

MEMORIAL

OF

SUNDRY INHABITANTS OF THE COUNTY OF PORTAGE, OHIO,

Against the removal of the Deposites, and in favor of the Bank of the United States.

JUNE 23, 1834.

Referred to the Committee on Finance, and ordered to be printed.

---

To the Honorable the Congress of the United States:

The undersigned memorialists, citizens of the county of Portage, in the State of Ohio,

RESPECTFULLY REPRESENT:

That, until within a few months past, they have, for several years, enjoyed a high state of prosperity and happiness, which alike stimulated and rewarded their industry and enterprise.

That they have attributed that prosperity to the intelligence, enterprise, industry, and economy of the people, in connexion with a sound state of the currency, and had, as they supposed, safely calculated upon its continuance; and they do now believe that their prosperity ought not to have been interrupted, for they assert that, in so far as depends upon themselves, there is nothing wanting to it; that they now are no less intelligent, enterprising, industrious, and economical, than they have been; but that, for several months past, they have endured, and are now suffering, a distress and stagnation of business which are severe and injurious to all, and, at their commencement, were absolutely ruinous to those whose business was at all extended. Your memorialists believe that there is nothing in the present or former state of the general commerce or markets of the world to cause or to account for that distress and stagnation of business; and, in searching for the causes, they have been unable to find any other than what appears to them to have been an improper interference, by the Executive Government of the United States, with the currency of the country, by removing the deposits of the money of the United States from the United States' Bank, and the vindictive hostility of the Executive to that institution, and they do ascribe them to those causes.

Your memorialists therefore pray your honorable body speedily to take such measures as may be within your legislative competency, and, in your judgment, best calculated to bring back confidence and prosperity to the people of the United States. And they would suggest a restoration of the deposits of the money of the United States to the United States' Bank as a measure, in the judgment of your memorialists, well calculated to produce that result.

Your memorialists take this occasion to express their entire and cordial approbation of the conduct of the Hon. THOMAS EWING, one of the Senators from the State of Ohio, in disregarding the instructions of the Legislature of Ohio, and, by his speeches and votes, sustaining the rights and best interests of his constituents, the people of Ohio. Your memorialists are of opinion that those instructions cannot be regarded as the expression of the sentiments of a majority of his constituents, but, on the contrary, that they were exclusively a party measure, and procured by an exclusively party vote. And, as one evidence upon which they found their opinion, they will state that the Representative in one branch of the Legislature from this county voted for those instructions, while, in doing so, your memorialists are of opinion that he acted contrary to the wishes and sentiments of a large majority of his constituents.
