Clean-Up Week

Proclamation

Residents of Mason have much to be proud of in this, our centennial year. One way we can show our pride for ourselves and for others is to clean up and fix up our property.

As mayor of Mason I hereby proclaim April 25 to May 1 as Fix Up and Clean-Up week.

Let's all work together to make Mason shine. Let's show our visitors what a clean, progressive and prosperous city we have.

Council Re-elects Pearsall As Mayor

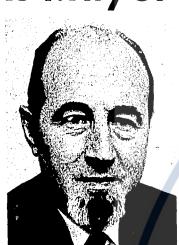

Mason councilmen again picked Gilson R. Pearsall for another one-year term as mayor Monday night. It will be the third year at the city helm for Pearsall.

Councilmen elected Richard Morris as mayor pro tem.

Monday night was hearts and flowers night for the old council. Plaudits were handed out to Councilmen Russell Bement and Glen Coon before the old council adjourned sine die.

Bement and Coon responded by praising city department heads and fellow councilmen for cooperation and devotion to duty.

After the old council adjourned. City Attorney Lloyd Morris administered the oath of office to incumbent Pearsall and Vaughn Snook and John Hamlin, newly elected councilmen,

Mayor Pearsall told the councilmen he would have committee posts assigned before the next

Tie the Dog

Police Chief Tim Stolz-had a word of warning for dog owners Monday. He is going to make a drive with his department on stray dogs. The Mason dog ordinance makes it mandatory to confine dogs 12 months a year. He pointed out that this time of year dog owners seem to have a penchant for turning the animals loose.

Easter Egg Hunt

An Easter egg hunt has been arranged by the Mason Junior Chamber of Commerce for Saturday at 1 p.m. in the parking lot at the fair grounds. More than 25 dozen eggs will be hidden throughout the area for the children to find. Prizes will be awarded to winners in 3 age groups - 3 to 5 years, 6 to 9 and 10 to 13.

The meetings will be conducted nightly at 7:30 at Mason Baptist church, E. Columbia street, and will help celebrate 100 years of religious worship in the Mason area.

Featured speaker of these "Living Water" meetings will be Rev. Wade B. Jakeway of Pasadena, California, Rev. Jakeway is a song writer, chalk artist, world traveler and speaker. He has written some 2,000 songs and will write a song in 10 minutes and sing it for the congregation from a themethey have given him. Also to be featured at these meetings will be Rev. Frederick Raft, pastor of Aurelius Baptist church, who will sing old fashioned hymns of the church with a union choir providing the background. Rev. Raft has re-

Rainsberger is a life-longresident of Ingham county, and received his education at Acme Business college and Michigan State university as an accountant. He has been self-employed since 1952 as a business consultant and tax accountant.

Bradshaw has been a resident of Ingham county since 1946, and has been a member of the Lansing city council since 1952, serving twice as mayor pro tem of the council. He is a member of numerous boards of Directors including: Ingham Medical hospital, Lincoln Community Center, Lansing Convention Bureau and the Ingham board of supervisors.

There are four additional members provided by statute. They are County Treasurer Harry Spenny, the chairman of the ways and means committee of the board of supervisors of the county, Intermediate School District Superintendent Alton Stroud and a member chosen by the county's largest school board.

The purpose of this tax allocation commission is to provide limits on the rate of taxation on property, and to provide 1 hit 63 inches.

Dutch Elm Disease is Costly

Dutch Elm disease is costly in more ways than just losing the county's stately elms. It costs money, too.

In reporting to the board of supervisors Tuesday Road Engineer Frank Evans listed the cost of removing 51,000 dead trees from road rights-of-way at $66,000. Some townships are participating in sharing the cost of removing trees on local roads. The program will be continued until all dead trees are removed, he said.

He also pointed out another major expenditure which reflects this year's hard winter. Snow removal this winter has run 3 times that of last year, a relative light winter. So far keeping county roads open has cost $78,000 compared to $27,000 in Chief Tim Stolz of the Ma- police in his training program for King. The state police have several German Shepherds stationed at various posts about the state and have found them of great assistance.

German Shepherds are intelligent and train well. The breed originated in northern Europe at an uncertain date. So helpful have they been in police work that they have often been known as police dogs.

The German Shepherd varies in color from white through all shades and mixtures to black but with wolf coloring, tan, mixed brown, brindle and black predominating. Their height is about 22 to 24 inches.

PLAY BALL! Harold Ware displays his famous batting stance behind the Ware's drug store camera counter this week. He is warming up for the Mason centennial outing to see the Detroit Tigers play May 29. Harold's eye is on the ball, but in his heart he was thinking about the hardball falling through the glass display counter under the stuffed tigers. Harold plans to be one of an estimated 140 who are buying tickets for the trip. Tickets are on sale at Bob Jones Paint and at The Ingham County News. The $6.50 ticket includes round trip fare from Mason to Detroit on the bus and a good reserved seat at the stadium. Jones said those who expect to crowd into the buses ought to buy their tickets this week.

Storm Claims 3 Former Residents

Sunday night's death-dealing series of tornadoes which cut wide swathes through southern Michigan dealt a tragic blow to a former Mason family.

Robert Robson, for 16 years an employe at Kean's store in Mason, is in a Coldwater hospital in critical condition. His wife, Frances, and Kip, 12, and Brad, 16, were killed.

The Robsons had been visiting his parents in Hartford City, Indiana. They were returning to their home in Flint where Robson manages a variety store, Near Coldwater they saw the tornado approaching. Robson pulled off the side of the road and the family took shelter in a ditch. The storm hit, picking up all 4 and hurtling them through the air. The wife and 2 boys were carried 6 miles by the storm and were killed. Robson, pulverized and with one leg pulled from the hip socket, was thrown to the ground a great distance away. There would have been no safety in the car. The 2weeks old auto was demolished. The Robsons left Mason 6 years

Grass Fire Time

Fire Chief Hugh Silsby has a word of caution for homeowners. This is the grass fire season and many of the fires are started by trash fires which get out of hand. Tickets will be given to those who burn trash and leaves on the open ground, he warned. All burning must be done in covered containers. Police Chief Tim Stolz also issued a warning. Unsightly trash collection areas are covered in the city nuisance ordinance and he has instructed officers to enforce the ordinance.

ago. They formerly lived in an apartment on West Columbia and then moved to 418 West Ash, Funeral services for Mrs. Robson and the boys are set for Hartford City on Friday at 3:30.

Mason Girl Escapes Storm

A Mason high school girl also had a brush with the same storm which took the lives of 3 members of the Robson family. Christine Fry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fry had spent the week end visiting Joanne Eastman, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Murl Eastman, at Taylor university at Upland, Indiana.

She called her parents at 6 o'clock Sunday night from Huntington, Indiana, to report that she was on her way home.

When she didn't arrive the Frys called Rev. Eastman. Communications with Upland were out. When no word was received Rev. Eastman and the Frys started out for Indiana, checking police and sheriff's offices on the way.

The Mason senior wasn't located. Around noon she showed up in Mason with a harrowing tale. She missed the first twister that his the Coldwater area but the roads were all blocked so she tried to drive around the storm area.

At 9:30 she pulled the car off the road and sought refuge with a family of 6 in the basement of their home.

AUSTIN CAVANAUGH, Bunker Hill township supervisor and farmer, will head the Ingham board of supervisors for a year. He was elected Tuesday. Supervisor Paul Richards of Mason, former mayor and councilman, was selected as chairman pro tem.

They'll Treat Bosses

Annual Bosses' Night will be observed by the Mason Junior Chamber of Commerce next Monday at Turney's restaurant. The purpose of the gathering is to acquaint the Jaycee bosses with the organization. Judge Sam Street Hughes of the Ingham circuit court and himself a former Jaycee, will discuss civic responsibility.

No Surfing

Sidewalk surfers can't dotheir surfing in city streets. That's the warning issued by Police Chief Tim Stolz. He pointed out that the current craze of coasting down hill on city streets with skate boards is taboo. Officers have been instructed to pick up Mason youngsters practicing the surfing art in roadways.

Council OK's Lighting Plan

Mason councilmen approved a resolution Monday night which will allow the state highway commission to go ahead with a street lighting plan for the South street and Columbia street overpass.

In the resolution the council agreed to purchase the electrical energy and provide the maintenance for the lights. The state highway department will foot the bill for the original cost of installation. A similar arrangement will be worked out for lighting the interchanges at Kipp road and Cedar street. On these interchanges there will also be township participation from Vevay and Alaie-

Aurelius Garden Club Plans Ahead for August Flower Show

Aurelius Garden club met Friday evening, April 9, at Aurelius Town hall, with an attendance of 16. Vice-president Mrs. Wesley Clark led the meeting in the absence of the president.

Guy Hudson reported Columbia Creek park had been under water again but no damage was done. He also announced the Flowering Crab trees will probably arrive the first of the week.

Flower show schedules will be ready for the May meeting. However, the group was given a briefing just to spark some interest ahead of time. Three women will share the honors of general chairmanship of the show this year, Mrs. Lawrence Dolbee, Mrs. Lynn Haynes and Mrs. Merton Collins. Mrs. Wesley Clark will be chairman of the junior division. Since the date will be Friday, August 13, they chose "This is My Lucky Day" as the theme of the show.

Horticulture chairman, Mrs. Guy Hudson, gave a few seasonal pointers. Now is the time to start tuberous begonias indoors. Also caladiums in the same way. Put your perennials in the ground as soon as possible.

A group discussion was held on purchasing and planting shrubs and perennials, with questions and answers by different members. Plant your Flowering Crab with bone meal and barnyard fertilizer in the hole you have dug with some dirt thrown in

New Belle Group Formed

The first meeting to form a chapter of the Centennial Belles in Aurelius was held at the home of Mrs. Wilson Droscha recently. The proposed name of the new group is the Aurelius Belles.

Persons elected to serve as officers were Mrs. Wilson Droscha, president; Mrs. Charles Merindorf, vice-president; Mrs. Donald Scutt, secretary; Mrs. Paul Rowe, treasurer; Mrs. Jim Hills, sheriff and the 3 persons chosen as main stay, Mrs. Cecil Rosebury, Mrs. Melvin Swanson and Mrs. Claude Slusser.

The next meeting is planned for Thursday, April 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Merindorf of Aurelius. Every one is asked to take an article for a white elephant sale.

Hot Shower For Wrinkles

a month, my husband takes a business trip, and I travel along with him for company.

One of the first things I do when we arrive at our destination is to turn on the hot shower tap, get the bathroom good and steamy, and then hang up my dresses on the shower rack to shake out.

The crease resistant and drip dry ones respond especially quickly - almost as though I had ironed them.

On The Move

On the subject of steaming clothes in the bathroom, it is also a fine idea for freshening up the general appearance of a velvet dress, but to really bring up the nap on the stubborn places, we have to work a little

One way is to stand the iron on its end, and cover it snugly with a damp cloth. Run the wrong side of the fabric against the covered iron. See the change?

DEAR SUSANNA: Friends invited us to spend a few days with them at their lodge in the mountains.

Each evening our hostess placed deep blue and ruby red hurricane lamps on the dinner table - we were feeling quite like pioneers. As you know, the wick is rather hard to get at and unless a taper is used for lighting them, burned fingers often result. Our friend used a different and rather ingenious

It was a straight piece of medium stiff wire with a small curlicue at the end into which

DEAR SUSANNA: For outdoor drying of nylons, I snap a clothes peg onto the bottom of each stocking. This keeps them from blowing over the line—unless, of course, Hurricane Hazel is in the vicinity!

Often at night however, or on weekends, I find it necessary to dry nylons indoors. Rather than clutter up the bathroom, I pull the shower curtain in place, use my prettiest plastic clothes pins and fasten the stockings on the inside of the curtain between the hooks. The drip runs down into the tub and all one sees, if anything, is the top of the pegs.

Might add, though, that it is almost necessary to stand right in the tub or shower stall to snap the clothes pins in place on the other side of the curtain. So who cares? It's shower time anyway! But do use a rubber mat so you won't slip, and always hang your stockings by the

Powder That Stain

DEAR SUSANNA: Here is a truly marvelous method for removing grease spots from clothing and material.

Immediately, blot the spot with absorbent tissue. Then sprinkle on, and rub in, corn starch or fine talcum powder. Allow this to remain on overnight. The following day, brush off the powder.

This even works when a grease spot remains after washing and ironing. Sprinkle on the powder, rub in and put the garment away as usual. When the garment is taken out to be worn, briskly brush off the powder, and the grease spot will be gone. The powder absorbs the grease.

By Elmer E. White UNDERSTANDING NEEDED Public awareness must improve substantially if needs of higher education in Michigan are to be met in years ahead, according to members of the new State Board of Education.

Agreement on this point is voiced by Gov. George Romney and many state legislators. The Governor says the burden of arousing public awareness falls on the educators themselves.

Romney said educators must conduct the "doggonedest education campaign the people have seen or there has to be a crisis before the people will act" to support higher expenditures for schools.

Population studies show more than 50 per cent of Michigan's people will be under 25 years old by 1970.

Many of these individuals will want to study in Michigan's public and private colleges. Others will need job training of a subprofessional nature.

Faced with the already crowded conditions at many statesupported institutions, the new Board of Education wants to determine if and how a master plan fits into the higher education picture.

To individuals, the cost of higher education usually means the total expense of tuition, books and living expenses over at least a four year period.

"I don't really believe the people of Michigan realize the full extent of the problem facing them and the need for money," says Board member Peter Oppewall, Grand Rapids. "If we can't support education properly in times of prosperity, what will we do if there is a slight depression?"

would be keen competition for seasonal workers and that the areas offering the most sidebenefits would get the help. Michigan is one of several states in which almost no regulatory legislation exists which might provide an attraction.

Private and federal funds available to this new group, Michigan Migrant Opportunity Inc., might considerably alleviate the problem of labor recruitment in key areas.

An estimated 75,000 workers are hired in the state annually to help plant, care for and harvest crops.

The new organization plans to establish offices in four areas where the bulk of the workers are used and to provide services such as education for school-age children, day care centers for youngsters, counseling for adults and recreation programs.

SIGNS OF TIMES

Supporters of a universal traffic sign language may soon be one step closer to this goal. An experimental traffic sign of the type which is standard in Europe has been in use in Lansing for over a year. It is designed to warn motorists that they are going the wrong way on a one-way street.

Bearing a large red bullseye with a white bar across its center, the square sign carries the legend "Do Not Enter." The European version of the sign bears no legend because of the many language differences.

First sign of this type was installed at a Lansing intersection in the summer of 1963. Since then, similar signs have been placed at several other crossings in the Capital City's one-way street system.

The sign is hung over the intersections facing away from the normal traffic flow and is enclosed in an illuminated box to be effective at night when the possibility of driving the wrong way is highest.

Highway officials said the Lansing installations were the first of this kind in the nation, Current plans call for expanded use at other intersections throughout the state if its deterrent effect can be proven effective. In Europe, traffic signs are

Library Receives

The Hall Memorial library has just received a donation of some 60 recordings from Columbia Records. Similar gifts have been sent to other libraries throughout the state.

Renwick Garypie, director of Ingham county libraries, said the new records will be placed in circulation in a matter of weeks.

The library already has about 250 recordings for loan. These include classical numbers, children's records and folk music of several countries.

The new gift of records are Columbia Master Works. They will be made ready for circulation during the summer and the library will order additional recordings next fall, Garypie said.

Eyewitness Account Found Of Lincoln Assassination

ANN ARBOR - An eye-witness account of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln on April 14, 1865 is recorded in graphic detail by a Union soldier whose diary is a recent acquisition of The University of Michigan historical collections. "Deck and I had a game of billiards after which we went to Ford's Theatre," wrote Adelbert D. Baughman of the First Independent Ohio Battery, Baughman, later a Michigan resident, was enjoying a week's leave in Washington at the time.

"The play was 'The American Cousin.' They had just commenced the third scene about 10 o'clock when the report of a pistol shot attracted my attention. I immediately looked in the direction from which it came which was the box of President Lincoln and family...

"Just as I looked toward the president's box, a man leaped from the box to the stage below where part of the actors were enacting the play, among them Laura Keene. As he jumped he exclaimed "Sic semper tyrannis" which I heard quite distinctly. When I first heard the shot I thought it was part of the play but when I heard that Latin phrase I turned to Dexter Austin and said, That was a

"I immediately perceived that he had shot at President Lincoln although I knew not whether he had hit him. The people were so dumbfounded they could not collect their ideas for about one minute, which gave the assassin time to escape. In jumping he did not fall very straight, rather on his hands and feet. The Bookshelf

By R.E. SCOTT INGHAM COUNTY LIBRARY One of the most difficult things for a librarian to find is the biography of a not-too-well known person. This is particularly true in the field of writing-notably with people who have written one book and then quit. To find something about such an author is almost impossible, let alone finding a full length biography. For living authors usually "Current Biography" will solve the problem, and if not a careful search of the 6 volume "Biography Index" may yield results. Even then we may not find the person wanted, and the Stanley Kunitz book "Twentieth Century Authors" includes sketches of only the most well-known writ-

In 1961 the Gale Research company of Detroit came out with a 4 volume work called "Contemporary Authors," a bio-bibliographical guide to current authors and their works. Their basic selection criterion is that a person must be a published writer of one or more books. The sketches are done by the writers themselves and are not limited in length as they are in most other biographical tools. The set has been edited for the general reader so do not expect to find writers on scientific. medical or technical subjects (you will find, nowever, people like Isaac Asimov because he writes popular science).

The art of biography originated when lists of a man's books were made, and "Contemporary Authors" includes complete bibliographies of each biographee. In each sketch mention is also made of the writer's "Work in Progress," but much of this work is never published. One of the principal reasons why certain authors are not included in this type of work is that the authors are not willing to provide the editors with the necessary facts about his life and work. Nevertheless, the set is an invaluable source of information and we feel fortunate to be in the process of getting its now 8 volumes.

There are 2 other biographical sets which are indispensible to the large library, the "Dictionary of National Biography" and the "Dictionary of American Biography." Both sets include people in all walks of life. One lists dead Englishmen, the other dead Americans. These are old reference tools, the first volume of the DNB going back to 1885. Both sets are excellent sources of historical information about the countries they cover, history being to a great extent the lives of famous men. The DAB is in fact an evaluation of what the American people have accomplished to date.

Mr. Engle was advised to meet with the recreation committee at recess. Juras Philo, Willow street, asked that the City Council give some thought to the installation of sidewalks on some of Mason's streets that have heavy school traffic and the children are now walking on the traveled portion of the streets. Mr. Philo was primarily interested in S. Lansing & S. Jefferson streets. Mayor Pearsall stated that the Councilmen were aware of the conditions in some areas and if the residents of some of the streets in question would circulate a petition for sidewalks they would cooperate heartily. 8:40 p.m. Council recessed for committee meetings. 11:20 p.m. Council reconvened. RESOLUTIONS

Beetle War Set to Begin In Michigan

A new attempt to control one of Michigan's most serious insect pests will get underway late this month when the Michigan and U.S. departments of agriculture begin spray programs against the cereal leaf beetle.

G.S. McIntyre, director of the Michigan department of agriculture, said efforts will be concentrated in southwest Michigan where the cereal leaf beetle made its first U.S. appearance a few years ago. Planes will spray about 200,000 acres in this area with small amounts of malathion, a short-lived chemical that kills the cereal leaf beetle and some other pests like mosquitos and aphids, but which is harmless to wildlife.

Although the cereal leaf beetle has been known in Europe for over half a century, it gained its first foothold in this country in 1962 when it was discovered in Berrien county. It has been detected in 35 Michigan counties, 33 counties in northern Indiana and 20 counties in northwestern Ohio. Insect specialists believe that if the cereal leaf beetle gets into the major grain growing areas of this country, it will have "disastrous" effects and could create a shortage of wheat and other grains in the United

The aerial spray program will be directed at the overwintering adult cereal leaf beetles before they lay eggs. Two closely spaced applications may be necessary to get the greatest kill. The need for a second application will be determined by evaluation of first application results. Spraying will start about April 20 and will be completed by May 15.

present voted against the bill. No doubt this will be interpreted by some as being against injured workers. Nothing could be more wrong. During the long afternoon and evening, during the night and early morning hours, we proposed amendments that would have made the bill fair, would have improved its ease oradministration, would have granted substantial improvements in benefits, and in some cases, even extended greater benefits to injured workers. Not one of these proposals were accepted. Bi-partisan cooperation is a two-way street. We are fast learning that nothing counts but the votes.

New Virus Disease Hits Corn Fields

damaged by a new virus disease. But scientists here hope to find a "cure" before the disease gets

Not in Michigan Yet

Elmer Rossman, Michigan State university crop scientist, reports that corn dwarf mosaic accounted for a loss of at least 5 million bushels of corn in Ohio in 1964. Conceivably, the disease could move into Michigan--even though it hasn't been found here yet -- and Rossman and his colleagues want to be ready for it.

He is currently working on what he calls the "best solution" for stopping the disease in its tracks: the development of resistant hybrids.

"On the basis of 1964 corn breeding trials conducted in Ohio, Mississippi and Kentucky, several sources of resistance appear promising," he says, "But most of the material rated as 'resistant' is too late in maturity for Michigan. This can be corrected, however, by crossing these late maturing resistant varieties with early maturing material."

Rossman notes that a number of crosses of early maturing Michigan inbreds were made with late virus resistant inbreds in his Florida winter corn breeding research nursery this past winter. These will be ready for evaluation and further breeding work this summer in a virus research nursery near Portsmouth, Ohio--one of the centers of corn virus infection.

Last winter, more than 1,000 inbreds and hybrids were given virus resistance tests on seedling plants in the greenhouse by Dr. A.J. Ullstoup, USDA scientist working out of Purdue university. Rated as highly resistant in these tests was Mich-Igan 550, a variety released for certified seed production which will be available to Michigan farmers for the 1966 planting

"Resistance of Michigan 550 and other hybrids needs to be rechecked under field conditions in the virus nursery this summer before we can recommend the hybrid as virus resistant," comments Rossman.

The MSU crop scientist is also advising Michigan farmers to keep a lookout for the disease this year. Farmers should begin checking their corn fields starting a month after the crop

"If symptoms develop, the farmers should contact their county extension agents," says Rossman. "Suspected plants will then be sent to MSU for diagnosis to determine if the dwarf mosaic virus is present." There are several symptoms of dwarf corn mosaic which can be easily recognized: 1. A faint light yellow streaking on leaves 30 days after the crop emerges. 2. Reddish purple color of the leaves develops later.

5. Increased shanklength: tendency to develop more "suckers" and "flag leaves." 6. Brace roots developing at several nodes above the soil line. 7. There are indications that infected plants may be more susceptible to stalk rot in the fall of the year. Rossman points out that dwarf corn mosaic is transmitted by the corn leaf aphid. Further research may show that other species of aphids and other insects may also be possible disease transmitters.

The MSU crop scientist plans to study about 150 to 200 hybrids in the virus research nursery in Ohio to find varieties resistant to corn dwarf mosaic. He's optimistic that resistant varieties can be found in time to keep the disease from becoming a serious threat to Michigan's corn crop. The virus disease was first discovered in California in 1942 and in Texas in 1945. A serious outburst of the disease was reported in Yazoo county, Mississippl in 1962. It spread to 12 counties in southern Ohio in 1963 and to all but 6 counties in 1964.

"This gives good evidence that the disease can spread rapidly," reports Rossman. "Some farmers in Mississippi, Arkansas and Missouri have been forced to quit growing corn entirely.

"That's why we hope to have resistant varieties before the disease becomes a problem in Michigan."

Agriculture in Action

all farmers are rich. I for one, compared to only 19¢ today. am ready and willing to let them know that we are not. Money does not come easy on the farm and farmers do not get 'government checks' every time they turn around. In fact, the money we make in agriculture is tied directly to our ability to create things out of the soil." Speaking was Clifford Hale, Jackson county farm leader, and currently a "student" in an unique school in farm public relations. Hale, along with 20 other rural people, has been taking part in a "Speaker's Bureau," a series of classes aimed at helping farm people become articulate spokesmen for agriculture.

Dubbed "Operation Understanding," the six-county pilot project stemmed from an idea first voiced by Michigan Farm Bureau Women, who felt that the story of agriculture is one that must be told frequently, and with accuracy. As a minority group of about six per cent of the state's population, and with numbers still declining, farmers feel the need to keep their channels of communication open with the 94 per cent non-farm majority. Although the story off close-mouthed as a group, a fact which has caused worry for some farm leaders. They feel that the Speaker's Bureau may be an answer.

In weekly classes guided by qualified speech teachers, volunteers express opinions and support their ideas with impromptu oratory. They read script into recorders and examine their proficiency in play-back sessions. In other workshop critiques they pinpoint mistakes and sharpen their presentations. Later these rural spokesmen will make themselves available to program committees of school, church, business and civic groups. They will be armed with figures such as those which show how 15 years ago, food took club.

"Many city people think that 26¢ out of each income-dollar, They will speak up for a freeagriculture, and opposed to those who would blanket agriculture with smothering controls in attempts to regulate food producutility."

Farm Bureau Doesn't Like Bread Tax'

Michigan farm leaders have expressed disappointment in the administration's new farm program proposals, and have called it a $300 million "bread tax" on consumers, in exchange for a "ten-cents per day increase in government payments to farm-

Elton Smith, president of the 68,000 farm family Michigan Farm Bureau, the state's largest farm group, said the administration's proposals are another attack on the American farm family system of competitive en-

Returning from a conference in the nation's capital where the farm program was a prime topic, Smith pointed out that although advertised as "a measure to reduce farm program costs." would reduce the budget by $200 million, but will increase consumer costs by $300 million through the "bread tax."

"The program is designed to increase government payments to farmers by $100 million per year, but actually breaks down into about a ten cent increase per farm family," Smith said. "It's a small return for the loss of farmers' freedoms!

"Farmers want to earn and get a fair income through the market place, not as a handout from a government official.

"The administration is offering farmers only a warmedover mess of pottage in return tion as if it were a "public for their heritage of freedom and enterprise," the farm leader

> "By dumping government owned wheat on the market, and through other manipulations, the government destroys the free market price and drives farmers into its 'voluntary' program of controls. While so-called 'escalator clauses' will, for some, adjust income to the higher food costs, most low income and fixed income families will suffer.

"We call on all members of congress, without regard to party affiliation, to reject this unsound approach and to move toward a program that will provide a real solution to the problem." Smith

Attorney General Explains Court of Appeals System

(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

During the past several years the number of appellate cases has been steadily increasing and creating a tremendous burden upon the Michigan Supreme Court. Primarily for the purpose of alleviating this situation and expediting appeals, the Michigan Court of Appeals was established by Article VI, Sections 8, 9 and 10 of the Michigan Constitution of 1963. For purposes of implementation, the legislature in 1964 passed Pubgan Supreme Court promulgated and adopted a set of court rules for the new court.

The Court of Appeals consists of nine judges who were elected in the general November election of 1964 for a six-year term. For the election of these judges the state is divided into three judicial districts and from each district three judges are elected. District 1 is composed of Wayne County. District 2 consists of the following counties: Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, Gene-see, Lapeer, St. Clair, Shiawassee, Livingston, Oakland, Mon-Ingham, Jackson, Washtenaw, Hillsdale, Lenawee, and Monroe, District 3 is composed of the remainder of Michigan's

83 counties. isdiction of appeals from all final judgments of the Recorder's Court of Detroit, circuit courts, and the Court of Claims. It also has jurisdiction of appeals from other judgments or interlocutory orders as directed by the Supreme Court. The Court of Appeals has authority to issue any writs, directives and mandates which are necessary and expedient to effectuate its determination of cases brought before it. Divisions of the court sit in Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids hears cases during the first week gust and September, and at such

Y's Men's club is a service organization of the YMCA and through its many projects helps the YMCA to be a more effective organization in the community. The East Lansing Y's Men's club sponsors Hy-Haven dances at the American Legion Post on Valley Court and the annual Christmas tree sale. Proceeds from these projects help deserving boys living in the Parkwood Branch YMCA service area enjoy a camping experience at Mystic Lake YMCA camp during the summer. In the summer of 1964 the East Lansing Y's Men's club totally sponsored 10 boys from this area for 2 weeks of fun at Mystic lake.

In addition to these projects the Y's Men's club of East Lansing also gives to the YMCA branch office. Projects such as landscaping, remodeling the craftshop, painting, etc. have become an important part of the work and fun of the club.

The Y's Men's club meets each Thursday morning at 7:15 a.m. at the Sip-N-Snack restaurrant in Okemos.

Life May Be Hectic On a Private Road

HOLT - There are times when living on a private road can prove to be hectic. Mrs. Lewis Burden of Cascade, Michigan, the former Barbara Gilmore of Holt, found it so Wednesday when her 4year-old-son, Dean, fell seriously cutting his head, Cascades is a suburb of Grand Rapids. She called a taxi, which could not find the road, so she next called the Grand Rapids police, who could not hlep as the family lives outside the citylimits. They advised calling an ambulance, which she did. The sheriff heard the call and came to her rescue, taking Dean into the hospital where he had several stitches taken in his head.

Moon Is Easter Determiner

ANN ARBOR - Every spring for the last 1,640 years people have checked the calendar for the date of Easter. The reason is that this holiday, which falls this year on Sunday, April 18, fluctuates between March 22 and April 25, depending on the phases of the moon, University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh said. To understand this fluctuation. one must recall that the church fathers, gathered in the Council of Nicaea in 325 A.D., decreed that Easter was to be kept on the Sunday following the first full moon that comes after the vernal equinox. This year the vernal equinox came on March 20. Thus, the full moon of April 15 places

Easter Sunday on April 18. Says Professor Losh, "Perhaps one good reason for choosing the full moon for reckoning Easter was to enable the pilgrims to the Holy City to have the advantage of moonlight for safe travel." In 1943 Easter came on the last possible day, April 25, and it will happen again in 2038 A.D. The last time Easter fell. on March 22, the earliest possible date, was in 1818 and will not come again until 2285. Next year Easter will be on April 10.

The Blindfolded Ones

The American Eagle has grown a blindfold, a blindfold woven of the veils of prejudice, ignorance and indifference that alienate man from man. Our society basks in the dull glow of the television set; it is losing its commitment to care, but like the weather, nobody does anything about it. From coast to coast, in cities and towns, up and down the country side, the fires of bigotry, burning briskly, destroying the moral fiber of the people, undermining the foundation of our contemporary civilization.

What has happened to the mind of man, this remnant of human reason, this spiritual perversion of the facts of life now sitting nodding before civilization's dying fire?

For a partial answer look at our growing crime rate increasing unemployment, mounting indebtedness, skyrocketing taxes and more and more people on welfare. From states that are trying to by-pass the American constitution and defy the decisions of the supreme court, there comes the most chilling stories ever told about defiance of law and order. about cold-blooded murder and violence that matches the savagery committed in the African

"Within twenty-four hours after the triple lynching, everybody in the country, black and white, knew that the civil workers were dead. They also knew who committed the crime."

These words from Mississippi Eyewitness are part of one of the most chilling stories ever told. A story stranger and more brutal than the sadistic tales of fiction. Yet it is all fact. . And it happened in the United States. . In 1964. . . When man can orbit the earth and come back safely, in Mississippi 16 civil rights workers, perhaps more, have already lost their lives!

What will happen to a nation that has lost its soul? What will happen to a people who no longer have a feeling of shame? What may be the destiny of a nation that has made mass murder (war) its largest business, while stubbornly refusing to solve its problems at home? Why spend billions of dollars on space travel while our slums are growing and poverty is on the increase?

We need millions of angry people, folks who can become concerned about the real things that build up and then tear down the world we all live in.

The time has come when man must destroy his evil opinions, or his evil opinions will destroy

The foolish ones excuse themselves for not facing up to their problems, by saying they don't want to become involved; they do not realize that they are involved in history's greatest battle for the preservation of human rights, and the fate of the present civilization, and the prevention of the human race being destroyed by nuclear warfare.

In short, we are in the midst of a struggle for the right to live on this planet in the manner God intended for us!

I only want to let you know that I think that Mason's new swimming pool is one of the most terrific things that could have happened to our community.

During the summer it seems that we read of so many teens being hurt in the gravel pits, that if our swimming pool saves one life or prevents one broken neck, it is more than worth every cent it cost.

A few years ago I lost a brother by drowning and believe me, 100 times the cost of our swimming pool would well be worth it to see one life saved, 2 parents spared the grief of 12 hours searching for the body of their drowned teen-age son, 5 brothers and sisters spared the unexpressable grief of losing some one you love. But you didn't realize just how much until it was too

We are rapidly approaching one of the great religious holidays of the church year -- Easter -- which this year falls on Sunday, April 18.

Easter is described as the principal feast of the ecclesiastical year, celebrated on the Sunday after the first full moon following the spring equinox on March 21.

History books tell us the date of Easter was set by the Council of Nicea in the year 325. Easter thus moves between the dates of March 22 and April 25.

The name, Easter, comes from Eostre, a Teutonic goddess whose festival was celebrated in the spring.

The Roman and Greek churches observed Easter long before the Protestants. The Romans and Greeks had elaborate rituals for the service of the day. But with the rise of Puritanism in Europe and its abhorrence of religious ceremonials, the Protestants for a long time took no notice of Easter or any of the other church festivals for that

But within the past 100 years and more the Protestant churches have observed the day with unusually elaborate services, including special music.

In the early part of this century the Protestants began to adopt the custom of the Catholics by having sunrise services on Easter morning in commemoration of the Resurrection at sunrise.

Next Sunday there will be Easter egg hunts and many a mother today is making preparations to color eggs for her children on Easter.

Many, many years ago the Easter egg came to be regarded as symbolical of the Resurrection as it holds the seed of a new life. Eggs also came to be asso-clated with Easter because it was forbidden to eat them during Lent and on Easter Sunday they were served at the meal. They were dyed red to suggest joyousness. Another theory was that the color was symbolic of the blood shed on Calvary.

However, the egg as a symbol of new life is much older than Christianity. And the coloring of the egg at the spring festival is also of ancient origin.

Children have been told that the rabbit lays the Easter egg and the eggs are hidden in the garden for the children to find. This is an adaptation of the pagan custom of regarding the rabbit as an emblem of fertility, that is, of new life. ****

And then there is the custom of humanity garbing itself in new attire of gay and joyous colors for Easter. This, too, might be considered as the start of a new life when the flowers spring to life in gay colors. the drab days of winter pass out of existence, and spring, the season of freshness and joy, takes over the land.

But before Easter's joy at the Resurrection can be realized, the church observes a day of deepest solemnity and sorrow-the day known as Good Friday that falls on the Friday before Easter -- this year on Ap-

Good Friday is observed in commemoration of the Crucifixion. Churches open their doors for services commemorating Christ's 3 hours of suffering on the cross. It is a day of mourning, and is observed as a holiday in many states of the union.

The day is known in the Greek church as the Holy and Great Friday. The Anglo Saxons called it Long Friday and in countries in which the romance languages are spoken, it is called Holy Friday. It is called Good Friday in English-speaking countries.

Why it is called "Good" is not definitely known. According to one theory it comes from God's Friday and according to another the word refers to the good which came to the world through the life and death of

Religious Music Themes Meeting

The monthly meeting of Mason-Dansville Keynote Juniors, a member of the National Federation of Music clubs, was held April 11 in Mason Presbyterian church. Members discussed the state convention which will be held May 15 at Interlochen.

Theme of this month's meeting was religious music, and Janice Twork began the program by singing Spirit of God. She was accompanied on the piano by Gerald Woughter, Jim Mueller spoke briefly about J.S. Bach and played a trombone solo, Sleepers Awake, accompanied by Sarah Diehl. The Methodist Bell Ringers were guests of the club, and their group of hymns and songs were enjoyed. Closing the program the Madrigals sang My Shepard Will Supply My Need by Issac Watts.

for nothing" offers lately? Or any offers of free furnace inspection? Or met anyone who would like to use your home as a model? If you have, then you have been visited by one of the several door to door pitchmen who come out of winter hibernation about this time of year.

A sure sign of spring at the Ingham county prosecutor's office is the annual parade of complaints concerning alleged "fraudulent schemes" and misleading representation.

"I would like to advise the public to be alert to all these types of offers," Prosecutor Donald Reisig said this week. "To protect himself from possible fraud the home owner should be sure that he knows who he is dealing with, should read any documents that he signs and receive copies of them, should shop to be sure he is getting the best price obtainable for whatever he is purchasing, should be sure he knows the rate of interest he will be paying, and cerning the reliability of the as each lesson is concluded. business with, should check with tive Easter service at its usual the Chamber of Commerce, his worship hour, 10:45 a.m. on East-

On the eyening of Maundy Thursday, April 15, which is the anniversary day of the institution of the Lord's Supper, All Saints will celebrate a special service of Holy Communion. Beginning at 7:30 p.m. the I.O.O.F. hall on Maple street, the service will be unique in using the altar in the center of the sanctuary. The sermon by Pastor Paul A. Tidemann will focus on the meaning and practice of Holy Communion.

Good Friday evening will find the Lutheran church conducting a Tenebrae Service in the I.O.O.F. hall at 7:30 p.m. The Tenebrae Service also known as the Service of Shadows, is an ancient Christian service which focuses on the various Scripture passages referring to the suffering and death of Christ. These passages will be read chorally by All Saints' Luther League, the young people's group. The church's senior choir will present special music between each of the lessons, and, in the darkened sanctuary, special altar candles if he has any questions con- will be continuously extinguished people he is intending to do All Saints will hold its fes-

DANSVILLE - The Women's Missionary Society of the Dansville Free Methodist church recently completed a reading contest which had been conducted throughout the denomination. Mrs. Clyde Curtis promoted the contest in the Dansville area. A picture of a stained glass window had been outlined on a large piece of paper and had been divided off into twelve sections with a cross and a globe placed in the center. Each section represented 100 pages read and the cross and globe represented 50 pages read. To complete the picture it would require 1250 pages of Christian literature to be read. The contest was conducted during the first 3 months of the year during which time 14,959 pages were read by the WMS members and others who attend the church. Mrs. William Freiermuth was hailed as the greatest reader, she turned in Every year during the Lenten period the Dansville Free Methodist Sunday School promotes self-denial giving to assist the denominational Children's Home at Woodstock, Illinois. This home has cared for the needs of parentless children for many years. Cans and crosses with places sion slips which are to be re- to insert 10 dimes have been sent home with the children. Next Sunday, Easter Sunday, these cans and crosses will be returned with the offering for the Children's Home.

The newly organized Light and Life Men's Fellowship of the Dansville Free Methodist church met last Thursday in the townhall. Following the meal a short business meeting was held with Wayne Young reporting on plans for a father-son activity at Tiger Stadium. Then Leland Perrine showed pictures of a trip to the west coast.

Lecture Scheduled

"What Is Life?" is the question to be explored in depth at a Christian Science lecture in Lansing Sunday, April 18. James Watt of Washington D.C. will be the speaker, under sponsorship of First Church Christ Scientist Lansing. The lecture will begin at 3:15 p.m., in the small auditorium of the Civic Center. Infant care will be provided at the Civic Center.

New Pastor

Members of Maple Grove Baptist church have welcomed their new pastor and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Innes, who moved into the parsonage last week. The new pastor has been in America 6 years, coming from Brisbane, Austrialia for his ministerial training. Mrs. Innes is a native of Indiana. She is presently attending Michigan State university.

Editorial Comments...

Our Freedoms

America, the land with so many freedoms, one of them freedom of religion and with churches on many street corners should be reason enough to offer thanks and praise to God every Sunday of every week, not just on one or two special days a year.

It would indeed be a miracle if everyone could live God's word throughout the week and go to church on Sunday to listen to His word, obtain strength for the coming week and give thanks for having gotten through the last

What is it that brings the multitudes out to church on Easter, more so than Christmas? most commonly heard answer is, "The new clothing". Is it really so? Maybe it is, to some extent, but more questions bring out such answers as, "Easter is different than Christmas which is so commercialized that may be the Christ Child is forgotten". Others say "Since Easter comes in the spring, it feels like everything is coming to life again, there is a feeling of newness."

Whatever the reasons, churches all over this land will be filled to capacity next Sunday, just as they have been on this day ever since 325, when the Council of Nice fixed the date for Easter, the first Sunday on or after the first full moon after the 21st of March.

It has often been said "Too bad the church pews cannot be filled every Sunday", and to that we agree. There is always the hope however, that some of those non-regulars will be inspired by something they hear during the Easter service that will kindle the spark.

For those who believe it unnecessary to attend church every Sunday to be a Christian, there is this answer; "If a person honestly aspires to be a Christian, he will automatically have the desire to attend church."

We have experienced living in a country where, at one time, church going was rather dangerous. Those that were not closed outright were closely watched, either by Communist or Nazi spies, and even those persons who seldom attended suddenly felt a great loss, a feeling of loneliness and emptiness.

There is an old saying, "Nothing is ever missed till it is taken

Let's take advantage of our freedoms, especially the freedom of religion.

Spotlight Better Than Darkness

The editorial below appeared in the February 12 issue of The Spectator, the newspaper at Southern Michigan Prison, Hugh Dillon, editor, subsequently wrote the Jackson Citizen Patriot submitting some of the same points for consideration by the public. Since Mr. Dillon is an inmate and experienced in arrest and trial procedures, his viewpoint is important.

Currently, there is much talk about a proposal broached by the American Bar association. The group asks police, prosecutors and defense attorneys not to give comments, disclose evidence or discuss in any way the circumstances surrounding a case with newsmen.

Their theory is that such communication may prejudice a case because of the publicity received.

The mayor of Philadelphia has instructed his city officials to disregard the request.

So, we have 2 viewpoints on the matter: attorneys attempting to protect the clients and officialdom who, only naturally, want to chronicle their achievements.

The official's argument that "muzzling" the press will not assist in crime prevention is also sound.

But so far no one has sought the third, and just as important, viewpoint. That is the viewpoint of the defendant -- or the criminal if you prefer.

While in some cases a large amount of publicity does make a "circus" out of a trial, these instances are very much in the minority.

It would be nice if when a person got into trouble there was no embarrassing publicity. But these are the "dues" a person must pay, along with the other penalties, when he or she breaks the law.

The most important factor, from a defendant's viewpoint, is the possibilities that could come about from "muzzling" the

With no outsiders to answer to, there will always be the possibility of abuse. There are many cases on record where newsmen were the primary cause of such abuses coming to light. Many more cases than the ones where the newsmen's spotlight had an effect on the outcome of proceedings.

As distasteful as the adverse publicity is, it might be better to be " spotlighted" momentarily than to be abused in darkness.

If councils and school boards are interested in getting people to show an interest in attending meetings and participating in meetings then forget the closed and isolated committee meetings. They do nothing but drive away those who might be interested in seeing government in action.

This advice doesn't just come off the top of the head. Having missed not more than a half-dozen city council meetings in the last 20 years and having covered school boards and other government operations, this advice isn't something offered as a whim of the moment.

It's my observation that more government business can be conducted in a shorter time with fewer errors if committees work out in the open.

It ought to be worth a try. Washington is a classic example of how things can get into a first class mess when the public is fed only what government bureaucrats think is good for the public to know.

Goals for 1965

The Ingham County News supports these objectives:

- A popular rate to assure the people's choice as to what type of city half -
- Expansion of new and completion of existing city parks with emphasis on playgrounds and picnic areas.
- Continued planting of trees with provisions requiring subdividers to plant at least one tree on each lot before acceptance by the city. A community center with regular hours and projects for senior citizens.
- An industrial park to be operated by a non-profit community corporation with the avowed purpose of attracting desirable industries.
- A Mason museum.

Delhi To Establish Planning Commission

Monday night took a long look at the future of Delhi township and took this action:

1-Adopted a resolution setting up a planning commission which would become effective 60 days after publication of the resolution.

2-Decided to enter into an agreement with the Tri-County Planning commission under which the commission would make a development study of the township which would cost about $15,000, of which the township would pay $5,000 and federal money would be made available for the remainder.

The development study which would take about 2 years to complete. It would cover a study of land use, physical features, economic base, population characteristics and projections, public facilities including schools, fire stations and public buildings, traffic and major streets and public utilities and service areas.

3-Will direct the sewer engineer to make an engineering study of sections 11, 12, 13 and part of 14, which lie in the northeast section of the township for possible extension of sewer lines into the area.

5-Referred to the zoning committee of the township board a Meeting Postponed problem of zoning in reference to swimming pools in the township and discussed a change in the zoning ordinance covering the pools and establishing a ruling that any pool one foot or more in depth would come under the pool ordinance. The proposed

HOLT - Delhi township board ordinance change also would require a fence at least 6 feet high around all pools. There is no provision for fences at the present time,

The zoning committee recommended that the swimming pool matter be referred to the zoning board for insertion in the present zoning ordinance.

The matter of payment for sewer service in Buckingham estates, a Holt subdivision, came before the board for a long discussion.

Before the subdivision was started the township paid for a sewer line in unplatted areas down a proposed street to be known as Hamilton street and established laterals to which home owners later could connect. The subdivision developer installed his own sewer line in Cromwell street, another thoroughfare in the subdivision. The board decided that the cost to property owners in the area served by the township installed lines should be $4.68 a front foot for hooking up to the sewer. This is the normal charge throughout the sewer district.

For those property owners on Cromwell street, the board decided the hookup charge to homeowners for hooking into the sewer visor, said this area is rapidly line constructed by the developer should be $25.

Delhi To Adopt Ordinance for Control of Dogs

board this week began preparing an ordinance to cover the control of dogs in Delhi township.

The proposed ordinance will be introduced at a future meeting of the board. The board decided at its meeting Monday night to adopt such an ordinance.

The meeting drew a large number of spectators, nearly all of whom were interested in the dog

Most of the persons in the audience who did speak voiced approval of such an ordinance. Many of them said they owned dogs and were proud of them and that they keep them within the bounds of their property. They said they thought the dog ordinance was needed to keep dogs from roaming at large all over the area, damaging flower beds, gardens and lawns.

One speaker said he owned a large dog which he purchased as a protector of his home and family. He said that during the past 5 years there have been prowlers at night and strange cars parked on the street.

He said he obtained a large dog and he protects his children and others in the neighborhood. He said the dog does not roam alone and he said he could not see why he should be prevented from guarding. He said after he obtained the dog the prowlers and strange cars disappeared.

Another spectator wanted to know why the ordinance could not cover cats as well as dogs. He was told there is nothing in the state law covering cats.

Finally William Sweet moved to adopt a dog ordinance and the motion carried.

The board also took on another matter akin to dogs. It covered a discussion over the need of an ordinance to cover kennels.

It was recommended that such an ordinance be adopted for kennels in areas zoned agricultural and that any place boarding 3 dogs or more be classified as day, April 22, to permit mem- a kennel. The discussion ended bers to attend church services in the approval of a motion recommending that the zoning board

HOLT - Delhi charter township consider kennel operations in agriculture-zoned areas and that such establishments in other areas of the township would rest with the decision of the township board. The board also: Approved a bid of the Scarlett Gravel company of $1,091 for a road grading work at the fire station in Holt. Announced that justice court fees and fines in Delhi township in March totalled $271 of which $220.20 is the justice's share and the remainder goes to the township. Read and placed on a file a communication from David Diehl of the board of trustees of the Ingham County Community college in which Diehl stated that up to this time no site has been chosen for the college and nodecision will be made without considering the site presentation made by Delhi township. Diehl said the board will select a site it considers best suited for our

Dansville Pupils Stage Puppet Show

DANSVILLE - Fifth and 6th grades of the Dansville Elementary school presented their version of the story, "Hansel and Gretel" last week. The children presented it as an operetta in connection with their general music classes.

The five different rooms made puppets from paper mache. They then painted and dressed them to fit the characters for the operetta. In each room children were chosen to play the parts of Hansel, Gretel, Mother, Father and the witch. Each room presented it to others in the elementary grades to climax their week of rehearsing. Mrs. Lucile Diehl accompanied them on the piano. Pupils from Mrs. Mueller's 6th grade room were responsible for the scenery and properties.

The general music classes are under the direction of Mrs. Vivian Mueller.

Tennis Squad Takes Opener

Mason's always hot tennis team started the 1965 season right where it left off in 1964. The Bulldogs opened with a 5-0 win over Stockbridge.

Three veterans came through with impressive wins in singles play. Bill Strait took his match 6-3, 6-1. Gary Blood defeated his man 6-1, 6-1. Leo Bateman came out on top 6-0, 6-2. In doubles play Pat Birney, a freshman, teamed with Sam Glore, a sophomore, and they were pushed to win 8-6, 6-8, the other doubles match Jeff Cotton and Bill Ely disposed of their opponents 6-0, Mason's next match is Thursday against Okemos on the high school courts at Mason. The match begins at 4 p.m.

Mrs. Helen Strait serves as tennis coach at Mason and has made the Bulldogs a state power. Last year Mason compiled a 12-3 string with the 3 losses coming against Class A schools. Along the way Mason won the state regional tournament at Flint and placed second in the state tournament at Kalamazoo behind Kalamazoo.

Housewife Finds Fault

"We are all on a battlefield today," according to Mrs. Haven Smith, the vivacious Nebraska housewife who serves as chairman of the American Farm Bureau women's committee, "and in this battle, farmers, too, are on the firing line."

Speaking at the Farm Bureau omen's spring Holiday at Wesley Woods, Clear Lake, April the nationally-known lecturer asked her audience, "Just what do you and I believe in? Do we believe in a further concentration of power in the federal government? Of couse not! The power to regulate is the power to destroy!"

Mrs. Smith, former school teacher and currently the deputypresident of the Associated Country Women of the World, was one of the outstanding Americans selected in 1959 to tour the facilities of Radio Free Europe.

An ardent patriot, she has served on several state and national boards concerned with education and international good will. In recent years, she has become well-known for her knowledge of government and national fiscal policy.

On the subject of America's future, Mrs. Smith presented the farm women and their city guests with a challenge: "I suggest to you that the greatest thing we can do for our young people is to teach them what's right with the way our country is built. We must teach them to go back to the old principles of personal integrity, of faith in God. "We need to teach them that freedom means so much that they will fight for the right cause. Let's teach our youth about man's old struggle for liberty. Let's teach them what freedom means." Following the Farm Bureau women's holiday, where the theme was Communications --Avenue for Action, Mrs. Smith will appear at press conferences in the Detroit and Kalamazoo

Ingham Business Booms

A state sales tax report issued last week reveals that the per capita spending in Ingham county during January of this year was $164 which sent retail sales for the month to a record high of $36,685,000 or $14,462,000 above the figure for the same period

The per capita total was $16 higher than any other in the state. It was $65 higher than the lowest per capita report made by the city of Muskegon. Officials said retail sales on per capita basis in Ingham county have led those of other counties in the state all during the past 10 years.

In January 1955 the total retail sales recorded in Ingham county were $22,223,000. In 1962 the total was up to $29,877,000. This year's January sales were $6,808,000 greater than those of January 1964.

Heavy Odds Can't Dampen St. James Viking Spirit

THE SAINT JAMES "VIKINGS" ended their first appearance in basketball competition last week, bowing to the Holy Cross "5", 31 to 23. Handicapped because of a lack of gym facilities, the Vikings' record showed only one victory in 4 attempts beating Saint Thomas Aquinas, 35 to 28. The other games were against Resurrection and against Saint Theresa's at Holy Cross.

Although their record was not an impressive one, Coach Robert Markwart said he was well satisfied with the boys' spirit and determination. The high scorers in each of the games were Charles Perfitt, Dan O'Brien and Richard Birney. With the experience gained in the past weeks, the Vikings hope for a more successful season next year.

In the front row are Charles Perfitt (co-captain) and Richard Birney (captain). Ricky Baughman was also on the team but unavailable for the picture.
