Foreword

"He who careth little from whence he came, careth little whither he goeth. Indifference as to the origin of their family is really felt by few, for the pride of Ancestry is innate in every one."

I do not know who is the Author of above quotation, but I am in hearty agreement with the sentiment therein expressed.

A truly noble Ancestry is a splendid heritage; a possession in which any man or woman may appropriately indulge a high degree of self-gratulation.

Whence camest thou? Likewise whither goest thou? The latter inquiry is relegated to the individual's conscience, with the admonition, however, that it be given early, thoughtful and serious consideration.

In furtherance of my object in seeking to give satisfying answers to the first interrogatory, I will not discuss the scriptural account of creation, nor the Darwinian or other theory of evolution, but shall give each member of our family the opportunity to answer this individual question:

From whom descended you, and you, and you, from the highest known limit of your lineage?

It has been my steady aim and fixed purpose, to get at the facts, and to present them in orderly and consistent fashion.

If there is any failure and defect, it is not because I omitted the persistent use of every resource at my command, but in consequence (and I am sorry to have to say so) of the disposition of a few totally to ignore my requests for information, else to lack of due care in giving such data as they had in their possession. Their absent or imperfect records are convincing evidence of their silence, neglect, or want of proper attention to details.

So far as I have been able to perfect it, this work is presented with a particularity and an exactness which, I trust, will win your generous approval. To those who, by furnishing essential and appropriate data, have aided me in bringing to its present degree of perfection this Genealogical Record, I tender my cordial and appreciative thanks.

CHARLES ALBERT CORNMAN.

Appreciation

To the Author:

Dear Sir and Cousin:—The ability, patience and faithfulness which, in so marked a manner, you have manifested in the production of this publication, call for words of commendation from every member of our great family. I have chosen to put mine in this form, and to give you the liberty of using the same in any way that may best suit your pleasure and convenience. Having had much experience in the field of newspaperdom, as publisher and editor, and as collector and dispenser of news, in a way I am prepared to comprehend the nature and extent of your labors in perfecting this work. Indeed it has been no small task, nor any small man's achievement.

What with the dilatoriness or indifference of many of those who reasonably might have been expected to be interested and promptly to have given desired information in response to repeated requests, together with the too frequent furnishing of obscure or erroneous data, and the necessity of going over the same ground again and again, the marvel is that you have been able to bear so well the stress and strain of so many years of unremitting endeavor.

Permit me, therefore, in this way to tender expression of my warmest appreciation and heartiest thanks for the work which you have so unselfishly undertaken, so faithfully prosecuted, and so successfully accomplished, in thus disclosing the identity and location of each individual twig contributing to the make up of our branch of the wide-spreading family tree.

Cordially yours,

ABRAM HENRY CORMAN.

Los Angeles, California.

Note—It will be observed that the writer of above letter of appreciation omits the middle "n" of the family name, thus conforming to the prerogative assumed by others in modernizing the name of spelling it "Cornman" instead of "Kornman" as in the original form.

Historical

A-1. Ludwig Kornman, Sr., our family's Pioneer Ancestor, was born near Munich, Germany, in the year 1713, exact time and place unknown to the author. This date is found in Penna. Archives, Second Volume 17, page 131, that Ludwig Kornman, starting from Munich, proceeded to Rotterdam, Holland, (presumably via the River Rhine) took passage for America, Aug. 30, 1737, at the age of 24 years, in the Ship Samuel, which had on board 318 passengers, the vessel's master, being Hugh Perry. On the way over the ship called at Cowes, England. After many days spent on the bounding waves of the North Sea, English Channel and Atlantic Ocean, the good ship landed at Philadelphia, Pa., in "the land of the free and the home of the brave." Ludwig Kornman, Sr., whose name was finally Americanized to Cornman, and by some branches of the family abbreviated to Corman, was not content to remain at the quiet town, where he first set foot on American soil, but fared forth to join in the contest that was destined to replace savagery with civilization. Settling near Tulpehocken, Pa., as a farmer, soon he came face to face with the worst phases of savage warfare. During their raids the Indians slew or scalped alive many of their victims, or carried them away into captivity. A few returned to their desolated home places, but of the greater number nothing was ever known by their surviving relatives and friends.

One of the pathetic yet joyful instances of a final reunion of loved ones has come down to us from those terrible times of trials and separation; a Palatine family from Wurtenburg, settled in Pennsylvania. Besides the father and mother, there were two sons and two daughters. One day, on returning from the grist mill, the mother and younger son found that the Indians had burned their home, scalped and slain her husband and father and oldest son, and taken into captivity the daughters, one daughter was released, and found her way to Carlisle, Pa. Nine years later her mother went to Carlisle, hoping to obtain information of the whereabouts of her daughters, but was unable to recognize either of them among those who had returned from captivity. One day in the midst of her grief, she began to sing:

"Alone, but not alone am I,
Though in this solitude so drear."

When suddenly a young woman who was present caught up the refrain and thus finished the quatrain;

"I feel my Savior always nigh,
He comes the weary hours to cheer."

Thus they had mutual recognition as mother and daughter. There is no record of the fate of the other daughter.

Ludwig Kornman and wife were compelled to flee for life, going to Myerstown, thence they went to Lebanon Township, Lebanon County, Pa., where they spent the rest of their life on the earth, and were buried in the oldest Reformed Church graveyard in Lebanon, Pa. If there were any grave markings they have been completely obliterated. However, the records show that Ludwig Kornman and wife were sponsors for a child Valentine Myer in 1746.

Ludwig Kornman, Sr., took the Oath of Allegiance at Lancaster, Penna., Sept. 30, 1749. The Test Oath.

"We the subscribers, do swear, that we renounce and refuse all Allegiance to George the Third King of Great Britain, his heirs and successors, and that we will be faithful and bear true Allegiance to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as a free and independent State, and that we will not at any time do, or cause to be done, any matter or thing that will be prejudicial or injurious to the freedom and independence thereof, as declared by Congress, and also that we will discover and make known, to some one Justice of the Peace of the said State all treasons and traitorous conspiracies which we now know or hereafter shall know to be formed against this or any of the United States of America."

The descendants of Ludwig Kornman, Sr., and those related to them by marriage have followed the Scriptural injunction to "multiply and replenish the earth," and many have scattered over the United States and become oblivious of the others. By consulting this Genealogical Record their respective places of residence can be obtained, and relatives may be induced to renew and cherish reciprocal regard for each other.

A Genealogical Record

OF THE

Families in the Descending Line, Male and Female, of A-1. Ludwig Kornman, Sr., the Pioneer in America

NOTE—By common consent the name has been modernized to Cornman, Corman, many families omitting the middle "n" only a few families use the original "K".

NOTE—The generations are indicated by letters, A, B, C, D, E, F, G, and so on. That is the children of the original A-1. Ludwig Kornman, Sr., the Pioneer, are marked, B-1; B-2; B-3; B-4; B-5; B-6; B-7; B-8; B-9; B-10; B-11. The children of B-1 to B-11, inclusive, are marked C-1; C-2; C-3; C-4; and so on.

B-7. Ludwig (Kornman) Cornman, Jr.

- B-7. Ludwig Cornman, Jr., son of A-1. Ludwig, Sr., the Pioneer in America, was born 1754, in Lebanon Township, Lebanon County, Pa. By occupation he was a farmer. He married, 1775. Catherine Nunemaker, a native of same county. He and his family moved to North Middleton Township, Cumberland County, Pa., where he purchased a farm, about five miles from Carlisle, Pa., and engaged in farming. Ludwig Cornman and family were members of the Reformed Church. About the year 1810, his wife died and was buried in the Reformed Church graveyard in said Township. Later about the year 1826, he and his son George and family removed to Armstrong County, near Kittanning, Pa., where he lived the remainder of his days, and died about the year 1835 at an advanced age, and was buried in Blue Slate Graveyard, one mile from the Village of Slate Lick, Armstrong County, Pa.
- B-7. Ludwig Cornman, Jr., was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, was closely identified with our country's struggle for National Independence, serving under Washington, as a private in Capt. David Krause's 4th Company of the 2nd Battalion, Lancaster County, Pa., Militia, 1781, Thos. Edwards Lieut. Colonel. "See original Muster Roll now on file in the Division of Public Records, Pennsylvania State Library, Harrisburg, Pa., Vol. 7, Page 153, 5th Series Penna. Archives. Said War Records show that the descendants are eligible to membership in the Societies of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution. He was one of the brave company who shared the hardships of the memorable winter at Valley Forge."

He considered it unpatriotic to take a pension from a country comparatively poor.

"The following memorial recalls the sufferings of the Pennsylvania troops at Valley Forge, during the occupancy of Philadelphia by the British Army, during the winter.

The officers who signed the memorial had been sent by their respective commands to Lancaster, Pa., where the Authorities of the State were located. Immediate efforts were taken to ameliorate the condition of the Patriots. But history does not inform us how many lives went out, amidst the misery and gloom which brooded over the cabins of the soldiers of the Revolution at Valley Forge."

The old stone house occupied by General Washington for his headquarters is still standing and in good state of preservation, kept up by the Daughters of the American Revolution, who purchased the house and grounds occupied by the Patriots, and converted the grounds into a beautiful Park, and many States have erected monuments in memory of the Patriots who encamped there during that memorable winter.

The old stone house stands about 300 feet from the tracks of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad and can be seen from the cars by passengers as they pass the Valley Forge Station.

- C-1. John Corman, son of B-7. Ludwig, Jr., of A-1. Ludwig, Sr., the Pioneer, was born April 9, 1778, in Lebanon Township, Lebanon County, Pa., was baptized, May 1, 1778, by Rev. Conrad Bucher of the Reformed Church, Lebanon, Pa. Sponsors John Nunemacher and wife Julia. He moved to Perry County, Pa. In the year 1814, he moved to Cumberland County, Pa. He learned the trade of Cooper, was industrious, a respectable man all his days, leading a useful and honorable life. He was an Old Line Whig in Political sentiment. He was a man of wonderful memory, and many remarkable incidents of this faculty were related of him. He married May 14, 1807, Elizabeth Campbell, a native of Cumberland County, Pa., born June 4, 1778; d. March 4, 1829. She was a descendant of the famous Campbells of Scotland, a branch of which family had settled in Ireland. She was buried in a cemetery near Carlisle, Pa. In the year 1847, he removed with his son John Campbell Corman and family to Weston, Missouri, where he lived nine years, and then took up a Homestead in Kansas, upon which he lived until his death which occurred May 26, 1868, aged 90 years. He was buried in the Corman and Harlow Lot, in Mt. Munice Cemetery, south of Leavenworth, Kans.

At the age of four years he came with his parents to Cumberland County, Pa., where the remainder of his long life was passed. By occupation he was a Tanner, was successful in business and owned a large Tannery and Paper Mill near Mechanicsburg, Pa., and a Hotel in Carlisle, Pa. He married (1st) Sept. 21, 1849, Elizabeth Bailey, b. Oct. 21, 1818, in York County, Pa. She died Mch. 1867. Both are buried in Chestnut Hill Cemetery, near Mechanicsburg, Pa.

D-3. John Campbell Corman

- D-3. John Campbell Corman, son of C-1. John of B-7. Ludwig, Jr., of A-1. Ludwig, Sr., the Pioneer, was born Aug. 11, 1812, in Cumberland County, Pa.; d. Nov. 1, 1901; m. June 20, 1837, Elizabeth Corman, b. Jul. 25, 1818, in same County; d. Nov. 4, 1889. She was a daughter of C-4. Ludwig, a brother to C-1. John, father of D-3. John Campbell Corman, her husband. This family also recorded under the head of C-4. Ludwig and Mary Magdalene (Foulk) Corman her parents. He and his family moved southwest, via steamboat down the Ohio and up the Missouri Rivers and settled in the Town of Weston, Mo., which is almost opposite the River from Fort Leavenworth. By occupation he was a farmer, but engaged in team work and operated a Lime Kiln. In 1850, he and his brother William went by ox team to California, presumably to seek their fortunes. They never saw a house from the time they left Fort Carney on the Platte River in Neb., until they arrived at (Haughtown) now Marysville, Cal. They had no fights or other troubles with Hostile Indians, but always stood guard at night. They did not prosper as readily as they anticipated, and being sick, concluded to return by way of Isthmus of Panama, and up the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers to Weston, where their families had been left. The country around Fort Leavenworth, formerly was occupied by the Delaware Indians. The government made a treaty with them, and they were removed to the Indian Territory, now the State of Oklahoma. Their former lands were opened to settlement. D-3. John Campbell Cornman and his father C-1. John each secured 160 acres about seven miles south of Leavenworth, Kans. In 1855, Eliza, daughter of John Campbell and her grandfather C-1. John went over from Weston, Mo., and made settlement to hold the claims from jumpers, the family moved over in the fall of the same year. John Campbell had been called to the claims on account of illness of Eliza. On his return the horse he was riding fell through a temporary bridge and fell on the rider and crushed his right ankle. He was taken to the Hospital at Fort Leavenworth. The U. S. Army Surgeon amputated the limb halfway below the knee. Later he and his son-in-law Alexander C. Harlow, went to the polls to vote on that memorable election day which was to decide if Kansas was to be a free or a slave state, six shooters and bowie knives were so plentifully conspicuous, they being for free state and for fear of their lives and like others of their opinion did not vote. In 1867, he sold his original claim and purchased 160 acres of land one-half mile west and one-half mile north of his original holdings, moved and lived there until his death which occurred Nov. 1, 1901. This family were of the kind classed as a country's very best citizens, were in moderate circumstances. They were too liberal, charitable and sympathetic to become very rich. His wife, Elizabeth, was industrious, resourceful, and charitable, ever willing and did on every occasion minister and attend sick neighbors at nights without number. They are buried in Mt. Munice Cemetery, South of Leavenworth, Kans.

D-3. Abraham Benjamin Cornman

This family omit the middle "n" from the name.

- D-3. Abraham Benjamin Corman, son of C-2. Henry of B-7. Ludwig, Jr., of A-1. Ludwig, Sr., the Pioneer, was born Dec. 17, 1807, at or near Shermansdale, Perry County, Pa. He was baptized an adult. Ap. 3, 1831, by Rev. Benj. Keller, of the Reformed Church, Carlisle, Pa. He was married (1st) Sept. 10, 1829, by Rev. McGruder, at Carlisle, to Sarah Ann Paterson McFadon, who was born May 23, 1807, in Cumberland County, Pa.; died Aug. 28, 1845, at Jonesboro, Ill. She was a daughter of Anthony McFadon, who came from near Belfast, County Down, Ireland, settled in Cumberland County, and served in the Army of the Revolution; married Mary Guy, born in same County, 1786; died 1844. They had six children, Sarah Ann Paterson McFadon (married Abraham Benjamin Corman); Catherine, married John Cornman, Abraham's brother; Thomas, Mary Martha (married Andrew Steirwalt); James.
- Mary Guy was a daughter of Thomas Guy, who was born in 1745 in Lancaster County, Pa.; died in 1833.

He served in the British Army under Cornwallis. On his return he married Sarah (Sallie), daughter of John and Catherine Paterson. Sarah was born in 1759, and died in 1839. Thomas Guy was a son of Samuel Guy, the Pioneer, who came from England, settled in Lancaster County, Pa., and then moved to Cumberland County, married Mary Paxton, who was born in the latter County. He bought 330 acres of land and engaged in farming. The Indians who had wigwams on his land were numerous, troublesome and a constant menace to the whites in that locality. The Guy family moved to Lancaster County, after residing there two years, when peace between the whites and Indians was declared, Thomas Guy and family returned to the farm in Cumberland County, where he spent the rest of his days.

Records show: That John McFadon was a private in Capt. James Murray's Company, 4th Battalion of Lancaster County Militia, Col. James Burd, March 13, 1776; that John Paterson was a private in the 3rd Battalion from Bucks Co., Pa., of which Andrew Kechlein, was Colonel and Josiah Bryan was Lieut. Colonel. These were three delegates from the Associated Battalions, held at Lancaster, Pa., July 4, 1776 (Independence Day), to the convention of Officers and Privates of fifty-three Battalions of the Association of the Colony of Pennsylvania, at Lancaster, to choose two Brigadier Generals to command that Colony's Battalions and other forces, that his son, Robert Paterson, was mustered in at Lancaster, Aug. 15, 1776, as a private in Capt. Dorrington Wilson's Company of Militia, Col. Thomas Porter's Battalion of Associators in Lancaster County, and was assigned to the campaign in the Jersey's, under command of Lieut. John Eckman. D-3. Abraham Corman served in the Union Cause, as a private in Co. H, 54th Illinois Inf. from Dec. 15, 1861, to March 26, 1864, when he was discharged because of disability incurred in the service. He escaped the many dangers of twenty-seven months service in the Army to meet a violent death while in good health, by falling from a wagon and sustaining a broken neck on his ranch in El Paso County, Colorado, Nov. 6, 1890. He was buried at Colorado Springs, Colo., by Post 162 G. A. R., of which he was a member, and his old comrades decorate his grave with flag and flowers every Memorial Day. For more than half a century, he had been a faithful member of the M. E. Church. He had five children to his (first) wife.

During the Atlanta campaign on May 25, 1864, at New Hope Church, near Dallas, Ga., he was wounded and was sent back to Nashville, Tenn., and unable to rejoin his regiment in time, to make with it the march from Atlanta to the Sea. After the war he resumed work at the printer's trade, and with little exception, earned the living in connection therewith until Sept. 1, 1912. He then retired from business. During these intervening years, he published and edited over a dozen newspapers, some of them dailies. The Grand Army of the Republic was instituted in April, 1866. It was the good fortune of the subject of this sketch to help put in type and through the press the first ritual of that patriotic order, and to become a member of the first Post instituted, which was at Decatur, Ill. He is Past Commander of Post 22, Colorado Springs, Dept. of Colorado and Wyoming, and of Post 162, Redlands Cal., Dept. of California and Nevada, and is a member of Staunton Post 55, Los Angeles, Cal. D-1. Jonathan Hefelstein Cornman

- D-1. Jonathan Hefelstein Cornman, son of C-9. Philip of B-7. Ludwig, Jr., of A-1. Ludwig, Sr., the Pioneer, was born Oct. 25, 1818, in North Middleton Township, Cumberland County, Pa.; died Aug. 3, 1881. He was named for Rev. Jonathan Hefelstein of the Reformed Church, Carlisle, Pa., who was a noted minister. D-1. Jonathan was an orphan at the age of three years, and was raised by relatives. In early manhood, he moved to Carlisle, Pa., and engaged in the Boot and Shoe business. He was a man of sterling worth and character, and held in high esteem by all who knew him; he had a kind word and a happy smile for all, his sunny temperament and gentle manner, made him a welcome guest wherever he went. He possessed a sweet voice, and having a fine ear for music found much enjoyment in singing, was leader many years of the Choir of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Carlisle, Pa., of which he was a member. He was married March 12, 1840, by Rev. John Ulrich of the Lutheran Church, Carlisle, to Anna Maria Embick, born Jan. 29, 1822, at Lebanon, Pa.; died May 27, 1886. She was a model of patient suffering, a heroine in the battles of life and a victor over death. As a mother true and faithful, devoted to the physical, moral and spiritual welfare of her children, she trained them up in the way they should go and as a consequence all are members of the Church. She was a faithful member of the Lutheran Church. As a neighbor and friend, she was beloved, genial, sympathetic and generous, and a favorite with all who knew her. Both are buried in the old graveyard at Carlisle, Pa. She was a daughter of Abraham Embick and Susanna (Wunderlich) Embick. He was born Dec. 4, 1794, at Lebanon, Pa.; d. Jan. 20, 1831, buried in Salem Lutheran Church Cemetery at Lebanon. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, in Capt. Henry Doebblers Company, 1st Brigade, Pennsylvania troops, under command of Col. Maxwell Kennedy. Abraham Embick was a son of John Frederick Embick, b. Feb. 23, 1767, at Lebanon, Pa.; died April 6, 1833. He married 1790 Margaret Shindle, born Oct. 15, 1768; d. Oct. 5, 1835, she was a daughter of Baron Von Shindle. John Frederick Embick was a Deacon in Salem Lutheran Church 1796, County Treasurer 1814-1817, Sheriff 1819-1822, and Justice of the Peace 1824, of Lebanon County, Pa., until he died, April 6, 1833. He was a son of Christopher Embick, the Pioneer in America, born in Germany, emigrated to America in the Ship Nancy, commanded by Capt. John Ewing, arriving at Philadelphia, Sept. 27, 1752, settled in Lebanon County, Pa.; married Maria Elizabeth Kutern, b. June 3, 1729, in Heilbrum, Wurtemberg, Germany; died March 11, 1793. She was a daughter of Englehardt Kutern who came to America from Basil, Wurtemberg, in the Ship Ann, Capt. John Spurier, arriving at Philadelphia, Sept. 28, 1749, settled in Lebanon County, Pa. Christopher Embick, the Pioneer, his wife Maria Elizabeth (Kutern) Embick, and son John Frederick Embick and wife, Margaret (Shindle) Embick, are buried in Mt. Lebanon Cemetery, Lebanon, Pa.

Abraham Embick, son of John Frederick; married Nov. 23, 1818, Susanna Wunderlich, b. June 14, 1796, at Lebanon, Pa.; d. Nov. 31, 1873; buried in the old graveyard at Carlisle, Pa. She was a daughter of John Dietrich Wunderlich, b. Nov. 11, 1757, in Lebanon County; d. Dec. 10, 1829. He married Ap. 1, 1784, Anna Margaret, daughter of Peter and Anna Margaret (Stover) Yetter. She was born Jul. 19, 1766; d. May 11, 1840. He was a son of John Wunderlich, b. Ap. 14, 1733, at Ludwigsburg, Wurtemberg. At the age of 18 years he came to America, arriving at Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 16, 1751, in the Ship Duke of Wurtemberg, settled in Lebanon County, Pa., and engaged in farming. He married Jan. 11, 1757, Maria Elizabeth, daughter of John Albrecht Siechele. She was born Dec. 13, 1739; d. Nov. 23, 1818. John Wunderlich, the Pioneer in America, and his family moved to Middlesex Township, Cumberland County, Pa., and purchased a farm near Carlisle, Pa., where he lived the remainder of his days, and died Sept. 3, 1818. His grand-daughter Susanna (Wunderlich) Embick; m. (2nd) 1832, Charles Bautz, b. Jan. 17, 1801; d. Jan. 16, 1861. She and her (2nd) husband, her father John Dietrich and wife Anna Margaret (Stover) Yetter, and grandfather, John, the Pioneer, and his wife Maria Elizabeth (Siechele) Wunderlich, are buried in the old graveyard at Carlisle, Pa.

During the Revolutionary War, John Dietrich Wunderlich in 1777, alongside with his father, John the Pioneer, served as a private in Capt. Samuel Cochran's Company of the Fourth Battalion, Lancaster County Militia, Pa., Col. Robert Elder. Sept. 1780, he is recorded as a private in Capt. Michael Simpson's Company of the First Penna. Regt. Col. Thomas Robinson. "Penna. Archives, 3rd Series, Vol. 13, p. 362." The war record shows that descendants are eligible to membership in the Societies of the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution.

D-1. Jonathan Hefelstein Cornman had eight children.

E-1. William Oliver Cornman, b. Feb. 1, 1841, at Carlisle, Pa. Baptized Mch. 8, 1841, by Rev. John Ulrich of the Lutheran Church, Carlisle. He studied theology in the Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa., and later in the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, Pa.; ordained June 13, 1866, as a minister of the Gospel in the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

He served in the Civil War in Co. A, 130th Regt. Pa. Vol. Inf., under Capt. William Porter, commanded by Col. H. C. Zinn. The regiment was marched to Camp Wells, two miles in the rear of Arlington Heights, Va., now the National Cemetery. Aug. 25, 1862, it was moved to Fort Marcy, near Chain Bridge, Va. Sept. 7, 1862, at Rockville, Md., it was assigned to 2nd Brigade, 3rd (French's) Division, 2nd (Sumner's) Corps, Army of the Potomac. Sept. 13, 1862, it was rapidly marched to the support of troops engaged at Turner's Gap, South Mountain, Md. Sept. 14, '62, at 2 A. M. it was moved to that portion of the field where the carnage was the greatest and rested until daylight revealed a scene of horror and destruction; they had been sleeping among the dead and the dying, the result of a well earned victory. Sept. 17, '62, at 7 A. M. it forded the creek and advanced in line of battle at Antietam, Md. Sept. 20, '62, the Regt. was detailed to bury the dead at and near the Bloody Lane, in front of their line of works. Last week in Sept. '62, it crossed the Potomac and encamped at Harper's Ferry, Va., and Boliver Heights. Oct. 21, '62, marched to Falmouth, where it was detailed for fatigue and guard duty at Belle Plain, Va. Dec. 5, '62, was relieved and after a toilsome march in the mud, in the midst of a severe snow storm, it rejoined the Division. Dec. 11, '62, it moved to within one mile of Rappahannock, and same night was detailed to assist in laying Pontoon Bridge above Lacy House. Dec. 12, '62, it crossed the river to Fredericksburg, Va., and occupied the ruins of a large brick building on Carolina Street. Dec. 13, '62, it advanced in line of battle and emerging from the town, charged Mary's Heights. Ap. 31, '63, crossed Rappahannock at the U. S. Ford. May 1-3, '63, took part in the Battle of Chancellorville. He was detached a short time in Nov. for duty at Adj. General's Office of Brigade. Dec. 13, '63, was wounded on left side of forehead at Fredericksburg. In Field Hospital, was left behind, and narrowly escaped capture, being rowed across the river by some kind friend after Pontoon Bridges were removed. Jan. 2, '64, was ordered to report to Quartermaster's Dept. as Clerk, which position he retained until he was honorably discharged from service with his Regt. at Harrisburg, Pa., May 21, '64.
