lived in knowledge and with God.

Up these steps and through these doors go the students of Indiana Central College in their search for a better life through greater knowledge. Indiana Central is dedicated to giving her students a Christian liberal arts education in an atmosphere that helps to develop a well-rounded personality and to strengthen their relationship with God.

We, the Oracle staff of 1958, have attempted to tell the story of Indiana Central and to capture a small amount of Her great spirit as well as we relive the experiences of the past year with you.

Her Buildings are

Dailey and Wilmore Halls

Dailey Hall was reopened as a dormitory this year to absorb the overflow from the other dorms. Wilmore is the women's residence hall.

Buxton Hall, junior and senior men's residence dormitory.

Bulging . . .

Noblitt Observatory and Men's Hall, freshmen and sophomore men's residence dormitory.

The Gymnasium, center of athletic activity.

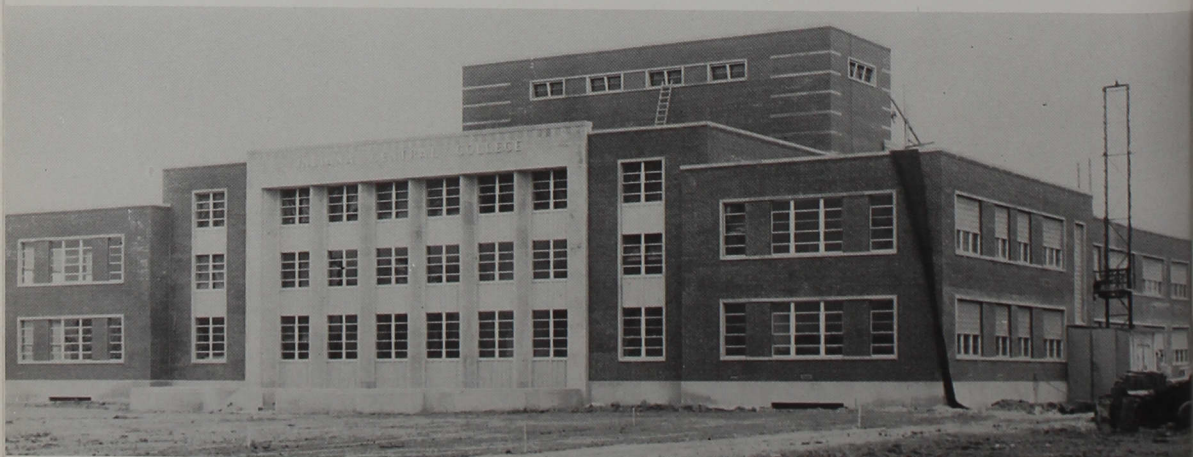

Her Profile is

Long waits in the cafeteria line and repeated searches for table space are typical of this year's cafeteria, now being used at capacity.

The New Academic Hall nears completion.

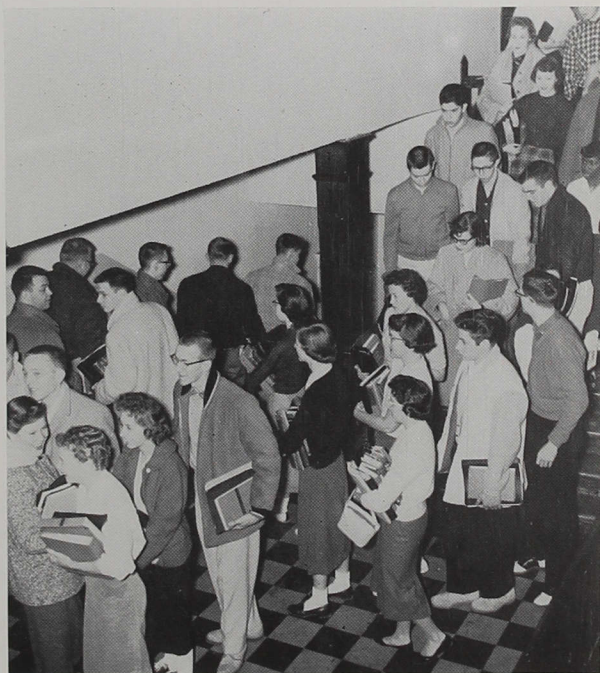

Progress . . .

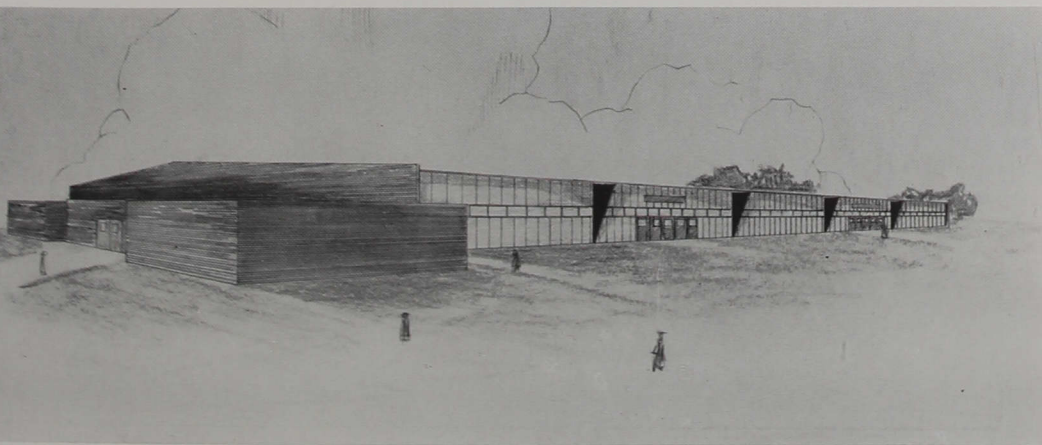

This year will be remembered by Her students as being the year that Indiana Central's facilities were crowded almost to the breaking point. Still, She continues to grow. Next year the new academic hall and athletic plant are scheduled to be completed. With the addition of these two badly needed buildings, Indiana Central will have taken a large step in the direction of progress.

Everyone is looking forward to enjoying this new Indiana Central. Many have worked hard to turn dreams into reality, and those of us who will benefit feel that we owe these people a deep debt of gratitude.

People, people, people! Students pour through the halls on their way to class. Crowded hallways, crowded stairways, and crowded classrooms designate the increased enrollment.

The architectural drawing of the New Athletic Plant to be built north of Hanna Avenue and east of Wilmore Hall.

Character is

An important part of the atmosphere at Indiana Central is Her feeling of Christian companionship. The students and faculty unite for worship every Monday and Wednesday morning in chapel, now held in the "campus church" because of lack of space in Kephart Memorial Auditorium.

Religious Emphasis Week is the pinnacle of religious activity at Indiana Central. With a religious leader as guest speaker on campus during this week, the students and faculty have an opportunity to talk with him in seeking a closer alignment with the will of God.

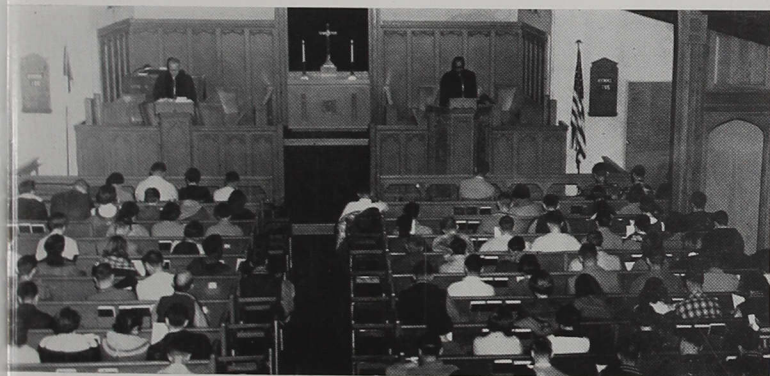

The Christian Character of Indiana Central is displayed through the activities and attitudes of Her students and faculty, not only during one day or week, but throughout the entire school year.

Her Learners are

Her students' academic life is not limited to the classroom; they spend a great part of their time studying in their rooms, in the library, and in the laboratories. Often two or three or more will get together to compare notes and drill each other.

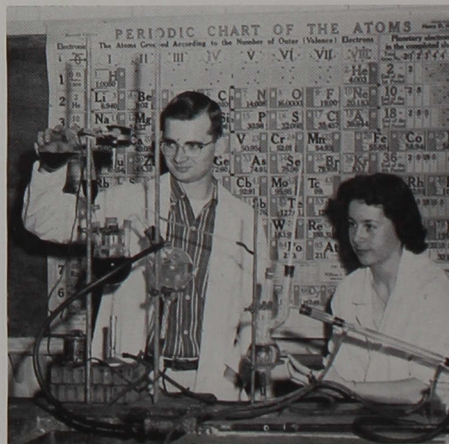

Just before midyear finals She saw a great many more books open. Sharon Edwards and Russ Flatt compare notes, while Joe McIntosh, Ken Partridge, Dave Ertel, and John Todd congregate to study, talk, and eat.

The end of finals does not mean the end of books, however, as is shown by Wayne Stutsman and Burmell Walters, and John Ryan and Nancy Tiano.

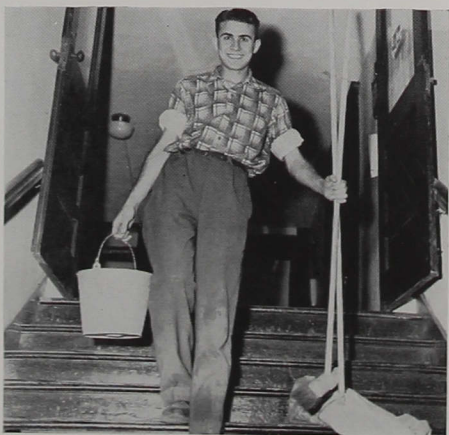

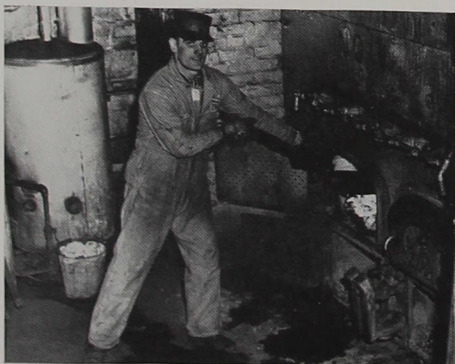

Indiana Central is known as a "working college," for many of Her students work at the school or in the city to help defray their expenses. Some of the students who fill jobs at ICC are pictured at the right.

Bob Frey, as a librarian, checks out a book for Ardella Burnett. Marilyn Wilson has had opportunity to learn the procedures of the Accounting Office. Here she is writing checks. Jim Wilbur keeps the buildings warm by firing the boilers, and Shirley Johnston and Sue Clark dish up ice cream in the Campus Cupboard. Max Dazey and Wadih (Ed) Dahlan, both working for maintenance, help to keep the Administration Building cleaned and polished.

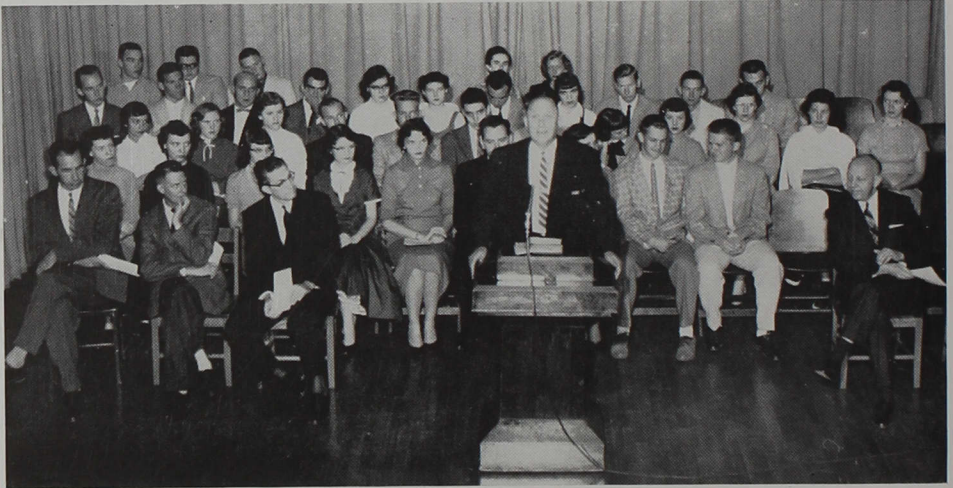

Earners . . .

Her Famed are

Honors Day

Dr. K. K. Merryman greets and recognizes those honor students who obtained at least two quality points per credit hour during the preceding year.

Those of Her students who have done outstanding scholastic work are recognized each fall during the Annual Honors Program, a special chapel program.

Phi Alpha Epsilon, the Freshman Honor Society, is composed of students who completed their first year with a scholarship index of at least 2.250.

These students have worked hard to achieve this honor. For them it is a challenge to maintain this high average throughout their college careers. For others, it is a goal toward which to work.

Named . . .

Miss Ruth Erny

Easter Seal Queen

Ruth Erny, peppy senior from Plymouth, Indiana, was chosen as the 1958 College Easter Seal Queen after being voted Indiana Central's candidate. Her two-minute talk over WLW-I TV brought more monetary votes than the girls from Butler, Franklin, and Marian received, giving Ruth the title and an expense-paid trip to Chicago.

Homecoming Queen

Marilyn Merritt, a junior from Gibson City, Illinois, was chosen by the student body to reign over Homecoming festivities. Marilyn, 20, is an elementary education major.

Her court included Evelyn Knoop, Shirley Taylor, Nancy White, and Pat Young.

The Homecoming activities featured a parade with floats representing the various classes and several organizations on campus and a football game with Anderson College, with the queen crowned at halftime. Later in the evening students were guests in the Greyhound Room.

Amy Lou Buskirk, 21-year-old senior from Fort Wayne, was chosen from the junior class to reign as Campus Queen during 1957-58. Other candidates who were members of the Campus Queen's court were Rosalie Armstrong, Mary Clavert, Mary Harlan and Pat Ross.

Amy Lou's duties include presiding over the Sweetheart Banquet in February and the annual May Festival. An elementary education major, lovely Amy Lou is a member of Whippets, president of SEA, and was elected to Who's Who.

Her Talents are

During Geneva Stunts even the faculty and administration discover some "hidden talent." This sextet is Dr. Kellogg, Dr. St. Clair, President Esch, Prof. Herricks, Dean Cramer, and Mr. Fleener.

All of her family has opportunity to display their abilities, formally or informally, throughout the year. The classes compete to produce the best talent program for chapel; the faculty always produce some unexpected skill in their Geneva Stunts' skit.

The first four acts of the Stunts are written, directed, produced, and acted by students; the fifth act is the work of the faculty and administration.

Set building, sign painting, and informal entertaining at week-end parties give each student an opportunity to use his talents.

The cast and crew of Geneva Stunt No. 1, "A Day in a Cave," work building their set.

Leap Week brings Sadie Hawkins and a Dog-patch party with a hillbilly-gal chorus line.

Tested . . .

The sophomore class' talent program, "Command Performance," won the competition this year. Ballerina Maridee Balsley takes a bow.

Lord High Executioner David Wolff entertains some "alumni" at the freshmen's "Class Reunion in the Year 2000."

The junior's brought The Lenin-grad Sisters (Marilyn Merritt, Ruby Merkel, and Norma Barnett) for "The Nella Evets Show."

Her

Festivities are

Food, and plenty of it, seems to be the main interest of these students at the Christmas Smorgasbord.

A hearty meal, pleasant companionship, good conversation—what more could a person ask for?

Deep in OUR hearts, our lovely Campus Queen and her court with the MC and his date, grace the Sweetheart Banquet head table.

Fall was the time, and fall was the theme of this smorgasbord, the first of the year.

Receptions, smorgasbords, banquets—Her life includes well-planned activities designed to give Her family practical social graces amid pleasant companionship.

A new spark was given to the traditional Sweetheart Banquet this year by holding it off-campus.

Light refreshments mixed with interesting conversation afford a pleasant way for the freshmen to become acquainted with the faculty and upperclassmen at the Formal Reception.

Homecoming

Activity was at its height in mid-October as students decorated the dormitories and the campus for Homecoming. At noon decorated cars and floats formed a parade, one of the highlights of the day. The freshman class contributed their green beanie to the parade, while the juniors announced their expectations for the outcome of the game. The Homecoming Queen was announced during the half-time ceremony after members of the "C" Association had escorted the queen candidates to the center of the field.

A view of the beautiful scenery in the hills of Brown County State Park.

Brown County Day

In the fall the students and faculty desert Her halls for one day "to head for the hills" of Brown County. Some enjoy the day by loafing on the grassy slopes and wandering through the hills.

Others, those who enjoy more activity, play football, baseball, or volleyball or ride horseback. By lunch time, the food, served chuck-wagon style, is welcomed by all. At the end of the day, voices are softer and steps are slower; everyone agrees it has been a day well spent.

Students stop for a moment of relaxation and quiet conversation during a busy day.

Volleyball is a favorite pastime as students momentarily forget their college responsibilities.

If Dave Brittenham looks puzzled, it is probably because he can't understand why anyone would buy Marilyn Merritt's serenade, "I Think You're Wonderful," for him when they could have boughten it for themselves.

W. U. S. Auction

Each year the World University Service Committee of the SCA sponsors an auction to raise money for underprivileged university students throughout the world. Cakes, candy, pizza dinners, a shoeshine from President Esch and a kiss from the Campus Queen were among the donated articles sold to the faculty and students at the WUS Auction. Everyone had a lot of fun while adding $146.72 to the underprivileged student fund.

Auctioneer James Weber, Jr., calls for a bid at the World University Service Auction.

Something seemed to be tickling Campus Queen Amy Buskirk and Bill Batty alter he collected her kiss. Perhaps it was "Judge" Batty's beard.

She Awakens

Each fall a flurry of activity accompanies the arrival of Her students on campus. Those who come early relax and watch the others unload their cars and unpack their suitcases and boxes. Soon everyone is in the hectic routine of the year.

But there are many events which break this routine; events which will have special meaning for Her family. Some may remember the tenseness of the tug-of-war, the eager anticipation of the freshmen to throw off their beanies with the winning splash—and their disappointment afterward.

Others may recall the excitement of the games, with the teams running onto the field and Her traditional cheers ringing out in rhythm with the peppy cheerleaders.

May Festival

Costumed country style, the square dancers form a left hand star at the annual May Festival.

Flowing grace and intricate weaving make the net of the Maypole in the traditional dance.

Strength, delicate balance, and practice are displayed by the tumblers who balance in unison.

New Looks

A new opportunity for Her to promote goodwill was initiated this year in a series of bi-weekly television productions on WISH-TV. The administration, music, drama, and athletic departments took part in these one-half hour presentations.

To the public was brought the motto of Indiana Central College—"Education for Service"—with a view of the activities offered on campus. Her students, faculty, and administration were proud to be able to say, "We're on T. V.!"

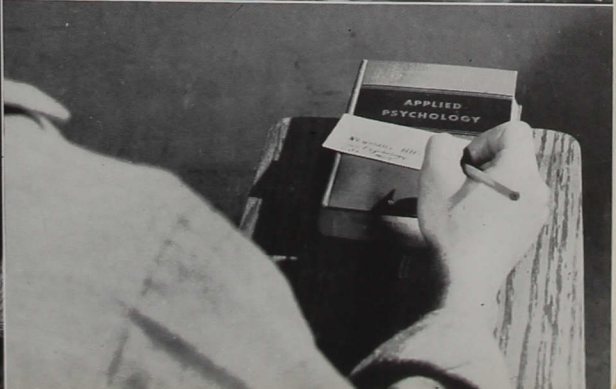

The new and the old. Indiana Central, for fifty-three years centering activity in the Administration Building, will soon move into Her new Academic Hall. This is a mark of progress, a milestone in Her growth. The new building will bring many changes: increased enrollment, better facilities, and modernization of the general school system.

Still remaining will be certain intangibles which Her students have come to know and grown to love: the friendly attitude, the old traditions, and the christian atmosphere.

THESE THINGS SHE HAS SEEN . . .

. . . the "contour shape" of the Campus Cupboard booths; . . . the long lines at the single drinking fountain in the Administration Building; . . . the wear-worn steps leading up to the main hallway; . . . the little donkeys that expertly toss their riders over their heads; . . . the enrollment of Al Neuman in psychology class; . . . the revolving Christmas tree that played carols. These things She will remember.

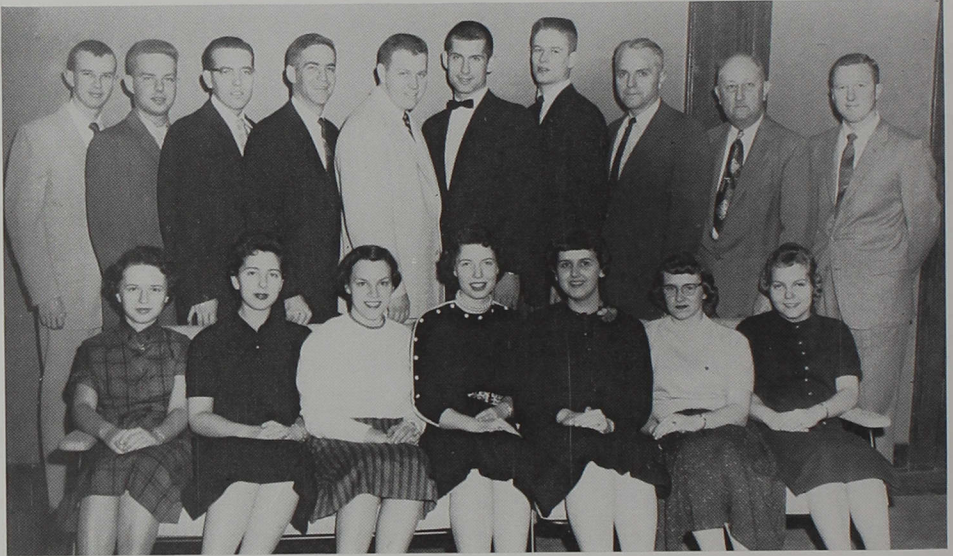

Organizations

... are active associations. On the campus at Indiana Central College, students enhance their executive abilities by guiding the programs of numerous organizations. Her students put into practice the knowledge learned from books as they lead group discussion and cooperate in programs designed to produce well-rounded citizens who reflect Her highest ideals.

S. C. A.

By incorporating all Her students in its membership, the Student Christian Association becomes one of the most powerful organizations at Central. It seeks to promote religious and social fellowship on the campus and to encourage the practice of the principles of Christianity in college and community life.

The S. C. A. plans and promotes many of the religious and social activities at Indiana Central. This year it brought Dr. Harold Hazenfield to the campus for Religious Emphasis Week, planned the smorgasbords and the Sweetheart Banquet, and sponsored the W. U. S. Auction and Geneva Stunts.

Twenty-one SCA students constituted the largest visiting delegation of E. U. B. youth to the Third Quadrennial Student Conference at Albright College.

Student Council

An organization seeking to help the student body help themselves, the Student Council tries to govern and discipline in a democratic way. Its members represent each class, dormitory, and organization on campus; its officers are elected by the entire student body.

Student Council is the means of communication between the faculty, administration, and student body. It attempts to promote better understanding between faculty and students, to create closer relationships between off-and on-campus students, and to meet some of the needs of the student body.

Committees of S. C. play an important role in the lives of Her students. From these committees come the Chapel programs, social activities (Brown County Day) and many of the campus improvement projects.

The Oracle

We, the staff of the 1957-58 Oracle, have enjoyed gathering within the covers of this book the memories of Central that you will cherish most. REMEMBER Her Musical Christmas tree, Her choir tour, Her exciting sports events, and Her "vicious cycle" of classes, cramming, and finals. REMEMBER, too, Her chapels, Her organization meetings, Her W. U. S. auction, Her banquets, Her Leap Week, and Her Campus Cupboard.

"REMEMBER us," say the seniors, as they wave Her good-bye. "We'll REMEMBER this wonderful year on Her campus and look forward to years ahead," say freshmen, sophomores, and juniors still living in Her friendly dorms.

We'll REMEMBER Her . . .

Reflector

The Reflector was well named, for it reflects the moods, activities, and achievements of Her students, faculty, and alumni. Within its pages can be found ideas and suggestions of the students (the editorial and letters-to-the-editor), news of all-school programs and plans of various departmental clubs, and announcements of awards and honors received by any of Her family.

This year the school paper was co-edited by Ruth Erny and Doris Spoke, with Jack Rhoades as their feature editor. Don Henson covered the sports, and Bob Gehlbach contributed the religious articles. Paul Whitsett acted as science editor. Photography was done by Jim Bruce, Bill Wilt, and Nuel Wooden, while Larry Cox supplied the cartoons.

Band

The band is one of the most active organizations on campus. It not only supports the athletic department by playing at every home football and basketball game, but it plays during several chapel programs, gives an evening concert, and goes on tour for a week, representing Indiana Central in many schools and cities.

The twirlers work closely with the band to give an exciting and entertaining half-time ceremony during the athletic events.

This year the week-long tour took the members through southern Illinois and to St. Louis, Missouri. The band has been under the direction of Mr. Lester Slezak, a member of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, since last October.

Choir

The Choir has a full calendar of appearances throughout the year. Besides serving the college by providing the musical portion of the chapel programs every Wednesday morning, the members sang Handel's Messiah at Christmas, appeared in the Fine Arts Festival, provided the chorus for the two comic operas given on campus, presented a Spring Concert, and went on tour through central and northern Indiana for a week.

Choir members also sang Christmas carols on the Circle in downtown Indianapolis and appeared at the annual Opening of the Union Station for the program of "Bringing the Church to the Traveler."

Art Club

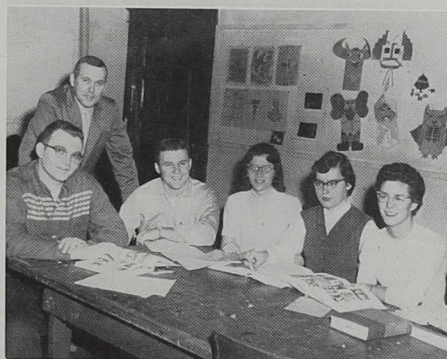

The Art club, reorganized after being inactive for several years, takes its members on field trips in order to broaden their understanding and appreciation of great art works. This year they visited the Art Institute and the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago. Next year the club hopes to visit the Frank Lloyd Wright Museum in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, or go to New York City.

The Art Club's yearly project has been making Christmas cards, which they will sell next year. Members printed the cards themselves, using the silk-screening method.

Although the organization is chiefly for those majoring or minoring in art, anyone who is interested in increasing his appreciation and knowledge of art may join.

Alpha Psi Omega

Students in Gamma Theta, the I. C. C. chapter of Alpha Psi Omega National Dramatics Fraternity, must portray parts in or work on several productions to receive membership.

Members of Alpha Psi have opportunity to learn through experience the principles of lighting, scenery, and make-up. This year they took an active part in the Fine Arts Festival and assisted in the production of two comic operas, "Lovely Galatea" and "Opera Opera."

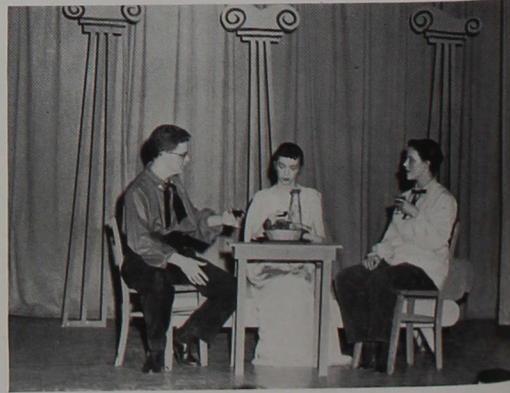

Alpha Psi's major production for the year was Henrik Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler," a psychological drama. Lead roles were assigned to Marilyn Wilson, Alan Whalen, Sarah Repp, and Dale Rigg. The play, directed by Prof. William Teufel, was another success for the drama department.

Philalethia and Theacallosia

Women students are given an opportunity to participate in reading, writing, and criticizing English works in Her literary societies. They learn the fundamentals of parliamentary procedure and actively use this knowledge in their meetings.

The two women's literary societies on campus, Philalethia and Theacallosia, meet twice a month, alternating weeks. They aid Her coeds not only in the fields of spoken and written English, but also with poise and self-confidence.

Philomusea

The Philomusea Literary Society for men was reorganized on Indiana Central's campus this year. Its members seek improvement in public speaking and parliamentary procedure.

The officers are: Jim Dressler, president; Gene Lausch, vice-president; Calvin Brandenburg, critic; Bill Howard, recording secretary; Phil Edwards, treasurer; Marvin Anderson, censor; and Vaun McAhren, chaplin.

English Club

The purpose of the English Club is to stimulate and promote interest in the field of written expression and literature. Besides purchasing library books and equipment, they annually publish the Campus Originals, a collection of the best themes, poems, and autobiographical excerpts written by the students in the English Composition courses.

Pan Linguists

Como esta usted? Comment vous appelez-vous? Wir sind Deutsch?—if you can understand any one of these statements, perhaps you should be a member of Pan Linguists, an organization which tries to further oral and written expression in foreign languages. Every Wednesday evening foreign language students meet together, conversing only in the foreign tongues.

Members of Pan Linguists learn by performing skits pertaining to the people's customs and literature. The organization's activity climaxed during Christmas when seasonal offerings were presented in all languages.

Pan Linguists is open to those majoring, minoring, or just interested, in language.

S. E. A.

The Student Education Association, organized for the teachers of tomorrow, has had an exceptionally active year. Members acted as hosts and hostesses for a Kiwanis Club party given to encourage high school students to enter the teaching profession. They ushered at Teacher's Institute, as they do annually, and helped raise money for the new I. S. T. A. building being erected in downtown Indianapolis.

Several members attended the officer's workshops at Butler University and Manchester College, and the state S. E. A. convention in Indianapolis. The Spring Workshop was held on Indiana Central's campus with twenty-two college chapters participating.

A. P. O.

Alpha Phi Omega, the "Scout Fraternity," is a national service organization. Members, all formerly Boy Scouts, perform projects to aid the school and community. They annually sponsor the campus tours during orientation week, handle registration and parking for Homecoming, and supply an Easter basket to a needy family.

This year A. P. O. sponsored a district Boy Scout Day, held on the campus of Indiana Central. Six of the members attended the district conference at Valparaiso University.

I. A. Y.

I. A. Y. is a women's organization whose primary purpose is service—to the college, to the community, and to the world. It seeks to develop friendship, to promote the extension of knowledge and of cultural appreciation, and to build character. This year members provided a program and refreshments for the aged people of the Evangelistic Center as a special project.

Debate Club

The Debate Team has proven itself capable of meeting the best opponents, although it is a relatively new organization.

This year the question which was debated nation-wide was, "Resolved: That membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal." After reading and discussing the subject, the members of the team were ready to meet opposition from schools such as Ball State, I. U., and Notre Dame.

At the tri-state speech conference held on ICC's campus, the debators met North Central and Otterbein Colleges. Although no official decision was given, they placed first in unofficial standing.

Philosophy Club

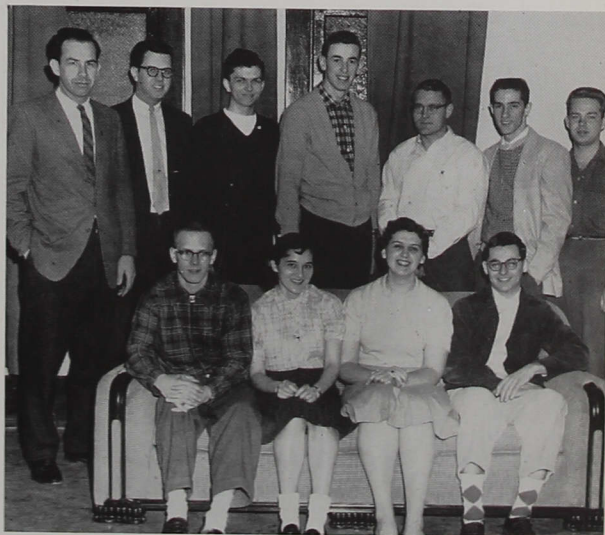

The Philosophy Club, organized to encourage a broader area of thinking among Her students, discusses some of the theories and philosophies of many of the prominent scholars, such as Kierkegaard and Sartre.

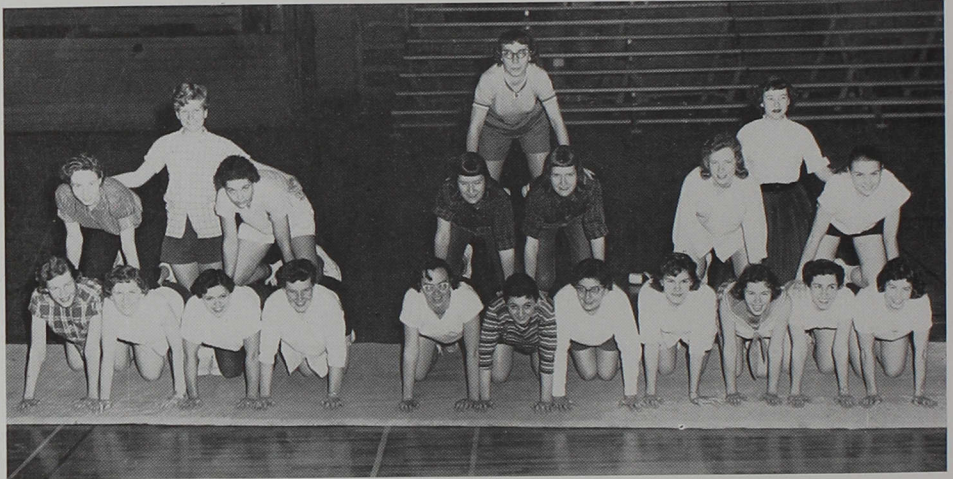

Discussion is not limited to study of the concepts of the philosophers, however; often the aesthetics or current problems of particular concern are included. The students have an opportunity to exchange views with each other in an effort to understand the problem more clearly.

Since there is no formal organization to the club, there has been a varying membership of between six and twelve. Anyone who is interested in discussion groups is welcome to attend their weekly meetings, which are usually held in the home of one of the professors.

W. R. A.

The Women's Recreation Association provides a program of extra-curricular physical education activities and sponsors intra-class tourneys in basketball, volleyball, and track. The girls also learn the fundamentals of badminton, tennis, tumbling, and softball.

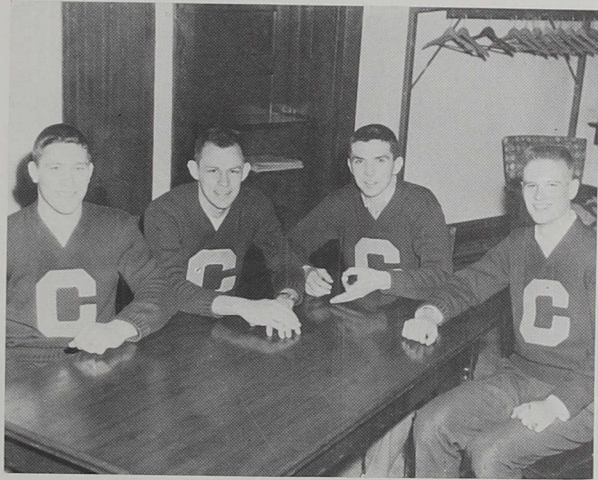

W. R. A. has many activities throughout the year; members sell popcorn at athletic events and, in connection with the "C" Association, buy the Campus Queen a gift at the end of her reign; sponsor a Play Day for high school students, which this year was incorporated with a clinic for volleyball officials; and form the extra-mural teams in girl's basketball and volleyball.

“C” Association

The “C” Association is composed of students, alumni, and former students who have received the varsity “C” in any of the intercollegiate sports at I. C. C.

The lettermen annually choose five girls as candidates for Homecoming Queen. During the halftime of the Homecoming football game, members escort the candidates onto the field, and the president crowns the Queen.

Other activities of the “C” Association include sponsoring the men’s intra-class tournaments and selling refreshments at athletic events.

Sports

... are spirited. Comprehensive intercollegiate sports schedules and active intramural programs give all students the opportunity for competitive participation to develop strong bodies. Numerous trophies on display attest to Her ability to win in sports. High ideals of sportsmanship and cooperation implanted in the minds of Her students attest to Her well-rounded athletic program.

"Let's cheer for Central!" is the cry of the cheerleaders. From the bottom around clockwise they are: Etta Lou DeMoss, Jim Simons, senior and captain; Patt Young, Gordan Goss, Marlene Short, and Don Davis.

A Full Program

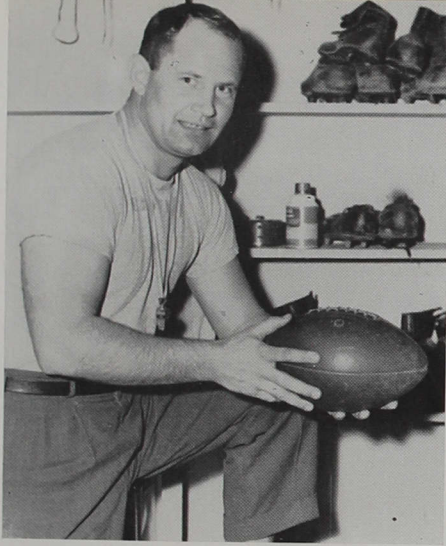

Indiana Central College has a comprehensive program of intercollegiate athletics consisting of football, cross country, basketball, wrestling, track, baseball, golf, and tennis. She is a member of the Hoosier College Conference and has a winning tradition of which She can be proud.

Her athletic program is rapidly expanding. This year, for the first time in the history of the college, the home football games were played on Her new football field, which is surrounded by a track rated among the very best in the state. Back of the football field is the new baseball diamond, which will see its second season of use this year. Best of all, She is anticipating the distinctive addition to Her campus of a new gymnasium which will improve facilities for the use of all the students.

For those who do not participate in the major events, there is a wide range of activities, such as bowling, badminton, archery, volleyball, and ping pong. An Intramural program in basketball and softball is also offered.

Indiana Central feels that a strong athletic program will not only encourage a healthy college spirit, but it will also be a good investment in the future happiness of Her young people because of its stress on mental alertness, physical fitness, and good sportsmanship.

Coach Jim Wallace

Football

The 1957 edition of Central's football team, coached by James Wallace with the assistance of Charles Dorrell, was hard at work learning fundamentals and plays long before school started. It was practice, practice, practice until the sun set—then it was time to hit the sack to rest for another day.

The team failed to win its share of victories, but it did produce some outstanding efforts and could cause good teams "fits", as Valparaiso found out.

Co-captains for the season were Gil Fey, senior left end, and George Fallowfield, junior right half. Captains for the games were chosen by Coach Wallace at the end of each week on merit of effort. At the end of the season the boys elected their captains of the year.

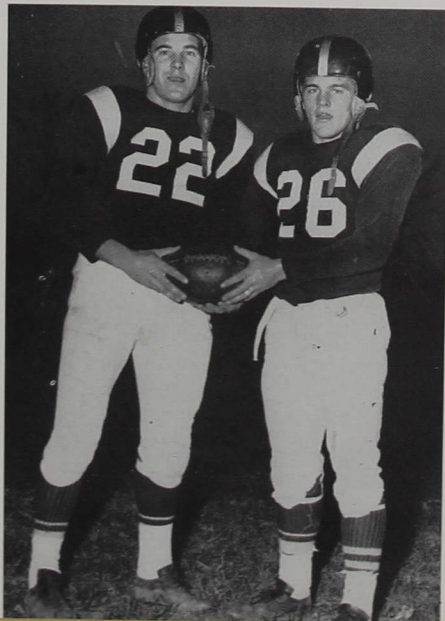

As a team, the 'Hounds scored 179 points to their opponents 221. They outgained their opponents on the ground 3,412 yards to 2,557 yards; but they were outdistanced in the air, although by only 625 to 686 yards.

The leading ground gainer for the 'Hounds was George Fallowfield with a total of 888 yards. Next in line was Jim Nyers with 751 yards. The leading pass receiver was Gil Fey with a total of 10 completions and 226 yards gained. The Greyhounds highest single game yardage was against Earlham when they amassed 561 yards rushing and 60 yards passing. In the Manchester game one play, on off-tackle slant, gained a total of 225 yards.

George Fallowfield, junior right half and Harry Hill, freshman guard, were selected for the All-Conference Team.

The team will miss the services of seniors Don Armstrong, Gil Fey, Dan Dolniak, Ron Wise, and Ed Maciejewski next year. They filled key positions in the past season.

In 1957 the 'Hounds opened the season with three games away from home. Of these they earned a tie with Alma and lost to North Central and Hanover. Central then broke in its new football field by playing Beloit in the first home game played on campus in ICC gridiron history. Although the score was tied at the end of the first half, the men of Beloit edged a win.

Central next took to the road, this time running over Manchester 36-29. The next two games were at home: Anderson and Taylor. Anderson proved too powerful and Taylor squeaked out a victory by 6 points. Since the flu had hit Franklin, Central scheduled Valparaiso in their stead. The Greyhounds played a great ball game, only to lose 13-7 as the clock ran out while they were on the one-foot line.

Central then took Earlham at home, winning easily, and finally took to the road against Franklin, winning in a thriller, 34-32.

Fallowfield tucks the pigskin while his teammates effectively block out the Earlham opponents.

The Greyhound Cross Country team, coached by John Bradley, had a successful season by winning five and losing only four of their meets, even though sickness plagued the team during most of the season.

The teams placing second best to Central were Butler, Manchester, Anderson, Taylor, and Franklin. The Harriers came in behind Hanover, Indiana State, DePauw, and Wabash. The team also placed third at the Earlham Invitational, seventh in the Big State, fifth in the Little State, and second in the conference.

Art Targgart, captain of the team, was elected Most Valuable Runner. Since he is the only senior graduating off the squad, a successful season is anticipated from the veteran team next year.

The 1957 Greyhound tennis team, coached by John Todd, turned in a winning season by finishing with a third place berth in the Hoosier College Conference race. Central's only defeats came at the hands of Hanover and Manchester, both with identical scores of two to five.

John Johnson, captain, and John Bradley were the only seniors on the squad. Newcomers this year were freshmen twins Jack and Jim Tindall, whose doubles play was especially effective. Bill Yarbrough, a junior, also played his first collegiate tennis. All three will be back smashing points next year.

Basketball

The seniors on the basketball team have played an important role in the past season. They have set a good example for the younger players on the team. "Nick" told the underclassmen, "You have been lucky to have seniors on the ball club such as those we have had this year. They have been interested in every member of the team and have tried to help in every possible way to make this a better ball club, not only for the past season but for the future years.

The statistics of the three seniors show that they have scored about 40 percent of the team's points and raked off better than 70 per cent of the rebounds.

After a game the question from these boys was, "How many 'bounds did I get?" not, "How many points did I score." So, for a job well done, we want to pay tribute to seniors Dave Bertram, Larry Gardner, and Larry Hanni.

Seniors Gardner and Bertram vie with players of Transylvania for the rebound.

Angus Nicoson, coach of the Greyhounds basketball team.

The 1957-58 Basketball season was a successful year. With only four lettermen returning, many thought that this would be a rebuilding year. However, a group of determined athletes working under a fine coach finished the season with a 15-11 record.

After losing 8 of the first 13 games, the 'Hounds settled down and won 10 of the last 13. The Greyhounds should be congratulated on making a comeback such as this and for remembering that one of the main purposes of athletics is to never give up.

With only three seniors on the squad, the 'Hounds should see bigger and better things in future years.

In looking over the past season the most outstanding game would be the Anderson game at Anderson. A comment heard from an Anderson fan was, "Greyhounds that don't run!!" That was exactly what the Central Greyhounds did not do at Anderson. They refused to run.

It took an overtime for the 'Hounds to defeat the Ravens. With the score tied 57-all at the end of regulation play, the 'Hounds played it cool and took only good shots. Two lay-ups by Shircliff and some free-throws by Buntin put Central ahead to stay as they won 60-57.

Dave Bertram, playing an outstanding game both offensively and defensively, raked off 17 rebounds. Larry Hanni held Steinke, one of Anderson's high scorers, to 11 points and let the big 6'9" giant get only 9 rebounds. Each boy played outstanding ball, and the Greyhounds have a team which everyone should remember and be proud of.

Reserve Basketball

The reserve squad, coached by Walt Curran, showed a great deal of strength at the end of the season after a somewhat shaky start. During the first semester they won 3 and lost 5. A squad of sixteen started but was cut to eight, one sophomore and seven freshmen, after first semester.

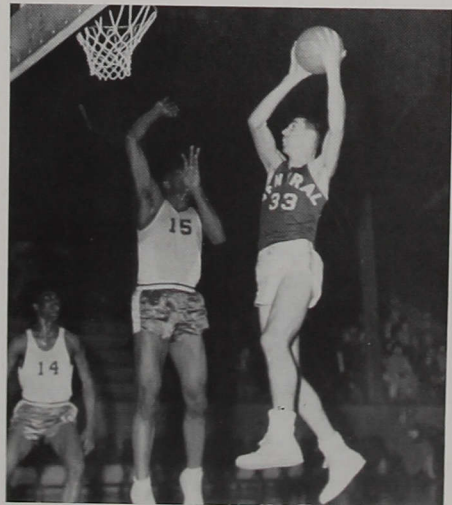

Midyear their plays began to click and the reserves came back to win eight of their next ten games. Their only losses the last half of the season were to Anderson and Kingans, two highly rated teams.

They ended the season by defeating the city's Class "B" champs, V. F. W., by a score of 113 to 88.

Whippets

"Practice at six a.m. tomorrow" was the callout for the Whippets. Seven of last year's team members and four freshmen answered the call. Their efforts compiled a 5—9 record for the 1957-58 season.

Bonnie Binkley was elected Honorary Team Captain and received a "C" blanket for four years participation. Nancy Tiano was elected Outstanding Whippet of the year.

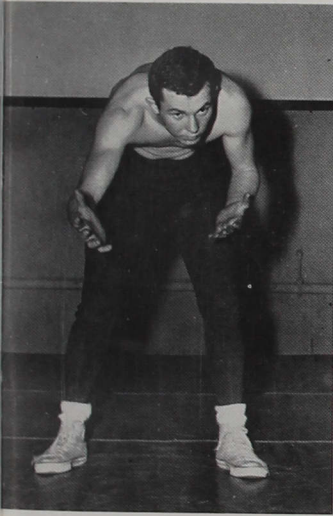

Only three players will be leaving the team this year—nurse trainee Sylvia Weber and seniors Amy Buskirk and Bonnie Binkley—so next year's team should have a strong nucleus with the return of eight experienced players (juniors Knoop, Tiano, and Van Wagner; sophomore Arlene Buskirk; and Freshmen Waggoner, Wilbur, Wright, and Wulf).

The wrestling squad, coached by Jim Wallace, had their most successful year by compiling a 7-4 record. The boys put in many hours of sweat and toil to win in their sport of might, speed, and skill.

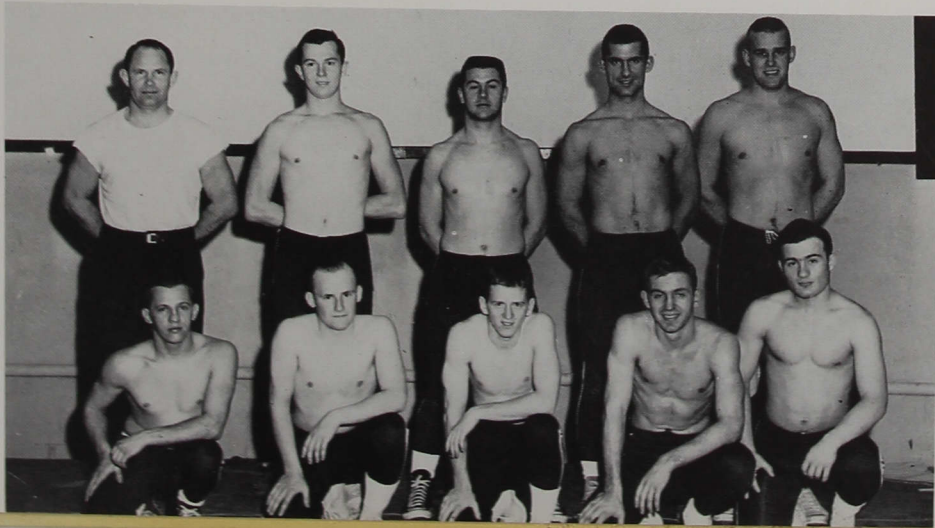

Letter winners were Al Morgan, Bill Shobe, John Todd, Al Printz, Jim Bruce, Lou Hurrle, Bill Stevens, and Ed Moore. Al Morgan, captain of the team, was undefeated. Other outstanding matmen were Al Printz (undefeated) and Jim Bruce (with a 9-2 record).

Baseball

Baseball is known at the national pastime of America. Almost every young boy has dreamed of becoming a Big League ball player; of course, only a few succeed.

Central has produced some outstanding players through the years. One of the most recent examples is Dale Mace, who last year pitched brilliant ball for the Greyhounds and was chosen Most Valuable Player by his teammates. He since has signed a contract with the Cincinnati Reds.

The Greyhounds placed three players on the All-Conference Team in 1957: Jim Nyers, outfield; Jack Fischer, shortstop; and Larry Cox, second baseman. All three are underclassmen, so they will not be lost by graduation.

The equipment is in good shape and ready for use as Coach Nicoson turns it over to managers John Todd and Bert Lacey.

Plagued by an unusual amount of rain all season, the diamond-men had just one practice session out-of-doors before meeting their first opponent in a twin-bill at Purdue. Even with the lack of hitting and fielding practice, the 'Hounds kept the margin to one run in each game.

In conference play the Greyhounds won 4 and lost 6. Along the way, however, they wrecked Anderson's hopes in a double header that kept the Ravens from the conference title. Another highlight of the season came when southpaw Dale Mace pitched a no-hit game against Taylor University.

The prospects look very good this year for a winning season and possibly the H. C. C. championship. Coach Nicoson has ten lettermen, two of whom are all-conference, returning, plus a good group of freshmen. With a little luck and lots of work, Coach Nicoson will possibly have a team that will go all the way.

Track

Each spring Her track becomes the scene of frenzied activity. Lean individuals in sweat suits lope around the track developing "wind" or sprint down the cinders for speed, leap over bars into a pit of sawdust, and strain to fling shots, discs, and javelins as far as possible.

Although handicapped by lack of adequate track facilities last year during the completion of the ten-lane track and athletic field, the squad won 8 dual meets and lost only 1, giving them second place in the Hoosier conference. They won the Rose Poly Relays and captured three 1st places at the Wabash Relays.

The following individual records were set: Richard Reasoner's 6' 2" high jump; Gene Lausch's 4:40.3 mile; Jim Dressler's 10:07.3 two-mile; John Prickett's 43' 9½" shot-put; and Bill Case, Don Henson, Richard Patterson, and Marshall Goss' 3:24.4 mile relay.

Since Richard Reasoner was the only runner graduated from the squad last spring, Coach Wallace has a veteran team to work with this year.

This quartet brought ICC a new record in the mile relay, running it in 3:24.4 during a dual meet against Taylor: Bill Case, Don Henson, Marshall Goss, and Dick Patterson.

Golf

In the spring of 1957, Coach Dick Nyers helped the golf team to a second place conference berth with a record of 3 wins (Anderson, Taylor, and Hanover), 4 losses (Wabash, Indiana State, Earlham, and Hanover), and 1 tie (Earlham). Don Bisesi and Dick Bunnell were selected for the all-conference team.

This year's team has placed lettermen Dick Bunnell as No. 1 man and Don Bisesi No. 2. Newcomers Bob Otolski, Mickey Powell, and Jay Coahran take slots 3, 4, and 5, respectively. Bob Wisneski, Henry Easter, and Roger Hoppes round out the team coached by Marvin Henricks. Senior Dick Bunnell has been selected captain for the year.

An extra incentive has been added this year to help the players keep their scores low. The "Koach's Kup," a new trophy, will be awarded to the linksman making the Low Medal Score in pre-conference meets.

The HCC meet this spring will be held at Butler University in conjunction with the Little State, NAIA, and Indiana College Conference meets.

Don Bisesi demonstrates winning form.

Two newcomers to the squad are Bob Otolski and Bob Wisneski.

Family

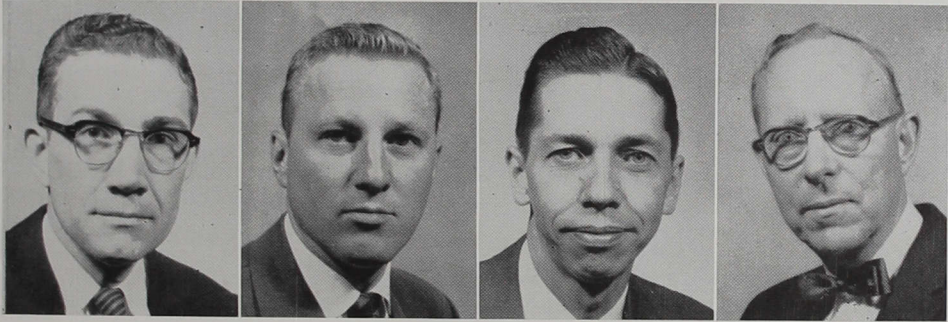

... is friendly. The administration, faculty, and students work together to build the warmth that characterizes Indiana Central's campus. Through all-college intellectual and cultural activities, faculty and student exchange ideas and ideals. Individual counselling gives each one evidence of Her abiding interest in the welfare of all the family.

President I. Lynd Esch

"The ultimate goal of a college is the development of a better civilization." Dr. Esch believes in his statement and has, for the past thirteen years, done all within his knowledge to help the students of Indiana Central prepare to make a better world.

Who's Who . . .

Students who have been elected to "Who's Who" have received one of the highest honors bestowed upon college undergraduates. The Dean of the College, Dean of Men, and Dean of Women nominate and submit the names of the candidates for the acceptance of the Approving Committee. These people are judged not only upon their academic standing, but also upon their leadership, participation in extra-curricular activities, service to the school, and promise of future success.

Initiating the freshmen each fall is the responsibility of the sophomores. Once the rigor of "Kangaroo Court" is over, however, the frosh have passed the worst.
