BUCKETS WERE STILL CATCHING a little water last Friday morning in the surgery rooms at Chelsea Community Hospital. Last Wednesday night's two inches of rain leaked through a re-roofing project and left standing water throughout one wing of the hospital. Wet-vacuumers were used to remove the water.

EMERGENCY ROOM SERVICES at Chelsea Community Hospital were curtailed late last week after heavy rain leaked through a re-roofing job and soaked one wing of the hospital. By Monday the area still wasn't up to par but the emergency room was in full operation.

Leaky Roof, Heavy Rains Give Hospital Big Headache

Chelsea Community Hospital sustained serious damage last Wednesday night when heavy rains leaked through a partially finished re-roofing project and soaked several key areas.

The impact of the rain could have been much worse, however, as the leaking began late Wednesday at a time when most of the rooms, including the surgery areas, weren't in use.

The hospital contracted with Freeman Roofing Co. of Jackson to re-roof the portion of the building over the surgery area, and a rubber roof was used according to Director of Public Relations Pat Kubany.

However, workers did not anticipate the rainfall of nearly two inches, and the partly finished job could not tolerate the volume of water.

"There were a couple of quick showers during the afternoon and they caused the guys to get several hours behind in sealing the roof," said Mike Freeman, owner of the company.

"Under a normal rain, probably nothing would have happened, but it was a torrential downpour. It's also the kind of roof that ponds water until it can evaporate. It was kind of a freak thing. We've done industrial roofing for over 20 years and this is the first time anything like this has ever happened."

Freeman indicated that his liability insurance would cover the damage.

As of last Friday, the surgery rooms were still completely shut down. Surgery that had been scheduled for late last week was handled by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and Saline Community Hospital, Kubany said.

Kubany said the rain also put the intensive care unit out of commission, as well as part of the emergency room, the library, part of the radiology department, and several offices.

Kubany said last Friday that the hospital was working closely with Huron Valley Ambulance service to handle critically injured patients who would have otherwise been placed in intensive care. She said these patients would be stabilized at Chelsea hospital and transferred to another facility.

Emergency room services remain intact, although some of the equipment was moved into hallways.

The two largest pieces of radiology equipment were shut down and possibly damaged, Kubany said. They had to be checked out before being put back into use.

DDA Plan Adopted By Village Council

Chelsea Village Council voted unanimously to adopt the initial plan of the Downtown Development Authority for improvements to the downtown area.

In adopting the plan after a sparsely-attended public meeting Tuesday, Aug. 5, the council did not approve any specific project. The approval gave the DDA the go-ahead to continue work on plans for particular projects. The approval was a necessary legal step in the evolution of the DDA.

DDA Chairman Mark Heydlauff fielded the questions during the hearing. He was asked about specific projects, funding for them and other matters.

"They didn't say 'no you cannot do this.' They were concerned about any curb changes we would make on any intersections. The only point they brought out about that is if we were to shorten up the cross walk and make it easier for pedestrians, we would eliminate their ability to come to town and make a permanent left-hand turn lane or (make it into four lanes). We looked at this as no better reason to move forward on this than to allow them to have the ability to ever come and change our downtown from two lanes and two lanes of parking. That was the only reason they didn't like our plan."

On the question of trees being planted downtown, he said that topic has been blown out of proportion, "and we aren't going to come in, put a row of trees down and turn this place into a forest." (Continued on page five)

Excitement Mounts As Community Fair Looks Toward Opening Day

The 1986 version of the Chelsea Community Fair, Aug. 25-30, Michigan's largest community-owned fair, will be almost identical to the one held last year.

About the only major change is a mud bog will replace the long-running rodeo.

Even the daily price of admission, $1, has remained the same.

Although it's impossible to name the most popular event, there are always many highlights. The Cavalcade of Thrills Demolition Derby takes place on two nights. Other traditional events include the livestock auction, fair queen coronation, Ladies Day, tractor pulls, fair parade and the judging of animals, crafts and foods.

Although the Children's Parade on Tuesday, Aug. 26 at 6 p.m. is considered the traditional opening event of the fair, several activities have been completed by then.

On Tuesday at 11 a.m. there will be the judging of poultry, followed by the judging of rabbits at 1 p.m. Also at 1 p.m. is a horse show.

Following the Children's Parade will be a tricycle pull at the main arena, the judging of sheep, and the first installment of the demolition derby, which includes the Powder Puff derby for women.

Wednesday kicks off with a western performance horse show at 9 a.m., followed by the judging of goats at 10, judging of beef at 1 p.m., and judging of swine at 7 p.m. Part two of the demolition derby begins at 7:30 p.m.

An English performance horse show leads off Thursday's activities at 8 a.m. Antique tractor pulling begins at 9 a.m., followed by the judging of dairy cattle at 10.

At 5 p.m. on Thursday will be the Kiddies Peddle-Power Tractor Pull. The mud bog takes center stage at 6:30 p.m. The livestock auction closes out the day at 7 p.m.

Friday begins with Ladies Day at 8 a.m. in the multi-purpose arena. Ladies Day speakers include Nancy Dewar, a motivational speaker who will share her personal weight-loss story; Constance Crump, restaurant reviewer for the Ann Arbor News; the Dairy Diplomats, who will give an informative talk on osteoporosis; and Dr. Martin Gleespan of Chelsea Community Hospital, who will talk on the same subject.

Other Ladies Day events include a performance by Tracey Lynne and The Mountain Express, free coffee and doughnuts to the first 500 women who register, and a performance by dancers from Heartbeat Technique Center during registration.

Also on Friday morning are a horse show at 9 and a lightweight tractor pull, also at the same time.

The highlight of Friday evening is the selection of the 1986 Chelsea Community Fair Queen. As of press time, there were eight definite candidates, and another probable one. Julia Vorms will be the master of ceremonies.

Tractor pulls also continue at 7 p.m. with the farm stock-speed pull weight transfer sled classes.

Saturday begins with an open horse show at 8 a.m. Runners can once again take part in a fun run sponsored by the Chelsea Recreation Council and the Family Practice Center on Saturday at 9 a.m. There will be three running events and one walking event.

A compact tractor pull also takes place at 9.

Saturday afternoon features the Chelsea Fair Parade at 1 p.m. Horseshoe pitching gets underway at 3 p.m. The evening's events include a 4-wheel drive speed pulling contest and a modified tractor pull at 7 p.m. Livestock Sweepstakes Show begins at 7:30, with the livestock raffle drawing at 10.

Parking in lots at the fairgrounds is free.

Children 12 and younger are also admitted free. Senior citizens can buy a $6 pass good for the whole fair, and they will be admitted on Thursday free of charge.

Other season passes are $10 for adults and $7 for students with high school identification.

DNR Seeks Charges Against Federal Screw Works for Dumping Oil into Letts Creek

Criminal charges will be sought against Federal Screw Works of Chelsea for dumping several hundred gallons of oil into Letts Creek, according to Department of Natural Resources officials.

The dumping occurred Sunday morning, July 28, according to Craig Wales, DNR Conservation officer and Chelsea resident. He said "minor fish kills" were reported as far as 1 1/2 miles downstream.

Wales, who was on vacation at the time, was called at home by a man who lives on the creek and noticed the slick. Wales said he traced the oil back to a storm sewer at Federal Screw Works. He estimated that oil had been flowing into the creek for at least an hour and 20 minutes. An injection of dye into the Federal Screw Works drain later confirmed their suspicions.

"There wasn't much to hide," Wales said.

Fred Hoffman, plant manager at Federal Screw Works, admitted the oil was dumped.

"We obviously don't want to hide anything," Hoffman said. "We have taken preventive measures so that it can't happen again."

Jeff Harness, general manager of the plant, was unavailable for comment.

Federal Screw Works will pay for the initial clean-up of the drain sewer, which has already been completed Hoffman said. Sgt. Jim Wooley, environmental conservation officer with DNR estimated that cost at $1,500.

"The DNR gave us a clean bill of health last week and commented on what a fine job we'd done," Hoffman said.

In the meantime, Wooley said, the incident is still under investigation. He said water samples and other evidence are still being analyzed and it will probably be 3-4 weeks before any evidence can be taken to a prosecutor.

Wooley said the dumping of oil is considered a misdemeanor with fines ranging from $2,500 to $25,000. He said that under the

Tuesday, Aug. 19, 1982—
The large number of candidates for governor of Michigan and confusion over this year's political redistricting has election officials predicting a 25 percent voter turnout.
The 1982 Chelsea Fair will have a new special event for the women. It's a Ladies Day, with local women modeling fall fashions, a Kitchen Band, microwave cooking demonstration by Lenore Matloff, Gale Baumgardner speaking humorously on "You Are Ladies Today" and the announcement of the "Homemaker of the Year" award. This first annual Ladies Day event was organized by Kay Heller, Kay Poljan, Elsie Heller, Donna Dault, Sue Van Natter of Dexter, Debbie Spaulding, Lynn Kinz, Jackie Rogers and Veretta Whitaker.
Sandra L. Frame, an 18-year-old senior at CHS, will tell a humorous story as her talent for the queen contest. She is sponsored by Chelsea Big Big.
Trina M. Mindykowski, a 16-year old senior at CHS, will do a dance as a Raggedy Ann doll come to life for her fair queen talent presentation.

State Tax Exemption Policy In Need of Review, Study Says
Michigan's industrial and commercial tax abatements and exemptions have done little to stimulate economic growth, and personal property tax exemptions need to be tightened and reviewed according to a study on the effect of the state's property tax exemption policy.

The study by Public Sector Consultants, done at the request of Sen. Harry DeMaso (R-Battle Creek), stressed the lack of reliable data available on the value of tax-exempt property in Michigan, and outlined several recommendations for improving current policy.
"This study, which is the first of its kind, was done at a cost of $45,000 from my office appropriations and was long overdue," DeMaso said.

Both parties are always talking about property tax reform, but first we need to know the status of property taxes to determine which exemptions are still justified," he said.
Robert Kleine from Public Sector said the study showed that the state homestead property tax credit suffers from a lack of visibility, unnecessary complexity, and unequal treatment.
"We think the homestead credit should be targeted more for low and middle income households," Kleine said.

Kleine said there are over 100 tax-exemption statutes on the books and some have outlived their usefulness. "There has to be a solid criteria for granting property tax abatements and a good process of reviewing existing exemptions," he said.
According to study findings, tax-exempt property in Michigan is worth an estimated $7.2

37.5 percent of the value of all taxable properties, of which $28 million is from personal property and $21.5 million is from government.
The report also said approximately two-thirds of exempt real property (excluding industrial and commercial tax abatements) is owned by federal, state, and local governments, while another 12 percent is owned by churches.
Other recommendations listed in the study include: state take over of the assessing process; requiring local assessors to value tax-exempt property and report values to the State Tax Commission; and requiring owners of tax-exempt property to file annual reports estimating its value.

The report also urges legislators to place five-year time limits on exemptions and review current exemptions every five years, as well as establishing criteria that proposed exemptions must meet before approval.
It also suggests modification or repeal of industrial and commercial tax abatements on special manufacturing tools and non-profit health care organizations.
"The Legislature should immediately start looking at the 100 tax exemptions currently allowed and evaluate which ones are justifiable," DeMaso said.

"Most exemptions are political in nature, and they need to be reviewed on a non-political basis. This report should be a challenge to the Legislature to make the property tax system in Michigan the best in the country," he said.
"Hopefully, we can begin work in the fall, and 1987 could be the year to turn the entire property tax structure around."

State To Seek "Superfund" Money For Rouge Cleanup
Following an inspection of cleanup efforts, Governor Blanchard Tuesday said the state will pursue federal Superfund money to assist with cleanup of the Rouge River. He said a combination of federal, state and local funds will be necessary to promote a full solution to the contamination.
The fiscal year 1986-87 Department of Natural Resources budget contains $250,000 in state funds for the first phase of the Rouge cleanup. The funds will support water quality surveillance of the river to determine contamination "hot spots" and for the development of cleanup alternatives.

law it doesn't matter whether the dumping was accidental or not. Wooley said it is unclear whether the dumping was due to "sloppy maintenance, pure neglect or was an accident."
According to Wooley, a valve to an oil holding tank was left open and the tank overflowed into a floor storm drain. The valve, he said, was to let water into the tank to flush it out.
"It's one thing if a pipe breaks or something, but this is not so cut and dried," Wooley said.
"We have a few more things to run down."
Wooley said the problem was compounded by a faulty catch basin in the floor that was designed to separate water and oil.
"It looked like it had been there 30 years and never been serviced," Wooley said.
The floor man at the plant said he didn't even know there was a catch basin in the floor.
"I wouldn't be surprised if there hasn't been a little slick on the creek after every hard rain, but not to the point that people would notice it."
Wales was more direct about fault in the incident.
"They're claiming it was an accident but I don't buy it," Wales said.
"This is a common practice and it happens in Ann Arbor all the time but normally there are huge amounts of oil involved. It usually happens on a Sunday when they think no one is looking."

books in the library, as well as much equipment throughout the area, was still covered in plastic as of Friday afternoon.
Suspended ceiling throughout the area, which covered ductwork and electrical lines, was removed.
Chairs and furniture were in the hallways and the area generally looked as though an extensive renovation project was underway.
"The staff responded to this really well," Kubany said.
"Everyone worked together so that we could keep going. Obviously, though, it's an unanticipated setback and it does affect how we function."
Wet-vacuum equipment was used to get rid of the water, that was nearly half an inch deep in a couple of places, Kubany said.
As of late last week, a total estimate of the damage had not been completed, according to assistant administrator Kathleen Griffiths.
As of Friday, the question of liability had not been worked out Griffiths said.
However, by Monday afternoon all services at the hospital, with the exception of part of the radiology department, were back in use.

Uncle Lew from Lima Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:
Maybe it was the lag end of dog days and not their dispositions gone sour permanent, but the fellers was stuck in the mulligrubs all through the session at the country store Saturday night. Zeke Grubb set the mood of the meeting when he said the more he observes Government at all levels the more he sees the wisdom of Mark Twain. That man, Zeke declared, didn't near so much tell funny stories as he told stories funny, and that's the way to teach.

For instant, Zeke said, Twain told how the missionary went forth to convert the cannibals. He said the cannibals received the missionary corjule and they listened with the greatest interest to everything he had to say. And then they ate him. What we got now, Zeke allowed, is Governments playing cannibals to us missionaries. Our elected and appointed representatives listen and make noises about understanding our predicaments, and then they do what they've allus done. They squirt a little oil on the squeaking wheel and go on about the business of Government business.

And that business, Zeke went on, is first looking out fer them that's in office, and, second, taking care of them that done the most to put em in office and that show the most promise of keeping em there. No wonder, Zeke said, that folks in this country vote agin, not fer. You don't need a good man tried and true on your side, he said, you need a real hero on the other side. That's how this Iococo draft is coming down, according to Zeke, he's being billed as the worst candidate we got except fer everybody else.
There was nods all around after Zeke unoaded. Clem Webster said if you doubt the same rules still apply look at who gets what on the farm. Clem had saw where in 1984 the Government paid $1.3 billion to farmers and ranchers. Of that, $2.1 billion went to folks that USDA said had "very strong net worth and few financial problems." Of the hole bundle, Clem said, only $69 million went to farmers deep in debt. It's one thing to hear cries of farmers going down for the third time, Clem said, but it's pure Government not to throw good tax dollars after bad political investments. A strong net worth is bound to be more help than a bankrupt, was Clem's words.

Actual, broke in Bug Hookham, them as has guts is a rule in American life that natural carries over in politics that is the soul of Government. For his part, Bug said, it's refreshing to see politicians fly their true colors on occasion. For instant, late last year when the House took the cap off outside income the hall was empty and no vote was took. The speaker declared the resolution resolved five seconds after it was introduced by a member that was quitting to go into lobbying. Everybody not there could go home and say truthful that he had nothing to do with it.

Speaking of true colors, Ed Duolittle said he liked the member of the N. C. Board of Transportation better. The governor had put up road signs all over the capital telling how to get to his hometown 150 mile away. So the board member done the same thing with the idea that it was his duty to his people in particular and all people in general. His town 90 mile from Raleigh has 1,000 people. It don't have a governor, the member said, but it does have a voice on the Transportation Board and they were darn proud of it.
Yours truly,
Uncle Lew

Wellnitzes Mark 60th Anniversary

John and Ruth Wellnitz, 520 Howard St., celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at home Aug. 12.

They were married in Tecumseh by the Rev. H. B. Marsh in the Methodist parsonage in 1926. They moved to Chelsea from Adrian in 1937 as John became a Metropolitan Life Insurance agent.

They became members of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed church in 1937, now known as St. Paul's United Church of Christ.

John stays active with his hobbies of wordworking and collecting classic Winchester rifles. He has been associated with the Chelsea Community Fair Board since 1968, and still reports the proceedings of the meetings. He has missed only five meetings. The Wellnitzes also stay busy maintaining their home.

Ruth and John have two sons, John R. of Ypsilanti and Jack H. of Brookville, Fla. They have seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

John R. has one son, Rick, living in Oklahoma, another son, Kurt, in Bay City, and a third son, Scott, in Linwood. A daughter died 17 years ago.

Grandson Kurt has three children, Julie, Jason and Cletus.

Son Jack H. has four children, Jack J., Bart, Gary and Jennifer. Jack J. has two children, Monica and Daniel, in South Dakota. Bart lives in Northville and has two children, Sara and Megan. Gary lives in Aiden and Jennifer in Saginaw.

John and Ruth, both octogenarians, are in good health.

Helen Kay Leonard and Gregory Allen Raye were married Saturday afternoon, June 28, in an outdoor ceremony at Romanoff's in Ann Arbor.

Helen is the daughter of Walter P. and Helen May Leonard. Greg is the son of the late Martin and Mary Ellen Raye.

The bride's sister, Dr.

Elizabeth Leonard Worley, of Charleston, S.C., formerly of Ann Arbor, and Charles D. DiStefano of Southgate were attendants.

The Rev. William S. Hill, of Dexter performed the ceremony. A celebration immediately followed the ceremony.

Helen and Greg are graduates of the University of Michigan where Greg is currently completing his master's degree in architecture. Helen is employed by The Chelsea Standard.

Burg Family Reunion Sunday At Doll Farm

The 18th annual Burg Family Reunion was held Sunday, Aug. 3 at Doll's picnic grounds. A potluck dinner was served to 87 guests from Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, Florida and Caracas, Venezuela.

A brief shower did not dampen the moods of the visitors, as they enjoyed the swimming, volleyball and horseshoes as well as the visiting.

The activities would not be complete without the traditional Bocci Ball tournament, won this year by Vince Burg and Brian "Shit" Schittenhelm taking last year's crown away from host Don Doll and partner, Jerry Guirey.

*Plans are being made for next year's reunion.

Marathon Bridge Seeking Members for September Opening

Chelsea Community Hospital Auxiliary sponsors a Bridge Marathon each year, September through June.

Daphne Hodder marathon bridge chairman would like to issue a last call for this year's players. If anyone is interested in joining the group, please call and sign up before Aug. 24 as schedules will be mailed the last week-end in August.

Call Mrs. Hodder days at 475-1368 or evenings at 475-7238.

Health Center Offers Drug Use Assessment

Is your child using drugs?

Do you sometimes wonder if your teen-ager is just struggling to find himself or herself or whether he or she may be using drugs? A new substance abuse assessment service offered by the Chemical Dependency Program at Catherine McAuley Health Center can help you know the score.

For the assessment, a trained counselor meets with the parents and their child. If the child does have a drug or alcohol problem, the parents and the child will be given assistance in selecting the right treatment.

The minimal service fee can be waived depending on the parents' ability to pay.

For more information, call the Chemical Dependency Program at 572-4306.

Recall Ordered on Child Safety Seat

Graco Children's Products has undertaken a recall of its Graco GT 1000 child safety seats because of possible problems with the lever that adjusts the seat. The problem could occur when the safety seat is in the infant (rear facing) position.

The possible defect was discovered by NHTSA engineers who were testing the seat to see if it complied with Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard No. 213, Child Restraint Systems.

Graco will correct the problem at no cost to the owner by providing a guard that will prevent the vehicle's back seat from interfering with the latching mechanism of the child seat. Graco will send the guard, along with instructions, to GT 1000 owners who call or write the company.

Owners may call Graco's customer service division toll-free by dialing 1-800-345-4109. Pennsylvania residents may call collect on 1-215-286-3651. Letters should be addressed to: Graco Children's Products, Inc., P.O. Box 100, Elverson, Pa. 19520.

BOY SCOUTS

TROOP 62-

Life rank scout Paul Hedding has completed his Eagle project, the final step in achieving the rank of Eagle. Paul's project consisted of securing two geometric wall mural designs to be painted upon the end walls of the Chelsea Free Methodist fellowship hall, and to direct their construction to completion.

Artist-designers Kasey Anderson and Dan Dent used Bible scripture as a basis for their murals. Church members and fellow scouts assisted in the painting. Assistant Scoutmaster Robert Smith has counseled Paul throughout his project.

Paul has earned 24 merit badges, 21 are required for Eagle rank, and has satisfied the requirements of serving in troop positions. Paul, age 16, presently is serving as staff lifeguard at the Boy Scout Summer Camp, Camp Teetonkah. His confirmation of Eagle is forthcoming from National.

Doug Hedding, Leader.

Joyce Brown To Chair St. Jude Bike-a-Thon

Joyce Brown of Chelsea has been named the chair of the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bike-a-Thon in Chelsea.

The event is scheduled Sept. 20, with a rain date of Sept. 27. In past years the event has been held at Chrysler Proving Grounds. However, no site has yet been confirmed for this year's event.

In the bike-a-thon, children raise money by soliciting pledges for how far they ride.

This year's event is dedicated to "Jaime," an Ohio girl who was diagnosed with leukemia in May of 1983 but is in remission today thanks to treatment received at St. Jude Hospital.

The hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict children. It is a non-sectarian and non-discriminatory institution, and provides medical care to more than 4,200 children.

Linda Bristle, Dennis Gorte Married at Zion Lutheran

Linda Bristle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bristle, 13771 Sco Church Rd., and Dennis Gorte, son of Mrs. Emma Gorte and the late Alex Gorte, of Manchester, were married Saturday, May 10 at Zion Lutheran church.

The Rev. John R. Morris, of the Zion Lutheran church, officiated.

Anita Sessoms, a friend of the bride, sang "Follow Me," and "Wedding Song."

The bride wore a romantic white floor-length gown of sheer chiffon and imported French Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a traditional high neckline and long Juliette styled sleeves. The bodice was accented with tiny seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The full bouffant skirt featured Chantilly lace ruffles along the hemline which flowed into a chapel length train.

The bride wore a match picture styled hat accented with imported french Chantilly, tiny seed pearls, iridescent sequins and fingertip English illusion. She carried a silk bouquet of white roses, carnations and violets with a lavender streamer.

The matron of honor was Sherrie Funkbeiner of Clinton, a friend of the couple. She wore a loose, floor-length flowing lavender gown with a lace inset at the neckline. She carried a silk bouquet of lavender flowers and streamers.

The bridesmaids were Teri Mannor of Chelsea, friend of the couple; Susan Prinzing of Chelsea, cousin of the bride; and Susan Klager of Saline, niece of the bridegroom. They wore lavender gowns with chiffon overlays on the bodice.

The bride's mother wore a floor length blue gown with an accented skirt. There was a chiffon overlay on the bodice and cape sleeves.

Wendy Bristle, niece of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid.

The best man was Gerry Gorte, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception for 250 people was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Kerri Bristle, niece of the bride, and Danielle Ginson, niece of the bridegroom, managed the guest book.

Cake servers were Kim and

A VIEW from the CLOCK TOWER

By Will Connelly

Last Friday was the August meeting of the Depot board of trustees and it added one more pleasure to the 100-year history of the station.

1880 The handsome Victorian railroad building, designed by architects Mason and Rice, was built following destruction of two wretched earlier shacks.

AMTRAK'S 20TH CENTURY TROUBLES—The new station had served and dignified the community for 95 years when its last owner, Amtrak, encountered financial troubles and withdrew its agent. The rail company abandoned all but a small section of the building for use as an unattended, unheated waiting room.

END OF SERVICE—In 1981 the station was closed as Amtrak discontinued its passenger service to Chelsea.

SOCIETY APPROACHED AMTRAK IN 1983—Vigorous efforts were formally undertaken by the Chelsea Area Historical Society to buy or lease the abandoned station. The Society was determined to save the historic building from decay and ruin.

OTHERS ENTER THE RESCUE EFFORT—The Society was joined in its depot mission by the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce in 1984. The assistance of Representative Carl D. Pursell of the 2nd Congressional District of Michigan was enlisted. With his encouragement, Amtrak was persuaded to sell the depot property to the people of Chelsea. The efforts of many people were involved. Dudley Holmes, Jr., and Will Connelly were in direct negotiations with the real estate department of Amtrak. Attorney Peter Flintoft aided in incorporating the Chelsea Depot Association. Robert Thornton Realty made an appraisal of the property which was acceptable to Amtrak and the CDA.

EARLY CHRISTMAS—On Dec. 11, 1985, with $16,000 contributed by the Historical Society, the Civic Foundation of Chelsea, Chelsea Milling Co., the Chelsea Area Chamber of Commerce and Dana Corp., the people of Chelsea acquired possession of the depot and 0.84 acres of land. The agreement was signed in Carl Pursell's Washington office. Tony DeAngelo signed as assistant vice-president, real estate, of Amtrak and I signed as president of the Chelsea Depot Association. (It may have only been Dec. 11, but for a lot of us Christmas came two weeks early in 1985!)

MONEY DRIVE BEGINS—In mid-January of 1986 we began a direct mail campaign among the general public, and also prominent civic organizations. The responses were generous and we got to work. There was recording of the deed, insuring the title, and efforts to get bids from contractors. Some builders were too busy to bid. Others were reluctant to bid except on a time and materials basis because restoration work is like shooting craps with the lights out. In the end, we were helped by Charles Shiver, restoration specialist, Bob Bauer, a well known local builder, Charles Pelletier of Pinckney Glass, and Dave Stoll, a free lance woodwork artisan. Dave Pastor did considerable work as a volunteer locksmith.

OPEN HOUSE—By June 28 we were able to open the doors of the repaired and repainted exterior. The public was welcomed to a jubilant open house where donations reached almost $2,000.

EVENTFUL MEETING—Our Aug. 8 board meeting was indeed a red letter day because we had succeeded in buying the depot, restoring the exterior to its exact 1880 Michigan Central Railroad appearance, and passed the word!

Aug. 8 marked the end of Phase One of the depot project and the beginning of Phase Two: rehabilitating the depot interior. It was apparent that we would need to expand our board of trustees to bring in new talents and additional efforts. There was therefore some concern about the fact that the CDA president had had a stroke and that the ensuing hospital tests would be evaluated by my neurologist on Aug. 7, the date of our regular board meeting. Thus we moved our meeting to the following day.

This small stroke had occurred on July 4th—just two days after I had passed my ophthalmologist's examination with flying colors. After the stroke I discovered that I had lost my right field vision. I could only read haltingly, like a small child and I could not locate the keys of my typewriter. Also, whole words and phrases disappeared from the right side of whatever I was studying.

It was good news to me and my neurologist when my ability to work a typewriter suddenly returned, and my vision began to show gradual improvement. So it looked then, and now, like I may return pretty close to normal. No Mercywood. No brain surgery. But also no more loads of responsibilities and no more piles of deadlines.

My dear colleagues on the board shared my relief. We talked about it and decided that I will remain as a trustee but someone else who has the time will be found to take over the presidency.

Part of the solution, even for the new president, even for a retiree, is to divide the growing volume of work among committees.

Rehabilitating the interior of this 3,500 square foot building involves co-ordinating the work of a dozen subcontractors.

Reducing the interior, for example, calls for some compromise. A 19th century decor throughout would be charming but could cost twice as much as a contemporary approach. Also, nobody wants hand pumped water faucets, kerosene oil for lighting, coal stove heat and cardboard hand fans for air conditioning.

A list of repairs, replacements and improvements for the building will come close to $79,000 including firm bids from responsible contractors on about three-fourths of the project. Lee Fahrner, our village engineer and a trustee, will recheck the figures.

Where will the money come from? We have quite a few money raising projects going at once in Chelsea.

It so happens that there are charitable foundations who will grant support to projects quite similar to our historic, multiple benefit depot. Some of the requirements of charitable foundations are quite definitive. At the same time, our depot association has a project plan that calls for civic, cultural and educational goals.

So, during the ensuing weeks, CDA committees will be reviewing construction plans, comparing bids and keeping a respectful eye on foundation policies.

What if we strike out with the foundation? Then we'll simply have to do the big job in small bites. We'll raise the modest amount of money for Step One. We'll do it, and begin to build new enthusiasm for financing Step Two.

We'll do it. You know we will because you will help too.

In the end we will have a beautifully restored building with new lavatories, an entrance ramp for the handicapped, handsome new floors, high intensity gas heating, air conditioning—all the facilities and conveniences we are used to at the doorstep of year 2000.

Everything, that is, except chairs and tables, blinds or drapes, antique display cases, bookshelves and audio-visual devices that make our station useful.

We'll get there somehow. You know Chelsea, so you know we will.

Some new students are not required to attend orientation. To find out if you are exempt from orientation, or to reserve a space for one of the sessions, call (313) 973-3464.

AstroFest Program Looks at Possible Life in Universe

"Are We Alone?" is the question that will be posed at the 162nd AstroFest film and lecture presentation at the University of Michigan.

Jim Loudon, staff astronomer at the U-M Exhibit Museum and AstroFest director, warns that the answer is "we don't know."

The free public program is set for 7:30 p.m. Aug. 15 in Auditorium 3, Modern Languages Building.

Loudon bills the presentation as "a coldly rational look at life in the universe." The program will begin with a NASA film, "Who's Out There," narrated by Orson Welles.

In explaining why we still do not know about life elsewhere in the universe, Loudon says he will introduce some major concepts in astronomy, biology and chemistry, but "as always at AstroFest, no previous science knowledge is assumed." AstroFest is sponsored by the U-M's Exhibit Museum and Department of Aerospace Engineering.

Council OKs DDA

(Continued from page one) We don't even know if we can have any trees between the railroad tracks and Palmer Ford. There might not be room."

Heydlauff said the first project would probably involve landscaping north of the railroad tracks and trying to continue the work that Chelsea Industries has started with tree planting.

Heydlauff indicated that the DDA will have to look at hiring a director once the plans get a little further along and a specific time frame has been set.

Village President Jerry Satterthwaite lent strong support for the plan.

"When you think of Chelsea, you think of the downtown," Satterthwaite said.

"It doesn't take much to go to some communities and see nothing but antique stores and restaurants. I think everyone benefits, whether they agree with the plan or not. It keeps property values up for the rest of the community, whether you own a store on the north end of town or the south end."

Financing of the projects is one question that could not be answered. Satterthwaite said a final decision should be made by the attorney general by April on whether tax increment financing can be used.

A Thoughtful and Loving Alternative
Most of us try to make the best plans we can for the major events of life. We plan carefully for marriage, children, education, career and retirement. But we don't plan ahead for funeral services. We leave it to loved ones when they're least prepared. Instead of doing it ourselves in advance, we're planning ahead and even prearranging our wishes and desires, and can specify arrangements that might otherwise cause confusion, difficult decisions and differences of opinion to our family.
By prearranging and prepaying, you have peace and can even determine cost.
Pre-planning is an Informative Program
For further information on preplanning, please call or write us today. We will be happy to talk to you and there is no obligation on your part and no representation will be made.

MSU President To Speak at Lunch & Learn

Dr. John A. DiBiaggio, president, Michigan State University, will be speaking at the "Lunch and Learn" program sponsored by Citizens Trust on Thursday noon, Sept. 4, at the Campus Inn. His topic will be "Higher Education: Right Answers to the Wrong Questions."

Dr. DiBiaggio became the 17th president of Michigan State University after serving for six years as president of the University of Connecticut. He graduated from Eastern Michigan University and then attended the University of Detroit School of Dentistry where he graduated in 1958. He holds a master's degree from the Rackham School of Graduate Studies at the University of Michigan and honorary degrees from several other institutions.

Dr. DiBiaggio was elected chairperson-elect of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. He has served as a member of that group's executive committee and chaired its committee on governmental relations. He is a member of the board of trustees at the University of Detroit and of the board of overseers of the University of Pennsylvania.

His luncheon address on Sept. 4 is open to the public. A fee of $6 covers the cost of the lunch. Reservations may be made by calling Citizens Trust, 994-5555, ext. 213.

County Simulates Hazardous Incident To Test Responses In Mock Disaster Occurrence

"Disaster Simulation will be staged at the Pittsfield Township Hall, Thursday, Aug. 13 (tomorrow), as Washtenaw county tests its Prehospital Disaster Plan and the Hazardous Incident Response Standard Operating Procedures." Daniel R. Harsh, director of the Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Management, announced early this week.

The test planned for more than six months by approximately 50 volunteers and representatives of Washtenaw county government is organized by the disaster subcommittee of the emergency medical services commission in co-operation with the hospital facilities, medical committee representatives and the hazardous substance panel of Washtenaw county.

Mary Lou Randolph, chair of the Washtenaw County EMS Commission, explained, "Only through exercising our plans and resources, can we be confident of their effectiveness in an actual emergency. We appreciate the input hospitals and municipalities have had during the exercise development and thank Pittsfield officials for allowing use of township facilities for the exercise—and for all the help they have given us."

The field exercise will evaluate command post procedures, staging area organization and EMS triage and treatment capabilities, as well as their response to a hazardous materials incident.

It will also allow hospital facilities to evaluate their inter-

development and thank Pittsfield officials for allowing use of township facilities for the exercise—and for all the help they have given us."

Simulating a "hazardous material incident" during which approximately 90 injuries occur, the mock disaster is planned at the intersection of Eilsworth and State Sts., site of the Pittsfield Township Hall. Both fire and law enforcement officers are headquartered at the facility; in addition to other township officials.

The field exercise will evaluate command post procedures, staging area organization and EMS triage and treatment capabilities, as well as their response to a hazardous materials incident.

It will also allow hospital facilities to evaluate their inter-

★ Prepare for the Flu Now

By Gail Finch, R.N.
During the long, hot summer days of August, winter and influenza, "the flu," seems a long way off. Although it may be a while before cold weather and influenza arrive, the best time to immunize yourself (get your "flu shot") against influenza is in September and October.

GAIL FINCH, R.N.

Influenza is an epidemic viral infection, usually occurring during the winter months. Flu symptoms may range from a mild upper respiratory infection to pneumonia. In some years the flu epidemic is mild and affects only a few people. However, in other years it reaches epidemic proportions, causing severe infections, increased hospitalizations, and deaths.

To help control the epidemic and minimize the number of cases of the flu, immunizations are useful and highly recommended for those individuals who are high-risk. Through administration of the vaccine, hospitalization and deaths have decreased by reducing the chance of people getting the virus or by reducing the severity of the disease in those receiving the virus.

The flu virus has many different strains, which occur in different years. Each year, mid-winter, before the end of the current flu season, the Public Health Service reviews the current influenza vaccine formula and makes recommendations for the strains of virus to be put into next year's vaccine. The effectiveness of the new vaccine depends on the accuracy of this prediction.

Because the flu strain changes yearly, it is necessary to have the flu shot repeated each year. Any age group may get influenza, but only those who are high-risk are recommended to get flu vaccine. High-risk persons include those most likely to be severely ill and require hospitalization or even die from complications of the influenza virus.

Which individuals are high-risk? Chronically ill persons of any age are high-risk. This group includes those with heart disease, pulmonary disease (severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, emphysema), kidney disease, diabetes mellitus, severe anemia. Flu vaccine is also recommended for persons over 65 years of age because excess mortality in flu outbreaks occur in this age group. A probable reason for this high mortality rate is the fact that many people over 65 years of age have some chronic disease.

If you are not sure whether or not you should receive the vaccine, consult your physician.

Influenza vaccine causes few adverse reactions. There may be some local swelling and pain at the site of the injection. This occurs in about one-third of the shots given. Mild flu-like symptoms—fever and joint pain—may occur. However, this is rare especially in older persons.

Severe allergic reactions are extremely rare, but as with any vaccine or medication may occur. The vaccine is made from chick embryos infected with the specific virus. Anyone who is allergic to chicken eggs should NOT receive the vaccine.

Influenza vaccine can be administered in most physicians' offices. Many citizens' groups hold special clinics when nurses will come to their meeting places to give flu shots.

A special flu shot clinic will be held for the Chelsea Senior Citizens Center. Nurses from the Family Practice Center will be available to give the injections. Specific information will be published in The Chelsea Standard in September.

Enjoy the rest of the summer, and remember, if you are included in the high-risk group, get your flu shot early and be ready to enjoy the winter.

Immunizations Needed Before School Starts

Children who attend school for the first time or are in a day care or pre-school program must be protected from seven diseases: measles, mumps, rubella, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. They must receive their shots before they go to class. Transfer students and students who have been out of a school district for a year and return also need to be up-to-date on these immunizations.

College students also need to check their immunizations status before classes begin, especially for measles and rubella. The University of Michigan's policy states: a student will not be allowed to register without proof of immunization. Many other colleges have similar policies.

During August and September the Washtenaw County Health Department is offering free immunization clinics throughout the county for babies, children and students entering college.

Immunizations will be offered in this area at the Chelsea Community Fair on Wednesday, Aug. 27 from 8 to 9 p.m. at the Catherine McAuley van.

Some immunizations are important for adults. Adults need tetanus shots—not once but every 10 years—throughout their lives. The Health Department offers free tetanus shots for adults on a non-emergency basis only. Also, people over 60 and those with chronic diseases need annual flu shots. They will be available from the Health Department in late fall.

Citizens Trust Reports Improved Earnings

Citizens Trust net income for the first six months of 1986 increased by 31.5% over the corresponding period in 1985, it was reported by George H. Cress, president and chief executive officer.

For the second quarter of 1986, earnings per share amounted to $2.28 per share, or 28.7% over the $1.71 earned in the three months ending June 30, 1985. Six months per share earnings 1986 compared to 1985 were $4.34 and $3.30, respectively, Cress advised Citizens Trust shareholders.

"The earnings improvement that our bank has accomplished during the first half of 1986 is primarily due to an improved net interest margin resulting from repositioning of the bank's assets to achieve a higher return, an increase in trust and other fee income, and control of expenses," Cress added.

"The bank's financial ratios continue to strengthen. At June 30, 1986 our return on average assets (annualized) was 1.09% as compared to .81% a year ago, and our return on average shareholders' equity (annualized) was 18.17% as compared to 13.82% a year ago," he noted.

"Earlier this year we announced plans for our sixth banking office at a key location on W. Stadium Blvd. in Ann Arbor. This construction is progressing well, and the branch is scheduled for opening in mid-August," Cress indicated. "The remodeling of our Main Office building in Ann Arbor is also progressing well and should be completed by the end of this year."

In his message to shareholders, Cress noted that regulatory approvals were received for the formation of a one-bank holding company, known as Citizens Trust Bancorp, Inc., which became effective as of July 1.

BECOMING FAST FRIENDS are Michelle Kuhl, right, and Pilar Gonzalez, 18, of Madrid, Spain. Pilar is spending a month this summer with the Dismore Kuhl family as part of Nacet, a non-profit exchange program. Her 15-year-old brother is also taking part in the program but is living with a Pennsylvania family. Pilar has found Chelsea to be a considerable change from her routine as she lives with her family in a flat in the middle of Madrid near her father's government work. She said she also knew nothing about the Kuhls when she stepped off the plane and has found the family to be even more friendly than she thought. Michelle wants to take Pilar to Cedar Point, the University of Michigan campus, the Jackson Space Center, and Lansing, among other places. Michelle, who is also studying Spanish and French at Chelsea High school, plans to visit Pilar in Madrid next summer.

Julie Prohaska Attending Summer Mortar Board Meet

Julie Prohaska of Ann Arbor, daughter of Dave and Helen Prohaska, 222 E. Middle, Chelsea, is attending the 1986 national summer meeting of Mortar Board, Inc. From Aug. 7-10 the national council and section coordinators, assisted by four student advisors from the collegiate chapters, are meeting at the St. Anthony Inter-Continental Hotel in San Antonio, Tex.

Currently serving as a national officer of Mortar Board, Ms. Prohaska holds the position of section co-ordinator.

Mortar Board is the national college senior honor society whose purpose is to recognize the most outstanding college seniors for excellence in scholarship, leadership, and service. The summer meeting of national officers is held biennially. On alternate years collegiate delegates meet to determine the direction of the organization at the National Conference.

Two Area Students Get Degrees from GVS

Two area students received degrees from Grand Valley State College last year.

Christine Gunnan of Chelsea earned a bachelor's degree.

Richard Hewer of Gregory earned a master's of business administration degree.

Women account for nearly 40% of all students enrolled in post-secondary schools with occupational programs.

IT TOOK ABOUT 20 MINUTES TO LAND, but Michael Wild, who's 84 years old, landed this 21-inch, four-pound largemouth bass at Sugar Loaf Lake last Tuesday. Aug. 5 while fishing from a dock. Michael used an artificial purple worm and later weighed his catch at Cook's Grocery Store. It was the biggest fish ever for Michael, who's been fishing at Sugar Loaf Lake for 68 years. He's the father-in-law of Paul Gastarhos.

New Books Available At McKune Library

McKune Memorial Library reports the following new books are now available at the library.

Stranger in Two Worlds by Jean Harris. Convicted on Feb. 20, 1981, for the murder of Dr. Herman Tarnower (noted author of The Complete Scarsdale Medical Diet), Mrs. Harris has plumbed the depths of her memory and has pored over the thousands of pages of public testimony of her trial to bring us Stranger in Two Worlds, an extraordinarily revealing account of her life. Mrs. Harris is now serving 15 years to life in a maximum security prison. From her diaries we are given one of the grimmest and most graphic pictures ever written about women in prison.

James Herriot's Dog Stories by James Herriot. The warm and joyful memoirs of his life as a country vet in England's Yorkshire have endeared him to countless readers around the world. And now, the world's most famous vet has collected into one volume all his own stories of the animal that he cares for most. Herriot tells us that even at an early age "I was fascinated by dogs... I could never quite take dogs for granted. Why were they so devoted to the human race? Why should their greatest pleasure lie in being with us in our homes and wherever we were?" Here are the complete dog stories of James Herriot; a handsome collection of 50 tales that will warm the hearts of dog lovers.

Code Extra by Gay Courter. The Assignment: Destroy vital nuclear reactor parts bound for Iraq. The Team: Three talented agents all women. Gay Courter's chilling spy saga spans 30 tumultuous years of Israeli history and takes the reader on a spellbinding journey, from the earthshaking explosions in France to the shattering, psychological revelation at the conclusion. Code Extra is a gripping tale of victory and defeat, passion and denial, betrayal and discovery, revenge and forgiveness, that will astonish as it entertains.

The Bridge of a Hundred Dragons by Emma Drummond. From the moment Alexandra Moystyn literally bumps into Major Mark Rawlings of the Royal Engineers, she starts to learn what it is to suffer. Gerrard Moystyn wants his daughter to use her considerable sexual attraction to break down Mark's stubborn refusal to file an incorrect report on a collapsed railway bridge. Mark is attempting, under virtually impossible conditions, to rebuild a bridge over a canal in the Chinese hinterland. As the pair becomes caught up in the terror of revolution, Mark's past returns in unexpected and tragic manner, while Alexandra discovers that suffering does, indeed, make her into the artist she yearns to be. Based on true accounts and memoirs of the Shanghai emergency of 1927.

A Matter of Honor by Jeffery Archer. "And to my dearest beloved son, Captain Adam Scott, I bequeath... the envelope enclosed, which I can only hope will bring him greater happiness than it did me. Should he decide to open the envelope, it must be on the condition that he will never divulge its contents to any other living person." As Adam listens to the final bequest of his father's will, he knows he will at last learn the unspoken secret that shadowed the peaceful retirement of Colonel Scott and turned him from a World War II hero into a disgraced and broken man. In following the path to clear his father's name, Adam has stumbled upon a revelation so explosive that it could forever change the balance of power between America and the Soviet Union.

GAYLORD HARRINGTON of Cambridge, O., took this 19 1/2-inch, 5 1/2-pound largemouth bass at North Lake last Wednesday, Aug. 6 while fishing from a boat in the middle of the lake in about 20 feet of water. Harrington, who was visiting his mother, Reba Harrington, used a Heddon Tury Go-Deeper Yellow Hunt to land the fish at 3:45 a.m. It was the biggest bass he's ever caught, and he planned to eat it.

Beach Students Report on Sept. 3

Beach Middle school's 1986-87 school year will begin for sixth, seventh and eighth grade students on Sept. 3. Sixth grade students should plan to report directly to the school cafeteria where they will be introduced to their first-hour teachers who will, in turn, escort them to their classrooms. Seventh and eighth grade students should report to the school exercise room to pick up their class schedules and then report to first-hour classes. Students should plan to arrive at school between 8:30-8:45 a.m. Classes will be dismissed at 3:10 p.m.

Families new to the Chelsea School District may wish to enroll their Middle School students the week prior to the Sept. 3 general school opening. Jean Mann, Beach Middle school counselor, will be available on Aug. 27-28 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. to enroll new students and to answer questions about the Beach school academic program. All new entrants must comply with Michigan law regarding immunizations and must provide the school with a record verifying that proper vaccines have been obtained.

The Beach Middle school principal will review the Student Handbook with students on Sept. 4 and 5. A copy of the handbook will be sent home with students. Parents are encouraged to review this document to acquaint themselves with policies and operational procedures at Beach school.

Data for the period July 1, 1984 to June 30, 1985, indicate that of new participants entering Job Training Partnership Act programs, 94 percent were economically disadvantaged, according to the Labor Department's annual report for fiscal year 1985.

The board appointed committee members as follows: finance: Lloyd Grau, chairman, Joe Redding, Ron Satterthwaite; curriculum: Joe Redding, chairman, Ann Comeau, Craig Wales; personnel: Ann Comeau, chairperson, Lloyd Grau, Barb Cherem; communications, public relations: Ron Satterthwaite, chairman, Barb Cherem, Craig Wales.

The board approved, pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, a levy not to exceed 38.52 mills for operating purposes for the 1986-87 school year, which includes an additional millage rate of 0.1772 mills.

The board approved the low bid of A.T. & T. for the installation of the Merlin system on a lease-purchase basis. The new system, which is expected to become effective about Oct. 1, will result in an anticipated $6,000 per year cost savings.

The board adopted a clarification statement regarding the Member Investment Plan (MIP) which was approved at a prior meeting. The MIP is a voluntary program which enhances retirement benefits for Chelsea School District employees.

The board approved a contract for Tami Gillingham, effective Sept. 2, 1986, through June 11, 1987. Tami will be replacing Margaret Koch, sixth grade bloc teacher who retired in June, 1986.

The board approved a contract for Sharon Hodgson, effective Sept. 2, 1986, through June 11, 1987. Sharon, who has served as substitute teacher in the past, will be teaching third grade at South school.

The board approved a contract for Laura Holdsworth, effective Sept. 2, 1986, through June 11, 1987. Laura will be teaching the Young Fives program at South school on a half-time basis.

The board approved a contract for Gail Wireman, effective Sept. 2, 1986, through June 11, 1987. Gail will be teaching kindergarten at South school on a half-time basis.

The board accepted a donation of six automobile engines from Jedon, Inc. of Ann Arbor. Approximate value of the donation is $4,500.

Board approved the bus drivers' agreement for 1986-87, 1987-88.

Board approved the appointment of Ken Gieszen to the Chelsea Recreation Council.

The board convened in executive session at 10:01 p.m. to discuss a personnel matter and reconvened in public session at 10:12 p.m.

Meeting adjourned at 10:13 p.m.

* Heimlich Maneuver Winning Friends

Several years of controversy among health and safety experts may be coming to an end. It appears that the American Red Cross and the American Heart Association have decided to endorse the abdominal thrust, or a Heimlich Maneuver, as the single treatment of choice for assistance to choking victims.

The Heimlich Maneuver was developed by Dr. Henry Heimlich of Cincinnati's Xavier University. It is an alternative to the more traditional practice of slaps on the back as the first step in emergency assistance for choking persons. Heimlich has spoken out against the back slapping technique for years, calling it unsafe and noting that the slaps may cause a piece of food or another foreign body to lodge more firmly in the throat.

In performing the Heimlich Maneuver, a rescuer places his or her arms around the choking victim from behind and clasps his or her hands together at the bottom of the victim's rib cage, between the navel and the lower ribs. The rescuer then gives one or more quick upward thrusts in an attempt to dislodge a food morsel or other foreign object from the throat. This maneuver can be repeated if necessary.

Until recently, the Red Cross and Heart Association recommended that a rescuer strike a choking victim on the back four times before applying the Heimlich Maneuver. Heimlich bitterly opposed that practice. Now the doctor and the organizations seem finally to have resolved their differences.

This summer at an annual American Heart Association conference on cardiopulmonary resuscitation techniques, a preliminary recommendation was adopted suggesting that the back blows should be discontinued and the Heimlich Maneuver preferred in cases of life-threatening choking. The Red Cross then endorsed the recommendation.

Committees of experts will carefully review the recommendation before formally accepting the change. Once the new position is made official, massive revisions in education materials distributed by the groups will be made in an effort to alert the public that the Heimlich Maneuver is the preferred emergency treatment for choking victims.

Burger King Days at Zoo Benefit Spaulding for Children

Free admission tickets to the Detroit Zoo are currently being distributed at Metropolitan Burger King Restaurants. The tickets may be redeemed for free admission to the zoo during "Burger King Days at the Detroit Zoo" Aug. 14, 15, and 16 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tickets are also available at Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, and Western Wayne county Burger King Restaurants.

Patrons visiting the park during Burger King Days are encouraged to buy helium balloons with proceeds benefiting Spaulding for Children, a local, non-profit agency dedicated to providing adoption services for children with special needs.

"We are pleased to give the people of Southeastern Michigan an opportunity to visit their zoo free of charge and at the same time benefit the very special children of Spaulding," explained Brady Keys, a spokesman for the

Two Walkaways Still at Large

Two walkaways from Cassidy Lake Technical School Aug. 9 were still at large as of press time, according to school officials.

David A. Pruess, 19, from Rochester, was serving two to 10 years for larceny from an automobile. He is described as a white man, 6' 180 pounds, with a tattoo on his left arm.

Robert Leon Saucier, 20, from Waterford, was serving two years to seven months for receiving stolen property. He is described as a white man, with blond hair, blue eyes and a reddish beard, and tattoos on both arms.

The men were last seen at 10:45 p.m.

Dear Mr. Editor:
Will Connelly says we should castrate convicted rapists and child molesters. No way, Jose!
As far as rape goes, most of it is violent crime, not sexual. Therefore, we should probably cut off their hands and sew up their mouths with his kind of logic. No! Counseling, with a heavy dose of His Holy Word would work a lot better.
Child molesters, I agree, are despicable. But they are sick, too. Castration may keep them from multiplying, but they'd keep right on molesting if you ask me. Forcing them to live right with the Good Book would be better!
Thelma Herbert,
Grass Lake.

To the Editor,
The first thing I did after returning from my vacation was to sit down and read the Letters column in last week's Chelsea Standard. Good thing I was sitting down or I would have fallen down from laughing.
I haven't laughed so hard since I read Will's column on how he would spread democracy through Russia and Eastern Europe by dropping mail order catalogues from airplanes (L. L. Bean? The Horchow Collection?).
Well, a job's a job, but I think the letter from Dwayne Parry goes a little too far in its search for laughs. Is there anyone at The Standard reading these letters before publication? I don't mean censorship, but I do mean a judicious scanning to see if a letter goes beyond the accepted standards of journalistic good taste. In other words, does The Standard have standards?

County Road Commission Joins Self-Insurance Pool

Escalating insurance costs have resulted in a recent decision by the Washtenaw County Road Commission to join with 64 of Michigan's 82 counties in the Michigan County Road Commission Self-Insurance Pool.

The Commission was unable to even obtain a quotation from their present carrier until several days before the current policy expired. The quotes which were received would have almost tripled the Road Commission's annual premiums to $475,000 per year while doubling the County's deductible to $200,000.

By joining the Pool the Commission's annual general liability premium will still increase to almost $300,000; however, its deductible will decrease to $75,000.

According to Norm Kennedy, Road Commission chairman, the cost savings in joining the Pool more than offset any possible loss in local control now enjoyed by the Road Commission in assigning attorneys and determining settlements. Kennedy noted "the Road Commission has found that even with the $100,000 deductible insurance carriers have increasingly been involved in trying to force the Commission to settle cases which the Commission feels it should not have any liability. The Pool has the reputation of being very tough and can afford to contest a case on principle since the decision may have impact on a state-wide basis. In our interviews with other counties we found them to be very pleased with the Pool."

The Road Commission is now budgeting approximately 10 percent of its annual gas and weight taxes for insurance and liability costs. There are currently about 30 active lawsuits pending. According to Herman Koenn, Road Commission vice-chairman,

"many of these cases date back several years and will be dismissed prior to coming to trial. Typically there are about 40,000 traffic accidents in Washtenaw county each year. Consequently, the Road Commission becomes a handy target for lawsuits. While the Road Commission actually loses very few cases, a significant amount of costs are incurred in responding to these suits. The recent changes in the state liability laws should be of considerable benefit to the Road Commission although it will take several years before this impact is felt."

One additional aspect of the liability issue was noted by Ulrich Stoll, Road Commission member. "Every dollar we spend on liability insurance and in legal costs means one less dollar available to expend on maintaining and improving the county's road system. Many of the 1,500 miles of county roads were undesignated and simply evolved from farm lanes and trails. There is simply insufficient funds available to do what is necessary.

The Road Commission has initiated a variety of safety projects and programs this year and has taken a much stronger position relative to the enforcement of curb cut permits and elimination of roadside obstacles." Approximately 20 percent of the Road Commission's current budget is allocated to safety projects such as signing, improving sight distance, upgrading signals, replacing guardrails and improving road maintenance.

Car-Pool Parking Lots Prove Popular

Michigan's car-pool parking lot program, which began a dozen years ago following the 1973 oil embargo, is still saving millions of dollars, miles and gallons of gasoline for the thousands of motorists who use them.

That's the word from the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) following analysis of its 1986 car-pool parking survey of 42 of the 196 free car-pool lots built by the department along the state highway system.

Commuters saved more than 55 million miles of driving (up 5.7 percent from 1984) and 2.8 million gallons of gasoline (up 15.8 percent from 1984). Based on the reports from AAA Michigan (at $1.29 per gallon of gasoline), motorists using Michigan carpool parking lots in 1985 saved approximately $3.5 million in gasoline costs alone. They also saved wear and tear on their cars, parking fees and the hassle of driving in rush hour traffic.

The origin and destination survey covered commuters using 42 car-pool parking lots across the state—from the Houghton-Hancock area in the western Upper Peninsula to the metropolitan Detroit area, and from a lot near Three Rivers and the Indiana border to lots in the mid Lower Peninsula.

An average 3,700 vehicles used the 196 parking lots each day, saving 247,000 miles of travel per day or about 66 miles per day per carpooler.

The survey showed that commuters parking an average of 12 vehicles a day in an MDOT parking lot in Gladstone, Delta county, saved almost $36,000 in 1985 by carpooling the average 65 miles from lot to work. (An average of 130 miles round-trip.) Commuters leaving an average of 20 vehicles a day at the lot on US-41 in Marquette county saved more than $50,000 by sharing rides for the average 45 miles between lot and work sites.

At an MDOT car-pool parking lot in Lapeer county serving the Pontiac area, drivers left an average of 82 vehicles a day to travel 23.4 miles to work, for an annual savings of $85,000.

By parking an average of 10 vehicles a day at a lot on Grand River Ave., east of M-100 in Clinton county, carpoolers saved more than $11,000 while sharing an average 37-mile ride to work.

Survey of a lot in Livingston county showed an average daily occupancy of 75 vehicles while drivers saved a total of $83,000 sharing average 44-mile trips to the Detroit and Lansing areas.

Community Fair Queen Candidates

Four of Nine Young Women Who Seek The Crown

JENNIFER BENNETT, 15, is being sponsored by Terrific Tailors 4-H Club in this year's community fair queen contest. She is the daughter of Harold and Phyllis Bennett, 1165 N. Lima Center Rd. She has several brothers and sisters including Beverly Talbot, Dennis Bennett, Bruce Bennett, Teresa Usher and Vicky Mixix. Jennifer has been extremely active in 4-H events. She was the 4-H Spring Achievement Award second runner-up in modeling in 1985; was the first runner-up for the same award this year; and received an honor award in ceramics in 4-H Spring Achievement. She has won numerous ribbons at past community and 4-H fairs. At Chelsea High school, Jennifer has been chosen to participate in The Contemporaries. She was a cheerleader for the junior varsity basketball team, participated in the musical play, "Amie Get Your Gun," and sang in the school choir. As a member of First Step for Girls, she has visited Chelsea Community Hospital and sang Christmas carols for the patients. At last year's fair, Jennifer modeled for Lady's Day, and had numerous entries in food preparation, needlework, and flowers and plants. Her hobbies include sewing, cooking, riding her bicycle, collecting dolls and reading. Members of the Terrific Tailors will be her court.

SENIOR CLASS of Chelsea High school is sponsoring Michelle Kuhl in the 1986 Chelsea Community Fair Queen competition. Michelle, 17, is the daughter of Gregory Kuhl, 6637 Hasley Rd., Manchester, and Dianne Kuhl, 576 S. Fletcher Rd. Her brother, Allan, graduated from CHS two years ago. Michelle will have her biography published in the new volume of Who's Who Among American High School Students. An honor student, she scored 100 percent on her Michigan Education Assessment Test. Her poems have appeared in the Washtenaw County Young Authors Conference Anthology. Michelle has been active in many plays. She was in the dance corps of "Cinderella," and "Amie Get Your Gun." She played the female lead in the stage and drama class production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Michelle has been a cheerleader for five years and is a member of both the Art Club and Ski Club. She is also interested in languages, taking Spanish for three years and French for two. She was the junior class candidate for Homecoming Queen last year, and was on the prom committee. Among her hobbies, Michelle loves to act, and watch old movies. She also likes to study languages, and hopes to go to Spain next summer. She collects antique dolls and fans, and writes poems and short stories.

VICKI NIETHAMMER will represent the freshman class of Chelsea High school in this year's fair queen pageant. She is the daughter of Emily Niethammer, 12922 Old US-12, and sister of Rick. Vicki has received awards and trophies for her baton work, including a second place in the state championships. At Beach Middle school, she was involved in cheerleading, track, softball and was volleyball manager. She has been active in Chelsea recreation softball for six years. She has served for three years as a volunteer at the Chelsea United Methodist Retirement Home, and is a member of Salem Grove United Methodist church where she is president of the youth fellowship group. She was in the Chelsea Charms for three years. She has helped out over the years in a number of merchants booths at the fair. Vicki includes music, reading, making hooked rugs, dance and gymnastics as her hobbies. Her court will include Lori Johnson and Vicki Bullock.

ELIZABETH L. MAURER, 16, daughter of Dale and Eleanor Maurer, 11 Maple Ct., and sister of Timothy, will represent the Chelsea Baton Corps Boosters Club in the Chelsea Community Fair Queen competition. Last year Elizabeth was the Junior Champion Homemaker at the fair. Last year she was also selected as the ambassador to the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation Leadership Seminar, and this year was a junior counselor. She is a member of the National Honor Society, was a forensics state finalist, and was invited to attend Careers Day at Eastern Michigan University. She has won numerous baton awards, and ribbons at the fair. Among her school activities, she is a member of the marching band, symphony band, flag corps, Spanish Club, student council, and last year was on the prom committee and was co-chair for the high school winter carnival. Elizabeth also stays busy with community activities. She's a member of St. Paul United Church of Christ, where she is active in the youth group, is an assistant Sunday school teacher, and works in the nursery during Bible school. She's a six-year member of the Chelsea Baton Corps and she gives beginning baton lessons. Last year's junior homemaker has had numerous entries in the fair in hobbies, baked goods, antiques, needlework and floriculture. Her hobbies include reading, watching old movies, collecting paper dolls, postcards, sea shells, china thimbles and doll house miniatures. She also does a lot of needlework, baking, and has pen pals all over the world.

Bread Truck Thieves Make Wrong Turn

An Ann Arbor man and two minors who allegedly stole a bread truck from Jackson turned into the wrong driveway at the wrong time last Saturday night and the mistake eventually resulted in their capture.

The truck pulled into the parking lot of the Chelsea village garage just as Chelsea police were re-fueling their cruiser at approximately 11:10 p.m. on Aug. 9, according to Chelsea police.

The man and two boys, one a N. Lima Center Rd. youth, saw the police after they stepped out of the Holsum Bread Co. truck and fled on foot, police said.

Chelsea police pursued the three on foot and eventually called for a K-9 tracking unit. Two were captured shortly thereafter.

Tigers, Clippers Say Goodbye To Their Puerto Rican Amigos

It's always a little sad when summer recreation baseball ends, but for the Tigers of the Little League and Clippers of the Farm League it was a little sadder than usual.

The kids had to say goodbye to two of their best friends and best players, Ramon and Robert Gonzalez, who returned home to Puerto Rico. They spent the summer in Chelsea with their aunt, Bertha Leonard de Rosario, and uncle, Jorge, and their daughters, Mara Smith and Lusia Rosario.

The boys arrived here knowing very little English. Most of the Chelsea boys knew even less Spanish. Yet Ramon, 11, and Robert, 8, made friends quickly and became the most popular kids on their respective teams.

"The coaches and parents even learned to cheer in Spanish," Bertha said.

The kids didn't understand at the end that Ramon and Robert had to go back home, and when they found out the news, sometimes, tears were shed.

"The boys were so well liked in fact, that neighbors Tom, now known as 'Lando,' and Linda Dyer are trying to make arrangements to have them attend school in Chelsea and live with them. In turn, the Dyer boys, Jan, 11, and Jordan, 8, are planning a trip to Puerto Rico. Tom picked up the name Lando because it sounded like the word 'Lando' pretty. The boys' favorite invention was a game called 'Lando' pretty, so the natural thing to do was call Tom 'Lando' pretty.

By all accounts, Ramon and Roberto were good ball players as well. Perhaps coincidentally, they had an uncle who was a well-known player in Puerto Rico. Ramon, who played for the Tigers, was called, "my main man, even though he doesn't understand a word I'm saying," by coach Skip Oake.

Ramon and Robert are the sons of the former Roberto Leonard de Vega, above and father, Lusia, in Puerto Rico after spending the summer with their aunt in Chelsea.

RAMON AND ROBERT, left and right, respectively, will be missed by their friends in the Farm League and Little League. The youngsters returned home to their mother, Roberto Leonard de Vega, above and father, Lusia, in Puerto Rico after spending the summer with their aunt in Chelsea.

also learned that Vega. They lived in Vega Baja. When Roberto made a surprise visit to Chelsea this summer, he brought a couple of plaques for Jan and Jordan declaring them "Amigos Preferidos" or their preferred friends. The Dyer boys have them displayed proudly in their bedroom walls.

It's a custom in Puerto Rico to do that for your friends," Bertha said.

Roberto met her husband, Lusia Vega, stateside and moved back to Puerto Rico with him. Bertha met Jorge on a visit to see Roberto. Bertha and Jorge, like the Dyers, live on Trinkle Rd.

Midget League Season Ends July 31

The Midget League ended their season July 31 with a three-way tie for second place.

The league this year hosted two teams from Stockbridge. Midget players have shown excellent improvement over the past two years, since the switch to coaches pitching to their teams.

Players of the week
Red Hots: Julie Gray-Lyon and Michelle Jones hit home runs. Excellent defense shown by Lindsay Johnson and Jennifer Ceccacci. Elizabeth Howdsworth and Carrie Schiller had good solid hits.

Orange Sluggers: Defensive players for the Sluggers were Val Bullock and Amy Petty who converted two double plays, with Petty also snagging a line drive at third. Hitting well for the Sluggers were Cindy Tripp, Jessica Holton and Amy Petty (2) with doubles and Val Bullock with a triple for their exciting win of the season.

Golden Girls: Danielle Longe contributed a grand slam home run to help the Girls when they had fallen behind a strong Slugger team. Contributing hits were Amie Hatch, Sara Smith and Amy Seibor. Excellent defensive play by Anne Frederick and Nancy Pidd. Kathy Kattula, Shauna Woods and Amie Hatch contributed singles and Julie Durst and Kate Steele had doubles for the final game of their season against the Red Hots.

Blue Racers: Excellent defensively for the Racers were Beth and Angie Bell and Courtney Thompson. Hits were contributed by Meagan Robinson, Elizabeth McLaughlin and Jessica Flinthoft.

Blue Sluggers: A strong team all season. Sluggers Krist Lantz, Melissa Smith, Casey White and Charlotte Ziegler all contributed strong hitting and good defensive play. Jenni and Jenni Thruvich contributed several solid hits throughout the season.

 Mark Waseley was the winning pitcher.

Vogel's Party Store 4, NAPA 3—
 John Duzajowski was the winning pitcher. Jeff Weber, Dave Weber and Kevin Vandegriff led the Vogel offense. Mark Whitley had the game-winning hit.

Jerry Hansen & Sons 8, Chelsea Industries II 4—
 Larry Doll was the winning pitcher. The Hansen offense was led by Andy Ahrens at 3-3, and Les Hafner, Doll and Rick Beeman who were each 2-4.

Jerry Hansen & Sons 18, Woodshed 16—
 Larry Doll was the winning pitcher. Rick Beeman was 3-4, Warren McCormick, Bill Kalmbach and Bob Beeman were each 2-3, and John Beeman and Andy Ahrens were 3-5. Hansen & Sons scored 11 runs in the sixth inning to come back from a 14-3 deficit.

Many technical and office occupations now require post-secondary career training as more employers prefer to hire trained personnel rather than provide training.

Junior Miss League Wraps Up Summer Play

Red Devils 17, Queens 12

Colleen Scharphorn struck out eight batters in her three innings. Hitters for the Devils were Erica Bouchton with a three run triple, and Liz Sayer with two singles and a walk. Lori Wetzel, Kate Dilworth, Erin Knott, Heather McEachern and Colleen Scharphorn each stole home. Defensive play by Lori Wetzel caught a pop fly and threw a runner out at third base. The Queens had several key hits by Hane Pacheco (2), Michele Holo, Wendy Bell and Abby Koscielniak. Kelly Cross hit a 3-run, bases-loaded single. Jane Pacheco struck out the side in the second inning.

Queens M & M's 26, Panthers 9

The first double play of the season for the M & M's was completed by Kristin Bohlender and Jennifer Petty. Singles were contributed by Shawn Losey, Jennifer Koch, Jennifer Petty and Nicole Fletcher. Alice Durham had a solid double and Kristin Bohlender had a home run.

Queens 22, Panthers 12

Stars for the Queens were Charity Allen, who made two tag outs at first, and Kelly Cross, who came in to pitch the last three innings of the game. Also, Jennifer Bobo hit a double. Abby Young hit a double and a triple. Kelly Cross hit a home run and Dana Harden hit a solid single. Hitting well for the Queens were Michele Holo (2), Wendy Bell, Charity Allen (2), Jane Pacheco (2), Holly Koscielniak (2), and Michelle Beeman with a double and a single.

Blue Bombers 19

Green M & M's 8

The Bombers had some pitching changes this week and put in Katie Fowler and Brenda Brede for their first opportunity of the year, and both pitched well. Good defense was shown by Sandy Schmidt, Dana Durst and Michelle Stimpson. Singles by Jill Heim, Carl Thurkow, Jennifer McEachern, Sara Musolf, Michelle Stimpson and Stacy Gallagher. Brenda Brede and Michelle Barkdale had doubles for the Bombers. Hitting for the M & M's were Jennifer Koch, Danielle Taylor and Kristi Smith with singles and Kristin Bohlender with a double.

Red Devils 14, Pink Edition 14

Leading the Devils with hits were Erin Knott with two singles and four RBI's. Heather McEachern showing great speed stole home twice. Good defensive play was exhibited by Lori Wetzel and Colleen Scharphorn. Excellent defensive play by Lissa Hamrick, Michelle Beeman and Kelly Bellus kept this game close. Singles were contributed by Chris Burg (2) and Amy Mitchell (2) for the Edition.

Blue Bombers 20, Red Devils 12

Pitching win went to Brenda Brede with five strike-outs in two innings and Carl Thurkow was the relief pitcher. Dana Durst and Brenda Brede led the team with hits, three each. Other hits were contributed by Jill Heim, Sara Musolf, Stacy Gallagher, Jennifer McEachern, Michelle Barkdale, Michelle Stimpson and Brooke Pitts with a bunt single. Good defense was shown by the entire team. The Red Devils' relief pitcher Gretchen Knutsen showed excellent defensive plays. Hitters for the Devils were Lori Wetzel and Molly Dilworth with triples and Kate Dilworth with a double.

Pink Edition 24, Stockbridge 9

Winning pitcher was Stephanie Norris. Everyone hit in this game with singles by Terry Logue, Monica Hansen (3), Michelle Beeman, Jennifer Powers, Jennifer Alder, Kelly Bellus (3), Lissa Hamrick (2), Chris Burg, Wendy Bell (2), Stephanie Norris (2). A double play was converted by Lissa Hamrick and Chris Burg. Excellent defensive play by the entire team.

Queens 22, M & M's 13

Star players for the Queens were Charity Allen with two singles and a double and Holly Koscielniak with a triple and a home run. Jane Pacheco was the winning pitcher. Other hits were contributed by Abby Young (2), Jane Pacheco (4), and Jeanne Rossi with a single, two doubles and a home run. Kristin Bohlender pitched her best game of the season. Jennifer Petty and Shawn Losey played a good game at the plate as the Queens attempted to steal. Melissa Hubert and Kristin Bohlender went 3-3. Hitting for the M & M's were Carrie Vargo, Jennifer Koch, Danielle Taylor and Shawn Losey with a double. Melissa Hubert had a home run.

Queens 15, Bombers 9

The last evening of recreation softball surprised the coaches as well as the spectators. A strong Bombers team was beaten by second-place team, the Queens, 15-9. This was an excellent defensive game and an excellent contest between the two teams all season. Pitching for the Bombers was Carl Thurkow and Brenda Brede, winning pitcher was Jane Pacheco. Good defense was shown by Brenda Brede, Sandy Schmidt, Michelle Barkdale and Michelle Stimpson for the Bombers. Hitting and playing well for the Queens were Jeanine Russel, Michele Holo, Kelly Cross and Jennifer Bobo.

Pink Edition 10

Green M & M's 9

Hitting well for the Edition were Monica Hansen with two singles and a double. Kelly Bellus and Terry Logue hit singles and Chris Burg and Charity Allen contributed doubles. Wendy Bell showed good defensive play with an excellent fly ball catch and good fielding.

JIFFY MIX BOWLERS brought home their first place trophies for winning the 1986 State Bowling Tournament. The team had an actual score of 2,626. Their team handicap of 722 gave them a total of 2,304 plus. From left are Debra Fusty, Joyce Meck, Lois Orlewski, Pat Peterson, Peggy Goodman, and team sponsor Howard Holmes, president of Chelsea Milling Co. The awards banquet took place July 19 at Airport Hilton Inn in Roseland.

Big Buck Top Award Is State Archery Record

A new state record for typical white-tailed bucks taken in Michigan by a bow hunter was the highlight of the results of the 1985 Michigan Big Buck Awards Program. This program was sponsored by Commemorative Bucks of Michigan, Inc. in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The results were finalized on May 3 in Owosso, where a panel of C. B. M. scorers re-measured each entry competing for top honors in their respective classifications.

The highlight of the winners was a 12-point buck taken by Mitch Rompola of Traverse City. Mitch used a bow pulling 72 pounds to take this monstrous trophy buck. It officially was scored at 181 7/8 points. This score according to C. B. M. records made it -The biggest typical buck taken in Michigan in the 1985 deer season by any weapon.

-The biggest typical buck ever taken by a bow hunter in Michigan. Previous record 170.7 pts., Robert Savoia of Owino.

-The second biggest typical buck ever taken in Michigan by any weapon.

The only buck taken in Michigan that surpasses Rompola's trophy was the magnificent one taken in 1984 by Mark Ritchie of Dexter. This buck scored 186 1/8 points and was taken with a 12 gauge shotgun in Washtenaw county.

Other new state records from the 1985 entries in the program go to new number one and two spots for elk taken by Fred M. Roberts of Taylor and Bernard R. Riley of Weidman.

Commemorative Bucks of Michigan, Inc. is a non-profit group composed of sportsmen compiling, maintaining and promoting records of trophy Michigan white-tailed bucks, black bear and elk taken in Michigan and the hunters who took them. The organization will soon be five years old and is solely supported by its 1,000 members and various fund-raising ac-ivities. It has over 2,500 listings of trophy bucks taken in Michigan. This fall a book titled "Michigan Big Game Records" as compiled by Commemorative Bucks of Michigan, Inc. and written by nationally known outdoor writer, Richard P. Smith, will be available. This book will relate data, facts, figures, analysis and other information on trophy deer, bear and elk hunting in Michigan. It is "A must for every Michigan deer, bear and elk hunter."

For information on this book for and about Michigan big game hunting write: Commemorative Bucks of Michigan, Inc., 4365 S. Commerce Rd., Union Lake, 48065 Ph. (313) 363-8620.

Cost of the book prior to publication is $12 afterward the cost will be $15.

Some Homeless Pets Become Leader Dogs

Humane Society of Huron Valley has been notified that five more of its dogs have graduated from training as Leader Dogs for the Blind at Rochester, bringing the total HSHV graduates for this important work to over 60. The dogs graduate along with their new owners, blind persons who come to the school to obtain a leader dog and learn how to live and work with one.

In addition to actively seeking to place shelter animals as "graduates," namely the Humane Society recently began a placement program with Leader Dogs for the Blind that works in the following manner: Humane Society volunteers select animals from the shelter's kennel that meet Leader Dog's breed, age and temperament requirements. Ideal dogs are Golden and Labrador Retrievers, Shepherds, and mixes of these breeds that are between one and three years old, with confident, outgoing personalities. More unusual breeds are sometimes accepted. HSHV wants at least one Border Collie, Chesapeake Bay Retriever and Husky. M's among its graduates.

They train the dogs part. The shelter dogs are taken through an obedience course for further training. Up and down stairs, along a busy road, over a car into a crowded room of strangers, to meet other dogs, to meet cats, to walk on a leash, and accept a crowd train. In order to be considered a potential candidate the dog must be stable and friendly. One of these attributes is the dog's ability to be driven to the shelter by volunteers. It is among the final requirements of Leader Dog candidates that they will stay and learn training.

But don't think the dogs are in near street training an hour or two a day for eight hours a day and a dog may be rejected at any time during training if a behavior problem becomes apparent. This can be as natural as a healthy fear of traffic, but it is not suitable for Leader Dog work. In fact, only 30% of the dogs accepted for training from all sources ever complete training. So far, HSHV has lost over 40 dogs graduate. HSHV dogs that do not complete training are placed at good homes by the Leader Dog staff or the Humane Society.

All Leader Dogs are spayed or neutered in order to be more stable and reliable companions. Dogs are then selected for their new owners based on that person's personality and lifestyle to ensure a happy co-existence. After all, the two are going to have to work and play together.

This successful arrangement between the Humane Society of Huron Valley and Leader Dogs for the Blind serves two important purposes. It guarantees a secure and loving home for a once abandoned pet and it gives a blind person a richer, more satisfying life.

Civil War Encampment Features 17th Regiment

Visitors to the Ann Arbor area in August will find the opportunity to see a Civil War Encampment at the Cobblestone Farm. The encampment will feature a group of 17th Regt. area men and their families have re-created the Cobblestone Farm in the 17th Michigan Regiment and re-created a scene of the 17th Michigan Regiment. The 17th Michigan Regiment, a group of Civil War veterans, performed musical pieces from that time period.

On April 13, 1861, President Lincoln called a 75,000 man volunteer force from every state in the Union. Michigan responded immediately and continued to supply the manpower. President Lincoln needed to unite the country. By the end of the war, over 60,000 men and boys from Michigan had participated in the conflict.

The 17th Michigan was one of 31 infantry regiments from the state. The regiment was organized during the summer of 1862, and left for Washington, D.C., on Aug. 15, 1862, under the command of Colonel William H. Whittington of Jackson, with an enrollment of 982 officers and men, and upon the arrival of the regiment in Washington, it was assigned to the First Brigade, First Division, First Army Corps. It continued to form a part of this reorganized corps during its term of service.

Within two weeks of their departure, the 17th Michigan was reorganized to consist of four companies at the Battle of South Mountain, Md. Their heroic actions in their first battle earned them the nickname "Sawmill Regiment," which they carried proudly ever after.

The regiment had a total membership of 1,224 by the end of the war. Of this number, 273 died of wounds and disease, many dying in the infamous Confederate prison camp at Andersonville.

Of all Michigan regiments during the Civil War, the 17th Michigan holds the record for the most congressional medals of honor to be awarded to a single regiment.

The Cobblestone Farm is located at 2781 Packard Rd., Ann Arbor.

Nature from Your Backdoor

By Glenn R. Duestler

Reading about the longnose dace, I've often wondered. I'd say this must be the head of the turtle in Michigan.

In May, I heard from quite a few people who had seen turtles laying eggs in and around backyards. I was excited, having them and their eggs back to the water again. People called wanting to know whether they could or should dig up the eggs and move them. How long it would take the eggs to hatch, whether they should be watered, whether turtles emerge or whether there was any way to speed up or control the hatching process. They don't miss the fish.

The turtle eggs require a high degree of humidity and a temperature of 65 to 75 degrees Fahrenheit. The eggs are laid in a shallow hole in the soil or sand. There are limits, however. Temperatures that are too high may cause some of the eggs to hatch sooner, but most die in the early stages. An egg that is too cold will not hatch at all.

Let's take the eggs and the adults of the longnose dace. The eggs are laid in a shallow hole in the soil or sand. There are limits, however. Temperatures that are too high may cause some of the eggs to hatch sooner, but most die in the early stages. An egg that is too cold will not hatch at all.

Because of all the rain in June, many ponds that ordinarily would have dried up stayed filled with water. So it should be an excellent year for toad tadpole survival. The calls about swimming ponds filled with loads after a rain have already started. The logical question is, "Did it rain here?" The answer of course is that the moisture allows these small toads to come out of hiding and look for food.

If there's a message hidden in this tale of turtles, tadpoles and toads, it's that even minute observations can lead to important conclusions. The obvious interpretation may not be the best one when you're observing nature from your backdoor.

Performing a basic equipment inspection before using a tractor improves operator safety and reduces expenses by finding and correcting small problems before they become big ones.

There are a number of things operators should make before getting on the tractor to ensure safe machine operation, says Howard Dean, extension agricultural safety specialist at Michigan State University.

They need to be inspected for cracks or breaks in the hood and side rails, and the pressure against the steering wheel. Dean says, "A cracked steering wheel can blow out the wheel and tractor out of control. Low tire pressure causes uneven tire damage and premature wear, while over-inflation can make operators lose control by causing front wheels to bounce in rough ground."

Make sure tractor guards and shields are in place, and keep the platform and steps free of slippery mud or grease. Remember to remove mud and grease from the tractor platform after maintenance work—they can interfere with pedal operation or cause the operator to slip and fall off the tractor.

Fuel and hydraulic lines need to be checked for leaks and bad connections, Dean says. Fuel leaks are wasteful and a fire hazard. Poor steering and control of the three-point hitch can be lost because of hydraulic line leaks.

Hold a piece of cardboard alongside hydraulic lines when looking for pinhole leaks, Dean advises. Many hydraulic and diesel fuel systems develop pressures three times the amount needed to penetrate skin, so operators should never use their hands to "look" for leaks. Seek medical attention at once if oil penetrates the skin—a serious infection or reaction could develop.

Safe tractor operation also depends on good visibility, so

Make sure tractor lights work and periodically check their adjustment. Also adjust the driver's seat to a comfortable position that puts the driver within easy reach of controls.

Finally, occasionally check the working order of the neutral-safety switch. It keeps the engine from starting when the transmission or clutch is engaged.

Restoration Work Starts On Reithmiller Marsh

Experimentation with a Cooke Cutter, technology never before used in Michigan, has resulted in progress at the Reithmiller Marsh in the Waterloo Restoration Area, Jackson County.

The Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation is attempting to restore water levels in the marsh located in the Waterloo Restoration Area, Jackson County.

Developed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Florida, the Cooke Cutter was designed to open up marshes and solve aquatic weed growth problems and management. Propelled by two front-mounted blades, the 6,000-pound aluminum barges cut through choked channels exposing water and reducing vegetation to a depth of three feet. The machine is being used to counteract succession by creating an interspersed between open water and vegetation.

The problems presented at the Reithmiller site are difficult because of low water levels and unstable soils, said Foundation Executive Director Dennis Fijalowski. What we're trying to do with the Cooke Cutter really represents an experimental application of this equipment in Michigan. The Department of Natural Resources has wanted to restore productivity to this marsh for 39 years. We feel we're finally making progress.

The Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation is attempting to restore water levels in the marsh located in the Waterloo Restoration Area, Jackson County.

Developed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Florida, the Cooke Cutter was designed to open up marshes and solve aquatic weed growth problems and management. Propelled by two front-mounted blades, the 6,000-pound aluminum barges cut through choked channels exposing water and reducing vegetation to a depth of three feet. The machine is being used to counteract succession by creating an interspersed between open water and vegetation.

The problems presented at the Reithmiller site are difficult because of low water levels and unstable soils, said Foundation Executive Director Dennis Fijalowski. What we're trying to do with the Cooke Cutter really represents an experimental application of this equipment in Michigan. The Department of Natural Resources has wanted to restore productivity to this marsh for 39 years. We feel we're finally making progress.

Michigan Wildlife Foundation Offers Project Investment

The Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation is offering citizens an opportunity to invest in the Reithmiller Marsh restoration project. The Way It Was, painted by artist Rod Lawrence, depicts the way the Reithmiller Marsh Waterloo Recreation Area, Jackson County, once looked, and how it could look again. Persons contributing $145 to the project will receive one of the 400 signed prints being reserved for project shareholders.

Once an idyllic haven for ducks, herons, deer and sandhill cranes, drainage projects early this century lowered water tables in the area. The drying of the land forced wildlife to abandon the Reithmiller Marsh in the last 30 years. Bengel, who hunted and fished the area as a teen, felt certain restoring the marsh to its former state would depend on the work of a private-sector organization. In 1982, with the restoration of the Reithmiller Marsh in mind, Bengel founded the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation.

In the fall of 1985, one year following Bengel's death, the largest restoration effort by a private-sector organization in Michigan's history began. To date, a series of potholes have been excavated around a 65-acre island, and a Cooke Cutter has opened choked channels.

"Presently, the area is too dry to farm and too dry to hunt," said Foundation Chairman Dan Robinson. "To be productive for wildlife we need more water in the marsh. What we are trying to do is set back succession. We estimate restoring water levels on the 2,000 acres (the largest on land marsh in southeast Michigan) will take 10 years and approximately $2,000,000 to complete."

For information about investing in the Reithmiller Marsh Restoration Project or other wildlife habitat projects, contact the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation, 6425 S. Pennsylvania Ave., Lansing 48911, (517) 862-3110.

Faith Lutheran Young People Attend Rally

Youthful representatives, 17 of them in all, from Faith Lutheran church on North Territorial Rd. and Selwyn Lutheran church, Ann Arbor, were among more than 700 young and young-at-heart people to attend the 1986 WELS International Youth Rally assembled at Northwestern College, Roseville, Minn., July 28-31. 16 different states, Canada, and even from Japan.

The event was hosted and sponsored by an association of Lutheran high schools in the Minneapolis-St. Paul Twin City area.

Rally theme, "Friends Forever: Won by One," was successfully carried out by seven major presentations, devotions, workshops, break-out groups and Bible classes.

Participants at the rally were also given plenty of opportunity for recreation and Christian fellowship with a beach party, "Crazy Olympics," tubing down a river, roller skating and a concert of Christian Contemporary Music by "Santalive" and "PTO."

The 13th International Youth Rally is planned for August, 1987, in Atlanta, Ga.

Blood Donors Certain No Chance of Getting AIDS

"Thanks to the steps we have taken, the blood supply is now as safe as possible," declared A. William Shafer, M.D., director, American Red Cross Blood Services, Southeastern Michigan Region. "The American Red Cross relies on a voluntary donor system to provide safe blood to hospitals in thousands of communities across the country. We collect, process, and distribute half of the nation's voluntarily donated blood and blood products."

The American Red Cross relies upon an integrated screening procedure to ensure the safest possible blood and blood products. Healthy volunteer donors are recruited; a brief health history is taken; temperature, pulse, and blood pressure are measured; and a series of laboratory tests are performed before any unit of donated blood is released for transfusion.

Healthy volunteer donors are the cornerstone of a safe blood supply. "The voluntary aspect is critically important to the recipient," said Dr. Shafer. "When your only incentive for giving blood is to help someone else, then there is every reason to be truthful during the interview part of the donor screening process."

"In combination with the screening procedures, testing to detect antibodies to the AIDS virus has dramatically reduced the risk of transfusion-associated AIDS," said Dr. Shafer. "From the introduction of the test last March to the present, our regional Blood Services has tested more than a quarter of a million units of donated blood and has identified and eliminated 56 potentially infectious units."

The voluntary blood donor provides vitally needed blood and blood products to all individuals in need within the community. "People support their communities through giving blood, ensuring that everyone is protected," said Dr. Shafer. "You can literally save many lives when you are a regular blood donor. Neighbors, friends, family, strangers - your whole community is protected under the voluntary donor system."

The need for blood and blood products continues to grow throughout the Southeastern Michigan Region, increasing the need for larger numbers of healthy volunteer donors.

"Someone always needs blood, often desperately," said Dr. Shafer. "If you're healthy, concerned about your community, friends and family, please think about giving blood. It is important - to you and to those in need."

Dr. Shafer emphasized that there is no risk of getting AIDS from giving blood. "The needles and bags used in collecting blood are sterile, used once, and then destroyed," he said. "This is one absolute answer we can give. You can't get AIDS from giving blood."

The Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) awarded $5.6 million in fiscal year 1985 to approximately 180 nonprofit groups providing a variety of job safety and health services. The grants were awarded under OSHA's New Directions grants program to support training and education projects addressing serious problems in construction, manufacturing, and other high hazard occupational and industrial sectors.

Common Science

By Joe Jeffers, PhD

Photocopies Are Recent Development...

Chester Carlson, a physicist and patent attorney, worked in the patent department of a New York City electronics company. He found that getting copies of patent drawings was very difficult. He wished for a quick way of obtaining copies of line drawings and set out to develop one.

In 1935 in the kitchen of his apartment, he noticed that dust particles were clinging to an electrically charged metal plate made of selenium. He found that he could make patterns appear by controlling which parts of the plate were charged. Four years later, he made his first xerographic copy. (Xero is a prefix meaning "dry.")

Carlson had great difficulty getting a company interested in developing and marketing his invention. More than 20 companies turned him down. In 1944 a non-profit industrial research organization agreed to develop the process. In 1947 the Haloid Co., a little known company in Rochester, N. Y., bought the commercial rights to xerography. The company changed its name to Xerox and introduced the office copier in 1958.

How does this dry copy process work? The copy plate or drum is made of an aluminum backing over which a layer of selenium is placed. An electrical charge is passed through the aluminum to the selenium, making it positively charged. Picture this plate about the size of a sheet of paper with thousands of tiny positive charges. When selenium is exposed to light, it loses the positive charges. Before exposing it to light, cover it with the image to be copied.

For this example, think of a large letter A on a sheet of paper. The A is dark so it shades that part of the selenium plate from the light. All of the unshaded part loses its positive charges when the selenium is exposed to light; the part under the A keeps its positive charges.

Now a negatively charged powdered ink (toner) is dusted over the drum. Since positive charges attract negative charges, the ink is attracted to the positive charges of the selenium, now in the shape of a large A. A sheet of paper which is also positively charged is laid over the selenium plate and the negatively charged ink is transferred to the paper. The paper is heated briefly to melt the dry ink into the paper and the copy is complete. The whole process takes about one to two seconds.

The process is not without problems. The ink powder causes some copies to be smudged and the small particles can cause clogging. The constant heating and cooling of the copying machine makes it prone to breaking down.

Some copy machines have partially overcome this problem by using larger ink particles, but this approach often causes too much toner to be used and is more expensive. Others use liquid toners. The ink particles are immersed in a liquid which is kept a fixed distance from the copy paper by microscopic beads. The charged paper pulls the ink particles out of the liquid and onto the paper.

A new liquid toner process is under development which uses even smaller ink particles. It requires less heat to melt the smaller particles, so the continuous heating/cooling cycle is minimized. The result will be a faster copying process. It is hoped that it will produce 70 copies per minute. Companies are always looking for new methods to improve the process and, of course, to make themselves more competitive.

Area Parking Lots Subject of Hearing

A new ordinance that would require new businesses to have paved parking lots will be the subject of a public hearing, Tuesday, Sept. 3 before the regularly scheduled village council meeting.

"We're trying to eliminate the vagueness in the current ordinance," said Lee Fabner, assistant village manager.

"The current ordinance indicates that parking lots will be made of a dust-free surface," Fabner said the ordinance would not require current businesses to pave their lots.

New Teacher Hired By North Lake Co-Op Nursery

North Lake Co-operative Nursery, Inc., has approved the hiring of Marilyn Van Gunst as teacher-director for the 1986-87 pre-school year, which took place at the July meeting of the school's executive board.

Mrs. Van Gunst was selected from a wide range of candidates when the position became available upon the retirement of Loree Stafford, the former director and teacher for 12 years.

Mrs. Van Gunst, along with her husband and three daughters, has lived in Massachusetts, Virginia and the Michigan cities of Kalamazoo and Shelby, before coming to Chelsea where she has lived for the past eight years. In addition to her extensive experience in working with young children, Mrs. Van Gunst also brings a strong fine arts background to the pre-school. She has taught kindergarten, early and middle elementary grades, as well as music to grades K-6. She became familiar with the co-operative nursery school concept when her own children were pre-schoolers.

Mrs. Van Gunst will be incorporating music, art and creative play activities to achieve the school's main objectives: to provide a secure environment away from home that will reinforce the child's positive self-image, help develop an interest and joy in learning, enhance physical development, provide acceptance and a sense of responsibility, and lay foundations for later academic learning.

For more information about North Lake Co-op, children and their parents are encouraged to attend the annual "Clown Day" and Open House held at the school (across from the Chelsea Fairgrounds) on Tuesday, Aug. 26 from 2 to 4 p.m. Interested persons will have the opportunity to see the school and to meet Mrs. Van Gunst.

MARILYN VAN GUNST, newly hired teacher/director of North Lake Co-Op Nursery School, is shown with pre-schoolers Sonya Roberts, Chris Roberts and Joey Arend. Mrs. Van Gunst replaces former teacher/director Loree Stafford who has retired after 10 years with the nursery school.

Special WCC Orientation Set for Women Students

Women with questions about attending college can get some answers during two special orientation sessions at Washtenaw Community College.

Both sessions will be held Thursday, Aug. 21. There will be one session from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and another from 6 to 8 p.m. Both will be held in the Artists' Gallery Dining Room on the second floor of the Student Center Building.

The orientation sessions, as well as dessert, coffee and tea, are free of charge.

Scholarships will be available for qualified students and information about financial aid will be distributed. WCC counselors will be on hand to answer questions; interested persons will be able to register for classes.

Washtenaw Community College is located on Huron River Dr., about one mile east of the Geddes Rd. exit of US-23. The campus also is accessible from Clark Rd., between Hogback and Golfside.

For more information call the Adult Resource Center at (313) 973-3528 or Publications and News Services at (313) 973-3376.

Farm Tour Arranged By Inter-Faith Council

The third annual farm tour organized jointly by the Land, Food, and Justice Committee of Interfaith Council for Peace and the Washtenaw County Co-operative Extension Service will be held Saturday, Aug. 16.

The tour provides city folks an opportunity to understand better the vital connections between rural and urban America and the continuing rural crisis, a crisis that affects farmers in Washtenaw county as well as those in America's grain belt.

This year's tour features a dairy farm operated by brothers Steve and Tom Solowczak and their families. They work 500 acres near a rapidly developing part of Ann Arbor, growing grain, hay, and silage to feed their dairy herd. They also grow some grain crops for sale. Participants will tour the farm with members of the Solowczak family who will describe the operation and answer questions.

Bill Ames, agricultural agent for WCCES, will moderate a discussion with the Solowczaks about how the dairy buy out program, encroaching development, low prices, and high costs affect their farming operation.

A lunch of locally grown food will be hosted by rural St. John's United Church of Christ in Freedom township, 12 miles west of Ann Arbor. The route to the church passes through rich farmland and an unusual hilly area left by the retreating glacier, christened "Hexehugel" (Witches Hills) by local German farmers.

The afternoon program will feature an informal discussion between tour participants and several Washtenaw county farmers. This is a unique opportunity to learn more about farming, its trials, tribulation, and satisfactions, from farmers themselves.

CHS's Linell Brehmer Enters '1986 Miss Teen of Michigan'

Linell Brehmer, a Chelsea High sophomore this fall, was among more than 2,000 Michigan young ladies recommended to participate in the pageant as potential candidates for the "Miss Teen of Michigan" contest, held in Saginaw Civic Center's Florio Fine Inn, July 25-27.

Of the many young ladies recommended, 2,000 returned information sheets listing individual biographic and other specifics.

A national screening committee reviewed the sheets and passed along the ones they felt represented the best-qualified, then invited the screened group to submit an application.

Linell's parents are Carole and Edward Osestoski.

The family lives on S. Fletcher Rd.

Her two older brothers, Todd and Sean Brehmer, aged 23 and 22, respectively, are currently on active duty, serving with the United States Navy.

Linell's older sister, Pam Avery, resides in Belleville.

At home, half-brother Nicholas Osestoski celebrated his seventh birthday last week.

Linell admits she loves animals and has two pet dogs, a Shetland sheep dog and a beagle.

She is also the proud owner of five rabbits, one of which you see with her in the photo above.

It was this pet that brought Linell a Best of Breed award at the recent Washtenaw County 4-H Fair, "An Adventure in Liberty."

She has been involved in 4-H work for the past seven years.

She and her family settled here approximately eight years ago.

Speaking of the "Miss Teen of Michigan" competition, Linell said it was an exciting and educational experience.

Funds to finance the contest were provided by sponsors of the individual contestants.

Linell explained she was very grateful to several sponsors: Wolverine Food & Spirits, 3-D Sales & Service, Gemini Family Hair Care, Staffan-Mitchell Funeral Home, BookCrafters, K-Mart and Heydlauff's.

She met lots of new friends and had a good time, she confirmed.

Only one of the 125 contestants scheduled to be part of the contest was unable to attend.

"She was so sick she had to be in the hospital—we talked to her on the phone and everyone shared her disappointment," explained Linell.

In addition to the pageant in which the 124 Michigan girls participated, contestants were treated to a Fashion Show on Saturday, July 26, featuring some nifty male models.

There were special dinners and an ice cream social, which Linell said everyone liked.

Each of the girls entering the contest brought with them a special gift which they had gift-wrapped at home.

One of the interesting competitions at "Miss Teen of Michigan" was judging the most colorful and imaginative gift-wrapping, with a prize to the girl presenting that gift.

Linell decided to wrap a backgammon game.

Gifts were donated to a charitable organization for giving to young people.

Another optional activity, Linell noted, was the scavenger hunt.

LINELL BREHMER TOOK "Best of Breed" in the rabbit division at the Washtenaw County 4-H Fair, held last week at the Seilme Farm Council Grounds. Linell also was recognized for the best indoor houseplant. She is a member of Rogers Corners 4-H Club.

Entrants were sent lists of designated people to approach for contributions to the United Cerebral Palsy Association (UCPA) during the days preceding their trip to Saginaw.

These solicitations took place in the candidates' hometowns prior to their arrival at Saginaw, Linell explained.

Listings such as "a person wearing green and yellow clothing," or "the first dentist you see today," randomly involved people from many hometowns and brought in a total of $8,000 in donations for UCPA.

Facilities Survey Directed To Make List of Available County Shelters, Services

During the month of August, the Washtenaw County Office of Emergency Management and the Ann Arbor Disaster Preparedness Office will be conducting a facilities survey of public and private buildings throughout the county, including the City of Ann Arbor, which may be used for emergency shelter during a major disaster.

News of the survey was outlined in a bulletin issued jointly by Offices of the Washtenaw County Emergency Management and the Ann Arbor Disaster Preparedness Office.

Survey staff members will operate from a temporary field office located at 2201 Hogback Rd. for the three-week period the survey is expected to require.

Each building surveyed will be visited by the survey team.

Building size, construction and available services will be recorded.

Survey results will be made available to both the Emergency Management and Disaster Preparedness Offices, to be used to update existing emergency operations plans that cover responses to a wide range of both man-made and natural emergencies

Nick Ianni Granted WISD Emeritus Post

Washtenaw Intermediate School District Board of Education announced this week that effective Sept. 1, superintendent Nick A. Ianni will be honored by becoming a Superintendent Emeritus of the School District, the first superintendent of the school district so honored.

Ianni has been superintendent since July 1980 after having served as an assistant superintendent during the 1980-81 school year, having come to the Intermediate School District from the superintendency at the Dexter Community Schools.

Ianni will be completing nearly 30 years in public school administration and a total of 35 years in public school work, when he retires on Dec. 31, 1986.

The School District has grown substantially under superintendent Ianni's leadership. From a small operation employing only 26 persons in 1980, with a budget of less than a half million dollars, the district now employs 175 employees and has budgets totaling $13.5 million dollars. From a school district that had only a few thousand dollars in assets, the district now owns buildings, land and equipment valued at over $7,000,000.

Dr. Michael Enlow has been named to succeed Nick Ianni and will report on Sept. 2.

Superintendent Nick A. Ianni will be joining an area law firm in January as a consultant.

WCC Registration Now Under Way

Registration for fall classes at Washtenaw Community College is going on right now.

Students who attended the previous winter, spring or summer session may register by telephone until Aug. 8. On-campus registration starts Aug. 18 and will run through Aug. 29.

Surprise Meeting At Jiffy Mix Plant

Both mother and son were completely surprised. They hadn't enjoyed a face-to-face visit in six months, but took time for a chat before either went on to the rest of their day's activities.

Mike explained he noticed an item posted on the board at the Wolverine 76 Auto/Truck Plaza near Interstate-94's Baker Rd. exit.

Checking with his company's dispatcher, Mike obtained authorization to transport a load of Jiffy Mix products and drove to Chelsea to make the pick-up.

Chelsea Rod & Gun Club Hosting Pig Roast, Dance

Want to feast on succulent pig and all the yumminies that go with it? Want to dance to the Top 40 country music of Tracey Lynne and her musical Mountain Express?

Do either or both next Sunday afternoon and evening at the eighth annual Pig Roast of the Chelsea Rod & Gun Club.

The feast begins at one in the afternoon and continues till four at the red brick clubhouse which is situated on Linkane Rd., halfway between Bush and Waterloo Rds.

The slow roasting of the pigs will begin 13 hours before serving time. At 12:30 a.m. a team of 10 men will start the charcoal fires in the three outdoor ovens at the south end of the clubhouse. At that time they will begin charcoal roasting three large pigs which have been carefully prepared beforehand.

The Rod and Gun cooking crew will sleep in the clubhouse during the night, with individuals arousing at intervals to baste the meat (secret R&GC recipe) and replenish the coals.

During the daylight hours of the morning, potatoes, salads, desserts and other dishes will be readied for serving to hundreds of guests.

A new event suggested by the Women's Auxiliary of the Club begins at 4 o'clock with a mountain music dance program by star Tracey Lynne and the musicians of her Mountain Express. They feature Top 40 country music and will play for hours.

Donations are $7 per person, with $3.50 for hungry children. According to President and Chief Conservation Officer Rick Moner, proceeds from the affair will be used by the Chelsea Rod and Gun Club in its continuing programs of tree raising, hunter safety education and community conservation information.
