DEMAND-ONLY JUSTICE

Ottawa, June 7.—"If McNamara is guilty of the crimes with which he is charged, he is deserving of worse than hanging," said A. B. Lowe, president of the International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, today. Mr. Lowe is in the city to assist the railway commission to arrive at a satisfactory settlement of the cases of maintenance of way employed on the C.-P. R., which are now being dealt with by commission. Continuing, Mr. Lowe said:

"It is hard to believe that a man of McNamara's position would be guilty of things he is charged with. Personally, I cannot believe it and I think that objection should be taken to the manner in which a private detective agency Labor bodies of the country, however, are determined to see that McNamara is given a fair trial. If he gets this they will be satisfied. They will not seek to save him if he is in any way implicated in California outrages. Justice is all that they demand."

PLAYS FOOTBALL WITH MAN'S JAW

BRUTAL ASSAULT BY WILLOWS HORSEMAN

Leigh Lytton Kicks Stableman on Face, Breaking Jaw in Three Places

Can a broken jaw be recompensed by inflicting a fine of $50 on the person who caused the damage? That is the rate fixed in the provincial police court yesterday afternoon in one of the most brutal cases of assault that has been heard for some time. Leigh Lytton, who owns several race horses and stables them at the Willows, was confronted by a stableman, Alexander Hazlett, and charged with assaulting him by kicking him on the face, breaking the jaw in three places.

From the evidence in the case, both for and against the accused, it could be gathered that the parties were not exactly Jonathan and David in masquerade. As a matter of fact the race horse owner, Lytton, owed Hazlett, the stableman, some money. The latter's attempts to collect that which was "coming to him" became less and less polite as each successive refusal encountered his appeals. In short, he became very nasty and hurled a choice selection of adjectival epithets at the head of Lytton. Lytton did not care for the treatment, so he struck Hazlett on the face and knocked him down. Had he stopped there he would probably have received more sympathy than he did, but unfortunately for his reputation he saw fit to jump the fence that divided him from Hazlett and applied his pedal extremities to the face of the latter to such vicious purpose that the jaw was broken in three places.

This little incident took place during the race meet, and Hazlett was seen by many people with his entire face in a sling. If any one developed sufficient solicitude to inquire the cause of the injury they were politely informed that some brute of a horse had done it—and no one doubted the statement, for a horse could not well have improved upon the work.

When the defence endeavored to utilize this story to their own purposes, Hazlett explained that he said so because he did not wish to bring any discredit upon the meet. In imposing the $50 fine the magistrate stated that while Lytton may have had provocation for striking the stableman, his conduct in kicking him was unwarranted. The interesting computation is, if it is possible to play football with a man's jaw for the moderate sum of $50, how much can be charged on the same basis for indulging in an exclusive game with his head proper?

MADERO REACHES MEXICAN CAPITAL

the national palace and then to the home of his father. The crowds fell in behind as the carriage passed, where a noisy but friendly procession had formed. Scores of civilian societies, political organizations, women in carriages and soldiers in parade uniform moved to the quick step music of military bands.

It was a spectacle stirring and unusual, but amid the popular rejoicing could be detected an undercurrent of resentment on the part of the unreconciled aristocracy that looked on silent though not unmoved.

Rumors of plots against the life of the hero of the day were reported today and secret arrests have been made. Antonio Villaciencia, former chief of police, was taken into custody last night. Immunity as to members of the house of deputies is said to have stayed the arm of the law against others alleged to have been implicated in a plot, the discovery of which was followed by the arrest of W. L. Dunne, an American, at Monterey, and Daniel De Villeras. These two men are accused of being at the head of the plotters.

Madero's private train was preceded to the capital by a score of other trains which went up the line yesterday to participate in the parade en route and escort the rebel general to the city. On alighting from his car here Madero was greeted by Senora Aguelles Serdan, one of the heroines of the rebellion, who handed him a laurel wreath. Senora Serdan is the widow of one of the first of the revolutionary conspirators to lose their lives. His home in Puebla in preparation for the revolt was used as a storehouse for rifles and ammunition. The secret was discovered by the government and Serdan was killed in defending his home. When the husband fell, his wife and her two sisters seized rifles and continued the resistance until they were overpowered. The three women were thrown into jail, where they languished for months. With the triumph of the Madero party a Serdan society was formed here and Senora Serdan was brought to the capital to greet the man for whose cause she and her family had suffered so much. The little woman tendered the wreath without a word. What Madero replied could not be heard above the din that greeted the incident.

A brief address of welcome was made by Dr. Cuthberto Vadago, after which a parade was formed. The various bodies participating had been at the rendezvous since daybreak and they had been assigned a position in the line into which it fell at the proper moment. Banners bearing Madero's likeness were mingled with national songs and slogans of the republic.

THIEF TESTIFIES AT CAMORRISTS' TRIAL

Witness Smilingly Recounts His Criminal Adventures—Tells of Arrest

Viterbo, June 7.—The trial of the 36 Camorristas for the murders of Genaro Cuoco and his wife, which was adjourned last Saturday because of the illness of a juror, was resumed today. A notorious thief, named Santafede, was called as a witness and smilingly recounted his criminal adventures. These included an attempt at burglary at the home of former Deputy Zamat in 1891, when the witness was arrested together with Genaro Cuoco, who had organized the operation. The booty at stake was estimated at $15,000, the witness said.

Another witness called to the stand was Villani, proprietor of the Mimilamare Tavern at Torre del Greco. He described banquets here by the Camorristas at this place on June 5, 1906, the day on which the Cuocoos were murdered, and on October 1 of the same year. The testimony added nothing material to the evidence already submitted by the state.

Ventimiglia, the police officer who was the first to reach the scene of the murder after Cuoco, was again called to the stand. He added to his earlier testimony his reason for believing Cuoco was killed by Camorristas.

MORE THAN FIFTY KILLED AND INJURED

The message came from Mexico City over the railroad telegraph lines Santa Maria is a suburb of Mexico City. Earthquake Recorded. Washington, D. C., June 7.—Seismographs throughout the entire country were jarred at an early hour today by a most severe earthquake that has been recorded in several years. It is estimated to have occurred 4,000 or 5,000 miles from Washington, but in what direction could not be ascertained.

Cables Not Interrupted. New York, June 7.—A severe earthquake, estimated at 3,000 miles from New York, was recorded on the seismograph of the Fordham University today. The beginning of the quake was at 6.11 o'clock with the principal shock several minutes later. Prof. Tiznan of Fordham said the earthquake was the heaviest that had been recorded at Fordham in a long time. He thought the centre of the quake was about 2,500 to 3,000 miles, but in which direction he could not ascertain.

None of the cable and telegraph companies reported today any interruption of service which generally follows an earthquake. The South American and Trans-Atlantic cables were working all right and telegraph wires in all directions were apparently not hampered.

Recorded At Seattle. Seattle, Wash., June 7.—A violent earthquake, supposed to be in western Mexico, was recorded on the seismograph at the University of Washington between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning. The disturbance lasting half an hour. The sheet recording the east and west vibration was shaken off the drum.

Severe Disturbance. Winnipeg, June 7.—The seismograph station at St. Boniface college reports the most severe disturbance of its history recorded early this morning starting at 6.35, central time. The tremors were remarkably distinct, and scientists in charge look for news of some great world disaster.

MUST PAY PENALTY.

Ottawa, June 7.—The cabinet has decided not to recommend executive clemency in the case of young Jardine, under sentence of death for murder at Goderich.

NOT COMPULSORY.

Washington, D. C., June 7.—As an example to the army, Secretary of War Stimson has been vaccinated against typhoid fever. The virus was administered by Major Russell at the army war college. While anti-typhoid vaccination is earnestly advocated by the war department to the entire personnel of the army, it is not compulsory except in the manoeuvre division at San Antonio, Texas.

HEATING THE AIR.

The study of the methods adopted in the campaign against the ratification of the reciprocity agreement both in Canada and the United States is instructive as an exhibition of thorough organization.

The reports of these syndicates and the resolutions passed by them were regularly telegraphed to a series of newspapers and were made to represent so much annexation sentiment with other specious arguments.

DANGERS OF AVIATION.

Victorians who chose to avail themselves of the privilege have had a recent opportunity of witnessing the feat of aviation which has been so much a matter of common reading during the past two years.

In an article in a Montreal Conservative paper as a "Special" from Washington. That the select portions of the despatch appeared on the same day in the other syndicate papers we have referred to does not for the moment matter.

"Let them pull-down the British flag and unfurl the Stars and Stripes in Canada and we will not object, no matter what price we have to pay."

"These were the concluding words of an impassioned argument made before the Senate Finance Committee by Delegate Lyons, who with half-a-dozen others, had been sent by the Farmers' Institutes of South Dakota to lay before the Senate the unanimous feeling of those bodies as regards reciprocity.

"The Farmers' Institutes, it must be remembered, are very different institutions from the local branches of the National Grange. They are organizations of the farmers of a section absolutely without political affiliation or connection, for the discussion of agricultural topics."

"Reciprocity, it was pointed out, would not increase the price received by the Canadian farmer for his wheat, but it would reduce the price the American farmer was able to obtain for that prevailing at Liverpool, and much was made of the injustice of asking the farmers of this country, buying all their necessities and comforts under a high protection tariff to meet the competition of a low-protection country."

The peroration of Mr. Lyons's well arranged series of arguments suggests that the "climax" was also well arranged. Knowing the strong anti-annexation sentiment which prevails in Canada, it was not supposed that an opportunity would be lost so favorable to arousement for annexation in order to strengthen the Canadian opposition to reciprocity.

We dare affirm without hesitation that, were such the disposition of the United States, it has not the price at its disposal. Whether that purchase price should be represented in money or whether it should be represented in men and blood, the cost would be beyond the possibility of the United States to pay.

There is just one other feature of this remarkable argument to which the Times would call attention. It is in the concluding sentences. "Much was made of the injustice of asking the farmers of this country, (U. S.) buying all their necessities and comforts under a high protection tariff, to meet the competition of a low protection country."

achieved in the manufacture and navigation of perfect aerial ships, but the readiness with which men take the imperative risk leaves no room for doubt that "the ultimate" will be achieved.

It is true that in the pursuit of science in its many phases we have become somewhat familiar with the acts of men who willingly surrender themselves to immolation of various sorts to wrest from nature her elusive secrets and make the race to possess the advantages of knowledge.

At any rate we have nothing to say. We can only stand by and look, admire, tremble, perhaps pray, rejoice with those who do rejoice at victory and weep with those who weep when rare moral and physical courage contributes another life to the grand march of progress.

An exchange says the common housefly is a criminal and scientists say that he kills twenty people every day in New York City.

In every protected country the increased and excessive cost of living is the basis of a multitude of pleas for higher wages. Query—What is it that increases the cost of living so enormously? Surely not high wages.

The Toronto World (Conservative) has made a very interesting discovery. It says that Sir Wilfrid Laurier finds himself in England a very discredited man. And yet Sir Wilfrid is just the same over in Britain as he has always been at home.

Columbia Grafonola "FAVORITE"

In this instrument we present a Columbia Grafonola complete and perfect, that is well within the reach of the popular purse.
The chief difference from the "Elite" is in the cabinet construction. This "Favorite" is made of quartered oak, highly finished and of slightly different design.
When the top, which is especially deep, is raised, the surface of the turntable is on a level with the opening, thus being easily accessible. The door concealing the sound-chamber, instead of opening downwards, opens sideways, turning on the right pivot. The cabinet measures 13 inches high and 15 inches square.
The turntable is revolved by a powerful spring motor capable of playing several records with one winding.
All Columbia records, except on the "Bion," are easily detached by one complete turn, or as easily turned upward for convenient inserting or removing needles.

ASSESSMENT COMPLETED.
New Roll Will Be Submitted to the City Council on Monday Night.

On Monday evening next, the date fixed for the return of the completed assessment roll, the revised lists will be submitted to the city council by W. W. Northcott. The new list consists entirely of registered property owners, and it is understood that it represents half a million more to the assessable value of the city than was contained in the last estimated assessment of $45,000,000.

This result has been effected by the inclusion of several extra plots of land which had been overlooked or were not liable when that assessment was made. Once the council has considered the roll the court of revision will be called, after which the tax rate for the year will be finally struck. The work of completing the new roll has necessitated the assistance of extra clerks.

SONGHEES RESERVE.

The appearance of the Songhees Indian reserve has undergone some little change since the inhabitants began to remove to their new quarters at Esquimalt. A number of the houses have been torn down and transferred piecemeal to the new reserve, but in the majority of cases have simply been dismantled. The few remaining Indians are busily engaged in packing their belongings and teaming them to the new reserve and at the present time the old reservation presents the appearance of a house during spring cleaning. Some weeks ago the bodies in the several cemeteries to their new resting places at either Esquimalt or Ross Bay.

The members of the Victoria Poultry Association will meet this evening at Labor hall for the purpose of soliciting judges and making other arrangements for the next show.

The receipts of the timber branch of the provincial lands department for the month just ended amounted to $181,489.75, being made up in detail as follows: Timber licenses issued west of the Cascade Range, 624, $77,138.75; timber licenses issued for lands east of the Cascade Range, 459, $54,791; timber license transfer fees, 3549, nonalies, $1,825; coal prospecting licenses, 147, $16,650; coal prospecting license transfer fees, $25.

There were a number of candidates writing yesterday for the theory examinations of the University of Toronto at St. Ann's Academy, Mrs. A. T. Watt, M. A., presiding. The practical examinations in piano, etc., will be held at the same place on June 29 at 10 a. m. by Richard Ballantyne, Mr. Tattersall, Toronto, and enjoys a wide reputation also as a choirmaster. It is likely that he will give an organ recital while in the city.

The Western Star Amateur Dramatic Society of Victoria West will present the drama "Among the Breakers" in Semple's hall on Thursday and Friday evenings, the 15th and 16th insts. The society has been rehearsing diligently for the event, which promises to be a successful one. Between acts specialties will be given, including a ventriloquist sketch by M. L. Harby. After the performance on Friday evening a dance will be held for which Prof. Plowright's orchestra has been engaged.

CONFIDENCE MAN IS WORKING OLD COUNTRY

Represents Himself to Relatives of Victorians as Friend of Families Here

A man who gave his name as Alexander Milne recently called on relatives of some Victoria people in Leamington Spa, England, and represented himself as a friend of the Victoria family. From letters lately received he appears to have given many little items of family news from here which were quite correct, and naturally he was cordially welcomed and hospitably entertained. On some story he put up he was "loaned" a sovereign to enable to get to London and reach his baggage.

The recipient of the letter, not mentioning the matter to a friend, who not only had had similar news from another part of England but had heard of a third incident of the same kind. In each case a different name had been given by "Milne."

It is not unlikely that there are other cases yet unreported, and that some one who certainly knows, or has acquired himself with intimate family gossip of Victorians, is having an easy tour of the old land in coronation year on the strength of fictitious friendships with residents of this city.

IMPERIAL VETERANS.

Committees Appointed Last Night—Combined Smoker on June 15.

At a meeting of the Imperial Veterans of Canada held in the city hall last night to discuss plans for the coronation day parade, in which the Veterans and the British Campaigners are to combine, W. Winkler and C. Meinkler were appointed a committee to look after the equipment and H. A. Treen was appointed to interview the veterans and invite them to join in the parade. Capt. McIntosh presided.

On Tuesday evening a special meeting of the Veterans will be held in the city hall and on June 15 a smoking concert in the Foresters hall under the auspices of the Veterans and the British Campaigners, to which every man with a decoration or who has seen ten years' service is cordially invited. After the smoker a parade through the streets will be organized for the purpose of drilling for the coronation festival.

"A DAY IN FLOWERDOM."

For a very long time Victoria has not had such a treat in amateur performances as on Monday and Tuesday evenings in the above cantata at Institute hall. Twenty-six or seven children took part, without one break, "as if they had been on the stage all their lives," some remarked. The perfect training of the voices was especially noticeable in "Hall King George." Costumes and staging were all particularly good. The first night something went wrong with the electrical effects, but last evening these were all right.

Where all were so good in both instrumental and vocal numbers it is impossible to make mention of each, but an exception must be made in favor of one of Victoria's juvenile geniuses, little Eva Neal, a baby about six years. With music, without music, singing and playing her own accompaniment, her technique and execution were perfectly wonderful. Her singing, too, is remarkably sweet and clear for such a young child.

It is to be hoped that Mrs. Bridges' talented little pupils will give another treat next year. The proceeds, about $80, will be sent to the orphanage at Nanaimo.

ISLANDERS DROPPED

Tacoma Tigers Win—Pitcher Hall Puzzles Householder's Men

The Tacoma Tigers won another easy game from Victoria yesterday, by a score of 7 to 2. McCreery did not pitch badly, but failed to tighten up in the pinches. He was replaced by Lane in the sixth and the latter allowed three hits and one run in three innings. Hall, the home team's bossman, had the Islanders at his mercy all the way, and after the first three sessions had them swinging wildly. Lynch and Burns worked the double squeeze on Victoria for the second time this season. Fisher laid down the necessary bunt and the two scored from second and third, respectively, although the ball was fielded swiftly.

CRICKET

There are two decisions concerning which umpires fail to grasp the full meaning of the law to such an extent as to appear absolutely ignorant of the law as written. One is in regard to "leg before wicket," and the other "what constitutes a wide?" Under pressure from numerous sources for publicity and elucidation on the subject, the laws and explanations are herewith given.

Speaking of the striker the Marylebone Cricket Club Laws read: "Or, if with any part of his person he stops the ball, which in the opinion of the umpire at the bowler's wicket, shall have been pitched in a straight line from it to the striker's wicket, and would have hit it;—'leg before wicket.'"

ABOUT BASEBALL

At last the change, which so many thought necessary and yet, out of respect for Davis, the old timer, who, by his hard work and uncomplaining nature endeared himself to all the fans, would not admit, has been made. That is, Ward has been assigned to left field and Ben relegated to the bench. Whether the change is permanent or not depends upon Ward. Almost anyone, who has witnessed the games played by the Islanders, and, who knows anything about baseball, must admit that although Davis is a reliable fielder and "big" he knows the game from A to Z, he is lacking, owing to his age, in several requisites of a ball player; he

FIRE PROTECTION IN PROVINCIAL JAILS

Grand Jury Takes Matter Up at Present Sitting—Hear Chief Davis

The grand jury assembled at 10:15 this morning, but owing to the late arrival of the boat from Prince Rupert which brought the witnesses in the Prince Rupert assault cases the crown was unable to present the grand jury with the indictments until 10-morrow.

The grand jurors were excused until to-morrow morning and then heard Skene Lowe on the question of better fire protection in jails. Later in the morning Forman Beaumont Boggess sent out a request to Mr. Justice Murphy for the attendance of Fire Chief Davis, who was heard this afternoon.

The trial of Mike Boscovitch, of Prince Rupert, against whom the grand jury has returned a true bill on an indictment for rape committed upon the person of Mary Hopka, of Prince Rupert, will stand over until the next assizes by an order of Mr. Justice Murphy made this morning upon application of Crown Prosecutor J. A. Alkman.

The crown was until recently unable to find the prosecutrix and notified Williams and Manson, solicitors for accused, of the intention to enter a nolle prosequi, but since then the prosecutrix has appeared. Boscovitch was allowed bail in $5,000 and, unable to obtain it, has been in jail since March 20 last.

Mr. Alkman asked that bail be reduced to $1,000, and the order was made in five securities of that sum. An application by Mr. Manson that accused be allowed out without bail was refused. Mr. Alkman intimated that he would not rigorously oppose the application, saying the only witness for the crown was the prosecutrix, who was a big, husky woman.

Mr. Justice Murphy said he could not allow a man charged with such a serious crime at liberty when a true bill had been returned. Witnesses in this trial were summoned from Hazelton and other points and Mr. Manson said it would be impossible to get them here for this assize owing to the fact that they had been released when the defence had been notified that the case would not go on.

The location of the trial will be in the hands of the Attorney-General and it may not be held at Victoria, as Mr. Manson will apply for a trial at the Northern Assize court district sitting next fall.

VOTE ON RECIPROCITY BILL POSTPONED

Finance Committee of U. S. Senate Will Decide on Report To-morrow

Washington, D.C., June 7.—The senate finance committee considered the Canadian reciprocity bill in executive session for four hours to-day and then adjourned until to-morrow without reaching a decision as to a report on the bill or on the Root and other amendments. Senator Heyburn moved that it be reported adversely.

The discussion began Secretary Knox summoned in person to answer question in regard to the Root amendment to the paper and wood pulp section, insisted that the committee could judge as well as he as to what the effect would be.

Secretary Knox, it is said, reiterated the contention, stating that amendments to the reciprocity measure would be fatal to it. He was questioned at length by members of the committee.

Comparison of Prices Should Sell This

A shrewd, experienced business man, thoroughly versed in real estate values, is asking $900 per foot for a certain central business property. Several neighboring properties are held at similar figures, and the location justifies the figures. Yet directly across the street, on higher ground, we have a corner property, revenue-producing, which we can deliver at

$200 Per Foot

It has over 180 feet of street frontage. It is within three minutes' walk of the post office. It isn't now, and is not likely to become, the centre of a retail district, but it is the next best thing—high class hotel or apartment house property. For a speculation, or for a building for revenue proposition, we can recommend it. It takes only $4,000 to handle it, the balance in 2 years.

RIPPED GRAIN SACK TO SPITE NON-UNIONIST

Teamster Fined—Magistrate Compliments Union on Its Detachment

Reasonable doubt as to an accused person's guilt or innocence is always deemed sufficient justification for dismissing a case, unless the charge be one wherein the onus is on the prisoner to prove his absolute detachment from the offence, but when the reasonable doubt becomes an unreasonable doubt, as it very often does in the charge of court and counsel, the situation assumes a very different complexion. And that is exactly what happened in the police court this morning in the case against Smith, charged with ripping a grain sack belonging to a local firm. Smith was the only person in the vicinity of the sack when it was cut, but as nobody actually saw the act committed it was argued that "reasonable doubt" was the category under which the case must come.

Adopting part of the argument, Magistrate Jay pointed out that as there was nobody else near the sack at the time when it was agreed the sack must have been cut, and also that the accused and the accuser belonged to different camps in so far that one of them belonged to the teamsters' union and the other did not, it would be perfectly unreasonable to doubt that Smith cut the sack.

In arriving at this inevitable conclusion the magistrate took the opportunity of saying a few timely things in regard to the attitude of strikers, the influence of the moment, and the general combination of motives which govern the sometimes unpleasant doings of such occasions. A particular feature of the case which he desired to emphasize was that another union man

ABANDONS FLIGHT.

Genoa, Italy, June 7.—The French aviator, Le Prince, to-day abandoned the attempt to cover the course of the Paris-Rome-Turin race. He arrived at Genoa on Monday, and was resuming the trip to Rome yesterday when, in ascending, he met with a mishap that badly damaged his aeroplane.

WILL BE ARRESTED

Widespread Plot Against Madero—Threat to Kill New Governor

Juarez, June 7.—A widespread anti-Madero plot, with ramifications in San Antonio, El Paso, New York and Mexico City, has been discovered, according to Mexican government officials. The first purpose of the instigators is said to be the establishment in the cities named of juntas, similar to those of the revolutionary party, and then to carry on a systematic effort to hamper Madero and to restore to power a certain political element which was ousted when President Diaz resigned. Secret service men in various parts of Mexico have been instructed to make arrests in the hope that the movement may be broken up before it assumes any considerable proportions. Among the leaders whose arrests are expected are Pedro Negras, formerly Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, and Chihuahua.

DRINK CURE A MIRACLE?

No, Just Sound Science
Many drunkards are sent to jail when what they need is medicine. Drink has undermined their constitutions, inflamed their stomach and nerves, until the craving must be satisfied, if it is not removed by a scientific prescription like Samaria.

Samaria Prescription stops the craving, restores the shaking nerves, builds up the health and appetite and renders drink distasteful, even nauseous. It is odorless and tasteless, and dissolves instantly in tea, coffee or food. It can be given with or without the patient's knowledge.

Read what it did for Mrs. G., of Vancouver:
"I was so anxious to get my husband cured that I went up to Harrison Drug Store, and got your remedy there. I had no trouble giving it without his knowledge. I greatly thank you for all the peace and happiness that it brought already into my home. The cost was nothing according to what he would spend in drinking. The cure of drink was putting me into my grave, but now I feel so happy, and everything seems so different and bright. May the Lord be with you and help you in curing the evil. I don't want my name published."

Now, if you know of any unfortunate needing Samaria Treatment, tell him or his family or friends about it. If you have any friend or relative who is forming the drink habit, help him to release himself from its clutches. Write to-day.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE of Samaria Prescription, with booklet, giving full particulars, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent absolutely free, and postpaid in plain sealed package to anyone asking for it, and mentioning this paper. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Write to-day.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

Death cannot long divide, For is it not as 'though the rose That climbed our garden wall, Had blossomed on the other side?

There is a certain inconsistency sometimes exhibited by Christians that I cannot understand. I wonder if it has ever puzzled you. It is this: A beloved friend has died—a mother, a father, a husband or child. Say, for instance, a husband. The bereaved wife says, "I know my husband was a Christian. No better man lived. I know he has gone 'straight home.'" And yet she is plunged into the deepest sorrow. Is this consistent with the professed belief of Christians in an after life vastly happier and fuller and finer than the one we are now living? It seems to me that it is only the person who does not believe in a happy after life or who is uncertain about the dead one's fitness for such a life, who has reason to grieve this way. You say, "But perhaps the wife is sure that her husband is happy—her grief is only for herself at losing him." No, that can't be quite so, for how often you hear her type refer to the dead as "poor Charles." Besides, suppose the grief were wholly for herself, isn't that an extremely selfish attitude for a Christian to take—to believe that the one she loves is far happier, and yet to give herself over to rebellious and unconquerable grief because she is separated from him for a time—a time, too, which, according to her belief, is infinitely small compared to the eternity which she shall enjoy with him? "Oh, it's easy to talk, but when you've lost someone you love and the years stretch barren before you—" Yes, I know, my friend. In the first agony of grief it is next to impossible to see anything but those barren lone-some years. But after that first grief, don't you think you owe it to your trust in the one you have lost as one fit to be happy in the hereafter, and to your faith in Christianity as a consistent serenity and cheerfulness of your life that you believe that he is really happy and that death is only a temporary separation? I was talking these things over with a young man who not only believes this, but has lived it through the loss of both father and mother. "No crane was hung upon the door when my father and mother went away," he said, "just a bunch of flowers. And this is the way it should be. Nobody could miss them more than I—sometimes a million times a day. But the anticipation, the belief, the thorough confidence that there is something beyond the grave, is quite sufficient for me." It seems to me that the Christian who does not gradually come to this state of mind is denying his faith. It is for him, as well as for the out-and-out infidel, that Whittier sighs: Alas for him who never sees The stars shine through his cypress trees! Who, hopeless, lays his dead away, Nor looks to see the breaking day! Across the mournful marbles play! Who hath not learned in hours of faith The truth to flesh and sense unknown, That Life is ever Lord of Death, And Love can never lose its own. Ruth Cameron MORMONISM IN ALBERTA. There is now running in the Canadian Courier, Toronto, a special series of articles dealing with the Mormons in Canada and the effect that Mormonism will probably have on this country. The person chosen to write these articles is Miss Nan Moulton, a Winnipeg Journalist, whose writings possess among many fine qualities the prime one of being deeply interesting. Miss Moulton's articles are a sane and serious attempt to answer the question, "Is Mormonism a Menace to Canada?" She has spent some time in Southern Alberta studying this question and has gathered much historical data about the Mormon colony and some rather startling information as to the missionary work which is being carried on by the Canadian Latter Day Saints. The first article, which has just appeared, gave a vivid picture of these peculiar people and their customs. The second article will deal more particularly with "The Mormon Occupation" and its effect morally, commercially and socially on Alberta. The third article will discuss "Polygamy," a subject which is greatly agitating both the United States and Great Britain, and the fourth will give much interesting information about the Mormon industries, prominent men and politics. The series will prove interesting and instructive to everyone who takes an interest in Canada and the problems which this country is facing.

HAND AND MOLLOY FOUND NOT GUILTY

Mr. Justice Murphy Speaks Out on Treatment of Chinese, and Violation of Jurymen's Oath

After a brief retirement yesterday afternoon the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the indictment charging "highway robbery and assault against" Hand and Gilbert Molloy, the two youths who were sent for trial from a preliminary hearing in the police court in connection with an assault on a Chinese boy. The youths were discharged by the judge and left the court at once.

The case arose out of a prank by the boys on Oak Bay avenue in February last. They, with boys named Crawford and Halley, were on Oak Bay avenue when a Chinese boy named smoking a cigarette, "one called to him for a cigarette and he ran away. Hand and Molloy gave chase and caught the Chinese, who screamed and the boys punched him. They then ran away. The Chinese went to the home of George Deakin and complained he had been robbed, and Mr. Deakin, for whom the boy worked, complained to the police, who effected the arrests.

The prosecution had the evidence of the 17-year-old Chinese boy as to what took place. He said he had been robbed of $2, a knife and a handkerchief. Halley and Crawford were called and testified that the two accused had asked them to agree and say they had all been at Bowker's beach the night of the assault. The evidence of the police was ruled out by the judge because of the grave doubt of the manner in which it had been obtained. An effort was made to get in a written police statement by one of the accused, but Mr. Justice Murphy refused it, saying it was a similar proceeding to that which necessitated a second Allen trial. For the defence the boys each took the box and told the story of how they chased the Chinese boy for fun, and Hand admitted that when passing an arm around the Chinese he had felt the latter's handkerchief, and in the struggle had pulled it from his pocket and felt it fall to the ground.

Frank Higgins, who defended the boys, referred to the matter as a boyish prank and dwelt on the impropriety of boys for Chinese. He also said that he and J. A. Alkman, who represented the crown in the case, had, when boys, chased Chinese together.

Mr. Justice Murphy said that the case arose from a common opinion in British Columbia that because a man is Chinese by birth he can be treated as no man would treat an ordinary dog. "A Chinese living in this province," said his lordship, "is entitled to as much protection as the king."

He added that there was just the one man's oath, and that through the interpreter, and that while the boys of British Columbia appear to think they can treat Chinese as they like they have not reached the stage where they think they can rob them. The boys, however, had taken the witness box in their own defence and admitted the assault, and the jury could find the prisoners guilty of assault.

"That is your duty. They come into the box and admit a cowardly assault, and you will settle the matter with your own consciences if you violate your oath."

The jury was absent only a few minutes prior to returning a verdict of not guilty.

HADDINGTON ISLAND

APPEAL NEXT MONTH

Frank Higgins Leaves Sunday for London to Appear Before Privy Council

The Haddington Island stone quarry law suit is to reach its final tribunal next month, when it will be argued before the Privy Council by Frank Higgins, who leaves for London on Sunday night and will be accompanied by Mrs. Higgins, taking the mail steamer Lusitania from New York. It is understood that W. J. Taylor, K.C., who has been in charge of the case throughout the provincial government and the other interested parties on the defence side, will leave shortly for the purpose of appearing on that side before the Privy Council.

In the court of appeal yesterday morning Mr. Higgins made an application for the setting aside of the order of the trial judge, Mr. Justice Morrison, who refused an application for the taking of accounts in connection with the case. The court of appeal granted the order asked for by Mr. Higgins and ordered that accounts be taken. Owing, however, to the fact that Mr. Higgins leaves on Sunday night, the accounts will not be taken until after the arguments before the Privy Council.

The Haddington Island quarry case has been in the B. C. courts for years. The plaintiffs charge the British Columbia government and others with illegally obtaining possession of the quarry. The supreme court judge found for the government and the court of appeal recently upset the verdict. Leave to appeal to the Privy Council was granted and the decision of that tribunal will finally close the case.

"The Cat and the Fiddle."

The Victoria theatre will offer the successful musical extravaganza, "The Cat and the Fiddle," to-night and tomorrow night.

Carlton Lee Colby provided the book, lyrics and music, showing three acts and nineteen scenes of gorgeous hue and color, and a story of far-away fairyland and the inside workings of a trip to the mythical Isle of Eves.

There are fifteen numbers promised, all clever and enhanced by the singing and dancing of a well-trained chorus of much beauty and charm. There are "The Undressed Kids," "The Water Witches," "The Dashing Widows," "The Dainty School Girls," the new "Mother Goose Doll Babies," "The Moon Maids," etc.

The company, it is claimed, numbers forty or more people, with Harry B. Watson as leading fun-maker, ably assisted by Geo. H. Hart, J. O. Campbell, Geo. E. Wakefield, the Boylands, Rose and Arthur, greatest of grotesque and acrobatic dance delineators in the Apache, whirlwind, and other clever dances; and those clever pantomime artists, Clarence and Otto Gotthard, who, as the Gigantic Cat and the Balty Horse, cause considerable merriment.

Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe. E. H. Sothern and Miss Julia Marlowe will be warmly welcomed at the Victoria theatre on Monday next, when they will be seen in their most elaborate exploitation of Shakespeare's masterpiece, "Romeo and Juliet."

The opportunity to see these two famous artists is an event as rare as it is remarkable. The combining of their efforts to the production of Shakespeare's plays gives the public an opportunity to see the highest classics of the stage reflected in the most sumptuous manner.

Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe bring here their massive scenic productions intact, and their remarkable company of players, which numbers nearly one hundred members. The public will undoubtedly take eager advantage of the opportunity to see this remarkable combination, to which only the former combinations of Booth and Barrett, Irving and Terry, and Coquelin and Hading can compare.

Playgoers are asked to particularly note that owing to the massive nature of the production the curtain will rise at 8 o'clock sharp. The sale of seats is now rapidly progressing.

"Allen Players."

On Friday and Saturday "Merely Mary Ann" will be the play presented by the Allen Players at the Victoria theatre. This beautiful comedy was used exclusively by Miss Eleanor Robson for two successful seasons throughout England and America, and proved to be one of the greatest successes of her career.

"Merely Mary Ann" is an English play and deals with the adventures of a poor servant who inherits a fortune and finally marries the lover of her choice, who proves to be a struggling musician.

Special scenery will be used for each of these plays.

PROBABLY DROWNED.

Nice, France, June 7.—That Lieutenant Bague, of the French army, who started Monday morning from Nice on an aeroplane flight to Corsica, has met death is now considered almost certain. Torpedo boat destroyers and other naval craft have searched in vain for tidings of the missing aviator.

A fisherman at the Garop lighthouse on the extremity of Cape Antilles says he saw a monoplane several miles out to sea about an hour after Bague made his start. As he watched the machine turned to the right, as if the pilot wished to return to shore. It was pitching and lurching heavily. The fisherman became busy with his lines for a few moments and when he looked again the monoplane had vanished.

There were no vessels in sight and the fisherman believes the monoplane fell into the sea.

STREET SINKS IN.

Johnson Street Ravine Comes Back Unexpectedly and Disturbs the Level.

Work of a repair nature is going on at the present time in various parts of the city, and questions are being asked as to the cause of their necessity, insinuating in a round-about way that the initial adoption of the wrong method is resulting in the extra expenditure for repairs.

At the corner of Government and Johnson streets, for instance, a gang of men have been set to work to bring the street back to the level from which it had departed, apparently through the heavy stress of traffic. The tram-rails in that particular locality had become bent out of shape owing to the eccentric action of the foundation in which they were laid, and of course the exigencies of traffic demanded that they should be speedily put to rights.

As a matter of fact the traffic on the street did not cause the trouble, although it certainly facilitated and augmented it. At one time what was known as the Johnson street ravine ran across that area and it would seem that the cavity has not been sufficiently filled in to guarantee a permanent basis to the street surface.

The new sewer on Fort street, which extends for a considerable distance east and west of Vancouver street, was completed yesterday, so that the complaints in that regard are solved for keeps. The new sewer was installed so as to connect with the cellars and other underground apartments on that part of the street. The old sewer was too high to tap all the necessary points and it was thought of shape to install a new sewer than to dig up and relay the old one.

THE PAVEMENT.

They took a little gravel
And they took a little tar
With various ingredients
Imported from afar;
They hammered it and rolled it,
And when they went away
They said they had a pavement
That would last for many a day.
But they came with picks and spades
To lay a water main;
And then they called the workmen
To put it back again.
To run a railway cable
They took it up once more;
And they put it back again,
Just where it was before.
They took it up for conduit
To run the telephone;
And then they put it back again
As hard as any stone.
To feed the electric light,
And then they put it back again,
Which was no more than right.
Oh, the pavement's full of furrows,
There are patches everywhere;
You'd like to ride upon it,
But it's seldom that you dare.
It's a very handsome pavement,
A credit to the town;
They're always digging it up
Or putting it down.

CARDINAL GIBBONS HONORED.

Baltimore, June 7.—Cardinal Gibbons missed his afternoon walk yesterday. For the first time in years, one of the very few in the twenty-five he has been the only prince of the Catholic church in the United States, he gave up that afternoon stroll over the streets of Baltimore, where he listened to banter and bazaar and took to heart the troubles of "his people." Instead of the walk that had become a feature on that part of the city in which he lives, the cardinal sat on the temporary stage of the Fifth Regiment armory and listened to the great men of the nation speak in eulogy of his life, on the occasion of his jubilee.

President Taft, Vice-President Sherman, Chief Justice White, former President Roosevelt, Ambassador Bryce of Great Britain, Speaker Clark, Senator Root of New York, Governor Crothers of Maryland, former Speaker Cannon, and Mayor Prexy of Baltimore, sat with the cardinal, and all of them except the chief justice spoke in his praise.

Among the six hundred guests seated on the platform behind the President and the cardinal, were more than a score of senators and members of the House of Representatives. Probably a more distinguished gathering was never held in this country outside of Washington, and the wheels of the government came pretty nearly to a stop while those who sat in charge over them paid honor to the cardinal. The armory holds 15,000 people, his builders say, and it was crowded to the doors.

In Mexico 110 distinct languages and dialects are spoken.

ANGLO-GERMAN PEACE.

Associated Church Movement is Organized in Toronto.

Toronto.—A Canadian branch of the associated councils of churches in the British and German Empires, for fostering friendly relations between the two peoples, has been organized in Canada. Sir William Mulock, Archdeacon Cody and Robert F. Gollay of Toronto, Senator Dandurand and Rev. Dr. William Sparling of Montreal, have consented to be appointed vice-presidents of the Canadian branch.

This announcement was made to-night by J. Allen Baker, member of the Imperial parliament for East Finsbury, England, just before his departure for Washington from Toronto. The associated councils of churches in the British and German Empires had its inception at a meeting in Albert Hall, London, on June 1, 1906, when a resolution moved by the Bishop of London, and seconded by Rev. Dr. Clifford, was adopted, providing for the organization of such a body.

ROSE FROM THE RANKS.

Sir William Birt, one of the directors of the Great Eastern Railway Company, who died recently, was born in 1834. He entered the service of the Eastern Counties railway as a junior clerk in 1848, at the age of 14, and rose through the various grades until he was appointed chief of the goods department. At the beginning of 1881 he succeeded the late Mr. Swarbrick as general manager, and held that position until he retired in 1899, when he was elected to a seat upon the board. Sir William was knighted in 1897, and was also a Chevalier of the Order of Leopold of Belgium, and an honorary colonel of the Railway Engineering Corps.

During the 15 years that he was general manager of the Great Eastern railway the value of its ordinary stock doubled, and the company rose from a secondary position to that of one of the chief railways in the kingdom.

HIRAM CARPENTER'S WONDERFUL CURE OF SKIN DISEASE

After 20 Years of Intense Suffering.

"I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s, psoriasis, and others leprosy, commencing on my scalp; and in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there would be nearly a dust-pailful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs. I reached Detroit and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One Dr. — treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All I thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs; feet badly swollen; toe-nails came off; finger-nails dead and hard as a horn. I was in a state of lifeless as old straw. O my God! how I did suffer."

"My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got Cuticura Resolvent, Ointment and Soap. I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Cuticura Resolvent three times a day after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura Ointment morning and evening. Result: returned to my home in just six weeks; from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper. Hiram E. Carpenter, Henderson, N. Y."

"We hereby certify that we are acquainted with the above mentioned Hiram E. Carpenter, and know his condition to have been as stated. We believe his statement to be true in every particular. J. L. Bennett, Foreman; G. A. Thompson, Merchant; A. A. Davis, Millard; E. J. Jolner, Merchant; John Carpenter, A. J. Bennett, Attorney and Counselor-at-law, all of Henderson, N. Y."

"The above remarkable testimonial was written January 19, 1888, and is reprinted because of the permanency of the cure. Under date of April 22, 1910, Mr. Carpenter writes from his residence, 819 Walnut St., St. Louis, Mo.: 'I have never suffered a return of the psoriasis, and although many years have passed I have not forgotten the terrible suffering I endured before using the Cuticura Remedies. Since this cure was made by the Cuticura Remedies, they have made their way to every part of the civilized world. A 32-page booklet describing humors and the true use of this skin will be mailed free to those desiring further information by the Peetor Drug & Chemical Corporation, Boston, U. S. A.'

ALLEN ESCAPES DEATH PENALTY

MANSLAUGHTER FOUND
BY JURY LAST NIGHT

Prisoner Recalls Words of Patrick Henry, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death"

After a retirement of nine hours the jury returned to court at 9:30 o'clock last night and returned a verdict of manslaughter against Gunner Thomas Allen, who was on trial for the second time charged with the murder of Capt. Peter Elliston at Work Point barracks on August 1 last. Mr. Justice Murphy immediately remanded the prisoner for sentence till the end of the assizes.

"Allen took the verdict as stolidly as he has taken the other events of the trial at first, but gradually he seemed to realize he was not going to hang and, although he said he preferred death to imprisonment for life, a glimmer of hope passed over him and before the guards took him away he had become quite jolly.

"Isn't it funny," said the prisoner, leaning on the rail of the dock, "how these juries agree and disagree? It is about a hundred years to-night, June 6th, this is the anniversary of those words spoken by Patrick Henry, 'Give me liberty or give me death.' Oh, well, there may be a brush with the Japs yet and then perhaps they will let us all out."

"The man who will spend the rest of his life behind prison walls had several friends in court, and when the verdict was given he men went and shook him by the hand. 'Bully for you, Paddy,' said one, as he clasped the hand of the convicted prisoner. One man with a bearded face clung for several moments to Allen's hand and was visibly affected. Sheriff Richards passed the dock and Allen held out his hand, saying, 'Well, good-by, sir, and thank you. I won't be seeing you again.' Another man who had been an intent watcher of the proceedings through-out both trials hurried across the court room as soon as the judge had retired and with an exultant exclamation congratulated Allen on his new lease of life. Others, apparently actuated by sympathetic impulse, spoke to him wishing him good luck.

The court and gallery were cleared and while the crowd waited in the street below to see the prisoner brought from the court the provincial constables took him by the inside stairs out on the north side of the square and below to the waiting patrol wagon, which hurried him once again to the provincial jail on Hillside avenue.

The jury went out at 12:30 p. m. yesterday and sat on through the afternoon. The court adjourned at 8 o'clock until 9 p. m. The jury was taken to the Dominion hotel for dinner and returned to the court house for further deliberation. At 9 o'clock the judge was in attendance in his chambers and was notified that the jury had not reached an agreement. It was understood that the jurymen would be locked up all night if they failed to reach a verdict within fifteen minutes. At 9:15 the sheriff paid a second visit and on returning to the court room sent the guards below for the prisoner. Allen was placed in the dock, the jury filed into court and the judge took his seat to hear the verdict given.

When Allen came into court he sat

AFTER SUFFERING YEARS

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Fox Creek, N.B.—"I have always had pains in the loins and a weakness there, and often after my meals my food would distress me and cause soreness. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me much good. I am stronger, digestion better, and I can walk with ambition. I have encouraged many mothers of families to take it, as it is the best remedy in the world. You can publish this in the papers."—Mrs. WILLIAM BOUQUET, Fox Creek, N.B., Canada.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every such suffering woman owes it to herself to at least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

apparently, the most uninterested spectator of the proceedings. People in the gallery craned their necks to get a view of the man in the dock. Allen's counsel, C. F. Davie, leaned over the dock and spoke to him and the two laughed together for a few moments before the judge arrived.

After the verdict had been given Mr. Davie turned and spoke to Allen again, congratulating him on his escape from a murder verdict, and Allen thanked the lawyer for his unflinching efforts to defend him.

Mr. Davie, who has made one of the most remarkable legal fights in the history of British Columbia court history, was congratulated all round in the barristers' room of the court house after the court adjourned.

Allen was found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged for the crime now recorded against him as manslaughter. The first verdict was given at the last assizes. His case was given to the Court of Appeal on the ground that the preliminary hearing testimony of a witness, Corrigan, was admitted at the trial. The prosecution failed to produce Corrigan. Three Court of Appeal judges decided Allen should hang, but Mr. Justice Irving dissented, and on the dissenting voice Mr. Davie was able to take a further appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada, where there was a verdict by a majority of three to two for Allen.

During the time these appeals were proceeding there were several postponements of the execution, though at one time the scaffold was erected and the executioner was on his way.

It was learned this morning that nine of the jurors stood for a verdict of murder, two for manslaughter and one for acquittal on the ground of insanity. The two stood out against the capital verdict and at a late hour won the others over.

APARTMENT HOUSES BURNED.

Fire at Portland Causes Loss of $200,000.

Portland, Ore., June 7.—Fire last night originating in the Hanover, a fashionable apartment house, near the corner of King and Washington streets, destroyed that structure and also the Wayne and Weaver apartment houses. The total loss is in the neighborhood of $200,000.

The fire spread rapidly from the Hanover to the other buildings, which form a cluster at the junction of King and Wayne streets, and, despite the efforts of the firemen, soon the three big structures were a mass of flames. Other large apartments, including the King and the Stanley, two of the largest in the city, are within a few feet of the burned structures, and for a time it was feared these would also catch.

Nearly all the occupants of the three houses were away from their apartments, most of them witnessing the electric street parade, and so far as known, all those who were at home at the time the fire started escaped. But little furniture or other personal property was saved.

The firemen, seeing that the Hanover was doomed, turned their attention to the other structures, and managed to save them from entire destruction. The entire block is filled with big apartments, and all were heavily damaged by water. The fire started in the boiler room of the Hanover.

BANDITS EXECUTED.
Twenty-Eight Captured After Skirmish in Mexico Are Put to Death.

Tucson, Ariz., June 7.—Twenty-eight Magonistas (Mexican "liberals") who are opposed to Madero, were summarily executed on Saturday and Sunday in the Altar district, near Compaña and Altar, according to refugees who arrived from there. The district has been cleared of Magonistas, who are classed by the provisional government as bandits and further depredations are improbable.

STRIKE SITUATION UNCHANGED TO-DAY

Teamsters and Employers Still at Loggerheads—No Settlement in Sight

Matters are still in an uncertain state as regards the teamsters' strike. The men reaffirm their intention to stand fast and say they have about 50 men out now. While several transfer firms are either feeling inconvenience as a result of the tie-up or have been able to secure inexperienced drivers some of them are working their entire staff.

This is so in the case of the Pacific Transfer Co. in particular. The Grand Trunk Pacific Transfer Co. is working all its teams, according to a statement made to the Times. From the same source it was stated that W. Skillings, the local manager for the G. T. P. Transfer, is the man who is breaking the strike. Every team in his barn is at work. J. Heaney has about ten trucks working. The Victoria Truck and Dray Co. is rather badly crippled yet, as it has only some of its twenty-five wagons available.

PASSING SHOW

Crystal Theatre.
For Wednesday and Thursday there will be shown at the Crystal five films of first class pictures never before exhibited in any movie picture house in Victoria. A great tale of the tanbark entitled "A Circus Stowaway," with the Thanhouser Kid, little Marie Elaine in the leading role, is one gripping powerful story of circus adventure, with enough thrills and enough human interest to send it straight to the spectator's heart. It deals with a little boy who went to see the circus parade and was carried away with it—actually—not literally. When the lost lad found this to be the fact, he found, too, that it brought him troubles galore, but he was yanked out of them by a circus performer who proved one of nature's own noblemen.

"An Officer and a Gentleman," great military war picture. "Lieutenant Fielding's Sacrifice and Reward," a drama of the United States army. "A Package of Trouble," very good picture. "A Trip Through Christiania," scenic. "Just Kids," excellent Power's comedy.

Majestic Theatre.
An all feature programme has been selected for the midweek change headed by a big biograph picture entitled, "The Spanish Gypsy"—a love story with the scenes laid in the picturesque gypsy camps. Here is love, intense hate, jealousy and all the rest of it thrown with consummate understanding. But when the evil rears her rampant lover blind and helpless she forsakes her desire for vengeance and willingly sacrifices herself to ease for him through life. The picture represents sents what is best, as well as what is worst, in human nature.

Another big feature is "The Battle at Redwood"—a western drama, graphically portraying the attack of the Sioux Indians upon some white settlers. The thrills include an onset of Indians, a burning wagon train and other features typically western, and wild enough to suit almost anyone. "My Prairie Flower," is a lively story of a young college scapegrace who is sent west to make a man of him. It has a lot of comedy bits and hits. "His Friend 'The Burglar'" is a charming comic.

Romano Photoplay Theatre.
The first series of Winnipeg films were shown to crowded houses at every performance Monday and Tuesday at the Romano. Those who had the good fortune to see these pictures expressed their unstinted praise and admiration of the film. The second will be shown to-day, in addition to the regular programme, including "Western Canada's Annual Open Air Show—Opening ceremonies by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, 1910; panoramic view of Exhibition grounds; "The Midway," main thoroughfare through grounds; Winnipeg's big electrical show; international sweepstakes races; blooded carriage and draft horses; Canada's greatest cattle show; mammoth stock parade are hits.

Watch for the Seal

Particular people who want a particular flour can't help buying SEAL OF ALBERTA. Actually we wash every kernel of the wheat it is made from. It is cleaned by separators—that is done at most mills—then it is dry scoured, but even that isn't enough. So we actually wash it to remove any possibility of impurities from the grain. This cannot be done at the ordinary mill. It takes too much power. It is too great an expense. That is another reason why SEAL OF ALBERTA is a purer, better flour.

Now the wheat is washed in warm water. That enables us to bring it to the right temperature before milling, and the milling process can be carried along better with the wheat at a certain temperature. That's another reason why you should say "SEAL OF ALBERTA, PLEASE," when ordering flour.

heard in a new song to-day and tomorrow. The Romano Trio under Professor Turner will have a splendid selection of music for the pictures.

Allen Players.
The Allen Players repeated "The House of a Thousand Candles" last night to a somewhat larger audience than on Monday evening. Miss Felton, whose excellent work has already been referred to, is ably assisted by Charles Conners (Larry Donovan), Bert Hadley (Bates), Irving Kennedy (John Glenarm), Robert Evans (Dr. Stoddard), and the other members of that very capable stock company. Miss Ella Houghton as Gladys Armstrong is a charming little ingenue. The scenic setting of the play is elaborate and well carried out. Few stock companies attempt anything so ambitious in that way. The theatre is engaged for the next two days, but the Allen Players will gain be seen on Friday and Saturday in "Merely Mary Ann," that delightful comedy in which Eleanor Robson has made such a success.

New Grand Theatre.
The Barnard mannikins at the Grand are proving to be the greatest attraction in amusements the Victoria public has had the benefit of seeing on the Grand-Empress stage, as indicated by the capacity houses again last night and by the tumultuous laughter and continued hand-clapping that were given the proprietors of the act as they came forward at the close of the performance in evening dress to the front of the stage. This was the only time the real performers were seen, but there are a host of adle little people on the stage who enliven things and delight the onlooker with their pranks all the time.

Pearl Young, the celebrated soprano soloist from the Sousa band, sang in fine voice again last night and was given an ovation for her piano playing and rendering of the happy rag-time melodies. As she sings it, "Trax" seems different for she has the gift of expression.

George and Marie Wilson open the show with Ye Colonial Duo, presenting a colonial garden of music. Bliss and Press are a dancing team with great execution, and Cecile Whitman with Paul Case and Gordon Walton in "Fresh From College" are seen in a well-acted play.

TO REGULATE MILK TRAFFIC.
Vancouver, June 6.—The necessity of keeping up the standard of the milk kept on sale in the city was taken up by the health committee, and it was resolved that Medical Health Officer Underhill should take up the matter with City Solicitor Ray, in an endeavor to effect some means to control the licensing of milk dealers.

EMBROIDERED Voile de Soie and Lace Gowns of Original Design

BY MRS. A. T. ASHMORE.

EMBROIDERY and lace always appeal irresistibly to the well regulated feminine mind, and the woman who is not interested in them really cares little for the great subject of dress—in fact, she seems scarcely normal, for from earliest time women of refined taste and instinct have interested themselves in all work of this description.

There is scarcely if ever a season when lace and embroidery can be said to be "out of fashion," but there are seasons when less is used than at the present moment, when the simplest of gowns is embellished with some embroidery or lace and all sorts and descriptions of both are exhibited in all too tempting variety. Man, more man, may not be sufficiently educated to realize the virtues of a bit of real lace or fine embroidery, but when novelists pay sufficient attention to them to mention them in describing the "true" gentleness, whose shabby dress is brightened by the touch of old lace," &c., it can be realized that there is something of importance in the possession of such belongings.

Voile de Soie and Lace Gown.

There is a far greater quantity of lace used in modern dress than has been the case for many years, and veritable

Old family lace is, however, not such an enviable possession as it is often considered, and the up to date woman contends that, while she adores old lace, she can often get better results from the most modern designs and in the imitation rather than the real when the gown is to be made entirely, or in greater part, of lace. The new laces are exquisite in pattern and texture, whether in the all-over, boucree, band or tunic. Often there is embroidery worked over the lace—heavy silk embroidery in colors, gold or silver, or in pearls and rhinestones. This seems too much to the conservative taste, when the lace itself is so exquisite in pattern, but this is an age of over-elaboration, and what might at other times seem too heavy and too elaborate now looks only simple and effective.

Lace is combined with many materials. Satin, silk, crepe de Chine and brocade—all are utilized as foundation, while cloth of gold and cloth of silver must not be excluded from the list. All white or color for the foundation is decided by individual taste. This prevents monotonous and is one reason why the fashions this season are so varied and striking. Lace and brocade are most charming together, and brocade as a material is so extremely smart at present that there is every color to choose from. A dainty and attractive gown of pink and white satin brocade—deep rose pink—has an overdress or tunic of fine white lace. Extremely simple, the detail of this gown is perfect, while the trimming of tiny ribbon roses is most novel and effective.

In contrast to the scant and severe lines of the plain satin and silk gowns. Picot-trimmed and dainty are adjectives that are in striking contrast. A spray of deep best describe this type of gown, while pink roses on the skirt and a smaller spray of the satin belt and long satin ribbons and of lighter pink roses at the left shoulder are an added finish. The satin train is placed high at the back in rather a Watteau style, and while it forms the back of the skirt it can be made quite separate and the gown is finished without it. This is on the order of the court train, which is often utilized by English girls after their presentation at court to make an additional ball gown; the gown itself, as in this model, is at complete. Any color satin can be chosen; all white is also charming, and skirt finished with silk ball fringe, and look far better made up over a silk or satin slip, and then if the foot of the skirt is shabby only a small amount of the material itself is required for the broad folds or bands that are so fashionable. The high waisted styles popular now require a broad inside belt of heavy webbing or belting. This, if a woman is at all short, should be well boned and and more fashionable and the newest and smartest models display this style in all materials. Evening gowns and the more elaborate summer afternoon gowns show this fashion in linings and trimmings.

Practical Fashion Suggestions For Limited Incomes.

THE all too popular satin will soon have to be discarded for cooler material, better suited for summer weather, but no woman who has become initiated into the comfort of a silk or satin costume is content without something on the same order to take its place. Crepe de Chine and pongee are far cooler materials than satin or taffeta-silk, and the same models are equally effective in these fabrics. A coat and skirt costume is so practical that gradually all materials are coming into favor made in this style, while the accurate waist makes possible an endless variety without materially increasing the cost.

All wash materials are so worn this summer, and the mercedized cottons are wonderfully effective. There is the chance that after laundering the silky appearance will be lost, but if a dark color or figured design is chosen the gown will not require constant laundering, or even dry cleaning, any more than does a foulard. Cotton voile, cotton crepe both are excellent materials, inexpensive and effective, and there is scarcely a model shown for any kind of dress that will not do for these cheap materials.

The silk or satin foundation of an evening gown that has lost too much of its freshness to be worn as an evening gown makes possible many charming

IRELAND'S TROUBLES TAKE NEW FORM

Political Party Embarrassed by State Payment of Members of Commons

Lloyd-George's announcement in the English Parliament that hereafter members of Parliament are to draw a salary of $2,000 has created a very real difficulty for the Irish party, and so far no solution has been found. When the payment of members by the state was first proposed it was thought that the figure would be fixed at about $1,000 a year, which is the rate at which the Irish party now pays its members from its private funds. Under those circumstances a self-denying ordinance to the effect that Irish Nationalists should spurn the Saxon gold would have been an easy one to enforce. Now matters are complicated and while I believe I am right in saying that a majority of the members of the party are in favor of refusing to take the money and continuing as at present to exist on money collected in Ireland, America and the British colonies, yet I think I am also right in stating that there is a strong minority that does not see it this way.

In making this statement I am not accusing these men of mercenary motives. There may be a few of them who would like the money, but most of them I think do not see why the money heretofore collected for the maintenance of members of parliament should not be used in other ways for the advancement of the National cause and some of them have even proposed that every Irish member should turn over half his official salary to the party funds. So far no official decision has been arrived at and none will be taken until the matter is discussed fully at a meeting of the party.

There is another feature about the payment of members which is of vital interest to Ireland. Until now the discipline of the Irish party has been the admiration of politicians all the world over. This discipline has been obtained largely from the fact that the leaders of the party held the purse strings, and that revolt against their leadership meant being struck off the payroll. Now this was a serious matter to a poor man who had been elected to parliament. By sinking his convictions in what might be a minor matter he was enabled to remain in parliament and do good work for his constituents. In future he need not yield in the slightest degree. The state will pay his salary regularly no matter how he votes. The new arrangement will also make independent candidates much easier and more frequent. Of recent years elections seldom have been contested in Ireland, outside of the northern half of Ulster, because rich men didn't care to spend their money on a forlorn hope, and poor men who might have won on their personal popularity could not afford to go to parliament unless they toed the party line. This obstacle of course, is removed now and anyone who can get himself elected can attend, secure in the knowledge that he is drawing $2,000 a year.

I understand that some of the party managers are rather worried about this feature of the situation, but while it will make their position more difficult I don't think it will be at all a bad thing for the country. I have heard the complaint frequently during the last five or six years that the Irish people are losing their interest in politics and I know that it is well founded, but I believe the reason is that they have heard hardly anything about politics. When election time came round the party nominated its man and as there was no opposition the voters didn't even have a chance to cast their ballots. It would be strange, indeed if the people could work up much interest in politics under such conditions. There is nothing like a lovely contested election to boom political discussion, and it looks as if we were in for some lively contests in Ireland after this. Staff Correspondent Montreal Herald.

DRINK BILL OF UNITED STATES

Six Million Dollars Spent Every Day in America for Stimulants

Some sour-visaged people are finding fault because we are spending $1,000,000 a day for motor cars. In the vernacular of the closeted economists they call it "wasteful consumption." But what's a million a day for travel, sunshine and fresh air when we have been digging into our pockets for years at the rate of several millions a day for tobacco and alcohol? Here, surely, is "wasteful consumption," and we have been an amazingly prosperous country in spite of it.

This is no temperance lecture, not even an economic discussion of misdirected human effort—but just the cold figures of our $6,000,000-a-day bill for the cup that cheers and the weed that soothes. Two billion dollars a year for stimulants is something to think about—for this is two-thirds of all the money in the country.

This huge sum does not include the hundreds of millions of dollars raised for the state out of the smokers and drinkers. The buyer of a 10-cent cigar or a 5-cent glass of beer does not stop to think that he is contributing to the pay of the soldiers and sailors, to the education of children, and a multitude of other state expenses. The national government gets upwards of $250,000,000 a year from the stimulant-takers, a third of the government revenue, while the states get many millions more from excise licenses.

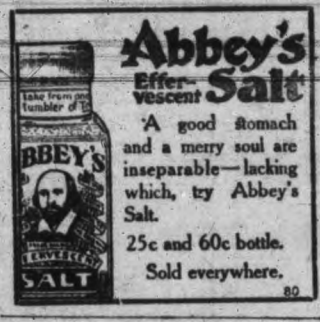

Our consumption of tobacco and alcohol has increased with our national prosperity. Our tobacco consumption is now 5 1/2 pounds per capita, or as much as that of England and Germany together. We are more temperate in the use of strong drink than we were years ago, for heavy drinking isn't as fashionable as it was once. Where we consumed in the ante-bellum days 2 1/2 gallons per capita, we now get along with 1 1/2, and there has been no increase in the consumption for some years. But we have become great beer drinkers. Six quarts of beer a head was all we drank 60 years ago; the consumption rose to seven gallons 20 years later, and now it is above 20 gallons. That is, we drink five times as much as we did 60 years ago, but milder liquor.

We drink in a year 60,000,000 barrels of beer, 60,000,000 gallons of wine and 80,000,000 gallons of spirits. We smoke 7,000,000,000 cigars and 8,000,000,000 cigarettes, and we use 450,000,000 pounds of smoking and chewing tobacco. The government statisticians figure that these stimulants have a manufactured value of about $800,000,000—but this is a small figure compared with what the consumers pay for the goods over the counter.

The 60,000,000 barrels of beer, for example, are inventoried at $5 a barrel, but it's a poor bartender who can't sell $18 worth of beer out of a barrel, so the country's beer bill is around a billion dollars. A dollar a gallon is all the government allows for whisky—seven times this is a conservative estimate of what the customer pays; here is half a billion dollars for strong drink. The wine bill is only $200,000,000. So here we have 2,000,000,000 spent for drink. Stimulants in the tobacco trade, the government estimates the output of cigars and cigarettes at $240,000,000, and of smoking and chewing tobacco at $140,000,000—$380,000,000 in all. Put a comparison of manufacturing and retail prices shows that the smoker pays close to $700,000,000 of his tobacco.

This brings the smoke-and-drink bill up to $2,400,000,000 a year. Deducing the national and state taxes, there is a round $2,000,000,000 left. If we translate this into labor, it represents a billion days' work, or the year's labor of 3,000,000 American workmen.

Perhaps our million a day for autos has represented in part too abrupt a diversion of capital. Nor does one excuse the extravagance excuse another. But—the

AVIATOR'S FEAT.

Portland, Ore., June 7.—Portlanders for the first time yesterday, from the city's streets, saw an aeroplane cross over the main part of the town, over the high foothills to the rear of the city, and coming back, hover for ten minutes over its tall-set skyscrapers. Eugene Ely, while giving an exhibition at the country club track, was seemingly seized with a sudden impulse to do something not on the bill, and without notice sailed off to the westward, disappearing in the direction of the city, five miles away.

THREE INJURED.

Seattle, Wash., June 7.—To save his car, which was travelling at a high rate of speed, from certain destruction and his passengers from injury, Driver Jensen, of the city fire department, dashed his auto upon the sidewalk at First Avenue and Madison street, badly injuring Hiram Holman, 71 years old, and Mrs. E. C. Corwin. Holman was thrown 15 feet. He is in the hospital in a dangerous condition. The fire truck was answering an alarm. At First and Madison streets Driver Jensen faced the alternative of colliding with a crowded street car or mounting the sidewalk. He decided on the latter.

BOY PIRATES CAPTURED.

Shoot Owner of Vessel Before They Are Arrested by Police.

Copenhagen, Germany, June 7.—Two youths who had carefully prepared an exhibition of piracy seized a fishing schooner here yesterday. They were armed with rifles and plentifully supplied with ammunition and when the owner of the vessel attempted to recover his boat they shot him dead. Several other vessels in the harbor attempted to capture the schooner, but they were stood off by the "pirates" until the arrival of a force of police in a government steamer when the young men were overpowered.

ARCTIC BROTHERHOOD.

Stewart, June 6.—E. F. Miller and Harry Bryce, of Kitchikan, have organized a camp on the International boundary line at the head of Portland canal, to be known as International Camp No. 29 Arctic Brotherhood.

Jack McAdam, who was in the party of prospectors that returned from the Naas, issues a note of warning to those attempting to cross the glacier at the present time. He states that travelling is now more dangerous than it has been at any previous time this season, on account of the fact that the snow is melting on the fissures between Bitter Creek and Nelson Creek.

SECOND TAIPING REBELLION FAILED

Downfall of Modern Revolution Results From Modern War Methods

Although reports from the south are neither quite clear nor quite consistent, their general consensus seems to prove beyond cavil that there has been an attempt at insurrection, and that it has been suppressed. One of our special telegrams, says the Shanghai Mercury, informed us that the Viceroy had been warned by a revolutionary that Dr. Sun Yat-Sen himself was in Canton, and that it was intended to blow up the Yamen. That gentleman has long been known to foreigners under this name, though to the authorities he is usually known as Sun Wen. He is a native of the Canton province, having been born at Hsiang-Shan in the year 1866, and is thus in the very prime of life, unless his restless career has prematurely aged him. For Dr. Sun has had a somewhat adventurous existence. When about 13 years of age he was taken by his mother to the Sandwich Islands, where he went to school and college in Honolulu. Later on he returned to Hong Kong, and for a while was a student in Queen's College. Still later, after a second visit to Honolulu, he returned to Canton where he took up the study of medicine, dividing his time for some five years between Canton and Hong Kong. It was soon after this that his political escapades began. In all probability the studies in which he had taken part in Hawaii had fired his imagination, and with the hatred of Manchu rule innate in so many of the Cantonese, he was ready for anything which promised, in ever so shadowy a way, the overturning of the hated dynasty. Becoming known in this connection, he must have felt himself lucky to escape the arrest which threatened him, and for awhile he found safety in America. During part of 1890 he was in London, and it was then that he was enticed into the Chinese Legation there and rigorously confined. Great was the excitement. A legation is national territory, and so it was that 49 Portland Place, though within the heart of London, was an integral portion, for diplomatic purposes, of the Chinese Empire. But though the Chinese minister might perhaps have had Sun executed within the precincts without fear of serious objection, there was one little point connected with the case which gave the British authorities ground for inter-ference.

Sun had been involved, perhaps kidnapped more or less, from the streets of London, which is distinctly British territory. Consequently friendly representations were made, a little pressure applied, and with much tact Sir Halliday Macartney and Lord Salisbury arranged matters, and the prisoner was freed. Since then he has lived in various countries, always with a price on his head, his name figuring every now and then in the papers in connection either with some suggested attempt at revolution, or some effort by the Chinese authorities for his capture.

His present effort—supposing him to have been present in Canton—seems but to show how different the position of the Chinese government is now from what it was when Hsun Shu Tsuen successfully inaugurated the Taiping rebellion with no weapons more formidable than a few rusty weapons and possibly a few ginsangs. No bombs, no repeating rifles, no revolvers; not even such tactical trickery as a foreign disguise with which to get right into the heart of the Canton city, and the yamen of its viceroys. It would seem as if there have been at least two other sporadic attempts to light the torch of rebellion besides the first attack on the viceroys. But apparently all alike have been futile. The revolution has fallen flat. Its prime movers have either been killed, taken, or dispersed, and strict search is being made for those who have escaped, short shrift being their portion if discovered. Only one telegram from the Universal Gazette speaks of the "ammunition department" having been robbed by the revolutionists, which in all probability refers to the looting of some small and unimportant armory. Had it been of graver consequence we should have heard more of it.

China, then, may be congratulated on the failure of those who have inaugurated, if they could, a second Taiping rebellion with all its losses, its destruction and its horrors. We have no sympathy with efforts of this sort. The Chinese government is not perfect by any means. But it cannot be improved by bombs, and it is doing its very best to move with the times. Were it not so, Dr. Sun might have a better hold on men's sympathy. But as things are, the world will be pleased to see the business-like manner in which overt acts of rebellion are now suppressed. That is the result of modern improvements, of telegraphs, modern arms, modern drill and better education. Time was when Dr. Sun might have counted on some foreign sympathy, but that day is gone for ever, and the sooner he recognizes it the better.

ACCOMPANIES WIFE TO COURT.

Woman Placed on Trial Charged With Administering Poison to Husband.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 7.—Mrs. Minnie Strosacker was placed on trial yesterday charged with administering poison to her husband, Geo. A. Strosacker. After a long illness Strosacker recovered from the effects of the poison. Yesterday he appeared in court with his wife saying: "I shall stand by my wife as long as I have a drop of blood left in my body." Strosacker became ill last January, after eating his noon-day meal. Physicians found strychnine in the food and Mrs. Strosacker was arrested.

BY-LAW DRAWN FOR ROSS BAY SEA WALL

Necessary Protection Will Be Given This Year and Work Completed Next

That the city of Victoria intends to go ahead with the work of constructing a protecting sea wall at Ross Bay cemetery would appear to be confirmed by the fact the city solicitor is at present engaged in drawing up the necessary by-law for the project, to be placed before the people. That the authorization for the wall will pass is a foregone conclusion, as it is generally known that the need of such a wall is urgent. The sum proposed to be raised under the by-law to cover the cost of construction is $160,000.

While calling for that amount, however, it is not proposed to put it all in operation this year as the season is already too far advanced to permit of the work being satisfactorily completed even if a start was made. Provision will be made whereby it will be possible for a sufficient sum to be spent this year on protecting the weakest places around the cemetery in order to prevent a recurrence of the ravaging scenes caused by the winter gales, and next year the whole work will be completed. The sum set aside for the work this year, in the event of the by-law passing the people is $60,000.

WILL APPOINT ENGINEER TO-NIGHT

Special Meeting Called for Purpose—Mr. Meredith is Favorite for Post

The special meeting of the city council of Victoria called for the purpose of finally arranging about the appointment of an engineer for the Sooke lake waterworks project, which the city has had under consideration for some considerable time, will be held this evening.

It may be remembered that in connection with the work Mr. Meredith, the engineer for the B. C. Electric company's Jordan river works, was approached with a view to obtaining some data for the mayor and aldermen to work upon, and while that step does not necessarily entail his appointment to the engineering for the Sooke lake proposition, there can be little doubt that it goes a long way in that direction.

The customary Monday night meeting was postponed so that the aldermen would have a sufficient time to consider all the considerations and be in a position to make and ratify the appointment to-night.

NEW RELIGIONS PLANTED IN CANADA

Analysis of Trend and Success in Introduction of New Cults

(From Montreal Herald.)

Some enthusiastic preachers of the Christian evangel—in its Protestant forms—in this good city of Montreal have recently taken alarm at the presence in our midst of certain propagandists and high dignitaries of new religions, or of religions which at any rate have hitherto exercised little or no influence on the practical life of Canadians. It is reported that numerous Montrealers are in the way of becoming sun-worshippers, and the term appears to many minds to connote an intimate relation with the scantily-clad tribes of the hills of India or the hinterlands of Zanzibar.

Some of our older-established religious leaders are anxious to go forth and confront them as Saint Paul confronted the Ephesians.

Up to a certain point, one is inclined to sympathize with the ministers of the gospel who desire to carry the religious war into Africa. The mania for new religions is one of the most distressing things about our era and particularly our North American continent. It does not make it less distressing that it is largely the result of a more widespread habit of thought, more extensive reading, a more general if a vastly more superficial diffusion of learning. But these are not good days for theological argumentation, and forensic disputing—as, for example, in the present Workman case—does not often tend to edification. That which makes men and women to-day so readily cast away the traditions and practices of their fathers is not a feeling that they cannot be defended by argument, but rather that they are not in this present age productive of the best results.

The man who goes out to do battle with the sun-worshippers will almost certainly find that the things which are enabling them to lay hold upon a certain number of followers who ought to be in the orthodox fold are truths—distorted possibly, but perhaps the more striking for that—which he could find in his own religion and bring to the front. If they were not overlaid by other truths which were of great value in the seventeenth century but are considerably less applicable at

COSTLY MASONIC TEMPLE.

Washington, D. C., Breaks Ground for New Temple of Ionic Order.

Ground was recently broken on the site of the new Masonic temple which is to be erected in Washington, D. C., at a cost of $1,250,000, which will be a building of the Ionic order of the early Greek period. Although the exercises in connection with the breaking of the ground will be very simple and informal, at the laying of the corner stone in October next, during the session of the supreme council, they will be of the most imposing nature, the president of the United States having promised to officiate.

Elliott Woods, superintendent of the United States Capitol, and John Pope of New York city, the architects of the proposed new building, have spared no pains to make it one of the most beautiful Masonic temples in the world. In the execution of the work every available means will be used, both in the employment of assistance and material, to carry out these high ideals which have been approved by the sovereign grand commanded and the supreme council. The lower story is to be of granite. The main floor, immediately above the basement, will contain 33 rooms, typifying the 33 degrees of Masonry, and intended also for the use of the sovereign inspector-generals, of which there are 32. The administration offices will be on the second floor. The third story will be given up entirely to the grand hall or cathedral, a chamber 75 feet square and 75 feet high, surmounted by a lofty dome. It is the intention to make this chamber the most imposing decoratively and architecturally so far known.

The work is being carried out under the authority and direction of Sovereign

Grand Commander James D. Richardson, who has been given the utmost freedom in the selection of designs, material and necessary assistance.
