A NEW WAY TO ACCESS INFORMATION

The rapid pace of change in legislation, the need to access the most up-to-date case law and the growing pressure of regulation and compliance in a more litigious world is driving change in the way lawyers access information. To keep pace, firms need to ensure that they not only have access to internal content. They also need to have access to the right online services, ensure that the method of access is consistent across all offices and that access is seamless across all information systems and online services.

While there are many systems out there that specialise in integrated searching, overlapping different systems and services can lead to higher costs, inefficient search practices, less consistency and more risk. We have a solution to overcome that.

OUR TRUSTED SOLUTION IS:

- Appropriate to all; from small and medium firms to multi-jurisdictional firms and national and international legal departments
- Comprehensive, incorporating both internal and external online resources
- Extensible, enabling new content resources to be included without significant cost or disruption
- Configurable, allowing different legal teams and practice groups to organise and search only the resources that are appropriate to them
- Web-based and easy to manage with minimal training and IT involvement
- Available in a number of languages
- Easy to implement and maintain

NO REPETITION. NO DUPLICATION. JUST RESULTS.

FEDERATED SEARCHING

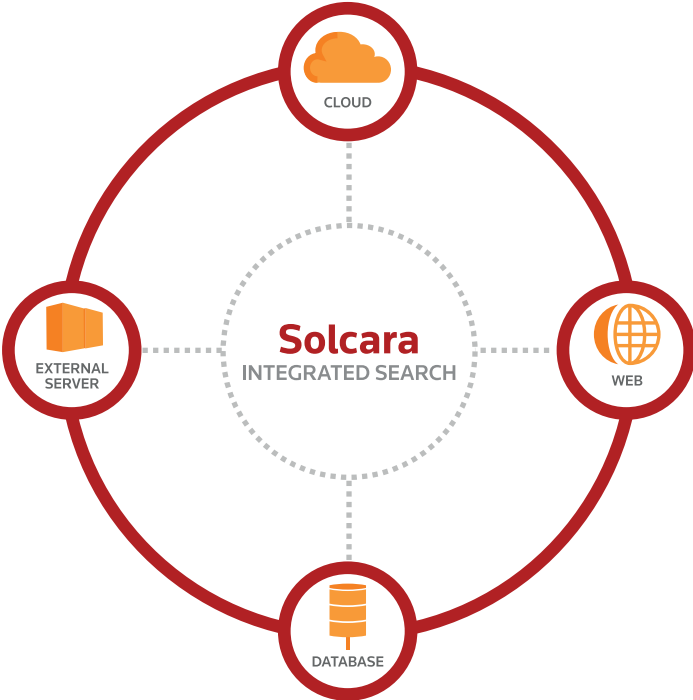

SEARCH WITH CONFIDENCE

Solcara's search technology helps lawyers and information professionals quickly glide through content from a variety of sources, bringing back precise results. The outcome is a high quality, consistent, comprehensive and timely research tool.

Solcara is aimed at organisations that rely on a combination of internal databases, as well as external, web-based resources to support their decision-making. Perhaps your business has an internal document management system, an intranet and other databases that need to be searched alongside government websites and other legal services like Westlaw UK, Practical Law and Lawtel. Indeed, if the source you need is available and searchable via a web browser or other interface, then it's likely that it too could be searched by Solcara.

STAY IN CONTROL OF YOUR MATTERS

By controlling which resources can be searched and how they're searched, you can be confident your lawyers, paralegals and PSLs are using all the necessary resources available to them. And that they are all searching in the right way.

With minimal training, our software lets you target all the relevant resources and search them simultaneously in real time.

DRIVING KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT

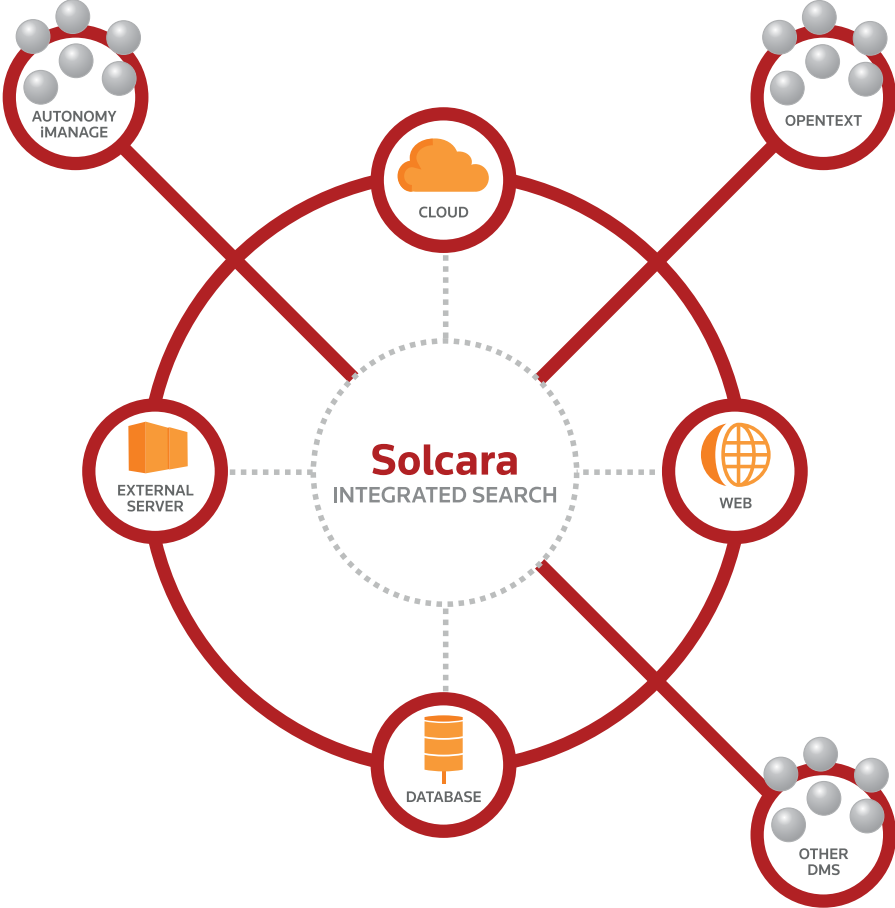

KNOWLEDGE IS MORE THAN JUST DOCUMENTS

And often it's closer than you think. Solcara's specialised legal data management solution lets you get the most out of your high value internal knowledge, saving valuable time and money in the process. Our knowledge management solution is unique in that it elevates only the most high value knowledge within the document management system, separating and sorting it, allowing firms to trade on their lawyers' individual and collective expertise.

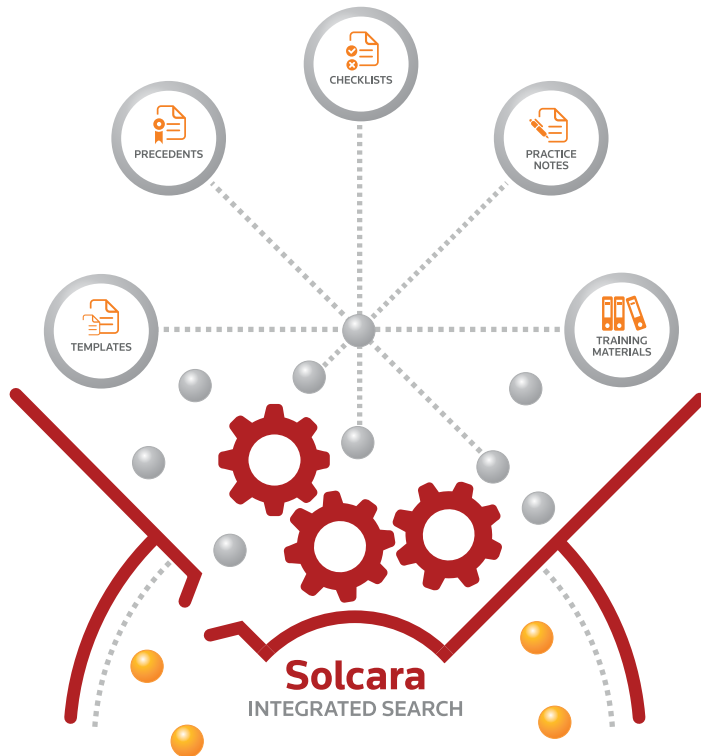

INTEGRATE WITH YOUR OWN DOCUMENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

Our solution supports integration with commonly used document management systems such as Autonomy iManage and OpenText. This means that documents stay in these systems but can be profiled and classified within Solcara. By taking this approach, high value materials are easier to find, more likely to be reused and therefore more valuable to the firm. What's more, the reporting functionality gives accurate information on how frequently the system is being used and by which practice areas and lawyers within those practice areas. It enables a firm to clearly identify areas that may need more support and lawyers or other users who may need further training on search techniques.
