.”

“On the whole of this period, in which I have marched or wandered over most of the provinces south of the Kistna, I look back with regret; for objects are now known to exist that could have been then examined; and also traits of customs and of institutions that could have been explained, had time or means admitted of the enquiry.”

“ It was only after my return from the expedition to Ceylon in 1796, that accident, rather than design (though ever searching for lights that were denied to my situation,) threw in my way those means that I have since unceasingly employed, not, I hope, without some success, of penetrating beyond the surface of the antiquities, the history, and the institutions, of the south of India.

“ The connexion I then formed with one person, a native and a Brahman,* was the first step of my introduction into the portal of Indian knowledge. Devoid of any knowledge of the language myself, I owe to the happy genius of this individual the encouragement to pursue, and the means of obtaining, what I had so long sought; for which purpose an acquaintance with no less than fifteen different dialects, and twenty-one characters, was necessary. On the reduction of Seringapatam, in 1799, not one of our people could translate from the Canarese alone; at present we have translations made not only from the modern characters, but the more obscure and almost obsolete characters of the Sassanums (or inscriptions) in Canarese and in Tamil; besides what have been done from the Sanscrit, of which in my first years in India, I could scarcely obtain any information: but from the moment the talents of the lamented BORIA were applied, a new avenue to Hindu knowledge was opened; and though I was deprived of him at an early age, his example and instructions were so happily followed up by his brethren and disciples, that an establishment was gradually formed, through which the whole of our provinces might be gradually analysed by the method thus fortuitously begun and successfully followed so far. Of the claims of these individuals, and the superior merits of some, a special representation has been made to this Government.†

* The lamented KAVELLI VENKATA BORIA, a Bráhmán, then almost a youth, of the quickest genius and disposition, possessing that conciliatory turn of mind that soon reconciled all sects and all tribes to the course of inquiry followed with these surveys. After seven years' service he was suddenly taken off from these labours, but not before he had formed his younger brothers and several other useful persons of all castes, Bráhmans, Jainas, and Malabars, to the investigations that have since been so satisfactorily pursued.

† Note.—In 1817, the Madras Government bestowed on Kavelli Venkata Lutchmiah, the grant of a village near the Presidency, to be held by him and his two next heirs, in recognition of his public services.—D. F. C.

“ For these thirteen years, therefore, there is little to show beyond
 “ the journals and notes of an officer employed in all the campaigns of “ the time : first, towards the close of the war of 1783, in the provinces of “ Coimbatore and of Dindigul ; afterwards on professional duties in the “ provinces of Madras, Nellore, and Guntore ; throughout the whole of “ the war, from 1790 to 1792, in Mysore, and in the countries ceded to
 “ the NIZAM by the peace of 1792 ; and from that period engaged in the “ first attempt to methodise and embody the geography of the Dekkan, “ attempts that were unfortunately thwarted or impeded by measures “ which it is unnecessary here to detail : the voyage and campaign in “ Ceylon may be noticed as introductory to part of what followed on my “ return to resume the examination of the geography of the Dekkan.

“ Some voluntary efforts for these purposes had at last excited the “ notice of a few friends in the field, in the campaigns in Mysore, too “ partial, perhaps, to my slender talents, and my ardour for the pursuit :
 “ and in 1792, after the peace of Seringapatam, I was sent from the army
 “ in Mysore, by the desire of the late revered Lord Cornwallis, with the “ small detachment at first employed in the NIZAM’s dominions, for the “ purpose of acquiring some information of the geography of these “ countries, and of the relative boundaries of the several states then “ assuming a new form and new limits.

“ It would be tedious to relate the difficulties, the accidents, and the “ discouragements that impeded the progress of this design from 1792 to “ 1799,—the slender means allotted, from the necessity of a rigid (no “ doubt a just) economy ; the doubts and the hindrances ever attendant “ on new attempts ; difficulties arising from the nature of the climate, of “ the country, and of the government, from conflicting interests, and “ passions, and prejudices, both difficult to contend with and unpleasant “ to recollect.

“ In the year 1796, a general map of the NIZAM’s dominions was “ submitted to Government for the first time, compiled and digested from “ different materials of various authorities, described in a memoir that “ accompanied it, and designed rather as a specimen for future correction
 “ and to shew what was wanting, than to prove what was done. It

" had, however, the use of bringing the subject into one point of view ;
 " further inquiry in 1798 and 1799 improved its supplements, and some " encouragement was then held forth that induced perseverance in the " design, though but little effectual assistance was given ; and my removal
 " from any share in the direction of the Dekkan surveys in 1806, put a " stop to the further prosecution of this map. It has not, however, been " neglected, and it is hoped it may yet be resumed by the revisal of the " materials since collected, though on a more circumscribed scale than
 " was once intended.

" On my return to Haiderabad in 1798, for the third time, to resume
 " the investigations of the Dekkan geography, measures were proposed,
 " and in part methodised, for describing the whole of that territory ; and
 " before 1799 considerable assistance was obtained from a copy of the re" gular Official daster of the Dekkan, in its provincial and even more " minute divisions. This has been since translated from the Persian, as " well as certain MSS. of authority, which were proposed as the ba" sis of the plan to be followed, in the inquiry and description. The " Dekkan was in fact then a terra incognita, of which no authentic ac" count existed, excepting in some uncertain notices and mutilated
 " sketches of the marches of Bussy, and in the travels of TAVERNIER
 " and THEVENOT, which by no means possess that philosophical accuracy
 " demanded in modern times*.

" This plan was nearly overset at the commencement by the new war
 " with TIPU in the year 1799; it may be satisfactory, however, to know,
 " that the attempts then made were not without their use both in a Mili" tary light (as described more fully in Official reports), and in anticipat" ing measures that have since been, or may still be, advantageously
 " followed in arranging the history, antiquities, and statistics of that " interesting country.

" After the reduction of Mysore in 1799, and in the arrangements
 " that followed, I was employed in furnishing the Commissioners with " geographical information, to assist in the arrangements of the limits of “ the subject of partition. On my return to Madras, the Governor General (the Earl of MORNINGTON) being justly of opinion that a more complete knowledge of these countries was indispensably necessary for the information of Government, was pleased, in the most handsome manner, without solicitation, or any personal knowledge, to appoint me to survey Mysore, with an establishment suited rather to an economical scale of expediture than to so extensive an undertaking, intended to be carried through a country so little known, that the position of some of the provinces ceded by the treaty of partition could not be ascertained* till this survey was carried forward, and that under peculiar circumstances of embarrassment.

“ In conformity with my original ideas, I considered this opportunity favorable for arranging a scheme of survey embracing the statistics and history of the country, as well as its geography; and therefore submitted a plan for this purpose, which was approved of by the Government. Three† Assistants and a Naturalist were then for the first time attached to me; yet this moderate establishment was immediately afterwards disapproved of in England, and a design that originated in the most enlightened principles was nearly crushed by the rigorous application of orders too hastily issued, which were received in India in the end of 1801, when I had, at very considerable hazard of my health, just completed the survey of the Northern and Eastern frontier of Mysore.

“ How far the idea suggested was fulfilled, it is not for me to say; from adverse circumstances, one part was nearly defeated, and the natural history was never analysed in the manner I proposed and expected in concert with the survey. The suspense I was placed in from the reduction of the slender stipend allotted to myself, both for my salary and to provide for increasing contingencies, was in itself sufficiently mortifying; and the overthrow of the establishment first arranged for

“ the work, while other branches* were favoured in the application of “ the orders of the Court, the effects of these measures on the public “ mind and even of my assistants, all contributed to deaden and to “ paralyse every effort for its completion. Notwithstanding these diffi“ culties, however, the success attending the early researches, and a “ conviction of its utility, induced me to persevere till 1807; the geo“ graphy of the provinces of Mysore was actually completed to the “ minutest degree of 40,000 square miles of territory, considerable “ materials were acquired for the illustration of its statistics and its “ history, and the basis laid for obtaining those of the peninsula at “ large, on a plan which has been undeviatingly followed ever since.

“ Much of the materials collected on this occasion were transmitted “ home in seven folio volumes, with general and provincial maps; but “ it is proper to observe, that still more considerable materials for the “ history of the south are in reserve, not literally belonging to the “ Mysore survey, though springing from it.

“ It is also proper to observe, that in the course of these investi“ gations, and notwithstanding the embarrassments in the way of this “ work, the first lights were thrown on the history of the country below
 “ the Ghats, which have been since enlarged by other materials con“ stantly increasing, and confirming the information acquired in the “ upper country. Among various interesting subjects may be men-
 “ ed :

- “ 1. The discovery of the Jaina religion and philosophy, and its “ distinction from that of Buddha.
- “ 2. The different ancient sects of religion in this country, and “ their subdivisions—the Lingavanta, the Saivam and Pandaram “ Matts &c. &c.
- “ 3. The nature and use of the Sassanams, and inscriptions on stone “ and copper, and their utility in throwing light on the important “ subject of Hindu tenures; confirmed by upwards of 3000 au-

* In the regulations of survey of 9th October, 1810, no less than twenty military officers were attached to the quarter-master-general, exclusive of the military institution and the establishment of native surveyors under the revenue department. The results arising from those departments, compared with that of the Mysore survey, would afford the most just means of judging of the utility of either of the works.

“ thetic inscriptions collected since 1800, hitherto always overlooked.

“ 4. The design and nature of the monumental stones and trophies found in various parts of the country from Cape Comorin to Delhi, called Vrakal and Maastihal, which illustrate the ancient customs of the early inhabitants, and perhaps, of the early western nations.

“ 5. The sepulchral tumuli, mounds, and barrows of the early tribes, similar to those found throughout the Continent of Asia and of Europe, illustrated by drawings, and various other notices of antiquities and institutions.”

Shortly after the date of this letter, Col. Mackenzie quitted Madras for Calcutta, on being appointed Surveyor General of all India. He took his collections with him, and was accompanied by the natives who had hitherto worked under him, it being his design, with their assistance, “ to effect a condensed view of the whole collection, a Catalogue Raisonné of the Native Manuscripts and Books, &c., and to give the translated Materials such form, as may facilitate the production of some parts, should they ever appear to the Public.” In the meanwhile, his friend Sir A. Johnston took every opportunity of calling attention to the importance of his literary labours, in England. “ On my arrival”—quotation is again made from his evidence before the Select Committee—“ I explained to Mr. Grant, the former Chairman of the Court of Directors, the great advantage it would secure for Oriental history and literature, were Col. Mackenzie to be allowed by the Directors to come to England upon leave, in order that he might, with the assistance of the different literary characters in Europe, arrange his valuable collection of materials. Mr. Grant, with the feeling for literature and liberality which always characterized his public and private conduct, agreed, on my application, to propose to the Court of Directors to give the Colonel leave to come to England, and to remain in England upon his full pay and allowances for three years, for the purpose which I have mentioned. No steps were, however, taken by Mr. Grant, because in the meantime I received accounts of the Colonel's death in Bengal.” Mackenzie died in 1821, without having had leisure to engage in the preparation of any "condensed view" of his Collections. With the sanction of the Honorable the Court of Directors, these were purchased, at the suggestion of Sir A. Johnston, by the then Governor General, the Marquis of Hastings, for £10,000 from Mackenzie's widow. The whole expense incurred by the Collector is certified by Sir A. Johnston to have amounted to upwards of £15,000.

On their coming into the possession of the East India Company, an offer was made by Professor H. H. Wilson, at that time Secretary to the Asiatic Society of Bengal, to compile a Catalogue. This was accepted by the Government of India, and in the year 1828 there was printed at Calcutta the learned and perspicuous work, known as "Wilson's Mackenzie Collection." The nature and object of the Professor's task will best be learnt from his own account of them—which is as follows:

"In the absence of any account prepared by the collector, the following Catalogue may be received as an attempt to convey some accurate notion of the nature of the Collection, and a short view of some of the principal conclusions that may be derived from its contents. It will be necessary however in the first place to explain the circumstances under which the Catalogue has been prepared, that no censure may attach to the compiler for not performing more than he has endeavoured to accomplish, or for undertaking a task, to which he acknowledges he brings inferior qualifications, the languages of the South of India never having been the object of his studies.

"The officer who succeeded Colonel Mackenzie as Surveyor General, professing no acquaintance with the subject of Colonel Mackenzie's Antiquarian collections, and expressing his wish to be relieved of all charge of the Establishment connected with them, it became a matter of some perplexity how it should be disposed of, in contemplation of its becoming the property of the Company. As no other person in Calcutta, was inclined to take any trouble with such a collection, or perhaps so well fitted for the task, as myself, I offered my services to the Supreme Government to examine and report upon the “ state of the materials. The offer was accepted and the Manuscripts

 “ and other articles of the Collection were transferred to my charge. I
 “ then learned that the native agents had set to work upon the Colonel’s “ death to make short Catalogues of the articles and books accumulated,
 “ and these were completed under my supervision. In the course of ex“ amining the Lists as well as I could, I found them not only too con“ cise to be satisfactory, but in many cases evidently erroneous, and “ altogether devoid of classification or arrangement. I therefore on “ submitting them to the Government suggested the necessity of a care“ ful revision, and the advantage that might be derived from the publi“ cation of the result, which suggestions were favorably received, and
 “ the present Catalogue has in consequence been prepared.”

“ The various languages of the Peninsula being unknown to me “ except as far as connected with Sanscrit, I had no other mode of “ checking the accuracy of the natives employed in cataloguing the “ manuscripts, than to direct the preparation by them of detailed indices
 “ of the works in each dialect. These indices were accordingly compiled “ and translated, and their results again compressed into the form in “ which they will be found in the following pages, the accuracy being “ verified by such collateral information as was derivable from some of “ the translated papers in the collection, or from printed works of an “ authentic character. Although, therefore, some of the details may be “ occasionally erroneous, I have every reason to hope that the account
 “ of those books which I could not personally verify by perusal, will be “ generally correct and worthy of some confidence.”

The bulk of Professor Wilson’s two volumes are devoted to manuscripts in the original languages. The Collection comprised 1,568 of these, which “ may be regarded as the Literature of the South of India.”
 The numbers in each language and character are thus tabulated.

* Dated 20th February 1823.

From a letter* which Professor Wilson addressed to the Supreme Government towards the conclusion of his labours, it appears that a considerable portion† of the Collection, viz, the Sanscrit, Arabic, Persian, Javanese and Burmah Books, together with all the Maps, Plans, Drawings, Coins, Images, and Sculptures—had been transmitted to England, “in two dispatches, one in “January 1823, and the other in January 1825.” Seventeen Volumes of the translations had also been sent thither. The rest of the Collection was still under his charge, and the following suggestions were made for its disposal. "I should wish, if I may be permitted, to recommend the dispatch to Europe of the remaining Volumes of Translations and the original unbound Translations and Reports. The Volumes containing copies of public papers, already amongst the records at the India House can be of no value at home, and would be advantageously placed with the Asiatic Society of Bengal; and the books and tracts in the Languages and characters of the South of India will be of little value in Europe, whilst they will no doubt be a most acceptable addition to the Library of the College of Madras, or the Madras Literary Society, where in the course of time it is highly probable they will be turned to good account." Whether the first and second of these suggestions were carried out or not, the Board have no means of knowing; but in accordance with the last, the whole of the Manuscripts and tracts referred to were forwarded to this Presidency, and deposited in the College Library in the month of September, 1828.

In Wilson's Catalogue 44 MSS. are entered. Of these those in Hala Kanara and Tamil were alone transmitted.

The nature of the Local Tracts has already been indicated. Last, but not least in importance, come the Inscriptions. "Very few of them" (Wilson. Introduction p. xx) "are translated, but the whole of them "have been examined, and abstracted and drawn out in a tabular form, "stating the object of the Inscription, the date where found, and in "whose reign or by whom Inscribed. Of three folio Manuscript Vol- "umes containing these abstracts, two have been prepared since the death "of Col. Mackenzie."

The collection had not long been in the custody of the College Board, before a proposition was made by the Secretary to the Asiatic Department of the Madras Literary Society and Auxiliary of the Royal Asiatic Society for "turning it to good account"—as may be learnt from the following Extract of the Secretary's letter to Government, dated 9th March 1830.

"I have the honor to state that a letter was last year addressed "to me by Cavelly Vencata Lachmiah, a Bramin who was for 30 years "in the service of the late Col. Mackenzie, and employed by that

 “ to examine and arrange such Papers as were collected by him, and “ having been transmitted by Bengal after his death, are now in the hands “ Circumstances prevented the Society from taking any notice of “ this proposition during the past year, but his letter has now been brought “ under consideration, and the Committee are of opinion that, although, “ owing to the deficiency of funds, it will not be in the power of the “ Asiatic Department to adopt the plan proposed by Cavelly Vencata “ Lachmiah, in its full extent ; yet, that by selecting one or two subjects,

 “ and applying their whole resources to them, they may be able to ex“ tract much interesting and valuable information from the mass of papers, “ which now lie in a confused and utterly useless state. The two subjects “ with which the Committee propose commencing, are, the literature of “ the Jains and Inscriptions in general ; and if the Government should “ approve of their intention, and be pleased to consign the Mackenzie “ Collection now under charge of the College Board to the Asiatic De“ partment of this Society, the Committee will immediately proceed to “ execute their plan.”

Under the orders of Government, the Collection was transferred accordingly, but it does not appear that the intention thus announced by the Society was ever carried out by that learned body.

In 1836, Mackenzie's Pandit himself made an offer to the Madras Government to continue the researches made by his late master throughout the several provinces of this Presidency, provided the Government would secure him from all loss and expense. He asked for two coadjutors in every district, who should make copies of inscriptions in temples and other ancient structures remaining in localities still unexplored, and for a central Establishment at the Presidency to be presided over by himself. Further, to shew his competency to the task, he submitted a statement he had drawn up “ of the progress of the General ment of India No. 909, dated 21st September 1836.

This project was referred, through the Supreme Government to the Asiatic Society at Calcutta, where it was submitted to the scrutiny of the “ Committee of Papers.” The Committee observed in their 20th August 1836.

Report, that, what was wanted was, not so much the collection of new materials, as the thorough examination of that already existing; that they had no faith in the pretensions of Cavelly Venkata Lachmiah, whose “ abstract” was merely based upon the summary contained in Wilson’s work, eked out by sundry jejune conclusions of his own, and that they therefore found it impossible to recommend any large outlay of public money in the way proposed. “ Not” they continue, “ that it is undesirable to “ complete the examination of the MACKENZIE papers. On the contrary,
 “ all who had read Mr. WILSON’s catalogue, will grant that to be an “ object of high, of national importance. The British Indian Govern“ ment has spent a lakh of rupees in purchasing these ancient records;
 “ to refuse the requisite aid for their examination and conversion to “ public use when they are known to contain a vast store of curious and “ interesting matter, would be false economy, only equalled by the case “ of the BUCHANAN MANUSCRIPTS in Calcutta, which cost even a larger “ sum, and which the Government has recorded its unwillingness to “ print even free of expense, or to take a single copy of it printed by “ others.”

“ But happily in regard to the MACKENZIE Collection; such neg“ lect cannot now be feared. Independent of Mr. WILSON’s able sum“ mary, we are aware that Captain HARKNESS, Secretary of the Royal “ Asiatic Society, has undertaken to translate and digest a portion of “ the Manuscripts in London, and M. Jacquet of Paris has intimated
 “ that the mass of the Colonel’s inscriptions, to which the Honorable “ Court of Directors have handsomely allowed him free access, are to “ be included in the Corpus Inscriptionum Indicarum,” upon which he “ is now busily engaged; while in Madras itself has lately appeared

† Oriental Historical Manuscripts in the Tamil Language; translated with Annotations—by WILLIAM TAYLOR, Missionary. 2 Vols. 4to pp. 600, Madras 1835.

“an able and zealous expositor in the Revd. MR. W. TAYLOR,* whose previous study of and publication† on, the History of the Peninsula, eminently fit him for the task.” They conclude with strongly urging the propriety of securing Mr. Taylor's services publicly “for the thorough examination of the MACKENZIE records,” and of sanctioning the publication of those “which he might select as the most valuable, either in elucidation of history or native science, philosophy, religion, customs, &c.” MR. TAYLOR having expressed his willingness to undertake the work, the Supreme Government sanctioned his employment therein for a period of eighteen months (his own estimate) and at an outlay of Rupees 400 per mensem, as remuneration for himself and his native Assistants and copyists.

The results of his labours were published by Mr. Taylor from time to time in the pages of the “Madras Journal of Literature and Science,” in a highly interesting series of Analytical Reports, the last of which will be found at P. 173 of the Journal for 1848. No action, however, was taken thereon, either in the manner suggested by the Asiatic Society of Bengal, or otherwise; a neglect which, it is to be hoped, will not be allowed to follow his present investigations.

II. The East India House collection.—This Collection was discovered in the India House Library by Mr. Charles Philip Brown,* of the Madras Civil Services, in 1837. The Manuscripts composing it are mainly in the Telugu, Tamil and Canarese characters, and had lain in the Library many years unexamined and unnoticed from the want of scholars in England learned in the languages current in Southern India. Mr. Brown formed catalogues and at his suggestion, the whole store was transferred in 1844, on the application of the Madras Literary Society, to the custody of that body. In forwarding it to Madras, the Honorable Court mentioned that the collection was chiefly made by Dr. Leyden, whose MSS. the Company had purchased at his death.

Despatch No. 6 of 1848.

The *Indian career of John Leyden (to which alone there is occasion to advert here) commenced on the 19th August 1803, when he landed at Fort St. George, with the appointment of an Assistant Surgeon. It was not long before his acquirements as a linguist and a Savan procured for him the Office of “Surgeon and Naturalist to the Commissioners, who were appointed under the superintendence of Major Mack- “enzie,† to survey the provinces in the Mysore” conquered from Tippoo Sultaun, in 1799. While engaged in this duty he drew up many useful papers which he communicated to Government, “relative to the mountainous strata which he had an opportunity of observing and their mineral indications to the diseased, medicines and remedies of the natives of Mysore, and the peculiarities of their habits and constitution, by which they might be exposed to disease—to the different crops cultivated in Mysore and their rotation—and, to the languages of Mysore and their respective relations.” Exposure to the climate soon resulted in his being compelled to relinquish his office. He left the commission, and in search of health visited in succession Seringapatam, the Malabar Coast, Travancore and Peypang. It is recorded of him, that, “in all these journeys, and even when oppressed with sickness, he never for a moment lost sight of the great objects of his pursuit, but turned an attentive and searching eye to whatever was connected with literature in the towns where he stopped, and the regions through which he travelled. At Seringapatam, when confined by illness to his room, he made considerable progress in the Sanscrit language, and amused himself with translating tales from the Persic and Hindostani. Wherever he went, he visited the temples and remarkable buildings on his route, copied and translated the ancient inscriptions, and in every place sought after materials to illustrate the history, the customs, and the religion of the natives.” His residence at Penang afforded him opportunities of prosecuting an enquiry into the peculiarities of the Malay race. He embodied the information gleaned in his researches in a "Dissertation on the Languages and Literature of the Indo-Chinese Nations." This is printed in the Asiatic Researches, Vol. X. "It contains an investigation of the origin and descent of the various tribes that people the Malayan Peninsula and Islands, by comparing together, and tracing the affinity of their languages and customs with each other, and with those of the nations more to the westward," and is justly referred to by his Biographer as "a wonderful monument of his genius and industry." From Penang, Leyden proceeded to Calcutta, where, in 1807, the publication of a learned treatise on the "Indo-Persian, Indo-Chinese, and Dekkani languages" led to his employment in the College of Fort William as Professor of Hindústani. He subsequently held some other appointments in Lower Bengal until 1811, when he accompanied Lord Minto in the expedition against Java, where his "bright and brief career,"* was destined to come to a close. The occurrence is thus described. "Going out one day, with the intention of exploring a library (at Batavia), said to contain a valuable collection of Oriental MSS. he accidentally went into a large low room in one of the public buildings, which had been the depository of effects belonging to the Dutch Government, and was also said to contain some Javanese curiosities. With fatal inadvertence he entered it without using the precaution of having it aired, although it had been shut up for some time, and the confined air was strongly impregnated with the poisonous quality which has made Batavia the grave of so many Europeans. Upon leaving this place he was suddenly affected with shivering and sickness, the first symptoms of a mortal fever, which he himself attributed to the pestilen-

Besides Scott, Leyden counted among his friends all the most distinguished of the Great Mingstrel's northern contemporaries.

“ His studies,” we are informed by one* who knew him well, and, as an Oriental Scholar at least, was no incompetent judge, “ included almost every “ branch of human science, and he was alike ardent in the pursuit of all.
“ The greatest power of his mind was perhaps, shewn in his acquisition
“ of ancient and modern languages. He exhibited an unexampled “ facility, not merely in acquiring them, but in tracing their affinity “ and connection with each other; and from that talent, combined with “ his taste and general knowledge, we had a right to expect, from what “ he did in a few years, that he would, if he had lived, have thrown the “ greatest light upon the more abstruse parts of the history of the East.
“ In this curious, but intricate and rugged path, we cannot hope to “ see his equal.”

His collection of MSS. which he spared neither pains nor expense to accumulate, he desired by his will might be sold for the benefit of his aged parents, who were in very humble circumstances in Scotland.
It was purchased, as above stated, by the East India Company.

No Descriptive Catalogue of Dr. Leyden's MSS. has as yet been drawn up, but lists were at once prepared by Mr. C. P. Brown in Sanscrit, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam and Canarese, according to the language in which the original is written, and from a notice printed by the “ Madras Literary Society” in their journal,* it appears that the collection numbers 2106 MSS; viz.

III. Mr. Brown's Collection has been catalogued by that eminent scholar himself on the same plan as was adopted by him with the "East India House" Collection. On the authority of the entry in the Madras Literary Journal above referred to, it comprises 2,440 MSS. and it is thus, pro tanto, the richest of the three.

To this donation Mr. Brown was continually making additions up to the date of his departure for England, in 1855.

The Collection, it will have been observed, is almost entirely in the Telugu character; one half of the MSS. being in the Sanscrit language, and the remainder in Telugu. Distinguished by his attainments in nearly every other language of India, whether vernacular or classical, Mr. Brown particularly attached himself to the study of Telugu. The best years of his official life were passed in those districts where that dialect is current. He was the first who applied himself to a thorough examination of its literature, and if others shall hereafter be enabled to follow his example, it will be only by the light of those aids which he has left for their guidance.

On the eve of leaving India, their late learned colleague was induced by his friends to compile some details of his own literary life. But as this narrative was not printed for publication, the Board do not deem it proper to make free with its contents. At the same time they may, perhaps, have his pardon for extracting from it the following lists of the works published by him either as author or editor, a perusal of which will convey some slight conception of the nature and extent of his labours.

List No. I.

“ A Grammar of the Telugu language: first edition, 1840—and a second edition entirely re-written and much extended.

English—Telugu Dictionary—1400 pages royal 8vo.

Telugu—English Dictionary: of the same size, and in 1300 pages.

Dictionary of mixed Telugu and the language used in business: 130 pages.

This work has since been corrected and greatly enlarged in preparation for re-publication.

Telugu and English Dialogues. And a second edition of the same: with a Grammatical Analysis. These Dialogues have also been printed in Tamil and in Kannadi.

English Irregular verbs, explained in Telugu. The same in Tamil.

The Vākyaṅgali; or exercises in English Idioms: translated into Telugu. Also into Tamil, and Dakhini Hindustani.

Telugu Disputations on (Mirasi) Village business: a record written about A. D. 1760—1790; with an English translation.

The Wars of the Rajas: being a record of occurrences in the Bellari district, about the year A. D. 1750.

The Tātáchári Tales ; a collection of popular stories ; including a portion of the " History of Hyder."

The verses of Vemana ; with an English translation : printed in 829. Several editions have since been printed without the translation.

The prosody of the Telugu and Sanscrit languages explained, 1827.

An Analysis of Sanscrit prosody, printed in the English character—London 1837.

Essay on Telugu Literature : in two parts : printed in the Madras Literary Journal.

Cyclic Tables of Hindu and Musulman Chronology. [Mr. Brown refers to this valuable compendium, as the work that cost him most pains, next to his Grammar.]

An Ephemeris, shewing the corresponding dates according to the English, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam and Mahomedan computations from A. D. 1751 to 1850, with a Chronological Table of events. Pages 600.

Memoirs of Hyder Ali and his son Tippoo : translated into English from the Mahratta.

Various Volumes translated into Telugu for Educational Societies.

List No. 11, (being new Editions with improvements.)

Three Treatises on Mirási Right : by Mr. Ellis, Col. Blackburne, and Sir Thomas Munro.

The Proverbs of Solomon and the Book of Psalms in Sanscrit metre, reprinted from the Calcutta Edition, in the Telugu character.

The Tale of Nala in Telugu (Dwipada) couplets.

The Tale of Harischandra in Telugu couplets.

The Gajendra Moxam, in Telugu metre.

The Kucheloppakyanam in mixed metres.

The Garudachalam in Telugu musical metres.

The Manu Charitra, a classical poem with commentary in Telugu.

The Vasu Charitra, ditto. ditto.

The Tales of Nala and Savitri in Sanscrit, being extracts from the Mahábhárat.

There also remain, not yet printed:—

The Hitopadesa in Sanscrit, with a Telugu commentary.

The Pancha Tantram, with a Telugu commentary.

The Kuliyaṭi Sauda (Poems of Sauda) in Hindustani : the only complete edition ever prepared : with a commentary written in Hindustani."

Above all, a Telugu version of the Holy Scriptures (the special work of twenty years) has been completed. Also a version of the Apocryphal books. And a Telugu Translation of the Book of Common Prayer.

These last three, it is believed, were presented by Mr. Brown to the local Committees of the Gospel Society.

In notifying to Government this accession to their MSS. the Literary Society requested that a small establishment might be entertained for the care of their Oriental Library. This was sanctioned, the Government, at the same time asking to be furnished with a Catalogue Raisonné of the contents of the "East India House" and "Brown's" collections, similar in character to Professor Wilson's Catalogue of the Mackenzie MSS. The Society replied that the preparation of such a Catalogue would be attended with an expense far beyond their unaided means, since it would require the maintenance for the time of a special staff of Pandits and copyists, at a cost at least of Rs. 250 per mensem.

Dated 12th January 1847.

They suggested that Government should bear this outlay, and that the whole of the collections should be transferred to the custody of the College Board.

The Board were directed accordingly to accept this charge, and the Honorable the Court of Directors were referred to on the other point. The Honorable Court were pleased to sanction the proposed outlay, stipulating only that quarterly reports of the progress made should be submitted for their information.

Literary Society's journal of 1847, P. 211 to 215.

Mr. C. P. Brown, being much occupied with the preparation of his Telugu Dictionaries, declined the task of supervising the formation of the Catalogues, which was then undertaken without any charge to Government by another distinguished scholar, Mr. Walter Elliot, of the Madras Civil Service.

The paramount nature of other duties proved, however, a great obstacle to the advancement of the work in his hands. After the lapse of a considerable period, Mr. Brown, now more at leisure, proffered his services, engaging to bring the work to a conclusion in three years.

The Honorable Court, to whom the proposition was submitted for their orders, remarked, that, considering the onerous public duties Mr. Brown had to discharge (he was then Post Master General) they could not consent to impose on him the further labour which the preparation of such a Catalogue would involve. Upon this, the Board, after consulting Mr. Walter Elliot, nominated the present Editor. The selection was approved by Government on the 14th February 1853, and Mr. Taylor entered forthwith upon his duties. On the completion of the Catalogues, which are to comprise every MSS. in the Board's Library, Mr. Taylor designs to draw up a General Preface, which those who possess the main work can have adjusted by the binder into its proper place.

The question still awaits decision—how shall this magnificent collection be turned to the best account? The Honorable Court have directed that no steps shall be taken to this end without a reference to them. The suggestion, therefore, that the interests of literature will be best advanced by publishing texts of all the chief classics prepared from careful collations of all the MSS. in the collection—will remain for their consideration. It has emanated from Mr. Walter Elliot, and is fortified by the example of the learned editors of the “Bibliotheca Indica” in Bengal.

Mr. Elliot's observations on the point are as follows. With them the present Memo. may be fitly brought to a close. “The importance of such an undertaking has long been apparent to me, and I consider it to be well worthy the patronage of a liberal and enlightened Government. The Tamil is perhaps the most interesting and important in a philological point of view of all the Southern dialects, and is probably the root (or at least its nearest extant scion) from which all the Southern dialects have sprung. It was highly cultivated in the time of the Pandyan and other dynasties of the South, under whose “patronage many eminent poets and grammarians flourished, whose “works are still extant. The attention, however, formerly paid to “Vernacular literature is daily waning before the superior advantages “attendant on the acquisition of English. Few take the trouble to “make themselves acquainted with the old authors, whose writings, “rather curious than useful, do not suit the practical tastes and habits

 “of the rising generation. It is not too much to predict, that, in a few “years, the critical study of the classical Tamil will become wholly “neglected; and that many works only existing in Manuscript on per“ishable Cadjan leaves or Country paper will be entirely lost.”

“A favorable juncture is now presented for obviating the irrepara“ble loss which would be occasioned by such a fate. A collection of “unrivalled value and extent has been placed at the public disposal; an “individual of competent qualifications* offers to undertake the task of “collation and translation at a very moderate cost; and the Government “have, on many recent occasions, evinced a disposition to encourage “such enterprizes. The task of translating portions or the whole of “the works published might be combined with the recension of the texts,
 “and be printed in the same volume; thus neutralizing the objection “taken to the isolated publication of such specimens. Should the Go“vernment feel disposed to promote such an undertaking, I feel assured
 “the work would be hailed with interest in Europe. Let any one look “at the scanty materials with which Heeren founded that portion of his “historical researches relating to India, and the value of such a large “accession of materials will at once be apparent. It is true that nume“rous translations and editions of Hindû authors have appeared since “Heeren's last edition was published in 1824, but these are nearly all “of Sanscrit texts relating to Northern India. The literature of the “South contains a mine hitherto almost unexplored out of India, and “affording ample materials for speculation and research by the literati

TITLES.

A complete list of all the works, great and small, mentioned in this volume would be of itself a Catalogue ; but as, to a certain extent, they admit of classification, and as it is supposed that a direction to the pages where the most popular, or common works occur, might be acceptable, some references of the kind are given ; not assuming to be very minute, nor complete ; but as helps merely, until the general index can be prepared.

INTRODUCTION.

It has appeared probable that some introductory notices as to the leading Divisions in the ensuing Catalogue might prove useful, and acceptable. The literature of the West, and that of the East, differ considerably the one from the other. This work is mainly for the use of those, whose minds have been imbued with Western literature. There is danger of their receiving some shock from systems of thought so very different from their own; and possibly of unduly despising, or depreciating some matters, not well understood, but capable of becoming better understood by a little explanation. The following work was deputed to one tolerably conversant with Western theology, polemics, metaphysics, philosophy, and belles lettres; and who, by peculiar circumstances, became a student of Eastern language, and literature, at an early age: whom the stores, now becoming partially developed, have also led through a curriculum open to very few. Others have gone deeper than himself as to parts, and portions; but he may be the only one laboriously passing over the whole. Hence it has appeared that a little help may be given to the Western literati, in a way in no wise assuming, and for which real men of letters will be only thankful.

It will be his main object to pass through the saloon, and to stand by, and open the doors of the different apartments. Hints of opinions, and even of hypotheses, may appear; but nothing in excess.

The competent, and candid reader will always, not without benevolence, judge for himself; and to be aiding only to that judgment, is the object hereby desired.

Adváita, see Vedánta.

From the Vedánta, as ascribed to Vyása, which is Pantheistic, making the Deity to be the soul of the universe, Sancaruchárya, head of the monasterium at Sringari, deduced his own system. He insisted that the Smritis, or codes of law, should be an authoritative rule, as well as the Vedás; whence his followers are termed Smartas; and he drew the doctrine of Vyása to its utmost consequences. The world, and all things in it, are seen only in Deity, as an evolution of himself; all worldly objects are delusive; an appearance only; and, since the deity is diffused through all things, it follows that the soul of man is a portion of that Deity, one with that deity; undivided, inseparable; non-dual, which is the exact rendering of adváita. Knowledge, by the operation of human reason, is the highest of attainments. A man is perfect when he ventures to say "I am Para Brahm," or "I am Siva." It is a part of this system to deny moral evil; all things are necessary parts of one whole; and what is called evil, as well as what is called good, alike pertain to the Supreme-Universe. When the body dies, the soul flows into its larger self; as air, pent up in a vessel, on the vessel being opened, becomes one with the atmosphere.

It is not surprising that such a doctrine should be opposed; but the heat and animosity of the controversy might excite surprise; did we not know of the like between the Nominalists, and the Realists, in metaphysics, in Europe. The dispute is substantially one, and the same; though not drawn out to extreme consequences in Europe, till the time of Hume.

Besides the above comparison of air, and atmosphere, less perfect, but very frequent ones are—many suns seen in a vessel of water, when slightly agitated—the moon's rays divided by the branches of a tree, and appearing manifold—both optical delusions; and so is the world. The common infirmity of Eastern argument, in a mistaking comparison for proof, applies to this system, as well as to many others.

Architecture, with statuary.

On this subject these volumes are meagre. There is a little in the first volume; an old book, considered to be of value, is noted in the second volume; and there is some little matter of the kind, connected with Mackenzie M.SS, in the third.

In these there is too much of astrology, as to proper time for beginning any kind of work; and too much, in proportion, as to the measures for statues. The subject deserves a little notice beyond those points.

The architecture of towers over gateways to temples is clearly Chaldean in kind. The structure of mantapas, or Choultries of various kinds, closely resembles remains in upper Nubia, or Abyssinia; and, with the exception of the pyramidal slant, resembles remains in lower Nubia, or upper Egypt. It may be interesting to some, if I remark that I never could comprehend the construction of the great Temple at Jerusalem, notwithstanding the illustrations of Witsius, or any other commentator—till I was permitted to walk through the interior of the large Temple at Madura. I then comprehended the similitude of both at a glance. Nothing can be more remote from the drawings, and illustrations common in Europe. In the last mentioned temple the north tower was left unfinished; without the plaster figures, and the other ornaments. The simple brick-work shewed the plain Chaldean style of structure to advantage.

Besides, it seems to me that, if Bryant had been in India, he would have found much to confirm his views of the Theba being a prototype of many buildings, customs, and rites. Not only are there annual ceremonies, commemorating the floating of the Theba on the waters; but many temples have large and magnificent reservoirs of water near, with stone steps, and in the centre always a navel, to represent the vessel in the Deluge. The figure is a paralleliped basement, with flat seat at the top; pillars raised round it; and above the pillars a turreted roof of two, three, or more stories, Chaldean in style. There is a general coincidence with drawings of the ark, by Wilkinson, from drawings or sculptures in lower Egypt. And this is more likely to have been the true figure of the Theba, than a shed inserted into the hull of a Dutch galliot; the formation of which, however clumsy, was very far beyond the means of the first ship builder, Noah.

As regards the pillars in Hindu temples, so many drawings of them have been published that remark is almost superfluous. The quantity of work as well as the large size of single blocks of stone wrought, are amazing: many of the minor details are pretty; but the general effect clumsy. It is yet a problem how it happens that remains of Jaina temples, and statuary, are so immeasurably superior to works of the Brahmanical Hindu class. Some of those Jaina remains are so beautiful, as to excite surprise; and the resemblance to the Grecian style is part of the wonder.

Art of Poetry.

The father of this art appears to have been Cāli dāsa; and, in a brief work of one hundred distichs, he defined as many metaphors, with an example. A number of commentators followed. The alancāram, or rhetoric of poetry, must never be mistaken for truth. It is far more chaste, as far as I know, than the Persian style; but it is nevertheless monstrous and absurd. From the prevalence of poetry in Hindu composition, the simplicity of truth is almost always disguised. The painful result is that the Hindu mind has become familiarized with lying. Truth is insipid. Evidence loses its force. A brilliant comparison is deemed proof. It must not be forgotten that the phrenological construction of the Hindu skull is of the lower order of the Celtic, and very inferior to the broad Saxon. A thousand difficulties may be solved by this means. Besides it would seem that there is more development of the cerebellum, and greater sensuality, than in the Anglo-Saxon formation. The poetry of the Hindus runs rampant on sexualities. Much pains have been taken in the ensuing work to give an idea, so as to preserve decency. The great works have much to compensate for occasional defects of this kind, and for the turpitude of smaller compositions.

The minor rules to which poetry must be conformed are singular. Letters are divided into classes, which are ~~divine~~. Both classes and letters have their proper places. Some are ~~propitious~~, some not so. A poem should always be begun with a fortunate syllable. In writing diatribes, or lampoons, the reverse. If a poet wishes ill to any one he begins, and goes on with bad letters. The poet Camben has the reputation of having killed a king, by an infliction of this kind. The measures of poetry are very varied, as much so as the compositions of Horace. The śloca is the heroic measure; and it is subject to as strict rules as the hexameter. It is confined to Sanscrit. Other languages have their own measures. The Tamil venpā is as composite as the Italian sonnet. The rules of Caesura are usually just; the rhyming syllable is mostly the second syllable, of the first foot. Alliteration is very frequent.

It is desirable that the high polish of the Telugu and Tamil poetry should be better known in Europe; that so, competent judges might determine whether the high distinction accorded to Greek and Latin poetry, as if there were nothing like it in the world, is perfectly just. There remains, however, one commanding defect in most of the eastern poetry; the rhythm and sound, and ornament, are of more consequence than solidity, sublimity of conception, or even common sense. The Hindu mind cannot go beyond itself; and as more than once already intimated, it is probably defective as to the higher degrees of intellectual power.

The language of the Vedas, in other parts than the Sanhitas, is of peculiar construction; usually termed sutras. The heroic śloca, with its rules, was antecedent to Cāli dāsa. So Horace wrote the ars poetica and gave its exemplification; but neither Ennius, nor Virgil, owed him any obligation.

One important distinction between modern European poetry, and ancient Eastern poetry must not be omitted; which is, that the latter was not intended for quiet perusal in the cabinet, but for public recitation, as minstrelsy. Hence the great attention paid to classes of letters, and to the flowing of sounds, one into the other, without any interval, or hiatus between. Greek poetry has something of this care; but comparatively little in degree. I doubt whether the harmonious poetry even of Racine would stand the test of eastern rules, as to the uninterrupted flow of sounds.

Astrology.

This commanding subject, before which the entire Hindu mind crouches in absolute subjection; and which, apart from distinct treaties, run as a tissue throughout the following work—has necessarily occupied much of my thoughts. Little more than two centuries ago it was absolute in Europe. It is now despised. The European must lay down his prepossessions at the threshold, if he would study the native mind in this aspect. Looking at astrology in the abstract, I have never been able to reconcile its decisions with the government of an all-wise, and superintending Providence. And so there is derivable from works hereinafter enumerated, a very early Theology, handed down from the birth of time, which is distinguishable from the modern mythology; and at the same time, there is a Sabaism which gives an absolute rule, to the heavens. The theology is that of very ancient Hebrew doctors; the Sabaism is that of Chaldea, and surrounding nations. The two do not seem to accord; yet by the intervention of mythology, and idolatry, they work harmoniously together; and even support each other. The Brahmans have lowered the ideas of deity down to stocks, and stones, which are nothing apart from their own mantras; and, becoming thus gods on earth, their dicta as to the language of the heavens are received with implicit credulity.

There appears to me to be one inferential argument which tends to explain how this state of things has come to pass; and also of some importance in itself. There is a system of astrology, still known, and, by some, followed in Europe. There is also a system well known, and generally followed in India. Both were established, as they now are, before Europeans came to India. The European system can be traced up till it was one with astronomy, and derived, with astronomy from Chaldea. Neither the Indian nor the European borrowed direct from each other. The two have differences so great as to shew that they are distinct; but they have so many, and such close resemblances, as to shew that they came from some common source. The Brahmans confessedly brought astrology to India; and, on many grounds of inference, they are supposed to have emigrated from Chaldea. That was the parent country of both systems of astrology; and the differences are the work of time; and particularly so among the Arabians, through whom the system reached to Europe. But further, if the Sabaists from Chaldea were also acquainted with the Hebrew theology, as the traditions of their early forefathers, then they may have used their astrology to control the ignorant; and may have produced their theology as it suited themselves, diluted with páuranic tales (like Talmudic legends) and debased by a sexual, and sensual mythology.

One use of the Indian astrology is its giving the lunar month, and lunar day of some special occurrences. Points of comparison are thus afforded; which in the course of time may lead to conclusions of consequence. I here specially point to the coincidence between the date assigned to the birth of the Vámana avatára, and the Hebrew festival of Purim; believing, as I do, that both relate to one, and the same great occurrence.

The chief difference between the Hindu, and European system of astrology, is the division of the lunar orbit, by the former, into twenty seven mansions, with a supplement; and the very great preponderance given to the moon's place in those mansions, at the time of birth. These are wanting to the European system; which, taking the ascendant as one, divides the heavens artificially into twelve houses, giving a particular import to each; and this appears to be wanting in the Hindu system. In the great importance given to the sign in the ascendant, and on the general influences ascribed to the planets, and the sign, or signs governed by each planet, both accord. There are minor differences, and agreements, on which it is needless to enlarge.

One conclusion is to myself tolerably well apparent; which is that no regeneration of the Hindu mind at large, can be effected, except by means that may alter the present deeply rooted customs, and opinions founded on Astrology.

Divination.

This art would appear to have been carried to a considerable extent; and chiefly, as in Europe, by those professing astrology. A portion of this last, and the most quackish portion, relates to "horary questions," or questions put on particular occasions, to be forthwith answered by the stars. This term, "horary," has the appearance of Latin derivation, in the sense of hourly; but hora sastram is a Sanscrit name for astrology: hence the derivation may ascend higher, and may mean astrological questions. In a copy of Philostratus, which I possess, it is stated that one day when Nero was lifting a cup to his mouth he let it slip; and thunder at the same moment was heard. The instant was noted, and a horoscope formed; and it is shewn that it predicted Nero's fall. That might be; but it is difficult to suppose that the heavens will reply to every idle, or impertinent question; such as a wife asking, when her absent husband will return; or a trader whether a bargain purposed will turn out fortunate. Yet they who live by quackery must give an answer; and it is generally by divination. Frequent instances occur in books of this collection, in which astrology runs on to this conclusion. And it is sometimes by seeking some obscure connexion with invisible beings; though still stopping short of magic; which has its own province. Other devices, apparently more harmless, appear. One resembles the Sortes Virgilianæ, in passages being extracted from the *Rámáyana*m, and squares are formed bearing the like figures: the enquirer is directed to choose any square, or to puncture one at hazard. By reference to the book, the answer is given from the *Rámáyana*m: and is deemed oracular. In other cases various answers to probable questions are constructed; and, by like contrivance, an answer is given affirmative, or negative, or equivocal.

There is an infirmity common to the human mind of so desiring to pry into futurity; but from the evidence of the ensuing catalogue it would appear, to a strong degree, to mark the native mind. It is a sign of weakness; and a sure indication of wanting a solid, and settled religious foundation.

There are, besides, modes of divination from omens, and signs; derived from animals, birds, or reptiles. The lizard, in particular, is deemed oracular, by its chattering notes, their number, and the quarter whence heard, and the day of the week when heard: as also if it accidentally fall on any part of the person, as head or hand, and according to the member. These things are parts of popular superstition not divination, for a reward, as in the case stated in the foregoing paragraph.

Dramatic.

The nátaca or drama was carried to a high degree of perfection, in early times, by Cáli dása, by Bháva bhúti, and others. It is formed, however, on other rules than the Grecian dramas. It sometimes runs on to seven, eight, or more ancas, or acts.

The drama of Sacotala would be almost perfect (bating the immorality) were the acts reduced to five, as suggested by the translator. The best dramas are all of high antiquity. The Telugu, Canarese, and Malayalam languages appear to be wanting in native dramas. The Tamil has dramas, though not of superior order; and mostly running into broad farce. A favorite subject is to ridicule the easy terms on which the pardon of the worst crimes is offered by local legends of temples, and by opposing sectaries, in rivalry. The best of the ancient dramas are translated into Tamil, and other languages. Portions of these are sometimes acted at weddings; when a nautch is given a drama is occasionally performed. Generally however, in the south of India, the drama is below contempt, as to its attendants. The original equipment of Thespis, and his company, was quite as good as any thing in, and near Madras. One reason may be the extraordinary fondness of natives for the splendid processions, and night festivals of Temples, and their ceremonies. The native mind is not intellectual: it requires the excitement of prostitutes, songs, and dances at festivals; and some gaudy display to stare at, and wonder.

The monologue drama termed Bhánam seems a peculiarity. It is constructed so as to be recited by one person; though containing a variety of incidents; and of course it affords scope for powers of elocution, and mimicry. The most popular of these is known as Ammál bhānam ; said to be written by an aged Brahman at Conjeveram. It gives a debauchee's day at the May festival there ; and is severe on the temple prostitutes. Another monologue gives the complete day of a mimic Krishna at Tripeti. It is superfluous to add, that the mere toleration of such pieces marks the lowest ebb of morality.

However when it is considered that elevated, and enlightened people, down to a very recent period, countenanced every thing connected, with Drury lane, Covent garden, the Theatre Français, or the Odeon, severe censure need not to be meted out to others ; so much inferior to them in science, arts, civilization, and refinement.

Erotic.

It is cause of regret that there is any occasion for this heading ; but it cannot be helped, and must be borne with. There may be three degrees or stages, in such kind of works. One is in the case of tales of fiction, which may be something worse than novels tolerated in Europe. From an unwillingness to swell this genus, I have sometimes put a copy, or two copies in it, and others under Tales. Another kind is amatory poetry ; love songs ; chants, which have reference to Krishna ; and others relating to Siva and Parvati, disguised as gipsies ; with songs of figurantes, addressed ostensibly to gods, and really to kings, or courtiers. From the great prevalence of poetry, and from poetry and prose being very often in one book, I could not separate the two as to classification ; and hence the "cloud messenger" comes under this heading, though the first part is descriptive ; but the poet's main object was the female person ; of which his description is more minute, and less modest, than is allowed to appear in the translation by Wilson. The lowest of this genus are those works, which treat systematically on the ars amoris ; beyond the licentiousness of Ovid, or perhaps of any European writer ; except possibly Aretin, of whose sonnets, I have seen some notice in an Encyclopedia. The distribution of women into four classes, with a number of minor subdivisions, may be harmless ; but the connected descriptions are intentionally licentious ; and there are other matters still worse. Books of this sort have lately been prohibited from being circulated, by an act of the Indian Legislature. The only portion of such books, that could be of any use, would be chastened abstracts of those exterior marks of person, whereby it is known if the two sexes are suited, or not, to each other; for it is matter of ordinary remark, that many unsuitable marriages; as to person, occur; and that they are productive of domestic unhappiness. There is so little, however, to redeem the whole, that all such works might be burnt, without any damage being done to literature, or society.

A still worse kind of books are those which relate to the worship of the female energy of the universe; but such notice of these, as may be suitable, will come in their proper places.

Ethical.

Though various pieces, that come under this head, will be met with, yet their weight or value is not great. A basis of morals is wanting. To some puránas a finale, on duties, is appended, or attributed. Hence dharma is defined, as it pertains to Sáivas or to Váishnavas; and in these are many things that may be accepted by all, as consonant with the general sense of mankind. Pieces, expressly ethical, are usually jejune. They sometimes turn on the uncertainty of life, of health, of riches, and on the limited nature, at best, of human enjoyment; and are so far, respectable. But many sentences would seem to turn on the clinquant of language; evaporating by translation. Ascetical pieces go too far; but perhaps these are more properly religious.

A classing the Bhagavat gita under this head may require a word or two of explanation. It contains, no doubt, passages that might be taken out, and fitted into almost any system of morals. Moreover the grand question is a moral one—whether it is abstractedly just, and fitting for relatives to butcher each other, on questions of right, and division of property; and the great sophism arrived at is, that to do so may be a duty, and even a virtue: as also of the greater value, if it can be done in a calm, collected, cold-blooded manner; and with a magnanimous contempt of all future consequences. If the author of this chant was the author of the entire poem, then I am persuaded he intended this sophism—the opposite of just ethical conclusion—to be apparent from the connexion, before and after the war. With poetical justice he brings in the moans of the widows, and orphans of those slain; and especially, at the close, represents the Pándavas, the aggressors (though confessedly injured) as in purgatory, and the leaders of the defeated party in paradise. The fashion of taking the gíta out of its connexion, and making it a dogmatical book; begun by Sancaráchárya, and others, with their commentators, has much disguised its character; especially when taken together with its mysterious, and obscure phraseology.

If this separation is to be understood as indicating an opinion that its authorship is distinct, and that it was added to the Maha bharata, in the course of time, then my view as to the intended sophism must be qualified. There is no express assertion to indicate such an addition. The whole composition is popularly ascribed to Vyása. But then, it is understood that he taught it to his pupil Váisampayana; by whom it was recited on a public occasion at the Court of Janamejaya; and it was afterwards repeated, in páuranic form, to the sages in the Náimisara wilderness. These considerations may sanction the idea of additions, and amplification; but the divine authority ascribed to the whole inhibits the idea of contradiction, which exists, if the sophism in question was not studied.

The translator, Mr. Wilkins, did not understand the full force of the word karma; and commentators, German, or English, have, as I think, blundered on after him. It is the hinge of Hindu theology; and, in so far as this poem is concerned, the question is whether there is moral retribution; and if so, whether it is to be eared for, when passion and interest run contrary. The language of Krishna is in substance—“Cast off this unmanly weakness—fight—do what I tell you, as duty—worship me—those evil persons are already killed by destiny; slay them actually—and the more coolly, and calmly you can do this the better; as to fear of consequences, or moral retribution, cast that to the winds.” Let the reader, in thought, put the like language into the mouth of the sanguinary Tavañnes, on the massacre of St. Bartholomew’s day; or into the mouth of any leading mutineer at Meerut, and other places, and its true character will become instantly visible.

The poem turns on the sublimer portion of ethics ; it may be classed as ethical : though the admiration that has been bestowed on it, by some Europeans, is to me a matter of the merest wonder.

Geometry.

It may be only needful to remark that the little, which comes under this head, relates to the strict meaning of the word ; that is to land measuring. I have given a few indices as to technical terms ; hoping they may be useful. It is chiefly in that point of view, that these books are of any value ; that is, the getting out of them good technical words, for common use, in the spoken languages.

Grammatical.

The works under this head, in the catalogue, will be found to be numerous ; but chiefly in reference to Sanscrit. In this language the brief and obscure sutras of Pānini seem to be the foundation of the whole superstructure. These were amplified by Vara ruchi (otherwise Katyayana) and still further by Patanjali. In modern times the Siddhanta cāmudī, a comment on Pānini is most used, from its comparative easiness. There is a comment on this comment ; and very many subordinate matters ; best met with in detail. There are many Telugu ticas on Sanscrit grammars ; that is, verbal glossaries to the meaning, sometimes with verbal translation. As to the old Andhra language the work of Kanva appears to be lost, and the work of Nannayya Bhatt, with a number of explanatory comments, seems to be the standing, and great authority. The chief of these comments are the Bāla Sarasvatiyam, and Ahobala Panditiyam, with the Appa caviyam. The result of Nannayya's work was to strain the simple, mellifluous language, so as to make it fit a Sanscrit frame.

In Tamil the native grammars, independent of Sanscrit, are more abundant. The first shaping of the language into rule (from the crude form as now spoken on the Neilgherries) is ascribed to Agastya ; who has as much laid to his account, in the South, as Vyāsa in the North. His grammar is lost ; probably it did not extend far beyond the introduction of written characters, and a few rules. His disciple, name unknown, composed the Tolcapiyam, or old poem, which is the real foundation of Tamil grammar: an elaborate work, and understood by very few. This work was abridged in the Nannúl, which is the usual authority, now referred to; and on which many minor works have been founded.

In Canarese there are ticas on Sanscrit works; but I believe only one original Canarese grammar by Késava, entitled sabda mani derpanam, or mirror of word jewels.

In Malayalam there is, I believe, no native Grammar; occasioned, I presume, by the country being reckoned as one of the districts in which an impure, or provincial Tamil was spoken. The basis of the language is low Tamil: and it has assumed its form by having distinct characters, moulded very much on the gran'tha letter, and by being profusely larded with Sanscrit.

The modern Dravidian languages have been made very much what they now are, by the influx of Brahmans from the North; and by their every where communicating a taste for Sanscrit additions. It so happens that many simple sentences may be expressed one way in native language; and another way with the aid of Sanscrit; and a false taste has every where caused the last to be thought the best: somewhat in the same way as the modern jargon of science, (called English,) appears to be generally preferred to the simple epistolary style of Pope, or Swift. As to the original substratum of those languages, it may be seen in the Todar language of the hills; three fourths being vulgar Tamil; and, after rejecting European, and Arabic terms, leaving the rest to be divided between Telugu and Canarese. But the old polished Tamil is another thing: and it is to that language that the refinements of Tamil grammar have been applied. The rules in all grammars are too much adapted to poetry; so as to secure flowing, mellifluous utterance, without any hiatus of sound: tried by which rules our best English poetry would be condemned. In the present day, when utility is the object, it is needful to take the language out of fetters; and to write it as it is spoken in polished conversation.

Historical.

The amount of matter under this head, in the first and second volumes, is small; but there is a little. In the third volume there is a probability of a larger portion. The researches of Col. Mackenzie were, in a main degree, directed to this point; and though he had not the most intelligent assistants; yet a mass of information was elicited, as to the history of the Dacshin; that is the Deccan, or Southern country. The most ancient name of India, as a whole, was the Bharata kandam, which was bounded to the South by Gujérat, the Vindhya range of mountains, and Bengal. Beyond that was the Dandacāranya, or forest of Dandacan; an unknown region of romance, and monstrosity. According to the Scanda puránam, a Brahman named Agastya, was the first who crossed the Vindhya mountains, and explored the far distant South. On his report, successive migrations of Brahmans, and other tribes, took place; of which the Mackenzie MSS. preserve something like distinct records. By means of those Brahmans a knowledge of letters was diffused; and public records began to exist. But they were extremely distorted, and magnified. The Brahmans appear to have been most studious to conceal their real origin, and to invent a fabulous one. It is somewhat remarkable that the falsification of about nine hundred years, which Professor Wilson discovered in their books, tallies with the difference between the Hebrew and Samaritan chronology. The Brahmans appear to have used the Samaritan, as we follow the Hebrew chronology. The one is as likely to be true, as the other; since, notwithstanding the labors of Usher, Newton and others, a certain chronology of very ancient events is still a desideratum. From the immigration stated, the history of the Peninsula must be comparatively modern. All about Ráma was romance; and I dare venture to assert that Lanca was not Ceylon. The ancient states of Uchchini, Magadha, Hastinápuri, and Ayódhya (or Ougein, Gaur, Delhi and Oude) were all North of the Vindhya mountains. We find traces of sovereignties South of the Vindhya mountains; as the Gajapatis of Cuttack, and Calinga, further South; the Chalukiyas of Kalyána, and Pándiyans of Madura. But they cannot be traced up with certainty much higher than the beginning of the Christian era. All above that seems absorbed in the legends about Vicramāditya, and Salirahana. The rise of two very important states at Warankal, and Vijayanaganam, can be fixed at about 7 or 800 A.D. and 1100 to 1200 A.D. subsequent to these two dates, the Mackenzie MSS. give a great variety of details; which have been partially published by Professor Wilson, and by my own Analysis of Mackenzie MSS. The way in which they may elucidate any given topic is shewn in my recent Memoir on the Elliot marbles. And I must repeat a distinction therein stated; which is, that the absolute non-existence of historical records, and our not being acquainted with such as do exist, are quite different propositions. It is better to suspend a judgment on the former point, until positively certain that all possible materials have been thoroughly sifted, and found to yield dust, and no diamonds.

Hymnology.

This term is used with reference to the Greek sense of the word Hymnos; as applicable to chants of a character deemed sacred, by the composers, or votaries using them. Throughout this work I have been careful to avoid certain paranomasias, not unusual among Europeans in the East; such as would have occurred if I had used the word Psalmody, in place of the above heading; though the original word is as good Greek as hymnologia. Chants ranged under this head are addressed to some form of deity; no matter whether respectable, according to our ideas, or otherwise. Where any king, or great man, is the object, the matter comes under Panegyrical, or some other heading; and I trust no further explanation is needed to prevent any association of ideas with any modern adaptation of the original word to other than classical usage.

Incantations.

This term is not employed in its worst possible sense. There are pieces under it of very dubious character; but, in general, I have ranged under this genus, such as may be precative of good, rather than imprecative of evil. The worst compositions come under other headings. Such as come under this one are distinguished from the foregoing head, in not being always intended for chanting, or public recitation; though I am aware that the strict etymology is a chant against some one, or something. But I define, in order to avoid that literal construction. The mantra and the japá, as also long lists of names of deities when in prose, or even in verse, are not designed for public utterance. They are whispered, or muttered, or repeated in a low tone; with various gesticulations; and motions of hands, and fingers. The very ancient formule, the gayatri itself, is of this kind; and very many others are like it, as to manner of use. The reader will therefore be pleased to understand that though some doubtful pieces certainly come under this heading; yet that in general they are of medium, or perhaps good import. Worse pieces have other locations. See Magical, and Sacti worship.

Inscriptions.

It is needless to do more than state that the first, and second volumes, contain only a little matter on this head. The third will probably be very full of indices thereupon. It is likely that details may not be needed; seeing that the subject is understood to occupy a part of the attention of a gentleman of high Civil rank, and of first rate authority in all matters of Oriental Literature.

Lexicographical.

The leading work is the Amara Cosha, by Amrita Sinha, a Jaina; which has a number of comments; with translations into Telugu, Canarese and Malayalam. There are other lexicons, formed on fanciful principles; as words of one letter, or two letters, of words having only dual meaning; and of words of many meanings. The list of roots attached to grammar in its second division is, in effect, lexicographical. The work by Hemádri, a Jaina, is valuable. There is also a lexicon of materia medica; and others, which may best appear in detail, in the body of the work.

The Tamil Nigandu, also by a Jaina, is an old, and standard work, which survived the extermination of the Jainas, as did the Amaram; and the preservation of both is ascribed to miracle. The Tamil language is more averse from the Sanscrit, than others above specified; and it adheres to its own lexicons. Sanscrit words are profusely admitted, into the spoken language at Madras; but they are more sparingly allowed further South; and they undergo orthographical changes, making them almost new words.

There are modern lexicons and Dictionaries of all the languages above mentioned, by Europeans; but none of them have found their way into this collection. A few copies in the Library are understood to be not subject to catalogue making; but are under reserve, as private property.

Law—Smṛiti, or Dherma sastra.

This subject having been elucidated by able pens, will need little from me: and only as relative to the contents of the ensuing work. The first volume will contain something on this head; and the second more; the third little if any. As to the various, and minute appointments of the sacerdotal law, these run, as a tissue, through a large portion of the work; being so mixed up with other matters that it is not possible to separate them. They intrude upon the most delicate family matters; and authorize the Brahman to meddle with every thing. The Manu smṛiti, or Institutes of Menu, are obsolete in the present age. The code by Parásara, as expressly designed for the Calì Yuga, has superseded it. Of this code various fragments will occur in the following work. The code of Yagnyaválcyā is of high authority, in brief Sanscrit apothegms. The paraphrase on this code by Vignānēsvara, known as the Vignānēsvaryam, is a standing authority in the Southern part of the Peninsula. Of this there are various portions in the collection, including the secular law; more or less complete, and of value. The Smṛiti Chandrica, and the Pratāpa rudriyam, also in the collection, in a state more or less complete, are of authority, and use in Telingana. Codes of most use in Bengal are not in this collection.

Hindu law, is usually divided into three Cāndams, or parts, the śōkharya, or sacerdotal; vyavahāra, or secular; and prayaschita, or penal. Portions of each of these are in the collection; but the first prevails. The secular law goes much on the principle of the king sitting personally in judgment, with his mantri, as chief adviser; who in this branch is chancellor; while in others he is head of the privy council. Some of the rules as to witnesses, and evidence, seem very good. But the whole is for a frame-work of society very different from any thing known in Europe. The question whether real property is "temporal or spiritual" or more properly secular, or ecclesiastical, with which law treatises open, is determined in favor of ecclesiastical: because a son acquires a right of inheritance not from birth solely, but from setting fire to the funereal pyre of his father. On this was founded one of the most solid pillars of brahmanical dominion; because one who had lost his caste, could not discharge that last duty; and, by consequence could not inherit ancestral property. The Indian Legislature has altered that law; though with attendant difficulty. This one point is enough to shew how widely Hindu and European manners differ; much more may be apparent from this brief Introduction; still more in proportion as any one dips into the work; and, by degrees, becomes somewhat acquainted with the multifarious contents.

Logical.

Though the Tark'ha sastra, is termed logic, and really is partly so; yet it differs materially from the European system, so named. As far as I am able to judge, from the pieces that have come before me, the system is related to the Nyáya system, one of the six dersanas, or schools of philosophy; and this appears to be antagonistic to the Sanc'hya system; which at one time, along with Báuddhism, had extensive influence. The Sanc'hya philosophy has been stated to be "atheistic," and one which "inculcates materialism."* Atheistic it certainly is; but if the káricas as translated by Colebrooke, and other comments translated by Professor Wilson are the best authorities, it appears to me, as far as I can understand such recondite themes—to derive the concrete universe from matter, and abstract principles, variously combined; and if an intelligent spirit were put in place of abstract principles, much would not be wrong. But it seems the express object of the system to ignore, and, in the result, to deny the existence of any such Intelligent Agent in Creation. Hence, the Tark'ha, or Nyáya system, in its various vátams, or discussions, enquires if there is any intelligent First cause; and deduces the affirmative in the same way that European theologians prove the Being of God. It further enquires if there is a material cause; and settles that also in the affirmative: which is nearly equivalent to asserting the eternity of matter. I suppose it to be owing to the subtleties of philosophical disquisition, in early ages, that the Tark'ha sastra has so much of a theological turn. For the rest, the system brings all things real, or possible, under three grand divisions of self-evident, or intuitive—doubtful, or inferential, or analogical—and authority, or testimony. By śabda, “the word,” appears originally to be meant the védas (which *Sanc'hya*s' rejected); but it has come to denote all kinds of authority, or testimony.

The oldest known system divides all things under sixteen padart'has, or general categories; which are distributed among the three Cándams, or principal divisions. Much of the matter of more recent authors is occupied in contesting the accuracy of that division; and it admits only seven generalities. It is disputed whether the word earth includes gold. It is disputed whether light and darkness are distinct things, as in the old system; or only one thing as in the new system; because darkness is the mere absence of light. One constant topic of discussion is, whether an author ought, or ought not, to prefix recommendatory prefaces to any new work: usually settled in the affirmative. Moreover, the regular form of proceeding, if according to this system, is by pūrova pacsham, or objection, and siddhantam, rectification, or reply. This form, in European logic, is auxiliary, or supplementary only; and is rarely free from some sophism. It appears to be primary in the Hindu system.

On the whole, the Tark'ha sastra does not seem so much intended for practical uses, as for mere recondite disputation; and is, so far, similar to the cobweb disputes, and discussions of the Aristotelian school-men, in the middle ages. In those ages, as among Hindus, the Civil Government and polity afforded no scope for forensic eloquence, or for addresses ad populum. The summit of prudence, and policy, was to oblige, and flatter, and flatter the despot of the day. When the human mind has nothing noble before it; no sublime aspirations to pursue; no object of high intellect to obtain; it naturally becomes sordid, or ingenious in trifles, and wastes in puerile catenas, or school disputations, those energies which, if well directed, might be useful to mankind, and honorable to the individuals concerned. We may perhaps be thankful that we live in an utilitarian age; and that our vapouring now is in the shape of steam, and not on the questions whether the body of an angel occupies any portion of space, or whether the idea of light also includes within itself the idea of darkness.

Meritorious devotion.

Under this heading I have designated vratas, or penances of various kinds, and vrata calpas, the fruit or benefit of such penitential observances. There is a great similarity between these, and what, in one country of Great Britain, are termed "stations". However there is not so much the expiation of crime concerned—provided for by more costly appointments—as the prospective acquisition of some benefit, often trivial. There is this difference between a vow, and the vrata, that the former is conditional, "if I obtain so and so, I will give so and so, or do such or such a thing." If then the desired object is not attained the specified obligation is null: and the vow absolved. The vrata is a condition, laid down by some assumed authority, which is to be performed, and the calpa is the assured fruit; if the observance be rightly, and fully conducted. It is evident that a governing power can thus be exercised over a weak, and superstitious mind almost without limit. Some of these vratas require much time; some for months, some for years; and some for particular days to be continued through several years. A safeguard against the detection of a cheat is thus provided; for if the patience of the votary fail, and the observance break down at half way of progress, of course the promised benefit fails; and the votary has himself, or herself to blame. A majority of these observances are intended for women; whose credulity is generally greater than that of men. Thus I have often seen a woman, or more than one, at different times, walking round two trees, considered to be married, and planted, in an exposed situation, on the bund of a tank. The object of this performance on Fridays, and on Monday when new-moon day, is known to be to obtain offspring; and the result is almost sure to be accomplished, in the case of a lone woman, so publicly exposed, and for such a known object; but by means not consistent with honor, or morality. Many similar observances have like tendencies. Some are of difficult performance; such as the lighting one hundred thousand lights in a temple; or presenting the same number of sprigs of sweet basil before a shrine of Krishna; to obtain which, at one time, would be attended with cost and great pains. It is not always necessary that the vrata should be accomplished in person: a substitute may be hired. Thus, on one occasion, seeing a man rolling his prostrate body around a small temple, on the banks of a river; accompanied with violent contortions and gesticulations; I pitied the poor man; but was told that it was a willing service, for which he was paid, by some richer and greater man. It is not needful further to enlarge on such a topic; what is stated being sufficient to give the reader a general idea of this meritorious devotion; always based on human merit; and, when rising above the lowest degree, ascending to the dogma that man may, by self imposed austerities, raise himself to the rank of divinity.

Mineral Conchology.

This heading would disappoint expectation, if not expressly limited to petrified shells, found either on the Himālayas, or in the bed of a river at their foot. Ammonites have been found at a very great height on those hills; and there can be little doubt that, in times very remotely ancient, the table land above was merely an ordinary sea-shore; with the ocean covering the dherria dhoon, and all things south of it. The deposit of shells, now become petrifications, at the foot of those mountains is nothing extraordinary. They appear to be of various kinds, as to spirals; designated by the names of different gods; and, from the whole being assumed to have some reference to Vishnu, it is probable that they are all various species of the Linnæan genus buccinum: it being that kind of shell that Vishnu holds in one of his hands, emblematic in character; the virtues ascribed to these shells, under the term sālagrāmā are extraordinary; as may be seen in detail under the particulars. The gods of the Egyptians, and the people themselves, were severely lashed by Juvenal the Roman satirist, exclaiming inter alia—

“O virtuous people! whose gods grow in the gardens.”

There is abundant room for the satirist on the gods of India; but pity is the kindlier emotion; and the object of the writer of these remarks is indicative merely; always leaving the reader to the benefit of his own reflexions.

EAST INDIA HOUSE MANUSCRIPTS.

A. SANSKRIT.

a. Dēva-nāgarī letter.

I. ADVAITA.

1. No. 2147. Advaita-tatva-retna-dīpica.

This is a prose commentary on a work entitled Advaita tatva retna, or jewel of the advaita system; it is incomplete.

Investigation as to the rupā, or form, (or nature) of the jīvātma (human soul) and the paramātma (Divine essence). There is no real difference between these two. The jagat, or visible universe is (metya) a lie. By the tatva-gnānam, or knowledge of truth, the maya (illusion) of the world is removed, and beatification will be acquired. The subject is treated according to native logic, by the purva pacsha, or objections raised, and the siddhantam, reply, or over-ruling the objections. In substance the Smārtā system of Sancāra ācharya is taught. The leaves number 1 to 56, and 122 to 168; wanting 66 leaves in the middle. Two leaves on the mangala vāta of logic, and in Telugu letter, are prefixed. The book is of medium size, old; a few leaves damaged by breaking.

2. No. 2262. Munassólāsam, or sport of the mind. In ślōcas, or distichs, and in ten ulāsas, or essays—complete.

It is a commentary on a work entitled Dacshāna-murti-ashtacam, the ślōcas of which are herein contained as the text, with a running comment; each ślōca of the original being extended to one essay. The work is intended to illustrate, and promote the doctrine of the Sāiva-védantam, or advaita system; as in the foregoing book. The title might be rendered by the term jeu d'esprit; only that the subject, and mode of treatment, are serious; complete on 17 leaves. The book is short, thin, and in good order.

II. ALCHEMICAL.

1. No. 2248. Two tracts, or books; both of them on mineral, and alchemical topics.

1.) Rasa retnacāra—on transmuting mercury &c., the vāta khandam; ślōcas. By Nitya nāi ha siddha.

The 1st to the 18th upadésa, or instruction complete, the 19th incomplete.

On the properties of mercury—the sutacam or ceremony of removing evil from it, by herbs, roots, and mantras, or spells: details of its use—test of the vajram or diamond—on reducing diamond to a calcined powder, stated to possess the property, when in very small quantity, of turning much iron into silver. Purification of sulphur—of talc, of apracam (a sort of mica)—purification of copper—and of lead. Nága-bhasmam, zinc calcined to powder; these and similar matters, relative to metals; and the melting of these, or dissolving of other substances preparatory to other operations. Also on melting gold, silver, iron &c. The mode of melting the nine kinds of jewels. Throughout are scattered directions for the making of gold; 98 leaves.

2.) Another like book, on the rasa-vátam; ślócas, or distichs.

On apracam, or mica—on talc, on sulphur, and the different kinds of metals; mode of melting, and purifying them. The using them when in a fluid, or melted form (pachanam) for alchemical purposes, as the making of gold &c. 13 leaves.

The book is larger than the medium size, old, and slightly damaged.

III. ALMANACS.

1. No. 2246. Til'hi nirnaya chandrica, rules for determining the lunar days for ceremonial observances. The work quotes from verses by rishis and munis, and, from puranas; and the filling in by ślócas is by the author. Divided into prakarnas—3 complete, the 4th not so.

Chapter 1. From the month chaitra to the end of the year, a statement of the various festivals marked in an almanac—as yugáti, Ráma-navami—upácarman—janmashtami—savana dvadasi—Ganésa-chaturdhi—Rishi-panchami—Ananta-vrata—mahályá-pacsha—Sárada navarátri—dipóvali—these, and other ceremonial days; the proper lunar times for their observance.

Chapter 2. The annual funereal anniversary—the mála masam or intercalary month: what can be done in that month, and what cannot be done. The meritorious time of an eclipse—the tithi for the eleventh day's fast, both as observed by Smártas and Mádhavas: the vrata, or vow of eating, and fasting on alternate days; other times of merit—the proper times defined.

Chapter 3. Relates to the twelve ordinary household ceremonies from pregnancy and birth, up to assuming the sacred thread, by a Brahman; these can be only attended to on proper days; herein defined. The burning of a widow with the body of her deceased husband; various other funereal observances; and times of ceremonial uncleanness, with rules of proceeding. As far as the book goes it is complete; but more is wanting.

It has a resemblance, in part, to a tract by Raghunandana, translated by Sir W. Jones; but is much fuller; and, though intended for almanac-making, has a portion of ritual observance superadded. It is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

2. No. 2261. Panchángam, or almanac, for the cycle year named Prajolpatti. As the 1st leaf is wanting the saca year is not known. From Chaitra the 12 lunar months complete, with the bright and dark fortnights, and the five members, or parts of an almanac, as usual. In what is termed the pít'haca, or prognosticating portion, there are only 3 parts, as to the king, as to results of the winter-solstice, and the lunar mansions: in all 39 leaves.

The book is of medium size, and a little damaged.

IV. ART OF POETRY.

1. No. 2229. Sampradaya-pracásini.

By Vidya-chacraverti.

This is a tíca, or comment on the kavya pracása. It has six ulásas of the first adhyáya, or chapter, complete. The 7th ulása not so, only half remaining. The letter is Nágari, and Canarese mixed. The subject is on poetry, and rhetoric, and follows the original—see the next number.

Two leaves in the Grant'ha letter are added; containing a list of Sanscrit books.

The whole book has 93 written leaves, and 33 blank leaves at the end; it is long, and somewhat thick, injured by worms.

2. No. 2230. Kavya pracása—Art of poetry, in mixed prose and verse.

The 1st chapter from the 1st to the 9th ulása complete; the 10th unfinished.

1st. The importance of poetry, and also on special forms, or kinds of poetry.

2d. Rules as to words. 3d. as to meaning.

- 4th. On chanting, or pronunciation.
- 5th. Definition of other technical terms.
- 6th. On the meaning of figurative terms.
- 7th. Exposition of faults.
- 8th. Description, and definition of ornamental metaphors.
- 9th. The same continued.
- 10th. On elegancies of sentiment.

The book is short, and somewhat thick, the last few leaves much injured.

3. No. 2231. Chitra mīmāṃsa kandana.

By Jagat'ha Pandita.

The 1st to the 11th prakerna, or section, incomplete—in prose.

This is a critique, condemnatory of a comment by Appāiya dīcshada on the Chandra loca of Caṭi-dasa.

Section 1. Faults in the opening of the book.

- | | | | |
|-----|----|---------------------------------|----|
| 2. | ,, | On the upāmānalancāram . | |
| 3. | ,, | Upameyogi-alancaram . | |

| 9. | ,, | Vranti | ,, |
| 10. | ,, | Uleca | ,, |
| 11. | ,, | Apahnōdyiya | ,, |

On all these technical points the work of Appāiya dīcshada is condemned, 36 leaves. The book is of medium length, thin, and has 1 leaf broken. See 2235.

4. No. 2232. Rasa nirūpana,—on poetical sentiments, metaphorically entitled Rāma-chandra-yēshōbhushana, “the famous jewel of Rāma,” as being ascribed to a king. By Cachavēsvara dīcshada, complete in 8 parich'hedas, or divisions; on 50 leaves, chiefly in verse, but with some prose.

1.) Śringara-rasa nirūpana—on amatory poetry; description of the nayaca hero, and nayaki heroine; description of the ten kinds of pain, or bodily affection, as fainting, loathing of food, &c., occasioned by the passion of love. On the six rutus, or seasons of the year, and their effects; in amatory affections.

2.) Ashta-rasa-nirúpana—description of the eight other passions, or sentiments.

(1.) Vira-rasa courage.—(2.) raudra-rasa cruelty—(3.) hasya-rasa risibility—(4.) adbhuta-rasa astonishment—(5.) karuna-rasa kindness—(6.) zanti-rasa forbearance—(7.) bhīpadsa-rasa, causing aversion to others—(8.) Bhayancara-rasa, inducing fear terrible.

3.) Bhava-nirúpana description of the imaginations, or varying ideas of mind.

The St'hāyi or settled, and Vyabhichara, or unsettled state of thought, as connected with action. The vibhava or preceding state of mind, predisposition, and anubhava existing state of mind; announced by signs, or words, or softly speaking; other matters are contained, as móha, and lajà-nirupanam definition of lust, and the sense of shame; and a description of amorous signs, or gestures, with their import. In illustration of all the foregoing, and of their effect in the production of good poetry, many ślōcas are extracted from various authors of répute; as examples of the different subjects treated in the book. It is of medium size, old, and slightly injured only at the end of a word.

5. No. 2233. Kāvya-pracāsica-vyākhyāna, another commentary on the Kāvya-pracāsica.

By Kamalācāra Bhatta, in prose.

From the 1st to the 5th ulāsa; but incomplete.

1.) Svarupa vizēsha nirnayam—the forms, or kinds of versification defined.

2.) Sabda-nirnayam, on words, direct or metaphorical; suited to places.

3.) Art'ha-nirnayam, definition as to meaning direct, or metaphorical.

4.) Dvani-nirnayam, as to sound, intonation.

5.) Vyangya-saṅgīra-bhēda, on variation of chant, metaphorical figures, &c.

The various rhetorical ornaments in the composition, chiefly of heroic poems; discussed by pūrova-pacsha, and siddhanta, or objections raised, and answered: 84 leaves, others wanting.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, looks recent, yet touched by insects.

6. No. 2234. Sahedyā-calpa-vali.

By Ananta-guru, on the art of poetry in prose : fancifully divided into guchus or flower bunches 1—3 guchū complete, the 4th incomplete.

The subjects are,

Carya-prayojana, use of heroic verse.

Rasa-samānya-nirupanam, description of poetical sentiments in general.

Sringāra, and others of the nine rasas ; each one of them particularized.

Subdārṭha alancāra. Tropes as to words, and meaning ; the whole being matters requisite to the composition of good poetry.

The book is long, and thin ; the leaves are gnawed at one end.

7. No. 2235. Chandra-lōca—on rhetoric, or the art of poetry ; by Cāli dāsa.

This appears to have been one of the earliest works, on this subject ; by one of the most celebrated poets. The book contains the mulam, or original only, in 151 ślōcas, complete on ten leaves. The whole is divided into one hundred alancāras, or ornaments ; of which a few are here specified.

Upamānam comparison, utprōbam : ananvāi agreement, parinama, other, or foreign names, vishama, irony, sarcasm, dīpicā, paraphrase.

The book is of medium length, thin, injured by insects. On the general subject—See β. b. III. XXII.

V. ASTROLOGICAL.

1. No. 2144. Madhaviya-samhita-kāla-nirnaya, description of times, prose.

By Vidyaranya-tīrtṭha.

Divided into prakaranas, or sections 1 to three complete the 4th incomplete.

Definition as to years—as to ayanas, or hemispheres, as to rutu or season, six reckoned ; as to months ; addition to the lunar months to make up a solar year ; as to paesha, the bright, and dark lunar fortnight ; as to til'his, or lunar days ; on the srōddhakāla or times for funeral observances, and anniversaries of them. On cycles of various kinds, reckoned from the 1st day of a year ; one of 10 days ; some of a longer period ; described, and defined ; eca-hucta-nirnaya, on eating only once a day ; ra-tri-bhōjana-nirnaya, on eating at night, so far only ; incomplete, 101 leaves.

The book is of medium length, and somewhat thick, damaged at the end, by insects, and breaking.

2. No. 2192. The 3d section kālu-nirṇayam—ślokas two copies, both incomplete; one with a verbal comment in Canarese; and one with a Sanscrit prose explanation.

—Rutu-nirṇayam, description of the six seasons.

—Chandra-sāura-māsa-nirṇayam, definition of the solar and lunar years, with agreement, and variation.

—Adhica-māsa-nirṇayam—supplement to lunar months; sometimes in one month, sometimes in two or three months.

—Ravi-saṅcramana-nirṇayam—the passage of the sun from sign to sign, or the 1st day of each solar month for a year; also specially the commencement of a new year: incomplete, 68 leaves in all.

The book is of medium length, and thickness, slightly touched by insects.

3. No. 2201. Jyōtisham, Astrology.

Two books or portions, the first chiefly on natural astrology; the other on judicial.

1.) What may be done according to the birth nacshētra, or place of the moon at birth, and what may not be done.

Definition of the astrological yogas, or divisions of the circle.

On hulos round the sun, and moon, as indicating rain &c., the result, or influence of Indra's bow, (the rainbow) according to place and time when seen; prognostics as to unseasonable rain. What days are evil, as to marriage ceremonies; proper days on which to plant trees, or to sow corn: palmistry, different as regards the two sexes. Notice of the time of first menstruation, and prognostics thence derived. The tyāja kālam, or evil time as to all the planets; being $3\frac{1}{4}$ Indian or $1\frac{1}{2}$ English hours; these and similar matters, as to p'halas, or results, stated.

2.) Parasari-hira; ślokas, with a prose Sanscrit comment.

—results from the opposition of planets.

—the age, or life-time of individuals, according to their horoscopes: the time of any one's death, as so indicated.

—dasa anta dasa—how long any planet's influence lasts, and inner divisions of that time, with the influence of each one.

—Meṣha (aries) and the other signs; a brief summary as to their results, when they are lagunas, or in the ascendant at the time of birth. These results from the horoscope, in this book, relate to the male sex alone: complete, leaves from 108 to 176.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

4. No. 2239. Bruha-játacam; the horoscope expanded; ślócas, with verbal comment in Telugu.

By Varaha mitráchárya.

From the 1st to the 10th adhyayam, or chapter.

- 1st. Rasi-síla—a definition of the measures, and positions of the Zodiacal sign, and lunar asterisms.
- 2d. Griha yóni bheda—lords of the signs; their diverse nature and power; the sign itself appears to be personified as feminine.
- 3d. Viyóna-janma—various genera, and species of living creatures, or beings.
- 4th. Alana, on pregnancy, and its results, by the planets.
- 5th. Sutika, prognostication as to the child; from the time of its birth.
- 6th. Harishta, evils that will befall the child till its death; with the time of that event.
- 7th. Ayudsha, the measure of life, how long.
- 8th. Dasa, how long the good, and evil influence of different planets will last.
- 9th. Ashtaca varga, quartiles, and other aspects of the planets, with the good, or evil results.
- 10th. Carma jiva, how a man will subsist, or by what kind of employment he will gain a livelihood.

On 98 leaves, uncertain whether complete: except as so far.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, injured by worms, and slightly by termites.

5. No. 2240. Section 1. Jyótisham, astrology; has no title, which might be kála nirnaya—ślócas, without comment.

On the proper astrological times for various Brahminical ceremonies; as the nama carmam, giving a name; chavulam, shaving the head; the first beginning to learn reading; the putting on the sacred thread; the marriage; an enquiry by 24 modes, as to the birth nacshetras of the intended pair; whether the marriage can, or cannot be celebrated.

The book is of medium size, old, and injured.

6. No. 2241. Two books; there is much in both of them pertaining to ritual and meritorious devotion; but as astrology is the prevailing, and governing subject, it is thought best to class them here.

1.) Zánti-Khanda prayogam—(extracts from) a chapter in some book, so entitled.

—Vyati páta, on a bad karanam (portion) in the following birth-nacshétras, i. e. Visacha; aslésa; mula; jyesh'tha; uttara-shadha; purva shadha: if children are born in such a karanam, a zánti or expiation is appointed to remove evils, in each case differing.

—Grahana Kálam, on eclipses; a zánti to remove the evil connected with them.

—Róga Yucta nacshétra, a zánti to remove evil of being born in a lunar asterism, betokening disease.

☞ It may be supposed that the zánti is merely precative; hoping to remove the evil by the intervention of a power that controls secondary causes; but if it be absolute the Brahmans make themselves to be superior to the heavens, as well as to their idols.

—Asveta pradacshana—vrata kalpam, mode, or ceremonial of a woman walking round an arasu tree, keeping it on the right hand, in order to obtain her desires.

—Asveta ubandánam, putting a thread, as if Brahmanical, on an arasu tree, when 8 years old.

—Asveta kalyánam, on marrying the arasu tree with a Veppa or nimb; the mantra in that case used.

On feeding a thousand Brahmans; the mode of its performance.

The ceremony of marrying a second wife, and lighting anew the sacrificial fire, the first one being extinct.

If the first menstruation of a young woman occur on the new moon day, or other evil time, a zánti is prescribed to remove the said evil.

On the different periods of the first ruta, or menstruation, results—and a zánti to remove such results as are evil.

—Uparághana zánti, if an eclipse occur in the nacshetra of any one's birth, a zánti to remove the evil indicated.

—Ashta griha, pancha griha, yóga zánti—if eight planets, or if five planets are together in the birth nacshetra of any one it portends great evil: a zánti to remove it.

Sancranti zánti, there is evil influence in the transit of the sun from one sign to another; if it happen in the birth nacshetra of any one a zánti to remove it.

This portion has 115 leaves, complete as extracts: it is of medium size, and slightly touched by insects.

2.) Jyótisham—astrology.

The times for the ceremonies simantam and nis-chegam, during pregnancy: and after birth of a child: nama carma, anna prasana, késa kandana, ubandīnam, chavulam or giving a name, first feeding, cutting birth hair, putting on sacred thread, head-shaving; on what nacshétras and days these ceremonies may be performed, and when not. Also to determine if a child is born on a good day, or on an evil day.

One leaf added, praise of Vayu, the god of wind.

This portion is short and thin, slightly touched by insects.

7. No. 2242. Jyótisham, Astrology.

1.) Prasna p'halam—slócas with comment in Canarese, on horary questions.

From the situation of the planets when the question is asked to determine the appropriate answer, 9 leaves; incomplete.

2.) Navamsa-maha-dasa—slócas only.

Mésa (aries) and the other twelve signs are divided each one into nine amsas, or parts; the rulers of these amsas are the seven planets (rahu and kétu, the dragon's head and tail being left out), from the state of these amsas, with their rulers, and the signs themselves, results are determined as to any given time, leaves 41—56.

3.) Sripati padhati vyakyanam, comment on a law selection: one Sripati formed a compilation from various law books; on which book Góvinda suri made this commentary in the Canarese language; but relating only to the Játacam, or birth, and horoscope framed thereupon. The 1st to 4th adhyáya complete; the 5th has only 31 slócas, leaves 57—89.

The entire book is of medium size, the leaves not quite of equal length, in good order.

8. No. 2244—Siva-lik'hata-pari-bhásha.

Two copies complete, one has slócas only, and one is divided into quarter slócas or hemistichs, with astrological marks between, and noting as to what god each relates to.

A book of signs or omens, stated to be ordained by Siva, in order to determine the right times for celebrating (suba-caryam) propitious events, as marriage, taking a journey, entering on a new house, consecration of an idol, or a temple. Limited to such favorable circumstances; 28 leaves.

The book is short, and thin, touched by insects.

VI. DHERMA SASTRA—Ecclesiastical Law.

1. No. 2216. Section 2. Srāddha-cūlhi; on funereal observances.

By Aba-stambha-muni.

This section is complete, on the varusha sraddha, or annual commemoration only; 23 leaves.

The entire book is of medium size, old, damaged by worms, and breaking.

VII. DRAMATIC.

1. No. 2224. Sacotala-nāṭacam. By Cāli dāsa.

The drama of Sacotala; when entire it contains seven āncas or acts; in this copy the 1st is wanting, the 4th 5th and 6th are complete, the 2d 3d 7th incomplete: the composition is Sanscrit prose, and ślōcas, and prose in pracrūti, or common dialect, for low characters. It is deemed a master-piece; and as such was translated for, and by Sir W. Jones. The general subject is an amour of Dushmanta with Sacotala, and the birth of Bharata; who, as a sovereign, gave his name to the Bharata-verseha, or Hindustan. In this copy Sacotala, is described as 12 years old, when first seen by Dushmanta, a daughter of Rhēmba and reared by Casyapa, which are verbal variations from the translated drama.

The book is short, of medium thickness, very old, and extremely damaged by worms, and breaking.

2. No. 2225. Mahā-nāṭacam, ślōcas. By Bodhayanachari.

The subject is that of the Ramayānam, thrown into a dramatic form; and following the six Cāndams, as to divisions: but the story is abridged; at the end is one distich of a sexual kind, addressed to Pārvati.

The book is long, somewhat thick, looks recent, and in good order.

3. No. 2226. Vyayogacya nātacam.

By Dhermacya-vidhvan. A drama founded on destruction of Naracasura by Krishna, attended by Nareda, Indra, Jayanta, and Satyabhāma; complete. The composition is in pracrūti prose, and stanzas mixed. The leaves from 1 to 13 are written in Nagari, and from 14 to 26 in Canarese letter.

The book is of medium length, thin, and slightly gnawed at one end.

4. No. 2227. Prabhōda-Chandrōdoya-natacam.

By Krishna-Misra-sastri.

It is a mere fragment of five leaves, from the 5th and 6th ancas, or acts; containing Sanscrit and Pracrūti prose and verse mixed. Various good and evil dispositions are personified, and introduced, with suitable language, and costume. This is advaita, and an opposite to the Sancalpa, a Vaishnava drama: this fragment without boards, is old, worm eaten, and damaged by breaking.

VIII. ETHICAL.

1. No. 2120. Bhagavat-gīta—the chant of Krishna,—from the Bhāratam. It contains most of the 18 adhyayas, or chapters; but with deficiencies in the midst. The work is of a metaphysical, and moral kind; teaching the vedanta system of Vyasa; which has been variously interpreted. In this copy the ślōcas have a tīca, or running verbal explanation, in the Canarese language. The 6th section is deficient at the end; 7th and 8th wanting; 9th deficient at the beginning; 13th at the end; 14th wanting; 15th deficient at the beginning; otherwise right; 32 leaves, defective; 135 remain.

The book is of medium length, thick, old, damaged by termites, several leaves broken.

2. No. 2121. Bhagavat-gīta, ślōcas only.

The 1st, 2d, 3d, 11th, 12th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, these sections, 10 in all, are complete; there remains of the 6th section as far as the 23d ślōca, the rest is wanting. There are two appendices
1) Gīta-mahatmyam—1 section complete; panegyric of the gīta, ascribed to Vyāsa, said to be from the avanti-khūdam of the Scānda puranam.
2) Bhārata savitri-ślōtram ślōcas from the Zānti parvam of the Bhāratam, panegyric of some special points in the Bhāratam, in all 22 leaves.

The book is long, thin, and slightly damaged.

3. No. 2122. Bhagavat-gīta erutta. A gloss or comment on the gīta.

By Vidya yeti raja bhalla—A follower of the Madhva matam, which maintains the distinct existence of the human soul. He gives an interpretation of the Bhagavat gīta, on that system: as opposed to the interpretation of the advaitas. From the 1st to the 16th Section; the 17th and 18th wanting; 83 leaves remain.

The book is long, of medium thickness, much damaged by worms, and wear.

4. No. 2123. Bhagavat gīta-sločas, or mūlam (original) only, ascribed to Vyasa, as being founded on his doctrine. A panegyric of the gīta is prefixed; and a large fragment of the chant itself follows: from the 28th sloca of the 3d Section down to the end of the 18th Section, right. The 1st and 2d Sections and 27 slochas of the 3d Section are wanting. In all 42 leaves remain.

The book is short, and thin, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

5. No. 2124. Bhagavat-gīta, the original, in slochas, without paraphrase.

The eighteen sections complete on 46 leaves. As having been translated by Wilkins, detail is not required.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

6. No. 2125. Bhagavat gīta, slochas, with a running verbal comment in Canarese.

Incomplete, from the 30th sloca of the 6th section to the end; the 7th and 8th sections complete; the 9th section has only 8 slochas, does not finish; 24 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, the last leaf a little broken: otherwise in good order.

7. No. 2148. Sancalpa sūryabdhya vyangyanam.

By Narāyana acharya—the 1st anca, or section only chiefly prose, but with some slochas; a commentary on the sancalpa sūryabdhya, a sort of moral drama in which the good, and evil dispositions of mankind are personified, and introduced on the stage. The comment, not being for the stage, is here classified. This work advocates the Vaishnava system; as there is another, and rival work on the Saiva principle: See VII, 4.

Two leaves are attached, in Canarese, on Canarese grammar, Grantha letter. The whole is written on 72 leaves.

The book is of medium size, slightly touched by insects.

8. No. 2208, Section 2. Njanancusa vivaranam—spiritual-bridle—or literally hook that guides an elephant, ślōcas, with running verbal comment, incomplete.

It is a check against lust, cruelty, covetousness, and other evil dispositions.

The book is old, and much damaged.

9. No. 2237. Kamadiki nīti sāra tica. A verbal comment on the essence of morals of Kamanda.

By Chockupadyajya mantri. Kamanda having composed a work on the department proper to all orders of men, especially the higher orders, Chocku, the teacher, turned the same into Canarese; with various illustrations. The original is quoted piece by piece; and the meaning is given in the same way:—the ślōcas are not given entire, but as untied. The term nirabecsha, absence of worldly, or sensual desire, is applied to the comment: that negative quality being deemed the sum of morals. This book has ten sargas, from 1 to 10; six others are wanting. The following is an index to the contents.

- 1.) On the conquest of the five senses, and on the importance of associating only with the aged, wise, and good.
- 2.) On acquiring needful, or suitable knowledge; and on the conduct becoming the four orders of celibate student, householder, hermit, and close ascetic. Also panegyric of discipline, or punishment of what is evil.
- 3.) On doing what is suitable, or decorous; in reference to rank, or situation in life.
- 4.) On the duty of kings to promote the general welfare, and prosperity of their subjects; as indirectly subserving their own interests.
- 5.) Rules as to a king, and as to obedience to him from his soldiers, or other servants.
- 6.) On examining indications as to enemies foreign, or domestic; espionage, or police.
- 7.) On taking care of oneself, and of children, and family.
- 8.) Considerations as to neighbouring powers, or kingdoms; whether greater or less, and if there be an ability to conquer them, or not.
- 9.) Counsel, in order to determine whether it is proper to make peace with an enemy.

10.) Whether to discontinue war, or to go on with it,—so far only—
121 leaves, incomplete.

The book is rather long, somewhat thick, and has leaves broken, or touched by insects.

IX. GRAMMATICAL.

1. No. 2160. Sabda kásica vivaranam vyakyanam.

A commentary on a work entitled Sabda kásica vivaranam, Jaina book. By Bhodi-satva-dési acharya-jinéndra.

A fragment 1st chapter 1st section complete, the 2d section incomplete. On the various kinds, and properties of letters; on sandhi, or the coalition of vowels, and of consonants;—and other grammatical matters, as far as the book goes: the writing is small and close, and the quantity considerable, on 70 leaves. The book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, very old, and much damaged by worms, and breaking.

2. No. 2161. Siddhanta Cáumudi—Grammar.

By Bhattógi-dicshada, Sutras, or abstruse sentences, with a paraphrase in prose.

- 1.) Saúngnya parich'hedam—on the kinds of letters, and words.
- 2.) Acha sandhi—on the coalition of vowels.
- 3.) Hal-sandhi—on the union of consonants.
- 4.) Visarjanya-sandhi—final aspirate how treated.
- 5.) Swáti-sandhi—union of the seven cases.
- 6.) Achanta, nouns ending in vowels, their genders, masculine, feminine, and neuter. The book does not enter on the nouns ending in consonants. Two or three leaves, in the midst, are wanting; otherwise the book would be complete. Two or three extra leaves have some opening slócas from the Chandrica-loca, on rhetoric, by Cáli-dása. In all 42 leaves. The book is of medium size, in tolerable order: the leaves not of equal lengths.

3. No. 2162. Sidhanta Caumudi.

By Bhattógi dicshada, Sutras and prose comment, incomplete.

On the different kinds of letters and words; on foreign words; the coalition of words ending in vowels, and in consonants. The treatment of the visarga, or final aspirate; and on cases of nouns: chapter on words, the genders of words ending in vowels from a to i—unfinished—written leaves 24—blank 25.

The book is of medium size, thin, touched by insects, and bitten off at the ends.

4. No. 2163. Prayoga-vivaranam—a manual in detail, otherwise Vararuchi-vyākhyānam—a commentary on Vararuchi's grammar.

Some prefatory ślōcas, stating the contents—the sutras and Vṛitta, or comment.

Sapta vidhi karmadhāri	7	} other kinds.
Sapta vidhi bahu rihi	7
Dwi vidhi—Dwi gulu	2
Chatur vidhi dvandvam	4
Dwi vidhi avayavam	2
Pancha prayōgas	5	manuals, or praxis on verbs.

On 26 leaves, incomplete. The book is of medium length, thin, old, and very much damaged by worms.

5. No. 2164. Pānini-vyākarna, Grammar by Pānini. The original sutras of the oldest grammar, with a vṛitta, or paraphrase.

In the branch termed tinganiam, relating to Verbs, on the bhuta past tense, bhavishat future, and vartamana present tense. The pancha prayoga or five uses of nominative or subject, object, active, neuter, and bhavé passive. Also forms of dhatas, or roots; and the mode of forming the various parts of the verb from the root. Incomplete; wants the beginning, and the ending: 32 unconnected leaves remain.

The book is of medium size, but nearly destroyed by worms.

6. No. 2223. On Grammar.

On the declension of nouns, ending in vowels and consonants, and in the three genders; with a list of dhatas, or roots of verbs.

The book is long, medium as to thickness, old, and touched by insects.

7. No. 2267.—Pracrūti manjari, garland of colloquial speech—Sutras in Sanscrit, with a comment, Chapter 1 to 4 complete, and only a little of the 5th left incomplete.

The mode of turning Sanscrit or perfect words, into Pracrūti, the low, or colloquial dialect. Some letters are altered in the middle, some in the termination—exemplified; and also the mode of declining nouns, as to cases, in the low dialect, 10 leaves: one of which has $\frac{1}{2}$ broken off; the book is long, and thin.

A translation would be useful.

X. HYMNOLOGY.

1. No. 1715. Hari-kirtana.

Chiefly by Purandhara-dasa, a few chants by others: Hymns to Vishnu, or Krishna. The letter is Nagari; but the language mostly Canarese padyas, or stanzas: it is rare to find this language in Nagari letter.

The book is short, thin, and a little damaged.

2. Vishnu sahasranāma stōtra—ślōcas only, from the anusāsīca chapter of the Bhāratam.

The 1008 names of Vishnu, in daily use among Vāishnavas; complete on 8 leaves.

Appended are two ślōcas from an Octave, on the emblem of Siva, on a smaller leaf. The book is short, thin, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

3. No. 2134. Eight tracts put together.

1.) Dva trimsati aparādha stōtra, said to be from the Varāha purānam. Hymn to remove any unintentional fault, as to omissions in sacerdotal services; of which faults thirty-two kinds are specified.

Also—Sataparādha stōtra, from the Garuda purānam, the like subject; but relating to one hundred kinds of faults, by omission.

2.) Ganga stōtra, 3 hymns complete, one by Vālmīca, one by Jaya deva, and one by Ganga muni: panegyric of the Ganges personified, on 4 leaves.

3.) Tarjani pramānanam with various stōtras.

As a mark of a votary, the name of Rāmu is inscribed on a double ring, worn on the forefinger; the weight, whether of gold or silver, and other adjuncts, described.

Panegyric on Siva, Dūrگا, Vishnu, Vyāsa, and the tulasi cavucham, or charm, with panegyric as to the herb basil, sacred to Krishna; this last from the Brahmānda purānam. Also 108 stanzas panegyric of Tripetī, and on giving the sacred thread in charity to Brahmans.

The foregoing three tracts complete are on 19 leaves.

4.) Siva cavucham stōtra—said to be from the Scanda purānam, complete.

This combines praise, with a charm for protection.

- Aditya-stótram*, praise of the sun, with homage, through 108 names, incomplete.

- 1.) Nrisinha-sahasranāma-vali, a detail of the 1008 names of the man-lion Avatāra of Vishnu used in homage, complete.
- 2.) Maha Ganapati sahasranāma slōtra, in the form of slōcas with praise, complete; 1008 names of Ganēsa, said to be from the Padma purānam.
- 3.) Vināyaca-sahasranāma vali—a list of the 1008 names of Ganēsa used in homage, complete. The whole occupies 32 leaves, and properly forms two different books; 1) rather long, thin, and slightly damaged, 2) 3) medium length, thin, touched by worms.

7. No. 2184. Gadya trejam. Three prosaic panegyrics.

- 1.) Vāicant'ha-gadya, praise of the temper, or disposition of Vishnu in Vāicant'ha, his paradise; complete.
- 2.) Saranāgada-gadya. The writer states that the god whom he addresses (Vishnu) is to him wife, and children, father, and mother, every thing; and casts himself on the god's protection, asking for his care.

The book is of medium length, thin, and slightly injured by worms, and breaking.

8. No. 2186. The two first sections.

- 1.) Vināyaca-ashlōtra-satanāma; slōcas said to be from the Scānda purānam, told by Siva to Uma, praise to Ganēsa, founded on his 108 names; briefer form than the 1008.
- 2.) Vināyaca-dwadasa-nāma-slōtra—praise founded on 12 names of Ganēsa, thrown into the form of mantra, for prayer, or invocation, complete; for the purpose of averting sudden death, and of acquiring what is desired; usually termed ishtha siddhi. These form only a part of the entire book, See XIX.

9. No. 2188—Four stóttas.

- 1.) Náráyana-ashtóttara-sata, 108 stanzas in praise of Vishnu, as Náráyana; said to be from the Varáha puránam, incomplete.
- 2.) Puschama-Rangha-nát'ka stóttara, Praise of the form of Vishnu at Seringapatam; said to be from the cshétra-khanda of the Brahmánda puránam, complete.
- 3.) Náráyana-hrudayam, "Vishnu's heart," praise with invocation of Lacshmi and Vishnu, complete.
- 4.) Maha Lacshmi hrudaya-stóttara, complete; prayer, with invocation, to Lacshmi. In all 18 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

10. No. 2193. Vishnu-sahasranáma-vali.

List of the 1008 names of Vishnu, in the form of slócas, with praise; complete, 17 leaves: said to be from the anusasnica-parvam of the Bháratam.

The book is of medium length, thin, slightly damaged by worms, and breaking.

11. No. 2199. Vishnu-sahasranáma-vali, as in No. 2193, from the same source; incomplete, the book is rather long, thin: the leaves broken at the ends.

12. No. 2200—Four tracts.

1.) Mahimna stóttara, praise of Siva.

By Bhatta-Pátácharya, 38 Slócas complete; the 1st leaf $\frac{1}{2}$ broken off.

2.) Báláshtacam, an Octave complete, concerning Parvati; so named from each slóca ending with the word bálá—a name, or title of Parvati.

3.) Indrácshi stóttara, praise of Isvari or Parvati, complete.

4.) Pándava Gíta, 84 slócas, complete. The writer of this chant represents the Pándavas, the Káuras, Brahma, Indra, Siva, Parvati, Náreda, Dróna, Bhishma, Dráupadi, Kont'hi, Gandhári, as all agreeing to declare that there is no beneficence superior to that of Hari (or Vishnu); the memory of Hari's form is the highest devotion: by that meditation all sins are forgiven, and beatitude superadded. In this way they render praise to Vishnu: something extra sectarial.

The book is of medium size, on 22 leaves complete; damaged by worms.

13. No. 2204—Four tracts.

1.) Mangaláshtacam, 9 ślócas complete.

By Vádi raja.

2.) Mangaláshtacam, 9 ślócas complete.

By Cáli-dása, an epithalamium, usually sung on the occasion of marriage ceremonies, and of processions of the idol with dásis: this chant mentions the names of deities, hills, rishis, rivers; and praises the chief among them.

3) Dhárani ślóttram—properly praise of the earth-goddess; but chiefly of Vishnu, conjoined with a panegyric of Bhúmi dévi.

4) Páta Csháyam, mode of measuring by the shadow of any object; one ślóca in praise of Parvati; and one or two others; astrological in reference. This section is in the Telugu letter. In all 20 leaves.

The book is short, thin, not damaged.

14. No. 2222. Krishna-kárnámrita, melody of Krishna.

By Líla-suca-yógi, three śatúkas of 100 stanzas each complete.

The poet fancies Krishna's appearing to him under various forms, as narrated in the legends concerning that personage; such as playing on the flute, amusing himself with Gopis; and in various other circumstances; and founds on each case stanzas in praise. The work does not come under the erotic class; but is considered to be of the mystic order, quantum valeat.

The book is of medium size, thin, and in good order.

15. No. 2255. Váishnava ślóttras, ślócas and prose.

1.) Abhiti stavam, by Vedántachárya, devotional, or rather ascetical; stanzas on Rangha-ná'ha. Abhiti is want of fear; that is, devotional firmness, or confidence, 28 ślócas complete.

2.) Bhagavat-dhyána-sóbana, a ladder, or steps to the meditation of deity—12 ślócas complete. By the same, to the same god.

3.) Gópála vimsati ślócas, there should be twenty: but the piece is not complete. Praise of Krishna.

4.) Práthana panchacam, 5 ślócas in praise of Bhásyacara, or Rámanija; an áluvar of Vishnu.

5.) Raghu víra-gadya.

By Vedantácharya, a very brief epitome, in prose, of the contents of the six Cándams of the Rámáyanam.

6.) Nyāsa dasacam.

By the same, devotional on Rangha nat'ha; incomplete.

7.) Garuda-panchasata, slócas incomplete.

Praise of Garuda, the bird of Vishnu.

8.) Varada raja panchasata, slócas, incomplete.

Praise of the form of Vishnu at Conjeveram.

9.) Vishnu stuti, slócas, not complete; a paraphrase of the meaning of the pranava or mystic O'm.

10.) Vēla-puri vishya gadya, a prose account of Vellore, and praise of the ruler named Kēsa vēsa rája, a description of the town &c. complete.

From 7) to 10) the author's name is not stated. There is gran'ha writing mixed up, in a general way, throughout, with the nágari letter; but no one of the tracts is exclusively written in that letter.

16. No. 2260. Two books.

1.) Rama-karnámrita, melody of Ráma.

A description of Ráma's high qualities, by a devotee, the author's name wanting: 62 slócas incomplete, 15 leaves nágari writing.

2.) Krishna karnámrita, 45 slócas incomplete; 11 leaves Telugu writing.

See 14 No. 2222.

XI. INCANTATIONS.

1. No. 2136. Section 2, Mantras.

—Sūrya cavucham, slócas, incomplete, from Krishna to Arjuna; praise of the Sun; with a spell to ensure its protection.

—Panchacshara mantra, charm of five letters with detail.

—Ráma mantram, to secure aid from Ráma.

—Bhasma dharama-mantram, a spell used when putting on marks with sacred ashes: the three last complete: in all 24 leaves.

This book (tied up with the Dēvi mahátmyam see XXI) is of medium length, and thin.

2. No. 2180. Various mantras, with some stótrras; Siva cavucham; praise to Siva, with spell for protection, in body and soul, Grant'ha letter. Hanumanta-mantram, a spell directed to Hanuman for sight and strength.

Nṛsiṅha cavucham } Praise with spell to secure the protection of Hanumanta cavucham } Vishnu and Hanuman.

Bhāirava stōtra }
Mahimna stōtra } Praise to different forms of Siva

Kālāgni rudra upanishada mantra destructive in object.

Vībhūti-mantram, used with sacred ashes.

Lacshmi, Nārāyana, Aditya, and various other small mantras.—

Some Tamil védanta writing, on the back of the 1st leaf; in all 25 leaves.

The greater part of the book is written in the Nandi nāgari; ruder than Dēvu nāgari; but not so old as the Tibetan form, used in some inscriptions.

The book is long, thin, injured by worms, and breaking.

3. No. 2187. Five tracts containing mantras, with some stōtras.

1.) Vrihaspati-griha-stōtra-mantra, a charm, or spell, named after the planet Jupiter. Some technical words are used, such as ādi-dēvata, first deity: prata-devatā other deity, and pratyād-devatā other first gods. Mantras, or Cabalistic letters, are written in yentras, geometrical figures of various forms, and named after the nine planets. There is an artificial mode of reckoning; the planet itself, the subordinate, or attendant planets, and various relations to other planets. There are many variations with respect to the sun and moon, as being deemed the principal ones. The whole is artificial, and too intricate to be understood without an express, and careful study, which I could not give to it. The whole does not seem to be based on what Hindus know of Astronomy; but has modes of reference to magic, with its ceremonies: mazes in which those concerned may lose their way; and into which a passing enquirer may not enter.

2.) Ashtācshara mantra, the Vāishnava eight lettered charm O'm-nā-rā-ya-na-nā-ma-ha, with details.

3.) Dhati-Vāmana-stōtra, praise of the incarnation of Vishnu, as a dwarf-giant.

4.) Dattatrēya stōtram, Vāishnava in kind; praise of a subordinate impersonation of Vishnu, mentioned in the Bhāgavata.

5.) Nārāyana verma, praise of Vishnu taken from the 8th section 8th book of the Bhāgavatam. There are a few others: such as the Hayagrīva, Ganapati, and Gōpīla mantras; they are written as if connected with 5.) The whole on 32 leaves complete. 1) is written in Canarese letter, but the larger portion, being in nāgari, is classed here.

The entire book is of medium size, injured by worms, with two leaves broken.

XII. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

1. No. 2135. Nāma lingāna śāssanam. A lexicon known as the Amra cosha.

By Amṛita Sinha.

This book contains three Cāndams, or sections—the mūlam, or ślocas only; without verbal comment.

From sverga varga to vāri verga—complete.

„ bhu „ sudra „ „

„ viśṣhanigna to avvaiya verga.

The genders of the different nouns, as indicated by the title, are given; e. g. ten names of Brahma, the gender of each one stated.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and injured by worms.

2. No. 2166. Lingāna-śāssanam, the original ślocas, with a tīca or verbal comment: the latter by Pritivisvara.

The words ending with the vowels a i u these three only.

The gender of each of such words, whether masculine, feminine, or neuter, stated: also binartīha, words of two meanings; according to the meaning the gender differs, herein discriminated. The consonants from ka onwards: the genders of nouns ending in consonants stated: this list is complete.

An appendix of 60 ślocas, taken from the kalā-sastram (non-honesta) on the qualities, or attributes of the two sexes.

The book is short, somewhat thick (104 leaves) and touched by worms.

3. No. 2206. Two books, both fragments.

1.) Nāma lingāna-śāssanam.

Part of the 3d section from viśṣhanigna-varga to sankīrṇa varga, these two only; and the last one wants some leaves—31 in all.

2.) Siva-stōttra—praise of Siva, 58 ślocas, 8 leaves; it resembles a work by Sancaṛāchārya: but is doubtful.

The entire book is long, thin, and in good order.

XIII. LOGICAL.

1. No. 2150. Pramāna-padadhī—on the standard, or rule of judgment: prose.

The 1st Chapter complete. The 2d Chapter has only one half. There are several topics of discussion in native logic: one of them regards the authority of the Vēdas, as a rule by which other matters are to be tried. This book favors the Mādhava School, or ancient Vaishnava view, on the subject of Vedantism. As far as the contents go, they appear to turn on the proof of the existence of Isvara (or Deity) in opposition to some who denied the being of a God. The case is argued from existing things, as realities; and according to the Hindu logical inference, that smoke implies fire, so the visible creation implies a Creator.

The book being incomplete, it does not enter into the differences with Smārtas, and others. The Author's name does not appear; the close of the book being wanting.

The book is rather long, and thin, old, slightly damaged.

2. No. 2155. Nyāya-retna-tica; on logic.

By Chamu rāja, a prose comment.

The Pratyacsha-khandam, on proof, is complete.

The Anumāna-khandam, on doubtful inference, is incomplete.

The logical padārt'has, or common places, under which all beings and things, may be arranged are described. Various vātas, or discussions are given; treated in the way of pūrva-pacsha or objection, and siddhantam, rectification, or answers; settling the question raised. The names of these vātas are yōgitya, vyapti, upadhī, paramarisa, art'hapatti, and padārt'ha: the import of which may best appear from notices of other books. This one is long, very thick, and in good order, on 233 leaves, yet unfinished.

3. No. 2156. Sections 1 and 2.

- 1.) Tarkha bhāsya, on logic, the mūlam, or original only. By Késava Misra. This is an early book, on the old system of logic: which maintains sixteen padārt'has, or common places. The four divisions of logic, or pratyacsha, demonstration, anumāna inference, upamāna comparison, analogy, and sabda, word or testimony, are briefly detailed, in the way of objection and reply, on 48 leaves complete.
- 2.) Vyakyanam, a comment on the same—only ten leaves, not in regular order; the beginning wanting, a mere fragment.

4. No. 2157. Tarkha-bhāsya-vyākhyānam, a prose commentary on an ancient work, entitled Tarkha bhāsya. By Akhanda-ānanta-yeti.

The mangala vātam, or discussion whether an author's work should be introduced by panegyrics of others; complete.

The chapter on proof, by evidence, complete.

That on doubtful inference not so, only a little.

This book advocates seven padarīhas, or common places; to wit dravyam, gunam, karnam, samanyam, visēsham, sama vāyam, abhāvam; the import of which will elsewhere appear. Details, in the mode of objection and answer.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, old, and somewhat damaged by worms, and termites.

5. No. 2158. Prabhē-dīpica-vyākhyānam, a comment on the Prabhē dīpica, in prose. This book has only two vātas, or discussions, the mangala, and andhacāra, complete so far, and discussed by objection, and answer, 22 leaves. Other 5 leaves, in the Telugu letter, contain extraneous matter, ślōcas 20—28, on Rāma going out to hunt in a forest.

The book is long, thin, touched by insects, and two or three leaves broken.

6. No. 2159. Prabhākya dīpica-vyākhyānam (otherwire Prabhē) comment on a logical work. This copy contains eight vātas, or discussions, on the tarkha-sastra, prose.

—Mangala v: whether panegyrics should preface any work.

—Andhacāra v: if light includes darkness, as its negative.

—Kāranata v: On a First cause.

—Para sacti v: On Female energy, or "Nature."

—Sahaja sacti v: On co-operating energy in creation.

—Adiyaya sacti v:

—Manōvūtā v:

—Gnāna karma chaya v:

} These were passed by.

These discussions are managed by way of pūra-pacsha and sidhantam, or objection, and reply. The book is long, of medium thickness, on board talipat leaves, has only one cover-board; otherwise in good order.

See β , A, b, XIV for further details on this subject.

XIV. MEDICAL.

1. No. 2146. Para-hita-samidaya; ślokas on medicine.

By Sri-nāṭ'ha-Pandita.

—Disorders of the ears, throat, eyes, epileptic fits, disorders of the head, as to eruptions.

—Bhagandra and bahu mūtra-vyāti; fistula and diabetes, or excessive issues of urine &c. food not nourishing, but running to these disorders.

—Diseases within the bones:—on boils, and other imposthumes; some skin disorders; megha (venereal, scrophula &c.) eruptions, erysipelas.

—Antidotes against all venomous bites, as of a dog, rat, snake &c. against a wound by poisoned arrows.

—Mercurial medicines.

The 1st chapter wanting: 89 leaves remain.

The Parahita is a large book, of which this one, contains only a portion. It is long, of medium thickness, old, on talipat leaves of medium breadth, and in good order.

2. No. 2247. Rasa-sāra-sangraha—Epitome of medicals.

By Gangādhara-pandita.

On mercury—bell metal—copper—silver—gold—lead—iron; the mode of purifying, and of calcining these, so as to form bhasmas, or powders. Their various medicinal qualities.

On ratsbane, and white-arsenic—on palacāra, cowries, ginger, pepper—sulphur—vermillion; vatsa nābhi (poisonous root of sweet flag) on borax; the mode of purifying these, only, and this briefly stated. The book has but 12 leaves, and is incomplete. It is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

NOTE—Manuscripts in the Grant'ha letter, and in the Telugu language, are much fuller on this part of native Science.

XV. MERITORIOUS DEVOTION (chiefly vrata-calpas various observances, with a view to benefit.)

1 No. 2178. Six tracts, or sections.

1.) Dhānā p'hala-vrata calpam—said to be taken from the Scānda purānam—Daily homage from the first Sunday in 'Aṣvini, to the seventh lunar day of the bright half in Magha month; acceptable to Surya (the sun) complete.

2.) Rishi panchami-udyāpana-calpa. The rishi panchami is an observance by women, on a certain day for many years. This section contains the mode of closing the vow, by the use of a pot of water, with various gifts: incomplete.

3.) Kēdara vrata. This is a nomba, or penitential observance for 21 years, directed to Art'hā nā'hēsvara, a form of Siva and Parvatī, complete.

4.) Sani trāiyōdasi from the Scānda purānam.

—Ecāhā—the fire-offering on the 11th day.

—Sapinda-karana—eating the ball of food, as an offering to ancestors.

—Prat'hána māsica—commemoration of the day, on every month, till one year is ended.

The book is of medium size, old, and much injured by worms, and breaking off at one end.

10. No. 2172. Asvaláyana, various rites, Smárta dipica, as observed by Smártas; in the manner of sútras, or short sentences.

1.) Pūrva vidhi, on auspicious events, as the fire offering on a daughter arriving at maturity; and the morning and evening fire offering on all auspicious ceremonies—punya vasanam the cleansing of a place before any ritual ceremony is performed there—the fire offering to propitiate the household god, the day before a marriage, or any like ceremony. The Tantra, or ritual, as to the following ceremonies—on pregnancy—in the 4th and 6th or 8th months—at birth of a child—on giving it a name—on first feeding—on shaving the head—first beginning with the alphabet—putting on the sacred thread.

Ceremonies as to the order of Brahmachari, or celibate students; also the various modes of ritual at marriages.

—Dwibhari-agni fire offering on taking a second wife; also for a third, or fourth wife.

The tantra, or ritual only, as used by Brahmans in the above rites.

2.) The various mantras used in all the above cases: these are quasi prayers, and the tantras the rubrics; but without the hómas, or fire-offerings.

Besides these there are a few other special cases; as ankurápanam seed sown on auspicious ceremonies—punah-santánam, lighting the second sacrificial fire, with a second wife—and madhu-puskam, eating sweetmeats, on taking the sacred thread. The viváha-hóma or fire offering at the time of marriage, the only one in this book: an appointed expiation in the case of the sacrificial fire becoming lost, or extinguished: so far complete.

3.) The kalyána chārnicā, the mode of fixing the exact dates (sankalpam) at the solemnization of a wedding. Also the sankalpam of the navagriha zānti, or date when the nine planets were rendered propitious, at a marriage ceremony.

So far the contents relate to the pūrva-vidhi, or auspicious rites.

4.) Apara vidhi—on smaller leaves. Funereal rites; according to the Smárta mode.

Jivat kála prayaschitam—an expiation used when any one is at the point of death—at the same time an expiation should the circumstance occur under any unfavorable aspect of planets; as, for example, if on the dark half of the lunar month, when the sun is in the Southern hemisphere.

All the included ceremonies, from the burning of the body down to sending away a bullock bearing away the sins of the deceased, and to the eating the sapinda, or ball of food, first offered to ancestors.

*The details are found in other notices.

On all the above points, the various authorities' as opinions are given, by extracts, complete 103 leaves.

On six other leaves Grant̥ha letter-prose Mādhva-védānta—on the system of Mādhva as opposed to the Smartas.

The book is long, somewhat thick, and slightly touched by insects.

20. No. 2256. Pancha rátrām, on rituals, ślōcas.

The chapters do not occur in regular order :

Chap. 1. Rat̥ha pratish̥t̥ha vidhi—mode of consecrating the festival car.

Chap. 2. Dicsha vidhi—bathing, and other initiatory ceremonies, before any one can minister in the temple.

Chap. 6. Graha arohana shōdasa pūja vidhānam, sixteen modes of household ceremonies, on the consecration of a tutelary god ; placing it in a shrine, bathing it &c.

Chap. 7. Mandālarāhant̥a vidhi—a ceremony that lasts forty days, its modes.

Chap. 24th. Mudra-vidhi. In Vāishnava fane it is customary to take off the stamped-impression of the open hand of the image : this is then taken home by votaries, and worshipped in their houses : manner described.

So many chapters only—the work is incomplete on 42 leaves.

The book is of medium size, damaged, and of some leaves only small fragments remain.

21. No. 2257. Pancha rátram—the Vasishtha samhita or portion ascribed to Vasishtha—28th adhyáya, or chapter. It contains hómas, or fire-offerings, in the way of xánti, or removal of evil; in reference to the pumsa vana, and the other customary sixteen ceremonies, down to viváha, or marriage; the mode of the fire-offering, in each case used; but without the mantras: only the ritual.

—Purusha súcta; said to be from the védas; mantras, and mode of homage, as to ritual mode of consecrating water in vessels, to be made use of in lustrating, to remove pollution. It contains also the xánti for purifying Vaishnava temples; and another for surrounding the entire town; purifying the suburbs &c.

One chapter, complete on 8 leaves.

The book is rather long, and thin; has only one board; and the appearance is as if the other one, with part of the entire book, had been taken away.

22. No. 2264. Two books.

1.) Sadáchára sangraham, shlokas only.

By Srínivása.

Ceremonial observances as to urinal evacuation, cleansing the teeth, rubbing the hands, and feet with sand, mode of bringing sticks, flowers, and cusa grass for sacrifices; modes of fire-offering; qualities of a spiritual teacher; certain days on which the védas and sastras must not be read; as the new and full moon days &c. on bathing with the use of oil, rules thereon; mode of gifts; daily fire-offerings; váisva déva, offering to crows at meal times; mode of eating, of using betel leaf &c. The foregoing, as they relate to the ácháram, or ritual of Brahmans, are complete.

2.) Vasishtha smriti; Vasishtha's rule.

The 1st chapter complete; only a little of the second.

Rules for Brahmans putting on the úrdhva, forehead mark; also the chakra, or discus-mark; on repeating the name of Hari; and other matters of the Váishnava way. These, if followed, are praiseworthy. Mode of homage to Vishnu. These various details, it is stated, Vasishtha told to other munis.

Three stótrás are added, on praise of the earth-goddess, of Vishnu; and of the tulsi plant. Also five shlokas, in praise of Vishnu; in daily use, on first rising, to remove family evils.

The book is of medium size, and in tolerable order.

This is the 18th of the purānas. It is needless to abstract here, as a fuller notice will appear under the head of Mackenzie Manuscripts. A translation of the Bhāgavatam also exists in the French language.

This copy has a prose explanation, or version, in Sanscrit. In all 370 leaves.

The book is very long, and very thick, on broad talipat leaves, in good order, written in a very small hand, and requiring incredible patience to copy out such a book.

2. No. 2128. Sri-Dharmyam, ślokas with vyakhyānam, or prose explanation, in Sanscrit.

This copy contains the 12th book of the Bhāgavatam, in 13 chapters complete, save that two or three leaves are missing.

It belongs to the uttara khandā, or later portion: and relates to the actions of Kṛṣṇa; not requiring detail in this place.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, and slightly damaged.

3. No. 2129. Bhāgavatam, ślokas only.

The 10th Scandam from the 1st to the 44th adhyāya, or chapter on 70 leaves; the rest being wanting. The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and several leaves, in the middle, are broken.

4. No. 2130. Bhāgavatam.

The 10th Scandam, a tica or prose verbal comment only, from the 45th to the 98th adhyāyam, without the mūlam or original. The beginning and the ending of the Scandam wanting; and there is imperfection in the middle of the above chapters; 50 leaves remain.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order; except that one leaf, at the end, is slightly broken.

5. No. 2131. Bhāgavata-ticāya.

The 1st Scandam. The poetry of the Bhāgavatam, reduced to a plain prose version. The 1st adhyāyam or chapter wanting; a little only of the 2d and 3d: the 4th, 5th, 6th complete: 7th 8th wanting; 9th 10th complete; a very little of the 16th; 51 leaves in all remain.

A fragment of seven leaves is appended, in the Telugu language; relating to the hill temple at Tripeti, and its god; but without beginning, or ending.

The book is of medium size, the leaves, at one end, are gnawed off.

6. No. 2132. Paia-retna-vali, a tica, or verbal prose explanation of the 4th Scandam of the Bhāgavatam; by Vijaya Dēvaja tirt'ha Bhatta. From the 1st to the 30th adhyāya complete, as a version of the 4th book, on 903 leaves. For an outline of the contents see McKenzie Manuscripts.

The book is rather long, and thick, touched by insects throughout: and 5 leaves are much injured by worms and breaking.

7. No. 2136. Dévi Mahatmyam, from the Márcandeya puránam, known as the Sapta-sati, from containing 700 ślócas, the 1st chapter wants the first 9 ślócas. The 1st to the 6th adhyāya nearly complete, the 7th, 8th, 9th wanting from 10th to 16th the end, complete.

On the exploits of Dévi or Durga. She destroyed the asuras named Madhu-kāitaba; Mahishāsura; Dumbra-lochana; Nishumba; and Shumba. Details also given of the excellency of gifts bestowed by her. Also on her assuming various shapes, terrible or otherwise; chiefly in disguise. Mūrti-rūpa is her proper shape, or appearance.

There is also some matter on the sacti rahasya, or female energy system. See XI. 1.

8. No. 2139. Māgha mahātmyam, from the ádi-Padma puránam, from the 1st to the 6th adhyāya regular: the 9th, 11th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th are also contained in this book; but the intermediate chapters are wanting.

The subjects relate to the merit of bathing in the month Māgha; to the benefit derived from observing the 11th lunar day, as a fast. The merit, and benefit arising from giving marriage-portion with young women. Also a portion of the Márcandeya-puránam—some virtuous acts prescribed, and some considered to be evil prohibited—leaf 1—14 Telugu letter 15—30 nagari.

The book is of medium size, very old; and very greatly damaged, at one end, by worms, and breaking.

9. No. 2142. Dévi Mahātmyam, from the Márcandeya puránam. It contains from the 1st to the 4th adhyāya complete, with a little of the 5th. The subject as above; but this portion relates only to the destruction of Mahishāsura: 19 leaves remain.
10. No. 2145. Gajendrópākhyānam, from the 8th skandam of the Bhágavatam. It contains the first 4 adhyāyas, the rest are wanting. Subject—the delivering an elephant from a crocodile, and giving to the former beatification; supposed to be hieroglyphical.

The book is of medium length, thin, not injured

—PURANAS local.

1. No. 2140. Vencatáchala-mahātmyam

—Said to be from the Brahma puránam.

Three chapters complete. Delivered by Durvasa to Dilīpa raja.

The choice of that place by the god.

The speciality of the hill—and various other matters—detailed in other notices.

The causes of the god coming to dwell there explained; his glory stated.

A fragment is appended without any title containing 30 ślokas, from some poem on the adventures of Krishna: seven leaves for both: the books are of medium length, and a little injured.

2. No. 2202. Two subjects.

1.) Ganga mahātmyam, said to be from the Vāmana purānam, on the manassu snānam, or mental bathing.

By thinking or meditating on Hari (Vishnu) there is effected, a mental baptism, or purification; which is the chief subject of this tract, 3 leaves complete.

2.) Dwāraca mahātmyam, put into the mouth of Prahlada, details as to the temple of the town of Krishna, now submerged, 5 leaves incomplete.

The book is of medium length, very thin, and in good order.

XXII. ROMANCE HISTORICAL.

1. No. 2114. Bhāratam.

This book contains five parvas, at the close of the poem.

—The avamedhica, on the horse-sacrifice by Dharma rāja 1st and 2d adhyāyas wanting, from 3d to 115th chapter, correct.

—The āzrama vāsica or penitential residence of the Pāndavas in the wilderness; 48 chapters complete.

—The maūsala, curse of a rishi on the race of Krishna, hieroglyphical; nine chapters complete.

—Maha prastanica, the melancholy journey, ending in the death of the Pāndavas; three chapters complete.

—Sverga rōhini, the sights witnessed by them in Indra's world.

4 chapters complete, the 5th a little deficient at the end. In all 78 leaves.

The book is very long, of medium thickness, talpat leaves; edges a little damaged on one side.

2. No. 2115. Ananta Bhātriyam.

A prose version (as a commentary,) of the Bhāratam—the 4th to the 21st chapter, the 22d being incomplete. It follows the meaning of the original: 70 leaves, See XVIII. 2.

The book is long, of medium thickness; touched by insects, and several leaves broken.

3. No. 2116. Maha bhārata tātparya nirṇayam. By 'Ananta tirtt'ha.

Explanation of the meaning of the Bhāratam, 18 chapters are complete, the 19th has 150 ślokas, and wants a few more: the entire book is said to consist of 32 chapters.

This manuscript is short, and somewhat thick, in good order; only one leaf at the end injured.

4. No. 2117. Maha Bharata-tatparyam, ślokas.

By 'Ananta tirtt'ha.

This copy contains 32 chapters, complete: the meaning, in brief, of some of the chief points, or most remarkable portions, not the whole seriutim; 135 leaves in all.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, talipat leaves, very old, and much damaged by breaking of the leaves.

5. No. 2118. Bhārata tātparya nirṇayam.

By 'Ananta tirtt'ha—ślokas.

The 24th chapter from the 19th śloca to the end.

25th " complete.

26th " wants a little at the beginning.

27th " " the same.

28th " wanting in the middle.

Incomplete copy—without the beginning, and the ending, 27 leaves remain.

The book is long, thin, old, and broken at the ends.

6. No. 2133. Uttara Rāmāyana.

110 adhyayas, or chapters: ślokas.

A supplement to the Rāmāyanam, not universally acknowledged. It commences, with the account of a visit to Rāma, at Ayodhya by Agastya, who recounts to Rāma, and others, the posterity of Pulast'hya down to Rāvana, with a narrative of the principal war; and is continued down to the banishment of Sita by Rāma, and the birth of Kusa and Lava, at the hermitage of Vālmiki; the śrāvanēdha sacrifice by Rāma, and its becoming the means of his recognizing his two sons: 196 leaves; destroyed at one end, by worms.

The book is somewhat long, and thick, leaves narrow—very old.

7. No. 2156, Section 3. Fragment of the Bāla cāṇḍam, or 1st book of the Rāmāyanam by Vālmiki, the 1st sarga, and wanting one leaf at the end; an abridgement of the original.

8. No. 2206. Raghu vamsam, the line of Raghu, heroic poem—śloca.

By Cali dāsa.

The 4th and 5th sargas, wanting one leaf, these belong to the original.

Sanjivini—a commentary on it.

By Kōla-chēla mulli-nat'ha sūri, prose.

The 2d and 3d sargas only, both incomplete, as the second wants 8 ślocas, and the 3d wants 2 ślocas at the beginning; also from the 22d to the 26th ślocas wanting.

The two fragments differ in the length of leaves, book thin, and in good order.

9. No. 2207. Raghu vamsam, poem.

By Cali dāsa—ślocas only, incomplete.

The 2d and 3d sargas are right; the 4th has only 15 ślocas.

The fragment describes the sitting on sacred grass, in commemoration of ancestors.

The book is somewhat long, thin, and touched by worms.

10. No. 2208, Section 1. Raghu vamsam.

By Cali dāsa—original ślocas.

Nine sargas only, the leaves much damaged, and glued together by insects.

11. No. 2209. Sanjivini—a commentary on the Māgham, a classic poem.

By Kōla chēla mulli nat'ha sūri, prose.

The 1st 2d 3d sargas, complete, 118 leaves.

This author wrote a comment on three poems, with the running title of Sanjivini.

The book is of medium length, rather thick, and slightly damaged.

12. No. 2210. Māgha cānyam—an epic poem, on the expedition of Kṛṣṇa against Siṅpāla.

By Māgha cānyam—ślocas. The 1st to the 7th sarga of the original. The 8th has the first 15 ślocas only; the 1st sarga wants 13 ślocas; 9 leaves.

The book is of medium length, and in good order.

13. No. 2211. Mágha cávyam, or Sisupála vati.

By Mágha cavi—original ślócas.

The three first sargas have many leaves wanting—from the 4th to the 11th regular, also 17th to 20th, 1 leaf of the 20th excepted.

—Two or three amatory ślócas are added, at the end.

The book is short, somewhat thick, old.

14. No. 2212. Kirártárjuna, a poem.

By Bháravi—original ślócas only, classical: on the penance of Arjuna in the Himalayas.

Sargas 1 to 4, and 8th, 9th, 11th, 13th, 15th, each one complete—the 7th has only 30 ślócas, the 10th has 12 ślócas, the 12th has 40 ślócas, the 14th has 40 ślócas, the 16th has 56 ślócas—and 92 ślócas belonging to what sarga unknown—on 38 leaves.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, old, damaged by worms, and breakage.

15. No. 2214. Mágham, a poem.

By Mágha cavi.—This book contains three fragments of the original; and one of a commentary, in various letters.

- 1.) The 1st sarga as far as the 65th ślóca only, in—Grant'ha letter—16 leaves.
- 2.) The 1st sarga to the 49th ślóca—Canarese letter, 9 leaves.
- 3.) The 5th 6th and 7th sargas, the 5th wants the first 27 ślócas. The 6th is complete. The 7th has as far as the 61st ślóca; these are in déva nágari letter, 24 leaves.
- 4.) Vyákyánam, or comment 1st sarga to the 42d ślóca; Telugu letter, 32 leaves.

The book is of medium size, and slightly damaged, the nágari letter is older than the rest; all are different books put together, exciting suspicion of unfair handling.

16. No. 2215. Bhója prabandham, account of king Bhója—by Panditya Vallabha, in prose and verse, mixed together.

A narrative of the birth, rearing, and subsequent acts of Bhója-rája; who, after an interval, succeeded to Vicramáditya; including his partiality to Cáli dása, the poet: 62 leaves—complete.

The book is of medium size, old, some leaves are half broken off; others damaged at the ends.

17. No. 2216. Section 1. Cumára-Sambhava the birth of Karticeya, a poem. By Cáli dása. The 1st sarga only of the mūlam, or original, and this complete. This is part of another classical poem; of which four are usually reckoned—this one, the Raghu vamsa, the Mágham, and the Kirartárjunya. See VI.

18. No. 2218. Two books.

- 1.) Kirartárjunyam—also termed Bharavyam, from its author Bharavi. A poem on the adventures of Arjuna in the Himályas; the original in ślocas, from the 1st to the 18th sarga: the rest wanting.
- 2.) Kirartarjunya-vyákhyānam, a comment on the foregoing poem; also called Sanjivini.

By Kōla chela malli nat'ha sūri.

The 1st to the 3d sarga only—left incomplete, leaves 1—21 contain the original; 22—60 the comment.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

19. No. 2221. Cumāra sambhāna, on the birth of Cumara.

By Cāli dāsa.

The 1st to the 6th sarga, complete, the 7th has as far as to the 80th śloca, the original only, 17 leaves.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

20. No. 2245. Bhāratam.

The āzrūma-vāsa parvam; nāgari letter; but in language prose Canarese, from 30th to 40th adhyāyam, or 10 complete: leaves 44—146, in all 51 leaves.

Penance in the wilderness, Dhritarashtra, Gandari, and Kunt'hi relatives of the Pāndavas went to the Ganges, and left their bones there; Dharma rāja learning this circumstance from Nāreda, went to the banks of the Ganges, and performed their funeral rites.

The book is of medium size, and somewhat damaged.

21. No. 2258. Raghu ramsam.

By Cāli dāsa, two copies in part.

1st copy—original ślocas only: from the 2d to the 5th adhyāyam and of the 6th 14 ślocas only: in all 28 leaves.

2d copy, the original with a comment, called Sanjivini, both only of the 2d sarga, 33 leaves.

The first copy long, and thin; the 2d medium length, thin, and both slightly damaged.

XXIII. TALES.

1. No. 2219. Pārva cādumbari, prose, incomplete.

By Bhāna cavi.

Dhāra pi'ha, a king had a son named Chandra pi'ha, the kings

Mantri was named Suchanása, whose son was Vaisambayana, a brahman. The birth of these two boys, and their childish sports together narrated so far only; being a fragment on 49 leaves.

Fuller copies of the tale will occur elsewhere.

This book is long, of medium thickness, recent in appearance.

2. No. 2220. Mégha sandésam, the cloud messenger, a classic poem.

By Cáli dása, the original only; the 1st part has 67 ślócas, and the 2d only 9, incomplete.

Vyákyánam, or comment on that poem.

By Kóla chéla malli ná't ha súri, prose only 4 ślócas 51, 52, 61, 62.

The poem is translated into English by Prof. Wilson.

This book is long, thin, and touched by worms.

3. No. 2228. Bilhana cheritra.

By Bilhana cavi, it contains as far as 100 ślócas; but in this copy is not finished.

Matanábirama, a king, had a daughter, named Yámuna pūrna tilaca, very accomplished; whom he wished also to teach the art of poetry; and for this purpose he employed Bilhana cavi placing a screen between them as a precaution; telling her that the poet was blind, and telling him that his pupil was leprous. As some doubt on these points arose, they evaded the screen, and become mutually enamoured. The poet then composed these verses in her praise.

—At the end 3 ślócas are added, on sexualities 11 leaves in all.

The book is of medium length, thin, and touched by insects.

XXIV. TATVA METAPHYSICS.

1. No. 2135. Brahma gíta, described as being an illustrative comment on Suta sanhita, a chant, by Suta, in the yagnya váibhava Khandam, or chapter on the value of piacular sacrifice: the latter part of it.

By Mádhváchárya; but Brahma first delivered it to Súrya (the sun)—from the 2d to the 6th adhyáya.

The subject is on the (éca paratvam) sole divinity of Para Brahm. If any one wish to obtain full beatification he must seek it through the favor, and beneficence of Para Brahm. Other (tatva bhóda) mystic instructions are given, relative to body and soul; but left incomplete.

Books that bring the relative systems of Mādhva, Saṅkara, and Rāmanāṣa into comparison are of great value in Southern philosophy: this is one of them. It is long, of medium thickness, on narrow leaves, old, and exceedingly damaged by worms.

2. No. 2205. Section 3. On the tatva system, without title, a fragment of three leaves—ślokas. On the creation of men, animals, and inanimate things: all being from the māyam of Vishnu—the word māyam has three special meanings—power—form, or appearance—illusion: all seemingly combined in this philosophy: creation is from the power of Vishnu; it is a manifestation, of his form; it is illusive, unreal.

This is the Vedanta system.

3. No. 2208. Section 3. Tatva viveca vyākhyā.

A comment on a Sāiva book entitled, Tatva-viveca, spiritual skill.

By Rāma Krishna-sūtri, prose, incomplete.

XXV. VEDANTIC.

1. No. 2252. Madhva vijāyam, a mahā cāryam or poem of consequence, ślokas only—1st to 16th sarga complete.

By Nārāyana paṇḍitāchārya.

Anciently the Brahma-sūtra (or gīta?) a work by Vyasa, on the summary sense of the vedas, having been by some turned to a Smarta (or Advaita) meaning, this author controverts, and condemns such an interpretation, and establishes the Mādhva (or dvaita) system, that god and the human soul are two, not one. The story or biography of 'Ananta Tīrtha cara, another name of Madhva, is included: on 69 leaves.

The book is long, somewhat thick, and considerably injured by insects. See XXIV. 1. and remark there.

2. No. 2253. Madhva vijāya.

By Nārāyana Paṇḍitāchārya.

The 8th and 9th sargas only; these two are complete, there are also 36 ślokas of the 10th sarga: 16 leaves in all remain.

The book is long, thin, touched by insects.

3. No. 2254. Madhva vijāyam.

By Nārāyana Paṇḍita, ślokas.

The 1st to the 5th sarga correct; the remainder wanting; 47 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, much injured by worms, at the edges.

4. No. 2259. Madhva-vijayam.

By Nārāyana Pandita, slocas.

XXVII. VIRA SAIVA.

1. No. 2149. Mrigéndra-uttaram, slócas from the 21st to the 27th padalam, or sections; the end. On the Sáiva-nishti, or system. Description of the size and form of the Sáiva symbol, and of the proper place for its location, in a pagoda, or temple. The said symbol may be as small as a finger, for a house: must be a cubit long, for a temple; and much larger if to be fixed in a wild, or forest.

Yógabhyása vidhánam, on the mode of ascetic bodily exercise, as devotion, suspending the senses, &c., said to be adváita in tendency.

Pūja-sátaca vidhánam, description of various kinds of homage, as in a house, a temple, a wilderness: or if mental only, without any visible symbol.

Stated to have been delivered by Indra to Bharadvāja-rishi.

The 1st 20 leaves are wanting. The book is of medium size, thin, broad talipat leaf old, and slightly injured.

2. No. 2151. Vira-Mahésvara-acharya-sangraha—an epitome of Sáiva doctrine, slócas. By Nila kant'ha-naga-nátha.

From the 1st to the 5th adhyaya much injured; from the 6th to 78th the end, complete.

On renouncing all family attachments, mode of initiation to the Sáiva way; on the attendance of a disciple upon a spiritual teacher, the excellency of the five lettered charm; on the formation of a symbol of Siva; regulation as to the size, and form of a stone pillar in a temple. The supremacy of Siva; for example, he cut off the head of Brahma; his amusements—in going about as a beggar; the destroyer of the sacrifice of Dacsha; his marriage with Girijà (hill-born nymph) that is Parvati; the birth of Cumara; his killing Taracásura; burning three towns (tripura dahanam) putting on a elephant's hide; bearing Ganga on his forehead; swallowing the poison of the serpent kálacúttan; by these and other examples the greatness of Siva is displayed.

On ceremonials, as bathing, putting on sacred ashes, bearing beads on the head, &c. The bathing is initiatory; on the excellency of the pūja, or homage to Siva. The tale of Márcandeya in illustration. When only sixteen years old he was rescued from Yama (death) by Siva, and is now a chiranjivi, or immortal; always sixteen years of age; 115 leaves, broad talipat.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, very much damaged near the beginning, slightly so in other places.

3. No. 2152. Fragments apparently of three books. 1) Matanga-Paramésvara-tantra yôgápátam, slócas; on ascetic worship of a Sáiva kind, many leaves lost; from the remainder thus much is gathered:

2d. Padalam, yôga upanyasam, on the description, and sub-homage of an ascetic.

3d. Padalam, yôga-sara : samvachayam, essence of asceticism.

4th Padalam, tateva satatam, investigation of truth.

5th Siva-tatva-aihyam—on unity with the truth of Siva.

2.) Another book.

31st. Padalam—On bathing, and putting on ashes of burnt Cow's dung.

32d. " on wearing sacred beads.

33d. " on properties of (japa) prayer or charms.

These may pertain to the first portion; but they seem to be different, by reason of varied arrangements, as to chapters; incomplete.

3.) No. 1827.

The subject is a collection of extracts from (sruti) védas (upanishadaśas), supplements to Védas-(purānas) old legends, and (vācyas) prose authorities; intended to illustrate, or prove various Saiva matters; with their superior claims, when compared with other ways; incomplete.

The book is long, thin, on broad talipat leaves, old, newer in the second portion; slightly damaged.

4. No. 2153. Dasa Granthiya dipica, comment on a book entitled Dasa Grantha.

By Viranāchārya. Nāgari letter (Canarese language).

In order to prove the absolute supremacy of Siva, quotations are made, as above from Védas and purānas, as authorities, or testimony.

The book commented on is Advāita in class; and it is herein translated into Canarese, not complete. The main points herein are Siva exists—he is sole lord of the human soul, or life; the rest wanting.

The 3 first chapters complete, with a little only of the 4th 60 leaves remain. There are two leaves Sanscrit ślokas (Telugu letter) on the pranava or mystic O'm, giving it an advāita meaning.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, and very much injured.

β—A.

b. Granthā character.

I. ALPHABET.

1. No. 1827. Bālo pāttam, merely the alphabet; throughout, in a large school-boy's hand-writing, medium size on talipat leaves, and in good order.

and of other demi gods. Of the car, or vehicle of Vishnu; and a few other similar matters.

The book is of medium size, incomplete, very old; and much injured by worms, so as in some places to destroy legibility.

2. No. 2077. Said to be a Saiva-ágama; as the first leaf is wanting the precise name is not known.

The following will indicate the contents.

The proportions of an upper room in a house, or of the second story. Fire sacrifice on finishing a new house, or before entering it. Proportions of windows—of a porch to a house, or temple—of arches, and of pillars. The construction of garlands of leaves across streets, or roads, for processions: Door of a porch, properties of pinnacles on a porch, or tower, outer hall of a house, or temple. The place of an image, on its shrine, in the inner recess, place of Nandi opposite, place of Ganésa, and of Karticeya. On the Rudra image: the one brought out in public procession on the 11th lunar day, a fast. On the sactis—Lacshmi, Sarasvati, proportions of their statues. The great altar of sacrifice. The property, or form, or dimension of the Sivalinga, test of the quality of the stone forming it, rule as to the form of Chandrá, on Siva's head, also of Ganga, near the other. Form of Tripurantaca, or of Siva, as the destroyer of the three towns; also of Kalyána Sun-tara, a mild form of Siva, the statue so representing him. These, and a variety of like matters.

There are three loose leaves, stating under what lunar asterisms the 'Aluvár were born.

The book is thick, of medium length, very old, and much damaged; some leaves are only halves, and crumbling to decay.

III. ART OF POETRY.

1. No. 1944. Kavi-alancára-sútra vrytta; an amplification of aphorisms, on ornamental poetry. By Vámana cavi.

On prosody and rhetorical figures. Rules for the formation of poems, what are excellencies, and what defects. The properties of a stanza; mode of its construction. The poet should be quite alone. The morning the best time. Faults of a stanza. Difference between a long running chant, and prose. Faults as to meaning. Strictures on metaphors.

Memo. seven leaves besides—nágari letter; and a few loose leaves on rhetoric.

The book is long, thin, old, some leaves a little damaged.

2. No. 1945. Nanja yashò bāshana.

By Narasimha cavi. On rhetoric, and poetry: in the name of Nanja rāja.

IV. ASTROLOGICAL.

1. No. 1739. Góchara p'halam, 7 leaves in the midst of a large book; on the influence of the lunar asterism in which the moon was situated at the time of birth of any person; good, or evil according to the quality of that mansion. This appears to be a leading point in the native astrology.
2. No. 1760. Nava gruha jyótishyam, on the nine planets. The future life of a child is influenced, as to character and duration, by the twelve signs, and the planets which happen to be in them at the time of birth.

Memo. There are five leaves on other subjects, which belong to some other three books.

This book is of medium length, thin, old, and damaged.

3. No. 2025. Jyótisha-sastram—Astrology.

This book is chiefly occupied by the porutana, or proper time for marriages, and other ceremonies, astrologically determined. Favorable positions of the sun and other planets, in respect to marriage are stated. On the shad-varga, or six classes, a zodiacal sign is 2½ lunar mansions. There are six modes of reckoning concerning these two; signs, and mansions, taken together, but in different ways. On the nishégam, the first coming together of bridegroom, and bride—what mansions are good, and bad stated. On the simantanam a ceremony on the 6th or 8th month of pregnancy, the lunar mansion, age of the moon, zodiacal sign to be considered, as also the day of the week—not on Saturday, nor on Tuesday. Proper times for offerings at any shrine, and also for sowing seeds, and for going to live in a new house, after building one: or entering on a new village. Further, the results that will follow from journies, on different days of the week; as Monday agreeable to friends; Tuesday, thieves, or fire: Wednesday gain of property; Thursday, health; Friday, wealth; Saturday, loss of property; Sunday, sickness. Hence generally Tuesday, Saturday, and Sunday, are deemed bad days for journeying. On going to any town or place, the signs (auguries) by the way, good or bad. What signs of the zodiac are favorable for journeying; aries and taurus not so. The periods which the different planets take in passing through a zodiacal sign stated. There are other matters of like kind, but the book is left incomplete. It shews how entire must be the subjection of any mind, if submitted to the guidance of a jyótishya-Brahman.

(Memo. There are seven leaves, Canarese language Grant'hā letter.)

The book is of medium length, thin, recent, and in good order.

4. No. 2026. Hóra-sāstram, Astrology.

By Varāha Mithrācharya. It is also more popularly known by the name of Bṛha jātacam.

1st Chapter the 12 zodiacal signs described, and explained.

2d „ those signs ascribed to different faculties of the human being.

3d „ On any birth being announced a mode is stated of determining, by planets and signs, if it is a man or beast &c.

4th „ imperfect, on framing a horoscope, leaves 1 to 38 the rest wanting.

The work properly contains 26 chapters.

This book is long, thin, new in appearance, 1 leaf damaged.

5. No. 2024. Hóra-sāstram. On Astrology.

By Varāha Mithrācharya.—Another and fuller copy.

1st Chapter.....complete.

2d „.....only 16 ślokas.

3d to 6th „.....wanting.

7th to 26th „.....which is the end.

General substance. A science which from the state and relative position of the planets, at the time of any individual's birth, pronounces on health, or sickness, and nature of events, till that individual's death.

The following are a few particulars from this book ; on death in the womb ; death within twelve years after birth, called bāla karīṣṭa ; when father, mother, elder, and younger brothers will die ; health—wealth—marriage—birth of children—live'lihood—manner of life—various profits, or losses—rāja yōg or great acquirements ; women's horoscope ; to determine whether a horoscope presented is that of a man, or woman ; a mode of judging from the sight of an individual, when he was born, under what sign &c. other like matters.

One leaf is added, as an appendix, on the number of Indian hours attributed to different signs. One portion of the book has an explanation in Tamil. The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and several leaves are damaged by decay.

6. No. 2031. Jyōtisha sāstram, Astrology, ślokas, without tīca or explanation.

The nimitta cādam or chapter on indications, in four sections. Said to have been delivered by Vrihaspati to Indra.

In forming the chakra (wheel, or circle) for the horoscope, two single letter mantras must be written in distinct compartments, one is the Vishnu-Bhija, the other is the Lacshmi Bhija—the chakra is then to be worshipped. The nine planets—signs, culminating places—their nadir-places, friendly, and inimical planets (e. g. Sol in aries has two enemies, Venus and Saturn.) The influence of the Sun in different signs, according to the enemies in those signs. The conjunctions (grūha yōga) of planets—their influence. The rising of the planets in the ascendant. The order of the signs; the word cshētram is used, as mēsha cshētram. The place of aries &c. A triple division of the 12 signs as 4 garbha 4 dāvāra 4 bhāya, inner, medium, outer; The influence of the different signs &c. Only the first ten leaves, the remainder wanting.—The book is rather long, thin, in good order.

7. No. 2027. Jyōtisha-sāstram—Astrology.

A list of nacshētras—proper time to set out on a distant journey—the nacshētra of the town, and that of the person compared; and, as the number falls, so good or evil is divined. (Note—the lunar asterisms have certain syllables attached to them, so that, by the syllables in a word or name, it is apportioned to some asterism. Hence the name of a town, and the name of a man are determined to their respective asterisms. Next the asterisms are distributed to members of the human body, so many to the head, so many to the mouth, to the stomach &c., and as the reference or agreement happens, it is deemed good or bad; for example, if the agreement be on the mouth, or stomach, it is deemed propitious to go to that town or place.)

—A like divination as to the rāja of a place to be visited, and the person going—results divined in a similar manner.

—dasa-vidha poruttam, ten modes of divining times—of determining agreement or disagreement between the asterisms of intended bridegroom and bride: discordant asterisms are not deemed propitious.

—The proper day for shaving the head, and also for anointing it with oil.

—The māsa p'halam, the influence, or results of different months.

—Proper time for the simantam, a ceremony after pregnancy, by examination of the asterisms.

—Enquiry as to results of first menstruation, by the state of the asterisms at the time.

—How to judge of the time, or hour of the day or night.

—nashṭa prasna, questions on things lost, and determined, whether by a biped, or quadruped.

—To determine the amṛita, and siddha yōgas, as good days for journeying ; the dadda yōga, and mṛiti yōga indicate evil, and death ; to do anything on these forbidden.

Some other like matters, but incomplete.

(Memo. There is a very similar book No. 1208 in the Telugu character.)

This book is long, thin, and in good order.

8. No. 2028. Jyōtisha sūtram. Astrology.

Six leaves at the beginning are wanting on the cshētram, or place of a zodiacal sign—oppositions of planets—angular aspects ; signs classed as human or feral, some are assigned to birds ; male, female, neuter, signs—the trigona, or triangle (retained in European astrology.) Mars and the dragon's head agree with male signs, Venus and the Moon with female signs. Mercury, dragon's tail, and Saturn, with neuter signs.

Color of signs—Mesha (Aries) is blood colored, Vrishabha (Taurus) is white &c.

Horary questions as to thefts—replied to by determining the sign and lunar asterism, in which the moon then is : if the sign be male the thief is so, if female the thief is a woman. The enquiry how tall is the thief ? is thus determined—Jupiter, Mercury, the Dragon's head, indicate, a tall person. The Sun, and Venus one of middle size ; the Moon, Mars, Saturn, a short person.

There are other like matters from leaf 7 to 49—the rest wanting.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

9. No. 2029. Kāla pracāsicā, illustration of times, 14th to 30th chapter.

- 1.) Dasa-vidhā-poruttam—ten kinds of astrological enquiry into the agreement, or otherwise of the lunar asterisms under which the man and woman were born, before forming any marriage contract—and on other matters.
- 2.) Examination as to the proper time for a marriage ceremony.
- 3.) The indication from the state of the planets and asterisms, on a first menstruation, as to good or ill results, in future life. The color of the cloth proper to be then given, and other matters.
- 4.) The proper times for sowing corn, and other seeds.
- 5.) Dhānya-sangraha—on what day it is proper to begin to cut corn ; so as to secure the greatest advantage by it.

- 6.) The proper time for taking an intended journey.
- 7.) The proper time for putting on any jewel newly made.
- 8.) The proper time for beginning to build a new house.
- 9.) For entering to dwell in a newly built house.
- 10.) The good time for pouring water over the head of a king, or newly formed idol; equivalent to anointing.
- 11.) From the state of the heavens at the time of a disease coming on, to determine how long it will last.
- 12.) The proper time for taking medicine to cure any disease.

The book is of medium size, recent and in good order, leaves 22—65 not finishing.

10. No. 2033. Ganita-sāstram; calculation.

The mode, or form pursued for calculating the customary Pānchāngam, or Almanac.

The five members are 1) tithi 2) vāram 3) naeshetra 4) yōga 5) karanam; or moon's age, day of the week, moon's place, each $\frac{1}{27}$, or $\frac{1}{11}$ of the zodiac, astrological divisions.

The work is in Sanscrit prose; with a tica or explanation in Canarese.

It also shews how to fix the Saca year; and thereby immediately to determine the year of the cali-yuga; and how to calculate the exact place of the moon; whence the beginning of each tithi is determined.

It gives the mode of calculating solar, and lunar eclipses, and a few other like matters. Leaves 1—30 one or two deficient, in 4 Chapters. The 5th left incomplete.

11. No. 2034. Jyōtisha-sāstram; Astrology.

Eight chapters on horary questions.

V. DRAMATIC.

1. No. 1791. 1.) Mahā Nāṭacam—ślocas only.

A collection of verses by eminent authors, made by order of Imvadi Dēva rāya. These were before loose, and scattered; but were gathered into one and called the great drama. The subject is that of the Rāmāyanam, epitomised; and adapted to stage representation: complete in 479 ślocas.

- 2.) Agnidhra Rāmāyanam. An epitome of part of the Rāmāyanam, from the Bāla to the Suntara-cāndam, so far complete the remainder wanting: 65 ślocas.

- 3.) Chambu-Rāmāyanam, the last section or uttara Cādam. The events subsequent to Rama's return to Ayōdhya, in a sort of drama, ślocas, with a Churnikāi or lengthened prose explanation. There is said to be a supplement to the Chambu Rāmāyanam, by Venkata Krishna dhara, but not here.

This book is long, of medium thickness, old, but in good order.

2. No. 1793. Chambu-Rāmāyanam, ślocas, with a Churnikāi; also a chorus in anapaest or rapid metre. This is from the Bāla to the Suntara Cādam. Adapted to public representation, in the manner of a drama; it is ascribed to Bhōja-rāja, after hearing the yuddha cādam by Lacshmana.

The book is long, thin, old, and very much damaged.

3. No. 1945. Sect. 2. On Nāṭakas or dramas. By Nārasiṅha Cāsi. The first section treats of the art of poetry in historical, or heroic pieces. This section relates to the drama. The author composed a dramatic piece entitled Chandra-Kāla Kaiyaṅam, in 5 āncas or acts, in order to exemplify his rules.

This work is a mixture of ślokas and prose with pracṛiti, or vulgarly spoken language by inferior characters. The author describes the various portions of a play, the kinds of actors, including the (vidūṣaka) buffoon; the costumes, and the kind of language proper to each part, or role. He dwells on rhetorical figures, as parināma-upamāna-sandēha-braṇḍinat-ulāha-apanava-utpracsha-smarana-dṛiṣṭanda-arc'hanta-mycasa, and others; and gives ślokas, or *śūtrika*s, in exemplification. Sec II. 2.

4. No. 1957. Two nāṭakas, or dramas.

1. Lacshmi-sayamzaram. The marriage of Lacshmi.

By Srinivāsa Cāsi.

The guardians of the eight points went to the Sasandra-rāja (or sea-king) after the churning the ocean, and asked him to whom he was going to give his daughter Lacshmi, born from the sea. He replied he would not interfere, but leave her to choose. They asked her for Vishnu, and gave their benediction. The marriage with Vishnu ultimately took place. (The sea king herein is not Varuna, the god of the clouds, or of rain.)

Many instances occur of the patra-pravēṣam or change of dress, pracṛiti is also intermingled with the composition.

2.) Nārāyaṇi-śūśa nāṭacam. A drama founded on another part of the Kūrma avatāram.

The asuras had stolen two vessels of amrita; and Indra was intending to fight with them, but was directed rather to go to Brahma and complain. Brahma referred him to Nārāyaṇa; who promised to accomplish the desired result by stratagem. He assumed the form of Mihiki a female; took the amrita from them; and upset the vessels. Vipra-chitta is the name of the asura that stole the amrita or nectar. Prose and pracṛiti are used in the composition, and many changes of dress occur.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, and damaged.

5. No. 1959. Subhadra-dhūmanjaya-nāṭaca.

By Rama-cari. A drama founded on the elopement of Subhadra, and subsequent marriage with Arjuna. It is written in mixed language; ślokas; prose: and pracṛiti, or vulgar dialect. It is complete on 78 leaves: the last one only injured: the book is long, but thin.

6. No. 1961. Ananta-jīvanam, a bhānam, or monologue drama.

By Atrēya-Varata-cavi.

This is a loose drama, on the adventures of one styled Vasanta śekhara at the Conjeveram May-festival. He heard of the fame of Vasantica, a dansuse, and went to see her performance; leading to an intimacy with her. Her person, and dancing described.

A description of dawn, and of sun-rise. The names of some men there, with particulars of their debauched characters. A specification of streets, wherein dasis live. The play of chandra-cati, with a ball, described. Cock-fighting described, and praised. A description of many figurantes. Quite a profligate book, small, worm-eaten.

7. No. 1964. Nāgananta-nāṭacam, a drama.

By Sri-Harisha-cavi.

The subject is a fictitious marriage between Jinuta vāhana and Malāyivati, worked up with persons, and incidents in the usual manner of dramas; but profligate in kind; the dialect is pracrutī: it has five ancas, or acts, and is complete.

The book is long, thin, old, a little worm-eaten.

8. No. 1985. Prasanna-Rāghaviya, a drama on the story of the Rāmāyanam. The book is labelled Bala Rāmāyanam, which is wrong.

It includes adventures from the bending the bow, at the court of Janaka; to the defeat of Ravana. In six ancas, or acts; with many changes of dress, and variations of character.

The book is long, thin, old, and much worm-eaten, at the end.

9. No. 2046. Sōma vallica yāganavita Prahasana-nāṭacam, a comic interlude.

By Dindima cavi. This is not a uniform dramatic piece; but a series of tales, or verses for public recitation; to excite mirth, and made up of ślōcas, and prose pracrutī. For example;

A Sanniyasi with his disciples are introduced. The disciples ask whether amatory matters are not most interesting, and whether a continual reciting the names of god does not make the head ache? But there are other matters, much more gross. A few medical ślōcas are written, on back leaves.

The book is long, thin, and gnawed at the ends.

VI. ETHICAL.

1. No. 1817. Sabha-ranjana-nīti. Assembly rejoicing ethics. By Nīla k'hanta dīcshata. It is presumed, from a cursory view, that the subjects are jejune ex. gr. Though a mantri (minister of state) be ever so skilful; yet without the name and authority of a king he cannot govern a country. The book is long, and contains 6½ leaves; is complete, and in good order.

2. No. 1942. Itihasa-samuc'hayam, a winding up of the Bharatam.

Vdisambayanar narrates the consolation offered by Vyāsa to the Pāndavas.

After the battles narrated in the Bharatam the sons of Pāndu being distressed by the death of so many of their relatives, friends and children Vyasa came and variously consoled them, relating many narratives, contained in 33 adhyayas or chapters. Complete on 114 leaves. Among other matters — Gaūtami-upakhyānam mūgala-dēva-dūta-samvada, conversation between two divine messengers; Ganga mahatmya, legend of the Ganges; tale of a king who gave his own flesh to protect a bird that had flown to him from its devourer. A detail of sins leading to naraca; a detail of virtues tending to sverga. On gifts, as the gift of land, of cows &c., with much other matter.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

3. No. 1762. Dhermākiya prasna pratiyucti. By Haridattāchārya. The duties of an unmarried Brahman, while a Brahmachari; treated in the way of question, and answer.

A fragment of 15 leaves, of medium length, broken at one end.

4. No. 1785. Bhagavata gita: śloca, with tica, By Késava-sācshi. An abridged explanation of the chant, by Krishna, from the Bhāratam.

Arjuna, while acting as the charioteer of Krishna, objected to slaying his own relatives. Krishna taught him to the contrary, explaining the nature of the jivatma and the paramātma, or human and divine soul: the foundation of the Vedānta system.

From the 1st to the 18th chapter complete; except the 48th—52d, and 103 leaves; which may perhaps be found. The book is long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, injured.

5. No. 1788. Bhagavat-gīta, ślokas, or original only. The 1st and 2d chapters (wanting only one leaf of the 2d) from the 3d to the 18th chapter, complete—54 leaves are wanting: the remaining leaves are numbered 55 to 94.

The book is of medium size, old, and much damaged.

6. No. 1789. Bhagavat-gīta; mūlam, or original only, in ślokas. The Grant'ha and Telugu characters are intermingled, in different leaves. From the 1st to the 6th chapters wanting; what remains is from the 7th to the 18th chapter.

It is prefaced by seven small leaves; containing directions as to the mode in which the Bhagvatagīta should be read; that is, seated on the padmanāsanam (lotus-seat) upon the hams, the feet folded underneath.

The mental preparation, by mantras, and motions of the fingers stated.

The book is of medium size, thin, old: and a little injured.

7. No. 1790. Bhagavata-gīta; mūlam only in ślokas. From the 1st to the 18th chapter, complete on 76 leaves, regularly numbered. The book is short, thick, one or two leaves injured.

8. No. 1848. Brahmārādiyam—on homage.

This book contains some ethical matter; but is more suitably referred to the head of ritual. See XVI, 22.

9. No. 1967. Subāshita-sucta-muktā mālāi; or pearl necklace of good words; ślokas without any comment. Compiled from various other books; the compiler's name does not appear. The work relates in some degree to rhetoric, and the art of poetry; but its chief matter is ethical.

Praise of a poet—condemnation of the false critic—disposition of a good man; the nature of the medicant orders of kinds—disposition of the bad man. The miser, the calumniator; description of a king; of an elephant; of a river; of a woman of high birth; and various other matters; referring to the animate, or inanimate creation, as the source of poetic descriptions. From p. 1 to 38 not finished.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

10. No. 1968. Kāmandiki-on Ethics.

On the proper qualities of a king, and also of his minister; a work on political ethics. In sixteen sargas, or sections ; chiefly prose, but of a recondite kind.

The book is long, old, has narrow leaves, and is damaged at the end.

11. No. 1969. Niti-sāram ; essence of morals. Stanzas on ethics, in 186 ślokas, with a tīca or explanation in Tamil, and with quotations from other books. Many orthographical errors by the copyist, who appears to have been a schoolmaster. The following is a sample of the contents.

Satyāmo sārini Lacshmi bīhi.	He who is faithful, will possess wealth.
Kīrti s'hyāganu sārini.	He who gives largesses will have fame.
Śraddhāna sārini vidya.	He who uses application will acquire learning.
Buddhihi karmānu sārini.	Wisdom comes from merit of a former birth.

12. No. 2045. Bhagavata-gīta, chant of Krishna ; 18 chapters, complete, leaf 1—43. From the Bhīshma parva of the Bhāratam, before the contest with Bhīshma.

The metaphysical counsels of Krishna to Arjuna to remove the latter's scruples against killing his own kindred, and various ethical matters from the Vedas ; basis of the Vedānta.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

13. No. 2061. This manuscript has, at the beginning, 15 leaves, on the duties of women who profess the Vaishnava credence ; the early morning, and other daily offices, and repetition of the names of the 108 Vaishnava shrines.

14. No 2071. Niti sāram, on ethics.

This is a work on moral subjects—as the vanity of life—the need of giving alms, and the like matters. Each sanscrit word is accompanied with its meaning in Tamil.

It is complete—of medium size, old, and slightly damaged.

15. No. 2072. Nīti-ślokas, stanzas on ethics.

Only four talipat leaves, without boards, long, and slightly injured: at the end one leaf of an almanac, on Mārgala month, November December.

The two following lines may be taken as a specimen of the ethics :

Sa sri yā namatam karōdha.

That is real wealth which does not puff up with pride.

Sa snicto vyasanā nivirtti yeti yabhā.

He is a true friend that removes sorrow.

VII. EROTIC.

01. No. 1116. Sravānandini, a commentary.

By Cāsi Pandita, on the Rasa Gangadhara of Nanja cheti pāla; composed in ślocas, stanzas, and prose mixed.

Some prefatory verses to Siva, on his adventures with the wives of rishis, in the Tarudā-vana.

On ornamental poetry, and poetical measures. Description of the rāgas or musical modes.

On tālas or musical tunes, as marked by beating cymbals. On amatory poetry. On the person of the nayaka, or hero, or gallant. On female beauty as to fine proportions. Various feminine actions; smiles described: Indications of anger in women. Description of a tune termed Bhāiravi. On the desire of women for dress, and ornaments; known by the term chapalyam. Modes of salutation. Description of the chaste woman.

The book is long, of medium thickness, nearly new—and put with the old books, in the Telugu letter; doubtful.

1. No. 1118. Vāsava dhattāi—a romance written in ślocas a few of them explained in prose.

A King named Kandapa hetu had a beautiful daughter named Vāsava dhattāi. Another king named Chintāmani had a dream, in which he saw this female; and became enamoured, and sick. A friend of his named Matana hetu suggested an embassy. He went, and succeeded in bringing about the marriage of Chintāmani with Vāsava dhattāi.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

2. No. 1806. Amarūkam, an erotic work in 100 ślocas complete; and a commentary on it, entitled Sringāra-rasa-dīpica. By Diva Bhūyalan, also complete. The original is sometimes ascribed to Sancarāchārya, but erroneously; the writer seems to have given it his own name, put into the neuter gender.

The kinds of women, under the titles of mukta-syāma-praudha-prōshidā-bhartica-abisārica-sviya-parakiya-sūmanya; or girl, young woman, matron, grāse veuve, adulteress, own wife, other's wife, common.

The kinds of men are specified, and language of conversation, with much other matter, altogether at variance with the western delicacy, or sense of propriety. This work is a corrupt fountain from which many streams have descended into southern lands. The book is long, thin, in small close writing not old, but injured by wear.

3. No. 1812. Gītā Gōvinda—the chant of Krishna. By Jaya dēvo. Twelve sargas, or sections complete, in ślōcas, and some other versification.

On the amours of the Krishna and Rādha.

Translated by Sir W. Jones, and published in the Asiatic Researches.

4. No. 1814. Rati-rahasyam, or Sringāra bandhu dipica. On sexual intercourse. By Hari-haran. The first pārich'heda complete, the 2d do. only 56 ślōcas.

On the muhta girl; mādhya, young woman; prakalbu, matron; the dispositions of these and other classes of women. The qualities of gallants, or lovers. On the four classes—hastini, chitrēni, sakhini, padmini, their attributes or qualities, and various other matters; which, among Europeans, would be rated as obscene.

The book is long, thin, in good order, very slightly injured by insects.

Memo. 1 leaf of the Mēgha sandēsam or cloud messenger and 1 leaf Jyotisham, on horary questions should be collated to some other books.

5. No. 1815. Mēgha-sandēsam. The cloud messenger. By Cālīdāsa. The 1st avāsani complete; the 2d has only to the 25th ślōca: It is the mūla, or original only, without commentary.

A yacsha banished for a year by Cuvēra, charged a cloud to carry a message to his wife at Alacapuri, he being unable to come.

Translated and published by Professor Wilson; but with greater delicacy, as to description of the female person than in the original.

This book is long, thin, and in good order.

6. No. 1839. Vasanta-tilaca. The pride of spring. By Varadāchāryar of Conjeveram. This is a bhānam, or monologue, designed for public recitation; but not a regular drama. The author is popularly called Annāl, and the book Annāl bhānam; said to be written in the author's old age like Voltaire's Pucelle d'Orleans.

The subject is as follows. The hero of the piece is fictitiously named Svisigara soc'hara, who formed intimacies with dasis, or pagoda figurantes, and their companions at Conjeveram, and with other strange women. He attended cock fighting, and fighting by rams; and is, in all things, with minute particulars, made out to be a model of depravity, in a tone of praise. The work is in prose in the narrative portion; but mixed up with ślōcas in the descriptive, or ornate part. As the alleged author was considered to be of the strictest Vaidica class, or non-secular, a fiction has been raised to account for his writing such a book; but of doubtful authority. Possibly the real author may have added sarcasm to buffoonery, in fixing it on him.

The work is complete, on 42 leaves. The book is long, thin, gnawed by rats at the beginning.

7. No. 1943. Rasā-manjeri, or garland of sentiment.

By Bhanucavi*.

On the nayak and nayaki, or man and woman. Women are classed generally as sviya own, anya other, samanya common; and these are subdivided into other orders: their several properties stated. Some detail is given as to the qualities of men. The work is chiefly in ślōcas, with some little prose, on 34 leaves.

The book is long, thin, and touched by insects.

8. No. 1947. Section 1, is Sringarā-dīpica, a lamp, or comment.

It contains a poetical description of various kinds of females; but from being incomplete, and much decayed, it cannot well be determined whether it is original, or a commentary. See 2 and 11.

9. No. 1956. Gīta Gōvinda—chant of Krishna. By Jaya dēva.

Complete in 28 leaves, in 12 svargas, or sections, and 24 pātas or chants, in the ashta pati, or octave metre.

On the amours of Krishna, and Radha, the gōpi or female cow-herd; her pains, messengers, description of the seasons, &c.

Translated by Sir W. Jones.

10. No. 1958. Matana Gōpāla vilāsa, a Bhānam or monologue, by Guru Rāma cavi; on the sports of a mimic Krishna.

A vittan (vaur-rien) at the time of the Tripeti festival, in September, puts on the disguise of Krishna named Matana Gōpāla, from one sun-rise to another sun-rise. In that interval, of one complete day, he plays all sorts of tricks; talking with dasis, with female messengers, with bad associates; holds intercourse with many women, grossly described; and is made out a complete blackguard, in detail. The work may illustrate the influence of the Krishna avatara, and of pagoda festivals. It is complete, but as the leaves are numbered 116 to 131 it must be taken from some larger book.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

11. No. 1963. Amarúkam, original. Sringára-rasa-dipica—commentary by Déva Bhupála, a king; also termed sarvyákyánam. See 1806, supra: this book has only 65 ślócas, on 45 leaves; other 35 ślócas are wanting.

The work is before described with sufficient minuteness. This book is of medium size, one leaf is only $\frac{1}{2}$, the others a little injured.

12. No. 2048. Chambu Krishna-vilása. By Lacshmana Cavi, prose, and verse mingled.

1st and 2d st'hápanam—not complete.

3d wanting, 4th wants the beginning.

5th the latter part wanting.

Being so imperfect the contents cannot be fully defined. This fragment has a description of Chenji, or Ginjee: a description of Canchi nagara, or Conjeveram; with much of ornamented hyperbole, as to both places. On the birth of Krishna; on female flower gatherers; on sports in the water, or bathing; on the youthful sports of Krishna, and other matters, pertaining to him; erotic in kind.

This book is of medium length, thin, and slightly damaged.

VIII. FABLES.

1. No. 1965. Pancha-tantra, Five devices.

A fragment only of this popular work.

Part 1st. Mitra bhédam, complete.

" 2d. Sucra lābham, complete.

" 3d. Zánti vighram, incomplete.

The book is of medium size, and very much injured.

2. No. 1966. Pancha-tantra, Five devices.

By Vishnu Sarma, or so ascribed. The 5 parts are complete.

1. Mitra bhédam, division.

2. Sucra lābham, benefit of allies.

3. Zánti vighraha, peace, or war.

4. Lābda nása, loss of possessions.

5. Asamprécshya } on acting with rashness, inconsiderately.
káriyatvam. }

Page 106—111 again from 95—117.

The book is long, thin, and a little worm eaten

3. No. 1970. Pancha-tantram, Five devices.

A fragment—it contains,

2d. Sucra lābham, a part only.

3d. Zánti vighram, only $2\frac{1}{2}$ leaves.

The book is long and thin, with only one board, and damaged leaves.

IX. GRAMMATICAL.

1. No. 1772. Section 1. Véda lacshanam. On the mode of chanting the Védas, slow, quicker, very quick. Prose, incomplete.
2. No. 1795. Section 1. Háriya Rámayanam anwáiya rūpa vyakhyánam.

By Pandita Surya. A commentary on an epitome of the *Rámáyana*m, unfolding the meaning of compound, or difficult words, in plain ones; from the bála, to the yuddha cādam, complete.

Section 2. Chātu ślocas, fifty of them: enigmatical verses concerning any one; as Viṣṇu, Siva, on kings, on ethics, &c., with the explanation.

3. No. 1836. *Rāghava Pāndaváiya Kāvya*m.

By Cani-roya Pandit. An elementary book for advancing a scholar.

The verses are so contrived as to relate the story both of Rāma, and Kṛishna. This is effected by a play on words, in one sense expressing something proper to Kṛishna, and in another sense, what is proper to Rāma: hence a whetstone for the wits of young beginners, and requiring great command of language in the poet.

The book is long, thin, old, and much damaged, the leaves broken at the ends.

[It is not easy to find any better classification for 2 and 3.]

4. No. 1838. Sabda vibhacti, on cases of nouns, ślocas with prose; a work on parts of speech, and declension of words. It has the appearance of a school book. It is long, thin, and in tolerable order.
5. No. 1873. Kaṭmudi-vyakaranam, a grammar, fancifully termed 'moon-beams.'

On the sandhi, or coalition of words, ending in vowels, complete. The other part on words ending in consonants is incomplete, leaf 1—44 the 7th wanting.

Other 9 leaves, on collation, should be transferred to some other books. The entire work is long, thin, but in generally good order.

6. No. 1874. Pracriya-Kaumudi, on Grammar.

Of the five kinds of sandhi, or coalition of vowels, and consonants. On the declension of nouns ending in vowels, this is complete ; on nouns ending in consonants, incomplete.

At the end 5 leaves in nagari letter require to be transferred. This book is long, rather thin, old, and damaged at the ends of the leaves, so that the numbers are cut off.

7. No. 1875. Grammar.

- 1.) On the affixes to Sanscrit roots, 5 leaves (15, 16, 17, 18, 18) from Bhù to Pach, fragment.
- 2.) On the three genders, with examples of various nouns, and ślocas exemplifying the vowels, 24 leaves.
- 3.) Samāsa-chacram, combination of words by Sandhi &c., two copies on the same subject, 10 leaves complete.

In the middle, a leaf from the Nāishada requires transfer.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

8. No. 1876. Prakriyā Kaumudi.

By Rāma chandra.

On various kinds of sandhi, or coalition of vowels : on the declension of words, ending both in vowels and consonants. Samāsa or modes of compound words, carrying the declension at the termination of the last word ; so far termed subandham. Complete, except as to verbs, p. 1—88.

On verbs, root, and affixes, this part is incomplete, on 3 leaves, not in regular order.

The book is of medium length, old, thick, very much damaged by termites at the edges, and by breaking of leaves, leaving $\frac{1}{2}$ $\frac{2}{3}$ &c.

9. No. 1877. Bhāsyā pradīpa-pracasa.

—An illustration or commentary on grammar.

By Pravart'haca, School-master.

On Sandhi or coalition of vowels and consonants. Five kinds of such coalition. This work is a commentary, or explanation of sutras on the subject : paged 1—156, and afterwards 38 leaves are irregularly strung, not coherent ; incomplete.

The book is long, thick, old and in good order.

10. No. 1878. Patanjali-mahābhāṣyam-ṭyākaranam. On Grammar.

This is a fragment of the great work of Patanjali, the best work on Sanscrit Grammar; though ancient, and regarded as very difficult. The sūtras of Pāṇini are brief in comparison.

This fragment has the 6th adhyaīya or chapter complete, and part only of the 7th. The subject on Dhātus, or roots, and on Samāsa compound words. The writing on the label is erroneous.

The leaves are paged 1—168; but with the following wanting in the midst 71—90, 121—125, 135, 144, 145; 154, 162—165.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old with only one board, and one leaf damaged.

11. No. 1879. Pracriya kāumudī. On Grammar: The foregoing seven are chiefly on Subānta. This portion is chiefly on Tighanta, relating to verbs. It treats of the letters, and meaning of various roots, and how verbs are formed from them. Words traced to their roots, with the affixes of moods, tenses, and persons.

Also on some indeclinable words, used as affixes; giving the force or meaning of such words; incomplete; p. 1—89, also 99, the 69th wanting.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old: and, except two broken leaves, in good order.

12. No. 1880. Patanjali Bhāṣyam. On Grammar, by Patanjali. The 5th and 6th chapters so far complete. On forms of words. On declension of nouns, &c. This is part of a high, and difficult book, only studied by advanced scholars: its difficulty is said not to arise from any obsolescence of language.

As the name of the author is an epithet of ādi śeṣhan, a fiction has been founded thereon, ascribing the work to ādi śeṣhan.

Note.—The vācya-kāra is by Vara-ruchi; the bhāṣya-kāra by Patanjali; and the sūtra-kāra by Pāṇini.

This book is of medium thickness, long, old, damaged, p. 1—125, 4 loose leaves.

13. No. 1881. Fragment on Grammar, leaves 1—23, complete on the roots only. On ten kinds of roots, and their meaning.

The book is long, thin, a few leaves a little injured.

14. No. 1882. Siddhantu-kāumudi-vyakyanam.

By Prāudha manōṭamāi. A commentary on another grammatical work.

From 1—25 complete on vowels, and on the coalition of vowels throughout. This is the first section. There are four other fragments.

15. No. 1883. Vyāharanam, grammar.

On the different sandhis or coalition of words ending in vowels, and in consonants, and on the three genders; also on indeclinable words. On Samāsa or compound, words, and their declension. On roots, and how treated in the formation of words. The work is in prose 1—108, unfinished. The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

16. No. 1884. 1.) Sabda pustacam, on words.

A grammatical work, having the several words that are declined in the seven different cases, and also on the three genders; but only of such words as end in vowels, three leaves only.

2.) Samāsa chacram—2 leaves only. The mode of compounding words. A list of several words shewing how they are united, when following each other, so as to form a complex term.

3.) Samāsa-chacram, 1½ leaf, ślokas; Telugu letter, ½ leaf distinction of genders, a verse for school-use.

4.) Telugu letter—On roots, the crude form, and the grammatical forms, examples given in various words. On indeclinable words.

5.) Samāsa chacra, in Tamil words, and character; it exhibits various forms of compound words, some affirmative, some negative.

The entire book is long, thin, in good order, some portions new; not homogeneous in appearance.

17. No. 1885. Vyākaranā sara-sāngraha; epitome of grammar.

It is also known as Caṣika-vṛutti. In the 1st chapter the 1st and 2d paṭam each one complete, the 3d paṭam incomplete.

On the crude forms; the various terminations of the different cases; the changes of which they are susceptible, until they assume the full grammatical form. *

—The sandhi prakernam, or section on the coalition of letters.

—The samāsa vidhi—on the collocation of compound words.

On roots.—Also some matter on tones, or accents (svara) pertaining to right enunciation—leaves 1—57—at the end 3 broken, the rest in good order—the book is long, and thin.

18. No. 1886. Pracruṭi kaūmudī vyākyaṇam.

A commentary on the Pracruṭi-kaūmudī.

It treats of the Tinganta-roots with their affixes, modes of attaching them.

The book is a fragment—the following leaves are wanting 20, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 36, 38, these are diverse, 39—48, seven leaves are without any number. Some other matters connected with substantives.

—Also a fragment of the Tarkha-sastra, or logic, from the anumāna khandam.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order. It is nearly homogeneous in appearance, but needs collating with others.

19. No. 1887. Pracriya kaūmudī. On Grammar.

This is only a fragment of the work, and needs collating with other books in the collection: 193 leaves are wanting at the beginning, and it does not finish. Matter on the subanta—some on the dvandara dual form; 207—222 is on the tadjitān, another class, not complete.

The book is long, and thin, and in general good order.

20. No. 1994. Sect. 2. Mahā Bhāṣyam.

By Patanjali vīra sidhan.

Words are divided into pūrvādham and uttarādham. The pūrvādham contains an enumeration of 6000 roots. This book relates to the uttarādham, the subjects being the formation of words from roots or primitives, or compound words from simple ones, including the declension of nouns, examples in a great number of words. Dhātu, the root; kriya various practical words thence formed; art'ha, the meaning of each formation.

Thus much from the mūlam, or original, is followed by a more lengthened commentary, or explanation. The work has some complete distinct portions; but, as a whole, it is incomplete. It is long, of medium thickness, old; and, in some places, damaged by wear. See preceding notices.

21. No. 2058. Vyākaraṇa sāstram—On Grammar.

By Pāṇini. This is a portion of the popular work in sūtras. It relates to the formation of full meaning words from the roots; pages 1—22—beyond 11 leaves not numbered.

The leaves differ as to age, and they are gnawed off at one end, as if by rats.

The book is of medium length, thin, damaged.

22. No. 2059. Vyākaraṇa zāstram. On Grammar.

On nouns—on sandhi or coalition of letters—words ending with vowels, and with consonants; the three genders. On affixes, on cases, on roots of verbs, and some other matters; but left incomplete. The leaves are numbered 1—26, and 20 other leaves are not numbered.

The book is very long, and thin, on broad talipat leaves. The writing very close, and extremely small.

23. No. 2073. Linga nirṇayabhūṣaṇam.

On genders in grammar, chiefly in prose but examples in ślokas are given of the pulīṅga, strīlīṅga, and napunchaca līṅga, or masculine, feminine, and neuter genders. Some words are of two genders, and are exemplified.

The work is by Rāma-surini (poet.) It is a fragment, and seems taken out of some book, and made up by itself. The leaves are 1 to 4—thence to 133 wanting, thence to 146 the end.

The book is of medium length, thin, touched by worms: it will need collating with other books; and it seems to have been subject to dishonest treatment.

24. No. 2085. Bāla pōdhaca kāraca saṅgraha, child's instruction on grammatical forms of words, leaves 1—28; and 55—76.

Shadhara vivaraṇam; the six cases in grammar: Samāsa chakra collocation of words, with mode of declension.

On affixes, kriyamāla, list of verbs. On the three genders.

Another list of verbs—leaves 1—27, 9 leaves deva nāgari writing. The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

25. No. 2055. Chiefly on Grammar.

The Samāsa chakra, combination of words; mode of uniting nouns by omitting the sign of the genitive case, as Rāma bhāna for Rāmasya bhāna; Pitambara - Vishnu, yellow garment Vishnu, and the like, 3 leaves only; they 7 leaves. Kriya malā on the conjugation of verbs, deficient at the beginning, 9 leaves on sarva nama sabda or nouns and pronouns, incomplete. Other two leaves contain a śloca in praise of Siva, and a tīca or explanation of its meaning; these belong to some other book: 21 leaves in all.

A book without boards, of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves in good order.

X. HISTORICAL, OR GENEALOGY.

1. No. 1157. Gótra pravara nirnayam.

An arrangement of the order and descent of rishis, or celebrated seers, by their tribes.

The descent of the existing gótras (tribes) of Brahmans, and the connected races traced up to the seven rishis of the present Manuwantera; divided into nine prakaranas or sections, and complete. I took out the name of Mandúri Raghunádháchárya's son Nárúyanárya because it implies that he lived in Mandúr, of which little is known, except its ruins in the North.

If this genealogical table could be at all depended on, it might be of use towards untying some difficult knots in past history.

The book was found amongst those in the Telugu character. It is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

2. No. 1983. Vasu déva sudodaya. Some matters on the yaduvamsa. The son of Nakusha was Jéyádhí, and of his race Vasu-déva the father of Krishna was born, incomplete; other matter is Vedantic.

XI. HYMNOLOGY.

1. No. 1741. Stótras. These are short chants, each occupied with laudatory homage of some one deity. Of those in this book the first is praise of Siva, ascribed to Sancarácharya, complete, all slócas.

2.) Praise to Siva by Mallana—slócas, complete.

3.) Amanánga-stótram—praise to Siva by Dandi, complete.

4.) Haláyuta-stótra, on Siva. By Bala Ráma—slócas complete.

5.) Maháya rája stuti, on Siva; slócas, gran'ha lipi, with an explanation in nágari letter, complete, book medium size, good order.

2. No. 1754. 1.) Siva sahasranámam, a series of 127 slócas complete, reciting the thousand names of Siva panegyrically.

2.) Siva náma stótra satata—only one leaf out of a centum of verses in praise of Siva.

3.) Siva stótra by Marcandeya, an ashtacam of eight slócas, praise of Siva, another ashtaca, fewer feet to a line; same subject.

The book is long, thin, old, but in good order.

3. No. 1755. Chants from the Vedas supposed.

These consist of Sanscrit, and Tamil intermingled, and belong to the work, usually styled Nālayira prabandam, or collection of four thousand stanzas by the Aluvār.

In the first thousand by Namāluvār otherwise called Jada gōpālvar 10 hymns including the Tirupālinda—"may'st thou flourish many years." Also 10 hymns of Kurukūr nambi, who was otherwise styled Puttūr - virūn. Twenty hymns of Periyālvār, and thirty hymns of Kurūr nambi, 10 hymns by Tondaradipode Aluvār, who derived his titular name from the dust of the feet of the votaries of Vishnu.

30 Hymns by Chudi-kodutta Nāchiyar, to awaken Vishnu in the morning.

120 Hymns by Sada gōpālvar.

100 Stanzas with da-capo, by Ramanija.

30 Hymns by Periyachan pillai.

4. No. 1756. Paragyric on the 1008 names of Vishnu, in verse, with a prose explanation; the latter in the Telugu character.

—Siva sahasranama—the 1000 names of Siva panegyricized. The handwriting of this book varies; some is old, and rude.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

4½. No. 1759. Subrahmanya sahasranāma.

The 1008 names of Karticeya; ślocas, with meaning in prose, complete.

The book is of medium length, thin, old.

5. No. 1771. Various panegyric chanted.

—Njāsa - dāsacam, a decade of ślocas, the original only—to place the soul, or mind, at the feet of Vishnu.

—Sudarisanāstacam an octave of distichs; praise of the chakra of Vishnu.

—Yeti-rāja-saptati—70 ślocas, original only, incomplete.

This is in praise of Ramanūja, by his disciple Védanta désikar, the two first also. The Tamil name of Yeti-rajā, or Rāmanūja, is Yempē-rumānar.

—A few loose leaves, not connected, and requiring collation with other books.

- Ala-vantar-stótram*, praise of an Aluvār, whose Sanscrit name is Yamunachārya. This piece contains from the 18th to the 60th śloca: it is by the said Aluvār in praise of Vishnu.
- Bhāṣya-cārā-stótram*, two copies of 10 ślocas each, in praise of Rāmanūja, the title meaning learned in languages; applied also to Sancarāchārya, and to Mādhvāchārya.
- Mangalam*, 10 ślocas, without comment, in praise of Rāmanūja, writer unknown.
- Mukunda maidī*—praise of Vishnu by Kulasekhara āluvar—complete, in all 28 leaves.

The book is long, thin, in some places broken, with $\frac{1}{2}$ leaves gone.

6. No. 1775. Various tracts.

- 1.) Raṅgha nai'ha stótra satacam, ślocas, 3 leaves, complete. A centum of stanzas in praise of Vishnu, at Srirangham, near Trichinopoly.
- 2.) Hanumat-carucham, ślocas, incomplete.

Praise of Hanumān, and after it a mantra, or invocation for protection: this form is used as a defence against any evil, on a journey.

[The word carucham means a coat of mail, as a literary term; it differs from stótra in having also a mantra, and from mantra by having also a stótra. It is also used with some ceremonies and motions of fingers, not employed with the simple stótra.]

- 3.) Vishnu-pañjaram. The nest of Vishnu, ślocas, incomplete—praise imploring to be under Vishnu's care.
- 4.) Vishnu sahasranāmam, ślocas incomplete. The one thousand names of Vishnu. It is used daily after evening homage by Faishnaras.
- 5.) Garuda carucham, ślocas, complete.

Praise to the vehicle of Vishnu for protection, as to the body only.

- 6.) Vishnu-stótram, ślocas, incomplete.
Praise of Vishnu.
- 7.) Vencaléstara-stótram, ślocas, incomplete.
Praise of the form of Vishnu at Tripety.

8.) Panjayuta - státra, five slócas, complete.

Praise of the five emblematical instruments of Vishnu—1 discus, 2 shell, 3 club, 4 sword, 5 bow.

Various detached slócas follow, 23 in number, on different matters, e. g. when the soul departs where does it go ?

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

7 No. 1973. Savuntaryalahari, slócas.

By Sancaráchárya. Praise of Parvati, and a prayer to Parvati.

Also—Mriñanjeya japa, prayer to Siva, complete. A few distinct various mantras. The leaves are numbered 99—123, hence it is taken out from some other book. This one, as a whole, is of medium length, thin, damaged by insects, and by breaking.

8. No. 1976. Various hymnology.

—Rudí stavam-slócas—praise of all the attributes, or properties of Vishnu, two leaves complete.

—Ashta slóki eight stanzas, explaining the meaning of the Vishnu mantram, the 8 lettered one.

—Sambat-cumára prabháti, homage to the form of Vishnu at Tiru náráyana puram, near Seringapatam, Mysore.

Girísha-svami-mangala sássanam. Praise to a form of Vishnu, lord of the hill.

—Sambat cumara mangaláshtaca stuti.

Eight slócas in praise of the aforesaid Sambat cumáran, popularly known by the corresponding Tamil name Chelva pillay.

—Gópala mangala sássanam, praise of Krishna.

—Vencatáchakésvaru mangalá sássanam.

Praise of the form of Vishnu at Tripeti.

—Hastí giri ísha mangala sássanam.

Praise to the form of Vishnu, at little Conjeveram.

—Prát'hana panchacam, five stanzas of prayers.

—Sri stavam, praise of Lacshmi—so far each one complete.

—Sudarisana ashtaca, two stanzas only, praise of the chacra, or discus of Vishnu.

The entire book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

9. No. 1989. Pātuca-sahasramāna, ślōcas only.

By Vedantāchārya, head of the Vadagalas.

In 32 padāhis, or sections.

One thousand ślōcas, in difficult language, are occupied in common places on the slippers of the image of Vishnu at Srīrangham, near Trichinopoly; such as—the formation—the cleansing with water—the covering with flowers—the embroidered ornaments &c. It is difficult to think of puerility going so far in recent idolatry.

10. No. 1991. Srī-guna-retnā kōsham: The jewel casket of Lacshmi's disposition, ślōcas, and some comment in Canarese, but grant'ha letter.

Praise of the excellent temper of Lacshmi at Srī-rangham, near Trichinopoly, complete. The book is long, thin, recent, gnawed by rats at one end.

11. No. 1996. Sudarīsana stōtram, praise of the chakra—mark on the shoulders of Vāishnavas.

Praise on making the nāmam on the forehead.

The same on marking the middle line with a mantram.

—The mode of offering sacrifices, p. p. 5—9 not complete.

—Praise of Krishna—leaf 1—7.

These would seem to be fragments of two books.

This book is long, very thin, and in good order.

12. No. 1998. Various hymnology.

By Srī Vatsāngam.

1.) Srī Vāicont'ha stavam, praise of the lord of Vāicont'ha, that is Vishnu.

2.) 'Adi manushya stavam, praise of the first man, which is, it seems, a title of Vishnu at Srī rangham, near Trichinopoly.

3.) Srīrangha rāja stavam, praise of Vishnu, at the same place, 1st and 2d satācas, complete.

4.) Vencatésvara mangalam, praise of Vishnu at Tripeti, complete.

5.) Srī guna-ratna-kosham, praise of the temper of Lacshmi's jewel casket of her excellence, complete. •

The entire book is long, thin, old, in good order, and in small neat writing.

13. No. 2003. Cshama-shōdasi, 16 ślōcas, complete—on the clemency of Ranghā nat'hā at Trichinopoly. By Vedantāchārya son of Vēda Vyāsa Bhatta—of the stōtra class, praise.

There is appended adhyātma chīnta, ślocas, wanting 5 leaves in the middle. It contains addresses to Vishnu on the soul, and its safety, with replies from Vishnu. It is of the mystic theological kind, and resembling the German manner on religious topics.

The entire book is of medium length, old, and damaged.

14. No. 2021. Two connected subjects.

- 1.) 'Alavantār-stōttram, praise of Vishnu, as Rangha nāt'ha at Trinopolis by an 'Aluxar otherwise named Yamunāchārya. The ślocas have no tīca or comment. The leaves are numbered 69—79.
- 2.) Srī guna retna-cosham, praise of the temper of Lacshmi as consort of Rangha nāt'ha.

By Parāsara Bhatta, 61 ślocas, complete.

The leaves are numbered 80—92 in continuation of the above, but shewing both to be part of some larger book. This portion, as a whole, is long, thin, and in good order.

15. . No. 2042. Various hymnology.

Two leaves marked 46, 47 contain the last part of a sahasranama or praise of the thousand names of Vishnu, and a portion from the anusāsauica-parvam of the Bhāratam, 227th adhāyaya.

—2 leaves praise of the 108 names of Ganēsa, complete.

—2 leaves praise of Sri Rāma, complete.

—1½ leaf praise of name of Siva, complete.

—1½ mental bathing, by thinking on sacred rivers, with praise of them.

—2 leaves praise of the name of Lacshmi, complete.

—1 leaf the great mantram, to the siddha Lacshmi, or success giving goddess.

12 leaves—āditya hrūdayam, heart of the sun; that is, agreeable to the sun, or to Vishnu, as residing therein; ślocas only, and from the aranya parvam of the Bharutam, Krishnu to Arjuna.

½ leaf—praise of Siva, śloca.

1 leaf—aditya cavucham, praise with invocation to the sun—to defend.

1½ leaf—praise to the name of Narasinha, ślocas. On the 108 names of Vishnu, complete. •

1 leaf—praise to the 108 names of Dēvi or Parvati.

1½ leaf—praise to the name of Siva, 108 names, complete.

1½ leaf—praise to the 108 names of Narasinha; common stanzas. In all 31 leaves, numbered 46—76, as if part of some other book.

This, as a whole, is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

16. No. 2047. Various panegyrics, chiefly of the sacti of Siva, under different names.

- 1.) Gduri - dasacam, 10 slócas (wanting the 1st) in praise of Parvati, the white goddess.
- 2.) Anna purni - dasacam, part of 10 slócas (wanting at the beginning) in praise of Bhavani, with promise of plenty of all things to him who uses it.
- 3.) Vidya-dasacam, 10 slócas, nearly complete ; addressed to Parvati, to give the knowledge ; which is lauded.
- 4.) Sarasvati mantra japam, charms, with prayers of low muttered utterance, invoking Sarasvati, the sacti of Brahma, and patroness of learning.
- 5.) Anna purna stótram—praise to Parvati the giver of plenty, complete.
- 6.) Tripura suntari stótram, praise to the sacti of Siva, as the destroyer of three towns.
- 7.) Savuntariyalahuri—100 slócas in praise of Parvati, complete : ascribed to Sancarácharya.
- 8.) Chámala dandacam, lengthened lines in anapaest measure, praise of Parvati.

The book is small and old, but in good order, small hand writing.

17. No. 2061. See. VI. 7. The rest panegyrics.

- 2.) Praise to Vishnu in dandacam lines ut supra.

The general subject is homage to Vishnu.

- 3.) Sri rangha-gadyam, panegyric in prose, on the form of Vishnu at Trichinopoly, complete.
- 4.) Váicint'ha gadyam, panegyric, in prose, on the paradise of Vishnu, complete.
- 5.) Sri guna rátna kósham, slócas in praise of Lacshmi, jewel casket of her qualities.
- 6.) Sri-rangha ná'ha suprabadam, very early homage, at dawn, to Vishnu at Trichinopoly, complete.
- 7.) Sri rangha rája stótram, slócas, in praise of the same.
- 8.) Sri Vencatésa suprabadam—early dawn homage to Vishnu at Tripeti, in slócas complete.
- 9.) Sri Vencatésa mangala sássanum, praise to the same of the epithalamium kind.

- 10.) Varada-rāja suprabādam, early dawn homage to the form of Vishnu at Cānchi (or Conjeveram) in ślōcas, complete.
- 11.) Varada rāja stōttram, praise to the same, in ślōcas, complete.
- 12.) Parāncusa-pancha-vimsati, 25 ślōcas in praise of Nam-alvar, as a polemic.
- 13.) Parāncusa - ashtacam, an octave of 8 ślōcas, complete, in praise of the same.
- 14.) Sri-stavam, praise to Lacshmi, in ślōcas, complete.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

The leaves numbered from 7 to 30, the last 15 containing the above panegyrics.

18. No. 2062. Srt rangha nat'ha stōttram.

--Ślōcas in praise of Vishnu at Trichinopoly, including also an incomplete copy of the Cāveri mahatmyam, or legend of the river Cavery; in other books termed Sri-rangha mahatmyam.

This book is of medium length, but thin, in good order, the leaves numbered 35—50 less 43d. It hence appears to have been taken out of some other book, and made up distinct; though incomplete.

19. No. 2063. Praise of Vishnu, and Siva.

- 1.) Vishnu-bhujangam—praise of Vishnu, in a kind of stanza; so written as to give the form of a serpent: complete in 16 ślōcas, on 7 leaves.
- 2.) Siva-bhujangam, praise to Siva, like stanza; 24 ślōcas, complete, on 9 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, and slightly injured.

20. No. 2064. Raghu-vīru-gādyam, praise of Rāma, in prose, by Vedantācharya, head of the Vadagala sect; complete, the leaves numbered 58—68.

21. No. 2065. Various panegyrics.

- 1.) Varada-rāja-Panchasat, praise of the form of Vishnu, at Conjeveram, in 50 stanzas, complete, 4 leaves. By Vedantācharya, head of the Vadagalas.
- 2.) Sampat cumāra-stōtra, 10 stanzas on one leaf, in praise of a deity in Mysore; termed Chelva pillay in Tamil.
- 3.) Yeti rāja saptati, 70 stanzas, complete, in praise of Ramanūja the Aluvār.

4.) Cshamà shódasi, 2½ leaves, 16 stanzas complete; on the compassion of Ranghanát'ha, a form of Vishnu at Trichinopoly.

By Vedántachárya, son of Véda Vyasa Bhatta.

5.) Rangha nát'ha mahishi, 1 leaf, praise of the sacti of Rangha nát'ha, or Lucshmi: 10 stanzas, not complete.

6.) Bhágavat-dhyána-sóbana, steps towards a meditation on deity: otherwise termed antar-jyóti-stuti, or praise of the inward light 22 stanzas, complete; by Vedántachárya. In all 17 leaves, but of different length, and sizes.

The book is long, thin, damaged by worms.

22. No. 2066. Vishnu-sahasra náma stótra—mantras, praise of the thousand names of Vishnu, with invocation; slócas, without comment, incomplete. Ascribed to Vyása; and said to be from the anusásnica parvam of the Bhágavatam; leaves 43—50, as if part of some larger book. This one is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

23. No. 2068. Various panegyrics.

1.) Dasavatára vishayaca suprabádam.

One slóca to each of the avatáras of Vishnu, in praise for reciting in the very early morning, 4 leaves complete.

2.) Vara mangaláshtacam, 8 slócas, complete, used as salutations, on approaching any very great man; wishing that Brahma, Vishnu, Siva, the celestials, seers, hills &c., may convey benefits, and benedictions.

3.) Four slócas, from the vairága satacam of the Bhartri-hariyam, 2 leaves.

4.) Five leaves, praise concerning Siva, 9 slócas, complete.

5.) Krishna gadyam, prose, panegyric on Krishna, 5 leaves, incomplete.

XII. INCANTATIONS; that is, mantras, sometimes with yentras, or diagrams.

[These according to the object to whom addressed; the subject matter; and effect sought to be obtained; may be either benevolent or malevolent: simply precatory, or maledictory.]

001. No. 1206. Section 2, leaves 2—13.

Sudarisana hómá vishayam, on sacrifice offered to the chacra (or missile discus) of Vishnu; the mantra, or symbols, tantra, or diagram and formule ; srūti or authority from the védas ; and prose accompaniment.

This is the larger part of a book long, thin, touched by worms. See A. c. XII.

01. No. 1359. Various miscellany, on 26 leaves,* from different books, differently paged—containing chiefly panegyrics, and charms.

2—5. Nava grūha stōttra, ślōcas, by Vyāsa. Praise, with a sort of adoration of the planets (Sabaism.) It includes praise of Vishnu, dwelling in the sun.

4 leaves, 'Aditya-hrūdayam, "heart of the sun," Agastya told this to Sri Rama ; it includes a mantra, an address to the sun, by the use of which he would overcome Rāvana ; said to be taken from the Rāmāyanam.

1 leaf, some ślōcas, a devotee praises the sun, as Nārāyana, and Dherma putra.

2 leaves, Garuda Cavucham, complete : a charm to secure protection from snakes, with long life, health, &c.—ślōcas, and prose ; addressed to the vehicle of Vishnu.

1 leaf, Sūrya Cavucham, ślōcas, with prose—praise to the sun, with a charm : the benefit being to remove disease.

2 leaves, Sudarisana Cavucham, praise and charm, addressed to the discus of Vishnu, ślōcas and prose. The object to attain things desired.

7 leaves, Vishnu Cavucham, and Rāma Cavucham, by Visvamiṭra, complete. The object of both is to secure possession of things desired ; very extensive, sometimes meaning the death of enemies.

Also Krishna-ashstōttra sata-nāma stōttra, ślōcas. Praise of Krishna by 108 names, said to be from the Brahmānda-purānam, the aparākhanda ; a discourse between the earth-goddess, and the serpent Sēsha ; the object, to remove all sin.

5 leaves, nāgari letter, containing octaves in praise of Lacshmi, of Rāma, of Parvati, and of Vencatēsa, the god at Tripety.

The leaves are of various lengths, a bundle of different tracts ; but with unity of matter.

1. No. 1723. Contains, in the middle—Rāma cavucham, two leaves, praise, with a charm to secure the protection of Rāma. Also the Gayatri cavucham, a charm to secure protection by means of the Gayatri, or primary mantra.

2. No. 1750. Yentras. This is a small book on talipat leaves, it consists entirely of diagrams; squares subdivided into smaller squares, and with numbers on some of the squares; in one on all of them. Such are the squares used in spells only; but spells have letters, not numbers. Hence the squares in this book have been conjectured to be plans of the pit'ha, or seat of the images of various gods within the garb'ha-mantapa, or last recess in temples. There is however no writing to guide to a decision. The leaves are in confused order.

The book is in good preservation.

3. No. 1740. Three books, or sections of books, on various magical matters.

1.) Prapanja saram, sūtras with explanation.

In the beginning it is stated that the different letters of the alphabet are the bodies of the gods. Fifty letters are classed into fourteen svaras sounds, or modes, to be written on sixteen squares, or other forms with the name of a god, and a japa dhyānam, or muttered meditation, as a mode of homage.

—Whichever god's name is used—as Rāma Krishna &c. the assistance of that god will be procured.

Various mantras, or spells, and mode of writing—in the letters used as such. The forming squares (magical); certain modes of calculation, if the amount, or difference, or quotient, as the case may be, comes out right, the god invoked will appear, if not right will not appear.

—Snāna pūjādhitī, bathing in water, with appropriate mantras, or muttered formulæ.

—Jnana sacti prat'hana mantram, a special charm, to procure the power of knowledge.

—Rāma prat'hana mantram, a special mantra, to procure what is desired sexualiter.—Mōcsha prat'hana mantram, a special prayer to procure beatification.

—Varahi-mantram, charm addressed to a sacti, and Narasinhā mantram, one addressed to the fifth avatāra of Vishnu, for special objects.

—Pancha vactra Siva mantram, a charm, addressed to the five faced Siva; and various other charms.

This section, or book is from 1st to 36th padalam, or chapter, leaf 1 to 101; but remains incomplete.

The preceding are wholly in prose.

2.) Māntra saram—essence of charms by Damótura, 13 padulams, ślōcas, with some prose. It contains mantras named after different deities as Vac-Dēvi, or Sarasvatī, for riches; Indrāni; Vira-Bhadra; Hanumān; Sarab'hesvara, a beast; Varāhi, the sacti of the 3d avatāra, given also to Parvatī. The fruits of the different mantras, that is, intended effects, are specified.

This section, or book is complete.

3.) Yētra-sāram, spirit of diagrams.

Various squares, and other more complex figures of magical purport, and known by different names; as puruṣha zūcta; strī - sūtra; rac-shógini (to kill savages) Gópāla-yētra; Sūrya yētra; Suntāna gópāla yētra; Dhara-yētra; Hanumat yētra; Varāhi-yētrā; Rāma yētra; and many others. These are in the form of ślōcas, and the section remains incomplete.

The entire book is long, thick, rather old, but in good order.

4. No. 1764. Mantra and caucham.

The Sudarisana jvalā mantram, the fiery discus charm, used against evil spirits, against goblins, devils, wild-beasts; so that no evil may befall from any of them. The Rāma caucham, Rāma's coat of mail. In this, with the charms, signs are made on the different members of the body, to be protected in those members.

4½. No. 1766. Mantras &c.

1.) Kartavīreyarjuna mantram, 7 leaves.

2.) „ yētram, 2½ „

3.) „ māla mantra, incomplete.

5. No. 1775. The second section is Hanumāt-caucham. Hanuman's coat of mail, ślōcas, incomplete.

—Praise of Hanumān, and then a mantra, or spell, directed to him; the whole used as a defence against any evil, as when on a journey, or the like.

6. No. 1860. Rudra - yāmālam, dana prakarnam. By Yāmala. This book is ceremonial, with gifts; but it is difficult to find for it a better location. •

Reference to the sacrifice of Dacsha, and origin of Vira Bhadra. If stars are seen during the day, or if a tree be cut, and blood flows from it, some evil is prognosticated, for which ceremonies with mantras to be used, are prescribed. Gifts specified, in order to remove any severe disease. Ceremonies, with spells, to destroy the troops of an enemy; others to avert untimely deaths.

A variety of cases considered to be indicative of ill: some of which appear in other books, some not—for every such evil, either a suitable gift to a Brahman is prescribed, or else a zanti, or expiatory ceremony to avert, or prevent the evil. In these respects the book partakes of the prayaschit part of sacerdotal law. [These aforesaid cases are so numerous that a livelihood to Brahmins would not be wanting from this source alone, were it fully obeyed. It is artful cunning, operating on superstition; ruling, and living upon people by means of superstitious fear.]

7. No. 1869. Nāṭiyica mantra vyākyaṇam, explanation of mantras used at special seasons. The Sandhya vandana mantra is used every morning, in household worship. The book contains the meaning of various forms of muttered prayer, at meals, on sacrifices, and many other occasions. It contains verses from the Vēdas, ślōcas and prose intermingled. By Varada raja, 16 leaves, incomplete.

Another 12 leaves contain the Sāvitrī vidya. Agastya in discourse with Nāreda, a special mantra, accompanied by certain motions of the fingers, feet &c. This is of the precatory, or devotional class; not incantation of evil.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

8. No. 1921. Aṣṭa śloki, complete.

Chatu śloki, incomplete.

The book contains some mantras of the Vaiṣṇava class, with an explanation in the Canarese language. It is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

9. No. 1979. Commentary on mantras.

- 1.) Mantrārṭha priti bataka tatva dīpica.

An explanation of the Vaiṣṇava mūla māntra of eight letters, or syllables; that is O'm Nārāyana nāmaha.

- 2.) Dvayārṭha priti bataka tatva dīpica, an explanation of another mantra, termed dvāyam containing twenty-five syllabic letters.

- 3.) Charama ślōca priti pātaca tatva dīpica, explanation of the charama mantra, of thirty-two syllabic letters, and others, put into distichs, and here explained in prose.

[These mantras are of frequent use, precatory, and the explanation is serviceable. It is impossible to overlook the coincidence with the Hebrew Cabbala.]

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order, recent in appearance, and complete.

10. No. 1999. Mantras, three books.

1.) Sudarisana Mantram, ślokas, seven leaves, complete. Praise of the missile weapon of Vishnu, as burnt in on the shoulders of votaries; and by them used as a charm: evil spirits and devils, it is stated, will depart.

2.) Aápavasam krama, ślokas.

Telugu character, complete, the ritual of fire-offerings, or hōmam, with the customary mantras. These are daily observances.

3.) Aghōra nīla - kantiha mantram, prose, Canarese character, incomplete. Charms, including praise, addressed to Sīva, in his terrible, or destructive form.

1) is long, thin, in good order. 2) is short, thin, touched by insects. 3) two leaves, good order.

It might be well to separate them, as being written in three distinct characters.

11. No. 2095. Mantra sādstram, Incantations, fifteen leaves, incomplete. Various charms or formulæ, for health, or for protection, or for wealth, or destruction of enemies. These are mostly addressed to Parvati, under various names. One is addressed to Bhairava, a form of Sīva, and is intended to procure wealth.

The book is short, thin, in good order.

It appears to be part of some larger book, the leaves being numbered 37—51, without beginning or end.

XIII. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

1. No. 1905. Amaram. Two fragments of a Lexicon.

The Amara cosha, or Amara sinha, from the name of the author: who was a Jaina. First fragment, contains parts of the 1st and 2d cāndams, or books; the 1st cāndam from sverga to dic, 10 leaves, incomplete; the 2d cāndam from bhū-varga, five other vargas, or sections, but not in regular order, intermediate vargas are wanting.

Second fragment, 2d cāndam wants the vanāushkadi-varga, the rest are complete, being nine in number: 3d cāndam, only 2 vargas; the visēshanigraha, and sangtrna, 3 are wanting, as this cāndam, when complete, has 5 vargas.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and touched by insects throughout.

2. No. 1906. Amaram, a Lexicon.

The 1st cāṇḍam, from svarga to vāri complete.

The 2d cāṇḍam, from Bhū to śūdra varga complete.

The 3d cāṇḍam, 5 vargas complete. The work is in 3 books, and this copy would be complete, only that leaves 14, 18, 51, 76 are wanting. There remains 93 leaves. The book is of medium length, and thickness; small hand writing; old, and injured.

3. No. 1907. Amaram, a Lexicon.

The 1st book complete in 12 sections, from svarga to vāri-varga.

The 2d book, from Bhū, the 6th or manushya varga, is wanting, thence to the 9th Vāisya-varga, which is defective; and the following Śūdra varga wanting. The book is of medium length, and thickness, and much damaged.

The latter half differs in size, and appearance, from the first one.

4. No. 1908. Amaram, a Lexicon.

This copy has three books complete.

1st. Svarga to vāri.

2d. Bhū to śūdra, 10 sections.

3d. viśeṣa nigraha to lingādi 5 sections.

The book is of medium length, and thickness, on broad talipat leaves, and in good order.

5. No. 1909. Amaram, a Lexicon.

A nearly complete copy, but not homogeneous.

1st book svarga to vāri, Telugu letter.

2d book bhū to śhētriya, the 8th, two more wanting.

3d book viśeṣa nigraha to lingādi sangraha. The 2 last books in grānt ha letter.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and a little damaged; the leaves are of different lengths.

6. No. 1910. Part of a Dictionary, on the label erroneously Retna cosham. It is a fragment, containing some words, with criticisms on the Amṛita cōśha: where that affirms a word to be used only in the plural, this asserts a singular also; and where the Amaram says singular only, this asserts a plural also. Some words in the Amaram are without genders defined; this book gives the gender. It wants the proper beginning; has two books; but does not finish; and is without the author's name. Authorities are quoted; among them are Cāli-dasa's poems.

The book is long, thin, and touched by worms.

7. No. 2074. Nāma lingāna sāssanam, a Dictionary.

By Amṛita sīha—*śloka*s without any tīca or comment.

The 1st candam from sverga-varga down to vāri-varga, complete so far, on 25 leaves, not numbered. The book is of medium length, thin, without boards, and in good order.

XIV. LOGICAL.

1. No. 1901. Nyāyasastra dipica, lamp of logic.

By Sassa Dhara; leaves 1 to 70 of the mālam, or original. Of this mūlam the book contains the following divisions.

Mangala vātam, on profatory praise of any work by others.

Andhakāra vātam, asserts nine padart'has, or general classes, and that andhakāram, darkness, is not included in tējas light.

Kāraṇatā vātam, on causation, primary and secondary.

Sacti-vātam, on the negative principle, or female energy in creation.

Manonūta vātam, on the power of mind; mind is its own rule, glances to great distances at pleasure.

Mācsha-vātam, absence of pain, or sorrow is bliss, there is none other.

With portions of other divisions incomplete.

Prabhā, light, a commentary on the foregoing on the mangala vātam; that on the andhakāra vātam very deficient; only 11 leaves in all.

The entire book is long, of medium thickness, slightly touched by worms.

2. No. 1903. Tarkha bhāsha, on Logic.

By Kēśava Misra, the original only.

This fragment contains 1. pratyacsha, or self evident proof 2. anumānam, doubtful, or inferential proof—this very incomplete; 12 leaves only in all.

Another book.

Sassa Dharyam—part of a work by Sassa Dhara of which the proper title is perhaps Nyāya sastra dipica, as in the foregoing. This fragment contains the mangala vātam, the andhakāra vātam, the kāraṇatā vātam, and the sacti vātam, the rest wanting.

The sassa dharyam is a sort of scholastic disputation. 1. Whether any laudatory poem should be prefixed to any work; denied; affirmed as needful. 2. Whether darkness is to be added to other general categories; affirmed, but by some denied, as necessarily included under tējas, being simply the absence of light. 3. Whether there is, or is not a First cause; denied by some; but here affirmed. 4. Whether there is a female energy (negative principle) in creation, denied by some, but here affirmed: much beyond is wanting. This 2d fragment contains 16 leaves, shorter than those of the first portion. The two books, taken together, are rather long, thin, and in good order.

3. No. 1904. Turkha bāsha tīca, commentary on a logical work.

By Góverdhana. Four khandas, or divisions, are complete, 1 pratyacsha. 2 anumānam, 3 upamānam, comparison or analogy, 4 sabdām, testimony.

Besides there is the átma vátádi, polemical, to prove that there is a difference between the paramátma or heavenly soul ; i. e. God, and the jivatma, or human soul : consequently the discussion is opposed to the Védanta, or adváita system.

The book is rather long, thin, and in good order.

4. No. 1911. 'Ananta dīpica vyākya, a commentary on another book, entitled Vishnoya drishtī.

By Srīmat Rāmanát'ha vidvān, two ādhyāyas, two more wanting. Discussions, in a logical form, on subtle positions ; confuted with equal subtilty.

Sva pracāsata-vátam, asserted that Isvara (the moon ?) does not shine with his own splendor ; this book maintains that he does.

Pramāna vátam, the Vēdas by some are denied to be a rule, this book asserts that they are a rule.

Vēda abāurushēyatva-vátam, asserted that the vēdas are the work of men ; this book denies, and maintains that the vēdas proceed from God.

Brahma is asserted to be the first cause of the world, this book denies and affirms that Isvara (applicable to both Vishnu and Siva) is the First cause.

Sanniyāsi kramam, the rules or observances of the class of strict ascetics. These are confirmed by authorities from the Vēdas, the Smritis or law books, the Bhagavat-gīta ; and there is some similar matter.

The leaves number from 1 to 211, but 174, 175, 198, are wanting. The book is long, of medium thickness, touched by insects, towards the end.

5. No. 1917. Tatva chīntāmani pracāsam.

A commentary on a work called Tatva chīntāmani. By Ruji datā. On Logic, in prose.

It relates only to the division termed pratyacsham, which is complete.

It contains the following vātas or discussions mangala—pramānya—sama-vāya—ābhāvam vāya—pratyacsha—manōvāta.

The book is long, of medium thickness, (148 leaves) and in good order.

6. No. 1886. At the end of this book is a fragment on the Tarkha sastra, or Logic ; from the division termed anumānam : some unconnected leaves. They look nearly homogeneous, with the other leaves ; but may perhaps belong to some other book.

7. No. 1888. Mani sáram, jewel essence.

By Gópi nāthan. The following matters are contained.

1—6 māngala vátam, about prefaces.

7—23 pramánya vátam, on the standard of duty.

24—89 pratyacsha parich'hédam, on discriminating substantive things.

90—181 anumána khādam, on arguing from doubtful things, or circumstantial proof.

182—186, on inference from comparison ; proof from analogy.

The work remains incomplete. The book is long, thick, and new.

8. No. 1889. Shadkarica rivéchanam.

By Bhavananda Vāgisa Bhatta.

Leaf 1—21 complete ; vibhacti, effect of the union of words in regimen or concord. 22—67 anumati vicháram, on the consent, or freedom of the will.

The leaves 34, 57, 58, 60, are wanting ; leaf 68—83, various matters on logic ; beyond 10 leaves parámarisa vátam—on the will. One leaf on sungati vátam, or agreement. Three leaves vishayata vátam, on sensation and perception. Two leaves on the anumána khāda, anumati vicháram, and parámarisa vicháram. Leaves numbered 2, 6, 8, 10, on logic without coherence. Beyond 1—13 viputti vátam, and sānta dhōdu. Three leaves on Bhagavata ārādhna, worship of deity, this complete.

Three loose leaves beyond on the anumána khāda, unfinished.

The latter, and more miscellaneous portion of this book has leaves agreeing in size with No. 1900 ; collation is needed.

9. No. 1891. Tarkha bhásha mūlam.

By Késava misra. An original work on logic, with an explanatory commentary following : leaf 1—6 pratyacsham. 7—12 anumána cādam, 12, 3 lines only upamána cādam, 13—31 sabda-cādam so far the original.

The commentary or explanation.

Leaf 1—18 on pratyacsham, 19—34 anumánam, 35 upamánam, 36 sabda ; the rest wanting.

This book, in the commentary, maintains that there are only seven padart-has, or general categories. Other miscellaneous matter follows, apparently an intentional appendix. A śloca on Rāma, sleeping on the hand that protects the world. Another śloca praise of Rāma. In another a désika (spiritual teacher) reproves a waiting on princes ; when a handful of rice can be legged ; water can be sipped from a brook ; and a rag for the loins procured ; therefore why wait on princes, to get hundreds of rupees, fine food, and fine cloths. Book long, medium thickness, and in good order.

10. No. 1892. Tatva prabódhini, a commentary on tarkha-sástra, or logic.

By Ganēsvara-dīcshada. The work has three chapters, but is left unfinished.

1. Pramána parich'héda, discrimination as to the rule of duty, page 1—20.
2. Prameya parich'héda, difference as to sensible objects, not finished, p. 21—41.
3. Samsaya parich'héda, discrimination as to doubtful things, p. 42—46.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

11. No. 1893. Nyáya pracásam, splendor of wisdom, a book on logic, prose.

By Narahari misra. It contains part of two cándas.

1. Pratyacsha, visible, or certain things.
2. Anumána, doubtful, or uncertain things.

(upamána and śabda not here.)

The first is complete, the second not so; several leaves are imperfect, damaged, or wanting; some blank leaves.

The book is long, thin, worm eaten, and some leaves broken.

12. No. 1894. Tark'ha-sangraham, a compendium of logic; the múlam, or original, in prose, the explanation attached. By Anam Bhatta.

The work treats briefly of the four leading divisions, 1. pratyacsham, 2. anumánam, 3. upamánam, 4. śuddam.

Some writers speak of sixteen general categories, this writer considers several of those to be included in others, and maintains the modern division into seven, as comprising all substantive things.

13. No. 1896. Nyáya śástra, that is Tarkha śástra, on logic. Apparently three fragments, from different books.

1. By Gópi nat'ha—some things on the śabda cándam, p. 1—10, rest wanting.
2. By Sri Śáilom, the śabda cándam, complete; other parts wanting p. 1—36.
3. A few matters from all four of the leading divisions; but not coherent, and two leaves on the pramána vátam.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order. It needs collating with others.

14. No. 1897. Nyáya siddhanta díyam.

Illustration of true logic. By Dherma rája, a Smárta Brahman. This is not a work on the science, with its four divisions and various subdivisions; but a series of eleven discussions, on disputed points, with reference to the system, each one termed vátam.

1. Tāmo vātam, p. 1—17, 2. pata saoti v. p. 18—29, 3. Sacti v. p. 30—37, 4. Mano-nut-tama v. p. 38—45, 5. Sabda svāta triya v. p. 46—49, 6. Nyānu carma samuchaya v. p. 50—52, 7. Mōcsha v. p. 53—60, 8. Siddhart'ha v. p. 61—62.

There are not 16, but only 7 general categories.

9. Vayu pratyacsha v. p. 63—67, 10. Niricta pacha v. p. 68—74, 11. yōga rudi v. p. 75—78—the work remains incomplete. I think it safest to leave these technical terms untranslated.

The book is long, thin, in good order; only leaves 77, 78 are broken.

15. No. 1898. Nyāya siddhanta tatvam. The quality of right knowledge. By Srinivāsāchārya, complete, in prose.

The four chief divisions, or sources of proof in logic.

These are 1. pratyacsham, existing visible things, direct evidence, 2. anumānam doubt, inferential proof, 3. upamānam comparison, analogy, 4. subdam the word, the authority of vādas, smritis, or others commonly admitted as testimony.

There are seven padart'has categories, or common places, 1. dravyam which has nine subdivisions.

1. prithivi 2, appu 3, tejas 4, vaṇu 5, akāza 6, kāla 7, teḥ 8, ātma 9, manam.
2. guna, with twenty-four subdivisions.
3. carma, with five subdivisions.
4. samanya, with two subdivisions.
5. visēsha, 6. sama-vata 7 abhāva with four subdivisions.

The book is of medium size, and in good order. It may be regarded as a good compendium of the established system.

16. No. 1899. Nyāya kusu mānjeri—"The kusu-flower garland of knowledge"; on the tarkha sastra, or logic; from leaf 1 to 14, regular; and relating to the anumāna khandam.

Four loose leaves 36,—39, on the same general subject: in all 18 leaves.

The book is long, thin, rather old, but in good order.

17. No. 1900. Nyāya dāpa prabha, torch of knowledge; being a commentary on a work entitled Sasha dhara, or the "hare-bearing moon"—on logic.

This commentary is by Dēva raja. It is not complete, but the following are the numbers of the leaves, with the contents, 1—10 mangala vātam, whether invocation of a god; addresses to the author, and other matter should, or should not, be prefixed to any book.

10—20—tāmo - vātam, argued that darkness is not a distinct thing from light, as tejas is bhava positive, and tamas is abhava negative; therefore the one is included in the other.

21—26—On causation, from the First cause downwards.

27—41—Pata - sacti - vātam, on any substantive word, when giving a general definite sense.

42—43—Sacti vatam on specific names not applicable to any other thing ; negative causation.

49—57—mano-nutva vatam, on mental discrimination of things.

58—63—śabda vatam on proof from authority.

64—70—mocsha-vatam on beatification ; the work remains unfinished. See remark XIV. 8.

This book is long, of medium thickness, nearly new.

18. No. 1928. Nyāya kusu māñjeri vyākhyānam. A commentary on the kusu flower garland of knowledge, by Varada rāja ; in five parich'hēdas, or sections.

—Purva pacsham, denial of an argument, and objurgating, or confuting it.

—Siddhantam, correcting the objurgation as improper.

These two are illustrated by various rules.

Among the padarthas or general divisions of existing things, the jivatma or human soul, and paramatma divine soul are proved to be distinct, in opposition to the advaitas.

Other matters pertaining to this science, leaf 1—160 but wanting 122, 123, otherwise complete.

The book is long, thick, old, the ends of some leaves broken.

No. 1933. Chitra Mimamsā. This book has some relation to logic ; but is best referred to XXII. 1. q. v.

19. No. 2057. Anambhattriyam, Logic.

By Anam Bhatta. Fragment of a commentary.

The pratyacsha khandam, as far as to tejas light ; only 5 leaves, recent, yet bitten by rats.

20. No. 2086. Tarkha bhāsyā, Vyakhyānam.

A commentary on the tarkha bhāsyā.

On the four leading divisions.

1 Pratyācsha 2 Anumana 3 Upamānam 4 Śabda v. Supra.

There are subdivisions to each. It is marked śūnis at the close ; but appears to want something at the end.

The book is long, of medium thickness, touched by worms.

21. No. 2099. Tarkhabhāsyā. On Logic.

This is an ancient work on logic ; of which the foregoing is a commentary. The author's name is not given ; but he states, at the opening, that he writes for the easier instruction of young persons. This work enumerates sixteen padarthas ; while later works admit only seven.

There are four general divisions.

1 Pratyacsha 2 Anumana 3 Upamana 4 Sabda.

The seven, or sixteen padarthas, are distributed among these four. The seven padarthas are 1 dravya 2 guna 3 carvā 4 sāmānya 5 visesha 7 autabhava,

The sixteen padarthas, are.

1 pramana 2 prama yeyya 3 samshaya 4 prayajana 5 drishtanda 6 vid'dh-anta 7 avaiyava 8 tarkha 9 nirvayu 10 vata 11 jalpa 12 vitanda 13 hetvu bhasa 14 chala 15 jati 16 nigra hastana.

There are nine supplementary leaves, with various ślokas and stanzas on logic.

The book is of medium size, rather old, but in good order.

XV. MEDICAL.

1. No. 2035. Vaidhyam, on medicine : fever pills.

A kind of balsam, very composite, for arthritic pains ; an electuary, also composite—on fits or epilepsy, a remedy for it called manduram. On vishajvaram or dangerous fever—On diarrhœa—on the bite of rats, and of snakes. Various other diseases—the diagnosis, and remedies.

The Sanscrit ślokas have their meaning given in Tamil ; but the book is incomplete.

It is long, thin, rather old, some leaves are damaged.

2. No. 2037. Vaidhyam, on Medicine.

Ślokas, with tica, or explanation, in Tamil.

The work contains a description of diseases, with the remedies, and treatment, proper to be used : among the diseases are sarcocele, strangury, colic, flatulency, bile, phlegm with treatment ; fevers, epilepsy, heat, of skin, and other medical matters—60 leaves incomplete.

The book is long, thin, without boards, and damaged by breaking of the leaves.

3. No. 2039. Vaidhyam, on medicine.

Ślokas, with tica or explanation in Telugu, 'from leaf 53 to 80. Description of diseases, with remedies ; as epilepsy &c. indication of disease, by the sound or tone of voice—by an inspection of the tongue—fever caused by indigestion—fever of skin—fever in the bones ; fever from leprosy—flatulency—bile—phlegm—signs of disease by inspecting urine. Various remedies for diseases indicated. The book is long, thin, and in good order.

4. No. 2038. Vaidhya-sāstram.

Homage to Sénésan, the general of Vishnu, as Ganésa with the Sāivas. Also to Lacshmi, and Narasinha, one śloca.

—The Rāma chacram astrological, with ślōcas; these have a tīca, in Canarese.

Va'dhyam proper.

—Properties of the pulses—indication of feebleness, or bad health—symptoms of epilepsy, and of fevers—and of dysentery, with fever—a disease called chardi—fever with phlegm—(ślēshma jvāra) desire of water in fevers—on consumption; and on other diseases, with the suitable remedies to each. The foregoing has a Canarese explanation. There follows in the Sanscrit, but Canarese character, recipes for making medicines from a large gourd cūshmādam (kalyāna pūshni-kāyī in Tamil.)

—Praise to Indrācshi, a goddess—complete.

—The kadi-kāyī-chūrnam—the effect of the astringent myrobolam, if the powder is swallowed, whether beneficial, or not as the case may be.

—Kant'ha māli, a kind of disease, of the ring worm description—also on consumption; remedies for these two, and various other medicinal preparations described.

There are also 95 ślōcas, with an explanation in Canarese, on ethics: not properly one with the medical work.

The book is of medium size, old, a little injured in some places; and the leaves, towards the end, are not all alike.

5. No. 2040. Dhanvantari Nigāntu.

A medical vocabulary.

—Different names of medicines, as sold in bazars—a Materia Medica—(the indications by the pulse—3 leaves, this has a Tīca in Telugu). The whole leaf 1—57, but unfinished. [Dhanvantari the physician of the Gods—was one of the products of churning the sea, in the Curmavatāra; but ancient names are given to modern books without much scruple.]

The whole book is long, thin, and in good order.

XVI. MIMANSA, with the PANCHĀ RATRAM.

Ancient ceremonies, united with later Īkōnical observances.

1. No. 1147. Bart'ha Rahasyam.

—Dherma sabdar'tha Vichāra, enquiry concerning active virtue, and equity.

—Dana priti griha, on gifts and mode of receiving them, with other matters.

—Jateshti adhicarana, a chapter on the sacrifice termed Jateshti: there are one thousand adhicaranas, connected with the Carma Mimansa or ritual.

—Vrihaspati sarvâtikaranam, a chapter on the sacrifice (Savam) termed Vrihaspati.

Utpatti Kâla tikaranam, on the beginning of any sacrifice. Agniyanyam, relating to the fire of sacrifice, Sanniyasi atikaranam, a chapter on the ascetic life. Parama hamsati sanniyasi chatur-dasi kramam. The order of fourteen classes of strict ascetics, beginning with the parama hamsati.

These, and the like matters are discussed, and proved, by extracts from smritis law-books; sruti the veda; with locas from smritis, but generally prose. Incomplete, leaf 1—166, does not finish.

The book is of medium size, old, and touched by worms.

2. No. 1729. Râudram, on rituals.

This is a prose work, on certain motions of the hands, and fingers, used by Brahmans, in early morning, and other devotions.

Anga nyasa. The members, or fingers, touching, and variously combined.

Kara nyasa, the hands touching. In both cases certain mantras, as the gayatri and others, are used, at the same time.

Pûrvaca, ancient, and different modes of ritual homage, addressed specially to Siva. There are some extracts it seems from the yajur vedam, though the yajur veda is said to condemn the use of mantras.

The book is long, thin, and complete.

3. No. 1733. Stâuta bhâgam, a chapter on sacrifice. By Sôma prayôga. In prose language, or similar to that of the Vêdas; which have no slôcas, the measure of heroic poetry.

The general subject is the agni stômam or sacrifice by fire, whether of ghee poured on flame of a sheep, or otherwise; but the language is such as to be unintelligible; except to those who are, by office, sacrificers.

The book is long, of medium thickness, not old, yet a little touched by insects, leaves 1—108 complete; except that 102—105 are not written on, and the subject there is left imperfect.

4. No. 1734. Aba-stambha sutra prayôgam.

On sacrifices at the full and new moons; and on other sacrifices. Their order, or mode of performance. Some extracts, or portions of the Vêda are added; incomplete.

—Some matters in praise of any one who is declared, by competent persons, to be fit to bear the expenses of a sacrifice. Also praise of rishis who attend it.

Extracts from the Asvamédhu-parva of the Bháratam, on the subject of sacrifices, in the Vaishnava mode. Condemnation of any one who slights or despises the appointments of the Védas.

The book is long, of medium thickness, recent, and in good order.

5. No. 1735. Staúta prasna, on sacrifices, in prose: Prasna here means ordinance, or appointment. There are fourteen prasnas, or regulations, with a little of the 15th which is not finished. The general subject of sacrifices occupies the book, which contains 159 leaves: wholly of the ritual, or Purva mimamsa class.

The book is very long, thick, old, at the beginning several leaves gnawed by rats.

6. No. 1737. Asvaláyava—sūtra-prayoga.

By Trái-vidya vridha, in 8 adhayas, or chapters. On the new moon, and full moon, sacrifices. Various others; as ágrayanam—putrakāneshti pasu-bandham-valipēyam-ádi-rátram-uptoriyamam-visvajit; these, and other modes of sacrifices; the order of proceeding explained; selections from the Védas, and from some other works, in prose are added.

The maha vrittam-páundaricam, these, and some other ritual observances, explained. The whole chiefly in prose.

The book is long, thick, old, and at the end very greatly damaged, only small parts of the leaves remaining; it is incomplete.

7. No. 1742. Bráhmāna carmam, Brahmanical ceremonies, (See. 11 No. 1749) a glossary, or definition of terms is prefixed.

On fate, or vidhi, also termed carmam, as the result or fruit of virtue, or vice, in a former state of being; Nava-griha-sandhya, homage to the nine planets. Vastu sandhya an image of a man is made, and then carried around a house, and set up outside, intended as preventative of ill from the effect of evil eyes.

Nacshétra san lhya, homage to the 27½ lunar mansions.

Yōga sandhya, homage to the astrological yogas, caruna-sandhya. There are eleven carunas (favors) represented by different animals, relative to divinities. Also the upanāina-mantra, or prayer when putting on the brahmanical thread.

The book is said to be a vade-mecum for Brahmins, in the foregoing matters.

It is complete, of medium size, and in good order, save the edges.

8. No. 1743. Brahmana carmam. This book contains two portions, the first on the sacred thread in the Tēlugu letter. See β. A. c. XVII.) the other, in the grantha letter, is on vivāhu, or the ceremonies connected with marriage. The book is of medium size, old, yet in pretty good order.
9. No. 1744. 1.) Krishnajayanti mahatmyam. : Said to be narrated by Vyāsa. It contains a detail of the various rites, fastings, and other ceremonies, practised by Brahmans and others, on the anniversary of the birth of Krishna : which falls on the Rohini nacshetra of the month Srāvana (lunar). Up to a certain point fasting is observed : when the god, being supposed to be born, rejoicing, dresses, feasting, processions occur. It is a leading festival with modern Vaishnavas at Madras.
- 2.) Srāddha vishayam, matters connected with the twelve days of mourning observed by Brahmans, (16 by Sudras); the ceremony, or ritual observance of each day described.

The book is long, thin, nearly new, yet slightly touched by insects.

10. No. 1745. Mantra ruchi. Ritual forms, said to be taken from the Yajur veda. The book contains chants, or forms of homage to Brahma, Vishnu, Siva; to Indra, Agni, and to all deities : also praise of, or by rishis. The Brahma yagnya, homage by Brahmans on taking up water in the hand ; sipping it with both hands ; pouring it out &c. when bathing.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

11. No. 1748. Panchanga pūja—homage with five members to Siva corresponding with the five heads of Siva one member to each ; this is complete.

There is appended a sahasranama of Vishnu, or his 1008 names; and a portion of the yajur vedam, 5th prasna, of the 4th cāndam.

The book is of medium size, some leaves broken.

12. No. 1749. Brahmana Carmam : Brahmanical ceremonies. This work contains the Sandhya-vandanam, or customary homage, at the morning, and evening twilight with, madhyantima or that observed at noon. The Brahma yagnyam, a mantra or prayer, from the Veda; O'm, the gayatri &c. See 10.

The book is thin, and new.

13. No. 1752. Sāiva kriyāi, ritual observances by Sāivas, in two divisions; the first funereal, and the second partly on that subject, partly on purifications, and expiations.

1.) Funereal observances. It contains detail, as to the burning of the body of a deceased Brahman, and the rites for twelve days afterwards.

Dahanam—the burning, and on coming back to the house making a hole, placing an image in it, and dropping water thereon, from a saturated cloth while repeating mantras. Then the pinda bali, or offering of a ball of food; a man is placed to represent the deceased one. This first day's ceremony is called uchina-sraddham. Next is the hasti sanjayanam or going to the ground gathering the bones, putting them together, with various attendant ceremonies. From this time to the 10th day giving food to one person, in all nine different persons; and every day repeating the pinda bali.

On the 10th day a larger eating party. The image is taken out of the hole, and carried away. Bathing—shaving—again bathing—making a homa or fire-offering in the house; and then going about the usual business.

On the 11th making the image of a bull; giving largely food to 16 persons. The sōta cumbha sraddha, a ceremony with a pot of water: given to a Brahman, with a cloth for his waist, sweetmeats, rice and betel nut.

On the 12th day the sapinda, a great ball of food, offered to ancestors; afterwards food given to seven persons; another ceremony with the pinda. Gō-dānam gift of a cow. Sverga patayam, final gift of a cloth to a Brahman

2.) Other observances.

Vidvaragni santānam, if the widow of a Brahman die, being six months pregnant, or more, a special observance, and that which would be done on the birth of a child is done then. Sutica rajasyalyo-marana-samascāram, a ceremony if a woman die during the time of menstruation, and when put outside the house. A mantra samascāra vidhi, if a Brahman die, while ceremonially unclean, by reason of the place; the usual ceremonies are performed by substitution at the place, where he died, not in his house. If a great way off, an image of darbha grass is made to represent him, and the usual ceremonies are gone through, this is called punah-samascāram.

Saha gamana-samascāram vidhi. The sacrifice of going along with, or of a widow consenting to be burnt with the dead body of her husband.

Durmarana-samascāram, if by accident, or evil-cause, any one die, the suitable observances. Also ceremonies attendant on dying on any unpropitious lunar day or tithi; much the same as in the books which treat of zantis, or expiations.

End of the káttiyāyanar, the book is commonly so called from the name of the writer. Some Telugu letter is mingled with the Grant'ha. Three leaves, containing praise to Gunēsa are prefixed. The book is long, and of medium thickness.

14. No. 1753. Brāhma-carmam. It contains seven vidhis, or ceremonial modes: being the śimantam, six months after conception, jata-carmam, at birth &c. See XVIII No. 1746. It wants the srāddham; for which see above No. 1752.

The book is small, complete as far as it goes, rather old, and a little damaged.

15. No. 1758. Mudrā lacshanam, signet-signs,

It contains the 8th 18th and 21st adhyāyas, said to be from the Mahōpanishada, revealed by Vishnu to Brahma, by the latter to Nāreda; and by Nāreda to mortals. The subject relates to the various motions on, or with the fingers, in the performance of various Brahmanical rites; especially those practised in the early morning. (In the Library of the Madras Literary Society there is a folio book, by a Bengal Officer, containing drawings of those signs.)

The book is small, and nearly new.

16. No. 1761. Saiva-rituals. The anga and kara nyāsanam, or motions of the fingers and hands, touching the body &c. when repeating mantras, or doing homage. Also the tithi-prayōgam, or certain monthly funereal observances, during the first year after any one's death; and the varusha srāddha or annual commemoration of the death of an ancestor. Both of these last contain mantras, or formulas from the Vēdas.

The book is very small, and greatly injured, at one end.

17. No. 1763. Various ritual homage and ceremonies.

Vignēsvara-pūja, homage to Ganēsa.

Shōdasa upasāra pūja, sixteen kinds of respectful offerings.

—Gaūri-puja—offerings to Parvati, 108 expressions of homage.

—Sarasvati puja, homage to the sacti of Brahma, Krishna, and his son Pradhyumna, homage to them, Rama-jayanta pūja, homage on the birth day of Rāma.—Sravana dva-dasipuja, a special fast on the 12th lunar day, in the lunar month Srāvana.

—Carticeya-sōma-vara pūja, homage on the Mondays of the month Carticeya (November 11 December 12) Siva-rattri-pūja—commemorating Siva suffering at night, through swallowing the venom of the serpent Vasuki in the curma avatara; a strict fast, the day before the new moon, in the lunar month Músi; certain cakes &c. are then offered, but not eaten till the next day.

—The écadasi calpam fast and its benefit, on the 11th lunar day, in each $\frac{1}{2}$ month, it should be a strict observance.

—Nara sinha jayanti, on the birth-day of the Narasinha avatára of Vishnu.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

18. No. 1765. Brahmana carmam, Ritual.

The pâitru-mética, or duty of a son towards a deceased father. The prêta-krutyam or funereal rites, from the dahana, or burning, and to the end of 12 days after the karmântaram; as already indicated supra No. 1752.

This book is small, old, and damaged.

19. No. 1767. Brahmana-carmam, Rituals.

1.) The Srāvana dvadasi, fasting and other ceremonies on the 12th lunar day of the month Srāvana; they are herein stated.

2.) Srāvana dvadasi utdyāpanam, the closing portion of those observances.

3.) Dhána p'hala vratam, various modes of giving alms, or presents to Brahmans, with the beneficial results stated.

4.) Kat'ha Srāvana p'halam, the benefit of attending pagodas on the 12th lunar day of the month Srāvana, and hearing the legends connected therewith read.

5.) Svarna Gâuri vratam, fast and devotion to Parvati.

6.) Svârna-Gâuri kat'ha, tales connected therewith.

7.) Vara Lacshmi vrata calpam, devotion to the gift bestowing Lacshmi, with benefits thence flowing, and illustrative legends.

8.) Yamuna nadi pūja, the ceremony of bathing in the Jumna river.

9.) Sarvatóbaddam, the safety thence arising.

10.) Ananta vrata calpam, legends as to the worship of Ananta, or Vishnu.

11.) Dora nashta puja, the ceremony to be used in the event of losing the cord bound round the arm, or body, in the time of homage.

12.) Mahá navami puja, the ceremony in honor of Sarasavati and Durga at the Dasra.

- 13.) Krishna jayanti, the birth day of Krishna (see 9 No. 1744.)
 14.) Rishi panchami calpam, tale of the 5th lunar day (once a year) some name is attached to every tit'hi.

This relates to a dead Brahman being raised to life by a rishi; the circumstance has a yearly commemoration, under the name of the rishi panchami.

- 15.) Lacsha vatti udyapanam, the effect of lighting a lakh of lamps.
 16.) Siddhi Vinayaca puja, the prosperous result of worship to Ganesa.

The book containing this multifarious collection, on rituals, is small, ; and, the edges excepted, in good order.

20. No. 1768. Various ritual observances.

- 1.) Sri mahā Ganapati calpam, the benefit of homage to Ganesa.

The book assumes a discourse between Uma and Mahēsvara. In 35 kinds of discourse Siva tells Parvati the 35 kinds of Brahmanical observances of which those in this book are a part.

- 2.) Srāvana-dvadasi vidha, fast on the 12th lunar day of the month Srāvana.

3.) Ananta vratam, fast to Vishnu.

- 4.) Siva rātri-mahima, fast to commemorate the suffering of Siva, by swallowing venom in the cūrmāvātāra.

5.) Ishti kalam, during any great sacrifice, on the new moon, and day after it, and on the full moon and after, the Brahmans perform some peculiar ceremonies termed ishti; this tract contains the mantras or forms then used.

- 6.) 'Eca-dasi nirnayam. There is a difference between the Saivas and Vāishnavas as to the exact beginning of the 11th tit'hi or lunar day; the Saivas begin a little earlier, after that both go on together.

The Saivas leave off a little earlier, the cause of this difference is contained in this tract. ♪

- 7.) 'Eca dasi-srāddhā. The 11th tit'hi is a strict fast by Brahmans; but if the annual commemoration of funeral rites to ancestors fall on that day, they are allowed, by rule, to eat of the funereal offerings.

This book is long, of medium thickness, one half old, and one half new, and in good order.

21. No. 1773. Vaidica carma, rituals founded on the vedas. On offerings by fire. Also various Brahmanical ceremonies at birth, naming, first feeding, shaving &c.

A fragment of another book, attached to this, contains twelve rigs, or sections from the Rig veda. The book is composed of fragments of various sizes, and as like subjects are found in other incomplete books, the need of being collated with them is indicated. It is of medium size, and in good order.

22. No. 1848. Brahmanaradiyam.

For the ethical portion at the beginning See. VI. 8. Stated to have been first delivered by Bhrigu to Nareda, and afterwards narrated by Suta to ascetics in the Naimisha vanam. It contains Vaishnava matters from the 1st adhyaya to the 38th nearly complete in 38 sections, and includes details of proper ceremonies, adapted to certain days; as the new, and full moon; also the Sradha or funeral ceremonies; and states that beatification will be attained by duly performing them. The book is old, and somewhat damaged, one leaf is gone.

23. No. 1890. Sastra dipica. The Scripture lamp, being a commentary on the karpura vartika or camphor-torch. By Sri-rajá chudamani dicshata. The subject of this book is wholly on the ritual of sacrifices. Said to be a rare, and very valuable work, not usually to be met with, except at Benares. But it is not complete. The 1st and 2d adhyayas (or chapters) are wanting. From the 3d chapter and 6th patam or paragraph down to the 8th chapter and 4th pura is found, the remainder of the 8th chapter is deficient. The 9th, 10th and 11th chapters are wanting. The 12th chapter, the proper close of the book, has a different appearance from the rest. The leaves are numbered up to 320; though of course not in regular order.

The following is an outline of the contents as they herein appear:—the nature of sacrifice—the sacrificer—the proper position for placing the three vedas herein named advarya, utgata and hota or the yajur, sama and rig. The proper places for the attendant Brahmans that officiate; the order and manner of the soma yajeni or drinking the acid juice of the asclepias plant—the persons who partake of it equally. The yupa stambha or sacrificial post—the washing that post—the raised earthen terrace around the place of sacrifice, how formed—the fyotisht homa, a kind of astrological sacrifice—the vati peya another kind—the aptoriyamam another—the adi rattram another—the risva jitu yagam another—the Darisi purna masam another—the raja sūjyam another—these and some other modes of sacrifice. The specific purpose stated, for which each sacrifice is performed. The drishṭa phalam visible or worldly result—the adrishṭa p'halam, the unseen, or result in another world. The sheep used for offering—women must not repeat the mantras at a sacrifice:—proper wealth must be expended on a sacrifice, not ill-gotten wealth. The proper times for the different sacrifices. The general bathing of all, without exception, of those who were present at a sacrifice—washing of all utensils employed; and various other matters, connected with peculiar sacrifices.

The book is long, very thick, and in good order.

24. No. 1895. A. Fragment, leaves 45—70.

It contains vidhi-vātam, on imperatives, or orders to do &c. and a purva vātam on claims established to futurities, as by sacrifices; thence after death beatitude.

There are matters on sacrifices mixed with others in this book. It is not so much a logical treatise as philosophical, allied to doctrines and rites. It is of little use, but for collation, and filling in deficiencies in other copies.

The book is long, thin, and recent.

25. No. 1927. Agah nirṇayam, on pollution.

It contains one hundred ślokas, without quotation from authorities. The uncleanness of children by death of parents, and of parents by death of children, stated, complete on 17 leaves; others left blank. See 28 No. 1934.

Vāishva deva hōma kramam, the name of a fire-offering, and the mode of performing it, four leaves complete. The book is of medium size, and recent.

26. No. 1931. Mīmāṃsā nāiyā vivēcam.

By Bhava nāt'ha misra.

It contains the 2d, 7th, 8th adhyāyas, or chapters, the three have deficient leaves in the midst.

Matters pertaining to sacrifices—nitya or daily ceremonies, household or otherwise, nāinītya special ceremonies, the agni-hotra, or homa, is a daily household fire offering.

Special are jātashṭi, and others, cāmya carmam voluntary duty that may, or may not be performed, at liking.

Agni-stoma-neshyam-shodasi-atti-rāttram aptomiya - yamam—these and other ceremonies.

The book is long, and of medium thickness in good order, only incomplete; many leaves in different places, in the midst, being wanting.

27. No. 1932. Mimāṃsā - sāstram.

By Appāiṇya dicshata—(does not appear in the book.)

The label bears an erroneous title.

There are a thousand chapters in the Mimāṃsā.

This book contains one chapter—the upa krama parācrama—on exceptions to general rules concerning sacrifices; upa-krama being an inferior point, or exception. Also part of another chapter upa-sanhāram, on some particulars, in a general list, that are of more than common consequence.

The book is long, thin, nearly new, and must be part of some larger book. The leaves number 1—17, left incomplete.

28. No. 1934. Agah nirṇayam, discrimination of ceremonial pollution.

By Haritah Venatāchārya.

By many quotations from Smritis and purānas it is shewn that if father, or mother die the children are unclean. There is a ten day's pollution, and one of three days. The former on account of near relatives, and the latter for those who are related by marriage or by distant remove. If the two happen to concur the lighter one of three days is first removed.

The book is long, thin and in good order.

An addendum of eight leaves, in Tamil contains a story of a king eating with an invisible pariah; and burning himself in cow-dung when it was discovered—which might be disengaged, and transferred.

29. No. 1935. Achārya vishayam on doubtful points in ritual observances.

1.) On the birth-day of Krishna termed jayanti.

There are doubts as to which of two days is proper; and this book discusses the subject by extracts of ślokas, and comments on them.

2.) Sri-Rāma-navami. The birth day of Rāma is commemorated on the 9th of Chitra (23d or 24th April.) This is also subject to a doubt between two days, owing to astrological niceties; the doubt is herein discussed, as above.

3.) Srāvana-dva dasi, so called if the 12th ti'thi; or lunar day, fall in the lunar mansion Srāvana. This is held to be special, as a fast. Two days here also are in dispute; this tract discusses the proper time of the fast, and other observances.

In the above three cases the subject is argued from the smritis.

puranas, and pancha-ratram: leaves 1—49 incomplete. This book is long, thin, recent, yet damaged, one end gnawed by rats.

30. No. 1940. Apara vishayam, on obsequies, and other matters.

Leaf 1—41. On this subject, according to the Vadagalas; or a strictly Vaishnava book. In the event of a father, or mother dying the eldest son must perform the required duties; especially in the cremation of the body. In defect of an elder son, then other sons; if none, then by relatives: so far ślokas comprising various details.

Leaf 42—130. The same with other rites in prose.

Brahma mēdha samascāram, a mantra, or prayer, to be used only by one acquainted with the Vedas: ahvāgni samascāram, on the keeping the sacred fire burning from the time of marriage till death. Yeti samascāram, rule for burying a sannyāsi, who wholly relinquished family cares, and duties.

Garbhini samascāram, rules for burning a pregnant deceased woman. Repetition of obsequies from the 1st day to the twelfth; when any death occurs in a household, rules given, prose with a few ślokas. The book is complete, long, thin, and in good order.

31. No. 1977. Fragments, chiefly on the Pancha ratram, or ritual of processions---4 leaves---mantras on the Vishnu abishēgam, or pouring water on the image of Vishnu.

—Vishnu utsava-arōhanam, daily observances with homas or offerings by fire during the festival processions (Vaishnava) for ten days after hoisting the umbrella, or flag. Arōhana lifting up, avarōhana taking down.

—Vishnu, cumbha—avahanam, the mantra and ceremony used on transferring an image of Vishnu from a statue into a pot of water. On some special occasions; after which ceremony the statue is no longer a god but common material.

—Vishnu pūja—daily homage to Vishnu.

—Vishnu sahasranāma, the one thousand names of Vishnu, as daily repeated by votaries.

All the foregoing are fragments.

—Kara nyāsam, motions of the hands, or fingers on reciting mantras, complete.

—Vishnu-pūja by Ramānījāchārya, daily homage, which is more lengthened on ordinary days, and a little abridged on procession-days; but the same pūja uniform—not various kinds.

—Pratyahan Brahmana charitram.

The proper conduct of a Brahman every day, and every hour of the day, as to rituals; incomplete.

Two grammatical fragments are inserted.

—Kriya-māla, list of roots, for the formation of verbs, 2 leaves incomplete.

—Sarva-Rāma-sabdām, on cases of nouns, incomplete.

The book is long, thin, old in part, and slightly damaged; one part recent, touched by worms; the leaves are of different length, age, and writing; and, as a whole, require comparing with other defective books, so as to make it, as much as possible, complete.

32. No. 1980. Pancha-rātram :

Details, according to the pancha rātra system, of modes of pūja, or ritual homage. In prose, with some ślōcas; and complete on 9 leaves; long, and in good order.

33. No. 1985. Sa-Brinha gosham—relating to the Pancha rātram, prose of a difficult kind.

The subject relates to the close of festival processions; when, on the avarōhana, or taking down the umbrella on the last day, the people who came to the festival to do honor to Vishnu are to be allowed to depart to their various countries, or places of abode. Said to be prescribed by Vishnu; so at least the presiding hierophant declares to the people.—Two copies, one complete; another in a rude boy's hand, incomplete.

The whole book is long, thin, and in good order.

34. No. 1992. Pancha rattram—on ritual Vishnava matters;—divided into padālus, except the last which is called adhyāyam. The 1st has a prefatory discourse relating, as stated, to Sri sailam, a discourse between an ascetic and a Siddha. The latter relates his coming from Vishnu's world to see a rishi who died before he could fully instruct him. A voice revealed to him the O'm mantra. He repeated the Brahma mantra; Brahma appeared, the Siva mantra and Siva appeared. The Vishnu mantra and Vishnu appeared. Each one stated the particulars of his own worship.

The 2d padalam introduces the Vaishnava system in particular.

3d. The greatness of Vishnu stated.

4th and 5th not particularly examined.

6th. The mode of ritual worship (pūja vidhi.)

7th. mudra laoshnanam. The mode in which officiating Brahmins use their hands and fingers, changing the signs in the ritual of Vaishnava homage.

11th. abishega kramam pouring water &c. on an image.

18th. pradishta krama mode of consecrating an image.

20th. The mode of conducting processions, or utsava vidhi.

24th. jirna udana vidhi mode of repairing broken images.

The above is a specimen ; every section was not examined ; and there are others, down to the 30th adhyāyam. Many leaves are wanting in the midst ; perhaps they might be made up from other miscellaneous fragments.

This book is of medium length, thick ; and, in places, a little damaged.

35. No. 1993. Pancha ratram, ślōcas.

Related by Capila to Cūsyapa.

A few miscellaneous matters are prefixed.

1 Leaf—kattri mantram, against venomous reptiles, or insects, or evil spirits.

1 Leaf—critica, til'hi utrayam, enquiry if one half of this lunar day fall on one solar, and another half on another solar day, on which of the solar days the observance is to be made.

2 Leaves, shodasa upacharam, on sixteen ceremonies, in homage to Vishnu.

2 Leaves, Narayana balli, ceremonies on the 10th day after the decease of a sannyāsi.

—Gangēsa Tatra Chintāmani—a little on the mangala vātam, connected with logic, and in the Telugu character.

Then follows the pancha ratram-leaf 1—32 unfinished.

1st. Adhyāya, introductory, as to the subject.

2d. " The same continued.

3d. " The proper conduct of a Vaishnava.
Other Sections not particularly examined.

10th. " On the construction of walls around a pagoda (or temple.)

11th. " Rules as to the size, and relative proportions of idols, or images ; such as to the different members of the body. &c.

12th. " On the consecration of images.

Other connected matter.

Sanatcumāras instructions as to the proper preparation before a procession ; such as fillets bound round the wrist &c.

Vastu zanti, a form is drawn on the ground of some being intended ; the zanti or avorting prayer is used, and the being is told to depart, as a pagoda, or house, is going to be built.

—Some matters, by Visva sakti, on consecrating an image of Krishna.

Paramesvara samādayam, on cars &c. ascribed directly to God.

Other matters on Vishnava consecrations, and processions in the Critica til'hi, and lights, in the Kartikoya month.

Garuda pratishtha consecration of an imago of Garuda: and a few like matters which all pertain to the Pancha ratram; a supplementary "theory of developement" as to idolatry.

Beides Sudarisana stotra, ślokas, praise of the chaera, or discus of Vishnu.

Lacshmi Cavucham, charm for preservation by Lacshmi, $\frac{1}{2}$ leaf astrological.

36. No. 1997. Pancha rátri grant'ham, a work chiefly relating to the said system : 5 leaves incomplete.

By Jayanti.

It contains quotations taken from the Padma, Agni, and Náreda, purānas in support of the Pancha rátri system ; a variation, or development of the Vaishnava mode of worship. This book is on talipat leaves, very old, and damaged.

By the same author—Extracts from the writings of Rámanújachárya, in favor of the same system ; 8 palm leaves.

—One leaf settling the true date or tithi of Rámás birth day.

—Also the exact date, or ti'hi of the birth of Narasinha, or Vishnu, as man-lion.

The above quite distinct, on palm leaves, very old, and damaged.

The fruit or benefit of marking the shoulders with the chank and chaera of Vishnu. The same as to the putting on the úrdhva or trident on the forehead, with a few unconnected mantras.

This latter portion, on talipat leaves, very old, and damaged.

There is a unity of intention throughout. The book is long and thin.

37. No. 1994. Visvácsena samidha, ślokas.

This is the 1st section in this book ; for the other one see IX. One leaf is prefixed, on modes at processions ; the remainder is prócshana vidhi, the mode of sprinkling water, with other rituals, as to an image ; Samprócshana is said to be the first purification, when the image is new : this article relates to the customary purifications afterwards. The tract is incomplete.

38. No. 2000. Pancha rattram.

By Padmaha, prose, and ślokas mingled.

The order of ritual worship—ritual homage by many persons—and by one person—homage to the cahana or car and attendants around the image—p. 1—127 ; some leaves defective in the middle.

39. No. 1988. Páncha ratrágama prámánya kanta kódára sangraham.

By Vadugala Varadáchárya being an epitome to draw out the thorn of those who deny the authority of books on the pancha rattram. I thought to class this book as polemical ; but perhaps it may come in here.

The pancha rat̄tram is not acknowledged by by all Vaishnavas ; those who maintain it are ritualists. As there are those that deny the authority of the system, as a rule, the author opposes them by a variety of arguments, and labors to establish the authority of that system.

The book is of mediūm size, recent, and in good order.

40. No. 2001. Ritual observances.

Urdhva punra vidhi—mode of fixing the nama, or mark on the forehead, and other ritual modes.

—Sandya vandana vidhi, morning, noon, and evening prayers or mantras, with ceremonies.

—Yagnya upavita vidhi mantra, prayer on putting the thread into order for wearing it.

—Pāpa vimochana ar't'ham sacala hōma vidhi, all kinds of offerings by fire, for the remission of sins.

—Vaishva dēva homa vidhi, a particular kind of offering by fire.

Mantra mana vidhi, if any sudden pollution have occurred, then to go to a tank and sprinkle a little water over the head, with this prayer as an expiation.

—Pancha nuha yagnya vidhi, mode of five great purifications by water.

Adhara sacti terpana vidhi, On taking up water in the hands, and offering it to Vishnu &c. &c. The above are mostly daily Brahmanical observances.

—Vishnu dvadasacshara japa vidhi, prayer (muttered) by means of the twelve lettered charm.

—Pradosha nirnayam, explanation of the bad time for prayer, which occurs on some lunar days about sunset. The book is of medium size, and in good order.

41 No. 2015. This book consists of various tracts put together ; and is somewhat miscellaneous ; but chiefly relating to ceremonies.

1.) Pancha rat̄tram. Ceremony of purifying a place before making processions, by putting rice under a pot of water, performing mantras and sprinkling the consecrated water. Also preparing a large urn filled with water, for transferring the deity to it, by mantras, on special occasions. The consecration of a small image of Vishnu, to be put into the pot of water, during the ten days of a festival, at the end of which the deity is again transferred by the power of mantras to the mula bimbam, or great image in the temple.

2.) The order for performing the ceremony of marriage with the mantras then used. It contains ślōcas ; and also sutras from the Vedas. 19 leaves incomplete.

3.) Pancha rat̄tram—the ceremony of hoisting the umbrella, or flag (chakraja) on festival occasions : with that the festival begins.

4.) Vishnu pradish't'ha ; another copy of the mode of consecrating a small image of Vishnu, to be put into a pot of water. Also Vishnu puja, ritual homage to Vishnu.

- 5.) Pancha ratram,—the mode of beating the great drum at festivals ; the man employed to do so must be at hand during the ten days ; if he hear the sound of that drum he must come into the temple, and must be especially present on the closing day.
- 6.) Mode of putting a cotton bracelet on the arm, during the festival. This is complete.
- 7.) Sálagrama mahatmyam, the fruit, or benefit of using the petrified chank, in any act of worship to Vishnu.
- 8.) The tulsi mahatmyam, said to be from the Scanda puranam, value of the tulsi plant, sweet basil, (or Ocimum sanctum) and benefit of using it.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order. It consists of different kinds of leaves, seeming to belong to various books ; but perhaps was a vade mecum of some Brahman for constant practical use.

42. No. 2016. Two subjects relating to the pancha rátram.

1.) Snabana vidhi p. 1—13 complete. Certain materials are connected with water, and poured over the head of the idol in case of defective service. If any defect exist as to prayer (mantra lóba) or as to work needful to be done (kriya lóba) or as to money that ought to be expended (dravya lóba) then for such defect as a prayaschít, or expiation, the said bathing is to be used. Also if any one walking in the temple defile it by spittle, or any like oversight the above ceremony is to be used. The mode of doing so is explained at length, by slócas, and prose.

2.) Rat'ha pratishtha, consecration of the car, an adjunct of the pancha rátram : leaf 14—29 one adhyaya complete. Before any newly made car is used in the Váishnava processions some ceremonies occur of preparing water as above, and sprinkling it over the car, a hóma or fire offering is then made for the removal of evil. Some other connected matters. This tract is complete ; in all 29 leaves. The book is short, of medium thickness. The 1st tract a little bitten by rats at one end—the 2d in good order.

43. No. 2019. Ahar vivéchanam, on the periods of ceremonial uncleanness.

By Ráma chandrádvati.

On the death of a son the father and mother, the brothers &c. are ceremonially unclean ; in what relative degrees, and in how many days removed, stated.

On the birth, or death of a child ten days uncleanness are reckoned to the father &c. also to partners in business. In the case of a daughter the pollution does not attach to partners, but to the father only. Some rules are given, 9 leaves prose, and incomplete.—The book is of medium length, thin, and worm eaten.

44. No. 2044. Sandhya vandanam, morning and evening homage, by Varadáchárya, prose.

The customary morning and evening devotion, with mantras &c. of the Vaishnava kind.

Aubasam - vidhánam, putting rice twice a day on sacred fire, with appropriate mantras recited.

Váisva-dévam, ceremony at noon, mantras then recited, with attendant ceremonies described. The book is of medium length, thin, incomplete, and worm eaten.

45. No. 2067. Páncha ráttam. Fragment on temple rites, ślócas with some prose. Two leaves at the beginning deficient. The putting on bracelets before great ceremonies; attending to arrangements, as to Garuda the vehicle of Vishnu; on hoisting the flag at festivals; this portion complete at the end. Another fragment (Canarese language, Grant'ha letter) on some of the Aluvár of Vishnu said to be Ayóniján, appearing of themselves, not born of women. Description of their persons; incomplete, leaves 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, no others. The book is long, thin, and in good order.

46. No. 2069. Sravana dvádasi mahatmyam, ślócas, incomplete.

The Sravana nacshétra is known in Tamil by the name of Tiruvana nacshétra, and when the 12th lunar day from the new, or full moon falls in this lunar mansion, that is the Sravana dvádasi, of special observance as the date of the birth of the Vámana avatáram. On that day fasting is prescribed, with special homage to the Vámanāvátáram; the result is punyam, moral merit—will tend to obtain either Sverga or mocsham, the world of Indra or of Brahma. To this is added the Vámana púja, or form of homage to Vishnu, on that special day. One leaf, a fragment, seems to be part of an account of Ugra-sena a king of Madura who, from his great cruelty, had become a demon, and was restored to his senses by observing this day. The book is of medium length, thin, and a little injured.

XVII. MINERAL CONCHOLOGY, or fossils.

[It is known that ammonites are found at a great elevation in the Himályas, and other fossil shells in various parts of this country. In this article however there is only respect to sālagrāmas, or petrified shells dug out of the bed of rivers near the foot of the Himālayas, and used emblematically in the worship of Vishnu.]

1. No. 2023. Sālagrāma lacshanam, properties of petrified shells.

At the beginning two leaves are wanting. The fossils are described as having the mūrti, or form of various deities, or of their incarnations, as Matsya--Cūrma---Varāha--Narasinha---Trivikrama-Janarjana Sudarisana---Rāma---Pārasu Rāma---Krishna-Purushōttāma; these, and their properties; and also the various colours of the shells, which may mean castes; and their appropriate use, in pūjas, or worship. Incomplete at the end. Half a leaf on japa, or muttered prayer. Other matter on the Sālagrāma—properties—kinds, or colours—used in pūja. This seems to be part of a different book, from the 1st fragment; though the same in subject. The whole book is long, thin, and in good order.

2. No. 2052. Sālagrāma lacshnam, on fossils as above.

Brāhma delivered this to Nāreda, as having been narrated by Vishnu to Garuda.

Partly to the South and partly to the North of Himālaya there is an especial tract of land of twelve yōjanas (circiter 120 miles) in extent, this excels all other places whatsoever. The Sālagrāma was first found there. The chakra-nadi is a river formed by Brahma; on the north of it, in the ascent of Himālaya, there are petrified shells (sālagramas.) They are of two kinds, one called St'halajān or formed in the earth, the other jatalajān or formed in the water. They have differences of mūrti (forms) as the Matsya-mūrti: Cūrma-m, Varāha-m, Narasinha-m, Jamadagni-m, Rāma-m, Krishna-m, Santāna-Gopala-m, Buddha-m, Lacshmi Nārāyana-m, Mādhava Govinda-m, Aniruddha-m: these and various others. The properties of each described. (Possibly various species of Buccina) complete.

If any one read the Sālagrāmā stōtra he will attain to Vishnu's world.

The paging is from 48 to 68. The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

XVIII. MISCELLANEOUS.

01. No. 1093. Various matters.

1 leaf—ślokas on astrology, Canarese letter.

1—21 Tarkha bhashā—on logic:

The original system which maintains 16 padart'has from 1 pramāna on the authoritative rule, down to the 16 jata nigraha, and distributed into four khandas.

That is 1 pratyacsha, 2 anumāna, 3 upamāna, 4 sabda incomplete.

---7 leaves, ślocas on Vaishnava subjects; so far in Grant'ha letter.

---Astrological matters on the lunar mansions, good and bad; but 3½ Indian hours, or one muhurtam is reckoned to be bad in every lunar asterism. In general Asvini is good, Bharini bad, Critica bad, Rohini good, Mrigisiras good &c. Telugu letter, two or three lines nāgari writing, and 1 leaf a sancalpam with praise to Pārvati.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

1. No. 1730. Miscellaneous—chiefly fragments.

1.) One leaf at the beginning---the mantra used in taking an oath accompanied with only a small portion of water in the palm of the hand (no tulsi) in morning devotion of Brahmans.

2.) Vedānta subjects in Tamil, mingled with veda-srutis in Grant'ha letter, and extracts from the divya-prabandhas, or sacred books by the 'Aluvār of Vishnu, incomplete.

3.) Purusha śūcta bhāsyam, an explanation of a section in the yajur veda entitled purusha sucta by Sri Rangha nāt'han.

Concerning Vishnu, as Supreme, and as the Creator of the world, also residing in man; incomplete.

4.) Sri Rangha nāt'hā stōttra, praise of Vishnu at Trichinopoly, or Seringapatam.

By Bhūsyā cāra a title of Ramanūja the Aluvār of Sri Permittūr. It contains gadya treya, or three paragraphs of continuous writing.

5.) Some loose irregular fragments, on Vedānta subjects; ślocas, with prose intermingled.

6.) Vedānta tātparyam, meaning of the Vedāntam by Bātula Varādā-chārya. Special sentences, and a few ślocas are extracted from other books, and used to extol the Vedāntam. It contains the Brahma-surūpa-tatgunas or true nature, and properties of Brāhma, or Parā Brāhman, applied to Vishnu. Incomplete.

7.) Three leaves, in the Tamil language and letter, from the divya prabandham, or writings of the 'Aluvār, special disciples of Vishnu.

2. No. 1738. Miscellaneous, mostly ceremonial.

1.) Griha prayôgam, household observances, a few slôcas, but chiefly sutrâs.

1st. padalam; vâidica observances—the preparing a pot of water with mantras to be used in sprinklings for purifying—consecration of fire offering—pouring ghee thereon—the modes used.

2d and 3d padalâs—marriage ceremonies (anga and angi) these are angi special—many things relating thereto.

6th. padalam—household matters—rudi zânti, an expiatory ceremony on a man, and his wife first living together—pûnâ vanâ a ceremony after the third month of pregnancy, simantam another in the 6th or 8th month; jâta carma—ceremony on the birth of a child; nâma carma, the same as to naming it; anna prâsana on giving the first food—shaving. in the fifth year.—these and other like matters.

7th and 8th. padalâs. Griha samârjuna carmam ceremony of sweeping, or otherwise cleaning a house on entering it for the first time, that is on bringing a bride home: mâsi stâham monthly observances, of constant use, and other matters.

2.) Matters more varied.

Jvara vidhi—this is a mantra which if repeated, it is said, will expel or cure fever vapana vidhi—marking the proper time when to shave, and when not as applicable to all ages; tulsi-uttarana nishadinam—the proper days for gathering tulsi not on Friday, nor on the first day of a month, nor on a new moon day. If gathered on improper days evil results will occur—poruttam examining the horoscope of parties purposing to be married to see if they accord, or are propitious to each other.

Naesetra nigandu—the various names which are used for the twenty eight lunar mansions.

Râsi-nigandu the various names used for the signs of the zodiac; danta kavstâranam—how to observe the ceremony of cleaning the teeth. Other ceremonies herein contained are—mode of sipping water—stopping the nostrils when repeating mantras—anointing with oil—offerings to ancestors, made daily—bathing at the time of an eclipse, its reward is beautification, not so if neglected—selecting a good day, in order to put on a new garment; the mahâlyam a ceremony between the full and new moon in the month pirâtâsi (12th September 12th October) homage to ancestors, according to the lunar day on which they died, and other like matters. Also a little on astrology, as to proper times for making a journey. The book remains unfinished.

The first half might be separated, and made a distinct book. As the whole is homogeneous, and has all the appearance of having always been one book, the most probable mode of accounting for its varied contents is to suppose that it formed a vade mecum of some vâidica Brahman; in the habit of conducting the various ceremonies indicated. The book is of medium size, rather old, and in good order.

3. No. 1746. Three quite different books.

1.) Matana sastra ascribed to Sancârâcharya, but most probably spurious. It is erotic in kind: not needing detail; it might be separated and put with that class, it wants seven leaves at the end.

- 2.) Bhagavat-gita the 10th and 11th adhyayas, or chapters ; which perhaps might fill up some other imperfect copy.
- 3.) Brahmana carmam household ceremonies. This might be separated and made a distinct book.

It contains the ceremonies used from the birth of a child, down to the funeral obsequies.

Jāta carmam, on birth ; nāmakarmam naming ; annaprāsanam--first food ; chavulium, shaving the head ; upandīnam, putting on the thread ; vivāham, marriage, śmantam on the sixth month after pregnancy ; maranam on the death, and for 12 days after the Srāddha and karmāntaram. The rites in every case stated.

The whole book is small, old, and damaged.

4. No. 1770. Chiefly Stōttras, and cavuchams.

Homage to Ganēsa by manual, and other signs, and pūja. Ganapati stōttra, praise to Ganēsa, by means of his twelve names.

Said to be from the Brahmānda purānam, a discourse between Brahma and Nandikēsvara.

The Yuddha cādam of the Rāmāyanam, the 9th sarga only, containing homage to Sūrya, the Sun.

The following are also stated to be from the Brahmānda purānam.

Mūhambica stōttram praise to Parvati as being dumb ; or while not speaking, for some cause or purpose ; Brahma to Nāreda.

Hānumāt-Cavucham ; Rāma speaks, and explains the finger-signs and words of homage to Hanuman.

Daddhi Vāmana stōttra--The Vāmana-avātara holding sour curds in his hands, and uttering praise to Dattātrēya Mahā-muni.

Narasinha cavucham, homage to the man-lion-avātara, by finger-signs ; also stōttra or praise to the same, Dattātrēya cavucham--homage by Nāreda.

Attached is a mantram, or charm, and a stōttra, or chant of praise--the whole forming the cavucham, or call for protection.

Tulasi cavucham, The sweet-basil plant is placed in front ; and homage, by means of the fingers applied to various parts of the body, is used.

Garuda cavucham, homage &c. to Garuda for protection, against snakes.

Sri Rāma-cavucham, invocation for aid to Rāmā.

The following one is taken from the Aranya parvam of the Bhāratam--3d chapter related by Vyasa.

Sūrya-stōttram, praise to the Sun.

Vencatōsa stōttram, 2 leaves, praise to Vishnu at Tripetī.

The following are stated to be from the Brahmānda purānam, Brahma and Nāreda discourse.

Aśvata-nārāyana stōttra ; Nāreda praises the Arasu tree (fic : rel :), in using this form a bunch of Yeppa (Mimosa) leaves is added ; but is not essential.

Arsha narisvara-stōttram--praise to the form of Sivā and Parvati ; this is defective.

Sri-Rāma-stōttram--praise to Rāmā, defective.

The book is small, old, in good order.

5. No. 1774. Seven tracts.

- 1.) Gangāshlaca, eight ślōcas in praise of Gangā, as a goddess, 1 leaf.
- 2.) Chātu ślōcas, various distichs, some amorous, others miscellaneous : 12 leaves.
- 3.) Ashtapati-kīrtna, an octave verse on 1 leaf.
By Jaya Déva. Praise of Krishna—an extract.
- 4.) Kīrtanas—two chants, on two leaves.

The language Canarese, and Telugu ; the letter Grant'ha form.

- 5.) Jyōtisha—astrological ślōcas 1 leaf—on the origin of the muhūr-tam, a division of time ; but here meaning the suitable time : for any affair, astrologically determined.
- 6.) Krishna—stōtra, praise of Krishna, 6 leaves Grant'ha letter Canarese language.
- 7.) Subhāshita sudādala hari—a peculiar kind of metre 22 leaves.
On suitable speech according to times, and circumstances.

The book is long, thin, and in tolerably good order.

6. No. 1786. Various matter.

- 1.) Sri dhāriyam—comment on part of the Bhāgavatam, text, and paraphrase.

The 11th Scandam, from the 1st to the 29th adhyāyam or chapter ; but with only 44 unconnected leaves, others deficient. It has matter about the deluge ; no rain for 100 years previously, and then it rained for 100 years overflowing the world. (11th Scandam doubtful.)

- 2.) Other intermediate matters.

ūrūhava bhadrīcāsrama.

- 3.) Amarā cosha, incomplete portions.

1st Cādam 1 leaf, 2d Cādam, 28 leaves.

3d Cādam 26 leaves : in all 55 leaves.

- 4.) On the soul—1 leaf Tamil language, Grant'ha letter.

The book is of medium size, talipat leaf, old.

7. No. 1882. Varieties.

- 1.) Siddhānta cūtmudī vyākyaṇam.

Commentary on a Sanscrit grammar.

By Praūdhā manōraṁmai.

From 1st to 25th leaf. On vowels, and the sandhi or coalition of vowels : so much complete.

- 2.) Yága prakriya prakaranam, chapter on the mode of conducting a sacrificial offering---simply stated, incomplete, 7 leaves.
- 3.) The chandra-vamsa, from Brahma.
'Atri-Chandra-Budha &c. 4 leaves.
- 4.) Nátacam, a drama, no beginning nor end : so that the name cannot be determined, two leaves.
- 5.) Slócas on the chank, and chucra of Vishnu, one old leaf.
This book is long, thin, and in good order.
It needs to be collated with other books.

8. No. 1894. Three subjects.

- 1.) Tark'ha sangraha—See XIV.
- 2.) Sandhya vandana bhásyam, on the morning and evening homage. The ruç or verse of the Veda, with the bhásyam or meaning of the mantra, used before sprinkling water on the head : praise of water. A little water first sipped by Brahmans ; then sprinkled on the head.

3.) Rámáyana vyákhyánam, comment on the Rámáyána.

By Nrisinha Brahma vidhya vátyar, incomplete, 6 leaves.

This is not a running comment, but only on some verses that are subject to doubt, or difficulty.

The latter section is dissimilar in appearance from the former.

9. No. 947. Various subjects.

- 1.) Sringára dípica—see VII.
 - 2.) Purusha varna, chandra varna, poetical description of the male of the human species, and of the moon, incomplete.
 - 3.) Sóma vára píja, homage on Monday to Siva 1 leaf.
 - 4.) Subháshita grant'ha, slócas on ethical subjects, incomplete.
10. No. 1971. Bartru hariyam. On various subjects.

By Bartru—Hari.

This is a popular work ; one as to author, and design : but so miscellaneous in contents, as not to come under any other separate head. It is divided into three *satacam*s or parts : and these are divided into *padhat*s, or small sections : each on a distinct, but included topic.

- 1.) Niti satacam, the ethical part.
- (1.) Agnya padhati, on the ignorant.
- (2.) Vidya „ on the learned.
- (3.) manu saurya padhati, on the sense of shame.
- (4.) pārōbasara „ on doing good to others.

The different times, or measures are marked, by a great variety of technical terms; unimportant to be detailed. The rules for females dancing to these measures of time are included, 13 leaves. See No. 2249. Dēva nāgari, p. 56.

This book is of medium length, thin, and some of the ends are gnawed off by rats.

XX. PAURANICAL.

1. No. 1754. Portions of various purānas.

1.) Linga-purāna, incomplete, leaves defective.

The 1st and 2d ahhyāyas wanting—3d in part—the 4th complete—5th in part only. This portion of the said purānam relates to chronological matters; as measures of time, days of mon, and of gods, yugas or periods, maha yugas great periods, sum of 4 yugas &c. The matter cannot be more closely defined, as the book is so incomplete, only 5 leaves.

2.) Padma purānam—six leaves.

The uttara khanda or second part.

The subjects are—Vishnu mantras, chakra marks on the shoulders, and putting on the nāman or forehead-mark.

3.) Varāha purānam.

a. The cshētra-k'handam

Legend of chitra-kuta temple, from the 1st adhyāya to the 15th so far complete. Delivered by Vishnu in the 3d avatāra to Bhū-dēvi, or the goddess of the earth.

The chitra kuta fane excels many others ; various tales in illustration.

b. The same—handana cshētram, from the 19th adhyāya to the 24th, so far complete, with a little of the 25th, general praise of the fane, Siva having incurred the guilt of Brahmahatti, by cutting off one of the heads of Brahmā, obtained release from it at this place.

c. The same—the cshētra-khandam, another copy, from 1st to 15th adhyāya.

d. The same—cshētra khandam from 19th to 72d adhyāya, with a little of the 73d ; leaves 1 to 150, thus far there are six portions in one book, with a total of 767 leaves.

4.) Sundries.

Matters relative to Krishna, to Narasinha, to Prahlada : Vishnu stōtram.

Lacshmi mahatmyam, the Pranava or mystic O'm ; a tale concerning Rāma ; chronological, the matsya and other calpas or days of Brahmā, very lengthened periods. The present is the svētu-varāha calpa, or period of the white boar.

This book is long, and thick, in good order, and in a neat-medium hand-writing.

2. No. 1757. Mārcandeya Purānam, from the 1st to the 17th adhyāya ; complete so far. It is from the portion relating to the Manu-wanteras, and to the Sāvārnica Manuwāntera in particular ; including the chandi pāt'h or wars of Durga, with asuras ; and matters redounding to the honor of Dēvi are related ; Sāvārnica the son of Sūryā is otherwise known as Sūryā manu, and is the same with Svarōchisha, the second Manu, only in a later birth according to one account ; by another he was a king in the 2d Manuwātura, and acquired the dignity of Munu by listening to the feats of Durga, and worshipping her in consequence. In this portion there is some pūja to Parvati or Durga.

The book is small, and old, damaged at the edges, so as to make some words not legible.

3. No. 1782. Bhagavatam, ślokas.

This book contains the 4th, 5th and 6th Scandams or chapters.

—4th from the 1st to the 29th adhyāya or section.

—5th from the 1st to the 26th " both complete.

—6th from the 1st to the 11th " the 12th incomplete.

The 4th and 5th Sections of the 4th Scandam contain the account of Siva's quarrel with Dacsha, owing to the latter's sacrifice, and to Sati's self immolation. Siva sent Vira Bhadra, who slew Dacsha. The contents of the whole book are not thought to need detail here.

This book is long, thin, and in good order.

4. No. 1783. Bhāgavatam.

The 5th Scandam, has the 24th section defective at the beginning, the 25th and 26th complete, leaf 162 to 165, or 4 leaves.

The 6th Scandam from the 1st to the 4th section, complete, the 5th section unfinished from 166 to 173-8 leaves. Any detail as to the contents of these fragments is not needful.

The book is long, and thin, on talipat leaves, and in good order. The writing is such as to be read with difficulty.

5. No. 1787. Bhānart'ha dīpica an explanation of the Bhāgavatam.

The 1st Scandam, from the 1st to the 15th section complete, and 1 leaf of the 16th section, in all 31 leaves. Introductory matter to the incarnations of Vishnu, and specially that of Krishna.

The book is long, and thin, eat off at the edges, broad leaves, small writing.

6. No. 1842. Scanda purānam.

A fragment relative to the Bhadrica vanam, part of a discourse from Narāda to Indra dymma, 80th to 83d adhyāyam, or section.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

7. No. 1843. Bhavishōttara-purānam.

The madhyama khandam.

The discourse of Brahmā with Nāreda.

It contains the Combhakōna Mahātmya, or legend as to the tank and temple at Combhakonam, near Tanjore; the site of the "water lingam" one of five specialties, at five places, denoting the five elements—"earth" at Conjeveram, &c.

The book is of medium length, thin, one end so much broken as to destroy the meaning of the writing.

8. No. 1844. Scanda purānam.

The upadēsa khandā, or doctrinal section, the 1st adhyāya to the 75th, from leaf 1 to 133 in regular order

Delivered by Sūta rishi to other rishis.

The splendor of Cāilasa mountain—its glory—its situation—the celestials there—excellency of the sacred ashes—of the sacred beads—of the name of Siva—tale of the five lettered charm—tale of Vignésvara i. e. Ganésa—the austerity of the Sāiva way—the fast on the occurrence of the lunar asterism ardhira, which is sacred to Siva—the proper time for a ceremony directed to both Uma and Mahéscara—the ceremony of the Siva-rātri a special time in the month named Māsi; next day before the new moon in it; which sometimes falls on half of the 13th, and half of the 14th tithi.

The hédara vrata—a field ceremony on the 14th tithi of Arapasi month, used if a woman wishes to secure the great affection of her husband; during it a silk bracelet is bound round the arm.

The kalyāna vrata, a fast, relative to any marriage. Sula vratam, a fast against any impediment; Vrishab'ha-vrata, fast directed to the vehicle of Siva; a Friday's ceremony to Vignésvara; another to Subrahmanya another to Bhairava dog-headed ("Anubis"?) on the merit of homage to Siva—its excellency—tales concerning Siva, his acts—the evil of sin against Siva—evil of stealing the property of a Siva-teacher; the guilt of those that speak maliciously against any thing relating to Saiva worship, or as to the sacred beads, and other matters—the Cāsi mahātmya, or legend of Viśvésvara (lord of the world) the form of Siva at Benares—the mode of ascetical meditation on Siva—and various other similar matters—so far abstracted; because this purānam is more talked of than known.

The book is long, thick, recent, and in good order.

9. No. 1845. Scanda purānam.

The Brahmōttara khanda in which the Gokerna mahātmyam is included. This is a fragment from the 23d to the 44th sarga. It contains some matter on the taiva system—on the five lettered mantra: nama-sivāhi—the legend of the Siva-rātri—fast on the 14th tithi—on the removal of sin—on the homage made by the Saiva ascetic—on the sacred ashes—marks on the forehead, on Uma the consort of Siva all the contents Saiva in character.

The beginning, and ending are both wanting.

The book is long, and thick, old, and much injured.

10. No. 9846. Brahmānda purānam.

The cshetrā mahātmyam.

Siva discourses with Kanda muni and with Naréda. The 1st and 2d sections complete, the 3d not so.

This fragment contains a tale of Vijaya-bala of the solar line of kings, who married Retmangadi, a very beautiful woman—they lived in separate places; bathed in the Cāvāri river, and were ultimately beatified.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

11. No. 1847. Scanda purānam.

The Sétu-mahatmyam—or legend of the peninsula at Ramiseram.

From the 1st to the 52d section, complete leaf 1 to 250. The contents are the same as No. 1859. v. infra down to the chaera tirt'ha.

The Setu-snānam, or bathing in the sea at this place removes the five great sins—also the sin of killing a Brahman—and the sin of making known the contents of the Vēdam, in consideration of receiving money, also simony—and the sin of eating flesh and blood, that of eating with a Sudra—the sin of drinking ardent spirits—of intercourse with a removed woman (in mens;) the sin of incest—that of adultery with a son's wife, or with a brother's wife—or of a friend—the sin of drunkenness—or of conversing with a low woman. The foregoing sins are removed by bathing in the sea at Ramiseram; and not only so, but they who do so also obtain Sverga, or Indra's world; even a curse pronounced by Brahmā himself would be removed by such bathing. So much for the all-accommodating morality of this purānam. In like manner tales are recorded of various other sacred places, or pools, at or near Ramiseram—the sins removed, and the benefits conveyed by bathing there. Dhanusk kōtti is the name of a pool, which removed a curse pronounced on Urvasi and Rembhā, courtzans of Sverga; and so with other sacred pools; quite in the usual style of local Sāiva legends. The whole cannot be abstracted here, as this is not a formal analysis.

The book is long, and thick, on talipot leaves, not very old, and in good order.

12. No. 1849. Brahma kāivartta purānam.

The Uttara-khandam, or last part; ascribed to Sula rishi.

The Vijayapuri mahatmyam, from the 70th section to the 76th complete, the 77th is defective. The 71st relates to the Bhadrica vnam. The whole is in the usual style of such legends, as to the virtues and efficacy of places, and pools; among others Arunachala, or Trinomali, near Madras.

This book must be distinguished from the Brahma vaivartta purānam which relates to Krishna. This is Saiva, wanting the purva, or first part; and may be a play on words, as to the difference of orthography.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

13. No. 1850. Padma purānam.

The Uttara khanda, or last part; this portion is complete on 161 leaves. Stated to be a conversation between Dilipa rāja of the solar line (ancestor of Rāma) and Vasishta: the latter being the teacher. The benefit of bathing in the month named Māgha—in the Ganges, Cāveri, and other rivers—from the 11th tit'hi of pushya to the 11th tit'hi of Māgha (January—February) in the bright lunar half month, and on the bright half of the following month. At these times bathing, with fasting, will produce the ishtasiddhi (desirables) of dherma, art'ha, cāma, mōcsha, or virtue, property, pleasure, and final bliss: in Tamil aram, porul inbam, vīdu; and this both in the present birth, or state, and in that to come; not quite assorting with the idea of mōcsham.

Legendary tale in illustration.

Bhrigu rishi was doing penance on Himayut hill, when a Vidyadhara and his wife came, saying that he had all needful possessions, only with the defect of a tiger's face, and asked how this was? Bhrigu said, if you fast on the 11th day of Māgha, and bathe without using* oil on the 12th tit'hi, you will part with your tiger's face, and get a better one. He had before used oil both on the 11th and 12th tit'his. He now obeyed his instructions; and a handsome face was given to him.

Another tale occupies from the 4th to the 8th adhyāya, or section; in brief as follows:

Kucha rishi had a son named Mṛigu sringa (beasts horn) from beasts pushing at him, when bathing in a river. He wished to have a wife of good disposition. His father told him that he who does not fast, and bathe in the month Māgha cannot have a good wife. The son went to bathe in the Cāveri. Suvrata the daughter of Uchaca rishi had, with her companions, observed the bathing in Māgha, for three years. At this time an elephant killed her, and tossed her dead body into a well. Mṛigu sringa was near; and told the people to take care of the body. He went into the river, and invoked Yama, who appeared, and asked him what he wanted. He desired that the said female might be restored to life. This was granted; as also that no such calamity should happen to him. On retiring the same elephant attacked him; but he remained without fear. The elephant put him on its neck, related its past history, and how it became a beast. It was delivered from its bestial form, getting a good one. Subsequently the father told his son that the resuscitated female was to be his wife. He sought, and obtained her. It may be desirable, on many accounts, that such extravagances should not be hidden under a religious veil.

The book is long, thick, and in good order.

14. No. 1852. Padma purānam, part of the uttara khandā, a discourse between Siva and Parvati, containing the Māgha mahātmyam 4th to 11th adhyāya complete so far, on religious rites and bathing in the month Māgha. No. 1754 supra contains the 29th—31st sections.

This book is long, thin, and in good order.

15. No. 1853. Varāha purānam.

From the carma cāndam. The 1st section to the 27th; so far complete. The 6th to the 65th leaf relates to four special months the efficacy of which is stated. The purānam was delivered by Vishnu, as the Varáha avatára, to Bhu Devi, here termed Dhárini, the earth-goddess.

* On vratas, or fast days, it is not allowed to rub oil on the head, or body, after bathing. Matth. chap. G v. 17.

One legend was looked into, containing a long narrative of a Sudra man and woman who, through poverty, exposed their child on the banks of the Ganges; when the cries of the child were heard by Gútami, a female devotee, who reared the child, and taught it to go, and cut wood; by which means it became known to its parents. The Sudra child in the following birth became a Brahman. The tenor of such legends is to intimate the virtue of times, or places.

This book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

16. No. 1855. Padmá puránam.

Another copy nearly complete of the uttara khanda; agreeing with No. 1850 supra. In this copy the 34th-102d and 113th leaves, are wanting, and the paging is wrong in another place, not effecting the connexion of the matter; which is the same as in No. 1850 q. v.

17. No. 1856. Agni puránam.

From the 1st adhyaya, or section, to the 31st, so far complete: ślokas only. It contains the Tula-cáveri mahátmya, on the great advantages of bathing in the river Caveri in the month Tula (Sept. Oct.) with other matters on prosperity, and the removal of sin. Such mahátmyas are sometimes apocryphal: as not found in the purána referred to. This book is short and thick, formed of talipat leaves, cut down to the size, in good order.

18. No. 1859. Scánda puránam.

Another copy of the Sétu mahátmya, See No. 1847, supra: also from the 1st to 52d section, so far complete, leaves 1 to 170 regular; the legend complete.

In the Náimisara vanam, Suta-rishi narrated to other rishis the fame of the temple at Ramiseram. The placing the image ascribed to Ráma: view of the sétu, or promontory—the chakra-pool—the formation of the bridge by Ráma—virtue of bathing in sacred pools, and of bathing at the setu in particular. The virtue of each pool stated. The chakra-pool derives its name, and efficacy from a rácshasa (or savage) killed near it, by the chakra or missile weapon of Vishnu. For other matter see No. 1847. This book is long, thick, and in good order.

19. No. 1862. Garuda puránam.

Here stated to have been delivered by Garuda to Morichi, and written down in the Vishnu dhermóttara.

Legend of Práhláda, connected with the Narasinha avatára. The Váishnava dherma, or rules, and observances proper to the votaries of Vishnu—it includes many Tantrica rites. The word tantra it may be noted, is often used in distinction from mantra; tantra the "rubric," mantra the matter of prayer, or spell; as the case may be. The mode of pūja or homage is here given. Modes proper to Bramāchāri, Vanaprasī'ha, and Sanniyāsi—duties of a chaste wife—Hari-pūja, mode of homage to Vishnu—offering of cakes made with curds-ghee-honey, and merit or reward of reciting the names of Vishnu—the efficacy and excellency of the Sulagrama (See XVII)—reward generally of service to Vishnu—the merit of gōdanam gift of a cow bhūda nam gift of land, anna danam gift of food. The écadasi mahatmyam, or excellence of fasting on the 11th lunar day. The dhermā or right conduct proper to the four yugas, or ages—satya-tréta-dwapara-cālī, and many other matters. The leaves are 1 to 89 in regular order; but the book is incomplete. It is of medium size, old, and sadly damaged by termites.

20. No. 1863. Brahma kāvartta purānam.

Ascribed to Suta rishi. The 1st adhyāya, or section is incomplete; from the 2d to 39th section complete so far. The leaves number 111 to 185. Benefit of hearing purānas, illustrated by a lengthened tale. The excellence of the Bhāgavatam (probably the Sri Bhagavata a Saiva book)—the glory of Brahmans—efficacy of bathing in the Ganges—legend of the birth of Ganga; origin of the Bhāratam; and many other like stories.

For another portion of this work, see 12 No. 1849. From the rivalry of the Vaishnavas and Saivas, and from the jealousy of the latter, as to the popularity of Krishna, it is probable that this play on letters kāvartta to resemble vāivartta was used.

This book is long, medium, and in good order.

21. No. 1871. Scānda purānam.

The Brahmōttara khandam, the 23d adhyāya, or section complete. The subject is a description of the excellence, and benefits of listening to the reading of purānas—its fruits—how to hear—the sin of opposing the hearing, and other like matters.

The book is long, thin, old, and a little injured by worms.

22. No. 1946. Scānda purāna.

The Brahmōttara khandam—by Suta to other rishis.

The glory of Siva, superiority of his votaries—the value of mantras, prayers, vratas fasting directed to him—the power of the 5 lettered charm—excellency of homage to Siva—splendor of his name—the glory of the Siva-rātri, and of the pradōsha—here stated to be the time of Siva's dancing; when the vēdas are not to be intoned (also not to be read) on the 1st and 5th tithis, nor at the time of eclipses: which are astrologically dangerous times.

on the excellency of the sacred ashes—the Siva carucham, a spell for the defence of all the bodily members ; on the tripunram, or three for head stripes, horizontal—value of the mark—the value of the fast to the honor of 'Uma, and Mahésvara—the glory of the sacred beads—and the like Saiva matter ; each one illustrated by a legendary tale. The leaves 1—150 ; the 80th only half a leaf.

The book is of medium length, and thickness, old and a little damaged.

23. No. 1962. Cshama Cárjyam, founded on the Curma avasaram.

By Nila kant'ha dicshada.

Description of Sverga, inclusive of its courtizans. Indra lost his all by reason of the curse of Durvasa—he was conquered by the asuras—Indra went and complained to Brahma, who went to Vishnu—the latter gave direction that the dévas and asuras should churn the milk-sea, whence the means of strength would come ; which he would secure for the dévas. Lacshmi, and others, came from the churning of the sea—afterwards the amrita. The venom of the serpent vasuki which mingled with it—Siva eat of it, and became ill—Vishnu, as Möhini, took the vessel, and gave it the dévas ; saying it would give them strength. They went to Sverga—special praise to Siva. as Nila kant'ha—“blue throated” is mixed up with the other matters—complete in 5 avásas leaf 1—49.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

24. No. 2013. Gáruda puránam.

The uttara khandam, shlokas without prose commentary—said to have been delivered by Súta to Sarunaca and other rishis : in 9 akhayas complete.

1st Chap : the excellency of the Bilcáranya or forest of a kind of tree sacred to Siva—on the Nrisimhópatti, or birth of the Narasimhár atara. Account of the 5th son of Brahma named Cardama : his penance, and its fruits. Legend of the khlátini pool, a saras or fountain : the shrine there is termed Spansana, the town is named Lacshmi puri ; their fame.

2d and 3d chapters dwell on the value, and beneficial influences of the said fountain.

4th, 5th, 6th, 7th Chapters narrate the removal of a curse from the above mentioned Cardama. ♣

8th and 9th Chapters, the marriage of Lilápa and Cumudvati, the site being westward.

The leaves are 41—63, wanting those preceding which might contain the purva khandam. It differs from the Garúra purána and may be a sectarian play on words. There is also $\frac{1}{2}$ a leaf from the Sri rangha mahātmya of the Brahmānda-purānu. The entire book is of medium length, thin, recent in appearance; but a little damaged.

25. No. 2051. Padma purānam, the Māgha mahātmyam ascribed to Vasishtha who told it to Dilīpa; and then narrated by Suta to other rishis.

It consists of various tales to illustrate the great benefit of bathing in sacred pools, or rivers in the month Māgha, before the sun rises—all sins thereby removed—all desired success obtained—legends of persons who derived benefit from the practice. Eight adhyāyas, the 8th being incomplete—leaves 1—29 and 3—32. At the beginning are 3 leaves ślokas, on various subjects. The book has no boards, is of medium length, talipat leaves, old, yet in good order.

26. No. 2053. Paḍma purānam, the uttara khandam or supplement from the 29th adhyāya to 34th this last incomplete. Delivered from Vishnu to Brahma, from Brahma to Nāreda, from Nāreda to sages, from Vashishtha to king Dilīpa.

Dilīpa enquired of Vasishtha the means of acquiring beatification. In reply Vasishtha states that there is no para-devata superior to Vishnu. The value of the 8 lettered charm is stated, with the ceremonies attendant on its use: how to put on the discus, and shell marks, on the arms and shoulders—the value of doing so, told by Rudra to Pārvati—the great importance of the forehead trident mark—the mode of putting it on. Description of a disciple who is taught the mantras used on those occasions; and the excellency of the mantras as to their results. Various like matter, leaves 84—98 incomplete 22 blank leaves at the end. The book is of medium length, thin, and recent.

XXI. PURANAS LOCAL, OR MAHATMYAS.

1. No. 1841. Halasya mahātmyam, erroneously stated to be from the Scanda purānam. It relates to Madura, the tank, and Saiva temple there; the marriage of Suntara and Minacshi—with a variety of humorous adventures (or līlas) ascribed to Siva in all sixty four. The name signifies the “laughter legend.” The Tamil version is abstracted in Oriental Hist. M. S. S. &c. published in 1835.

This book is long, thick, and in good order.

2. No. 1857. Kerala mahātmyam, also known as Bhūcola purānam, ślokas from the 1st to the 56th adhyāya complete.

Vyāsa and other rishis being in company with Bharṅava that is Parasu Rāma, the latter asks concerning the earth in general, and the kēraḷa dēśa, or Malayalam country in particular. The book professes to be Vyāsa's reply, giving various details of continents, and rivers, and 56 countries; then stating the account of Parasu Rāma rescuing the Malayālam Country from the ocean, and subsequent details. The book is known to be a work corresponding, in a general way, with the kérala utpatti in the Malayalam language; perhaps its original source. A smaller book is appended, the Bhugavat Gīta complete, in the Malayālam language, and letter.

The entire book is short, of medium thickness, of cut talipat leaves, and in good order.

3. Cshētra-mahātmyam, said to be from the Brahmānda purānam and also containing the Muntapa-mahātmyam. From the 1st adhyāya to the 12th; but various intermediate leaves are wanting. It is written partly in the Telugu letter, partly in the Grant'ha letter; and contains the usual tales, and illustration as to the virtue, and beneficial influence of particular localities. These appear to relate to the temple of Seringham, in the Cauvery near Trichinopoly.

The book is long, thin, and has one end broken.

4. No. 1861. Srī rangha Mahātmyam, from the Brahmānda purānam, the 5th to the 10th adhyāyam—leaf 7—16. Narrated by Siva to Narēda.

The splendor of the place, and glory of its deity. The mode of incarnation there—the image now worshipped by kings was first given by Rāma to Vibishina, who took it on his return towards Lanca from Ayōdhya; but, on a divine communication from the image of its will and pleasure, deposited it at this place, established on the rangham or island of the Cāveri, near Trichinopoly. A fuller detail will be given elsewhere.

The book is long, thin, on talipat leaves, old, and damaged.

5. No. 1864. Yādava giri mahātmyam 12 adhyāyas, the last one incomplete, leaves 2—65. The letter is Grant'ha, but the language is Canarese.

The creation of all things. The legend of Vishnu's appearance, to Brahmā—legend of the kalyāna-pool—cause of the name yādava giri—the excellency of meditating on Vishnu—account of Dattātrēya, a lesser manifestation of Vishnu—excellency of the Vēdas—the value of the tulasi plant, and importance of the fast on the 11th lunar day—the release at this place of the sons of Vasishta from the curse of Visvamitra—the injustice of the kali-yuga, or present age—and various other matters. Further notice will appear, with reference to Rāmanuja and the yādava kings.

This book is of medium length, old, and much damaged.

6. No. 1865. Vencatádri mahátmyam, or legend of Tripeti said to be from the Varáha puránam, 34th to 62d adhyaýam leaves 2 to 55—incomplete. Three leaves are prefixed containing a description of the Puricshit or examining board—and the value of the water that has washed gurús feet, if drunk by a disciple—with a few separate ślócas of no value. Then the legend.

This fragment relates to the Varáha avatára of Vishnu the fame of the hill named after it—the mode of Vishnu's incarnation there—the kapila-pool—and many other sacred pools—their excellency. By bathing in the svámi-pushcara pool, Ráma (i. e. Vishnu) was enabled to kill Rávana—the great fame of that pool—praise of Agastya—and other legendary stories, as usual.

7. No. 1867. Tūla cáveri mahátmyam, said to be from the Brahma kádivarttam, and narrated by Déva Varma leaf 1—39 incomplete.

On the origin of the Cáveri river; the benefit of bathing in it—in the Tūla month (Oct. Nov.); the excellency of its water, and various legendary stories; according to the usage of legends of places.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

8. No. 1868. Sanghamésvara mahátmyam, stated to be the tirtha khandam of the Bhavishottra puránam—71st to 75th adhyaýa leaf 21—35 incomplete.

The site is at Veda-giri, the junction of the Caveri and Bharani rivers, in the lower Carnatic, the fame of that place—glory of the deity there—wonderful nature of a stone there named after the gayatri—the like of a country apple tree (Tamil ilanta, sansc. batiri)—the tupas of Visvamitra, who was once a king; but having fought with Vasishta, he did penance, and become a Brahmárshi—Siva killed here an asura, named Marutta of the race of Naracásura—the fame of the pool named after the Sun—a king of the kerala-country came, bathed in it, and did homage there; by which means he obtained the blessing of a son.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

9. Vencata giri mahátmyam, legend of Tripeti, stated to be from the Brahmānda puránam delivered by Bhrigu to Náreda 10 adhyaýas, wanting 1 leaf leaves 71—104.*

1. Vishnu became manifest at Vencatádri or Tripeti, on account of a ruler, the son of a Chola king, referring to Adonda.
2. The fable of the serpent 'Adi-śésha—sent down to earth, and became a mountain.—Vishnu come to repose thereon.
3. The incarnation, or appearance of Vishnu, at Tripeti.

4. Account of Vishnu's hunting on that mountain.
5. Reason why the hill came to be called Anjanāchalam.
6. The birth of a son to the Chola rāja. The splendor of the procession termed Bhagara, and a variety of other illustrative legends.

The book is long, thin, old, and much worm eaten.

10. No. 2050. Tunga bhadra khandam stated to be from the Brahmānda purānam; ślōcas without any comment.

The Tungabhadra (or Toomboodra) river flowed from the two tusks of the boar in the Varāha avatāra; they who bathe in that river, and they who drink of its water, will obtain Brahma's world—many rishis, apsaras, or celestial females, bathed in it, and obtained their wishes. The meritorious days for such bathing—the 14th lunar day, the full, and new moon—and these especially in the lunar month karkhata (June July) at that time by bathing there, even the killing of a Brahman, and other great crimes will be removed as to the guilt; and above that, merit will be added to acquire (mōcsham) beatification. The proof of these various points consists in the relation of many tales, as to the wonders wrought by this river.

A fragment is added, as the 11th, 12th, 13th adhyāyas, stated to be from the Bhavishottara purānam, narrated by Krishna to the Dhermaputra or the Pāndavas, on the excellency of the Tungabhadra river.

The entire book is long, thin, old, and very much injured.

11. No. 2054. Sri rangha mahātmyam.

Stated to be from the Brahmānda purānam; ślōcas without comment. Delivered by Istara to Nāreda. The excellency of the site—and fame of the chandra pushcara pool: glory of the lord of Sri rangham the image was given by Rāma at Ayodhya to Vibishina, who travelling southward, received a divine intimation that the god chose to stay, and dwell at this place, other following matters. This legend is complete in 10 adhyāyas, or chapters.

The book is long, and thin, in perfect order.

12. No. 2062. Includes the Caveri mahātmyam. (See XI) or legend of the Caveri river, but incomplete leaves 35—50, the 43d wanting ---with the ślōcas, the sense of the words is given in the Tamil language. An outline may be best drawn from a complete copy.

The entire book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

XXII. RHETORICAL.

1. No. 1933. Chitra mimamsa, on Rhetoric, termed alancāra.

In this book are contained upamanam, comparison upamānot-prācsha, the same, including the coloring or varnish of any subject—apanudī, confutation, and some other rules and principles. Tutta danta bhēda, is a subdivision, in one case, and there are four or five subdivisions to each division. This is the fifth branch of native grammar; but has also relation to the tarkha sastra, or logic.

The book is complete, long, thin, rather old, and some leaves are broken.

2. No. 1948. Kūvala yānantam, on Rhetoric, as connected with the art of poetry. A commentary by Appāiyya dīcshada, on the chandra-lōca of Cālī dasa. On upamānam, or comparison 1.) its subdivisions 2.) its properties 3.) distichs quoted in exemplification.

On alancāram, or ornament.

- 1.) Rupaca 2.) apanava 3.) sama sōctī 4.) utprayacsha e. g. the moon termed a lotos-flower 5.) retyandādi-sayōctī 6.) vrādimat smṛitī &c. with properties, and distichs in exemplification. They contain various rhetorical figures. The book is complete in 27 leaves, ślōcas and prose, mixed. At the end two distinct leaves on the same general subject, and two other leaves in dēva nāgarī. The entire book is long, thin, rather old; but in tolerable condition.

3. No. 1949. Sarva-sanjivini, a commentary on a work entitled Alancāra-sarvasā, on the properties of heroic poems (kāvya lacshanas): included in which are—upamāna comparison, sandēha equivocation, or doubt, vrāndimata apanava utprecsha, metonymy alīzaya-yūctiyata, being divisions of alancāra, or poetical Rhetoric, with subdivisions. Various ślōcas, and some sūtras, are given, as examples, under the several particulars: together with the meaning of those extracts in plainer language leaves 1 to 148; but wanting leaves 17—21 and 90 to be complete.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

4. No. 1952. Kūvala yānantam, a comment on the chandra-loca, as before stated. The upamānam-apanudī-alīzayayōctī, and many other divisions of this art: with the distinctions between them; and with ślōcas in exemplification, taken from the original work by Cālī-dāsa, leaf 1—54 incomplete.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and much injured.

XXIII. ROMANCE-HISTORICAL, OR LEGENDARY.

1. No. 1776. Four subjects,

1.) Nalópákhyánam, ślocas complete; the subject founded on the Bháratam, the aranya parvam, 49th adhyáya to 78th; or 30 chapters. When the five Pándavas were in the wilderness, Dherma rája complained to Bhrigádasva-rishi, who consoled him by narrating the greater sufferings of Nala rája. His birth, marriage with Damayanti: the Pushcara rája overcame him by dice, and took his kingdom; he and his wife went to the wilderness—he became a leper—he and his wife separated—went into different services—again met, and Nala recovered his kingdom. Hence Dherma rája was encouraged to hope for better days.

2.) Harischandrópákhyánam, ślocas, complete; founded on the Harivansa.

1st to 10th adhyáya, related by Váisambayana to Janaméjeya. As Harischandra would not tell a lie he thereby forfeited his kingdom to Visvamitra, through the latter's devices—he went with his wife to the wilderness—both were separated, and reduced to extreme wretchedness. In the end, because he would not tell a lie, he recovered his kingdom.

3.) An extract from the Padma-puránam, but merely relating to the obtaining the pasupatastra from Siva, by Arjuna—stated to be from the ashta murti parvam, 3 chapters from the 42d to the 44th adhyáya.

4.) Kusala vópákhyanam from the uttra khanda of the *Rámáyana*m.

The subject is the doubt caused in the mind of Ráma as to Sita, by a village rumour, overheard by him—sent her to the wilderness—Valmika took her under his care till delivered of twins—Kusa and Lava—and reared the children. Ráma made an asvamédha-yágam—the horse was caught by the boys. No one could take it from them, till Ráma himself came; when he recognized his sons. Sita sustained the ordeal of fire, and was restored to her rights.

The entire book is long, of medium thickness, old, but in good order.

2. No. 1777. Bháratam.

1.) The udyóga-parvam—from 179th to 200th section—the tale of Ambi. The efforts of the Pandavas before the battle, in the way of preparation.

2.) The asvamédha-parvam, has 4 leaves only of the 99th section, and from 100th to 114th section, with only two leaves of the 115th section, on gifts and offerings of cows, land &c. mode of eating; various modes of expiation.

- 3.) Iihásóttama, the excellent itihása, a term applied to the Bháratam and Rámáyanam: 20th section to the 24th and three leaves of the 25th. The benefit of homage to Vishnu—the value, as to merit, of a gift of land. The superiority of the votaries of Vishnu—and other matters.

The book is long, and thin, some leaves are broken off at one end.

3. No. 1778. Yuddhist'hira vijayam, slócas or múlam only.

By Vasu deva, from the 1st to the 8th asvásam, or section, complete, only wanting the 17th, 18th and 19th leaves. It is a brief abridgment of the subject of the Bháratam; but is stated to be not good poetry, and the hand writing is large, and coarse.

The book is long, thin, and new.

4. No. 1779. Bála Bhárata vyākhyánam.

An epitome of the Bháratam, for schools; with an explanation of the slócas.

By Saluva Timmana danda nút'ha.

The 10th and 11th sargas are right, the 12th incomplete. They refer to the residence of the Pándavas in the wilderness; the 12th has reference to the udyóga parvam.

The book is of medium size, and slightly damaged.

5. No. 1780. Hari vamsam, line of Krishna from the 130th to the 248th adhyaýa or 18 chapters.

By Váísambáyana to Janaméjeya.

It contains the story of the Parijata flower, or quarrel between Satyabhatma and Rucmeni—the killing of Bánásura and a variety of other subjects in these 18 chapters, not needing detail: as the Hari—Vamsa has been translated into French.

This book is long, of medium thickness, and very much worm-eaten.

6. No. 1781. Harischandrópákhyánam the legend of Harischandra—from the 1st to the 10th adhyaýa, or chapter complete. See 1.

No. 1776. Sect. 2.

The book is long, thin, and very much worm-eaten.

7. No. 1784. Bháratam—supplementary.

The aschárya parvam, or sésa dharmam, slócas only. The Hari vamsam an appendix to the Bháratam, and deemed difficult as to language—the 40th to the 57th adhyaýa, so far complete. This part contains a solution of various questions proposed for replies—among others as to the Siva rátri. The Narasinha avataram, and Dráupadis enquiry, how a female may acquire all prosperity.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

8. No. 1792. Uttara Rámáyanam—slócas.

By Válmiki—from 1st to 110th sarga complete.

Narrative of transactions subsequent to Ráma's being crowned at Ayódhya, with a retrospect put into the mouth of Agastya, as to the yacsha race of Pulast'hya, down to Rávana, and his brethren, matters relative to Sita—her retirement by Ráma's command to a forest—birth of two sons in a hermitage there—and subsequent restoration to favor and confidence.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

9. No. 1794. Rámáyanam—slócas without comment.

By Válmiki.

The kish kinda cándam, or book relative to Ráma's transactions with Vali, Sugriva, and others. The word kish kinda means eastern (or low) hill.

There is only about one-fourth of this division; one half of the 1st sarga. 2d to 17th sarga nearly complete. 18th sarga has only two leaves. Some leaves are deficient in the 9th, 10th and 11th sargas; 126 leaves remain, in the large coarse hand writing of a school boy.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

- 9½. No. 1796. Prasanna Rámáyanam, slócas, with Chúrnihái, chorus or anapaest, measure.

By Deváchárya.

From the 1st to the 21st sarga, the subject and book complete. An abridgement of the entire Rámáyanam.

The book is long, thin, in good order.

10. No. 1797. Rámáyanam gachad vyákyánam.

By Varada rájaya. A comment on select passages of the Rámáyanam. These annotations relate to the Balu-Ayódhya—and 'Aranya cándas, or divisions; but the latter one is a little defective.

The book is long, thin, and much damaged.

11. No. 1798. Rāmāyana adhyātma.

A mere fragment of four leaves, and two other leaves broken, relating to the yūddha cāndam: and of that form of the Rāmāyanam said to be delivered by Mahésvara to 'Uma.

Two loose leaves Telugu, each in a different hand writing: one relates to the nine planets, the other has directions when to eat.

The book is long, thin, old, damaged.

12. No. 1800. Māgha cāvyaṃ, ślōcas only; fragment of a heroic poem, on the expedition of Krishna against Sisupāla, with a variety of ornamental illustrations.

From the 1st to the 11th sarga, and the 12th to the 66th ślōcas; See other notices under β. A. a.

A tradition may here be noted that there were two warders in the paradise of Vādicōṅṅha, who for some offence, were condemned to undergo three transmigrations on earth, and to be three times slain by Vishnu in person: accomplished in Hiranyacsha and Hiranyacasapu slain by Varāha and Nrisinha: in Rāvāna and Cumbhakerna killed by Rāma: and in Sisupāla and Dandavakra—destroyed by Krishna.

This book is of medium size, and in good order.

13. No. 1801. Cumara sambhavam, on the birth of Subrahmanya, By Cālī dāsa. From the 1st to the 7th sarga. The others wanting. Description of Himālaya—birth of Parvati there—the penance of Siva—Manmata's attempt to nullify it—burnt to ashes by Siva's frontlet eye—his wife Rati complained. Siva told her that her sorrow should be removed—the marriage of Siva with Parvati.

The larger portion is a commentary on the original; and named Sanjivini, by Kōla chēla mālli nāl'ha—1st to 7th sarga, the 8th sarga has only 45 ślōcas of the comment, leaf 1—163.

The book is long, thick, injured. The original though oldest, is better preserved than the comment, which is worn, and broken.

14. No. 1803. Māgha vyākhyānam, comment on the heroic poem of Māgha.

By Kōla chēla mālli nāl'ha sūri, the commentator on three other classical poems.

The comment is from 15 to 19th sarga; without the mūlam, or original.

The book is of medium size, recent, and in good order: blank leaves make up one third at the end.

15. No. 1804. Raghu vamsa, line of Raghu.

By Cáli dása.

From Dilpa, Raghu, Aja, and Dasarat'ha to Ráma---account of their dispositions---actions, and fame; with an epitome of the Rámáyana: this copy is incomplete, and of course the story likewise.

Sargas 2—7 of this last 30 ślocas.

„ 9—14 of this 16 ślocas.

The book is of medium length, thick, and in good order.

16. No. 1805. Mágha Cávya-vyákyánam.

2d sarga—first 28 ślōcas—mūlam deficient ; at the end 1 leaf wanting.

3d sarga—ślōcas only—-incomplete.

5th sargam—original ślōcas, complete.

3d sargam, wants both beginning and ending ; middle portion remains.

This book is long, but composed of pieces of differing lengths, of medium thickness, and somewhat damaged.

29. No. 1826. Māgha Cāvyaṃ—-the original only.

By Vannin Māgha.

The 1st and 2d sargas complete.

The 3d sarga wants the two first leaves, other sargas deficient.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

30. No. 1828. Cumara sambhava-mūlam.

By Cali dāsa.

The 6th and 7th sargas—-the 8th incomplete.

The book is long, thin, old, and much damaged.

31. No. 1829. Raghu vamsam—the original only.

By Cáli dása.

From the 3d to the 9th sargam, the 3d and 4th are in Telugu letter, from the 5th to the 9th Telugu and Grant'ha letter mingled.

The book is of medium size, and much injured, by the leaves being gnawed off at one end.

32. No. 1830. Mágha Cáyam, the original only.

By Vannin Mágha.

From the 1st to the 6th sarga, so far complete; one leaf, on homage to Vishnu, prefixed; and two loose leaves of the 5th sarga, from some other copy.

The book is long, of medium thickness, a little damaged.

33. No. 1833. Kirátarjunyam, a classic poem, founded on an episode of the Bháratam.

The 1st sargam to the 3d so far complete; and 38 ślocaś only of the 4th sargam. The subject is the penance of Arjuna—Siva's coming to him disguised as a hunter—Arjuna obtained the Pasupatástram; and other connected matters. The book is long, thin, old, the ends broken off, so as to injure the coherency of meaning.

34. No. 1834. Mágha cavyam.

From the 1st to the 3d sarga only; about $\frac{1}{2}$ Grant'ha, the other $\frac{1}{2}$ nágarī letter.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

35. No. 1835. Magha cavyam, or Sisupála vati; Sisupála was a king and rival of Krishna. "His insults at length exceeded one hundred and the chakra cut of his head." A mere fragment of parts of the 4th, 5th, 6th and 11th sargas, many intermediate leaves wanting, looks new, and the loss of so many leaves is unaccountable. The book is short, thin, in good order.

36. No. 1837. Kirátarjunyam, a comment on the original, prose.

The original is by Bharavi: this lagha tica or easy explanation, is by Pracása varshu. The episode from the Aranya parvam of the Bháratam—amplified. See 1833.

37. No. 1851. Mahá Bháratá sangraha, an epitome of the Bháratam, by Mahésvára in ślocaś only, without any prose explanation.

The book is complete, and divided into 17 parvas, or books instead of 18 in the original. The abridger has also taken the liberty to name some of the books otherwise than in his exemplar, as follows.

1. Sambhava parvam	25	adhyāyas.
2. Sambha	8	"

15. Māusala	2	"
16. Mahā prastānicam	1	"
17. Svergu rohanā	2	"

It thus appears that the number of chapters is also curtailed.

The book is of medium length, the leaves very broad, 331 in number, written in a small, and very beautiful hand; unusually neat for the Grant'ha character; in good order.

38. No. 2045. Chambu-Rāmāyanam.

By Vitarbha rāja; otherwise Bhōja rāja. On the story of the Rāmāyanam, 1 to 5 ancas or divisions. Also,

Chambu Bhāratam, divided into Sī'hapacas, or stations 1 to 4 deficient. The 5th relates to Bhīma's killing a cannibal-giant, with the tale of yacsham an asura: 7th section on the service rendered by the Pāndavas to Virata rāja. This poem is by Ananta Bhatta.

[The chambu is a kind of mixed versification, with changing measures to relieve, and please the ear: being thus adapted to minstrelsy, which heavy slōcas, or spondaic distichs, are not. It is thereby fitted for public recitation, especially before kings.]

This book is short, and thin, no boards, on talipat leaves, in good order.

39. No. 2100. Bhārata-Rāmāyana-Bhāgavata saram. The substance of those three works, in slōcas.

By Chitambara cavi. That book is the original of which this book is an explanation, or sort of comment, entitled Art'ha pradīpica, or "clear light of meaning," in prose.

By Ananta Sumiti: incomplete.

The original is a play of intellect, aided by the character of the Sanscrit language; whereby historical points of some general resemblance in kind, are described in ślokas, capable of three renderings; one being an event narrated in the Bhāratam; another a circumstance from the Rāmāyanam; and a third an occurrence from the Bhāgavatam. The work of the commentary is to explain these three meanings. The style brief.

The book is long, having 80 leaves not regularly strung, rather old, and touched by insects.

XXIV. SECTARIAL OR POLEMICAL.

01. No. 1113. Sāiva karnāmritam—prose.

By Appāya dīcshada.

A polemical Saiva work. The writer first states that the Pāncra, the Vishnu purāna, and other works are favorable to the Vaishnava system. Some of these books he controverts, and labors to prove that Siva is the only Param, or Supreme, or First cause of the universe; consequently the book may be termed monotheistic; only using the name Siva, for the Divine Being.

The book is long, thin, and of recent copying.

1. No. 1727. Sivadiya manī dīpica, a comment on a book called "Siva's jewel." This comment is otherwise known as Brimha mīmāṃsa bhāsyā vyākyaṇam—prose.

By Appāya dīcshada.

The object of the work is to maintain the sole supremacy of Siva; by quoting sūtras from the Vedas and from other authorities. It is polemic, of the advaita class; chap. 1.—complete, chap. 2.—only 5 leaves.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on 127 leaves, old, some leaves a little broken at the end.

2. No. 1731. Dēva pūta stavam, ślokas.

By Jāimini muni.

Many rishis asked Suta, what Jāimini of Pundaricapuram had done. Suta replies by a statement that Jāimini rendered homage and service to Siva, and Parvati. As such it has the appearance of artifice to add the lustre of the name of Jāimini to the Saiva class.

The use of his name, and that of Suta is doubtless spurious.

The book is long, thin on 10 leaves; rather old, in tolerable order.

3. No. 1747. Garuda pancha-sakti, or fifty ślokas addressed to Garuda.

Vedānta désika composed these ślōcas, and wrote a prose explanation. He was distinguished among the Vaduca class of Drāvīda Brāhmanas. One Pulalō-āchārya, a Tengala set a serpent upon him to destroy him. Vedānta appealed by mantras to Garuda who came, and cut the snake in pieces. On this account he praised Garuda in these ślōcas. There would appear to be but slender difference between these two classes; but their enmity towards each other is strong. The tengala system prevails at, and around Conjeveram. A lengthened explanation is by Vatūlam Rāmanūja.

This book is old, and a little damaged.

3½. No. 1751. Vishnu-sahasra nāma.

The 1008 names of Vishnu in ślōcas, and a prose explanation—complete.

The book is of medium length, thin, and damaged.

4. No. 1799. Rāmāyana sūra stavam.

A poem founded on the Rāmāyanam.

By Appāiya dīchhada Pandita.

The subject is to take the substance of the Rāmāyanam, and turn it to the praise of Siva; because Rāma did many things pertaining to Sāiva homage. Hence this author infers that Siva is greater than Rāma, and the only object of praise.

The ślōcas have an explanation, and both are complete, on 12 leaves only.

The book is long, and recent.

5. No. 1819. Syāmalā dandacam, a chant in lengthened lines, in praise of Syāma, the name of a sacti of Siva, in the north—asccribed to Cālī dāsa. It is in the style of a devotee asking favor; but said to be not of the female energy class of writings; though the name Syāma, is of frequent use in works of that class.

This book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

6. No. 1923. Sūtra muktā kalābham, extreme Vaishnavā in kind. It is a very miscellaneous treatise of a Tengala class; having a reference to the human body and soul, and supported by large quotations from various authorities. The following brief outlines indicate the contents.

The Vēda is a rule, or law. The Pāncha rātram is the fifth Vēda. The human sensitive soul by the māyam (power, or illusion) of Vishnu, receives birth, and the various accidents of life, and death.

The classes of created beings are angels, men, beasts, birds, fishes, reptiles, trees, &c. &c.

The human body is subject to many diseases ; and is liable to the vices of covetousness, cruelty, drunkenness, envy, lust. The six great sins. Men receive in this life the consequences of such vices, or of contrary virtues, which occurred in a former birth.

Those few persons who desire beatification are favored with a perception of Vishnu's presence. Bhagavàn, or God is all in all. He alone has almighty power. He bears Lacshmi (plenty &c. on his breast) Bhagavàn has many attributes or properties. Devotion leads to a possession of the presence and blessing of Bhagavàn. Men ought, of necessity, to use the prayer taught by a spiritual guru. The benefit of the Váishnava mark, or brands on the shoulders &c. (strongly condemned by Sáivas) if any one do not place the mark of the chank and chakra on his shoulders, though he be a Brahman he is yet a Sudra. Both the outside and the inside lines of the náma (mark on the forehead) are meritorious—the Sáivas may be left to use Vibhúti, or ashes. If any one perform an act in itself meritorious ; but, without the náma, then it is not meritorious. Without first rendering homage to Vishnu, food should not be eaten in any house. If a Brahman eat proper food with good and respectable people his personal appearance will be good, but if he eat unclean food it will cause sexual lust. He must not hold conversation with mean, or low people. If he serve honorable persons, that is good, and praiseworthy. What kind of people are those satgunas described. Bad, or worthless people must not be approached. These, and other like matters—some good, some questionable, are backed by quotations from Védas-Smritis-puránas—the Rámayanam the Bháratam, Samhitas ; but the book does not finish.

It is of medium size, rather old, and gnawed by rats at one extremity, near the latter part.

7. No. 1972. Kálahastisá vilásam, chiefly in shlokas, some prose, complete.

In this book are many quotations from the yajur Veda, from the Bháratam, and Rámayanam and from the Ishvara gita. From these, and other sources the writer establishes the sole supremacy (or monarchy) of Siva, and confutes any other's claim thereto. Siva is the alone Param.

The book is long, and thin, two leaves at the end broken ; otherwise in good order.

8. No. 1981. Máha Bhárata tátparya racsha, The meaning of the Bháratam preserved ; polemical, and Sáiva ; leaf 1—30.

By Vedantachárya.

The author confutes, or denies the claim of Siva's supremacy, termed herein Siva-paranatvam.

He denies that Kṛishna, as asserted by some, paid homage to Siva. It is asserted by some one that, according to the Drōna parvam, Nārāyana performed tapasa to Siva, on the Māina hill, this assertion the author denies ; and, by confuting opposite assertions, rejects the claims of Siva's supremacy, urged by the latter's votaries.

Leaf 31—50. Siva not being Supreme then what is he ? the author replies, that he is a man like other men ; merely a man among men. He quotes from the 47 adhyāya of the Sabhā parvam. Sanātsumara—Rudra, these and others were first created by Brahma, who then created the earth—then its inhabitants ; therefore Siva is, like men, a created being.

Leaf 51—77. He quotes the purusha sūctam, a chant of the Vēda ; also from the Manu smṛti, the Bhagavat gīta, and the Vishnu purānam, passages which state that the Paratvam (divine supremacy) belongs to Vishnu ; who has no equal, and no superior. And hence he also proves that the paratvam does not belong to Siva. The work is complete.

It would be of importance to translate this book, together with one of the opposite kind, such as No. 1799, or 1972.

The book is long, thin, recent, and in perfect order.

9. No. 1984. Panchāyutam, on the five marks impressed on the body of Vaishnavas, representing the five weapons of Vishnu.

By Lacshmanāchārya.

The iron being well heated the chank and chacra are to be branded on the two front shoulders ; the nāma is pasted with white and yellow clay on the forehead, another mark is put on the waist under the girdle, also a fillet on the wrist : complete.

The book teaches the necessity of wearing these marks—many panegyrics are added, extracts from smṛitis, and from purānas samhitas—and from tradition or current sayings, as to the fruit, that is benefit of wearing the stamps, and marks aforesaid.

The book is long, thin, old, and a little damaged.

10. No. 1986. Siddhantam, a confirmation of the Vaishnava system—as taught by Rāmānuja—not limited to the Vedāntam—leaf 1 to 45—Vishnu is supreme—the only Param—if any one assert a superior he is tantamount to a Brahm-kutaca or deicide, proved by smṛitis, and other authorities.

Leaf 46—74. Vishnu must be worshipped, and praised. The fruit, or benefit proved as above.

Leaf 75—92. On receiving the marks, or stamps of Vishnu—the nāma on the forehead, and others, as above 9. Benefit proved as before.

Leaf 93—to 100. On homage to Vishnu and to the sálagrámu—on drinking the washings from the sacred feet, and from these shells ; the good results—proved as above.

Leaf 101—110. Sacrifices, and other offerings must be directed to no other god than Vishnu.

Leaf 111—120. On lighter duties, as sweeping the temple of Vishnu—lighting the lamps, and processions around the inside of the fane at certain times—the benefits resulting from such observances—proved, as before, from smritis puránas &c.

121 to 183. The following matters in smaller portions—the authority of the Védas as a rule to settle controversy enforced ; if any one deny this, he is a slayer of Brahma, ut supra.

- Sáivágamam apramánya sí'hapaca* a condemnation of the Sáiva books, shewing that they are not a rule of decision.
- Atma*, or the soul, it is the slave or disciple of Vishnu—proved as before.
- The mode, or order of Sannyási—the strict ascetic's rules—(a monarch, or monk.)

Four classes of these ascetics are described in prose. They are styled 1. hutichaca 2. bahuda cahal 3. pari-vrája cahal 4. paramá hamsa ; the latter one appears to be regarded as partaking of divinity of nature—the fast of the 11th tí'hi must be observed, and any one doing so, accompanied with homage to Vishnu, will be beatified.

- The jivátma or human soul, according as it is prone to good, or to evil will get benefit, or sustain loss. Evil doers, after death, transmigrate into beasts, birds, &c.
- On the trouble and impediment of wife, family &c. in the way of religious service, and final beatification.
- Devotedness (bhakti) to Vishnu secures that great good.
- Karma pára tantriyam*—on the degrees of fate, considered not as simply arbitrary ; but as adjudicated rewards, or punishments for conduct in a prior birth. (The rule applies, by anticipation, to the present life.)
- Karma dúc'ha*, is a sort of penitential sorrow for the consequences being now suffered of prior-life misconduct. To remove it dhermam, or various acts of charity, prescribed. Such as—gift of land—of a cow—of a daughter in marriage, without demanding dower, and clearing all expenses ; and some others—these charities are defined, with their fruit, or benefit.

The book remains unfinished.

As a compendium of the Vaishnava system, common in the South country—and for comparison with antagonistic systems—this book might merit entire translation.

It is of medium length, thick, and in good order.

11. No. 2000. Padma Samhita, prose and ślokas mixed.

On the order of Vaishnava worship—by many persons—by one person—also on homage to the vāhāna or car, and to the attendants that stand around the image in public processions.

Leaf 1—127 but defective in the middle.

Supposed to be connected with the Pāñchā rātram.

The book is of medium length, thick, old, and in good order.

12. No. 2006. Satvica Brahma vidyā vilāsam, display of the knowledge of divine goodness; author's name not given.

It is in the form of a discourse between a teacher, and his disciple.

As Brahmā has no temples nor worshippers, he is set aside, and the discussion turns on the claims of Vishnu and Siva. The great question is— which class of devoteeism will attain beatification. The answer is that, although much is common to both religious ways, yet still the Vāishnava rule is sātvica (goodness), the true way; while the Sāiva rule is tāmasam darkness, ignorance: Siva is tamōguna, has the quality of darkness. Brahma is rājōguna has the quality of passion.

A detail of the purānas as classed by the three qualities tāmasa, sātvica and rājasa. TAMASA—Matsya—Cūrma, Linga, Siva, Scanda, Agni, SATVICA—Vishnu, Nāredeya, Bhāgavatam, Garuda, Padma, Varāha, RAJASA—Brahmanda, Bhaviṣhyōttara, Mārcandeya, Vāmana, Brahma, or Brahma hāivartya.

The like division is extended to the Smṛtis, or codes of law—to the āgamas—and to the wpapurānas.

Vishnu is the alone Supreme in the universe. This position proved by extracts from Vēdas, purānas, itihāsas, vācyas.

The prayer in the Gayatri is offered to Vishnu (commonly addressed to the sun; but it is a principle with Vaishnavas that Vishnu resides within the body of the Sun)—all gods (angels) and men, were formed by Narāyana (moving on the water).

The marks (chenna) of the Vaishnavas, and Sāivas discriminated.

The character or properties of the Vāidica or spiritual man; one who lives up to the Vēdas.

Whereas the Sâivas argue that since Râma and Kṛṣhna formed and worshipped lingas therefore Siva is Supreme, this writer states that a promise was given by Vishnu to Siva, and that Vishnu worshipped the emblem of Siva merely to fulfil his promise, and he argues on the contrary part (etiam quantum valeat) that as Ganga was born from the foot of Vishnu, and Siva set her on his head, therefore Siva is a Vishnu bhakti, or follower of Vishnu.

Other discussions relative to Vira Bhadra, and to Narasinha, in a contest with Siva (whereon the Saivas deal rudely). Various other arguments, amounting to special pleading, to show that Vishnu is greater than Siva.

Towards the end the Vedanta doctrine of the world being a mirage, or illusive appearance is declared. With the exception of the Sanscrit authorities quoted, the language is Telugu, in Grant'ha letter; but there is too much of Sanscrit to allow of the book being classed as Telugu.

Leaves 1—62 complete; merits translation.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

13. No. 2014. Three tracts.

1.) Stôotra bhâsya. A commentary on the Stôotra, or praise of Vishnu by one of the Aluvur, named 'Alavantan, or otherwise yamunâchârya. This commentary is in prose, with a few ślôcas from authorities quoted, and is by Vedantâchârya, the guru or head of the Vadagalas, as opposed to the Tengalas. He is further known by the title of Sarva tantra svatantram, one inherently possessing knowledge of all rites.

It contains extracts from other works, the general bearing being to prove that Vishnu is possessed of the supremacy of Para-Brahma. The original stôotra is not contained in this tract; but only the comment—leaf 1—77 complete.

2.) Rahasya-treya-sara-art'ham, "the essential meaning of the triple mystery:" chiefly prose.

By Varadâchârya, son of the above named Védantâchârya, who is the author of the work called Rahasya-treya (which occurs elsewhere) the sâra art'ha, or essential meaning is by his son. It offers an explanation of some mantras that relate to Vishnu: the meaning being given in prose. The mûlam or rahasya treyam itself is wanting.

3.) Tatva treya nîrûpanam, prose.

By Varadâchârya, son of Védantâchârya.

The three realities are chitta animate beings, achitta inanimate things, and Isvara God.

A description of creation, divided into three forms as living, inanimate, and Deity; complete, except the 1st leaf.

The book is of medium size, old, and injured, at the edges, by wear.

14. No. 2017. Pancha-rattra úgama pramányam the authority, as a rule, of the book containing the Pancha ratram. Three leaves of a larger kind, and of a different book are prefixed, praise of Vishnu: on the successional order of ceremonies in the páncha rátram ritual. Also some roots of words (a fragment).

The Páncha rátram is a comparatively modern development of ritual; not established without opposition, and controversy.

In this book the Sruti or Veda, and smritis law-books, are sought to be established as rules, decisive of controversy. That point gained, the writer proceeds to prove the authority of books on the páncha-rátram from them. He selects passages from the vedas and upanishadas; puts his own interpretation upon them; and then enforces that meaning, as conclusive and binding.

By the resources of the native logic he condemns, or confutes other modes of credence, and establishes his own. He writes in prose, with sutras from the vedas, and shlokas from other books. The conclusion may be thus stated. Since the Páncha rátram is therefore an authoritative rule, then all—the matters which it exhibits in detail are also of divine authority: id est, all the minor matters, forms, and circumstances of modern Váishnavu idolatry are quoad dicere divine.

The book is complete, long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

15. No. 2018. Urdhva punra vidhi, mode of putting on the tri-dental forehead mark.

By Védantáchárya, guru of the Vadagalas, and “sarva-tantra-swatantra,” ut supra.

This book is included in the sacheritra racsha, or memorial of virtuous actions; but in this tract it is distinct, and complete.

The value of the forehead mark, and the honor of those that wear it, proved by many extracts from srutis, smritis, itihásas, puránas and vácyas, other authorities. He who does not wear it is unfit to do any religious duty. Those who wear it will attain beatification. These different points are sought to be established; leaves 30 to 40 taken out from a larger book. This is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

(Note. This wrdhva being the Hebrew letter shin, which devotees of that nation wore on their phylacterics, deserves, I think, some attention. The Tengalas distinguish themselves by drawing the central perpendicular a little along the bridge of the nose.)

16. No. 2060. Sata dūshana vyākyaṇam, commentary, by whom not stated—on the Sata dūshanam of Védantāchārya, head of the Vadagalas. Beginning and ending deficient. The original appears to be a polemical work, on the principles of Ramānuja; condemning the system of Sancarāchārya. As such there is a reference to the mere rituals of the pūva mimamsa, and to the Vedantism of the uttara mimamsa. The book, though prose, is in very recondite style.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and damaged by wear, and breaking at the ends.

17. No. 2070. Prubhana pārijātam, attendance on the lord, i. e. Vishnu.

By Varadāchārya.

—Ten leaves at the beginning are wanting.

SECTION a. On the mode of attaining to be among the company in the Court of Vishnu: Laashmi is chief of all next to Vishnu. Laashmi is eternal; inseparable from Vishnu; sayings of Vishnu to an attendant chief; sayings of Vishnu to Parāsara.

SECTION b. Homage to excellent persons, their nature, or character. How they should be honored. Sayings quoted from Suca-rishi and others, in ślokas.

SECTION c. On proper, or becoming sacred duties.

SECTION d. Some exceptions taken to rules laid down in the Vēdas, as not of general force, or authority, on every class of men.

SECTION e. On devotedness to Vishnu—if any one praise Vishnu, clapping his hands, the inward sin will, like a bird, take wings, and fly away.

SECTION f. On relinquishing the domestic mode of life for the ascetic, and thereby attaining beatification.

The book is of medium length, and thin, gnawed by rats at one end.

XXV. SMṚITI—OR DHERMA BASTRA, LAW.

01. No. 1135. A Collection of Smritis, or law Tracts, chiefly on sacerdotal law.

1.) Vrihaspati smṛiti. On gifts of a cow, of land, of gold: the effect, or benefit of such things being given. The crime of eating prohibited things. The proper person to receive any gift; of course a Brahman; on two leaves, complete as an extract.

2.) Angīrasa smṛiti, 12 adhyāyas, on an assembly of Brahmans; mode of selecting them—prayaschitas, or expiation how to be managed. The character of one fit to decide as to any expiation, or punishment. The mode of expiation. Food prepared by Sudras, or given by them, must not be eaten, by higher orders. Expiation for having eaten forbidden food. Punishment, or expiation for murder; or for inflicting bodily injury on another—leaves 3—10—complete, as an extract.

3.) Vyāsa-smṛiti—3 adhyāyas.

The proper duties of a Vāidica, or non-secular Brahman, from early dawn to close of evening—leaves 11—15 complete, as an extract.

4.) Atreya smṛiti—16 adhyāyas.

On the power of mantras, repeated with closed nostrils—the merit of gifts, in a reflex action on the giver. Some expiations; as for menstrual women, and for a woman who may die in child-birth, and some other matters; leaves 16—21 complete as an extract.

5.) Yama smṛiti—leaves 22—24 complete.

On various kinds of adulterous connexions, and on other sins, which tend to Naraca; the expiation or punishment for them.

6.) Dacshu smṛiti, leaves 25—33 complete. On daily ceremonies, and on some extraordinary ones; such as uncleanness caused by the birth of a child, or by the death of any one of the family, affecting relatives.

7.) Sadātapa smṛiti.

On Brahmahatta, or killing a Brahman, its expiation. On other great sins—on expiation for having eaten unclean, or forbidden food: on some funereal ceremonies, commemorative of ancestors, to be performed on new-moon days. On giving food to a newly arrived guest: its merit to the giver. Expiation for having accidentally seen a dog, when eating food. Expiations in various cases of uncleanness; 12 adhyāyas on leaves 34—42 complete as an extract.

8.) Samvarta smṛiti—6 adhyāyas.

Rules proper for the daily observance of the four orders; that is Brahmachāri, Grahas'tha, Vanaprast'ha, and Sannyāsi; or student, householder, hermit, and strict ascetic. Also on the expiations for various sins, or crimes: leaves 43—54 complete.

9.) Parūsara Smṛiti 12 adhyāyas.

On the four castes (or colours) Brahman, Cshetriya, Váisiya, Sudra—in what way, or by what means they are severally allowed to get their living. On the agricultural mode of life. On uncleanness caused by birth, or death, with expiations for them—discrimination of things pure or impure. Things belonging to a Sudra are impure. Right constitution of an assembly of Brahmans in reference to any ceremony or arbitration. Expiation for having killed a cow: another for adultery; another for having eaten forbidden food, or for having drunk ardent spirits, with other matter: leaves 55—79 complete (leaves 79—98 are wanting.)

10.) Vasishta smṛiti 9 adhyáyas.

On the daily duties, and observances, of Váishnavas—their food—how they ought to gain a livelihood—ceremonies at birth, at giving a name, and others following, ceremonies peculiar to them. Fire offering before marking the chaṭra brand on their bodies—on the duties of women—the Váishnava-ishti, a peculiar ceremony. When a pure Váishnava may reject carma (offerings) mantra (prayer) and the like. (Various Sátras and Smartas reject them, in favor of abstract knowledge, or reason) leaves 98—154.

11.) Sándilya-smṛiti—5 adhyáyas.

Devotedness to Vishnu is the way to attain beatification. The mode of bathing, of putting on forehead marks. Besides cattle, son, house-pots or vessels, all are to be marked with the námam. Mode of Váishnava pūja. The excellence of Váishnava mantras: leaves 155—186 complete.

One leaf at the end contains some Váidica ślokas, or referring to the védas.

The entire book is of medium length, somewhat thick, and in good order. It appears to be of value on the subject of sacerdotal law.

1. No. 1726. Gáutama bhāṣyam, sūtras or brief sentences by Gáutama, with a paraphrase on them by Vábhāṣya sunu.

23 adhyáyas or chapters incomplete.

On the rules and observances proper to the four colors (or castes) that is, Brahman, Cshetriya, Váisiya, and Sudra.

Also the proper observances or duties of the four orders. Brahmachári, Grahast'ha, Vanaprast'ha and Sannyási. The penalties for a fault in the case of the four castes. Where the Sudra receives stripes, the Brahman sustains only a fine.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, in good order.

2. No. 1737. Apa-stambha—sūtras.

Short sentences on dharma, or law by Apa Stambha.

On the four orders of Brahmachāri, Grahast'ha, Vanaprast'ha and Sannyāsi: their duties and observances.

Also punishments or fines proper in case of the four castes, as above. Other matter on Vāidika dharma, or religious law.

The book is of medium size, old, and rather damaged.

On contested divisions of ancestral, or other property.

The law of marriage; of boundaries; of wages on simple contract; of sales.

The above was noticed in this book, in addition to what appears under No. 1938: which, of the two, was the first examined.

This book is long, of medium thickness, on 123 leaves complete, old, and slightly damaged.

6. No. 1926. Vignānésaram—the prayaschita cādam—or division on expiation, or punishments. By Vignānésvara. This copy is in very bad condition, so that it cannot be determined whether the leaves are in regular order. Though professing to be the chapter on punishments, yet this does not appear. Instead of it are —Regulations as to marriage—preceding arrangements—on the horoscope of the contracting parties—gifts—gift of bride, &c.

Afterwards—on the rule of putting on the brahmanical thread— if sacred fire be allowed to go out, the expiation. The Védas must not be read on the 8th and 14th lunar days of each half-lunation; different sacrifices as prayaschit, or expiation. On the rule as to begging alms. Certain ceremonies, by Brahmans only, at the full moon in the month of August. On putting the nāmam on the forehead, and on the horizontal marks by Sāivas, or Smārtas. Ceremonies on pregnancy, on first giving food.

Funereal ceremonies—the substitute if the deceased have no son: on the pinda. The Siva-rātri—the 11th lunar day—the birth day of Krishna. The book remains incomplete; and the matter on punishments does not appear; by possibility taken out, and matter of more common occurrence substituted.

The book is of medium size, very old, and the ends damaged.

7. No. 1939. Bhódáyana dherma sastrá.

By Bhódáyana, a law treatise.

The rules or observances proper to the four orders of Brahmachári, Grahas'tha, Vanaprasi'ha and Sānniyási.

Also various prayaschitas, or expiations for various offences, and crimes, having reference chiefly to sacerdotal matters, leaves 1—78 the two last much injured.

The book is of medium size, old, and damaged, at the edges by termites.

8. No. 1930. Dherma sastram, Law.

Prayaschita-vidhi, mode of expiation.

By Bhāscarāchārya.

Reference at the outset to the perpetual household fire; if neglected, or if by any accident it become extinguished, an expiation or punishment appointed.

In giving the sacred thread the father must be present, and especially the mother; if she happen to become unclean the ceremony cannot be delayed, but an expiation is appointed.

If any insect happen to get into a plate containing rice to be used in a hóma, for that an expiation is appointed.

If any ghee, or rice, on being poured into the sacred fire be spilled, on either side, for that an expiation.

Rules to be observed at the death of parents, and also of children.

If when there are two hómas near, the matter for one by accident (as wind, rain &c.) be driven on to the other, this is not allowable, and an expiation is provided.

The fire of one hóma must not be mingled with that of another; if so, an expiation is appointed.

At the full moon certain ceremonies or observances required: if not done, an expiation is appointed.

If two new moons happen in one month, certain ceremonies are required, on the first of the two; if not performed, an expiation is appointed.

If when a hóma, or fire-offering has been appointed, it is not made, for that omission, there must be an expiation.

Jyótiṣhstómāṭi-ishtī, a kind of sacrifice prescribed.

If a man, and his wife go to another town, and leave the sacred fire for a day, without hóma, it is no longer a váidica, but laukica (common) fire.

There are some other matters, more minute. A special point is that if the fire intended for one duty be mistaken, and applied to another duty, or the ceremony for another duty be performed, an expiation must be made for that mistake.

These and other matter, relating to criminal punishments in causes between man and man.

If a dog lick a man, touch him, or bite him, an expiation appointed.

The book is complete in five padulas, ślócas with the meaning added leaves 1—117 two loose leaves in Telugu-letter contain matters from the Védas, and 1 leaf on homage to Krishna, in the evening.

The book is long, and thick, some leaves a little damaged.

9. No. 1936. Parásara Smṛiti—on the law of the cali-yuga by Parásara; that is ascribed to him, by some later writer.

1st adhyāya. On a peak of Hima mountain in a place called Dēca dāsu, the rishis asked Vyāsa to explain the law, proper to the last age; Vyāsa replied that it would be better to apply to his father. All the rishis in consequence saluted Parāsara, and paid him great honors; with which Parāsara, being pleased, enquired concerning their health. He then proceeded to the subject.

2d adhyāya. The law as regards corn, and other means of human subsistence.

3d adhyāya. On the ceremonial pollutions, which may occur as to Brahmans, Cshētriyas, Vāinyas and Sudras, with the number of days, in each instance, during which they must be considered to be unclean.

6th adhyāya. Law in various cases of murder; 10th and 11th adhyāyas—punishments for trespass; or going where it is forbidden to go.

The book is wholly in ślōcas, without any comment, and incomplete, leaf 196—217.

1 loose leaf, another subject. Other portions of this code are in the collection.

This book is long, thin, old, the ends broken off, rendering much matter illegible.

10. No. 1937. Dherma-sastra, Law.

The vyavahāra cāndam, or section on secular, or common law.

By Varada-rāja.

Leaf 1—5½ contains Vyavahāra pariharana khandam, on the avoiding of suits by arbitration; on the causes of suits—proper persons to decide them—kings or great persons, mantris and Brahmans—when as to time—where as to place, not in the evening, not in a private house—leaf 5½ to 10 āvēdana khandam—the plaint, the plaintiff—and rāja, or judge. The king's mode of enquiring into it—the examination of witnesses—fines stated for some offences—if many causes come on at the same time, then they should be taken by castes, or the most urgent and weighty may first be taken. The plaintiff, and defendant should be reconciled, by the king or judge, if practicable.

The punishment for murder, and that for carrying off another man's wife: and for theft.

Mode of administering oaths—taking evidence of witnesses—more than one required; the respective value of testimony considered; that is, its relative degree of credibility. At what time oaths to witnesses may be administered, and various other matters of ordinary (not sacerdotal) law.

The book is long, and thin, rather old, but in good order.

11. No. 1938. Vignánésvaram—the Vyavahāra cāndam, or secular law.

By Vignánésvara. It is understood that the original is the code by Yagnya válcya, on which Vignánésvara wrote a comment, more in detail.

It is a standing authority in the South ; and this is the most valuable portion.

On forming a previous, and general probable estimate of the case, by appearances, from the statement of plaintiff and defendant.

The examination of witnesses before the king ; he determines the cause. Law of simple contract, or debt. Law of mortgage—law of sale, when questions arise—on disputes as to boundaries—law as to theft—as to the carrying away another man's wife—on the making correct drafts, before a deed is written out (engrossed) to be executed. If the deed be faulty it must be corrected by a new one. Many rules as to the mode of administering oaths.

On the distribution of shares whether in lands, or goods, or money, on the law of adoption : and if an heir be born after adoption the proper division between the two. If after the division of property, the division is denied by one of the parties, the rule, or mode of proceeding. The law of breach of trust ; that is, if any one sells, as if his own, the goods of another, and appropriates the proceeds.

These and other matters pertaining to secular law.

The book is incomplete : but, being of value, might be made up from other portions in the collection. I do not know of more being translated than the Mitacshara or law of inheritance, and division of property. The whole merits translation.

This book is of medium length, thick (184 leaves) in good order.

12. No. 1941. Smritisāra samuc'hayam.

On Dhermasastra or law, chiefly of the sacerdotal class.

Funereal ceremonies on the death of a Brahman, by his relatives ; and the monthly celebration of that lunar day, on its return.

—10 ślokas on ceremonial pollutions ; expiation, or punishment for killing a cow.

Punishment, or expiation for the crime of drinking spirituous liquors.

The like if any one sell goods, entrusted to his care, and appropriate the proceeds.

An expiation on the death of a wife.

Also, on the mode of investiture with the Brahmanical thread.

Svādhyāya vidhi, mode of reciting the vēdas; and anādhyāna hrāma, days on which the vēdas must not be read; that is the 8th and 14th lunar days in each half lunation, the new and full moon, and the first day after each.

The rules relate chiefly to Brahmans: and are supported by extracts from many other books; both ślōcas and prose.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and very much damaged.

13. No. 2043. Kātyāyana sūtras—a fragment on sacerdotal law—

See XVIII, 26.

XXVI. TALES.

1. No. 1802. Nāishadam, a poem.

By Sri Harishan.

—From the 4th to the 12th sarga of the original; but many intermediate leaves are wanting.

Of a comment this book contains; the 1st, 2d, 5th, 6th and 7th sections; but each section incomplete.

This comment is by Kola chēla malli nā'ha.

Founded on the tale of Nala-rāja; an episode of the Bhāratam.

The book is long, rather thick, old, and much injured: fragments thrown together.

2. No. 1803. Nalādhyam, a poem.

By Cālī dāsa, the mūlam or original, complete, in 4 uchvāsas.

Also a comment, or explanation, by the same. Both founded on the story of Nala chacraverti—his marriage with Damayanti—their misfortunes; and return to prosperity.

The book is long, of medium thickness, much injured by insects at the edges.

[A tradition passes current, that Cālī dāsa was jeered for writing his productions in easy language; on which he composed this poem, that no one could undersand. It so remained: till, finding his death approaching, he thought it concerned his fame to make a commentary himself, in easy language; so easy, as stated, that a child might understand it.]

3. No. 1831. Nala-cheritra, or Nāishada cāvyaṃ a poem on the episode of Nala, ślōcas incomplete.

The 1st adhyaṃ of the 1st sarga has a prose version.

The 2d sarga has none. The 3d sarga is incomplete.

A second copy contains the 1st sarga, on new leaves of smaller size.

The book is long, thin, and old.

4. No. 1832. Nakopakhyānam, or Nāishadam.

On the tale of Nala, as above. From the 1st the 18th adhyāya; but the book remains imperfect.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and a little damaged.

5. No. 1840. Naishadam, another copy.

1st sarga—*śloca*s, with prose version.

2d „ Ibidem.

3d „ only 1 leaf; without deficiency, so far.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

6. No 1902 Vétāla Cadha. A series of tales relative to Vicramāditya, and a familiar demon. Twenty-four tales are complete; the 25th remains incomplete.

A Sanniyasi wished to get the command of that familiar, and asked it of Cāli, plotting the death of Vicramāditya; but the Vétāla told the secret, and thereby enabled Vicramāditya to kill the Sanniyasi. The demon proposed a variety of puzzling tales, each bearing an enigma; which, if Vicramāditya could not solve, the demon would be free.

The difficulties were all solved.

The book is somewhat long, thin, old, and damaged; many leaves are only $\frac{1}{2}$ in length, the remainder gnawed, or broken off.

7. No. 1942. Itihāsa samuc'hayam.

The first portion relates to matter in the Bhāratam: Vāisambayanar narrates the consolation given by Vyāsa to the Pānduvas.

After the battles related in the Bhāratam the sons of Pāndu being distressed by the death of so many of their relations friends, and children, Vyāsa came, and told them many consolatory narratives: so far 33 adhyāyas complete.

Another portion leaf 1—114, contains miscellaneous tales, among other matter—a tale of Gāutami a female—a conversation, or discussion between two divine messengers—the legend of the Ganges—tale of a king who gave his own flesh to protect a bird, that had flown to him from its devourer—on the kinds of crime that tend to naraca or hell, and what kinds of punyam tend to svarga or paradise. On the benefits resulting from gifts of land; of a cow &c. illustrated by tales. A discourse between Nahushan and Chyavana, said to contain many profitable stories.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order,

8. No. 1960. Hartharyam.By Hari hara cavi.

The Muráve náta, and anarga Rághaviyam, are stated to be two names of a drama, or poem founded on the Rámáyanam; of that original the Hartharyam is an explanation in prose.

The portion herein relates to the sacrifice by Ráma and Lacshmana with Visvamitra—the killing Tátaka—conversing with Párasu Ráma, who lost his battle axe—marriage with Sita: it remains incomplete. For want of a better place it is classed here.

The book is of medium length, thick, old; and has some leaves a little damaged.

XXVII. UPANISHADAS.

The Védas are divided into, 1st Sanhita with Mantras, prayers or charms 2d Bráhmána, theology; and the upanishada is either a section of this last treating on argumentative, speculative, or mystic divinity, or else a distinct supplement, or appendage to some véda; of later date, explaining something, or reconciling some things: there are books, termed upanishadas, that are spurious.

1. No. 1721. Bṛihadaranya bhásya tipanam. Extracts from an explanation of the "spreading forest."

By Raghuttama.

The chief topic of these extracts is, on the nature and attributes of Para-Brahm, the supreme.

This appears to be a pure doctrine, antecedent to pauranical hieroglyphicks as to Brahmá, Vishnu, and Siva. In modern days, the disputes are, whether Vishnu, or Siva is Para-Brahm. See XXIV.

The book is complete in eight chapters, leaves 1—146. It is long, of medium thickness, a little old, and a few of the leaves are damaged.

2. No. 1722. Upanishadas select verses from them commented on.

- 1.) Isà vásyópanishada bhásya tipanam, selection from a comment on that upanishada.

- 2.) Talavacárópanishada bhásya tipanam. The same on another upanishada.

- 3.) Kénópanishada-tipanam selections from the book Kéna.

- 4.) Kátacópanishada-tipanam selections from the book Kátaca.

- 5.) Mundaca-bhásya tipanam, extracts from a comment on the Véda, by Mundaca.
 6.) Kátucópanishada bhásyam, a comment on the book Kátaca.
 7.) At'harvana Védanópanishada vivaranam. An account of an appendage to the fourth véda.

The two last are said to be by Suncárachárya.

The word Isvara is used for lord, or God ; which is common to Sdivas and Váishnavas.

The book is complete, long, medium thickness, good order ; very narrow leaves.

Translation would give us the theology of former days : but by whom may it be done ?

3. No. 1723. Bṛihadáranya upanishada.

The writer's name is said to be Bṛihadáranya a rishi. It contains eight adhyáyas or chapters, and relates to the attributes, or qualities of Para-Brahm, the supreme.

Extraneous matters are appended.

1st and 2d leaf—meditation on Vishnu : two leaves chariddhi-bráhma-nam.

On the story of Yagnyaválcyá, and his disciple, referring to the Táit-tírya-Véda.

—Four leaves are on buddhi-suddhi, or cleansing the five senses.

—Daddi-Vamana-stótra, praise of the dwarf Vishnu bearing sour-curd : he who reads it will enjoy plenty of food.

Some praises, and remembrance of Rána with morning homage to Vishnu ; he who uses it in the morning will be preceptor to the world ; and a few loose slócas besides.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order.

4. No. 1724. Chándógyópanishada.

It has eight sections, complete ; the language is that of the Védas, obsolete, and not understood.

The book is of medium size, recent, and in good order.

5. No. 2002. Páncharátra mahópanishada, pádma tantra. A fragment, and doubtful ; probably spurious.

There are 23 adhyáyas, or chapters.

A few matters have been made out—such as that if a hut be built under a banyan, or arasu tree, on the bank of a tank, it will be a suitable place for prayer.

—Fasting, or else eating without salt, on the 12th lunar day, on the full and new moons, and on eclipses.

—Mantra-Siddhi, is the wish that a mantra is intended to accomplish— or the fulfilment; “answer.” One who is āchārya, or learned must explain the sāstras.

If a new god be fixed in any place it must be with the use of mantras: otherwise the image is no god. Good gifts come from the Deity. Futurity of being, or beatification proceeds from mantras—modes of mantra-siddhi, or fulfilment of desires: whosoever bears on his shoulders the chakra of Vishnu is freed from the consequences of sin.

The results of charms, as to the number of repetitions—carried up to lakhs, or hundred-thousands.

The results of certain specific mantras, or charms—left imperfect.

Most of the above is modern.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in tolerable order.

For another book with the same title. See XVIII. No. 2036, and also No. 2022 for the Nārāyana uponishada. Page 151, 152.

XXVIII. VEDANTIC.

1. No. 1727. Sivādīcya mani dipica.

Comment on a book called the Saiva jewel; or otherwise named Brimha-mimāmsa bhāsyam vyakhyāyanam, a comment on an explanation of the Vēdāntam.

By Appaiya dicshada.

The object of the work is to maintain the sole supremacy of Siva, by quoting śūtras, and other extracts from the bhāsyam, or exegesis of the Advaitas, and some from the Vēdas.

It consequently comments on the uttara mimāmsa of Vyāsa, being nominalist as to sensible ideas; and maintaining only one universally diffused soul.

The 1st chapter is complete. The 2d has only five leaves; in all 1—127.

The book is long, of medium thickness; some leaves a little broken at the ends.

2. No. 1728. Viśiṣṭa-advāita bhāsyam, ślokas with a mixture of metres from the Vēdas.

By Rāmānujachārya.

This author was the distinguished opponent of Sancarāchārya the head of the advāita system, as in the foregoing book. Mādhvachārya held to the púrva mimámsa of the védas: the doctrine of rites and sacrifices; and of the distinct nature of God, and the human soul. Vyása in the uttara mimámsa had previously taught a mystic sense: and this sense was adopted by Sancaráchárya, with additional refinements, and mysticism of his own. Rámanúja struck out a medium path: hence his system is termed—"almost adváita."

In this book, which is controversial against Sancaráchárya, the author treats on Vishnu the supreme, and the First cause. On the nature of Para-Brahm, otherwise known as Vishnu—on the nature of the paramátma, divine soul, and jívátma human soul, not as absolutely one, but as related. On the means of beatification, not simply by knowledge, but by devotion also. These, and the like matters he proves by giving his interpretation of the védas, and by extracts from the Bhágavatam and Bhagavat-gita of the Bháratam.

The book is complete, in four chapters, leaves 1—114. It is long, thick, rather old, in a very neat hand-writing, and in good order.

This is a valuable book, and should be translated, in order to a better understanding of a metaphysical theology, established in the Peninsula of India.

The era of the writer is A. D. 800-900. I believe his book to be nearer to the truth, than either of the two differing systems; but the Christian revelation alone can, and does clear up those difficulties, in which these heads of systems lost themselves, and misled their followers.

3. No. 1730. See XVIII. 1 Section 2, 3, 5, 6, for matters on the Védanta system of the Váishnava kind.

4. No. 1872. Adváita retna-cosha. "The jewel casket of adváita knowledge." By Agni hótra Vidusha, son of Dwádasà hejiya.

Another name by which the book is known is Tatva vivéchiní, a discrimination of truth, as a comment on the adváita system. Subjects:

An enquiry as to the existence of the Supreme Being, by the name Brahm.

A description of the qualities, or no qualities of the Supreme; (for the system maintains a negation of qualities, meaning perhaps something similar to the "simplicity of essence" as used by some Christian divines.)

The pure, simple knowledge of Brahm is mocsham, i. e. liberation, or beatitude. He who, in this sense, obtains beatification in the present life, knows nothing of merit, or demerit, virtue, or sin. On the nature of the soul, as one with the divine soul.

A description of mócsha or liberation, and of the human soul. There is a māya-surūpa, illusive form, or unreal appearance of things. The visible world is a non-reality; it is compared to things seen in a dream. The writer proves his views, by his sense of the védas—offers a condemnation of other systems—labours to establish his own. These, and other vedantic subjects of the adváita class are detailed in prose; with extracts from the védas as authorities: divided into two parich'hedas, or sections—leaves 1—226 but in the middle 41—78, and 141—150 are wanting.

The book is long, thin, old; some leaves are damaged.

5. No. 1912. Adváita retna-cósha.

By Nrisimha āzrama muni.

In two parich'hedas complete.

By various disputation the author proves his own system, as tatva, or truth, reality. It is adváita, as in the foregoing book; with the same title, by another author. This work is supposed to be a paraphrase on the Adváita retnam. See 10. No. 1918 infra.

The book is long, of medium thickness, leaves 1—146—slightly touched by insects, and otherwise injure

6. No. 1913. Two fragments.

1.) Adváita retna-dípica vyākhyānam.

This is comment upon a comment, on the book Adváita retnam. This further comment is defective, at the beginning, and ending: the author's name does not appear.

2.) Adváita tatva-vivécām—only 6 leaves “the wisdom of the adváita—truth.”

On the system of the Smártas; supra.

From 103 leaves the following are wanting 1—65, 70, 81.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, the 2d fragment only a little damaged.

7. No. 1914. Vedánta cadha-retnam jewel of the Vedánta story.

By Govinda-sarma.

On the adváita system: as far as can be made out; advocated in the usual manner.

The book is long, of medium thickness, very old, and greatly injured, the leaves are broken, and falling into piece

8. No. 1915. Two tracts.

1.) 'Atmanátma, soul and no soul. On the Vedanta system.

There exists only God, who is átma soul: every body, or thing besides is anátma, without soul; that is involved, or included in the paramátma, or heavenly soul; otherwise known as Isvara.

2.) Advaita vedanta sáram, the essence of the Vedanta system, advaita section: slócas, with a tica giving the meaning.

The subject similar to the above. Mócsha (liberation) comes by spiritual meditation; not by penance. Also when avidhi, or ignorance departs that is mócsham "a heaven on earth," quotations in proof from the Védas, and from the Bhagavat-gita; leaf 1—41 complete.

Both these tracts are by Padma-pátáchárya.

The both is long, and thin: much injured by worms.

9. No. 1916. Two books.

1.) Pancha dípa-grant'ham—five lights.

On the advaita system; slócas with prose, author's name not stated. It contains five sections, each one termed a lamp.

(1.) Dyána dípa vyakhyána sangraha, abridged comment on a book called dyána dípa.

(2.) Chitra dípa vyakhyána sangraha, abridged comment on a book called chitra dípa.

(3.) Tripti dípa vyakhyána sangraha, abridged comment on a book called tripti dípa.

(4.) Kuttastà dípa vyakhyána sangraha, abridged comment on the kuttastà-dípa.

(5.) 'Ananta dípa vyakhyána sangruha, abridged comment on the ánanta dípa.

The author quotes the Védas and Smritis; labors to confute other systems, and to establish his own: that of the oneness of the Divine, and human soul.

2.) Lag'hu Brihmánantam. This is one out of two books: the Gáuda Brihmánantam is a large discourse on the universe; this is a shorter, or lighter one; two adhyáyas complete, the 3d is incomplete; slócas, with tica or glossary.

The subject is on the advaita system.

The entire book is long, of medium thickness, old, the first book damaged, the second in good order.

10. No. 1918. Advaita-retnam.

Jewel of the advaita system—author's name not stated. In two parich'hedas, or sections.

- 1.) Muktiparich'heda on the nature, and means of liberation, or beatification.
- 2.) Tatva viveka p. on the human body, faculties, senses (soul included) spiritualized.

—A fragment without ending, or beginning, on the Védanta system; a comment on the sutras of Vyása.

The last is more recent, but touched by insects, the other is of medium size, old, and injured.

11. No. 1919. Védanta dipam. A commentary on the system of Vyása.

By "Sri Bhagavata Rámanúja."

It refers to the Vaishnava system by extracts from the Srutí and Smritis; and explains the nature of the Paramátma, or divine soul. It shews that the Divine soul is the First cause of the world, or universe; and that the jivátma, or human soul, is diverse from the divine soul. By like authorities he contends against the advaita system of the Smartas, and endeavours to establish his own: or the visishla advaitam.

In 4 adhyayas, each one containing four pádas: complete, leaves 1—261.

The book is long, thick, narrow leaves in good order.

[This book, by the distinguished opponent of Sāncārāchārya, is also special; and should be translated in order to get at the theology of the Vaishnavas in South India.]

12. No. 1920. Jagan mityatva-dīpikā.

By Ramendra yogi. A comment on the jagan mityatva, unreal world. It contains 14 prakaranas, or sections, but remains incomplete. A Védanta work.

Its object is to shew from the Védas, and other recognized authorities, that the world, or universe is a deceptive appearance only; and that between all spiritual essences, or souls, there is no division or difference: consequently it is of the advaita class.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

13. No. 1922. Védanta advaitam.

By Rāma krishna vidvān.

Mahāvācya vivēca-vyakhyānam, an explanation of some special extracts, from the Vēdas.

Mahāvācya vivaranam, further descriptive details from the Vēdas.

Nātāca-dīpica-vyakhyānam, a comment on a (special) Nātāca; in subject vedantic: referring to the Vēdas.

Panchīcaranam, on the five elements, air, earth, water, fire, akāsha.

This book discusses the advaita tenet, as to there being no difference between the soul and deity. The world is despicable. On the three gunas, that is, sātvīca, rājasa and tāmāsa. On the elements of all things.

Extracts from Vēdas, and upanishadas; the whole relating to the advaita system.

The book is long, thin, recent, the edges touched by white ants: and a few words injured.

14. No. 1924. Kutarkha-kandanam, a condemnation of the kuttas, or of a book called kutarkha.

This is the production of an advaita author. The class he opposes appear to be speculative atheists, denying the existence of Deity, with any distinction between good and evil; nor owning any kind of moral duty: at least they are so represented. The author of this work takes extracts from their writings, and opposes or confutes their contents.

The book has a beginning, but does not end; and the leaves towards the middle are gnawed off at the extremities.

It is of medium length, and thin.

15. No. 1978. Tatva nirupanam. Evidence of truth, in seven chapters.

1st Chap. On the pramānam, or standard of judgment. By means of logical aids, the authority of the Tatva-rule is sought to be established, and some reasons for the metaphysical system itself are offered.

A discrimination of the Purānas is given, divided into sātvīca, rājasa, and tāmāsa; of these the sātvīca are the chief.

The Pāñcha rātra tradition is also stated to be a rule of authority, like the Vēdas; and a few other matters.

2d Chap. On causation, creation, and connected matters. In order to form an earthen pot three concurrents are required; that is, clay, a wheel, a potter, or it could not be; so of the universe Isvara is the three-fold cause, that is, operating on pracrūti, or matter, by some instrumentality.

3d Chap. Bhūcōlam, description of the earth; with measures of the usual divīpas, and intermediate soas.

4th Chap. Décādhi st'hāna nirūpanam. On the localities of Indra, Cuvera, Chandras &c.

5th Chap. Pura-tatva-nirūpanam. In this it is sought to be proved that Vishnu is Para-Brahm; by many quotations from sruti, smritis &c.

6th Chap. Parama-pāda-sōhanam, a ladder to the heavenly foot. This is Tamil, with Sanscrit sōhas interspersed, divided into nine books, on the tatva doctrine: by Vedantācharya; complete. This may be another book.

7th Chap. Prat'hana-sātucani, special section, on the excellency of the disciples; that is Vaidikas or spiritual men: they are of immense value. The mode of their rendering service to Bhagavan or God. Various services are described. This chapter is in Tamil, with occasional sōhas in Sanscrit.

Rahasya retna vali hrūdayam. On the Vedanta system. It establishes the supremacy of Vishnu. The meaning of the the word Nārāyana is given. Description of the Paramātma, or Divine soul. The excellent perfections of Vishnu. Mōcshōbaya, the means of obtaining liberation, from the pains of future births; and various other matters complete. Either this, or chapter 6 may be a distinct book.

The whole manuscript is long, thick, old, somewhat injured by insects.

16. No. 1983. See X. Other subjects.

Some matters from the divya prabandhas, or sacred books, in the Tamil language; but Grant'ha letter; the work of one of the Aluvār, on the nature of God.

Rahasya-treya—sāra-sangraham, epitome of the essence of the triple-mystery.

Three secret mantras, connected with the mystic syllable O'm; explained according to the Védanta system.

Tiru-vāyi morhi. Tamil version of matter from the vedas, by an Aluvār: only a very small portion; Tamil language, and Canarese letter.

The entire book is short, of medium thickness, old, and a little injured.

17. No. 2010. Prapatti-parizilani, four parich'hadās, or sections; sōhas, with an explanation of them. There is a book entitled Prapatti: this is its explanation, or an enquiry into its meaning. It is Advaita in kind. Subject, on obtaining liberation, or beatitude.

There is no distinction between Brahm and the human-soul. The meaning of the Gayatri: it relates to Para Brahm. The negative, and the positive attributes of Brahm. The Gayatri is the Brahman's vidya, or learning. Propositions proved by many authorities. The rule of the Advaita system also so proved. Para Brahm must be worshipped. The result is mōcsham—liberation. Of this worship, and of its results the Brahmans hold the power (keys.) Various other matter, deemed vedantic. The writer denies any difference between Brahma, Vishnu, and Siva; they are one and the same ("Trimurti" does not occur.)

This Monotheistic book is remarkable, and might deserve translation. It is long, of medium thickness, old, some leaves broken, the rest in good order.

XXIX. VEDAS OR COMMENT ON THEM.

1. No. 1703. Rig-veda, portions of the oldest véda.

The names of rúchs, or other divisions, can only be given. These are—agnétra rúch-bahu sáma, éca sáma-bhrihats-trishtupa-anushtupa-Indrapucha-Sakriya-Ch'udra and other divisions. Some of these names appear to relate to measures, or to modes of chanting. Two parts leaf 1—65 so far regular; 2d Part 1—60 regular; left incomplete.

The book is of medium size, recent, and in good order,

2. No. 1707. Sáma Véda, parts of the third Véda.

— agnéya	12	khandas , or sections.
— éca samam	6	khandas or sections.
— bhriti	8	" "
— anushtupa	"	" "
— tishtupa	3	" "
— Indra pucham	3	" "
— pavamánam	11	" "
— maha-sáma
— aravam	6	" " so far complete, with some other khandas , not particularized.

The book does not finish. Seven leaves are in a confused order.

The book is of medium size, injured by insects; and the edges are worn: recent.

3. No. 1708. Rig-veda, fragment eight adhyáyas, or chapters, on 38 leaves, but not numbered in regular order—several blank leaves. Incomplete.

4. No. 1710. Suc'ha of the yajur-veda one branch.

The 1st and 2d ashtaca, or octave complete: of the 2d cándam, and 3d sanhita, two prasnas are complete, the 3d prasna is incomplete.

The 1st ashtaca has 104 leaves, the 2d 96 leaves, the third 23 leaves.

The book is long, thick, and in good order: new leaves are inserted in the middle, between old ones, on either side, in a way not usual.

5. No. 1712. Yajur véda—selections from the second véda.

From the seven Cāndas of this vēda some passages are selected, and then divided into words; each word is resolved into sanhita, chant, pata measure, krama mode of dividing, jada repeating ganam class as to initial letter. After this resolution is made, the sense remains unknown, like that of a foreign, or obsolete language. The Amṛta cōsha, or Sanscrit Dictionary gives little aid as to the meaning of the Vēdas: so my assistant states; but a heavy penalty rests on any Brahman making known the sense of the Vēdas to foreigners. It may be expiated by bathing in the sea, near to Ramiseram; but I have not met with the mention of a lesser penalty; the former involving a painful, and expensive pilgrimage. The leaves are 1—148, but 102—115 are wanting, and again from 122—126 wanting. At the end are two leaves without numbers—subject the vēda.

The book is long, thick, old, some leaves damaged by termites.

6. No. 1716. Sac'ha-yajur vēdam.

Sata pata Brāhmana, theological part, the 8th candam, and 8th adhyāyam leaf 5—53.

The book is long, and thin, three leaves at the beginning are broken, only small parts left: otherwise good order.

7. No. 1719. Sāma-Vēda rahasyam—mystery of the third vēda, leaf 1—93 and 105 incomplete.

The contents appear to be hymnology. From a summary of the beginning, the Sāma vēda is described as having seven bodies (divisions) seven dwipas (sounds,) and its letters as jewels. It is the place of rishis and devas, (or inspired men, and angels). It is also termed a sea.

The language of this book, as of the Vēdas is obsolete: and not now understood, in the South. It is long, of medium thickness, old, some leaves are worm eaten.

8. No. 1725. Mādhaviyam.

By Sāyanāchārya.

It is also termed Vēdart'ha pracāsa, splendor of the Vēda—meaning. The sentences are both ṛuchs and Sanhitas, or peculiar metre, and chants. The 1st adhyāya is complete, the 2d incomplete.

The work consists of sentences taken from the vēdas, and the meaning expounded: a sort of select paraphrase.

The book is long, of medium thickness, recent, in good order.

9. No. 1732. Vājésaneyā-Sanhita-patā kātica retna māli, jewel-wreath of tones.

A work on the intonation of the Sanhitas of the vēdas originally by Vājésaneyā.

Examples in application of the rules are given; and these, with some amplification of the meaning of the original, are ascribed to San-carachárya.

The svaras, or accents used in reading or chanting, are four; termed utart'ham-anuart'ham-svaritam-prajeyan; which seem to me to be the acute, grave, circumflex—rising, and circumflex—falling which may be marked $\acute{\ } \grave{\ } \circ \ \vee$: it is also stated where the visarga, or final h must come in to lengthen the sound. [The circumflex rising and falling may be explained by musical slided notes.]

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

10. No. 1939. Nyáya sutà, nectar of wisdom; otherwise sastra dipica vyákya, an explanation of a book termed "Scripture lamp."

The 1st adhyáyam goes to prove that the Védas are a rule, or standard of authority. In the 2d adhyáya the yágam or sacrifice of an animal, hóma or fire-offering by pouring on butter-oil, &c. and dánam any kind of gift—these three modes of meritorious ceremonies are explained: objections are raised, and answered. The book is incomplete at the end; and hence its exact classification is doubtful. The paging is 1—230 but 150—153 are left blank, 154, 158, 159 are wanting.

The entire book is long, thick, old, gnawed at the ends, near the beginning, and worm eaten at the end.

β. A—c. TELUGU CHARACTER.

I. ADVAITA.

1. No. 1138. Brahmam Mimamsa bhásyam: an explanation of a work called Brahmam Mimamsa. The uttara mimamsa of Vyása appears to be intended; 4 adhyáyas or chapters.

By Siva kándáchárya.

The book is on the system of the Smárta vedanta, or advaita system. The nature (surúpa) of the human soul, and of the divine soul, or supreme. On the triple work of Deity, creation, preservation, destruction (usually personified as Brahma, Vishnu, Siva.) The nature, or quality of that triple operation. On these points the Védas are a rule, or standard of authority, as to judgment. Brahma taught the meaning of the *vácya*s, or passages on the Vedanta. By hearing those passages the sorrow of ignorance, in supposing the human soul to be distinct from the divine soul, departs.

A Sudra is not allowed to study the védas, or to hear them read: but to hear puránas read may remove his sins.

The entire world is only Brahm. He is clothed with the form of the world, (as the soul may be said to be clothed with the body). The qualities, mostly by negation, of this Brahm, the Supreme. There is no difference between Brahm, and the universe; and between the human soul, and Isvara, or Brahm there is no difference. A ray of light is divided into atoms, infinitely small. These compose the world (atomic philosophy.) Some say there is no God (Isvara), this atheism is condemned. Now, (shift prepared by the use of the word Isvara) Siva is the Creator of the world. The word Brahm is henceforward changed for that of Siva. In him are combined all perfections Omniscience, Omnipotence &c. with a negation of bad qualities.

[On this system the human soul being one with Isvara, must also possess Omnipotence &c.; and must be without defect. This objection is met by stating that the human soul acquires these qualities after liberation from the body, and union with Siva. This answer, if they have no better one, upsets their own system; for it is clear from it, that the soul is now in a distinct, and different state, from that of final absorption.]

This book is complete; and, as a compendium of the advaita system, might merit translation. It is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, and in good order.

2. No. 1182. Tatva vivéca dipanam, an illustration of the tatva system.

By Nrsimhâzrama muni.

In two parich'hédas, or divisions.

The subject is on the advaita scheme of védanta doctrine, prose, mingled with poetry.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in tolerably good order.

3. No. 1185. Vivéca sâram, essence of wisdom, on the advaita system.

The origin of the five elements according to this system—origin of ritual ceremonies—the knowledge of God, and of the human soul is the way to beatification. [Atmam and anâtman are also sometimes applied to animate and inanimate existences.]

How many kinds of ritual ceremonies there are; and especially their fruit or virtue. There are two kinds of minds, or souls 1) bodan and 2) muk-ta. The first possess desire, dvesham or enmity, avarice, môham, or sensuality, matam or false zeal, and mâcharyam, or malice. The second are without those bad affections, and are one with Isvara. The bad passions are subdivided into details.

The body is the occasion of duc'ha or sorrow. The body, as to its present state of health, sickness &c. is the result of karma; that is virtue, or vice, in a former birth. And the nature of the present life influences a future one.

By the practice of the five bad dispositions, comes karma, the fruit being sin. The mind is the seat, or cause of those sinful dispositions. From avirécam, folly or ignorance, comes ahancáram, egotism, or self conceit, or pride. But this ignorance is removed by vinécam, knowledge or wisdom. And this good knowledgé comes through the adváita system. The description of a man of true knowledgé; in such a one the soul, and Isvara or God, are not diverse, but one and the same. The átma or soul is clothed with three bodies. 1.) St'híla saríram, or the gross material body. 2.) Súcshma-saríra, or a minute, and delicate vehicle (the manes perhaps of the Latins) and the kúrana saríram which must be understood of some thing still more delicate, or subtile (mens immortalis?)

The properties, or qualities of the soul, such as truthfulness, knowledge, &c. The three avast'has defects, or necessities of the soul; such as, waking care, dreaming, sleep; with some distinctions.

The foregoing is on leaf 1 to 55, and the production presents the system, in its least objectionable form: the union of the soul with God, in a small number of persons, [differing from the Christian system, only as to the cause, or bond of union: perhaps also as to remaining personal identity.]

The following leaves 56—114 a little being wanting are wholly on the Védanta system; containing various technical terms, and subtile distinctions. The subject is pantheistic; and on the adváitam, oneness of the human soul with Deity. (The postulatam, ascribed to Vyása, that the universe is a development of deity, and has no distinct existence apart from deity being granted—then all the consequences deduced by the adváitas are regular. In the postulatam itself is the inherent falsehood.) There are many Sanscrit slócas in this book, but the prose vehiculum is Canárese, in the Telúgu letter. Its classification is therefore a little doubtful. The entire book is long, of medium thickness, and injured by insects.

4. No. 1186. Védanta-sára-dípica.

Lamp, or comment on the essence of the Védanta incomplete. 1 leaf of Telúgu accounts, then 2—42, and 8 leaves déva nágari letter.

On the adváita system. Discussions on the deception of the senses, and on the unreal nature of the world. The various objects in the world are compared to the manifold reflections of the moon's image on undulating water, even so, it is the Deity himself that is reflected in so many varied forms of existence, in the visible world. The Divine soul, and the human soul are one.

This book is long, and old; very much eaten out at the sides by termítes.

5. No. 1347. On the Smarta-adváitam, in four different parts, or pieces.

—2 leaves explanation of Vedanta system, on the adváita scheme, proved by ślócas. On the nothingness of the world; the human, and divine soul are not diverse, but one; 52 ślócas complete.

—2 leaves, on the adváita system, 47 ślócas.

—2 leaves, Mahá vácyam quotation of some passages taken from various upanishadas; and, with an interpretation given, favoring the adváita system.

—3 leaves,—átma bhódam, 68 ślócas, not complete, proving the above doctrine by ślócas, quoted from other authorities.

The book is of medium length, thin, and touched by worms.

II. ALMANACS.

1. No. 1209. Pānchānga, for the cycle year Srimuc'ha, on the Siddhanta, or northern system, complete. It also has the p'hala sruti, or the planets which rule, for the year, as king, mantri, over corn &c. In this part one leaf is wanting, at the beginning.

The label has viródhi year, which is wrong; leaves 2—30.

2. No. 1210. Pānchānga for Parāpabhava cycle year, cali yuga 4827 Sal: Sa: 1648, A. D. 1726-7. As before, with the p'hala sruti, complete, p. 1—32, contents as usual.

The book is small, only one board, touched by insects.

3. No. 1211. Pānchāngam for Vibhava year; c. y. 4849, S. S. 1670 A. D. 1748-9.

On the Siddhanta-ríti, or northern mode.

The lunar days, days of the week, lunar asterisms, eclipses and other usual matters. Also the p'hala sruti, or discrimination of the planets into king, mantri, lord of clouds, ruler of armies, lord of corn, price of articles, things having taste and things tasteless. For that year, Saturn king, Mars minister, Moon, general, Venus lord of corn fields and grain, Mercury lord of clouds. Sun ruling things with taste, Jupiter, those without taste.

The book is of medium size, thin, and in good order.

4. No. 1212. Pānchāgam, for cródhī year; circiter 1780 A. D.

The five parts are tī'thī, vāram, nacshētra, yōga, karana; the two last being divisions for astrological purposes. The precise duration of each one. The place of each one of the planets, with its pāta reckoned by fractions: each rāsi, or sign having nine pātas, and four pātas make a nacshētra; so that there is an unequal division, in reference to the rāsis. Discrimination as to suba, and asuba kalam, or good, and evil times. The proper lunar days for funereal anniversaries, and vratas or fasts.

On 32 leaves; added 1 leaf Canarese Grant'ha letter, money account.

The book is of medium size, thin, and a little damaged.

III. ARITHMETIC.

1. No. 1342. Ganita sara sangraha, abridged essence of accounts.

By Mahā vīra āchārya.

In Sanscrit sutras, or brief and obscure sentences; with a tīca, or verbal glossary in Telugu.

Various arithmetical rules are given. Intermediate are a few ślokas on the game of chess (chaturanga lacshana) with movements of a few of the pieces. Inserted also, a jātacam, or horoscope of one Rāma Gōvinda.

The above arithmetical treatise is then resumed. Rule of three—Rule of Five, Rule of seven—Rule of nine.

On the weight of gold. On land measuring, various questions in Arithmetic, with answers to them; this last matter in Sanscrit sutras, with tīca in Canarese. The leaves are numbered 1—6, and 15—18, and 1—3. Other leaves are reckoned by letters; an old mode, growing obsolete; some have no mark—in all 60 leaves.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, but in tolerable order.

IV. ASTROLOGICAL.

1. No. 1207. Dāivagnya lacshana. Astrological, referring to ceremonies ; no name of author : ślocas.

This book treats chiefly of the proper, or fortunate times astrological, for the performance of customary sacerdotal ceremonies. The indications, good or evil, arising from the time of a first menstruation. Notices of the fortunate times for ceremonies in the 4th, 6th or 8th month of pregnancy ; for the ceremony on birth of a child ; for the naming it ; for boring the ears ; for the first feeding in the 6th month ; for first cutting the birth-hair ; for beginning to learn the alphabet ; for putting on the learned thread ; this fortunate time is styled yogyamana. This tract is complete.

There is some following matter in the dēva nāgari letter.

The book is of medium size, old, and injured : especially at the beginning.

2. No. 1208. Jyōtisham, Astrology.

The contents are miscellaneous ; and, from the extraordinary influence of astrology in India, it may be well to particularize a few matters.

Leaf 1—3. On tī'hi, vāra, naeshētra, yoga. These, on the occurrence of a first menstruation, are noticed ; and good, or evil, for the future, thence deduced. As for example with naeshētras, asvini is good, bharini evil, critica bad, rohini good, mrigasiras good, ardra, bad, &c. So of the tī'his, the 1 prat'hami is bad, 2 dwiti medium, 3 treti good, 4 chaturdhi bad, 5 panchami good, 6 shasti bad, 7 saptami good, 8 ashtami bad, &c.

And of the vāram, Sunday bad, sickness, Monday good ; Tuesday bad, sorrow ; Wednesday good, Thursday good, Friday good, Saturday bad.

This portion is complete by itself.

—8 leaves. On observing the janma-naeshētra, or moon's place at the time of birth. The moon's places are divided into three ganas, or classes, dēva, divine, manushya human, rāchasa savage : the said ganas in order, being good, medium, bad.

DEVYA or good, asvini-mrigasiras-punarvasa-svata, hasta, anurādha, sravana, rēvati.

MANUSHYA, medium. The three uttaras. The three purvas, rohini, bharini, ardra.

RACSHASA savage, all the rest, as critica, visāc'ha, māgha, aslēsha, chitta, danushta, jyesh't'ha, mūla.

This arrangement is with respect to marriages : when any marriage is proposed, it is examined whether the naeshétras agree in class or differ ; if both agree in class it is well ; but déva and rácshasa, are not good, and prohibitory ; déva and manushya, are passable, the marriage may take place.

In like manner the naeshétras, which will allow of any one shaving his head.

The like, together with days of the week, as to journies, whether they may be made, or otherwise.

Comparison of the gráma-naeshétra, with that of the person's name. There is an artificial mode, by means of syllables in any word, of fixing the naeshétra of any town or village, and that of any enquirer ; so that, if the name of person and town correspond in kind, the enquirer may go to that town or village, and live, and prosper there.

On the enmity, and friendship between the planets. Mars, friendly to Sun, Moon to Jupiter : both medium as to Venus and Saturn ; at enmity with Mercury. The Sun's enemies are Saturn, and Venus ; medium as to Mercury ; friends are Jupiter, Mars, and the rest. And so as to other planets.

The chandra p'halam, and dhana p'halam ; a comparison of any one's birth naeshétra with the situation of the moon, on any particular day ; and then from the distance, and other sources, it is determined whether a person can do any thing of importance, on that day, or ought not to attempt it.

Prasna p'halam, on horary questions, Dasádi, decades &c. to each planet is assigned a dasa, cycle, or period ; to the Sun 6 years, to the Moon 10 years, to Mars 7 years, to ráhu 18 years, to Jupiter 16 years, to Saturn 19 years, to Mercury 17 years, to ketu 7 years, to Venus 20 years, in all 120 years ; considered to be the full period of human life. By means of these periods, it is ventured to predict, years of health, or sickness, plenty or want, death of father, or other relative ; death of the individual enquirer, and other matters. [This, as far as I know, differs wholly from the European phase of this art. In other books, there is also another meaning of the term dasa.]

A mode of inspecting the naeshétras, and then stating the hour at night. In the day-time by means of the shadows of objects.

Gócharam, state of the planets at the time of birth, whence are predicted the events of the future life.

The janma naeshétra, or moon's place at the time of birth being understood, the different planets have periods, or distances assigned, and on coming to this distance (e. g. the seventh sign off) the result is good, or evil. To Saturn is given three signs, to Mars 7 signs, &c. This part is also complete, 11 leaves in all medium length, good order.

(A translation would give an epitome of some points in native astrology that are curious, the use of such data will be elsewhere shewn.)

3. No. 1289. Janma-battricà-jâtacam.

By Aûbalârya. The birth, horoscope, and future events in the life of Dasayya, son of Vencata a merchant.

On the label, the horoscope of Prat'hâna Chennapaiyâ's eldest son.

Among the circumstances are—various profits, enjoyments—health—pilgrimages—good incidents—various losses—dangers—sorrows of mind—disease, or sickness &c. with the length of life. The said Dasayya was to die in pingala year, in Vâsacha month, in the dark half of the seventh lunar day, in the Sravana nacehêtra, at noon, the sign Leo in the ascendant. It gave him 71 years of age; but so minute a statement of circumstances was hazardous.

The book is small, in good order.

4. No. 1345. Daiçâgnya vilâsam, or Astrological amusements, incomplete.

By Kanjana Yellarya.

On the two ayanas, or sun's course, in the uttara northern, and dacshana southern hemispheres, their influence; the uttara is adapted to joyful occasions; the other not auspicious, for marriages.

The mâla mâsa, or month in which two new moons occur: not deemed propitious, on some occasions. The tithi, or lunar day, on which any relative died is observed in the mâla mâsa; but some confusion occurs; the mode of proceeding in such a case, stated.

Mahalyam from the full moon in September to the following new moon is set apart, as a general time of commemoration of all ancestors: q. d. "All souls." Many Srâddhas are observed therein.

On the origin of the tithis, or lunar days, and on fasting on some of them.

Women are prohibited from officiating in any ceremony: every thing needful, on their part, is to be done through their husbands.

From the 1st lunar day onwards, those are specified on which any remarkable occasions happen; such as the birth-day of Krishna, &c.

The jâtaca bhava, formation of a horoscope, and foretelling from it future events.

On the graha yuddham, war, or contrariety of planets: graha chêsta, their evil influence: graha dicbalan (or drishti) the effect of the opposition of planets.

The book is rather long, and thin: damaged: a fragment of 24 leaves, wanting the beginning and the ending.

V. CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY.

3. No. 1290. Védanta bhásya-bhúshana, jewel comment on the Vedanta. The reference is to the Satya véda or the Christian Scriptures. In dialogues from 1st sambhásana to 13th complete; with a little only of the 14th. The substance as follows.

Idolatry condemned—the attributes of God—the nature of the true véda, creation of the world, of Adam and Eve.

Then an outline of the entire Christian system of doctrines, down to baptism, and the nature and use of prayer.

The 14th dialogue is only just begun. The book is written in a plain style, with a few grammatical faults; and is, like the style of local puranas in prose. It seems to me to be a translation of a book known as “Swartz’s dialogues” from Tamil into Sanscrit; quite like it, in order of arrangement, and in subjects; though, to be quite certain, it would be needful to refer more particularly, than I have done, to the Tamil, and it would merit the attention of any Religious Society to print it; as Brahmans despise the Tamil language.

It is possible that this book may have been put into the collection surreptitiously, in place of some one taken out of it. It is of medium size, recent, and in good order—113 leaves.

VI. DHERMA-SASTRA, law, ecclesiastical, and civil.

1. No. 1139. Mádhaviyam a comment on the Parásara-smṛiti by Mádhava: ślócas.

On the duties of Brahmans in the early morning—on mental devotion. On evacuation, and cleansing—on bathing, and putting on garments—marking the urdva, or námam; vandanam or prayers, morning, noon, evening—hómas, or fire-offerings. On reading the Védas—homage to Siva—homage to guests.

On the duties of kings—their daily duties—also special devices, as to peace, and war.

Duties of Vaisyas—relating to trade, or commerce, duties of Sudras, as to agriculture, ploughing, sowing &c. They must not over work bullocks; on the law of the distribution of grain into shares, after the harvest.

Again reverting to customary ceremonies among Brahmans—the two ceremonies after pregnancy—on birth of a child—on naming it—on first feeding it—shaving—beginning to learn to read—assuming the learned thread. (These are of constant occurrence in other books.) Some matters on ceremonial pollutions, funereal ceremonies, on female separations; if on the fourth day when the woman should bathe there be convulsions, some other ceremony to be used.

instead of bathing, for the present, other matters on the âchâra cândam, or sacerdotal law, leaves 1—129 (130—2 wanting) 133—255, but 223, 224, and 234 are wanting.

The book is rather long, very thick, old, and damaged by worms at the edges.

2. No. 1141. Vignânesvâryam, slôcas, with prose, mixed. A comment on the code of Yâgyñyavalkya by Vignânesvara.

The Vyavahâra cândam, or the second division on secular law : p. 99—227 complete.

The properties of civil life—the character of a minister of state—and of a judge, whether a king or otherwise ; rules as to taking evidence, or enquiry—on duly examining both parties in a suit—rules as to witnesses, and examining them—law as to the appropriation, or division of a hidden, or buried treasure discovered—how to appropriate money found on the person of a thief, when taken—law as to things taken on credit, (assumpsit) or on bond—law as to interest—on the repayment of debts, or of money taken on credit, or on bond sureties—on the decision in favor of one against another—on the old custom of ordeal by fire—various rules regarding it—the daya bhâga on the division of ancestral, or inherited property. On the dowry of wives, or women—disputes as to boundaries of villages—on breaches of trust, and on sale of property entrusted, the proceeds self-appropriated.

—On criminal law. Punishment of criminals—the severe punishments—on hasty proceedings tending to crime.

—On manslaughter—on the forcibly carrying away of women, and various other matters ; both in the civil and criminal portions.

This is a highly valuable book, and should be fully translated : as it is the first authority in the South of India, among the people speaking Tamil. A part, entitled the Mitâcshara, has been published in an English translation.

The book is long, rather thick, slightly touched by worms and termites, yet in very tolerable order.

3. No. 1142. Two fragments.

1.) On the âchâra cândam, or sacerdotal law, and observances, leaf 1—15 observances on the new and full moon—mode of keeping Krishna's birth-day. On the fast when the 12th lunar day falls in Sravana.

—On the 11th lunar day as observed by the Vaishnavas there is a little difference, sometimes, as to the exact time between them and the Sâivas. Observance on the transit of the sun, into another sign. Incomplete.

2.) On the properties of an altar: on the raised earthen bench, or bank near the altar, on which to place vessels—rules as to the size of such vessels.

—On the derbha or sacred grass, used in some ceremonies—on fire-offerings—description of fire.

Duty of the husband of a pregnant woman—duty of the four orders of Brahmachári, Grahast'ha—Vanaprast'ha—and Sannyási, and others.

One śloca describes those who may not eat of the Srāddha or funereal offerings, that is one without a wife—the husband of a pregnant woman—one who is ignorant of the Vēdas—one of the same gotra or tribe, with the giver of the food—the husband of a menstruous woman; 37 leaves, numbers irregular, incomplete.

The first fragment is long, thin, and in tolerable order; the second of medium length, thin, damaged: subjects connected.

Note—Some Canarese letters appear: but not so as to require transfer.

4. No. 1144. Ag'ha nirnaya, with a comment thereon; the latter by Vencatēsa.

Sacerdotal law—on the uncleanness occasioned by the death of relatives—a Brahman for ten days, a Sudra for sixteen days. If an amavási (or complement beyond the 14th tithi to the conjunction or opposition) come within the ten days, the rule of proceeding. Expiation for having eaten of unclean, or prohibited food. Various Brahmanical ceremonials. Expiation on abortions, in different stages of growth of the foetus. Expiations, if any one die in another country than his own: also if a child die within 10 days of birth. On sudden or violent death—suicide: in each case the extent of pollution to relatives, and its expiation.

These and other matters relating to what are known as apara-vishaya or funereal ceremonies: leaves 1—90 leaves 3—8 are in Grant'ha letter.

At the end four leaves, containing ślocas in praise of Bhōja rāja.

The entire book is long, thick, very old, and much injured by worms, and breaking.

5. No. 1145. Dherma śāstra, sacerdotal law.

By Nārāyana, leaf 1—104 incomplete.

On self cleansing from pollution of excrements—on cleansing the teeth in the early morning—on bathing—on cleansing by means of cow-dung—various kinds of bathing, as with sand, sandal-wood powder, &c.—on the sacred grass—the putting it as a ring on the 4th finger of the right hand—on the Brahmanical thread—on the evening and morning homage—on the sipping water with the use of mantras, and holding the nostrils while mentally pronouncing the Gayatri—on the use of the arghyam, or two handfuls of water, offered to the sun—mode of muttered prayer—times for the use of hómam, or fire-offering ; on offering water to the manes of departed ancestors—homage to the god worshipped—mode of eating—on prohibited food—on the use of betel and areca—on the ceremony termed pumsa-rana, on the quickening of the foetus—duty of a pregnant woman, and duties of her husband—ceremony on birth of a child—on naming it—on giving it the first food—on shaving the head—on assuming the sacerdotal cord—upácarman or subordinate ceremonies, in the month Shravana, change of thread—expiation for any defect in Brahmanical duties—on the affiancing or betrothing of a virgin—on marriage—on bathing after menstruation—duties of chaste wives, rules for their guidance—duties of widows—the sraddha for the commemoration of a Sannyási—on the gifts of a cow, of land, &c. various expiations ; as of Brahmahatti or killing a Brahman, for drinking ardent spirits, for theft, for adultery with the wife of a spiritual preceptor. At the end : one leaf, in a larger handwriting, homage to Ganésa, 5 ślokas : 1½ leaf praise of the Cáveri river 10 ślokas : 2½ leaves—praise of Vishnu at Trichinopoly 8 ślokas : 5 additional leaves in all.

The entire book is somewhat long, and thick, recent, in small hand-writing.

6. No. 1146. Vasishta Samhita, on sacerdotal law, and other matters ; by Vasishta, or in his name.

On bathing—sipping water from the hands—stopping the nostrils—pouring out a joined handful of water three times as an offering to the sun. On muttered prayer, as the Gayatri, &c.—on the practice of asceticism—a prayer to the sun : when the foregoing out-door ceremony is done, then at home, offering unbloody sacrifices, and other matters.

Leaf 41, 42 motions of the hands, and fingers when mentally repeating the Gayatri.

43—47 descriptions of other mudras, or indications by the hands, to express various meanings, the how described in 24 ślokas 52—119—description of the excellence of the Gayatri—a commentary on its meaning, the cavucham, or spell for protection, used with it, and praise of it by a thousand names and praise of the Gayatri by 108 names. The Indrácshí yentra, or diagram ; with some mantras and yentras relating to Parvati.

The book is of medium size, old, and very much injured by termites.

7. No. 1148. Dharma sastra, áchára cándam, on sacerdotal law.

Fire offering in a pot or pit—zánti if a crow descend and strike any one with its beak—zánti if a child be born in the same lunar asterism as its father—some matters as to funereal ceremonies—zānti if a first menstruation happen in a bad lunar asterism—zānti in consequence of ceremonial uncleanness, caused by a death in the family. On the burning the body of a pregnant woman, if dying naturally. (Note if a pregnant woman be over six months, and her husband die, her side is to be opened, and the child taken out, after which she may burn with her husband's dead body.) On the bathing consequent on the birth of a child, zānti if a child be born with a cowl, deemed an evil omen to the parents, zānti in case of evil dreams; and other matters: leaf 1—35 beyond 104 leaves, but not in regular order, some leaves deficient.—Beyond are 10 leaves, Gaya śrāddha, mode of obsequies at Gaya in Bengal, a specially sacred place. Two other leaves contain some medical recipes. This latter portion differs from the first one.

The entire book is long and thick, in tolerable order.

8. No. 1149. Argha-nirnaya-vyākhyānam.

A commentary on the argha nirṇayam, by Vencatēsa—son of Rangha nāt hāchārya of the Harita vamsa.

On sacerdotal, or ceremonial law. The mūlam or original is also by Vencatēsa: but whether the commentator, or his ancestor, is uncertain.

The contents are the same as in No. 1144—supra which see.

Leaves 1—75, and 76—79, two leaves incomplete on Krishna's birth-day.

Leaves 80—87 contain Varji anna nirūpana—a discrimination as to prohibited food: and ēca dasa nirūpanam, rules to settle the exact time of the fast on the 11th lunar day; concerning which Vāishnavas and Saivas differ.

The entire book is long, of medium thickness, and slightly touched by insects.

9. No. 1154. Mādhavīyam; otherwise known as Parāsara smṛiti vyākhyānam, a commentary on the code of Parāsara. Brahmanical ceremonies chiefly on the apara vishayam, or funereal obsequies.

The 3d adhyāyam complete, the 4th not so. The subjects are—on ceremonial uncleanness—on burning a dead body, when found at a distance from home; various expiations especially after funereal ceremonies; the Narayana bali—a special sacrifice on some occasions—rules as to Dahanam or the burning any dead body—on the āsti sanjānam, or gathering the bones, and casting them into the Ganges, or into any river near; nachana śrāddham ceremony the 1st day after the burning—nava śrāddham—for nine days in further continuance—and other matters.

— Vappana vidhi, mode of shaving the head—dasaha carmam, tenth day's ceremony—with gifts to Brahmans on the 11th day. Sapinda carmam ceremony as to the ball of food.

On renewing the sacred thread when needful, and on the mahalya-sraddham, a general commemoration of ancestors in September; from the full to the new moon.

The Manu smriti, or code of Manu, is not considered applicable to the Calii yuga, as to the permission to eat flesh, and other matters. Hence the code by Parásara supersedes it, as the law now in force. The above comment is by Madhava: not the Madhava head of the dvaita Váishnavas.

The entire book is long, and thick, on talipat leaves, old; some leaves broken, others worn at the edges.

10. No. 1156. Vasishta smriti—the code of Vasishta; ślokas, without comment.

Divided into eight adhyayas, the 8th defective.

Chap. 1. Relates to the person of a Brahman as to marks or seals, and the like.

Chap. 2. The ceremonies attendant on birth, and some following ones.

Chap. 3. The ceremonies of first shaving the head, assuming the Brahmanical string &c.

Chap. 4. The ceremonies consequent on pregnancy; the pumsa-vanam, and simantam; from the 6th to the 8th month.

Chap. 5. Ceremonies brought under the title of Dharma, as, marking the body, the burning of a widow with the dead body of her husband; the taking off the táli, or marriage token, in cases of other widows. On shaving the head of these widows; their proper deportment &c.

Chap. 6. Ceremonies considered proper to the worship of Deity; but only as regards the Váishnava-vidhi; the mode of Vishnu's devotees.

Some kinds of sticks are fit for cleansing the teeth, some not so.—Morning, noon, and evening prayer. Certain flowers are fit for offerings, others not so,—the modes of púja, or ritual homage to an image. On proper, and improper kinds of food.

Chap. 7. Śraddha prakarana—On funereal ceremonies to commemorate fathers, and ancestors. On the term of pollution occasioned either by death, or birth, in a family.

Chap. 8. On cleansing from ceremonial pollutions: this chapter is not complete.

The book is much injured.

101. No. 1163. Section 1. Smriti artha nirupanam.

On the meaning of the written sacerdotal law. The apara vishayam, concerning funereal observances; not complete. The ceremonies from the first to the 12th day inclusive, the last remains unfinished. For the other contents see XVIII. Miscellaneous.

11. No. 1230. Section 2. Parásara smṛiti the code of Parásara.

It specifies the rites and ceremonies proper to the kṛita, tréta, dvápara, and kali yugas.

And also the Dherma áchára, or rules of conduct for the four classes of Brahman, Cshétriya, Vaisya, and Sudra. This code is adapted to the Calí yuga, that of Menu to the Kṛita yuga, or first age—leaves 65—88 incomplete.

This section is less than half of the entire book: only half-leaves remain, the other half being gnawed off, so that the appearance of the two sections is very different. See XVIII.

12. No. 1352. Dherma Sastra, the áchára cándam, chiefly on funereal ceremonies. The minute particulars of observances on the day of burning the body; expiations for any accident to the fire carried out with the body, &c. Details as to each following days' observances.

Particular ceremonies, in cases of violent deaths—death of a child.

In such cases of violent death, when from home, the funereal ceremony for a Brahman must be on the same day: other classes may be deferred, even till months afterwards.

The case of polygamists having children by each wife—the claims of the eldest, by the first wife, stated.

If any one be not heard of for twelve years, the ceremonies for one dead may be performed; if he again return, after that ceremony, an expiation is provided.

The authorities of various rishis, or their recorded opinions on the different points are stated, or referred to. The book is not complete: leaf 4—35 not the end. It is very long, and thin, on broad tali-pat leaves, and damaged by termites.

13. No. 1454. Four pieces.

—3 leaves. Dherma sastra of the áchára cándam—on sipping water in early morning devotion—stopping the nostrils, with the use of mantras. On the crime of adultery—its expiation—in the case of a disciple, with the wife of a spiritual preceptor, the culprit must be made to lie down on red-hot iron—the like punishment if the case relate to the wife of a king.

—2 leaves—Vishnu sahasranámam, the 1008 names of Vishnu incomplete.

—leaf 73—93 Anumikam—duties.

By Ramanújacharya complete.

—On early morning devotion—bathing outside the house—the sandhya vandanam:

—Putting on the urdhva or forehead mark; on coming back to the house, a distributing food to the housewife—food to be prepared, or given in sacrifice; worship of Bhagavat in the house—praise of Vishnu.

—Jitanti—praise of Vishnu—ascribed to Brahmà 1st adhyáyam incomplete.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

VII. DRAMATIC.

1. No. 1112. Prabódha chandródiyam, the rising full moon, a drama. By Krishna Misra. It has six ancas or acts, a few leaves are wanting; Prácruti slócas, prosé. A moral and sectarial drama. Bad and good dispositions are personified and brought on the stage, with appropriate dresses, and language.

The bad dispositions are stated to be damba foppish ostentation, kámanam lust, kópa anger, lóba avarice, móham great lust, matam, fanaticism, ahancára pride, egotism, ása covetousness. The good dispositions are vivéca wisdom, zánti, fortitude, forbearance, karuna kindness, benevolence, cshama patience, váirágya ascetic zeal, sradulha magnanimity. The object is to inculcate a system opposed to that of the following drama: both having the same title.

The book is of medium size, and very slightly touched by insects.

2. No. 1349. Prabódha chandródaya náta—the rising full-moon a drama.

By Appaiya dicshada. This is a drama of a moral kind, and for a sectarial object, certain good and bad dispositions are personified, and exhibited, in appropriate dresses, and with dialogues. The good dispositions are stated to be vivéca, wisdom, mati sense, zánti forbearance, sama peaceableness, váirágya ascetic zeal, cshama patience or meekness, and some others. The bad dispositions are káma sensual lust, crodhá, cruelty, lópa avarice, maha móha extreme fascination of lust, damba foppish self-conceit.

Both Sanscrit and prácruti slócas are used; and prácruti prose for the low characters.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, has only one board, is old, and a little damaged.

VIII. EROTIC.

1. No. 1087. Section 2. Seven leaves are added to a book on Grammar, containing 700 pracruti ślocas, of amatory poetry: for Section 1, See X. 1. No. 1087.

2. No. 1120. Jambhavati parināyam.

Nominally by Māndavani Bhūpati, but really by 'Ecāmbara-nāt'ha cavi, ślocas.

Details of the marriage of Krishna with Jambhavati daughter of Jambhavān, who issued from the mouth of Brahma: with various minor tales intermingled. The book has 4 sargas, with a little of the 5th—leaves 1—23; wanting the 10th, and not ending.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

3. No. 1130. Vasanta tilaca bhānam.

Ascribed to Varadāchārya of Conjeveram; this monologue drama is more commonly known as Ammāl-bhānam. Ślocas, with other stanzas and prose mixed.

The transactions of a debauchee are described during a day and a night at Conjeveram: with description of morning and sunset. The gallant's person—his conduct—intercourse with women—talking with temple female slaves—and other persons—cockfighting—fighting of rams—description of the town, streets, buildings, scenery, &c. leaves 1—18 complete.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

4. No. 1131. Satyā parināyam.

A prefatory 6 leaves contain 54 ślocas stating the genealogy of the poet's patron, Māndavani-raya son of Ancusha bhūpati, who had desired 'Ecāmbara nat'ha to write a poem about Krishna ascribed to the rāja: which he did.

The Satyā parināyam in ślocas is on the subject of Krishna's marriage with one of his inferior wives: including a description of the town of Dwāraca, of spring and other seasons; amorous adventures of Krishna, and details as to the said marriage, 12 sargas on 56 leaves, incomplete. See, 2. No. 1120. supra.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

5. No. 1294. Gīta Govinda, chants about Krishna original by Jaya-dēva. The commentary is called Gīta Govinda-sangraha-dīpica, author not known. The original stanzas, and comment are in this book, the stanzas are ashta pati or (Ottava rima) eight lines : both complete.

Praise of the ten avatáras of Vishnu; and then details of the amours of Rádha and Krishna, as translated in the Asiatic Researches. The defect there is making this to be sacred poetry; and omitting the fact that Rádha was Krishna's aunt.

The book is long, of medium thickness, (80 leaves) slightly touched by worms, and by termítes.

IX. ETHICAL.

1. No. 1052. Bhagavat-gíta, slócas from the 1st to the 18th adhy-áyam, complete.

A Telugu tica or verbal comment, is added. The subject is moral, and metaphysical; the Váishnava-vedánta, and the Adváita, systems are, in a great measure, founded thereon.

The dogma that all beings and things are developments of Deity may be good, if well guarded; but not so, when drawn out into all consequences.

This book is of medium size, and in good order.

2. No. 1053. Bhagavat Gíta.

The 1st, 2d, 10th, 11th, 15th adhyáyas only.

There is added a centum of stanzas in praise of Rāma-chandra; and two or three leaves, in Canarese, a fragment from the Bháratam; and a little nágari writing.

3. No. 1073. Satvica-Brahma-vidya vilása.

A Váishnava treatise of mystic, and moral kind, with illustrative tales, complete: book of medium size, and in good order.

4. No. 1140. Purushárt'ha-suta nidhi, or the treasure-nectar of human economy.

By Sayanárya to Balkha-bhúpati; but as if narrated to rishis by Suta; slócas, without tica, or comment.

Purushárt'ha is a general term to denote the four divisions dherma, art'ha, kāma, mócsha; or beneficence, property, pleasure, liberation.

- a. Dherma scanda, has 34 adhyáyas 1—8 complete 9th incomplete 10—20 wanting 21—34 complete.

- Chapter 1. Excellence of dharma, beneficence.
- „ 2. „ of pilgrimage, and of the special night of Siva.
- „ 3. „ of paying homage to Brahmans; crime of contemning Brahmans.
- „ 4. Merit or demerit in a former birth, with its consequences in the present life.
- „ 5. Duties of a householder.
- „ 6. Duties of a chaste wife.
- „ 7. Duty of receiving a guest.
- „ 8. The five daily offerings, or duties.
- „ 9. Praise of a right course of conduct (direct not crooked.)

Chapter 21—34 reward of building a Saiva fane, and of sweeping the temple; merit of bathing an image of Siva, with ghee or milk, offering to it fruits, &c. or incense or lights; rewards of giving any of these five articles. Reward and merit of pouring ghee on an image of Vishnu—excellence of the mantra, and prayer to Vishnu. Merit of praising Vishnu; also of rolling the body round his temple, keeping it on the right hand &c. &c.

b. Art'ha scandam, on wealth, &c.

Duties of kings—how to manage a kingdom—gaming to be avoided—and hunting also—against a too frequent intercourse with women—against drinking intoxicating liquors—against a severe tongue (or harsh language)—a ruler should be gentle—on punishment; it should be mild—on helping the good, an evil man should not be put into office—a king should not break his faith, or be treacherous.

c. Kama scandam, on pleasure.

All evil desires condemned—rash conduct reprobated, &c. &c.

d. Mocsha scandam—on liberation.

Condemnation of evil passions, such as hatred, &c. excellence of remembering the name of Vishnu—merit of repeating the name Siva, benefit of going on pilgrimage. Both sin and virtue are condemned: because, in both cases, there must be another birth to punish or reward; whereas mocsham is a liberation from future births. (The meaning perhaps is that penance, and abstract meditation, which entitle to mocsham, are better than active beneficence.) Excellence of Saiva fanes; and of homage (puja) directed to Siva—on spiritual instruction.

The middle is incomplete; but the book has its ending. Various quotations are given from puranas and itihásas; in the course of the foregoing matters: leaves 1—21—blank to 50 then from 51 to 163.

The book is long, thick, and quite new. [No doubt some old book has been removed: this one has been copied off from it in the Library. The complete book removed would be more valuable, than this imperfect copy.]

5. No. 1189. Bhagavat-gīta, the original ślokas only, 18 adhyāyas complete. The metaphysical and mystic discourse of Krishna to Arjuna on created beings, and things, being a development of Deity : and repeated afterwards to Dritarāshtra by Sanjaya—leaf 1—25.

The book is rather long, and is thin, on broad talipāt leaves, small writing.

6. No. 1191. Bhagavat-gīta, an extract from it, entitled garbhā-gīta-art'ha, on the womb. An enquiry by Arjuna, as to the infusion of the human soul into the foetus in the womb. Stated to be the fruit of carma, merit or demerit in a former birth. The effect of carma, is ended by obtaining mōcsham, or oneness with Deity. [The reply is not very satisfactory; and it is also a crux with European theologians, under the term "traduction of souls."]

The book is short, and has only 4 leaves, with 22 ślokas; but complete, as an extract, and in good order.

- 6½. No. 1284. Subhāshita ślokas, elegant extracts, on various subjects.

There are four distinct fragments of books. 1) five small leaves, on moral subjects damaged. 2) six larger leaves on like topics. 3) four longer leaves on alancāram rhetorical, or on ornamental poetry. 4) Nineteen leaves medium length, ślokas on moral subjects. ¾ Grant'hā letter, ¼ Telugu do. collation needed.

The book as a whole is long and thin.

7. No. 1297. Prasanga-retna-vali; jewel necklace of discourse, or Subhāshita ślokas, elegant verses; incomplete.

By 'Uma Mahēsvara-bhatta vidvān.

Divided into various chapters—on the art of poetry—on friendship—on good company—on bad people—on fate—on a bad son—on poverty, &c. &c. Selections on the said subjects are taken as beauties from various books: elegant extracts.

The book is of medium size, on 44 leaves, touched by insects.

8. No. 1301. Subhāshita or Niti-sāra 110 ślokas, a selection of distichs on moral subjects, extracts from different books, as supposed to possess beauty, or elegance, or force of meaning. Take one example.

He is Pandita (or learned man) who, though he may enquire into the good, or evil habits, or qualities of individuals; yet will only mention abroad their good qualities; and will carefully conceal in his own breast a knowledge of evil ones. So when the moon, and poison were both born from the sea, Siva took the moon as excellent, and placed it on his head, while he unknowingly swallowed the poison, and buried it, to his own disadvantage, in his throat.

Leaves 1—16 wanting 15.

The book is very short, thin, and touched by insects.

9. No. 1592. Cháttu slócas, distichs on various subjects; leaves 29—63.

On moral, and other topics, 158 slócas on 35 leaves. Specimen:

As a ruby which is inserted in a bracelet of gold on the arm of a great man shines in the gold better than if laid apart on a table, and the gold also receives an increased lustre from the ruby; so, if at the Court of a king there is a poet, with his productions, he receives splendor from the king and Court, while in return he gives to them a lustre. In both cases there is a brilliancy greater than either could have apart.

One leaf, numbered 26 is prefixed, it contains 15 slócas, a description of the person of Subaddhra, sister of Krishna. Manmata gave her power to make a conquest of Arjuna.

The entire book is short, thin, old, but in good order.

X. GRAMMATICAL.

1. No. 1087. Section 1. Vyākaranam, on Grammar sutras, by Pānini as supposed; and vācyā or explanation, by whom not stated.

Subandham, five modes of sandhi or coalescing of vowels, and consonants. Chapter on the declination of words ending both in vowels and consonants of 3 genders; and indeclinable words—meaning of the seven cases of nouns: so far complete.

Tinganta—conjugation of verbs: this is incomplete. leaves 1—162—in the middle leaves are wanting, 111 leaves remain. For section 2. see VIII—1.

The entire book is rather long, of medium thickness, and slightly touched by insects.

2. No. 1088. Siddhanta Cātmudi, on Grammar.

By Bhattoji dicshada.

This is a reproduction of the sutras of Pānini in lucid arrangement, with illustrations from other authors; and a general commentary, from the chapter on Sabda, (words,) down to vibhactiart'ha nirūpana an exemplification of the meaning of cases. Also on indeclinable words. The difficult sūtras are explained by vācyā, or prose comment; leaf 18—79, beginning and ending deficient.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in tolerable order.

3. No. 1090. Pracriyā cātmudi, on Grammar.

By Rāma chandrāchārya. It wants both beginning and ending; chapter on nouns, from Sambu thence forward complete, with the three genders, of words which end both in vowels and consonants—also indeclinable words, meaning of the seven cases, vibhactiart'ha nirúpana.

On Samásam, or elision of the signs of inflexion of nouns in regimen, as Ráma bhánam for Rámasya bhánam all words so compounded ; or when one noun is used adjectively with another noun.

Tingantam—on verbs incomplete, leaf 12—138, at end 21 blank leaves, one leaf appended—horoscope of one Singaraya's son, born in Brahmóticha cycle year.

The book is long, thick, old, but in good order.

4. No. 1091. Laghu siddhanta cáumudi.

An epitome of No. 1088 supra, incomplete.

On five sandhis, or coalition of letters. In the chapter on nouns, from Ráma down to Sri, not more : prose ; 21 leaves remain.

The book is of medium length, thin, and slightly damaged.

5. No. 1119. Vyákaranam, Grammar.

A fragment, on the declension of nouns, of words that end in vowels from short a, as Ráma, and genders of words that end in vowels, all of them and also of the words ending in consonants. Examples of the declension of some words, with mention of the gender of each one.
Incomplete on 38 leaves, not regularly numbered.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

6. No. 1134. On Grammar, elementary : leaf 1—5.

Samasa chacra, on the collocation of nouns, adjectively with other nouns without inflexion : this is complete.

6—45. On the declension of nouns, pronouns, and adjectives, that end in vowels : and of the masculine gender only : from Ráma, to Grámani, a village head-man : 124 words in all.

Also declension of nouns, ending in vowels of feminine gender from Ráma-lacshmi down to jarà old age : 6 words incomplete.

One leaf kriya mála, on conjugation of verbs ; fragment.

The entire book is of medium size, old, but in tolerable order.

7. No. 1133 (or 35 doubtful.) On Grammar, elementary.

2 leaves on genders : incomplete.

6 „ Samása chacra, nouns in regimen.

1 leaf, kriya mála, on verbs, incomplete.

1 leaf, on cases of nouns.

The letter is Telugu, but where meanings are given this is in Canarese ; yet referring to Sanscrit Grammar.

The book is long, very thin, and in good order.

8. No. 1166. Contains some matter on the sandhis or coalition of letters, and prosodial, on the right intonation of the Védas. For the rest see XXVIII, 8.

9. No 1237. Prayóga vivéca sangraha.

A compendium of practical knowledge. On Grammar, sutras and prose.

By Vara ruchi, incomplete.

The 3d padala, or section—rules for Samāsa, two or more nouns prefixed as epithets, or adjectives to another one, which carries the sign of inflexion: 22 leaves.

Another book.

Lacshana dīpica-slócas, prosodial.

By Gaurā náriya the measure of versés, and on the proper letters to be used in different feet or places of a line. Thus Sri is good, at the beginning of a line and ra is bad, &c. This tract has 12 leaves—in all 34 leaves.

The entire book is long, and thin, some leaves are broken; and the ends have been gnawed by rats.

10. No. 1271. Contains a few lines on the declension of substantives, in nágarī letter: for the rest see XIII.

11. No. 1285. Bhāshya manjeri—garland of language, incomplete—a School-book.

It contains some Sanscrit phrases, and on the mode of forming cases by affixes to nouns: termed vibhacti, in very large hand writing.

The book is long, and thin, damaged by insects.

XI. HYMNOLOGY.

1. No. 538. Siva tilárnava, slócas.

In 24 padhatis, or sections.

The general subject is to praise and magnify the dust of Siva's feet; and this, it would seem, not meant of any image, but of an imaginary personification. The theme is divided into many topics marking surprising invention; but also great prostration of intellect.

Section 1. introductory; 2. origin of the sacred dust; 3. its form; 4. its beauty; 5. power of exciting love; 6. flower-like; 7. worthy of homage; 8. worthy of praise &c. &c. Such common-place topics furnish matter for poetical panegyric.

The book is long, and thin, in the middle several leaves are broken off at the ends.

(From the No. it is doubtful if it is in place here.)

2. No. 1061. Narasinha náma stóotra.

Praise of Vishnu in the Narasinha-avatára.

—Also in brief the story of the Rámáyanam.

—A fragment of the Amrita cosha, a lexicon.

—A fragment of the Bála-rámáyanam: and another fragment as to tit'his, naachétras, &c. pertaining to an almanac; usually taught in schools. A sort of school book: text book, or copy book.

It is small, and very much damaged by insects.

3. No. 1072. Haradhattácháráyam, stanzas.

By Haradhatta. It contains 24 padhatis, or sections: the general subject being praise to Siva.

4. No. 1080. Siva-sarvóttama, ascribed to Sancarácharya, as to the original slócas, these have an explanatory comment; by whom not stated. The subject is the glory of Siva, as excellent, and supreme.

The book is of medium size, and damaged at the edges.

5. No. 1159. Gayatri hrudayam, heart of the Gayatri, and Ráma carucham, a charm with praise. The first of the two is founded on the oldest mantra, after the pranava: and is panegyric as to its power: it amounts to praise of the sun; and was delivered by Brahma to Yagnyaválcyá, and other rishis. The second praises Ráma, invoking his aid, and is used as a charm for protection. Both are defective: there is also one leaf níli slócas, moral distichs.

The book is long, thin, and in good order: but incomplete.

6. No. 1188. Sri Ramóttara tápani upanishada.

The last part of the tápani supplement, and concerning Ráma, in slócas; and also vácyas in the style of the védas.

Various praises of Ráma—he is Vishnu—the only God, that is Para-Brahm. He is Jagat-kávana. The first cause of the Universe, and possessed of all attributes or excellent dispositions; and the like matters.

There is a tápani upanishada, which relates to Vishnu; but this probably is a spurious, and more modern addition: as the old upanishadas state nothing of Ráma or of Krishna, the two great modern idols.

The book is small; injured by worms, and breaking.

7. No. 1190. Slavas, or stóotras, panegyrics, slócas.

Leaf 13---20 Rāma stava rājyam, complete ; royal praise of Rāma, ascribed to Suta, and related by Vyāsa to Dherma putra ; subject, the excellence of Rāma.

Leaf 70---76 Madhava stava rājyam, ślōcas, praise of Lacshmi's lord ; said to be the 25th adhyāya in the Māgha mahātmya, and Vayu purānam ; the latter is Canarese.

Leaf 60---64 Nārāyaṇa vermōpadesa.

The 8th adhyāya 6th Scandam of the Bhāgavatam praise of Vishnu as Nārāyaṇa, a little defective at the beginning only ; Canarese letter.

—2 leaves Bhascara stōtra, ślōcas, complete, praise of the sun.

—3 leaves Krishnāshṭōttrasata nāma vali, praise of Krishna by 108 names ; complete in short lines : 24 leaves in all.

The book is short, and thin, old, a little injured. The leaves are of different lengths.

8. No. 1240. Dacshana mūrti sahasra nāma.

One thousand names of a Deity, complete. One ślōca prefixed contains a prayer both to Vishnu and Siva, for deliverance from sin.

[Dācshana mūrti among Sāivas is a male deity supposed to give intellectual power and skill. Among Vaishnavas the like deity is named Hayagrīva. Sarasvati consort of Brahma, is the corresponding female deity ; presiding over the tongue, and eloquence.]

The one thousand names are merely a string for recitation, not in poetical numbers.

The book is long, thin, old, and a little damaged.

9. No. 1246. Rāma sahasra nāma.

Panegyric of Rāma, by 1008 names, put together as ślōcas : complete on 19 leaves, said to be from the 8th adhyāya of the Lingapurānam, ascribed to Suta rishi ; but originally spoken by Siva to Parvati : and by Vināyaca (or Ganēsa) delivered to Sanatcumāra.

The book is short, old, and in good order.

10. No. 1248. Sri guna retna cōshām.

“Lacshmi's jewel-disposition's casket,”

By Parāsara Bhatta : 5 leaves complete.

Praise of the excellent dispositions of Ranghanāyaki at Trichinopoly. Seven shorter leaves contain Mukunda mālā. Vishnu-garland.

By Kula Sec'hara āluvar. Praise of Krishna incomplete.—Two leaves contain ślōcas in praise of Vishnu, as Rangha nat'ha, at Trichinopoly ; as Srinivasa at Tripeti ; as Varada raja at Conjeveram ; on Rāma &c.

Two books are put together, one long, the other of medium length : differing in age ; both in good order.

11. No. 1250. Stóttas, or panegyrics, in the form of slócas, or distichs.

—3 leaves, lag'hu stóttas ; brief praise to Parvati complete.

—3 leaves, Charcha stótttra, the same, 23 slócas, complete.

—4 leaves, Amba stótttra, the same, 35 slócas, complete. *

—6 leaves, sacala janinín stótttra, praise to all mothers, 38 slocas, complete.

—9 leaves, Mádruca pushpa mála, the same, 55 slócas complete. The stanzas have the vowels in regular order, as initials.

—5 leaves, Dévi bhūjāgam, complete, 32 slócas.

By Sancarācharya.

Praise of Parvati : the distichs thrown into a serpentine form.

Two leaves contain matter on the subject of mantras to Parvati—incomplete.

In all 34 leaves, but of different lengths.

The book is on the whole of medium length, some leaves are broken.

12. No. 1254. Various panegyrics.

Leaf 1--5. Garuda panchāsata, 50 slócas, in praise of Garuda, complete.

By Vedantācharya. On the back of the 5th leaf some prose on Krishna, not complete.

—3 leaves, Varada rāja panchāsatra, 50 slócas, in praise of Vishnu at Conjeveram. By Vedantacharya.

—One leaf—praise of Rangha nā'ha, incomplete.

—5 leaves, Rangha nā'ha castūri tilaca stótttram, praise of the musk spot on the forehead of Vishnu at Trichinopoly ; incomplete.

—6 leaves, Rangha nā'ha stuti, praise of Rangha nā'ha (Grant'ha letter)—not complete, in all 20 leaves.

The book is long, not equal in length ; the ends a little broken ; otherwise in good order.

13. No. 1256. Saūntriyā lahari, "flood of beauty."

By Sancarācharya, 100 slócas, complete.

This is a popular piece in praise of Parvati, from the hair of her head down to her feet ; all the members of body subjects of panegyric ; with statement of her excellence.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

14. No. 1257. Panegyrics of Siva.

1.) Siva bhújanga stótram, ślócas.

—3 leaves—irregular metre, put into the form of a serpent, termed bhújanga vruta, short lines.

Alcaics, with iambics, and spondees.

2.) Visvánát'ha stótra, ślócas.

—5 leaves, praise of the form of Siva at Benares; another metre, complete.

The book is of medium length, thin, a little damaged.

15. No. 1258. Parvati stuti.

By Ayya dīcshada, 103 ślócas, on 15 leaves, complete.

Praise of the goddess Minácshi, at Madura.

Also 9 ślócas, on the same, on 3 leaves.

By Rámapháyyen,

Sáundriya kanaca ambikā stuti.

“Praise of the beautiful golden mother.”

The book is short, thin, and in good order.

16. No. 1259. Various panegyrics, &c.

1.) Antarjyoti, praise of inward light; as homage to Rangha ná'ha at Trichinopoly; ślócas, incomplete, 5 leaves.

By Vedantácharya.

2.) Hanumat cavucha mantra, 4½ leaves, incomplete. Praise to Hanumán, with a charm to invoke his aid.

3.) Ráma cavucha stótra mantram.

By Agastya, and Sudícshana, in ślócas, and prose complete.

Praise of Ráma, and charm invoking his aid.

4.) Ráma cavucham, the same, as spoken by Visvamitra; complete.

5.) Nrisimha cavucha stótra mantra.

Praise of the Narasimha avatar, with charm invoking aid, complete on 6 leaves.

6.) Krishna cavucha-stótra, mantra.

The same with reference to Krishna, complete on two leaves.

7.) Garuda cavucha stótra mantra.

The same, as regards the vehicle of Vishnu; 3 leaves, complete.

8.) Hanumat-cavucha-stotra mantra.

The same, as regards Hanumán, 1 leaf, incomplete.

9.) Nṛṣimha aṣṭóṭtra sata náma.

Praise of the Narásinhávatára, by 108 names, ślócas and prose ; complete on 3 leaves.

10.) Lacshmi stuti, praise of Lacshmi.

Said to be the 9th adhyaya of the Vishnu puránam, ślócas. Indra uttered this praise ; half a leaf on praise to Lacshmi as pouring out wealth ; 41 leaves in all.

The book is short, of medium thickness, leaves much broken at the edges.

17. No. 1260. Ālavantár stóṭtra vyakyánam, a commentary on a panegyric by Yanumácharya : known by the title of " he who came to rule " in Tamil. The subject is praise of Vishnu as to the original ślócas ; the prose comment is by Védantácharya, head of the Vadagalas ; as Manavála maha muni is of the Tengalas.

Both original, and comment are incomplete.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

18. No. 1262. Pándava gita stóṭtram.

Praise of Vishnu as Krishna, in ślócas, defective at the end.

This praise is conducted in the name of one of the Pándavas, or of their relatives or followers ; as first the name Arjuna, then a ślóca as if uttered by him, then another name, and following distich, and so on. The following among other names appear : Dherma raja, Bhima, Arjuna, and their mother Konta déri, Nacula, Sahadéva, and their mother Madri ; Bhishma their uncle, never married, hence styled ácharya ; Karna, son of Durvása-rishi by the sun ; Vidura a sage, Subhadra, Dráupadi, Sanjaya, Kṛipa, and many others.

The book is of medium length, thin, recent, 15 leaves, one wanting at the end.

19. No. 1264. 1.) Krishnáshtóṭtra sata.

Praise of Krishna by 108 names ; said to be from the Brahmánda puránam ; a discourse between Bhúdévi and Ādi sesha : the beginning wanting—2 leaves only.

2.) A brief laudatory account of the actions of Krishna.

3.) Lacshmi Nṛṣimha stuti, 2 leaves only ; praise of Lacshmi, as cooling the rage of the man-lion avatára.

4.) Krishna cavucha stóṭtra mantram.

3 leaves praise, and invoking aid.

5.) Sri Rāma cavucha, stōtra.

3 leaves, the same with reference to Rāma.

6.) Sundry stanzas, in praise of Vishnu, Garuda, Visvacsēna the general of Vishnu; the whole on nine leaves, not similar in size, and fragments; perhaps from various books strung together: ślōcas throughout.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

20. No. 1265. Various panegyrics.

1.) Kanaca dhāra stōtram, incomplete; large hand writing, on 5 leaves.

Praise to Lacshmi as giving gold, or wealth.

2.) Nāma retna nava retna mālica stōtram—12 ślōcas, 3 leaves, complete.

Praise of Parvatī, literally "praise of the nine jewel wreath of jewel names."

3.) Girijā dasacam, 10 ślōcas on 2 leaves, complete, a decade on the mountain-born nymph; relative to Pārvati as born on Himānt, or the Himālyas; but here intended for Cāmacshi the sacti of Ecāmbēvara, a form of Siva at Conjeveram.

4.) Anna-pūrna stuti—incomplete on one leaf. Praise of the local Ceres: or giving "plenty of food," a form of Parvatī.

The three last are on narrow leaves, and small hand writing. In the book the four are ascribed to Sancarācharya, as their author. It is small, in good order.

21. No. 1266. Acshara mālica stōtra.

"The letter wreath panegyric," 25 ślōcas. It refers to Parvatī; an artful mode of instilling sectarian views into the minds of children. That is, the different letters of the alphabet are woven into ślōcas, each one so turned as to be to the praise of the said sacti, e. g. on the short a, each words begins with a, on the long ā, each word begins with ā, and each several word applies to Parvatī, as a name, or quality.

Another like book 12 ślōcas.

Begins with a, and so on, following the like plan, with the other one; but using different words, and with an affirmation of the name, or quality attached to each epithet.

Another book 13 ślōcas, of the like kind. The three occupy 5 leaves.

The book is short, and in tolerable order.

22. No. 1267. Two books.

1.) Savuntarya lahari, praise of Parvati.

By Sancarácharya—102 slócas, leaf 1—8 complete.

2.) Lacshmi Nrisimha-stóotra, 17 slócas, complete, on three leaves.

By the same—praise of the sacti of the man-lion avatára of Vishnu. Two distinct books strung together. The whole of medium length, thin, and in good order.

XII. INCANTATIONS.

1. No. 1158. Various zántis ascribed to Gáutama, and Savunaca.

The Zánti is precative to remove some real, or fanciful evil.

—By Gáutama.

The book is long, and old, very much worm eaten.

10. No. 1104. Tarkha bhásha, prose.

By Kesava Misra.

This is the original, perhaps oldest work on the subject. It asserts sixteen padart'has, or general classes of ideas, and has given rise to much discussion; modern works reduce the number to seven.

On the pratyacsha-anumána-upamána, and sabda candams.

On the pramána, praméya, and other sixteen padart'has; stated and proved. The work is brief.

The book is rather long, thin, has leaves broken at the beginning, and end.

11. No. 1105. Muni sáram—ON LOGIC.

Part of the pramána vátam, or discussion whether vedas and Smritis form a standard, or rule of human conduct. After a description of Védas and laws, lost in the great flood, it is stated that the Védam, or collective authority, was formed by the Sarvagmani, i. e. the Omniscient, or All-wise. Isvara became identified with the Védas, and Smritis; hence the written statutes which resulted thence form a rule; imperatively binding, as a standard of action. (This view is against ancient disputants.)

Various other matter managed in the way of objection, and reply, as usual in these treatises; which differ from ours on Logic: 31 leaves incomplete in irregular order. Other 3 leaves contain the Indrácshí dyána mantra, and the Aditya hrudagam delivered by Agastya to Ráma; both incomplete. See XII.

The book is of medium length, one end eaten off by worms.

12. No. 1106. Chenna Bháttiyam, a commentary on the Tarkha bhásha, prose.

Distributed into 4 cāndams, the pratyacsha, anumāna, upamāna, and śabda; and it maintains sixteen padārthas, or generalities. Three defects in a definition are to be avoided in order to a correct definition: e. g. what is classed as from the earth must not have a relation to water; if the thing relate to both it must come under another heading, and so forth. On the soul and its qualities—on the faculty of the mind; to be where the body is not; called praga bhāva; and various subtle, and technical definitions; in the native mode of considering knowledge to consist in names applied to trifling distinctions; leaf 2—54 not the end.

The book is long, old, on talipat leaves, in tolerable order.

13. No. 1107. Anambhattiyam, or Tarkha sangraha dīpica, a comment on an epitome of logic; both by Anambhatta. The four Cāndams, on evident proof, inference, comparison, and testimony: and seven padārthas, from dravya to abhava; leaves 1—18 complete. For other matter see XVI.

The entire book is long, and thin, no boards, recent.

14. No. 1338. Sassa dhartiyam, on Logic. By Sassa dhara.

In the book the matter of two cāndams is transposed, but here rectified. Leaf 1—22 Pratyacsha cādam. 18—42 Anumāna cādam. Various vātas, some here noted. Mangala vātam, on preface to any book. Tamō vātam, what is darkness? only the absence of light, therefore classed under it. Manassu anuctvā vātam, if mind is made up of infinitesimal atoms, or is immaterial. A dispute concerning testimony, and quoting authorities in proof of any proposition. Mōcsha vātam, on liberation, what it is &c. Svarna tūjas vātam, gold is not to be ranked as from earth, but from splendor; with others similar.

The book is long, thin, one board only, talipat leaves, good order.

15. No. 1340. Tarkha-bhāshu vyakyanam, (or Chenna Bhattiyam) a comment on the Tarkha bhāsha by Chenna Bhatta, very incomplete. The pratyacsha cādam is defective at the beginning, the anumāna cādam at the end, no others.

The work sustains the principle of the original; that there are sixteen padārthas, or generalities: 4 leaves, the numbers eaten off—then 11—52, left incomplete.

The book is rather long, and very much eaten into from the edges, by termites.

- 15½. No. 332. Four tracts (supplementary.)

1.) Tarkha chintamani—prose.

On the seven padārthas, incomplete: hāranam is primary causation, including infinite Being indestructible, and finite or perishable being. Nimitta hāranam is secondary.

causation, instrumental cause. So—a potter is (kāranam) the cause of an earthen vessel, his wheel is (nimitta kāramam) the instrumental cause, leaf 3—15.

2.) Tārḥha saram ; nāgari letter, prose incomplete, leaf 74—92.

This fragment treats of the fourth division of native logic, that is śabda testimony, which is stated to be a rule, or standard of judgment.

3.) Tārḥha bhāsha vyākhyā ; tīca, to an original work, on the old system ; this comment is by Kṛṣṇa mīra.

It treats of the 1st division, or pratyakṣa, and on three *padartha*s contained in it, or generals of earth, light, water. On sama cāyī kāranam, or remote secondary causes ; as, for example, in the growth of rice-corn, water is a cause, remoter cause a cloud, still remoter is evaporation, more remote the sea.

From the sea by evaporation, a cloud is formed, which showers down water, which causes rice-corn to grow, 7 leaves only.

4.) Avayavea tarkha—prose incomplete.

A definition of tarkham, or properties of logic ; siddhanta lacshana property of a reply which refutes an objection.

Prayōjana lacshanam, property of the effect or benefit of any reply ; such as the elenc'ha or reducing an opponent to silence, as unable to reply. Samcshōpa lacshanam, mode of solving any doubt, or dubious appearance. Agama vivēchanam, garbling ; a selecting some veda passages, and concealing or passing by others, as a device in argument, with other like subjects ; but legibility has been injured by wear, or breakage.

The book is of medium size, no boards injured as above. It was found among Class γ and was doubtless taken from some book in Class β to its damage.

XV. MEDICAL.

1. No. 1192. Vāidyam, on Medicine. Sanscrit ślokas, with a Te-lugu tīca, or commentary.

On red calx of mercury in powder—the rasa bhupati a mercurial pill ; on the properties of the various pulses. Ointment for the eyes, simply medical, on fits and convulsions, medical treatment of them ; treatment for piles, and of protrusions of the rectum, occasioned by them ; a seed called nēpālam (and familiarly nērvālam) is an antidote. On the purification of sulphur ; on making various decoctions. A remedy for ophthalmia, from coconuts ; a kind of root termed asva gandi supposed to give strength—on distillation from shells, and from metals (vitriol &c. supposed ;) on the treatment of bowel complaints, in a pregnant woman. The matana kāmāscara, a stimulant pill. On the treatment of horses—on philtres—and other matter ; some of it alchemical, as to the presumed making of gold and silver. Leaves 13 to 121 thence deficient to 133—195, so far numbered : there are 206 leaves in all.

The book is of medium length, thick, and in good order.

2. No. 1194. Vāidyam, Medicine.

Some Sanscrit ślocas with tīca and for the rest a mixture of Canarese and Telugu sometimes the tīca only, without the ślocas to which it belongs.

Agni stambhanam, on impeding the natural effects of fire, so that the hands may not be injured by it. Jala stambhanam, said to impede the natural effects of water; and this by eating certain drugs. Sūtaca rōga, the catamenia. Vāta rōga, on flatulency. Also a remedy for the bite of a rat. On eye salves, balsams, oils: and other medical preparations, without a specific statement of the use of each one: 120 leaves, the numbering not regular.

The book is of medium size, and much injured by termites, and by breaking of leaves.

3. No. 1195. Vāidgam, Medicine; ślocas, incomplete.

Mode of purifying copper, and other metals; it would appear as though calx of copper is used in native medicine. Mode of grinding various calces to powder. Mode of purifying apracam (or talc) and mercury, and arsenic. On the nature of gold, and other metals. Their calces.

Gold is herein stated to be reducible first to a calx, and then to a powder. On mandūram, a medicine, made by taking extinct sparks from a blacksmith's forge, or thin iron particles, and reducing them to powder; prescribed in white leprosy. On calcined powders of corals, and pearls; and mode of preparing them as medicines; with other remedies. Description of fevers, and other diseases, as regards the diagnosis. On the Chicātsa, or treatment for removal. Also on the preparation of various oils, balsams, electuaries, mercurial remedies &c. leaves 1—133, the 6th wanting.

The book is rather long, old, injured.

4. No. 1197. Rasa sara samuc'haya, on medicine: ślocas; some of them having a Telugu tīca; book incomplete.

On medicament for the eye—to cure the film in gutta serma, and cataract. To cure head-ache by causing a flow of water from the head, called calca. Oil extracted from the nelle cayi (a myrobolan) said to be antibilious. On the ballatīke-oil. Electuary from the vīva, and other fruits. On removal of disease from the nose. On a spirit distilled from arsenic. The chandrica rasa chūrnica; a mercurial powder. The Matana hūmēsva; a stimulant, for increasing the quantity of blood &c.

Various other recipes; and diagnosis of different diseases: 53 leaves.

The book is long, old, injured by breaking at the ends; sides artificially blackened.

5. No. 1196. Vāidya sara sangraha, epitome on medicine: ślocas only.

On flatulency—bile—phlegm : as causes of various disorders. Much matter on fevers. On tippili, or long pepper, and its use in Medical preparations. Also on the decoction from the root termed asva gandha, (or in Tamil amukirākirhangu), said to give strength to the body ; and on a preparation of ginger. On balsams. Indications as to pulses. The nut hadu hāyi (a myrobalan) highly praised. Mode of preparing some special medicines : among them the pūrna chandrōdayam (rising of the full moon) said to be an antidote to fever. (It would rather seem to be a very heating stimulant.)

Leaves 1—61, and 93—102 incomplete.

6. No. 1198. Dravya-guna-patta, the properties of existing things : a medical lexicon, or sort of materia medica, for practical use. Beginning from toyya, or water, it contains 21 vargas, or classes of things. This book also contains a mode of reducing gold to a calcined powder.

Leaves 1—75, and 11 others not numbered, in all 86 leaves.

The book is of medium size, and in good order. Sloças with Telugu tica.

7. No. 1198. On medicine, sloças, and prose.

By Sūrya Pandita.

$\frac{1}{2}$ a leaf Telugu language, on some remedies, 1—6 dravya vāize-shica—a list of some special things in the materia medica : this has only sloças. Another book leaf 1—28. Bheshaja kalpam vyākhyānam, a comment on the book, entitled Bheshaja kalpam.

By Vencatēsa son of Avatāna Sarasvatī.

Medicines are classed as dry—moist—watery—oily.

Five kinds of distilled products are used in medicine. On decoctions, on cooking flesh-meat ; and the effects of different kinds of meat on the human system. On balsams, electuaries, liquid medicines, and other details. Praise of Dhanvantari, the inventor of medicine.

The book is long, and thin, some leaves are gnawed at the ends.

8. No. 1200. Vāidyam, on medicine.

On diagnosis of diseases. On the symptoms of diseases in the face or cheeks—head—leprosy—in the organs of generation of both sexes—in the ears—mouth—nose—teeth, &c. on the body turning black called Krishna mandalam, said to be caused by venereal disease : consumption. Pandu rōga or spotted skin—asthma—unmata or insanity—diarrhoea, on excessive thirst.

—sloças only 1—33 leaf.

The book is of medium length, damaged by breaking at the beginning.

9. No. 1201. Sata śloki, 100 distichs: on medicine.

On cold with fever—asthma—consumption—nausea—and vomiting—piles—dysury, or suppression of urine—flux of blood—arthritis—(sūla vyāti) Pāndu rōga, leprosy—insanity—diseases of eyes, and ears. On the bites of rats, snakes, and other reptiles. Distinction of gana rōga, a peculiar class; that is very severe disease. On windy swelling of the testes. On fainting or epilepsy; and various other diseases; together with the remedies appropriate to each. From the gana rōga to the end, the ślokas have a tīca, or explanation in the Telugu language, leaves 1—21 and 10 others not numbered.

The book is short, old, much damaged: the end leaves very small.

10. No. 1202. Three books, or sections.

1.) Vāidhya gana nigandu, a lexicon of the materia medica, in ganās, or classes.

As nikumba—vella—bhādra—dhāri—vallari yati jivanta—padumaci—anjana—galuchi, unknown: asana pine-apple, haridrā turmeric, hinga assafoetida, muspā grass root, yela, spice, sāma a kind of rice, 16 leaves.

2.) Treatment of some diseases, ślokas, with Canarese tīca.

Chiefly on mēga rōga, or venereal diseases; discrimination of diseases by inspection of urine.

3.) Various medical recipes, ślokas, with Telugu tīca to some part only. Prescriptions, not needing detail. The two, 21 leaves—in all 37 leaves.

The book is of medium length, good order, leaves not all of equal length.

11. No. 1203. Dhanvantari nigandu.

Lexicon on materia medica, ślokas.

It would seem to be another part of the above 10. No. 1202—1.)

In classes, as apā mārga and others, nayuri amblātaki &c.—galuchi ōman—nalla—vamba—haritaki, the myrobolan kadu kāyi; mustā, root of the andropogon grass—juice of the pomegrante—chiracam, cumin—nila chiracam—black do., and others.

Also, a list of the names of diseases, in classified order, and some remedies.

Leaf 1—61. The book is of medium size, in tolerable order.

12. No. 1204. Dhanvantari nigandu.

A lexicon on the Materia medica. Ascribed to Dhanvantari, ślokas, with a tīca in Telugu, complete on 61 leaves, arranged in torgas or classes.

1. Galúchi, 2 lavangam, cloves or spices, tamblam, green leaved trees &c., tálasa-batra-savya &c.
3. Chandrana, harpura japati jatikai &c.
4. Tulasi, black tulasi, bhú-tulasi &c.
5. Ambala, sour things, nila-vari.
6. Gold, silver &c.
7. Tripala, the three myrobalans, chebulic &c., sarvaúshati &c.

The book is long, of medium thickness, a little damaged.

13. No. 1221. Ashtanga hrudaya tantram. A comment on a book entitled Vákataṁ.

By Aruna Panditya, son of Mriganga. Chiefly in prose, but with some ślócas.

On flatulency, bile, and phlegm; their site in the human body—their nature, or tendency as to effect; if not in a good state, or if in excess, they produce various diseases; and also influence the temper of any individual. The means of repressing excess in any one of them; with various other medical matters, are stated; leaves 1—79; but leaves 2, 3, and 66 to 71 are wanting.

The book is of medium size, and in some places injured.

14. No. 1243. Rasárnavam, or mercurial-sea; ślócas. A discourse between Uma and Mahésvara; leaf 1—4 mode of preparing the illustrious mercurial medicine; belonging to the 22d padalam or section of this, or some other book.

On the purifying mercury to fit it for medical use. On killing, or fixing quicksilver; experiments on it. For the rest, this book contains the worst part of native medical treatises, in the preparation of strong stimulants; and modes of bewildering women and men; so as to bring them over to some design, or purpose, by charms, and philtres, leaves 1—21 incomplete.

15. No. 1247. Sections 1 and 3.

1.) Seven leaves—on medicine, ślócas with a śloka, or explanation, in Canarese.

3.) Other leaves, on medicine; ślócas with a Canarese śloka.

For 2) See XII. 8. There are also 89 blank leaves. Both of the above sections are incomplete.

The book is of medium size, and in tolerable order.

16. No. 1278. Tracts medical, mineralogical &c.

1.) Rasa bhézasja kalpam, on medical chemistry, ślócas.

By Parahita Siva-siddhanta saca ráti Súrya Pandita, leaves 1—29 not here. This section is on leaves 29 to 44.

Some prefatory matter on furnaces, their size, marked as gaja elephant size, mahisha buffalo size, &c. and materials of which to be made—fuel to be dung of animals feeding in a forest, dried in the sun—kinds of earth or sand used.

The exact time (patam) of fixing any mercurial medicine in preparation—the destroying mineral appearance of metals by calcination. On fixing any other medical preparation. On red calx of mercury. The matters to be avoided when taking medicine; that is, on diet or regimen. The time required by any preparation, in order to shew its effects. Signs of a good medicine. Modes of purifying medicine. On perfumed oils, and their qualities. Nature of iron vessels; and various other matters, needless to detail.

- 2.) Rasa vâiseshica, on mercurial preparations, to cure the venereal disease—leaves 45—51.
- 3.) Mineralogical, on the nature and qualities of different precious stones, and the various metals in reference to their medical use.
- 4.) Matter on the kinds of diseases, in the present life; which result as consequences of crimes or sins in former birth, or state of existence. Such as killing a Brahman, killing a woman or a child, and other serious crimes; each one has its appropriate punishment in the existing birth, or life. The nature of the diseases, so caused is stated: leaves 52—54.
- 5.) On two or three other leaves, matter on flatulency, various bilious diseases specified; also phlegmatic complaints: not finished.

The entire book is long, and thin, damaged by insects, and breaking.

17. Nô. 1279. Various medical, or connected matters: ślokas.

Some veterinary matters, on diseases of horses, incomplete—leaf, 2—8 leaf 1 and 6 wanting.

On arthritic pains; urinary disorders; diseases of feet; snêha varṭta sūla another kind of side-pain; viṭurta sūla colic pains; on eighteen kinds of leprosy: with internal remedies, and plaisters. On diabetes—diarrhœa, bloody-piles, or flux of blood. Remedies in the several cases stated.

Various matters on the foregoing diseases are also further stated in the Telugu language.

In the middle, further matter as to horses; description of marks and qualities, temper and the like. Also on results to owners from the color of a horse: white brings plenty, and health to its owner; black not fortunate, as to wealth: red horse favorable in amours; and so on. This prose Sanscrit is in the Canarese letter.

Further in the Telugu language.

On the treatment of children; chicatsa, or removal of disease, chiefly by charms.

The bāla graha, is a wasting decay in children; thought to be caused by possession of evil spirits: and treated by exorcism.

Besides a little in Canarese and the rest in Telugu.

Various remedies against different kinds of fever, dysentery, diarrhoea: also charms, as the Vira Bhadra charm; with its appropriate diagram. Pralaya Kāla Vira Bhadra mantram a magic spell: and a few similar matters.

The various nature of the book is intimated by the leaves, as 2—8 (wanting 1, 6.) 24—56 and 1—4—then 26 leaves without numbers, the mantras numbered 32: this portion of smaller size than the rest.

The whole book is of medium size, and old.

18 No. 1280. Vāidhyam on Medicine.

On mūla vyāti or piles, on jvaram fever. On pāndu rōga, spotted leprosy: on bahu mūtra or diabetes; on the triple source of disease—flatulency, bile, phlegm; on the csherma rōga, skin insensible; and on many other diseases, with the remedies against them. On an ointment for diseased eyes—mode of preparing a medicine for the cure of serpent bites.

In the book there is a mixture of Sanscrit, with Telugu explanation and a little also of Canarese, near the end. The following leaves are wanting 1, 8, 32, 49, 70, 71, 72; at the end the leaves are not numbered.

The book is of medium size, old, and in tolerable order.

XVI. MERITORIOUS DEVOTION.

1. No. 541. Sandhya vandana mantram, mingled poetry and prose incomplete.

The customary, morning, noon, and evening homage, according to the mode of the Sāivas and Smartas; which somewhat differs from that used by Vāishnavas; 6 leaves Telugu-letter. Other 3 leaves dēva nāgari, incomplete. Siva pūja mantram, used after the foregoing.

The book is of medium length, thin, in good order.

2. No. 1065. Vrata calpas, fruits of penance. The vrata is a sort of vow, accompanied by fasting, and some bodily performance; if it be only walking, on set days, around a tree. The calpa is its advantage, or fruit; usually illustrated by a tale. This fruit is generally some desired object, and very various.

1.) 'Ananta vrata calpa, homage to Vishnu.

- 2.) Vara Lacshmi vrata calpas, homage to the gift-bestowing Lacshmi.
 - 3.) Dasa p'hala vrata, homage to obtain ten kinds of gifts, as land, a cow, &c.
 - 4.) Vinayaca vrata calpa, homage to Ganēsa.
 - 5.) Harka vivāha, marriage to the sun, it precedes other ceremonies, elsewhere specified.
 - 6.) Samprōcshana, rites in purification of images, or temples.
Nandi nāgari is mingled with Telugu letter, in these tracts.
The book is of medium size, and in good order.
3. No. 1082. Various, on gifts, and vows.

—Chatūr māsa, four lunar months from Ashara to Asvina (August to October) considered to be the proper time for beginning any ceremony, performed for the sake of some advantage.

[It may be noted that prāthana is properly a vow: that is, 'if I get so and so—I will give so much or such a thing:' the vrata is performing what is defined by authority: as a needful condition of obtaining such and such a thing.]

The mode of performing any vrata—how food ought to be taken, during its continuance; that is sometimes only once a day, sometimes without salt, &c.

Govindu sayana vrata, homage to Krishna, as Vishnu reposing.

On the properties of the kapilā, or red cow; the mode of bestowing one as a gift.

Gō-pūja, homage to a cow.

Go-mūtra snāna, on mixing cow's urine with water, and bathing therewith; deemed meritorious.

Pancha gavya—five products of a cow: that is milk, curds, ghee, urine, dung. These are mingled, and used in some cases.

On the gift of a golden lotus flower. (Origin of the golden rose?)

Gift of sesame oil-seeds. This is evil, and can only be with the consent of the receiver. It is given, with much money, by compact to a poor person; and it transfers sickness from the giver to the receiver; who hazards his life, as it is expected that he will die. So, the gift of a bell, or of a bed is deemed evil.

Sraddha mantra, funereal.

Avrata consisting in abstaining from spices, salt, all sweet things.

Eca dasa vrata, the fast, on the eleventh lunar day ; of great consequence, notices passim.

Uma Mahésvara, a ceremony directed to Párvati, and Síva.

Súrya várata, and Súrya vrata, two observances to the Sun—on Sundays.

And various others : the manner how they are to be performed, with the accompanying, or following benefits. Said to be taken from the Scánda, and other puránas ; but a part of the general yoke of superstition, and Brahmanical rule, leaves 40—187 incomplete.

The book is rather long, thick, old, and considerably injured by worms.

4. No. 1107. Section 2, Krishna jayanti vrata calpa, observance of Krishna's birth day ; a fast during the day, until 9 o'clock at night, when Krishna is supposed to be born ; and a great festival begins [similar to the vigils and festivals introduced from heathenism to Christianity. The festival of Krishna's birth continues over the next day, and is quite a sort of Christmas, among Váishnavas at Madras.] 4 leaves—for section 1. See XIV.

5. No. 1143. Yeti dherma Samuc'hāya, rules for a monach, or strict ascetic.

By Yádava pracása.

1st leaf wanting, on the test of fitness or not ; for this order. On the general character, or definition of a true ascetic.

Yeti némam what he ought to avoid, as to self indulgences. Properties of the tridanda, triple staff of a Váishnava ascetic. The Smárta ascetic uses éca danda, a single staff (that is, the Váishnava holds a triplicity, and the Smárta a unity in the deity.) On the duties or observances required from a sannyasi, or strict ascetic, Brahma surúpa nirúpana, description of the nature, or mode of being, of the Supreme. On the proper temper of a strict ascetic ; as mildness, patience, meekness, goodness.

Mode of yogi observances, or the being seated in silent meditation, on God, and the devotee's own soul, by interior light ; with suppression of breath, and other "bodily exercise."

Day and night duties of a Sannyasi (as in some Christian books there are "stations," or special hours and prayers, throughout the 24 hours.)

A pilgrim's mode of collecting alms, mode of eating. Expiations for any unintentional evil, or defect, that may have occurred, and other matter ; but still as pertaining to the yeti, or strict ascetic only. Finally—burial of his body, when dead. This is remarkable as an exception from the general rule of burning a dead body; and the form used at a yeti's funeral is peculiar: leaves 2—70 divided into 12 parvas, or books.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, on broad talipat leaf, and in good order. It contains some good matter here and there; and, as a detail of the strictest native religiosi, it might be interesting to see it translated, to be compared with the rules of St. Benedict or of St. Francis.

6. No. 1225. Vrata calpas.

18 leaves, Lacshmi Naráyana vrata calpa, the fruit, or benefit of a ceremony addressed to Vishnu and Lacshmi.

5 leaves—Vináyaca vrata calpa, benefit of a ceremony directed to Ganésa. This is used on the day familiarly termed Pilliyar Saúthi the 4th tithi of Bhádrapada lunar mansion, in the bright half—said to be from the Scanda puránam.

3 leaves Vara-Lacshmi vrata calpa.

Ceremony to the gift bestowing Lacshmi, used on a Friday, in the Tamil 'Avani month (August—September) the one next before the full moon; said to be from the Bhavishóttara puranam.

10 leaves 'Ananta vrata calpam, combined with the yamuna píja both relating to Krishna, by one of the names of Vishnu, which means "without end;" said to be from the Bhavishóttara puranam, complete.

15 leaves—Súrya Naráyana píja calpam—a ceremony to Narayana, as dwelling in the sun, time of performance from the 1st to the 7th of Asvina month; this identifies Narayana with the sun. "General belief identifies Vishnu with the sun." This is complete.

5 leaves Nava ratra vrata—incomplete.

Ceremony especially to Parvati, but also to Lacshmi, for nine nights of the Durga festival, the 10th being the Dasra, or Dasra Vijayam, commemorating Arjuna's return to Vírota puram, and resuming his conquering arms: which he had buried under a Vanni (Sansc Shami) tree. An assemblage of tracts, on 56 leaves, similar in general design. The entire book is rather long, of medium thickness, injured, and in the middle very much so by insects, and wear.

6½. No. 1228. Two subjects.

- 1.) Píja vidhi—mode of homage, slócas especially as rendered to Súrya the sun, and Narayana its regent, and to Ganésa subordinate; also to Ganésa on beginning any work.

- Aruna pūja—homage to the dawn.
- Sūrya pūja—homage to the sun; this is by pūja nāma 108 names; to the sun human members are attributed, and a pūja for each member is given. Sūrya is understood to be Nārāyana, and the homage therefore merges in the latter.

- 2.) Aprata calpam, said to be from the Scanda purānam, Mahēsvara in conversation with 'Uma; complete. This part is called the Dhānā vrata calpam, leaf 1—13 numbered; afterwards not regular. In all 34 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, damaged by being gnawed.

7. No. 1232. On gifts, and vratas.

2½ leaves, Chandra dipa danam, gift of lights, and mode of homage.
1½ leaf of fire-offering with oil-seed.

1 leaf, Siva rahasya, ceremony when Monday happens to be the new-moon.

1½ leaf Dhanur māsa pūja vidhi, a mode of ceremony in the lunar month Dhānusha.

1½ leaf, a ceremony if the ashtami, or first quarter of the moon, occur on a Wednesday.

2 leaves—Dharana pavana vratam, modes as to fasting, and eating.

7 leaves—on the meritorious gift of a lakh (100,000) lights.

5 leaves—the end of that ceremony from the Vayu purānam.

5 leaves—Vishnu panchaca vrata—a five days ceremony to Vishnu.

—ēcadasi, and Sravana doḍdasi special fasting days: as also the new and full moons: with a variety of other matter; on similar subjects of fasting and ceremonies—the whole on 100 leaves—1 leaf nāgari letter.

It seems to have been a collection made by some Brahmans, on peculiarities; not commonly met with in other books; and taken from different puranas.

The book is of medium size, rather old, and in tolerable order.

8. No. 1235. Vrata calpas.

—4 leaves—Yamunia pūja, homage to the Jumna river, before performing the Ananta vrata.

—anga būdam, or bodily homage to Vishnu (or Krishna) incomplete; and the finishing that ceremony, on the 14th lunar day, bright half in Bhādrapada month, 6 leaves complete. Krishna told this to Yudhis'hira.

—4 leaves contain a legend as to the benefit obtained by using the Ananta vrata, incomplete.

—4 leaves—hédára vrata calpa—a field homage to Siva and Parvati; usually where a large symbol is placed in wilds, or thickets.

Another book.

—8 leaves—Vara Lacshmi vrata, a ceremony to the Sacti of Vishnu, incomplete.

—5 leaves—Narasinha jayanti vrata calpa, on the birth-day of the man-lion avatára, to be used on the 14th lunar day, bright half of lunation, in Váisac'ha month (May, June) incomplete.

—7 leaves, hédára vrata calpa, forest ceremony to Siva and Parvati complete.

The first book is long, and thin, edges blackened, as if by fire; the other of medium length, thin, and in good order.

9. No. 1343. Vináyaca vrata calpa, from the Scánda purána, *shloca*s and prose.

The mode of a ceremony to Ganésa, with its benefit, and some legendary tales in exemplification. Krishna, it is stated, remarked that Dherma raja performed this ceremony; and thereby attained the results he desired, leaves 1—7. The book is of medium length, very slightly touched by insects.

XVII. MIMAMSA OR RITUAL.

1. No. 1071. Sudarisana bhásya, or Gurugiya vyákyánam, a comment on a book termed Sudarisana, or Gurugiya.

By Sudarisanáchárya, in 8 padalas, or sections. A directory to Brahmans, as to rites, deportment, duties &c.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in pretty good order.

2. No. 1098. Mayúk'ha málini, said to be a vyákyá, or comment on the Sastra dipica, or Scripture lamp; on the Mimamsa. The 3d adhyáyam, or chapter, to the 7th páta, or foot complete, the 8th páta incomplete. See the following book, No. 1108. As to the first páta, or sésa and séshi.

The jjóti-stóma, a kind of sacrifice.

—Darasana púrpa mása, another kind.

The names of many other kinds of sacrifices, and matters pertaining to them.

The Sóma yagnya, or drinking the juice of the acid usclepias; here termed bhacsha, eating. It is drunk only by the somayágin, or sacrificer,

Other ritual matters, wholly on the pūrva mimāmsa, ritual sacrifices.

Leaves 79 to 180—no ending, incomplete.

The book is rather long, and thick, in pretty good order.

3. No. 1108. Sāstra dipica, a prose work on the Mimāmsa.

By Pārīha Śārati Misra.

3d adhyāyam, the 1st pātam complete, the 2d pātam incomplete.

Definition as to sēsha and sēshi. It appears that sēshi means Isvara God, as the First cause; also the larger part, and the producing cause of any effect. Sēsha is the remainder, or effect from a cause. Enquiries concerning these two: their properties &c., having a relation to the subject of sacrifices. So yāgam or sacrifice is Sēshi a cause, and Svergam or Heaven, or Paradise is Sēsham the effect; that is, they who perform sacrifice will obtain happiness after death. (It seems to me that Sēsha, in one sense of the word, exactly corresponds with plērōma a filling up, or complement.)

Many matters relating to sacrifices: and also an explanation of passages in the Vedas; such only as relate to ritual sacrifices, leaf 1—16 incomplete.

The book is long, thin, in the middle touched by insects.

4. No. 1136. Purva Mimāmsa, prose.

By Rudra dēva suni.

The meaning of certain dhātus, or roots of words proved; they occur in the Vedas; and the meaning is shewn.

Sacrifice has an invisible (or mystic) virtue following its performance, which attaches to the person, on whose account it is made: and its fruition is in the obtaining of Sverga (not mōcsha.)

The meaning of certain expressions in the Vedas, relating to sacrifices; and a refuting, or reconciling objections, concerning those expressions.

On the excellency of the kārma—rites, or ritual ceremonies, (as distinguished from penance or knowledge) and like ancient matters: much superseded by other notions in modern times.

The book is in difficult language: and full of ritual references. Divided into pātams, meaning feet, also quarters.

Leaf 1—209 wanting 85, 86, 172, 173.

The book is long, thick, and in good order.

5. No. 1155. Darasa pūrṇa māsa yāga prakaranam. On the practical observances of sacrifices at the new and full moon, and first day after each of them; refers to agni hōma, fire offering, by burning rice, ghee, &c. and to various other modes of sacrifice: complete.

The book is long, of medium thickness, nearly new.

6. No. 1160. Gōpāla bhāshyam, ślōcas, with vyukyānam, or explanation. In 6 padalas or sections. Ślōcas ascribed to various rishis, or sages (as in the Vēdas.) Gōpāla is said to be the name of a Brahman, who gathered these distichs from various books and explained them to the less learned, as in the paraphrase. The subjects relate to rites and ceremonies, to be performed by sacerdotal Brahmans. The homage rendered by them consists in reciting ill understood ślōcas, and mantras; many of which last have no meaning, but are mere sounds, or symbols: together with anga nyāsa and kara nyāsa motions of the members, and fingers, of typical import, as may appear in these notes, passim.

6½. No. 1164. Samusāra nirṇayam.

Verses said to be extracted from the Vēdas, and used on a variety of domestic occasions; being among the shōdasa karma, or sixteen ceremonies, commonly so termed.

—Pūṁsa vanam—at the quickening of the fetus—putting a herb in a cloth and causing the woman to draw in the smell, and like charlatanerie.

—Simantem, a following ceremony coming within the eighth month, to secure the life of the infant. Some mantras to make the husband, and pregnant wife live in concord.

—Jātā varmam, on the day of birth, connected with constructing the horoscope, and its record. Shasti puḷjanam a ceremony if the child be born on the 6th lunar day.

—The ceremony of adoption.

—The Nāma carmam, naming a child.

—Karna vēdu, on boring the ears.

—Anna prasādām, first feeding—on the completing of twelve months—the making a composition, or pap, putting it on the child's lips, teaching it to eat.

—Chavulam, on shaving the head of a young Brahman, going last before the following ceremony.

- Upanainam*, investing with the scholastic thread ; before beginning to read the Vedas.
- Pālasa carmam*—making a hōma or fire offering, with sticks of the muruka, or pilasa shrub, a forest creeper.
- Gāutama vratam*, the gift of a cow, after the first shaving the head.
- Brahmāchāri kāla vidhi*, rules for the celibate Brahman student ; and upa karmam, an annual ceremony in July, or August, after receiving the thread until married.
- Utsa janam*, on beginning to read the Vedas.
- Annaddhyāya nirnayahā*, observing certain prohibited tithis, on which the Vedas must not be read : the 1st and 8th with new and full moon days.
- Vēda vruttāni*—observing the fasts prescribed by the Vedas.
- Vivāham*, the ceremony of marriage.
- Gōtra pravarna nirnayaha*, an examination of genealogies to prove the husband and wife to be of different families ; as those of the same gotra, or tribe, are not allowed to intermarry.
- Varjanya kanihayā*, rejecting any woman found not to be suitable as to tribe.
- Kanya vivāha kāla Vrihaspati zānti* a ceremony to the planet Jupiter, to avert evil, when soliciting a virgin for a wife.
- Cumbha vivāha*, filling a pot with water, and attendant ceremonies preparatory to the ceremony of marriage.
- Harcha vivāha*, a ceremony with the asclepias shrub before marrying a third wife, two being dead ; used also at the breaking of a Brahmāchāri's celibate vow.
- Vāgdana vidhi*, mode of promise to give a daughter in marriage.
- Vivāha pūrva dina curtyam*, a ceremony the day before the wedding day.

The book is written in ślōcas ; some leaves are wanting. It is of medium length, thin, and much injured.

6½. No. 1177. Srāddha, ceremonies used at the annual commemoration of the death of an ancestor : complete.

Observances of the like kind, on every new-moon day ; defective. The book is small, and new, suspicious.

7. No. 1229. Vāidica karma prayōga, detail of ceremonies appointed by the Veda in the karma cādam, or portion-rites. Marked on the label Rig Vēda.

Homage to Ganésa—on purifying water to be used for sprinkling—on marriage ceremonies—propitiation of the nine planets—sowing and watering seeds at the time of the marriage ceremony (ancurápanam)—fire-offering, spell of the nine planets—fire-offering connected therewith, another propitiation of the planets: sankalpam, or summary record of the time when any ceremony was performed, homage to the nine planets, summary of times, as above—on betrothing; other rites; birth ceremony; giving a name; first feeding; putting on the learned thread; feeding Brahmacharis—ceremonies on relinquishing the celibate of a Brahmachari for family life—before betrothal enquiry as to a virgin's tribe, family, &c. whether suitable or not—dowry to her parents before marriage, the marriage ceremony itself—the fire-offering when solemnized; first entry of the bride on the bridegroom's house—fire-offerings there—the fire must be carefully watched, for five days; if by reason of any inattention, it be suffered to go out, a prayaschita, or expiation, provided. On the foregoing the sruti or véda, prose directions as to formulæ, śloca, as to benedictions.

Also Asláyana harica, special rules in brief sútras by Asláyana muni—ceremony on a married couple coming together—birth ceremony—at naming—giving first food—shaving—putting on the learned thread. The viváha or marriage ceremony—on first entering a house to live in it—on the daily fire-offering—the vaisva déva—on renewing the sacred thread annually on the Śravana nachhêtra, at the full-moon. So far the harica or a doctor's additions to the rules in the Védas, (something like a targum to the law.)

The matter of the Védas recurred to—in prose. Sense of the fire-offering on the first lunar day in each half lunation—birth ceremony—giving a name—feeding for the first time—shaving the head—putting on the scholastic thread on relinquishing the celibate state—marriage, its fire-offering—nuptial ceremony on coming together—the maha sankalpam, or most important record as to the time of marriage; this record must be made before the hóma or fire offering.—Other ceremonies connected with the Brahmanical thread; Sri sucta a hymn from the Védas in praise of Lacshmi. If the proper time for relinquishing the celibate has passed by then a prayaschita, or expiation, on that account. The sankalpam, or record as to the time of assuming the scholastic thread. The preceding are chiefly prose directions.

On the sayana vidhi i. e. on the position of the head when sleeping in differing situations. If in any one's native town, then the head to the east; when merely sojourning head to the west—in a mother-in-law's house, head to the south; in the house of any one hostile or not beloved, head to the north. (The like is customary in common Tamil parlance.) On the sóbana or nuptial ceremony—on first coming together—a prayaschita if any action contrary to the Brahmanical rules or customs has occurred, and carrying loss of caste with it: such as, cutting of the head-lock, or eating in the house of a chandála &c. On renewing the Brahmanical thread, after any such occurrence. The responses (anugraha) of assembled Brahmans to certain forms of benediction, pronounced by the officiating Brahman (like to Psalms with responses at our own marriage ceremony) on a Brahmachári feeding the sacred fire with pílassa sticks (a forest creeper) on renewing the scholastic thread annually at the full moon in Srávana. The above giving the mode (or form) of performing these several rituals; other books give the words, or symbols used: leaf 1—247 the end; but 3, 5, 37—39, 233 are left blank. If completed, a valuable, and interesting book on rituals; being matter of the Védas, with tradition superadded.

The entire book is somewhat long, and thick, old; only a few leaves slightly damaged.

8. No. 1230. Section 1. Dámara kalpam, or chandrica púja nidhánam, order of homage to a form of Párvati, slócas and prose: leaf 1—47 complete. There are various parts, or steps. The púja or act of homage. The hóma or fire offering—the aváhana, or fixing the sacti in the representative image—the bija mantra, or the symbol containing the peculiar mystic letter, and four others—the japa muttered prayer, which is sometimes a magic imprecation; and the dhyána, or intense meditation on the whole ceremony, supposed to add intensitive power. The like, for most of such rituals; for section 2 see VI. same number.

Leaves rather long, gnawed at one end.

9. No. 1233. Páncha rútram, Tradition; slócas without any tíca—incomplete.

The reasons for sampróshana, or first ceremony in cleansing a temple, an image, or the like; its order and method. On the eight lettered Vaishnava mantra, its power, or fruit. On mental meditation on Vishnu. Description and properties of bells. Meditation on the man-lion avatáro of Vishnu, also on Ráma, and on Vítala (a name of Vishnu)—the properties of the sálagrama, or petrified shell. The method of offering water at a shrine. Mode of conveying prána (life or divinity) into an image. Description of an image, as an object of worship. On the drum used in festivals; mode of beating it. Description, and properties of it. Mode of unbloody sacrifices. On the five products from a cow, milk, curds &c. how they should be used. Description of the altar for oblations. Mode of transferring any small image's life into a pot of water (Cumbhābhishégam.)

—On the aróhana, or raising the flag at the beginning of any festival. On the consecration of an image—the same of a car—of a palanquin, as used on some occasions—on sowing various grains at the beginning of a festival, and matters down to the avaróhana, or lowering the flag. Vást'hu hóma a particular ceremony in a fane—on bringing earth, in which to sow grains as above. On the fruit, or good effect of consecrating the flag with its staff.

The above are only a few matters, by way of specimen. In the middle of the book there are many other matters: the whole relates to comparatively modern regulations, in all the minutiae of detail of a now generally established system of idolatry, in Váishnava temples.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and very much damaged; wanting at the end.

10. No. 1234. Páncha rátram, slócas, and some prose.

Leaf I—9 prose, containing details of the merit of the deity, and on preparing a pot to hold water—putting flowers on it: uttering mantras, and then using the water in the way of sprinkling, in order to purify various matters pertaining to the temple.

$\frac{1}{2}$ a leaf—properties of the said pot, or calasam, complete.

15 $\frac{1}{2}$ leaves Bhéri tādana, on beating the great drum at festivals.

Dévata áhuvána dvaja aróhana. On calling together the deities, by beating the drum at the time of lifting up the flag at a festival.

1 $\frac{1}{2}$ leaf—Guruparampará anu santána, slócas; containing a genealogical list of gurus, or spiritual heads.

7 leaves—dévata visarjana krama, on sending away the deities, or demi gods, before taking down the flag; slócas, with the meaning in Telugu, complete.

18 leaves avaróhana vidhi, mode of dismissing the people to their homes, and taking down the flag; and dipa stāmbha pratishtha, consecrating the lampada, or stand for camphor light near the flag staff; also xānti hóma, a fire offering and precatory service to remove the evil of any omission, or error that may have occurred during the ceremony.

Some heterogeneous sundries.

—A receipt for money in the Telugu language, Canarese letter. Two leaves chattu slócas various distichs, desultory.

8 leaves—Bóla graha chieatsa, in Telugu prose; spells to expel evil spirits from possessed children—incomplete.

The book is of medium size, old, and exceedingly damaged: leaves, of different sizes.

11. No. 1236. Páncha rátram, slócas. The 1st bhága, or part by Kapinchala.

On bringing in earth for sowing grains at a festival; mode of consecrating the image in a temple; on the hierophant's qualifications for such consecration; on the tying cotton bracelets round the arms at the time of a festival. The statuary's work in making an image; while he is at his work the image is bathed with the five products of a cow. On opening the eyes of the idol. Sending away the artist. Zánti hóma, fire-offering to expiate any impurity; on putting the image into water: these, and a few other ceremonies, concerning the idol—from the 21st to the 28th adhyáya, or chapter, leaf 43—92.

Intermediate—some Véda extracts.

Astrological slócas; other Páncha rátra slócas; on the 10th day of any festival the flag is lowered; the preceding night is Vishnu kalyána; the marriage of Vishnu; when the male and female images are brought near each other, certain ceremonies are performed, and this is considered to be a marriage.

The jala cridha utsava; or the images bathing together described; pertains to the Krishna-avatáram.

The Gópála pratish'tha-naesh'tra, or the proper lunar day for consecrating an image of the cow-herd (Krishna.)

The 2d bhága is considered to be the Páncha rátram as delivered by Vishnu. On the sacred fire—on the unbloody sacrifice—the order of Vishnu's marriage, as above; its hóma or fire offering; these, and various other matters relating to festival processions; some leaves are wanting in this part 117—159.

Other matter.

Ráma stótra—ascribed to Vyása; some injured leaves from the Bháratam.

The Varáha mantra, and some slócas on the páncha rátra—16 leaves much injured. The whole book is incomplete.

It is long, thick, old—in the middle some leaves are $\frac{1}{2}$ broken off. The intermediate portion may be from another book.

12. No. 1238. Púja vidhánam, mode of homage by Váishnavás, at their houses; by Ananta Tír'tha, one distinguished among the followers of Madhvácharya; 29 leaves complete.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order. It contains slócas, and prose, with some sútras from the Vedas.

13. No. 1252. Páncha rátram.

There are two parts in this system the gnána váta bhágam, and the kriya váta bhágam; the one on the reason, and the other on the practice of the system. In this book the two are not separate, but confused together: and what Brahma says is mingled with what Kapila says.

Leaf 1—34. The Mahópanishada containing the Páncha rátra system, as said to have been delivered by Vishnu to Brahma, 20th to 22d chapter; with a little of the 23d containing rules as to the consecration of images, and ceremonies, in homage of the man-made god.

Padma sanhita by Kapila—in this there is confusion. The gnána vátam here occurs; various matters of temples, but not as to idols.

Padma tantra, a ritual pertaining to the kriya vátam, or practice.

On sacred fire—on officiating hierophants, on such a one first worshipping the idol, before he officiates for others. On the consecration of a Mantapa, or outside porch, where the idol is halted in processions. On the altar for oblations, or sacrifices. On lights in great number, at the Cartikeya festival in November.

On the flag staff; on hoisting the flag with ceremonies attendant. These are slócas, with the meaning in Telugu.

Various other matters: in the middle of the book a few lines, on Krishna and Rāma.

The book is incomplete. It is long, thick, and old.

XVIII. MISCELLANEOUS.

1. No. 534. This book is a melange of subjects, without coherence—a few leaves of one subject, one leaf of another, two or three of another. It was examined for about $\frac{1}{3}$, and the subjects noted; but they cannot be classified, being so entirely miscellaneous. The only use of the book would be to supply leaves to other books deficient, by a general work of collation: which would probably greatly amend the entire collection.

The incoherent mass is huddled together in eight bundles; one of them being in the Tamil language, and referred to under that division.

2. No. 546. A mass of like chaotic description, though smaller in size than the foregoing. It is chiefly in the Tamil language; but Telugu, and Sanscrit in the Telugu letter, are mixed; also Sanscrit in the Canarese letter. An analysis may best explain.

1. Camben's Rāmāyanam, leaves 18, 19, 25.
2. Sanscrit Telugu letter 1 leaf, on nouns in the masculine gender.
3. Sanscrit prose, on the conduct of a householder, leaf 139, 14, 15.

4. Sanscrit ślōcas, leaf 11, 15, stating with what flowers Isvara is pleased, as an offering.
5. Camben's Rāmāyanam, leaf 42, 17, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 22, 4, 52, 51, 50, 19.
6. Dēva nāgari, 1 leaf.
7. Camben's Rāmāyanam, 1 leaf.
8. Dēva nāgari, 3 leaves.
9. 3 stanzas from the Telugu Bhagavatam, on the sacrifice of Janamejaya against serpents.
10. Camben's Rāmāyanam, on the marriage processions of Rāma, leaf 31, 42, 29, 11, 12, 21, 22.
11. 1 leaf 138. Tamil of the 'Aluvar'.
12. Camben's Rāmāyanam, leaf 26, 6, 4, 23, 21, 2, 16, 15, 20, 26, 30, and other like matter : with one leaf Sanscrit, Canarese letter.

Such is the book ; strung together without knowledge ; and only adapted to supply omissions by collation.

3. No. 1021. Various matters.

- 1.) Brahmana karmam, rites performed by Brahmans ; this is the apara, or latter portion on obsequies, in extremis—upon death—burning the body—to remedy any defect as to the sacred fire—daily observances for 10 days—during the 10th or 11th the form of a bull is made to bear the deceased's sins—giving food to one man only—on the 12th day the sapinda or ball of food offered to ancestors—giving food, to 16 persons—present of a cow at the end—completed in 12 days.
 - 2.) Rishi panchami vrata, said to be from the Brahmānda purānam certain days, known as the fifth of the sages, occur once a year. In them a fast, and ceremonies are performed, (chiefly by women) to remove sins by offerings : sins in youth, in maturity, in old age, occasioned by the five senses. Other notices occur in various places.
 - 3.) Vishnu sahasra nāma, praise of Vishnu, by 1008 names, strung together, of daily usage.
 - 4.) Yamuna pūja, homage to the jamna river, by bathing in it.
 - 5.) Rules for sannyāsis, or strict ascetics.
 - 6.) Sōma vāra vrata—special fast, and ceremony to Siva, on some Mondays.
 - 7.) Vēda mantras, seven leaves of extracts from the Vēdas.
 - 8.) Vara Lacshmi vrata, homage to the gift-bestowing Lacshmi.
 - 9.) Vēda mantra, 1 prasna from the 3d cāndam of one of the Vēdas.
- The book is long, thin, old, but in good order.

4. No. 1065. Various matters, chiefly in Telugu letter, but with some matter in nāgari: as follows.

—Bhaviṣṭi ottara purānam, a portion only.

—Vāmana jayanta puja, homage used on the birth day of the dwarf avatāra.

—Ananta vrata calpam, Krishna to Dherma rāja, a ceremony to Vishnu.

Vara Lacshmi vrata, nāgari letter, Siva to Parvati, ceremony to the gift bestowing Lacshmi.

—Vināyaca vrata calpa, two copies: a ceremony to get benefit from Ganēsa.

—Padma purānam, a discourse between Krishna and Konti dēvi, wife of Pāndu, and mother of some of the Pāndavas.

—On the benefit of worshipping Krishna; two copies.

—dasa p'hala vrata calpam, a fast and ceremony to get ten kinds of wealth.

—Vēda lacshmanam, nature of the Vēda, 3 leaves, Telugu letter.

—Yamuna pūja vrata, bathing in the river Jumna, as homage.

—Harka vivāha, a ceremony with the yerca, or asclepias shrub; it pertains to Brahmans.

Before a Brahmachāri can marry, or any other for the second or third time, this ceremony is used; two copies, 1 complete, 1 incomplete.

—Vishnu samprocshana, purification of images, before being placed in temples to be worshipped.

5. No. 1081. Bundle of fragments, in various languages and character. Twelve fragments can be counted, by mere inspection as to the difference of leaves. More particularly: 12 leaves, kamalāchāla mahātmyam; legend of the lotos-hill, and of the chakra pool, also on the glory of Krishna. At the said pool a king named Babra was cured of leprosy; leaves irregular, and not complete, Sanscrit.

8 leaves, Nārāyana cavacham, a charm invoking aid of Vishnu, Canarese language.

1 leaf, on Vishnu at Tripeti, Tamil language, from the writings of the Alwār.

6 leaves, Siva gīta, praise to Siva, Canarese language: padya cāvyaṃ.

6 leaves, Svara sāra sangraha, on the different kinds of breathing or vital airs, within the human body, 45 stanzas.

12 leaves Tamil language, Grant'ha letter: on the eight lettered mantra of Vishnu.

The meaning explained in Tamil.—

—20 Leaves. Telugu letter; the mágha mahatmya, from the Vayu puránam; the 7th, 2d, 9th adhyāyas, each one incomplete.

On the great merit of bathing, and other observances in the Mágha month. Also on the merit of offerings of the tulsi plant (ocymum sanctum) and of sandal wood: acceptable to Vishnu. Tales in illustration of the value of the tulsi &c., in all 29 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, old, and much damaged; the leaves differ, and are fragments of three books.

XXI. PURANAS local or Mahátmyas.

1. No. 1067. Bhaktá mahátmyam, a fragment said to be from the Scandópa puránam, from the 27th to the 48th adhyāyam, leaf 62—105: but with some intermediate ones wanting: 1 leaf is in Canarese letter. See XX.

2. No. 1078. Yádu giri mahatmyam.

The S'hala purána of yádu giri, in the Mysore country: or of the shrine of Mélu kotta tiru Náráyana, a form of Vishnu; 1st to 12th adhyāyam.

The book is long, and thin, the edges damaged; otherwise in good order.

3. No. 1079. Purushóttama cshétra mahátmya, legend, or st'hala purána of Jaganat'ha temple, of ill-fame in Orissa: related by Vyása to Jaya muni, from the 1st to the 24th adhyáyam; the 25th not complete.

The book is long, thick, and in good order.

4. No. 1086. Váísya charitra, verse:

This is a purána of the Cometis, or merchant class in the north; Siva and Parvati sent an incarnation as the daughter of Kusuma: with whom Vishnu Verddhana, the lord of Mahéndra-puram (one of the Bellála kings) fell in love; on seeing her at Muha giri puram of the Váísyas. Various details on this part of the subject. The young woman, to avoid further proposals being made to her, destroyed herself. The people fled from the place in a body. They afterwards worshipped the said young woman as a goddess; and the custom is said still to exist among the merchant class. The morning, noon, and evening forms of homage used by the Váísyas, are given. Also a list of gótras, or tribes of the Váísyas; leaves 1—8 a fragment very incomplete. One leaf on Astrological horary questions: with one distich enumerating 18 castes among Hindus.

The book is of medium length, and in tolerable order.

XXII. RHETORICAL, including the art of Poetry.

On upamanam or comparison, or simile with subdivisions: apanava concealing, alishaya yucti hyperbole, drishtandu example, proof: vyája stuti ironical praise: viródha abhásá equivocal words; e. g. nava cambalaváh, he who has nine shawls, or a new shawl, the latter being the real meaning.

Various other rhetorical figures.

The original is quoted in the midst and the meaning given; but the original and comment are not distinct, as in some other works.

The commentator introduces illustrations from other authors. His comment has been severely criticised,—at the end are 10 leaves, on the same subject; but from another copy, or another book.

The book is long, of medium thickness, slightly touched by insects and two leaves are broken.

2. No. 1110. Kúvaláiyánanda, as above; chiefly ślócas, with some prose: the original and commentary are interlined, leaf 1—99 incomplete. Other 23 leaves chátu ślócas, or distichs on a variety of unconnected subjects; and one leaf on the mode of dividing lands.

The book is of medium size, at the beginning one end is damaged, otherwise in tolerable order.

3. No. 1114. The same work, original and comment intermingled—by Appaiya dīcshada, sometimes the number of the original ślócas only given: it seems an abridgment compared with the other copies, leaf 11—42, four leaves not numbered.

The book is of medium length, thin, a few leaves are broken.

XXIII. ROMANCE HISTORICAL.

1. No. 535. Bála Rámáyanas.

A collection in which nine different sized books are visible; and formed chiefly by eight copies of the bála-rámáyanam, an epitome—for children used in schools: one incomplete, others complete. Sanscrit, chiefly in Telugu letter, with some tica or running comment in Telugu, one copy in Grant'ha letter, one with a tica in Canarese. Two ticas, in the Telugu language, are in the Canarese letter. In the midst is a list (2 leaves) of cycle years and months, Canarese letter.

Also Ráma Sahasranáma, the 1008 names of Ráma, in ślócas, incomplete. Its course was from Rudra through Parvati and Ganésa and Sanatcumára, and Suta rishi to the people.

A total of 156 leaves of various sizes, no boards, old, some leaves worm eaten.

2. No. 1051. Bála bháratam, an easy prose version of part of the Bháratam, for schools: the 4th, 5th and 6th sargas; but left incomplete.

The book is of medium size, old, and damaged at the edges.

3. No. 1056. Rámáyanam, ślócas.

By Valmīca, from the beginning, down to the 31st sarga in the yuddha candam, or section on the battle.

The book is very long, and thick, on broad talipat leaves, small hand writing, old, tolerably good order.

4. No. 1057. Rámáyanam slócas.

11½. No. 1123. Raghu vamsa—mūlam.By Calī dasa, 3rd 4th 5th sargas only.—Sanjivini, a tīca on the Raghu vamsa.By Cola Chēla malli nāt'ha.1st to 3rd sarga, not fully corresponding with the above ; but together making up 5 sargas.Marriage of Dilīpa with Sūdacshini, and, after a considerable interval, birth of Raghu ; who, when he became king, took some countries such as Yāvana désam, Pārasica désam, Cámboja désam, and others. Raghu afterwards made a great sacrifice in which Kavutsa, a great sage, officiated. Raghu gave him fourteen crores of varāhans (a thousand millions sterling, excessive hyperbole) leaf 1—32.Subject of the tīca genealogical as to Menu and other kings, coming down to Dilīpa maha rāja ; afterwards the 3rd sarga as above ; leaf 1—96.The mūlam is of medium length, the tīca shorter, book of medium thickness, leaves narrow, the boards long.12. No. 1124. Raghu vamsam, ślōcas.By Calī dasa.This is deemed a classic poem. It dwells somewhat on the ancestors of Rāma, as Dilīpa, Rāgh Aja, Dusaral'ha ; but dilates on the subject of the Rāmāyanam, in highly ornamented poetry.

This book has only fragments ; not forming a complete copy.

- Sargam* 2 two copies complete.
 3 one copy, wanting a few ślokas.
 4th 5th complete.
 6th complete, 7th complete.
 8th wanting, 9th complete.

In all 88 leaves, looking like portions of three different books; the centre piece being the oldest. The entire book is of medium size, touched by insects.

13. No. 1125. Raghu vamsam, ślokas.

By Cañ dāsa.

3d Sargam, only 16 ślokas, 3d and 4th sargas complete; others only 20 ślokas; these are the mūlam, or original only.

4th Sarga, has ślokas, with a Telugu tīca, or glossary to each word; 5th similar, but no more than 20 ślokas.

Also a fragment on Grammar, on the declension of nouns from Rāma, and pronouns to kim (what?) incomplete.

14. No. 1126. Māgha Cāvyaṃ, a heroic poem, on the expedition of Krishna against Sisupāla. By Magha; sometimes styled Vannin Māgha. Portions of the original are followed, by an imperfect commentary.

Sargas 1, 2, 3 complete, 4 has only 47 ślokas, 5 has 58 ślokas, 6 is wanting, 7 has from śloka 19 to the end, 8, 9, 10 complete.

The commentary.

By Kola chela malli nāḥa Śāri, a high sounding title given to the Telugu poet; Pedda Bhāṭṭa.

Sarga 2. Complete; 3 wants the comment on 11th to 15th śloka, the rest is found.

4. Wants the comment on the 7 first ślokas, and on those following the 22d śloka.

5. Wants the comment on the 2 first ślokas, the remainder is right—leaves. 1—100, but some in the midst are wanting; 92 leaves remain, containing the march of the army, and the killing of Sisupāla. This poem is a classic.

The book is long, and rather thick; in the middle several leaves are broken off, at one end.

15. No. 1127. The Magham, with a commentary.

—leaf 1—46 Māgha Cāvyaṃ, by Māgha Cavi from the 1st to the 5th sarga—original.

—leaf 5—57 Sārvāṅghaṣṭā—a comment on the Magham; by Kola chela malli nāḥa śāri (śāri is a title of respect among Sāivās). 1st and 2d sargas complete, 3d sarga incomplete—4 leaves contain 52 ślokas from 1st sargam of the original.

The general subjects are—the march of Krishna's army—encampments; killing of Sisupāla; with much florid poetical ornament interspersed.

16. No. 1128. *Bhāravi Cāvyaṃ, ślōcas.*By Bharavi.—from the 11th to the 17th sargaṃ complete, a few ślōcas only of the 18th sarga.

This is another classic poem, and very commonly known as the Kiratarjunyam. The subject is the penance of Arjuna in the Himālayas, in order to obtain the pasupataśtra weapon; his encounter with Siva, disguised as a hunter; and subsequently obtaining the desired boon.

The book is of medium size, old, and both ends gnawed off by rats.

17. No. 1129. *Cumāra Sambhava, ślōcas.*By Cāli dāsa.

8 Sargas complete of the original only, leaf 1—36 with two sargas, leaf 1—40 of a vyakhyānam, or comment, entitled Sanjivini, by Kela Chēla malli nōt'ha sūri.

The general subjects are—the birth of Parvati on Himadut-hill—her nurture—description of her person. Siva (in a state of penance) being assaulted by Manmata, destroyed him by opening his frontlet-eye—grief of Rati his consort—marriage of Siva with Parvati, birth of Subrahmanya, otherwise termed Cumara.

The book is old: injured at the end; of medium size.

18. No. 1282. Bāla Rāmāyanam, ascribed to Vālmiki.

An epitome of the Rāmāyanam, one sarga for the whole, on eight leaves, for the use of schools, and still generally so used; from the birth of Rāma to his being crowned at Ayodhya: omitting the uttara supplement.

The book is short, and thin, old; but in good order.

19. No. 1283. Hari vamsa, or aschārya parvam, a supplement to the Bhāratam. The apara bhāgam, a second part; original ślōcas.

From the 1st to the 56th adhyāyam—leaves 1—188: but wanting the following leaves 105—107, and 120, 121 and 124 to 127, and 142, otherwise complete.

So large a work cannot be abstracted. See French translation by M. Langlois.

The book is of medium size, and in good order. For the other portion of the book see XVIII.

20. No. 1337. Nāishada Cāvyaṃ.By Srī Harisha cati.

The first-four sargas of the mīmāṃsā, or original only, these are complete.

1st description of Nala, and his taking an amsa bird, &c.

2d matters related to him by the bird, concerning the town of Kundinī, and Damayanti, there resident.

3d. The bird went to Damayanti, and gave a description of the person, and prosperity of Nala.

4th. The passion of Damayanti on account of Nala.

Leaves 1—57.

The book is of medium size, and touched by insects.

XXIV. SAIVA SECTARIAL.

1. No. 1084. Scandōpapurīna, ślokas, a fragment of 25 leaves, containing a little of the 50th adhyāya, thence from the 51st to the 78th adhyāya; but with leaves deficient, and a little of the 70th section.

One of the minor (*) purānas, on the excellence of the Sāiva credence, and in particular insisting that Sivā is the sole Paran, or heavenly one; that is the alone Supreme; which is a dogma of the extreme Saiva class. There are various other matters on this mode of credence; together with many tales in exemplification of positions assumed.

The book is of medium length, thin, a little damaged.

XXV. TALES.

1. No. 1076. Vicramāditya charitra, from the 1st to the 23d section.

A series of tales, said to have been delivered to Bhōja rāja, by thirty-two statues, being imprisoned nymphs, on the steps of Vicramāditya's throne.

The book is of medium size, and in good order; but not complete.

2. No. 1085. Nāchi ketōpakyānam.

In 16 adhyāyas, complete, ślokas.

This is a tale of a kind not permitting minute abstract. A rishi, or sage, named Uddālaca performing penance, was visited by Brahma, who promised that he should have a child. In a way either absurd, or highly metaphorical, the daughter of Raghu brought forth a daughter, and abandoned it in the wilderness. The rishi heard the child's cries; took and reared it; and afterwards learnt that the child was his own. In the end he married Nāchi Ketu the daughter of Raghu (or Rahu),

(*) The name does not appear in the usual list.

there being some enigma as to Rāhu, and Kētu, astronomical terms. In the end Nāchi Kētu is described as going to Yama's world: the punishment of the wicked in that world described. She came back again: which is the close of the book: leaves 1—42. Two additional leaves contain 23 ślokas in praise of Kālahasta-Isvara, or Siva at Calastri; and a few ethical ślokas.

The book is of medium size, touched by insects; and one leaf, at the end, broken.

3. No. 1115. Cātambari—prose incomplete.

By Bhāna Cavi.

This is only a fragment of a large romance divided into the pūrva and uttara cātambari. A fictitious series of tales, running one into the other, in an ornate style. The author was contemporary with Cāli-dāsa at the court of Bhōja rāja. Sudraca a king described—visited by a chandāla woman, bringing a very learned parrot, a bird understanding all languages, and all devices: describing its own birth, in a Bombax tree, and various rishis: by one of whom it was taught. The city of Ougein described. Story of Dhārapida a king, and of his queen—no more here—but all introductory to the birth of their son Chandrapit'ha and of Cātambari, a woman born of a Gandharbu—the book, when complete, being a love-tale, concerning these two.

This fragment is of medium size, leaves 1—75 some blank, worm eaten, and broken in some places.

4. No. 1132. Mégha Sandésam—The cloud messenger. By Cāli-dāsa.

Leaf 1—12—containing 120 ślokas—of the well known poem translated by Wilson.

The subject the message sent by a banished Yacsha to his wife at Alaçapuri with descriptions, geographical, and otherwise.

The book is rather long, and thin, damaged at one end.

XXVI. VAISHNAVA SECTARIAL.

1. No. 1083. Satvica Brimha vidya vilāsa, ślokas, incomplete.

The respective punishments in Naraca (or hell) to different kinds of crimes, described. On viracti or self-control. The absence of all worldly desires described. The excellence of the urdhva or trident forehead mark. The mode of putting it on. The excellence of the Vishnu bhakti, or devotedness to Vishnu. He is the giver of beatification, and the alone First cause of created beings, and things.

The leaves bear no number: one has some Sanscrit roots, with their sense.

The entire book is long, thin, injured by insects.

2. No. 1099. Sanmārga—mani derpana, or the jewel looking-glass of morality.

By Vencatēsa Pandita, ślōcas.

On putting the marks of the chank, and ghacra on the arms, or shoulders. On giving to children names of the Vāishnava kind, such as Rāma Gōvinda &c. On putting twelve nāmas, or tridental marks on the body, as forehead 1, neck 3, breast 1, shoulders 2, navel 1, back 1, nape of neck 1, &c.

Srī chūrna-dhāraṇa, putting on the central line of the trident in yellow; or red—yellow is correct—(outside lines always white.) On the advantage of lighting lamps; and sweeping the floors in Vaishnava fanes.

On the benefit of strict veracity. Mode of bathing; anushtānam, or regular rule in all observances. On the ātma-guṇa, and Pora tatra, or nature of the human soul, and the divine truth or nature (a fruitful theme of Hindu controversy.) Various other Vaishnava matters, with numerous quotations, and praise of rishis, ancient seers, or sages.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, old, some leaves broken; about the middle eaten into by termiles so as to destroy the coherency of meaning.

3. No. 1137. Itihāsa samuch'haya traditionary compendium, ślōcas.

A discourse between Bhrīgu and Saṁvaca rishi, in the manner of the purānas. At the opening of the 1st section, one asks for information and the other gives it; the bearing of the whole is on the glory of Vishnu.

Some of the contents are—duties of guru and disciple; excellence of homage rendered to the guru—a child must obey its parent—if otherwise there is sin—excellence of Vishnu bhakti (see 1.) nature of tapas, or penance. On the gift of water—of food—merit of pilgrimage—benefit of chastity in women, highly praised; causes of sorrow referred to pūrva janma, a preceding state of existence—the means of removal, penance, ritual homage, or merit in the present life—on the merit of receiving guests; sin of rejecting such—mode of casting off household, or family cares, by choosing an ascetic life. Vishnu bhakti saves from Naraca or hell. Vishnu is the First cause of creation—devotedness to Vishnu is the procuring cause of beatification. On the maya, illusion or power of Vishnu; benefit of homage to Vishnu. On the rejecting sensual pleasures; it is praised.

On the excellence of the anugamanam, or a wife's burning herself with the dead body of her late husband.

On the benefit of bathing in the month Māgha : on the four castes (or castes), Brahman, Cshetriya, Vāishya, Sudra ; and on the four orders of Brahmachāri, Grahas'tha, Vanaprast'ha and Sannyasi. Duties of those belonging to the said castes and orders. Various like matters : each having the illustration of a tale. The whole is like a purānam, perhaps gathered from several : 1st to 34th adhāyā, and so far complete.

3 Leaves on the nature of Vāishnava worship seem added.

The book is rather long, and beyond the medium thickness, old, damaged by insects ; the ends are eaten off in some places.

4. No. 1214. Vishnu Dharmottaram.

A summary of Vaishnavā duties and principles, written as if a supplement to some purāna. Garuda, the vehicle of Vishnu narrated it to Marichi. Marichi enquired, what is the Vaishnava rule ? and Garuda replies ; stating also votaries pleasing to Vishnu : divided into chapters.

1. Concerning Prahlada, a devotee.
2. Introduction to Vaishnava duties.
3. How to receive a guest, and the benefit resulting.
4. and 5. Rules for women as to duties.

9. Benefit of lighting lamps in a fan.
- 10—11. Benefit of various ceremonies directed to the service of Vishnu.
12. On the excellence and use of the sālagrama or petrified shell.
13. More on the benefit of homage to Vishnu.
14. Laudatory of Brāhmins.
15. Benefit of giving a cow.
- 16—17. The same as to land, and food.
18. Importance of the fast, on the eleventh lunar day.
19. On the punishments inflicted in the world of Yama, after death.
20. On sins of the mouth, and other members of the body, and sins of the mind, which tend to Naraca, or hell.
- 21—22. Specification of the punishment of sinners in Naraca, according to the nature of their crimes.
23. Description of the formation, and growth of the fetus in the womb, until the 8th month.
24. In this birth (or life) men receive the fruit, or consequence of virtue, or of demerit, in a former one.
- 25—26. On the virtues, and kind of devotion which lead to mōcham, or release from farther pains of transmigrātion, bēntification.

27. On the four āyās, or ages, and what is dharma, or virtue, in each one, in its progress; details of the evils of the kali yuga, or present age: tales concerning Brahmans in this last age.

Leaf 1—130 complete; 4 leaves nāgari letter, at the beginning.

The book is long, of medium thickness, rather old; and some leaves damaged, by breaking.

5. No. 1227. Bharadvāja sanhita, matters ascribed to an ancient sage.

On taking the soul as if in the hand, and placing it at the feet of Vishnu. On the chakra mark on the shoulders. On the urdhva forehead mark—its excellency—the mode of putting it on, the importance of being a follower of Vishnu.

On the five marks of the Madhavas; that is, on the breast, two shoulders, forehead, pit of the stomach. To give up the soul to Vishnu is the short, or ready way to salvation. Earthly possessions, and desires are not pure; not tending to future bliss: the not desiring them is pure. Some are vainly troubled about similar things; these are unwise. Some despise like things, such persons are sage. Various other matters, relating to the excellency of the Vāishnava credence. Four adhyaayas leaves 1—38 complete.

The book is somewhat long, and thin; much damaged by insects, and breaking near the beginning.

6. No. 1241. Vāishnavāchārya padaḥhi: chapter on ceremonies, ślokas.

What food may be eaten, and what may not. On the mode of meals at noon and night. On the fast of the eleventh lunar day, in each half lunation. On commemorating the birth-day of the Narasinha, and Krīshna incarnations; the day of each distinguished as to its occurrence. On the duties of women, incomplete—2 leaves at the end—on the mode of putting on the forehead mark, and of marking the shoulders—excellence of a guru—incomplete; in all 16 leaves.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

7. No. 1249. Vishnu sahasranāma, ślokas.

By Vaisambāyana; said to be from the anusāsana-parvam of the Bhāratam.

A list of the 1008 names of Vishnu; said to be repeated daily by Vāishnavas.

16 Leaves complete. 1 leaf Vayu stuti, praise of a god of wind.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

8. No. 1298. Vaishnava miscellanies.

1.) Sударisana ashtacam, an octave.

On the chakra, or discus of Vishnu. 1 śloca wanting—on two leaves differing from the rest.

2.) Rahasya triyam; triple mystery: some Vāishnava mantras—nature of the human soul, and of the divine soul—duties of living men—nature or glory of the Supreme (paramātma surūpam.) The triple mystery, is sometimes explained as the Divine Being, the human soul, the visible world: and with reference to their identity, or diversity. This tract on 31 leaves is Tamil in language; the letters being Telugu. Its separation belongs to a work of collation; much needed.

3.) 12 Leaves, containing a Vishnu mantram and Bhagavata brūdhana krama—the mode of worshipping the Deity; and jayanti nirnayam, on the observance of Kṛishna's and Rāma's birth-days.

4.) Praise of Rāmānuja of Sri Permatūr, one of the Aluvār—Vishnu stuti praise of Vishnu—Dharma sastra vachana, some prose from the ritual portion of Hindu law.

5.) Niti padya—moral stanzas in Telugu, and a few other matters.

45 Leaves in all—the book remaining incomplete.

It is long, thin, only a few leaves not damaged, most of them worn off at the ends.

9. No. 1341. Vāishnava tracts.

(The first one should be taken out on collation.)

1.) Nitya anusantānam, the daily ritual; containing the Tirupālānda, eulogy, or a Viva addressed to Vishnu, with additions; in substance, praise; prefixed to a following portion of the Tiru vāyi morhi, or Tamil version from the Vedas: and also the Tiru pāvi, by Chūda kodutta nāchiyar, or the daughter of Periya aluvār, she who culled flowers, made them into a garland, and presented this to the god; to whom she was afterwards married—and further, some stanzas on matters relative to Kṛishna. In the Tamil language; and Telugu letter.

2.) 'Ala vantār stōttram, 67 ślocas.

By Yamunāchārya, complete; praise addressed to Vishnu, by an aluvār, leaves 20—25.

3.) Yēti-rāja-vimsati, 20 ślocas panegyrical of Rāmānuja, head ascetic.

By Manavāla maha muni, leader of the schismatic Tengalas; leaves 26—28.

4.) Cshamà shódasi, 16 ślōcas.

On the clemency of Rangha nat'ha at Trichinopoly, complete: by Vedantāchārya, son of Vēda Vyāsa bhata: leaves 29—31.

5.) Bhagavāta āvādhanā krama, mode of homage to the deity, ascribed to Parāsara, two leaves 57, 58, ślōcas, incomplete $\frac{1}{2}$ leaf brief extract from the divya-prabandham in Tamil, and $4\frac{1}{2}$ blank.

The book is of medium length, thin, old, bored by insects.

10. No. 1358. Vāishnava observances.1.) Nārāyana verma, a cavacham, or charm for protection, addressed to Vishnu—two leaves only; in this eight names of Vishnu are used the last one being Nārāyana: the use of which, with a preceding ceremony, is supposed to have great efficacy. It is known as Haridhāratamyam, praise of Vishnu, as the universal being.2.) Snāna sancaḷpam, record of bathing; given the year of the cali yuga, Cycle year, month, day, til'hi, &c., on which such a one bathed in such and such a sacred pool, for the removal of sin. Cāveri pra'hana homage to the river Cavery, or to its goddess.3.) Mṛttica snāna, rubbing the body with earth that has surrounded the roots of the tulsi plant—also rubbing the body with cowdung moistened with water: also rubbing the body with tila powder (of sesame) mixed with water.4.) Amalaca snānam, rubbing the body with myrobolam fruit (nelli kai) mixed with water; and a few mantras, used at noon-day. In all 16 leaves.

The book is short, and thin, good order.

11. No. 1360. Vishnu sahasranāma, pūja, homage by the 1008 names of Vishnu; a few ślōcas of praise prefixed; then the 1008 names; and, at the end, are ślōcas, stating the benefit arising from the use of the "thousand names."

The book is of medium length, thin, and slightly injured by insects.

XXVII. VEDANTIC.

1. No. 1165. Section 2. Vedanta-vācyam.

Discussion on the Vedanta system, with discrimination as to the differences on this subject among Smārtas, Mādhyas and Vāishnavas of the Peninsula; the first being advāita, the second dvāita, and the third visishta-advāita; the first maintaining the oneness of Deity and the human soul; the second that they are distinct, the third that they are almost one, or related. See XXVIII for section 1.

2. No. 1184. Védanta vyakhyánam, or vivaranam, explanation of the Védanta, prose fragment, without beginning or ending. It describes the Paramátma and jívatma, divine soul, and human soul, and seems to maintain their unity; but the whole would be needful to decide as to its being advaita in class, leaf 75—204.

The book is long, and thick, injured by worms, and breaking.

3. No. 1187. Fragments on the Védanta according to the Vaishnavas.

Leaves 3—20 Vyása sutropanása vyakhyánam, a commentary on the original sutras of Vyása, by Sri Rámésvara Bhárati; leaves 45—65, wanting 46 and 54; exponent of the Váishnava system. Vishnu is the great First cause. There is a difference, and distinction between the jívatma or human soul, and Paramátma or divine soul, Vishnu has all mild, benevolent, or good qualities; in opposition to the advaitas who ascribe to deity a negation of qualities; with other details. The composition is a mixture of prose, verses from the Vedas, and slócas; in all 39 leaves.

The book is somewhat long, old; but in good order.

4. No. 1265. Ara dáta gíta mahà mantram, slócas, 7 prakarnas or sections; represented as a discourse between Dattátréya, and Góracsha. Section 1. 2. On the oneness of the human soul with Isvara, the divine being.

3d. The form of the immortal (acshará, in the sense of múrti, or surúpám.)

4th. On being resolved as to truth, and on firmness of mind in maintaining it.

5th. On equal sight, or appearance; that is, there is no real difference in existing things; because all are equally seen in the light of Isvara; as the evolving, or development of his being—all is Isvara.

6th. Acshara varam, description of the immortal one,

7th. Nirvana nisht'hana mahima, the glory or value of release, or of absorption into the divine essence.

This book denies any difference between the jívatma and paramátma; and maintains that all beings, and things, are but manifestations of the divine being. So far complete, on 20 homogeneous leaves, and one handwriting.

The following are miscellaneous, and different.

—Sani stótra, praise of Saturn the planet, or its regent. By Rudra to rishis. A story of Dasaratha introduced : in consequence of no evil disease from Sani (Saturn being a malignant planet) coming into his country for twelve years. Dasaratha celebrated the praise of Sani, and received a varam, or gift from that being. They who hear this praise recited will get benefit from Sani, 2 leaves, incomplete.

—Siva bhūjāgam stótra, 25 ślócas in praise of Siva, put into a serpentine form. By Sancarúchārya : complete. Two other ślócas on Saiva subjects, and 8 ślócas.

Dacshana mūrti ashtacam, an octave in praise of a form of Siva ; considered as giving wit, skill, intelligence in literary matters. Also 44 ślócas on Vaishnava subjects, praise of Vishnu, complete. In the event of needed collation these last matters should be taken out ; and the whole separately arranged.

The entire book is long, and thin, a little damaged.

5. No. 1295. Vedanta ethics, author unknown, prose, incomplete.

The destruction or removal of a triple sorrow tends to mocsham, meaning happiness in the present life. This triple sorrow is,

- 1.) Attaching to the soul.
- 2.) Proceeding from the five elements of matter, body, &c.
- 3.) Proceeding from malignant spiritual agency.

The first is subdivided into sarīram and manassu body, and mind. The body being subject to vātam, pittam, slēsham and to irregularities caused by them. The mind is subject to kāma, cródha, lóba, maha móha, and other evil affections, or passions. The second includes not only the five elements, as causing evil, but also beasts, birds, reptiles, and stavaram, things immovable ; by these sorrow is occasioned. The third refers to troubles by yacshas, rúcschasas, evil beings, and by guha, sprites or gnomes. They cause trouble by avésham, invisible possession ; they are supposed to lay hold of people, and by so doing to trouble them, by giddiness &c.

To get these various sources of sorrow removed, or to get rid of them, is the way to heaven, or happiness in the present state of being.

Brahma surūpa nirūpanam, description of the form of the supreme Being, by negatives ; as without arms, seeing without eyes &c. giving to the book an ádvdīta turn. It is short, thin, leaves 1—45, a little gnawed at one end.

XXVIII. VEDAS, OR UPANISHADAS thereto pertaining ; and like matter.

01. No. 1179. Two portions.

1.) Srī sūcta—a hymn from the Vēdās prose like form, incomplete. The glory of Lacshmi declared.

2.) Rudram—prose, incomplete.

Praise of Rudra (or Siva) from the vedas.

On the dherma, or duties of the four Colors; Brahma, Cshētriya, Vāisya, Sudra; and of the four orders Brahmāchāri, Grihas'tha, Vana-pras'tha, and Sanniyasi. The sentences end with the word rādra: 6leaves.

The book is of medium size, worm eaten.

02. No. 545. Vēdu.

a. Nāgari a few leaves. b. Telugu letter.

a. Rudra jada, a repetition of words concerning the glory of Siva: leaves marked 6, 3, 6.

b. Incomplete on Yāga dherma, or duty of sacrifice. Cause of water and other things; duties of Brahmans, and other three Colors: meaning difficult.

Leaves 80—121.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, has only one board, and is damaged by worms, and breakage.

1. No. 1150. Srāuta, matter from the Vēdas.

'Aba stambha trisana prayōga, section from a Vēda, chiefly on sacrifice, and rituals; sutras from the vēdas—sōma panchaca—these, and other like extracts.

At the end, in Grant'ha letter, a commentary on 'Aba stambha sutras, in three parts.

1st Leaf 1—37, 2d Leaf 1—31, 3d Leaf 1—7, being explanatory paraphrase, or amplifying the brief sutras of the original.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and very much worm eaten. The commentary has leaves something longer than the preceding portion.

2. No. 1151. Yajur vēdam.

The 1st ashtacam, four prasnas, out of eight.

The 2d ashtacam, eight prasnas, leaves are deficient, in various places.

The book is long, thin, and much injured.

3. No. 1152. Yajur vedam.

1st Cādam from the 1st to the 5th prasna.

The 6th prasna defective.

6th Cādam—the 1st prasna on sacrifice.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and damaged.

4. No. 1153. Srāuta.

A selection of practical offices from three vēdas ; such forms as are useful, or most required. They relate to the yāgu nidhī, or mode of sacrifice ; out of 33 prasnas, only from 1, to 5, with a little of the 6th fragment.

The book is long, thin, in good order.

5. No. 1161. Various upanishadas, supplements to the Vēdas, or assuming to be such.

- 1.) Rudra nyāsam, homage to the five members, or heads of Siva.
- 2.) Srī Rāma rahasyōpanishada, the mystery of Rāma ; delivered by Siva to Vyāsa, on the birth of Rāma.
- 3.) Sarvasāra upanishada, two copies ; substance, or essence of the Vēdas.
- 4.) Nārāyana upanishada, two copies.

It ascribes the origin of all things to Nārāyana.

5.) Vajra-stūji upanishada.

The penetrating diamond needle : on theological, or spiritual instruction.

6.) Sarīraca upanishada, concerning the human body.7.) Yōga tatva upanishada, on mystic truth ; on the system of ascetics.8.) Kāivalya upanishada, two copies.

On mōcsham, or beatification in the Satya lōca, or world of Brahmā. (The highest heaven ;) and the means of its attainment shewn.

9.) Garbha upanishada, on the womb, and the fœtus in it.10.) 'Arunica upanishada, homage or service to Brahma ; from 'Aruna, the dawn, charioteer of the sun.11.) Kēna upanishada, 1st Cāndam.

A woman named Hemavati asks Dēvendra how to obtain mōcsham or beatification ; kēna is " by what means," (quomodo,) Indra replies.

This tract appears to be on the sactī worship principle (quoad Bona Dea.)

12.) Ātma prabōdha upanishada, special instruction as to the soul.13.) Kālāgni rudra upanishada. Sanatcumāra asks Siva concerning various ritual, or other observances ; such as the use of cow-dung ashes, beads, and the like. Siva replies.

14.) Mandūcīya upanishada. Mandūca, a sage, asks Rudra (Siva) concerning the pranava, or mystic trilateral aīm (O'm) how given, and to what end; supposed to lead on to theological matter.

15.) Hamsa upanishadu; on the all-pervading Spirit; and on the yōgam, or abstract meditation on Deity.

The aforesaid fourteen tracts professing to be upanishadas, are complete, and very brief: the entire book not being large. Some of them were translated by Ram-mohun roy, and others.

This book is long, of medium thickness, leaves at one end damaged; otherwise in good order.

6. No. 1162. 'Aba-stambhu-sutra.

A very imperfect fragment, many leaves intermediate wanting; and a few leaves in nāgari letter thrown in. As far as can be made out, from the imperfect state of the document, it contains rules for ritual ceremonies, taken from the Vēdas; and elsewhere, under the same title, more largely detailed.

The book is long, thin, old, with only one board, and much damaged.

7. No. 1160. Chandrōdaya upanishada.

Said to be an appendix to the Sāma veda, 1st to 7th adhyaīya complete, with part of the 8th said to relate to Brahma. This is the 1st section in this book; for the 2d see XXII.

The entire book is long, thin, and somewhat injured.

8. No. 1166. Arunam-yajūr vēdam.

Concerning the five elements—On the soul; the vāidica karmam, or rituals, founded on the vēdas: leaf 1—63, so far complete.

—Vēda pata retnam, the impression of the vēda compared to a jewel, for some other matter see X.

9. No. 1168. Agni-stōma yagnyam.

On one of the kinds of the sacrifices prescribed by the Vēda. In this mode the entrails of sheep are taken out, and cast into the sacrificial fire; the sheep tied to a post is considered to die only by the power of mantram used. Such is stated to be the only subject of this book, which is of medium size, old, and a little damaged.

10. No. 1169. For various sections see XVIII.

Section 1, Manūkōpanishada. Supplement by Mandūca a rishi, only 8 leaves; first sac'ha, or sanhita. The Vēda has 7 Cāndams; various additions are termed sac'has, offsets.

* Section 5, Brahma vindha upanishada, only two leaves; it belongs to the yajur vēda.

Section 6, Ecācshara upanishada, one leaf, explanation of the formule AUM; called one letter, though a triple compound; chiefly on its use as a spell, or in praise. It is tantamount to Hebrew cabalistic symbols; and implies a triple unity in Deity.

Section 7, Udālaca upanishada, of the yājūr vēda. On the soul. Paramātma, the Divine Being, jivātma the human soul. This treatise is chiefly on the Divine nature: given by Udālaca rishi to his disciple Swēta ketu: 7 leaves, or 1 part complete; letter Grant'ha, other parts wanting.

The entire book is of medium size, injured by insects, and broken.

11. No. 1170. Fragment of the yajūr vēdam.

The beginning is wanting, 28 leaves remain: some defective in the midst. The original has an explanation, in plainer language, on the sun, and other deities.

The book is long, thin, and nearly new.

12. No. 1172. Rig vēda.

Containing eight ashtacas. In the 6th the 1st to the 6th prasna, a little defective.

The book is long, of medium thickness, injured at one end.

13. No. 1173. Yajūr vēdam.

In the 3d ashtaca, from the 1st to the 9th prasna, complete.

1. On the lunar mansions; their importance.

2, 3. Ishti mantra, offerings, on the first day after the new, and full moons; to obtain things desired.

4. Nara mēdham, human sacrifice, and the spells used therewith.

5. Homage of Pāra Brahm, the Supreme.

6. Agni, Indra, Vishnu, homage to these three.

7. Vivāha mangalam, on the happiness of the marriage state.

8, 9. Aśvamēdha yāgam, on the sacrifice of a horse; and its ritual.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order. The 4th prasna claims special notice.

14. No. 1175. Bṛihadāranya upanishada.

1st sac'ha, two copies, one complete, the other not so; said to relate to the doctrine of the soul: understood to have been translated into French, and German.

An upanishada of the yajúr véda, not complete, 8 leaves only.

—On the five elements—instruction to a disciple.

—Ráma upanishada, not complete at the end; said to refer to Rama.

Besides there is great confusion of leaves. This part of the collection specially has need of collation, and improved arrangements.

The book is long, thin, the older leaves injured by insects.

Note. As regards this article XXVIII, I do not feel perfect confidence in it. The books referred to in it were examined at an early period of the work, and a sástri employed was found to have urged on another Brahman engaged with him as a check, the great sin of explaining the contents of the vedas to a foreigner. He soon after died: and other more intelligent agents, were found.

β. A.

d. CANARESE LETTER.

I. ADVAITA.

No. 1443. Section 2. Jnána pátam, 8 padalás, or chapters, on 15 leaves.

Description of the Sáiva vedanta, or Adváita system. On the maya surúpa, or illusive form of Deity, as apparent in worldly beings, and things; jíva-Isvára abhédám, the human soul and God indivisible, or without separation. All human souls are, in effect, one; even as air shut up in a box, and a pot, though apparently separate, is the same; and if both are opened will flow into one: the atmosphere being one, though it may be variously subdivided—with like matter.

For Section 1, see XVI.

II. ARCHITECTURE, AND STATUARY.

1. No. 1562. Vástu píruska-láashanam.

On building, with introductory matter; partaking of divination, and astrology; slócas with an incomplete tíca or glossary, in Canarese.

If when any one is intending to build a new house, and when journeying, or going anywhere about that purpose, he meets with any of the following persons or things, the same is a good omen; that is—a married woman bearing a brass, or copper pot of water from a tank—any one bearing a silver arm-ring, or otherwise wearing silver in any form—musical instruments—married women ; in these cases wealth will follow the building. On the signs of the zodiac deemed favorable for building, from méska onwards. In which of the signs the house should be begun, and the foundation laid—mode of putting in the first post. It is good to build a house in chaitra—April, May, wealth will follow. In Mil'hanu (or Gemini) destruction. In Carcata (Cancer) long-life, old age. In Sinha (Leo) good offspring. In Kanya (Virgo) poverty. In Tula (Libra) allowable. In Vricshica (Scorpio) death of relatives. In Dhanu (Sagittarius) loss of property. In Macara (Capricorn) riches will follow.

The book remains incomplete ; so that directions as to the building itself are wanting.

It is of medium length, thin, touched by worms, and gnawed by rats on one side.

2. No. 1585. Silpi sástram slócas.

By Cásyapa, on the structure of a Sáiva temple with its various adjuncts ; incomplete.

On the lacshanam, quality or properties of various objects—descriptive of them—as the statue, or image representing the principal god in any fane—right place for the shrine, and connected matters. The pit'ha seat, or shrine of any inferior, or secondary image ; the védica, or verandah of the shrine ; the calasa-bandham, or mode of crowning the cupola—proper placing of pillars, of doors, ornaments for doors—the cumbha, vase, or round top on the summit of the garbha-graha, or shrine. Jálaca lacshanam, properties, or proportion and form of windows ; and of torna, or festoons in carved work over doors and windows. Where the door may be placed : may be on the East, or North, but not on the South ; on the West doubtful opinion. Sic'hara lacshana, proportion of the crest to the gópara, or tower over the great gateway. On the form of the different mantapas, or porches within or without the temple. Form of ornaments of the corners. On the shed for holding materials for public processions—it is termed zála (salle). Proportions of the front gópara, or tower. Dimension of the great door, or gate beneath the tower. On the figures of Vr'ishabha, Vin'byaca, Víra Bhadra, and various others in plaster, outside the tower, as ornaments. Concerning cells, or chambers in the wall inside, and round the shrine, between which, and them is a space for internal processions, on minor occasions.

The book is long, somewhat thick (136 leaves) on broad talipat leaves, injured by worms.

III. ARITHMETIC.

1. No. 1541. Panchánga Panitam, on calculating almanacs : slócas, with a tica or glossary in Canarese : incomplete. The 1st and 2d adhyāyas are wanting; from the 3d to the 5th complete, so far. In the beginning, numbers are expressed by names, as 7 by samudra, from 7 seas. 5 Bhānam, five arrows of kāma; 14 by lōca—14 worlds, 7 upper, 7 lower, and so on, for other numbers.

Mode of reckoning the tithi, or lunar day, vāram, day of week, and nacshētra, lunar mansion for the day. On the calculation of solar, and lunar eclipses. Leaves 34—143.

The book is of medium size, and slightly injured.

2. No. 1548. Section 2, for section 1, see XVIII.

Ganita sāstram, on Arithmetic.

By Maha rāja.

—Carmini karma sūtram, on addition, or multiplication; as, if 10 to one place, how many to 20 places.

—Sambhāgaram sūtram, subtraction.

The sūtras of both of these have a tīca or explanation in Canarese: 8 leaves incomplete.

32 Leaves in the entire book.

IV. ART OF POETRY.

1. No. 1414. Vāca Bhatta alancāram: ślōcas.

By Jāinendra-cavi, 5 asvāsas, complete.

On the nine rasas, poetical feelings, or sentiments; as common places.

1. Sringāra rasam amatory.
2. Vīra „ courage.
3. Karma „ favor, kindness.
4. Adbhūta „ admiration.
5. Hasya „ mirthful.
6. Bhayanācam „ timidity, fear.
7. Bhīdāsa „ causing horror, or dislike.
8. Raudra „ wrath, cruelty.
9. Zānta „ mildness, clemency.

These sentiments, or passions occupy one part: the other one is occupied with the proper mode of describing the nayaka and nayāki, or hero and heroine of any piece: as, for example, the way in which different poets describe Nala and Damayanti.

The whole of the alancāra is not here; only 14 leaves in all.

The book is of medium length, on talipat leaves, and in good order.

2. No. 1458. Two tracts.

1.) Pratāpa rudrīyam, on the rhetoric of poetry, named after Pratāpa rudra Ganapati.

By Vidya nā'ha Pandita; ślōcas and prose incomplete.

On metaphor, on comparison, on apologue or parable. On simplicity of expression; that is, not mixed or general; but applicable to one person alone, as Rāma or Rāvana, not what might be predicated of both of them, Many other matters as to the use of words in ornamental composition.

Some ślōcas made on Pratāpa rudra, a king of Warankal: as used in exemplification of the different rules—17 leaves.

2.) Chandra-lōca, ars poetica.

By Cūli dāsa, ślōcas, incomplete.

This work should contain one hundred poetical figures; but in this tract there are sixty eight, wanting the remainder. The composition is so ordered by this distinguished author, that the first part of the distich gives the rule, and the remainder, the exemplification: leaves 2—4 wanting out of 16—14 leaves remain.

The book is of medium length, old, slightly damaged.

V. ASTROLOGY.

1. No. 1205. Two books of different size, put together, agreeing in subject.

1.) Jyōtisham on astrology—it seems to be a collocation of tracts.

—On yōgas, or times suitable, or not so, for journies. The different nacshēras explained, as to their influences.

—On taking the time of birth, framing a horoscope, and thence deducing events of the following life.

—Mode of determining the rāju porutam by counting from the asterism in which any one was born, by means of the joints on the back of any one's hand, and thence determining if the woman and man are suitable for marriage, or not so.

—Mantras on the ten kinds of dānam or gifts; such as a cow, land, gold, &c.

—A jāpam, or charm, on three names of Vishnu. i. e. Achyuta, Ananta and Gōvinda.

—Bhuvā p'halam, taking the horoscope, and thence foretelling leading circumstances of life; such as property, conveyance, wife &c.

—Divination; if a large lizard fall on any one: deduced from the part, or member of the body on which it falls.

—Prasna sāstram, horary questions, and mode of answering them.

— Svalpa jātačas, brief horoscopes.

By Varāha mitra.

— Yavana hora, astrology, by Yavana, containing 13 adhyaayas; being on the aspects at birth, and conclusions thence resulting: with an especial reference to the horoscope of females.

Palmistry, as to females, lines on the hands; it includes physiognomy, and somatoscopy, the face, hair of head, soft, or crisp or curly; hands, feet, nails, &c., how these ought to be.

On the friendships and enmity of the nine planets among themselves.

— Bhūvana pradīpikā on horary questions.

— Māni derpana, "jewel looking glass," on horary questions.

This has a tīca, or verbal comment, in the Telugu language.

— Bāla asishṭa, — mode of determining if an infant will die, within a short time after birth.

— Dhātni kalpam, medicinal use of the hadu kuyi, astringent myrobalan.

2.) On horary questions 56 ślocas.

By Varāha mitra-pillay, with a tīca, or verbal comment in Telugu.

— Kāusalam, a book on astrology.

Given any event, then taking the year, month, hemispherical places of the sun, lunar day, yōgam, &c. and thence prognosticating results, yet future.

With some other like matters.

Both books have 154 leaves, not numbered on them. As a whole the book is long, thick, old, and a little damaged.

2. No. 1446. Sarvarṭha chintāmani, an original work on Astrology, in ślocas; without any comment, author not known.

It should contain two bhāgams, or parts; but as found herein, it is not a complete work. (See Vol. 2. r. A. b.)

1. Jātaca bhāgam, on the birth—horoscope on the nature and influences of the Sun, and other planets. On the twelve bhāvas, states, or condition of being; as to health of body; wealth; learning; brothers; conveyance; death of mother; birth of children; diseases, or sufferings of body; suffering from enemies; time of marriage; dispositions of the future wife; length of life; auspicious, or prosperous circumstances; when the subject's father will die; how the subject will obtain his livelihood; as, by merchandize, or personal labor: profit, loss. On the rāja yōga kingly lot, or very great prosperity; the opposite of poverty.

The preceding seem deduced from the time of birth known; but there is another mode, called nashta jātacam, when the horoscope is lost or time of birth not known: leaves 5—133 wanting 108 and 110.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, some of them sawed on one side; otherwise in good order.

3. No. 1536. Sūrya siddhanta bhāṣyam.

A comment on the Sūrya siddhantam, an astronomical, and astrological work; from the 1st to the 14th adhyāya complete: other matter wanting: ślōcas; about 20 leaves have a Telugu tica, and beyond a tica 1 Canarese.

The periods of the planets in the signs of the zodiac, calculation of the stay in each one. On the revolution of days, lunar days, and asterisms—as also the other astrological divisions; yōga, nama, carana; and the course of an entire year. Details concerning lunar eclipses. Discrimination of the appearance of Cuja, Budha, Sucra, Sani (Mars, Mercury, Venus, Saturn) so as to know each one at sight. Their bimbam, shape or diameter. On the rising, and setting of the lunar mansions. On the revolutions of the planets in their orbits; and on their effects, or influences, when in different signs. Rules for the calculation of almanacs.

At the end avagada chacra adhyāyam on the evil results from planets being in particular signs, or lunar mansions. If a father and son be born in the same nacshētra (lunar mansion) it is of evil import to both. In the case put—of father, son, and wife, born in the same asterism, then in what positions the different planets will be infortunes to them: These, and like matters, on astrological evils stated.

The book is of medium length, very thick, touched by insects.

4. No. 1537. Kāla nidhānam padadhī, chapter on the discrimination of times. A portion of the Jyōtisham, or astrology.

The book is occupied with determining the proper astrological times for various ceremonies and observances; as, the pumsa vanam—simantam—nāma carma—first feeding—jāta carma—beginning to learn letters—putting grass on the loins for ceremonies appointed by the Vēdas—on beginning to read the Vēdas—on giving a Cow at the close of a vrāta or vow—for any special fire-offering—for beginning a journey—for putting on the scholar's head—for buying and selling (in the case of Brahmans) for anointing with oil—for śrāddhas or funereal rites: they must be within 10 A. M. and 5 P. M.—for anointing a king—for going to war—ancurāpanam, sowing seeds, on auspicious ceremonies—for consecrating the image of a god. Besides these there is a statement of good muhūrtas, brief periods, for doing any kind of business with success following. Leaves are wanting at the beginning = 117 remain.

The book is of medium length, thick, o'd, slightly injured.

5. No. 1539. Jyōtisha sāstram. Astrology: ślokas with a Canarese tica or gloss, defective at the beginning.

The first matter is on dreams ; according to the night watch, from the 1st to the 4th, what is signified by different dreams, and after how long a period accomplished. In the 1st watch after a year or more, the time finishing with the other watches ; and if the dream occur in the last watch, or from 3 to 6 o'clock in the morning the result will be speedy, or immediate.

Avagada chacra p'halam, evil results explained from any horoscope = what year, &c. any accident or evil may happen. On the division of the lunar mansions into ganas, classes or sections ; as dēva ganam—maras'hya ganam—rācshasa ganam. The first good, the second medium, the third bad ; referring chiefly to affiancing for marriage. Their results stated.

On the rāsīs, or zodiacal signs ; their union or agreement, separation or discord. Their influence.

On the lords of the different signs ; their influences.

On the proper times, astrologically determined, for various sacerdotal ceremonies ; as pumsa vanam—simantem—jāta carman—chaturāṃ, learning letters—upanāṅnam, beginning to study the Vēdas. Proper times for buying and selling : only in the case of Brahmans, proper time to put on a new garment. On the influences of the lunar, and solar days ; the lunar mansions (or nacshētras)—not further ; leaf 19—125 incomplete.

The book is of medium size, old, injured by white ants, and worms.

6. No. 1540. Jyōtisha-sāstram, Astrology: ślokas, with a tica in Canarese.

On the influence of the different cycle years ; which of the sixty is a good one to be born in, and which not so.

Shad-rutu p'halam, on the influences of the six seasons. Māsa p'halam on the influence of the different months. Ti'hi p'halam, on the influence of the lunar days ; also of solar days of the week, and of the lunar asserisms.

On the oppositions of the planets—depending on their nature, and on the signs in which they are situated, at the time—Mēsha dī p'halam—influence of the sign Aries, and the others consecutively.

If Asvini or Hasta, lunar mansions correspond with Monday or Wednesday, this is termed amṛta yōgam, and is deemed propitious, the results are detailed in full. The time is not fatal, or mortal (from ā privative and mṛta dying.)

Avagada-chakra p'halam, the same as the technical term ganda; at what times, according to the horoscope, unfortunate, or ill events may be expected; and other details, which, from the state of the book, are not easily legible.

At the end one leaf has 4 ślokas from the Mēgha-sandēsam, or cloud messenger.

The book is of medium size, old, very much injured by worms, and broken in some places.

7. No. 1543. Muhūrtta derpana, mirror of hours; ślokas, incomplete.

By Vidya mād'hava.

The 1st adhyāya is complete, the 2d not so, on rāsīs, signs; grahas, planets; nacshētras, lunar mansions. These have other than the usual names e. g.

Mēsha is termed Ajam,

Vṛshabha " Erishāyam.

Mit'huna " Nri-yugam.

And so with others.

The grahas planets, are termed vrīcshās.

The nacshētras are called Bhā.

In the 2d adhyāya there is a little matter on good muhūrttas, or fortunate hours for celebrating marriages: whence the book takes its title, but unfinished: 15 leaves remain.

The book is short, on narrow talipat leaves, injured by insects.

8. No. 1544. Jātacādhyāyam, chapter on the horoscope, ślokas, notice, and incomplete.

The effects of the various positions of the planets at the time of birth.

Then of the 12 signs (called also lagunas; properly the sign in the ascendant is lagūna.)

The tī'his, or lunar days noted; which good, which evil; and the effects good, or evil of the lunar mansions, nacshētras; 18 leaves.

The book is somewhat long, and much worm eaten.

9. No. 1545. Jātaca kāla nidhi, jewel of birth-time; Astrology, ślōcas. The 1st and 2d vilāsas complete, the 3d incomplete.

Influence of the signs from Aries onwards, and of the nine planets. On the samyucta, or conjunction of two planets in the same sign.

On the influence of the opposition of planets, influence of the lagūna, or sign in ascendant at the moment of birth: 26 leaves; 58 blank.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

10. No. 1546. Jātacas, horoscopes.

Four brief records of birth of the children of a Jāina named Dāna chenna-pāiyya.

- 1.) Sal. Sac 1515. Vijaya year. Mina month on the 14th lunar day, Monday; son named Vijayanna, ślōcas, one copy. Another copy, in Canarese prose; to live 58 years, and the various events in them briefly stated.
- 2.) Sal. Sac 1528. Prabhava year. Vṛshabha month—22d solar day, on the 9th tīr'hi; son named Padmanaka, his horoscope in brief.
- 3.) Sal. Sac 1551. Suola year, bright half of Srāvana, on Tuesday, Hasti nacshētram; son named Dēva chandrayya, his horoscope briefly in Canarese.
- 4.) Sal: Sac 1551, Sucla year, 'Ashāda month, Friday. Asvini nacshētram: son named Chelvapa-ayya his horoscope briefly stated; 26 written leaves.

The book is short and thin, on narrow talipat leaves: injured by insects.

11. No. 1547. Jātacūbaranam, horoscope jewel; ślōcas incomplete.

The results of being born in each of the sixty cycle years; also when the sun is in the north and south hemispheres. The influence of the Vasanta, spring, and of the remaining five seasons of the year.

The influence of the months reckoned from Chāitra (April) onwards: and of the bright and dark half lunations.

If any one be born at dawn it is good; at evening not so good; at night evil.

On the rāsi-chāram, or sun's place in the zodiac. On the laguna p'halam, result of precise time of birth, compared with the state of the heavens: especially the ascendant.

Influence of the nacshētras, and of the ganās or divisions of them; Dēva, manushya, rācshasa, divine, human, infernal. (European division of solar signs, humane, bicorporal, feral) the whole of the nacshētras are distributed under those three divisions.

On the influence of the house, or sign, in which the sun is at the time of birth.

Leaves 1—63, deficient to 83 thence to 103.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

12. No. 1549. Nacshetra chūdāmini; jewel of lunar mansions; ślokas without comment, incomplete.

On the influence of the nine planets.

On the devā dana ravi, twelve suns. The Adityas, or sun in each of the twelve signs, treated as if distinct; the sun's influence in each of the signs.

On the effects of the lunar mansions; from Āsvini onwards.

The proper days of the week for going on a journey, including the śilām (impediment.) Not W. on Friday and Sunday; not E. on Monday and Saturday; not N. on Tuesday and Wednesday; not S. on Thursday.

The various tithis, or lunar days, on which it is not good to set off on a journey.

Threefold division of lunar asterisms, into divine—human—inferior; termed ganas. It is supposed that one born in a rācshasa gana may travel without fear or harm at night; if in a dēva gana he may do so; but if in a manushya gana he must not venture to journey by night; 26 leaves, without numbers.

The book is long, and thin, on talipat leaves, slightly damaged.

13. No. 1553, Jālacam, horoscope of an individual.

Sal. Sac 1605. Raktīcāhī year, sun in the southern hemisphere—in Srāvana month, dark half lunation, tenth lunar day on Saturday (ś'hira vā-am)Canya* or Virgo in the ascendant, the exact minute of birth of Nṛsīṃha Bharati-swami, a Brahman of the Mādhyama class. The situation of the planets at his birth; and their influence, through a series of successive years, stated in reference to definite results: leaf 1—21.

The book is short and thin, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

14. No. 1568. Jyōtisha-sangraham, epitome of astrology, ślokas; and, in some places, a prose explanation; incomplete.

There are two prefixes of 5 leaves, and 3 leaves, shorter than the following ones; 5 leaves on the times when young women come to maturity; good or bad according to the nacshetra in which it occurs; 3 leaves on the agreement, or friendship of planets.

The following is of different size, and writing.

On the various influence of the nine planets. On the influence of the zodiacal signs. On the influence of the laguna, ascendant at the moment of birth, compared with the planets, and signs. On the influences of the tithis and vāras, or lunar and solar days, some good, some bad. On the siddha yōgam and amṛita yōgam, two astrological coincidences esteemed good.

If a house is to be built, at what time it is good to begin, and when not.

On times for observances in the 5th and 8th month of pregnancy.

On what day women may go on a journey: and on what day men may go.

Gāuli sacunam, divination from lizards ; as to the quarter whence they chirp, as to falling on any one; according to the place ; e. g., if on the head, parents will die soon, &c.

There are other matters : but the state of the book prevented further examination ; 93 leaves.

The book is somewhat long, and thick ; damaged by breaking $\frac{1}{2}$ leaves only remaining.

15. No. 1580. Jyótisham, Astrology, ślócas, without comment.

Vāstu dēvata, the properties of it. Before building a house or temple a human figure is drawn on the ground ; homage is paid to it and the supposed indwelling spirit there is requested to quit the place and, after a time, the earth is first dug up there. The fitting time for this ceremony.

In Canarese ; in a horoscope the ti'hi, vāram, nacshētra, laguna.

The lagunas take their name from signs in the ascendant, therefore the same in effect as the signs, in different horoscopes ; twelve lagunas in the revolution of a solar day. The sign that is in the ascendant at the moment of birth is the laguna.

The twenty seven nacshētras are divided into three sections, according to their place at any given time ; to wit.

Urdhva-muc'ha, above ; adhó-muc'ha, beneath ; parśva-muc'ha, on the side.

The p'halam, or result in each case so occurring, what is fitting to be done ; that is when any particular nacshētra is in such or such a position which is fitting to be done ; e. g. when Bharini is adhómucha, then may dig a well. When asvini is urdhva muc'ha, then may sow corn : and so on.

There is another division into quick, fearful, medium, gentle, indifferent. When asvini, revati, hasti, pushya are ascendant, or dominant, work should be done quickly ; mula, ārdhra, jyest'hya, āslés give terrible, or fearful, effects to work under their influence.

The book is long and thin, injured by insects.

15 $\frac{1}{2}$. No. 1601. Under this No. in the Library are placed a great many ALMANACS ; which it may be expedient to distinguish, for the sake of back reference, if at any time needed.

16. No. 1611. Jyótiṣham, Astrology, ślócas; in a few places a tica in Canarese.

The dasa vidhi poruttam, ten kinds of times, or occasions.

1. Dina, day; 2. gana, class; 3. mahéndra; 4. stri dirgha; 5. yóni; 6. rāsi adipati; lord of ascendant sign; 8. vasya; 9. rāju; 10. Veda.

These have a relation specially to the forming contracts of marriage.

The déva ganas are Asvini, Mrigasiras, Pushya, Punarvasu, Svāti, Hasta, Anuradha, Sravana, Récati.

The manushya ganas are Róhini, Púrva p'halguni, Púrva shadha, Púrva bhadra, Bharini, Ardra, Uttara p'halguni, Uttara shadha, Uttara bhadra.

The rácshasa ganas are Critica, Mágha, Visac ha, Aalésa, Satábhissha, Danush'ha, Cháitra, Jyeshtha, Múla.

Specimen—if the woman's and man's nacshetra both are of the déva gana this is the best; the next best is when one is déva, and the other manushya; the worst is the concurrence of the rácshasa and déva ganas. If a woman's nacshetra be racshasa in class, no one ought to marry her (sic dicitur.) If the manushya and rácshasa ganas concur, one of the two contracting parties will soon die. If a man's nacshetra be rácshasa it is not so bad, as in the case of a woman. Evil, in any case, will occur, if at all, within fourteen days: if it do not, then this artificial construction is of no consequence. This is only one specimen of the many agreements, and disagreements, which place parents at the mercy of astrological Brahmans.

There is another mode by counting the man's and woman's nacshetra on the finger joints, throwing out one at each turn; then if the man's and woman's asterism fall on the same joint it is deemed bad, or unpropitious, &c.

There is also a mode of looking at the nāma nacshetra by means of any one's name: the syllables are artificially made to correspond with a lunar mansion:—so Vira'sāmi is made to correspond with Róhini, &c.

On journeyings—what are suitable, or unsuitable days of the week.

On the moon's age, or tí'his, and on the signs of the zodiac.

On the effect of the primary menstruation according to the nacshetra in which it occurs: on yógas. Specimen as to bad yógas. The 2d day after the new and full moon, if it be a Wednesday, is a dadda yógam (bad) the 5th, if Tuesday, bad; the 6th, if Thursday, bad; the 8th, if Friday, bad; the 11th, if Monday, bad; the 9th, if Saturday; the 12th, if Sunday.

On the time of an infant's birth—its effects. Suitable lunar asterism for crowning a king. Vāra sūla, obstacles to journeying in certain directions on different days of the week. Nacshetra sūla, on such and such lunar days, not good to go in such and such directions; with various other, and like details. In all 68 leaves, without numbers.

The book is of medium size, old, and much injured by worms.

17. No. 1657. Ganitā sastram. Astrological and other calculations; ślokas and sūtras with tica to both.

By Sri rájaditya.

Trāi rāsica vidhi, astrological trigons of three signs to each one, distributed into 4 vargas, or classes.

Pit'hica prakarnam, chapter of contents to the following book.

Rules to determine the path, or orbit, of the sun and of the moon, by means of the trigons, and their classes.

Description of eclipses, and mode of calculating when they will or will not occur.

Asvini, and the other lunar mansions, their way, or the path they yield, as the orbit of the moon.

Mesha and the other zodiacal and solar signs; pointing out their places, as the path, or orbit of the sun.

Nava graha nirupanam, description of the nine planets. Specially on the rising and setting of Sucra (Venus.)

These and various like matters, with rules especially for calculating and determining details respecting them.

Also a mode of designating persons or things by numbers, and vice versa numbers, as Vishnu by 10 (avatars), or 10 by the name of Vishnu. The sea by 4, or 4 by the word sea, &c. &c. This book uses the word sangya for total.

It is long, of medium thickness, very slightly touched by insects; being also complete, and more scientific than other like books (the surja siddhanta excepted,) it might merit full translation, as an exponent of native science:—25 leaves.

18. No. 2334. Extracts from the jyótisha samhita, a large work, ślokas, on 30 leaves, incomplete.

—Dina kútam, by means of certain processes a védā is elicited of 10 minutes very bad time, in which nothing should be done.

—Gana kútam, by examining the déva, manushya and racshasa ganas a time is determined: it is not well to do any thing important in the racshasa ganam.

—Stri dirgha kútam, a comparison of the woman's and man's nacshetra (in marriage contracts), their agreement, or otherwise: thence good or evil foreseen.

—Rási kútam, from the revolution of the zodiacal signs in any day, a good time is deduced, or determined.

—Nárzi kútam, from the Indian hours of 25 min: a good time, or otherwise, is deduced.

—Nacshetra vára kútam, the like from lunar, and solar days.

By knowing, or ascertaining the above, the good or evil time for performing certain auspicious ceremonies will be arrived at; such as upandīnam (assuming the scholastic thread) and vivāham (marriage.)

• The book is long, of medium thickness, and slightly injured.

19. No. 2335. Jyótisham jātaca bhāvam, judgment on a horoscope, incomplete ; prefixed, in Canarese, is a medical remedy for headache.

On Asvini, and the following nacshetras, and on persons that are born in each of them. Places of the planets in each of them, and how affecting, or modifying the influences of the lunar asterisms and solar signs. Hence, from any horoscope is prognosticated how many years of life, prosperity, adversity. These, and similar matters from horoscopes detailed ; 52 leaves in all.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, in good order.

20. No. 2336. Jyótisham, astrology ; ślokas and prose, with a Canarese tīca, in some places.

—On horary questions ; termed lampatam.

—On the different signs : and what lunar tithi, or day, is good.

Properties, or construction of a horoscope as to the exact time of birth, termed laguna ; which denotes also the sign in the ascendant.

—On the friendship or enmity of the planets among themselves. Mars, for example, at enmity with all except Venus.

—Siródhya rāsīyam, noting the sign of the zodiac when an infant's head first appears, at the time of birth.

—On the position of the planets in the different signs ; the nature, and results of each one.

—On the different influences of the signs ; as differing at different conjunctions.

And various similar matters, founded on the horoscope, or time of birth, leaves 1—115, incomplete.

The book is of medium size, on narrow talipat leaves, injured near the beginning.

21. No. 2337. Jyótisham, fragment on four leaves, prose.

On the twenty seven lunar mansions, and a mode of determining the influence of the zodiacal solar signs : each nacshétra is divided into four bhāgas, parts, or quarters, and nine of these are ascribed to each solar sign. Thus Mésa contains Asvini, Bharini, and $\frac{1}{4}$ of Crītica : and by means of these divisions and arrangements, the fruit, or influence of the constellations, at any given time, is said to be determined.

The book is of medium length, touched by insects.

22. No. 2355. Jyótisham, slócas, with a tica in Canarese ; incomplete. Prasna bhagam, the part relating to horary questions : e. g. when any one enquires " may I go, or ought I not to go on such and such a journey ? Will such and such a one come, or not ? " and so on ; 25 leaves.

The book is short, thin, and very much damaged.

VI. CULINARY.

No. 1557. Súpa sastram—art of cooking.

By Bhíma sena of Vírata nagari ; slócas, with tica, and prose in Canarese. Mode of forming a clarified oil, from the milk of the jack-fruit. The like from the plantain-fruit.

Mode of making butter or (ghee) a clarified oil, from cow's milk.

To turn milk into tyre, or curds, by a kind of leaf ; again to reduce the tyre to the state of butter milk.

Treatment of the yerca kayi, asclepias berry : and of the wild palma Christi shrub. To make curry (made-dish) from seeds of the Veppa or Nimb tree, so as not to be bitter. Properly to cook peas, or pulse in general. Mora korambu for curries. Chittra anna, food composed of rice mixed with tyre, and made into various figures, as a tiger, &c. &c. On the use of lime-juice, and tamarind-juice, with rice. Various kinds of cakes, or bread. On dishes prepared with milk, termed páyasam : and on panucam, or marmalades made with warm-water, and various kinds of fruits, to be eaten : at the end three leaves are illegible.

Leaves 1 to 10 and 12—16 and 18—34 and 39—57, intermediate ones wanting.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness : some leaves at the end broken.

VII. DIVINATION.

1. No. 1398. Samudríca lacshanam said to be from the kási cándam of the Scánda puranam, and ascribed to Naréda ; slócas, the 4th and 37th adhyáyas ; only these two complete.

On the properties of the female womb ; and indications derived from its appearance in the time of pregnancy.

From lines on the palm of the hand to tell females how many children they will have. Also to tell fortunes as to prosperity, or adversity. Palmistry ; 37 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, a little damaged.

2. No. 1552. Siva lic'hatam or svara sastram, divination from breathing, or sneezing. Siva to Parvati, ślōcas with a Canarese tica, incomplete.

Prasna bhāgam, section on questions; e. g. if any one asks concerning a lost thing, to tell, by his mode of breathing, whether it will be found, or not.

—Ravi p'halam, good or evil divined from the position of the sun, when any one sneezes.

—Vāra p'halam, the like according to the day of the week when sneezing occurs.

—Bāla svara p'halam, if any one breathes gently, life will be prolonged, but if heavily life will not be long.

—Chāra laguna p'halam, influence of the planets at the time of sneezing.

Only a small portion of this book was examined, to ascertain its bearing.

The book is short, medium thickness, (83 leaves,) old, very much injured by worms, and off-wearing.

3. No. 1678. Section 6 Prasnāchari on divination; as, if a jewel be lost, and the question is asked—"will it be recovered?" answered by means of this book: of miscellaneous contents—partly in Canarese.

VIII. DRAMATIC.

1. No. 1532. Vasanta tilaca, a b'hānam, or monologue drama: ślōcas and prose, with Prācruti ślōcas, and prose.

Ascribed to Varadāchārya of Conjeveram; incomplete.

Description of Conjeveram—of the spring festival in May—of a pool called Ananta-saras; of the dāsīs, or female slaves of the god—vidūm bhāna, ridicule of them in return for their sarcasms at the author; descriptions of the day of a profligate attending at the festival. See other notices: leaves 1—12, are broken.

The book is of medium length, injured by worms.

2. No. 1533. Sacotala nāṭacam. By Cali-dasa. Sanscrit and pracruti prose, intermingled with verse. From the beginning to the end of 6th anca wanting; the 7th, incomplete; on 28 leaves.

On the amour of Dushmanta with Sacotala, as translated by Sir W. Jones. The book is long, and thin; in beautiful handwriting; and is much injured by worms.

3. No. 1534. Mahā nāṭacam, ślōcas. A drama founded on select events taken from the Rāmāyanām; incomplete.

The Bála and Ayódhya Cāndams complete; the Aranya Cāndam has 90 ślocas, the remainder of the drama wanting.

From the birth of Rāma, and his going to dwell in the wilderness, down to Rāvana's abduction of Sīta—leaves 1 to 21.

The book is long, and thin; injured by worms.

4. No. 2332. Sōma vali prahasyanam, a comedy, or farce.

By Dindima cavi, otherwise known as Arana giri nāt'ha; complete.

Dēva raja, a king, and Yógánanda his minister, with attendants and many other people, went out to hunt in a forest or wild, where they came to the dwelling of Chapanaca, who had a daughter named Sōma vali, with whom the said king became enamoured; and, taking counsel with his minister, sent the latter to her father, who was unwilling to give up his daughter. The mantri then dealt with the girl alone, and took her, disguised as a man, to the king. A gandharba marriage followed.

On this foundation broad farce is built for the million; 53 leaves: no division, only one act, continuous. Book of medium size—leaves very narrow, touched by insects.

IX. ETHICAL.

1. No. 1387. Bhagavat gīta, ślocas only.

Ascribed to Vyāsa: 18 adhyāyas complete.

The mystical, and metaphysical discourse of Krishna to Arjuna, teaching the universality of the Divine soul, and other matters; and communicated by Sanjivini to Dritarashtra: 81 leaves.

The book is rather long, and injured by insects.

2. No. 1388. Bhagavat gīta, ślocas, with a tiṅa in Cannrese; complete from the 1st to the 18th adhyāyas.

At the end Pāndava gīta, 118 ślocas in praise of Krishna.

The whole is paged 107—139, as if taken out from some larger book; the handwriting is extremely small, close, and neat.

The book is long, of medium thickness; general good order.

3. No. 1389. Bhagavat gīta—mūlam.

From the Bhīshma parvam of the Bhāratam. Only the 10th and 11th adhyāyas, and these not complete; 9 ślocas, deficient at the beginning of the 10th section; the 11th has only 24 ślocas at its beginning; wants the rest; 5 leaves only: 109—113. Some larger book suspiciously subdivided.

Krishna's metaphysical discourse, as above. The book is long; the boards quite new; good order.

4. No. 1390. Bhagavat gīta, ślocas.

By Vyása; and communicated to Dritarashtra, by Sanjivini.

18 Adhyáyas complete. The metaphysical discourse to Arjuna, to lessen his aversion from slaying his own relatives. Book of medium size, considerably injured.

5. No. 1391. Bhagavat gita, slócas complete.

From the Bhishma parva of the Bhárata; and ascribed to Vyása. Eighteen adhyáyas: 61 leaves.

When Arjuna had come fully prepared for the war against Duryódhana, and his clan, 18 evil signs contrary to them were seen. Arjuna being afflicted at the prospect of the death of so many of his relatives communicated his distress to Krishna, who assumed the visva rúpa, or form of deity, and discoursed with him as to the nature of the soul, as emanating from the Deity, and returning on liberation from the body; on the need of destroying the wicked, and protecting the good; with much other metaphysical matter. From Sanjaiyar to Dritarashtra. The book is of medium size; a few leaves damaged.

6. No. 1393. Bhagavat gita, slócas.

In 18 adhyáyas complete.

The narrative by Sanjini to Dritarashtra of occurrences in the war, including chiefly this address of Krishna to Arjuna, on the foundation of the Vedanta system, originating with Vyása: 84 leaves.

The book is short, thick, and a little injured.

7. No. 1394. Bhagavat gita, slócas.

“By Vyása,” incomplete—from the Bhishma parvam of the Bháratam. Krishna's metaphysical discourse to Arjuna, as narrated to Dritarashtra, by Sanjaiyar; leaves 44 remain; wanting 1—16, 17, 18.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

8. No. 1395. Bhagavat gita, slócas. “By Vyása,” incomplete.

From 1st to 15th adhyáyam, 16th to 18th wanting. 45 leaves remain: Krishna's discourse.

The book is of medium length, in good order.

8½. No. 1416. Almanu sássanam, on the soul; slócas, with prose tica; incomplete.

By Guna Bhadrácharya.

Against covetousness of other people's property, possessions, or rights of any kind, as a sin leading to Naraca. Remonstrance against such evils, and pointing out homage to God as the way to beatification; leaves 16.

Book long, on broad talipat leaves.

9. No. 1515. Niti sára sangraha.

Essence of equity epitomized, ślócas; with a tica in Canarese.

The following are a few specimens.

If an obstinate (or unwilling) disciple be taught it will only do injury to the teacher.

If any one marry an evil wife, it will cause his ruin.

On the qualities of a minister of state. He should be of good family, true, benevolent, having ingitam (intuitive perception of what people mean before they speak), and like qualities.

He is clever who speaks directly to the purpose, and answers any questions pertinently.

Anger should not go beyond bounds, or just cause, but be proportioned to it.

If a benefit be done to an enemy it will turn out to the injury of him who does it.

Similar sententious matters; leaves 1—6. The book is long, and much worm-eaten.

10. No. 1573. Chánacyam, ethics. By Chanaca: 90 ślócas, with a tica in Canarese—incomplete.

Specimen: what may not be trusted—Rivers, beasts having claws, such as have horns, armed men, women, Kings: place no confidence in any of them; sic aliter: leaves 1—33.

Medium size, old, injured by insects.

11. No. 1575. Two ethical pieces.

1.) Niti sastram, rule of equity; ślócas, incomplete: leaves 165—200.

This fragment contains the qualities of the five sandhis (or acts) of a drama considered to belong to ethics.

2.) Bartrī hari, ślócas—incomplete.

This work has three satacas—of which in this fragment the niti satacam is complete, with 14 ślócas only, of the sringāra satacam, 17 leaves—in all 51 leaves.

The first piece is long, the second of medium length, both injured by insects.

12. No. 1576. Subhashita niti; ślócas. By Bartrī hari—incomplete.

Of the three divisions of this work, the niti and sringāra satacam are complete; but the vairāgya satacam has only 11 ślócas; and 5 ślócas of this last part are prefixed to the book; 48 leaves remain. See other notices as to contents.

The book is of medium size, injured by worms.

13. No. 1578. Prasanga retina vali.

Jewel-wreath of discourse. The book contains the Vipra prasamsa padhati.

Chapter on the concerns or excellency of Brahmans ; and other chapters on a variety of topics, or common places, as Dariddra, poverty, the poor ; bhāgya, wealth, the rich ; Samsāra, family, family-men ; Sujana and Durjana, good and bad people ; Dasavatara, the 10 avatars ; Cali-yuga the iron age ; māna-jana, respectable householders ; Cavita, poets ; Mitra-prasamsa, praise of friendship ; Carma p'halam works of merit ; yāchaca, on begging ; garva karana, cause of haughtiness ; namascāra, homage, worship ; suputra, on a good son ; murc'ha, insolence ; lōba, avarice ; arivasa, want of integrity, "rara-fides;" dāna p'halam, benefit of gifts to the giver :—leaves 10—51.

The book is long, of medium thickness, injured by rats and insects.

14. No. 1581. Chanacyam, ślōcas 104.

By Chanaca, with a tīca in Canaresē, incomplete.

Ethical ex. g.

Any one who speaks flatteringly, and affects a friendly guise ; but who, going to some distance off, does mischief and acts contrary to such words, is like a vessel filled with poison, on the surface only of which there is a little milk.

The book is of medium length, thin, old, and injured by insects.

15. No. 1604. Bhagavat gīta, and matters thereto pertaining.

Leaf 12—21. Bhagavat gīta ; one copy 10th and 11th adhyaýcs.

Leaf 1—13. Another copy of the same, two sections. Other leaves, gīta saram and mahatmyam, essence and excellence of the two gītas.

One leaf, gopica gīta, fragment. Songs of cowherdresses praising Krishna, 3 leaves grant'ha letter on the same subject ; in all 33 leaves.

The fragments are of different lengths ; the first one short, the others longer ; a little damaged.

16. No. 1610. Popular, and kingly ethics.

The economy of human life is divided into four classes, dherma, art'ha, kāma, mōcsha ; or duty, wealth, pleasure, future liberation. This book contains matters on the two first classes, in its 1st section.

DHERMA Cāndam, description of justice, or benevolence, its excellence ; on good counsels ; praises of a donor, good effect of gifts to the giver ; benefit of gifts to others ; on good religious conduct ; on truth ; on the absence of wrong, or violence ; on patience ; on goodness or kindness ; nature of good people ; on female chastity ; on neglect of duty, or absence of benevolence ; nature of evil people ; on want of female chastity ; on loose living ; on vanity ; on pomp ; on death ; on time ; each of these subjects furnish the matter of a chapter.

ART'HA Cādam ; on property ; on a country or kingdom ; fort or capital ; on kingly virtue ; proper learning for a king ; on punishments ; discipline, or order ; on the conquest of the senses ; on condescension ; adjuncts of a king, glory, high mind or spirit, good counsel. Qualities of a mantri, or first minister of state, adviser to a king. Qualities of a senâtipati, or general ; on king's friends ; (favorites ?) the importance of wealth to a king ; duty of protecting, or patronizing ministrel-poets ; on fame ; state of a country without a king. These subjects form distinct vargas or sections : 43 leaves, in the midst a few are left blank.

SECTION 2, is Jaima. See XVIII.

The entire book is of medium size, on narrow talipat leaves ; in good order.

17. No. 1621. Moral distichs, ślokas 14 to 52, or 38 in all ; the 1st section incomplete.

Examples.—Good persons, if they undertake anything, will carry it throughout ; even though many obstacles oppose.

Evil persons, if they begin, and are opposed, will leave off, quitting the unfinished work.

Good people, though they even forfeit life, will not use their neighbour's property.

On the evil dispositions, kama, lust ; cródha cruelty ; loba, avarice ; mácharyam, malice, &c. The good will govern their own mind with firmness.

For section 2 see X.

The entire book is somewhat long, thin, no boards, in good order.

18. No. 1623. Pracriya niti vācyamritam. The nectar of practical morality ; ślokas only, and complete. By Soma deva sūri.

Dherma samupādēsa, on duty, justice, charity.

Adherma " on the defects of the same.

Shadvarga " on kingly property, as allies, money, mantri, army, friends, &c.

Anuvichaki " on living according to the sastras.

Trāiyi " on obeying the triple vēdas.

Varitla " on right speech, not lying, truth.

Cshētriya } " on the right conduct of a king, or one of a kingly race.

achāra } " on right deportment of a minister of state.

Mantri } " on the right deportment of any towards his spiritual adviser.

Svāmi " on the right deportment of a king to a conquered people—not to Janapata " kill or oppress, but to protect.

Bala samupadēsa, on the military discipline of a king as to an army.

Vichāra „ Civil and criminal justice of a king.

Danda „ On punishments, when needed, and other subjects ; 32 samupadēsas in all; of which the above twelve are a specimen, from a general code of Jaina morals.

Although this book will be entered under section XVIII, yet it will be under reference back here. The ethics of the jaina system are fallow ground ; which might be turned up by translating this book in full.

The book is of medium size, on 43 leaves, narrow talipat in kind, injured by insects ; and greatly, towards the end, by breaking of the leaves ; a subject of regret.

19. No. 1629. Calpāna cat'ha, various tales.

From expressions here and there used as to Arhat, this work is supposed to be jaina ; but nevertheless its proper classification is here.

It contains tales intended to illustrate some useful or moral maxim, given as the moral at the end. One of the tales is closed by this moral :—“ a good or well intentioned person, so long as he is by himself, will remain uncontaminated with evil ; but if he associate with evil persons, he will acquire their ways ; even as water in a river is fresh till it joins the sea, and then it becomes salt like the rest.

Chiefly prose, a few ślokas being interspersed : 40 leaves. The book is of medium length, on talipat leaves, damaged by breaking.

20. No. 1632. Tatva vivēcum, true wisdom ; ślokas, with a tica in Canarese, incomplete.

“ Para-Brahm is the only one sole deity.

“ If the mind be divided between two gods the consequence will be naracum (hell).

“ One woman must not have two husbands. Two swords must not be put into one scabbard.

“ In one kingdom two kings cannot (or must not) rule at the same time.”

So much as a specimen ; other like ethical matters : a Jaina book. See XVIII ; 33.

The book is of medium size ; 36 leaves remain. It is very much damaged by worms, by being gnawed off at the ends, and by breaking.

21. No. 1665. Kāmandāva, nīti sastram.

Chiefly on kingly ethics. 16 sargas complete. Sanscrit prose translated into Canarese : leaf 1—7 contains a eulogy on Chikha-deva raja, a Mysore king, by Chikupadhyaya. Then follows the ethical, and greater portions, leaf 7—169. A brief preface, or table of contents, gives the following matters as contained in the work. Conquest of the senses ; association with the great and good ; detail of needful learning or knowledge ; rules as to the four (azramas) orders of Bramhachari, Grihasti, hu,

Vanaprast'ha and Sanniyási; Danda mahatmya, or the value of punishment; on the proper deportment of the different colors or classes, from the Brahman and Cshetriya, down to the Sudra; some full declarations concerning pracruti, or matter (physis, natura), a subject inwoven with speculative theology, and morals; mode of doing service as a messenger of the deity, as a servant to a master; need of enquiring into the state and power of another king before going to war with him; atma; mantra; racshana yóga mandala yoni-sandhi; vigalpa; vigraha vigalpa (see other notices of this work); there must not be two kings in one country nor two chief ministers of state; concerning the employment of spies; the poor must not be afflicted nor the rich oppressed. In the use of the foregoing means and knowledge, a good king will rule his subjects and kingdom.

The book is long, thin, touched by worms. It merits translation.

22. No. 1675. Bhagavat gíta, slócas; with a Canarese tica, incomplete.

1st to 5th adhyáya wanting; 6th—13th adhyáya is contained, 14th to 18th wanting. Subject, ut supra.

The book is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

23. No. 1676. Bhagavat gíta, slócas, with a tica in Canarese; incomplete.

It contains 12 adhyáyas, the remaining 6 wanting; in all 61 leaves, subject as above.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and slightly injured.

24. No. 1680. Bhagavat gíta; slócas, with a Canarese tica, in part only.

Three fragments of distinct copies. First copy 1st to 8th adhyáyam, on 63 leaves, with tica, the 3rd, 4th, and 8th adhyáyas not being perfect, the others right. 2nd copy, 1st to 3rd adhyáyam, no tica; so far complete on 9 leaves. 3rd copy, nágari letter; múlam only, 1st and 2nd adhyáyas so far right, on 15 leaves: Krishna's metaphysical discourse to Arjuna, as related by Sanjaiyár to Dritarashtra: in all 87 leaves.

The leaves differ in length: as a whole, the book is long, old, damaged by worms.

25. No. 1683. Niti sastram, or Chanucyam.

By Chanaca, 202 slócas, with a tica in Canarese; complete.

See other copies:—supra, &c.

Further specimens.

"One ought not to associate with evil people; nor to marry a woman of a bad disposition; the race becomes illustrious by good sons; the evil dispositions of lust, anger, malice, &c. should not be found among men."

"Benefits should not be done to enemies. It is not right to intermarry in one's own gōtra, but with a woman of another tribe."

These, and the like ethical matters, 35 leaves written; blank, 39 leaves.

The book is of medium size, and touched by insects.

26. No. 2351. Dharmāmritam, nectar of equity.

By Asadhara; ślōcas—1 to 9th adhyāyas (or chapters complete.)

"Any thing presented as a free gift should not be reclaimed; a lie should not be told; bribes must not be taken in judgment, inducing the transfer of any one's right to another; killing any living thing forbidden, except only in the case of animals commanded to be sacrificed in the Vēdas; any one may not covet another man's wife—adultery, and anything leading thereto, is a great sin; the wife must regard her lord or husband as a god, and render him service; to abuse, or blaspheme great people tends to great sin; sacrilege, or appropriating to one's own use what is given to God, leads to family destruction; alms should be given to the poor, who ask for them, to the extent of one's ability."

So much is only as specimens.

There is much more; and professedly taken from the Vēdas, and law books as to substance; the compiler putting the matter into verse. It would seem to merit translation.

The book is of medium size, on narrow talipat leaves; in good order.

27. No. 2354. Two subjects.

1.) Dharmāmritam, ślōcas.

By Asadhara, 1st to—15th parich'heda incomplete.

As above, down to may not covet.

"If any one be fallen from his caste, yet if he behave himself well, according to the foregoing, he will raise himself back to his rank. So, as to one born in a high rank or caste, if his conduct be bad, he sinks himself to a low caste, and becomes mate to one who first kills a dog, and then eats its flesh."

These, and the like matters.

2.) Atmanu sāsānam, on the soul.

By Guna Bhadrā. Ślōcas, incomplete.

“ One must acquire knowledge by means of various sastras, and other books. By means of knowledge, so acquired, he must divest himself of all sensual desires and passions ; and by meditation and penance obtain to reach to the deity ; and to become one with the Paramátma or divine soul : leaf 1—176 in all.

The book is of medium size, on narrow talipat leaves, a little damaged at the beginning.

X. ENIGMAS.

1. No. 1561. Viducta muc'ha mandanam.

“ Face ornament of the skilful.” 125 slócas. By Dherma dása ; incomplete.

The 1st and 2nd parich'hedas complete ; the 3rd has only 21 slócas.

A question, or riddle is propounded in a slóca ; the answer only is in prose.

This book contains a display of intellect, with great knowledge, and command of language. Various questions are asked on very different subjects, and they are so contrived that one word, or one very brief sentence answers several questions, even as many as ten ; but then, the syllabic letters are taken in different senses ; and the art, or skill, is to classify such questions as can be answered by this play on the syllables of words. Thus three questions. What did Vishnu bear on his head ? The earth. What do kings chiefly desire ? Land, territory. What makes a woman's face brilliant ? Cosmetic,—are said to be represented by Cunkuména, and resolved by one word Cunkuma ; the first syllable of which answers to Bhú, earth, land. The last is a name of Vishnu ; cun or kón also means a king ; and Cunkuma is a composition of turmeric, alum, and lime-juice, forming a crimson paste for marks on the forehead, or a comestic wash.

The book is long, thin, injured by worms.

2. No. 1621. Section 2, (for section 1, see LX 17.)

Sléshas, words or phrases capable of two, or more meanings : hence, enigmatical ; but having usually an ethical bearing ; as, Mitródaya ráju kamalam.

“ By the sun's rising, the padma (lotus) flower will blossom—or

“ By the ascendancy of friends, the kingdom will flourish.”

Many other instances of slésha ; sphinx-like riddles. The entire book has only 8 leaves, the 1st one wanting.

3. No. 1628 Viducta muc'ha mandanam.

By Dherma dása, slócas ; incomplete.

1st and 2nd parich'hedas. The third has only 21 slócas,

This would seem to be a copy of No. 1561, or that of this; the contents being the same. The ślōcas are termed antarlābhi, very intricate, dark; as opposed to bayar lābhi, open or plain. The book contains ślōcas of both kinds. It is short, thin, and in tolerable order. On a re-examination it is found that this book is abridged, the other more full.

X. EROTIC.

1. No. 997. Bilhanam, 102 ślōcas, complete. By Bilhana cavi.

Matana nābha-rāma, a king had a daughter, named Yamuni pūrna tilaca, who was instructed in all branches of education, except composition of poetry. The king asked Bilhana if he would teach her this art, and he consented. A screen was placed between them: the king told his daughter, that the Brahman had the pānduroga, spotted leprosy; and told him, that the daughter was blind. In the course of the instruction, the teacher made an aperture through the cloth screen; and seeing a very beautiful woman, began copiously to pour forth verses in her praise, as contained in this book; very possibly only a convenient vehicle to introduce praise of the female sex: leaf 43—50 or 8 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

2. No. 1400. Rati rahasya dīpica;—a comment on the rati rahasya by Canchi nāt'ha; ślōcas, with a dīpica, or verbal illustration in Canarese, 2nd, 3rd, 4th chapters, the 1st wanting. 24 leaves, not numbered. On amatory subjects,—see other notices. The book is long, and thin, damaged on one side, coarse handwriting.

3. No. 1440. Amarūkam; ślōcas, with prose tīca.

By Amarūca; or as some say, by Sanicarāchārya, fragment, leaves 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 37, 38, 40 to 47.

On the qualities of the nayaka, and nayaki, or the sexes variously classified. Little more here.

The ascription of such a book to the head of the severe Advaita sect is possibly a piece of sectarial scandal.

The book is of medium length, thin, on broad talipat leaves; in good order.

4. No. 1467. Subhashitam, elegancies, chiefly on the seasons of the year; ślōcas, incomplete.

—Vēsya prasamsa, on the manners of female slaves of the god, descriptive of them, with praises, as amatory poetry.

—Maliyanīla varnani; praise of the hot-wind, coming from a mountain by reflection.

—Vasanta rutu, spring season ; the flowers that appear then ; the mild breeze ; and the like.

—Grishma rutu varnani (June, July) on the hot season, and the hot winds.

Varusha rutu varnani (August, September) on the rainy months, rains described.

Sara driddha varnani (October, November) on the dark, cloudy, and very wet season.

Himanta rutu (December, January) on the cold and dewy months.

Nisira rutu (February, March) very cold months : (evidently written North of Madras, and as seasons were many years ago. This subject is a common place in heroic, as well as amatory poetry.) The dawn, noon, evening, described.

Possibly the elegancies are extracted from the Mágham, or Báiravyam ; heroic poems.

Other amatory matters, and cháttu slócas, or detached distichs, on varieties.

In all 25 leaves, not numbered.

The book is short and thin, on narrow talipat leaves ; in good order.

5. No. 1514. Púrva mégha sandésam.

By Cáli dása. The first part of the cloud messenger, a descriptive and amatory poem ; translated by Wilson.

The slócas are first given, the words are then untied and written separate, then re-united in a paraphrastic tica, or comment : 29 written leaves, 7 blank ones.

One leaf, at the end, in Grant'ha letter, is either in cypher, or in some language unknown ; the lines end with a Sanscrit word ; but the other words are of no language current in the south.

This book is of medium size, injured by insects.

6. No. 1531. Mégha sandésam, the cloud messenger. By Cáli dása. The original slócas only 118. Complete.

A yacsha, banished for a year by Cuvéra, sent a message to his wife at Alacá-purá, by a passing cloud ; with geographical, and poetical descriptions.

Púrva, showing the road, with descriptions of towns, and localities.

Uttara, describing the person of his wife ; with the message to be delivered.

Leaves 1—26.

The book is of medium length, thin, old, injured by worms.

7. No. 1527. Mégha sandesam.

By Cáli dása. The múlam only; and complete.

The púrva, 67 ślócas, the uttra, 57 ślocas; on 23 leaves; subject as in 6.

The book is rather long, thin, much injured by worms.

8. No. 1527. Amarúkam, ślócas.

By Amárúka Cavi; ascribed also to Sancarácharya: leaves 158—181; 173, 174, 179, wanting.

To each ślóca there is a padyam, or stanza in Telugu, as the meaning. Each ślóca has a heading of contents, like headings to a chapter. The work has the beginning; but is not complete at the end.

The following are a few particulars. On the mugdà, young woman; and práúdhà, matron. On the hópana and chapalâ, or choleric, and fickle, or coquette. On the proshita bhatriku, "grasse veuve," or absent man's wife. On the abisárica, or loose woman, adulteress. On the sviya, any one's own wife: parakiya, other's wife. Also eringara-seshi, amorous signs by the náyaki or lady, conveying meanings without words. On the sattá, unfaithful husband; and other kinds of disposition, and conduct, in the male sex.

One leaf contains a song on Krishna's sports, in Sanscrit, with Canarese tica.

The book is of medium length, thin, touched by worms, two leaves broken.

9. No. 1694. Ashta pati, the octaviad, a familiar term for the gita govinda.

By Jaya deva cavi: ślócas with a tica in Canarese, incomplete, 14 sargas; wanting the 1st sarga on the avatáras.

On the amours of Krishna with his aunt Rádha, as translated by Sir W. Jones, and published in the Asiatic Researches, sargas 2, 3, múlam only; 4, 5, 6, 7, múlam with a Canarese tica; 8 to 13, múlam only; 13 is in Grant'ha letter; 14, 15, have múlam and tica, but both incomplete: in all 175 leaves; in some places broken into pieces, and very much injured by worms. The leaves are of various lengths; the book, as a whole, is thick.

XII. FABLES.

1. No. 397. Label. Pancha tantram.

„ 347. On outside leaf.

The 1st section complete, the 2nd has only 4 leaves.

Sanscrit ślócas and Canarese prose: see other notices of this work itself.

The book is long, of medium thickness (81 leaves) no boards, good order.

2. No. 1287. Pancha tantram, five devices, ascribed to Vishnu-sarma: Sanscrit ślōcas, with tica in Canarese.

Section 1. Mitra bhēda, complete.

„ 2. Sucrita lābha, only 4 leaves.

The bulk of the prose in Canarese, leaf 1—132, leaf 56 wanting.

The book is long, of medium thickness, much damaged.

3. No. 1373. Section 1. Pancha tantram, ślōcas with a tica in Canarese; a sort of prose version, series of discourses in fable, narrated by Vishnu-sarma to the sons of Sudarisana, king of Patalaputra: (beyond doubt the Palibothra of the Greeks.)

Section 1. Mitra bhēda, complete.

„ 2. Sukrita lābha, „

„ 3. Zānti vighram, „

„ 4. Lābha nāsam, „

„ 5. Asamprēshana, incomplete.

Leaves 1—60 and 1—4 different 65—68; for section 2, See XXXI.

4. No. 1582. Pancha tantram, prose with ślōcas, complete.

The mitra bhēda, and the other four sections complete; ślōcas with tica in Canarese, and the prose portion of the tales is in Canarese. It is originally a Sanscrit work.

The book is of medium length, thick, (on 181 leaves) recent in appearance; but much injured by worms.

5. No. 1646. Pancha tantram, ślōcas, with explanation in Canarese; and with a Canarese prose translation.

Section 1. Mitra bhēdam, complete.

„ 2. Sukrita lābham, „

„ 3. Zānti vighram, „

„ 4. Lābha nāsam, „

„ 5. Asamprēshana, incomplete.

Leaves 1—44, the 40 other leaves not numbered. The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, damaged by worms, and by breaking.

6. No. 1658. Pancha tantram, ślōcas, with a tica in Canarese, complete.

Section 1. Mitra bhēdam, on sowing discord.

„ 2. Sukrita lābham, benefit of good done.

„ 3. Zānti vighram, war stratagems.

„ 4. Lābha nāsam, loss of possession.

„ 5. Asamprēshana karitam, evil of hasty proceedings.

Leaves 1—195.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, on narrow talipat leaves, old, worn by use.

7. No. 1671. Pancha tantram, prastava ślocas, or dialogue fashion ; with a vīca in Canarese, incomplete, on 55 irregular leaves. Specimen of the reasoning.

To associate with the good produces good effects on any one's disposition ; to associate with the bad produces evil effects ; even as the wind that blows over a fair flowering shrub brings with it agreeable perfume ; while the wind that blows over an outside place only brings with it a stench.

The book is of medium size, very old, and very much damaged.

8. No. 1697. Sānti vīgraham, tantrām, ślocas, with a mixture of prose.

The Sāma, peace ; dāna, tribute ; bhēda, division ; danda, arms. The last part not complete. This is not the pancha tantram ; but on the ordinary four devices of kings, in their deportment towards other powers.

Chandra Chudāmani rāja (moon forehead jewel-king), and Gomaya, (fox) his minister of state, going out with many others to hunt in a forest, saw a lion : the king ordered it to be killed, and his mantri aforesaid put into practice the four devices, and killed it ; even so must a king act towards his adversaries : that is pacify, or pay tribute, or sow division among them, or else fight the matter out : 72 leaves.

The book is short, of medium thickness. on talinat leaves. a little damaged.

XIII. GEOMETRY, i. e. land measuring.

No. 1670. Cshētra ganita sastram, or the art of measuring lands : ślocas, with Canarese bhāsyam, or explanation.

There are three principal divisions.

- 1.)—Trigona, triangle.
 - 2.)—Chatushgona, quadrangle, square.
 - 3.)—Vyūṭā, circle (Tamil வட்டம்.)
- 1.) The triangle has three subdivisions.
 - (1.) Sama, equiangular, and equilateral.
 - (2.) Dvisama, two angles equal.
 - (3.) Vishama, each angle different.
- 2.) The quadrangle has five subdivisions.
 - (1.) Sama, exact square (equian ; equilat.)
 - (2.) Dvidvēsama, two opposite angles equal.
 - (3.) Dvisama, two angles equal, others different.
 - (4.) Trisama, three equal angles.
 - (5.) Vishama, each angle different.
- 3.) The circle has eight anta-bhāgas, or subdivisions.
 - (1.) Sama vrūṭa, exact circle.

(2.) Arġaa vrūta, semicircle.

All other figures may be reduced to the preceding, or are included in them, according to this book.

(3.) Ayata vrūta, ellipsis.

(4.) Cambuca vrūta, conic sections, (if I rightly apprehend the term) otherwise defined by the winding wreaths of a sea-shell : such as the turra.

(5.) Nimmana vrūta, concave surface.

(6.) Unnita vrūta, a convex surface.

(7.) Bhahihī chacra vala vrūta, circle without, including another circle.

(8.) Antaka chacra vali vrūta, circle included within another circle.

Also on figures of lands, compared to the crescent, or half moon : leaves 1—130 ; but the book does not finish.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, on talipat leaves : slightly touched by insects.

This book should, I think, be translated ; both to show the state of native science on this art, and also for the sake of getting at well defined, established technical terms ; being much wanted, for practical uses in the Tamil language.

XIV. GRAMMATICAL.

1. No. 1089. Zakātayana vyakaranam. It contains sutras, brief aphorisms, with vrūta, amplification.

In the subanta part, on the coalition of vowels, or acha sandhi ; wanting the hal-sandhi union of consonants, incomplete : the chapter on nouns, and the samāsa-chacram, words variously compounded. In the tignanta portion, on *dhatu*s, roots, and other matter. 72 leaves : many in the midst are wanting.

Ambā is a name of Parvati. It states that if any one praise Parvati, he will obtain, in another state of being, Siva-sarūpam, likeness to Siva.

4.) Madhava stuti, ślokas.

Praise of Krishna, 17 leaves, incomplete: this is said to be the 15th adhāyayam from the Vāyu purānam.

He who praises Vishnu bearing the shell, discus, club, bow, and sword, and possessing the six good dispositions, will obtain beatification.

5.) Sūrya cavacha stōtra ślokas.

Said to be from the Scānda purānam. If any one render homage to the Sun, invoking protection, as in this form, sin and disease will depart; 4 leaves, complete.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on 49 leaves, in good order.

2. No. 1357. Asīrvāta śloca vyākhyāna.

By Immadi Bhatta.

Many of the ślocas themselves are wanting, leaving only the explanation. The contents are benedictory, by some man towards another, in the names of Buddha, Sūrya, Brahma, Vishnu, Siva, Krishna, and others, quasi divinities: one śloca is variously explained, as applying to different gods.

3. No. 1361. Vishnu-sahasranāma, and Lacshmi, sahasranāma.

In the prose form, as used for ritual homage; complete, on 50 leaves.

Said to be from the anusasnica parvam of the Bhāratam.

The thousand names, respectively, of Vishnu and Lacshmi.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

4. No. 1364. Two tracts.

1.) Vishnu sahasranāma stōtra.

The 1000 (recte 1008) names of Vishnu, said to be a discourse of Bhishma to Yuddhist'hera in the anusasnica parvam of the Bhāratam; ślocas, complete, leaf 1—18.

2.) Nrisinha sahasranāma-stōtra.

One thousand names of the man-lion avatara. From the stōtra-retnācara, Narasinha purānam, ascribed to Brahma; ślocas, complete, leaf 14—36.

The leaves of the first tract are larger than the other, in all 40 leaves, tolerable order.

5. No. 1365. Vishnu sahasranāma.

The thousand names of Vishnu in daily use, 107 ślocas, wanting the first one, leaf 99—108, from the anusasnica parvam—ut supra.

The book is long, very thin, and in good order.

6. No. 1369. Various matters, chiefly stōtras.

1.) Pāndava gītā stōtra, 120 ślocas, complete. Panegyric of several of the principal personages that figure in the Bhāratam and Bhāgavatam: as the five Pāndavas, Drūpadi, Abimānyu, Subhadra, Sanjāyya, Rucmenī, Satyabhāma, Draumya, Acrūra, Asvadhama, and also Yagnyavalkya; but this matter is so managed as to turn chiefly to the praise of Krishna, and as if spoken by the said persons.

2.) Bhárata savitri, complete.

Brief summary of events in the Bháratam, from the embassy of Krishna to Duryódhana, the transactions in battle—the days of fight under Bhîshma, Dróna, Karna and others; their death.

3.) Pancháyuta stóotra, 5 slócas, each one on one of the five weapons of Vishnu, the discus, shell, club, sword, bow; complete.4.) Rama cavacha-stóotra, complete.5.) Súrya cavacha-stóotra, complete.

These two are in the nature of spells for protection.

6.) Vishnu Bhújanga, stóotra, 20 slócas, in serpentine form—lauding Vishnu.

By Sancarácharya.

7.) Manassu snéanam, mental bathing, by thinking on sacred rivers.8.) Garuda cavacham, complete.

Spell against snakes.

9.) Súrya stóotra, praise of the sun, 25 leaves remain; but the following leaves are wanting, 1—14, and 22—29, and 34—38, and 40—possibly used for making up other books.

This one is short, and thin, gnawed at the ends.

7. No. 1370. Vishnu sahasranáma, slócas, containing the thousand names of Vishnu complete, Bhîshma's discourse to Yuddhisthira in the Anusasnica parvam, as above: leaf 76—94.

The book is short, thin, old, slightly damaged at the edges.

8. No. 1371. Section 2. Ráma ashstóotra satám. 108 slócas, praise of Ráma by 108 names. For section 1. see XVI.9. No. 1376. Pújapustacam, on homage.1.) Varáha ashstóotra satanáma vali, a list of 108 names, an abridged form of praise to Vishnu in the 3rd avatara, by repeating the names.2.) Lacshmi sahasra ashstotra náma vali, a list of 1008 names of the sacti of Vishnu, used in praise by repeating the names. The whole is páta rúpa, that is distinct words, not in measured versification; leaves 1—26, a few blank leaves at the end. The book is of medium length, and in good order.

10. No. 1386. Two packets.

1.) Laudations: slócas.

- Govinda ashtaca* ; an Octave.
- Krishna ashtaca*, the same.
- Bala Krishna ashtaca*, the same, each in praise of Krishna ; the last one as a child.
- Rāma stōtra*, praise of Rāma.

- Brindāvali*—list of titles of a Jangama (or Vira saiva) king.
- Prācrūti dēva nāma*—list of deceased Jangamas, canonized, or deified.
- Kūchōdha padyangulu*, Telugu language, catch verses to turn to a jest, and so to ridicule, or lampoon the party addressed.
- Ganga snāna sançalpam*, a record of the exact time when any one bathed in the Ganges, for the removal of all sins ; leaves 21—28, and 51—54 ; in the midst some leaves deficient : one leaf broken.

The first portion is longer than the other ; both are in good order.

11. No. 1396. Rāmana smaranam.

Reminiscences as to Rāma ; stōcas only.

A collocation of passages, said to be taken from the Bhāratam, in which various Rishis and the five Pāndavas address Krishna ; and, in a laudatory strain, remind him of his feats in a former avatāra, as Rāma. The name of the compiler does not appear ; on 35 leaves complete.

The book is short, of medium thickness, a little breakage.

12. No. 1402. Dasavatāra stōtra, ślocas.

By Vedantācharya, complete, on 43 leaves.

Praise of the ten special manifestations of Deity, from the deluge down to the consummation of all things; or matsya down to kālki; without detail of events, except by general allusion.

The book is short, of medium thickness, very much worm eaten.

13. No. 1422. Panegyrics.

Leaf 1—23. Ananta tīrtha stuti.

Praise of Madhva, the head of the dvaita school of Vāishnavas, who maintain the distinct natures of God and the human soul. Also Vishnu stuti, praise of Vishnu; and Vāyu stuti, praise of Hanuman, as son of Vāyu, the god of wind, and Bhīma, the same. Hence both are praised by Subrahmanya Pandita.

Leaf 44.—59. Dwadasa stōtra.

By Ananta tīrtha acharya, 12 sections, containing laudatory matter of a Vaishnava kind.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, and slightly injured.

14. No. 1425. Panegyrics.

Leaf 1—28. Paschama Rangha stōtra.

By Sri sāila sūri, the 21st leaf wanting.

Pūrva, 50 ślocas, uttara 50 ślocas.

Praise of the form of Vishnu at Srirangham, near Trichinopoly.

Leaf 1—18. Paschama Rangha stōtra.

By the same, 2nd copy of the pūrva pancha sati, incomplete, 40 ślocas.

Leaf 30—36, wanting 35. Gōpala stuti, praise of Krishna.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, slightly damaged.

15. No. 1447. Section 2. Vishnu sahasra nāma vali—prose form; list of the thousand names of Vishnu, incomplete.

For section 1. See XXIX.

This section is of medium length, thin, injured by worms.

16. No. 1456. Three tracts.

- 1.) Vishnu sahasra nāma, ślocas.

The 1000 names of Vishnu, said to be from the Anusasana pāram of the Bhāratam: incomplete, leaf 38—48, the 43rd wanting.

2.) Nṛsiṃha sahasra nāma, inclusive of the names of Lacshmi; the 21st adhyāyam of the stōtra retnanakāram, ascribed to Brahma's inspiration—complete.

3.) Vāsu dēva sahasra nāma; 92 slōcas, incomplete.

The 1000 names of Kṛṣṇa, the son of Vāsu dēva. Narrated by Nāreda as if Siva told it to Parvatī.

The book is long, and thin; a little injured by worms.

17. No. 1535. Two subjects.

1.) Gōpala stavam slōcas 15—32; 1—14 wanting.

By Sri sāila sūri of the Viśvamitra gōtra, subjects: description of the different members of Kṛṣṇa's body: his playing on a shepherd's pipe; and praise of his excellency.

2.) Paschama rangha rāja stavam, 108 slōcas.

By the same.

The pūrva and uttara and panchasatī; 8 slōcas, refer to the author and his birth.

Description of Seringapatam in Mysore; and royal praise of the form of Viśṇu there. At the end there are 34 slōcas, distinct, but also containing praises of the same, leaf 44—73.

The book is long, and thin, very large hand-writing; one leaf broken, one-third gone, other leaves injured by insects.

18. No. 1584. Bhāscara satacam.

Praise of the sun (the satacam is a centum of slōcas;) this book has only the comment on the slōcas, giving their sense in prose; leaf 1—36, complete.

One smaller leaf, in the Canarese language, contains Vyāsā's instructions to Dherma-rāja, as to the mode of making the horse sacrifice.

The book is very long, of medium thickness, injured by insects.

19. No. 1590. Three tracts.

1.) Mahimna stōtra, 38 slōcas, complete.

By Bhatta Patāchārya, otherwise styled Siva pushpadhatta, "Siva's flower born."

Praise of the glory of Siva; leaf 27—35.

2.) Anamayya stōtram, 5 slōcas, incomplete.

Praise of health, or freedom from sickness; it has a reference to Siva.

- 3.) Sivashstōtra sata nāma stōtra; ślōcas, on 3 leaves, complete.
Praise of Siva by 108 names.

Taken from the Siva rahasya, a book of the Sāivāgama kind, as a discourse between Nārāyana and Gāuri.

The book is short, thin, old, injured by worms.

20. No. 1597. Castūri tilaca panchasata.

By Vedantāchārya, leader of the Vadagalas: 50 ślōcas in Sanscrit, with a tica in Canarese, the last leaf wanting.

Praise of the spot of musk on the image of Vishnu, as Ranganāt'ha. (lord of the islet) in the temple of Seringham, near Trichinopoly: the author, as if contemplating that spot, employs various poetical common places, turning the whole to the praise of Vishnu. (Such matter, with the like, in another book, on the embroidery of the slippers, shows the puerility of idolatry: intellectual men ought to be ashamed of it.)

The book is of medium length, thin, the last leaf damaged.

21. No. 1618. Various panegyrics.

1.) Bhagavan nāma vali, prose list of names and ashstōtra, 108 stanzas, complete.

2.) Krishnashstōtra satam, 108 prose names in praise of Krishna.

3.) Rāmashstōtra satam, the like, in praise of Rāma.

3½.) Vēncatēsashstōtra satam, the like in praise of Vishnu at Tripeti.

4.) Narasinhashstōtra satam, the like in praise of the man-lion avatāra.

5.) Lacshmiyāshstōtra satam, the like, in praise of the consort of Vishnu.

6.) Rangha nāt'hashstōtra satam, the like, in praise of Vishnu, near Trichinopoly.

7.) Yadu girisa ashstōtra satam, the like as to the lord of Yadu giri, in Mysore.

"Nārēda taught the same to Prahlada," said to be the 84 adhyāya of the chhētra khanda, Brahmānda purāman.

8.) Varada rāja ashstōtra satam, the like as to the form of Vishnu at Conjeveram.

The mode of praise, in all the above, is by the use of a string of titles, or laudatory epithets. At the end are two leaves containing ślōcas in praise of Vishnu, by Vedantāchāryā, leaves 106—142, or 31 leaves.

The book is of medium size, injured a little by rats.

22. No. 1619. Ranghésa stottram: the mālam in 16 ślōcas; with a tīca in Canarese, styled eshama shodasi, by Védántācharya.

When virtue had departed* from the earth, and it was inhabited by the guilty, Rangha came down to dwell on earth, in order to save such sinners; with other praise, 34 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, and in good order.

23. No. 1669. Two Tracts.

1.) Chatūr Bhadrīcā dandacam.

By Rāma chandra. A long quadruped chant in praise of Srinī vāsi or Vishnu, at Tripeti: complete; the members, from the feet upwards, are panegyrised; and the glory of the object is stated; leaves 29—39.

2.) Gōpāla Dandacam—complete.

A long line of measured chant in praise of Krishna; description of his person and adventures: 6 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, injured on one side by termites.

24. No. 1679. Siva stotra, 42 ślōcas, with a tīca in Canarese, incomplete.

By Mulhana cavi.

Although many others are worshipped, yet, as Siva will give to his votaries an eight-fold happiness, he is the supreme object of worship, and Vishnu and all other gods are inferior to him. This general topic put into direct address.

Leaf 123—182, not ending; 59 leaves in regular order. The book is short, of medium thickness, injured by insects, last leaf broken.

25. No. 1689. Two tracts.

1.) Praise of Siva, ślōcas, middle part, fragment of seven leaves.

2.) Siva pūja kraman, order of homage to Siva.

By Gangādhara sāstri, a smārta.

Mantras with the 1008 names of Siva; and a Canarese tīca, complete. There are also some mantras from the Vedas, each one having a Canarese tīca; 63 leaves.

The book is of medium size, on very broad talipat leaves, small hand-writing, in good order.

(*) —et virgo cædo madentes
Ultima cœlestium terras Astrea reliquit.

Ovid.

26. No. 1692. Ganésáshtacam, octave of ślōcas in praise of Gaṇeśa. Three copies, prefixed to as many copies of the Bala Rāmāyanam. See XXIX.

27. No. 2347. Siva līlā arnavam, ślōcas.

One thousand ślōcas, divided into twenty padadhīs (1 leaf wanting) on the dust of Siva's feet, in the way of praise, and ascription of excellency to him.

— Pras'hāpana	Suited to times.
— Prabhāva	Glorious.
— Prasādama	Favorable.
— Sringāra	Ornamental.
— Kusuma	Flowery.
— Pramāna	Authoritative.
— Stuti	Praiseworthy.
— Sanjāra	Filling the eight points.
— Niyama	Order-wise.
— Tāndava	Dancing.
— Rātna	Jewelled.

And so on for 20 Padadhīs; leaf 2—100.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, one end gnawed.

28. No. 2348. Three centos.

1.) Krishna nama ashtōttra satacam. Centum of ślōcas on the 108 names of Krishna.

Two copies; one is in prose, on the mode of doing homage to Krishna, with the other one in verse.

2.) Rāma ashtōttra satacam, prose, complete; praise founded on the 108 names of Rāma: leaf 23—33.

3.) Venkatēsa ashtōttra satacam.

Prose—complete—praise by 108 names of the form of Vishnu at Tripeti: leaf 1—7.

XVI. INCANTATIONS.

1. No. 985. Mantra pustacam.

The mantra here is a spell, or charm accompanied by yentras, or diagrams of various kinds, with directions, in Canarese prose, for their use; incomplete.

They are directed to goblins, departed spirits, devils, and Brimha racshasas, spirits departed of bad Bráhmans.

The object is to gain over, or command their service, as familiars, for any use.

Other charms are used, in the way of exorcism, to drive them away, if they seize on any one.

The padma yéntra, lotos figure, and chankha yéntra, shell figure, are said to be of roots, or other materials, to be tied round the waist or neck of the sorcerer, when using the said charms.

Specimen of spell. O'm-Khrim-Klim-Thrim-Ghrim I Krim-Hrám-Samváushat.

The first word is a symbol of the triune God; the following six are without meaning. The last implies a good fire offering, or may it prosper! The use not stated.

The Canarese prose directs sand to be taken, and thrown on a possessed person: water to be taken in the palm, and cast on him or her; sprigs of the nimb tree to be used in striking the person.

This kind of work, is usually accompanied by hōmas, or fire offerings, directed to deities, or demons; in all 94 leaves.

The book is of medium size, old, and slightly damaged.

2. No. 1362. Mantra pustacam.

This book relates to formulas for ceremonies taken from the Vēdas.

Mantra on first entering to dwell in a house after marriage.

Ib. On the first day after the new moon, by newly married couples.

Ib. Morning and evening fire-offering.

Ib. On the discovery of being pregnant.

Ib. On the 6th and 8th months afterwards, the pransa vanam, and simantam.

Ib. On first feeding an infant, anna prásnam.

Ib. On putting on the scholastic thread, or, upanāinam; incomplete.

Mangaláshtacam; an octave of ślōcas in praise of Siva.

Maha sancalpa; record of any great observance; as to year, month, lunar day, and other particulars, made at the time; a register: in all 33 leaves, mixture of Telugu letter.

The book is short, thin, talipat leaves, injured by insects.

3. No. 1363. Mantra, miscellanies.

Most of these appertain to sorcery : they are included in the term ishṭa-siddhi, desire accomplished ; which is quite vague, including all desired objects ; among these being reckoned the overcoming, or killing of enemies.

Sarasvati mantra, to the goddess of eloquence.

Bālā paramésvari mantra (sacti?)

Guru stuti, a panegyric.

Amrita sidhés-vara mantra for ishṭa siddhi.

Bāla tripura suntari mantra ; sacti.

Aditya hrūdaya stōtra mantra, to conquer enemies, svarna akarishna Bhāirava calpan, to draw, or discover gold.

Then follows a book entitled mantra pracāsica, spells illustrated ; 8 padalas, or sections, complete, the 9th incomplete.

So far it contains the letters from a to the consonant cha, specifying, as to each one included, to what god, or goddess it relates ; and also a method of knowing if the spell used will succeed or not, by comparison of letters of god (as above) and letters in the name of the person using the charm.

Other matter in which nāgari, is mingled with Canarese, and Telugu letter.

Bālā mantra, mantra to Parvati ; sacti.

Bhuvana mohini mantra, to fascinate sexually.

Chiniamani mantra

Vāgisvari mantra

Sarasvati mantra

Maha Ganapati mantra

Panchācshari mantra, Sāiva charm.

} These are various in object, or purpose.

Mātrīha mantra, sexual.

Chandi hrūdaya mantra, hostile.

And others, 127 leaves ; in the middle leaves are left blank, none is numbered.

The book is short, very thick ; somewhat injured by insects.

4. No. 1367. Five tracts.

- 1.) Vajra cavacham, diamond spell ; the 7th parich'hédam, or section, slōcas, this is complete, mantra form.

The object to obtain Siva sarūpa, or likeness to Siva, in a future state. The syllabic letters are shrim-ghrim klim-hām yām, and various others. To be used on the day when the sun passes the equinox, vernal or autumnal : or on the 1st day of any month when the sun enters on another sign of the zodiac : used with the rudrâcsha mâla stôtra, a form of praise with beads : thereby (sic dicitur) Siva sarupyam, or beatification, will be acquired.

2.) Chacra pûja, diagram homage ; slôcas and mantras complete.

This relates to Tripura suntari, a sacti.

Rice is spread on some surface, and a triangle formed in it, a pot to hold water is placed therein with a spell ; it is filled with water with a japa (muttered invocation) being first covered with a coconut to close the mouth. This water is used for lustration, in homage to Tripura suntari. Incense, and camphor lights are offered ; certain other spells are used with beads. The object said to be to obtain future benefits in another life. Afterwards there is stava rajam, special praise offered.

3.) Retnâbishéga mantra, Retna (or jewel) the name of a Saiva goddess ; used with a pot of water as above, without the triangle.

4.) Bhâirava-mantra, appears to have some reference to dogs, an incantation, as if to cause evil spirits to enter dogs, and be then driven away ; but is obscure. Probably sacti in kind. Bhâirava, a form of Siva, has a dog's head, (Anubis.)

5.) Dattâtreyâ sahasra nâma ; slôcas, the 1008 names of Dattâtreyâ, complete ; said to be praise to Siva ; but the name pertains to Vishnu ; perhaps a sectarian device : 61 leaves in all. The book is long, of medium thickness, slightly touched by insects.

5. No. 1368. Mantra pustacam.

Slôcas and prose, the latter in some places Canarese.

Sarab'ha mantra ; Siva took the form of a winged beast, termed sarab'ha, and with a sharp beak pierced the head of Vishnu in the man-lion avatâra : hence this spell is of polemic, and destructive tendency. The Hebrew sarap'ha plural sarap'him appears the same ; but conveying other ideas.

Bhâirava mantra, sacti, or else Anubian spell ; directed to a form of Siva.

Mohini dâvi mantra, this relates to Parvati (not to Vishnu, as Mohini) sexual. It seems " Mohini seized," designates something like the night mare ; or the weakness caused by solitary vice : the spell is not benevolent.

Rakta châmundi, and châmundi mantras to Parvati ; malignant.

Yacshini mantra, spell of a gnome, or low possessed woman.

Bhadra kâli yentra, and mantra, these are Saiva in kind, and destructive in tendency. There are many other chacras; circles, yentras, diagrams, and mantras, spells written within them—the whole magical, ishtha siddhi, to obtain desires in several cases, including evil towards enemies.

The book is short, of medium thickness, injured by worms.

6. No. 1371. Section I. Mantras, &c.

Tripura suntari sacti vishaya mantra, spells and mode of homage directed to the sacti of Siva, the destroyer of three towns, slocas, mantras; said to be used by women; but pertaining to the bona dea system.

Vâna Kēsvara tantram (tantam is manual performance) on the excellence of the use of anga nyasa, and kara nyāsa or bodily signs, and manual signs used with all mantras; these are on the Saiva principle.

Isvara told to Cartikeya his own supremacy, as creator, &c., and modes of homage.

Sacti devata sahasranama, the 1000 names spell of Parvati, and the effect of its use.

Dattatreya sahasra nāma mantra mahatmyam, the excellency of the spell, so called, after a name of Vishnu; but Saiva in kind.

For section 2 see XV.

The entire book is short, of medium thickness, on 63 leaves, very slightly touched by insects.

7. No. 1443. Section I. Vattula suddha tantra tica a Canarese explanation of a book Vattula suddha (or siddha) tantra. The comment by Mallicarjuna.

The mūlam, or original, said to have been told by Saiva to Subrahmanya.

—Tatva-bhēda, on being, essence truth, discriminated.

Varna-bhēda, difference of color, form, letters; by their changes come mantras.

Chakra-bhēda, difference of circles, or other diagrams, the vehicles of spells.

Varga bhēda, difference of classes of letters.

Mantra bhēda, various spells; how formed from letters, and their classes.

The pranava, or mystic Aûm or O'm, how formed, Mantras concerning Brahma.

Mantra siddhantam, or rectification of spells, according to the Saiva system.

These spells described; with the statement that Siva, is the sarvottama (most excellent;) and he the only one suitable to be worshipped, in ten padalas, or sections, leaf 1—42, for Section 2 see I. The entire book is very long, of medium thickness, on broad talipot leaves, somewhat damaged.

8. No. 1465. Caghendra, mani-darpaṇam.

Jewel mirror of the air-dweller. (Cum atmosphere, g'han dwelling in, Indra lord; a title of Garuda, or the Brahman kite) mantras. Sanscrit and Canarese prose, not complete.

Spells, with panegyric directed to Garuda, to obtain vasya, command over it, especially if in danger from serpents; the repeating such spells brings a kite to catch and kill the snake, its prey; some homas or fire-offerings, are prescribed to be used, with like intent; such are usually joined with spells.

A spell to bind up, or retain a serpent from doing any harm; also visha stamb'hana to prevent the effect of venom, if bitten by a serpent; remaining leaves 39.

> The book is of medium length, thin, old, and very much damaged by breaking, and worms.

9. No. 1648. Three tracts, magic with alchemy.

1.) Mantras, or spells, leaf 35—55.

Aghora Vira Bhadra, mantra against enemies.

Sivastra " "

Churicastra " "

Pasupalastra " "

Vyoma astra " }

Nila kant'ha maha " } ishta siddhi for desirable

Aghora astra mula " against enemies.

Aghora nila kant'ha " "

Vira Bhadra, badda banala " "

Parvati avésa " causing a possession by Parvati;

in order that the possessed may answer questions by divination.

2.) Alchemical; leaf 90—134.

The instruction of Góracsha siddha (siddha magician) on rasa bandhana krama, or mode of fixing quicksilver, for various purposes; chiefly alchemical; and directions for taking out the essence from apracam or talc. Also

The instructions of siddha nágárjuna, on the raja-vasyam, or mode of bringing over kings to any purpose; so as to do the will of the magician.

This part is in Canarese, with explanation.

3.) Various spells, 42—89.

Agni stambhanam, for restraining the effect of fire, with use of medicinal application.

Jala bandhanam, controlling water.

Sénabandhanam, confusing an army.

Shastra bandhanam, nullifying weapons.

Mohana bandhanam, bewildering the senses of people.

On driving evil enemies away—or removing causes of sorrow from a house—modes of taking away virility from any one hated; one mode is by taking a black scorpion, and putting it in the person's urine.

Anjanam, eye-salve of the magical kind, for discovering hidden treasures, and other purposes. Medicines to drive away reptiles of venomous nature, and the like.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, injured by worms; and, at the end, extremely damaged; half and quarter leaves only remaining; 8 small leaves, in the midst, contain the Sáiva mantras.

—23 leaves, at the end, so broken as to be useless.

10. No. 2338. Four sections; for sec. I see XXII.

2.) Rama cavacham, slócas.

2 leaves—only the praise here, without the spell.

This will protect any one going to a wilderness, or forest, &c.

3.) Hanumat cavacham, slócas, complete.

3 leaves praise, &c. On going to war, this will secure victory; dicitur.

4.) Narasinha cavacham, slócas, incomplete.

4 leaves. If this praise and spell be repeated, after any evil dream, there will be no cause for fear.

The book is of medium length, thin, injured on one side edges, by worms.

XVII. INSCRIPTIONS.

No. 1631. Two inscriptions, recording grants by Sádasiva of Vijayanagar.

1). leaf 1—7, Inscription at Matur, either in, or referring to the fane of Aprameya svámi (infinite) a name of Vishnu.

Dated in Paritápi cycle year, Sal. saca 1474. (A. D. 1552) in the month Páusha, day of a new moon, with an eclipse of the sun, on a Saturday, made at the junction of two rivers, named Krishna veni and Bhima rati.

The lord of Vijayanagara, Sadá siva gave, for the service of the above god, to Vasudéva Pundita of the Visvamitra gotra (tribe) son of Lacshmana-arya, five grámams (townships) in free grant (free of tax;) detail of that king's ancestors, stock, lineage, name; and boundaries of the said townships.

2). Other 7 leaves. The same king at the same punya kálam (meritorious time) gave the township of Narayana gatta, free of tax, to the fane of Tiru Vencata nátha (Vishnu) recorded by stone-slab; contains ancestors of king, boundaries of the township—situated near the boundary of Chenna pattanam (Madras?)

The author of the ślócas was Sabhápati, the engraver's name Víranácharya.

Matur is said to be west of Bangalore, on the high road: the other place is perhaps Tripety. The date is previous to the great battle of Talikóta, which overthrew that dynasty.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order.

XVIII. Jáina (religious system.)

1. No. 1384. Dévata kalpan ślócas.

11 leaves incomplete.

By Bhandára cavi a jáina.

The qualities of one who recites mantras (the muntri) mode of repeating them.

The hómu or fire offering used with the prayers, the mode of pūjarádhana, ritual homage, the use of yentrus, diagrams, on homage to the jáina deity; diffuse on this point: some other matters.

On 5 leaves, an extract from the Bhartri hari satacam or the váirágaya portion, not a jáina book, but in this part congenial with their system: 10 ślócas to each topic, the general theme being on the renunciation of worldly things.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, damaged.

2. No. 1379. Dherma sarma abhyudaya.

On the birth, and life of Dherma a so named Jaina king, ślokas with prose, By Harichandra, complete in 21 sargas.

Description of Arya desam (upper Hindostan) a town in it named Retna nagara (jewel-city) wherein Maha sena a king ruled; description of him, and his wife Surati: they were without child, and desired one; going to consult Parcheti rishi he told them that a Jinendra (deified mortal) would be born of Surati, celestial females came, and ornamented her—dream of a child—became pregnant, celestials came to the birth; child born, and named Dherma sarma; affianced to a daughter of a king of Viharpa—journey on going to marry her—description of the Vindhya mountains—of the six rutus, or seasons—on flowers, on jala eridha, bathing together in water—description of evening—marriage, return, crowned as king—description of war—a meteor, or other splendor descended from the sky—thenceforward the said king became a spiritually enlightened sage—in the end acquired beatification, and became a Jinendra (such as the Chinese still worship, under the term Jin, or zen.)

The book is of medium length, very thick (leaf 1—170) on narrow talipat leaves, looking recent, in good order.

3. No. 1418. Saddherma patrōktā kṛtiyam, or works of merit.

By Jaimendra cavi, ślokas with a tica in Canarese, incomplete, ethical.

If the good do dherma (charity or equity) they will obtain beatification; if the bad do the like they will go to the worst place.

By dherma however here seems to be meant the same as carma ritual sacrifice or homage. To obtain beatification there are three modes—gnānam, knowledge, bhakti devotedness, carma, sacrifice &c., of these, the last is the lowest. On this last point there is resemblance to the Saiva advaita system.

The book is of medium length, thin (32 leaves) on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

4. No. 1431. *Miscellanies.*1.) leaf 3—51. Retna caranda cat'ha.

Twenty three moral tales, related by Jaina deviji, each one intended to illustrate some moral meaning, or instruction. This is a Canarese version of another section.

2.) 14 leaves Sripala charitra. Three sandhis, complete.

By Indra deva arasu.

Account of Sripāla bhūpati, a king of Ougein, who followed the Jāina religion ; Canarese stanzas, padya cavyam: the author has the epithet of king.

3.) leaf 1—14 Retna carandacam, Sanscrit ślōcas, complete in 7 parich'hēdas sections.

On the removal of sin—and on the mode of obtaining virtue, or moral merit ; on bathing in rivers—bathing in temple ; pools, at special seasons—on gifts—on japa, prayer. Better than any of the foregoing is darisana gnānam or intellectual light, and knowledge. On Parama vastu (the heavenly being,) description of his surūpa form, or nature. Some kinds of food prescribed—some forbidden—on vratas, a kind of vows, and with the dherma or equity of a sacerdotal kind among the jāinas.

4.) 6 leaves. Pracrūti bhāsya, ślōcas: dravya sangraha 9 adikaras, or chapters.

By Nēmi chandra siddhanta chacraverti.

The title would imply a compendium of property ; but dravya is a term in logic—and the book relates to discussions on the nature of the Paramātma or divine soul.

5.) Jina māya chintāmani; Jaina jewel: this is complete in 106 Canarese padyas, or stanzas.

Any one relinquishing worldly attachments mentally, or without reserve, and doing homage to Jina deva will acquire beatification.

6.) 14 leaves, the Retna carandacam as above in Sanscrit, on 11 leaves.

On the 11th is Chāitanya vandana ashtacam an octave of ślōcas homage to Chāitanya, a deity. One leaf has 17 stanzas in Canarese, on modes of āchāra, or ritual worship, according to the Jāina system.

The book is of medium size, 6 has shorter leaves, broad talipat, damaged.

5. No. 1437. Kriya kalāpa tīca, a verbal comment, in pracruti, on another book, the kriya kalāpa; this has no ślōcas; incomplete.

By Prabhā chandra: two parich'hēdas the ālibhāgam, or first part deficient, the second part also defective.

There remains of the first achārya bhakti, ritual devotedness, or service, and nirvana bhakti the devotecism of a naked ascetic; with Nandēsvāra bhakti devotedness to Siva's vehicle. [It is said that the jāinas incline toward the Śāivas, honoring Nandi (Apis,) and marking the forehead horizontally, never perpendicularly. Be this as it may, it will be seen that their ritual assimilates to the Váishnava pancharátra. The other assimilation must be to the Sáiva sacti system.]

In the 2 parich'héda remains.

Châitanya bhakti, devotedness to Châitanya, and Samanda; Bhadda stôtra, praise of a Jina or deity so named.

Leaves 30—46 and 53—112 and 115—124—135, or 17+59 +1+12: 89 in all.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, in good order; only a little gnawed at one edge, near the middle of the book.

6. No. 1459. Two tracts.

1.) Vricshâ yutâkhyanam, slôcas with a tica, or verbal comment, in Sanscrit prosè.

“Comment on the tree-implement,” ethical in kind, specimens:

If a beggar is not relieved to the extent of his request, all the former merit of the person who should give it (if wealthy) goes over to the account of the person asking relief (whether his request be for clothes, or money &c.)

A dhanikan or wealthy one, by his indolence relinquishes his own merit; and that, because he does not early rise to his devotions, but neglects them. Therefore tapas (penitential austerity) is the way to obtain beatification (according to the Jâina system.)

11 leaves—in complete.

2.) Prabanjana guru charitram.

Satyendra a king had a guru (spiritual adviser) named Prabanjana. These two went forth with the four kinds of arms (ra'ha-gaja-turita-padâti chariots, elephants, cavalry, infantry with followers) and conquered some kingdoms. He ruled them, protecting the people. Sometime afterwards he entered on a course of ceremonial austerities; and, in the end, the said king, obtained svargârôhana, or an entrance to paradise: 6 leaves, in all 17.

The book is long, and thin, on broad talipat leaves, slightly injured.

7. No. 1460. Jâina prâyôga pustacam; a book of ceremonies in common use, of the Jâina kind: it has mantras, or formulæ with slôcas, incomplete.

Graha yagnyam, household fire offering.

Pumsa vanam, in six months of pregnancy.

Jâta carma, ceremony on birth.

Namâ carma, on giving a name.

Upavésam, being seated, rice and turmeric poured over the head.

Chdvulam, first shaving the head. Anna prasnan, on first feeding an infant ; so far only, leaves 84—96.

The book is long, thin, old, and damaged at the end.

8. No. 1462. Jinesvara pūja kramam, ślocas, mantras ; complete.

On unctions, and washings, in ritual homage.

Gṛitābīshégam, pouring butter oil over an image.

Payasābīshégam, libation of milk.

Dvatiyābīshégam, pouring over it curds.

Tayalābīshégam, anointing it with oil.

Suddha jalābīshégam, washing it with pure water with some other modes of anointing, or effusion. Also offering incense, or smoke of gum benzoin. Offering of lights, fed by camphor, waived around. Each one of such proceedings accompanied by a mantra, or formulæ of prayer, herein contained : on 108 leaves.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, in good preservation.

Though the ethics of the Jāinas are more severe than those of Vāishnavas ; yet the ritual homage is equally idolatrous.

9. No. 1464. Nēmi nirvanan, on the abnegation of the world by Nēmi.

By Vācbadda.

Nēmi was born by especial divine intimation : on birth, and growing up he was to be married to the daughter of Ugra seni ; but he relinquished her, and retired, as an ascetic, to a wilderness. In this general subject more particularly are included : a description of surashtra dēsa (Surat ?) and of Dwāraca the capital of Krishna, with some account of Krishna.

Vijaya-Bhūpati was father to Nēmi ; desired a son, was told that a celestial nymph should bear him a son ; he dreamt of a son. Arrival of gods ; birth of Nēmi who is described ; as also spring tide ; age of puberty ; description of Rāivati mountain, and of the moon's rising ; the betrothing to the daughter of Ugra senā. Account of the former birth, or state in a former life of Nēmi. He went to the Rāivata-mount wilderness, and did penance ; and finally obtained beatification.

15. sargas, leaves 41—72 complete.

The book is long, thin, on broad talipat leaves, old, touched by insects.

10. No. 1468. Jina āgama ; ślocas and prose.

Mode of homage to a Jinendra image. Examination, including purification of a ground, intended for sacrifice—placing a large vessel containing various matters upon it—the same vessel ornamented with flowers &c. homage paid to the said vessel—homage to Indra, Agni, and the guardians of the eight points—placing an image on the said terrace, and sprinkling it with water, from the vessel (calasa) sprinkling of (ilanir Tamil) water from within a cocoanut upon the image—pouring sugar cane juice over it, and juice of mangoes, pulp of plantains poured over it, then perfume, and flowers offered, and the image, then consecrated, to be afterwards worshipped.

Mantras with mode of pūja, wholly on the Jaina system; the main difference seems to be the absence of animal sacrifice.

60 leaves, with some blank ones.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in good order.

11. No. 1469. Jinendra stōtra—*śloca*s; both in Sanscrit and Pracuruli, complete.

Yōga bhakti, meditative devotedness.

Ahōrya bhakti, ceremonial „

Sūprabādan, early morning devotion.

Nirvana bhakti, gymnosophy.

Siddha bhakti, magical power.

Chattanya bhakti, devotedness to a deity.

Pancha guru bhakti, devotedness to the five elements, collectively regarded as a god.

Samādhi bhakti, piety of tapas or sitting cross legged, nostrils closed.

Jina sahasra nāma, the 1008 names of the Jinēsvara; and Bhūpala stōtra, praise of a king of great piety; 68 leaves.

The book is of medium size, thin, on broad talipat leaves, old, but in good preservation.

12. No. 1470. Pratishṭhā tilacam, ornament of consecration; extracted from the Jinendra samhita sarōdhara.

On the first consecration of Arhat-isa; vastu deva pūja—homage to the earth, when about to build on it. Ceremonial worship of Jina—offering of flowers to its foot—bathing it with water. Eight kinds of ritual service. Homage to Yaesha, a kind of deity. Service to the eight diēpālas, or guardians of the eight points of the heavens. Homage to the nine planets, ancurāpanam, or sowing nine kinds of grain, at a marriage, when grown, taking, and putting the same in water. The service with a calasa, or pot of water. Consecration of a Jina deva image; putting it in water before consecration—placing derbha grass, and seating it thereon—making pūja or homage to it. These, and other consecration ceremonies of the Jainas.

The Jaina sandhya vandanam, or daily morning, noon, and evening homage, in a household, with mantra and japa—eight kinds of homage.

—Ganadhari and Yacsha homage to them.

—Siddha chacra puja, a sort of spell.

Ceremony on first shaving the head, on beginning to learn to read, and giving a book.

A ceremony at the full moon of the month sravana.

Marriage ceremony; sitting on grass in honor of rishis (sages) pitrus (ancestors) déva (any god.)

Praise of rishis. Mangula stóotra complimentary stanzas, on special occasions, and other matters: the form being slócas with prose, leaves 1—197; but 113, 144, 187, 194, so numbered are wanting; otherwise complete.

Other seven shorter palm leaves, and narrow, being a different book, contain praise of deities.

Praise of a Yacsha, named Brihuka, and of Parsvanátha, the 23rd tirt'hacara and others; all Jaina matters; with a few ordinary stanzas, on the two last leaves. The book is long, rather thick, the greater part on talipat leaves, old, $\frac{1}{3}$ of several leaves broken off.

13. No. 1471. Jaina puja pustacam. Orritual homage, slócas with prose, Pracrutí, and Canarese.

Homage of flowers, presented with both hands, to a Jaina god—in-cense, camphor lights, ringing a bell.

Cshétrá pála a local god, anointing it with oil: paying it homage.

Vastu puja, homage to vastu, or Bhú dévi (the earth) before building a house.

On raising a terrace as an altar—placing a water pot—making puja—washing the image with water—other eight kinds of materials used for pouring over it—offering perfumes, and flowers, rice, turmeric &c.

Siddha chacra puja—diagram homage or spell. Homage to the eight guardians of the heavens. Homage to the griha déva or household god.

Parsvanátha mantra—a spell.

Homage to Padmávatí a female deity.

Yacsha stuti, praise of a demi god.

These several particulars of mantra, yentra, puja, abishéga and stóotra are all according to the Jaina system; although the terms are common to others, leaf 1—96, but 14, 15, 17, 44, are wanting.

Other 12 leaves Chatúr vimsati Jina stóotra praise of 24 Jinas (Tirt'hankaras?) in Canarese. Jina náma valí string of names—this is unfinished.

The book is of medium length, rather thick, and injured.

14. No. 1472. Jaina puja vidhana, ślokas and prose.

On easy yentras (diagrams) and homage by them. Mode of raising a terrace, called védi, a sort of altar, and of purifying it; mode of putting sacred grass on it. Calling Indra, and other gods to come to it.

Punyāhāvāsana, water in a vessel has mango leaves put into it (Sudras put a Coconut over the mouth) then muttering mantras, and afterwards using the water in lustrations of various kinds.

Arhat, puja, homage to a deified sage (or Jina) known by the general term Arhat (quasi, deus sacer).

Homage to the ūchārya or hierophant, and also to the nine planets, and to a Jinendra, or image of any Jaina god.

Vartamāna puja, homage in order to obtain prosperity; and possibly to a tir' hacara so named. Siddha chacra puja, certain rites with diagrams, and homage to the great sages (magi.)

These, and other Jaina matters, are contained in 111 leaves.

Other ten leaves contain a list of some special ceremonial days among the jainas. The horoscope of some individual; and a few medical matters at the end.

The book is of medium length, thick, old; injured by worms, especially at the end.

15. No. 1474. Jina samhita; ślokas and mantras, incomplete.

By Brimha Śūri.

On the hierophant, known as the Jinendrāja; his treatment of his hair before performing any introductory sacrifice, or ceremony. On his sitting for a whole night in a tub of water.

On building a temple, and consecrating a calasa, on fixing a calasa, or pot, as the crown to a gopara, or tower—a ceremony accompanied with mantras q. d. "bringing forth the top stone with rejoicing."

Rule of performing worship in the temple. On consecrating a yeti-mantapa, or monastery for ascetics; description of the flag—and on hoisting the flag at festivals (partly following the pancha rātra of Vaiṣṇavas).

Such are the chief subjects, on 99 leaves.

The book is of medium size, old, a few leaves being damaged.

16. No. 1475. Jaina mata-ślotra.

Panegyrics of the Jaina system, ślokas only, no tica, but Praerūti is intermingled: incomplete.

The word stóotra is added to several names. The book therefore contains panegyrics of Bhúpála, of Suddha-bhakti; of Pancha guru-bhakti, of Arya sacti, of Srita bhakti, of Cháitanya bhakti, and of Samanda bhakti: the word bhakti being equivalent to devotee.

The book may be part of a jina sahasra náma. It is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, old, a few leaves broken.

17. No. 1476. Jina vrisha vesi puránam.

Fragment of a kind of local puránam.

Some matters on creation. 'Adibahu was a king of Alacapuri, in jamba-dvīpa, and his wife Mandhara had a son, named Mahabala. The father became an ascetic. His son was devoted to pleasure. A mantri, or minister of state, told him stories with a view to reform him. Other matter, down to the incarnation of Jina-deva, from leaf 38 to 73 incomplete.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, gnawed at one end.

18. No. 1477. Sandhi hómótsava vidhánam, slócas with prose, and mantras complete.

It contains the ritual for the consecration of a jinéndra deva, or jáina god.

Fire offering of ghee, with boiled rice, to the nine planets:

A special ceremony, which must precede the putting on of the calasa, or crowning brass vessel, on the cupola of any fané. This is the nága-bali-vidhánam (Nága in Sansc: means an elephant, as well as a serpent.) The figure of an elephant is made with flour, and a mantra is used to endue it with life mystically; it is then taken near the required spot, and its head is cut off as a sacrifice; then the top stone may be laid on.

Védi pratishtha, the consecration of a raised terrace, with a seat termed védi, in order to place the image on it.

Punyahavásanam, this is putting water in any vessel, with a coconut over the mouth, then repeating certain mantras over it; and afterwards using the water in sprinklings, for various lustrations.

An invocation to certain gods, in order to summon them near the principal image; this appeal is termed avahanam, they are supposed to come, this ceremony, with those pertaining to the foregoing are described.

Suprabádham, early morning devotion.

Chandra prabha-stóotra, praise of a god. Bhúpála stóotra, the same; the epithet designating a ruler or king; and panegyrics of other deities, or deified sages: on 168 leaves.

The book is short and thick, on half breadth talipat leaves, and in good order.

19. No. 1478. Jāina mantra pustaca.(Erroneously labelled smarta mantra.)It contains ślokas, with mantras, on the Jāina system ; incomplete.

The ritual and mantra, or formula used, on upanāna (assuming the scholastic thread) ; on garbhādānam (discovery of pregnancy) ; simantem, at eight months ; and Jāta carma, on birth ; with Acshara ubhyāsa, on beginning to read. Others of their class not here.

The book is of medium length, thin, on broad talipat leaves, slightly injured.

20. No. 1479. *Hōma pūja vidhānam.*By Brahma sūri, a jāina.It contains mantras or formulas, with ślokas, and is incomplete.

On the Santcalpam, or commemoration of the time of any observance, on the Jāina mode, as to year, ayana, or solar hemisphere, rutu, or season (each one of two months) month, lunar-half, lunar day, solar day, lunar asterism (or place of the moon) "at a time so defined, I, such a one, performed such a sacrifice, or ceremony."

Punyahavāsanam, or the consecration of water in a vessel, for lustration, ut supra.

Drishtashtaca ślotra, praise after having seen the image of any god.

Anna santi vidhānam, a custom among srōtiyas, or those read in the Vēdas, of taking a certain quantity of rice from food, giving first a portion to Yetis, or ascetics, then offering a portion by hōmam, or fire, and giving the remainder to dogs, or crows. (This custom is Vaishnava.) The Jāinas do not give to animals, or birds ; but, except the portion to Yetis, burn the whole.

Niranjana vidhana mantra, a spell over water in a vessel, with which turmeric has been mixed ; it is then moved three times around a Jāina image.

Mantrācshata vidhana mantra, unboiled rice and powdered turmeric are mixed with this spell uttered, and the mixture is used to pour over the heads of persons as a benediction.

Annakuti ajākutē, lavancājāhuti.

The said mixture, with the addition of butter, oil, cinnamon, camphor, balls of rice-grain, powder of akal, or precious sandal wood, are made into a composition, and used as a hōmam ; analogous to the burning of sweet incense of another very ancient system.

On 47 leaves, incomplete. The book is of medium size, and much eat into on one side by termites.

As an illustration of the Jâina system—very imperfectly known as yet—it might merit being restored, in an undamaged copy, and perhaps full translation.

21. No. 1480. Sect. 1. Sacali karanam.

A compendium on the Jâina system, slôcas, prose and Canarese mingled.

A virtual renouncing of self, and change of body : supposed to be effected by mental action. Then an entering on any special service required. On the corresponding motions of hands, and fingers (anga nyâsa haranyâsa) ; three kinds of this bodily exercise. Meditation on the Paramâtma, or divine soul. (Here a mixture of Sanscrit and Canarese.)

Mantras to Parsva-nat'ha and Padmana-vati (deity and sacti). Eight kinds of service to a jina image ; closed by offering flowers. Praise of Jinêndrâ, of Arhat, of Siddhas ; homage to them, and to the âchârya or hierophant. Panegyrics of Parsva-nat'ha, Chandraprabha svami ; offering of flowers, with other matters of jâina ritual. Leaf 1—41 complete so far, except that 32—34 are wanting.

This section is of medium length, thin, injured by insects. Sect. 2 is Canarese.

22. No. 1481. Pûja vidhanam, mode of ritual homage, by Jâinas : slocus, with mantras, imperfect.

On building a new temple or fane.

The punyavahâsanam, consecration of water of lustration, sprinkling it over ground to be built on. Sprinkling the vimânam, or shrine. Placing many calâsas (pots) with water in them, consecrating it ; and then pouring the water from the pots over the head of the image.

Mode of offering flowers in the hands, and putting them over the image.

Nava graha-hôma, on putting fire in nine places, with mantras, an offering to the nine planets.

Pûnâhudi hôma krama, a whole burnt offering ; by having a large vessel filled with butter-oil ; mantras are recited, and the butter oil is then laded out, and poured on a fire : none must be left.

Other sixteen upasaras, or acts of homage. Mode of abstract meditating on the various jâina gods.

The mantras used, with the anga nyâsa and kara nyâsa of the daily homage by jâinas.

The book is of medium length, thin, on broad talipat leaves, injured by insects.

23. No. 1483. Nava devátah púja vidhánam, ślócas, mantras complete. Mode of homage to regents of nine planets.

Placing nine fires, putting rice as an offering on each one, and invoking the gods of the nine planets to come and dwell in each one, each to each, with the supposition or opinion that they have come. Then pouring on butter-oil, with various names applied to it, putting on sandal-wood powder for perfume ; then holding flowers in both hands, and putting them also in the fire ; offering a small sized garment to each one ; offering achuti, or rice steeped in turmeric water, then offering incense by burning gum benzoin on a plate of metal—camphor the same ; offering food, offering butter-oil, water in which coarse molasses has been dissolved ; offering a cocoanut, plantain fruit, areca-nut, betel leaf. The mode of offering each stated.

A jina deva is named retna treya (triple jewel ;) and the mode of offering to this is also detailed : 38 leaves. (An image of such has a triple turret, or coronet.)

(The term retna treya is used by Saivas, and is then said to mean O'm, sakti, siva.)

The book is of medium size, and in good order. It is somewhat of a curiosity.

24. No. 1512. Jáina prayógam, custom by practice ; ślócas, mantras, incomplete.

Punyavahasanam, mode of consecrating water in pots for lustrations.

Nava graha-zanti ; propitiation of the nine planets.

Hóma vidhánam, fire offering to the nine planets.

Samhitu áhudi hóma p'halam.

Fire offering consisting of 1008 pieces of the palasu creeper, burnt, with mantras, as an offering, with its benefit.

Praise of the house of a jina deva.

Mangala stótra, praise of a goddess.

Naga púja vidhanam, mode of homage to the carved form of a serpent.

Naga bali, offering of butter oil to the same.

Ashta dicpala púja vidhanam. Mode of homage to the guardians of the eight points ; as Indra, Yama, Agni, &c.

Differences among the Jinas or deities described. Homage to each one of them.

Surasuru púja vidhanam, homage to demigods, and demons (as here understood).

Japam, or prayer, seated within a certain distance of their supposed presence.

So far only, the book being incomplete, 127 leaves, without numbers. The book is of medium length, rather thick, spotted with mildew.

25. No. 1596. Pratishṭha tiluca tippanam.

By Vati cumuta chandra. An interpretation of the consecration jewel. Ślocas, mantras, and a tica, or verbal comment in Canarese, incomplete.

Yacshi-yacsha, Jina, Tiriḥacara Arhat devata; description of one who is suitable to be hierophant to these female and male deities.

On the morning evacuations, teeth cleansing, bathing, &c. of the Brahman Cshetriya and Vāisya. (The Jāinas recognize these divisions: and thereby, among other points, differ from the Bāuddhas).

The order of rites in worship of the jina devata deities.

On the mode of hoisting the flag at Jāina festivals.

On the preparing water of lustrations.

Mode of cleansing the shrine itself.

Description of the festival, with a shrine on a raft in a tank or pool. [This is a commemoration of the deluge, common to Sāivas, Vāishnavas, and Jāinas. The word teppa or theba, is Hebrew as well as Sanscrit, and the exemplification of its meaning, given at these festivals, may serve to correct erroneous rendering and ideas, arising from the translating it by Kibotos in the Greek septuagint, and Arca in the Vulgate.]

Mode of raising a mound of earth after festivals, and performing some fire offerings on it as an altar.

On placing the image of the god in the abishēga mantāpa, or porch for bathing. On placing the water vessel; mantra used when it is filled with water; and the using this consecrated water for washing, or bathing the image.

Fire offering of sweet scented materials, as sandal wood, &c.

At the end four leaves much bitten by rats, 132 remain; the Nos. are 1—17 and 21—38 and 44—139—from 17 to 21 and 38 to 44 lacunes.

The book is of medium length, thick, damaged at the end.

26. No. 1599. Tatva vivaram, detail of truth, ślocas in Sansc. and Pracruti, with tica, or verbal comment, in Canarese.

Jina tiriḥacara ayusha vartamana.

On the ages, or coming to age of the special twenty-four Jāina sages canonized.

Suvarnaca, yacshi, yacsha, Retna treya Pingala, these and others, when they were born, day, date, &c ; their moral excellence ; their posterity ; their various high attainments in wisdom, self control &c.

Also some matter in praise of Jâina devotees.

Bhava vicharam, or mental devotion, or abstractedness of mind, is declared to be superior to Curma, ritual sacrifices, or forms.

37 leaves, incomplete. The book is long, thin, on talipat leaves, injured.

27. No. 1609. Jâina-pûja vidhânâma.

By Pûjya Bala, slôcas, and some Canarese prose, not translation.

56 leaves, incomplete.

The Mahâbishéga, or solemn ablution of a Jina devata, or god.

P'hala rasâbishégam, pouring over it juice of limes.

Suddha jalâbishégam, bathing it with pure water.

In the midst stôtttras, or praises of deities.

The book is of medium size, three leaves at the end much damaged.

28. No. 1610. Section 2 surûpa sambodhana panchavimsati, 25 slôcas on communion with the divine form.

The Jâina vedantart'ha, or substance of religion. Slôcas, with the construing order following. A sort of mental philosophy, with regard to properties of the body and faculties of the mind, or operations of the soul (I should think it worth translating, and probably allied to the câlikas of the Sankhyas).

There is also genealogical matter on the race of rishis, after the Jâina mode ; inclusive of Gâutâma Buddha of the present age. Their fame, and excellence ; with some other Jâina matters : a few blank leaves.

The entire book is of medium size, on narrow talipat leaves, in good order.

29. No. 1612. Jina sanhita pratishthâ tilaca.

By Brahma suri, slôcas and mantras.

On the following modes of homage to a Jina devata.

Hôma vidhanam—mode of fire offering.

Phala rasa snânâma, pouring on lime juice.

Dudhi snânâma—bathing with curds.

Cshira snânâma—the same with milk.

Grisu snânâma— „ with butter oil.

Suddhútacá snanam, washing with pure water.

Sahasra kalasa st'hapana, consecrating water in one thousand vessels.

Mahabishégam, bathing the image with the water contained in them.

Sandana lep'hanan, rubbing over it sandal-wood powder.

Niránjana vidhanam, offering camphor-light, and incense ; with other incense offerings.

Dévatá tárpanam, offering water mixed with sesame seeds, poured out from the joined palms of both hands : it is allowed to run out between the forefinger and thumb.

Rishi terpanam, pouring out water only offered to sages.

Váisva dévam, making an offering of food before eating any : 87 leaves.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, greatly injured at both ends by worms.

30. No. 1622. Two subjects, ślócas only, incomplete, on 9 leaves.

1.) Cshetriya Chūdámáni.

By Vádīb'ha sinha suri ; or the elephant-conquering-lion poet.

Divided into árámbas, from 1 to 11 ; the last one remaining incomplete.

Nandádyá was the son of a royal pariah named Sumanta ; he, having conquered some countries, ruled them for a time ; and then gave them over in charge to a minister of state ; himself retiring to a wilderness to do penance—breaks off.

2.) Cánya retnam, ślócas, complete.

By Arhat dása, 1st to 10th surga.

Praise of Betna-treya, a jina devatá ; and a description of mukti (beatification) on the jána system.

It appears to be absorption into the being, or essence of God ; or, at the lowest, a change into the dea natura.

The same idea is doubtless designated by the Pali word nibutti of the Báuddhas (Sansc ; nivirtti) that is release (full redemption) from all further transmigrations, or changes of being ; and becoming united to deity. The idea is common : the Saivas hold it with the degrees of likeness to, nearness to—and oneness or union. Howe, a Puritan divine, in one of his more elevated and recondite treatises (following schoolmen) has surprising coincidences with Sáivas. It is an unsafe subject for speculation, as Paley has remarked. I do not however think that nibutti is correctly rendered by the term "annihilation" it is not—entis cessatio. The leaning of the jána system, nevertheless, is towards spontaneity ; or matter endued with a plastic inherent energy of feminine personification.

The whole book is long, thin, on broad talipat leaves, much and variously injured.

31. No. 1623. Pracriya nīti vācyamṛitam.

The nectar of practical morality. See IX. 18.

By Sōma dēva suri; ślōcas only, complete.

The different sections are designated by the term samudēsa.

Dherma Samudēsa, of benevolence.

A'dherma S: on the defect, or opposite.

Shadverga S: on six kinds of kingly property, as allies, money, counsellor, army, &c.

Aunvich'haki S: on deportment according to rule.

Trīṅgi S: rule of the three vedas, excluding the At'harvāna.

Varrtlā S: on right speech, truth, not lying, &c.

Cshētriya āchāra S: on the right conduct of a king or military chieftain.

Mantri S: on the deportment of the chief minister of state.

Svāmi S: on the right deportment of a king towards his spiritual counsellor, and vice versa.

Janapata S: on a king's conduct towards a conquered people; not to kill, or oppress, but to protect.

Bala S: how a king should protect, and govern his army.

Vichāra S: on forensic enquiry as to justice by a king.

Danda S: on punishment, when needed; with others, in all 32 Samudēsas, or ethical rules, a general code of morals, 47 leaves.

The book is of medium size, on narrow talipat leaves, injured by insects, and greatly injured towards the end by breaking of the leaves. It is a pity that this book is so much injured, as it seems to be of more than common value, as to the ethics of the jāina system, to us almost unknown.

32. No. 1624. Kālyāna panchacam, on the five days of festival according to the jāināgama vidhānam, or practice of jāina books: ślōcas and mantras, incomplete.

The order of a festival of five day's continuance to a jina-devata. — The halasa ś'hapana krama, or consecrating water in a number of small brass vessels covered with grass, &c., which water, after being mantracised, is used for bathing the images, or other lustrations.

Hōma krama, mode of fire-offering to Indra, Yama, Varuna, Agni, Surya, and other personifications, and various other ablutions, and homage according to the jāina system; 22 leaves, numbered from 35 to 66.

The book is long, thin, old, one leaf broken.

33. No. 1632. Tatva vivécám. Sec. IX. 20.

34. No. 1637. Four subjects.

1.) Jâina sâra kriya sangraha, slócas both in Sanscrit and Pracrúti with Canarese commentary; incomplete.

By Brahma súri.

Siddha bhakti, discipleship to a sacred man.

Nirvana bhakti, on going unclothed.

Tirt'hêsa stótra, praise of Tirt'hêsa.

Samanda bhadra stótram, the like.

Jina sahasra nâma. The one thousand and eight names of a deity.

2.) Tatvart'ha adigama, on beatification. Sanscrit and Pracrúti slócas and tica. or verbal comment, in Sanscrit prose.

On the essence of truth, a jâina subject. From the 1st to the 7th adhyaya is legible; afterwards not so, from damage.

Any kind of life must not be taken away. Every one should go on increasing in benevolence. If so until the time of death, the soul will ascend in a divine car, and finding a pathway through the sûrya-mandalam, or world of the sun, will obtain mukti, or beatification, according to the jâina môcsha pracrúti, or current opinion. (It is said to be an opinion common also to Sâivas and Vâishnavas, that the path to beatification is through the sun: there is much reason, abstractedly, to believe that the sun is the paradise of the solar system.)

3.) Dhermâmritam, slócas, incomplete.

By Asâdhara, from the 1st to the 3rd adhyâya.

Alms given to good persons produce beneficial results, but if given to evil persons they produce no good fruit; with various other ethical precepts of the jâinas.

4.) Jina déva stótra; Pracrúti slócas, incomplete.

The original element (matter) is a cause (or the cause) of the universe: v. 30. No. 1622. 2.

"Thou art (i. e. Jina) thou createst, dost preserve, and dost destroy, thou art the excellent among gods."

Such, and the like praise of Jina dévata, a deified man.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, on broad talipot leaves, some of them damaged by breaking.

A full translation would probably add to our knowledge of the jaina system.

35. No. 1642. For section 1. see XXII.

Section 2. Jaina mata pustacam, on the jaina way.

Siddha chacra pūja, a kind of homage.

Siddha paramest'hi mantra, a spell to a goddess.

Virabala pūja, homage to a god.

Padmāvati stōtra, praise of a female deity.

Grihacharya prayaschita, or penalty in remission, if a household, through covetousness, or any other fault, omit any prescribed daily observance.

Bimba-anga pramanan, rule as to the relative proportion of members of an image.

Some prayaschitas, or cleansing penalties for omission of sacerdotal observances; ślōcas, with Canarese tica.

Punyahasanam, lustrations.

Jaina mata tatva, proper mode of performing all jaina observances: Canarese language.

A few extraneous stanzas of a Saiva kind, in Canarese.

Jina stuti—praise in ślōcas called ārōkya stava, wishing health; 31 ślōcas.

By Sruta kirrti trīvidya-dēva.

Arhati dhyānam, ślōcas, meditation on Arhat, and stanzas on investiture with the scholastic thread—65 ślōcas, confused order.

36. No. 1654. Retna karandacam, jewel casket, ślōcas, with a tica in Canarese, complete in 7 sections.

By Samantā bhādra svāmi.

The Samyikdarsana, or wisdom of the perfect way (i. e. jaina) is a better mode of removing sin; and of acquiring moral virtue, than bathing in rivers or pools, or at times of an eclipse; and better than gifts of various kinds usually classed as Dherma (moral merit). The excellence of that jaina way dwelt on. On the duty of not killing men, animals, birds, insects, &c.,—a discrimination of things, or proceedings, that are wicked or good, evil or virtuous.

On the dōsham (fault) of eating at the twilight of either morning or evening. (The jāinas do not eat, or even drink water after sun set.)

On the sin of adultery. On the sin of giving to others any hurtful weapons, or instruments of harm to others.

A specification of such kinds of food as may be lawfully eaten. On the nature of mócsha, or beatification. Praise of relinquishing the venom of wordly allurements. Dherma is the sole procuring cause of beatification (rejecting animal sacrifices). And other Jaina matters, leaf 1—84 and 50 leaves blank.

The book is of medium size, on narrow talipat leaves, injured by insects.

37. No. 1656. Pancha paraméshti svarúpa nirnayam: prose complete.

A description of five heavenly forms. These are:

- 1 Arhat déva paraméshti.
- 2 Siddha „ „ These born as men were beatified, and became as gods.
- 3 Déva „ „
- 4 'Acharya „ „
- 5 Upádyaya „ „

At first they had a little wisdom, which increased to greater wisdom, and, at length, was tatva gnànam, or true wisdom. By these means they acquired other, and higher faculties, very numerous. Description of the five members, that is five senses.

A detail of some things that are ádshas, or faults, inimical to the tatva gnànam. They are such as are theologically known by the term sinless infirmities; such as hunger, sleep, fatigue, swooning, &c.

A description of the form, that is nature of these five deva-paraméshtas. (I find that in Sanscrit theological books svarúpa, proper-form, designates nature, essence, OUSIA, and lacshanam, property, quality, HYPOSTASIS; and this so uniformly, as to be a rule.) They excelled all others in praise, or homage to the supreme deity.

Other matter on relinquishing families, and their attendant cares and sorrows; with the duties of yógis, or penitents, and sanniyasis, strict ascetics; and the like, designated as tatva, or spiritual truth.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, in good order, leaf 1—108, much Canarese mingled.

38. No. 1663. Jina stotra vali; slócas and mantras, in both Sanscrit and Pracrutí, complete.

Zánti ashtacam, an octave, used with a fire sacrifice, to avert evil, at the beginning of any other homage.

Jindlya stotra, praise of the temple.

Praise of Samanta-bhadra, on first opening the door in a morning. Praise of Vartaanam, as a god ; and the like as to Chandra prabha.

Tirthacara pūja karma, order of homage to twenty-five canonized men : they are represented by small images.

At the conclusion of any ceremony these are immersed in water ; devotees then sprinkle this water on themselves.

Pushpanjah vidhanam, offering of a double handful of flowers.

Yentra-stōttra, praise, with a diagram, said to be directed to a power presiding over the cotton bracelets worn round the wrists on festival occasions.

Some other matter relating to hōmas, or fire offerings : 56 leaves.

The book is of medium length, on narrow talipat leaves, damaged.

39. No. 1681. Tatvārtha mōcsha sāstram.

By Kont'ha bhadra svāmi, a jāina ; ślōcas, with a tica in Canarese, incomplete.

Certain observances, as to eating and drinking.

It is right to eat only during the day ; for there are evil spirits abroad during the night. Water must be taken only during a particular muhūrtam (2½ Indian hours : or some say 2 hours, some 3 hours). In drinking it, water must be poured into a vessel through a strainer, and also in using it to wash the feet, because it contains insects if not strained : and the like small matters.

Praise of a Jina, or deified saint ; of the siddha, one near the Jina, but inferior.

Dhupala stotra, praise of another Jina devata, and of Chandra prabha another one, and of others similar ; 120 leaves.

The book is very long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, somewhat injured by insects,

40. No. 1683. Jāina mata sutram ; ślōcas, with a Canarese tica—incomplete.

It contains mode of prayaschitam, or expiation, on the Jāina system. The specimen chosen by a Vāishnava Brahman may not be the most appropriate. On the menstruation, and removal outside the house of any woman, then after bathing, she may re-enter it on the 1st day if a Chandāla ; on the 2nd day if of the washer tribe ; on the 3rd day, if a Sudra ; and on the 4th if Brāhmani, &c. If any one of the family die—during the period of menstruation, then all the family must bathe before eating food. If menstruation return after twelve days, then, on that same day, after bathing twelve times, a woman may re-enter the house—leaf 26—51 or 26 leaves.

The book is long, thin, injured by insects.

41. No. 2331. Four tracts, or subjects.

1.) Retna carandacam, jewel casket, otherwise upásáchára, minor ritual—ślócas, complete, in 7 parich'hedas or sections.

By Samanta bhadra.

- (1.) The proper persons to perform the rites, &c. mentioned afterwards ; knowledge is a primary requisite.
- (2.) Spiritual wisdom (gnānan) is needed.
- (3.) On various minor vows (anu vratam), such as standing in water up to the arm-pits, and stirring it with the forefinger.
- (4.) Guna vratam, mental discipline.
- (5.) Sicsha vratam, instruction.
- (6.) Lekhana vratam, writing.
- (7.) Srāvaca niloyam, against listening by the uninitiated.

Compare with 36. No. 1654—which gives only a few specimens.

2.) Sajana chitta valaban, 25 ślócas, complete.

Various reflexions, addressed by any one to his own mind, or soul.

3.) Prasna uttara māla, a dialogue, ślócas, incomplete.

A disciple asks, and a teacher replies to various questions ; e. g. what is the nut, or kernel of the mócsha tree ? Answer, good wisdom (or true wisdom).

What is an ornament to the mouth ? Answer, truth.

In this world who is strong ? Answer, he who can resist the arrows from a woman's eyes.

4.) Vrata surūpam, nature of a vow ; ślócas, two copies—both complete.

One copy contains the formula, or ritual directions, the other the prayers which fill up the (quasi) rubric : for the nature of vratas in general, see XXIII.

The entire book is of medium length, thin, on talipaf leaves, not all alike, somewhat injured.

42. No. 2349. Graha yagnya vidhi.

On household fire-offerings, ślócas, sūtras with tica, mantras with tica, a curious jaina book, but incomplete.

In such household offerings a description of ten kinds of holes, or fire-pits ; arranged around, and with a large circle, described with rules as to depth, and size.

The p'ulātam, fruit, or benefit of the offering as performed in each cavity, with what material each of these homas must be made ; as milk, butter, oil, &c.

The mantras, spells, or prayers, to be muttered over the offering.

The múla-mantrá, or distinguishing formula of this sect, of so many letters.

Account of measures as to the contents which each cavity will hold, leaf 1—128.

[Diagrams representing the form of these fire-pits, with the presiding planets, position, and materials offered, are given on the opposite page.]

43. No. 2351. 'Arisha sangraha, slócas, mantras, prose, incomplete.

The book contains about 40 parich'hedas or sections; but is so much damaged as not to be distinctly legible. It appears to be a compendium of jáina duties, and observances.

At what times the sacred books may be read, and when not, according to their system.

Modes of personal purification in the early morning.

Daily homage, morning, noon, evening; certain duties, on special cases of fault, or any thing adverse occurring.

Parama deva, a god, snahana vidhi, cleansing of slight casual faults.

Archana vidhi, mode of ordinary homage.

Modes of prayaschitas, or expiations, on various occasions.

Raja danya sampradaya, household duties in a town, municipal.

Muhurtas, times good or bad as to the performances of ceremonies discriminated.

Jina vimána púja vidhi, mode of homage at the principal shrine in any fane.

Eight munis, images of sages in a fane, their places, and homage to them.

Slócas used in meditation, the eyes being closed. Various other matters of usage in their temples, the work was not very particularly examined, because of its greatly injured state: 78 leaves in all.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, broken, &c.

44. No. 2357. Pratishtha tilacam, forehead spot of consecration.

By Brahma suri, slócas, mantras, prose.

The 4th, 5th, 8th parvas, or books, are complete; but the whole is incomplete, from wanting the 3 first, and the 6th and 7th parvas.

The 4th contains the sandhi vandanam of the jáinas; or morning, noon, and evening homage.

The aubásanam, or morning fire-offering, with its attendant prayer.

The planetary symbols indicate that the influences of the planets are brought down into the respective five-pits.

Dēvatārādhana, a sort of family worship.

Vāisvadēva, offering of food before eating any.

Sandhārpana, food must be eaten before sun set ; not allowed afterwards. The 5th parvam contains the mantras, spells or prayers, used with the above ; also mode of fire offering, both prayer and rubric.

The 8th parvam has the household carmas, or special ceremonies.

Garbhadhanam on pregnancy.

Pumsa vanam, 4th or 5th month—woman bathes, puts on flowers, gives food to her friends ; simantem is the 6th or 8th month ; Jātacarma at birth of a child, Nāmacarma naming it.

Upavésanam, on the 1st birth day, child bathed, flowers put on, carried round in procession, people fed at home.

Annaprāsanam, on first feeding.

Chavulam, shaving the head when 3 years old.

Acsharābhyaśa, learning to read at 5 years.

Upanāinan, putting on scholar's thread.

Vivāha, marriage, so far to the end of the suc'ha-vidhi, propitious circumstances.

Then the rule, and term of ceremonial uncleanness in a family, consequent to the death of father or mother, or wife or child : leaves 1—57.

The book is medium size, on talipat leaves, somewhat damaged.

45. No. 2360. Vastu tatva pracāsica.

The title implies a comment on Vastu tatva, concrete truth, ślokas, with prose, meaning in Sanscrit, and some prose writing.

By Amrita chandra, wants the 1st leaf.

Jina, Chandragupta, Camalasri, Sucumara.

These were great Pandits in Jaina learning—the intermarriages of their families. They went about to many countries ; discoursed, or disputed about their sastras ; conquered many opponents, and widely disseminated their own form of credenda, and worship.

Their mode of proceeding as to ritual ceremonies.

The order and benefit of their mode of homage.

After their success they became close ascetics ; and subsequent to their death, their statues were put up in jaina fanes, with that of Buddha, as minor objects of worship. (They correspond therefore, in a great measure, with the Atvār of the Vaishnavas). Leaf 2—157.

The book is long, thick, old, in the middle only full leaves ; at the beginning and end the extremities are gnawed off.

XIX. LAW (sacerdotal).

1. No. 1542. Dherma sastra, fragment, slócas, no tica.

The middle part only.

Rule as to learning or study. It is not lawful to begin to learn any art or science on the following lunar days, i. e. amávasi, complement between the 14th tít'hi and conjunction of sun and moon: ashtami, 8th tít'hi first quarter, and last quarter; chaturdasi, 14th tít'hi (day before the full) pournami, complement between 14th tít'hi, and opposition of sun and moon.

The evening of every day is also prohibited. (In consequence of this prohibition, the practice in schools is to do nothing on the amavasi and 1st tít'hi, and pournami and 1st tít'hi; four entire days in a lunar month: the other prohibitions are not regarded.)

The book is short, very thin, on narrow talipat leaves, damaged by worms.

Very possibly an extract, for some use.

2. No. 1690. Three Tracts.

- 1.) Sat dherma vrutta, 247 slócas, complete.

By Panditábhárya, a Jáina cavi, or poet: On the yajnam, or sacrifice, and yájanam, causing a sacrifice, by finding money or means. On gifts and on receiving gifts, studying the Védas, explaining them to others. For these, and the like beneficial offices, a guru is required.

The two other sections are on different subjects.

XX. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

1. No. 988. Amaram; slócas.

By Amara sinha cavi; a fragment of 16 leaves only, from the 1st cándam, or book containing the sverga and vyóma vargas, two sections complete, the dic verga incomplete.

The book is of medium length, in good order.

2. No. 995. Amaram, lexicon.

By Amara sinha, a jáina, slócas, with a tica in Canarese, incomplete.

The 1st Cándam is complete in 12 sections, from sverga down to váru verga; the 2nd Cándam has three vargas, or sections, from bhú to sáila, 25 leaves.

The book is long, and thin, on very thin talipat leaves, damaged.

3. No. 1457. Amaram, ślocas.

By Amara sinha. The 1st cādam wanting; the 2nd and 3rd *cādam*s are complete.

2nd. Bhū—pura—sāila, vanāushati, simhati, manushya, brinha cshetriya, vāisyā, sūdra—10 vergas.

3rd. Viśēsha nigā, sanjirna, nānartha, avyāyija 4 vergas : 99 leaves.

The book is of medium size, old, two thirds of it very much damaged by worms, one third at the end larger leaves, and in better preservation.

4. No. 1484. Amaram, ślocas.

By Amara sinha.

The 1st cādam only; this complete, from sverga verga to vāru verga—with the preceding it forms a complete copy.

The book is of medium size, thin, old, much damaged by worms.

5. No. 1487. Nāma lingāna śāssanam.

By Amara sinha, ślocas.

Nearly a complete copy; it wants 50 ślocas at the beginning and has the remainder of the 1st cādam.

The 2nd and 3rd *cādam*s are both nearly complete; a few intermediate leaves are missing, others are irregularly strung.

At the beginning 1 leaf contains ślocas from the Mēgha sandēsam: the 2nd leaf has the meaning of some Sanscrit words in Canarese.

The book is long, of medium thickness, very old, and greatly injured at the beginning; the latter part more recent.

6. No. 1488. Nāma lingāna śāssanam.

By Amara sinha, ślocas.

Complete in three *cādam*s.

1st. Svarga to vāru 12 vergas.

2nd. Bhū to sūdra 10 "

3rd. Viśēsha nigā to avyaya 4 "

Leaves 1—100 in regular order.

The book is of medium length, and thickness, on narrow talipat leaves, touched by worms, and rounded off at the ends by rats, without touching the writing; a good copy.

7. No. 1489. Nāma lingāna śāssanam.

By Amara sinha, ślocas.

Complete in three cāndams.

1st. Sverga to vari	12	vergas.
2nd. Bhu to sudra	10	"
3rd. Vizésa nigna to avyaya	4	"

Leaves 1—136. The book is of medium length, thick, on narrow palm leaves, touched by insects: some leaves broken.

8. No. 1490. Nāma lingāna sāsānam.

By Amara sinha, ślōcas.

Fragments of two copies.

First Copy, the 1st Cādam complete,

2nd from bhū verga and down to vana ushatī: of this verga 14 ślōcās only, 3rd wanting.

Second copy. The 1st Cādam complete.

The 2nd Cādam wants the first six vergas: and then has from Brahma down to sudra, vergas.

The 3rd Cādam is complete:

The two copies would not make up one complete, as two vergas would remain defective in the 2nd Cādam.

1st Copy leaves 1—51; 8 others without any No.

2nd Copy leaves 1—25, and 64 to 127: 26—63 wanting.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, the 1st copy very old, narrow palm leaves, slightly injured.

2nd copy broader palm leaves, injured by worms, and a few leaves broken.

9. No. 1491. Amaram, ślōcas, incomplete.

By Amara sinhá.

The 1st cādam complete in 12 sections:

2nd " from bhū to sudra verga, the last wanting a little at the end, leaves 68.

The book is long, of medium thickness, somewhat injured by insects.

10. No. 1492. Nāma lingāna sāsānam.

By Amara sinha, ślōcas, with a tīca for each word in Canarese.

1st Cādam, sverga to vari verga	12	Sections.
2nd " Bhū to sudra	10	"
3rd " Vizésa nigna to avyaya	4	"

The whole is thus nominally right; but leaves are wanting from the midst of each section, 187 leaves remain.

The book is of medium length, thick, some leaves are broken, and part gone.

11. No. 1493. Nigandu, *śloca*s with a Canarese tica.

By Dhananjaya, two parich'hēdas, or chapters.

A list of ordinary words, as in all vocabularies.

Also, nānarī'ha śabda, words of various meanings, and Jinesvara dēvata, names of jaina gods.

Ubāiyārt'ha śabda, words of dual meaning ; only two meanings. Complete, leaf 1—33 in regular order.

The book is long and thin, very much injured by worms ; one leaf has a part broken off.

12. No. 1494. Nigandu, lexicon.

By Dhananjaya—two copies.

1st copy has 165 *śloca*s, with a tica in Canarese : 32 leaves.

2nd copy has 66 *śloca*s, with a tica in Canarese, incomplete, 10 leaves.

Containing words of one meaning ; of only two meanings ; and of various meanings.

The first copy is of medium length, on talipat leaves, the other longer on palm leaves, one broken ; the whole injured by insects.

13. No. 1495. Nigandu, lexicon.

By Dhananjaya, 162 *śloca*s, with a tica in Canarese, incomplete.

Containing words of one, two, and various meanings.

The meanings of each Sanscrit word is given in Canarese.

Being by a jaina there may be some sectarian acumen in the dual words : thus the word Siva signifies a god, and a jackal.

The book is of medium length, thin, on narrow talipat leaves, in good order.

14. No. 1497. Abhēdāna retna māla, a lexicon.

By Halāyuta Bhatta.

The 1st, entitled sverga, contains the names of Indra, and other celestials, as chandra, cuvēra, sūrya, yama, varuna, agni, &c. The other one contains names of year, ayanas, seasons, months, bright and dark lunar halves, lunar days, days of week, and other names of terrestrial things : 56 leaves.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

15. No. 1498. Nāma līngāna sassanam.

By Amara sinha.

* The three cāndams complete, 1—36.

The book is very long and thin, on broad talipat leaves, old, in good order, except the two last leaves.

16. No. 1499. Nāma līngāna sassanam.

By Amara sinha, incomplete copy.

1st Cāndam 38 ślōcas are wanting in the sverga section, the remainder complete, to the end of vāri section.

2nd Cāndam has Bhū to Brahma section, in regular order, the remainder, being 3 sections, wanting.

3rd Cāndam has 117 ślōcas in the nānart'ha varga, the rest wanting, leaf 4—71.

The book is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, a little injured.

17. No. 1500. Two books.

1.) The Amaram as in the two last; the three cāndams complete, ślōcas.

2.) Dhananjaya Nigandu—ślōcas with a tīca in Canarese; 183 ślōcas, the rest wanting.

Leaf 1—74 in regular order.

The book is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, the edges worn off by decay.

18. No. 1501. Nigandu, ślōcas 241 without tīca incomplete.

By Dhananjaya—words of one meaning, of two meanings, and of many meanings: leaf 11—23.

The book is rather long, old, in good order.

19. No. 1504. Sabda pustacam—word-book.

A list of words that end in vowels, and in some of the consonants, with the genders of each; with number; and, when inflected, with the case: 53 leaves.

The book is long, of medium thickness, much injured by worms.

20. No. 1505. Sabda pustacam.

One leaf contains the meaning of the cases of nouns in Canarese. Afterwards a list of words from Rāma to ashta, with the three genders, the number, and cases of words. It is related to grammar, and is, in appearance, a school book.

1—38 leaves regular. The book is of medium size, slightly injured by insects.

21. No. 1508. Sabda pustacam—prose incomplete.

A list of words ending with the vowels a, i, u, ri, and with the consonants cha, ja, na, sa, ma, (otherwise ch: j: n: s: m:) with the gender of each word, masculine, feminine, or neuter.

Also sarva nāma sabda, some generic nouns, belonging to many individuals of a class; and yushma dastmatu sabda, imperative words.

Leaf 1—46 regular. The book is medium size, the 1st leaf broken, injured by insects.

22. No. 1510. Sabda pustacam, prose.

The book is of medium size, one leaf broken, one end gnawed off, not touching the letter; the whole injured by insects.

23. No. 1511. Sabda pustacam, prose, complete.

Specimens of words, with their genders; affording models both as to vowels and consonants, for the formation of cases: 36 leaves complete; a school book.

The book is of medium length, without boards; injured by worms.

24. No. 1522. Nāma lingāna sāssanam.

By Amara sinha.

The 1st Cāndam has the svarga-dic—and vyōma, sections complete, with 11 ślōcas of the 4th or kāla; the rest wanting.

The 2nd Cāndam from bhū to sudra, ten sections complete.

The 3rd Cāndam has from vizēsha nigra to avyaya, 4 sections complete; the genders of the words are given in the 3rd Cāndam, not in the two preceding: at the end of this Cāndam the leaves are not regularly strung.

Leaf 1—14 and 39—145. 15 to 38 wanting.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, on narrow leaves, old, near the beginning injured.

25. No. 1598. A miscellany of eight, or nine tracts put together, in different letter, but agreeing in subject, lexico-grammatical.

1) Linga nirnaya bīshanam (nagari letter;) on the genders of words—incomplete, 5 leaves.

By Rāma chandra. The masculine, feminine, and neuter gender of various words stated.

XXI. LOGIC.

1. No. 1401. Two tracts.

1.) Tarkha bhásha pracásica, a comment on the tarkha bhásha.

By Channur bhatta kavi, prose.

One parich'heda, or section, complete.

On the seven padart'has, from dravyan onwards described, and explained : 56 leaves.

2.) Cshétra dipika a comment on the book Cshétra i. e. the human body.

* The Sanscrit gana and Latin genus are one, and the same word ; only disguised by the spelling. The radicals in both are g, and n, with a short vowel intervening ; the terminal s is merely dialectic. But then the latin word should not be pronounced jeenous, but gunnu.

On ātma the human soul: Paramātmā, deity, and sarīram the human body.

Theses, or disputations on these topics, maintaining that each one of the three is distinct from the other; and therefore opposed to the advāītas—author's name not known, as the tract wants the ending.

35 leaves.

The whole book is long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, in good order.

2. No. 1413. Tarkhica racsha, logic.

By Varada rāja cavi.

All secular, or existent things, may be arranged under seven divisions.

1) Dravya, 2) guna, 3) karma, 4) samānya, 5) Vizēsha, 6) samavayam, 7) abhāva. And dravya is subdivided into 9 sections. (1) Pri'hivi, earth; (2) jalam, water; (3) tījas, light or splendor; (4) Vayu, wind; (5) ākāsa, ether; (6) kāla, time; (7) dīccu, direction; (8) ātmā, soul; (9) mānassu, mind.

So much as a specimen; the book is not complete: 21 leaves. It is long, on talipat leaves, in good order.

3. No. 1682. Tarkha sastram, prose, incomplete.

By Kēsava misra.

4. No. 2343. Tark'ha bhāsha, prose, no sections.

By Kēsava misra.

On the seven padarī'has, from dravya down to abhāvam. This is not the old work, with the same title; that maintains sixteen padarī'has.

This work gives to the subject a religious turn, by the remark that the sum total of the padarī'has, or worldly things, is anityam finite, and that Isvara, or God alone is nityam, eternal; the meditation of whom, on the tatva system (true, or spiritual way) is the path to beatification. In this mode a knowledge of existing things is turned, on the native system, to a superior account.

Leaves 87—115, and 15 blank leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, very slightly damaged.

5. No. 2350. Nyāya sāram.

A. mūlam, tarkha sastra, prose.

Divided into three partih'hedas, or chief parts.

1.) Praiyacsha, self-evident.

2.) Anunānam, doubtful or circumstantial; the other upamānam is wanting.

It maintains seven padart'has.

1; dravya 2; guna 3; harma 4; samānya 5; vizēsha 6; samavāya 7; abhāva. These are variously sub-divided, explaining the properties, or characters of the said padart'has.

B. Nyāya sara tīca, prose.

By Vāsu dēva.

The meaning of the above padart'has in full paraphrase, leaf 1—86.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

XXIII. MERITORIOUS DEVOTION.

1. No. 990. Four tracts.

1.) Sravana dvádási vratam; ślócas, incomplete.

Extracted from the Nárédíya puránam, ascribed to Náréda muni.

The 33rd adhyaḡa, only this complete.

Nārēda tells Yagnyavālcya, the merit of a fast with other observances, whenever the 12th lunar day falls in the sravana lunar-mansion, not occurring every year : on seven leaves.

- 2.) Sravana dvādasi vrata calpam from the sāura purānam—ślōcas, complete.

Legend of Haridatta a king who carefully observed the prescribed fast on the 11th lunar day, and also the 12th when it was the sravana dvādasi, and during it he heard books read to him : such as the Bhāratam, Bhāgavatam, and other Vāishnava works, doing at the same time homage to Vishnu ; and when he died he was beatified. Sūrya (the sun) told this legend to Yagnyavālcya : 8 leaves.

- 3.) Rishi panchami vrata calpam, ślōcas, complete.

It relates chiefly to women.

In the 5th lunar day, if women fast, with other observances, they will be absolved from sins, will have children, and obtain other benefits—said to be Sāiva : 8 leaves, see various other notices.

- 4.) Sōma vāra vratam ; ślōcas, complete.

If women on a Monday (sacred to Siva) place an image of his symbol on the banks of a river, or of a water reservoir, they will obtain Cātilasa (Siva's heaven) 8 leaves ; in all 31.

The book is of medium length, and slightly damaged.

2. No. 1377. Vows, and benefits.

Dasā p'hala vratacalpam, said to be from the Bhavishōttara purānam, an observance that has a reference to Krishna.

Vinayaca vrata, directed to Ganēsa.

Vara lacshmi vrata, directed to the gift-bestowing sacti of Vishnu.

Svarna Gāuri vrata, a ceremony to get wealth from gold-giving Parvati.

Sandihichara, a fast with homage to the slow moving sani, planet Saturn.

Vāmana jayanti vrata, a ceremony on the birth day of the Vāmana avatāra.

Dhana p'hala vrata, a ceremony to the sun.

Rishi panchami vrata, ut supra. These and various other vratas partaking of the character of "stations," removing some evil, or securing some good.

The composition is poetry and prose, mingled : incomplete, as leaves are wanting in the midst ; and some are not regularly strung—99 remain.

The book is short, somewhat thick, in good order.

3. No. 1378. Vāra lacshmi vrata calpam; ślōcās, with prose complete.

Said to be from the Bhavishōttara purānam.

The day of observance is the day before the full moon, if that day be Friday, not otherwise; and only in the śravana month.

It is a household ceremony, by means of a pot of water, women conduct it, and use the prescribed homage; the object being an increase of connubial happiness, or gifts in general: leaves 1—22 in reversed order—16 blank leaves.

The book is short, of medium thickness, slightly injured by breaking.

4. No. 1380. Vratas, ceremonies, with fasting, and use of sahasranamas, in praise of different gods.

1.) Vinayaca vrata calpam, a ceremony on the day known as Pulliyar sūti, or birth-day of Ganēsa, with its result or benefit; said to be from the scanda purānam.

It occurs on the fourth day (lunar day) after the new moon, in the Bhādra pada month.

2.) Rishi panchami vratam, a fast and ceremony by women, having reference to the seven great sages, stellarized in Ūrsa-major: see other notices.

3.) Yamuna puja, homage to the river Jumna; flowers with a pot of water used; it follows last in the order of other performances.

4.) Ananta vrata calpam, a fast and ceremony directed to Vishnu, with its benefit, said to be from Bhavishōttara purānam.

It is observed on the 14th lunar day (or day before the full moon) in Bhadra pada month.

5.) Nashita dora prayaschit.

Sāivas, Smārtas, and Mādhavas (omitting the Visishtha advāitās) on performing a vrata, or fast ceremony, tie a cotton or silk cord around the right arm, women on the left arm, and it should remain there an entire year; if by any accident the said cord be lost, the above is an expiatory ceremony.

6.) Ananta vrata udyapana, the vow to Vishnu to perform this vrata may be for such a day, and so many years, on which it recurs; when the number of years is accomplished, this is the concluding ceremony, with feeding Brahmans.

7.) Gōpadma vrata.

It is usual to mark lines, plain or ornamental (as a lotus flower), on the cow stalls, and on the raised seats about the doors of houses. When the fixed terms for doing so has expired, then on the twelfth lunar day, bright half in the Cartikeya month (Nov.—Dec.) the Gópadma vrata is closed, with the feeding of Brahmans.

8.) Vishnu sahasranáma, slokas.

The one thousand names of Vishnu; daily repeated; as also in various pújas, with the use of tulsi.

9.) Sóma vara vratam, said to be from the scanda puránam.

Vow on Mondays, but especially in four Mondays in the month Cartikeya; at which times Saiva processions are usual.

10.) Vara lacshmi vratam, in the month sravana on Friday, preceding new and full moons, and only these; directed to Lacshmi.

11.) Lacsha varrti vrata calpam, on the offering of one hundred thousand lights in a temple, its benefits.

The Madhavas plant tulsi instead, with a terrace around it, and place lights as in a temple: this is said to be from the Bhavishóttara puranam.

12.) Gó'tula ashtami vratam.

Ceremony on the 8th day after the full moon in the month sravana (August—Sept.) when the moon is usually at the full in the constellation Aquarius, and in about 8 days enters the nacshétra Rohini; Krishna was born under the asterism Rohini.

The Smartas and the Madhavas adhere strictly to the ashtami, or 8th lunar day, the last quarter of the moon. The Visishta advaitas followers of Ramanuja adhere to the nacshétra Rohini and not to the ashtami alone. Thus it happens that sometimes they all agree, and sometimes the first party observes one day, and the other another day, for the Krishna jayanti or celebrating the birth of Krishna; a festival of great importance.

There are other copies of the Vinayaca vrata Rishi panichami; and vara lacshmi vrata; one of each. The book is properly two, somewhat differing the one from the other in appearance; but the series runs on consecutively and the duplicate copies of 1) 2) and 10) follow.

Leaf 1—85—wanting in midst, 67 remain.

1—56—in midst 3 wanting, 53 remain.

The entire book is of medium length, thick, touched by insects.

5. No. 1381. Five tracts.

- 1.) Vinayasa vrata calpam, mantras and slócas, incomplete ; said to be from the scanda puránam Krishna to Yuddhist'hira.

On the fourth lunar day after the new moon in the Bhadra pada month, a mud image of Ganésa is made in the usual sitting form ; when bilva leaves, and various other plants and flowers, are offered with the use of mantras, as herein stated : 16 leaves.

- 2.) Vara lacshmi vrata calpam, mantras and slócas complete, said to be from the Bhavishóttara puránam, Mahésvara to Uma. A ceremony on a Friday, in the bright half of the month Sravana ; homage to Lacshmi for benefits sought, 10 leaves.
- 3.) Ananta vrata calpa, slócas and mantras, complete.

Homage to Vishnu on the 14th lunar day, bright half of the Bhadra pada month.

Attached to this is the Yamuna pūja krama, mode of homage to the river jamna—22 leaves.

- 4.) Garuda dvádasí náma stótra.

Homage with praise, by twelve special names, to Ganésa. Attached are Hanumat cavacham, sūrya ash aca satam, and sūrya namascára krama ; being homage to Hanuman and the sun, for benefits desired. 62 leaves, five fragments.

Bahishpávamána, mantras, incomplete ; they appear to be addressed to the god of wind.

Bótayana pasham, two leaves at the end by Bótayana, a rishi ; some prayaschit for errors as to modes of visceral evacuation : at noon to the north, at night to the south ; not E. or W. when the sun is above the horizon—59 leaves ; in all 169 leaves.

The entire book is of medium length, thick, old, and somewhat injured—the handwriting is not uniform throughout.

6. No. 1383. Five tracts.

- 1.) Soma vara vrata calpam, a sáiva ceremony, on Mondays especially, in the month Cartikeya ; women make a soma siva of earth and offer homage to it, the benefit of so doing stated : 13 leaves complete.

- 2.) Gangá manassica snanam, slócas from Vamana puránam : This is a form which if used mentally, standing on the banks of the Ganges, is equal in virtue to actually bathing in it. At the end of it—meditation on Ráma—10 slócas, 6 leaves complete.

- 3.) Sri Rama pūja vidhanam ; slócas and mantras, complete on 5 leaves.

Mode of doing ritual homage to Rāma; said to be briefly narrated by Agastya.

4.) Sāla grāma dāna calpam—45 ślokas, complete on 8 leaves.

If any one give the said petrified shells to good persons he will acquire the merit of going to Vishnu's world.

5.) Srāvana dvādasa vrata calpam—ślokas, complete on 14 leaves.

The benefit of a special observance, if the moon, on the 14th lunar day, is in the asterism sravana; sūrya told Yagnyavalkya—Haridatta observed this fast, and listened during the night without sleeping to the reading of purānas: after sometime he was benefited.

The book is of medium length and thickness (46 leaves in all), the leaves are not of equal lengths; and, near the end, are damaged by worms.

7. No. 1384. A compendium of tracts, chiefly vratas and vrata calpas: ślokas and prose complete.

1.) Sampróchhana vidhi.

This relates to household customs: when an image in a house is polluted or injured, this ceremony is used to set matters right.

Sampróchhana, is also the first purification of a temple, or image in it, before consecration.

2.) Lacsha svastikas vrata, complete.

The ceremony of marking a house floor with white lines of rice powder, sometimes in the form of flowers.

3.) Lacsha dīpa vrata—complete:

By Vishnu to Brahma, and is found in the 37th adhyaaya of the Pāncharātam.

On lighting 100,000 lights in a temple.

4.) Lacsha namāscāra.

A discourse between Vasishtha and Ambarisha; said to be from the Bhavishóttara purānam: on 100,000 prostrations to Vishnu.

5.) Lacsha tulsi vrata udyópana.

The closing ceremony after having offered 100,000 joints of sweet tasi to Vishnu; said to be a discourse between Uma and Mahésvara, in the skanda purānam.

6.) Tulasi kashta mahātmyam.

By Narāda, from a book called Prahlada samhita, on the excellence of the dried tulasi plant (ocimum sanctum exsiccatum).

7.) Lacsha pushpa vrata udyāpana.

The closing ceremony after offering a hundred thousand flowers to Vishnu.

8.) Vara lacshmi vrata. See No. 1378 and 1380—10.9.) Vinayaca vrata. See No. 1380—1).

10.) Dūrva Vinayaca vrata—from the scanda purānam—an offering to Ganēsa, by means of sacred grass.

11.) Dasa p'hala vrata—a ceremony relating to Krishna.12.) Gōpadma vrata, see 1380—7).13.) Yamuna pūja, see 1380—3).14.) Ananta vrata, ib : 6).15.) Rishi panchami vrata, ib : 2).

16.) Nrisinha jayanti, ceremony commemorating the birth (or avatara) of Vishnu as a man-lion, on the 14th lunar day of the bright half of the month Madhava (said to be April).

17.) Vāmana jayanti, commemorating the birth of Vishnu as a dwarf, on the 12th lunar day of the bright half of the month Bhadrapada (March) from the Bhavishōttara purānam.

18.) Sravana dvādasa vrata.

From the sāura purānam—the sravana asterism is sacred to Vishnu, as the sun; the ceremony is for beatification.

19.) Sittala stōtra praise of a goddess, a form of Parvati.

20.) Kedāra vrata a field ceremony, on the 14th lunar day of the dark half of the month Asvīja (Asvini, April) from the Bhavishōttara purānam; where large śīva emblems are placed in woods, or wilds, this ceremony is used: (it is perhaps nearly synonymous with witchery).

21.) Siva rātu—the special commemoration of Śiva's swallowing poison, in the cūrma avatāram of Vishnu: commemorated on the 14th lunar day of the dark half of the month Māgha (July) in the night time.

22.) Gōpadma vrata calpa—see No. 1380—7).23.) Lacsha varrti vrata, ibid: 11).

28.) Sóma vára vrata udyápanam. Close of the ceremony, see; No. 1383—1.)

29.) Dasa p'hala vrata—Supra 11.)

All the vratas are understood to be for ishtasiddhi, desirables; but this term has the four-fold, and extensive meaning of virtue, property, pleasure, beatification. Hence the desires are as the mind of the votary is disposed.

To this book is appended the Sringára and *váirágya satacam*s of the work of Bhartrihari: wanting the niti satacam: for other copies of which see the heading Miscellaneous, under various letters.

The entire book is of medium length; somewhat thick, touched by insects at the beginning only.

8. No. 1385. Váishnava-Dherma from the Garuda puránam—incomplete from the 1st to the 11th adhyáya so far right: from the 20th to 24th adhyáya, right, the 25th adhyáya incomplete; and the rest wanting.

The múlam, or original, appears to be wanting, and only a Canarese tíca remains.

Bhagavata máhátmyam, on the causes of obtaining mósha or liberation; to wit, the observances of the Váishnava system.

Aditi p'raja máhátmyam, on the merit of entertaining guests—giving food to way-faring men.

Sadúchárya máhátmyam, on the benefit of imitating the example of good men.

On the merit of constructing Váishnava temples, tanks, &c. as a means of obtaining beatification.

Tulasi archana máhátmyam, merit or excellency of offering sweet basil. Merit of doing any service, as a charity, in a Váishnava temple.

Merit of giving rice and milk-curd, to ten or more Bráhmans, in a temple daily.

The merits of chants of the Váishnava kind in a temple, as very pleasing to Vishnu, and the way to beatification.

These, and other modes of dhermam are contained in the book. Garuda narrated the same to Marīchi rishi: leaves 1—6 and 94—131—7 to 93 wanting.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

9. No. 1427. Dhana p'hala vrata, ślōcas complete, from the scānda puranam.

A ceremony directed to the sun, on bhānu vāram (Sunday), the bright half of Māgha month (if then homage be paid to the sun by this vrata, the result will be the accomplishment of ishtha siddhi, under the four-fold division of dherma, art'ha, kāma, mōcsha—see No. 1384—29).

5 Leaves 29—33 complete: but taken out from some other book. It is of medium length, and in good order.

- 5.) Lacsha pradacshina vrata calpam, benefit of rolling the body on the ground, around a temple, a hundred thousand times.

Kṛishna told Yuddhist'hira that if the aforesaid ceremonies be performed, both men and women will obtain the pardon of their sins.

XXIV. MISCELLANEOUS.

I. No. 994. Eight subjects.

1.) Brahmōpanishada, supplement to the Vēdas, complete on 4 leaves. Para Brahm is the first cause of creation.

2.) Kāwalya upanishada, form of the Vēda mantra, 4 leaves complete.

They who obtain full liberation are not again born: praise of beatification.

3.) Jāpālyā upanishada; mantras, and ślōcas, complete 7 leaves.

Praise of Para Brahm, and of tātva gnānam or true wisdom.

4.) Atma bodha prakaranam, ślōcas complete, on 8 leaves, ascribed to Sancarā Bhagavat padichārya, a disciple of Sancarācharya: on the divine, and human soul:

5.) Krishna ashtótttram sata stótra.

108 stanzas, or slócas, complete, on 5 leaves.

Praise of Krishna by 108 names : said to have been given to Bhúmi dévi (the earth goddess) by Adi sésnan (the old serpent.)

6.) Véda pustacam, mantras, on 35 leaves, incomplete ; from the yajur védam, meaning not known.7.) Ashtapati, slócas, incomplete—10 leaves.

By Jaya dévi cavi.

Otherwise known as the Gita Govinda, translated by Sir W. Jones ; this is a fragment.

8.) Bála Rámáyana, slócas, complete.

By Valmíci, epitome for schools, 19 leaves, in all 92 leaves.

The book is of medium size, slightly gnawed at one end, otherwise in good order.

2. No. 1293. Fragments.

2 Leaves, one containing the mantra for a fire-offering ; the other in Canarese, matter referring to the vedánta, and asceticism : leaves 41—88 and 91—100, a list of words beginning with Tem, a quiver for arrows, and others following, alphabetically ; Sanscrit, with the meaning in Canarese.

On the 99th leaf a little Grant'ha letter, with Canarese language, same subject. The book was taken out from those in the Grant'ha character.

The book is medium size, old, and somewhat damaged.

3. No. 1302. Various matters.

Tadhíyarádhana phala, the benefit of feeding Vaishnava devotees, literally worship of Vishnu ; tad or that, being used to designate Vishnu, or ens, that which is ; slócas, of some of which the meaning in Telugu is given.)

Some matter on the chit, achit, isvara.

This is understood to be what is sometimes designated tatva treya, triple verity.

Chit, pure ether, incorruptible, immortal.

Achit, corruptible, without immortality.

Isvara, deity, comprehending the other two.

The scheme of deity is Vaishnava.

Some slócas having reference to Ráma.

Stanzas concerning Vishnu, in the Canarese language. By Purandhaca Vittala dasa.

A description of Krishna and of the Gópis seeking for him; with some stanzas from the Gajendra móssha, a part of the Bhágavatam.

Some slócas from the Bála Rámáyanan, others from the 3rd sarga of the Raghuwamsa.

Specimens of declining nouns. 39 leaves, some strung upside down, all of them fragments, and only of use to fill up other copies.

N. B.—The book would be of use in the work of collating the works in the Telugu letter, much being of that kind.

It is of medium length, thin, damaged at the ends.

4. No. 1355. A bundle of fragments.

1 leaf injured, Váishnava, on the acquirement of knowledge, and the way to beatification. Leaf 1—7, Garuda bijácshara mantrá, slócas, with prose, to get desires, health, &c., and against venomous bites.

Also Garuda kavacham, spell for protection against snakes.

3 leaves, drávida prabandam, the Palándu and other stanzas, Tamil language, but Canarese letter.

Leaf 1—10, Párvana sráddha krama, verses from the Védas, with slócas, on the mode of fire-offerings, and funereal offerings.

7 leaves—further matter on funereal ceremonies; defective at beginning and ending.

2 leaves—charana slócas—record of the precise time of any one's decease, as to year, month, solar and lunar day. Tamil language, 99 leaves, that is 1—64 and 73—106; but wanting 10, 33, 90.

On the rahasya-treya, mystical triplicity.

Tatva treya, triple verity.

Theological; as to the nature of God, and relation of the human soul, to God, and matter; means of acquiring beatification.

Divided into five surúpas; nature, or form—Sri vachana búshana; Artha panchaca; Púrvachárya anukramanica; Rahasya retna vali; Mantra-retna vali, each one again divisible into five parts: Váishnava divinity.

Sanskrit—4 leaves, indicating the twelve places of the body on which Váishnavas put the úrdhva or náma; how to mark them, the benefit of so doing: some make only three, one on each arm, one on the breast—this work states the so doing to be insufficient, and to be sin.

1 leaf Mukunda málu, Vishnu's garland, 5 slócas incomplete.

By Kulā sec'hara 'Aluvār. Tamil language.

22 leaves, upadésa rétna mála, from the Prabandás—translation from the Védas; in all 157 leaves, not of equal length.

The book is rather long and thick, old, injured.

5. No. 1366. Four tracts.

1.) Pancha báudica saríra tatva.

On the five elementary principles of the human body, left incomplete as to the application.

2.) Hari púja, homage to Vishnu, according to the Mádhva system; and pit'ha púja, homage to the pedestal, or seat of the image of Vishnu.

Also Vishnu manassu púja, mental homage to Vishnu; this last only has a tica in Canarese.

3.) Kálámrita slócas, astrological, on special times, as on the first menstruation, the good nacshétras. Also on marriage, the good times for it, times favorable to friendship, or alliance, or the like.

4.) Táratamya sangraha, Nagari letter.

On various births, as of the seven rishis, of the fourteen Manus; of the eight vasus (chief of pitrus), of the six vitals; to wit, eyes, ears, nose, mouth, skin, and interior, including wind. On the eight guardians of points. On things born of eggs: including insects proceeding from hairs of the body. On beings born from a womb. Details on those points, but left incomplete. Leaf 1—55 in regular order; 13 of them in Nágarí letter, being this last article, 4 with some blank leaves.

The book is short, and thick, a little gnawed at the corners.

6. No. 1374. Seven pieces.

1.) Vishnu púja vidhanam; mantras, slócas incomplete. Some extracts from the Védas, as to daily formulas, used with motions of the fingers and other bodily members.

Subject, homage to Vishnu.

2.) Vignésvara cavacha stotra—slócas complete, praise of Ganesa from feet to head, for protection.

3.) Vencatésvara sahasranáma.

By Ananta tirt'hácharya. Praise of Vishnu at Tripeti, by 1008 names, mantra form.

4.) Asot'ha Náráyana stotra, slócas complete. From the Brahmánda puránam, Brahma told it to Náráyana.

The figure of a serpent is cut on a stone, and this stone fixed at the foot of an arasu (aspen) tree ; men and women by walking round this tree, keeping it on the right, and repeating the prescribed mantras, will obtain children, the favor of Vishnu and his paradise.

5.) Brahma Yagnyam, mantras, complete, Vāishnava in kind ; a sitting on grass in honor of pitrus, or ancestors : also, homage to some rishis. At the end 5 or 6 ślocas containing praise of the earth goddess, of the dwarf avatāra, of Vishnu, and praise of the god of wind ; with mantras to Vishnu, used with motions of fingers and other members : so far 92 leaves, in regular order.

6.) Bālu Rāmāyanam ślocas, complete on 6 leaves.

7.) Sūrya namascāra mantra ślocas, homage to the sun—mantras, mixed. 8 Leaves complete. In all 106 leaves.

The book is of medium size and in good order.

7. No. 1375. Four tracts.

1.) Mahimna stotra, 38 ślocas, complete.

Nāgari letter. The title may mean praise of the glory, or praise by Mahima. Subject, on three upper worlds, 1st the Brahma lōca, 2nd the Vishnu lōca, 3rd the Siva lōca ; and this Siva is head of all.

He is the cause of creation, of preservation, and of destruction ; on these grounds Siva is specially praised.

2.) Siddha sarasvati stotra, Canarese letter, ślocas 10—43, panegyric on matters pertaining to Sarasvati.

By Prithvitadhara rāja, various praise of Sarasvati, 5 leaves.

3.) Siva pūja krāma ; dandacam, or long measured chant, also with ślocas.

The mode of ritual homage to Siva ; and also a statement of the results or benefits ; incomplete, on 6 leaves. This pūja is made with the use of leaves of the bilva, a tree sacred to Siva, its trefoils are said to represent the satvica, rājasa, and tāmāsa, gunas, but probably have a higher reference. This, and the following are in Canarese letter.

4.) Nava devatā avāhanam ; mantras and sanscrit prose, 5 leaves, incomplete.

Mode of fire offering to invoke the presence of the nine planets, or their regents.

The book is somewhat long, or of medium length, and thin, slightly damaged.

8. No. 1382. Three tracts.

- 1.) Vara Mohana tarangini this one is in the Canarese language; 561 padyas incomplete. From the 1st to 10th sandhi regular.

Description of Krishna, with his story; account of Lacshmi—birth of Manmata, his attack on Siva in a state of penance. Burnt to ashes by Siva's frontlet eye, the grief of Rati his consort.

The rest wanting, 51 leaves.

- 2.) Vinayaca vrata calpam, slokas, mantras complete. Benefit of the mode of homage rendered to Ganesa, on the 14th lunar day of the bright half lunation, in the Bhadra pada month.
- 3.) Aapasanam; mantras from the yajur veda, incomplete.

A pot is filled with chaff, diagrams are marked on it by sacred grass, mantras uttered, the whole burnt as a homam. In all 60 leaves.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, touched by insects; the last piece has leaves shorter, and more injured than the rest.

9. No. 1409. Three subjects.

- 1.) In the style of the vedas, in short sentences, treating of the wisdom and good disposition of Vishnu, by extracts taken from the vedas; partly understood, partly not so: 15 leaves.
- 2.) Pancha karana vartti, on the five vital airs (or winds) supposed to reside in the different parts of the human body; herein specified, with the name of each vital air, 3 leaves.
- 3.) Sancranti lacshanam. It contains mantras used at the time of the winter solstice, the macara-sancranti, 8 leaves, incomplete.

(The three pieces are in balband letter, which from its affinity might perhaps be ranked with the nagari.)

The leaves differ in length, and the book is slightly injured.

10. No. 1410. Four subjects.

- 1.) Sandhyá vandanam; mantras, complete.

Prayers recited at morning, noon, and evening, by Vaishnavas.

The book explains the need of these to be, that, in the morning, racshasas (evil beings) impede the rising of the sun, trying to stop it; when the mantra as an arrow flies by way of the sun, and discomfits them; so at noon the said beings try to lay hold on the sun, till the argha and mantra send them away; and at evening the like efforts are repeated, &c. (So that mantras rule the heavens, as well as the gods.)

- 2.) Vishnu stótram, Canarese language, with an explanation, incomplete, on 23 leaves.

Vishnu is lord of the universe, also the eternal; if he be praised, beatitude will be obtained.

- 3.) Gópicá gíta ; slócas.

1 Adhyáya complete—Praise of Krishna, as if uttered by the cowherdresses, with whom, in early life, he associated—3 leaves.

- 4.) Anga nyása karanyása. The mantras used in the early morning, with certain motions of the fingers by Brahmans; touching also various parts of their bodies—15 leaves incomplete.

The book is of medium size, and somewhat damaged.

11. No. 1419. Three subjects.

- 1.) Mahópanishada, the great supplement.

Brahma to Naréda, slócas.

The 1st adhyáya is wanting, 2—6 complete.

Praise of jitandheya, or one who conquers the senses. If in making fire-offerings the person officiating receive money in compensation it is an evil gift; and transfers the punishment of the sin sought to be expiated from the culprit to the said officiating Brahman, leaf 40—75.

- 2.) Padma puránam, the Pátala cándam; slócas, the 4th adhyáyam complete.

Panegyric on the removal of sin. To obtain that removal Vishnu must be worshipped. Vishnu's forbearance extends to one hundred faults; not beyond. Brahma told this to Bali chacraverti: leaf 79—88.

- 3.) Gayatri hrúdayam, complete, 10 leaves, told by Brahma. The mantras used in the early morning, at noon, and in the evening.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, in good order.

12. No. 1435. Various small pieces, with comments.

Much of the matter appears to be of a jangama kind; beginning from conception in the womb, to the attainment of beatification.

- 1.) Smara tatva pracásica, a comment on a piece entitled smara tatva, the comment by Révanárádhyá.

The smara tatva, or original, in five slócas only, follows. This is by Viranaradhyar, both are complete. It is somewhat difficult to describe a production which gives a religious turn to what western ideas consider indelicate or obscene: to wit—

Panegyrics on the splendid nature of Manmata the god of love. On the sucla and sonita, or semen virile, and the blood, so deemed, of the female sex. If the sucla prevail a man will be born, if the sonita a female, if both are equal an hermaphrodite. Recipe to restore lost virility. Five kinds of rati (turpiter.)

- 2.) Siva rahasya pancha retna, five jewels (i. e. ślocas) by Viranāradhyar, on the Sāiva mystery. This relates to the Sāiva emblem, as to the cause of creation; with the Sāiva tatva pracāsica, a comment by the same.

Panegyric of the said emblem. 13 leaves.

- 3.) Sruti sarapancha retna, 5 ślocas by the same.

Sruti ar'ha pracāsa by the same, a comment complete, contains ślocas and prose matter from the Vēdas. It is endeavoured to be shewn that by all the Vēdas, Siva, (or his emblem) is the Paran, the alone heavenly one: the cause of creation, leaf 51—110 wanting the 69th.

- 4.) Tantra sara pancha retnam.

By the same.

Tantra sara pracāsica, a comment on the other, by the same.

The subject relates to the discipline of a yogi, or strict ascetic. He may be a householder, not necessarily a sannyāsi, or one wholly relinquishing all family and secular cares: 29 leaves.

- 5.) Taraca pancha retnam, and Taraca dipica, original, and comment by the same.

The list of the 27 lunar asterisms in the usual order tārāvali, with a Sāiva cast given to the matter.

The book is of medium length, and somewhat thick, injured by insects, and a little gnawed at one end.

13. No. 1448. A confused mass of matters, 16 leaves on the twofold nature of mantras, and ritual homage to Vishnu, the mental meditation and the outward ceremony. This relates to the pancha ratram. There is also a statement of the appropriate tunes and musical instruments, on festival days appropriated to adi seshan, Garuda, the senātīpatī, Brahmā, Indra, and the other guardians of celestial points, of like reference.

3 leaves Gran'ha letter, Canarese language, containing house accounts, and some details of the five gavyas, or products from a cow.

Astrology, mode of finding out the birth asterism from the name of the enquirer ; when the date of birth, and the lunar asterism are unknown.

(This must be a device to deceive.)

On the twenty-seven lunar asterisms, and twelve zodiacal signs ; how distributed, so as to coincide with each other.

The lords (or planets ruling) the zodiacal signs : incomplete.

14 leaves—on the páncha rátram.

On hoisting the flag, beating the great drum, calling together Indra and other deities, &c.

3 leaves 10th padalam or section, from the prayóga mani málaca, on the mode of fire-offering and other matters.

Mode of purifying a house, from the 38th adhyaya. On the tunes and instruments used in Váishnavu worship.

Brahma tells Vishnu various matters about fire-offerings, and details of the páncha rátram.

The matters connected with this system are multiform ; but in confused order. The only use of the book, as it now is, would be to compare it with other defective books of the Páncha rátram ; and possibly to supply these deficiencies. The leaves of this book are of different lengths, and in different characters, Canãrese and Grãnthã. As a whole it is rather long, thick, old, in pretty good order.

14. No. 1451. Three subjects.

1.) Páncha rátra púja vidhãnam, slócas and mantras, incomplete.

The ancurápanam, or sowing seeds and offering them to Vishnu. Before doing so the great drum is beaten, and the Brahmans repeat their mantras ; the said beating continues for one muhúrtam, then the grains are sown, &c. 46 leaves.

2.) Chãndrôdaya varu nãma, poetical description of moon rising, 19 slócas.

Darkness then disappears—the moon flower (kivaláiyam) opens its petals, the sea reflects rays from its waves ; women become amorous ; 5 leaves, Grãnthã letter.

3.) Garuda panchasata, should be 50 slócas ; but incomplete.

By Védantãchãryu.

When sectarial enemies sent a large serpent, Pãmpãsidi, to destroy Védantãchãrya, he addressed these slócas to Garuda, the kite of Vishnu, which came and carried off the snake : 11 leaves, in all 62.

The book is long, of medium thickness, slightly damaged.

15. No. 1463. Bundle of leaves.

Mantras of the Jāina system, slocas, incomplete, some Canarese prose; the upanāina, and vivāha mantras.

Some slocas containing praise of Siva.

Some medical matters, in Canarese prose.

Afterwards incoherent matters, one leaf, or half a leaf, and so on: in all 146 leaves. Of no use save to collate them with defective books.

The leaves are of different lengths and ages, more or less damaged.

16. No. 1482. A variety of forms of homage.

The mode of homage to the sun; with the one thousand names of the sun.

Tricha kalpa, relating to a purifying the elements of the body, before engaging in any ritual service.

The offering water, poured out with both hands to the sun.

Rāma stotra—praise of Rāma by 1008 names.

Nārāyana hrūdayam, and Lacshmi hrūdayam, two spells taken from a book called A'harvana rahasyam, or mystery of magic.

Aditya hrūdayam, heart of the sun; Agastya revealed it to Rāma, who thereby conquered Rāvana—from the yuddha cāndam of the Rāmāyanam: sūrya Narayana cavachā-stotra, praise, with appeal for protection, to Vishnu, as seated in the sūrya mandala, or region of the sun.

Asvatt'hi stotra, praise of the arasu (aspen) tree.

A nimb, or veppa sapling is brought near to it on Mondays by women, and carried round with this chant to procure offspring.

Purusha sūcti, or hymn from the yajur vēda, relating to Vishnu.

Nārāyana upanishada, a vēda supplement.

Sri sūcti, a hymn from the vēda; it relates to Lacshmi.

Some mantras, or prayers, from the vēdās.

Krishna stotra, praise of Krishna.

Nārāyana stotra, praise of Vishnu.

Gajendra mocsham, the liberation of an elephant from a crocodile (allegory), from the 1st ādhyāya 8th book of the Bhāgavatam.

Ganga sahasranama, praise of the Ganges goddess, by 1008 names.

154 leaves, not all numbered, 17 leaves are a little shorter than the rest.

The book is somewhat long, and thick, in tolerable order.

17. No. 1485. Excerpta.

Leaves 23—88, the Virata parvam of the Bhāratam complete; *padya cāvya*s in the Canarese language.

Leaf 1—28 Amara nāma lingāna sāssanam, the 1st cādam complete, but strung in reversed order.

Leaf 2—14—Bāla Ramayanam, wants the 1st leaf, an epitome for schools.

39 leaves Telugu language, containing mangala stottras, or epithalamia, on Alamela, a form of Lacshmi, and on Vencata nāt'ha, or Srinivasa, a form of Vishnu as worshipped at Tripety.

Stanzas used on joyful occasions.

Some *sisā padya*s, or short lines on moral subjects.

Also some stanzas, in the Telugu language, from the yuddha cādam of the Rāmāyanam, on Vibishina finding his counsel rejected and going over to Rāma: a fragment.

Some intermediate leaves containing Telugu accounts.

The book is long, somewhat thick, old; slightly injured, uniform in appearance.

18. No. 1550. Fragments of odd leaves.

8 leaves on confectionary, Canarese.

2 „ ślōcas, the tale of Raghu of the solar line.

2 „ ślōcas, the sports of Krishna.

1 leaf on Grammar, sūtras on nouns.

2 leaves panegyric, Krishna rāja of Mysora.

2 „ hrīya mā'a, or list of roots of verbs.

2 „ praise of Rāma.

2 „ ślōcas ethical in kind.

4 „ Amaram, the 1st cādam; the hāla vōrga.

4 ,, praise of Rāma.

1 leaf Nānārt'ha retna mālica, words having various meanings.

The whole, little better than a bundle of leaves, useful to supply leaves wanting in other books.

The leaves are of different lengths, the book of medium thickness, injured by breaking.

19. No. 1551. Fragments.

8 Leaves ślocas; naśhētra p'halam, influence of the lunar asterisms: does not begin, nor end; damaged.

9 Leaves ślocas enquiry as to any thing stolen, and mode of reply.

1 Leaf (nāgari letter) ślocas. Query as to going to such a town, on such a day.

The number of words used in such an enquiry observed, and an answer thereby determined.

4 leaves Canarese letter, ślocas. A diagram containing 108 small squares, each one numbered: any enquirer is directed to touch any one of them at his pleasure; and from the number an answer affirmative, or negative to his question is given.

5 leaves (nāgari letter) ślocas only, various ethical matters.

19½. No. 1574. Subhāshita ślocas.

Extracts on various subjects, whether from the Bhartri hariyam is uncertain.

Laudatory encomiums of learning, liberality, courage, or bravery; vāni, or eloquence, corn, grain, patience, or clemency. There are mingled with these, śringāra and nīti, or amorous and ethical; corresponding in all the subjects, with the abovementioned work, leaf 1—44.

The book is short, and touched by insects.

20. No. 1577. Subhāshita retna māla.

By Bartri hari. Ślocas or mūlam only.

The three satacas are complete, but strung in confused order.

1 nīti, 2 śringāra, 3 vāirāgyam, is the proper order; but in this book, 1 vāirāgyam, 2 nīti, 3 śringāra, is the order adopted; the smaller included padadhis are in regular order.

See former notices of the work.

This book is of medium length, thin, on broad talipat leaves, damaged by worms, one leaf broken, very close, small writing.

21. No. 1579. Subhāshita ślōcas, incomplete.

Description of the mode of playing with balls by both sexes : 3 ślōcas.

Other ślōcas on sringāra matters, relative to women; lēkhaca gūna varna, whether as of his own composition or that of others, the qualities of a good writer, or copyist, i. e. the hand writing neat, fair, &c.

Leaf 14—56, or 42 leaves remain.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, injured by insects.

22. No. 1626. Three subjects.

1.) Bhavishyōtra purānam, said to be taken from it, the camalāchala mahatmyam.

The 2nd and 4th adhyaayas ; ślōcas; both incomplete.

Praise of Vishnu and Nila devi, a form of Lācshmi. 26 leaves.

3.) Fragment of an almanac—incomplete ; the year not found—prose, 28 leaves.

It contains ti'hi, vāram, nacshētra, yōgam, nāmakarana, tyajya bad hours, rahukāla bad time : in all 61 leaves.

The book is of medium thickness, the leaves not of equal lengths, somewhat injured.

23. No. 1630. This book is made up by a heterogeneous mixture of palm and talipat leaves, of very different lengths and sizes, put together in a hasty and careless manner, as if making up a tail piece of fragments : of no use, except to fill up other defective books—75 leaves.

Among the contents are, amatory verses ; ślōcas from the Amāram, a lexicon ; on astrology ; a commentary on amatory verses, in Canarese ; description of cunkuma—spot on the forehead of women ; medical matters ; some ślōcas on jāina subjects, &c. &c.

In various conditions ; some leaves damaged.

24. No. 1635. Subhāshita ślōcas.

By Bharīri hari yōgi.

Two copies ; one has the mūlam only, the other mūlam, and tica ; the latter in Canarese.

1 copy—mūlam only, the nīti and sringāra satacam are complete, the vairagya satacam incomplete.

2nd copy mūlam and tīca both incomplete.

The srīngāra satacam has 95 ślocas, wanting 5 others.

The nīti satacam wants a few ślocas at the beginning.

The vāiragya satacam, original, and comment, both complete.

The leading subjects are amorous, ethical, ascetical; according to the titles.

For minuter notices, see other copies, Grant'ha letter. The nīti relates to worldly morals; the srīngāra refers to women, and in parts, scoffs at them; the vāiragya is on entirely renouncing all worldly attachments.

1st Copy leaf 1—13.

2nd Copy „ 1—112, but 33—35 are wanting.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

25. No. 1644. Subhāshita retna vali.

By Bartri hari, ślocas.

Two copies. 1st copy contains 1 nīti, 2 *srīngāra satacam*s; with a tīca in the Canarese language, leaf 1—77.

2nd Copy has only the srīngāra satacam, the mūlam without comment: leaf 1—12.

The whole book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, a little injured.

26. No. 1651. Varieties.

1.) leaf 11—15. Gayatri hrudayam; veda, ślocas, and prose mingled. Origin of the Gayatri; description of its nature, or form. Its benefit (p'halam) and the like. A discourse between Brahma and Yāgyavalkya, complete.

One leaf contains the proper characteristics of a Brahman, and Muni. This portion is in Telugu letter.

2.) leaf 36—46 Grant'ha letter.

Gayatri hrudayam, the same as the foregoing.

Gayatri cavacham, the charm with stōtra; signs with fingers, and appeal for protection.

Sudarisana shadacshara, mantra and stōtram.

The six lettered Vāishnava charm, ślocas, prose complete; named after the chakra or discus.

3.) Leaf 38—41. Sudarisana stōtra, Grant'ha letter. Praise of the discus. By Védantācharya, the leader of the vādagalas.

Snána krama, mode of bathing, as to the use of mantras, &c. prose, in all 21 leaves.

27. No. 1655. Varieties, some mixture of grant'ha and nágari letter.

Chaturya slócas (Grant'ha).

Facts from the Rámáyanam and Bháratam, so confused in appearance as to be self-contradictory, but the writer states it to be the story of the Rámáyanam; so that the matter must be a sort of sphinx-like riddles; needing ingenuity to find out the meaning.

Vishnu sakásranáma púja, praise of Vishnu by a thousand names: incomplete, Canarese letter.

Karnámrita, slócas (Nágari) verses pleasing to the ears; on the sports and adventures of Krishna.

The same in the Grant'ha letter.

Rája náti, in the Grant'ha letter, various matters about kings; among the rest censure, in that they do not observe their own laws; but in order to extract money act like a dévádiyál ("her ways are changeable") sometimes coaxing, sometimes angry, &c.

Sringara slócas, ornamental; it is no crime to eat the cakes, &c., offered at a Váishnava shrine.

Among the Sáivas it is deemed a fault; other matters.

Pavitra lacshanam, on the properties of a cotton bracelet worn around the wrist at the time of sacrifices and festivals.

Proper size of a pot, or vessel, to be used on various ritual occasions.

Jyótisham, or divination (nágari letter) on signs, omens, pújas on birth days of some demi-gods.

Sringara slócas; others from the Amarúkám.

Again jyótisham in Canarese and other sringara slócas.

Notes, as to the asterism of birth of Kúla séc'hara' Aluvar; in all 62 leaves, without numbers.

The book is of medium size and injured by worms—some leaves are a little shorter than others.

28. No. 2362. Nine tracts.

One leaf contains a Tamil stanza in the Grant'ha letter.

1.) Alavantár stótram—slócas with a Canarese tica, praise of one of the Aluvár, his birth, nurture, adventures, greatness; incomplete.

2.) Suprabádam ; Canarese padya cavyam.

By Cháma rája of Mysore.

Concerning Ráma—to arouse him in the morning, after sleeping at night.

The subject refers to his conquest of Rávana, and dwelling with Sita at Ayódhya.

3.) Paschama Rangha náyaca stotra.

Praise of Vishnu at Seringapatam in Mysore, Canarese prose, incomplete.

4.) Hari ashtacam, 8 slócas, with a Canarese tica—complete. Praise of Vishnu.

5.) Narasinha manguláshhtacam, 8 slócas complete, no tica.

Praise of the man-lion avatára in a rapid metre, with jayamangala often repeated.

6.) Abhíti stavam, slócas, incomplete.

Praise of Sri rangha nál'ha, a form of Vishnu at Trichinopoly.

By Védantachárya.

The manner is serious ; without the silly ornament of some of this author's writings.

7.) Sudarisana ashtacam—8 slócas, praise of the discus of Vishnu.

8.) Stanzas without names, relating to Krishna, Canarese padyas, from 1st to 3rd adhyaya, his sports as a child, and amorous adventures in youth.

9.) Vishnu cavacham with stotra, Canarese padya cavyam 28 stanzas incomplete.

Appeal to Vishnu for his protection.

The leaves are strung out of due order ; and some of them not numbered, in all 154 remain ; they seem to belong to various books. As a whole, the book is of medium length, somewhat thick, old, in good order.

XXV. MUSIC and DANCING.

1. No. 996. Bharata sastram.

The hasta adhyáyam, or chapter on motions and indications by the hands ; incomplete.

In public dancing twenty-seven different motions are stated, and explained, such as pataca, tripatáca, tarjini.

The book is short, on four talipat leaves, a little damaged.

2. No. 1587. Bharata sástram; ślócas with a Canarese tica; this last by Mallicarjuna.

Hasta adhyáyam.

Hasta lacshanam, property of the hand, is added to each of the following technical words, that is—

Dhúta—slight movement.

Vidhúta—greater or more rapid.

Upa dhúta—rapid motion.

Cambitam—finger movement.

Kujitam—slightly folding the fingers.

Akūpítam—closing the hand.

These, and various other motions with the hands and fingers.

The book is short, of medium thickness; narrow leaves, very old, and much injured by worms: 43 leaves are written: in the midst are 17 blank leaves; in all 60 leaves.

3. No. 1666. This book is prefaced by matter on musical modes, and on the tunes adapted to times and occasions—the palavi, the éca talam, &c.; the tunes are those intended for household use. There follows about one half of the Ashtapadi, 1st to 12th sarga; twelve others wanting. Praise of the 10 avatáras of Vishnu. Then a description of the amours of Krishna: the piece is otherwise known as the Gita-Govinda, by Jáya déva; and I believe is much used at rural festivals. See XI.

The book is short, of medium thickness, somewhat damaged.

XXVI. PAURANICAL.

1. No. 991. Sri Bhágavatam, ślócas; fragment of two books in the 18th purana. The 19th adhyáya of the 1st scandam is complete, and there are 7 adhyáyas of the 2nd scandam incomplete. Various traditions: matters on the four castes: Váishnava subjects: 55 leaves.

The book is of medium size; and, with the exception of being very slightly gnawed by rats, is in good order.

2. No. 1392. Bhágavatam, ślócas, the 8th scandam.

The 1st adhyáya wanting, 2nd and 3rd complete, the subject is popularly known as the Gajendra mōcsham, or liberation and beatification of an elephant, after a long struggle with a crocodile, released by Vishnu coming on his eagle vehicle. Most probably allegorical: 8 leaves only.

The book is long, and in good order.

3. No. 1411. Vishnu puránam; slócas.By Parásara to Máitreya.Part of five amsas—or books.

The 1st book has 22 adhyáyas, the 2nd book has 16 adhyáyas, the 3rd book has 18th adhyáyas, the 4th has 24 adhyáyas, the 5th has 37, only from the 12th to the 30th adhyáyas, in the midst the matter is deficient, the 6th book has 4 adhyáyas: general subjects—

Praise of Vishnu; creation by Brahma, but through Vishnu—the four ages, and other matter, in special honor of Vishnu. Translated into English, see also other notices. 260 leaves; over 206 to 230, or 24 leaves wanting.

The book is long and thick, in good order.

4. No. 1412. Vishnu puránam, slócas.By Parásara to Máitreya.In six amsas or books, complete.

The 1st has 22 adhyáyas, the 2nd 16 adhyáyas, the 3rd 18 adhyáyas, the 4th 24 adhyáyas, the 5th 37 adhyáyas, the 6th 8 adhyáyas.

Details on the mode of creation—the avatáras generally, in praise of Vishnu; and Védanta in substance: 82 leaves, neat, very small and close writing.

The book is somewhat long and thick, on broad and strong talipat leaves, in good order.

5. No. 1424. Selections of various matter from various portions of the eighteen Puránas; and some matter from the Bháratam.

Aditya puránam, on the burning of Manmata; marriage of Parvati birth of Karticeya: killing of Taracásura, by Subrahmanya, from 53rd to 56th adhyáyas, leaves 33—48: from 218—400, various matters; some as follows:

Brahmóttara puránam, the conquest of Yama by Márcandeya. O Siva's cutting off Brahmá's head: incomplete.

Padma purána, discourse of Vasishtha to Dilipa, an ancestor of Ráma: again, the conquest of Yama by Márcandeya.

Márcandeya's praise of Siva, birth of Nandikésvara. Linga puranam, the amusement of Siva in assuming the form of a sarabha, and with its beak piercing the skull of Vishnu, when the latter lay drunk with the blood of his victim, slain in the man-lion avatára, and that because of enmity between them. Scanda puranam, excellence of Paramésvara or Siva. The legend of the svarna muc'hi river. Excellence of the image at Calahasti. On Siva's dancing during the twilight the madácha bálam from the Renkuntava khandam of the scānda purānam. He also dances periodically at the time of the deluge—this from the cūrma purānam.

Bhārātam. The kirartarjuna, as found therein, complete.

Padma purānam, of which the first part is Sāiva and the second part Vāishnava.

A tale from the former part on the dacshana murti, the god of learning with the Sāivas.

Excellence of the five lettered charm. Mode of ritual homage to Siva, its excellence.

Bhāguvātam, 6th scādam, the Nārāyana verma, or cavacham, a spell complete.

These, and a few other matters.

The book is long, somewhat thick, old, and considerably injured.

6. No. 1507. Cumara sambhavam.

By Cāli dāsa, ślōcas, mulam only, and incomplete.

This is one of the maha cavyams, or classic poems: but as being grounded entirely on purānas it is placed here.

This incomplete copy contains from the birth and training of Parvati, through the account of the tapas of Siva, the episode of Manmata, to the marriage of Siva and Parvati; the rest wanting. 1st to 3rd sarga complete, 4th wanting, the 5th complete, the 6th has only 23 ślōcas; 62 leaves remain, negligently strung, in reverse order; written in a coarse schoolboy's hand writing.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, in good order.

7. No. 1517. Cumara sambhava.

By Cāli dāsa, ślōcas, the mulam only.

From the 1st to the 7th sarga complete, the 8th wants something at the end, leaf 1—24. A classic poem used in schools; on the marriage of Siva with Parvati, and birth of Subrahmanya.

The book is long and thin, on broad talipat leaves, touched by insects.

8. No. 1518. Cumara sambhava.

By Cāli dāsa, ślōcas, mulam only.

The 1st and 2nd sarga complete, the 3rd has only 13 ślōcas, the rest wanting.

Kalyāna cādam, 1st to 4th adhyāyam complete, the 5th incomplete.

Mahatmyas, or legends of Mandagin dhara hill, and of various tirīhas, or pools, known by the names of Agastya, Purāsara, Māitreya, Kanuta, Mandalya, Siva, Ganga; and the Siva puja, or ritual homage to Siva: leaf 1—60, 61 to 66 wanting, 67—81.

The book is very long, of medium thickness, injured by insects,

11. No. 1608. Sanjivini; a commentary on the Cumara sambhava.
by Kōlla chēla malli nā'ha suri (a poetical title of Pedda Bhāṭṭa, a Telugu poet) prose form: 8 sargas are complete, but the work not so.

The story of Parvati's birth and rearing; description of her—burning of Manmata; grief of Reti, down to Parvati's marriage—no more, leaf 1—94.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, touched by worms.

12. No. 1645. Padma Puranam: ślōcas.

Uttarā khandam, incomplete.

Sudarisana mahatmyam—praise of the discus of Vishnu, or thunderbolt.

Importance of putting the nāmam on the forehead; and other parts of the body.

The doctrine of the eight lettered spell; not of each syllable, but as a whole: said to have been privately told by Sivā to Parvati.

Paramāṭma surūpa nirṇayam, or description of the nature of God.

The order of the elements in the creation of the world. By the authority of Para-Brahm, Vishnu is the creator, after every yuga pralāyam or periodical deluge.

St'hitī krama, mode of preserving created beings; samhāra krama, mode of destroying them.

The whole on creation, preservation, and destruction is herein predicated of Vishnu.

Siva told the whole privately to Parvati. (Sectarial device).

34. Leaves irregularly strung.

The book is long, of medium thickness, slightly injured by breaking.

13. No. 1664. Gajendra mocsham, ślōcas, from the 8th book of the Bhāgavatam. The 4th adhyāya complete, no more.

Vishnu, on Garuda, delivered an elephant from an alligator, and gave it beatification (probably allegorical).

1 leaf Canarese language, on the story of Vicramāditya, 19 leaves.

The book is of medium length, injured by worms.

14. No. 984. Scānda purānam, ślōcas.

Siva rahasya khandam, complete.

This part is divided into six cāndams, or sections.

1. Sambhava cādam, 50 adhyāyas; on the birth, growth, and power of Subrahmanya.
2. Asura cādam, 15 adhyāyas; on the asuras coming to battle with the dēvas.
3. Vira mahēndra cādam, 7 adhyāyas; Indra, and Cumara armed go forth to war.
4. Yuddha-cādam, 35 adhyāyas; destruction of the asuras.
5. Deva cādam, 7 adhyāyas; the dēvas went to scānda giri and praised Cumara.

Dacsha cādam, 40 adhyāyas; legendary account of Siva's destroying the sacrifice of Dacsha.

251 leaves in all.

[In the antediluvian world Casyapa had two wives Diti, the mother of the dāityas, and Aditi, the mother of the dēvas. After the deluge the name of the dēvas continued; but the other word merged into asuras; designating the children of the emigration under Ashur, and Nimrod. It is high time that these dēvas and asuras should cease to be considered as superhuman beings; the asuras being very evidently the Assurs of Niveveh; and the dēvas in this book, the residents in the then warmer climate than now of Scandinavia. Mr. Layard's researches, on being properly compared with the Hindu purānas, will bring this out in open day.]

15. No. 1397. Vasishta purānam ślōcas.

Tirt'ha cándam—this contains matter relating to the pool, or lake near the foot of Cáilasa, on the table land above the Himályas, being the river or lake known by the name Manasarowa.

Parvata mahatmyam, legend of the hill i. e. Cáilasa : Siva related to Agastya the excellence of Cáilasa. If any one come to that hill beatification is assured : there can be no more pain of future births.

The 53rd adhyáyam complete, leaves 62—66 and 81—88, or twelve in all.

The book is long—a fragment taken out by copying from some other book, and recent.

LOCAL PURANAS.

16. No. 1415. Vencata giri mahatmyam, said to be from the Vámana puránam, slócas, incomplete ; 18 adhyáyas are regular.

Janaca mahá rája made an asvamédha sacrifice, when many rishis and others being present, he asked who ought to be worshipped. One present, named Vamana rishi, said, that he had seen Agastya, Pulast'hya, and other great rishis doing penance on Vencata giri ; and, on his asking them why, they said because the god of Váicant'ha (Vishnu) condescended to dwell there, and they were doing penance, with a view to beatification ; wherefore Vencata svámi is to be worshipped : leaf 77—132, or 55 leaves.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in good order.

- 16½. No. 1428. Hasta giri mahátmyam, legend of Conjeveram, said to be from the Brahmánda puránam. Narrated by Bhrigu rishi to Nareda.

Satya vrata cshétram is the name given to the plain on which the town is built. Brahma there made an asvamédha yágam. Description of Canchi patanam, its excellence ; fame of Hasti giri (elephant hill) punya culla vimánam, the shrine, the birth of Varada raja there : concerning the vega vati river ; it is a visible form of Sarasvati ; she assumed that form because of its excellencé : with some like matters, as usual in such legends.

Note—18 st'halas, or fanes, are said to be connected with the Váishnava temple there.

The book is short, rather thick, in good order.

- 16½. No. 1429. Ventaca giri mahatmyam, said to be from the Brahmánda puránam, slócas ; 10 adhyáyas, on 16 leaves ; so far right, the remainder wanting.

Dúrvasa rishi having come to the residence of Dilípa maha raja, this king asked him concerning the eight st'halas of Vishnu, not made, but self-created ; and especially begged him to discourse concerning Vencata giri (Tripety) as one of them. Dúrvasa narrated the legend of the hill, and of Srínivasa (or Vishnu) dwelling there.

The book is long, thin, old, touched by worms.

17. No. 1430. For sections 1, 2, 3, see XXIX.

Sect. 4. Cási mahatmyam, ślócas; said to be from the Vayupuránam, from the 1st to 9th adhyáyam but the 3rd, 6th, 7th wanting, on 11 leaves, incomplete.

Legend of Benares. If any one reside in Benares and bathe in the Ganges, there will be no pain of future births. The excellence of Cási and of the Ganges.

The great felicity of Visvanát'ha (a form of Siva) there.

Section 4 Sri Rangha mahatmyam; ślócas said to be from the Brahmánda puránam, 1st to 6th adhyáya, on 3 leaves, incomplete.

Legend of Seringam, near Trichinopoly.

Mahésvara narrated to Naréda an account of the fane, and its god.

Other and fuller notices elsewhere occur.

This book may be known by its being of double length, on broad talipat leaves, closely written.

18. No. 1434. Sára cshetrá mahatmyam, said to be from the Bhāvishya puranam, the madhyama khanda, or middle section.

Brahma to Naréda: from the 68th to the 72nd adhyaya, so far complete.

Sára is one of the 108 Váishnava fanes. Its excellence; glory of the god sára ná'tha.

On the Cáveri river doing homage, it obtained the gift of being greater than the Ganges. The Cáveri thereupon praised Vishnu Marcandeya, doing homage at this place, had success. Sára púshcarani, a tank, its excellence. On the Práhlada and Brahma pools, with other tales.

14 leaves. The book is long, much damaged on one edge, or side, by worms.

19. No. 1607. Karala pura mahatmyam, ślócas, said to be from the scanda puranam, from the 1st to the 13th adhyáya, complete on 31 leaves.

The kapilá river, its origin.

Kapilá mahatmyum, its excellence

Kavundini nadi, origin of a river.

The excellence of the mud, or clay of that place. The junction of those two rivers, a ghaat there for bathing.

The excellence of Sangamésvara, a form of Siva worshipped at the confluence of those two rivers.

Parasu Rama was born and did penance there.

Gautamí's penance there.

The legend of Garala puri—or poison town, specified in another notice.

The book is of medium length, thin, touched by insects.

20. No. 1676. Paschama sriranga mahátmyam, said to be from the cshétra khandam of the Brahmánda puránam; slócas, with a Canarese tica, complete; 1st to 5th adhyáya. Paramésvara to Náreda.

If any one die at that shrine he will be beatified.

The excellence of the Cáveri river there. On its banks are Gautama cshétra, the hermitage of Gautama, with Srinivasa cshetram and others, where the triple weapon bearer, the possessor of the six good qualities, Vishnu, condescended to dwell: 266 leaves.

The book is of medium length, double thick, with a wooden peg; recent in appearance, but much wormeaten.

21. No. 1660. Three local legends.

- 1.) Vencata giri mahátmyam, from the cshétra khandam of the Brahmánda puránam; 1st to 9th asvásam, so far complete, the rest wanting: slócas, with a tica in Canarese.

A description of Váicant'ha the paradise of Vishnu; the dimensions of Vencata giri defined; the coming of Vishnu to dwell there.

Account of a chóla king who desired a son, and, in a dream, was assured of one being born to him.

A son was born, who became sovereign of the countries around, or near this hill.

Whosoever dies at Vencata giri, even as low down in the scale of being as an insect, to such a being there will be no future pain of birth or transmigration. These and many other matters, as usual in st'hala puranas, or local legends.

Náreda narrated the same to Burigu.

1st and 15th leaves wanting, otherwise from leaf 2 to 33.

- 2.) Hastu giri mahátmyam, legend of Conjeveram. 1st to 18th asvásam complete, slócas with a Canarese tica.

Brahma did sacrifice on the banks of the Végavati river. Sarasvati came, in the form of a river, and destroyed the sacrifice. Many sheep were being sacrificed, and some observers mocked : whereupon Brahma took the fat of the cawl, and, meditating on Vishnu, poured this on the sacrifice.

From the great flame which it caused Vishnu as Varada rája appeared, fully armed as a warrior and devouring the said fat with his teeth : with connected matters : such as,

Ava mṛtá snanam : closing ceremony after a sacrifice : washing the body, taking the ashes remaining from the sacrifice, and putting some on the bodies of attendants, then returning to their homes. And,

The mode of homage to Varada rája after the finishing the above sacrifice ; brief : 2) is on 51 leaves. —

3.) Paschamá rangha máhatnyam.

1st to 4th asvásam, so far only ; the rest wanting, ślócas, with a Canarese tica.

Gáutama's hermitage on the river bank, and excellence of the place ; the appearance of the vimánam, or shrine of Sri rangha—the excellence of the temple : the rule of its god. Siva to Náreda—25 leaves : in all 115.

The book is long, somewhat thick, on broad talipat leaves, touched by insects : in the midst some leaves are broken, only half remaining.

XXVII. POLEMICAL.

1. No. 1408. Two tracts.

1.) Adváita váidica siddhantá sangraha : prose, incomplete.

By Narasinha cavi.

This tract opposes the popular notion that Brahma, Vishnu, and Siva are three distinct, and jarring personages ; and maintains that there is one Para Brahm, who unites the three in the offices of Creation, Preservation, and Destruction : 12 leaves.

2.) Jaganát'havijayam, the triumph of Jaganát'ha, otherwise termed pancha pashāncam vyakyanam.

By Rudrá bháttá cavi.

This is a laboured attempt to turn fifty-six special names of Vishnu, so as to make them designate Siva, ex : gr : vi, the atmosphere, shnu, dwelling in ; thence “ dwelling in the air,” an appellation of Siva ; and so on ; but the endeavour fails in five names, hence termed stones (g. d. cruces) : thus Na in Naráyana cannot be turned to a Sáiva sense ; though there is a report that some modern polemic, from Mysore, boasts of doing what Sancaráchárya attempted, but failed to accomplish : 20 leaves incomplete.

(My own derivation of Vishnu may be, at least as good as the above ; that is :

Vi intensitive particle, corresponding to ha in Hebrew, ish, Hebrew for man : nu—Nuh or Noah (sicut) “ the man Noah : ” whosoever has attended to the teppa, and vasanta festivals among Váishnavas, can have little doubt that such is the true derivation ; even as Ráma, without meaning in Sanscrit, denotes high, lofty, eminent, in Hebrew.)

The book is of medium size—1) is a little gnawed, 2) in good order.

2. No. 1450. Yétindra mata dípica.

By Srinivásácháryá, prose, complete, 62 leaves.

On the Váishnava view of the Védánta system.

1 leaf mangala stotra—or recommendatory preface.

Terms used in native logic are employed, with the addition of nirupana description, and avataram, which means here, simply birth, existence ; with the addition of these two words the divisions of the work are, pratyacsha, anumána, abda, prakriti, kála, nitya vibhitti, jíva, Isvara, dravya, avivápti, ádivyápti, asambhavam.

The first two are either logical or other technical terms, applied to a theological system. The three last are metaphysical as to character of other parts, i. e. wanting the quality possessed by another of the same species, or possessing some quality additional to those common to the same species, or an entire defect of the quality under consideration. Pramánam and prameyam, Praeruti and nitya vibhúti. These are vibhúgam, different, distinct. Bodies that are produced by pramánam and praerúti material, subject to sorrow : such as are produced by prameya and praerúti, are celestial, gods ; spiritual, not physical.

Besides these matters, the sáiva system is stated by púrva pacsham, or objection, and then confuted by siddhantam or reply. And Naráyana—to whom various epithets or attributes are applied—is asserted to be the primary cause of creation, and also of destruction.

The book is by consequence, ultra Váishnava ; and in result, monotheistic. It is recondite ; but would seem to be worth translating.

The book is of medium size, and in tolerable order.

3. No. 1526. Visva guná darisam, a kaléidoscope ; stanzas, and prose, with much Telugu letter.

By Vencatáchárya.

This writer exercises his ingenuity by first abusing, then praising, various gods and places: with what object other than to shew his own skill is not apparent; except as a masked battery against the Tengalas.

1. Surya—ninda stuti—abuse and praise.
2. Bhadraca s'halu Nārāyaṇa „
3. Ayodhya „
4. Cāsi cshētra „
5. Gurjara desa „
6. Carnataka—desa „
7. Cānci „
8. Chōla desa „
9. Pandya desa, and other places „
10. Madhva matam „
11. The five castes, including Pariars „
12. The Cōmties, or merchants „

Also the astrological Brahmans, and other classes. All these are first abused, and then praised.

It seems that the author belonged to the Vadugala sect of Vāishnavas; and he gives the Tengalas abuse, but no praise; leaving his sting with them: leaf 1—22 complete.

The book is long, and thin, touched by insects.

4. No. 2345. Bich'hātana cavya vidhi; 21 ślocas, incomplete.

The writer asserts that all other gods pay homage to Siva. He is superior to them all, and on these grounds Siva is addressed and lauded. The author then advises all the people of the world, those who are bich'hātanas (mendicants) and go a begging to other gods, warning them not to do so: but to look for benefits to Siva alone.

Example:

“When there is a good milk-cow in the house, why should the dweller in it, for the sake of getting milk, go all round about trying to milk a number of asses.”

8 leaves written, 6 blank.

The book is of medium length, and very much worm eaten.

XXVIII. RITUAL.

1. No. 983. Sadāchāra smṛiti.

By Ananta tirt'hāchārya: ślocas.

Only the 4th adhyāya.

On the morning exercises by Brahmans of a devotional kind, directed to Vishnu: by which, and similar matters, beatification (dicitur) will be secured: leaves 62—69.

The book is short, the leaves not homogeneous.

2. No. 1372. Srāddha prayōgam : māntras, and Sanscrit prose, complete.

The practice is that of the Smartas.

The annual commemoration of the death of an ancestor, on the return of the same lunar tithi.

Some time previously three Brahmans are told of the return of the anniversary.

On their coming to the house their feet are washed with water, mingled with cowdung and butter-oil. After these have washed, the water, &c. is drunk by the family. The process, accompanied by mantras, then goes on.

A placing the sacrificial offerings around and causing the Brahmans to eat them, with spells accompanying. While they eat, the giver of the food is placed near, so that the mantras which they repeat may be heard by him. No sudras are allowed to be near, and the doors are closed against such. After this eating ceremony a present of money is given to the Brahmans and they are dismissed.

The book is of medium length, thin, very much damaged by worms.

3. No. 1399. Srāddha prayōgam, mantras, with Sanscrit prose as tīca, incomplete.

While eating the sacrificial food, as above, certain verses of the vēdas are read, and the tantra, or connected ritual by motions of hands, gestures, &c. is specified ; 74 leaves, without numbers.

The book is long, the leaves are destroyed at one end by worms.

4. No. 1407. 'Aba stambha grahyam.

By Aba stamba rishi : prose complete.

It contains rules and regulations as to the proper observances in marriages, and other matters of an auspicious kind : with others applicable to serious or mournful occasions. See Grant'ha letter.

The book is of medium length, and in good order.

5. No. 1423. Vāishṇava rites.

Extracts from Vēdas with slocas complete. Consecration of kalasas : many small vessels are filled with water, which is then exorcised by mantras and the water used to bathe the image, and in other lustrations.

Pānyahāvasana krama, water is poured into a vessel placed on rice, the mouth covered by a mango fruit, mantras from the vēdas are recited. The water is used for sprinklings, as holy water.

Fire offering to the nine planets.

* A ring of grass put on one finger, then the anga and kara nyāsa, signs with members and hand. After all this follows the mode, or order of hoisting the flag.

The order of the ten days festival observances, with processions.

The splendor of the car-drawing festival; a frequently pouring butter-oil over the image while on the car.

On the avarōhana, or faking down the festival flag, dismissing people to their homes; and the samprocshana or washing the temple precincts, 108 leaves.

At the end Canarese prose, some medical matters, and various stotras or hymns: 12 leaves: in all 115 leaves.

The book is of medium size, and slightly injured.

6. No. 1449. Vāicanasam, extracted from the Ananta samhita of Vāicana by Angīrasa, containing ślocas, verses from vēdas, prose.

Pit'hārchana, the altar service.

There are two kinds of service.

1st. Atmar'ha bhagavārādhana, that which is rendered to Vishnu from the inmost soul.

2nd. Para art'ha bhagavārādhana, external homage, in a temple; of the two, the first one is the best.

The dōsha, or fault in either; such as looking at, or touching an image that is served by sudras; such as Pandarams, and others.

Panegyrics of Sita, Rāma, Krishna.

The punyahāvāsanam, as performed in the temple of Venocatésvara at Tripoty.

Garudārchana, service to Garuda, and some other matters pertaining to public processions.

At the end, seven leaves in Nāgari letter.

The punyahāvāsanam, or consecration of water, with use of mantras: 64 leaves.

The book is of medium size, old, slightly damaged; there appears to be leaves from four different books.

7. No. 1455. Three subjects.

1.) Sarasvati puja vidhanam.

4 leaves, ślocas only, Grant'ha lip'hi.

One śloca is given to each one of the different kinds of offerings, usually rendered to this goddess. The arghya, pouring out water; offering a compound of sugar, honey, plantain fruits, cocoanut kernel.

2.) Bhagavat pūja vidhānam, ślocas, incomplete, Canarese letter.

Service to Viṣṇū, technically termed arghyam, pādyam, āchamaniyam, gandam, ach'hatvi, flowers, garment, fan, sacred thread: to each one a distich.

3.) from the linga purānam, nāgari letter, by Hari tālicā, ślocas, complete.

On the third day in the moon's increase in Bhadra pada month, on the first of the Vinayaca chāturdhi: if women fast, and form a mud lingam, first worshipping it, and then casting it into a river, they will receive great happiness, or a good reward; 7 leaves, Siva told this to Parvati.

Five loose leaves in Canarese letter, on the motions of hands and fingers, when repeating the Gayatri.

The book is long, but the leaves of different lengths, thin, injured.

8. No. 1548. Two subjects or sections.

Sect. 2—see III. 2.

Sect. 1 kāla vidhāna padadhi; ślocas, incomplete.

Jata carmam, suitable, or not suitable time for the ceremony after the birth of a child.

Lekha homam, fire-offering on beginning to learn to write.

Madhu barkha homam, a mixture of butter-oil, honey, plantain pulp, sugar, made and then poured on a sacrificial fire.

Garbhādana kāla nirnayam, a discrimination of the proper time for bridegroom and bride to come together; bad time rejected.

Aūbāsana kāla nirnayam putting on a ring of grass, then making a fire-offering.

In reply to the question, if the first doing so should be morning or evening? answer, the evening.

Kāla tit'hi prayaschita—an expiation if a long time have elapsed without performing a ceremony that was needful.

Vāisva dēva; before eating, Brahmans make a handful of rice into a ball, and give it to crows.

Śṭhāli bhaga ishti—after marriage, on the first day after the full moon, a fire-offering is made, and then the pair enter on their future dwelling.

Leaves 1—24, so far complete.

The entire book is long, thin, old, damaged by worms and breaking.

9. No. 1641. Pancha rātram, ritual matter, taken from that system, ślokas and prose.

—Mode of beating the great drum at festivals, and at the end of the procession ; advantage of the practice.

—Offering of flowers on the last day of the festival.

—Dismissing Indra, and other celestials, from their attendance ; and also sending the people away : in ślokas, with a Teluga tīca.

The preceding relates to the practice at Tripoty.

On fire-offerings in temples, according to general practice. Sancalpan, or record as to the exact time of performing the punyavāsanam, consecration or lustration of a temple ; verses extracted from the vēdas. Sancalpan or record of the time of having bathed in the Ganges.

—Mode of fixing a large vessel with its accompaniments for the preparation of holy water, and other matter : on 84 leaves.

The book is labelled Jinendra pratishṭha, consecration of a Jina god, which appears to be incorrect. The book is of medium size, old, damaged by worms, and otherwise.

10. No. 1695. Pāncha rātram, ślokas.

By Kapinjala : incomplete.

The 1st to 7th adhyaṃyam regular, the 8th defective, 24 leaves in all.

—Qualities of the officiating Brahman.

—Discrimination of the lunar asterisms, on which pūja may be made : such as śrāvana, &c.

—Order of Vāishnava ritual homage.

NOTE—Among Vāishnavas the pāncha rātram is one class, the vāicānasam is another : it is said that the two classes are discordant ; so much so that the images worshipped by the two must not be brought face to face, and intermarriage of the two classes is not allowed.

The book is long, thin, old, touched by worms.

11. No. 2346. Pāñcha rátram—ślōcas.

By Kapinjāla.

—adhyāyas 15 to 17 and 20 to 26, the others are wanting: the subjects in these are:

—Properties of the altar for sacrifices.

—Time of pouring butter oil over it.

Mode of the Vasanta, or spring festival to the god.

There is in this a symbolical reference back to the deluge: but the main feature is an opera, by figurantes, during the greater part of a night.

—Jalādhi vāla utsavam, festival of floating the image on a raft—of like symbolical reference.

—On the size and properties of a thousand vessels used for making water of lustration, q. d. "holy water." Mode of placing these vessels in the ground.

—Ancurāpanam, sowing seeds in vessels which germinate during the festival.

Vastu dēva hōma vidhi—mode of fire-offering to a tutelary god, or demon in the temple. Mode of fire-offering to Indra, and other guardians of the eight points of the heavens.

—Mode of lustration of images by consecrated water, sprinkling that kind of water on the people. The wrist band of cotton worn during a festival. On hoisting the flag at the beginning of any festival. Concerning musical instruments, as used at festivals. 131 leaves with lacunes remain.

The book is larger than medium size, on narrow leaves, damaged by breaking at and near the beginning.

12. No. 2353. Pratishṭha tilacam.

On consecrations, Jdina ritual.

By Vāti cumuda chandra, ślōcas, mantras; with śloka in Canarese, incomplete.

The benefit arising from ritual homage, both to the person officiating, and to the person on whose behalf the office is performed.

The mode of homage by the three colors, that is Brahma, Cshētriya, Vāisya.

Qualities of the person officiating, and of the person on whose account the homage is rendered.

Mode of preparing water for drinking, by straining insects out of it.

The mantra for consecrating this water for lustrations.

Mode of using that water in ceremonial washings.

Yentra archana krama—in this place yentra means the cotton cord tied around the wrist in ceremonies : the mantras used with it.

The mode of consecrating the pi'ha, or foundation for the flag staff: the mantras used.

Punyahavásanam, mode of preparing water of lustration in purifying, and sprinkling before services.

Dwaja aróhana mantra, the spell used on hoisting the flag at festivals.

Die pala púja, homage to the rulers of the eight quarters of the heavens.

Bhumi archana—homage to the goddess of the earth before performing the following :

Ancurúpana, sowing seeds of various kinds of grain, at festival seasons.

The mantra used on placing vessels of water for lustrations.

Vimána suddhi, cleansing the shrine by means of that water.

Placing the image on grass, with attendant ceremonies. If the spell termed mócsa mantra be used it will procure beatification.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

XXX. SAIVA.

1. No. 1300. On the sole supremacy of Siva : ultra sectarian.

Siva is sarva káranam the alone supreme cause.

He ought to be worshipped, by all people. All ceremonies should be directed to him, or performed in his name. Brahma, Vishnu, and other gods are inferior to him; and in comparison, defective. They who hate Siva will go to maha naraca, the worst hell. Such as are devotees to Vishnu, if they do not also worship Siva, them will Vishnu desert.

The Siva bhakti, or devotedness to Siva, is the one which tends to mocsham, full release.

On the excellency of cow-dung ashes. On homage—prayer, fire-offering, its spell, mode of and excellency. The votaries of Siva may alone partake of the butter-oil offered. If any one do not worship Siva he ought not to exist.

In the 16 first leaves proofs are introduced from other books, many being prose extracts; ślócas and prose are mingled throughout. The leaves are not properly numbered, and the book is incomplete.

[According to the Vayu puránam (a very ancient one) Brahma, Vishnu and Siva are only personifications of the rájasa, sátvica and támasa gunas of the supreme; who by many is held to be nirguna without quality, or attribute. Personification having been long ago admitted, people now-a-days are persuaded that Vishnu and Siva are two distinct beings, whom they respectively exalt with heat and animosity; instead of saying I worship by the name Siva that which you worship by the name Vishnu. If their argument be taken apart from polemical names, it amounts to insisting on the simple unity of God. They know something of a triple hypostasis; but not aright.]

The book is long, thin, rather old, and damaged.

2. No. 1421. Veda pāta stavam.

By Jáimuni. 130 ślócas complete.

One Veda pāta went to the hill Cáílasa; and, on seeing the god there, he uttered this chant, declaring the god to be aunt, and mother, and father. 8 leaves at the end of some book 158—165.

The leaves are long, and in good order.

3. No. 1426. Siva gnána vidya : ślócas. Adhyáyas 1 to 4 and 7, 9, 10, 11—on 41 leaves, incomplete: the leaves in confused arrangement.

The excellence of Siva—mantras with the motions of hands and fingers when using them ; their value.

On the excellence of the five-lettered charm ; and also of other mantras on the Sāiva system.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves injured.

4. No. 1432. Retná cara adhésvara satacam.

By Cavi rája hamsa ; Sāiva, and laudatory in kind, mingled with Canarese words, and composed in padya stanzas 108 on 52 leaves.

The book is short, of medium thickness, much injured by worms.

5. No. 1442. Stuti sucti mála, vacyás and slócas.

By Haridhátacharya.

By extracts from the vedas, from the Siva purána, and Vayu puránam, and slócas from other puranas : the author proves that Siva has neither birth, nor death. Brahma and Vishnu were born from the frontlet eye of Siva. When Ráma built the setu, or bridge at Rámiseram he made homage to Siva, and besought him that he might obtain Sita,

The substance of the Gayatri mantra is Siva. Bhucti (food) and mukti (beatification) are given by Siva. In various other ways the writer magnifies the excellency and supremacy of Siva.

The beginning and ending are found, but many intermediate leaves are wanting : 108 remain.

The book is very long, thick, old, and injured.

6. No. 1445. Sancara stuti retna mála.

By Sancarádvari—two copies.

1st Copy, múlam with tica complete.

2nd „ múlam only, 100 slócas complete.

Siva is chief of all gods, and dwells in the midst of Brahma, Vishnu, and rishis ; he is without the tamó guna, and full of the satva guna—he is neither born, nor dies. Creating, preserving, destroying, are alike his work, 90 slócas on Siva, and 10 slócas on Chicka Bhupati, the poet's patron.

1st Copy, leaf 194—239.

2nd Copy, 12 leaves, together 58 leaves.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and slightly punctured by insects.

7. No. 1538. Two subjects.

1.) Mantras of a Sāiva kind, to what object not defined; but apparently malignant. Sanscrit, mingled with Canarese prose; Vira Bhadra mantra, with praise of that form of Siva, in the Canarese language : 34 leaves.

2.) Siva charanam, padya cavyam.

By Basava rājayya—incomplete.

The charanam is a kind of stanza : the language in this portion is Canarese:

8 charanās, the 9th, &c. wanting.

—udaya rāgam, a musical measure.

—palavi another, and other ragas or melodies : by means of them, and the chants, a description is given of Siva from head down to feet.

Also a description of jewels on his person.

Siva alone gives wit (or good sense), and also mukti, beatitude.

He is supreme in the universe. The whole in the shape of panegyrical verse : 120 leaves strung without order.

The book is of medium length, thick, and in good order.

8. No. 1589. Parama Siva pūja vidhānam : ślōcās, incomplete.

—Maha linga nirnayam a description of the high symbol, to which srishṭi, st'hi, samhāram (creation, preservation, and destruction) are ascribed. It is situated in the Siva loca ; world of Siva.

In the form of Brahmā it creates, in that of Vishnu it preserves, and in that of Rudra it destroys.

Mode of sāiva bathing, and other ceremonies.

Bhasma dharana vidhi, mode of putting on the ashes of cow-dung. A glossary of words referring to the Vēdas; but giving them another sāiva meaning. It may be that this book is Vira sāiva; though not so classed from want of full certainty.

In the theological part, if the superfluous symbol be set aside, it comes back (as extremes meet) to the most ancient system : that of one supreme, with three eminent actions, personified as Brahma, Vishnu, and Siva : a system which differs in names only from that of old Hebrew Rabbies.

This book is of medium length, thin (18 leaves), some of them injured.

9. No. 1592. Mrigēndra pativrati.

By Bhatti narayana; sutras with sanscrit. prose tīca, much in Telugu letter: 23 prakarnas or sections, incomplete. It has matters on the abstract sāiva vēdāntam; and also on concrete idolatry.

—Jīva paramātma surūpa, on the nature of the divine and human soul.

—Jīva para bhēda nirupanam, on the difference between the divine and human soul.

Siva is supreme, and giver of mukṭi to all. It is the right, or property of Siva to create, preserve, destroy. He holds kar-tatva (potestas divina) to those ends.

A description of living souls; concerning the anupasa, or destroying implement of Siva.

On ceremonies, or sacrifices.

On the secret (or recondite) nature of Siva, as Isvara.

How all things are delusive in their appearance.

On passive matter, and on pratyī, its active energy concerning (ahancaran) arrogance, pride, and other dispositions.

—Joti mantra, a spell, sāiva in kind.

—Snāna nirupana, mode of bathing.

Description of (archana) ritual homage to an idol.

On signatures, or motions of hand and fingers when repeating spells.

Concerning the size of images according to localities, as house, temple, forest. Measures of various statues. On the proper mode of fire-offerings.

On bathing (or baptism) as an initiatory ceremony. A description of yōgam, or ascetic practice. These, and some like sāiva matters in detail.

The book is long, very thick, narrow leaves, touched by insects.

10. No. 1605. Various matters.

—8 leaves, sruti sāra samuchayya.

By Brahma niracāra yōgendra.

21 prakaranas, ślocas, sruti, vācyam bearing on the advaita system.

On devotedness to a teacher; qualities of a disciple, as zeal, quitting all possessions, living on alms.

On the benefit of giving alms to such. On quitting household or family affections, and engaging in spiritual matters (such is the origin of monkery: it does not properly belong to christianity).

On Parāvāra as a name or title of Brahma. (This seems to be the word adopted into Christian usage in Tamil).

Other matters advaita in bearing.

—8 Leaves—manassólāsana, praise of Dacshand nurti, the god of learning among Sāivas; Anushtup metre, very short lines: complete; Advaita in kind.

—4 Leaves a description of the soul, which Siva told to Parvati; which moreover is better than all the āgamas (or special Sāiva books) the earthly author's name being Mallicarjuna. It relates to the Sivalōca, or heaven; Siva is the universal soul—the sole cause of the universe. One of the leaves contains the retna-treya (triple jewel) a mystic matter, incomplete 9 leaves.

—Retna-treya udyota, ślocas and vācyam.

By Trilōchana Sivāchārya. The "triple jewel" is understood to designate Bindu (O'm) sacti, Siva. The first is a symbol of the supreme; the second the negative, or passive principle, personified as female (Nature); and the third an active "demiourgos," or secondary active agent in the universe. (The term rahasya-treya elsewhere occurs: but appears to belong to another mode of credence).

—In all 59 leaves. The book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves: slightly injured.

11. No. 1606. Siva gīta ślocas.

Ascribed to Purasara, said to be from the Pādma purāna—the 12th adhyāyam complete.

On the benefit of Siva-bhakti. A discourse between Agastya and Rama.

Agastya told Rama to prepare the pasupata vrata, which he did, on the banks of the Godavery. Siva appeared in great splendor; and gave to Rama a bow, and exhaustless case of arrows; and also the pasupatāstram. Siva then shewed his visva-rupa, or universal form, including the universe. Some matters on ascetism are added; with a description of the human soul, and the mode of praising Siva. A description of beatitude, and of the person who will obtain it by homage to Siva; like matters—extra Sāiva, by Suta to rishis, leaves 1—51.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, old, some leaves touched by insects.

12. No. 1640. Aditya purānam, ślocas in 66 adhyāyas, complete at the end: at the beginning some incoherency, through damage.

—Siva killed Jalandhara, an asura or danava, by the aid of Brahma. The thousand names of Mahésvara. Mode of building Sāiva temples, and benefit of so doing. Siva is the sarvātma or universal soul. On the pasupata-vrata, a kind of penance. On the benefit of cleaning lamps in Sáiva fanes.

It is stated that eyes, ears, hands, &c., are only of use, as they lead to go and see and hear matters in Sáiva temples. By Siva's favor a Brahman became Cuvéra (or very wealthy). Praise of Parvati by Indra. Siva's marriage to Parvati. The Pleiades turned nurses. Birth of Subrahmanya, who became general of the army of the dévas, against the asuras.

—A description of Uch'hini, or Ougein, with its sacred pools. Some other Sáiva matter. The book is rather long, of medium thickness, old. The leaves are considerably eaten into by termites; and, at the end, broken, only bits remaining.

13. No. 1650. Siva pūja vidhānam, ślócas and mantras, with a Canarese tīca complete.

On the motions of hands and fingers, and spell used therewith. The five-lettered charm, on the pouring out water from the hand, and sipping water.

On incense and camphor lights, and the spells used with these.

The rudra mantra, from the yajur védam, on making the triple horizontal mark on the forehead; mode of so doing. Mode of performing lighter services in households; offering of fruits to the household god; also offering food. The whole relates to household service.

The book is short, thin, old, one leaf a little injured.

14. No. 1659. Rudra bhásyā.

By Bhatta Bhascara.

This is a selection of 14 anuvācas from the Vēdas, on the subject of Rudra or Siva, with a bhásya, or commentary in Canarese, complete, by Guru Nānja. The selection and comment are mixed together in this work; each portion of the original being immediately followed by the explanatory paraphrase: one anuvāca is imperfect.

The Rudra prasna is added; commonly known as namuca chamuca: Praise of the excellency of Siva; a mode of homage: some persons use it with bodily prostration, others not so.

Leaf 3—8 blank, 9—37 written on.

The book is long, thin, old, and much injured by insects.

15. No. 1661. Vīra dicsha vidhānam, ślokas and mantras, with a tīca in sanscrit prose; incomplete, as wanting the ādi bhāgam, or first part.

—Remarks on the primary place for teaching; that is the temple and the secondary place, that is the teacher's house.

—Siva linga dharana mantram, the spell used when tying the Sāiva symbol on the arm.

—Guru sishya lacshanam, right properties both of teacher and disciple.

—Adicshata, rejection of unsuitables:

—Māsa vidhi month.

—Pacsha „ half lunnation

—Vāra „ week

—Nacshetra „ asterism

—Yōga „ times

—Rāsi „ signs

} If these are suitable to the person concerned, then studies are to be pursued; but if unsuitable not so: bad times are to be rejected.

The instructions proper to be given in the suitable times. On cleansing the ground before sitting on it for purposes of instruction. Properties of the vessel for water used in the pūjas. Mode of placing it, with the appropriate spell. Mode of pouring water into the vessel, and spell used. Mode of washing the disciple (sicut baptism) Pancha Brahma nyasam, signs as to the five elements [each one being a Brahma]. The places indicated on which ashes of cow-dung are to be smeared. Anga nyāsa kara nyāsa mantram, spell, and signatures with hands and fingers accompanying the said smearing. Panchacshara nyūsam, signature with the five-lettered spell. Rudracshara dharana mantram, spell when putting on sacred beads. The above instructions are given to a disciple. He is next taught to bring the pancha gavya; or five products of a cow, and to purify the sāiva symbol with them: snabana, a washing the said symbol.

Cshīra snānam, washing it with milk, and mantra used.

Dhadda „ Do. with curds, and mantra.

Grita „ Do. with butter oil „

Madhu „ Do. with honey „

The teacher takes the disciple by the hand, and so instructs him to go through the various ceremonies.

Hasta pustaca samyōga. The teacher and disciple hold the same book, and the former instructs the latter from it.

A spell to remove all sins before teaching the Veda; its right enunciation is then taught (in many cases nothing more is known of it, than the accents in chanting).

The disciple is finally taught to worship his teacher, and then presents areca nut, betel leaf, and other customary matters.

He does various personal service to his teacher, leaf 38—93, or 55 leaves.

The book is long, of medium thickness, injured.

16. No. 1687. Three tracts.

Sect: 1, Malhana stotra, ślocas with tica in Canarese, by Malhana cavi.

Brahma, Vishnu, Indra, and munis all worshipped Siva; and they who pay homage to Siva will obtain Siva sāmyam, oneness with Siva (sa-uchchyam) 67 leaves.

Sect: 2, see XXII.

Sect. 3. Mantra sastram—mantras with Canarese tica incomplete, 30 leaves. Mantra here is not a spell, but a sort of prayer.

The subject adoration of Siva. 130 leaves in all.

The book is short, thick, broad talipat leaves, in tolerable order.

17. No. 1691. Siva siddhanta sāstra, ślocas. With Canarese tica, incomplete.

In the great deluge Vishnu and the other gods perished. Siva remained the supreme Omnipresent, and restored the whole creation: 97 leaves.

The book is short, of medium thickness, talipat leaves, old, very much damaged.

18. No. 2361. Without title.

The tendency is to shew that Siva is supreme; verses from the vedas, the chamuca—rudra and other mantras that relate to Siva; verses from smritis, and ślocas from other books, to the like end.

The language being Sanscrit, is written in Canarese, Grant'ha and Nagari letters mixed; 33 leaves, incomplete.

19. No. 2363. Rudra bhāsyam.

By Rudra Bhatta, mantras from the Vedas, and ślocas from other books: both have a tica by the said author.

1—11 Anuvācam each anuvācam is a rudra of the Vedas—the 11 make up the whole of Siva, who is said to contain eleven rudras. The sum of the rudras is the supreme in the universe. The excellence of these rudras and praise founded on them. 83 leaves, 27 blank. The book is of medium size, slightly injured.

XXXI. VAISHNAVA.

1. No. 987. Vishnu pūja kramam.

By Gōpālācharya—mantras, and some prose, complete.

After Vāishnava Brahmans, in the early morning, have performed the customary duties of bathing, they take five vessels which are filled with water, and a ceremony, being the above kramam, is used, with repetition of the thousand names of Vishnu, and ashtottras, octaves. After so doing it is usual, or right for the family to take the morning meal; a sort of family homage, with mystic forms, supposed to have much power, 25 leaves 107—132. This book is short, thin, partly worm eaten.

2. No. 993. Three tracts.

1.) Varāha pūrānam, the 44th adhjāya from the uttara candam, this one chapter is complete; ślokas, with a Canarese tīca. Srī dēvi (i. e. Lacshmi) asks Varaha svāmi (Vishnu) concerning the numerous sinners upon earth, how they can obtain beatification? Varaha svāmi replies that by hearing Hari kirtana (hymns to Vishnu) or by remembering them, all sins will be removed, and the sinners themselves will obtain mukti: leaf 61—72 or 12 leaves.

2.) Vishnu stottram, praise of Vishnu in Canarese, incomplete; leaf 29—37, or 9 leaves.

3.) Tiru mantram, ślokas, mantras.

By Lōcāchārya. These appear to be taken from the tiru rāyi morhi, or chants in Tamil from the Vēlas. The subject is complete on 27 leaves, in all 48. The mantra is said to be used after bathing, and the vandanam or recital of names; morning, noon, and evening, the chant following: all are Vāishnava in kind.

The book is long, of medium thickness, no boards, in good order, the handwriting very large.

3. No. 1373. For section I; see XII.

Sect: 2 Tiru muntra nigamanam incomplete, prose and mantra form. Some special forms of prayer, belonging to the Vāishnavas, when bathing, putting on the nāman, and the like. The terms śēsha and sēshi are herein used, when treating on the difference between the deity and mankind. (They seem to be distinctions in polemics with advaitas. Sēshi is Vishnu (or in general God) śēsha is mankind; a complement or filling up of Deity, as if śēshi alone is imperfect; but then they are not regarded as one common soul. [Séshta would appear to correspond with an occasional use of the Greek word pléróna.*]

Some stanzas in Tamil, relating to Vishnu, termed pásuram, from the prabandhas. Other mantras of the Váishnava kind, relative to household affairs, and duties.

This section is recent, compared with the former; but much worm eaten.

4. No. 1420. Krishna karnamrita.

By Lila suca cavi, slócas:

It should contain three satacas, but is incomplete. • The 1st has only four or five slócas, the 2nd satacam, two copies, one in Canarese one in Telugu letter, both complete, 3rd sataka in Canarese letter, complete.

The subject is the praise of Krishna; especially as to his childish, and boyish sports: 19 leaves, not all alike.

The book is long, thin, in good order.

5. No. 1452. Pancha kála pravāreshanam, slócas with a tica in Canarese, incomplete. Reference to the ten incarnations of Vishnu, and his slaying many rácshásas, and to his protecting the good. On his supporting the earth, and preserving the védas. Hence of all gods he is chief. As such Vishnu is to be worshipped by rising very early in the morning, and repeating the usual forms; with the stotras, in slócas contained in this book.

[The pancha kála, or five times, I understand to be so many divisions of the period between 4 A. M. and sunrise; or astrologically while the sun is in the ascendant.]

The original, with a commentary on 56 leaves, has the beginning, but does not finish. The book is long, of medium thickness, old, damaged by worms.

6. No. 1569. Three subjects.

1.) Ashta slóki, eight distichs, with a tica in Canarese, complete; leaf 1—15.

By Parāsara bhattu.

On the excellence and greatness of Rangha ná'ha at Trichinopoly.

2.) Chatush slóki, four distichs (only 3 here) with tica in Canarese, incomplete; leaf 1—8. On the excellence of Rangha nayaki, the sacti at the above place.

3.) Mukunda mála, slócas with a Canarese tica leaf 1—51.

On the infantile sports of Krishna, and on his excellence.
The book is short, rather thick, in some places worn eaten.

7. No. 1600. Dayà satacam, 108 ślōcas.

By Vedāntāchārya, head of the Vadagalas.

It relates to Srīnivāsa at Tripeti, and is complete.

Description of Srīnivāsa, from feet to head.

Vāibhavam, or mahātmyam, or great excellence. Praise of Halameḷu, the sacti there : the excellence of the vrisha giri, a hill there —15 leaves.

The book is long, thin, touched by worms.

8. No. 1633. Three tracts, said to be by Ramanūja, but his name does not appear in the book.

1.) Saranagadya, a prose work on going to Bhagavān, and praising the divine qualities, sarana meaning devotion.

2.) Srīrangha gadya—a description of the god at Trichinopoly.

3.) Vāicant'ha loca gadya, description of the world of Vishnu, and of Vishnu as residing there. Trees, gardens, artificial hills, wells, and water courses, flowers, fruits, perfumes : a paradise.

Confession of sin, asking pardon, and salvation; addressed in homage to Narāyana, complete leaves 1—45.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

9. No. 1675. Six subjects.

1.) Rāma dvadasi nāma stottram, ślōcas, complete, said to be from the Brahmānda purānam, seven leaves.

Brahmu narrated to Narēda the excellence of Vishnu.

2.) Mantra sarām, ślōcas, mantras, incomplete, on 12 leaves.

If a Brahman has been sick, on recovering he bathes his head, or down to his waist. At other times when he gets a new cloth, he puts aside the old one; and in bathing uses the above mantram.

3.) Dattatreya cavacham, ślōcas, mantras with tāca in Canarese, complete, 20 leaves. An appeal to Dattatreya for protection, doing homage, putting marks on the shoulders, with motions of hands, and fingers.

4.) Hanumat cavacham, ślōcas, mantras, complete; to Anjanīya, a name of Hanumān, with motions of hands and fingers, for protection : 15 leaves.

5.) Hari kirtana, Canarese prose, incomplete, chants to Vishnu, by means of the Cambódi, Bháiravi, 'Alávi, and other tunes: 32 leaves.

6.) See VII. Supra.

The book is short, and thick, a collection of tracts, the leaves of each differing; touched by worms.

10. No. 1686. Five subjects.

1.) Hari smaranam, slócas, 20 complete.

By Vedantácharya, head of the Vadagalas. _____, with private, or personal homage, in the very early morning.

2.) Púrvácharya tunniyar. 28 slócas, with a tíca in Canarese, incomplete. Various áluvars, as Natamuni, Sadagopa, 'Alavantar, Namálurár, and others are praised in these detached traditionary verses; the authors of them being unknown; so far 36 leaves.

3.) Vishnu dhyána, slócas—35 slócas, incomplete, meditation on Vishnu.

4.) Cshamā shólasi, 16 slócas, complete, by Vedantácharya, ut supra. On the clemency of Vishnu, and on Bhú devi, the earth goddess.

5.) Srínivása mangalam, 12 slócas, incomplete, praise of the form of Vishnu at Tripeti 3) 4) 5) contain 42 leaves.

The book is short, of medium thickness, slightly injured by insects.

11. No. 1699. Three subjects.

1.) 'Alavantá stótram, 66 slócas, complete.

By Yamunácharya—he praises his spiritual preceptor, another Áluvār termed Alavantār.

2.) Yeti rája vimsati, 20 slócas complete.

By 'Alavantār, return praise of Ramánúja the opponent of Sancarácharya.

3.) Guru parambará, 18 slócas, incomplete.

In Paracala matam in Mysore, the different ascetics, from time to time, formed a slóca in praise of Vishnu—these are collected in old chants, handed down by oral tradition, and constant repetition, 30 leaves in all.

The book is short, thin, and touched by insects.

12. No. 1716. Vishnu mantram sassanam, a collection of mantras on the Váishnava creed.

By Indra bhúti cavi. It contains 137 mantras on 23 leaves, 42—64, deficient at the beginning, the end wanting.

As far as examined these mantras are not of malevolent kind; but either to obtain benefit, or to do good. No spells or evil incantations. For example, a mantra for a disciple for aid in acquiring knowledge from his teacher. There are directions as to modes of being seated—stopping the nostrils—motions of hands, and fingers. As Vishnu is, in one aspect, a preserver, spells are not so appropriately addressed to him: they are usually directed to some form of Siva or Parvati.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, a few leaves only injured.

XXXII. VEDAS.

No. 1354. Section 1. Purusha súctam, leaves 1—4, hymn from the Vedas. Concerning Brimha, the supreme Being, known also as Parama purusha, the heavenly man. The origin of the four chief castes, and favorable to the Váishnava creed.

Section 2. Part of the Táittiríya upanishada, from the vedas, on 20 leaves, concerning the supreme Brahm: and as an extract, complete.

Five leaves are put between; on taking up the sannyási profession; on horary questions in astrology; and praise of Hanumán.

The book is of medium length, thin, slightly injured by insects.

XXXIII. VETERINARY.

No. 1555. Asva sastram: slócas, with lita in Canarese, incomplete.

On a knowledge of the temper and quality of horses: chiefly by means of the úvart'ham, or curl of the hair. If the curl bend inward it is good, but if outward bad.

The places where to look for such curls: on the head two, on the breast two—on each side two, back of the neck one, hollow of neck one.

What god is indicated by these curls; that on the head designates chandra. The uttama, madhyama, and atama, or best, medium, worst kinds of horses. The best kind has four hoofs white, head white, tail white.

The worst indicated by deep black; leaf 1—28: and then 9 leaves in Canarese—on the above ten curls; and also on remedies for various diseases of horses, incomplete. The book is short, and thin, with very thick boards.

XXXIV. VIRA SAIVA.

I. No. 1439. Vira śhiva dīcsha vidhanam, mantras, &c. complete on 35 leaves.

Sancalpa vidhanam, mode of recording year, lunar month, and day, with day of week, on which any particular event occurred.

Punyahāvāsanam, consecrating water in a vessel, placed on rice grain, and the mouth closed with a mango, or cocoanut.

Kalasa pūja, preparing like water in a small vessel before consecrating the scholastic thread, or commencing to learn from a teacher.

Vappana vidhi, mode of shaving the head of a disciple.

Snāna krama, bathing a disciple.

Āga marashana snāna mantra, the formulæ with bathing, for removing a disciple's sin.

Bhasma dharana kramam, mode of putting on the ashes of burnt cowdung.

Rudracsha dharana krama, mode of putting on the sacred beads.

Linga dharana krama, mode of the disciples wearing a symbol of Śiva (hence the term lingadhāris).

Linga pūja krama, on the mode of ritual to the said symbol.

Ēca dāsi rudra pūja krama, mode of homage on the 11th lunar day, to the eleven murtis or forms of Śiva.

Guru pāda pūja kramam, mode of a disciple washing the feet of his preceptor.

So much being done, then the guru commences teaching the disciple; as follows:

—The opening mantra with motions of the hands and fingers.

—The order of general instruction.

—The mode of using the five-lettered mantra.

—The mode of teaching some mantras from the vēdas.

These instructions are spoken in the disciple's ear, not aloud; throughout are interspersed directions as to certain hōmas; or fire-offerings.

The book is long, and thin, a little perforated by insects.

2. No. 1441. Vira Śāiva maha tantram. On the jangama system, ślōcas, Canarese tica.

By Varanasisvara.

On the wearing, or putting on the lingam, and ashes of cow-dung, and using the five-lettered mantra. The excellency of so doing, and of the Śāiva way in general.

The para vastu which dwells in every one's breast is indeed Siva. Beatification must be sought through the means of Siva. The excellence of the Śāiva symbol, and of the jangama devotee. The consecration of the said symbol. On the Jnana guru, or he who recites the mantras. The jñānāgama, or book of wisdom. On the sacti of the heavenly soul as the doctrine or teaching of Brahma. The doctrine of three sentences. Five Brahmas in one. These and other Vira Śāiva matters. Quotations in support of the author's views are made, stated to be from the Bhāratam, Bhāgavatam, Scānda, and other purānas, p : 2—291 : many leaves, in the midst, wanting, 148 leaves remain.

The book is long, thick, a little injured by insects, and rats.

3. No. 1444. Vātulāgama tantram, ślōcas, complete in ten *padalam*s.

Siva to Subrahmanya.

Padalam.

1. Tatva	bhēda	discrimination of wisdom.
2. Varnā	"	" of letters.
3. Chakra	"	" of revolution of ages.
4. Varga	"	" of classes of letters.
5. Mantra	"	" of prayers or spells.
6. Prunava	"	" of the mystic o'm.
7. Brimha	"	" concerning Brahma
8. Anga	"	" as to the body.
9. Mantra jāta	"	" of kinds of mantras .
10. Mantra kilaca	"	(not known.)

In the world of Siva, above the paradise of Vishnu, is a linga, named nat'ha Brahma. In a yugam it was born in the world in the shape of a stork; and in the matsya avatara with its beak, it laid hold of the fish's (Vishnu's) neck and cut, or tore it. In another yugam it pounced upon the tortoise (Vishnu in the cūrma avataram) eat its flesh, and used the entrails as a garment. Afterwards that linga formed itself into eleven rudras or forms of Siva. The different forms discriminated. This said supernal linga is the cause of creation, and of destruction.

Quotations are given in proof from vedas, law books, purānas, and prose authorities : 51 leaves complete.

The book is of medium size, much injured by worms at the end.

It is a great curiosity; and, as such, might merit translation, to explain the Jungama system.

4. No. 1639. Basava purānam; ślōcas with a Canarese tīca, incomplete.

By Sancarārādhyā.

It contains from the 21st to the 30th adhyāyas or ten chapters only.

Vīra Bhaktar, Nāchi dēva, Basava; these and others being pramata genus, or celestials of Siva's world, became incarnate on earth. Legends concerning them, with panegyrics; the slaying of some racshasas by them.

The book is long, somewhat thick, old, towards the end several leaves are broken, and bits remain.

The Basava purānam has, I believe, been collated and printed.

5. No. 1647. Sāiva advāita pracāsica, ślōcas with a Canarese tīca complete. Properties of the human and divine soul: on the human soul departing it cleaves the skull, and departs.

It ascends through thirty-six inferior places up to the Siva līnga; it disapproves of every thing seen in the ascent, until at last it becomes united to that symbol.

A description is given of some of the thirty-six places aforesaid.

The akahanda līngam, or symbol without limits—its excellency.

[In my notes I have entered the names of some of the steps of ascent. In a system so little known even insanity may be chronicled. Above the symbol without limit is sarva śrīshā s'hala, the place of the entire creation, then the pinda gnāna s'hala, and the pinda gnāna vichāla s'hala, with their glory. The samsāra brāndi s'hala. The deha prāti brāndi s'hala its glory. The pañchēndra udricu brāndi s'halam, where the five senses have no power (the body having been left at the lowest stage). The agnāna brāndi nirusana s'halam, and the Siva gnāna pracāsa s'halam, with their glory. And so higher up to the sarāna s'hala mahima, the place of final refuge; its excellence; and the glory of the aihya s'halam, or final absorption, or union of the soul with deity—surely heathenism is not without its "weak enthusiasm."]

I remember seeing the alleged translation of a Parsee book, having some resemblance to this one; in a labored description of at least seven heavens. There is a wide spread belief of ascending degrees; but description becomes puerile "intruding on things unseen."

This book is somewhat long, and thick, on talipat leaves, and in good order.

6. No. 1653. Karana hasagi, slócas.

By Chenna Basava—with a tica in Canarese, leaf 1—25.

O'm kara pranava surúpa.'

From the O'm kara all things are produced.

This is the elementary primal cause—its excellence.

On the pancha báudica, or five elements.

On the tatvas or faculties of body and souls; mental included. The situation of the elements in the different parts of the body, and their operations.

On the evil dispositions, káma, cródha, lóba, máchariya, &c. resulting from mental dispositions, or bodily faculties.

Jiva surúpa, nature of the soul. These and like matters.

Leaf 26—37 in the Canarese language.

Mizrápanam by Basava.

The ácharya, guru, jangama, prasáda and maha lingas are in the human body, and by doing homage to them (worshipping self) beatification will be acquired; i. e. sa-uchyam, oneness with Siva. A few other matters.

Leaf 38—41, Karana hasagi resumed; but incomplete; leaf 49—53, Siva caracham, a charm for protection.

The book is of medium size, old, and slightly damaged.

7. No. 1662. Karana hasagi, 1—17, the matter the same as above.

Leaf 18—24, the Mizrápanam, as above.

Panchikarana, on the five elements in the human body.

On the three gunas, the satva, rájasa, tamō rupam; or meekness, cholera, depravity. The punya, moral merit, and pápátmaca, or sinfulness, how produced, with the nature of each: the seat, or situation of each in the human being; the results, good or evil.

1 Prána—2 pana—3 udana—4 samana—5 viyana; or five vital airs, their seat in the body. The five senses where seated. The gnánéndriya, mental or spiritual faculties. The áchára, guru—the Siva jangama—the prasáda, and the maha lingas, are members of the earth, and of the human body, as elementary principles. The seat of each in the human body; these and other matters, on what is sometimes collectively termed the tatva system. It seems laborious trifling, nihil operose agens.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in good order.

8. No. 2333. Ashta hávarana mani derpana.

By Chinna víra déva—slócas, with prose mingled, complete in eight prakaranas, or chapters.

Lingachara vidhanam, mode of linga homage—ēca vimsati diesha vidhanam, or twenty-one modes of initiation.

—mata st'hala mahima vidhanam, on the excellency of making a place for homage.

—ashta vidha archana vidhanam, eight kinds of service—ments vol manu.

—shodasa upachāra vidhanam, mode of sixteen subordinate ceremonies.

—pātdāca st'hala mahima, merit of drinking the water that has washed the foot of the Sāiva symbol.

—jangama linga st'hala mahima, glory of a superior world.

—bhakta st'hala linga mahima, glory of a still higher world.

The glory of other worlds in the ascending scale, named Mahēsvara-prasada-linga-Prana linga-sarana—and āhya, with the addition of st'hala (place) to each one.

Ashta anga yōga nirupanam, a description of penance, with eight members.

Guru lacshanam, properties of a teacher; he should be well informed in the sastras, and in ritual services.

Sisha lacshanam—the deportment of a disciple described.

Other paras, are on the places whereon to put cow-dung, ashes, and beads. On the excellency of the six lettered charm of the Vira sāivas, and samadi kriya, the work of penance.

In the superior world above that of Brahma is the nāt'ha Brahma lingam; which governs all beings and things beneath it. In the form of Brahma it creates, in the form of Vishnu it preserves, and in the form of Siva it destroys; leaf 1—125.

The book is short, rather thick, in good order.

As this book is a sort of compendium of the system—a caricature of the common Sāiva one, it might deserve translation; for the system is unknown, otherwise than by wilfully false description.

II. No. 1213. Sri mac'ha samvatsara panchangam, Almanac, A. D. 1753-4, caliguga 4854, Sal: S. 1675.

The usual contents in five parts, also the p'hala stuti, or influence of the planets, prognostics for the year.

Leaf 1—42—one leaf at the end wanting.

The book is short, of medium thickness, touched by insects, and slightly broken.

VI. No. 537. Pāitru mēdhika vidhihi.

Ascribed to Asvalayana rishi, ślocas.

On the apara carma, or funeral rites and observances, during several days. In this tract, which is not complete, there is the burning, gathering, and washing the bones, and casting them into a river, with the 10th day's ceremony, leaf 1—24.

From another book 7 leaves—incomplete; concerning things unclean, and on ceremonial pollutions.

The leaves of the first portion are longer than those of the other, old, but in good order.

β. A. d.

IX. No. 1593. Two subjects.

1.) Niti sastram, 21 ślokas with a Canarese tica.

By Chanacya, incomplete: on seven leaves, specimen.

To one unlearned a sastram is venom.

To one who has the colic food is poison. If a poor man see ten men together, to him it is poison.

By reason of goshti (slavish dread) of evil people the whole body is venom. These and the like sort of aphorisms.

2.) Bhartri hari, only 84 ślokas, a fragment from the 3rd, or Vāiragya satacam.

Specimen of one aphorism.

If any one read the Vedas, sastras, puranas, &c., so as to be learned; if he make many sacrifices; if he collect great wealth; yet since he can take nothing of all this with him, when he is about to die, it is his better wisdom to do penance, and by Bhagavat dhyānam (meditation on God) to seek for final beatification: 16 leaves.

The book is of medium length, thin, slightly injured by insects.

XV. No. 1685. Siva stottram, ślokas. By Halayuta, with Canarese tica, incomplete, leaves 183—204 or 23. Praise of Siva.

XVIII. No. 1473: Jaina puja vidhānam.

By Bujya pātar—mantras, padyas, and prose mixed: complete.

The five elements deified; mode of homage. Homage to the nine planets; and to a being termed Yacsha. Praise of Vrishaba raja, a Jina king. Praise of Chandra prabhu, a deified man so named; the great bathing of Jina deva, on festival days. The sahasranama, or one thousand names of Jina deva.

Also some fire-offerings with mantras and services therewith connected: 76 leaves in all. This book is long, old, slightly injured.

XXXIV. No. 1438. Physico-theology.

Hari shad-varga—six inimicals, that is kāma, lust; crōdha, anger; lōba, avarice; mōha, cupidity; mata, fanaticism; māchhariya, malice; shad Brahmi—six advantages Jati, varnam, azrama, culam, gōtra, nāmam.

Sapta visana—seven sorrows, tamu, mana, dhana, rajya, visva, utsala, sévaca, desires arising from want of health, mental vigor, wealth, power, credit, pleasure, employment.

Sapta dasas; or rasa, rudra, mámsa, metasu, hasti, maja, sucla, i. e. nervous fluid, blood, flesh, gristle, bones, marrow, semen.

Ashta múrti mátas—or Prithivi, salila, pavaca, pavana, ambara, ravi, seshi, atma.

Antakarana chudushtāiyam, mental affections; dasu vayus, ten vital airs in the body.

Pañcha budas, five elements.

Pranava, utpatti—origin of the Vedas.

Brahmandā sūrupānam, form of the universe, with the pañchikara tatvas—five material and spiritual qualities: their nature, and the effect of their union.

The book appears to be incomplete: it contains 32 leaves, in confused order.

An expositoin of the physico-theology of the Vira Sáivas.

It is of medium size, and in good order.

XXXIV. No. 1668. Vátula ágama tantra, slócās and mantras with tica incomplete.

On the nat'ha Brahma linga: see 8. No. 2333 supra.

Various *padālam*s, or chapters, with the following titles—tatva-bheda—varnā—chakra bheda—varga—mantra—pranava, the two last incomplete; three leaves are also deficient at the beginning.

Above the world of Vishnu is the world of Siva, where there is a symbol known as the nat'ha Brahma lingam; its splendid appearance, by its power it creates—preserves—destroys. It is distinct from the eleven rudras, and superior to them. The eleven rudras are as rays proceeding from it. This symbol dishonored Vishnu in some of his avatas. It is the elementary cause of the entire and eternal universe. Other matter on the tatva, or properties of body and mind; delivered by Siva to Subrahmunya.

The book is long, somewhat thick, injured.

e Uriya letter.

I. DRAMA.

No. 2369. Maha nátaçam.

By Hanumān cavi, with extracts from another book, by Mata sutāna misra cavi: 1000 slócās. Not a regular drama for acting, but containing a variety of dramatic incidents from the Rámáyana, with praise included of Vishnu, Siva, and other gods. Misra cavi, quoted, is a celebrated author.

The book is long, thick, in good order.

II. LAW.

1. No. 2367. Smṛiti sâra sangrahâ.

Leaf 1—5 a few rules of Sanscrit grammar.

The remaining leaves contain a compendium of Hindu law, in 6 chapters.

By Vâidhya nat'ha.

The 1st chapter is on til'hi nirnaya, or fixing of proper lunar days for various sacerdotal observances. The second is on the mâla mâsa, or month in which two new moons occur; and râjasyala nirnaya, or observances as to female menstruation. Other chapters not examined.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, and in good condition.

2. No. 2372. Kanva samhita. The law treatise of Kanva. On the âchâra cândam, or sacerdotal law, containing 41 chapters, incomplete.

The book is long, of medium thickness, the edges a little injured; otherwise in good condition.

3. No. 2373. Yagnyavalkya dharma sastra, code of law by Yagnyavalkya.

Three cândas, or books—slôcas: part of a work by an ancient lawgiver; of which the Vignânésvaram is a paraphrase of high repute, and authority in the south; as the Jimuta vahanam is in Bengal.

The three last leaves in this book contain the Sâiva five lettered spell; and the monosyllables of a spell to Ganésa, used when showering flowers on his image: leaf 1—58.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order.

III. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

No. 2365. Amara cosha—lexicon.

The 1st Cândam, complete.

The 2nd „ as far as to sâila verga. See notices of this work, passim: leaf 1—46.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, old, but in good condition.

IV. VEDAS.

1. No. 2366. Sâma vêda.

Part of the third vêda, containing eight prapât'hacas or chapters, with part of the ninth, left incomplete.

The book is long, of medium thickness, somewhat old, but in good condition.

2. No. 2370. Bṛihadaranyam—the spreading forest. This is said to be the name of a rishi; and it is the technical name of a part of the Vēdas. Notices occur in books in the grant'ha letter. Vide No. 1723, there stated to be one of the upanishadas. Here termed a sāc'ha, or branch, Vājasaneyā saclaya jushī kanva sāc'hayam Bṛihadaranyam—the spreading forest, the kanva branch, a part of the white (vēda) by Vājasaneyā (a rishi): kanva, a lawyer: see II. 2 supra. The book contains 8 adhyāyams, or chapters.

[For these notices of books in the Uriya letter I am obliged to papers received from the Honorable Walter Elliot Esq.]

β. A.

f Malayālam letter.

I. ADVAITA.

1. No. 2308. Rasa abī vyanjaca or advaita mata retnam.

By Svayampracāsa yeti.

This is a tica or explanatory glossary, but on what particular book is not known. The subject is on the unity of the Supreme Being, in a pantheistic sense, and the oneness of the human soul with that being; see previous notices.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on narrow talipat leaves, in good order.

II. ALPHABET.

1. No. 2321. Arri chivadi.

Merely the Malayālam alphabet, as constructed to express the sounds of Sanscrit words; a school book—of medium length, thin, no boards.

III. ARCHITECTURE.

1. No. 2325. Abilashitārt'ha chintāmani, on architecture.

By Malla somēvara: ślocas, with a prose tica, 1—3 adhyāyas, so far complete.

Mode of constructing houses, dimensions, form of parts, and relative proportions; benefit resulting from good construction.

The book is short and thick, on narrow talipat leaves, in good order.

IV. ART OF POETRY.

1. No. 2307. Kuvāliyānandam, a comment by Appāiya dicshada, on the Chandra lōca of Cāli dāsa.

It has beginning, but does not finish : when complete it relates to one hundred poetical figures : see preceding notices.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, old, tolerable order.

V. DRAMATIC.

1. No. 2297. Púrna purushart'ha chandra nátaçam—Sanskrit and Pracrúti, both slóças and prose, 1—5 ancas complete.

Chandródaya, a king, his vain attempts to attain beatification, turned into comedy.

The book is short and thin, talipat leaves, old, but in good order.

2. No. 2298. Malati mataviyam.

By Cali dása, Sanskrit Pracrúti, 1—10 ancas, complete.

A contest between pupils of two dancing masters before a king, who fell in love with one of the figurantes ; an amour following : see foregoing notices. The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, old, and injured.

3. No. 2300. Retna vali.

By Sri Harisha. Sanskrit and Pracrúti, 1—4 ancas, complete.

By Rája sec'hara.

1—10 ancas, complete.

The subject of the Rámáyanam in brief, dramatized.

11. No. 2322. Sect 1. Pradyumma nátaçam, or dévánica nátaçam, 1 anca, incomplete. Subject from the Bhágavatam; see 8.

VI. ETHICAL.

1. No. 2311. Níti sáram, slócas.

1—20, sargas, complete.

A selection from various books on kingly ethics, and other like topics, in general.

The book is short, thin, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

2. No. 2312. Niti sara samuchayam.

The 1st and 2nd satakas, with a tica in Malayalam prose, the 1st complete, the 2nd not so—the subject, general ethics.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on narrow talipat leaves, in good order.

VII. EROTIC.

1. No. 2294. Govinda charitram.

10 sargas, slócas.

A kind of mixed poem on the actions of Krishna—his sports—bathing in the river Jumna—amours—wars, &c.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on palm leaves, in good order.

2. No. 2299. Krishna vilásam.

1—4 sarga, incomplete—slócas.

On the youthful sports and amours of Krishna.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, a little injured.

3. No. 2322. Sect. 2 Krishna cávya.

A tica or verbal prose comment on some poem relating to Krishna; the title of the original not found: for sect. 1 see V. 11.

The whole book is short, of medium thickness, on narrow palm leaves, old, in tolerable order.

VIII. GRAMMATICAL.

1. No. 2286. Sabda nirnayam; sutras, tica, prose.

A discrimination of the genders of various words; beginning only, being incomplete.

The book is long, on 8 talipat leaves, one of them broken.

2. No. 2295. Mṛtīcara grānt'ham, a tica or glossary on sūtras.

By Vara Ruchi; an enlarged comment on the sūtras of Pānini. Vara Ruchi's book does not often occur in the other parts of the collection: this, by consequence, is of value.

The book is of medium length, thick, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

IX. HYMNOLOGY.

1. No. 2290. Sect 1. Rāma stuti, slócas, without beginning, or ending: praise of Rāma: for sect: 2 see XIV. 2.

2. No. 2309. Ráma charitram, slócas.

Vilasitam 1—4, narrative of Ráma's actions, as a vehicle for praise, mixed up with the whole.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on narrow palm-leaves, old, a little injured.

3. No. 2314. Sangita rétnacáram.

It has no title within itself, but the subject is like that of the Sanscrit work specified.

It appears to be on the art of singing and dancing, musical times, &c. It may be a part of the Bharata sastra; but a degree of uncertainty attaches.

The book is of medium length, thin, old, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

4. No. 2317. Sect. I. see XII.

Sect. 2. Súrya satacam, slócas, a few less than 100, therefore incomplete.

The book is very short, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, stained, and a little injured.

5. No. 2319. Isvara stótra, slócas; the beginning, but without the ending.

Praise of the glory of Isvara, or Siva, imploring aid and benefit.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, in good order.

X. LAW.

1. No. 2323. Dherma sastra.

The viváhára cándam, slócas with tica. Has the beginning, but not the ending.

On modes of proceedings in Civil suits, with connected details.

The book is of medium length, very thin, talipat leaves, tolerable order.

XI. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

1. No. 2248. Sarvánanda kriti.

By Sarvánanda—prose.

A glossary on the Amaram, the 1st and 2nd cándams, with 12 and 10 vergas complete; illustrated by quotations.

The book is of medium length, very thick, on talipat leaves, in good order.

XII. LOGICAL.

1. No. 2317. Sect. 1. *Tark'ha sastra*m, on logic prose, only two khandas—the pratyacsha and anumánam : for sect : 2 see IX.

XIII. MISCELLANEOUS.

1. No. 2285. Three fragments.

- 1.) Tark'ha prakaranam, one chapter on logic.
 2.) Ethical and medical slócas.
 3.) Verses from vedas, on zanti pūja, or a sort of litanies, to remove evils.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves roughly cut, in good order.

2. No. 2310. Three pieces.

- 1.) Vishnu sahasranámá vali, 1008 names of Vishnu, complete.
 2.) Achára vidhi, morning, noon, and evening ritual, 3 leaves.
 3.) Déva stuti, slócas.

Praise of the sacti of Siva.

The book is short, thick, old, on narrow palm leaves, in tolerable order.

XIV. PAURANICAL.

1. No. 1886. Narasinha puránam, Suta rishi to Bháradvája rishi, slócas, a larger mixture of grant'ha letters than in other books; and this one was found mingled with books in the grant'ha letter.

The following is a specimen of contents, at and near the beginning.

The chronological periods of the kréta, tréta, dvápara and cali yugas. Description of creation. Origin of the dévas, of the danavas, of the yacshas and manushyas. The creation of Brahmans. Formation of the five elements, the twelve údityas, or the sun differently named according to the zodiacal sign in which it is—matters concerning these names. Marcandeya conquered Yama, the regent of death, and is now a chiranjivi, always a youth of sixteen years of age. Description of the excellence of Vaishnavas—the mode of worshipping Narásinha in the cali yuga. The sacred places (punya cshétras) peculiar to Vishnu. Many praises to Vishnu, as if uttered by Marcandeya. On the eight lettered Vaishnava charm. On the mode, or causes of obtaining beatification : with the like.

Leaf 1—167 complete, blank leaves in the midst.

2. No. 2290. Sect. 1. see IX.

Sect. 2 Gája graha adikáram.

The 10th chapter from the 8th book of the Bhágavatam—usually known by the name of Gajéndra mōcsham. On the rescue of an elephant from a crocodile, and giving it beatification.

The book is short, thin, on talipat leaves, in good order.

3. No. 2318. Bhavishóttara puránam.

1—26 adhyaýam—slócas: interior section cali yuga charitra, account of events in the iron age; and again another 26 adhyaýas follow. Though this puránam is numbered among the eighteen, it is rarely met with; and by some, is considered to be a tail-piece to the scánda puránam.

Seven leaves on the subject of the uttara Rámáyanam are appended; these are shorter than the others.

• The book is short and thick, on talipat leaves, in good order.

4. No. 2320. Dévi mahátmyam.

The episode known as Sapta sati, or Ch'handa pá'ha. The war of Dévi, or Dúrga, with Mahishásura, and others; six adhyaýas, incomplete. Taken from the Varáha puránam, and the Márcandeya puránam.

The book is very short, of medium thickness, on palm leaves, a few broken.

XV. ROMANCE, HISTORICAL.

1. No. 2287. Mágha vyakýanam.

By Déva rájácharya. 3rd sargam, a comment on a part of the Mágha cávyam, an epic poem, on the war of Krishna against Sisupála: this portion relates to an encampment.

2. No. 2288. Mágha vyakýanam.

The tica only, without the original; 1—3 sargas, complete, so far only.

The preparations of Krishna for making war against Sisupála.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

3. No. 2289. Cumara Sambhava, without the múlam: only the comment.

The 1st sarga containing a description of Himátt mountain.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, in good order.

4. No. 2291. Nāishadham, a tica to the 1st sarga only; by Cola chēla malla nāt'ha sūri; the introduction.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, without boards, in good order.

5. No. 2292. Māgha cāvyaṃ, the original ślōcas, 1—9 sargas, up to the poetical description of morning and evening, on a march.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on narrow talipat leaves, in good order.

6. No. 2293. Nāishadham, ślōcas.

By Srī Harisha—without tica.

1—5 sargas. The introductory portion of the story of Nala and Damayanti.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on narrow talipat leaves, old, good order.

7. No. 2296. Uttara Rāma charitra, ślōcas.

In 5 sargas, complete.

A kind of narrative poem for public recitation; founded on the story of the uttara Rāmāyanam.

The book is short and thin, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

8. No. 2313. Kirārtārjunīyam.

Wants the title, with the beginning and ending; but the subject is on the tapas of Arjuna, his contest with Siva disguised as a hunter; and obtaining the life-destroying weapon: ślōcas with tica.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on narrow palm leaves, old, and very much worm eaten.

9. No. 2316. Bhōja chāmpu, ślōcas and churnicas by Cāli dāsa.

The story of the bāla to the sundara cāndams 1—5 incomplete.

The subject of the Rāmāyanam, adapted to court minstrelsy.

The book is short, of medium length, on narrow talipat leaves, in good order.

10. No. 2324. Rāmōdhayam, chūrnicā metre, incomplete.

Tale of the Rāmāyanam, abstracted for public recitation.

The book is of medium size, old, on talipat leaves, much injured by termites.

β. B.

Telugu language and character.

I. ARITHMETIC.

1. No. 1092. Ganita sastram, Arithmetical account; incomplete, on 23 leaves.

There is also 1 leaf on medicine, and 6 leaves complete Siva stottram, or praise of Siva. The arithmetical portion is older than the rest; it is a medium sized book, and in tolerably good order.

II. ASCETICAL.

1. No. 1037. Parama yógini vilásam.

Eight asvásas, or sections in the dwipada metre. It relates to the practices of yógis, or ascetics. A medium sized book, in good order.

2. No. 1071. On the Vaishnava system.

This is illustrated by an account of the Aluvár of Vishnu. They were ascetics, and Vaishnavas of the true kind. In contrast to the devotee, the life of the family man, with his trials and troubles, is described. If such householders wish to obtain beatification they must follow certain rules, which are prescribed. There is a description of the Vaishnava system, and like matters of a Váidíca, or religious kind. Written in prose, incomplete, old, medium size, damaged at the edges.

3. No. 1079. On the Aluvár.

The places of their birth, and death, or beatification. An extract from one of their works. Discourses of the Aluvár with each other, on moral and religious subjects. It is stated that Yempramanar, or Ramanuja of Sri Permittur was the chief, and consulted by the others, perhaps an anachronism. The nature of beatification, and means of attaining it explained. The state of man described. Penance, with its fruits. The secret doctrine of the Vaishnavas. The book is in prose, with Tamil words intermingled, and complete. It is long, thin, old, and a little touched by insects.

4. No. 1090. Concerning the Aluvár.

The manner, and place of their birth. The temple where each one died. The local name of the god at those temples. Their genealogy, with particulars as to their immediate parents. Their books, and special sayings; with other matters entirely limited to the 12 Aluvárs: This is a book of medium size, the first half in good order, the latter part of the book has one half of the leaves broken off, rendering the work incomplete.

III. ASTROLOGICAL.

1. No. 1730. Vencatáchala svami Praláni Dwibya putra Játacam.

The horoscope, or astral, and other indications on the birth of the second son of the Treasurer of Tripety pagoda. Some unpropitious points have the requisite zánti (or averting service) stated.

The work is in prose, with here and there a slóca; small, in good order, and complete.

2. No. 1084. The second section of this book states the qualities of the court astrologer, and puróhitam or seer. See XVII. 6.

3. No. 1086. Chicka déva rája putra játacam.

The horoscope, and estimate of the future life and fortunes of a son of Chicka déva, a Mysore king. The name of the son not mentioned. It is written in prose, with verse here and there; long, of medium thickness, in good order, and complete.

IV. CHARITRAS OR TALES.

1. No. 913. Ushá kanya Paránáyam.

The marriage of the virgin Ushá, Bánásura the father of ushá was at war with Krishana: afterwards a marriage was negotiated between Anirudha, grandson of Krishna, and Ushá; which is the subject of this poem in dwipada metre.

There are also five sections of the *Rámáyana*m from the Bála to the Sundara cándam, so far complete, in padya cávya metre. In the writing some Canarése letters are used.

2. No. 1021. Prahláda cháríta, the episode of Prahláda, from the Bhágavatam. It is in the *padya cávya*m metre, a poem by Bommana Potaráju. It is small, old, broken, and not complete at the end.

3. No. 1035. Vasu déva Arjuna cadha, and écadasi mahátmyam, poems in the *padya cávya*m metre, medium size, complete.

4. No. 1036. Three pieces. 1.) Harischandra Nalópákyana; contains three asvásas, or sections of a poem in *padya cávya*m metre, with a prose version by Bhatta murti. In one sense it gives the tale of Harischandra, in another that of Nala.

- 2.) Also Rághava Pánda vyadarsanam.

Three sections relating to the Rághu vamsam, or solar line of kings.

- 3.) Násakétópákyanam, the fable of Násaketu's descent into the lower regions, with the results.

It is a poem in the padya cavyam metre.

The book containing these three productions is large, and in good order.

5. No. 1039. Sámbu charitra. Tale of Sámbu; and Bhakta ranjana charitra, an episode from the Bháratam. Both are in dvipada metre, forming nearly equal halves, complete, and in good order.

6. No. 1042. Pradhhyuma charitra, tale of a son of Krishna; also Kirártárjuna, an episode of the Bharatam, Siva disguised as a hunter disturbed the penance of Arjuna, and afterwards gave gifts qualifying the latter to destroy his opposers. Five sections.

The book is large, and nearly new.

7. No. 1048. Nala chacraverti cadha.

The Náishada, or episode of Nala from the Bharatam. In dwi-pada metre, complete, large size, and in good order.

8. No. 1051. Prahláda charitra, an episode of the Bhágavatam, concerning a devotee of Vishnu: fragment of 8 leaves.

Guru yeti ganamalu, on orthography, a fragment, damaged. The book has only one cover, is long, thin, of little value.

9. No. 1055. Vasu charitra.

A poem in padya cavya metre, in six asvāsas or sections, complete. A romance of love adventures between Vasu a king of Pratisht'hana, and Girikanya (mountain-nymph) and their marriage. By Bhatta Murti, a distinguished poet; the work is classical.

10. No. 1058. Sri Chicka deva raya vilásam.

The amusements of a Mysore king. Story of the marriage between him and Chandra véca. There are also some details on musical time and modes, as part of the amusements of a court. This copy is not finished. It is of medium size, and in good order.

11. No. 1061. Vijaya vilásam, adventures of Arjuna in the South.

A poem in padya cavyam metre, only one section in this book. It varies from the Bharatam; but the legend is common in Southern India. The leading event is the irregular marriage of Arjuna with Chitrangada a daughter of a king of Madura, certainly fictitious. Another is the elopement of Subhadra.

12. No. 1069. Subhadra parinayam, the elopement of Subhadra, sister of Krishna, with Arjuna. It is either a continuance of the former book, or of the same tale. The leaves are in great confusion.

Also

Kucheyalóvákyanam. Story of a Brahman who, on Krishna's marriage with Rucmini, brought presents, and received gifts: only one section, two others wanting.

The entire book is of medium size, and old. It needs collation with other books.

13. No. 1070. Vijaya Vilasam; padya cávyam metre, three sections complete, but requiring to be compared with 11. The adventures of Arjuna at Madura, and at the court of Krishna. Surreptitious marriage with Subhadra, mother of Abimanyu. Medium size, and in good order.

14. No. 1072. Nava ná'hu charitra. A tale of nine Siddhas or magicians, in dvipada metre. Their names are Matsya ná'ha; Sáranghadhára; Goracshaca; Megha ná'ha; Víru pácsham; Nága-Arjuna; Kandi Siddham; Siddha buddhi; Kanódhi. From so much as I heard read of these tales I do not deem them fit for abstracts. Much of a vicious character is written; and, after becoming peculiarly adepts in vice, some of these siddhas attain to supernatural powers. In the two first instances the individuals bore injury before being initiated: most of the others differ, in not having such an excuse.

The book is a poem in the dvipada metre, several leaves are missing. It is rather large in size, old, and slightly damaged.

15. No. 1074. Sáringa dhára charitra.

The story of Sáringa dhára. A fragment of a poem in padya cávyam, having only eight leaves at the beginning, and without boards. The hero was the son of Naréndra-raja, of Rajamahendri; who, when hunting, left the town in charge of his son. His mother-in-law, Chitrangi, took notice of him, and was rejected; on which she accused him to his father, and procured his legs to be cut off. The sequel of the tale may recur in a fuller copy. Ultimately he became one of the above Siddhas. This fragment is a little injured by insects.

16. No. 1731. Gajéndra mócsham, beatification of the king of elephants. This is a poetical version in padya cávyam of an episode of the Bhágavatam, the 8th Cándam; an account of a contest between an elephant and a crocodile. The elephant was worsted; and an imprisoned spirit was thereby released, and returned to the superior world. The poem is complete, and in good condition.

There are 10 leaves of a Canarese book, without beginning or end, the subject hymnology; but this fragment requires to be collated with others of like kind.

17. No. 1470. Vibīshana budhi. The tale of Vibīshana: An episode from the Rámáyanam. At the end 16 stanzas in praise of Lacshmi of the town Kalita.

V. ETHICAL.

1. No. 1010. Bhagavout gita, chant of Krishna.

Three adhyáyas or books, narrated to Dritarashtra by Sanjiví, through the favor of Vyása. It is taken, as to subject, from the Bhárátam. When the rival armies were drawn up, and Arjuna was with Krishna in a chariot, the former expressed a doubt, and grief concerning the destruction of his own relatives. Krishna reproved him; and entered into a variety of metaphysical statements as to the soul, adapted to eastern philosophy: teaching that the destroying his friends was next to meritorious. The book is small, and in tolerable order.

2. No. 1084. 1) Níti sáram, on morality.

Three asv́aras, or books, wanting the seven first leaves.

- 2.) Castúri Ranghadáma satacam.

A centum of verses on the qualities of the átma surúpam, or soul. On morals, on the morals and qualities proper to a king. The qualities of a mantri, or minister of state; and of other rulers. Also on the qualities of the court astrologer, and puróhitan. See III. 2. See XVII. 5.

Section 5. Has some Sanscrit slócas on ethics.

Other sections of this book come under other headings. The book requires collation: It is of medium size, old, and a little damaged.

3. No. 1085. Kannan siru támbu, a summary of the teaching of the Aluvár of Vishnu.

The book is especially a prose explanation of the centum of andádhi, or da capo verses by Pulhata aluvár of Tondamandalam, the 2nd in order. There is some small mixture of Tamil words; as usual in Telugu versions from the Náláyira prabandham. The book is of medium size, without boards, old, and damaged by termites.

4. No. 1087. Jivani lacshanam, on the human soul.

This is a moral treatise, apparently on the taivá system. It treats of the body, the interior viscera, the muscular parts, the breath or spirit, the senses or mind, or sensitive soul; also on beatification, as applied to the immortal soul.

5. No. 1101. Sumati satacam. A poem on ethics, or morals, containing 97 stanzas; 3 wanting. It is small, and in good order.

6. No. 1264. Sabhápati lacshana, on the duties of a king.

The word sabhápati is not here used as a name of Siva, but in its literal meaning, as chief of the assembly; that is, a king, as the head of a judicial assembly.

It is styled the uttara bhága or last part; and implies that it belongs to some preceding work.

From attending to a few of the earlier pages it is found that a compass of knowledge (purely oriental) is laid down such as one man could scarcely acquire. It seems intended to flatter, and at the same time rather to display the writer's own (superficial) knowledge of names and things than to instruct any king. In particular, the pure Indian and semi-barbarous languages mentioned as to be at command by the ruler, are such as one man could scarcely attain by the study and practice of a whole life, apart from other miscellaneous knowledge; including an acquaintance with the five devices; the four kinds of arms; the four classes of women; and a great variety of other matters designated by sonorous names.

The book is rather large, without boards, old, but in tolerably good order.

It also contains the Bhógini dandacam.

By Bommana Potu rája, with a fragment, and single leaves of seven other books; pointing to the need of collation.

VI. EROTIC.

1. No. 1060. Dindima prácasanam.

A poem in 120 stanzas, in ornamental style, concerning females, and of an amatory kind.

The book is small, and new.

2. No. 1073. A collection of stories, or extracts; chiefly of an amorous character.

1.) Déviki, the mother of Krishna, incensed at the affronts received from Camusadu, her elder brother and uncle of Krishna, complained to the latter, who told her that the conduct of Camusadu arose from his dislike of her having given birth to a son, and removed her grief: eight leaves wanting at the beginning.

2.) After Rucmini had been affianced to Sisupálam, son of Krishna's aunt, and her affections were placed on Krishna, she was much grieved. Sarasvati appeared disguised as a fortune-teller, and told her that she would be married to Krishna. Brahma then came disguised as a male gipsy, and took away Sarasvati. The marriage of Krishna with Rucmini afterwards occurred.

- 3.) Kōra vānji. Nāreda took the disguise of a fortune teller, and told Rucmini that she would be the wife of Krishna. Canarese language, four leaves complete.
- 4.) Parijātapa-haranam, loss of the flower of Indrā's paradise.

Nareda brought this flower from Indrā's world and gave it to Krishna, who gave it to Rucmini. Satyabhānmi was grieved thereby. On the following day Krishna took Satyabhāumi in the Garuda vehicle to Indrā's world, and received some civilities; but the flower tree was refused, and a battle took place with the warders. The eight guardians of the heavens also came, and were conquered. The tree was brought, and planted in Satyabhāumi's garden. Two leaves are wanting in this tale.

- 5.) Subadhra vivāha, the marriage of Subadhra, sister of Krishna.

In the reign of Yuddhisthira some cows stolen from a Brahman by Gandharbas, were restored by Arjuna, who then went on a pilgrimage southward. His amour with Ulichini. Near Rāmisseram he released five spirits imprisoned in the bodies of crocodiles, by killing these. At Madura he formed an illicit marriage with Chitrangada, the king's daughter. He next went to the court of Krishna, disguised as an ascetic. He induced Subadhra to elope with him. Bāla Bhadra raised an army to revenge the affront; but Arjuna propitiated him by submission.

- 6.) Kivarta Arjuna. The episode of Arjuna's penance near the Himālyā mountains, from the Bhāratam. It has some addition as to Rembha, a courtesan of Indrā's world, and as to Ziva and Parrati, unimportant to be specified.

The book is of medium size, old, and in pretty good order. It is in the yecha ganam, a loose kind of metre. It seems to be a miscellany proper, but the tales might be separated into distinct books.

3. No. 1075. Maṅgavāda manjeri. A garland, &c.

A variety of matters unfit for detail. The leaves do not look like those of one book, but the subjects in all are of a base and groveling kind. There is some scandal, as to Vencata rāja's wife and Tatācharya, a Brahman. The secrets of the Sacti class, Hanumat vinapam, a prayer of, or to Hanuman, a piece of ribaldry. It is long; but not a thick book, written in prose, in good order.

4. No. 1091. Contains two distinct books.

- 1.) A poetical work on the amours of Krishna, and also on the affection between Rāma and Sita.

2.) Ganga Gáuri vilasam, a low and loose production on Ganga falling in love with Siva; mingled up with matters not capable of abstract. The book is small, and thick, damaged in the middle by insects, with various leaves wanting in the middle and at the end.

5. No. 1104. Chandrà bhúdayam, the rising moon.

A poem in padya cávyam, containing two asvásas, or sections, complete, but not finished as a whole. It relates to the wife of a muni, affected by the moon on its rising, and using reproachful language; a common place of Hindu writers. Not being complete, the tale has no denouement.

The book is of medium size, old, and a little damaged, especially in the latter portion.

6. No. 1726. Poem ascribed to Chicka deva raya. It is divided into four parts; each part being in a different metre, the fourth of the lyrical kind adapted to singing. The subject in all is the female sex; twenty eight stanzas are called by the names of the 28 lunar mansions, but the subject is the same with the rest. There are also four leaves in Sanscrit from the Mágha cávyam, the same subject. In the larger portion the language is Telugu; but the characters are Canarese. It is adapted to the public amusements of a Court: rather large, bored by insects.

VII. EXEGETICAL.

1. No. 1725. Manō bódha, Mental instruction. In the dvipada metre, complete. This is appended to another book of a Vira Saiva kind. The present portion is rather unusual, as giving a series of lessons in mental instruction.

VIII. FABLES.

1. No. 1047. Pancha tantra. The five devices. The fourth, and part of the fifth sections of a common and very popular work. In the padya cávyam metre, small size, old, injured, without boards.

2. No. 1327. Pancha tantra.

A complete copy of the same work, in five parts; on sowing division—benefit of friends—spies or treachery—damage of possession—hasty conclusion without full examination.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order. In padya cávyam metre.

IX. GRAMMATICAL.

1. No. 1076. Guru yatī ganamulu.

On the length of letters and syllables, with the different kinds of verse, and rules for the formation of each one, complete.

A chandasu, or work on Prosody, the 3rd khandam, containing 49 ślocas: the 1st only explained in Telugu.

A piece on genders, exemplified by the variations on the name Rāmā; also the singular, and plural numbers of nouns.

A few moral ślocas, 3 leaves.

Three loose leaves, each one containing a detached stanza.

The book has a uniform appearance, and possibly was thus put together by the copyist. It is long, thin, and in good order.

X. HISTORICAL.

1. No. 567. Yādava chronicle.

Kātama rāju, king of the Yādavas, made war with the ruler of Nallūr, and connected states.

The advantage or victory was on the side of the yādava (shepherd) king. The war is ornamentally narrated, in dvipada metre, and the book is complete. There is another, and differing account among the Mackenzie MSS. It is long, of medium thickness, old, but only a little injured.

XI. HYMNOLOGY.

1. No. 908. Mangama dandacam. A poem in praise of the sakti of Vishnu, at Tiru malāi or Tripety. It is in the measure termed churnikā, and complete; the book is of medium size.

2. No. 1030. Sect. 2. Yetti-indra mata dipica, contains 10 sections in dvipada metre. Stanzas in praise of the Aluvār, or special votaries of Vishnu; to whom time has given a sort of apotheosis.

3. No. 1077. Vencatésvarulu vinnapam.

It contains 153 stanzas in praise of the form of Vishnu of Vencatāchala, or the hill at Tripety. It does not finish. The book is new, of medium size, and in good order. It may have been put in the place of some older book.

4. No. 1083. Vencatésvaruna-mēlu, concerning Vishnu at Tripety. Stanzas in praise; only seven leaves:

Bhāscara satacam, thirty stanzas in praise of Vishnu, by Bhāscara (an epithet of the sun, and also a name of Ramanīya).

A few loose stanzas on Nārāyaṇa. There are some stanzas contained in the book, pointing out the need of śikṣā. The book is of medium size, part old, part recent, the leaves are of different sizes.

5. No. 1094. Bhakti mārgamu, devotional way, prāṇa. The mode of putting on the nāma or forehead mark.

The mode of japam, or muttered prayer. Prāṇa to Vishnu. This means whereby bhaktis, or devotees, may obtain brahmacarya. The various kinds of sin, by which it is forfeited. Some matter on the formation and growth of the foetus, and much on the yōgi ascetism.

Some poetical stanzas in praise of Vishnu. A few stanzas are interspersed; the subject hymnology.

Besides there are a few leaves on the subject of the Samudra-mandana. On Rāma's return to Ayodhya he described the places that he had seen. And also 20 leaves on Saiva hymnology, incomplete.

The leaves of the book are alike, but the two last fragments are anomalous, and probably belong to some other book of like size and age. The entire book is of medium size, old, and a little damaged.

6. No. 1097. Calahastya satacam.

Part of a centum of verses (3 stanzas on 8 leaves) on the image of Siva, at Cāla-hasti, vulgo Cālastrīe.

—Vencatésvara satacam.

Part of a centum of verses (21 stanzas on 7 leaves) on the image of Vishnu at Tripety.

—Amazam—Dictionary, Sanscrit ślocas with meaning in Telugu. The 1st part, but the 10 leaves are in confused order.

—Rāma chandra satacam.

Part of a centum of verses (34 stanzas on 11 leaves) of a poem on Colānda Rāma or 7th avatāra of Vishnu.

The book is long, thin, old, and damaged, both by insects and decay. Whether this state, as a bundle of fragments, is its proper one; or that it requires to be collated with other books, is uncertain.

7. No. 1099. Cālahastya satacam.

A centum of verses on the god at Cāla hasti. This is complete. The metre śiśa pādyam. The book is of medium size, new, yet slightly injured by insects; and one half of it is merely blank leaves.

8. No. 1098. Prasanna Vencatésvara dandacam.

Homage to the presence of the Tripety god. It is complete. The dandacam metre is a sort of rapid metrical prose, a chant.

— Vencatésvara manjari. Garland of Vishnu.

Homage to the same in another sort of measured prose, containing many rapid anapæsts, forming a light and tripping utterance.

Besides there are 25 leaves mingled on Saiva and Vaishnava matters, and some verses ascribed to Chicha Déva ráya.

The book is long, thin, in good order; the leaves are uniform in appearance, age, and hand writing.

9. No. 1100. Vencatésvara satacam.

A centum of verses in praise of Vishnu at Tripeti, complete.

Also six leaves of the Bala Rámayanam, an epitome for children.

The book is long and thin, without boards, old, and damaged by breaking of the leaves.

10. No. 1108. This book contains ashtacas, or octave verses in praise of Vishnu, under various names; but there is a large proportion of other, and miscellaneous fragments on various subjects. The book should be used in collation with others that are defective, and might tend to complete them. The leaves of this are some longer than others, and different as to age, while the contents shew them to be a gathering up of leaves, without connexion.

The book is of medium size, old, and a little damaged.

XII. INCANTATIONS, OR CHARMS.

1. No. 1068. In a book of miscellanies, requiring collation, one portion (the 2nd) contains various mantras or zantis with reference to signs of the zodiac, and lunar asterisms, in the gecha ganam metre.

XIII. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

01. No. 1053. Andhra náma sangraham.

A fragment of only five leaves, in Telugu verse (padyam), containing names of different deities.

1. No. 1082. Amara cosha, Dictionary.

Contains part of the 1st section, but only four leaves, old, and worm eaten.

Also a prosodial treatise on different poetical feet and measures, complete.

And Telugu numbers in account, thrown into verses to aid the memory, complete.

The book is long and thin, very old, and much worm eaten.

2. No. 1097. Amara cosha.

The 3rd section of the book, and containing ten leaves, in confused order, of the 1st part of the Amaram—Sanscrit ślōcas with meaning in Telugu. It is old and damaged.

3. No. 1527. Amara cosha.

The 1st part complete, with some portion of the 2nd, in Telugu characters.

Another portion in Canarese character, only 22 leaves.

The book is small, of medium thickness, old, and a little injured. It should be divided into two, and collated with other books.

XIV. MAHATMYAS, or local purānas.1. No. 1045. Sri Ranga mahātmyam.

The legend of the fane on the island of the Cāveri, near Trichinopoly. The image was left there by Vibishana of the Rāmāyanam. The book is highly ornamented, as to invention, and machinery. Any detail may be referred to the Mackenzie Manuscripts. This book is of medium size, and in good order.

2. No. 1041. Bhimésvara mahātmyam.

By Danābhi-Rāmāmbalu cavi in padya cāvya metre.

Legend concerning an image at Benares, in a Saiva shrine.

The 1st āsvāsam is wanting, the 2nd complete, the 3rd not so.

The book is of medium size, new in appearance, but much damaged.

3. No. 1063. Yādava giri mahātmyam.

Legend of the temple and fort at yādava giri. Many leaves are wanting in the middle of this book, which is long, old, incomplete, without boards and injured. A brief outline of the contents may be better stated under other copies, in the Sanscrit language, or Canarese.

XV. MEDICINAL.

1. No. 902. Mantra-yantramulu.

This is a medical work, concerning various disorders of the human body, and the remedies. But, as intimated by the title given, it contains astrological and magical matters as to charms, with squares, or other figures, and letters in them, to be worn about the body.

It is in prose, is small, old, and damaged.

2. No. 1080. Vāidhya grant'ha, Medicine.

The diseases incident to the human body from flatulency, bile, phlegm, with description of symptoms, on epileptic fits, symptoms ; the remedy. On mercurial preparations ; decoctions ; electuaries ; on metallic calces, reduced to powder, especially mercury. Oils, balsams, mode of making them ; with various other connected matters.

The work is in Sanscrit slocas, with the meaning in Telugu, and complete. The book is long, of medium thickness, recent, and in good order.

3. No. 1088. Vāidhya grant'ham. Medical book. It contains seven adhyāyas, or chapters, in Sanscrit slocas, with the meaning in Telugu.

Chap 1, treats of the forms and symptoms of disease. Chap 2, the causes of the different diseases, whence they proceed. Chap 3, the sufferings caused by them described. Chap 4, the five different kinds of pulses, named and described. Chap 5, difference of four particular diseases ; similarities. Chap 6, on diseases in young men, occasioned by drinking. Chap 7, on other diseases, and generally remedies for all.

The book is long, of medium size, and injured at the end only, by insects.

4. No. 1096. Vāidhya rasāyanam, on the mode of making mercurial compositions. Recipes for various mercurial medicines ; one hundred and eleven are counted ; mercury being the basis in all ex: gr.

Cumudésvara rasāyanam.

Maha mūrgāvigana rasāyanam.

Sūchidā barana rasāyanam, &c. &c.

The paging begins with 95 ; leaves in the middle and at the end are wanting. The book is long, of medium size, and nearly new.

5. No. 1102. Vāidhyam. On Medicine.

This is a miscellaneous book. The first portion, different in appearance from the rest, is on various disorders of the bowels, of the head, fever, diseases of children, &c. It is of small size, and old.

6. No. 1601. Vāidhya vishayam. Medicinal treatise.

A prose work, entirely on the different branches of medicine.

The book is of medium size, and very slightly damaged.

XVI. MIMAMSA, OR RITUAL.

1. No. 1043. Pandita āśādhya, on rites. This is a Sāiva work.

On vibhuti, or the sacred ashes, and their use : on the sacred beads, their excellency. On the linga pūja, or ceremony of homage to the emblem.

of Siva. Also on the uses of the various utensils employed in pūjas, or ritual services and in sacrifices.

The book is large and old. Two prakaranas, or chapters, are complete; the 3rd not so.

2. No. 1094. (See XI. 5.) Bhakti mārgam, on the mode of putting the Vāishnava mark on the forehead; on muttered prayer, order of worship; means whereby devotees may obtain beatification, and how it may be forfeited; on yōgi ascetism, and other matter, in measured prose.

XVII. MISCELLANEOUS.

1. No. 1020. Two works.

- 1.) Rāmāyana, the bāla cāndam or 1st book in dwipada metre, on the birth and early life of Rāma.
- 2.) Nala chacraverti cadha. The tales of Nala, an episode of the Bhāratam. The planet Saturn was his rival; owed him a spite; reduced him and his wife to great distress, so that Nala became a cook, and Damayanti a house-servant. They then recognised each other, and were ultimately prosperous. This piece, however, is a fragment: it begins, but does not finish.

The entire book is of medium size, old, and damaged.

2. No. 1052. A miscellaneous collection.

- 1.) Achāra ganitam, a few leaves on Telugu letters and orthography.
- 2.) Padyāla pustacam, various matters, as hymns, morals, interpretation of dreams. Also on signs, such as a serpent crossing the path of any one, and like matters.
- 3.) Sri-Krishna satacam; eighty seven stanzas, out of 100 in praise of Krishna.
- 4.) Cālahasti satacam, 98 stanzas out of 100, in praise of Siva at Calahasti.
- 5.) Bhāscara satacam, 82 stanzas out of 100, in praise of Vishnu.
- 6.) Mādhava Krishna satacam, 82 stanzas out of 100, in praise of Krishna.

There are 5 other leaves, each distinct, belonging to some other satacams; and 13 leaves of ornamental poetry on amatory subjects. The book would require to be collated, with others under XI, and with some other works in fragments. This book, as a whole, is large, and in good order.

3. No. 1064. Three books, or fragments.

- 1.) Harischandra cadha. The tale of Harischandra, an episode from the Bhāratam; a portion only in dwipada metre. This tale is elsewhere abstracted.

2.) Furána sangraham, epitome of a purána. The leaves are broken off, one third, or end piece only remaining. Hence what purána, or what subject, remains undetermined.

3.) Tadiyáradhana punyam, on the merit of feeding Brahmans; Sanscrit ślócas with the meaning in Telugu prose. The term tadiyáradhana is technical among the Váishnavas; the Smártas use the word sámádhánam (peáce) in the same sense.

4. No. 1073. A miscellaneous collection of six different books, but chiefly of an amorous description. See VI. 2.

5. No. 1078. A miscellany of nine different works, but connected, in character. On the label, five are stated.

1.) Parama rahasya kriya. 2.) Tatva kriya. 3.) Art'ha pañjacam. 4.) Pindótpatti. 5.) Krishnamáchárya rasam; but this last is resolvable into two; and three other books were met with on examination. The general character is Vedantic; and fuller notice may best come under that head. See XXIII. 1.

6. No. 1084. Six books. See III. 2. V. 2.

3.) Krishna satacam, has only 36 stanzas out of one hundred; praise of Krishna.

Mádhava Krishna satacam, has 71 stanzas out of 100, on the same subject. Mádhava is merely an epithet.

4.) Sarvésvara dandácam. Praise of the Deity, in rapid metre, or chant. Of a Róman catholic class, small size.

6.) Replies by Vasishtha to enquiries made by G'háriya maha muni on the influence of constellations at the time of birth. Some leaves wanting.

This book has a uniform appearance outside, and the leaves are all of one size. It might be collated with other books; or these sections might be separated into distinct works.

The leaves are of different ages, and the whole of medium size, a little damaged.

7. No. 1087. This book has two leading divisions.

1.) Páttra vivaram, details on the proper mode of bestowing gifts, and proper mode of receiving them; with this matter is connected an account of the asterisms under which each of the Aluvár (special votaries of Vishnu) were born; and also under what asterisms they were beatified, or died. So far complete, in prose.

—1 loose leaf, account of some temple, name not known.

2.) Journal in prose, complete.

It appears to be a brief report of some one unknown, stating various particulars, concerning places visited on a pilgrimage; apparently to Benares and its neighbourhood.

It mentions various hills, rivers, and sacred pools in the neighbourhood of the Jumna and Sarasotee rivers, leading on to matters connected with reminiscences of Krishna. Various gháts, or mountain passes. Radha, a mistress of Krishna: Kundéni a town in which Rucmini, a wife of Krishna, was born. Some romance concerning one Pánjala's grand-daughter. She ran away to the Gándara country, there the son of a king saw and married her. Narrative of a spectacle at her wedding, the people present, and the like. A petition to Krishna as Góhulasvámi the cow-herd god. An account of the customs (désáchára) of ten kinds of Brahmans; among other matters, their crimes. Casi-guruttu, description of Benares. The Ganges—It cured a chólarája of his leprosy. Various other tales of its efficacy. Four pillars: two of them visible, two were merged in the river, and are not now to be seen. Prayági guruttu, a description of Allahabad, or rather of the Triveni, or very sacred triple junction of the Jumna and Sarasotee, with the Ganges at that place. Details concerning the rivers, and various temples. Some account of the Brahmans there: and also about some poets. There is a transition to Sri Sailam in Telingana. It is like Benares. Much is stated concerning it, as a great place. Such are a few meagre outlines. If the whole be simply a journal, as on casual perusal appears to be the case, a translation might be not without interest.

The whole book is long, and thin, and is slightly injured by insects.

8. No. 1102. For 1.) See XV. 5.

2.) 'Ahrura dandacam. The uncle of Krishna (that is Camsa) called his charioteer 'Ahrura' and told him to go and bring Krishna; he did so and homage to Krishna was rendered.

3.) 'Krishna dandacam. Krishna being brought with honors, Camsa afterwards came with intent to kill his nephew. 'Ahrura became a votary of Krishna.

4.) 'Náráyana satacam. - Praise on the ten avatáras of Vishnu; only 26 stanzas, out of one hundred.

5.) 'Sabhápati lacshanam. The properties, or becoming deportment of a ruler, who presides in a sabha, or assembly. 'Sabhápati' is also an epithet of Siva. This piece wants 1 leaf.

- 6.) Vishnu dandacam, a chant in praise of Vishnu ; besides whom, it is stated, there is no other god.
- 7.) Suc'ha R'hembà samvátam. An interview between a sage and courtesan. Suc'ha was a muni, and in order to destroy the efficacy of his penance Indra sent R'hembà, a courtesan of Svèrga, to him. The conversation on the interview left unfinished. There are two stanzas on Rámas and the same on Siva.

This book is small, old and damaged. The 1st section on medicine is homogeneous, the other leaves differ, and require to be collated, or else separated.

9. No. 1107. Miscellany. Of all the books in the Telugu language of this class, the present is the most varied. It appears as a sort of volume of elegant extracts.

The label merely gives—"On the ten avataras of Vishnu," which is only one leaf at the close. It is not perfectly clear whether this book is a collection ; or parts of various books incidentally thrown together.

- 1.) Samat gáram. Three broken leaves on capping verses, or answering questions leading, on mistake, to some such epithet as jackass, or monkey, to promote mirth in a company.
- 2.) Vencatésvara satacam, broken leaves, a centum of verses complete on the Tripeti god.
- 3.) On six chacravertis, Harischandra, Nala, Puru, Purúrava, Sacara, Karta virya : one stanza gives their names, with their towns, or capitals.
- 4.) Names of sixteen maharájas of the solar line.
- 5.) Eight stanzas on the tatva system.
- 6.) One stanza on Ráma chandra.
- 7.) Seven stanzas on Siva.
- 8.) Ten leaves on a temple, called cambam, dedicated to Ráma.
- 8½.) Six stanzas on Hánuman.
- 9.) Calinga marddhana, the legend of Krishna killing a serpent, and again restoring it to life, on the intercession of its five wives. (Seems to be an enigma ; the Nágas are a class of people).
- 10.) On Krishna's stealing the garments of the gópis, as narrated in the latter portion of the Bhágavatam.
- 11.) Bála hridam, the boyish play of Krishna, stealing butter, and the like, from the above.
- 12.) Five more leaves of samat gáram, or play on words ; one or two broken at the end.
- 13.) Women abuse the moon, because his rays on rising cause them pain.

- 14.) Manmata dūshanam, women abuse Cānu : concerning the effect of his five arrows, his retinue &c.
- 15.) One stanza in praise of Krishna.
- 16.) Gangādhara stōtra, praise of Siva, as bearing Gauga on his head.
- 17.) Calahasti satacam, 11 stanzas only.
- 18.) Narasinha sutacam, 13 stanzas only.
- 19.) Ranghēsvara satacam, 100 stanzas, complete.
- 20.) Mūshaca and Mārjala, on the acts and manners of the large bandicoot rat, and cat : one stanza on each.
- 21.) Sarasvati dharāvati, 27 stanzas complete, on the excellency of the consort of Brahma.
- 22.) Chinna kēsvara satacam, 59 stanzas out of 100 in praise of Vishnu.
- 23.) Mādhava ashtacam, an octave of stanzas ; women recite verses in praise of Krishna, complete.
- 25.) Vencatesvara ashtacam, an octave on the Tripeti god, varied measures of an amorous kind adopted to dāsīs at public processions, complete.
- 26.) Rāghu nāyacula ashtacam, an octave complete.
Verses of like kind in praise of Rāma of the line of Rāghu.
- 27.) Rāghuvashatcam, an octave, complete, on Rāma.
- 28.) Vencatesvera ashtacam, an octave, as above, on Vishnu at Tripeti.
- 29.) Konēti rāya ashtacam, five stanzas, only by Konēti, in praise of Vishnu.
- 30.) Kanda cūri janārjuni ashtacam, an octave complete, amorous verses in praise of Vishnu.
- 31.) Venerandā hominum ac mulierum descriptio, 3 stanzas—kēlica graha varna, is the title.
- 32.) Nava nīti chora ashtacam, an octave in praise of Vishnu, composite metre.
- 33.) Sri sūila mahātmyam, two leaves on the temple, and god at Sri sūilam.
- 34.) Anna dāna patam, one leaf on the mode of giving food to men.
- 35.) Cāsi mahātmyam, two leaves, composite metre, 15 stanzas on the glory of Benāres.
- 36.) Five stanzas on moral subjects.
- 37.) Manmata Cuvēra samvātam, four leaves composite metre. The god of love, and of riches, each maintains his own superiority to the other. A rishi comes in, and settles the dispute.
- 38.) Ratna sāsānam, seven leaves on the distinguishing properties of precious stones.

- 39.) Satya vâchaca 21 stanzas how to lead a moral life.
- 40.) One stanza on the five Pândavas.
- 41.) On the customs of the Arya and Drâvida countries ; the upper and southern India.
- 42.) Amorous verses in sringâra metre.
- 43.) Verses on chandra, the moon, same metre, 22 stanzas.
- 44.) On Krishna, 10 stanzas.
- 45.) One leaf on the ten avataras of Vishnu.

From this leaf, at the end, the label gives the title of this manifold book.

The entire book is long, and of medium size, very much damaged by breaking of the leaves: whether it was so put together by design or accident, collation with other books could alone decide.

XVIII. MUSICAL.

1. No. 1042. Contains an explanation of the seven tunes, modes, or measures of the native music, and other similar matters. See IV. 6.

XIX. PAURANICAL.

1. No. 1011. Bhâgavatam. The 11th candam, or section, in the last of the eighteen purânas. It is in the padya cavyam measure; complete, only that a few middle leaves are wanting. An outline will be given under No. 1014. This book is long, large, old, and touched by insects.
2. No. 1012. Bhâgavatam, dasama scândam. The 10th section. The pûrva bhâga is complete; the uttara bhâgam not so. The 11th and 12th sections being requisite to complete the whole.

The 10th section refers to the parentage, birth, early dangers, and early events, sports, &c., in the life of Krishna. It is the favorite, popular portion of the whole work.

This copy is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

3. No. 1013. Bhâgavatam. The first, second, and third books, in padya cavyam, or composite metre. An abstract of these three books may be referred to class Delta, order B., Mackenzie Manuscripts. This copy is long, large, and nearly new.
4. No. 1014. Bhâgavatam, the 7th book.

This portion contains the account of Hiranya-casipu, slain by the Narasinha avatâra of Vishnu. The birth of Prahlada, and education; discourses between him and Hiranya-casipu, his father, by whom he was greatly ill-treated. The Narasinha avatara of Vishnu, bursting from a pillar, in the shape of a man-lion, to kill Hiranya casipa is the leading subject of this book. [And I think this avatara has some light thrown on it, as to place, by the recently discovered antiquities of Nineveh, in Mr. Layard's work.]

This book is long, of medium thickness, old, and damaged : with the exception of a few middle leaves, here, and there it is complete. These may be found by collating other books.

5. No. 1015. Bhāgavatam. The tenth book, forming the close of the pūrva bhāga, or ancient portion. It wants some leaves in the midst, but is otherwise complete, in composite metre. See No. 1016. intra.

There is also in this book the asvamedha parvam, or book on the horse sacrifice, from the Jaimini Bharatam. It contains 8 asvasas, or sections, in composite metre, but with some leaves deficient. The subject may be referred to notices of the Bharatam. See β. E.

This book is of medium size, and injured.

6. No. 1016. Bhāgavata purāna.

The 10th section, attached to the purva bhaga, or former portion. It relates to the birth, early adventures, and sports of Krishna. There is added to it the Rucmini parinayam, or marriage of Rucmini to Krishna.

The book is large, old, but in good order.

7. No. 1017. Bhāgavatam, the eighth book.

The war between an elephant and a crocodile (macara), with the death of the former, and release of Gajendra from further transmigration. The churning of the milk sea in the curma avatara. The swallowing of poison (garalapacshanam) by Vishnu, whence his body became blue. The Amrita produced. The deceit of Vishnu as Mohini, cheating the asuras of the amrita. The destruction of raekshasas.

—The Vamana avatara. Vishnu as a dwarf and giant. The destruction of Bali. The Trivikrama visva-rupa. The three-step-form of Vishnu, one foot on earth, one on Bali's head, one in heaven.

This section is complete, in composite metre.

The book is long, of medium size, in good order.

8. No. 1018. Bhāgavatam.

Another copy of the 10th section, but without the Rucmini parinayam. In composite metre. The book is long, of medium thickness, and nearly new.

9. No. 1019. Bhāgavatam. The uttara-bhaga, or latter part, containing the 11th and 12th sections complete, in composite metre.

The penance of Sattiraditya to the sun ; request for the lost samantaca jewel refused, its subsequent recovery from a she-bear. The various adventures and marriages of Krishna, and a variety of other matters. The combat between Bhīma and Duryōdhana at the close of the great war.

The book is long, of medium thickness, a little touched by insects, otherwise in good order.

10. No. 1038. Padmā purānam. The uttara cāndam, or concluding part.

It relates to rites in the month magha, or July—August, of peculiar efficacy, also on various days and months. A further notice will occur elsewhere. The ēca dasi and dvādasi mahātmyas or fasting on the 11th and 12th lunar tithis are added to this book. The 11th is of special observance.

11. No. 1044. Padma purānam.

The 5th āvāsam, or section in composite metre. On the mystic O'm. The bearing on the body the chakra mark. The putting the ūrḍva, or mark on the forehead (the Hebrew letter shin). The efficacy of the eight lettered formula of the Vaishnavas, Srī na ra ya na ra ha—Praise of Lacshmi. The mūla prācīti surupam, or pantheistic universe—Deity, and matter combined; and a variety of rites and observances by Brahmans.

There is added a little of the 1st part of the Anāram, Sanserit dictionary, in ślokas, from the 1st section.

The book is of medium size, rather old, but in good order.

The appendix, on collation, should be transferred to some other number.

12. No. 1046. The Scānda Purānam.

The Cāsi mahātmyam, containing from the 1st to the 26th ādhyāya or section, complete in prose. A full abstract of the contents may be referred to class deltā, order B.

This book is large, and in good order.

13. No. 1059. Scānda Purānam. The Garuda mahātmyam, from the 8th to the 12th āvāsa or section, in prose. The subject noticed in it, is the penance of Gāutama rishi.

It wants one leaf in the middle, and has no boards, is written on talipat leaves, and very old.

14. No. 1065. Scānda Purānam. The cāsi cāndam, on Benares, from the 28th to the 58th section: the first leaf is marked 170, prose. This book is large, and in good order.

XX. SCHOOL BOOK.

1. No. 1093. Achara ganitam, seven leaves, containing the Saiva mantram, and Telugu letters of the alphabet; long, thin, and new: perhaps substituted for some other book of value.

XXI. SECTARIAL.

1. No. 1110. Siva gnána manjérí. Garland of saiva doctrine. This is a production, contrived to convey the saiva system, in a favorable, and taking manner.

A Brahman wishing to marry his daughter, named Mukti kánta, made the svayamvaram, or ceremony of general invitation. Many persons attended, as suitors. The young woman was introduced, and and her good qualities were stated. One Advaita present is represented as asking for her in marriage. He was called upon to declare his religious opinions, and these are stated at length (the apparent object of the book); he concluded by declining the marriage, as the opinions of the intended bride did not harmonize with his system. In a second part, the marriage of the young woman, named Mukti kánta, with Dattatréya is mentioned. Some details as to the pindotpatti (or formation of the foetus) in the native taste follow. The work is complete; and is, as far as I know, a rare mode of conveying sectarian instruction in India. There are a few other specimens.

The work is in dvipada metre, two leaves near the middle are missing.

XXII. VEDANTIC.

1. No. 1078. (See XVII. 5.) A collection of Tractates; but chiefly of the Vedanta school.
- 1.) Sri Rámanúja kirtanalu. Hymnology in praise of Rámanúja, one of the 12 Aluvár, and head of a school of philosophy, the Visishta advaita, as a medium between the systems of Mádhavá-chárya, and Sancaráchárya. His birth place was Sri Permittúr, near Madras, poetical, complete.
- 2.) Srimán Náráyana márti mahima. The glory of Vishnu as Náráyana, and also of other divinities, with many examples in illustration. Prose, complete.
- 3.) Ar'ha panchacam. Five specialties of the Tatva system: these are (1) Sasvasva rúpam (2) purassva rúpam (3) upayassva rúpam (4) purushurt'ha svarúpam (5) viródhí svarúpam. These are again subdivided into five (1) nilyalu, muktulu, b'hadulu, kévalulu, má-murchulu; (2) para, yúgáti, vibhava, antariyámái, archavatáram; (3) harma, njána, b'hakti, prabhakti, ácharya-vimánam; (4) dhermam, ar'ham, kánam, átma anubhavam, Bhagavánubhavam; (5) svarúpa viródhí, para svarúpa viródhí, purushartha svarúpa viródhí, upayasva svarúpa viródhí, virodhi svarupa viródhí. These several particulars are explained, though briefly, on eight palm leaves. A translation alone would illustrate such technicalities. They mingle material and spiritua! in a mode characteristic of the system.

4.) Tatva treyam. Three components of the human body. (1) chittu, the life; (2) achittu, the body, or matter; (3) paramátma, the soul, which on this system is Isvara, or god. There is no agreement between the soul, and the body, which position is illustrated. On the restraint of the five senses, and various other matters of the tatva kind, with exemplifications. In books of another class, there is much discussion whether the jívátma is one with the deity or not. The affirmative is maintained by Védanta adváitús.

5.) Rahasya treyam. On mysteries, in a spiritual signification. This was not minutely examined.

6.) Parama rahasya treyam, on mysteries, with reference to superior beings. This tract is in the Tamil language, but in Telugu letters, and in prose. There is a mixture of words from the vedas in Sanscrit. Among other subjects is the glory of Rámanúja, and of other beatified 'Aluvár'; and also that of the Námcharula, or wives of the various 'Aluvár', also wedded to Vishnu. This tract is stated to be by Rámanúja, but more probably by a disciple of his.

7.) Pindópatti, on the conception of the fœtus; an explanation of its nature and qualities; its monthly increase stated, as to kind and degree; its mode of growth; its birth after ten lunar months; and mode of delivery. This is not a section of midwifery; but of native divinity. Appended are praises of Vishnu; with a declaration of the pains, and penalties that will ensue from injuring any of his followers. There are some instructions from an 'Aluvár' to enable his followers to avoid the causes of evils; and like matters.

8.) Ranghà nãrha satacam, a fragment of nine stanzas, on the god at Trichinopoly; also five stanzas on Vencatésvara at Tripeti; and ten stanzas on various subjects. This fragment is not vedantic.

9.) Thoughts of God—the mode of such meditations, and on the mode of obtaining beatification: incomplete.

The book is of medium size, rather old, and a little injured.

2. No. 1080. Fragment on the Védanta system.

The beginning and the end being wanting, the title and author's name are not known. The subject is a discourse between a teacher and a disciple, on the means of obtaining beatification, according to the Váishnavas. The leaves, except the 33rd, are regular from 8 to 71.

Two leaves at the end are in the grant'ha letter, and Canarese language: want of coherency renders them unintelligible. The book needs to be collated with others. It is of medium length, thin, and in tolerable order.

XXIII. VETERINARY.

1. No. 1049. Haya lacshana vilásam, on Farriery, or treatment of a horse; and a discrimination as to qualities. Three chapters, complete, in poetry. The book is long and thin: also old and damaged.

XXIV. VIRA SAIVA, or Jangama.

1. No. 1725. Basava linga. A poetical work in padya cávyam, in 357 stanzas complete. It is of an ultra saiva class, or the system introduced by the elder and younger Basavas. Among other things, it dwells on the efficacy of water that has been used in washing, or bathing the figure of Siva. It also contains a detail of the sacrifice of Daksha, to which his daughter Sati, wife of Siva, was not invited. The vengeance of Siva, origin of Vira Bhadra; and other details (See also VII.) A single leaf of Sanscrit, refers to the yajúr, and sama védas; but is without any complete meaning.

β. C.

Tamil language and character. (There are other characters, used in some of the Manuscripts, to be noted as they occur).

I. ARITHMETICAL.

- No. 2016. Yen-chuvadi, two copies. Native accounts of various kinds. A common school-book.

II. CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY.

1. No. 2020. Fragment. It contains praise to Christ by the Virgin Mary; and is apparently a portion of the Tembávani by Beschi. It has neither beginning, nor ending. It is without boards, and injured.
2. No. 2363. Njāna varhi, way of wisdom.

It contains a statement of the Divine Attributes; and includes the ten commandments. It is of Roman Catholic kind; using the word Sarvesparan for God; omitting the second commandment, and dividing the 10th into two. It is long, thin, and damaged. There are two leaves in the grant'ha letter, belonging to some other book.

3. No. 2370. Two Roman Catholic books; fragments.

1.) Sarvésvara charitra, on the attributes of God, with explanations of the ten commandments, omitting the 2nd, as usual; from 23d to 26th leaf.

2.) Kadavul nirnayam, on six attributes of God. In the course of the illustrations, there is a condemnation of Ráma, Krishna, and others deemed gods, or objects of worship; from 1 to 21st leaf unfinished. Perhaps the two documents should be transposed as to order, and considered as one. The book is of medium size, thin, old, and eaten off by rats at one end.

III. ETHICAL.

1. No 1992. Niti venpa, stanzas on equity.

Eight leaves are added on the 1008 Sáiva temples, and a few verses on Arunáchala-ísvara, the god at Trinomalai. The book is small, in good order, and appears to be complete.

2. No. 2369. Two works on moral subjects.

1.) Satta muni, stanzas by him.

2.) Agastya pádal, a centum (when complete) of verses ascribed to Agastya, containing statements superior to the common polytheism, but teaching pantheistic views of the deity. Both works are incomplete. The book is long, thin, without boards, and damaged.

IV. HISTORICAL.

1. No. 1998. Guru paramour—genealogy of the 'Aluvar'.

The descent of the special votaries of Vishnu, sub-deified by time, is traced, and, if genuine, the detail would be serviceable in matters of chronology. The writing is partly Tamil, partly grant'ha: the Sanscrit names wholly or partially in grant'ha letters. The book is large, complete, and in good order. One leaf on rhetoric, wholly Tamil, is prefixed.

2. No. 2009. Account of Tiru náráyana puram, otherwise termed Mél-kottái, or west-fort. The familiar local name of the god is cheeva pillai, a title of Vishnu.

The book relates to the proceedings of Yempramanár, one of the 'Aluvar' of Vishnu, and narrates the foundation of a Váishnava temple at the above-named town. The 'Aluvar' visited that place, teaching doctrines; he converted 52 persons to that mode of credence, and appointed ceremonies and observances of the Vaishnava kind. He went from Sri Permutúr. The book is complete, in 108 leaves, none defective. It is small, and of medium thickness, in good order. The letters are grant'ha of a large size; but the language is Tamil. It is a document of some interest, as illustrative of the change of religion from the Jaina to the Vaishnava mode in the Ballála kingdom of Mysore, through the agency of Rāmanúja.

3. No. 2025. Mysore rāja vamsavali. A genealogy of the kings of Mysore. It begins abruptly with Appana Tiruma rāja, and breaks off abruptly at the end, appearing to be a fragment: 15 palm leaves..

The book is small, nearly new, and uninjured.

4. No. 2026. Kṛta yuga rājākal. A list of kings traced from the earliest age, and introductory to the names of the rāyas of Vijaynagaram; inclusive of various minor accounts of gifts and endowments.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

V. HYMNOLOGY.

1. No. 1991. Ranghēsa-venpa. Stanzas in praise of Vishnu. with a prose explanation of a moral, or mystic character. It is new, and in good order, without boards, long, and of medium thickness. It relates to the god at Sri rangham, near Trichinopoly.
2. No. 2003. Upadēsa-retna mālāi. Hymns, 71 in number, belonging to the Nālayira prabandham, or book of 4,000 stanzas by the Aluvār; believed to be from the Vēdas. It has a comment by Manavāla incomplete. Attached is the Yeti rāja vimsati or 20 stanzas in praise of one of the Aluvār, by Manavāla maha muni. The characters are Telugu. The first is Tamil, the second Sanscrit as to language. The book is small, old, and damaged.
3. No. 2008. Prabandham. Fragment of Tamil translation from the Vēdas. It contains portions of different poems from the Tirupavi (hortatory) and pū chūtu or song, on putting flowers on an image. There is neither beginning, nor end, in any of the subjects. The leaves have an appearance of uniformity, as though the remainder were lost. The book is long, thin, damaged, and without boards. It is written in the grant'ha character.
4. No. 2014. Mū mōcsha prakaranam a part of Vāishnava mysteries. Prayers or hymns. A production of the chief Aluvār, on the means of obtaining beatification. It contains Sanscrit in the grant'ha character.

The book is small, old, and a little damaged.

5. No. 2020. Fragment. Praise to Christ by the Virgin Mary : perhaps a portion of the Tembávani ; without beginning or ending, no boards ; injured at the tops, and edges.
6. No. 2021. Two books.
 - 1.) Rangha calambávam. Praise of the god at Srirangham near Trichinopoly, by Pillái Perumálayengàr.
 - 2.) Vétti véndan, ascribed to Vira Pandiyan ; níti chol, or ethical and proverbial sayings ; sometimes used in schools.

The book is long, thin, without boards, and touched by insects.

VI. INDEX or hand-book.

1. No. 1266. The 3rd section of this book has a fragment of four leaves ; part of an index to the contents of the Bháratam, or the subject of each parva from 1 to 16. It is in the Canarese character, rudely written.
2. No. 1984. Index, with epitome.

It states the general contents of several of the Puránas, of the *Rámáyana*m, of the Halásya mahátmyam : and of a great variety of other books, which are more or less popular. It has the appearance of having been prepared for the use of some European enquirer. It gives the number of sections in the different works ; with other divisions ; the general contents, and the name of the reputed author. There is prefixed a statement that Vyasa wrote the puránas, and a detail of the names and characters which he bore in different births, during 28 dvápara yugas of as many manuvantaras, fabulous, of course. This book, if translated, might be a useful hand book for enquirers into Hindu literature. It is long, of medium thickness, nearly new, and in good order.

VII. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

1. No. 2015. Nigandu, Dictionary.

By Mandala purusha.

1st section names of gods.

2d ,, names of men ; the rest wanting.

An appended fragment of three leaves contains some poetry on the life of Christ ; from the Tembávani supposed.

2. No. 2018. Agaradi, Dictionary.

It extends only to the first letter, short and long of the alphabet. The words are Sanscrit, and Tamil ; the meaning is given with phrases illustrating the meaning. It seems formed on a popular and useful plan; so much resembling European Dictionaries as to be probably the work of a European. The character in which the whole is written is Canarese.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

VIII. MEDICAL.

1. No. 1994. Vaidyam. On Medicine. A prose work. It treats of fevers and other disorders. It is particular on the diseases of children, from the birth of a child to the end of thirty days; and thence to the end of twelve months, and in following years. Various medical matters, and remedies suited to diseases are stated. Also the preparation of oils or balsams, electuaries, mercurial powders, The preparation of charms, engraved on a plate of copper, and tied round the wrist, or neck of children, when troubled with fits. Incomplete at the end. The book is long, and of medium thickness, in tolerably good order.
2. No. 2019. Vaidyam. It is otherwise termed "yantra mantra sangraha," a collection of charms. The tiru nittu mantram is at the beginning. The rest of the book contains various medical recipes for sores, and various disorders. There is a charm for exorcising any one possessed by an evil spirit; and directions on regimen in particular cases. The whole is a Vaidhyan's book, on native medical science. It is small, and old, the leaves a little injured at the edges.

IX. MISCELLANEOUS.

1. No. 1996. Three different productions.
 - 1.) An epitome of the Rámáyana in Sanscrit ślōcas, and Tamil—prose explanation; both in the Grant'ha character. It is a fragment of ten leaves; much older than the rest, and apparently belonging to some other book.
 - 2.) Tiru váyi morhi, or part of the náláyiva prabandam; 980 stanzas out of the 1000 by Nám álvár, or Sétugōpa; considered to be translation from one of the Vēdas: 98 leaves, Tamil language and character.
 - 3.) Sutta-punyapa vachanam, ślōcas in Sanscrit, Grant'ha letter, containing mantras for the purification of a house; before entering on a new house, or after a house has been from any cause ceremonially polluted. The entire book is long, of medium thickness, and much worm-eaten.

2. No. 2001. A medley of various books.

- 1.) Sri rangha nāt'ha stōttram, praise of Vishnu at Trichinopoly, Sanscrit ślōcas in Grant'ha letters.
- 2.) Castūri panjāssatu, praise of the spot on the forehead of the said image.
- 3.) Rāmanūja stōttram, praise of the udaiyār, or āluvār of Sri Per-mattur. The preceding are on seven leaves, Sanscrit in Grant'ha character.
- 4.) Various portions of the Prabandam, as follows—leaf 28 to 34—54 to 65—100 to 109—66 to 69—70 to 79—90 to 95—96 to 99—129 to 142, 1 less intermediate.

Some of these are by Tonda reddi podi, and some by others; but the whole relates to the divvyā prabandam or version of the Vēda, and requires collation with other books.

- 5.) A fragment of three smaller leaves: it seems to be called mālāi padalam, or evening chant. It is of erotic character.
- 6.) One leaf, a yōgi meditating that his body is mortal, his soul immortal, and desiring to be united with the deity.

The entire book is long, of medium thickness, and only slightly injured.

3. No. 2010. Various fragments.

A few leaves from the Nālāyira prabandam, the language is Tamil. There are some leaves, not regularly numbered, from the Ramāyanam; the fight by 'Adicayan son of Rāvana, in Telugu characters.

Four leaves stōttras, or praise by the 'Aluvār, in the Grant'ha letter. One leaf Bālabandu letter.

Again, three leaves in Telugu letter. Mahōdara's dispute.

The book is large; but of no use, except as collated with others to supply their probable deficiencies. In many of the Manuscripts the leaves appear to have been put together by careless or ignorant persons.

4. No. 2023. Miscellany.

- 1.) Bhūmi chacra. 2.) 'Anda chacra. 3.) Bhūmi nirnayam. 4.) Anda nirnayam. 5.) Ages of rishis, kings, gods, and men.

These tracts contain an account of the dwipas; measures of time; the various yugas, and greater periods; the duration of the lives of rishis, and others. The gandharbas—the eight guardians of the points; the internal and external sects of the Sāivas—in all twelve—the means of their obtaining beatification.

5. No. 2364. Medley.

The principal portion is some forty-five irregularly strung leaves of the Tiru vāṅi morhi, or Tamil version from the vedas, without any connected meaning. Other loose leaves are strung without connexion. One loaf of Canarese writing and language states that the universe is contained within the writer; the assertion of an advāita, or else buffoon.

2 leaves talipat deva nāgari writing.

1 large palm leaf—same character, and then the above 45 leaves in disorder.

The book is long, thin, old, and the Tamil portion of it damaged. It needs collation.

X. NĀTACA OR DRAMA.

1. No. 1993. Nondi nātacam. The cripple.

By Tiru kānchar mūrti Tiyāgesa : vrutta metre.

A sarcastic play, as to a noted robber at Trichūr, and also at Cānchi. This copy is incomplete, and only extends to an adventure near Madras; after robbing a traveller at Mūta-cāra choultry. Further notice may be referred to a fuller copy in the McKenzie collection. The design of such productions is to scoff at the easy pardon of crimes in ś'hala-purānas.

XI. PĀURANICAL.

1. No. 1982. Vishnu Purānam.

Delivered by Parāsara to Māitreya. The subjects on which the latter asks to be informed answer the purpose of an index to the following matter, relating to the creation, the avatārās of Vishnu, and a variety of other details. As the original is translated into English, detail is not needed. The Tamil work is divided into six angasis, and various adhyāyas, as follows:

1st	angasi	22	adhyāyas or chapters.
2nd	"	16	" "
3rd	"	18	" "
4th	"	24	" "
5th	"	38	" "
6th	"	8	" "

It is in prose. At the end it is stated, that Śada gōpāya (the name of one of the Aluvār) put this Purānam into Tamil; copied in S. S. 1726. A. D. 1804 C. Y. 4904 in the Prabava cycle year. The freshness of the book indicates recent copying. It looks like one foisted into the collection, in place of some other book. It is complete, long, large, written on broad talipat leaves, and in good order.

2. No. 1988. Cási Khandam of the Scanda Puránam. An account of Benares. The púrva khanda contains 41 adhyaýas, one wanting, the uttara khanda has from 42 to 58, two intermediate deficient, and remains unfinished. It is stated to be from the Bhágavatam in the book, and on the label; which is erroneous. It is long, and thick, very much damaged by insects. A fuller abstract will elsewhere appear. The following is a brief specimen.

The pride of the Vindhyá mountain : on Náreda. The celestials went to Brahma's and Siva's world about the said mountain. Drupada's penance, received its fruits. Brahma went to Benares. One Sivasanna received beatification. Agastya praised Muruga (Cáma) praise of Ganga; benefit of bones of the dead being cast into the Ganges. Birth of Bhairava. Plan of the town of Benares praised; on household life. On the state of the Brahmá-chári. On the sacerdotal order. On household virtuc. On the state of the ascetic. Splendor of Benares. Ascetics praise it. Story of a man and Garuda. Brahma's sacrifice. The celestials of Siva's world, went to Benares. Divodata resigned there. Vishnu went to Benares.

3. No. 2037. Bhágavatam, a version made in prose, on a perusal of the original work. The 1st and 2nd cándas are complete: of the 3rd there are only 11 leaves. It is long, thin, new, and without boards. It was spoken by Suta rishi in the Náimisara, wilderness. The Bhágavatam is ascribed to Vyásu, Náreda went to him, and remonstrated on his writing nothing about Vishnu; whence he wrote the Bhágavatam, narrated by his disciple Suta; and afterwards by Suca to Paricshít. The opening contains various matters concerning Vishnu, as the ádi mûla, or First cause. Reference to his acts as Krishna in the matter of the Pandavas. A fuller notice will elsewhere occur.

This is quite a recent copy, and may excite some doubt whether it may not have been put in to supply the place of some other book. It is not of the age, or appearance usual in the East India House Manuscripts.

PURANAS, LOCAL.

1. No. 1983. Arunáchala Puránam. The legend of a temple, dedicated to Siva, on a remarkable hill, a little south of Madras; best known by the name of Trinomalee (tirumaldí). A fuller notice will elsewhere occur. This copy is large, rather old, and appears to be complete.
2. No. 2069. Vridhdháchala Puranam, legend of a temple on a hill farther South, corruptly Vurdachellum (old hill). This also will be fully noted elsewhere. Poetry, erutta metre. The book is large, rather old; and, in a trifling degree, injured by insects.

XII. PRABANDAS, or writings of the Aluvár. Said to be versions from parts of the Sama Veda and other Vedas.

1. No. 1103. A miscellany of various Tracts.

—Tiru vaji morhi, version from the Vedas, 1000 stanzas complete, written in the Telugu character. It is ascribed to Kurukúr Sadagopa, or Nam Aluvar, a special favorite and votary of Vishnu. So far complete.

—108 stanzas ascribed to Yenpramánar, or Ramanija, like subject, so far 110 leaves.

—Gópála vimsati, twenty ślocas, on Krishna in Sanscrit, ascribed to Védanta désikar, or Rámanuja.

—Tatva treyam the triple property: on the mystic syllable aum (or o'm), called the pranava. Also on the three gunas; the satvica, or meekness; the rájasa, or pride, violence, the tāmasa, darkness, or corruptness; with these three gunas, if the pranava be rightly used, the way of beatification may be found: Sanscrit ślocas on 3 palm leaves.

—Unconnected stanzas by Nam aluvar.

So far in the Telugu character.

Quite another book. Three old leaves containing 1 stanza, or ten saranas, or feet; seems to be the tiru palli, or chant in temples to awaken Krishna. In the Canarese language and character.

2. No. 1105. Váishnava Prabanda—a collection of productions by the Aluvár chiefly; to which is prefixed Guru párampara, or a genealogy of spiritual directors to whom the term désikara is applied as an appellation of office. Then

- 1.) Stanzas by Vishnu jit of Velliputtúr, or Poriya Aluvár (1) pála anda 11 stanzas (2) pú chuttú, 10 stanzas (3) tiru vallara 10 stanzas (4) upon Vencatááhala pati 10 stanzas
- 2.) Ten stanzas on Vishnu, by Tiru pántácar.
- 3.) Ten stanzas by the Madura cavi Aluvár.
- 4.) Tiru palli yeruchu, ten stanzas on Vishnu as Rangha ná'ha, to awaken the sleeping god, by Tondaradi podi Aluvár, or "votary beating the dust of the god's feet."
- 5.) Palli yerupu, 30 stanzas by Chádi holutta náchijár, wife of Nam aluvar, given up to the god by him. The chant is also called tiru-pávi.
- 6.) Tiru mulái puttái, 45 stanzas on Rangha ná'ha by Tondaradi podi aluvar.
- 7.) Ratna malái, jewel-string, 72 stanzas, by Manárcála mahá muni.

The remainder miscellaneous.

7 leaves śloca Sanscrit Telugu letter praises of Vishnu by votaries with the kumpidu, or adoration.

—1½ Leaf hymnology on Vishnu, ½ leaf śloca praise—five leaves of prose instructions by Aluvár, and ácháryas, on the proper mode of approaching, and serving the god Vishnu.

—18 Leaves Sudarisana-stotra, praise of the chakra of Vishnu, as his instrument to destroy evil persons ; and of Vishnu thereby.

—One leaf on the shodasa náma stotra, praise of Sri Ráma's 16 names.

—One leaf on the nirdósha, things free from evil, as sugar cane-juice, water, sandal-wood, jewels, gold, milk, flowers.

This book is of medium size, and in good order.

It is homogeneous in appearance. The subject uniform, as pertaining to Vishnu. The Grant'ha writing is by a very different hand than that of the Telugu writing. The book may be one as a collection of excerpta.

3. No. 1106. Chants, or devotion to Vishnu, ascribed to Periya Aluvár, or the chief of twelve special votaries. Tamil language, much mingled with Sanscrit, and in the Telugu character.

The book is small, old, and a little damaged.

4. No. 1999. Nálájira prabandam. Tamil translation from the Védas. This book contains 1043 stanzas, or chants: the full number is 4000. The character is Canarese, large, well-formed letter.

An appendix of 5 leaves gives the lunar mansion under which Aluvár was born. Sanscrit śloca, Canarese letter.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

5. No. 2002. Mutálájira prabandam, the first thousand stanzas in the Aluvár páttu, or translation as above. Of these only 180 stanzas are in this book. By Nam Aluvár. Some matters relate to other Aluvár ; as, where born, and under what lunar asterism. Some Grant'ha letters are used ; and a peculiar collocation of them. The book is long, of medium thickness, old, but in good order.

6. No. 2004. Another Copy of the same, containing 440 stanzas out of the 1st thousand ; the rest wanting. It is a mystical book, very little understood, and Váishnavas will not explain it: like the original védas, it is obscure.

The book is long, of medium size, and in good order.

7. No. 2005. Tiru vayi morhi. Another copy, the 1st thousand stanzas complete, from the Prabandas, by Nam 'Aluvār. There is a mixture of different poetical measures. It relates to the Vaishnava credence, or is so applied from the Vēdas. There is one loose Tamil leaf, and one of ślōcas Telugu letter; both in praise of Vishva. The book is long, thin, and damaged.

8. No. 2006. Tiru vayi morhi, word of the sacred mouth, that is the Vēda. The 1st prabandam or 1000 stanzas, by Nam 'Aluvār, complete; Andāti metre.

Also 108 stanzas by Yem pramānar, otherwise Rāmānūja complete; and some incomplete stanzas by Tondi reddi-pedi Aluvār, in praise of Vishnu. The latter is said to have found his wife in a bush, and afterwards to have presented her to the service of the god; she is known as Chūdi kodutta nāchiyar.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

9. No. 2000. Prabandam, part of the Tiru vayi morhi or Sāma vēda. Poetry with a prose explanation; by which of the 'Aluvār not stated. From the 46th to 50th leaf deficient; the rest complete.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and in good order.

10. No. 2007. Nālayira prabandam. Part of the hymns of the Aluvār, incomplete at the beginning, and end. It is ascribed to Satagōpa of Kurukūr.

11. No. 2010. The same fragment; many leaves are defective in various places: a few of them are written in Telugu letters.

There is also a fragment of 5 leaves in the Telugu language, on the fight by Adicāyan, son of Rāvana.

Some Grant'hā letter praise by the 'Aluvār 1 leaf Bālaband, and 3 leaves in Telugu character, on Mahōdara's fight with Rāma.

The Manuscripts seem to have suffered from being untied, and tied up again with foreign leaves, by ignorant persons. This book is large, but of no use, except to supply leaves, on collation, that may be wanting in other books.

12. No. 2011. The same work. A mystic production. This is large in size, and in the Canarese character; but with a mixture of Tamil and Telugu, and some indication of foreign idiom as tandri-tāyum, one word Telugu, the other Tamil, and the usual order of the words reversed.

The book is large, and in good order.

13. No. 2012. The same work, a part or fragment only. It is in the Tamil language, but Grant'ha letter.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

14. No. 2013. Prabandam, the same work, in part only. Telugu character. Translation from the védas. The book has a beginning; but does not finish. It is long, thin, old, and a little damaged.

15. No. 2014. Mú-mócsa-prakaranam. The chief 'Aluvār's production, on the means of obtaining beatification. It contains Sanscrit in the Grant'ha letter.

The book is small, old, a little damaged, and incomplete.

16. No. 2364. Divya Prabandam, version from the védas. Before this portion there is other matter See XI. 6.

The Vaishnava poetry by one of the 'Aluvār is contained in 45 leaves, and is the principal portion: but the order of the leaves is not regular; so that it can only be made out to be part of the Tiru vāyi morhi. The book is long, thin, old, the Tamil portion damaged.

XIII. ROMANCE, historical.

1. No. 1981. Harischandra purānam. The episode on the integrity, trial, loss, and other adventures of a monarch; ending in his restoration and happiness.

The book is complete; long, of medium thickness, but damaged by insects.

2. No. 1985. Bhāratam, the parvam, or section entitled Virata. Seven padālas, or chapters in verse. The subject relates to the five Pandavas retiring to the desert for 12 years, together with Drūpadi; and living one year incognito in the town of the Virata-rāja: when Duryódhana stole his cows, Arjuna went out and defeated the marauders. The section takes its name from the town. This manuscript is large, without boards, and in good order.

3. No. 1987. Bhāratam, part of the ādi parvam, or first section; that portion of it which relates to the stratagem to entice the Pāndavas, and to destroy them, by burning their house, constructed of highly inflammable materials. No boards; one leaf broken; nearly new.

4. No. 1989. Rāmāyanam by Camben; a fragment. The Ayódhya cāndam. The 1st padālam wants the beginning, and the end is deficient. The leaves are not regularly numbered; but the story, relative to Rāma's early life is continuous. The book is uniform; the leaves wanting may possibly be elsewhere in the collection. It is long, thin, damaged at the end.

5. No. 1990. Rāmāyanam by Camben.

The Kishkinda cādam. The adventures of Rāma, with Vali and Sugrīva. There are 16 padalams (sections), from the pāmbi padalam to the mahendra padalam. Also the sundara cādam, 15 padalams, from the kadal lāvu to the mūirchi padalam. And the Uttara cādam, 15 padalams; this last complete. Also sara-nūl, a discourse of Siva to Parvati. The leaves broken at the end.

6. No. 1995. Māsana khandam. A section of the Harischandra Purānam: that one relating to the burning ground for dead bodies in the Venpa stanza.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, and injured by insects.

7. No. 2017. An episode from the Rāmāyanam, concerning the asvamedha yāgam by Dasaratha; but without beginning or end. It is marked on the label as Maha Vintham-Nangai pattu, which is wrong. It is an old fragment, worn at the edges, broken in some places.

8. No. 2033. Bhāratam; the Bhīshma parvam, or 6th chapter, on the combat under Bhīshma as Duryodhana's general: complete to the end of the 7th day's combat. It is part of a prose abridgment in Tamil. The book is small, old, and a little touched by insects.

9. No. 2035. A fragment of the same work, apparently a prose abridgment of the Bhāratam; a little injured by insects; and small in size.

XIV. TALES.

1. No. 1986. Nala chacraverti cadhāi: About one half of a prose abridgment of this tale; an episode of the Bhurutam; either from that, or the Nāishadham.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, leaves broken.

2. No. 2022. A common and popular legend of a cow surprised by a tiger, and asking leave to go, and promising to return. In consequence of keeping its word it received beatification. The manuscript is thin, has no boards, in good order.

3. No.——. Vetāla cadhāi. Part of the popular story of the demon, or familiar of Vicramāditya, translated into English by Mr. Babington. This book is complete, down to the 15th day, the rest wanting. It is small, new, and in good order.

XV. THEOLOGICAL or mystic.

1. No. 1997. Bhagavat-rahasyam, the mystery of Deity. A large work, in measured prose, containing extracts from the Prabandas, or writings of the Aluvār on the Vēdas, and from the Smritis, or inspired treatise on law, and teaching the isoteric, or mystic doctrine of the Vaishnavas; which approaches to a pure theism. Vishnu is the parama-purusha, or heavenly man: that is the Being, in the sense of Svayambhu or the self-existent. The unity of god, under the term Vishnu, is inculcated. Many of the leaves, in various places are wanting. It is probably a comment on the Tamil version of the Vedas.

Another book on the thousand names of Vishnu is appended, recent, and in good order.

The whole forms a long and very thick book, in general good order.

2. No. 1266. The 1st section is Parama-pāta-sōbana, a ladder to the heavenly-foot. It is a fragment, without beginning or ending, on Vaishnava matters.

Nārāyana is the original heavenly light. When Brahma had created all things, and the Vēdas were stolen by rācshasas, Nārāyana, becoming incarnate killed the chief demon, and restored the Vēdas to Brahma. Various matters on the other avatāras. There are verses from the Smritis, and Sada-gopāchārya, in support of the writer's views; and also from the Tamil version of the Vedas.

This 1st section, though not old, is very much worm-eaten. The two other sections are elsewhere entered. See D. and C. VIII. 2.

β. D.

Canarese language and letter.

I. ADVAITA.

1. No. 1307. Prabhu devara shadast'hāyata vachana; prose, on the six places.

14 adhyaayas complete; on the Sāiva advaitam, or Smārta system. It has brief apothegms, each of which is explained in easier prose.

Shad angala—six members, or parts of the human body, which are connected with the aikyam, or union with the lingam, as an emblem of deity: the oneness of the human soul with the divine soul.

The book is long, somewhat thick, in pretty good order.

2. No. 1314. Pancha cosa nirnayam.

In Sringadi metre, with explanation in prose.

On the Advaita system: does not begin or finish, 20 leaves in confused order.

The book should be collated with others. It is of medium length, old, a little damaged.

3. No. 1560. Go-ésvara vachanam, in dvipada metre, with a prose explanation, by Go-ésvara; does not end, leaves not numbered.

Technical terms of the Sāiva vedānta, or Advaita system.

The book is long, thin, on talipat leaves, old, much damaged, some leaves differ in size, and handwriting.

4. No. 1565. A fragment, prose.

75 leaves without beginning or ending, name not known—on the advaita system.

The general subject in this, and like productions is the non-reality of the visible universe (Nominalist in metaphysics); with the want of difference between the human, and divine soul.

This fragment is of medium size, old, and injured by worms, and breaking.

5. No. 1571. Sect. 2. for sect 1. see XXXI.

A fragment of eight leaves, containing chants on the advaita system, with a tīca in prose.

II. ARITHMETIC.

1. No. 1281. Sect 2. Yen chuvadi.

Six leaves, an ordinary school book for teaching the principles of Arithmetic; with fractions, and names of the cycle years.

2. No. 1299. Sect 3. Yen chuvadi.

The same school arithmetic, 48 leaves.

3. No. 1375. Sect 1, 2, for 3 see XXVII.

Sect. 1. Lec'ha, reckoning.

Table of fractional accounts; 22 leaves without beginning or ending.

Sect 2. Ganitam, Arithmetic; ślōcas, with a Canarese explanation, 8 leaves; no beginning nor ending: author not known.

The book is long, but the leaves, as a whole, differ in length,

4. No. 1406. For sect 1. see XXVII.

Sect 2. Yen chuwadi—school arithmetic, leaf 1—20, does not finish—has a list of the cycle years, and the 28 nacshétras.

Sect 3. Ganitam; ślokas and Canarese stanzas; on multiplication; on division; on indirect proportion.

28 rules on the trérásécam, or rule of three.

5. No. 1441. Sect 2. Ganitam—arithmetic, padya cávyam on the rule of three, and of five, with examples in Canarese, six leaves.

6. No. 1468. Sect 3. Fractional arithmetic.

7. No. 1479. Sect 3. Yen-chuwadi, school book, on arithmetic, fragment of six leaves.

8. No. 1510. Sect 2. Ganita sastram, on arithmetic, padya cávyam stanzas.

Rule of three—of five—of seven—of eleven, &c. sutras on various rules of arithmetic, questions on them. A table to estimate the value of pearls, see XIX.

9. No. 1634. Ganita sastram. Arithmetic, incomplete, on 131 leaves.

Addition—subtraction—multiplication—division—rule of three—of five, and other modes of accounts, with examples.

The book is of medium length, thick, old, damaged by worms at one end.

10. No. 1635. Sect 3. Ganitam, accounts, a little on bhúga karam, or division, see XIII.

11. No. 1637. Ganitam, arithmetic, padya cávyam stanzas, with some Sanscrit mingled.

On multiplication and division, with rules and examples; on the square and cube roots, tables; incomplete.

The book is short, thin, old, a part of it very much damaged.

12. No. 1640. Sect 2. Ganitam, accounts, complete: numeration table; certain names which have numbers attached to them, so as to mean otherwise than they appear to do; as chándru 1, surya 12, eyes 2, and the like, see XIX.

13. No. 1642. Ganita sastram, incomplete.

Addition, subtraction. On land measure. How many kuris in any figure by measurement. On grain measure. On the rule of three, and of five—examples.

Leaf 50—217, in the midst injured.

The book is long, somewhat thick, very old, very much damaged.

14. No. 1643. Ganita pustacam, arithmetic, padya cavyam, stanzas. On the affairs of traders or merchants. A great variety of modes of account, with examples.

Some matters relating to places, or lands; specification of names used for numbers, as sun, moon, &c. The numeration table. Gana mûlam, a table of square and cube roots. On two different leaves are some matters on astrology, medicine, and tatva metaphysics.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

15. No. 1645. Ganita sastram, arithmetic.

Guna karyam, or multiplication.

Bhâga karyam, or division.

Kutta karyam, addition; also on subtraction, the rule of three, and of five; with examples, under the several heads.

On grain measure, and on land measure: leaf 1—164 imperfect at the end.

The book is of medium length, thick, a few leaves broken, otherwise in tolerable order.

16. No. 1648. Râjâditya ganita, "the royal-sun", arithmetic: padya cavyam.

Merchant's accounts—rule of three, and of five, mode of operation, with examples, and proofs. A little Sanscrit on the same subject; 75 leaves, incomplete.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, and damaged by worms.

17. No. 1649. Ganita pustacam: Arithmetic, padya cavyam, or composite stanzas. Various arithmetical rules, and examples. On direct and inverse proportion. On the square root. The rule of three, and of five—of seven—of nine.

On fellowship. On the weight and value of gold.

On the rule of false, by supposition and approximation. Mensuration tables for land measure.

The book is of medium size, old, tolerable order.

18. No. 1651. Sect. 1. Lôca viva-hâra, ganita, practical business accounts.

By Bhâscara dâva: composite stanzas, with a tica in plainer language, complete.

Various difficult rules of arithmetic, as of five, seven, nine, &c., with examples.

Sect 5. Yen chuvadi, school book, on arithmetical fractions, see XIX and VIII.

19. No. 1697. School book.

It contains various fractional arithmetic: and besides the names of years, months, &c. with stanzas in praise of Deva raya a king, on Ranghanayaki, on Narasinha, on Siva, on Ganga; said to be used in Mysore schools: complete with some blank leaves. It is of medium length. thin, different sized leaves, slightly injured.

20. No. 1698. Ganitam, arithmetic.

Various arithmetical matters; at the end a leaf containing the multiplication table, with some stanzas in a boy's handwriting; a sort of "copy book."

It is somewhat long, of medium thickness, in good order.

21. No. 1707. Sect 1. Yen chuvadi, school arithmetic, including fractions.

Sect 4. Some stanzas on arithmetic, see XXIV and XIII.

22. No. 2098. Miscellaneous accounts (transferred from Sanscrit books), it is Canarese in Grant'ha letter.

Accounts of villages.

The outlay on account of the udiyar's servants, for the procession of chelva pillái.

Other account of procession expenses. In the midst a few Sanscrit ślokas on the praise of Vishnu.

Afterwards more accounts, in the Canarese language, and Grant'ha letter.

The book is small, without boards, in good order.

III. ART OF POETRY.

No. 1448. Cāvya saram, composite metre.

By Rudra Bhatta.

A treatise on the art of poetry, and specifying eighteen common-places, or topics, needful to be introduced to the ornamental part of any poem; of which topics some are 1, puram, the town; 2, samudra, a description of the sea; 3, the sun and moon; 4, vanam, wilds or woodlands; 5, jala cridha, and 6, rati cridha; (immodestia) 7, vriham, pain of desire; 8, Kalyanam, marriage; 9, birth of children; 10, mantras; 11, sending messengers; 12, suc'ha, health; &c. &c. The said topics are stated, and described; but leaves are wanting at the end.

The book is of medium size; and in places worm-eaten.

IV. ASTROLOGICAL.

1. No. 1577. Nava grīha chintamāni.

A work on horary questions, as to the results of any proceeding as—'if I go to such a village?' 'If I purchase such a cow?' And the like. [This is that part of astrology most open to imposture, and leading its professors to magic, to divination; and causing the whole to be termed "the Black art"; whereas astrology, if it has any truth, is properly a demonstrable science, and ought to be dealt with on Baconian principles.]

This book is deficient at the beginning and the ending; 95 leaves remain.

The book is short, thick, and damaged.

2. No. 1629. Jyotisham, prasnōttara chintamāni, or jewel of horary questions, and answers.

Examples—'the thing that I thought of, will it come to pass? He that went away, will he come back to-day, or not?' And many others of like kind.

The book is short, of medium thickness, damaged at the edges, by termites.

3. No. 1631. Sect 1. Prasnōttara chintamāni, 10 leaves complete, prosaic.

If going to buy any article—"is it advisable to do so"? If going to enter on any new work or office "will it take place or not"? Answers given to such like questions, whereby a strong mind may always govern a weak one.

Sect 2. Nava grīha chintamāni, stanzas with a comment. It contains squares, used in the art of divination.

If going to enter on any new work, or to undertake any new business, by consulting the planets, and throwing dice in their names to find, by the quotient, or result of the numbers, whether the result will be successful or unpropitious.

12 leaves, complete; for sect 3. see XIV.

4. No. 1653. Jyōtisham, astrology, fragment of 10 leaves, without author's name, beginning or ending.

The contents are merely figures relative to the position of the sun and planets; and the best conjecture is that this is the rough work of one engaged in calculating an almanac. At the head of two leaves are balband letters, but merely indices, and an incomplete śloca in the same letter.

5. No. 1684. Kālagānānam, foreknowledge of time: prose, incomplete.

On the proper and improper lunar days for journeying; and also on the sūlam or obstacle on different days of the week. Thus, the amāvāsī, or just before the new moon, and the davadasi, or twelfth lunar day, are thought unfavorable for journeying from home. The sūlam is elsewhere explained : 50 leaves.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, very much injured, so as not to be coherently legible.

V. CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY.

1. No. 1402. Satya upadēsa, true doctrine, prose, in six khandas or sections. Creation by a word, formation of man, animals, inanimate things. Man is superior in creation, by intellect, and an immortal soul. On human obligation and duty. An account of Christ and his apostles. It is not objurgatory of other systems. By the use of the word sarvēsparam it is known to be Roman Catholic. It received but a cursory examination; and may possibly merit a fuller one.

The book is of medium length, thick, somewhat old, but in tolerable order.

2. No. 1533. Satya upadēsa, true doctrine, prose, four scandās or books, complete.

On creation and the qualities of things. On the perfections of Sarvēsvara or God. It finds fault with Brahma, Vishnu and Siva, and others, such as Subrahmanya, as not possessing the requisite claims to Deity. On looking at the close it was found to relate to Hell and Heaven. The Christian term mocsha rajyam is used, with archēsishṭa Maria and the name Jesus. It is, by consequence, the outlines of a body of divinity on the Roman Catholic system, and objurgatory of heathenism.

The book is of medium size, in tolerable order.

VI. CULINARY.

1. No. 1638. Sūpa sastram, cookery, prose form.

On preparations of various meats and vegetables for making made dishes, or curries. Mode of correcting unpleasant or hurtful qualities by neutralizing substances. On the preparation of fruit of the egg-plant (solanum) and other vegetables; and on the use of milk, curds, lime-juice, and other like materials.

The book is of medium length, thin, defective as to beginning and ending, old, damaged by insects.

2. No. 1641. Sūpa sastram, art of cookery, prose form.

On the preparation of various kinds of confectionary: cakes known by the names of mandige, horize, galige, pey, vadli, sukhya, chaculi, laduge, kadupu, payasa; tastes of fruits, appanas, milk, curds, butter-milk. Various modes of preparing rice: rice gruel; pūnatam. There are many technical terms used, not translatable.

The book is of medium size, tolerable order.

VII. DRAMATIC.

No. 1446. Parijata nātaca, the paradise flower. An episode from the Bhāgavatam, dramatized.

A flower of paradise was presented by Nāreda to Krishna, and by the latter to Rucmini. On Satyabhāma hearing of the present she became jealous, and complained. Krishna went to the world of Indra, fought with opposers, and brought away the tree itself. This silly hyperbole is extremely popular.

The book has a mixture of Telugu with the Canarese, it is incomplete, of medium length, rather thick, injured at the end.

VIII. ETHICAL.

1. No. 1216. Sect. 1. Vidura nīti; in composite stanzas, incomplete. 132 padalas, on 113 leaves. Taken from the Bhāratam. Vidura told Duryodhana, many moral matters, against war, treachery, cruelty, and the like topics.

Sect. 3. Rāja nīti, duty of kings, in composite stanzas, incomplete.

For Sect. 2 see XXXII, Sect. 4, see XI.

2. No. 1233. Sect. 2. Bhagavat gīta.

The 1st, 2nd, 11th, 12th adhyāyas are complete, having a śloka in Sanscrit, and a corresponding padya in Canarese, as a tica throughout. The 10th adhyaya has only the original ślokas, no Canarese version: 49 leaves; incomplete as a whole, see XXI and XXIV.

3. No. 1247. Bhagavat gīta, hexameters.

The 6th, 7th, 9th, 11th adhyāyas are wanting, 32 leaves are deficient; 120 remain.

A translation into Canarese, the meaning of every original śloka, having a corresponding padya in Canarese. The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, slightly damaged.

4. No. 1254. Viveka chintāmani, prose of the kind termed talva gnānam.

On the five elements, and on the qualities of the human body. The five necessities (defects or pains) such as sleep, sorrow, hunger, &c. the ahāntīma vivēcam, or on personal identity or cognizance of self, body and soul. On the qualities of moral zeal (vairāgya); on anxiety to obtain beatification of the soul. On the results of conduct in a former state upon the present one; and of the present on a future state. On the punishment of hell. The work leans to the Saiva system of the better kind, incomplete. It appears to merit translation.

The book is somewhat long, and thick, very much injured by termites.

5. No. 1281. Sect. 1. Siddha nīti, in kanda padya metre, wants the 1st leaf.

The proper moral way for people to walk in, so as not to transgress dharma or rectitude; so as not to suffer loss or danger; and so as not to destroy punyam, or moral merit; see II. and XII.

6. No. 1294. Sect. 3. Uttara gita, in part Sanscrit ślokas, other part Canarese prose. Part of the Bhagavat Gita taught by Krishna to Arjuna. I notice the terms yōga drishṭi, spiritual vision, or second sight, and nyāna vichāram, spiritual investigation: 14 leaves only.

Sect. 4. Gñānāncusa, spiritual curb (lit: elephant hook) 33 leaves, not complete.

The taṭva philosophy, such as No. 1254 supra, condemned or reproved: it is chiefly Sanscrit, in Canarese letter.

Some terms are chitta, will; indriya senses; ancara, selfishness, pride.

There are also 12 leaves Canarese, quite unconnected, and only of use to collate with deficient books; see XXII. XXVII.

7. No. 1299. Sect. 1. Vinayuca ragali. Praise of Ganēsa in a peculiar metre, merely a prefix;

Sect. 2. Siddha nīti. A sage discourses on worldly things, with the difference between laukika and vaidika, and on the excellence of the Saiva system—complete in 108 kanda padyams, or stanzas.

8. No. 1300. Sect. 2, Anubhavāmrita.

By Mahalinga Rangha; hexameters, only two sandhis on 24 leaves.

On relinquishing the domestic, or family life, and other worldly concerns; and on the inward satisfaction (anubhava a technical word) thence derived. A treatise of the vairāgya kind, and as such polemical against all secularities.

It is shorter as to leaves, than the 1st section, for which see XXI.

9. No. 1386. Sect. 1. Retnacaradēsvara satacam, composite metre.

By Sringāra cavi hamsa rāja.

On vairāgya, or zeal, especially in the renunciation of all worldly attachments. On morality and ātma vichāra, care of the soul: complete.

Sect. 2. Apparājēsvara satacam, composite metre.

Family cares are like a dream. Births and deaths of the same individual are continual. Delusive appearance of the world. By them neither spiritual health, nor beatification are acquired. Therefore such as are tossed on a sin-darkened sea, must endeavour to get over it, and, to this end, must use austerity and prayer. At the end 4 or 5 stanzas are wanting; see XXI. for sect. 3.

10. No. 1441. Sect. 1. Niti retnābarana, 170 kanda padya stanzas, complete.

Examples of the good behaviour of the devas, (sons of god) and bad conduct of the asuras, (children of men) given in the way of ethical instruction.

Sect. 4. Anubhava amṛita (see 8 supra) dvipada metre, complete.

On the means of obtaining beatification, see II. and XVI.

11. No. 1454. Rāma nāt'ha vilāsa.

By Sada siva yōgi, composite stanzas from the 14th to the 16th vilāsa, or section.

Rama nāt'ha, a spiritual preceptor gave instructions to Kirti chandra rāja, his disciple, in the form of tales, the sections entitled 'amusements.' A sort of Indian Telemachus.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, old, and damaged.

A chapter, or two more, said to be wanting.

The book is long, thick, in good order.

2. No. 1290. Ganga Giriti samvāta, in verse (pat'ha) 1—5 sandhi.
On a dispute between Ganga and Parvati.

Siva called Ganga (the Ganges nymph) and put her on his head. Parvati became jealous, and a scolding match ensued, herein narrated : Ganga complained to Siva, who praised Ganga, and cleared up their dispute ; restoring peace between them.

The sacrifice of Daesha, and the production of Vira-Bhadra are appended : leaf 1—120 unfinished.

The book is long, damaged by termites, on one side.

3. No. 1293. Vara Mohana tarangini.

By Kanaka rāsa uttāma, composite stanzas from the 2nd to the 40th sandhi unfinished.

Birth of Manmata, Siva's penance. Manmata's attack by a love-arrow. Siva by opening his frontlet eye reduced Manmata to ashes. On the marriage of Usha, and dispute of Krishna with her father, named Bānāsura ; the birth of Ajirudha, or Manmata reproduced, &c. ; 5 or 6 leaves deficient at the beginning.

The book is somewhat long, thick, old, damaged.

4. No. 1329. Henamana mahima.

By Alaga singhaviya ; sringadi metre, nine sandhis, or sections complete.

Chicka deva raya, king of Mysore, had eight wives, among whom one of them, named Hēnāma, was the favorite. The king is represented as describing the chastity, and many other virtues, or excellencies of this lady ; which forms the matter of flattery, addressed to this queen, by the poet.

The book is long, thin, in good order.

5. No. 1332. Vara Mohana tarangini, from the 37th to the 42nd sandhi, the end, quasi, the 2nd volume—the same subject as 3.

The book is long, and thin, one board wanting, much damaged, $\frac{1}{2}$ of some leaves gone.

6. No. 1338. Vara Mohana tarangini.

By Kanaca Rásóttama—metre sringádi 1—34 sandhi; other 6 more wanting.

Manmata the son of Vishnu or Krishna went to Siva when performing penance, and lanced at him one of his arrows; whereupon Siva opened his frontlet eye, and consumed Manmata; but gave him permission to exist without visible form, except to his wife Rati; Aniruddha was the son of Rati; and on account of his amours with Usha, the daughter of Bánásura, there was war between Siva and Krishna.

The book is long, of medium thickness, recent in appearance, good order. The portion, deficient at the end, might be copied off from the foregoing number.

7. No. 1344. Sect. 1. Vara Mohana tarangini composite metre. Like in subject, including the destruction of Sambúcásura by Manmata; and the Aniruddha and Usha parinayam. For sect. 2, see XXVII.

8. No. 1351. Vara Mohana tarangini, including Usha parinayam: composite metre, incomplete.

The penance of Bánásura; in consequence Siva became his warden. The loves of Aniruddha and Usha, and clandestine meetings. Bánásura hearing of this intercourse from Nárada put Aniruddha in prison; Krishna went to deliver his son, and fought with Bánásura; so far, the rest wanting.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and much damaged.

9. No. 1352. Cátambari, prose, complete.

By Váisumbayana.

Legend of a king who was seduced into a connection with a chuckler woman, lower than a pariah, and other tales, relative to the Dandacáranjya, in the púrva or former part. The uttara or last part relates to the adventures of a Gandharba named Sveta, with a king's son, and a variety of other matters, usual in sringara or ornate compositions—needless to be abstracted, and somewhat resembling very old romances. See other notices. Leaf 1—197 1st, 2nd and others broken.

The book is long, thick, and slightly injured by insects.

- 9½. No. 1355. Subhagini sōni, a poem, composite stanzas 1—22 sandhi unfinished.

The title will not bear literal rendering; but the metaphorical meaning is 'the beautiful woman.'

A king relates to his queen a variety of tales of the sringara or ornate, and amorous kind, said to be a thousand, if complete. The titles of the several cat'has or tales, herein contained are 1, Sura bhāvati; 2, Kanjēri; 3, Vasanta; 4, Vana jana; 5, Nāgarana; 6, Bharagaya. These do not call for abstract.

The book is long, of medium thickness, injured by insects.

10. No. 1357. - Sesha kalā nidhi.

By Tirumalācharya, composite stanzas, on 73 leaves complete.

The subject relates to Chikka dēva raya, a king of Mysore—the fame of his rule—the customs of his court, especially in the Vasanta or spring season, the singing and dancing then usual. Panegyric of his skill, and discrimination in musical matters. The mode of ornamenting his capital; especially in the Vasanta season. The atar of roses, punaca (civet), javaz (musk), and other perfumes used by him. Description of his intercourse (sexualitor) with women of his court; and other matters of the ornamental, and poetical kind; panegyric, and without historical matters. The sum total being to shew how great a sensualist he allowed himself to be.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, old, and damaged especially at the end.

11. No. 1364. Mallicarjuna vishayam, composite stanzas, 86 leaves incomplete. Siva narrated to Parvati; Nandikēsvara overheard, and told it to a muni. Hence this may be part of a ś'hala purānam of Sri Sāilam, or Vijayanagaram.

The connection between the title, and subject is not otherwise clear.

Various matters on sexualities. Differences among men and women. Ages of women, and names given at different periods of life. Reverence due by wife to husband. The four regular castes should, in every case, regard a wife with as much respect as a mother: should look on no one else; and many like matters.

The book is of medium size, some leaves are broken.

12. No. 1388. - Vara Mōhana tarangini.

By Kanaca rāsōttama 1—15 sandhi see 6. No. 1388, supra.

The book is of medium size, old, slightly injured.

13. No. 1385. Cātambari cat'ha prose. The pūrva bhāgam, or 1st part.

A sort of love tale. The daughter of a king was sojourning on the Himālaya mountains, and a king's son there became acquainted with her. She took him to her father's palace, and became attached to him. There should be a second part; and other notices may be consulted.

In this, leaf 1 and 8 are wanting, two leaves are broken. The book is of medium size, and in tolerable order.

14. No. 1390. Matana Mohini cat'ha, composite stanzas, 1—8 sandhi nearly.

When a certain king went out to hunt, his queen carried on an amour with the mantri, or chief minister of state. The king's son became acquainted therewith; and in order to remove him out of the way, the queen feigned sickness, and caused the king to be induced to send his son to a distance for the parijata plant, in order to cure it. By the way he saw the daughter of Madhu sūta a king, and becoming enamoured, brought her to his father's palace, and married her; unfinished.

15. No. 1394. Vara Mōhana tarangini.

By Kanaca rāsōttama—hexameters 1st to 19th sandhi.

Manmata troubled the penance of Siva and was burnt to ashes. He was again reproduced as the son of Krishna by Rucmini. Sambucāsura took him to the sea, and put him in it. A fish swallowed him, which was caught, and carried to Radha, another of Krishna's wives; with her he grew up; and, when old enough, killed Sambucasura. Rādha's marriage. Other matter wanting, as incomplete.

The book is of medium length, thick, old, injured.

16. No. 1398. Two subjects.

- 1.) Vara Mōhana tarangini.

By Kanaca rāsōttama, sringudi metre.

This portion is towards the end of the poem. Bānāsura had taken Aniruddha the son of Krishna, and put him in prison. Nārada heard of it, and reported the circumstance to Krishna; who set out to make war against Bānāsura. He, by severe penance, had procured Siva to be a warder at his gate. It was needful first to contend with Siva, and his bands; and then to fight with Bānāsura. The latter restored Aniruddha, and thereby purchased peace. Aniruddha married his daughter Usha.

- 2.) Bali giri rangha nat'hana pāta jāta prasanga, a nāṭacam or drama.

By Rayapūyā. This drama is founded on the sports and amours of Krishna. Rucmini's passion, a dispute between Krishna and Rucmini, Rādha sent a female messenger to Krishna. Jambuvati another of his wives, owing to her great passion, sent him a female messenger. He had eight regular wives, all of whom praised him : not complete. The book is of medium size, old, in good order.

An account of the birth, and early life of a Mysore king; fragment, the beginning and the ending gone.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

2. No. 1281. Sect. 3. Chōla rāja sangatya, account of a chola king, tripadi, or three feet metre: fragment of 12 unconnected leaves. Introductory matter, and some description of the capital town. For sect. 1, see VIII, for sect. 2, see II.

3. No. 1285. Sect. 3. Chicka deva raya vamsavali, composite stanzas.

A genealogy of Mysore kings, and some of the acts of Chicka deva in particular; incomplete; only 15 leaves.

4. No. 1319. Sect. 1. Chicka deva rāja vijaya, conquest by Chicka deva.

By Tirumalachari; composite stanzas, 4 asvasas, incomplete.

The said king of Mysore went to the four quarters of the world, accompanied by the eight kinds of treasures, he gained many conquests, and ruled prosperously every where: see the following No. 1321.

Many leaves wanting in the the midst, does not finish. The book is long, thin, in good order.

5. No. 1321. Chicka déva rāja vijaya—ut supra.

By Tirumálacháry—composite stanzas.

The king was of Mahratta origin—conquered all kingdoms—was like Krishna—he conquered the seven dwipas, the seven seas, and the 14 worlds. Each verse exemplifies one of the alancáras or rhetorical figures—hence the extravagance of hyperbole: perhaps a little something historical may be gleaned; leaf 59—91 defective.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order.

6. No. 1337. Máisur arasara cat'ha, prose.

It contains the genealogy of Srirangha raya, of Pennaconda, and of Chicka deva rāja of Mysore. Also the Yadava giri mahatmyam, or legend of the former capital of the Oyisalas. The 1st leaf wanting, otherwise complete.

The book is long, somewhat thick, recent, in good order: does not accord, as to age, with other MSS of this class.

7. No. 1350. Déva rāja vijaya.

By Channáyya, composite metre, from the 1st to the 11th sandhi, a leaf or two wanting in the 1st and 2nd.

A genealogy of the kings of Mysore deduced from the chandra vamsa, or lunar line. Birth of Deva raja. A description of Seringapatam, his capital; and of the procession at the Maha navami, the Durga púja or Dasra. Sivapa nayáca came to make war against Seringapatam; and was repulsed by Deva raja, with that account this book ends.

The book is long, of medium thickness, recent.

8. No. 1425. Kant'hírva rāja vijayam, composite stanzas, from 1st to the 3rd sandhi, and from 9th to 22nd sandhi the 5th intermediate wanting.

A son of Bettada rāja of the lunar line killed many racshasas of the Cali yuga. See No. 1540. The book is long, of medium thickness, touched by worms.

9. No. 1471. Gita gópala heptameters.

By Chicka deva raya.

On the early adventures of Krishna among cowherds and gopis. On the divine disposition of Vishnu and his benevolent nature; bestows beatification, and the like, such seems an indirect parallel. There is appended a genealogy of Chicka deva raya of Mysore, and an account of his actions, and conquests.

The book is medium size, old, a few leaves only damaged.

10. No. 1540. Kant'hírava narasa rāja vijaya.

By Govinda váidhyán, son of Srinivasa pandita, composite stanzas. In 26 sandhis, or books complete.

A description of Mysore—the glory of Seringapatam—the splendor of the fortress of Chamundi—the story of a Dalavayi, or general, named Nanja raja. The prayer of the earth goddess, as being unable to bear the troubles caused by the Mahomedans. In consequence a son was born to Bettada samu raja, named Kani'hirava narasu raja. The sultan of Vistapour's incursion, and troubles in the Carnatic, war with him; destruction of the Mahomedans. A festival of nine days in honor of Chamundi devi—procession in honor of Srirangha nat'ha svami; the said king afterwards ruled with all prosperity.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, recent. It is probable that this book may have been made use of; but still a verbal translation would be desirable.

11. No. 1580. Chicka deva raya vamsa vali, composite stanzas: complete 25 leaves.

He was of the lunar line, and Yadava kula, or cowherd race. From Bettada chama raju a list of kings, in succession, is given down to Chicka deva. Account of his character, and actions.

The book is long, thin, recent, in good order.

12. No. 1590. Maisur charitra, an account of Mysore: prose.

A genealogy of the kings of Mysore of the yadava race. A more particular account of Deva raya, who seems to have been the father of Chicka deva raya, story of the birth of Chicka deva. There is added the yadava giri charitra, account of a celebrated fane: imperfect.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in tolerable order. It would seem to merit translation.

13. No. 1594. Sriranghapatna charitra.

An account of Seringapatam: prose.

By Vencata Ramayya, complete.

Introductory matter, on Mount Meru and other mountains, on the seven seas, and seven continents, and the 56 countries, all being puaranical. A list of kings who ruled at Seringapatam follows, and is the more important portion: leaves 1—107.

The book is of medium size, in the midst two leaves broken; otherwise good order.

14. No. 1678. Sect. I. Chola sangatya, matter relative to the Chola kingdom—composite stanzas.

As the Pandya raja refused to give tribute to the Chola raja war occurred between the two. In the end peace was made. The Chola raja cut off his own head, and Siva approving his courage took him to Cailasa. [The Pandiyān account differs.]

The book is of medium size, old, leaves not in regular order, nor complete, much injured, by insects and breaking. For sect. 2, 3 see VIII.

15. No. 1686. Sect 1. Chola sangatya.

By Lingana, stanzas, 3 sandhis complete.

A chola raja of the solar line, in consequence of a Pandiyā raja not paying him tribute, fought with that king, and conquered him. In consequence of the valor of the Cholan (as above) Siva came visibly, and took him to Cailasa. This is according to poetical alancaram, or rhetoric. For sect. 2, see VIII.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

16. No. 1709: Cholu sangatya.

By Lingana, composite stanzas.

A fragment of the same work as in the last No. beginning and ending wanting, 49 leaves remain, in the latter part irregularly strung.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, a little injured by insects.

17. No. 1718. Maisur rājagalu vamsa vali, a genealogy of Mysore kings—prose—3 avśās or chapters, others wanting—grant'ha letter.

This portion contains details concerning three of those kings : that is Sri rangha raja, Venecatapati raja, and Krishna raja, reigning when the book was written, and left unfinished : details of wars, capture of countries, and the like. It might merit translation. The book is long, thin, in good order.

XIII. HYMNOLOGY.

32. No. 1693. Sect. 2. Siva ashstōttra sahasranāma, ślōcus, complete on six leaves.

The 1008 names of Siva, strung together, and used in laudatory homage.

33. No. 1696. Jāina panegyrics.

- 1.) Stanza on Jinēndra svami, on the ascetic system, which is lauded.
- 2.) Stanzas on Māndara svāmi, similar.
- 3.) Chandra nat'ha ashtacam, an octave.

Vartamāna tīr'hacara ashtaca, an octave.

Ananta tīr'hacara ashtaca, do.

Parāsaesva or Parasvanāt'ha; hirtanas, and other hymns, or chants; laudatory in import. For Sect. 4, see XVIII.

The book is of medium size, old, and damaged.

34. No. 1706. This is a greatly damaged book, quite unconnected as to contents; but, as far as can be made out, it is of the class of stōttras, and Saiva in kind.

It is small in size, very old, extremely injured by worms and breaking; only parts of the leaves remaining.

35. No. 1707. Sect. 3. Rāma stōttra, praise of Rāma, Sect. 1, 4 see II; Sect. 2, see XXIV.

36. No. 1722. Hari nāma sangirtana.

Synodia, or chants by many persons together; in praise of Vishnu, Sanscrit mingled with the Canarese to elevate the style.

The book is small, and very much injured by insects.

XIV. INCANTATIONS; that is mantras or charms precatory, or malignant.

1. No. 1238. Sect. 3. Nārāyaṇa cavacham, composite stanzas, 1 sandhi complete 8 leaves. The eight-lettered charm, O'm-na-ra-ya-na-na-ma-ha expanded, with invocation and praise: Indra told this to Nareda that, by means of it, safety may be assured; enemies conquered, &c. For Sect. 1, 2, see XXI.

2. No. 1387. Sect 1. Charms, or mantras against colic—sore eyes, cramps of arms, or legs—Vira Bhadra mantra, destructive; against evil eyes—against cattle disease—and Siva cavacham for protection. Sect 2, see XX; sect. 3 see XIII.

3. No. 1546. Bala graha mantram against possession, by an evil spirit, of a child.

It is a principle in native medical practice, that some kinds of disease in infants are caused by such possessions, and this charm is an exorcism.

The book is small, and old, very much damaged.

4. No. 1599. Charms, magical, alchemical, medical.

Some of the kind termed vasikara so as to draw over, or induce women, men, kings, &c. to any desired purpose ; these are in constant practice by all heathen natives.

Agni stambhanam, hindering effect of fire.

Jala stambhanam do. of water.

Charm to render any one invisible.

One to be used with eye salve, so as to enable any one to discern jewels where hidden ; or when looking into deep water, to see any valuables, at the bottom.

Pāta rasam, a kind of pill with charm, made with roots and mercury ; by which great speed of foot may be acquired.

Alchemical charms, to turn baser metals into silver, or gold.

Medical charms used with mercurial, and other metallic calces and powders.

Also for various uses, as against snake bites ; to make any one abstain from speaking. Hanumat mantra—Indra mantra, being ishtha siddhi for things desirable. Other matters on anjanam, eye ointment—to see stars by day, to discern things at the bottom of water, &c.

The language some Sanscrit, some Canarese, some Telugu, some Tamil—the latter simply medical ; in all the Canarese character.

The book is long, of medium thickness, damaged by termites.

5. No. 1631. Sect 1, 2 see IV.

Sect 3. Bhagavat mantram, on one leaf, complete churnikāi metre.

It is said that the recital of this charm nullifies the charm of any other sorcerer, or evil incantations of enemies : causing such not to take effect. Two lines are taken as a specimen, from which it appears that this charm belongs to the Jāinas.

O'm namò Bhagavatè chendogra Parsvanā'hāya dharanēndra Padmāvati Sahitya halikhunda danda hātuna lāya mamna vajra dandāya rāja chōrān maribhāya vināsanāya mātā kūtā jadēshu.

6. No. 1708. Chiefly blank leaves, on one leaf two diagrams (yentras) are written with ink—an oval scroll around the word sigram (quick) in Canarese letters—a square with hamsa, and two other words—mantras. This unimportant book is short, and thin, on talipat leaves.

XV. INSCRIPTIONS.

No. 1713. Inscriptions especially of grants by Chōla kings, in the order of their descent. Gifts, or endowments to various temples in the Chólo country—or neighbourhood of the Cauvery and Coleroon-rivers.

Also of gifts in the Mysore country of lands, of gardens, &c. by various kings named. Copies of those sássanams, Sanscrit mingled with Canarese.

One grant is by Tribhuvana Vishnu verddhana Hoysála dated S. S. 1404, A. D. 1481-2.

It is a pity that this book is so much damaged in some places—from it other inscriptions might be made out: but it is probable that they exist in the Mackenzie collection. The book is long, of medium thickness, very much damaged by insects.

XVI. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

1. No. 1315. Sect. 2. Nigandu: composite stanzas 64—on 22 leaves incomplete.

A list of pure Canarese words, no mixture of Sanscrit, with the meaning.

Three leaves of nágarí writing are appended; so much injured that no meaning is legible. For Sect. 1 see XI.

The book is of medium size, damaged.

2. No. 1441. Sect. 3. Amara sinha a lexicon, Sanscrit words—8 odd leaves, see VIII, and II.

By Chenaca Bhīra, 156 kanda stanzas complete. A collection of words that have many meanings, herein explained.

The book is short, of medium thickness, much worm eaten.
For Sect. 2 see XXXV.

6. No. 1486. Two books.

1.) Dhananjeya Nigandu—stanzas.

By Nāga verma.

The meaning of Sanscrit words rendered in Canarese, and the stanzas have a tīca, or prose comment: 81 stanzas on 18 leaves.

2.) Nánart'ha nigandu 122 kanda stanzas; words of many meanings—no tīca, leaves 30—49, some in the midst left blank.

7. No. 1507. Sect. 5. Amara sinha, only six loose leaves from the 1st candam Sanscrit words.

8. No. 1508. Nánart'ha retnacara, 168 composite stanzas with a tīca.

A collection of words of various meanings put into difficult verse, for the sake of memory; but explained in ordinary language.

One added leaf contains Nilambica lalita stōttra or praise of Parvati.

The book is short, thin, in good order.

XVII. MINERALOGY.

No. 1609. Sect. 1. Retna-sastra science of jewels: ślōcas with tīca.

Characteristics of precious stones, and mode of examining them. On the faults in such stones. On the good, and the evil that the different kinds will do to such as purchase them. For sect. 2, see XVIII.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in tolerable order.

XVIII. MEDICAL.

1. No. 1218. Sect. 3. Vāidyam.

20 leaves on various remedies in the Canarese, and 2 ślōcas from the Amaram.

2. No. 1456. Vāidya sastram, composite stanzas.

On eighty-four crores of different creatures. Indications by the pulse, as to diseases caused by bile, flatulency—phlegm—and various mantras or charms used with medicines. The leaves are broken off, so that only one half of each one remains; and these are put together in confused order.

The book is small, on talipat leaves, hopelessly damaged.

3. No. 1595. On Medicine, a mixture of Telugu and Canarese.

On bilious disorders—want of appetite—on diseases of the nose—and disorders of the head, from flatulency. Various other diseases, with the medicines and regimen proper to be used. This is a medley from at least three different books; the middle piece has only half leaves: the other $\frac{1}{2}$ broken off.

It is short, of medium thickness.

4. No. 1597. On Medicine.

On phlegm—flatulency—bile; on three kinds of fevers, arising from those three causes; on epileptic fits. On the pāndu rōgam, or spotted skin. On disorders of the bowels, on constipation, &c., regimen and remedies prescribed. On balsams, electuaries, mercurials, decoctions, &c.

The book is of medium size, old, and damaged.

5. No. 1600. Vāidya sastram, ślokas with a Canarese tīca to some; the remainder is Canarese prose.

Indications as to pulses. On fevers, and other diseases. Also remedies appropriate to each disorder. On mercurial calcined powders. Charms against the possession of very young children by evil spirits, known as bāla graha chicatsa.

The book is of somewhat long, thick, some leaves broken, part only remaining.

6. No. 1603. Vāidhya sastram, with mantras prose, on 99 leaves, complete.

Spell against possession by an evil spirit. Medicines for convulsions, for diarrhoea, and dysentery, for colic, for diseases of the eyes, for ague, mode of making white calx of mercury; (calomel?) how to enable aged persons to read without spectacles; to remove specks from the eyes—on the preparation of camphor, and of sulphur; on reducing talc to calcined powder—cold, and cough medicines. Something on farriery—horse medicines—marks of a horse. Leaves not in regular order.

The book is of medium size, old, damaged by insects, and breaking.

7. No. 1605. Vāidhya sastram, prose. Leaf 2—44.

A detail of remedies in a great variety of diseases, or modes of preparing medicines, but without the diagnosis. Remedies appear for partial blindness—scrophula, or king's evil. An electuary termed matana kumésvari, an aphrodisiac: some say it is against fevers. Another, vīriya verddhana, against impotency in youth, through bad conduct, or, from the effect of age. On diseases of the eyes in horses, and oxen. On cataract in the human eye. On imposthumes accompanied with stench: jana vasyam, on the art of bringing over men by means of medicines surreptitiously given, so as to accomplish any purpose (a common mal-practice of which Europeans, in high employ, should be particularly aware: it is almost always accompanied by magic). On diseases of the testes. On leprosy, following the bite of a kind of snake. On the white leprosy, or spotted skin. On bowel complaints. On diseases of woman after parturition. On colic, and hæmorrhoids—on the bloody flux. On pain of the vulva. On a kind of leprosy, accompanied by swelling, perhaps elephantiasis. On tooth ache. A remedy enabling any one to dispense with the use of spectacles. On gutta serena. On jaundice; (úta há máli) on strí vasya, or the art of gaining over women sexualiter. Indications as to probable time of death at certain periods. On vomiting. Remedy against a worm that destroys the fœtus in the womb. On strangury. On colds—arthritic pains—asthma, consumption. Medicines to cause abortion (this is a common, and most guilty part of a native doctor's practice). Viriya mardhana, a medicine to destroy virility, intended for ascetics. On worm in the tooth (aching nerve?) Medicine to reduce heat of body, and excess of semen. On spots in the eyes. On convulsions, diarrhœa, and dysentery; charm against snakes. On calces of mercury; and a few other similar matters (I do not know who is responsible for confused arrangement). The leaves in many of these books are much transposed.

As an exponent of native practice, and occasional mal-practice, this book might be translated.

It is of medium size, and much damaged.

8. No. 1606. Váidhya sáram, slócas with a partial tíca in Canarese: incomplete.

On venereal diseases in women. On hooping-cough in children; and like disorders; but the book is too much injured to be coherently legible.

It is of medium size, old, and extremely damaged.

9. No. 1607. Váidhya sáram. Veterinary. 120 leaves on horse medicines.

The circles on a horse's skin—black, red, white, or ash color—grey, a judgment is formed according to the colors, and the flowers or marks. Other marks on the four legs: especially on two legs—on the forehead, on the tail—by them judgment formed. What colored flowers that is (suris) hair-curls discriminated. By such indications the consequences are foreshewn of horses, going into the possession of an owner; as health—sickness—fortune, or otherwise, to the possessor.

Afterwards omens from colors of horses, e. g. black is bad, grey good, red spotted with white not good; but white spots on two knees, on forehead, on the two hind legs, on the tail, are deemed good, &c. &c.

Ages of horses how determined. Marks on the nose, lines &c.

On bowel disorders, signs and remedies. How horses are to be fed, according to their intended uses. Stables how to be built. Medicine to remedy colic caused by eating bad grass : and some other matters.

This book seems to me somewhat of a curiosity ; but I cannot judge of its value as to translation.

It is short, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves in good order.

10. No. 1609. Sect. 2. Bāla grūham.

On treatment of children from, and after the first month ; including magical exorcisms, and other proceedings for removal of pain, caused by evil spirits. Also on some diseases to which children are liable. A making up balls of red, and of white rice, and carrying them away to a burning ground, are among the rest.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in tolérable order.

11. No. 1611. Vāidhyam, verse and prose.

A few introductory stanzas, praise of Vishnu, 2 leaves incomplete, on medicine, in dandacam metre. On the hermaphrodite—and remedy, hence supposed not the natural form, but rather impotens. On the stri vasyam, this is prose and incomplete. A medicine to be placed before, or given to any women “ who without any second speech ” will be brought over to the object designed. This book, by consequence, appertains to native villany.

It is short, thin, damaged, several blank leaves.

12. No. 1623. Kagēndra mani derpanam.

By Manga rāja, composite stanzas, from the 2nd to the 14th adhicāram, the rest wanting.

On the treatment of various diseases, especially on the bites of serpents, and all other kinds of venomous creatures ; whence the book seems to take its title. On the bite of dogs. Also various mantras, or charms with formulas of remedies. Exorcisms for chasing away evil spirits, from children and others. The 1st chapter wanting, and also other matter following the 14th chapter.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

13. No. 166. Sect. 2. Arōkiya chintamani, ślōcas incomplete. Properties of pulses—nature of the body—qualities described, some matters on diagnosis of disease, and remedies. For sect. 1 see XXVII.

14. No. 1696. Sect. 4. Medical matters as to various remedies. Also on the vasyam, or bringing people—men or women, over to any purpose ; generally evil. And on the chicatsu, or exorcism of evil spirits, when possessing any one. This section is recent, and differs from the others, for which see XIII.

The book is of medium size, old, damaged.

XX. OMENS, connected with divination, or natural philosophy.

1. No. 1387. Sect. 2. Indications from sneezing, when and from what quarter heard—how often. From the chattering of lizards:

how many times; whence, &c. If from any unintentional cause a lizard fall on any one, according to the place, results; if on the head, a parent will die, if on the arm, covered by a white garment, a female visitor—&c. &c. All countries have relics of such heathen puerilities.

Sect. 1, see XIV. Sect. 3, see XIII.

The book is short, thick, old, good order.

2. No. 1627. Chintamani, head jewel, prose.

By Nandikésvara, 65 leaves incomplete.

Divination, or enquiry as to going on journies whether to proceed, or not, on enquiries as to results of any new employment—and the like matters—the book differs from horary questions on astrology. It is short, of medium thickness, a little injured by insects.

3. No. 1628. Nava retna chintamani.

Brief verses—divination by throwing of dice; questions resolved thereby—e. g. will the mental thought be accomplished, or not? when will it be accomplished? and the like.

The book is very short, for the pocket, thick, in good order.

4. No. 1630. Ten tracts, with unity of design.

1.) Mégha mála, cloud garland.

By Madháiyya raja, composite stanzas. In 46 padalams, or sections, complete.

Manner of clouds in rainy time—the nature of clouds—the rainbow—on rain—on lightning—on winds—on strong wind—and very cold wind, with hail—on sound of falling rain (in the tropics) ill effects of damp atmosphere on the human frame—sound of thunder—the swiftness of Varuna's chariot, i. e. the clouds—prognostics are connected: and some biographical details of Madháiyyas illustrious reign; acts, and wars of his ancestors.

2.) Akasmita lacshanam, composite stanzas in 48 patams, complete.

By Madháiyya.

It is not a good sign if a dog mount the top of a house, and bark—the same if a sweetmeat, bought for a festival, runs into water: and various other omens of evil import.

3.) Sacunajyam, dvipada metre.

By the same, complete.

If going to ask a woman in marriage, or if going on any of the occasions termed suba (good or joyful), then to meet a young married woman is good—to meet a widow evil—to meet a single Brahman is not good, but if two together are met, this is good. Like omens, or auguries, are derived from beasts, birds, &c., the enquiry or sign is thence deduced and made to apply to all kinds of work.

4.) Vayu chacra—composite stanzas.

By the same, incomplete.

e. g. If in the first watch of the night (6 to 9 o'clock) wind descend from a mountain, and strike on the points (dic) known by the names of Indra, Cuvéra, Sancara, of sufficient force to raise dust, then in that year the world (country ?) will be without rain.

5.) Gópravési, composite stanzas.

By the same, complete.

e. g. the good time for driving cows from one township to another : select the month adi (July-August) avoiding the full moon day, choose nine days in the dark half of the lunation. The drove of cows will increase ten fold : 10 will become 100.

6.) Bhū camban, ślōcas, complete.

By Madhāiyya.

e. g. if in any day that ought naturally to be very hot and dry, it is cold or wet, then that is to kings and others an indication of great evil ; food to men, and fodder for cattle will be wanting : the world will be out of order.

7.) Bhū jāta p'hālam, ślōcas, complete. *

By the same—details of productions nourished without rain, “dry grains,” &c. as chōlam (holcus sacchar;) gótami wheat ; husumbi, a grain yielding oil in Mysore ; cadali, Bengal gram ; peas, and the like.

8.) Marrizantiyam—rain indications.

According to the position of the nine planets rain will fall ; those positions stated.

9.) Triviti utpata lacshanam, composite stanzas.

e. g. Meteors (vulgo falling stars) these it is stated indicate an evil quality in the ground. If a pregnant woman bring forth a monster, evil is indicated ; with other prognostics.

10.) Bhāna lacshanam—prose, complete.

Qualities of a first state of pregnancy, or first child—on the male and female fluids, termed suclā and sona—chronological matters—days of men—of gods—life of Brahma, yugas, &c. Appended is some further matter about rain (all important within the tropics.)

This book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order. By such things the mental calibre of a people may be taken. In that respect this book merits full translation. Such "wise saws" are every where found.

15. No. 1267. Scanda puránam, the Siva dhermóttara khandam—prose.

By Nanja rája 1st to 26th adhyáyas; said to have been taught to Sri Ráma by Brahma.

On the favor of Siva—on homage at celebrated pools—on hearing Saiva puranams read—the doing so will remove even the guilt of killing a Brahman, and superadd beatification. The popular episode of a dispute between Brahma, Vishnu, and Siva, as to which of the three is the greatest. One went up, and one went down, to measure Siva's altitude and depth, without succeeding. Hence inferred that Siva is the greatest. On the excellence of consecrating a Saiva symbol. The request of Vibishána that all sins might be removed by bathing at the setu or isthmus of Ramiseram. An image placed there. On marking the forehead with three horizontal stripes. On the gayatri. On the use of domestic fire-offerings morning and evening. On the merit of giving food to Brahmans, and other matters.

The book is long, of medium thickness, some of the leaves very much damaged.

16. No. 1269. Siva dhermóttara, prose.

By Nanja rája, said to be from the Scanda puránam, from 15th to 45th adhyáyam, the end wanting.

Ráma placed a Saiva symbol at Ramésvaram—the Ganges and Godavery are most excellent among rivers for washing away sin. The tale of Sacara; the penance of Bhagirati. Brahma let the Ganges flow from a vessel from heaven: Siva caught the stream on his head—and then, for the common good, let it flow in its channels on earth. Visvamitra's penance to Siva; beatification obtainable by meditating on Siva—the four gunas, or dispositions. On the merit of Canyádánam, or marriage portion to virgins—the excellence of the abishégam, or pouring water on a symbol of Siva.

The book is very long and thin, on broad talipat leaves, two of them much injured.

17. No. 1270. Gáruda puránam, ślócas with a tica in Canarese.

The Vishnu dhermóttara k'handam, incomplete.

On the Vaishnava system—the superiority of the votaries of Vishnu—on the merit of hospitality to strangers—on the four great divisions of caste—on the azramas, (or dwelling of hermits,) a term denoting the Brahmachari, Grihast'ha, Vanaprast'ha, and Sannyási: on the duties becoming women—rules for chaste wives—rules in the observance of temple worship—the excellence of the tulasi plant—the benefit of bathing in the Ganges: use of the Gayatri—on gifts, of lights, and of food—the value of such gifts—the excellency of minstrels that praise Vishnu—they who do dherma are not hurt by Yama—he kills such as depend on karmam (ritual homage) alone—on future rewards, and punishments in another state of being.

1st to 11th adhyáyam, 12—19 deficient, 20th to 25th, this last unfinished. The book is long, and thick, superior palm leaves, in good order, mostly large handwriting.

18. No. 1272. Sect. 1. Uma Mahésvara, samvátam, a discourse between Siva and Parvati; said to be from the uttara khandam of the padma puránam, 30th to 35th adhyáyam. A sectarial device.

The votaries of Vishnu must bear the chakra mark on their shoulders—and the urdhva on their forehead: they should learn the import of mantras. A description of the nature and attributes of Vishnu, with other matter.

The composition is in ślócas, with a tica, or verbal comment. This portion is long, of medium thickness, no boards, one leaf damaged.

For section 2. see XXIV.

19. No. 1273. Vishnu puránam.

By Chicka ubadhyáya, composite stanzas.

Creation of the world—the five elements—origin of gods and men—of the sun and moon—the manvantaras—the varúha calpas—the yugas—the milk sea, and other seas—the nine Brahmádicas—the legend of Hiranya casipu—account of Cásyapa—the four divisions of caste—on sraddhas and other karmas, or rituals. Tales of Chacravartis, and rishis—the Kaúras and Pándavas; the avatára of Krishna—the opening of the cali yuga: complete..

The book is of medium length, thick, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

20. No. 1278. Two subjects, prose.

1.) Padma puránam—16 adhyáyas complete, Vasishta to Dilípa of the solar line.

A leading feature is the observance of the month Magha; the whole cannot be abstracted. Notices of various portions otherwise seur.

2.) Brahmánda puránam, the cshétra khandam, or Paschama rangha mahatmyam, 5 adhyáyas—legend of a Váishnava fame at Seringapatam in Mysore.

The creation of the world, and of 84 lakhs of living beings. This place was Gáutama's hermitage. Vibishina brought with him an image of Vishnu, and left it there. On the tiri'ha, or pool, near the former hermitage of Gáutama—its excellence—they who bathe in it will obtain beatification.

21. No, 1295. Four subjects.

Sect. 1. see XXVIII.

Sect. 2. Bhágavatam, hexameters.

The 1st scandam; 2nd adhyáyam, it contains an account of the incarnations of Vishnu.

Sect. 3. Bhágavatam: hexameters.

The 3rd scandam, 13th and 14th adhyáyas, so far complete. On the sub-incarnation of Vishnu, in the shape of Capila; lessons of that school.

Sect. 4. see XXVIII.

22. No. 1296. Sect. 1. Bhágavatam, hexameters; the 10th scandam, 105 adhyáyas complete.

On the birth, life, and acts of Krishna; for Sect. 2, see XXIV.

23. No. 1300. Sect. 1. Brahmóttara khandam, from the Scandapuránam—hexameters.

1st to 31st adhyáyam. Excellency of the five-lettered charm, and of the temple at Gohernam, the ritual homage on the special night of Siva—on sight of the symbol—the thirteenth lunar day, when occurring on a Saturday, is very acceptable to Siva—on the order of homage at the pradósha kálam, a varying period near sun set. Glory of ritual homage on Monday. (Siva wears the moon.) Order of ritual homage by yógis or ascetics of the Saiva class. On the power of vibhúti, or cowdung ashes—force of the radra-sactá, a charm. Other Saiva matters, on puranas; and also legendary tales of various persons who, by observing the aforesaid festivals, and other rites, were forgiven the sin even of killing a Brahman, and taken to Cáilasa in the bargain: 4 adhyáyas deficient out of 333 leaves, 99—108, or 9 leaves are wanting.

This section is rather long, of medium thickness, in good order. For Sect. 2, see VIII.

24. No. 1306. Brahmóttara Cándam.

31 sandhis, hexameters; nearly complete.

From the Scanda puránam, subjects as in the last—on sacred beads—five-lettered charm: on Góberna—Siva rátri—the 13th tít'hi; pradósham on the 14th tít'hi—sóma váram—Modes of homage at those times, by which sins and family troubles are removed.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, some a little injured.

25. No. 1310. Siva dhermóttara khandam; from the Scanda puránam prose.

By Nanji rája (the translation?) 1st to 48th adhyáyas—not finished.

The gráce bestowing sacred pools of Siva, which remove the sin of killing a Brahman, the supremacy of Siva—the dispute between Brahma and Vishnu. The legend of Brahma telling a lie, and bringing the tara flower (pandanus odor;) as a witness to its truth—the duties proper to the Calí yuga; on the possession and vexation by an evil spirit, consequent to killing a Brahman; on Râma's consecrating a symbol of Siva—the ritual of Saiva ceremonies—the benefit of gifts of various kinds—such as cows—to give virgins in marriage, &c. On the merit of entirely renouncing the world, shaving the head, and living in a desert—with like matters; bearing on the regular Saiva system. 118 leaves.

The book is very long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, at the beginning and ending damaged.

26. No. 1312. Brahmóttara khandam; from the Scanda puránam.

By Châma raja, 8 adhyáyas, prose.

The value of the five-lettered charm.

—On Góberna fane—the Siva rátri of the 13th tít'hi when on Saturday, and 14th or pradósha, a ceremony of fasting till evening, and then a procession, round the inside of Saiva temples, the day before the new and full moon ; of Monday observances ; mode of homage to Siva on such occasions—those who worship at such times will forego all family troubles, and every crime, even Brahmahatti.

—Legends of ancient persons who, by such observances, were freed from every sin ; and obtained beatification.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, old, somewhat damaged.

27. No. 1353. Siva gīta, from the Padma purānam—vachana cavyam.

By Nanja rāja, 16 adhyaayas, complete. Siva instructed Sri Rāma.

Universal presence of Siva ; universal knowledge—the agreement of six gunas, or attributes of Siva, is the foundation of the Vēda—of these qualities Siva is the foundation, Siva himself teaches, and shews his visva rūpa, or universal form—the origin of the five elements—their nature—their place, and property—nature of the human soul ; its residence and office in the body ; its power of inducing motion—punchicaram, or five incidents of the body—the way to obtain final beatitude—how to command the acquirement of beatitude—and a few other matters : 95 leaves.

The book is about the medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

28. No. 1386. Sect. 3. Trilōca satacam.

Cosmogony from the Purānas.

By Retnā cara varni—kanda stanzas.

Dēva lōca heaven ; madhya lōca, earth, naraca lōca, hell—also the seven upper, and seven lower worlds (may be planets ?) the seven dvipas, with their surrounding seas ; on the 16 calpas or days of Brahma, and some like matters. As a section, complete.

For section 1 and 2, see VIII.

29. No. 1388. Sankatta hara chaturdhi mahima : the Canarese tīca only.

By Nanja rāja. On the excellence of the 14th lunar day in the month Shravana for removing evils if observed, as it usually is.

The mode of homage to Vignēsvara—rules to be observed in making his image of any material. They who so render homage to Ganēsa will obtain their wishes. Anciently Parvati observed this homage to Vignēsvara : Siva, Brahma, Vishnu, and others, on entering Casi (Benares), made homage to Vignēsvara. There is no proper beginning or ending to this book.

It is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, old, tolerable order.

30. No. 1411. Prahlāda charitra, hexameters.

By Nara hari, 14 sandhis, 85 leaves, incomplete. See next following number.

This book is long, of medium thickness, injured.

31. No. 1432. Sect. 1. Prahlada charitra.

By Nara hari—Brahmini shadpati, 16 sandhis complete.

Taken from the Bhāgavatam; the intervention of Vishnu, in the mansion avatāram, on behalf of Prahlāda, the son of Hiranyasipu. It also records the destruction of Hiranyascha by Vishnu: 43 leaves.

Sect. 2. fragment without title, 5 leaves, relating to Joya sena, a king, composite stanzas.

The book is long, thin, on talipat leaves, slightly injured.

32. No. 1505. Sāiva dherma; from the scanda purānam—prose.

By Nanja rāja, 46 adhyāyas, incomplete.

Excellence of Sāiva bathing pools—the legend of Brahma, and Vishnu trying to discover the height and depth of Siva's form. Brahma's lie, bringing a flower to attest it; excellency of Saiva homage—flowers acceptable to Siva as offerings—on the Saiva symbol—mode of its consecration—benefit duties proper to this evil age—Sita made offering to the saiv symbol, in order to expiate the killing of Rāvana—on the possession termed Brahmahatti; value of pūja by Brahmans—the placing of a symbol by Rāma at Ramiseram; on mental homage—on the Gayatri—signets of hands and fingers used with it—order of Saiva homage by notaries—thereby they acquire beatification; leaf 1—127.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, damaged at the end.

33. No. 1511. Sāiva dherma from the Scanda purānam, prose.

By Nanji rāja, 12 asvāsas, incomplete; matters as in the foregoing number.

This book is long, and thin, on talipat leaves, a little injured.

34. No. 1512. Sāiva dherma—said to be from the Scanda purānam, and ascribed to Suta maha muni, 50 adhyāyas, prose; leaf 1—108, incomplete.

Mode of homage to Siva—of offerings to Siva—on cowdung ashes, sandalwood dust, &c. Mode of processions at festivals in Saiva fanes—on the vāhanas, or various vehicles used therein; on the four divisions of caste; Saiva customs at marriage, and funereal observances—ascetics are buried in a sitting posture, as in penance. Manners of reshis, as to penance, &c.

A translation might be of service to illustrate the customs of Sdivas, as distinct from those of other classes.

The book is very long, on broad talipat leaves, of medium length, in good order.

35. No. 1517. Tripura dahanam, burning of the three towns—composite stanzas incomplete.

Three towns, or forts of gold, silver, copper : whosoever entered them was destroyed by the people—the celestials, and die palacas complained to Siva, who went thither in a vimanam, or ra'ha, Vishnu being his charioteer. On entering the towns of those racshasas he simply made a gesture of contempt ; when his frontlet eye opened ; and the said towns were reduced to ashes.

The book is of medium length, thick, in good order. I would recommend translation.

It is founded on the Siva, or Linga, or other purānas : notwithstanding the legendary contents, and the sanction, by respectable names, that such transactions relate to some immaterial world, I believe that this pāuranic tale, and the narrative in Genesis chapter 19 appertain to the same subject. If so, this is one point, and there are many others, by which the Hindu and Rabbinical systems may ultimately come to be identified. Prof: Wilson makes Tripura to be a demon ; which I think must be a mistake.

36. No. 1633. Sect. 1. Bhāgavatam.

By Vencata savuri, composite stanzas.

The tenth book ; 1st sandhi wanting, 2nd sandhi the end only—3rd sandhi about half, from 10th sandhi to 25th in regular order, the 42nd Sandhi, and a few odd leaves.

The complaint of the earth as not able to bear its burden—marriage of Dēviki of the Yadava race—birth of Bāla Rāma and Kṛishna ; the upbearing of Goverddhana ; the shewing Vāicon'ka to the cowherds ; sports with the gopis ; shewing the visva rupa to Akrūra—the killing of Camsa, and going to Mat'hura.

For Sect. 2, see IX.

The book is long, and somewhat thick, a little injured by worms.

37. No. 1723. Statisticals.

A detail of the fifty six countries of pāuranical geography—details of various rivers, and of temples, on or near to them—distinguished as to being Vāishnava or Saiva. Other temples, not on the banks of rivers—details of 48 Vishnu st'halas, distinctly classed—names of the forms worshipped in them. Names of all rivers, with a panegyric of their virtues. Names, with very little of remark.

The book is short, thin, recent.

38. No. 1732. Linga purānam, ascribed to Suta rishi, and delivered to rishis in the Nāimisāra vanam. This book is sanshepa tica, a translated epitome; divided into purva bhāga, 108 adhyaayas complete, and uttara bhāga 50 do. incomplete (5 are wanting.)

On the origin of the Sāiva symbol, its nature—the rites used in homage rendered to it—the removal of sin by its means, various mantras for the removal of sin. Birth, and descent of various rishis, and of other distinguished persons; legendary illustrations of the principles laid down. These and like matters, for the first part. In the 2nd part, properties of an hermitage of a guru, or spiritual teacher; on the abishēgam, or pouring water over the head of kings, on their enthronement—the benefits of so doing; on various gifts by kings, from gold downwards—a little deficient at the end. * Though not complete, this book is valuable; and better adapted for translation than the eleven thousand ślōcas of the original Sanscrit.

The book is long, and thick, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

XXII. PAURANAS, local, and MAHATMYAS.

1. No. 1276. Tula cāveri mahātmyam, said to be from the Agni purānam.

The prose Canarese version in 30 chapters is ascribed to Chelluvambikai, the wife of a Mysore king.

The great merit of bathing in the river Caveri in the Tula month (Libra, September—October,) accompanied with fasting—and devoutly hearing purānas read—by these means sin will be removed. Water flows down the sahya hill into the Caveri, and to bathe therein, in that month, is more meritorious than bathing in all the 66 crores (660 millions) of tirthas (or sacred pools) in all the fourteen worlds. All sin whatsoever is removed by bathing there, in that month. Many old examples—legendary tales of those who, river, being sorry for sin, obtained full liberation and beatitude by bathing in that at that time. The doing so is pleasing to Vishnu; and in consequence he bestows beatification.

On the proper duties and deportment of women. The mode in which men should offer the agni hōtrā, or fire-offering, in household service.

The original is fictitiously ascribed to Nāreda, who told it to Harischandra, when that monarch was grieved at some violence done to a Brahman; and thought of making an asvamedha hōma in expiation; Nareda advised him not to do so, but to remove the sin by hearing this purāna, and by bathing, when the sun is in Libra, in the Caveri river.

2. No. 1277. Garala pura mahātmyam, a tica, or verbal rendering from the Sanscrit, in 12 adhyaayas complete.

Garala (poison) is a town on the Caveri. Anciently there was a rācshasa named Kēsi, who troubled the three worlds. On the petition of the celestials, Siva went down to destroy him ; which was done by casting him on a sacrificial fire. The savage then ejected a particle of the venom of Vasūhi in the cūrma avatāra, which had been given him by Vishnu, and by means of which he had so long continued. From the garala, so ejected, the town derived its name. The excellency of the Capila nadi, a small river : and of the Mani Carinica river. The marriage of Lacshmi. At this place Parasu Rāma, Gautāma and Cāli (the Cali yuga personified) did penance.

The book is of medium length, old, a little damaged.

3. No. 1279. Yadava giri mahātmyam.

By Chicka upadhīyya, prose 1st to 8th adhyāyam.

Vishnu taught Brahma the doctrine of the eight-lettered charm. On the mode of creation of all created beings, or things. Sri Nārāyanu svāmi resided on a hill west of the Caveri; the excellence of the pool named calyana tīrtha on that hill. The various localities, with bathing pools, all around. Their excellence. The evils attendant on the cali yuga do not hold there : hence all the inhabitants are happy. It acquired the name of yadava giri, because Bala Rāma of the yadava race (elder brother of Krishna) did homage there. All, who on that hill, perform any kind of religious service to Vishnu will obtain beatification.

The book is long, not thick, recent.

4. No. 1285. Sect. 1. Yadava giri mahātmyam; said to be from the gnāna khanda of the Nārādiyapurānam, in 12 adhyāyas complete in prose : the same subject as the preceding and following books, and by the same author. Three other sections are found under various headings.

5. No. 1286. Yadava giri mahātmyam, said to be from the Nārādiya purānam, the gnāna khanda prose.

By Chicka upadhīyya—12 chapters complete. Nārēda told the contents to rishis.

Glory of Vishnu—taught Brahma the eight-lettered mantra—the vimānam or shrine of Vishnu was fixed at the place, by Brahma and Sanatcumara, with others. The excellency of the Calyāna pool—the hill was once named after Nārāyana; but after that Krishna and Bala Rāma had worshipped there it acquired the name of Yadava giri. Vishnu took the sub-avatāra of Dattātreyā, and punished the pāshāndas (hypocrites, Jīvinas.) On the ēca dasa fast—the tulasi plant and prasādam food offered at the shrine. Evils of the cali yuga removed. Residence on that hill is a means of obtaining beatification. The children of Vasishtha suffered from the effects of a curse—here removed, and some like matters.

The book is long, and thin, on talipat leaves, in good order.

6. No. 1288. Srī rangha mahātmyam, composite stanzas, 1st to 6th adhyāyam, the rest wanting.

Vishnu told to Brahma the order of creation—specification of avata-ras—the teaching of the mantra called Nārāyana (that is O'm Na ra ya na ya) origin of the shrine, &c. Fuller abstracts will appear from better copies.

This book is of medium length and thickness, (62 leaves) rather old, a little injured.

7. No. 1289. Sect. 1. Vencata giri mahātmyam, said to be from the Brahmānda purānam, prose. The legend of the temple at Tripeti—the coming of the god to that place, and the efficacy of the bathing pools there, fragment of 48 leaves; does not begin, nor end.

For section 2 see XXIX.

8. No. 1294. Sect. 2. List of names of the nine tīrthas or pools at Srirangham, near Trichinopoly, and the suitable gifts for the use of each one stated.

Also the various shrines within the seven walls or enclosures, and the different mantapas or porches. The names of those who built the various portions, and the measures of the whole—8 leaves, not complete.

9. No. 1308. Garala puri mahima; prose, said to be from the scanda purānam.

By Nanja rāja; 12 adhyāyas, complete.

Another name is vishka praharana puram.

—Kēsi, a rācshasa born in the Hiranya culam, having swallowed the hālahāla - venom, received a gift from Vishnu, and conquered all worlds. Siva put him on a sacrificial fire, from out of which the poison boiled—and hence the town was called Garala puram. Siva there performed various līlavilāsas, or sports. Lacshmi did penance there; and was married to Vishnu. This notice may be compared with another one, supra.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, in good order.

10. No. 1309. Sect. 1. Tulsi mahātmyam, hexameter-verse, complete.

This word here means a pool, named after the herb. Tulasi dēvi (Lacshmi) was born from churning the milk sea. Of all bathing pools, the tulasi pool is the most excellent. In the Brindava vanam (where Krishna lived) a raised parterre was formed, and planted with this herb; homage afterwards was rendered to it. In the Chāitra month (April—May) Vishnu dwells there, in that plant or parterre. The order of ceremonies there observed. Dásis are said to wear a necklace of beads, formed out of the woody stem.

For sect. 2 see XXVII. The book is long, and thick, very old, and much damaged.

11. No. 1311. Yadava giri mahátmyam; said to be from the Náradíya puránam.

By Simhadri—Sanskrit ślócas, with a tíca in Canarese 12 adhyáyas. (Same subjects as No. 1864. β. A. b.)

Creation—Brahma's penance—Vishnu's appearance to him at Nárdána giri, Vishnu established himself there—the glory of the Calyana pool—Bala Ráma, and Krishna came, and called the hill yadava giri—the sub-avatára of Dattatreya. Ancient details as to the four védas, value of the tulasi plant—the fast of the 11th lunar day. Removal of the effects of a curse from the children of Vasishtha. The want of virtue in the cali yuga, and other matters; some leaves are deficient at the end of the 12th chapter, seven loose, damaged, are added, containing household mantras of daily use.

The book is of medium size, old, and damaged: at the end shorter and older leaves.

12. No. 1313. Vencata'giri mahatmyam.

By Chicka upadhyáya mantri.

In 10 adhyayas, Canarese prose.

Náreda told Súta, who related the same to Savunaca, and other rishis.

The legend of Tripeti. By Vishnu's power, Adi sesha became incarnate at three places, Sri sáilam, Tripeti, and another place, in the shape of hills. On the top of the hill a Brahman did penance. Vishnu and Lacshmi came thither. All the celestials gave gifts to Anjina Devi, the mother of Hanuman. Procession of the god, celebrity of the place, &c., complete.

The book is long, of medium thickness, recent, in good order.

13. No. 1346. Sect. 2. Virupácsha stánam, composite stanzas. Isvara dwells in the form of Virupacsha in Pampa cshétram, near Héna cuta mount: on the temple—the court inside it—the festival processions and observances, complete.

For Sect. 1, see XXIV.

14. No. 1366. Durga vijaya—yecha ganam metre.

Sancara (or Siva) killed Chickandola, a râcshasa, on the kapura praharna hill. Durga resides on that hill, and satisfies the desires of all her votaries—44 leaves, complete.

The book is long, old, damaged.

15. No. 1528. Nanjana gudi mahima.

Five scandas complete, in stanzas, ascribed to Suta rishi. Nanjana goda is a name of Siva. The prevailing subject is the excellency, or glory of Siva, illustrated by various legendary tales in the manner of sthalapuranas. One leaf belongs to some other book in Telugu, concerning Rama.

The book is long, and thin, some leaves a little broken.

16. No. 1536. Vencatésvara prabandha sthila mahima—the excellency of a rock bearing the Vaishnava temple (at Tripeti): composite stanzas. The temple is stated to be near mount Meru, which must be hyperbole, or fanciful. A great assembly of celestials there: incomplete; one extra leaf has slócas.

The book is long, and thin, and slightly injured by insects.

17. No. 1572. Sri rangha mahatmya prose.

By Godda Timma dása; from the 14th section, and not finished. Eulogy of Yeti raja, or Ramanúja; he, with his disciples, visited the 108 Tripetis and disputed with opposers. He taught the Vaishnava credence with great success; visited a number of ordinary places: and at length returned to Sri rangham, in Mysore (Seringsapatam:) so far only in this book.

158 leaves remain. The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, old, but in tolerable order.

XXIII. RHETORICAL.

1. No. 1458. Sabda mani derpanam, composite stanzas, 100 leaves, incomplete.

On grammar and rhetoric—the art of writing the Canarese language with correctness and elegance.

The book is of medium size, in tolerable order.

2. No. 1510. Sect 4. On elegance of language, slócas, with the meaning in Canarese. This subject is usually treated of in the Sanscrit. The Dandi-alancáram is an important exception in Tamil; but in this Canarese collection, the matter is meagre.

XXIV. ROMANCE (historical.)

1. No. 1201. Bháratam, hexameters.

By Cumara Vyása yogi. 10 parvas.

The ádi, sabha, aranya, virata, udyoga, bhisma—dróna, karna—satiya—gadá, parvas; so far complete, on 206 leaves. Appended is the Airavata, or gaja gauri vratam, a mode of homage to commemorate Arjuna's going to Indra's world to bring down the real

48. No. 1304. Hari vamsa—prose.

By Nanja rāja.

From the 141st ādhyaya to 215th, does not end, leaves 193—283. The book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

49. No. 1305. Hari vamsa, prose.

‡ By Nanja rāja.

From the 3rd to 73rd ādhyāya.

This book is very long, on broad talipat leaves, medium thickness tolerable order.

These two copies of the supplement to the Bhāratam, have a relation to each other, but do not make up a complete work.

The following are parts of the contents.

The Manus, tale of Sacara, the solar line; funereal rites to ancestor the lunar line; the Yadū vamsa from which Kṛṣṇa descended, his sports, and conquests; legend of the parijāta flower; war with Indra; killing raeshasi; conquest of Shadpuram; details of prowess; eight wives; killing Samb casura; visit to Cāilasa.

The Hari vamsa was translated into French by M. Langlois and details are the less needed. They are multifarious.

50. No. 1331. Chōla rayana cad'ha.

By Lingā, son of Timmana, composite metre.

Three sandhis, supposed to be complete.

A Chóla king, who was famed for benevolence and rectitude, went out to hunt, and killed a janyama devotee, mistaking him for an animal. Owing to remorse for so doing he cut off his own head with a pair of shears. Siva appeared, and accepted this homage; took the king to Cáilasa, and restored the janyama to life. (An historical incident turned to a sectarial purpose.)

The book is of medium size, rather old, and damaged.

51. No. 1343. Cumbhakerna, kálaca; founded on the Rámáyana, fragment, from 83rd to 92nd sandhi: leaf 109, 110, wanting; composite stanzas.

The reusing of Cumbhakerna from a long state of sleep—his counsels to Ravana, and coming to battle—war of racshasas. Mode of fighting of 'Adi cayan and Indrajita, sons of Ravana—the crowning of Vibishina at Lanca, and of Rama at Ayodhya.

The book is long, of medium size, two or three leaves at the end broken, otherwise good order. (It may be noted in passing that 'Adi cayan—means "old Cain;" the spelling being as in Hebrew).

52. No. 1346. Sect. 1. Jaganát'ha vijaya, triumph of Krishna, composite stanzas.

By Rudra bháta, 18 asvasas, complete.

Birth of Krishna—escape from his uncle; killing a snake; holding up Goverdhana—killing of Camsa and Dantapartu or Sisupála—war with Jara-sandha—founding of Dwaraca—polygamy—killing Naracísura—tale of the parijáta flower—conquest of Indra—sight of Siva; sports in water, and groves; conquest of racshásas.

For section 2, see XXII. As a whole the book is long, very thick, a little injured by termites.

53. No. 1348. Harischandra cat'ha, from leaf 2 to 144, incomplete; composite stanzas: see 40. No. 1263. Supra.

This book is rather long, and thick, much injured by insects.

54. No. 1349. Harischandra sangatya.

3 sandhis complete, hexameters.

Vasishtha boasted of Harischandra's integrity, and Visvamitra tested it, &c. ut supra.

As a finale Siva interposed.

The book is of medium size, but damaged at the beginning and ending.

55. No. 1354. Jaganát'ha vijayam.

By Suca-vindra^w rudra—composite stanzas, on 185 leaves, complete.

Bála badhra and Krishna born; youthful sports of Krishna, details as to the Krishna avatára; transit of wooden images, without hands and legs, by means of a river, to Puri in Orissa—consecrated there and worshipped (the notorious “Juggernaut”). This book differs from 42 and 52, being by another author).

56. No. 1358. Uttara Rámáyanam, prose.

The latter portion of this supplement.

After Ráma's return to Ayodhya, he became suspicious of his wife's rectitude, and took advantage of a wish she expressed to see the country, to send her away to a wilderness. Ráma's horse-sacrifice to expiate the sin of killing Rávana—the horse seized by Cusa and Lava, his two sons; his army worsted; Ráma went in person—a reconciliation, and return to Ayódhya followed.

The book is long, of medium thickness, injured. (Brahmans discourage the reading of this book, and no wonder why).

57. No. 1361. Sæct. 2. Harischandra-cat'ha—fragment of 22 leaves, composite stanzas; for sect. 2, see XXV.

58. No. 1368. Dráupadi viváha, hexameters, 6 adhýayas, incomplete.

The sváyam varam (call to marriage) by Drópadi rája—the contest of kings, or their sons—none could hit the fish mark, but Arjuna—marriage of Dráupadi to the Pandavas—her ancestry, &c.

This book is unique, being formed of thick country paper, in the shape of palm leaves, and glazed, so as to repel insects.

It is of medium size, slightly injured.

59. No. 1374. Bháratam, hexameters.

By Cumara Vyása cavi.

The Kerna, and Aranya parvas.

1 Kerna—if complete 27 sargas; but in this copy the 1st and 2nd are wanting.

2 Aranya—4 sargas, in medió, not numbered—subject, the penance of Arjuna, and discussion between Bhítma, and another.

The book is of medium size, old, two, or three leaves, damaged.

60. No. 1421. Harischandra cávya, hexameters, 1st to 4th sandhi, incomplete.

By Rágha valcya pandita.

In consequence of Wasishta telling Indra that Harichandra was a monarch of strict veracity, Visvamitra undertook to force him to tell a lie; and in the attempt reduced him to the state of a chandála v. supra.

Book of medium size, in good order.

61. No. 1422. Sect. 2. Vibishina nti, composite stanzas, 1st and 2nd sandhis, on 12 leaves.

The advice given by Vibishina to his brother Rávana; who rejected the advice, and drove him away: founded on the Rámáyanam.

The book is of medium size, very old, and very much damaged. For sect. 1, see X.

62. No. 1426. Hari vamsa, prose.

By Nánja rája, 29th to 140 adhyáyam, leaf 217 to 353.

Krishna killed Camsa, Naracásura, Chumura, Hidimba. Account of the formation of Dvára. He shewed his divine form to Ahrúra. An account of Vasudéva, and Déviki.—On the Narasinha, and Vámana avatáras.—Also.

Séshta dherma 1st to 53rd adhyáyam. Various instructions as to obliquity, and rectitude, and others of an ethical kind: considered to have been taught by Krishna to the Pándavas.

The book is very long, and thick, on broad talipat leaves, in good order. Perhaps the largest palm leaf book in the collection.

63. No. 1427. Sect. 1. Bháratam, prose, the sabhá parvam, the 18th adhyáya only.

See other notices.

For sect. 2, 3, see XIII.

By Nánja rája, two parvams.

1 Salya parvam, 67 adhyáyas complete.

2 Strá " 10 " incomplete.

The first narrates the fight under Salya as general, the other the grief of Dráupadi, and other females, for the loss of relatives.

The book is very long, thick, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

65. No. 1437. Dherma paricsha.

By Vrata vilása, composite stanzas. In 10 asvāsas complete.

Examination as to virtue, or excellence applied to gods, sages, heroes.

Siva's bow, its power against asurus. Arjuna's skill in archery. The ability of Brāhma and Vishnu in the works of creation. The ability or skill of Agastya. On the Kauravas—on Bhagirati—Abimanyu—Indrajit—Veda-Vyāsa—Kerna—Drōna—on Rāvana—Vāli, Sugriva, and Kapinayaca. The skill, or ability of Rāma and Lacshmana—the slaying of Rāvana, and other matter, not well legible.

(It is not easy to find a better location for this book).

It is long, of medium thickness, old, narrow leaves, some of them very much injured.

66. No. 1438. Harischandra cavya.

By Raghavaleya pandita, hexameters. In 13 usvāsas, complete.

Harishandra, of the solar line, at Ayōdhya was reduced to the extremity of distress; when Siva took pity on him and restored him, and his wife, to their former prosperity. See foregoing notices.

This book is long, thin, on broad talipat leaves, somewhat injured.

67. No. 1440. Bhāratam, prose version.

By Nanja rāja.

The sabhā parvām, 1st to 20th adhyāyam, incomplete—many leaves gone, only 20 remain.

The chief subject is Dhērma rāja's sacrifice.

The book is long, and thin, on talipat leaves, in good order.

68. No. 1451. Kusalōpākhyānam, prose, complete; the subject is from the Uttara Rāmāyānam.

When Rāma sent his wife Sitā into the wilderness, under the protection of Vālmiki, she was delivered of twins, Kusa and Lāva; and they were reared in the wilderness.

Rāma made a horse sacrifice, and the twins caught the horse. Rāma's servants sought to recover the horse, and could not; Rāma himself came. By the intervention of the rishi Vālmiki, the affair ended.

Rāma took his sons, with their mother, to Ayōdhya.

The book is of medium size, injured near the end.

69. No. 1461. Sect. 1. Harischandra sangatya, stanzas, in five sandhis, complete v: supra.

For section 2. see XXVI.

80. No. 1490. Jāimuni Bhāratam, hexameters, fragment, containing only the apocryphal combat between Arjuna and his son.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, injured, one of the cover boards is broken.

81. No. 1491. Jāimuni Bhāratam, hexameters, sandhis 1 to 5, one half of 6, and from 8 to 10, subject as above.

The book is long, of medium thickness, slightly injured:

82. No. 1492. Jāimuni Bhāratam, hexameters, 9 asvasas, on 90 leaves, incomplete.

This book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, injured by decay.

83. No. 1492. (Duplicate No. by some oversight or error, cause unknown.)

Sri Rāmāyana prabandham, hexameters.

By Vencayya.

The Bīla, Ayodhya, Aranya, Kishkinda, Sundara, Yuddha, vāndas: the Aranya cāndam, has only 1st to 10th sandhi; if otherwise this would be a complete copy. It is however a prolix version, and not strictly adhering to the exemplar of the Vālmiki Rāmāyanam.

This book is very long, and very thick, broad talipat leaves, injured, painted boards.

84. No. 1493. Jāmuni Bhāratam, hexameters, 26 adhyāyas, 105 leaves, 1483 stanzas, incomplete: even if complete, besides varying in details, it would seem to contain only a part of the original work.

This book is of medium size, old, but in good order.

85. No. 1494. Jāmuni Bhāratam, hexameters, 1st to nearly the end of 4th sandhi, a fragment. Book is long, thin, almost destroyed by worms.

86. No. 1495. Jaimuni Bhāratam, hexameters, 1st to 30th adhyāyam incomplete, subject ut supra.

The book is rather long, of medium thickness, extremely damaged.

87. No. 1496. Jāmuni Bhāratam.

By Lacshmi pati, hexameters, version from the old to the modern dialect, 1st to 33rd sandhi—complete copy.

The book is long, and thick, slightly injured.

88. No. 1498. Rāmāyanam, a prose version of the Yuddha cādam, from the 53rd sarga to the 107th, the end; in the midst blank leaves, and 70th to 80th sarga not written, 161 leaves, large writing.

The book is long, and thick, in tolerable order.

89. No. 1499. Rāmāyanam; hexameters.

By Valmiki, a version from the Sanscrit.

From the Bala cādam to about half of the Sundara cādam, and 1st to 56th sandhi, in the 56th are 55 stanzas, the rest wanting.

The book is somewhat long, and very thick, injured by worms.

90. No. 1500. Sect. 1. Rāmāyanam, the Ūttara cādam; hexameters, 20 sandhis complete, 44 leaves.

Agastya told to Rama the genealogy of Ravana from Pulasthya; and, at the close, the adventure of the discarded Sita, and her two sons.

Section 2. Harischandra cavyam, hexameters, 1st and 2nd sandhis complete, of the 3rd only 26 stanzas: 13 leaves.

The book is long, of medium thickness, injured.

91. No. 1501. Rāmāyanam.

By Cumara Valmiki, hexameter version, the six *cādam*s complete in 116 sandhis, 213 leaves. The book is very long, thick, on broad talipat leaves, very small and neat handwriting, old, but in good order.

92. No. 1502. Rámáyanam, hexameter version.

The Suntara cándam complete.

Yuddha cándam—down to Ravana's full preparation for war, 42nd to 64th sandhi, 116 leaves remain.

The book is somewhat long, thick, old, very slightly injured, narrow palm leaves.

93. No. 1503. Rámáyanam, prose version of the Yuddha cándam, from the 93rd to the 107th sarga 1—92nd wanting.

From the grief of Mandotí, wife of Ravana, to the end of the war.

The book is of médium size, a little injured.

94. No. 1504. Rámáyanam; hexameters.

By Tirumálayya:

The Uttara cándam, 1st to 12th sandhi, 12th has 12 stanzas, 18th—62nd the end; but the 19th sandhi has only 29 stanzas; 28 leaves are missing, 54 remain.

The genealogy of Ravana—the war with Ráma—the story of Sita, with Lava, Cusa, &c.

95. No. 1529. Bhishma pránatyóga vrítantam, prose.

An account from the Bháratam of the death of Bhishma, general of the Kauravas, slain by an arrow, or rocket—and laying his soul at the feet of Krishna, offering praise; not finished.

The book is short, of médium thickness, old, a little injured, large and coarse handwriting.

96. No. 1664. Sect. 2. Bháratam, hexameters; the ádi parvam from the 1st to 3rd sandhi, and 35 stanzas of the 4th—90 leaves, down to the birth of the Pándavas.

For sect. 1, see XXVII.

97. No. 1702. Bháratam, and sundries.

—Aranya párvam, 3rd to 6th adhyayam.

—Virata „ 11 adhyayas complete; both are in hexameters.

Sundry fragments.

Gāuli sacunam, lizard omens; 4 kaṇḍa stanzas.

Virupacsha linga, 13 stanzas; praise of Siva, incomplete.

Two hirtanas on Siva and Vishnu.

Niti slócas ethical.

Jyotisham—5 or 6 slócas astrology, fractional arithmetic, 15 leaves.

The book, as a whole, is somewhat long, thick, old, tolerable order.

* 98. No. 1705. Bhairava rayana sangavya, hexameters : 1001½ of 2nd sandhi to ½ of the 4th.

Bhairava rāja was of the lunar race, some details as to his power and majesty ; incomplete, 50 leaves remain.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, in good order.

99. No. 1707. Sect. 2. Bāla Rāmāyanam, an epitome for schools.

XXV. SAIVA.

1. No. 1251. Anthology : various pieces, in the measure termed ragale, long lines, and rapid metre.

—Guru ragale, praise to Siva in which the word guru is very often repeated.

—Shadacshara ragale, on the six lettered mantra, O'm-na-ma-si-va-yi.

—Saruna Basava ragale, praise in which the words "O protector Basava" often recur. By Somanaca.

Linga ragale, praise of the Saiva symbol, the word linga very often recurring.

—Bhīmakēvara ragale, praise written by Bhīma cavi.

—Manōvegārada nirasana ragale, on renouncing all sensual desires and affections.

—Bhakti binna hatā ragale, on the adoration by faithful devotees to Sivā.

—Basavēvara pāvudala ragale, on the incarnation of Siva's vehicle, in the person of Basava.

—Māitura Rāmāyana ragale.

A son of Rāma nātha, a Brahman, enquired of his mother concerning the dipali festival, when she told him that Parvati was his sister, and Siva his brother-in-law. In consequence he went on a pilgrimage to Cālasa. Siva being pleased, took the boy and his mother into his vimānam, or car, and carried them both to Cālasa.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in good order, neat handwriting.

2. No. 1271. Two pieces.

1.) Révāna Siddhēvara purāna,

By Bōmmarasāna, hexameter

A young ascetic (termed Bala-yogivara) completely dressed, issued from a Siva linga, and received the name of Révana siddha. As a general instructor of mankind, he taught the Saiva system; and among others, to Agastya; he discoursed of all the Saiva fanes; he married three hundred daughters of kings. A son of his named Rudru muni was installed, and anointed by his father, as head guru. Révana then re-entered the Saiva symbol, and became one with Siva: complete.

2.) Bichhadana cheritra, composite stanzas.

By Guru linga vibhù.

Siva put on the disguise of a mendicant; and going about, had intercourse with many persons (sexualiter); Krishna saw, and praised him: breaks off; being much damaged.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, old, and very much damaged.

3. No. 1291. Nandi mahatmyam; vaidica hexameters: 24 sandhis complete.

Siva had, for some cause, given his sa-rupa (or likeness) to Nandi, his bullock vehicle. On Nandi going to deliver a message to Parvati she rose up mistaking him for Siva.

Nandi was troubled; but taking advice from a devotee, he did penance, whereupon Siva appeared, and restored to him his proper bullock form.

The book is long, thin, talipat leaves, in general good order.

4. No. 1339. Siva advaita sacara; splendor of the Saiva rule; termed a siddhantam, or orthodox book.

By Padma raja mahat: hexameters; said to be delivered by Nandikesvara to his votary Sanatevmaru: 9 sandhis.

Outlines; the glory of the five lettered charm—the superiority of Isvara; the excellence of Siva—the glory of the sacred beads—the value of vibhuti (or cowdung ashes). On Uma dhenu, the cow of plenty; Tripura dahanana, burning of three towns—birth or origin of Ganga—censure of the Vaishnava system; Siva gave instruction to Brahma and Vishnu. On the order, or rule of Saiva homage. Description of hell (naraca varna), complete.

Compare No. 1542 infra.

This book is long, of medium thickness, old, in general good order.

5. No. 1341. Saiva economics; but without title, or name of author; three feet metre—19 sandhis complete.

The different sections are termed padhadi, which is understood to mean also mode, or manner of conduct.

6. No. 1347. Two legends.

1.) Utpatti déva charitra—composite stanzas, 7 sandhis, complete.

A king of Gujerat was named Utpattum. At a time when he was discoursing about Siva, and rendering him homage, Siva visibly appeared to him, and bestowed on him beatification.

2.) Cherimā charitra, hexameters.

By Cherima, 11 sandhis complete.

Basida-cayan, a gānam, or celestial of Siva's world, was caused to be born on earth, as a king; and he taught a Pandya king, (also a gana incarnate) the Saiva system. Both attended the Ponambalum (or golden ball) when Sivā danced there, and were delighted by the performance. In the end Siva received both back again, as celestials, to his own world, restoring their former position.

The book is long, of medium thickness, slightly injured by insects.

7. No. 1361. Sect. 1. Sōma nāt'ha charitra, legend of a royal ascetic, composite stanzas, leaf 1—146 complete. Attributed to Nāreda as visitor of the upper, medium, and lower worlds.

In Saurashtra désa he saw a want of equity, as to punishing the evil, and rewarding the good: the world was going to ruin by reason of crime. He reported the state of matters to Paramésvara (the supreme) who, on hearing the same, sent gana srēshtha, a chief celestial to be born, from the womb of the queen of Sōma nāt'ha, king of that country. His incarnation was in order to punish the evil, and protect the good. Particulars of the birth, training and amusements of the king's son are given. On going out to hunt if he aimed at any particular bird, in a bush, or tree, all the birds therein fell down dead. He shewed skill in deciding law suits, brought before the king. He married, and for some time lived as a suca jini, or epicure. In the end, he adopted the pitambarā, or tawny robe of ascetics, and employed himself in teaching religious doctrine; and finally returned to the world of Siva. (The tale seems to imply a change from the Jaina to the Saiva religion).

For sect. 2, see XXIV.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, old, and slightly damaged.

8. No. 1365. Ravi kirti, legend of a king, composite stanzas; leaf 1—124, not complete.

Description of a king—his jewels—his queen—crowning—death of his son—going on pilgrimage,—and in the end obtaining Siva sa uchcha, unity with the divine nature, with a few other matters, designed to insinuate the Saiva credence.

The book is of medium length, thick, old, and very much damaged by worms, and breaking.

9. No. 1373. Two books, and various chants.

- 1.) Sāundra purānam, fragment, composite stanzas, 6th to 17th sandhi leaf 29—95, does not finish.

Pushpadhatta a celestial of Siva's world by command of Siva, was born on earth from the womb of a Nambi, and received two names Saundra and Nambi. Siva assumed an illusive form: came and superintended the ceremonies at birth, and naming; and, in due time, taught him the mysteries of the Siva tatra system, or the true way. The young man married, and lived with his wife according to the Saiva rules. He made pilgrimages to sacred places, and bathing-pools, and in the end, was beatified; returning to his celestial home.

- 2.) Nambi ragale, 19 st'halas (places) or chapters, leaf 1—90 complete

The aforesaid Pushpadhatta by the order of Siva was sent to earth. He was grieved and said, "I cannot live without the presence of Siva" and Siva replied, "I will often come and see you." In consequence of the confidence (nambekai) thus conveyed, the incarnate celestial was called Nambi; and as being loca-sundāra (world-beauty) he also received the epithet of Sāundara (handsome). Hence the story in both is similar, but the authors, and the stanzas used, differ; being two poetical versions of one legend.

Appended chants are—

Malhana ragale, praise by a gifted devotee.

Hampeya ragale, praise of Siva.

Cala gana nat'hama ragale, praise by a king, gifted with poetical skill by Siva.

Cala gana Perumale ragale, the like.

Mahima ragale, on the glory of Siva.

Mait'huna Ramaiyya ragale, praise by a Brahman who became Siva's cousin.

The preceding six chants are brief; and each one complete.

The book is long, thick, old, yet in tolerable order.

10. No. 1408. Bharatésvara charitra, sringadi metre.

Bharata, a king of Hastinapuri, had three sons named Ravi kirti, Meghésvara, and Virinjaya (sun-fame, cloud-lord, conquest-hero). These three in consequence of studying the vedanta system, abandoned all the pleasures of their father's court; first causing Ananta virya, the son of Virinjaya to be crowned; and, while the three brothers were journeying on their way towards Cailasa: Havi kirti told to his two younger brothers the glory of Siva; the pains and troubles of domestic life, as householders; and the principles of the tatva philosophy. Hence the fiction is a vehicle for Saiva teaching.

The book is of medium length, old, on talipat leaves, injured at the edges; the order of sections, and leaves transposed.

11. No. 1424. Three centos, poetry.

1.) Retnacaradésvara satacam.

By Sringara cavi hamsa raja, composite stanzas. The author invokes Siva asking favor and compassion, in return for ascetic virtue, and moral conduct: complete.

2.) Aparajadésvara satacam, composite stanzas. Since happiness is not attainable by household duties, and family cares, the devotee renounces these, and implores Siva to have compassion on him: complete.

3.) Triloca satacam; kanda stanzas.

On Sverga, heaven, madhya earth, naraca hell—description of them. The seven inferior, and seven upper worlds, the seven dvipas continents, and the seven seas, their measures, nature, and kinds of inhabitants: complete. This section is pauranical and not peculiar to any one sect.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, some of them a little injured.

12. No. 1443. Two sections.

1.) Vaibhōga rayana āstrana, complete, composite stanzas.

The subject refers to Trinomaldī near Madras. The important shrine of Isvara at that place, known by the name of Vaibhōgarāya, described: the section is complete.

2.) Chūda nāt'ha astrana, composite stanzas.

Nandi the vehicle of Siva and Durovāsa muni mutually cursed each other. Both went to Siva to complain. He told them that he himself, coming down to the Rudra hill, would remove the effects of the curse from both.

The book is of medium size, old, a little injured.

13. No. 1453. Maya vivāha, a fragment, composite stanzas—the leaves confused; but the subject is in the Prabhu linga līla, an ultra Sāiva work.

Mayā the daughter of Mamacara, at her own request, was married to Madhukēvara, a local god; that is, she became a dāsi or pagoda prostitute. (Vide Vol. 2).

The book is of medium size, old and damaged, rude writing.

14. No. 1457. Four tracts.

1.) Sivādāva satācam, 75th to 100th stanza praise of Siva, combined with the mystic tatva system.

2.) Siva vallabha satācam, 100 stanzas complete.

On the Saiva vedānta, men, and all created beings and things are a development of deity.

3.) Āt puruṣha satācam, 67 stanzas, incomplete.

The poet prays Siva to deliver him from his want of wisdom.

4.) Basavēsa stōttram, Sanscrit gadya, measured prose.

Basava the vehicle of Siva is worshipped, through the medium of 108 names, a satāshstōtra.

The book is short, and thin, on broad talipat leaves, closely written: and in good order.

15. No. 1472. Sect. 3. Maha dēva ragale.

By Hariharēsvara.

A devotee acknowledges that he had vainly trusted to this world; and invokes Siva for preservation.

Sect 4. Nilamāuna trivide.

Nilamāuna is wife of Basava—a prayer to her for preservation, by whom not known. See VIII and XIII.

16. No. 1506. Siva bhakti mahatmye.

Stated to be translated from the Scanda purānam.

By Nanja rāja: prose.

1st to 24th adhyāya, 70 leaves wanting.

Sixty-three special votaries of Siva are enumerated, and an account of them is contained in a Tamil work, entitled Periya purānam. This book is on the like-subject in Canarese. Legendary accounts of their devoteism; and, as many of them were without children, Siva sent various individuals to remedy this deficiency: details of this Vilāsam or amusement.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, in good order.

17. No. 1516. Sacara Siddhanta sanānda charitra.

On the special and sole divinity of Siva: composite stanzas, 1st to 9th sandhi complete.

Nandikēvara narrated to Sanatcūmara secret-instructions received from Siva, as following, with proofs from Vēlas and sāstras on the pre-eminence of Siva.

The excellence of the five lettered spell; on the entirely sole supremacy of Siva—the excellence of the rudra beads. The consuming Cāma by Siva's forehead eye—the burning of three towns by Siva (herein hyperbolically explained by svarga, madhya, palāta, heaven, earth, and hell). On the ritual observance of the Vīra Sāva way; description of naraca. Proper deportment (guru bhakti) towards a religious teacher.

18. No. 1518. Five books (three of them Sāiva).

1.) Chūda nat'hanast'hana, composite stanzas.

On Rudra giri and Sauntara puri, Siva delivered his vehicle Nandi from the effects of a malediction that had caused the said Nandi to be born on earth: complete.

2.) Vāibhōga rājast'hanam, composite stanzas.

It relates to Trinomali, as a place of great fame. At that place there was a distinguished votary of Siva termed Vāibhōga rāja—concerning whom are details in this tract: complete.

3.) Virupacsha st'hanam, composite stanzas.

Legend of a temple dedicated to Siva under the name of Virupacsha (fierce eye) at a place termed Pampa Cshētra, on Hēma cuta a mountain. The fane is known as mani mūdaram (jewel-house)—details concerning it and the god worshipped there: complete.

- 4.) Cāma sūtra, love science ; otherwise known as rati rahasya krama, mode of sexual intercourse ; an erotic piece : 50 hexameters, incomplete.
- 5.) Sārada gāya—prose description of Sarasvatī, and invocation for her aid.

The book is long, of medium thickness, much injured by worms towards the end.

19. No. 1519. Three subjects ; (two of them Sāiva.)

1.) Chenna muḷēsvara satacam, 102 composite stanzas, complete : 16 leaves, praise of Siva.

2.) Brahma mantra, praise of Brahma—incomplete.

3.) Anubhovam vrutam : 56 avāsas, praise of Mullicarjuna.

The book is long, of medium thickness (77 leaves.)

20. No. 1520. Parāmart'ha pracāsica.

By Siva yogi, complete on 52 leaves.

Praise of Siva—description of four kinds of yōgam, or modes of service.

—On restraining the breath, when repeating certain mantras, or prayers, description of japa or muttered prayer ; on the use of beads in counting the repetitions of prayer. On the eight lettered Sāiva mantra i. e., O'm-him-hrim-na-na-si-va-yi.

The whole book is sectarian, and of the ascetic kind—it has various mantras.

The title—"the splendor of the divine soul" implies the obtaining, by ascetic retirement, the inward light, and sight of deity within the mind. As the book is not large, I should think a translation of the whole might be interesting.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, in good order.

21. No. 1522. Prabhu. linga kila, composite stanzas, 25 gatis or sections complete.

A dispute between Siva and Parvatī—the latter caused a portion of her nature to become incarnate ; it followed Siva as Allama Prabhu in disguise, and Siva followed it, various adventures are stated, ending in Siva taking the said form of Parvatī back to Chūlasa.

This book may be compared with 23. No. 1548, infra. Two different books bear this title—one of them is Vra Sāiva.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

22. No. 1525. Two pieces.

1.) Siva bhaktara ragale ; dvipada metre.

An account of twenty special votaries of Siva; who observing their regularity and good conduct on earth, appeared to them personally: took them into his vimānam, (celestial car) and translated them to his own world; honoring them there by placing them near his own special presence.

2.) Saiva siddhantam—kaṇḍa stanzas.

On the error, or fault of the lāukika class, or worldly persons; that is householders, family men. The ascetic worship, and service of Siva explained, stanza 1—99 wanting; 100 to 800; but not regular, nor complete.

The book is of medium size, old, talipat leaves, the end diverse in appearance.

23. No. 1526. Five tracts.

1.) Yógāṅga vibhūshana, composite stanzas, in six parts, complete.

Parama Siva gnāna tatva upadesana, instruction in the mystic truth of the heavenly Siva.

2.) Satguru rahasyam—stanzas, nine parts complete.

Discrimination as to finite or mortal, and eternal—immortal—on the inward faculties of the body (sensitive soul?) and on the difference of both body, and sensitive soul, from the never-dying spirit.

3.) Calyāna-isvara, 102 stanzas complete. Siva satya artha rahasyam, mystery of the true meaning of the Saiva way; an account of Saiva worship.

4.) Sārūpa amṛita, stanzas, three sections, complete.

The ambrosia of assimilation to the form of Siva, in Siva's world.

5.) Vrishabha gita, stanzas—two leaves, incomplete, praise of Nandi the vehicle of Siva.

24. No. 1541. Shakti'hala gnāna sārāmṛitam, measured prose.

By Koṇṭāda siddhēsvara deveru.

On the mystic system of the Saivas.

It contains

—Linga bhēdam, difference of symbols.

—Lingōbhavam—origin of the symbol.

—Prāna linga—on the life.

—Vibhūti—on cow-dung ashes.

—Rūdrācsha—on sacred beads.

—Prasāda—food offered, and other matters.

A leaf, at the end, contains praise of Siva; and the pancha Brahma mantra, or spell used when putting cow-dung ashes on thirty-two places of the body.

The book is long, and thick, in good order.

25. No. 1542. Sácara siddhanta-cheritra : composite stanzas.

By Nandikésvara—from the 1st to the 10th section.

Matters of a specially Saiva character, and leaning to the vedava or advaita school. In the Trimurti, only Siva is worthy of homage : incomplete.

The book is of medium size, very old, and very much damaged at the entire one end of the leaves.

26. No. 1544. Bichch'ha dána, on begging alms : composite metre, from the 1st to the 6th adhyáyam and 38 stanzas of the 7th.

By Cumara malayya.

The legend of Isvara or Siva going about as a mendicant ; and his adventures with wives of rishis in the tara vanam. On the ponambalam or golden hall at Ghítambura ; and on the distress of Siva ; incomplete. (Such pauranic legends which disgrace the subject of them, must be distinguished from the Saiva theology.)

The book is of medium size, old, a little injured by insects.

27. No. 1548. Prabhu linga tîla, stanzas, 25 gatas or chapters complete.

See 17. No. 1522. Supra. This seems to be another copy of the same work ; and differing from a Telugu book, with the same title. The one may be founded on the other, or variously modified : at the end five broken leaves. Virasáiva ragalé—on special devotees.

The book is of medium size, old, damaged by worms, and breaking.

28. No. 1546. Maláigáiya navara, vachanam, prose.

The name of Malái navara appears to be that of the compiler ; but the book is made up by quotations from many others, or proofs adduced, a few leaves, here and there, are wanting.

The subjects are,

—Pnavá linga bhéda vicharam, an enquiry as to the difference of the soul.

—Prátma paramátma vicháram, an enquiry concerning the human, and divine soul ; or man and deity.

—Tanu treya vicháram, on the s'húla déha corporeal body—Sucshma deha sensitive, or material soul, and the immortal spirit.

—In the Trimurti, the chief is Siva.

—On the 10 avatars of Vishnu.

—On the consecration of a Saiva symbol.

—On the Sáiva bhakti of Vishnu, or the alleged homage of Siva by Vishnu.

The book is of medium size, old, in some places injured by worms.

29. No. 1559. Dicsha bhode, composite stanzas; with quotations of ślokas and *vācya*s, from Sanscrit books.

A compendium of instructions on Saiva matters, theological or mystic; the principal tendency being to prove, from competent authorities, that it is advisable to relinquish family cares, and to adopt the ascetic mode of life, as the way to attain to beatification.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

30. No. 1579. Hérura hennina sangatya, the matter of the woman of Herúr.

By Maha deva, hexameters, 5 sandhis, complete.

This woman was named Nalla mahalu Gangai, and was daughter of a Saiva hierophant. She was a devotee of Siva. Her father, for the sake of wealth, wished to give her in marriage to a Jaina husband. When all was ready she refused; and went to the Saiva temple, and remained there crying. Siva appeared; and at her desire changed her sex to that of man. After this change, from feminine to masculine, her relatives regarded her as something divine; and by the name of Mucti nallan, he was honored and praised; until at length he attained to Siva's paradise. (This is one instance among others, of artifice; as to insinuating what is not plainly taught.)

This book is of medium size, old, damaged by wear.

31. No. 1583. Various matters of the Saiva kind; title, and author not known.

—siva loka astanam, description of Siva's paradise.

—linga st'hala, on the body, and special parts of it.

—nirāpanam, union, or mixture of the human body, with deity.

—ha, unāpanam, meditation on the divine compassion.

They lean to the védanta, or advaita system, 48 leaves remain.

The book is short, and thin, without boards.

—A fragment taken out from some book.

32. No. 1587. One complete subject, and a few miscellaneous leaves, Saiva in kind.

- 1.) Vira Sangayyana sangatya, hexameters. In 5 sandhis complete: tragic tale.

Vira Sangayya, a Saiva devotee, married a female devotee named Chandreni devi and brought her to his town. It so happened that a son of Bhascara, a king of this town, had before sought her in marriage; and she evaded his demand by introducing a discussion on religious topics, and by instructing him in the Saiva way. She then promised him that she would come after ten days (a vague term). In the interval she married a Saiva as above. The king's son came with armed attendants to claim her by force. Vira Sangayya dispersed them by his sole arm. The king's son then assumed a disguise, as if he were Siva; and came near the other, with deadly intent; when, just as he was drawing his sword, Siva himself really appeared and took the king's son, Vira the brave, and his wife, with all her relations to his own world. A general slaughter, founded on this marriage, seems meant by the allegorical language used.

2.) Various leaves.

—Prabhu deva vachanam—prose.

—Mahadēva acagala vachanam—prose.

—Siva sravana ashtacam—an octavé.

—Radanta kirrtana on Siva—chant.

These four pieces are Saiva, in their religious bearing.

The whole book is short, somewhat thick, old, and much injured by use, and worms.

33. No. 1620. Svétana sangatya, composite stanzas, 3 sandhis.

Angaya rāja had a son named svéta, who was a bad, and reprobate character; being guilty of every crime. One day on a flower falling from his hand, he said, Siva arpanam, "it is an offering to Siva". At the time of his death Yama made enquiry, and found that this was the only good act of his life, whereupon his soul was taken to Rhemba of Indra's world, who instructed him fully in the Saiva way: and rescuing his soul from hell, gave him a title to Siva's world: in the middle, and at the end, a few leaves are wanting.

The book is of medium length, thin, old, a little damaged.

34. No. 1647. Svétana sangatya, composite stanzas, 3 sandhis, some leaves wanting, 38 leaves remain.

Svétana the son of a king was a very vicious character; but one day a flower slipping out of his hand he said 'let it be a sacrifice to Siva;' and on that account Rhemba was sent to instruct him: she taught him the Saiva doctrine and insured his beatification.

The book is of medium length, thin, old, damaged.

35. No. 1750. Six tracts.

1.) Yógana vibhūshana, hexameters; six bhāgas, or parts complete.

It treats of human life, from the fetus state in the womb through various events to the close; the state of domestic life, with family cares, is condemned. The favor of a guru should be acquired by means of an ascetic course of life, with mukti, or beatification at its close.

2.) Satguru rahasya, hexameters.

The secret of a good teacher—9 bhavas complete. Various matters on the metaphysical tatva system. On the finite, and eternal, or immortal—the bodily, and mental faculties. Discrimination as to sensitive, and rational soul, and the body.

3.) Kalyánésvaram, 102 stanzas.

By Kalyánésvara.

On zeal for a profession of wisdom, or truth; order of the Sáiva credence, and various matters thereto pertaining.

4.) Sárúpa amrita, hexameters, ambrosia of likeness to Siva.

In 3 parich'hedas complete.

The way to eternity, shewn to a disciple.

5.) Vrishabha gita, 101 stanzas complete.

He who embraces the ascetic mode of life, and is diligent in performing the duties thereto belonging will obtain beatification.

6.) Avaduta gita—101 stanzas complete.

The dream, or delusion of domestic life should be relinquished; and the strictly ascetical system followed. If so, then by the favor of the guru, beatification will be obtained.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in good order.

XXVI. THEOLOGICAL, or mystic.

1. No. 1461. Sect. 2. Zanti Ganésvara sangatya: stanzas, 6 sandhis complete.

On rewards and punishments, consequent to the present life. Yama's messengers assemble, and distinguish between those that have done dhermam (active benevolence) and those that have merely attended to karmam (ritual ceremonies). To the former the pleasures of the five senses in Indra's world are given; and to the latter various punishments in hell, which are detailed. (It would seem, as a corollary, to consign the Brahmans to Naraca).

For section 1, see XXIV.

The book is of medium size, old, and in good order.

2. No. 1530. Shakti'hala upadesa.

By Cumara Bangu nāt'ha, dvipada metre, with a tica, or prose explanation.

Paramāt'ha tatva bodha—instruction in the true heavenly sense, or meaning.

Arranged under the heads of pinda guru karuna—Siva bhakti—prasaśada-prāna linga—saruna; or infancy—education—devotion offerings—life, or soul—absorption, or beatification.

The book is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, partially damaged.

3. No. 1532. Guru bódhāmṛita—ambrosia of a teacher's instruction; composite stanzas complete; subjects:

On the human body—and the five senses, organs and faculties of body and mind, all are perishable not eternal—the superior importance of the immortal soul, and of eternity (nityam) thence inferred, and illustrated.

Some ślōcas on the panchaśhara ś'halam or localities assigned to the five senses; and on the corresponding sāiva mantra, na-ma-si-va-yi.

Five short poems on the rudracsha, or sacred beads, worn by Saivas.

The book is of medium size, in general good order.

4. No. 1537. Mantra gopiya.

By Siddha Ramayya, metaphysics; and termed samādi yōga, or mysteries of the Brahmans. Six tracts.

- 1.) Góvésvara vachana, prose by Góvésvara, and mantra gópiya, mystery of the charm: 25 various stanzas in Canarese, complete.
- 2.) Siva stotra, Sanscrit, complete, praise of Siva.
- 3.) Samādi tatva vishayam: in Sanscrit ślōcas with a tīca in Canarese complete.

On the mystery of the tatva system.

[Tatvam is truth; but the term is technically applied to instruction, as to bodily members, seat of vitality—sentient, and spiritual soul.]

- 4.) Siva tatva gnāna bódhanā.

Canarese verse, with prose explanation, without beginning or ending; twelve loose irregular leaves. On Sāiva metaphysics.

- 5.) Yōga tatvam, Sanscrit ślōcas with Canarese tīca 7 leaves, without ending or beginning, on ascetical metaphysics.
- 6.) Vedānta tatvam, Canarese prose, yet with a tīca in plainer language.

—Only three leaves, not finished.

On the reality of unreality—all existence being included in Tat (the pronoun that) used to designate deity.

The book is long, and thin, slightly damaged: the age of leaves, and the handwriting differ.

5. No. 1545. Prabhu dévara vachana.

By Cumāra Bānga nāt'ha.

Concerning god. It is otherwise termed paramartha tatva bōdhana, instruction on the heavenly meaning of truth (or metaphysics). Canarese stanzas, with a tica in prose.

Ten stanzas are added in praise of Basava, and twenty others on the Sāiva symbol.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, in general good order.

6. No. 1547. Linga charitra, in 91 prasangas or short discourses.

Sentences, or proverbial philosophy; the subjects ranging from the formation of the fœtus through the ordinary details of life, to the attainment of metaphysical knowledge (the tatvam) and ultimately 'beatification. It is ascetic, moral and somewhat theological in kind, but Sāiva also: as indicated by the names Isāni, and Mahésvari.

The book is long, of medium thickness, and would be in good order, only that about 20 leaves are gnawed, eating out words: which is a pity; since this book has value, as a sectarial exposition.

At the end 3 leaves Sanscrit, on arithmetic.

7. No. 1555. Shad st'hala tilaca, a compendium of instruction to a disciple.

- 1.) On the qualities, and excellence of the Sāiva symbol.
- 2.) A disciple enquires of his teacher concerning the insipid modes of family life, and the teacher replies; insisting on the relinquishment of worldly goods, and secular cares; and on the importance of an ascetic or devotional life.
- 3.) A disciple asks his teacher concerning the unprofitableness of all other systems: and the teacher replies insisting on the superiority of the Sāiva system.
- 4.) The dicshada, or initiation, and instruction in the principles of the Sāiva system.
- 5.) The disciple being now initiated the teacher instructs him as to the means of obtaining bodily support, or a livelihood.

- 6.) The disciple is instructed as to duties and offices required from him, towards his preceptor.
7. Instruction as to the satgriya, or good works connected with the Sáiva mode of homage.
- 8.) Instruction on the excellence of cow-dung ashes, smearing parts of the body.
- 9.) The like as to wearing the rudracsha, or sacred beads.
- 10.) The like, on the excellence of what is termed the royal mantra; or five lettered charm na, ma, si, va, yi.
- 11.) A tale, by Sanatcumara, on the value of tirt'has, or bathing pools, extracted from the Brahmánda puranam, for the guidance of the disciple.
- 12.) On the excellence of the Siva prasádam, or partaking of the food offered to Siva.
- 13.) On Siva niti, or Sáiva ethics.
- 14.) Shadst'hala upadésa, instruction on six special places in the human body; considered to be the residence of the divine spirit; and on the obtaining beatification thereby.
- 15.) Siva púja áchara bhakti, on the proper deportment of a microphant in conducting Sáiva homage.
- 16.) A tale, or legend concerning the surupa, nature, or form of Siva.
- 17.) On the mode of offering food to Siva, eating of it, and giving of it to others.
- 18.) Linga bhédam, diversity of the symbol; svámi the god, átma the soul, guru the teacher, as indicated by the symbol.
- 19.) The happiness of union with the symbol; sometimes metaphorically used of the material form; but more especially absorption into deity.
- (20. The sárupa, nature or mode of existence after union with deity.

[The western mind would require a full acquaintance with very ancient discussions as to masculine, and feminine (positive, and negative) causation of the universe, before it could see any thing but absurdity in such a book as this: the grand Hindu doctrine of absorption into deity goes one step beyond the Christian system. The metaphysical argument of Addison may there apply—to wit, that all finite natures may continue, throughout eternity, to approach the Infinite Essence, without ever reaching it.]

This book is long, of medium thickness, old, and, in some places, damaged.

7½. No. 1585. Satguru rahasya, secret of a true teacher, composite stanzas. In 9 sandhis complete.

On ascetic zeal as to relinquishing family—all secular affairs, &c. On the conquest of the five senses. Three differences discriminated, or ignorant—medium—intellectual, men. On chitta vrutti—the state of the soul, when released from the body. On the delusion of the world.

These subjects are treated in a mystical way: and the attainments needful in order to obtain beatification are stated in a manner very different from local legends; but still on the ground of human merit. The treatise appears to be isoteric.

One leaf appended—a chant on the vedanta system.

This book is short, of medium thickness, old, injured, and perishing: it should be renewed in another copy.

8. No. 1632. Siddha yōga māla: prose 110 leaves: on supernatural asceticism.

If any munī-īvara, or sage, do tapas (penance) he becomes a yogīvara (or saint):

After a great while he becomes chief of ascetics. To various kinds of penance various gods are attributed, according to rank. On passing up those grades, and after a very long time, the pattam, or crown of dēva Indra will be obtained.

[This book comes nearer to the notions of the Bauddhas and Jāinas than is usual with Saiva or Vāishnava works: it also indicates whence Romish ideas of saintship, and canonization were derived].

Appended is sāndhya vandana lacshana Sanscrit, gran'tha letter, 21 leaves, on Brahmanical modes of homagē, morning, noon, and evening.

The book is very short, of medium thickness, old, damaged by worms.

XXVII. TALES.

1. No. 1275. Sāundara purānam, hexameters, 19 sandhis, complete. Adventures of three Sāiva ganas.

Siva told Pushpadhatta one of his attendants that he, with two of Parvati's attendants, named Kanacavati and Kānt'ha māli, should go, and be born on earth, as king's son, and as king's daughters; enjoying all pleasures; and if called, he would appear to them. The gana was known on earth by the name of Sundara (beautiful) and, after all sorts of earthly happiness, was taken back to Siva's world see XXVI.

The book is of medium size, old and damaged.

2. No. 1309. Sect. 2. Rucmangada charitra composite stanzas.

By Pūrna Sōma (full-moon) 1st to 6th sandhi the rest wanting.

The story of a king who strictly observed the fast of the eleventh lunar day. A female named Mohini, with whom he lived, enticed him, by every contrivance to break that fast, but in vain. In revenge she contrived to draw his son into a suspicious situation, and then falsely accused him to his father, who ordered his son to be killed. Vishnu came, and gave to the son beatification.

It seems to be a variation from the Telugu tale of Sārangadhara. For section 1, see XXII.

2½. No. 1218. Section 2. Hariyantana cat'ha; yecha ganam metre.

—without beginning or ending, 30 leaves: may be best noted from a more perfect copy. See IX. 19, No. 1430. 8, 2 infra and other copies in Mackenzie M. S. S.

2½. No. 1294. Section 1. Aīrāvataṁ, hexameters complete.

At a ceremony known as Gaja gāuri vrata, when an image was made by women of Indra's white elephant, Konti dēvi, mother of Arjuna, not being invited, complained to her son, who to appease her went to Indra's world; and brought away the real Aīrāvata, and gave it to her; that she might render homage to it, in preference to the image used in the aforesaid ceremony.

3. No. 1316. Section 1. Rāma nāt'hana, cat'ha, tale of Rāma nāt'ha.

Composite stanzas, 1st to 9th asvāsam more wanting. see 1412 infra (also 1335, 1340).

A king had two wives. The elder wife had borne him a son, and the younger wife fell in love with this son. [Counterpart to Theseus, Phædra and Hippolytus.] On his declining her advances she accused him to the king her husband, and his father, who directed his son to be beheaded. Indra interposed and restored the son to life.

For Sect. 2, 3, see XIII and for Sect. 4, see XXXII.

4. No. 1317. Two books.

1.). Vicrama vilāsa, entertainment about Vicramaditya, hexameters.

By Vīra rāja, 23 sandhis.

Chandragupta was a king of Ougein. His daughter married a Brahman, and Vicrama was their son; his attainments; his wonderful throne; his conquests &c., &c. to his death. The splendor and acts of Vicramaditya complete.

2.) Krishna Arjuna samvatā prasāngam; yecha ganam metre, complete.

Krishna on a journey went some distance and slept. The next morning he arose, and went to his ablutions. While pouring out water, Gajana a Gandharba was passing over head in the air; and, without looking down, allowed spittle to fall from his mouth into the hand of Krishna, who vowed to pursue, and kill the gandharba. Gajana took refuge with Siga, who could not protect him. By the council of Nārēda he sought aid from Arjuna. The two heroes came into contact; and, after some flourishes about their weapons, the matter was made up.

The book is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

5. No. 1318. Nāga cumārāna cal'ha.

By Bahu vali, composite stanzas 1st to 5th avāsa, and 6 leaves over, but not finished.

At Canaku pura (gold town) in the Magadha desa, a king named Jayantāra (conqueror) by his beloved wife Prīhīni devi had a son named Nāga Cumāra (snake-son).

By his skill in knowledge he overcame a hetāla (or demon) conquered every valiant man, and many kings; he laid hold of lions and sardulas (tigers or panthers) and overcame them: so far (mere poetical romance.)

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, recent, perfect order.

6. No. 1322. Anjanēdevi charitra.

By Torala māyana chetti, composite metre, 15 sūndhis or sections complete.

Mahēndra rāja of Mahēndrapuram by Manō veḡa, his queen, had a daughter named Anjana dēvi. On the hill Cāilasa she formed an irregular marriage with Prabānjana, son of Prahlāda of Aditya puram; and, as she was found to be pregnant, her relatives drove her out into the wilderness. On a hill Hānumān was born to this woman. Prati rāvi rāja took the mother and her child; and delivered them over to Prabānjana. After a time Hānumān becoming known to Rāma gained his confidence; and received a ring to carry it to Sita, which he accomplished.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

[It is against the ordinary derivation val-nara (a tail-man) or monkey, and rather indicates vanu-nara, a forester.]

7. No. 1323. Vijaya cumāra cal'ha.

Yecha ganam metre—complete.

A romance, Chandra sec'hara king of Chandra pura had a son named Vijaya cumāra. A yaeshi (ogress) took him up into the air; and when passing through, he invoked Āgni devī; when the goddess forced the ogress to relinquish her prey. Vijaya cumara fell into a wilderness, and there was laid hold of by a raecshasi named Ractacshi (blood-eye) who at the time, had a king's daughter named Chandra muc'hi (moon-face) in captivity. Vijaya cumara killed the savage, and also Bhimasura, her son: and took the damsel to his capital, where he married her. At an advanced period of life he became an ascetic, and was beatified.

The book is of medium length, thin, in very good order.

8. No. 1324. Two books.

1.) Sarangadhara cat'ha, yecha ganam metre, complete: see No. 1419 infra.

2.) Kariya bantana cat'ha, yecha ganam.

A romance. Māra bhūpa king of Dara puram, by his queen Bhanaranta, had a son named Kariya (or Hariya) bantana. Mohanjini daughter of a Ballala raya of Hala, bēdu was married to him. On his way to receive her an ogress named Pundarica fell in love with him. Her mother Hidimba was displeased thereby; she killed him; and Pundarica entered the fire with his body. The affianced queen's daughter afterwards came to the place, and grieved for her own loss; but perceiving the law of fate, consequent to some sin in a former birth, she was comforted, and ultimately beatified.

The book is of medium size, the 1st part in good order, the 2nd very greatly injured.

9. No. 1328. Vara mōhana tarangini.

By Kanaca dāsottama—sringadi metre. From the 1st to 32nd sandhi, the rest wanting.

A tale (founded on the purānas) of Cāma's being burnt to ashes see IX. 6 No. 1338.

This book is long, and thick, old, and damaged.

10. No. 1330. Two books.

1.) Rucmangadana charitra.

By Tipēndra daniya seshā, composite stanzas—7 sandhis: complete.

Rucmangada was a king, who by rigidly observing the ēca dasa vrata, or fast on the 11th lunar day, in honor of Vishnu, was likely to obtain beatification. Yama went to Brahma, and complained as to his probable loss: Brahma sent a Mōhini or loose female, to cause him to break his vow. The king saw her, and became enamoured; taking her to his palace; when the king's son saw her, and also became impassioned; and as he could not otherwise accomplish his wish he attempted the life of his father with a sword; but Hari just then interposed, on behalf of his votary the king, and took him to his own world.

This is a variation from the usual tale v. supra 2. No. 1309.

- 2.) The story of the 'Aranya parvam of the Bhāratam, 12 leaves, composite stanzas.

The penance of Arjuna—his return to the town of Amratavati—saluted on his return; was met by his father Indra, who mounted him on a car, and sent him on his way; the beginning wanting, and it does not finish.

The entire book is long, and thin, on talipat leaves, in good order.

11. No. 1333. Matana Mōhini cat'ha, complete. See No. 1416. infra.

The book is of medium size, old, somewhat damaged.

12. No. 1334. Samantaca mani cat'ha; sringadi metre, unfinished.

A ruby, or other precious jewel was found by a forester of Hanuman's tribe, named Jambuvantam: Krishna heard of it, and made war on him to gain the jewel. Jambuvantam came and gave the jewel, together with his daughter to Krishna, through the medium of Satyubhāumi—Krishna gave the jewel to his favorite wife Buṣmini.

The book is long, and thin, in good order, large handwriting.

13. No. 1335. Fragment of Rāma nāt'hana cat'ha, 7 avāsas 1st to 3rd sandhi. See 1412 infra, and other notices.

This book is long, thin, old, damaged.

14. No. 1336. Svetangani cat'hé, sringadi metre, 26 sandhis complete.

Jaya sec'hara a king, having no son, did penance to Isvara; and, in consequence a son named Vicrama was born. When this son came of age he saw a rachasa taking through the air the daughter of a king of Cashmir, her name being Kanjajari. He slew the savage; and, in the end, married the said king's daughter: poetical romance.

The book is long, of medium thickness, old, and much damaged by worms.

15. No. 1340. Rāma nāt'hana cat'ha.

By Paradhāra sōlara Rāma—composite metre, fragment, 9th sandhi 6th to 9th avāsa see 1412 infra. The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order.

16. No. 1344. Sect. 2. Rucmangada charitra, hexameters.

The loose leaves were assorted 1—39 wanting, 40—140 found, but with intermediate leaves wanting: then 1—50 found; but leaves in the midst missing.

The tale of a king tempted to break the fast of the 11th lunar day.
Sect. 1. IX.

The entire book is of medium size, slightly injured.

17. No. 1345. Ambika vijayam, composite stanzas: leaf 7—244, some deficient in the midst.

Yama having laid hold of Marcandeya a youth, the latter appealed to Siva, who interposed; delivered Marcandeya; and made him a Chiranjivi, or immortal. Veota bhija a king conquered in all quarters; founded Tējopati (lord of light) a town—and other matters. The title has a reference to Parvat.

The book is somewhat long, thick, on talipat leaves, in tolerable order.

18. No. 1353. Abhinava dasa, cumara cheritra. By Chānda raja, 1—13 asvāsas, composite stanzas, incomplete.

Rāja hamsa had ten sons, only one of them born in the usual way; the others the gift of some god, by dreams, &c. These ten sons he sent out to conquer (die vijayam) in all quarters. A detail of their adventures is given. The ten names are fictitious, not in common use; and the whole is apparently puerile invention.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, one broken, half remains; otherwise in good order.

18½. No. 1356. Rāma nat'ha cat'ha, composite stanzas: incomplete.

Campana rāja caused Rāma nat'ha his son to be made Yuvanarāja, or crown prince. Intrigues of a woman, &c. see other notices.

The book is of medium size, and much damaged.

19. No. 1359. Varāngana charitra.

By Tarini pandita—composite stanzas 8 sandhis, incomplete: 47 leaves, said to be taken from puranas.

Dhermā send's son, Varāngana and Subana raja's daughter Manmati were married in consequence of a svayam varam, or invitation to king's sons, by proclamation. Various opposing kings were overcome in the contest, by Varāngana—so far only.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, old, damaged.

20. No. 1360. Rūcīngada charitra.

By Pūrṇa sōma, (full-moon) composite stanzas 9 sādhās complete on 93 leaves, Vasishṭa to Mānōbata from the Nārēdiya purānam.

A king named Rucmangada of the solar line had a son named Dhermangada.¹ The king strictly observed the 11th lunar day as a fast; but was seduced by a Mohini to break it, which he would not do. In revenge she falsely accused his son, whom the king unjustly ordered to be punished, see other notices. It appears that there are two ways of narrating this tale, by different authors.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

21. No. 1362. Rucmangada charitra.

By Chickā upadhaya—composite stanzas in 10 asvāsas, complete, said to be from the Nārēdiya purānam; told by Vasishṭa to Mānōbata.

Rucmangada of the solar line, strictly observed the ecadasa vata. Mohini in vain solicited him to break it: she attempted to seduce his son to her wishes; and on failure, falsely accused the son, &c. as in other notices.

The book is of medium length, somewhat thick, on talipat leaves, old, and damaged; especially at the end.

22. No. 1363. Rucmangada charitra, composite stanzas 8 sādhās, complete on 96 leaves, 30 left blank.

Same subject as above.

The book is of medium length, thick, old, and damaged.

23. No. 1367. Nombugalu cat'ha, tales of the lame, composite stanzas.

The book contains details concerning various lame women, with seemingly fictitious names, and minute statements, as to their modes of homage to various gods, and of offerings made to Brahmans; tending to shew various benefits resulting from such offerings—some long life—some cure of diseases—other advantages, classed under the four divisions of dherma, art'ha, sāma, mocsha, or beneficence, wealth, sexual pleasure, beatification. A few of the names are,

1. Anānta rutta nombi.
2. Siddhara nombi.
3. Ravi vatara nombi.
4. Śrūta scandata nombi.
5. Sāpta jōti nombi.
6. Karma nirjantiya nombi.
7. Nāgāra panchamtyu nombi.
8. Navu nidhi bandharata nombi and seven others, indicating fictitious construction, in order to serve a purpose, which is sufficiently plain. The book is complete.

At the end two leaves loca surūpa on 7 upper and 7 lower worlds, 7 seas and continents, 7 mountains, &c.

The book as a whole, is of medium length, thin, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

24. No. 1369. Rāma nāt ha cat'ha, composite stanzas—8th to 12th sandhi not complete.

Cārama, udiyar's son Rāma, when playing at tennis with his companions, saw the ball fly into the apartment of his father's younger wife. On going to ask for it, she solicited him to her purpose: and, on his denial, accused him to his father, &c.

Leaf 1—54 wanting; others at the end also.

The book is long, and thin, old, damaged.

25. No. 1372. Buddisa putala cat'ha.

By Bālabhāna, prose—a complete, and very good copy (usually known as Bhōja dōstrimsati cat'ha).

Indra gave to Vicramaditya, a highly ornamented, and jewelled throne; the steps being supported by 32 statues. When Bhōja rāja attempted to mount this throne, each of the statues (being each one an imprisoned nymph) told him a tale of Vicramaditya's liberality, or excellence; abashed by which he retired, each tale closing by calling him to do something parallel before he presumed to ascend. It is therefore an oblique instruction to kings; only that many of the alleged virtues are forced, and fanciful; and tend too much towards profuse gifts to flatterers, and idlers about a court.

The book is long, of medium thickness, recent.

26. No. 1375. Sect. 3. Rucmangada cat'ha, fragment of 6 leaves, Telugu letter.

On Yama's complaint that his interests suffered owing to Rucmangada's rigid observance of the 11th lunar day fast, Maya was sent by Brahma. She came, as a handsome woman (Mohini) and the king married her: she urged him to break the fast. On his refusal she asked him to cut off his son's head, as a sacrifice to her—which was done; when Vishnu appeared, and gave beatification to both father and son. See next No.

Five other leaves, each one on a different subject—praise of Ganapati; of Sārata or Sarasvati—ethical distichs—prosody & mantras, used with offerings to Siva and Krishna.

As a whole, the book is thin, leaves of differing length, old.

27. No. 1377. Rāma nāt ha cat'ha.

Composite stanzas, 104 leaves incomplete.

Tale of Campana raya. His son Rima was playing at tennis when the ball flew into the apartment of the king's young wife. On going to ask for it, she invited him to come inside to her; and on his declining to do so, she accused him to the king; who ordered him to be beheaded. The maatri spared the young man, and shewed the king the blood of a bird. When the king's dominions were invaded his conscience accused him: the minister then told the truth; and pointed out where the young man then was: so far.

The book is of medium size, many leaves are broken, and only halves remain.

28. No. 1378. Sanatcumāra cat'ha.

By Bommaras ana srīngadi metre. 17 sandhis, complete—poetical romance.

In Hastinapuri the king Visvasena had a son named Sanatcumāra born with all sorts of advantages, and happiness. One day, when setting out to conquer enemies, his horse carried him away to a forest—the said horse being an illusive form. In that forest he conquered a Yacsha; married eight daughters of Banuvegan a Vidhyādhara; and associated with one hundred daughters of a Gandharba; till hearing that his father and mother grieve at his absence he went back, with his wives; and carrying also many presents, received from their fathers and others. He came to Hastinapuri he there married the daughter of Suratan; and was crowned, in succession to his aged father. After ruling some time, with especial luxury, he gave over his crown to his son Vijaya Cumāra; and in zeal became a vāira (ascetic) ultimately obtaining beatification.

[Such is a genuine "Eastern Eclogue", and a summary of eastern court morality].

One leaf from the Raghu vamsa is appended—praise of Aj doing sacrifice by a Brahman, who then visited him.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, in good order.

29. No. 1379. Tribhuvana tilaca.

By Virupa raya 27 sandhis a poem.

A romance with some historical reference; Cheramangan ruled Mahōdaya a town in the Kerala desam. He relinquished his kingdom, became a vanaprast'ha, or anchorite, at Chicka nat'ha eshetram, as a devotee to Siva: who appeared to him, and told him to go back, and rule a while longer; promising to return whenever he heard the sound of the rings on kings' ancles, as a call. He ruled for a time; and on giving the signal, S appeared, and gave him beatification; bestowing the crown on Sāiva g nayana: complete.

The book is of medium length; thick, recent, and in good order.

30. No. 1380. Rucmangada charitra.

By Purna soma—7 sandhis, composite metre complete, see above, and also No. 1414 infra.

The book is of medium size, rather old, and worm eaten.

31. No. 1384. Rucmangada charitra.

By Purna soma—composite stanzas.

The book is of medium size, very old, and greatly damaged; leaves, and one board broken.

32. No. 1391. Two tales.

1.) Kariya bantana cadhe, complete.

By Sambhijya, yecha ganam metre, see No. 1324. Sect 2. supra.

2.) Sarangadhara cut he, incomplete.

By Sambhijya, yecha ganam metre subject as in No. 1419 infra—but this copy only proceeds as far as Sarangadhara's exposure in a forest. The book is of medium length, old, and damaged; at the end 5 leaves damaged $\frac{1}{2}$ gone.

33. No. 1392. Akrura charitra.

By Somanatha,—composite stanzas, 1st to 8th sandhi not finished.

Akrura was chief counsellor to Camusa (Cambyses?) uncle to Krishna details of the avatara of Vishnu as Krishna—his intercourse with gopis Akrura praised the god incarnate, Krishna held discourse with him; and related to him various moral matters—the killing of Camusa—Krishna released two celestials imprisoned by Camusa—Akrura became a devout follower of Krishna; who ruled prosperously in Dwaruca.

The book is of medium size, rather old, in good order.

[There is (as far as I know) an unobserved coincidence between accounts of the infancy of Krishna in the 10th book of the Bhagavatam, and the infancy of Cyrus, as narrated by Herodotus; but the name of the father of Cyrus is given to Krishna's uncle. Cyrus was probably Kaikhosroes. The Hobrow word in Isaiah is Krush (or Coresh) na at the end is enclitic, indicating deity. The Greek orthography Kuros (or Cyrus) misleads. I have little doubt that the history of Cyrus was known to those that first wrote about Krishna.]

34. No. 1393. Akrura charitra.

Another copy, same subject; but this differs as to the number of stanzas in each sandhi; and this also wants the preface, contained in the preceding copy.

It contains 9 sandhis complete, only that nine leaves, 35-43 are wanting.

The book is extra medium in size, rather old, in tolerable order.

35. No. 1397, Tribhuvana tilaca. Another copy, complete, see 29 No. 1379 supra.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

36. No. 1401. Ballāla raya cādhe.

4th to 15th sandhi, composite stanzas.

leaf 1-32 and 120-150 wanting.

[Dialectical variations in names require notice. The Sanscrit Prahlāda, becomes in Tamil Prahlādan, and in Canarese it appears as Ballāla; a name borne by Hoisāla kings.]

Hiranyacasipu had obtained gifts from Brahma, and in consequence troubled both gods and men. His son was a devout follower of Vishnu; and Prahlāda was therefore greatly oppressed by his father. In this state of things Vishnu assumed the Narasinha avatāra; killed Hiranyacasipu; and gave the kingdom to his son. Such is the subject—merely an episode, translated from the Bhāgavatam.

The book is of medium length, old, touched by insects, tolerable order.

37. No. 1403 Matana Mohini cāt'hē.

By Narasinha, see No. 1416 infra.

The book is of medium size, (leaves 1, 14, 24, wanting) very old, and much damaged.

38. No. 1405. Girijā kalyāna.

By Gangēsa: Yecha ganam metre.

Girijā (mountain born) was the daughter of Giri raya—who did penance to Siva—the destruction of Manmata—the marriage of Siva with Parvati—her malediction on the dēvatas or celestials—dispute between Parvati and Ganga—the birth of Cumara—his killing Taracāsura—releasing celestials imprisoned by him. It is founded on puranas; and is complete.

The book is short, and thick, on talipat leaves, in good order.

39. No. 1406. Sect. 1. Story of a king, his habits of doing homage to Siva; a mere fragment, leaves 5-10 not ending.

For Section 2, 3, see II.

40. No. 1407. Davata containing two tales, both unfinished.

- 1.) Account of Kula tibucan, king, of Ougein; his son Rájendra's marriage with a daughter of Narabalan of Hembula puram—pregnancy, and birth of a son.
- 2.) Bharatésvara charitra, tale of the marriage of Bharatésvara, son of Vrishiabhésvarā tō Kontāka vīti, daughter of Divojya rāja of Kishkinda; ordinary romance.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, on talipat leaves, slightly injured.

41. No. 1409. Kariya baptana cat'hē.

Yecha ganam metre—incomplete.

See No. 1324 Section 2, supra.

This book is short, and thin, injured by

42. No. 1412. Bāma nāhāna cat'hē.

The book is long, and thick, old, a little damaged.

43. No. 1414. Rucmangada charitra.

By Madavali Narahari, composite stanzas 9 sandhis complete. Vasishtha to Māndhātā see No. 1330 supra section 1. This copy is by another author, and more diffuse: subject the same.

The book is of medium size, recent.

44. No. 1415. Matuna Mōhini cat'hā.

Leaves 6 and 31 wanting, otherwise complete.

This book is of medium size, very old, and much damaged. See the following No.

45. No. 1416. Two books.

- 1.) Matuna Mōhini cat'hē.

By Narasinhānu, composite stanzas.

11 adhyāyas, the 1st and 29th leaves wanting.

Chandra sekhara of the solar line, was king of Chāmpacā puram in the Malva country. His wife whom he greatly loved, having died, he sent his son named Jayasena to procure and bring amṛta: (ambrosia) in order to restore her to life. His son went to another dvīpa (country) and found the amṛta; but on his return, his attention was attracted to a town without inhabitants. A racshasa (savage) had gained power to take a young woman named Matana-Mohini, whom he there solicited. Her beauty arrested the young man's attention; inducing him to kill the savage, and to take the young woman along with himself: presenting her to his father; whose consent was obtained, and they were married.

2.) Herūra hemmina sangatya, tale of a woman of Herūr. 3 sandhis.

By Maha deva—composite stanzas.

21st and 38th leaves wanting, otherwise complete.

A Saiva devotee named Malai nāt'ha, and his wife Siva varrtai had a daughter named Gangai. The mother was accustomed to pay trifling homage from time to time, to a sāiva symbol. One day the daughter went with her; and her mind, in consequence, became fixed on Siva, she was affianced to a Jaina man; but as she did not consent, and her mind was firm in the sāiva way, Siva appeared, and she obtained beatification.

The book is of medium size, old, a little injured.

46. No. 1418. Rūcmangadu cat'hē.

By Madavali Naraharī, composite metre.

8 sandhis complete. See 43. No. 1414. supra.

This book is of medium size, slightly damaged.

47. No. 1419. Sārangadhāra cat'hē.

By Sambajya son of Siddhaiyya.

Yecha ganam, or mixed metre; complete.

The wife of Rajendra, by favor of Siva had a son named Sārangadhāra: when he was grown up to maturity, a young wife, or mistress of the king, named Chitrangi tried all arts to induce the young man to associate with her, in vain. She then falsely accused him to the king: who ordered his arms and legs to be cut off. In that crippled state, he was exposed, and left in a forest; when Mahendra a rishi, took pity on him, carried him to his hermitage, and tended him, till his arms and legs grew again, as before: something supernatural being mixed up with the tale. He then took him back to the king, and queen and caused him to be crowned: restoring to life Chitrangi whom the king had caused to be slain.

[According to another version Sarangadhara became a Siddhēvara, or magician.]

The tale is popular.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

47½. No. 1420. Dharmá paricsha.

By Vrata vilása, composite stanzas. In 10 asvāsas, or sections.

A series of tales concerning various individuals several of them mentioned in the Bhāratam and in other works. The object appears to be to elucidate equity by examples.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

48. No. 1439. Rucmangada charitra.

By Chicka upadhyaya, composite metre, the 5th asvāsa, and other 6 leaves.

In this chapter the genealogy of Rucmangada—his going to a mountain, and there marrying a deceptive female named Mohini: see other notices. This fragment is long, very thin, injured by worms.

49. No. 1444. Tale of two brothers: yecha ganam metre—incomplete.

Vajrama cuttan a king, by the favor of Siva had two sons, named Sōma śe'hara and Siddha śe'hara; a description of their training is given, but much is wanting, see 1447 infra.

This book is of medium size, and much injured.

50. No. 1445. Vetālo pancha vimsati cat'hē; tripadi, or three feet lines.

The twenty-five tales of Vicramāditya, a Sannyasi, and a familiar demon; who proposed sphinx-like riddles for solution, in a series of tales; herein contained: complete.

The book is of medium size, and in good order.

51. No. 1447. Two tales:

1.) Ch'hora'cat'hē tale of thieves.

By Mallīcārjuna raju, tripadi metre.

In 6 sandhis, complete.

Vajrama Cuta raju, by favor of Siva had two sons, named Sōma śe'hara and Siddha śe'hara—they went to many countries, and plundered, or robbed extensively, so as to become notorious—they also made various loose marriages; and, amassing great wealth by plunder, came back to their own place, and lived prosperously.

2.) Chickayyana sangatya, hexameters.

In 9 sandhis complete.

Amala dēvi was married to a Brahman, who died when she was young soon after his death she had a son named Chickayya. In order to get the money needful for his marriage he went out into highways, and committed many robberies. At length he met with a woman of good disposition ; by whose counsel he left off such bad courses. She instructed him in the Sīva doctrine ; and, in the end, he was admitted among the celestials of Siva's world.

The book is of medium size, old, worn at the edges.

52. No. 1452. Sāhasa Bhīma vishayam.

By Cavi retna : composite stanzas.

1st avāsa wanting, 2nd to 10th the end.

The adventures of Bhīma, or Bhīmasēna, the second (or Ajāṅ) of the five Pandavas ; selected from the Bhāratam : among others his being sent with supplies to a cannibal, and killing the monster—his dashing out Duryodhana's brains with a mace—and down to the instalment of Dharma rāja ; restored to his kingdom.

The book is of medium size, without boards damaged

53. No. 1467. Rāmāna cat'hē.

13 sandhis complete—composite stanzas.

Rāma nat'ha a king's son, solicited by his father's younger wife, and then falsely accused, by her, to his father ; who ordered his son's head to be cut off. The king's mantri contrived to spare him ; and after removing him out of the way for a time, brought about a reconciliation ; and restored him to his father—whose invading enemies he subdued. It differs, in details, from the Sārangadhara cat'hē.

The book is of medium size, somewhat thick, tolerable order.

54. No. 1514. C'hora Cat'hē—yecha ganam or mixed metre, complete.

Vajrama cula raya of the solar line, having long reigned, without having a son, to succeed him, was grieved. At length by the favor of Siva, two twin sons named Sōma sec'hara and Chitra sec'hara were born to him ; after they grew up to manhood they went to different countries around, and became distinguished robbers ; plundering all whom they met with : they also married many wives. At length they returned home, settled, and married in a more regular way—until, in the end, Siva took them to Cuilasa. i. e. they died.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in tolerable order.

54½. No. 1515. Minstrelsy.

Inmadi Campana dhora was a chieftain of Bangalore. These chants celebrate his exploits, his going to other places around, conquering and plundering. Fighting with other chieftains, or kings. This border minstrelsy was sung before him ; and as Mysore forms the highlands of the Carnatic, so these songs may be compared to Scottish pibrochs ; but accompanied by the vina or Indian lute. One chant is taken from the Prabhu linga lila.

The book is short, of medium thickness, in tolerable order.

55. No. 1534. Ch'hora cat'hē, yecha ganam metre—of the romance kind, and got up in varied style to please the ear.

Sōma sec'hara and Chittra sec'hara two kings' sons, as above, plundered ; defiled the wives of others ; and otherwise acted with violence ; compare with above notices.

The book is of medium size, old, leaves wanting in the middle, others damaged.

56. No. 1539. Bhāiravēsvara cat'hē hexameters, complete in 5 asvāsas 64 leaves.

Bhāirava was a king who having variously served, and praised Siva at length obtained beatification. This book contains the story of his life, and acts ; intended to subserve the Sāiva system.

The book is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, old, but in good order.

57. No. 1550. Two tracts.

1.) Vira Bhadra déva charitra—composite stanzas, 3 sandhis, not finished.

By Virēsvara cavi.

The puranical legend of Dācsha the last of the 9 Brahmādicas, or patriarchs—his sacrifice—and its motive, hatred towards Siva : not concluded.

2.) Parasāda charitra ; composite metre.

By Vira narya cavi.

The book is long, thin, old, some leaves broken.

58. No. 1551. Siva gana charitra.

By Zānta Vira désica, composite stanzas. In 42 sandhis, or sections complete. /

Preceding notices of imperfect copies as Svétana cat'hē, do not contain the full intent, as an indirect vehicle of Saiva teaching.

~~Svétā was every way a profligate, as aforesaid ; one day returning from gathering flowers he let one fall into a well, and jestingly gave it to Siva. On account of this offering Yama conveyed him in a car to Svērqa, where~~

Rembhá took a liking to him; and told him various tales of the ganas (celestials) of Siva's world; the main end of the book. One loose leaf has praise of Siva.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

59. No. 1563. Bich'hatana charitra.

By Guru linga vibhu, composite stanzas, 3 sandhis complete.

Krishna was amusing himself with the gopis of Vrindavanam 16,000 in number, when Siva visited him in the shape of a mendicant, with a skull in his hand; attracting the attention of the said females to himself. He gave the skull to Krishna; with a charge to him to fill it with human blood, and then to deliver it back again. In consequence of this order, in the war between the Káuras and Pándavas, he filled the skull to the height of seven palm trees, with human gore, and then gave it back to Siva.

[This is a Sáiva improvement on the Bhagavat gita.]

The book is short, of medium thickness in tolerable order.

60. No. 1564. Guru bhakti Yandara charitra, hexameters, 6 sandhis complete.

By Prása bhúshana.

The story of a king's son named Guru bhakti Yándara, and a pagoda dási, or female slave of the god (or of brahmins) named Práudhavati (matronly female). He fell in love with her; and, on her declining his solicitations, forced her; whereupon she gave him lessons herein contained, on the subject of caste-distinctions, and against urging any females of high descent or family (brahmanical being higher than regal) and on the evil of a contrary course of conduct. He is represented as being so much affected thereby, that he plucked out his eyes, and cut off his tongue with his sword; and was just about to cut off his own head; when Siva appeared, stayed his hand, and gave to both of them a place in his paradise; that is, both died. [It seems a caution to giddy kings' sons not to poach on brahmanical demesnes.]

The book is of medium size, rather old, and a little damaged.

61. No. 1566. Vajrabahu cat'ha, a tale, hexameters; incomplete.

It is intimated that this tale contains the mystery of Vira Sáiva books, but perhaps the statement is apocryphal.

Vajra bahu having embraced the Vira Sáiva credence procured to himself a betála or familiar-demon. He married a Gandharba female, (or celestial chorister,) or dási. He killed an asura named Ghora (or cruel.) He was favored by Siva: beginning and ending deficient: 54 leaves remain.

The book is of medium size, thin, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

62. No. 1573. Siddha Rámésvara Charitra.

By Raghavanca pandita, composite stanzas, 9 adhyáyas, leaves defective.

Siddha Ráma would appear to have been a magician, or wonder-worker, of ancient celebrity mentioned as such, and as a convert to the Vira Sáivas in the Práhu linga kála. The narrative of his actions, with praise to Siva, form the matter of the work: leaves 1—4, 12—22, 26—31, 40, 48, 50, 58, &c. wanting.

The book is of small size, on talipat leaves, old, in tolerable order.

63. No. 1581. Sarvagnya tripadi, triplet metre, 1—16 sandhis incomplete.

A variety of tales, intended to illustrate the benefit of relinquishing family life, and following an ascetic course—giving up secular goods, and seeking, by favour of a guru, beatification. Itham and param (time present, and futurity) compared. It leans to the mystic theology of the Sáivas.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on narrow leaves, injured.

64. No. 1582. Bich'hatana cavya.

By Utpréscha Vallábha; two copies.

1st copy 1st to 6th padadhi—17 leaves.

2nd „ 31st to 40th „ the end 7 leaves see 59 supra—but this has a much larger proportion of Sanscrit.

1st copy short, on palm leaves injured.

2nd „ longer on talipat leaves broken.

65. No. 1592. Chennica Rámanya sangatya, fragment of 22 leaves in the middle. It relates to Ráma, son of Campona rája playing at tennis with a friend: the ball flying into the window of Retnaji's apartment, &c, see other notices: supra.

This book is of medium length, thin, no boards—half leaves; useless.

66. No. 1610. Jivandhara charitra.

By Bhascara cavi, hexameters.

In 17 sandhis, incomplete.

Satyandhara was a king, who reposed too much confidence in a mantri, or perhaps a favorite, named Kashtangaracan. This person plotted to kill him, and obtain possession of his wife. The killing the king was brought about. The queen went away into a wilderness ; and there bore a son named Jivandhara ; who—after marrying five several wives, took up arms against Kashtangaracan ; killed him ; and took possession of his father's throne.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, in general good order.

67. No. 1614. Bharatésva váibhavam.

By Sumanáli hexameters, leaf 77 to 288 incomplete.

Tale of a king named Bharata who had many women at his court ; with all descriptions of music, and musical tunes, which are specified. He also equalled Hari (or Krīshna) who associated with 16000 gopis, in like manner conversing with many women ; yet he remained childless. At length he did penance to Isvara : who, in his own person (sácshát) became born as a child of the said Bharata, under the name of Jagatésvara. After the usual interval this son was crowned ; and his father obtained union with Siva, in the celestial world.

[Such like effusions must be judged according to the rules of Alancáram : which sanction hyperbole, and extravagance.]

The book is short and thick, a little injured.

68. No. 1655. Subhagini soni. The beauty, composite stanzas 174 leaves, complete.

There are many copies of this book, or bearing the same title, which is not literally translateable, but means the beautiful woman. It appears to be made up of various tales, all of them of an amorous kind ; and different passages are taken out in various specimens.

The wife of a king Sura bhavati and her companions described. Their amusements : ornaments of the said female described. Intercourse between husband and wife. Conversations repeated : amatory descriptions.

In the Ch'hora cat'ha the two brothers are represented as singing, while journeying, a chant with this same title, but that is distinct from the series of tales.

The book is of medium length, thick, old very much damaged.

68½. Duplicate.—No. 1655. Subhagini soni, padya cávyam 1—31 sandhi so far only complete. A series of tales, see other notices leaf 1—152.

This book is somewhat long, and thick, old, several leaves broken.

75. No. 1662. Subhagini soni, composite stanzas—209 leaves, incomplete.

The above Surabhavati queen, with her son Vicrama went out to hunt; defect of water in the wilderness—civilities rendered by one named Pushpa-dhatta; continuation of hunting—placing a Sáiva symbol, in the forest, and rendering it homage, according to the kédara vrata; with details unfinished.

The book is of medium length, thick, in tolerable order.

76. No. 1663. Two books.

1.) Subhagini soni. Composite stanzas, 35 sandhis, and would be complete, only from the 33rd leaf, 15 leaves are wanting, 68 remain.

2.) Ráma nát'ha cat'hè—composite stanzas.

The tale of a son of Campana rája, falsely accused by his father's younger wife—see foregoing notices.

The entire book is very long, and somewhat thick; very small, and close writing: a little injured by insects.

77. No. 1664. Sect. 1. Subhagini soni; as far as the 8th sandhis only.

Jaya sec'hara a king had two sons named Vicrama and Jesta Campana—their skill and bravery: see above and following notices.

For section 2 see XXIV.

78. No. 1665. Subhagini soni, hexameters, 152 leaves, not in regular order, incomplete.

By favor of Siva a king named Jaya sec'hara, had two sons named Vicrama and Jyest'ha Campana—description of their beauty of person—skill—bravery—this last exemplified in Vicrama's rescuing Canjeri of Cashmir from a savage; and afterwards marrying her. Tale of Vasanta a kings' daughter whose husband was dead, and whose lover offered his head, to Kálaká dévi the village goddess, who restored him to life, and also Mat'hura the husband; with some other, and like fictions.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, on broad talipát leaves, in good order.

79. No. 1666. Subhagini soni, hexameters, 116 leaves broken, and incomplete.

Vicrama herein appears as a special devotee of Siva; account of his obtaining sauchyam, or absorption.

The book is long, of medium thickness, injured by insects.

81. No. 1669. Subhagini soni—composite stanzas, as far as the 20th sandhi, incomplete.

On Vicrama as before. His daring exemplified in two instances. 1.) in rescuing Canjeri daughter of a Cashmir king from a racshasa, and seeing her well married. 2.) in offering his head to Kálaká dévi favoring Vasanté whose dead husband Mat'hura was thereby restored to her. Other details; some ut supra.

The book is rather long, and thick, in good order.

82. No. 1670. Subhagini soni—composite stanzas as far as the 12th sandhi incomplete, as in the preceding, only with less of the tales 100 leaves. The book is of medium size, slightly injured.

83. No. 1671. Harischandra cat'hè, hexameters, from 1st to 5th sandhi—incomplete, see various notices under XXIV, this escaped classification there; and is not out of place here, 72 leaves are regular some 20 more not so, broken, &c.

The book is of medium size, damaged only at the end.

84. No. 1673. Râma nât'hana cat'hè.

Composite stanzas, 112 leaves, incomplete.

Campana râja had two wives, one named Hati para dévi, and the other one, herein termed Retnâti; he being an old man. His son Râma was playing at tennis, when the ball flew in at the window of the younger wife's apartment. On seeing him coming for it, she put on her ornaments, became greatly interested, gently took him by the hand &c. on his declining her advances she tore off her pearl necklace, cast it to the ground, and made marks on her body. Upon [the old king's return from hunting she said all this was done by his son Râma. The king ordered him to be beheaded. The mantri hid him in a house under ground, and shewed the blood of a bird. On an invasion by foreign enemies the king repented, and the mantri explained: restoring Râma; who went against, and conquered the invaders.

[This notice is a little more circumstantial than that on No. 1377 and others.]

The book is of medium size, slightly damaged.

85. No. 1674. Sect. 1. Râma nât'hana cat'hè hexameters, sandhi 1—8 not complete: 25 leaves. For section 2 see VIII.

By Rangha rājendra: composite stanzas. In 25 sandhis complete.

Chitrangadi, a younger wife of the father of Sarangadhara first solicited, and then falsely accused the young man; whose legs in consequence were cut off, and himself exposed in a forest: where a muni, or anachorite, restored him. See other foregoing notices. It is properly a Telugu tale.

The book is of medium length, thick, very old, one half of the leaves eaten away by worms, so that only an incoherent half remains.

XXVIII. VAISHNAVA sectarial.

1. No. 1295. Sect. 1. Murti dhyānam; hexameters, complete. Panegyric of Hari or Krishna, Brahma, Sanaca, Sanat cumāra, Druhoā, Rudra, the dic-pālacas, Prit'hū, Amrita-ganas (celestials) Chitra kēdu, Prahlāda, Gajendra, Ambarisha, Vasu deva, Alkrūra, Bhrigu, Paricshita, Konti, Rudivyas—all these gods, and men saw Hari in homage (darsanam); and, thereby understanding the divine form, uttered praises to Hari.

For sect. 2, 3, see XXI.

Sect. 4. Aja vala—two adhyáyas and 10 stanzas over—incomplete.

This legend elsewhere occurs.

Aja vala a Brahman cohabited with a Pariah woman, and a daughter was born ; when this daughter became of age, he lived with her in a solitary cave, and had children by her. At his death his eldest son cried out “ Nāráyana ;” and, because of this invocation, Vishnu came, drove away Yama's messengers, and gave the Brahman mukti or beatification

[The Saivas are liberal enough in giving beatitude ; but they do not go beyond this specimen].

Other seven leaves broken, two on medicine, five contain ślócas, the seven great rishis utter their inward mind, in praises of Ráma.

The book is short, somewhat thick, injured.

2. No. 1301. Sesha dherma, prose.

By Chicka déva raya—from 1st to 27th adhyáya. It would seem to be abstracted from the Sanscrit Vishnu dhermöttaram, of which notices elsewhere occur.

Various kinds of gifts of lands—marriage portions—gift of cows, and of other matters, on dherma, art'ha, kāmam, mócsha, the four main accidents, on the Hindu system ; that is beneficence, wealth, pleasure, beatitude ; as being acquired by the foregoing kinds of gifts ; moral rules for the conduct of men, and women. Rules for the worship of Hari (Krishna) by which beatification is stated to be acquired. On donations for the repairs of temples, or of any adjuncts. On the consecration of hierophant Brahmans—on the tortures of naraca inflicted on sinful beings ; and some other matters ; on the whole presenting the Váishnava system under some of its best aspects.

The book is of medium length, thick, recent, and in good order : many blank leaves at the end. It might merit translation.

3. No. 1395. Krishna karnamrita tica, a comment on the Krishna melody.

By Chella nambé—the original Sanscrit ślócas (noted elsewhere) are by Vilása suca muni.

Panegyric of Krishna ; eulogy of the Vedas, as from God—Krishna was praised by all the penance performing munis—he is the desire of the upper, lower and medium worlds—he is the object of the Gópi's love—he is the possessor of all excellencies ; and as such, he must be mentally, and bodily worshipped.

Only one asvásam, two others are wanting.

The book is of medium size, very old, one board broken, and many leaves also ; almost useless.

4. No. 1423. Chúdu kodutta kalyána, yecha gunam, or mixed metre.

A Brahman named Viprasac'hara had a daughter, who asked her father to give her in marriage to the god Rangha ná'tha svami, at Trichinopoly; he complied with her request, and the god accepted the gift; and, from her placing a chaplet of flowers on the head of the image she acquired the name of chudu koduttal 'she who gave the chaplet'. There are elsewhere chants in her name, as if composed by her. The subject is connected with sectarial disputes between Váishnavas and Sáivas, in the south.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, and much injured by worms.

5. No. 1464. Three principal subjects.

1.) Stanzas relative to Paschama Rangha at Seringapatam.

(1.) On the eight quarters of the heavens; Krishna is there, and every where.

(2.) Alphabetical verses praising Hari, i. e. Vishnu, or the avatára of Krishna.

(3.) Váiragyan, ascetic chants.

(4.) Krishna lila, sports of Krishna.

(5.) Purusha viriga, a man addresses Vishnu asking for a desirable woman, and when one will be given. (6.) niti vishayam—ethical (occasionally thus mingled).

(7.) Vedantu ar'tha meaning of the vedanta system.

2.) Paschama Rangha mahátmyam (overlooked under XXII, there-with connected) composite stanzas, 5 sándhis, complete.

The tradition that Gáutama-rishi first founded the site of the shrine of Paschama Rangha, and following details.

3.) Sringura padangalu; ornaté stanzas.

By Chicka déva rayalu, a king of Mysore, or ascribed to him.

The subjects are desultory verses, on the two sexes—and chiefly of an amatory kind: 40 recent blank leaves appended—the book, as a whole, is complete. It is of medium length, thick, slightly injured by insects.

6. No. 1553. Samghaditya, 90 composite stanzas.

On the ten avatáras of Vishnu, their glory. Praise of Rangha nayaki the form of Lacshmi at Trichinopoly. Large hand writing, as if of a school boy. The book is long, thin, and in good order.

7. No. 1569. Tatva grantham, prose.

On the old Váishnava system, followed by Mádhva. In two prasangas, or discourses, complete.

Jivatma bhédam, the human soul is distinct, or diverse from the divine soul.

- On the three gunas or dispositions, i. e. satvica, gentleness; rájasa, cholera, támasa darkness, or depravity.
- Vishnu* is sarva yantri, omnipresent, and he is the origin, or cause of creation.
- An account of the avatáras of Vishnu.
- Adherence (bhakti) to a spiritual teacher, and obedience to his instructions, the way to beatification.

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, recent, and in good order.

7½. No. 1621. Various short pieces.

1.) Hari kirtanagalu, chants in praise of Vishnu, or Krishna, by three persons.

1. Purundhara Vittala dasa; 2. Késava rayalu; 3. Kanaca dasa.

2.) Vencatésa padyas, stanzas on Vishnu at Tripeti including ornate, or amorous verses; which the Vaishnava system favors: language Telugu.

3.) Vémana padyas, 21 stanzas, ethical or aphoristical, Telugu incomplete.

4.) Anna púrna ashtacam—an octave in praise of a sacti of Siva at Benares.
By Sancaráchárya.

This Indian Ceres receives homage of the sacti kind, in some places of the Peninsula.

The book is of medium size, very old, and much injured.

8. No. 1652. Lacshmi swayam varam.

Lacshmi proclaimed marriageable—a recitative chant, complete.

Epithalamium on the marriage of Narasinha with Lacshmi; said to be used, or sung by dásis, in Vaishnava fanes.

The book is long, of medium thickness, greatly injured by worms.

9. No. 1683. Two books.

1.) Ranghadamána sangatya, hexameters; 49 stanzas, complete.

The author, after describing the majesty, or glory of Vishnu, renders him adoration.

2.) Gita gopala, chant on Krishna.

By Chicka déva maha rája: 7 feet lines.

The púrva and uttara bhágas complete.

Description of the glory and excellency of Vishnu. The youthful sports of Krishna among cowherds. The passions, and desires of the gopis. Transition to matters of zeal on the obtaining beatitude, by a devotee. Matters relative to the gift of beatitude, by deity ; special praise to the god worshipped, by the author ; and some matters as to his royal pedigree, or genealogy.

The book is of medium length, thick, a little worm eaten.

10. No. 1692. Three books.

1.) Vara mohina tarangini, composite stanzas, 1st and 2nd sandhis only on 16 leaves.

Introduction, and description of Dwaraca puri, the capital of Krishna.

2.) Hari lila, sports of Krishna. Composite stanzas, 3 sandhis complete, on 25 leaves.

An abridged account of the youthful sports, and adventures of Krishna.

3.) A polemical discourse on the supremacy of Vishnu, as the creator of Brahma, Siva, Indra, the divine mátas or mothers and others ; in prose, complete.

The book is of medium size, old, and much damaged, at the beginning.

11. No. 1729. Two books.

1.) Rámanújara ahanica, slócas in Sanscrit, with dhyánam, meditation.

Rules for observances at different hours of the day and night, for Váishnava worship, attributed to the áluvàr of Stri Permattúr.

2.) Sésa dherma, prose.

By Chicka déva rayalu, or ascribed to him from 1st to 12th adhyáyas, and 7 leaves over.

Vide supra 2. No. 1301. From this book it would appear that the moral maxims are founded on Bhíshma's lessons to the five Pándavas, in the wilderness.

The book is long, thin, and in good order.

XXIX. VEDAS (thereto pertaining).

1. No. 1289. Sect. 2. Naláyira divya prabandham, old Tamil language, in the Canarese letter, fragment of 25 leaves, no beginning or ending.

Versions from parts of the Védas—the language poetical, obscure, and partly obsolete.

Large hand writing. This section in good order. For Sect. 1. see XXII. 7 supra.

XXX. VEDANTA (Váishnava).

1. No. 1285. Section 4. Kámándakiya niti sastra, slócas with tíca in Canarese ; only 17 leaves, from the 1st sarga. On the corporeal and mental faculties of the human body, mystified on the tatva vedanta system.

The entire book is on kingly ethics—see notices under VIII.

2. No. 1320. Gita Bhāratam, hexameters.

By Satānānda yogi, from 23rd to 29th adhyāyam, a part of the Bhagavat gīta rendered into Canarese, with some additions.

Krishna's instructions to Arjuna. On the almighty power, and all inclusiveness (“filling all things”) of Vishnu; that is from the insect up to man. On the duties proper to the four colors, and the four orders. On the wisdom of the Vēdas and ultimate beatification from studying them, and books founded on them. On things forbidden, or not to be done. The Sanc’hya yōga, or philosophy which deduces concrete things from abstract principles; ignoring deity. Matter Vēdantic, nominalist as to sensible ideas. On the Sātivica rājāsa, and tāmāsa dispositions. Those who are perfect in the stated requirements will attain to beatification: incomplete: the beginning and the ending both wanting.

The book is long, and thin, nearly new, in perfect order.

3. No. 1417. Four books (as being by different authors; but with the appearance of being written upon an agreed plan).

1.) Kēsava satuca—101 kanda stanzas, complete.

By Halabida Advaitu Ananta.

On the acts of Vishnu in protecting such votaries as Ahalya, Drūpadi, Prahlāda, and others; and punishing Rāvana Cumbha kerna, Bali, Sisupāla, Hiranyacsha, Hiranyacasipu and others: thus punishing the evil, and protecting the good; with other matter on the avatāras of Vishnu; leaf 7—10 wanting.

2.) Njāna sanniyāsa—ślōcas 63.

By Yōgēndra svāmi, complete.

On renouncing all subordinate religious distinctions in favor of entire asceticism.

The matters to be renounced are varna, caste; āzramam, household cares; indriya, natural affection; suc’ha, sensual pleasure; āsābāsa, passions, &c.; and the ascetical qualities, or practices to be assumed, are ātma sanniyāsam, spiritual devotedness; stāna, bathing; sāuch’ha, feet and hands cleansed; sandyāvandanam, worship at morning, noon, and evening; dānda, the pilgrim staff; bīsh’ha, living on alms, &c.

This course, if sincere, appears to form the parama hamsa, partaker of divinity.

3.) Dicsha bódhè, initiatory instruction.

By Kère padmarásárya, incomplete, composite stanzas. Extracts from the Védas, intermixed with slocas in Sanscrit.

Instructions to a disciple on the mystic sense of the védas—pantheism, an all-pervading soul; matter only the evolving of deity.

[As Lord Bolingbroke by Pope,

“ All are but parts of one stupendous whole,
Whose body NATURE * is and GOD the soul.”]

4.) Anubhava vivéca tatvamasi vácya.

By Paranjáti yeti, 3 khandas, or sections.

Proofs by verses from the védas, and sútras of other kinds, of the truth of the vedanta system; leaf 1—40 deficient.

[The first tract is the popular system; the others lead up to what are considered to be the highest practical and mental attainments].

The book is worth translating. It is of medium size, rather old, a little injured by insects.

4. No. 1688. (Old mark 1758, pen run through it) Rahasya treyam—prose, Tamil language in the Canarese letter. The title means “triple mystery;” which is variously understood; the ordinary acceptation is O'M chit-achit—God, animate, and inanimate beings, and things.

This book is described as a discourse on the rectified, or orthodox Vedanta system: chiefly founded on the Bhagavat gíta. O'M and various other ancient mantras are collected, and applied to Náráyana. It has 1st Náráyana mantras; 2nd, the bhagavat gíta system; 3rd, details of an unsubstantial world; ideal, and nominalist system.

The book is rather long, thin, a little injured by insects.

XXXI. VIRA SAIVA (or Jangama).

1. No. 1274. Eleven tracts.

1.) Sancara linga satacam, 121 kanda stanzas. Praise of Siva by his emblem.

2.) Jangama mahátmya—slocas with a tica in Canarese. Glory of the Jangama system.

The teacher of that system is more excellent than the Brahman teacher, and an ordinary Jangama man is more excellent than any one of any of the other eighteen castes, or religions.

* This, via Greece, is the Hindu Maya, Pracriti, Sácti: many moralists, and poets are sacti bhaktis.

3.) Linga stóotra, Brahmani shadpati, 111 stanzas, of a kind of hexameters.

Praise of the emblem ; directed, through it, to Siva.

4.) Basavésvara stóotra, 109 hexameters of the same kind. Praise of the vehicle of Siva. The thinking on Basava removes all sins : and Basava is a suitable object of meditation. [Apis—calf of Aaron, and Jeroboam ; Nandi of Sáivas.]

5.) Misra shadpati stóotra, 112 mixed kind of hexameters—Panegyrical.

A description of the votaries of Siva, and of the ganas, or celestial orders of beings ; they are praised, as to their modes of homage.

6.) Archarani shadpati, 165 stanzas, hexameters.

Instructions of a teacher to a disciple, on zeal for his mode of credence.

7.) Misra stóotra, mixed praise, 111 stanzas, hushma shadpati, a kind of hexameters.

A list of illustrious ancient men, and an account of their devotional observances and customs.

8.) Basava stóotra, 125 triplets.

Praise of Basava ; but said to be tatva adváita in kind.

9.) Ashtávarana stóotra, 131 stanzas.

By Chinta Rámésvara.

Panegyric of eight colors, or castes ; but on the adváita védanta system.

10.) Misra stóotra, 109 stanzas.

By Siddha Rámésvara ; Praise to Siva, founded on adváita principles.

11.) Siddhésvara puránata nandyata páta ; 35 stanzas, in praise of a preceptor named Siddhésvara---his family title Tontara siddha.

By Zantésa.

The entire book is of medium size, on broad talipat leaves, in good order.

2. No. 1280. Fragment, 48 leaves, no beginning or ending, prose.

Out of the shad st'hala, or six special places, this fragment has the bhakti st'hala, and Mahésvara st'hala. On devotion to the guru teacher, linga or symbol, jangamam sect. The mode of puja or homage, washing the feet of devotees, giving them food, and other matters pertaining to that mode of Vira Sáiva credence : (antagonistical to Brahmanism.)

The book is of medium size, very old, and damaged.

3. No. 1297. Three books.

1.) Siva linga charitra, composite stanzas, complete.

By Zānta Vira.

An arya or Brahman named Vira Nārāyana, a son of one Siva linga, a. Saiva adāita, upon his father's death, assumed his guru-pattam, or authority as a teacher ; and taught many people. At length he was taken by the ganas (quasi angels) of Siva's world, on a Siva vimānam (celestial car) and carried up to Cāilasa (the Sāiva heaven) where he obtained sauchyam, or union with deity.

2.) Basavésvara pūvādava ragalé.

Praise of the excellency of Basava, the vehicle of Siva, a term used by Vira Saivas : complete.

3.) Kirtanas, Chants.

By Virana Cavi.

Some are on Sancari, the sacti of Sancara or Siva as destroyer , and some on Siva : in all 43 leaves.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

4. No. 1404. Section 3. see XIX. 10.

5. No. 1410. Two books.

1.) Karana hasigè, ślōcas, with a Canarese version, in sringadi metre.

By Chenna Basavésa.

This is a sort of summary of doctrine, and practice on the Jangama system, by the nephew (also, by some authorities, the son) of the elder Basava.

On the five elements. On the five indriya or senses. On the tāmu treya—three fold body ś' hūla, corporeal, sucshma, material soul, kāruna, spirit.

[This three fold being is common to Hinduism ; and appears to correspond with Hebr. bacr-ruach-nishmat. Gr : sōma, psyche, pneuma. Latin—corpus, animus, anima].

On āndhacārya dushtya, evils of darkness, or ignorance. On the shad verga, six classes ; shad linga, six symbols, peculiar to this sect.

On the five vital airs—and other matters of the system termed tatva (truth), materialism spiritualized.

2.) Misrāpana, prose, complete.

By Chenna Basava.

On the shad kīṅga, or six fold symbol. To wit—āchāra l:—guru l:—Siva l:—jangama l:—prasāda l:—maha l:—(they are explained in preceding notices of Sanscrit books). Also on the relationship of body and soul : and on (brutuhum) beatification.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, in good order.

6. No. 1435. Gana-ādambara, hexameters.

By Chenna Basava, 9 sandhis : incomplete. Taken from the Basava purānam.

Discrimination among saiva ganas (celestials) as to which of them were specially devoted ; their splendor, or pomp. To all of them Siva is favorable, and has given them honors : legendary tales of them [“intruding on things unseen”?].

The book is long, thin, on broad talipat leaves, some of them much injured.

7. No. 1458. Karana hasagē.

By Chenna Basavēsvara : a few ślōcas quoted, but the greater part prose.

Two other portions are here noted.

- 1.) Bhuvanacōsam, details of the Brahmādam, or universe ; 7 lower 7 upper worlds, dwipas ; 7 seas, 7 planetary orbits ; on naraca, and the rishi mandalam (Limbo patrum) or the moon.
- 2.) Pindotpatti, the foetus, and its growth ; and on six accidents, birth, death, sorrow, love, hunger, thirst. (Condition of the book was not noted).
8. No. 1480. Sect. 2. (Attached to a book, Sanscrit, Canarese letter ; β. A. c).

—Leaf 35 and upwards.

Basava vrutāntam—details of the Jangama system—excellence of the six lettered mantra, O'x, na, ma, si, va, yi : 110 stanzas are upon the said formula, and its power.

Upadēsa sangraha, epitome of instruction ; Brihu tatva 4, Vedas 4, āzramas 4, yugas 4, acharyam 4, dic 4, (commonly 8) matam 4, (places) Ganga 4, Parvati 4, (fanciful attachment to a particular number) afterwards details of the same.

8½. No. 1507. Five books.

- 1.) Ecanta Ramē tande gala ragale. Ecantē was a Vira Sāiva devotee at a town called Ballūr. He held controversial discussions with the Jāinas there, and caused them all to become votaries of Siva. He himself was beatified—complete.

2.) Rēvanā siddhesvara devara ragalē.

A being came out from a Sāiva symbol with the complete form and appointments of a yogi, or ascetic. He made pilgrimages to all shrines and bathing pools; and declared to all hearers the excellence of Siva. In the end he obtained sāmīpam, or nearness to Siva, complete.

3.) Gunda Brahmayya sangatyana, composite stanzas---3 sandhis complete.

Gunda Brahmayya was a Sāiva devotee: Siva came personally to test his devotedness; and gave him such secular good things, as he asked: see another notice under XXXI.

4.) Herūra hennina sangatyā: composite stanzas 3 sandhis, complete.

In a town named Herūr, the virgin daughter of Malla nat'ha, a Sāiva devotee, was named Gangē. Her father and mother betrothed her to a jaina, against her will; inducing her to reject marriage; taking refuge near a symbol of Siva, who appeared to her, and at her request changed her sex to the masculine: she was thenceforward regarded as a being superhuman. See other notices under XXVII. For 5) see XVI.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in some places damaged.

9. No. 1509. Prabhu linga lila: composite stanzas, 25 parvams, on 98 leaves, complete.

By Allama prabhu.

The book is intended to magnify the continence of the Virā Sāiva teacher, by tales of a very dubious influence. Prabhu linga, a Virā Sāiva devotee, having made penance, directed to Siva, afterwards instructed disciples in the Virā Sāiva credence. Siva made special mention of his chastity to Parvati, who felt mischievously disposed to test the matter; and to this end, caused an incarnation of her tāmāsa gunam only. In this nature a variety of devices were employed to delude, and overcome; which, seriatim, Prabhu linga is described as evading. The result is to magnify him and his system. The author, being a distinguished co-operator with the two Basavas, possibly designated himself. See Vol: 2.

The book is long, of medium thickness, in good order.

10. No. 1543.—1.) Prasāda chintāmani, composite stanzas, 3 sandhis, complete.

By Jadūya siddha lingēśa svāmi.

—Stated to have been delivered in the court of Chamundi rājā of Mysore, and explaining the essence or substance of the Vēdas, upanishadas, and the itihāsas, or historical remains; according to the ultra Sāiva system.

2.) Purádhara sangatya, composite stanzas, complete.

A glorifying Siva, under a title which appears equivalent to the "first man", in the sense of Svayambhuva, or self existent. The Vaishnavas use the term parama purusha, in the like sense. [The two terms appear to be discriminative, as Paráparam and Sarvéspanan are as to Protestants and Roman Catholics.]

3.) On the nature of cycle years, as to what fruits, or results, may be expected: common language; and not sectarial.

The entire book is of medium size, old, and much worm eaten.

11. No. 1552. For section 1, 2, see XIII. 21.

Sect. 3. Kalyána pura mahima; glory of Kalyána, the site of operations by the elder Basava: 7 leaves, complete.

Sect. 4. Sahasra gana náma, complete.

One thousand names of celestials.

Sect. 5. Shadaeshara ragali, 63 slócas, with a tica in Canarese.

On the six lettered Vira Saiva mantra, i. e. O'm, na, ma, si, va, yi, in recitative chant.

Sect. 6. Sarana Basava ragalé.

Praise of Basava the vehicle of Siva, by 108 names, as a refuge: complete.

Sect. 7. Basava déva stotra, prose.

Praise of the same, with a vedantic bearing, complete.

Sect. 8. Chenna Basava stotra.

Praise of the minor Basava, second head of a system: complete, but damaged.

Sect. 9. Basava rája dévara—on the tatva system of Chenna Basava.

Sect. 10. Hara gana mála—12 rounded stanzas, complete.

A list of names of celestials in Siva's paradise.

The entire book is of medium size, old, slightly damaged.

12. No. 1556. Four books.

1.) Vira Sáiva siddhanta gnánam, 113 easy stanzas, complete.

On Srúti, traditional authority; on the puránas—on the mental anubhava (enjoyment) a peculiar use, by this class, to denote the pleasure of enthusiasm, or religious zeal—on the independence of the mind (stoical sense).

Proofs of the Vira Sáiva system being superior to other, argued from Guru mati, the authority of the sectarial head— from the Srúti mati, traditional authority, from the gnāna mati, or mystic authority, and from the anubhava mati, or experimental authority.

Hence the Vira Saira credence is argumentatively true (something resembling argument; a great rarity).

- 2.) Pindōtpatti—origin of the foetus; which all Hindus (after the upanishadas) make a topic of religion: ślōcas, with tica in Canarese, some 15 leaves complete.

Subjects.

- Triharanam*, three-fold causation, manasu (men's) mind, vācya, voice, kāya, body.
- Garb'ha utpatti*, on conception in the womb (not medical).
- Upadēsa sangraha*, epitome of instruction.
- Sri sanniyasam*—on asceticism.
- Shadushta nirnayam*, description of the six crimes—Kāma, crōdha, lōba, mōha, &c.
- The places whence these evils originate in the body, specified.
- Lōca lacshanulu*. Properties of the world, dhyāna-yōga—on meditation.
- Pancha vimsati tatva*—twenty five qualities, spiritualized.

- 3.) Chenna Basava mantra gōpiya, 27 stanzas, with a prose version.

The mystic spell of the younger Basava, together with shad vidha Siva tatvam, six kinds of qualities inherent in Siva,

- 4.) Mistrāpanam, mixed offering: prose only; 2 leaves, not finished, vide supra.

The whole book is long, and thin, on talipat leaves, slightly damaged.

13. No. 1557. Basavana anubhava—prosaic form, unfinished.

A Vira Sāiva work, by whom not apparent—on the topics of credence, homage, bathing in pools, devotion, intercommunion; subjects: Siva bhakti—devotedness to Siva; Siva pūja, ritual homage to Siva; tirtha prasādam, benefit conferred by bathing-pools; stotra, praise, laudation.

The book is of medium size, old, leaves decayed, and broken near the end.

14. No. 1561. Basava rāja dēvara vachanam, prose, complete.

Basava was originally a ganēsvara, or celestial; and became incarnate. He rendered homage to his god Siva—he rejected all family incumbrances—desiring to arrive at the bliss of endless union with Siva, he offers prayers to that effect—then discourses on the six distinguishing points, or places:

- 1.) Bhakti krama, order of devotedness, according to the guru linga or Jangama way.
- 2.) Maha prasādam, the great benefit of drinking the water that has washed the feet of Siva's image.
- 3.) Sarana gata, the bliss of refuge with Siva.

- 4.) Sarvam Siva sreshtam, Siva's excellence, ubiquitous.
- 5.) Prána linga, the living soul.
- 6.) Sauchyam, union with the linga, another term for death, or beatification—added three leaves, Siva stuti, praise of Siva.
15. No. 1562. Twelve tracts.
- 1.) Siddha Rámésvara trivadi, triplets, by Ráma, a sage, on the obligatory nature of the Sáiva system of homage.
- 2.) The like title—the author's panegyric of Basava.
- 3.) Nila ammana trivadi, panegyric of Nilamma, wife of Basava.
- 4.) 'Achára málíka gadya, Sanscrit prose.

By Sóma nátharya, in prosaic lines; each line beginning with a distinct letter of the alphabet, panegyric of Basava.

- 5.) Pancha pracásya gadya—Sanskrit prosaic lines—same subject; but termed “five splendors.”
- 6.) Namascára gadya—Sanskrit.
By Sánúga—homage to Basava.
- 7.) Uttárana gadya, Sanscrit, according to the name, demonstrative.
- 8.) Ashtottra satà náma gadya, Sanscrit. Panegyric of Basava, by 108 names.
- 9.) Acharangada gadya—Canarese, rounded stanzas of four saranás; each beginning with a letter of the alphabet, from the first to the last letter. Panegyric of Basava.
- 10.) Siddhésvara trivadi—Canarese.

Basava is termed siddhésvara, as if teacher of the world at large, and praised as one born in the form of Siva.

—so far the tracts are severally complete.

- 11.) Vrishabha cavacham, and Siva cavacham. “of coats of mails”—spells, seeking protection from Siva, and his vehicle, Sanscrit—the two are confused together.

- 12.) Marala devara vachanam.

Chants in Canarese on the Saiva védanta, the two last incomplete: 70 leaves in all:

The book is of medium size, old, some leaves half broken off.

16. No. 1567. Six books.

- 1.) Vibhúti dharana mantra, slócas, a charm or spell when putting on sacred ashes, 5 leaves.

- 2.) Nadi vēla muruca, a spell 1 leaf incomplete. Praise of Muruca (or Cāma) for sexual objects.
- 3.) Sangili tangida stōtram—composite stanzas. Praise of Basava, 11 leaves incomplete.
- 4.) Siddhēsvara stōtra—composite stanzas. Praise of the same—12 leaves, complete. v: supra 15—10).
5. Pramata ganagalu, composite metre. Praise of Siva, as head of celestials, 7 leaves, incomplete.
- 6.) Basava purānam, dvipada metre, 12 leaves, incomplete. This fragment is chiefly on the praise of Basava.
—50 leaves in all—two or three talipat leaves are added, containing mantra and yentra (charm with its diagram) to lay, or restrain a Brahma rācshasa, or the spirit of one who was an evil Brahman; the writing not plain.

The book is short, of medium thickness, old, in good order—1.) and the end fragment, talipat, the rest palm leaves.

17. No. 1568. Gunda Brahmayyana sangatya, sectarian tale, triplet measure.

Nāreda assumed the disguise of a janqama devotee, and carried on a continual disagreement between Gunda Brahmayya, and his wife, on religion. At length both parties came to a better understanding; and then Nāreda taught them the principles of the Vira Śaiva credence.

[The Saiyas do not meddle with Nāreda, nor he with them: his use of the name is sectarian.]

The conclusion of the book is not found, as the leaves are in irregular order, and the work incomplete. It is of medium size, old, and somewhat damaged.

18. No. 1571. Section 1. Jangama lingarcharna. Sanscrit prose, with Chinese tica.

On the obligatory nature of Saiva devotedness: by this alone, and by no other way, is satisfaction to be obtained. Instruction as to ascetic forms, and practice. The leaves are confused, 53 remain: incomplete. For Sect. 2. see I. 2. This section is of medium length, thin, a little injured.

19. No. 1572. Two books.

- 1.) Nija linga Chickayyana sangatya. In 4 sandhis, triplet metre, complete.

Amala dévi had a son named Chichayya. When a young man, he was in the habit of way-laying travellers on the road, and robbing them: his mother and himself living on the proceeds. One day he put on the disguise of a jangama, and went to the residence of Basava with intention to steal a linga of parasu stone, that had the property of turning any metals it touched into gold. Basava perceiving his intention gave him instructions in the Vira Saiva credence, made him a disciple, and gave him the prenomens of Nija linga. After some time he was beatified.

2.) Prasáda sangatya, hexameters.

In times of yore, a gandharba (or celestial chorister) insulted a muni (or sage) who uttered a malediction that the celestial should be born a pig. In due course the chorister was so born in the household of one Pámara. After being "educated," by Siva's favor, and the king's help, the charm was dissolved. The king was not a Mahomedan, and the liberated spirit went to Siva's world. [This "eastern tale" may be accepted as genuine].

The book is of medium size, old, through worms and use, ends are broken off, so that the coherence is injured.

20. No. 1575. Four pieces.

1.) Chitambara sáram, essence of the spiritual garment. The titles are prefixed of chitgala linga, chitgala pranama saniyóga.

The unknown author panegyrises Basava; and regards him as teaching the way to beatification, in 246 kanda stanzas, complete.

Chit sometimes means animated being; but it has a Smarta sense, meaning the subtle essence of deity, filling all space. Being connected with concrete terms linga and ambáram, these must be taken to be metaphorical; and the meaning of the terms may be "essence of the spiritual symbol, spiritual soul, and most pure spiritual garment." Eca ambara is a name of Siva; but chitambara ignores visible form; and this term was given to the first Saiva fane, in the Peninsula; having a sanctuary open to the heavens, and without any idol].

2.) Sarvánga linga st'halam—prose.

By Chenna Basava déva, incomplete.

Nine prasangas or discourses. The title indicates a symbol of ubiquity; and the main topic is union with Siva; or the devotee obtaining union with Siva, otherwise meaning absorption into deity. [Mankind mean pretty much the same thing; but Asiatics, especially, use hieroglyphical terms which excite discord, and war polemical].

3.) Sahasra gana námam, complete.

One thousand names of celestials in Siva's world.

4.) Linga stótram, hexameters.

70 stanzas, complete, symbolical praise of Siva, with an advaita bearing.

The book is short, of medium thickness, on talipat leaves, one broken, otherwise in good order.

21. No. 1604. Four books.

1.) Karuna hasagi, prosaic form.

On the five elements—the fetus in the womb ; and on the members, and faculties of the body, on the talva system—incomplete. v : supra. 5. No. 1410—1.) No. 1458—and other notices.

2.) Misrápana mixed offering, prosaic form.

On the metaphorical sacrifice of the body, as devoted to Siva, &c. v : supra 5 No. 1410—2).

3.) Basavésvara pávada, composite stanzas, complete.

Description of Basava's excellence, and praise of him.

4.) Guru ragalè—composite stanzas, chant panegyric of a teacher, complete.

The book is short, of medium thickness, slightly injured.

22. No. 1680. Ouranology; without title, in the book itself stanzas; and, in other parts, names only.

By Sómánaca.

Praise of Siva by the title of Vira gundana, and other titles, used by Saivas.

Then details as to the ganas or as to the various companies, and names of celestial hosts : in which matter the Vira Saivas are very particular—ex gr. Prémata ganus, Rudra ganos, Vr̥shaba ganachari, Siva saranara, and the like, on 22 leaves, no beginning nor ending ; in the earlier portion one half of the leaves eaten off ; otherwise damaged by insects—the fragment is short, and old.

23. No. 1687. Mahatma sangatya : hexameters.

By Siddhaga. In 5 sandhis, complete.

Any labored abstract does not seem to be required. The substance is that Siva dwelling on earth, in the form of the guru linga of the jāngama rupā, gives to devotees, who serve him with application and zeal, the ishta siddhi, or such things as they desire to have. One added leaf from a chāndasu or prosody in all 75 leaves.

The book is of medium size, old, and very slightly injured.

24. No. 1700. Kari Basavana vachanam.

These are a sort of measured chants in praise of Basavésvara, and according to the Vira Saiva system : 85 leaves.

The book is of médium size, on talipat leaves, in good order.

25. No. 1704. Râma nat'ha vilâsa.

By Sadâ Siva yôgi, composite stanzas, 1st to 13th vilasa, but incomplete.

Biography of one named Râma nat'ha âcharya—his birth—naming—shaving of head—putting on the scholar's thread—his marriage—going on pilgrimage—he visited Casi (or Benares) and Ramiseram in the south. He disputed against the Vaishnavas' system. He was accustomed to remain in a flower garden. Birth of children—entered the Vira Saiva way : so far ; his being beatified wanting.

The book is of medium size, on talipat leaves, old, but in good order.

26. No. 1724. Karuna hasagi, favor-detail.

By Chenna Basavara dâva; prose.

A treatise on cosmogony in part, but chiefly on the tatva system Vira Saiva mode.

The origin of the pranava or mystic O'm—origin of the five elements—their nature—origin of the world, or universe—origin of the fœtus in the womb—the five senses, and inward sensitive, or mental faculties—the ten vital airs—the seat of the passions, and especially of religious affections, or zeal—the ten pulses—the six deadly sins—the three dispositions, sâtvica, &c. the arastâs, or necessities of food, sleep, &c.—on the incident of dreaming—and other like matters ; a sort of moral philosophy on body, and mind.

The book is short, of medium thickness, a little damaged.

XXXII. VRATA CALPAS (meritorious devotion.)

1. No. 1216. Sect. 2. Gaja gâuri vrata, composite stanzas, complete.

Homage to the white elephant of Indra is rendered, by women, to a clay substitute. Konti, the mother of Arjuna, not being invited on one of those occasions, complained of the neglect to her son, who formed a staircase of arrows, ascended thereby to Indra's world, and brought away the true Airâvati for his mother to worship : [to be judged of by the license of poetical alancâram].

For sect. 1 and 3 see VIII. 1. For sect. 4, see XI. 1.

The whole book is long, of medium thickness, in good order.

2. No. 1303. Vinayaca vrata mahima, glory of vows to Ganésa: prose, complete.

By Nanji rája.

In 3 adhyáyas, or chapters, each one a distinct, but connected subject.

Chapter : 1. Samandyakópákhyanam.

In consequence of a curse from Ganésa, both Chandra (the moon) and Krishna sustained affliction and sorrow—he is therefore to be feared.

Chapter 2. Dundi Vinayaca stótra.

Siva himself in Cási (Benares) praised Vinayaca, and promised that all who worship Ganésa shall be prosperous in learning. To that effect he gave his son an attestation, termed dundi.

Chapter 3. Sancat'ha Hara chaturdhi mahima.

Vinayaca related to Parvati the benefits resulting to his own devotees from their rendering him homage, especially on the fourth lunar day; illustrated by a legendary tale.

The book is of medium length, thin, on talipat leaves, in good order.

3. No. 1316. Sect. 4. Vinayaca vrata calpa, stated to be from the Bhāvishóttara puranam; letter Canarese, Sanscrit language.

Legends illustrating the merit, and benefit of homage rendered to the "Lord of celestials," complete. Appended one leaf.

Chanambikai stótra—praise of a local sacti, or goddess, known as Chanambikai.

By Basava raya. For section 1, see XXVII.

For Sect. 2, 3, see XIII supra.

As a whole the book is long, of medium thickness, in good order, boards painted.

4. No. 1651. Sect. 3. Vinayaca vrata calpam, mantra form, not ordinary prose; stated to be from the scanda puránam. On the benefit of homage rendered to Ganésa. For sections 1, 2, 5, see II. For sect. 4, see VIII. supra.

SUPPLEMENTARY. Manuscripts received from a distance, after the previous work had been done:

II. No. 1474. Sect. 1. Arithmetic, on fractions, and integers—leaf 1—24.

VIII. IX. No. 1413. Various stanzas, a sort of Anthology—padya-cávyam incomplete.

1.) A mixture of ethical and erotic matters, the result of design, as the numbering of the leaves is continuous.

On flowers, sandal-wood, and forehead spot of vermilion as used by women ; with a description of the female form.

On the mujda, madhya, prahalba, three ages of women, with their gait and appearance to the eye of observers.

2.) On kingly ethics—deportment suited to kings. Mingled up praises of Vishnu and Siva.

The book contains a continual alternation of two or three stanzas by turns ethical—ornate—and kingly ethics ; so dressed up possibly to give the ethical access to some kingly ear ; leaf 1—32. The book is short, of medium length, much worm eaten.

VIII. No. 1643. Two subjects—both are in Grant'ha letter.

1.) Garuda Panchasati, ślokas, with a Canarese tica.

By Vedantāchārya.

Praise of Garuda, mixed with some vācyas from the Vēdas, 14 leaves, incomplete.

2.) Niti sastram, ślokas, with a Canarese tica.

By Chanācyā.

On the six great sins, kāma, crōdha, lōba, dwēsha, mata, māchāryam, or lust, anger, avarice, backbiting, or envy, false zeal, malice ; sometimes otherwise enumerated.

On shad dherma, or six kinds of duties to be done. An unjustly taking away a neighbour's goods is censured.

A discrimination termed āzrāma bhēda, on the duties of Brahman, of householder, of hermit, and of strict ascetic ; yuga dherma, or duties and obligations proper to the krita, trēta, dwāpāra, and cali, yugas. The leaves in this last piece, are not regularly strung.

XI. No. 1404. Sabda mani darpanam.

By Kēsi rāja cavi sutras complete.

“Jewel words looking glass,” on Grammar.

In seven prakaranas, or sections. The nature of Canarese words, with their coalitions, declensions, and conjugations stated ; 1, sangya ; 2, sandhikaryam ; 3, nāma niyamu ; 4, samāsa ; 5, taddhita ; 6, ākyaata ; 7, apabrahmsa : 36 leaves.

The book is somewhat long, thin, 1 leaf broken.

It was found among the Sanscrit books.

XIV. No. 1716. Erroneously labelled:

Bhāgavatam, but containing mantras and tantras Sanscrit, Canarese letter.

The book is long, of medium thickness, on broad talipat leaves, somewhat damaged.

XIX. 1. No. 1694. Six pieces.

- 1.) Gajendra mocsham, composite stanzas, the language Telugu in Canarese letter : an episode from the 8th scandam of the Bhāgavatam, and as such complete. Contest between an Alligator and an Elephant. Vishnu appeared, released the latter, and gave it beatification.
- 2.) Bhima sēna vijayam : mixed metre. Telugu in Canarese letter : complete, as an episode from the Bhāratam.

While the Pandavas sojourned in the wilderness, Bhima killed Kichan, a cousin of the Virata rāja.

3.) See under VIII.

4.) Prasāda sangatya—legend of a pig— composite stanzas.

A celestial chorister (gandharba) having mocked a muni (or sage) the latter cursed the aerial, condemning him to be born as a pig, which incarceration took place ; and for some time the songster's voice was reduced to a grunt : Siva came, in an ambiguous form, and by giving a fragment of food rejected from his mouth (here termed giving prasādam) which the pig eat up, caused its knowledge to return ; and, being liberated from durance, the celestial went to Cāilasa.

- 5.) Visva nāt'ha ashtacum, an octave on Rāma, as " universal Lord."
- 6.) Sundries.

Praises of Vitala (or Vishnu) and Arunāchala (Siva) of the ornate kind ; a sort of epithalamia most likely for the use of dāsīs, stanzas on Nārāyana of Vāicant'ha. Shudacshara regale, on the six lettered Vira Sāiva spell. Atahadēva ragalē, chant on Siva.

The entire book is long, of medium thickness, (63 leaves) no boards, in tolerable order.

2. No. 1714. Chiefly blank leaves ; on two of them a few Sanscrit ślōcas in Canarese letter are written, without any connexion : very narrow leaves, thin, of medium length.

XXI. 1. No. 1235. Bhāgavatam, hexameters.

From the 1st to the 9th scandam, complete so far ; being the pūrva bhāgam, or older and more respectable portion, the 10th to the 12th scandam, wholly relating to Krishna (stated to belong to books received from the college.)

The book is long, thick, (235 leaves) broad talipat leaves, good order, small and close handwriting, of value as complete.

XXI. No. 1900. Bhagavatam—composite stanzas, 5 sandhis in the 7th scandam.

On Vishnu's assuming the Narasinha avatāra or man-lion form. Story of Prahlāda, and the killing of Hiranya casipu. [When the Vāmanāvatāra is well unriddled, the meaning of this will probably follow.]

The book is of medium size, much damaged by worms, and crumbling to pieces.

XXII. No. 1717. Sri rangha mahatmyam, grant'ha lipi, or letter.

By Rangāchārya, said to be translated from the Brahmānda purānam, containing 12,000 ślōcas, and from the 10th asvāsam.

Legend of the image, and temple on an island of the Cavēri, close by Trichinopoly.

The image was given by Rāma to Vibishina to be carried to Lanca: but it signified its pleasure to be left on this rangha, or island (an equivocal word) and many details are given as to the vimāna or shrine, which will be found more fully abstracted elsewhere. (Class delta Tamil).

The following extract translated is taken out, in order to illustrate the mode in which ignorance hides its head amid pompous verbiage. Paramēsvara (God) instructs Nārēda the great sage. Nārēda asks "O sancara! (destroyer) what must I worship in order to remove my sins. Siva replies, O Nārēda! hearken carefully—in the time of the great deluge, all beings, or things, created by Brahmā, were either destroyed, or assimilated by the great waters. Now water is assimilated to light, (or splendor tejas) light is assimilated to wind, (vayu) wind is assimilated to ether, (ākāsha) ether is assimilated to avijactam, (invisibility or immensity) invisibility is assimilated to writing, (acshara) writing is assimilated to tāmasa, (darkness) darkness is assimilated to Brahmā. Then Brahmā, Rudra, and others, were emanent from Nārāyana, in that time of deluge. Thou of all things in the world formed, the earthly paradise known as Srirangham holds the pre-eminence, as it holds the eternal lord Rangha nāt'ha (lord of the island). If he be worshipped and his favor obtained, O Nārēda! sin will depart."

[The making Siva testify to Vishnu Vishnu (and to Siva, is a device common to both sides. As to philosophy, water and silent darkness operated on by divine agency seem to be meant as the causes of things; not differing much from the hymn by Orphous; nor, in so far as renovation of the world is concerned, from the Hebrew writing].

The book is somewhat long, of medium thickness, slightly injured.

XXIV. I. No. 1474. Sect. 2. Rāmāyānam padya cāvyaṃ in 5 sandhis; 59—62 complete, 63 incomplete.

On Vibishina's making peace for himself, and negotiating for the crown, by betraying the counsels of his brother Rāvana; leaf 56—58 or 33 leaves.

Sect. 3. Bhāratā rāja nīti, from the Bhāratam, sandhi 1, p. incomplete.

Vyasa is represented as narrating to Janamejaya, the correct conduct of the Pandavas in the war; as being without deception, &c., leaves 1—33, in the whole 80 leaves. The book is of medium size, in good order.

2. No. 1477. Rámáyanam, padya cavyam 1, 2, sandhi 101 stanzas.

On Vibishina being anointed king of Lanca by pouring over his head the water of the sea on the coast, &c.

24 leaves and 33 blank leaves.

The book is of medium length, very narrow leaves, in good order.

3. No. 1486. Jáimuni Bháratam or Jáimuniyam, here ascribed to Vijaya Lacsami Isa—padya cavyam, sandhi, 1—12 and 13, only 8 stanzas.

Origin of the Pandavas and Kaúras; the gaming match, and loss of kingdom; going to the wilderness; Krishna's embassy; he shewed his visva rupa to Dhritarashtra; the assembling of troops in preparation for war. (It would seem as if the old Canarese of Jáimuni were rendered into modern language in this book.) leaf 1—137.

The book is of medium size, and a little injured.

E. MALAYALAM language, and character.

I. AGRICULTURAL.

1. No. 1958. Krusha gita; Bucolics.

It contains details of agriculture in the Malayalam country, with a description of the implements used, and the proper seasons for sowing the various seeds, and similar matters. The authority is traced up to Bhargava, a name of Parasu Rama, and is said to be taken from the Kerala ulpatti. It is a poem, complete; written on 29 talipat leaves, in good order.

II. CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY.

1. No. 1962. Christa-mata-pustacam, a book on the Christian religion: in 6 parts.

Part 1. Prayers directed to Christ to remove the pains and fear of death.

—2. The consequences of good and bad actions; and the esteem conceded by the people to a good man.

—3. On Hell.

—4. On Heaven.

—5. On the life of Messiah.

—6. On the life of the Virgin Mary, and praise addressed to her.

A poem by Reverend Polynoos, complete, on 140 talipat leaves, of medium size; recent, and in good order.

III. EROTIC.

1. No. 1963. Sringāra-pattu, ornate poetry, on amorous sentiments. With this is connected some śloṭras or panegyrics on Siva and Parvati. Five long leaves bent double, without boards—injured: one other leaf is a note of hand for money.

IV. HISTORICAL.

1. No. 1959. Kērala ulpatti. Origin of Kērala, a part of the Malayalam country.

This is a distinct book on the legend of Parasu Rāma and the Artha Brahmans—64 municipalities, their laws and regulations; the election of a king, and details of a few early kings; inclusive of Cherumān Perumāḥ, who became a Mahomedan; and went to Mecca. Romance is mingled with history: a fuller notice will elsewhere be given.

This book is in prose, complete, on 140 talipat leaves; small, but thick, and in good order.

V. MISCELLANEOUS.

1. No. 1956. A book containing five, or six different subjects.
 - 1.) Kērala ulpatti. Legendary account of the formation of the Malayalam country by Parasu Rāma, causing a retreat of the sea; but according to the account itself, an earthquake appears to have concurred. The extent was 600 miles from N. to S. Divided into Tuluva-Mushica and Kērala, in which 64 municipal towns were formed, with rules laid down, and arms given; whence the Brahmans were termed half-caste, till others of a purer race were imported. The work is in prose, written on 53 talipat leaves, of medium size.
 - 2.) Dherma sastram. On the ordinary affairs of business, the vivahāra portion. The laws of the Malayalam country and people, are, in various respects, peculiar to themselves. This treatise is complete in 11 leaves prose.
 - 3.) Panegyric on a king named Vadakara kōlatiri Tambirān. The mode of his processions from his palace, and other matters. Complete on 3 leaves prose.
 - 4.) On the mode of hunting in the Malayalam country. The cries used in the chase, and those used after the beast pursued has been wounded.
 - 5.) Life and acts of a king named Paṭṭa Sacara, of the solar line. Probably an abridgment of the Sacara cādha of other languages. Complete, on 19 leaves prose.

- 6.) Two smaller leaves recent, partly in Malayalam, partly in Tamil, contain some names of kings, and of Nambis or Brahmans. The entire book is short, of medium size, written on talipat leaves, and in good order.

VI. PAURANICAL.

1. No. 1952. Bhāgavatam, the 5th scandam, or book. The leading subject of this section is the Pauranical geography and astronomy, as to the seven divīpas, with the superior and inferior worlds, and names of early kings, or patriarchs; as Rishabha and Bharata, and others. Poetry; complete on 67 talipat leaves, small in size, and in good order.
2. No. 1957. Dēvi Mahatmyam, the legend of Parvati. A poetical work in praise of the sacti of Mahadeva or Siva; treating her as the supreme goddess, and invoking her favor. The work is complete, on 73 talipat leaves of medium size, and in good order. From the Mareandeya, purānam.

VII. ROMANCE, historical.

1. No. 1951. Bhāratam. This book contains sixteen out of the eighteen parvas, or books.
 - (1st. āli parvam, genealogy, wanting).
 - 2nd. Sabhā parvam; assembly of kings—loss of his kingdom by Dherma rāja by gaming. 1st leaf wanting, the remaining 16 leaves complete.
 - 3rd. Aranya parvam. The pilgrimage of the 5 Pāndavas with Drāupadi, and their sojourn in a wilderness: 30 leaves complete.

The episode of Nalu.
 - (4th. Virata parvam, wanting: service in the Virata kingdom.)
 - 5th. Udyōga parvam, service, consultation, negotiation, embassy of Krishna; rejection by Duryōdhana of all advice; determination to regain the kingdom. War preparations: complete on 27 leaves.
 - 6th. Bhīshma parvam, battle between the Pandavas, and the general of Duryōdhana's army. The Bhagavat-gīta precedes: 15 leaves complete.
 - 7th. Drōna parvam, renewed fight: the forces of Duryōdhana, headed by Drōna, skilled in archery, 38 leaves complete.
 - 8th. Karna parvam, battle with another leader, a relation of Duryōdhana, and of the Pandavas, 26 leaves complete.

9th. Sáliya parvam, contest with another of the opposing commanders, 17 leaves complete.

10th. Sáuctica parvam. The episode of a son of Drónáchárya named Asvaddamma, who made a night assault; and owing to the intervention of Krishna, killed 5 sons of the Pandavas, instead of themselves, as intended: 10 leaves complete.

11th. Stri parvam, on the grief and distress, of the family of Duryódhana, at the death of so many relatives by each others hands.

12th. Zanti parvam, moral instruction by Bhishma, to his grandson Dherma rája, in order to remove his doubts as to the wisdom and rectitude of the divine government, on fortitude, patience, submission, and devotion: 16 leaves complete.

13th. Anusásanica parvam, the same subject continued, and concluded, 2 leaves.

14th. Asvamédha parvam, on the sacrifice of a horse by Dherma rája, with the usual ceremonials; intended to avert the evil consequences of slaying so many of their own relatives: 10 leaves complete.

15th. Azrama vása parvam. Penance of the five Pandavas—their dwelling in a hermitage, as if ascetics; 2 leaves.

16th. Máusala parvam. On the catastrophe which led to the death of the posterity of Krishna; the great inciter of the foregoing war: 13 leaves complete.

17th. Maha prastanica parvam. The melancholy pilgrimage of the five Pándavas, followed by a black-dog; and of their successively falling dead by the way.

18th. Sverga rohana parvam. The Pándavas attain to Indra's world; and are shown on the one side the pains of the wicked for a season, and then introduced to the region of the good, who are rewarded. It is remarkable for its containing the doctrine of purgatory, and somewhat resembles one of the books of Virgil's Æneid. These brief outlines are founded on papers received from the Hon'ble Walter Elliot, Esq, but with additions from myself. The work only wants a little of being complete; but from its size, it can only be an abstract of the original.

2. No. 1953. Adhyátma Rámáyanam, (Stíva).

The Yuddhá cándam, or book of battle.

That portion of the epic poem which treats of the battles between Ráma, Hanumán, and Sugriva on the one hand, and Rávana, Cumbhakerna and others, on the other hand, at and near Lanca : the object being to regain Sita ; in the main feature similar to the Iliad.

* The translator into Maláyalam has chosen to introduce Siva discoursing with Parvati, on the qualities of Ráma. I am informed that Adhyátma is an epithet applied to the Rámáyana only when used as a discourse between Siva and Parvati.

The work is in poetry, complete on 187 talipat leaves, the book of medium size, and in good order.

3. No. 1954. *Rámáyana*m, epic poem.

This book contains the 2nd, 5th, and 6th cándams, or sections, entitled Ayódhya, Sundara, and Yuddha cándams. (The 1st Bála, the 3rd 'Aranya, 4th Kishkinda, and also the Uttara, or supplementary, are wanting).

2nd Ayódhya cándam. Part of the life of Ráma, his return from the country of Mi'hila to Ayódhya-puri after his marriage with Sita ; the impediments offered to his being crowned by Kaikayi, third, and youngest wife of Dasarat'ha, who favored her son Bhurata.

This section is complete in 91 leaves.

5th Sundara cándam. The life of Ráma, continued. His sending Hanumán to discover the lost Sita, who had been carried away to Lanca by Ravana. Hanuman returned, and reported the place of Sita's unwilling captivity.

This section is complete on 110 leaves.

6th Yuddha cándam. The battle, or long struggle, with its marvellous accompaniments, between Ráma and Rávana, with their respective supporters ; the victory being with Ráma.

This section is complete on 57 leaves.

The version into Malayalam is poetical, written on talipat leaves : the book is of medium size, and in good order.

4. No. 1955. *Uttara Rámáyana*m.

The last, or supplementary part of the *Rámáyana*m, which has some lengthy reference to the race of Pulas'hya, down to Rávana ; but chiefly contains the history of Ráma, after his return to Ayódhya with Sita. The suspicion excited by popular surmises as to the purity of Sita during her captivity ; her exposure in a forest ; found, and protected by Valmika the sage ; birth of two sons. Their seizing the horse of Ráma's sacrifice, and discomfitting his army ; hence discovered by Ráma, to be his sons. The death of Ráma, and his brother Lacshmana. Said to be a translation from the work of Valmika.

Written on talipat leaves of medium size ; complete and in good order.

F.

URIYA language, and character; dialect of the province of Orissa.

I. DESCRIPTIVE.

No. 2476. A list of the servants employed in the temple of Jaganat'ha; with a specification of their various duties, on the label it bears a Telugu title Sri Purushóttama sévaculu chésé nirnayam.

The book is long, the leaves not uniform, of medium thickness, 134 in number, injured by worms.

II. ETHICAL.

1. No. 2484. Gupta gita. A paraphrase on a Sanscrit work entitled Gita-sáram, or essence of the Bhagavat gita, in eight adhyájas, or chapters; by Bála Ráma-dása. The subject is the metaphysical discourse on the nature of the divine and human soul, and connected moral results, between Krishna and Arjuna.

The book is small, of medium thickness, on 73 palm leaves, slightly injured.

2. No. 2488. Bhúgola gita.

A paraphrase in prose on the Brahmánda bhugola gita, a chapter in the 11th book of the Bhágavatam: a discourse between Krishna and Arjuna, regarding the nature of the human soul, and body. It consists of seven chapters; and contains the Vedánta doctrine on the subject of God, and matter: a topic of frequent occurrence.

This book is of medium size, containing 76 leaves, in good condition.

3. No. 2501. Prastápa sindhu, a moral work in prose by Krishna dasa. It opens with a discourse between Dasarat'ha and Vasishtha; who, at the request of the former, gives him lectures on moral, and other subjects, such as:—

“Do not place confidence in persons who surround a king”—and

“The food which is eaten, but not digested, is poison.”

The book is small, complete on 79 leaves, very slightly injured at the end.

III. EROTIC.

1. No. 2478. Rasa panchaca.

On five classes of amorous sentiments, or sixty-six short poetical pieces by Upendra Bhanjā. The first nine leaves contain one chant, and a few songs from another work entitled Brijāvahara.

The book is small, of medium thickness, without boards, complete as to the first work ; 90 leaves, slightly injured.

2. No. 2479. Sect. 1. Prama sudhānidhi.

A poem of which this section contains seven chandas, or chapters, the subject being a poetical description of the person of Prāma sudhānidhi, (perfect jewel) a daughter of Manjula, king of Kérala. It is ascribed to Upendra Bhanja.

The book is small, of medium thickness, without boards, and in good order, but not complete ; as from 14 to 20, from 27 to 33, and from 39 to 51, and 100, the leaves, are wanting.

3. No. 2480. Rasa lékhā.

Ascribed to Upendra-Bhanja.

This work consists of twenty-two chandas, or chapters, of écaragā, or uniform time.

It describes an enchanted wilderness in the Chola country, near the mountains of Malayalam, which had the effect of exciting sexual emotions in all who came to it. certain A teacher, named Kapisanjanada, whose residence was in the Naimisara forest had 750 disciples, who set out on a pilgrimage ; but happened to come within the influence of the above wilderness. The teacher, finding his disciples did not return, went in quest of them ; but became subject to the like influence. Under it he asked for, and obtained in marriage, the daughter of the Chola king. He had a daughter named Rasa lékhā, the description of whose person and great beauty is the main object of the work. Visvabhuti, son of Bhasvara, king of Sindhu, heard of her beauty, and obtained an interview by means of Durga. Their conversations are narrated ; and they were, in the end, married ; as Nareda interceded with Kapisanjanada, her father ; and procured his assent. There is a slight resemblance to an episode of Tasso's poem ; only that ascetics are put in place of warriors.

The book is short, of medium thickness, complete on 83 palm leaves, and in good order.

4. No. 2490. Rasa kalālam, waves of sentiment. 1—34 chandas, complete.

Illustration of amorous sentiment, &c, from the youthful sports of Krishna in the wilderness of Brinda, near the Jumna river ; leaf 1—118 ; this book is long, of medium thickness, in good order.

5. No. 2498. Another copy of the same in 34 chandas 111 leaves complete.

The book is of medium size, in good order.

IV. LEXICOGRAPHICAL.

No. 2365. Amaram—a Dictionary. The size, or condition was not particularly noted.

V. MISCELLANEOUS.

No. 2497. This book contains eight productions, not of uniform kind.

1. Sádhana dharpana, Sanscrit ślokas, with the meaning in Uriya poetry; author's name not stated. The subject is a discourse between Bráhma, and Náreda, on the mental adoration of Krishna; only 3 chapters, and a few more verses—unfinished.
2. Ujvala Nila manicarica.

A work in prose giving an account of Krishna's amours with Rádha the gopi, while he lived among cow-herds. The subject is in the Bhāgavatam, and Gīta Govinda. The author's name not stated.

3. Bhakti rasámrita sindhu—the essence of devotional sentiment.

A work in prose, the author's name not given. It contains instructions to reverence a spiritual teacher; to walk in the ways of rectitude; to repeat the chants on the names of Deity; to be moderate in eating; to go on pilgrimage; to be a follower of God; to be hospitable; to observe the ecndasi fast on the 11th lunar day; to respect the tulasi plant (Ocymum sanctum) and the emb: myrobolan, with the trees dhatri, and asvata; to avoid evil company; and like precepts of a moral, or religious kind.

4. Mahánt nirnaya rasan. A list of the Mahants, or hierophants, that were contemporaries with Chaitreya or Krishna, during his residence with cow-herds at Vrindavan. They were sixty-four in number, of whom the first ten names are quoted viz. 1, Gópála guru; 2, Balaram dasa; 3, Govinda thakur; 4, Koni chandra thakur; 5, Sri kánta thakur; 6, Balabhadra bhattacharya; 7, Mudhava pandita; 8, Vara Malla dasa; 9, Sri kara pandita; 10, Acharya Lacshmana dasa.

The 64 are said to have served Chaitreya in the Vrindavanam lands: certain sacred pools therein are named Rádha-Kánt'ha, and Shama kánt'ha, near the rivers Jumna, and Kalandri.

5. Mana śicsha. A discourse between Suca and Sanaca. The former gives an account of the youthful pastimes of Krishna: his hiding the clothes of the gópis: their attachment; and similar matters, apparently taken from the 10th book of the Bhágavatam: rendered into padya cávyam or composite Uriya poetry: the Sanscrit slócas being also given.

6. Gita-sáram, essence of the Bhágavat gíta. An extract from that portion of the Mahá bháratam in Sanscrit verses, with an explanation in Uriya. This metaphysical discourse between Krishna and Arjuna is generally known through the medium of Mr. Wilkin's translation, and other sources.
7. Rádha-kavacham. The Kavacham (coat of mail) is a form of incantation, preceded by some ceremony. This appeals to Rádha (Sect. 2). It is put in the mouth of Síva, as delivered to Parvati, a sectarial liberty; and is said to be extracted from the Bráhmayámile. (Sacti in kind.)
8. Vaishva-déva padhadi, Rules in Sanscrit, for the daily performance of one of the kinds of ágnihóma, or sacrifice to fire of a household kind.

VI. PANEGRICAL.

1. No. 2495. Kalávati. This is properly a love tale, as to the marriage of Kalávati, a princess, to Bharata, a king of Kunjavati; fictitious, Bart'ha Harischandana. In this book there are only 7 chundas, or chants, which contain a description of Kalávati, and a panegyric on her person. The beginning is wanting. The book is small, without boards, and injured by worms.

2. No. 2486. Charana sudhánidhi, the jewel foot.

By Govinda dása.

This production is a panegyric of Vishnu in two of his incarnations. It appears to be of the doi-rupa kind, in which the words will bear to be applied to two different persons, from similarities in some of their adventures.

Thus we have:

"Thou destroyedst Rávana for the welfare of the celestials, and didst bestow the kingdom on Vibhishana thy votary."

In another place,

"Thou wast born in the house of Vasudeva at Mat'hura, and bred up in the cow-herds' village from the fear of king Camusa." These passages, however, will not bear two meanings.

The book is small, containing 86 palm leaves, slightly injured by insects.

3. No. 2499. Sri Jagannat'ha stuti, praise of Krishna as Jagannat'ha, or lord of the universe.

By Krupa Samudra dása.

A work in measured prose termed Piaya: containing the eulogy of Krishna, and also of Bala Ráma, his brother; of Subadhra his sister, and of his missile weapon, the chacra. Rude images of those three are in the temple at Jagannat'ha puri in Orissa.

This book is of médium size, on 87 leaves, and in good order.

VII. PAURANICAL.

1. No. 2477. Bhágavatam, the 10th book.

A translation of the 10th book into couplets; each line consisting of nine letters. Ascribed to Jagannat'ha dása. The subject is the birth, and juvenile adventures of Krishna. It contains 48 adhyayas, or chapters. It is long, thick, recent, but injured by insects at the end.

2. No. 2482. Bhágavatam: 1st and 2nd scandas. Ascribed to Jagannat'hadása. A poetical version of the two first books. Copied by Krishna Pandita, a Brahman of Narasinha puram. It is rather a large sized book, slightly injured by insects.

3. No. 2483. Bhágavatam.

By Jagannat'ha dása. A poetical version of the 3rd book in 157 adhyayas or chapters; on 163 leaves; rather large in size, without boards; and in good order.

The above three books appear to be parts of one work.

VIII. PURANAS, local.

- No. 2489: Sri Jagannat'ha st'hala Mahatmyam origin of the temple.

A composition in prose, giving an account of the fane at Jagannat'ha puri in Orissa; and of the efficacy of the sacred pools at that place. Ananga Bhima of the Ganga race is erroneously stated to have been the first king of that town. An account of endowments by him, for the celebration of the various festivals, is also given.

The book is of médium size, complete, on 132 leaves, slightly injured by insects.

IX. ROMANCE historical.

1. No. 2485. Besi-Rámáyanam. An abstract of the Rámáyanam in Uriya verse, by Besi, or more correctly Visvanat'ha dása.

The epitome of the former portion in six Cāndas is complete. The 1st contains 27 chandās or sections. The 2nd contains 13, the 3rd has 23, the 4th has 27, the 5th has 18, the 6th has 79 sections. The uttara, or supplementary portion has only 9 sections.

The book is rather long, and thick, injured by being worm-eaten at the end.

2. No. 2492. Angada-padi. The embassy of Angada.

The episode in the Rāmāyana on the message to Rāvana by a sylvan of the above name. It dwells on the excellence of Rāma; said to be with amplification of the original. The work, as a poem, in 8 sections complete, is ascribed to Lacshmi dhara-dāsa.

The work is of medium thickness, on 79 short leaves, recent, and in good order.

3. No. 2494. Jaimuni Bhārata. An apocryphal version of the Bhārata. It is a paraphrase on the Sanscrit original.

This is better known from its examples in the collection, as containing matter supplementary or extraneous, on the adventures of Arjuna, when on a pilgrimage to the South as far as Madura, the Pāndiyan capital. Notwithstanding the size of this Uriya book it is incomplete: breaking off where Uluchi sends a message by Kumudi to her father Vasuki to ask for a gem, by means of which Arjuna might be relieved from distress: which the nāga race refused.

The work is poetical, in the chāndaśhara pāt'h, or lines of 14 letters: by Nilambara dāsa a Brahman.

The book is long, very thick, and slightly touched by insects.

4. No. 2500. Vichitra Bhāratam. A poetical version of the 3rd and 4th books of the Bhāratam, or the Aranya and Virata purvas; on the sojourn of the Pāndavas in a wilderness, and at the court of the Virata rāja, by Visvāmbara dāsa.

The book is rather long, and thick, containing 147 leaves, complete, and recent; yet touched by insects.

5. No. 2502. Sri Vāidehisa vilāsam.

A poetical version of the Rāmāyanam in Uriya by Upendra Bhanja, in seven cāndams and 52 chandās, or chants. The author was a Goomsoor rāja, among the Khonds. It is stated to be a work of great taste, and elegance; adhering to the singular rule of alliteration that every foot in a verse must begin with the letter B. It is in Vrūta metre.

The book is rather long, thick; slightly injured.

X. TALES.

1. No. 2475. Jagan Mohānam. A poetical panegyric ascribed to Krishna dasa cavi, in 14 chants : the subject is an ornamented description of the image of Jaganat'ha and of the festival processions—otherwise so very well known.

The book is of medium size, on 109 leaves, very slightly touched by insects, without boards ; and in tolerable order.

2. No. 2479. Sect. 2. Rasika hārāvati.

A poetical work ascribed to Upendra Bhanja. It contains 5 chants. The first is prefatory, with invocation of Jaganat'ha. The second contains an account of Vidyādharma a king of Kōseladēsam, and of his daughter Rasika hārāvati. The third, fourth and fifth, form a love-tale of Nilamani-yuga raja, son of a king of Angadesam, and of the above Rasika hārāvati, by means of a letter sent ending in their marriage. The whole is inventive : and gives occasion to exaggerated description of persons, dresses, jewels, and the like.

The entire book, of which this is one section, is of medium size, without boards, and in good order.

3. No. 2481. Sri guna sūgara. A work in prose by Krishna dāsa, complete ; containing an account of the early life of Krishna, when at Vrindāvanam, and also of his slaying his maternal uncle, and enemy Camsa.

The book is of medium size, on 87 leaves, old, and a little injured.

4. No. 2484. Ushā parinayam. The marriage of Usha. A poetical tale, ascribed to Sasi Sancara, in 12 chandas, or chants, recited in the modes termed osa and chokhi.

Usha, the daughter of Bánāsura, became enamoured of Anirudha, grandson of Krishna, and private interviews were contrived, of which the father becoming aware he seized Anirudha and confined him. A war with Krishna followed, in which after protracted resistance Bánāsura was conquered ; and the nuptials of the pair were publicly celebrated to the joy of both.

The book is small, old, and touched by insects.

5. No. 2491. Līlavati, a poetical romance.

By Hari chāndana-dēva.

Chandrabhanu, king of Anga dēsam, became enamoured of Līlavati, daughter of Vasu-pati, king of the hill country of the Chōla dēsam. He visited her in the hill country of the Chola dēsam ; and in the habit of a Janyama ascene, while she was worshipping Siva : and afterwards married her. The poem has 46 chands and much of it is occupied with a description of the person of Lilavati, her ornaments, and attendants.

The book is rather long; of medium thickness, on 72 leaves, and in good order.

6. No. 2493. Brija vihāra. A poetical narrative of the early life of Krishna at Vrindāvanam, ascribed to Upendra Bhanja. Krishna fed cattle; amused himself in various ways; slew some asūras; and, in the end killed his maternal uncle, Camsa, on returning to Mal'hura.

The book is short, but thick, on 133 leaves, without boards, and very slightly injured.

7. No. 2495. Kalāvati. A fragment of a poetical romance. What remains, has only an account of Kalāvati, daughter of Sri Chandana, king of Ranapur, especially an ornamented description of her person. Seven chants, on leaves 51 to 81.

The book small, without boards, and injured.

8. No. 2496. Lāvanyavati. A poetical romance by Upendra Bhanja, in 38 asvāsas, or sections.

It is a tale of Chandra bhānu, son of a king of Vidyangara in the Carnata country, and of his becoming enamoured with Lāvanyavati, daughter of a king of Sinhāla dvīpa, whom he had seen in a dream; precisely the same circumstance having occurred on her part. The young man visited Ceylon in disguise, and met with the princess; on returning to his home a message was sent to ask her in marriage; which was complied with. They were married, and lived happily together.

The composition is ornate; especially as relates to the persons of the two young people, and the order of their mutual passion. There is some traditional foundation for this tale; as something like it is found in other works.

This book is rather long, of medium thickness, on 112 leaves, only a few leaves injured by termites.

There is reason to believe that some of these Uriya books must once have belonged to the Mackenzie collection; they are now met with among those received from the East India House. I have been much aided, as regards these Uriya books, by papers received from the Honorable Walter Elliot, Esquire.
